Ariel, Shemaiah, Elnathan, Jarib, Elnathan, Nathan, Zechariah, and Meshullam, all of whom were leaders, and Joiarib and Elnathan, who were teachers, ¹⁷and sent them all to Iddo, head man at the place Casiphia, telling them to ask Iddo and his brothers, the temple attendants, also at the place Casiphia, to bring to us those who could serve in the house of our God. ¹⁸And, according to God's blessing upon us, they did bring to us Ish-sekel,^e a descendant of Mahli, the son of Levi who was a son of Israel, and Sherebiah with eighteen of his sons and brothers; ¹⁹also Hashabiah and Jeshaiah, a descendant of Merari, his brothers and their sons making twenty more. ²⁰Of the temple attendants, whom David and the princes had provided as servants to the Levites, 220 were brought, all listed by name.

²¹Following this I ordered a fast there at the Ahava River that we might humble ourselves before our God and ask of Him a safe journey for ourselves, our children, and our possessions. ²²For I was ashamed to ask for troops and horsemen from the king to protect us from enemies along the way, since we had told the king that the hand of our God protects all who seek Him and that His power and indignation are against all who forsake Him. ²³Consequently, we fasted and prayed to our God regarding this matter and He heard us.

²⁴Then I chose twelve of the leaders among the priests along with Sherebiah, Hashabiah, and ten of their brothers,^f ²⁵and weighed out to them the offering for the house of our God: namely the silver, gold, and vessels which the king, his counselors, and his princes, in addition to the Israelites living there, had given. ²⁶The value of the silver was 1,300,000 dollars,^g of the silver vessels 200,000 dollars, of the gold 3,000,000 dollars,^h ²⁷and of 20 gold bowls 5000 dollars.ⁱ Also there

a) First three names, not giving accompanying numbers, are distinct for being of priestly or royal descent. b) Women and children additional in each case, cf. ch. 2.

c) Another reading, "a descendant of Bani, Shelomith, the . . ."

d) Same name used for both city and river. e) Or "a man of understanding."

f) Altogether twelve priests and twelve Levites.

g) One silver talent worth about $2000; 650 talents, total is about $1,300,000.

h) One gold talent worth about $30,000; 100 talents, total is about $3,000,000.

i) One daric worth about five dollars; total here is about $5,000.

were two vessels of fine, bright brass, precious as gold. ²⁸Then I said to them, "You are holy before the LORD, these vessels are holy, and the silver and the gold are a freewill offering to the LORD, the God of your fathers: ²⁹watch and guard them until you weigh them before the leaders of the priests, Levites and heads of father's houses in Israel at Jerusalem in the chambers of the house of the LORD." ³⁰Then the priests and Levites received the weight of the silver, the gold, and the vessels to bring them to the house of our God in Jerusalem.

³¹After this we departed from the Ahava River on the twelfth day of the first month^j on our journey to Jerusalem, with the protection of our God upon us, delivering us from enemies lying in wait along the way. ³²When we arrived in Jerusalem, we remained for three days, ³³and then, on the fourth day, the silver, gold, and vessels were weighed in the house of our God under supervision of Meremoth, son of Uriah the priest accompanied by Eleazer son of Phinehas, and the Levites, Jozabad son of Jeshua, and Noadiah son of Binnui. ³⁴All was numbered and weighed and the weight recorded at that time.^k ³⁵Then those who had just returned from exile, being descendants of those taken captive, offered up in burnt-offerings to the God of Israel twelve oxen for all Israel, ninety-six rams, seventy-seven lambs, and, as a sin-offering twelve male goats, all an offering to the LORD. ³⁶Then they delivered the written order^l of the king to the king's presidents and governors west of the River^m with the result that they helped the people in connection with the house of God.

9 AFTER THESE MATTERS WERE COMPLETED,ⁿ the leaders came to me and told me that the people of Israel, including the priests and the Levites, had not separated themselves from the people of the land, but were conducting themselves after the wicked practices of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites; ²for they had taken their daughters as wives for themselves and for their sons^o resulting in an intermingling between the holy offspring and the people of the land, the leaders and rulers being the first offenders in the sin. ³When I heard this, I tore my garment^p and covering robe, pulled hair from my head and beard, and sat down, confounded. ⁴Soon all who revered the word of the God of Israel concerning the sin of the returned exiles, joined themselves to me; and I continued to sit, confounded, until the evening sacrifice. ⁵Then, at the evening sacrifice, I arose from my humiliation and, with my garment and covering robe torn, fell upon my knees, spread out my hands to the LORD my God and said:

⁶"O my God, I am ashamed, greatly ashamed to raise my face to Thee, my God, because our^q sin is increased over our head and our guilt is great, reaching to heaven. ⁷Since the days of our fathers until now, our guilt has been great for which we, our kings, and our priests have experienced defeat by kings of various countries, by the sword, by captivity, and by plunder to our disgrace, even as it is this day.^r ⁸Now for a short time the LORD our God has been merciful in permitting a remnant to return from captivity that we might have a nail^s in His Holy Place, that our eyes might be enlightened by God, and that our life might be renewed a little in our bondage.^t ⁹For we are bondmen, but in bondage God has not forsaken us but rather has extended mercy to us in the presence of the Persian kings in that we have been granted the opportunity to erect the house of our God, to set up the ruins once again, and to have pro-

j) Cf. 7:9, evidently twelve days needed for preparations.

k) God's servants must keep accurate records of finances. 1) Cf. 7:11-26. m) Euphrates.

n) About four months intervened, cf. 10:8,9.

o) Forbidden, cf. Ex. 34:16; Deut. 7:3. p) The outer garment over which was worn the robe.

q) Ezra includes himself even though having had no part.

r) Though in Jerusalem again, they were still under Persia. s) Part in and benefit from.

t) Notice how petition and testimony interchange in this prayer.

tection in Judah and Jerusalem. ¹⁰But now, our God, what can we say in view of this, when we have forsaken Thy commandments ¹¹which Thou didst command through Thy servants, the prophets, when they said: "The land which you are about to possess" is unclean due to the wicked practices of the peoples of the land, as they have filled it from one end to the other with their abominations. ¹²Therefore, let there be no intermarrying between your daughters and their sons or their daughters and your sons, and never further their peace or their prosperity, "that you may be strong and eat the good of the land and leave it for an inheritance for your children forever." ¹³Now after all that has come upon us for our wicked deeds and our great guilt, especially when Thou, our God, hast punished us less than our sin deserved, and hast given us this escaped remnant, ¹⁴shall we break Thy commandments again by intermarrying with the people of these abominations? Wouldst Thou not be angry with us till Thou wouldst consume us completely, with none escaping? ¹⁵O LORD, God of Israel, Thou art righteous, for we remain today merely an escaped remnant.^x See, we are before Thee in our guilt realizing that no one can stand before Thee in view of this."

10 AS EZRA PRAYED AND MADE CONFESSION, weeping and prostrating himself before the house of God, a large crowd of Israelites, men, women, and children, gathered themselves to him; for the people wept bitterly.^y ²Then Shecaniah, son of Jehiel, one of the sons of Elam, said to Ezra: "We have sinned against our God in that we have married foreign women from neighboring nations; but there is still hope for Israel in regard to this matter. ³Let us make a covenant with our God to put away all these wives with their children according to the counsel of the LORD and those who fear the commandment of our God, and let it be done according to the Law. ⁴Rise up, have courage, and act, for it is your responsibility, and we will support you."

⁵Then Ezra did arise and he required the leaders of the priests, the Levites, and all Israel to swear to do this thing, and they swore.^z ⁶After this Ezra left the house of God and went to the room^a of Jehohanan^b son of Eliashib, but, having arrived, he would eat no bread nor drink any water, for he mourned over the sin of the returned exiles. ⁷Then an announcement was sent throughout Judah and Jerusalem to all the children of the captivity that they should assemble themselves in Jerusalem, ⁸and that any who did not come in three days, by order of the officials and the elders would forfeit^c all his possessions and be banned from the congregation of the captivity.

⁹Accordingly, within three days all the men of Judah and Benjamin assembled in Jerusalem, it being the twentieth day of the ninth month, and all the people sat in the open square before the house of God, trembling because of the matter and because of the rain.^d ¹⁰Then Ezra the priest stood up and spoke to them: "You have sinned in that you have married foreign women, thus adding to the guilt of Israel. ¹¹Now render honor to the LORD, the God of your fathers, by doing what He wills: namely, the separation of yourselves from the people of the land by putting away the foreign women." ¹²Then all those assembled replied with a loud voice: "We must do as you say. ¹³However, inasmuch as the people are many, also that we are not able to remain outside due to the rainy season and that the work will take more than a day or two, since the sin in this matter is so great, ¹⁴we suggest

u) A general quotation similar to Deut. 7:1-3.

v) Setting of this quotation is prior to occupation under Joshua. w) Cf. Deut. 23:6.

x) Their very fewness indicated that God had maintained His righteousness and justice, in that He had punished them. y) True repentance is often given such visible manifestation.

z) Ezra's prayer and urging receives a ready response.

a) Such rooms at the temple served as storerooms and meeting places for the priests, cf. I Kings 6:5; I Chron. 23:28. b) Possibly Jehohanan of Neh. 12:23, though very young here.

c) Literally, "devote his property," i.e., the proceeds from it would be given to the temple.

d) The ninth month, December, was a cold, rainy period of the year.

that our leaders stand for the whole assembly,^e and that all from the cities who have married foreign women, along with the elders and judges from these cities,^f come to them at an appointed time until the fierce anger of our God be turned from us regarding this matter." ¹⁵Only Jonathan son of Asahel, and Jahzeiah son of Tikvah, opposed this course of action, though they were encouraged by Meshullam and Shabbethai the Levite.

¹⁶Therefore, the children of the captivity carried out the plan. Ezra, the priest, and the family heads, all by name according to the house of their fathers, segregated themselves and began the work on the first day of the tenth month; ¹⁷and on the first day of the first month they finished with all the men who had married foreign women.^g

¹⁸From the sons of the priests, the following were found to have married foreign women: Of the sons of Jeshua the son of Jozadak, and his brothers, Maaseiah, Eliezer, Jarib, and Gedaliah ¹⁹who pledged themselves to put away their wives and offered a ram of the flock for their guilt; ²⁰of the descendants of Immer; Hanani and Zebadiah; ²¹of the descendants of Harim: Maaseiah, Elijah, Shemaiah, Jehiel, and Uz-ziah; ²²of the descendants of Pashhur: Elionai, Maaseiah, Ishmael, Nethanel, Jozabad, and Elasa.

²³From the Levites: Jozabad, Shimei, Kelaiah (that is, Kelita), Pethahiah, Judah, and Eliezer.

²⁴From the singers: Eliashib. From the gatekeepers: Shallum, Telem, and Uri.

²⁵And from Israel: Of the sons of Parosh: Remiah, Izziah, Malchijah, Mijamin, Eleazar, Malchijah, and Benaiah; ²⁶of the sons of Elam: Mattaniah, Zechariah, Jehiel, Abdi, Jeremoth, and Elijah; ²⁷of the sons of Zattu: Elieonai, Eliashib, Mattaniah, Jeremoth, Zabad, and Aziza; ²⁸of the sons of Bebai: Jehohanan, Hananiah, Zabbai, and Athlai; ²⁹of the sons of Bani: Meshullam, Malluch, Adaiah, Jashub, Sheal, and Jeremoth; ³⁰of the sons of Pahath-moab: Adna, Chelal, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattaniah, Bezalel, Binnui, and Manasseh; ³¹of the sons of Harim: Eliezer, Isshijah, Malchijah, Shemaiah, Shimeon, ³²Benjamin, Malluch, and Shemariah; ³³of the sons of Hashum: Mattenai, Mattattaah, Zabad, Eliphelet, Jeremai, Manasseh, and Shimei; ³⁴of the sons of Bani: Maadai, Amram, Uel, ³⁵Benaiah, Bedeiah, Che-luhi, ³⁶Vaniah, Meremoth, Eliashib, ³⁷Mattaniah, Mattenai, Jaasu, ³⁸Bani, Binnui, Shimei, ³⁹Shelemiah, Nathan, Adaiah, ⁴⁰Machnadebai, Shashai, Shairai, ⁴¹Azarel, Shelemiah, Shemariah, ⁴²Shallum, Amariah, and Joseph; ⁴³of the sons of Nebo: Jeiel, Mattithiah, Zabad, Zebina, Jaddai, Joel, and Benaiah. ⁴⁴All these had married foreign women, and some of them had wives by whom they had children.

e) These alone remain for the purpose of judging the rest.

f) These elders and judges would furnish necessary explanations and evidence.

g) The work took exactly three months: January, February and March.

THE BOOK OF NEHEMIAH

December, 445 B.C.

1 I WAS IN SHUSHAN, THE PALACE,^a in the month Chisleu, in the twentieth year,^b when Hanani, one of my brothers,^c came to me, accompanied by a few men from Judah, and I asked them concerning the escaped Jews, who were left from the captivity and concerning Jerusalem. ³They answered me that the remnant in the province^d who remained from the captivity were being severely afflicted and held in reproach, the wall of Jerusalem having been broken down and the gates destroyed by fire.^e

⁴When I heard this report, I sat down and wept and I mourned for days, fasting and praying to the God of heaven. ⁵I said, "I beseech Thee, O LORD, God of heaven, great and awful God who keeps His covenant and shows lovingkindness to those who love Him and obey His commandments, ⁶let Thy ear be attentive and Thy eyes be open to the prayer of Thy servant which I offer to Thee now, day and night, concerning the children of Israel, Thy servants. I confess the sin of the children of Israel, which we, even I and my father's house, have committed against Thee. ⁷We have acted very wickedly toward Thee, not obeying the commandments, statutes, and judgments which Thou didst give to Moses Thy servant. ⁸But remember now Thy word which Thou hast commanded to Moses, Thy servant, saying, 'If you sin, I will disperse you among the nations, ⁹but if you return to Me and live according to My commandments, I will regather you, even from the farthest extremities under heaven if necessary, to the place where I have chosen to cause My name to dwell.' ¹⁰Now these are Thy servants and Thy people which Thou hast redeemed by Thy great power and by Thy strong hand. ¹¹I beseech Thee, O LORD, let Thy ear be attentive to the prayer both of Thy servant and of Thy servants who take pleasure in revering Thy name; prosper Thy servant today by granting him favor before this man." ¹²For I was cupbearer^f to the king.

March-April, 444 B. C.

2 IN THE MONTH NISAN OF KING Artaxerxes' twentieth year, the king being at wine, as I brought the wine to him, never having been sad in his presence before, ²the king said to me. "Why is your face sad? You do not seem to be ill, so this can only mean that you have sorrow of heart." Then I felt very frightened,^h ³but I answered the king: "May the king live forever! Have I not good reason for my sad appearance, when the city where my

a) Shushan or Susa, former capital of Elam, became capital of Persia.

b) Twentieth year of Artaxerxes (465-424 B.C.); month, December. c) Cf. 7:2.

d) Province of Judah, cf. Ezra 2:1; 5:8.

e) It remains unsubstantiated that a more recent destruction is referred to here than that of Nebuchadrezzar in 586 B.C.

f) King Artaxerxes.

g) The cupbearer, having to guard against any poisoning of the king, was considered of high office.

h) One duty of the cupbearer was to always look pleasant.

ancestors are buried lies waste and her gates are destroyed by fire?" ⁴Then the king said, "What are you asking for?" I told the king, with first a prayer to God in heaven, ⁵"If it should please the king, and if your servant finds favor in your presence, I would like to be sent to the Jews, to the city where my ancestors are buried, that I may rebuild it." ⁶The king then inquired of me — the queen sitting beside him — "How long will you be gone, and when will you return?" After which, when I had indicated to him a time, he gave me permission to go. ⁷Then I further asked of the king, if it should please him, to give me letters addressed to the governors west of the River,¹ that they should let me pass through their countries unhindered as far as Judah, ⁸and a letter to Asaph, the king's forester,¹ that he should supply me with trees to make lumber for the gates of the fortress^k near the temple, for the wall of the city and for the house which I would occupy. Then, according to God's hand of blessing upon me, not only did the king so grant me, ⁹but in addition he sent with me officers of the army and cavalry to accompany me as I came to the governors west of the River,¹ to whom I gave the letters. ¹⁰But Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the Ammonite, a servant, were much displeased when they heard that someone had come to promote the welfare of the children of Israel.

Summer, 444 B. C.

¹¹After arriving in Jerusalem and being there for three days,^m ¹²I went out in the night accompanied by only a few men; for I had not told anyone as yet what my God had inclined my heart to do in Jerusalem. I took no animals with me except the one on which I rode. ¹³I went out while it was night, passed through the Valley Gateⁿ and headed towards the Dragon Well,^o then went on to the Dung Gate, viewing the walls of Jerusalem which lay in their broken condition and the gates which had been destroyed by fire. ¹⁴Going on, I passed the Fountain Gate and came to the King's Pool, but then there was not room enough for the animal I was riding to pass.^p ¹⁵So, it still being night, I took a course leading up the valley,^q continuing to survey the walls. Then I turned back, re-entered the Valley Gate, and came again to my starting point.

¹⁶The rulers did not know where I had been or what I had done, for I had not as yet told anything to the Jews, the priests, the nobles, the rulers, or those who did the work. ¹⁷But I said to them, "You are aware of the distressing circumstances in which we find ourselves, how Jerusalem lies waste and her gates are destroyed by fire. Therefore, come, let us build the wall of Jerusalem, that we be no longer a reproach." ¹⁸Further, I related to them how God's hand of blessing had been upon me, particularly in the privileges which the king had given me. Then they responded, "Let us rise up and build." So they prepared themselves for the good work.

¹⁹But when Sanballat the Horonite, Tobiah the Ammonite, a servant, and Geshem the Arabian heard what was planned, they jeered and made light of us, saying, "What do you think you are going to do? Would you rebel against the king?" ²⁰To which I gave answer, "We will begin and we will build, for the God of heaven, whose servants we are, will enable us to accomplish our aim; but you shall have no portion, right, or memorial in Jerusalem."

3 THEN ELIASHIB, THE HIGH PRIEST, and his brothers, the priests, rose up, built the Sheep Gate,^r dedicated it, and hung its doors, after which they dedicated the wall to the Tower of Hammeah and then to the Tower of Hananel. ²Next to them the men of

i) Euphrates. j) A valuable wooded area over which the king had placed a guard.

k) An imposing structure north of the temple for defending it. l) Euphrates, again.

m) Notice a similar period in Ezra's case; cf. Ezra 8:32.

n) Nehemiah proceeds around the city counter-clockwise. o) Or, "Jackal's Well."

p) Evidently the destruction was worse along the east side.

q) The Kidron Valley; he is here outside the wall.

r) The Sheep Gate was located on the northeast, near the temple. The enumeration of the workers begins here and works counter-clockwise around the city.

Jericho built and next to them Zaccur the son of Imri built.

³The Fish Gate was constructed by the sons of Hassenaah who laid its beams and set up its doors with its locks and bars. ⁴Next to them repaired Meremoth the son of Uriah, son of Hakkoz. Next to him repaired Meshullam the son of Berechiah, son of Meshazabel. Next to him repaired Zadok the son of Baana. ⁵And next to him repaired the Tekoites, though without the help of their nobles, who would not condescend to serve their LORD in that fashion.

⁶Joiada the son of Paseah and Meshullam the son of Besodeiah repaired the Old Gate,^a laying its beams and setting up its doors with its locks and bars. ⁷Next to them Melatiah, the Gibeonite, and Jadon, the Meronothite, men of Gibeon and Mizpah repaired as far as the official seat of the governor west of the River.^b ⁸Next to them repaired Uzziel the son of Harhaiah of the goldsmiths. Next to him repaired Hananiah, one of the apothecaries. Then they omitted Jerusalem as far as the Broad Wall.^c ⁹Next repaired Rephaiah the son of Hur, ruler of a half district of Jerusalem. ¹⁰Next to him repaired Jedaiah the son of Harumaph, opposite his own house. Next to him repaired Hattush the son of Hashabneiah. ¹¹Next to him repaired Malchijah the son of Harim and Hasshub the son of Pahath-moab who also repaired the Tower of Furnaces. ¹²Next to them repaired Shallum the son of Hallohesh, along with his daughters, who ruled a half district of Jerusalem.

¹³Hanun and Zanoah repaired the Valley Gate, building it and setting up its doors with its locks and bars; also they repaired 1500 feet of the wall to the Dung Gate. ¹⁴Malchijah the son of Rechab, ruler of the district of Beth-haccherem repaired the Dung Gate, building it and setting up its doors with its locks and bars.

¹⁵Shallum the son of Colhozeh, ruler of the district of Mizpah, repaired the Fountain Gate, building and roofing it and setting up its doors with its locks and bars; also he repaired the wall by the Pool of Shelah^d to the king's garden and as far as the stairs that descend from the city of David. ¹⁶Next to him repaired Nehemiah the son of Azbuk, ruler of a half district of Beth-zur, to a place opposite the sepulchres of David, to the pool that was made, and to the house of the heroes. ¹⁷Next to him repaired Levites under Rehum the son of Bani. Next to them repaired Hashabish, ruler of a half district of Keilah.^e ¹⁸Next to him repaired their brothers led by Bavvai the son of Henadad, ruler of the other half district of Keilah. ¹⁹The adjoining portion, which was near the ascent to the armory at the angle in the wall was repaired by Ezer the son of Jeshua, ruler of Mizpah. ²⁰The next portion, from the angle in the wall to the door of the house of Eliashib the high priest was diligently repaired by Baruch the son of Zabbai. ²¹The next portion was repaired by Meremoth the son of Uriah, son of Hakkoz.^f ²²Next repaired the priests, men of the Plain.^g ²³Next to them repaired Benjamin and Hasshub opposite their house. Next to them repaired Azariah the son of Maaseiah, son of Ananiah, opposite his house. ²⁴The adjoining portion was repaired by Binnui the son of Henadad, from the house of Azariah to the angle in the wall and to the corner. ²⁵Next to him repaired Palal the son of Uzai, opposite from the angle in the wall and the high tower which stands out from the king's house by the court of the prison. Next to him repaired Pedaiah the son of Parosh. ²⁶The temple attendants lived in Ophel as far as a place opposite the Water Gate toward the east and the tower that stands out. ²⁷The adjoining portion from the high tower that stands out as far as Ophel was repaired by the Tekoites.^h

²⁸Above the Horse Gate did the

s) Literally, "Gate of the Old," perhaps meaning either gate of the old city or gate of the old wall.

t) Euphrates. u) The wall here may have remained intact, not needing repair.

v) Often called pool of Siloam. w) David delivered Keilah from Philistines, while a fugitive from Saul, 1 Sam. 23:1-13. Evidently helpers came from other cities for the building of the wall.

x) This man had two portions to repair; cf. v. 4.

y) Plain of the Jordan Valley; cf. 12:28; Gen. 13:10.

z) Tekoa was the city of Amos, ten miles south of Jerusalem.

priests repair, each opposite his own house. ²⁹Next to them repaired Zadok the son of Immer opposite his own house. Next to him repaired Shemaiah the son of Shecaniah, keeper of the East Gate. ³⁰The adjoining portion was repaired by Hananiah the son of Shelemiah and by Hanun, the sixth son of Zalaph. Next to him repaired Meshullam the son of Berechiah, opposite his own house. ³¹Next to him repaired Malchijah, one of the goldsmiths,^a as far as the house of the temple attendants and of the merchants, opposite the Gate of Hammiphkad, and as far as the ascent^b of the corner. ³²And between the ascent of the corner and the Sheep Gate did the goldsmiths and the merchants repair.

4 WHEN SANBALLAT HEARD THAT WE were building the wall, he was furious and insulted and mocked the Jews ²before his companions and the army of Samaria, saying, "What would these decrepit Jews do? Would they expect to build this by themselves? Would they sacrifice? Do they think this is a one-day's job? Do they hope to use over again the stones from the rubbish heaps that were burned?" ³And Tobiah the Ammonite, who was nearby, added, "Even if they build their stone wall, it will tumble down if a fox should climb upon it."^c places filled in, they were very angry, ⁸and they agreed together to make war on Jerusalem and to create disturbance in it. ⁹However, we prayed to our God, and stationed a guard day and night as a protection against them. ¹⁰Then Judah^h reported that, due to the weariness of the workers and the large amount of rubbish needing to be moved, they were not able to continue building the wall. ¹¹At the same time, the enemy was planning that we should not know of nor see them until they were upon us, killing us, and causing the work to cease. ¹²Also during this time, the Jews who lived near them kept coming to us and saying ten times, "Wherever you turn they will assail you."ⁱ ¹³Then I placed the people by families, having their swords, spears, and bows behind the wall at its lowest, most open places.^j ¹⁴After which, having approved the stationing, I arose and encouraged the nobles, the rulers and the rest of the people, saying, "Do not fear them; remember the LORD is great and dreadful; so fight for your brothers, your sons, your daughters, your wives and your homes."

⁴"Hear,^d O our God, because we are despised. Return their contempt upon their own heads and deliver them to be plundered in a land of captivity. ⁵Do not cover their villainy nor blot out their sin from before Thee, for they have provoked Thee in the presence of the builders."^e ⁶So we built the wall to half its height around the entire city, for the people had a will to work.^f

⁷But when Sanballat, Tobiah, the Arabians, the Ammonites, and the Ashdodites^g heard that the walls began to be repaired, with all the broken

¹⁵The result was that when our enemies heard that their plan, which God had thus frustrated, was known to us, we were able to return in total force to our work upon the wall. ¹⁶However, from that day on, only half of my servants^k worked on the wall while the other half held the spears, the shields, the bows and the coats of mail. The rulers took up positions in support of all the people of Judah. ¹⁷As for the builders of the wall, those who carried the materials did their work of carrying, using only one hand, while with the other they held a weapon; ¹⁸and those who did the building proper worked with their swords strapped to their sides. The trumpeter remained close to me.

¹⁹Then I gave this order to the

a) Or "son of the goldsmiths." b) Or, "upper chamber."

c) Ridicule need not hurt, if the source is considered.

d) Nehemiah's prayer as a result of the enemy opposition.

e) They had made light of God in the presence of the builders.

f) Opposition is defeated when we are willing to work.

g) The most complete list given of the enemy's forces. h) Judean people at large.

i) Or, "From all places you must return to us," meaning that they wanted their own townspeople to return from Jerusalem. j) The lowest places required the most careful guarding.

k) Refers to his own private servants.

nobles, the rulers, and the rest of the people; "The work is great and extensive so that we are separated far from one another on the wall; ²⁰therefore, wherever you hear the trumpet, assemble yourselves there to us. Our God will fight for us!" ²¹So we labored at the task, with half of them bearing spears,¹ from break of morning until the stars appeared. ²²Also I gave direction at that time to the people that every man with his servant should lodge in Jerusalem and so be with us as a guard at night as well as a workman during the day. ²³And neither I, nor my brothers, nor my servants, nor men of the guard which followed me took off our clothes, and each held his weapon in hand.

5 THEN THE PEOPLE AND THEIR wives began to complain strongly against their own Judean countrymen.^m ²Some said, "We, our sons and our daughters are many, and we must be given grain if we are to eat and live." ³Others said, "We have been mortgaging our fields, our vineyards and our houses and now we must be given grain for our hunger." ⁴Still others said, "We have had to borrow money in order to pay the king's tax on our fields and vineyards, ⁵and now, although our flesh is the same as that of our countrymen and our children as theirs, yet we are forced to sell our sons and our daughters into slavery, with some of our daughters having already been thus sold, and we are helpless to better ourselves, for our fields and vineyards belong to others."

⁶When I heard their complaints along with these facts, I was very angry, ⁷and, having reflected upon the matter, I brought the charge directly to the nobles and rulers, saying, "You are exacting interest from your fellow-countrymen."ⁿ Then I appointed a large council on their account, ⁸to whom I said, "We have redeemed our Judean brothers, who were sold to the gentiles, as far as we have been able;^o should you now be engaged in selling your brothers, and would you have them bought even by our own people?" To this they were silent, finding nothing to answer, ⁹and so I continued, "What you have been doing is not good. Ought you not to conduct yourselves in reverence for our God, lest reproach come from our enemy nations? ¹⁰It is true that even my own brothers and servants have loaned out money and grain, but now let everyone of us forsake this practice. ¹¹Restore today, I earnestly ask of you, their fields, their vineyards, their oliveyards and their houses, as well as the hundredth^p part of the money, the grain, the new wine and the oil which you have exacted from them." ¹²They replied, "We will restore to them and seek nothing more from them; so will we do even as you have asked." Then I called the priests that they might be put under oath to carry out what they had promised. ¹³In addition I shook out my lap, saying, "So shall God shake out every man from his house and his possessions who does not fulfil his promise, even thus shall he be shaken out and emptied." After this the council responded with, "Amen," and they gave praise to the LORD. Then the people put into practice what they had promised.^q ¹⁴Moreover, from the day of my appointment as governor in the land of Judah, in the twentieth year of King Artaxerxes to his thirty-second year, twelve years in all, I and my brothers did not draw upon the governor's food allowance, ¹⁵even though the governors before me had burdened the people in taking from them bread and wine besides forty shekels of silver, with even their servants oppressing the people. However, out of reverence for God, I did not do so, ¹⁶and neither did I buy up land.^r Instead, I pressed for-

l) Seems to refer again to his private servants.

m) These complaints are lodged while the walls are being built.

n) Lending money at interest to other Israelites was forbidden, Deut. 23:19,20.

o) Apparently Nehemiah and others had bought up Jews being sold in slavery in Persia. Selling of Israelites forbidden, Lev. 25:42.

p) Interest reckoned by month, making 12 per cent yearly.

q) Promises made should always be kept.

r) In his position, Nehemiah might easily have bought mortgaged land cheaply.

ward the work on the wall and so did all my servants busy themselves. ¹⁷Further, some 150 men, Jews and rulers besides guests from surrounding nations, ate at my table, ¹⁸so that it was necessary to prepare for a single day an ox and six choice sheep in addition to fowl and, once in ten days, a quantity of wine of all kinds. Yet for all this I did not require the governor's food allowance since the burden was already heavy upon the people.⁸ ¹⁹O my God, remember me benevolently for everything I have done for this people.

6 NOW WHEN SANBALLAT, TOBIAH, Geshem the Arabian and the rest of our enemies heard that I had completed the wall so there was no breach left in it, though at that time I had not yet hung the doors in the gates, ²Sanballat and Geshem sent word to me to come and meet with them in one of the villages in the plain of Ono. However, they planned to harm me. ³Realizing this, I sent a message to them, giving answer, "I am occupied with an important task so that I am unable to come down. Why should the work stop while I leave it and come down to you?" ⁴However, they continued to send the same request to me four different times, to which I replied in the same way each time. ⁵Finally, the fifth time, Sanballat sent his servant to me, bearing an open letter^t ⁶in which was written, "It is reported among the nations, with Gashmu in particular asserting it, that you and the Jews have built the wall because you plan to rebel, and that you intend to make yourself king; ⁷also that you have appointed prophets to spread about in Jerusalem that you should be king of Judah. Soon these reports will be made known to the king; therefore, come and we will counsel together." ⁸But I sent a reply to him that these assertions which he had made were not true, being only fabrications out of his own heart. ⁹For they all thought they could frighten us so that our hands would cease from pursuing the work. Therefore, may God strengthen my hands!

¹⁰Some time later I went to the house of Shemaiah the son of Delaiah, son of Mehetabel, who was shut in.^u He said, "Let us seclude ourselves in the house of God within the temple and close the doors of the temple, for they are coming to kill you—at night they are coming to kill you."¹¹ But I answered him, "Should a man in my position^v flee? Moreover, can one such as I^w enter into the temple and live? I will not go in."¹² And then I realized that God had not sent him, but that Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him to speak these words to me; ¹³the intention being to cause me to follow this counsel out of fear, thus committing sin, which then would be for them an opportunity to bring an accusation against me. ¹⁴My God, remember Tobiah and Sanballat according to these doings and Noadiah, the prophetess and the other prophets who have tried to frighten me.

September, 444 B. C.

¹⁵On the twenty-fifth day of the month Elul,^x the wall was finished, having taken a total of fifty-two days. ¹⁶And when all our enemies heard of it and realized that all the surrounding nations had been made to respect us, they came down considerably in their own estimation and began to understand that this work had been accomplished through our God. ¹⁷Moreover, during those days many letters had been exchanged between Tobiah and influential men of Judah. ¹⁸For many in Judah had pledged themselves to aid him, since he was a son-in-law of Shecaniah son of Arah, and also his son Jenohana had married the daughter of Meshullam the son of Berechiaiah. ¹⁹These had been continually telling me that his actions were good, while at the same time passing on to him

s) Nehemiah was an excellent example for the people to follow.

t) An unsealed letter so that anyone could read it, as the enemy wanted.

u) Perhaps due to some defilement or sickness. v) As governor.

w) Nehemiah, not being a Levite, did not have a right to enter the holy place; cf. Num. 18:7.

x) September.

whatever I said, in keeping with which Tobiah had sent his letters to make me afraid.

7 AFTER THE WALL WAS FINISHED and I had hung the doors, in addition to appointing the gatekeepers, the singers, and the Levites, ²I placed in charge over Jerusalem Hanani, my brother,³ and Hananiah, commandant of the fortress,² the latter likewise being a faithful person and revering God more than many others. ³I gave directions to them that the gates of Jerusalem should not be opened until long after sunrise and that they should be closed and locked again while the guard was still on duty; also that guards should be selected from the inhabitants of Jerusalem for specified points, with all others guarding their own houses. ⁴The city was large and widely spread out with the people of a comparatively small number and few houses having been built.

⁵Then my God inclined my heart to assemble the leading men of the city along with the people in order to register them. At that time I found a book recording the genealogies of those who had come at the first,^a in which was written: ⁶These are the sons of the province^c who came out of the captivity which Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, had imposed upon them and who returned to Jerusalem and Judah, each to his city. ⁷They came with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah,^d Azariah, Raamiah, Nahamani, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispereth, Bigvai, Nehum, and Baanah.

The number of the men of the people of Israel: ⁸The sons of Parosh, 2172; ⁹the sons of Shephatiah, 372; ¹⁰the sons of Arah, 652; ¹¹the sons of Pahath-moab, of the sons of Jeshua and Joab, 2818; ¹²the sons of Elam, 1254; ¹³the sons of Zattu, 845; ¹⁴the sons of Zaccai, 760; ¹⁵the sons of Binnui, 648; ¹⁶the sons of Bebai, 628; ¹⁷the sons of Azgad, 2322; ¹⁸the sons of Adonikam, 667; ¹⁹the sons of Bigvai, 2067; ²⁰the sons of Adin, 655; ²¹the sons of Ater of Hezekiah, 98; ²²the sons of Hashum, 328; ²³the sons of Bezai, 324; ²⁴the sons of Hariph, 122; ²⁵the sons of Gibeon, 95; ²⁶the men of Bethlehem and Netophah, 188; ²⁷the men of Anathoth, 128; ²⁸the men of Bethazmavath, 42; ²⁹the men of Kirjath-jearim, Chephirah, and Beeroth, 743; ³⁰the men of Ramah and Geba, 621; ³¹the men of Michmas, 122; ³²the men of Bethel and Ai, 123; ³³the men of the other Nebo, 52; ³⁴the sons of the other Elam, 1254; ³⁵the sons of Harim, 320; ³⁶the sons of Jericho, 345; ³⁷the sons of Lod, Hadid, and Ono, 721; ³⁸and the sons of Senaah, 3930.

³⁹The priests: The sons of Jedaiah of the house of Jeshua, 973; ⁴⁰the sons of Immer, 1052; ⁴¹the sons of Pashhur, 1247; ⁴²and the sons of Harim, 1017.

⁴³The Levites: The sons of Jeshua and Kadmiel of the sons of Hodevah, 74. ⁴⁴The singers were the sons of Asaph, 148. ⁴⁵The gatekeepers were the sons of Shallum, the sons of Ater, the sons of Talmon, the sons of Akkub, the sons of Hatita, and the sons of Shobai, in all 138.

⁴⁶The temple attendants: The sons of Ziha, the sons of Hasupha, the sons of Tabbaoth, ⁴⁷the sons of Keros, the sons of Sia, the sons of Padon, ⁴⁸the sons of Lebana, the sons of Hagaba, the sons of Shalmal, ⁴⁹the sons of Hanan, the sons of Giddel, the sons of Gahar, ⁵⁰the sons of Reaiah, the sons of Rezin, the sons of Nekoda, ⁵¹the sons of Gazzam, the sons of Uzza, the sons of Paseah, ⁵²the sons of Besai, the sons of Meunim, the sons of Nephis-hesim, ⁵³the sons of Bakbuk, the sons of Hakupha, the sons of Harhur, ⁵⁴the sons of Bazlith, the sons of Mehida, the sons of Harsha, ⁵⁵the sons of Bar-kos, the sons of Sisera, the sons of Tamah, ⁵⁶the sons of Neziah, and the sons of Hatipha.

⁵⁷The sons of Solomon's servants: the sons of Sorai, the sons of Sophereth, the sons of Perida, ⁵⁸the sons of Jaala, the sons of Darkon, the sons of Giddel, ⁵⁹the sons of Shephatiah, the sons of Hattil, the sons of Pochereth of Haz-

y) Cf. 1:2. z) Cf. 2:8. a) Under Zerubbabel in 536 B.C. b) Same list in Ezra 2. c) Jews. d) Not the author of this book.

zebaim, and the sons of Amon. ⁶⁰All of the temple attendants and the sons of Solomon's servants were 392.

⁶¹Those who also went out from Tel-melah, Tel-harsha, Cherub, Addon and Immer, but who could not show their ancestral houses nor their race to prove that they were of Israel: ⁶²The sons of Delaiah, the sons of Tobiah, and the sons of Nekoda, 642. ⁶³Those of the priests were the sons of Hobaiah, the sons of Hakkoz, and the sons of Barzillai, who married one of the daughters of Barzillai^e the Gileadite and then took her family name. ⁶⁴These sought their names among those recorded in the register, but could not find them and so they were considered polluted and put out from the priesthood. ⁶⁵Moreover, the governor^f ordered them to refrain from eating of the most holy things until a priest should stand up with Urim and Thummim.^g

⁶⁶The total number of the group was 42,360 ⁶⁷besides 7337 servants, both men and women, and 245 singers, both men and women. ⁶⁸They had 736 horses, 245 mules, ⁶⁹435 camels, and 6720 donkeys.

⁷⁰Some of the heads of father's houses gave contributions for the work. Also the governor^h gave to the treasury 5000 dollars of gold, 50 basins, and 530 priest's garments. ⁷¹Other leading men together gave to the treasury of the work 100,000 dollars of gold and 77,000 dollars of silver. ⁷²The total given by the rest of the people was 100,000 dollars of gold, 70,000 dollars of silver, and 67 priest's garments.

⁷³Thus the priests, the Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers, the common people, and the temple attendants, even all Israel, dwelt in their cities.

October, 444 B.C.

8 NOW WHEN THE SEVENTH MONTH was come, the children of Israel being in their cities, all the people gathered as one man in the squareⁱ by the Water Gate and asked Ezra the scribe to bring the book of the Law of Moses which the LORD had given Israel.^j ²So Ezra the priest brought the law to the assembly in which were both men and women — all who could understand what they heard. This was on the first day of the seventh month. ³He read from it in the square by the Water Gate from early morning until the noon hour to the assembled men and women, all who could understand, and the ears of all the people were attentive to the book of the Law. ⁴Ezra the scribe stood on a wooden platform which had been made for the purpose and beside him on his right stood Mattithiah, Shema, Anaiah, Uriah, Hilkiah and Maaseiah, and on his left Pedaiah, Mishael, Malchijah, Hashum, Hashbaddanah, Zechariah and Meshulam. ⁵Ezra opened the book in the sight of all the people, he standing higher than they, and when he opened it, all the people stood up.^k ⁶Then Ezra blessed the LORD, the great God, to which all the people responded, "Amen, Amen," as they lifted up their hands, bowed their heads, and worshiped the LORD with their faces to the ground. ⁷Also Jeshua, Bani, Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan, Pelaiiah and other Levites helped the people to understand the Law, the people remaining in their places. ⁸They read out of the Law of God distinctly, and they explained the meaning so that they understood the reading.^l

⁹Then Nehemiah the governor, Ezra the priest and scribe, and the Levites who helped the people to understand, said to all the people, "This is a holy day to the LORD your God; do not mourn or weep." For all the people were weeping as they listened to the words of the law.^m ¹⁰Further he said to them, "Go, eat the fat, drink the sweet, and give a part to him for whom nothing is prepared; for this is a holy day to our LORD.ⁿ Do not grieve, for ^e) Cf. II Sam. 17:27; 19:31 f; I Kings 2:7.

^f) Hebrew "Tirshatha," referring to Zerubbabel.

^g) Again referring to Zerubbabel. ⁱ) Literally

^j) There is hope when people ask to hear the Word of God.

^k) Evidently in respect for the Law. ^l) The God-appointed task of every minister of the Word.

^m) True reading of God's Word effects response in the heart.

ⁿ) The blessings of God's Word should transform our lives.

^g) To determine the will of God.

^h) "broad place."

the joy of the LORD is your strength."¹¹ Thus the Levites were able to quiet all the people, saying, "Cease weeping, for the day is holy; do not grieve."

¹² Then all the people departed to eat and drink and send portions, to enjoy a real celebration because they had understood what had been explained to them.^o

¹³ On the second day, the heads of fathers' houses of all the people, along with the priests and Levites, met again with Ezra the scribe to learn more about the words of the Law.¹⁴ And they found written in the Law,^p which the LORD had commanded through the ministry of Moses, that the children of Israel should dwell in tents during the feast of the seventh month,¹⁵ and that ample announcement should be made in all the cities, especially in Jerusalem, for the people to go out to the hills and bring olive branches, wild olive branches, myrtle branches, palm branches and branches of thick-leaved trees to make tents in accordance with what was written.

¹⁶ So the people went out, brought them in and made tents for themselves, some on their own roof, others in their own court, or else in the court of the house of God, or in the square by the Water Gate, or in the square by the Gate of Ephraim.¹⁷ Everyone who had returned from the captivity made tents and dwelt in them, something which the children of Israel had not done since the days of Joshua the son of Nun until this day, and all were very joyful.¹⁸ And he^r continued to read in the book of the law of God day by day from the first day to the last, the feast being held for seven days with the closing festival coming on the eighth day according to the custom.

9 NOW ON THE TWENTY-FOURTH DAY of this month the children of Israel came together with fasting in sackcloth and with earth upon their heads.² And having separated themselves from all foreigners, the Israelites stood and confessed their own sins and those of their fathers.³ They stood in their places for a fourth part of the day, while the book of the Law of the LORD their God was being read and for another fourth part of it they made confession and worshiped the LORD their God.⁴ Upon the platform stood Jeshua, Bani, Kadmiel, Shebanish, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani and Chenani, all Levites, who spoke out in a loud voice to the LORD their God.

⁵ Then the Levites, Jeshua, Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabneiah, Sherebiah, Hodiah, Shebaniah and Pethahiah said, "Stand up and bless the LORD your God who is from everlasting to everlasting. Blessed be Thy glorious name and exalted above all blessing and praise.⁶ Thou^t alone art the LORD. Thou hast made heaven, the heaven of heavens with all their host, the earth and all that is thereon, the sea and all that is therein. Thou dost give life to all and before Thee the host of heaven worships.⁷ Thou art Jehovah, the God who chose Abram, brought him forth out of Ur of the Chaldees, and changed his name to Abraham.⁸ Thou didst find his heart to be faithful before Thee, and Thou didst make a covenant with him to give to his descendants the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites, and the Girgashites and Thou didst fulfil Thy promise for Thou art righteous."^u

⁹ "Thou didst see the affliction of our fathers in Egypt and didst hear their cry at the Red Sea.¹⁰ Thou didst perform signs and wonders against Pharaoh and all his servants as well as against all the people of the land, because Thou didst know that they acted insolently against our fathers; so Thou didst cause respect for Thy name, as it is this day.¹¹ Thou didst divide the sea before them so that they went through the midst of the sea upon dry land, and Thou didst cast their pur-

^o) It is the privilege and the function of the Christian to be joyful.

^p) Cf. Ex. 23:16; Lev. 23:39-43; Num. 29:12-38; Deut. 16:13,15.

^q) Obedience to God is the secret of genuine gladness. ^r) Ezra.

^s) God's Word brings conviction of sin. ^t) Ezra alone probably voices the remainder of the prayer.

^u) Recounting God's blessings is a means of praising Him.

suers into the depths as a stone into mighty waters.^v ¹²Thou didst lead them in the day by a pillar of cloud and in the night by a pillar of fire to provide light for the way in which they should go. ¹³Thou didst come down upon Mount Sinai and, speaking with them from heaven, didst give to them right ordinances and true laws, good statutes and commandments, ¹⁴and didst make known to them regarding Thy holy Sabbath, commanding them in precepts, statutes and laws by the ministry of Moses Thy servant. ¹⁵Bread from heaven Thou didst give them for their hunger,^w and water from the rock Thou didst bring forth to them for their thirst.^x Thou didst tell them to go in and possess the land which Thou hadst sworn to give them.

¹⁶But they, even our fathers, acted in a proud way, stiffening their necks, and did not listen to Thy commandments. ¹⁷They refused to obey, not being mindful of the wonders which Thou hadst performed among them; they stiffened their necks and appointed a leader to take them back to their slavery in Egypt.^y But Thou art a God ready to forgive, gracious and merciful, slow to anger and abundant in kindness, and Thou didst not forsake them. ¹⁸Even when they had made for themselves a molten calf and said, 'This is your God which has brought you out of Egypt,' and so behaved outrageously, ¹⁹Thou in Thine abundant mercy didst not forsake them in the wilderness, but didst continue to provide for them the pillar of cloud by day to lead them in the way and the pillar of fire by night to illumine for them the path by which they should go. ²⁰Thou didst give Thy good Spirit to instruct them; Thou didst not withhold Thy manna from their mouth and Thou didst provide water for their thirst. ²¹For forty years Thou didst sustain them in the wilderness so that they lacked nothing; their clothing did not wear out and their feet did not swell.^z

²²"Thou gavest them kingdoms and peoples and didst allot to them every corner; they even possessed the land of Sihon, king of Heshbon, and that of Og, king of Bashan.^a ²³Thou didst multiply their children like the stars of heaven and didst bring them into the land concerning which Thou hadst promised their fathers that they would enter and possess it.^b ²⁴So the children did enter and possess the land as Thou didst subdue before them its inhabitants, the Canaanites, and didst deliver to them their kings and peoples for doing with them as they chose. ²⁵They captured fortified cities and fertile land; they possessed houses filled with good things, hewn-out cisterns, vineyards, olive orchards, and fruit trees in abundance; so they ate and were filled, and, growing fat, they enjoyed life fully by Thy great goodness.^c

²⁶Nevertheless, they were disobedient and rebelled against Thee, casting Thy Law behind their back. They killed Thy prophets who warned them that they should return to Thee, and committed other acts of great provocation. ²⁷Consequently, Thou didst deliver them into the hands of their enemies who made them suffer; but when in their suffering they cried to Thee, Thou didst hear from heaven and out of Thine abundant mercy didst give them saviors to save them from their enemies. ²⁸After a time of rest, they again committed sin before Thee and Thou didst again deliver them into the hand of their enemies who again held control over them. Yet, when they once more cried to Thee, Thou in Thy mercy, didst hear from heaven and didst deliver them, even after many times.^d ²⁹Thou didst continue to warn them that they should return to Thy Law; but they, in their pride, refused to obey Thy commandments, persisting in the breaking of Thine ordinances, which if a man keeps he shall live.^e They presented a resisting shoulder and a hardened neck in their refusal to listen. ³⁰For many

v) Refers to the Egyptian army, Ex. 14:23-28. w) The manna, Ex. 16:15.

x) Water from the rock, Ex. 17:5,6. y) In spite of the great suffering they had experienced there.

z) A remarkable and needful provision of God! a) This land was east of the Jordan.

b) The land west of the Jordan. c) They enjoyed the blessing, but forgot that God had given it.

d) This cycle was often repeated in the days of the Judges.

e) Cf. Lev. 18:5; Ezek. 20:11; Luke 10:28.

years Thou didst bear with them, warning them by Thy Spirit through the prophets; yet they would not listen. For that reason Thou didst give them into the hand of neighboring peoples.^f ³¹Nevertheless, in Thine abundant mercy Thou didst not forsake them altogether, for Thou art a God of grace and mercy.

³²"And now, our God, the great, mighty and terrible God, who keeps His covenant and lovingkindness, let not all the adversity seem small to Thee which has come upon us, upon our kings, our princes, our priests, our prophets, our fathers, and all Thy people from the days of the Assyrian kings until now. ³³Though indeed Thou hast been just in all that has come upon us, for Thou hast dealt righteously, but we have acted wickedly. ³⁴Our kings, our princes,^g our priests, and our fathers did not keep Thy Law nor heed Thy commandments, nor Thy warnings which Thou didst extend to them.

³⁵They did not serve Thee in respect to their kingdom toward which Thou didst show abundant favor, nor in respect to their large and fertile land which Thou didst give them. They did not turn from their wicked practices.

³⁶Consequently, we are in bondage today, even in the land which Thou gavest to our fathers to eat its fruit and its good things; we are slaves in it.^h

³⁷Its rich yield goes to the kings which Thou hast placed over us because of our sin, who exercise authority even over our bodies and our cattle as they please, so that we are in great distress.

³⁸In view of all this we do make a sure covenant in writing, and our princes, our Levites, and our priests set their seal upon it."

10 THOSE WHO SET THEIR SEAL were: Nehemiah the governor, the son of Hacaliah; Zedekiah, ²Seraiah, Azariah, Jeremiah, ³Pashhur, Amariah, Malchijah, ⁴Hattush, Shebaniah, Malluch, ⁵Harim, Meremoth, Obadiah, ⁶Daniel, Ginnethon, Baruch, ⁷Meshullam, Abijah, Mijamin, ⁸Maaziah, Bilgai, and Shemaiah; these were the priests.

⁹The Levites were: Jeshua the son of Azaniah, Binnui of the sons of Henadad, Kadmiel; ¹⁰and their brothers, Shebaniah, Hodiah, Kelita, Pelaiah, Hanan, ¹¹Mica, Rehob, Hashabiah, ¹²Zaccur, Sherebiah, Shebaniah, ¹³Hodiah, Bani, and Beninur.

¹⁴The leaders of the people were: Parosh, Pahath-moab, Elam, Zattu, Bani, ¹⁵Bunni, Azgad, Bebai, ¹⁶Adonijah, Bigvai, Adin, ¹⁷Ater, Hezekiah, Azzur, ¹⁸Hodiah, Hashum, Bezai, ¹⁹Hariph, Anathoth, Nebai, ²⁰Magpiash, Meshullam, Hezir, ²¹Meshezabel, Zadok, Zaddua, ²²Pelathiah, Hanan, Anaiah, ²³Hoshea, Hananiah, Hasshub, ²⁴Hallohesh, Pilha, Shobek, ²⁵Rehum, Hashabnah, Maaseiah, ²⁶Ahiah, Hanan, Anan, ²⁷Maluch, Harim, and Baanah.

²⁸The rest of the people, the priests, the Levites, the gatekeepers, the singers,ⁱ the temple attendants, and all who had separated themselves from the peoples of the lands to the Law of God, their wives, their sons, and their daughters, all who had knowledge and understanding, ²⁹joined with their brothers, the leaders, in entering into an oath involving penalty, swearing to walk in God's Law, which was given through Moses the servant of God, to observe and carry out all the commandments, judgments, and statutes of Jehovah our^j LORD. ³⁰We promised that we would not give our daughters to the peoples of the land nor take their daughters for our sons; ³¹that if the peoples of the land would bring in wares or any grain on the Sabbath day to sell, we would not buy from them on the Sabbath or other holy day; and^k that in the seventh year we would forego the crops and the exacting of any debt.^k

³²We also imposed upon ourselves

f) Refers to the captivities to Assyria and Babylonia.

g) The head of a tribe or of a clan, as well as a governor or a king's son was titled a prince. The essential meaning is leader.

h) The Jews were under the sovereignty of Persia.

i) Singing played a large part in temple worship.

j) Nehemiah begins to use the first person, continuing to vs. 39.

k) Sabbatic year observance; Ex. 23:10,11.

as a law that we would give a dollar annually¹ for the service of the house of our God: ³³for the showbread, the continual meal-offering, the continual burnt-offering, the Sabbaths, the new moons, the established feasts, the holy things, the sin-offerings to make atonement for Israel, and for all the work of the house of our God. ³⁴Likewise we cast lots among the priests, the Levites and the people for determining the order in which our fathers' houses, at regular times, year by year, should supply wood for the offerings, bringing it into the house of our God for burning upon the altar of the LORD our God as it is written in the Law. ³⁵We further pledged that we would bring the first-fruits of our land and the first-fruits of all fruit from all our trees annually to the house of the LORD; ³⁶also to bring the first-born of our sons and of our cattle, of our herds and of our flocks to the house of our God, to the priests who minister in the house of our God, according as it is written in the Law; ³⁷besides to bring the best of the coarse meal,^m of the heave-offerings,ⁿ of the fruit of every tree, of the new wine, and of the oil to the priests in the chambers of the house of our God; and to bring to the Levites the tithes of our ground; for the Levites are they who collect tithes in all our country towns. ³⁸Accompanying the Levites when they collect their tithe shall be a priest, a son of Aaron; for the Levites shall in turn bring a tenth of their tithe to the house of our God, to the chambers of the storehouse.^o ³⁹For it was to these chambers that both the children of Israel and the Levites were to bring all heave-offerings of grain, new wine and oil, for there were the sacred vessels, the ministering priests, the gatekeepers, and the singers; for we would not neglect the house of our God.

11 NOW THE LEADERS OF THE PEOPLE lived in Jerusalem and the rest of the people cast lots to bring one out of ten to dwell in Jerusalem, the holy city, leaving the other nine in the other towns.^p ²The people also blessed all those who volunteered to make their home in Jerusalem.^q

Fall, 444 B.C.

³These are the heads of the province who lived in Jerusalem; while in the other towns of Judah each lived on his own property in his own city Israel, the priests, the Levites, the temple attendants, and the descendants of Solomon's servants. ⁴In Jerusalem lived some of the descendants of Judah and some of the descendants of Benjamin. Of the tribe of Judah: Athaiah the son of Uziah, son of Zechariah, son of Amariah, son of Shephatiah, son of Mahalalel, of the sons of Perez; ⁵and Maaseiah the son of Baruch, son of Colhozeh, son of Hazaiah, son of Adaiah, son of Joiarib, son of Zechariah, son of the Shilonite. ⁶All the sons of Perez who lived in Jerusalem were 468 valiant men.

⁷These are of the tribe of Benjamin: Sallu the son of Meshullam, son of Joed, son of Pedaiiah, son of Kolaiah, son of Maaseiah, son of Ithiel, son of Jeshaiiah. ⁸After him Gabbai-Sallai with 928. ⁹Over them as chief was Joel the son of Zichri, with Judah the son of Hassenuah being the second in command over the city.

¹⁰Of the priests: Jedaiah the son of Joiarib, Jachin,^r ¹¹Seraiah the son of Hilkiah, son of Meshullam, son of Zadok, son of Meraioth, son of Ahitub, who was ruler over the house of God, ¹²and their brothers who did the work of the house, 822; also Adaiah the son of Jeroham, son of Pelaliah, son of Amzi, son of Zechariah, son of Pashhur, son of Malchijah, ¹³and his brothers who were heads of father's houses, 242; also Amashsai the son of Azarel, son of Ahzai, son of Meshillemoth, son of Immer, ¹⁴and their brothers, who were mighty men of valor, 128. Their overseer was Zabdiel the son of Haggedolim.^s

1) One shekel worth about sixty-six cents, now equivalent to much more than a dollar, cf. Ex. 30:11-16, one half shekel imposed. m) Or "dough." n) Or "contributions."

o) Certain rooms of the temple were set aside for such storing purposes.

p) Evidently only a few desired to live in the city itself, cf. 7:4.

q) These volunteers are in addition to the rulers and the one in ten of vs. 1.

r) Or "Jedaiah, Joiarib, Jachin"; cf. I Chron. 9:10. s) Or "the son of the great men."

¹⁵Of the Levites: Shemaiah the son of Hasshub, son of Azrikam, son of Hashabiah, son of Bunni; ¹⁶Shabbethai and Jozabad, leaders among the Levites, who were in charge of the outside work of the house of God; ¹⁷Mattaniah the son of Mica, son of Zabdi, son of Asaph, who was the leader to begin the thanksgiving with prayer; Bakbukiah, the second among his brothers; and Abda the son of Shammua, son of Galal, son of Jeduthun. ¹⁸All the Levites in the holy city were 284.

¹⁹The gatekeepers, Akkub, Talmon, and their brothers who kept watch at the gates were 172. ²⁰The rest of the priests, the Levites, and the common people of Israel lived in other cities of Judah, each in his own inheritance. ²¹However, the temple attendants dwelt on Ophel^t with Ziha and Gishpa their overseers.

²²The overseer of the work of the house of God among the Levites in Jerusalem was Uzzi the son of Bani, son of Hashabiah, son of Mattaniah, son of Mica, of the sons of Asaph, the singers. ²³For there was a commandment from the king^u concerning them and a settled provision for the singers as every day required. ²⁴As counsel regarding the affairs of the people before the king was Pethahiah the son of Meshezabel, of the sons of Zerah, son of Judah.

²⁵In respect to the towns with their surrounding territories, some of the people of Judah lived in Kiriath-arba and her environs, in Dibon and her environs, in Jekabzeel and her environs, ²⁶in Jeshua, in Moladah, in Beth-pelet, ²⁷in Hazar-shual, in Beersheba and her environs, ²⁸in Ziklag, in Meconah and her environs, ²⁹in En-remmon, in Zorah, in Jarmuth, ³⁰in both Zanoah and Adullam and their environs, in Lachish and her environs, and in Azekah and her environs. So they occupied the land from Beer-sheba to the valley of Hinnom. ³¹The people of Benjamin occupied from Geba onward: Michmash, Aija, Bethel and her environs, ³²Anathoth, Nob, Ananiah, ³³Hazor, Ramah, Gittaim, ³⁴Hadid, Zebaim, Neballat, ³⁵Lod, and Ono the valley of craftsmen.^v ³⁶Also to Benjamin were attached certain courses of Levites formerly of Judah.

12 THESE ARE THE PRIESTS AND the Levites who returned with Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Jeshua: Seraiah, Jeremiah, Ezra,^w ²Amariah, Malluch, Hattush, ³Shecaniah, Rehum, Meremoth, ⁴Iddo, Ginnethoi, Abijah, ⁵Mijamin, Maadiah, Bilgah, ⁶Shemaiah, Joiarib, Jedaiah, ⁷Sallu, Amok, Hilkiah, and Jedaiah. These were the leaders among the priests and their brothers in the days of Jeshua.

⁸The Levites were: Jeshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Judah, and Mattaniah who with his brothers was in charge of the songs of thanksgiving; ⁹also Bakbukiah and Unni, their brothers, who stood opposite to them in their places of service.

¹⁰Now Jeshua was the father of Joiakim, Joiakim the father of Eliashib, Eliashib the father of Joiada, ¹¹Joiada the father of Jonathan, and Jonathan the father of Jaddua.

¹²In the days of Joiakim, the priests, who were the heads of fathers' houses, were: ¹Of Seraiah, Meraiah; of Jeremiah, Hananiah; ¹³of Ezra, Meshullam; of Amariah, Jehohanan; of ¹⁴Malluchi, Jonathan; of Shebaniah, Joseph; ¹⁵of Harim, Adna; of Meraioth, Helkai; ¹⁶of Iddo, Zechariah; of Ginnethon, Meshullam; ¹⁷of Abijah, Zichri; of Miniamin, of Moadiah, Piltai; ¹⁸of Bilgah, Shamua; of Shemaiah, Jehonathan; ¹⁹of Joiarib, Mattenai; of Jedaiah, Uzzi; ²⁰of Sallai, Kallai; of Amok, Eber; ²¹of Hilkiah, Hashabiah; of Jedaiah, Nethanel.

²²As for the Levites in the days of Eliashib, Joiada, Johanan, and Jaddua,^y a record was kept of the heads of fathers' houses; also this was true for the priests during the reign of Darius the Persian.^z ²³Until the days of Johanan:

t) An eastern hill of Jerusalem south of the temple. u) Persian King, Artaxerxes.

v) Hebrew "Ge-haharashim"; cf. I Chron. 4:14. w) Not Ezra the scribe.

x) The first name each time gives the head of a priestly house in Jeshua's day, the second in the day of Jeshua's son, Joiakim.

y) Four successive high priests. z) Darius Nothus, 424-404 B.C.

the son of Eliashib, the record of the heads of fathers' houses among the descendants of Levi was kept in the book of the chronicles. ²⁴Among the heads of the Levites were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, and Jeshua the son of Kadmiel, who, along with their brothers, stood opposite one another to render praise and thanksgiving according to the commandment of David the man of God. ²⁵Gatekeepers at the gates of the storehouses were Mattaniah, Bakkukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon, and Akkub. ²⁶These men^a were active in the days of Joiakim the son of Jeshua, son of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governor and of Ezra the priest and scribe.

²⁷At the time of the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem, Levites were summoned from their respective places to Jerusalem to celebrate the dedication with gladness, thanksgiving, singing, and the playing of cymbals, harps, and lyres. ²⁸Then the descendants of the singers gathered themselves from the territory close by Jerusalem, from the villages of the Netophathites, ²⁹from Beth-gilgal and from the region of Geba and Azmaveth; for the singers had built their own villages around Jerusalem. ³⁰The priests and the Levites purified^b themselves, after which they purified the people, the gates, and the wall.

³¹Then I^c had the princes of Judah climb the wall and I appointed two large groups who gave thanks and went in procession; one group going to the right on the wall towards the Dung Gate. ³²Following this group went Hoshaiah and half of the princes of Judah; ³³also Azariah, Ezra, Meshullam, ³⁴Judah, Benjamin, Shemaiah, and Jeremiah. ³⁵Included too were certain of the priest's sons carrying trumpets: Zechariah the son of Jonathan, son of Shemaiah, son of Mattaniah, son of Micaiah, son of Zaccur, son of Asaph; ³⁶and his brothers, Shemaiah, Azarel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethanel, Judah, and Hanani with the musical instruments of David the man of God. At the head of this section was Ezra the scribe. ³⁷At the Fountain Gate they went straight ahead and climbed the stairs of the city of David at the ascent of the wall by the house of David and came to the Water Gate on the east.

³⁸The second group, who had given thanks, went to the left, followed by me and the other half of the people,^d upon the wall above the Tower of Furnaces to the Broad Wall ³⁹and thence above the Gate of Ephraim passing successively the Old Gate, the Fish Gate, the Tower of Hananel, the Tower of Hammeah, the Sheep Gate, and coming to a halt at the Gate of the Guard. ⁴⁰So the two groups who had given thanks stood in the house of God along with myself and half of the rulers ⁴¹in addition to these priests: Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Micaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, and Hananiah, all with trumpets; ⁴²also Maaseiah, Shemaiah, Eleazar, Uzzi, Jehohanan, Malchijah, Elam, and Ezer. The singers contributed their music under the direction of Jezrahiah. ⁴³Also great sacrifices were offered on that day as the people rejoiced, for God caused them to rejoice greatly, even the women and the children, so that the sound of this rejoicing of Jerusalem was heard far away.

⁴⁴On that day appointments were made of those who were to be over the chambers in which were kept the stores, the heave-offerings,^e the first-fruits, and the tithes, and to gather into them, according to the fields about a city, the portions as prescribed in the law for the priests and the Levites; for Judah was deeply appreciative of the ministering work of the priests and Levites. ⁴⁵Because they performed the service of their God and the service of purification, as also did the singers and the gatekeepers, according to the commandment of David and Solomon his son. ⁴⁶For in the former days of David, Asaph^f was the chief of the singers, and of the songs of praise, and of

a) Reference is to those mentioned in vss. 12-21 and 24,25.

b) By means of sacrifices, cf. II Chron. 29:20-24. c) Nehemiah uses the first person through vs. 43.

d) An impressive sight, two columns of people led by Ezra and Nehemiah respectively!

e) Or "contributions"; cf. 10:37.

f) Or "in the days of David and Asaph, there was a chief . . . etc."

thanksgiving to God. ⁴⁷In both the time of Zerubbabel and that of Nehemiah, all the people of Israel gave the daily portions for the singers and the gatekeepers, and they set apart what was for the Levites, and the Levites in turn set apart what was for the sons of Aaron.^g

432 B. C.

13 ALSO ON THAT DAY, THE BOOK of Moses was read in the hearing of the people and in it was found written^h that no Ammonite or Moabite should ever enter the assembly of God, ²because they had not met the children of Israel with bread and water, but rather had hired Balaam against them to curse them, though, indeed, God had turned the curse into a blessing. ³Consequently, when the people heard the Law, they separated from Israel all those of foreign descent.

⁴Now before this,ⁱ Eliashib the priest, who had been appointed over the chambers of the house of our God, being connected with Tobiah,^j had made for Tobiah a large chamber where previously had been stored the meal-offering, the frankincense, the vessels, and the tithes of grain, new wine, and the oil, which, by commandment, were to be given to the Levites, the singers, and the gatekeepers, and the heave-offerings for the priests. ⁶When this happened I was not in Jerusalem for in the thirty-second year^k of Artaxerxes, king of Babylon, I had returned to the king. However, after some time upon making request to the king, ⁷I was permitted to come again to Jerusalem at which time I learned of the sinful service which Eliashib had done for Tobiah in making a chamber for him in the courts of the house of God. ⁸It grieved me sorely so that I put all the personal items of Tobiah out of the chamber. ⁹Then I gave the order and they cleansed the chambers, after which I returned there the articles of the house of God, with the meal-offerings and the frankincense.

¹⁰Also I discovered that the portions of the Levites had not been given them so that they and the singers, who were supposed to do the work, had resorted to their own fields. ¹¹Therefore I remonstrated with the rulers and said, "Why is the house of God thus abandoned?"^l Then I gathered them together and assigned them to their positions. ¹²This done, all Judah brought their tithes of the grain, the new wine, and the oil into the storehouses. ¹³And I appointed as managers over the storehouses Shelemiah the priest, Zadok the scribe, and Pedaiah of the Levites, and as their assistant, Hanan the son of Zaccur, son of Mattaniah, for they were considered trustworthy, it being their responsibility to distribute to their brothers.^m ¹⁴Remember me, my God, concerning this, and do not expunge the benevolent service I have rendered on behalf of the house of my God and its observances.

¹⁵In those days I saw that certain persons were treading winepresses on the Sabbath day, besides bringing heaps of grain, wine, grapes, figs and other produce loaded upon donkeys into Jerusalem on the Sabbath. These I rebuked on the day in which they sold the food. ¹⁶Also merchants of Tyre were staying there, having brought in fish and other wares and were selling them on the Sabbath in Jerusalem to the people of Judah.ⁿ ¹⁷Then I reproved the leaders of Judah and said to them, "What is this evil which you are committing in defiling the Sabbath day? ¹⁸Is this not the same as what your fathers did, for which cause our God brought upon us and upon our city the punishment?^o You are now adding more wrath upon Israel in defiling the Sabbath."

¹⁹Then, as it began to get dark at the gates of Jerusalem before the Sabbath, I gave the order and the gates were closed; I furthermore indicatedⁱ that they should not be opened until after the Sabbath. Also I stationed

g) Cf. 10:38 and Num. 18:26. h) Cf. Deut. 23:36.

i) Reference is to Nehemiah's return from Artaxerxes' court, vs. 6,7, rather than to the preceding events. j) Or "related to Tobiah." k) 433 B.C., cf. 5:14.

l) God's servants are to be supported in God's appointed way.

m) Finances in God's work are to be handled carefully.

n) Notice the comparatively recent promise of the people, 10:31. o) Refers to the captivity.

some of my servants at the gates to see that no burdens were brought in on the Sabbath day. ²⁰As a result, the merchants and sellers of the various types of wares lodged outside of Jerusalem once or twice.^p ²¹But I warned them, saying to them, "Why are you remaining here outside the wall? If you do so again I shall arrest you." From that time on they did not come on the Sabbath. ²²Then I gave command to the Levites that they should purify themselves and come and guard the gates that the Sabbath might be kept holy. Remember me, my God, also concerning this and have compassion on me according to the abundance of Thy lovingkindness.

²³In those days I also observed the Jews who had married women of Ashdod, Ammon, and Moab, ²⁴so that their children spoke half in the Ashdod tongue, not being able to speak the Jew's language well, but the language of their respective nationality.^q ²⁵Then I contended with them, cursing them, striking some of them, and pulling out their hair, and I caused them to take an oath in the name of God, saying,

"You shall not give your daughters to their sons, nor shall you take from their daughters for your sons or for yourselves. ²⁶Was it not in this same way that Solomon king of Israel sinned? Among the many nations there was not a king like him and he was beloved of his God^r so that God made him king over all Israel, and yet even he was caused to sin by foreign wives. ²⁷Must we hear about you that you commit this great wickedness of marrying foreign women and are unfaithful to God?"

²⁸Even one of the sons of Joiada, the son of Eliashib the high priest, was the son-in-law^s of Sanballat the Haronite; him I chased from me. ²⁹Remember them, my God, because they have defiled the priesthood and the covenant of the priesthood and of the Levites.

³⁰Thus I cleansed them from all foreigners, and established the duties of the priests and of the Levites, each according to his own task; ³¹and I provided for the supplying of wood at the appointed times of sacrifice, and of the first-fruits. Remember me, my God, benevolently.

p) They were hopeful that Nehemiah's reform would not be carried out.

q) Notice the comparatively recent promise and action of the people, 10:30; 13:3.

r) God's promise of wisdom, riches, and honor to Solomon so indicates; cf. 1 Kings 3:5-14.

s) The rival temple and priesthood on Mt. Gerizim is said to have been set up by this man; cf. John 4:20.

THE BOOK OF ESTHER

482 B.C.

1 IN THE DAYS OF AHASUERUS^a (THE Ahasuerus who reigned from India to Ethiopia over 127 provinces), ²in those days when King Ahasuerus sat on his royal throne in the Shushan palace, ³in the third year of his reign,^b he gave a feast to all his princes and his courtiers; and before the army officers of Persia and Media, the nobles and the princes of the provinces, ⁴he displayed the wealth of his regal glory and the costly glamour of his majesty for many days, for 180 days.

⁵With this period ended, the king feasted all the people of the Shushan stronghold, high and low, for seven days in the court of the palace garden. ⁶White and blue tapestries were fastened with purple cords of fine linen to silver rings on marble pillars. Gold and silver couches were placed on a pavement of alabaster, white marble, mother-of-pearl, and black marble. ⁷Drinks were served in different styles of golden cups, with wine in abundance, in keeping with the king's generosity. ⁸The drinking was done according to the rule, no compulsion. For the king had given orders to all the waiters that they should allow each guest to have his own way.

⁹Queen Vashti gave a banquet, too, for the women of King Ahasuerus'

royal palace. ¹⁰On the seventh day, when the king was in a happy mood from the wine, he ordered Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, Abagtha, Zethar and Carcas, the seven eunuchs who waited most intimately on King Ahasuerus, ¹¹to bring Queen Vashti, with her royal crown, into the king's presence, so as to display her beauty to the people and to the princes; for she was lovely to look upon. ¹²But Queen Vashti refused to come at the king's orders which the eunuchs conveyed to her; for this the king grew furious, and his anger burned hotly. ¹³The king said to the wise men,^c who understood the customs of their period—for the king habitually so laid his affairs before all who knew law and justice ¹⁴and were close to him, Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena, and Memucan, the seven princes of Persia and Media, who were on familiar footing with the king and enjoyed first place in the realm—¹⁵"How should Queen Vashti be handled legally, since she has failed to carry out the king's orders, sent her through the eunuchs?"

¹⁶Addressing the king and the princes, Memucan gave answer, "Not only toward the king has Queen Vashti^d misbehaved, but toward all the

a) A name of several Persian kings.

b) Xerxes, the name used in Grecian history for this Ahasuerus, ascended the Media-Persian throne in 486 B.C. In 485 he subdued Egypt; but in 480 he sailed with a fleet of twelve hundred sails against Greece, crossed the Hellespont on a bridge of boats, with over a million men, meeting no resistance till Leonidas with his Spartans met him at the Thermopylae Pass. Betrayed, the Spartan king fell with his men; but the small Grecian fleet defeated the Persian Armada and Xerxes fled.

c) Those men formed what we now term a cabinet. Pharaoh had a similar group about him when Moses interviewed him.

d) That Vashti showed her queenly qualities did not occur to them, least of all to Ahasuerus.

princes and all the peoples that dwell in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus; ¹⁷because this conduct of the queen will be broadcast to all the women, so that they will look down on their husbands, saying, 'King Ahasuerus gave orders to bring Queen Vashti before him, and she would not come.' ¹⁸This very day the princesses of Persia and Media who learn of the queen's behavior will so respond to all the king's princes, and there will be plenty of contempt and bad temper. ¹⁹If it pleases your majesty, may a royal edict be issued and let it be written into the laws of Persia and Media, so that it cannot be repealed, that Vashti must no more appear in the presence of King Ahasuerus and that your majesty will transfer her position as queen to another better than she. ²⁰When the edict which your majesty issues is heard throughout your realm, great as it is, then all the women, high and low, will respect their husbands."

²¹The king and the princes favored the proposition, and the king acted in agreement with Memucan's counsel. ²²He sent letters to all the royal provinces, to each province in its own script, to every people in their own tongue, that each man should be master in his house and should speak in line with his people's ways.^a

2 AFTER THESE EVENTS, THE ANGER of King Ahasuerus calmed down, and his thoughts reverted to Vashti, what she had done and what had been decided against her. ²The king's valets then suggested to him, "Have a search made for young girls for your majesty, beautiful virgins; ³let your majesty appoint deputies in all the provinces of his realm, who shall gather into the women's quarters of the Shushan palace all the young, beautiful maidens, under supervision of Hege, the king's eunuch in charge of the women, where the beautifying cosmetics will be made available for them. ⁴Then let the young lady whom your majesty considers most lovely become queen in the place of Vashti." The suggestion appealed to the king, and he acted accordingly.

⁵There lived in the Shushan stronghold a Jew named Mordecai the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, a Benjamite.^c ⁶He was among those whom Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, had deported from Jerusalem with Jeconiah,^e king of Judah. ⁷He was foster father^b to Hadassah,ⁱ that is Esther,^j his uncle's daughter; because she had neither father nor mother living. She was a girl of lovely form and features whom, at the death of her father and mother, Mordecai had adopted as his own daughter. ⁸So, when the king's orders and summons were published, and many girls were brought together in the Shushan palace under Hege's supervision, Esther, too, was received into the royal dwelling in charge of Hege the superintendent of women.

⁹The young lady impressed him well; she won his good will, so that he readily supplied the cosmetics and whatever was helpful; he also furnished her with seven choice maids from the palace, letting her with her maids have the finest apartment in the harem. ¹⁰Esther had not mentioned her nationality and family background, for Mordecai had instructed her not to make them known. ¹¹But every day Mordecai walked back and forth in front of the women's quarters to find out how Esther was faring and what was happening to her.

¹²When for each girl the turn came to go to King Ahasuerus, after she had for twelve months undergone the prescribed treatment for women — for the preparatory period was proportioned this way: six months with oil of myrrh and six months with balms and perfumes for beautifying the women — ¹³thus prepared, the girl came to the king. Anything she wanted to take along from the harem to the royal palace was given her. ¹⁴She entered in the evening and came back in the

e) With authority as was customary.

f) A descendant of King Saul's family.

g) That is, Jehoiachin, taken to Babylon in 598.

h) Mordecai was Esther's first cousin, but much older. i) Hebrew name for myrtle.

j) Persian Sitareh — star.

morning to a second harem, under supervision of the king's eunuch Shaash-gaz, the overseer of the concubines. She must not visit the king again, unless the king took a liking to her and called for her by name.

¹⁵When the turn came for Esther, the daughter of Abihail, uncle to Mordecai who had adopted her, to go to the king, she requested nothing but what Hege, the king's eunuch in charge of the women, suggested, and Esther won the hearts of all who saw her. ¹⁶When in the tenth month, the month Tebeth, in the seventh year of the reign of King Ahasuerus,¹ Esther was taken to his royal palace, ¹⁷the king felt more love for Esther than for all the women.^m She gained more attachment and kindness from him than did all the girls, so that he placed the royal crown on her head and made her queen in the place of Vashti. ¹⁸The king then gave a great banquet in Esther's honor to his princes and servants. He also exempted the provinces from tribute and awarded donations with regal liberality.

¹⁹While for the second time a bevy of virgins was being levied, Mordecai was sitting in the king's gate. ²⁰Esther, as Mordecai had cautioned her, had revealed neither her kinship nor her nationality, for Esther continued to conduct herself in agreement with Mordecai's instructions, just as when she was being reared by him. ²¹In those days, as Mordecai was sitting in the royal gate, Bigthan and Teresh, two of the king's door-keeping eunuchs felt thoroughly resentful and plotted to get rid of King Ahasuerus;ⁿ ²²but Mordecai heard of it and told Queen Esther, who in his name informed the king. ²³The matter was investigated and found correct; so both were hanged on a tree, and the incident was recorded in the chronicles, with the king looking on.

3 FOLLOWING THESE EVENTS KING Ahasuerus promoted Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite. He advanced him and seated him higher than all his fellow princes. ²Then all the king's courtiers, who were in the royal gate, bowed low and knelt to Haman; for such were the king's orders respecting him; but Mordecai neither bowed deeply nor knelt to him.^o ³So the king's courtiers who were at the royal gate, said to Mordecai, "Why do you act contrary to the king's orders?" ⁴And when day after day they spoke to him and he would not listen to them, they told Haman, to see whether Mordecai's behavior would stand; for he had let them know that he was a Jew. ⁵When Haman saw that Mordecai neither bowed nor knelt, he swelled up with anger, ⁶but he considered it beneath him to apprehend Mordecai singly,^p for they had told him of Mordecai's nationality, and he intended to destroy all the Jews, Mordecai's people, in all the realm of Ahasuerus.

⁷In the first month, the month Nisan, in the twelfth year of King Ahasuerus,^q they cast the lot (pur), before Haman, and so each day from month to month until the twelfth month, named Adar. ⁸Then Haman told King Ahasuerus, "There is a race scattered and dispersed among all the peoples in the provinces of your realm, whose laws differ from those of all other nations, and they do not observe the king's laws, so that it is not expedient for your majesty to tolerate them. ⁹If it is agreeable to your majesty, let an ordinance be written to destroy them, and I will pay twenty million silver dollars into the hands of those in charge of the royal treasury."^r ¹⁰The king removed his signet ring from his hand and gave it to Haman son of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Jew-hater, ¹¹and the king said to Haman, "The money is allowed you

1) This would be 479 B.C., a year after his ignominious defeat by the Greeks.

m) Of pure love the licentious monarch would hardly be capable.

n) Two eunuchs succeeded in assassinating him in 465 B.C.

o) Kneeling implied worship; which could be rendered by a faithful Jew to God only.

p) Biography here repeats itself. Haman, a descendant of Agag, the Amalekite king, whom King Saul failed to execute, I Sam. 15: 9-33, intends to have Mordecai, a descendant of Kish, Saul's father, executed. q) 474 B.C.

r) To cover expenses of the bloody program, including encouraging bribes.

and so are the people; do with them as you please."

¹²On the thirteenth day of the first month, the royal scribes were summoned and, in full agreement with Haman's orders, a letter was addressed to the king's deputies, to the provincial governors, and to the princes of all the peoples, to every province according to its style of writing and to each people in their language. It was written in the name of King Ahasuerus and sealed with the king's signet ring.^s ¹³The letters were sent by swift post to all the royal provinces to wipe out, to kill, and to destroy all the Jews, young and old, children and women, in one day, the thirteenth of the twelfth month, the month Adar, and to take their property for plunder. ¹⁴A copy of the edict must be proclaimed as law in every province and made known to all the peoples, so they might be ready against that day. ¹⁵Speedily the swift posts set out at the king's orders, and the edict was given out at the Shushan stronghold. Then the king and Haman sat down to drink; but the city of Shushan was in confusion.^t

4 WHEN MORDECAI ASCERTAINED everything that had been done, Mordecai tore his clothes, put on sackcloth with ashes,^u walked out to the center of the city, lamenting loudly and bitterly. ²He even came to the front of the royal gate, for none in mourning costume was permitted to enter the king's gate.^v ³And in each province, wherever the king's command and edict arrived, there was deep mourning among the Jews, fasting, weeping, and lamentation, many making their couch in sackcloth and ashes.

⁴When Queen Esther's maids and eunuchs came and told her, the queen was deeply shocked. She sent clothes to dress Mordecai and to displace his sackcloth; but he would not accept them. ⁵Then Esther summoned Hat-

ach, one of the king's eunuchs, whom he had assigned to wait on her, and she charged him to find out from Mordecai the what and the wherefore of it. ⁶So Hatach went to Mordecai at the city square, facing the royal gate, ⁷and Mordecai told him everything that had occurred; also the exact amount of money that Haman had pledged to pay into the royal treasury for the destruction of the Jews. ⁸He handed him a copy of the written edict too, that had been issued from Shushan to annihilate them, to show it to Esther, so that she might understand the situation, and to charge her to call on the king, to beg for his mercy and to plead for her people face to face with him. ⁹So Hatach went in and conveyed Mordecai's message to Esther.

¹⁰Esther then charged Hatach to tell Mordecai, ¹¹"All the king's courtiers and all the residents in the provinces know that for every person, man or woman, who enters the king's inner court uninvited, there is one penalty, execution. Only the person to whom the king extends the golden scepter survives. But for thirty days now I have not been called in to the king."^w

¹²When they conveyed this message from Esther to Mordecai, ¹³Mordecai gave instructions to answer Esther, "Do not imagine that because you are inside the royal palace, you alone of all the Jews will escape; ¹⁴for if you at this time keep still, deliverance and rescue for the Jews will originate from some other quarter, while you and your family shall be destroyed.^x And who knows but you have come to the kingdom for such a time as this?" ¹⁵Then Esther told them to give Mordecai this answer, ¹⁶"Go and gather all the Shushan Jews that are available and fast for me; do not eat or drink for three days, night or day. I, too, and my maids will similarly fast. Then, in spite of the injunction, I will go to the king; and if I perish, I perish." ¹⁷Mor-

s) An edict, thus identified and confirmed, could never be revoked.

t) Not merely the Jews, but the natives among whom the Jews had earned considerable respect.

u) Coarse cloth, usually of goats' hair. The Hebrew word is sak and it was worn in the form of a sack with openings for neck and arms and a slit in front.

v) Nothing suggesting distress must come within range of royalty's vision.

w) The king had done remarkably well to retain the same queen for such a period; but of late his interests had been elsewhere in his harem.

x) Mordecai's reply contained a threat or warning, in case Esther failed to cooperate.

decai then went out and carried out all of Esther's instructions.

5 ON THE THIRD DAY ESTHER, dressed in royal splendor, took her stand in the inner court of the king's palace facing the royal hall, while the king was sitting on his royal throne in the throne room opposite the hall entrance. ²When the king noticed Esther standing in the court, she won his favor,^y and the king extended toward her the golden scepter that was in his hand. So Esther drew closer and touched the tip of the scepter. ³The king then asked her, "What is on your mind, Queen Esther? What is your wish? It will be granted you if it were half the kingdom." ⁴Esther said, "If it please your majesty, then let the king and Haman attend the banquet that I have prepared for the king." ⁵"Get Haman at once," said the king, "so that we may comply with Esther's wish." So he came with Haman to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

⁶As they were drinking wine, the king said to Esther, "What is your petition? It will be granted you. And what is your request? It will be met, if it were half the kingdom." ⁷Esther responded, "My request, my wish is, ⁸if I have won your majesty's favor and if the king takes pleasure in granting my request, then will your majesty with Haman attend the banquet I shall prepare for him tomorrow, and I will do as the king suggests."

⁹That day Haman left in a happy mood, in high spirits; but when Haman noticed Mordecai in the royal gate, who neither rose nor changed position for him, Haman's temper grew hot against Mordecai; ¹⁰however, Haman controlled himself and went home. He invited his friends and his wife Zeresh to visit with him, ¹¹and Haman regaled them with the abundance of his wealth, the number of his sons, and the honor which the king had bestowed on him with his promotion above the king's princes and courtiers. ¹²Haman added,

"What is more, today Queen Esther invited me alone beside the king to the banquet she had prepared, and for tomorrow, too, she has asked me to come with the king. ¹³Yet, all this remains unsatisfactory to me, so long as I see Mordecai the Jew seated in the royal gate."^z

¹⁴Zeresh, his wife, and all his friends told him, "Have a gallows erected 75 feet high, and tell the king the first thing in the morning that Mordecai should be hanged on it; then you can happily accompany the king to the banquet." The idea appealed to Haman, and he ordered a gallows to be constructed.

6 ON THAT NIGHT SLEEP VANISHED from the king;^a so he ordered the record book of memorable events to be brought out, which was read to the king. ²When they found written what Mordecai had reported about Bigthana and Teresh, two of the king's door-keeping eunuchs, how they had plotted to assassinate King Ahasuerus, ³the king asked, "What honor or distinction has been rendered Mordecai for this?" The courtiers who waited on him, replied, "Not a thing has been done for him." ⁴The king said, "Who is there at court?"

Just then Haman had entered the outer court to tell the king he should hang Mordecai on the gallows which he himself had erected for him. ⁵So the king's eunuchs told him, "Look, Haman is standing in the front court." The king said, "Let him come in." ⁶When Haman had entered, the king asked him, "What should be done to the man whom the king is glad to honor?" Haman said to himself, "To whom would the king be glad to render honor more than to me?" ⁷He therefore answered the king, "For the man whom the king delights to honor, ⁸let them fetch a royal cloak which the king himself has worn, and a horse on which the king rides, its head adorned with a royal crown. ⁹Let that cloak and that

y) The queen had preserved her good looks, and there is no mention of offspring.

z) For the proud there is always a fly in the ointment.

a) God's name is not mentioned in the whole Book of Esther, but His hand is perfectly evident in the events.

horse be entrusted to one of your majesty's most noble princes; let him dress the man whom your majesty is glad to honor and have him ride that horse through the city square and proclaim before him, "Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king is delighted to honor!"

¹⁰The king said to Haman, "Hurry! Get that robe and that horse as you suggested, and do so to Mordecai the Jew who sits at the royal gate. Let nothing be omitted of all you have said."^b ¹¹Haman then secured the robe and the horse, dressed Mordecai and had him ride through the city square, while he shouted before him, "Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king is delighted to honor." ¹²Mordecai went back to the royal gate, but Haman went home, lamenting and with his face veiled. ¹³And when Haman had rehearsed to Zeresh, his wife, and to all his friends all that had happened to him, his wise men^c and Zeresh, his wife, said to him, "If Mordecai, before whom you have begun to fall, is of the Jewish race, then you are powerless against him; instead of facing him you will be downed completely."^d ¹⁴While they were still conversing with him, the king's eunuchs arrived and conducted Haman quickly to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

7 THE KING AND HAMAN WENT TO Queen Esther's banquet, ²and again on the second day, while they were drinking wine, the king asked Esther, "What is your petition, Queen Esther? It will be granted you. What is your request? If it were half the kingdom, it shall be executed."

³Queen Esther replied, "If I have won your favor, O king, and if it pleases your majesty, then may my life be granted me at my petition and my people at my request; ⁴because we have been sold, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be killed, to be obliterated. Had we merely been sold as male and female slaves, I would have kept still; although the enemy cannot compensate for the damage this will work to the king."^e ⁶King Ahasuerus spoke up. He said to Queen Esther, "Who is he, and where is the person who dared contemplate such a thing?" ⁶Esther replied, "An oppressor, an enemy, this wicked Haman!" Then Haman was in terror at the looks of the king and the queen. ⁷Angrily the king arose from his wine and walked into the palace garden; but Haman remained standing to plead with Queen Esther for his life; because he saw that utter ruin had been decided against him by the king.

⁸When the king came back from the palace garden to the banqueting hall, Haman had dropped down on the couch on which Esther was reclining, and the king remarked, "Violating the queen before me in my house!"^f No sooner had the word left the king's lips than they covered Haman's face. ⁹Harbonah, one of the eunuchs in waiting on the king, observed, "Then there are the gallows, 75 feet high, standing at Haman's house, which he erected for Mordecai, who spoke on behalf of the king."^g

"Hang him on it," said the king. ¹⁰So they hanged Haman on the gallows he had set up for Mordecai. And the king's anger calmed down.

8 ON THAT SAME DAY KING AHASUERUS transferred to Queen Esther the belongings of Haman, the Jew-hater, and Mordecai became the king's right-hand man; for Esther had made known how they were related. ²The king took off his signet ring, which he had taken back from Haman and gave it to Mordecai; while Esther appointed Mordecai in charge of the Haman affairs.^h

b) The king was no "babe in malice"; he almost surely suspected Haman's self-confidence.

c) Most likely the men who had cast the lot for him.

d) The exiled Jews had taken their discipline and were showing character. They had turned to God and thus grew abler than most natives.

e) She seems to have known of the twenty million silver dollars Haman had offered for the royal treasury. f) The king had not felt flattered with Haman's company at the banquet; he would have preferred to go alone.

g) Haman had made many enemies by his haughty demeanor after his promotion.

h) Mordecai became Prime Minister, and the wealth Haman had accumulated while in politics became Esther's.

⁸Once more Esther addressed the king, fell at his feet and with tears begged of him to frustrate the wicked plot of Haman the Agagite and the scheme he had framed against the Jews. ⁴The king held out the golden scepter to Esther, so that Esther arose, stood before the king, ⁵and said, "If it pleases your majesty and I am in your good graces, if it seems right in the king's judgment and I am pleasing him,¹ then let a dispatch be issued to reverse the letters with the scheme that Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite concocted, written to destroy all the Jews in your majesty's provinces. ⁶For how could I look on, while disaster strikes my people, and how, Oh, how, could I bear the ruin of my race!"

⁷King Ahasuerus then told Esther and Mordecai the Jew, "Look! I have handed Haman's belongings over to Esther, and him they have hanged on the gallows; because he would lay hand on the Jews. ⁸Now you yourselves write for the Jews as you think best, in the king's name and seal it with the royal signet ring; for a document that is written in the king's name is sealed with the royal signet ring no one may reverse."²

⁹The royal scribes, therefore, were immediately summoned, that twenty-third day of the third month, the month Sivan. As Mordecai ordered, so the dispatch was written to the Jews, to the deputies, to the governors and to the princes of the provinces from India to Ethiopia, 127 provinces, to each province in its own script, to each people in their own language, and to the Jews, too, in their own writing and tongue. ¹⁰They wrote in the name of King Ahasuerus, sealed it with his signet ring and sent the letters by swift posts riding on royal horses and mules, raised from young mares, ¹¹to the effect that the king gave the Jews in all cities permission to unite for the defense of their lives; also to destroy, kill, and exterminate all forces of peoples and provinces that armed against them, including women and children,³ and to take over their property, ¹²all on an appointed day in all the provinces of King Ahasuerus, the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, the month Adar.¹ ¹³A copy of this letter, which in all the provinces must be executed as law, must be brought to the knowledge of all the peoples, and the Jews must be ready against that day to get the better of their enemies. ¹⁴So the swift posts, riding royal horses, sped forth, hastened by the king's command, when the mandate had been proclaimed from the Shushan palace.

¹⁵Mordecai went out from the king's presence wearing royal robes, blue and white, a large golden diadem, and a purple robe of fine linen. The city of Shushan shouted and was glad; ¹⁶for the Jews there was illumination and happiness, enjoyment and honor. ¹⁷Similarly in province after province and in every city wherever the king's mandate and decree penetrated, the Jews had joy and gladness, feast and frolic. And many among the people of the land called themselves Jews, because fear of the Jews had overtaken them.

9 SO ON THE THIRTEENTH OF ADAR, which is the twelfth month, when the king's mandate and decree were to be enforced, the day on which the Jew-haters expected to overpower them, it turned about to be a day in which the Jews themselves gained the upper hand over their adversaries. ²The Jews united in their cities throughout all the provinces of King Ahasuerus to seize^m those who planned their ruin, and none could withstand them, because the dread of them had possessed all the peoples. ³Besides, all the princes of the provinces, also the viceroys, the governors, and the officers of the king sup-

i) A balanced sentence such as orientals love to construct.

j) Haman's letter, sealed by the king's signet ring, could not be countermanded, but the Jews could be allowed to defend themselves, while royal appointees looked on with favor.

k) Unless women and children had been hurtfully hostile to the Jews, this looks like revenge rather than justice. But our century, too, has witnessed dangerously fanatic moods toward women and children.

l) The date set by Haman; hence the need of haste to make prevention sure. The month Adar corresponds to our February.

m) Literally — to lay hands on, which probably means, they killed them, as v. 5 confirms.

ported the Jews, because they stood in fear of Mordecai; ⁴for Mordecai was prominent in the royal palace, and his reputation spread through all the provinces; for this man Mordecai grew steadily more powerful.

⁵So it was that the Jews put all their enemies to the sword with slaughter and destruction; they had their own way with their opponents. ⁶In the Shushan stronghold, ^a the Jews slew and exterminated five hundred men. ⁷They also executed Parshandatha, Dalphon, Aspatha, ⁸Poratha, Adalia, Aridatha, ⁹Parmashta, Arisai, Aridai, and Vajezatha, ¹⁰the ten sons of Haman son of Hammedatha, the Jew-hater. They slew them but did not touch the loot. ¹¹When on that day the number of the slain in Shushan was reported to the king, ¹²the king said to Queen Esther, "In the Shushan stronghold the Jews have slain and exterminated five hundred men, aside from Haman's ten sons. What must they have done in the other provinces of the king! What is your request? It will be granted you. What is your further wish? It will be conceded."^o

¹³Esther replied, "If it is agreeable to your majesty, then allow the Jews in Shushan tomorrow to act according to today's edict, and have Haman's ten sons hanged on the gallows." ¹⁴The king so ordered it to be done; an edict was proclaimed in Shushan, and Haman's ten sons were hanged. ¹⁵The Jews also mustered in Shushan on the fourteenth day of the month Adar and slew in Shushan three hundred men,^p but they did not touch the loot. ¹⁶The other Jews, in the king's provinces got together on the thirteenth day of the month Adar, defended their lives, and secured rest from their adversaries. They killed seventy-five thousand of their enemies, but the loot they did not touch. ¹⁷On the fourteenth day they rested, making it a day of feast and frolic.

¹⁸The Shushan Jews, however, mustered on the fourteenth day, as well as on the thirteenth of the month, and rested on the fifteenth day, which they made a day of feast and frolic. ¹⁹For this reason the rural Jews, who do not live in walled cities, memorialize the fourteenth of the month Adar for a day of feast and frolic, a day on which they send each other presents.^q

²⁰Mordecai recorded these events and sent letters to all the Jews in every province of King Ahasuerus near and far, ²¹obliging them to observe annually both the fourteenth and the fifteenth day of the month Adar, ²²which were the dates on which the Jews enjoyed relief from their enemies, and it was the month which for them was turned from sorrow into joy, from mourning into festivity, to make these dates days of feast and frolic on which presents should be sent; also donations made to the poor.

²³The Jews accepted for an annual observance what they had begun and what Mordecai had prescribed; ²⁴because Haman son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, the Jew-hater, had planned to destroy all the Jews; so he had cast the pur, that is, the lot, to annihilate, to exterminate them. ²⁵But when the matter came before the king, he ordered in writing that the wicked plot which he had schemed against the Jews should turn upon his head, and that he and his sons be hanged on the gallows. ²⁶These days, therefore, they called Purim, from the word Pur.^r Due to the message of the letter^s and what they had personally seen and experienced, ²⁷the Jews ordained and assumed as an institution for themselves, for their descendants and for all who joined them, that they would without omission celebrate these two days annually, according to the written orders and at the appointed time. ²⁸These days must be memorialized and celebrated in every generation, in each fam-

n) Shushan, as capital with strong defenses, is here noted as a stronghold.

o) "To the half of my kingdom" is not added; the king had gone about as far as he deemed wise.

p) This may have been necessary for Jewish security, though from this distance it appears needlessly bloody.

q) Those who fought on the thirteenth and rested on the fourteenth. Ultimately all faithful Jews observed both the fourteenth and the fifteenth for the Feast of Purim.

r) Lot—for the lot cast by Haman; the "im" of Purim forms the plural, as cherubim is the plural of cherub.

s) Especially Mordecai's letter, designating the Feast of Purim.

ily, in every province and town, so that these Purim days may not lapse among the Jews, nor their remembrance be eliminated from their descendants.

²⁹Queen Esther daughter of Abihail, jointly with Mordecai the Jew, wrote with full authority to make the second document about the Feast of Purim as strong as possible.¹ ³⁰Besides, letters were sent to all the Jews in the 127 provinces of Ahasuerus' realm, as messages of good will and fidelity, ³¹to observe these days of Purim at their appointed time, as Mordecai the Jew and Queen Esther had appointed them and as they agreed on for themselves and for their offspring, regarding times of fasting and of lamentations. ³²Esther's mandate confirmed these directions for Purim, and they were compiled in a book.

10 KING AHASUERUS ALSO LAID tribute on the mainland and on the islands of the sea. ²All his powerful and mighty doings and a detailed report on the greatness to which the king raised Mordecai, are these not written in the books of the chronicles of the kings of Media and Persia? ³For Mordecai the Jew ranked second to King Ahasuerus; he was held in honor among the Jews and appreciated by all his countrymen, because he sought the welfare of his people and spoke for the good of his entire race.

t) To add a fourth annual feast to the three that had been instituted by Moses, definitely at God's command, required strong backing; but Mordecai, with Esther's aid, got it done. However, it never became a compulsory feast as were the other three.

THE BOOK OF

JOB

1 THERE WAS A MAN IN THE LAND of Uz,^a whose name was Job, a man of integrity, and upright,^b one who revered God and turned away from evil. ²There were born to him seven sons and three daughters. ³He owned seven thousand sheep, three thousand camels, five hundred yoke of oxen, five hundred she-donkeys and many servants; so that this man was greater than all those of the East.

⁴His sons were accustomed to hold a feast in the house of each in turn, and they would invite their three sisters to eat and drink with them. ⁵Each time when the days of their feasting were completed, Job would summon and dedicate them, rising up early in the morning and offering burnt offerings for each of them in turn; for Job said, "Perhaps my sons have sinned and renounced^c God in their hearts." This Job did every time.

⁶A day came when the sons of God^d presented themselves before the LORD, and Satan^e too came among them.

⁷Then the LORD said to Satan, Whence have you come? Satan answered the LORD, "From roaming about on the earth and walking up and down on it."

⁸The LORD said to Satan, Have you considered My servant Job, that there is none like him on the earth, a man of integrity and upright, a man who reveres God and turns away from evil?

⁹Then Satan answered the LORD, "Is it for nothing that Job reveres God? ¹⁰Hast Thou not put a hedge around him and his house and all that he has on every side? Thou hast blessed the labor of his hands, and his holdings have increased in the land. ¹¹However, put forth Thy hand, and lay it on everything he has, and he will deny Thee to Thy face!" ¹²The LORD answered Satan, Take note! All that he has is in your power; only do not lay hands on his person. Then Satan withdrew from the presence of the LORD.

¹³Now the day came when his sons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brother's house; ¹⁴and a messenger came to Job to announce, "The oxen were plowing, and the donkeys were grazing near them, ¹⁵when the Sabeans attacked and captured them; yes, they slew the servants with the edge of the sword, and I alone have escaped to tell you." ¹⁶He was still speaking when another came and said, "The fire of God fell from heaven and burned up the sheep and the servants and consumed them; I alone have escaped to tell you." ¹⁷He

a) Uz was located probably between the Euphrates and Damascus, exposed to the distant Sabeans and the Chaldeans.

b) Ezekiel mentions Job as a man of unusual piety, Ezek. 14: 14, 20. The book is anonymous. c) Barak in Hebrew is the common verb meaning to "bless," but also "blaspheme," cf. 1 Kings 21:10, 13; here it implies less than blaspheming, but rather "renouncing" God, "bidding Him farewell."

d) The angels, as is clearer in ch. 38: 7, where the sons of God shout for joy at the founding of the earth.

e) Satan means adversary; it would be correct to use the term, the Satan. But whatever his name and his attitude, he is subject to God and comes to report on his doings.

was still speaking when another came and said, "The Chaldeans formed three bands, made a raid on the camels and captured them, slaying the servants with the edge of the sword, and I alone have escaped to tell you."¹⁸ He was still speaking when another came and said, "Your sons and daughters were eating, and drinking wine in their eldest brother's house,¹⁹ when suddenly a mighty wind came from across the desert, struck the four corners of the house, and it collapsed upon the young people and they are dead, and I alone have escaped to tell you."

²⁰Then Job arose, rent his robe, shaved his head, fell upon the ground, and worshiped,²¹ saying, "Naked I came forth from my mother's womb, and naked I shall return; the LORD gave and the LORD has taken away; blessed be the name of the LORD."²² In all this Job neither sinned nor charged God of doing wrong.^f

2 ANOTHER DAY WHEN THE SONS OF God came to stand and present themselves before the LORD, Satan also came among them to present himself before the LORD.² The LORD said to Satan, Whence have you come? And Satan answered the LORD, "From roaming about on the earth, and walking up and down on it."³ Then the LORD said to Satan, Have you considered My servant Job, that there is none like him on the earth, a man of integrity and uprightness, who reveres God and turns away from evil? He still holds fast to his integrity, though you did incite Me against him to consume him without cause.

⁴Then Satan answered the LORD: "Skin for skin! Everything a man has he will give for his life.⁵ Now but put forth Thy hand and touch his flesh and bone, and he will curse Thee to Thy face!"

⁶The LORD said to Satan, He is in your hand; only spare his life.^g

⁷Satan withdrew from the presence of the LORD and struck Job with loathsome boils^h from the sole of his foot to the crown of his head.⁸ So he took broken pottery with which to scrape himself and sat down in the ashes.⁹ Then his wife said to him, "Do you still hold fast to your integrity? Bid God farewell and die."¹⁰ But he replied to her, "You talk as one of the foolish women would talk. Are we to receive only what is good from God, and are we to receive no misfortune?" In all this Job did not sin with his lips.

Now¹¹ when Job's three friendsⁱ heard of all this misfortune which had befallen him, they came each from his place, Eliphaz the Temanite, Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite. They met by appointment and came to sympathize with him and to comfort him.¹² But when they caught sight of him from a distance, and did not recognize him, they raised their voices and wept; they rent every one his robe and sprinkled dust on his head toward heaven.¹³ Then they sat down with him on the ground for seven days and seven nights, no one speaking a word to him, for they saw that his suffering was very great.

3 AFTER THIS, JOB OPENED HIS mouth and cursed the day of his birth.^j ²Job said, ³"May the day perish on which I was born and the night that said, 'A man-child is conceived.'^k ⁴Let that day be darkness; may God above not inquire after it, and may no light shine upon it. ⁵Let darkness and the shadow of death own it. May black clouds settle upon it; may the eclipse of the sun terrify it. ⁶As for that night, let utter gloom seize it; let it no longer be among the days of the year; let it not be counted in the number of the month. ⁷Yes, let that night be barren, and no joyful sound be heard in it. ⁸Let those curse it who curse the day, who are skilled in rousing up Leviathan.^k ⁹Let the stars of the dawn^l be dark; let the morning wait in vain for

f) Discipline before blessing is one of the great lessons of the book. Afflictions may stimulate worship. To relate all of life to God is the secret of successful living.

g) All calamity is under God's control. h) Probably pus-filled boils were his malignant skin troubles.

i) Eliphaz is thought to have been an Edomite; Bildad an Aramean, that is, Syrian; and Zophar an Arabian. j) Jeremiah expressed his feelings in similar language, cf. Jer. 20:14-18.

k) The ancients regarded Leviathan as the dragon, which in eclipses swallowed the sun.

l) Venus and Mercury.

the light; may that day never see the eyelids of the morning;^m ¹⁰because it did not shut the doors of my mother's womb nor hide trouble from my eyes.

¹¹"Why did I not die at birth and expire when I came forth from the womb? ¹²Why did the knees receive me,ⁿ or why the breasts that I should nurse? ¹³For I would now be lying down and be quiet. ¹⁴I would be sleeping and have rest along with kings and counselors of the earth, who rebuilt ruins^o for themselves; ¹⁵or with princes who had gold and filled their houses with silver. ¹⁶Or, why was I not a miscarriage that is put away, as infants that never saw the light? ¹⁷There the wicked cease from troubling and there the weary are at rest. ¹⁸There the prisoners too are all at ease; they do not hear their taskmaster's voice. ¹⁹Small and great are there alike and the slave is freed from his master.

²⁰"Why is light given to the wretched and life to the bitter of soul, ²¹who long for death, but it does not come; who dig for it more than for hidden treasures; ²²who would jubilate, if they could find the grave?^p ²³Why does He give the light to a man whose way is hidden and whom God has completely hedged in? ²⁴Instead of food are my sighs, and my groanings pour out like water. ²⁵For what I feared has come upon me, and what I dreaded has struck me. ²⁶I am not at ease, nor am I quiet. I get no rest, but trouble arises."

4 THEN ELIPHAZ THE TEMANITE ANSWERED:^q ²"If one should venture a word with you, would it distress you? Yet who can refrain from speaking? ³Truly you have admonished many and drooping hands you have strengthened. ⁴Your words have often upheld the stumbling, and you have made feeble knees firm. ⁵But now, when affliction comes upon yourself, you lose heart; it touches you, and you grow dismayed. ⁶Is not your reverence for God your confidence, and the integrity of your ways your hope?

⁷"Recall now, what innocent person ever perished? Where have the upright been eliminated? ⁸As I have observed,^r those who plow iniquity and sow trouble reap the same. ⁹By the breath of God they perish, and by the blast of His nostrils they are consumed. ¹⁰The roar of the lion, the voice of the swarthy lion, and the teeth of the young lion, are broken; the ¹¹strong lion perishes for lack of prey, and the whelps of the lioness scatter.

¹²"A word was brought to me stealthily; my ear caught only a whisper of it ¹³amid thoughts from visions of the night, when deep sleep falls upon men. ¹⁴Terror fell upon me and trembling, causing my bones to shake greatly; ¹⁵a spirit glided past my face; the hair of my body stood up. ¹⁶I^s stood still, but I could not distinguish its appearance. There stood a form before my eyes; there was silence, then I heard a voice: ¹⁷"Can man be righteous before God? Can a mortal be pure before his Maker?^t ¹⁸Even in His servants He has no confidence, and His angels He charges with error. ¹⁹How much more those who live in houses of clay, whose foundation is in the dust and who are crushed as easily as moths! ²⁰Between morning and evening they are smitten; without anyone paying attention, they perish forever. ²¹Is not their pre-eminence taken away with them? They die and that without wisdom.

5 "CALL NOW; IS THERE ANYONE WHO will answer you? To which of the holy ones will you turn? ²Vexation^u

m) The first crimson streaks that herald the sun.

n) The midwife's knees, the mother being seated on a stool before her.

o) Possibly Egypt's pyramids.

p) Job's feelings are vehement: God's apparent desertion of him, his wife's counsel to renounce God, and the silence of his three friends all combine to drive him to the verge of despair.

q) Eliphaz, probably the oldest of the three, speaks first, out of oriental courtesy, emphasizing the purity of God.

r) Eliphaz fails to see that Job's trouble needs no irritant. He warns but does not comfort.

s) The vision.

t) Mere men may think themselves perfect, but God knows otherwise!

u) The reproach of "vexation" hurt Job's feelings; he alludes to it in the first sentence of his reply, ch. 6:2.

slays the fool, and jealousy kills the simple. ³I myself have seen the fool taking root, and I cursed his habitation. ⁴His sons are far from safety and are crushed in the gate,^v with none to rescue them. ⁵The hungry eat his harvest, taking it even from among the thorns, the thirsty pant after his wealth. ⁶Surely, calamity does not spring from the dust, nor does trouble sprout out of the ground; ⁷for man is born to trouble as the sparks fly upward.

⁸"But as for me, I would seek God, and I would commit my cause to God, ⁹who does great and unsearchable things, marvelous works without number: ¹⁰He gives rain upon the earth and pours water upon the fields. ¹¹He lifts the lowly up high, and He raises the sufferers to positions of safety. ¹²He thwarts the schemes of the crafty, so that their hands achieve no success. ¹³He snares the wise in their own craftiness,^w and the plottings of the wily are frustrated. ¹⁴Even in the daytime they meet with darkness; at noon they grope as in the night. ¹⁵But He saves the fatherless from the sword of their mouth, and the needy from the clutch of the mighty. ¹⁶So the lowly gain hope, and injustice shuts her mouth.

¹⁷"Blessed indeed, is the man whom God disciplines; therefore do not spurn the chastening of the Almighty.^x ¹⁸For it is He who wounds, but He binds up, He smites but His hands bring healing. ¹⁹In six troubles He will deliver you, and in seven no harm shall touch you. ²⁰In famine He will redeem you from death, and in war from the power of the sword. ²¹You will be hid from the scourge of the tongue, and you will not be afraid of devastation when it comes. ²²At destruction and at famine you will laugh and of the wild beasts you need not be afraid; ²³for you will be in league with the stones of the field, and the beasts of the field will be in harmony with you.^y ²⁴You will know that your tent is secure, and when you inspect your pasture, you will miss nothing. ²⁵You will know too that your offspring will be numerous and your descendants as the grass of the earth. ²⁶You will go down to your grave in fullness of years, as a sheaf of grain is harvested in its season. ²⁷This is what we have searched out. It is true. Listen to it, and take it personally to heart."

6 THEN JOB REPLIED: ²"OH, THAT MY vexation^z were carefully weighed and that all my disasters were laid in the balance. ³For it would be heavier than the sand of the sea; therefore have my words seemed rash. ⁴The arrows of the Almighty^a are buried in me; my spirit drinks in their poison; the torments of God are arrayed against me. ⁵Does a wild donkey bray when he has green grass, or does an ox low over its fodder? ⁶Can that which is insipid be eaten without salt, or is there any taste in the white of an egg? ⁷What my soul^b refuses to touch, things that are loathsome to me, such is my food.

⁸"Oh, that my request might be fulfilled, that God might grant what I hope for; ⁹that it would please God to crush me, that He would reach out His hand and cut me off! ¹⁰This would still be comfort to me; yes, I would leap for joy in unsparing pain, for I have not denied the commands of the Holy One.^c ¹¹What strength have I left to hold out, and what will result if I remain patient? ¹²Have I the strength of a rock, or is my body of bronze? ¹³Am I not completely helpless, and is not recovery driven from me?

v) Gateways in eastern cities were and are public centers for administering justice.

w) The first half of v. 13 is the only citation from the book of Job in the N.T., I Cor. 3:19.

x) God is here assumed to have a purpose in the afflictions of Job, as Elihu later points out repeatedly, cf. Job 33:17, 30; 36:10, 15, 16.

y) When at peace with God, man will live in peace with God's creatures.

z) Eliphaz had rebuked Job for his vexation. Job now wishes that his vexation might be weighed over against his pain; it would not seem excessive.

a) To Job, God is the "Almighty" who in His anger is afflicting him.

b) To the Hebrews, the soul was the seat of desire, especially of appetite.

c) Job faces death without fear; he knows that God sends afflictions as well as blessings, 2:10.

¹⁴"Whoever holds back kindness from a fainting friend, abandons his reverence for the Almighty. ¹⁵My brothers are as unreliable as a brook, as the bed of torrents that rush on, ¹⁶turbid with dirty ice and with snow melting in them. ¹⁷When they diminish, they disappear, and when it is hot, they dry up from their place. ¹⁸From them the caravans divert their route; they enter wastes and are lost. ¹⁹The caravans of Tema^d look for them; those of Sheba wait in hope. ²⁰They are disappointed because they had hoped so confidently; they came nearer and found themselves deceived. ²¹Such you have now become to me; you notice my dismay, and you, too, are afraid.^e ²²Have I ever said, 'Make me a gift,' and, 'From your abundance offer a bribe for me,' and, ²³'Save me from the hand of the oppressor,' and, 'Ransom me from brigands'?

²⁴"Instruct me, and I shall be still; cause me to see where I have erred. ²⁵How forceful are upright words! But what does your reproving reprove? ²⁶Do you intend to censure a man's words, when the utterances of a desperate man are as wind? ²⁷You would cast lots over an orphan and strike a bargain over a friend. ²⁸But now, please look at me; surely I would not lie to your face. ²⁹Reflect, I beg of you, and let there be no injustice; yes, reflect again, for I am still in the right. ³⁰Is there iniquity on my tongue? Cannot my taste discern what is perverse?

7 "DOES NOT MAN HAVE TO STRUGGLE hard on earth, and are not his days like those of a hired man? ²Like a slave who sighs for the shadow, and like a day laborer who longs for his wages, ³so I am allotted months of misery, and nights of trouble are apportioned to me. ⁴When I lie down I say, 'When can I get up?' But the night is long, and I am occupied with tossing until the day stirs. ⁵My body is covered with worms and dirt; my skin hardens and then breaks out afresh. ⁶My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle, and they come to a hopeless end.^f

⁷"Remember that my life is but a breath; my eye shall never again see anything good. ⁸He who sees me now will not look at me again; Thy eyes will be turned to me and I am no more. ⁹As a cloud dissolves and disappears, so he who descends to the underworld^g will come up no more; ¹⁰he shall not return to his house, nor will his dwelling see him again.

¹¹"So then, I will not now restrain my mouth; I will speak in the anguish of my spirit; I will complain in the bitterness of my soul.^h ¹²Am I the sea or a dragon, that Thou settest a guard over me?ⁱ ¹³When I say, 'My bed will console me, my couch will help me bear my grievance,' ¹⁴then Thou dost frighten me with dreams and disquiet me with visions, ¹⁵so that I would choose strangling and prefer death to my torments. ¹⁶I am tired of it; I would not live always. Leave me alone, for my days are fleeting. ¹⁷What is man, that Thou shouldst magnify him and be so concerned about him, ¹⁸visiting him every morning and testing him every moment? ¹⁹Wilt Thou never look away from me, or leave me alone till I swallow my spittle?^j ²⁰If I have sinned, what harm have I done Thee, O Thou watcher of men? Why hast Thou made me Thy target so that I have become a burden to Thee? ²¹Why then dost Thou not pardon my transgression and remove my iniquity? For shortly I shall lie down in the dust, and when Thou seekest me, I shall be no more."

8 THEN BILDAD THE SHUHITE^k ANSWERED: ²"How long will you keep

d) Tema was in N. W. Arabia; Sheba in S. W. Arabia.

e) Job's friends see his calamity, but, feeling that he must be a great sinner, they find it hard to sympathize with him.

f) The hopeless brevity of life overwhelms Job.

g) Sheol, the future abode of all persons, good and bad alike.

h) Job here regards God as his hard Master.

i) Prisoners have been driven mad by the unceasing watchfulness of their guards.

j) An unpleasant phrase often heard among the Arabs.

k) Bildad spoke from tradition; he knew some of Job's circumstances and tried to explain the relation of omnipotence to righteousness.

on talking this way, your words being like a strong wind? ³Does God twist justice? Would the Almighty pervert righteousness? ⁴If your children sinned against Him, then He recompensed them according to their transgression. ⁵So, if you will diligently seek God and implore mercy from the Almighty, ⁶then if you are pure and upright,¹ He will surely bestir Himself for you and restore your rightful dwelling. ⁷Although your beginning may seem small, He will make your later years very great. ⁸For inquire regarding previous generations, and give heed to the findings of the fathers.^m ⁹We are only of yesterday and know nothing; our days on earth are like a shadow. ¹⁰Will they not instruct and speak words to you out of their hearts?

¹¹"Does the papyrus grow where there is no marsh, or can reed grass flourish where there is no water? ¹²Although still green and not cut down, it withers more quickly than any other herb. ¹³So are the ways of all who forget God; the hope of a godless man perishes; ¹⁴his confidence is like a gossamer thread, his trust no stronger than a spider's web. ¹⁵On his house he leans, but it does not remain standing; he holds fast to it, but it gives way. ¹⁶(He is as) a plant thriving in the sun, with shoots spreading over the garden, ¹⁷its roots intertwined over the stone pile and working their way between the stones. ¹⁸But when pulled out from his place, it disowns him, saying, 'I never saw you!' ¹⁹See, such is the joy of its way, and out of the dust others shall sprout up.

²⁰"Be assured, God will not cast off an uprightⁿ man; nor will He take the hands of evildoers. ²¹He will yet fill your mouth with laughter and your lips with joyful shouting. ²²Your foes shall be clothed with shame and the tent of the wicked man shall be no more."

9 BUT JOB ANSWERED: ²"OH YES! I know it is true; but how can a mortal be in the right before God? ³If one wished to dispute with Him, he could not answer Him once in a thousand. ⁴Wise in heart and mighty in strength, who could resist Him without harm? ⁵He it is who removes mountains and they do not know it when He overturns them in His indignation; ⁶He shakes the earth out of its place, so that her pillars^o shake; ⁷He orders the sun, and it does not rise; He locks up the stars; ⁸He stretches out the heavens and stalks abroad over the heights of the sea; ⁹He made Kesil and Kimah, the Pleiades, and the chambers of the South.^p ¹⁰He does great things beyond understanding and marvelous things without number. ¹¹Lo, He passes by me, and I do not see Him; He moves by and I do not perceive Him. ¹²Behold, when He snatches away, who can restrain Him? Who will say to Him, 'What art Thou doing?'

¹³"God lets His indignation have full sway; beneath Him Rahab's^q helpers tremble. ¹⁴How much less ably could I answer Him or choose my words over against Him? ¹⁵Though I were right, I could not dispute with Him; to Him, my Judge, I could only plead for mercy! ¹⁶If I called to Him and He answered me, I could not believe that He was listening to my voice.

¹⁷"He who breaks me with a tempest and multiplies my wounds without cause, ¹⁸He would not let me catch my breath, but would surfeit me with bitterness. ¹⁹If it is a question of strength, He possesses it; if it is a matter of justice, who would challenge Him? ²⁰Though I were innocent, my own mouth would condemn me; though I were upright, it would show me perverse. ²¹I am upright;^r but I do not consider myself. I do not value my life. ²²It is all the same; therefore I say, He destroys the upright and the

1) Bildad's reasoning that calamity is proof of guilt and that a sinner is destroyed by the sin he commits, is not the whole truth, cf. John 9:2,3.

m) Not all that is true is new; the oldest doctrines were once new; essential truth is eternal.

n) Though Job's friends charged him with disloyalty to God, yet they granted all through the speeches that he was pious at heart. o) cf. I Sam. 2:8; Job 26:11.

p) "Kesil," "giant," or "fool"; "Kimah"—"heap," a name for the seven sister-stars of the Pleiades. The chambers of the South" refer to the great sky spaces of the southern hemisphere.

q) Rahab was the monster of the sea, the personification of pride and of the sea itself; cf. Job 26:12. r) Job is so described in ch. 1:1; that is "upright," in his attitude toward God.

wicked alike.^s ²³When a scourge slays suddenly, He mocks at the despair of the innocent. ²⁴The earth He has handed over to the wicked; He veils the faces of corrupt judges; if it is not He, who then is it?

²⁵"My days are passing swifter than a runner; they speed on, without seeing any good. ²⁶They flit by like papyrus boats, like eagles swooping on their prey. ²⁷When I say, 'I will forget my grievance; I will change my downcast face and look cheerful,' ²⁸then I fear lest more sorrows may befall me, for I know that Thou dost not regard me guiltless. ²⁹As I am bound to be declared guilty, why should I weary myself in vain? ³⁰Were I to wash myself with snow and clean my hands with lye, ³¹yet Thou wouldst plunge me into a slough, and my own clothes would abhor me. ³²For God is not a mere man, as I am, that I could answer Him, that we should meet in court for trial; ³³neither is there any umpire between us, who might lay his hand upon us both. ³⁴Oh, that He would take His rod away from me and that His terror would no longer threaten me. ³⁵Then I would speak without fear of Him, for personally I have no guilty qualms.

10 "MY SOUL IS SADDENED WITH life; I will explain my complaint without reserve and reveal the bitterness of my soul. ²I would say to God, 'Do not treat me as guilty, without formulating Thy charge against me. ³Does it benefit Thee to oppress, thus to reject the work of Thine own hands, and to shine on the plottings of the wicked? ⁴Hast Thou human eyes? Canst Thou not see more than man? ⁵Are Thy days as the days of a human being, Thy years as those of a man, ⁶that Thou seekest for my guilt and searchest for my sin? ⁷Thou knowest that I am not guilty, and that no one can deliver from Thy hand. ⁸Thy hands completely framed me and fashioned me, and now wilt Thou destroy me? ⁹Remember that Thou madest me of clay; wilt Thou now turn me back into dust? ¹⁰Didst Thou not pour me out like milk, and curdle me like cheese? ¹¹With skin and flesh Thou didst clothe me, and with bones and sinews Thou didst knit me together. ¹²Thou didst bestow upon me life and compassion; and Thy care has preserved my spirit. ¹³Yet all this Thou hast hidden in Thy heart; I know this was Thy purpose. ¹⁴When I sin, Thou dost observe me and wilt not absolve me from my iniquity. ¹⁵If I am guilty, woe betide me; if righteous, I cannot lift up my head, being filled with disgrace and seeing my misery. ¹⁶If I lifted myself up, Thou wouldst hunt me like a lion and show Thyself once more mighty against me. ¹⁷Thou wouldst renew Thy proofs against me, increase Thine anger toward me, and bring fresh hosts against me.

¹⁸"Why didst Thou bring me forth from the womb? Would that I had died before any eye had seen me! ¹⁹Then I would have been as though I had never existed; borne from the womb directly to the tomb! ²⁰Are not my remaining days few? Leave me alone, so I may have a little comfort, ²¹before I go whence I shall not return, ²²to the land of darkness and blackness; to the land of thick darkness, where there is no light, only chaos, and the light as gloom."

11 THEN ANSWERED ZOPHAR^u THE Naamathite: ²"Should a deluge of words remain unanswered? Must a glib talker be right? In view of your boastings should people remain silent? ³Should you be permitted to scoff without being made ashamed? ⁴You have said, 'My doctrine is pure, and I am clean in thy sight.' ⁵But, oh! that God would speak and open His lips to you; ⁶that He would show you the secrets of wisdom, doubling your power of in-

s) God does not discriminate between the good and the wicked in times of calamity.

t) Job's soul, in this retort to Bildad, oscillates between his memory of blessed fellowship with God and a feeling of God's injustice toward him now. He had trusted God, but now feels as one betrayed. Later Job sees more clearly and repents of his accusations.

u) Eliphaz had emphasized the piety, chs. 4-5; Bildad, the justice, ch. 8; and now Zophar, the wisdom of God, ch. 11.

sight! You would then see that God holds against you less than your iniquities deserve.

⁷"Can you fathom God's secrets? Can you compass the limits of the Almighty's being? ⁸It is higher than heaven; what can you do? And deeper than Sheol; what can you know? ⁹Longer in measure than the earth and broader than the sea. ¹⁰When He rushes in and arrests a person, calling the wicked to judgment, who can hinder Him? ¹¹For He recognizes worthless men, and He sees wickedness without searching for it. ¹²But a stupid man may inherit understanding when a wild donkey's colt is born a human being.

¹³"If, however, you will prepare your heart and reach out your hands toward Him; ¹⁴if you will banish sin far from your life, and allow no wrong to dwell in your tents, ¹⁵then you will be able to lift your face without shame, to be steadfast and fearless. ¹⁶You will forget trouble, remembering it as a flood which has passed away. ¹⁷Your life will arise more radiant than noonday, and your shadows like the morning dawn. ¹⁸You will feel confident, because you have hope; you will look around and lie down without fear. ¹⁹You will sleep and no one will alarm you, and many will appeal to you for favor. ²⁰But the eyes of the wicked shall fail; they will see no way of escape; their only hope remaining is to breathe their last."

12 BUT JOB REPLIED: ²"NO DOUBT you are the people, and wisdom will die with you." ³I have understanding as well as you; I am not inferior to you. Who does not know all you say? ⁴I am a laughingstock to my friends; I, whom God heard when I called to Him, a just and upright man, am a laughingstock. ⁵Those who prosper and live in ease have contempt for those in misfortune, which awaits those whose feet are ready to slip. ⁶The tents of robbers do prosper; those who provoke God may live securely, their wants being supplied by God's hand.

⁷"For, ask the animals, and they will teach you; the birds of the air, and they will tell you; ⁸or speak to the earth, and it will instruct you; even the fish of the sea will inform you! ⁹For who among these does not see that the hand of the LORD is bringing this about? ¹⁰Under His control is the life of all that lives, the spirit of every mortal. ¹¹Does not the ear test the words just as the palate tastes food? ¹²With the aged there is wisdom, and days prolonged bring insight. ¹³With Him are wisdom and might; He has counsel and understanding. ¹⁴Observe, when He pulls down, it can not be built again, and when He imprisons one, there is no release. ¹⁵Behold, He withholds the waters, and they dry up; again He sends them out, and they overwhelm the earth. ¹⁶With Him are wisdom and might; the misled and the misleader are His. ¹⁷He leads counselors away barefoot, and judges He makes fools. ¹⁸He loosens the bonds (made by) kings and binds a waistcloth about their loins. ¹⁹He sends priests away barefoot and overthrows those well established. ²⁰Those trusted He deprives of speech, and He takes away the discernment of the elders. ²¹He pours contempt on princes and loosens the belt of the strong." ²²He uncovers the deep things out of darkness and brings to light black gloom. ²³He makes the nations great, and He turns them down. He spreads their peoples abroad, and He moves them out. ²⁴He takes away the intelligence of the chiefs of the earth's people and makes them wander in a jungle. ²⁵There they grope around in unlit darkness; He makes them wander about like a drunken man.

13 "LOOK! MY EYE HAS SEEN IT ALL, my ear has heard and has grasped it. ²What you know, I know too; I am not inferior to you. ³Yet, I would speak to the Almighty; I wish to argue my case with God. ⁴As for

v) Job allows that in their own opinion they are wise. Zophar had strongly hinted that Job was stupid, 11:12.

w) Mary's Magnificat, Luke 1:46-55, seems to reflect some of these sentences.

you, you are forgers of lies; you are all quack doctors.^x ⁶Oh! that you would altogether hold your peace; that would be your wisdom! ⁶Hear my defense, and listen to the pleadings of my lips. ⁷Will you speak unfairly on behalf of God and talk deceitfully for Him? ⁸Will you choose His side, posing as special pleaders for God? ⁹Will it be well when He examines you, or can you deceive Him as one deceives a man? ¹⁰He will severely discipline you if you secretly practice partiality. ¹¹Should not His majesty make you afraid, and should not your awe for Him come upon you? ¹²Your precepts are proverbs of ashes; your shields are shields of clay.

¹³"Be silent before me, that I may speak; let happen to me what may.² ¹⁴I will take my flesh in my teeth and hazard my life in my hand. ¹⁵Although He slay me, yet I keep hoping.^a Yes, I will maintain my ways before Him. ¹⁶This will be in my favor, for no godless man shall stand in His presence. ¹⁷Listen attentively to what I say, and let my plea enter your ears. ¹⁸As I have prepared my defense, I am sure that I shall be vindicated. ¹⁹Who will refute me? If now I kept silent I would expire.

²⁰"Spare me two things, then I will not hide myself from Thee. ²¹Remove Thy hand from me, and cease overwhelming me by Thy terror! ²²Then call Thou, and I will answer; or let me speak, and do Thou answer me. ²³How many are my transgressions and my sins? Help me to know my offenses and my sin. ²⁴Why dost Thou hide Thy face and consider me Thy enemy? ²⁵Wilt Thou frighten a drifting leaf? Wilt Thou chase dry stubble? ²⁶For Thou writest bitter charges against me and makest me inherit the sins of my youth.^b ²⁷Thou puttest my feet in the stocks^c and markest all my paths, setting bounds to my footsteps. ²⁸I am like the severed root of a tree which soon decays, like a moth-eaten garment.

14 "MAN, BORN OF WOMAN, IS OF few days and full of trouble.^d ²He unfolds like a flower and fades; he is fleeting like a shadow and does not remain. ³Yet upon such a one Thou dost open Thy eyes, and Thou dost bring me into judgment with Thee. ⁴Oh, that there were one pure among the impure! But there is none. ⁵If man's days are determined and the number of his months is in Thy mind, if Thou hast appointed his bounds that he cannot pass, ⁶then look away from him, and let him rest, so that, like a hired man, he may enjoy his day.

⁷"For there is hope for a tree, if it is felled, that it will sprout again and that its shoots will flourish.^e ⁸Though its roots age in the earth and its stump dies in the ground, ⁹at the scent of water it will bud and branch out like a young plant. ¹⁰But when a man dies, he is laid prostrate; he expires, and where is he? ¹¹As waters evaporate from a lake, as a river drains and dries up, ¹²so man lies down, not to rise again till the heavens be no more; he will not awaken or be roused out of his sleep. ¹³Oh, that Thou wouldst hide me in Sheol^f and conceal me until Thy wrath has quieted; that Thou wouldst set me a time and then think of me again.

¹⁴"When a person dies, shall he live again? All the days of my service I would wait till my release should come.^g ¹⁵Thou wouldst call, and I would answer Thee; Thou wouldst yearn after Thy handiwork! ¹⁶But now that Thou art watching my every step and art

x) Pseudo-physicians! Plasterers of falsehood!

y) Flattery is like perfume, it may be smelled, but should not be swallowed.

z) Job is indifferent to any punishment his rashness might provoke. John Knox wrote round his study ceiling: "Conscience bids me speak the truth, therefore, the truth I speak; impugn it whoso list!" a) "Though He slay me, yet will I trust in Him," [A. V.], is the godly and Christian attitude.

b) Judicial sentences were written and recorded. Cf. Isa. 10:1.

c) Heavy blocks of wood, so fastened to the legs of captives, that they could not move around.

d) Even as a patriarch, Job regards himself as short-lived and doomed to sorrow. Cf. Gen. 47:9.

e) What is granted to a tree should not be denied to a man. Science admits, man may live anew; philosophy hopes he may; ethics says he ought to; Christ says he shall; He brought life and immortality to light. f) To the Hebrews, death was not the end of personal existence.

g) "If a man may live again," Job seems to say, "I can bear my affliction longer."

recording my every sin, ¹⁷I would that my transgressions were sealed up in a sack, and that Thou wouldst cover my iniquity. ¹⁸As mountains disintegrate and crumble away, as rocks are moved out of their place, ¹⁹as waters wear smooth great stones^h and as torrents wash the soil of earth away, so Thou destroyest the hope of man. ²⁰Thou overpowerest him, and he departs forever. Thou changest his looks and sendest him away. ²¹His sons achieve honor, but he is unaware of it; or they are humbled, but he does not notice. ²²He senses only the pains of his own body, and his soul bemoans himself."ⁱ 15 THEN ELIPHAZ^j THE TEMANITE replied: ²"Should a wise man answer with bombast and fill his chest with a hot, dry wind, ³arguing with pointless talk in speeches that do no good? ⁴You destroy reverence, and you hinder prayer before God. ⁵For your guilt prompts your mouth what to say, and you choose the language of the shrewd. ⁶Not I, but your own mouth convicts you, and your own lips witness against you. ⁷Are you the first person ever born?^k Were you brought forth before the hills? ⁸Did you listen in on the council of God? Do you have a monopoly on wisdom? ⁹What do you know of which we are ignorant? What insight have you that we lack? ¹⁰Among us too are the grey-headed and the aged, counting more years than your father. ¹¹Are God's consolations too trivial for you, or the word that treats you gently? ¹²Why let your passions carry you away and why allow your eyes to flash, ¹³that you turn your spirit against God and allow such words to issue from your mouth? ¹⁴What is mortal man, that he could be pure; or one born of a woman, that he could be righteous? ¹⁵Behold, God puts no trust in His holy ones, and even the heavens are not pure in His eyes; ¹⁶how much less one who is loathsome and foul, a man who drinks wickedness like water!"^l

¹⁷"Listen, let me instruct you; what I have seen I will relate; ¹⁸what the wise men tell from their fathers, concealing nothing, ¹⁹to whom alone the land was awarded and no stranger intruded among them. ²⁰A wicked man is tormented with anxiety all his life, the tyrant during the years granted him.^m ²¹Threatening terrors keep ringing in his ears; even in times of peace he trembles, lest the destroyer come upon him; ²²He is hopeless about coming back out of darkness, being destined for the sword. ²³He wanders about for food. Where is it? He feels that the day of darkness is upon him; ²⁴trouble and worry threaten him; they overwhelm him as a king ready for assault. ²⁵Because he struck out his hand against God and defied the Almighty, ²⁶assaulting Him with stubborn neck, with the thick-bossed shield. ²⁷He has covered his face with fatness, adding layers of fat on his loins. ²⁸He has lived in ruined cities, in houses unfit for human habitation, which are fated soon to be ruins. ²⁹He will not stay rich; his wealth will not hold out, nor will his possessions spread out on earth. ³⁰He does not get away from darkness; the flame shall shrivel his roots, and his blossom will be blown away by the wind. ³¹Let him not trust in futility, for futility will be his reward. ³²He will be ended before his time and his palm branch will not be green. ³³He will drop off like a vine that sheds its green grapes; as an olive tree that casts off its blossoms.ⁿ ³⁴For the gathering of the godless remains sterile, and fire destroys the tents of bribery. ³⁵They conceive mischief and produce unfairness; their hearts bring forth deception."^o

h) "Water dripping day by day wears the hardest stone away!"

i) Job's friends have pointed him to the purity, justice and wisdom of God; but Job denies the application of their facts to his case.

j) The friends speak in the same order; first Eliphaz, on "the fate of the wicked man."

k) In India they have a saying, "Oh, he is the first man; no wonder he is so wise!"

l) Eliphaz, in his first speech, ch. 4:17-19, had voiced sentiments similar to those here in vv. 14-16.

m) In the Law, long life is promised those who honor their parents, Ex. 20:12.

n) The olive tree is prodigal of its blossoms, not more than one in a hundred coming to maturity.

o) By Job's repeated complaints, Eliphaz has become convinced that challenging God's purity renders him a blasphemer.

16 THEN JOB ANSWERED: ²"I HAVE often heard such things; you are all miserable comforters. ³Will your empty words have no end?^p What incites you to answer? ⁴I, too, could speak as you speak. If you were in my place, I could compose words against you and shake my head at you. ⁵I might encourage you with my mouth and bring you comfort with my lips.

⁶"If I speak, my sorrow is not lessened, and if I do not speak, does it leave me? ⁷Surely He has deprived me of strength; He has disbanded my whole family. ⁸He has made me wrinkle; my malady testifies against me; it testifies to my face. ⁹His wrath tears me, and His anger pursues me; He gnashes on me with His teeth. My enemies look sharply at me; ¹⁰they gape at me with their mouth, and with insolence they smite my cheeks; they are all joined against me. ¹¹God is delivering me over to the villains and is casting me into the hands of the godless.^r ¹²I was living at ease, and He shattered me; He grabbed me by the neck and broke me down; He set me up for His target; ¹³His arrows encircled me. He cleaves my reins asunder and pours out my gall on the ground. ¹⁴He breaks me with breach upon breach and rushes upon me like a warrior. ¹⁵I have sewed sackcloth upon my skin and have laid my horn in the dust. ¹⁶My face is red from weeping,^s and blackness hangs over my eyelids, ¹⁷though my hands are guilty of no violence and my prayer is pure.

¹⁸"O earth, do not cover my blood; let my cry find no place to stop!^t ¹⁹Even now, my Witness is in heaven; my Advocate is on high. ²⁰While my friends are my scorners, my eyes turn weeping to God, ²¹that He might do a man justice between him and God and justice between a man and his neighbor. ²²For in a few more years I shall walk the path along which I shall not return.

17 "MY LIFE IS RUINED; MY DAYS are extinguished; the grave is yawning for me! ²Surely mockers surround me; my eye gazes on their contention. ³Give me a pledge;^u be surety for me; who will strike hands with me? ⁴But their heart Thou hast closed to reason; therefore Thou wilt not let them triumph.

⁵"He who denounces his friends for a price, the eyes of his children shall see famine. ⁶But He has made me a proverb among the people; by them I am spit upon to the face. ⁷My eye has grown dim from sorrow, and all my members are like a shadow. ⁸Fair-minded men are appalled at this and the innocent are indignant at the wicked. ⁹Yet the righteous will maintain his way, and he who has clean hands will grow stronger.^v

¹⁰"But you, come on again, all of you, though I shall not find one wise man among you. ¹¹My days are passing; my purposes, my heart's desires are foiled. ¹²They would turn night into day, saying that light is near when there is darkness. ¹³But if I look to Sheol as my abode, if I have spread my couch in darkness, ¹⁴if I have said to the pit, 'You are my father,' and to the worms 'My mother and my sister,' ¹⁵where then is my hope, and my expectation, who can discover it? ¹⁶Will they descend with me into Sheol? Shall we go down together into the dust?^w"

18 THEN ANSWERED BILDAD THE Shuhite: ²"How long will you set snares with words? Do some clear thinking; then we will answer.^x ³Why are we accounted as cattle? Why are

p) In his reply to Eliphaz, Job denounces his friends and appeals to God as his only hope. To his own conviction of innocence, Job clings with tenacity.

q) Sorrow.

r) In the first cycle, Job had complained that God is against him; here he complains of the universal alienation of mankind. s) Excessive weeping.

t) To the Hebrews the blood of an innocent man, like Abel's, cried out from the ground, Gen. 4:10.

u) It is an ancient custom among orientals to bind a bargain with a material deposit, cf. Gen. 38:17; II Cor. 1:22; also by striking hands. Job was eager to have his innocence acknowledged before his death. v) Job's faith is slowly advancing toward a climax. Cf. 19:25.

w) It was thought that the soul upon death, supposed to go to Sheol, might tarry with the body in the grave three days.

x) Bildad answers Job in anger, beginning, as before, with the words, "How long?"

we stupid in your sight? ⁴You are tearing yourself in your rage. Shall the earth be depopulated for your sake and the rock be moved from its place? ⁵The light of the wicked shall be extinguished;^y the glow of his fire shall not be kept shining. ⁶The light in his tent darkens, and the wick above it is extinguished.^z ⁷His manly steps are shortened; his own design downs him. ⁸He gets into the net by his own feet, and he treads on a lattice-covered pit. ⁹A trap catches him by the heel, and a snare holds him fast. ¹⁰A noose is hidden in the ground for him, and a trap in the path. ¹¹Terrors threaten him from every direction, hounding him at his heels. ¹²Calamity is hungry for him, and ruin stands ready for his stumbling. ¹³By disease his skin is eaten up; the first-born of death^a eats away his limbs. ¹⁴He is dragged from the safety of his tent and is led to the king of terrors.^b ¹⁵Nothing his own remains in his tent; sulphur is scattered over his dwelling. ¹⁶His roots are dried up underneath him, and his branches above him wither. ¹⁷Remembrance of him perishes from the earth and his name does not linger in the street. ¹⁸He is driven from light into darkness and chased out of the habitable world. ¹⁹He leaves no offspring or descendant among his people, nor any survivor in his old home. ²⁰At his fate men of sunset years^c are appalled, and they of sunrise years^d are filled with horror. ²¹Surely such are the dwellings of the impious and such is the place of him who does not acknowledge God."

19 THEN JOB ANSWERED:^e ²"HOW long will you vex my soul and crush me with words? ³These ten times^f you have derided me, feeling no shame about wronging me. ⁴And if indeed I have erred, my error remains with me. ⁵If you would assume a superior attitude toward me and reproach me for my misery, ⁶then know that God has misjudged me and has encircled me with His net. ⁷Note this: I cry out because of violence, yet I am not answered; I shriek for help, but I receive no justice.^g ⁸My path He has fenced in, so that I cannot advance, and upon my paths He spreads darkness. ⁹He has robbed me of my honor; He has removed the crown from my head. ¹⁰He has broken me down on every side, and I am finished; my hope He has uprooted like a tree. ¹¹He has kindled His indignation against me and considers me His enemy. ¹²Unitedly all His troops come on and build their road against me; they camp around my tent.^h

¹³"My brothers He has moved far from me, and my acquaintances are completely estranged from me. ¹⁴My relatives stay away, and my friends have forgotten me. ¹⁵Those living in my house, and my maids, regard me as a stranger; in their view I am become an alien.ⁱ ¹⁶I summon my servant, and he does not answer; humbly I must entreat him. ¹⁷My breath is obnoxious to my wife and my body loathsome to my brothers. ¹⁸Even young boys despise me; when I get up, they speak against me.^j ¹⁹All my intimate friends avoid me and those whom I specially loved are turned against me.^k ²⁰My bones cleave to my skin and to my flesh, and I have escaped by the skin of my teeth. ²¹Have pity on me, have pity on me, O you my friends, for the hand of God has stricken me! ²²Why do you persecute me, as does God? Why are you not satisfied with my flesh?

²³"Oh, that my words were recorded, that they were inscribed in the book! ²⁴Oh, that with an iron pen they were engraved on a rock and sealed with

y) The Arabs have a proverb: "Fate has put out my light," meaning, my reputation as one living in prosperity has vanished.

z) Arab sheiks still keep the wick of an oil lamp burning from the top of their tent pole at night, to welcome strangers.

a) The first-born means the strongest, Gen. 49:3. The Arabs call diseases "the daughters of destiny." b) Death, Isa. 28:15. c) The aged. d) The young.

e) By Bildad's cruel innuendoes, accusing Job of deserving the loss of health and happiness, Job reaches the climax of his struggle. f) Repeatedly, Gen. 31:41.

g) According to Job, God has done what Bildad [8:3] and Elihu [34:12] regard as impossible: He has withheld justice. h) Job uses military figures, 10:17; 16:14.

i) Lonely Job craves sympathy. j) The attitude of the children discourages Job.

k) Not only God, but all his friends, too, have forsaken him, Job says.

lead forever!¹ ²⁶For I know that my Redeemer^m lives, and at last He will stand upon the earth; ²⁶and after my skin has thus been destroyed, then, out of my flesh I shall see God; ²⁷whom I myself shall see; whom my own eyes shall behold, and not another. "My reins fail within me" as I wait in hope! ²⁸How can you say, 'We will continue to persecute him,' thinking that the root of the matter^o has been found in me? ²⁹Fear the sword yourselves, for your attitude may bring the sword's sufferings upon you, that you may know there is a judgment."

20 THEN ZOPHAR THE NAAMATHITE replied: ²"My thoughts urge me to reply; I am stirred up. ³I have heard your presumptuous warning to censure you no more; but a spirit prompts me to inquire of you: ⁴Do you not know from of old, since the time man was put upon the earth, ⁵that the triumph of the wicked is brief,^p and the joys of the godless are but for a moment? ⁶Though his pride may mount up to the heavens and his head reach to the clouds, ⁷yet he perishes forever like his own dung;^q so that they who have seen him say, 'Where is he?' ⁸Like a dream he shall fly away and not be found; he disappears like a vision of the night. ⁹Eyes that once saw him, see him no more; nor does his home see him again. ¹⁰His children will curry the favor of the poor, and his own hands will give back his wealth. ¹¹While his bones still enjoy youthful vigor, they lie down with him in the dust. ¹²Though wickedness is sweet in his mouth, kept hidden under his tongue, ¹³and though he retains it, loath to let it go, holding it back with his palate, ¹⁴yet the food in his stomach turns to poison and becomes the gall of asps within him. ¹⁵He swallows down riches, but vomits them up again; God ejects them from his stomach. ¹⁶He shall suck the poison of asps; the tongue of a viper shall slay him. ¹⁷He will not look with delight at the streams, the brooks flowing with honey and curds.

¹⁸"What he labored for and earned, he must give up; he cannot swallow it; what he acquired by trading will afford him no joy; ¹⁹because he has crushed and neglected the poor and has seized houses which he had never built. ²⁰Because his greed enjoyed no rest within him, he will not save anything that he desires. ²¹As nothing is left after he has eaten, his prosperity will not last. ²²With all his wealth, he finds himself weighed down by those in misery, and he is in straits. ²³When he is about to gorge himself, God lets His anger loose at him and rains it upon him as his food. ²⁴He may flee from an iron weapon, but the bronze bow shall pierce him through; ²⁵the arrow comes through at his back, its point having punctured his entrails; terrors close in upon him. ²⁶Utter darkness settles on his treasures. A fire not fanned^r consumes him and burns up all that is left in his tent. ²⁷The heavens reveal his iniquity, and the earth rises up against him. ²⁸All that was accumulated in his house is moved out in the day of His wrath. ²⁹This is the wicked man's lot from God and the legacy allotted him of God."^s

21 BUT JOB REPLIED: ²"LISTEN closely to what I say, for your thoughtful attention will bring me consolation. ³Allow me to have my say, and after I have spoken, go on mocking. ⁴As for me, is my complaint regarding my fellow men? Why then may I not be impatient? ⁵Look at me, and be astonished; lay your hand on your mouth. ⁶When I consider it, I am frightened; my body shudders! ⁷Why do the wicked live on, become old and

l) Job speaks with death in view, [14:14].

m) The word "go-el" in Hebrew [v. 25] signifies literally "nearest of kin" [Ruth 4:3], who may become redeemer, here with Messianic implications.

n) The "reins" or kidneys were the seat of intense feeling, possibly of hope. Job is ecstatic; his vision of God seems almost realized. o) Referring to Job's afflictions.

p) Zophar, the traditionalist, points to the brevity of a wicked man's prosperity.

q) Zophar is the crudest and coarsest of Job's friends; though a genius in justice, he could not think spiritually. r) By human hands.

s) Zophar's emphasis on the brevity of the wicked man's happiness awakens in Job the need of looking at all the facts; his experience teaches him there are many exceptions.

even increase in strength? ⁸They see their children settled and they observe their families. ⁹Their homes are free from terror, and God's rod never strikes them.¹ ¹⁰Their bulls breed unfaithfully; their cows calve and do not miscarry. ¹¹They let their children go out like a flock; their young ones hop around. ¹²They sing to the lyre and tambourine and make merry to the sound of the flute. ¹³They spend their days in prosperity, and in peace they go down to Sheol. ¹⁴Yet, they said to God, 'Depart from us; we do not care to know Thy ways. ¹⁵What is the Almighty, that we should serve Him, and what profit do we obtain if we appeal to Him?'^u ¹⁶Note this: Men are not the architects of their own fortune; the planning of the wicked is far from me.^v

¹⁷'How often the lamp of the wicked is put out! How often calamity overtakes them! God in His anger distributes sorrows on them. ¹⁸How often they are like the straw before the wind, like chaff which the whirlwind sweeps away! ¹⁹But 'God,' you say, 'stores up their iniquity for their children.' ²⁰Let their own eyes see their calamity, and let them drink of the indignation of the Almighty!^w ²¹For of what interest is his family to a man who is dead, when the number of his months is cut off? ²²Can anyone teach God knowledge? It is He who judges those on high. ²³One man dies in fulness of strength, completely at ease and satisfied; ²⁴his sides filled out with fat, and the marrow of his bones still fresh. ²⁵Another dies in bitterness of soul, never having tasted any good. ²⁶They lie down alike in the dust, and worms cover them.^x

²⁷'I know, indeed, your deliberations and your schemes to do me

wrong. ²⁸For you say, 'Where is the prince's palace and where the tent in which the wicked dwelt?' ²⁹Have you never inquired of travelers? Is not their report trustworthy, ³⁰that the evil man is spared in the day of calamity and that in the day of wrath he is allowed to escape? ³¹Who rebukes a man to his face, or who repays him for his behavior? ³²When he is borne to the grave, a watch is kept over his tomb. ³³Softly the clods of the valley cover him, and all men follow him, while countless numbers are ahead of him. ³⁴How then do you expect to comfort me, seeing that falsehood lingers in your answers?'^y

22 THEN ANSWERED ELIPHAZ THE Temanite:^z ²"Can a man be of service to God? No, but surely he who is wise is helpful to himself. ³Is it of any advantage to the Almighty that you are righteous? Is it any profit to Him that you keep your ways perfect? ⁴Is it because of your piety that He rebukes you; that He passes judgment upon you? ⁵Is not your wickedness great? Are not your iniquities endless? ⁶For without reason you have required pawn of your brothers; you have stripped the naked of their clothes. ⁷You have not supplied water to the fainting to drink, and you have withheld food from the hungry. ⁸But the man of great influence obtained the land,^a and the eminent man got the dwelling. ⁹Widows you have sent away empty-handed, and the arms of the orphans have been broken. ¹⁰Therefore, snares are around you, and sudden panic confounds you. ¹¹Your light is blacked out so that you cannot see, and a deluge of water covers you.

¹²"Does not God dwell high in

t) That many, in spite of their wickedness, continue to prosper, seems to reflect on God's justice.

u) Job's wife had advised him to say "Good-by" to God, 2:9.

v) "God has helped them; even as He has afflicted me," Job implies.

w) Both Jeremiah, 31:29, 30 and Ezekiel, 18:2-4, taught that "every man shall die for his own sin." x) As a rule, honesty and diligence bring prosperity. God wants it so, to encourage good behavior. But when people grew convinced that misfortune must be due to bad behavior, God undertook to teach its falsity. Job, unaware of God's concession to Satan, became God's agent to correct the error. Job's friends argue: All wicked men end in ruin; Job has gone to ruin; Job is therefore a wicked man.

y) In the second cycle, ch. 15-21, Job's friends have implied that conscience, earth, and heaven all condemn him.

z) Eliphaz, the kindest of Job's friends, in this his last speech, also speaks of Job's unfairness against men.

a) Accusing Job of favoring the rich with his sales. These accusations are suppositions, not facts; the accuser could not have proved a single one.

heaven? Observe the farthest stars, how high they are! ¹³But you say, 'What does God know? Can He judge through the oppressive darkness?' ¹⁴Thick clouds veil Him, so that He cannot see; He walks on the arch of heaven. ¹⁵Will you keep to the old way which wicked men have walked, ¹⁶who were untimely snatched away, their foothold washed out by a deluge? ¹⁷They said to God, 'Leave us alone,' and 'What can the Almighty do for us?' ¹⁸Yet it was He who filled their houses with abundance. But the planning of the wicked is far from me.^b ¹⁹The righteous see it and are glad, and the innocent mock at them, ²⁰saying, 'Surely our enemies are eliminated, and what they had left the fire has destroyed.'

²¹'Acquaint now yourself with Him, and enjoy peace, by which great gain will come to you. ²²Accept the instruction from His mouth, and treasure His words in your mind. ²³If you will return to the Almighty you will be built up; if you will put away unfairness from your tents, ²⁴throw your precious treasure to the dust,^c regard your gold of Ophir as valueless as the stones of the brook, ²⁵and make the Almighty your gold nuggets and your silver ore, ²⁶then you will delight in the Almighty, and you will lift up your face to God. ²⁷You will pray to Him; He will hear you, and you will pay your vows to Him. ²⁸When you come to a decision, it will be established, and light will shine upon you all the way. ²⁹For God abases the high and mighty, but He exalts the humble man whom He will save. ³⁰He will even deliver one not guiltless; through the cleanness of your hands you will be delivered.'^d

23 THEN JOB ANSWERED: ²"TODAY again my complaint becomes rebellious. His hand is heavy upon me in my groaning.^e ³Oh, that I knew where I might find Him, that I might approach His tribunal, ⁴present my case before Him with my mouth full of proofs, ⁵learn what He would reply, and understand what He would say! ⁶Would He contend with me in the greatness of his power? No, but He would pay attention to me. ⁷Then an upright person could plead with Him and gain acquittal from my Judge for all time.

⁸'Behold, I go eastward, but He is not there; and westward, but I do not see Him; ⁹to the north where He works, but I cannot find Him; He covers Himself in the south so I do not observe Him.^f ¹⁰But He knows the way which I take, and when He has tested me I shall come forth as gold. ¹¹My feet have stayed steady in His path; I have kept His way and have never swerved aside. ¹²Nor have I strayed from the orders of His lips; rather I have treasured within me the words of His mouth.^g ¹³But He remains true to Himself, and who can turn Him? He does what He wants to do; ¹⁴He will carry out what He has planned for me, and of many such matters He is mindful.^h ¹⁵I am therefore awed at His presence; when I reflect on it, I tremble before Him. ¹⁶God has made my heart faint; the Almighty has dismayed me. ¹⁷I am hemmed in by the darkness; thick darkness covers my face.

24 "WHY DOES NOT THE ALMIGHTY set times?ⁱ Why do not they who know Him see His days?^j ²There are evil men who remove landmarks, rustle flocks, and pasture them. ³They drive away the orphan's donkey, and take the widow's cow in pawn. ⁴They push the needy off the road; the

b) Cf. 21:16, this last clause being exactly what Job had said; perhaps adding to Job's abhorrence of the ingratitude of wicked men.

c) In modern Lebanon, with no banks near to deposit their possessions, many natives bury them in some corner of their gardens.

d) Though critical of Job in this his last speech, Eliphaz concludes on a happy note of vicarious help to others.

e) Instead of replying to his senior friend's criticisms, Job turns to God, pleading his innocence and integrity.

f) God is all pervasive, yet intangible and invisible. God understands him, but he still fails to understand God. g) Job here declares he has done what Eliphaz had exhorted him to do [22:22].

h) Though Job is a righteous man, God, he believes, has prescribed suffering for him and pursues the same course He pursues wrongdoers. i) For judgment.

j) The days He holds court.

wretched of the earth all huddle out of sight. ⁵Like wild donkeys in the desert, they go out to work, looking for prey which the wilderness may yield as food for their children. ⁶They gather provender from the field and glean the wicked man's vineyard. ⁷They pass the night naked for lack of clothes, having no covering against the cold; ⁸drenched by the rains in the mountains and lacking shelter, they cling close to the shelter of overhanging rocks. ⁹Some wrest fatherless infants from their mothers' breasts and hold them as security for unpaid debts. ¹⁰Having no clothes they are made to go about naked; and though hungry themselves, they are forced to carry sheaves. ¹¹Between the rows of olive trees of the wicked they press oil and they are compelled to tread the wine presses, while dying of thirst.

¹²"From the city rise the groans of the dying, and the souls of the wounded cry for help; yet God does not hear their petitions."^k ¹³There are those who rebel against the light, who do not know His ways, and do not walk in His paths.^l ¹⁴The murderer rises promptly at daylight,^m that he may kill the poor and the helpless, and at night-fall he turns thief. ¹⁵The adulterer's eye awaits the twilight; he says, 'No eye will see me'; he then puts a veil over his face. ¹⁶In the dark they dig into houses;ⁿ by day they shut themselves up, not exposing their identity to the light. ¹⁷They choose midnight as their morning time; for they are intimate with the terrors of deep darkness! ¹⁸Swiftly they move as on a stream; their possessions are cursed here on earth; grape treaders turn no more to their vineyards. ¹⁹As drought and heat consume snow waters, so does Sheol absorb sinners. ²⁰Even mothers forget

their children; worms alone find satisfaction in them; they are not long remembered, wickedness having been broken like trees. ²¹They live off the barren and childless and fail to do good to the widow. ²²Yet He prolongs the lives of the mighty by His power and restores those who are despairing of life. ²³He gives them confidence; they are sustained, and His eyes are upon their ways. ²⁴They are exalted for a little while and then are gone; they wither and fade like the mallow leaf, and are cut off like the heads of grain. ²⁵If it is not so, who can prove me false and disqualify my statement?"^o

25 THEN ANSWERED BILDAD^p THE Shuhite: ²"Dominion and dreadfulness are with Him, who orders peace in His high heaven. ³Who is able to count His armies? Upon whom does His light not shine? ⁴How then can a human being be just in the presence of God? How can one born of woman be pure? ⁵Truly, even the moon does not shine clearly, and the stars are not pure in His sight; ⁶how much less mortal man, a maggot, and the son of man, a worm!"^q

26 BUT JOB ANSWERED:^r ²"How well you have aided the powerless and sustained the feeble arm! ³How well you have counseled him who has no wisdom, and how abundantly you have supplied him with sound insight! ⁴To whom are you in debted for such words, and by whose spirit were you inspired? ⁵The shades below quake, the waters and their inhabitants. ⁶Sheol lies exposed before Him, and Death has no cover. ⁷He stretches out the north^s over empty space and hangs the earth on nothing. ⁸He binds up the waters together in

k) This is Job's persistent complaint; he is discouraged; God's rule seems unfair.

l) The murderer, the adulterer, and the thief, violators of the sixth, seventh and eighth commandments. m) The Arab says: "When the sun rises it is time to get up; when it sets, it is time to retire."

n) Some Eastern houses were built of sun-dried mud bricks and their walls, though thick, could be bored through without difficulty.

o) Job challenges his friends to refute his statements that God is neither just nor righteous; but his claims, he soon confesses, need forgiveness.

p) Bildad is completely overwhelmed at Job's persistent claim of innocence and only repeats what Eliphaz had said [4:17-21; 15:14-16]. We readers must keep in mind that Job was ignorant of Satan's insinuations and God's permission to test Job, and so were his friends.

q) Cf. Isa. 41:14. r) Bildad had pointed to God's greatness in heaven above; Job describes Him as great here and in the underworld; cf. Ps. 139:8.

s) The vacant space under the northern vault of heaven, cf. Isa. 14-13, 14.

His dense clouds; yet the cloud is not torn under its weight. ⁹He veils the face of the moon by spreading His cloud over it. ¹⁰He draws a circle^t over the deep, a boundary between light and darkness. ¹¹The pillars of heaven^u sway, appalled at His rebuke. ¹²By His power the sea is stilled, and by His understanding He smites through proud Rahab.^v ¹³By His breath the skies are cleared; His hand pierces the rushing serpent. ¹⁴See! These are but the outreachings of His doings; how light a whisper do we hear of Him! But the thunder of His power who can comprehend?"

27 THEN JOB RESUMED^w HIS DISCOURSE, saying: ²"As God lives, who has taken away my right, and the Almighty, who has embittered my soul, ³as long as I live and God's breath is in my nostrils, ⁴my lips will not speak an untruth, neither shall my tongue utter deceit. ⁵Be it far from me that I should acknowledge you to be right; till I die I will not sacrifice my integrity. ⁶I hold on to my integrity and will not let it go; my conscience^x does not accuse me, not one single day. ⁷May my enemy fare as the wicked, and may my opponent be as the perverse. ⁸For what is the hope of the godless when God cuts him off and requires his soul? ⁹Will God hear his cry, when trouble befalls him? ¹⁰Will he delight himself in the Almighty? Will he call upon God at all times?

¹¹"I will teach you concerning the hand of God; the Almighty's program I will not hide. ¹²Indeed, you yourselves have seen it; why then do you indulge in futility? ¹³This is the portion of the wicked person from God, the heritage which oppressors receive from the Almighty: ¹⁴As his children multiply, it is for the sword, and his offspring starve for lack of food. ¹⁵Those of them who survive, pestilence brings to the grave, and their widows do not join in the lamentation. ¹⁶Though a man heap up silver as the dust and accumulates garments as plentiful as clay, ¹⁷he may store them up, but the righteous shall wear them, and the innocent will divide the silver. ¹⁸The house which he builds is as a spider's web and as the booth which a watchman builds.^y ¹⁹He lies down rich but cannot do so again; when he opens his eyes, all is gone! ²⁰Terrors^z overtake him like a flood; in the night a whirlwind carries him away. ²¹The east wind takes him up, and there he goes; a hot wind sweeps him out of his place; ²²it hurls at him without mercy;^a from its force he flees in haste. ²³Men clap their hands at him and hiss after him from his dwelling.^b

28 "SURELY THERE IS A MINE^c FOR silver and a place where they refine gold. ²Iron is taken out of the earth, and stone ore is smelted into copper. ³Men search the limits of dark places, venturing into their remotest bounds to obtain the ore. ⁴They drive deep shafts in valleys, in remote places seldom visited by anyone, and descend into them, hanging to ropes that swing back and forth. ⁵From the earth man obtains his daily bread; but underneath its surface there is blasting as with fire. ⁶Sapphires are discovered among its stones, and there is gold dust. ⁷The way to such treasures no bird of prey detects; no eagle's eye observes it; ⁸no beast of prey treads on it; no lion has set foot there. ⁹But man puts forth his hands on flinty rocks and overturns mountains by the roots; ¹⁰he drills channels in the rocks and lays bare precious gems. ¹¹He dams up streams of water and brings hidden things to light.

¹²"But where can wisdom be found, and where is the place of understanding? ¹³Mortal man does not know its value; nor is it found in the land of the living. ¹⁴The abyss says, 'It is not

t) The line of the horizon. u) "The pillars of heaven" are nowhere else mentioned in the Bible.

v) Rahab, the water serpent, of the Leviathan type.

w) The third speaker, Zophar, fails to reply; so Job, in ch. 27 and 28, continues to protest his innocence. x) "Heart" here implies "conscience," a word made familiar by Paul, Acts 23:1; Rom. 2:15; 9:1. y) In a vineyard for a single season. z) Cf. Job 18:11-14; 20:24-28; 30:15.

a) His arrows, the lightning and other natural phenomena.

b) Hissing being a common oriental token of scorn and evil gladness; Edom was hissed, Jer. 49:17.

c) This is the only description of a mine in the Bible; cf. Deut. 8:9.

in me'; and the sea says, 'It is not with me.' ¹⁶Pure gold can not purchase it; neither can silver be weighed as its price. ¹⁶It can be valued neither in the gold of Ophir,^d nor in the precious onyx nor in the sapphire. ¹⁷Neither can gold or glass^e equal it, nor can jewels of refined gold be exchanged for it. ¹⁸Coral and crystal are not worthy of comparison. The acquisition of wisdom is above that of pearls; ¹⁹the topaz of Ethiopia does not equal it; no weight of pure gold can buy it.

²⁰"Whence then is wisdom derived, and where is the place of understanding? ²¹It is hidden from the eyes of all living creatures,^f concealed from the birds of the air. ²²Destruction and Death confess, 'Only with our ears have we heard a rumor of it.'

²³"God knows the way to it; He is aware of its abode. ²⁴For He beholds to the ends of the earth; He sees everything beneath the whole heavens. ²⁵When He imparted to the wind its strength and limited the sea by measure, ²⁶when He set a law for the rain and a path for the lightning strokes, ²⁷then He saw it and announced it. He placed it^g where it belongs and thoroughly observed it. ²⁸And to man He said, Behold, reverence for the LORD, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil, that is understanding."^h

29 JOB AGAIN TOOK UP HIS DISCOURSEⁱ and said: ²"Oh, that I were as in previous months, as in the days when God protected me; ³when He caused His lamp to shine above my head, and by His light I walked through darkness; ⁴when I was in my prime of life and the friendship of God lingered in my tent; ⁵while the Almighty was still with me and my children were around me; ⁶when my steps were bathed in cream, and the near-by rock^j poured out brooks of oil; ⁷when I walked to the city gate and took my seat in the broad way.^k ⁸Young men seeing me stepped back; the aged got up and remained standing; ⁹princes stopped their conversation and put their hand on their mouth; ¹⁰nobles hushed and stood dumb, their tongue cleaving to the roof of their mouth. ¹¹The ear that heard me called me blessed, and the eye that saw me spoke well of me. ¹²For I delivered the wretched who appealed for help, the orphan and him who had no helper. ¹³Those who would have perished, blessed me, and I made the widow's heart sing with joy. ¹⁴Thus I put on righteousness and my fairness dressed me as robe and turban.^l

¹⁵"I was eyes to the blind and feet to the lame. ¹⁶I was a father to the poor, and I investigated the court cases of persons whom I did not know. ¹⁷I broke the grinder teeth of the unfair and forced them to drop their prey. ¹⁸I thought, 'I shall grow old among my offspring, having multiplied my days like the phoenix,^m ¹⁹my roots reaching to the water, with dew upon my branches all night, ²⁰fresh honors ever coming in upon me, and my bow as vigorous as ever in my hand.'

²¹"To me men listened in silence and waited till I had given my counsel. ²²After I had spoken, they never ventured to reply. ²³They waited for me as for the rain, and they opened their mouths wide as for the latter rain.ⁿ ²⁴I used to smile upon those discouraged, and the light of my face strengthened them. ²⁵I chose their plans for them, sitting as chief among them, as a king with his army, as one who comforts those cast down in sorrow.

d) The gold of Ophir was the most highly prized; Ophir was far distant, probably southern Arabia.

e) Glass was regarded as exceptionally precious.

f) Cf. Eccl. 3:11. The author knows that man seeks wisdom, but will never find all of it.

g) Wisdom. h) Job has time for reflection before his confession, which follows.

i) In these three chapters Job no longer argues. In ch. 29, he reviews his years of prosperity. In ch. 30, he describes in contrast his present condition; and in ch. 31, he protests his innocence. Ch. 29 is said to be the middle chapter of the O.T.

j) Terraces between rock curbs, forming olive groves.

k) Oriental courts met in the gateways of their cities, a custom that has continued till modern times. l) "Justice clothed itself with me; it took possession of me."

m) The ancients imaged the phoenix, a miraculous bird, as living a thousand years.

n) Latter rains in March and April were needed to mature the vegetation which had been cultivated during the earlier months.

30 "BUT NOW THEY DERIDE ME, even those younger than I, whose fathers I would have disdained to hire as shepherds with my dogs to guard my flock. ²Of what profit to me, in any case, is the strength of their hands, men who have lost all their manly vigor? ³Exhausted with want and hunger, they gnaw the dry and barren ground; ⁴they pluck mallows and leaves from the bushes and eat as food the roots of the broom. ⁵They are driven from the community, and men shout against them as against thieves. ⁶They have to live in dreaded ravines, in holes of the earth, and in the clefts of the rocks. ⁷Between the bushes they howl, and under nettles they crouch together; ⁸sons of the worthless and infamous, they have been banished from the country.^o

⁹"Now I have become their scoff and a theme for their gossip. ¹⁰They despise me, they stand aloof from me; they do not hesitate even to spit in my face. ¹¹For, He having loosed my bowstring and having humbled me, they have cast off all restraint before me. ¹²To my right the rabble rise against me and push away my feet; they construct against me their destructive paths. ¹³They throw obstacles in my path to make me stumble, and no one deters them. ¹⁴Through a wide breach they assail me, rushing on me among the ruins. ¹⁵Terrors are poured down on me; my honor they treat with contempt, and my welfare vanishes like a cloud.

¹⁶"Now my soul sinks within me; days of affliction have gripped me. ¹⁷During the night my bones ache, so that I get no rest and piercing pains keep gnawing me. ¹⁸My clothes are in disorder as I wrestle with my torments, binding me about like my coat collar. ¹⁹He has thrown me in the mud, and I am become like dust and ashes. ²⁰I cry to Thee for help, but Thou dost not answer me; I stand up, but Thou takest no notice of me. ²¹Thou hast turned harsh to me: with Thy mighty hand Thou dost oppose me.^p ²²Thou liftest me up on the wind, making me to ride on it, and I am blown away by a tempest. ²³I know indeed that Thou wilt convey me to death, to the assembly place appointed for all the living.

²⁴"Yet, will not a falling man stretch out his hand? In his calamity will he not cry out for help? ²⁵Have I not wept for him who went through a heavy day? Has not my soul grieved for the needy? ²⁶But as for me, when I looked for good, evil came; and when I expected light, darkness entered. ²⁷My inside boils and never comes to rest; only days of affliction have overtaken me.^q ²⁸In black I go about without sunshine; I stand up in the congregation and cry for help. ²⁹I am become a brother to jackals and a companion of ostriches. ³⁰My skin has grown black on me and is peeling off. My bones burn with fever. ³¹The music of my harp has turned to mourning, and the harmonies of my flute to bitter lamentation.

31 "IF MADE A COVENANT WITH MY eyes; how then could I ogle at a girl? ²For what could I expect from God as recompense; or what heritage from the Almighty on high? ³Should not calamity befall the wrongdoer and disaster the workers of iniquity? ⁴Does not He^r observe my path and count every step I take?

⁵"If I have walked with lies, or my foot has hastened to deceit, ⁶then let Him weigh in a just balance, and God will know my integrity! ⁷If my step has strayed out of the way, or my thoughts have followed my eyes, or a stain^u sticks to my hands, ⁸then let me sow, and let another eat, and let my grown crops be uprooted.

o) "The misbegotting having been misbegotten!"

p) Keeping me alive, in order to afflict me with new pain every day!

q) Job's disease was most painful and of long duration. Unaware of Satan's challenge and God's agreement to it, Job could not reason out why he must suffer so; neither could his friends judge correctly.

r) Ch. 31 is not a series of boastings, but a catalogue of serious assertions.

s) The pronoun "He" in v. 4 is emphatic.

t) Sixteen clauses are introduced by "If"; he repudiates, and rightly so, implications of dishonesty in any form. u) Of greed.

⁹"If my heart has been enticed by some woman; if I have lurked about my neighbor's door; ¹⁰then let my wife grind for another, and let others bend down over her. ¹¹For that would be a shameful sin, a crime to be punished by the judge; ¹²that would be a fire which would consume to destruction and would burn all that I possess. ¹³If I ignored the rights of my servant or of my maid, when they had a claim against me, ¹⁴what then could I do when God rises up, and when He comes to inquire, what shall I answer Him? ¹⁵Did not He who made me in the womb, make him, too? Did not One prepare both of us in the womb?

¹⁶"If I have denied the poor what he petitioned, or have caused the eyes of the widow to dim,^v ¹⁷or have eaten my morsel alone, without sharing it with the fatherless—¹⁸rather from his youth he grew up with me as with a father, and from her mother's womb I guided her—¹⁹if I have seen a homeless one perish for lack of clothing, naked and in need; ²⁰if his loins have not blessed me and if he was not warmed with a fleece of my sheep; ²¹if I have raised my hand with threatening voice against an orphan, when I saw a chance to obtain a decision in my favor in the gate;^w ²²then let my shoulder blade drop from my shoulder and my arm be broken from its socket. ²³For calamity from God and dread of His judgment have always restrained me, and I dared not face His majesty.

²⁴"If I have made gold my hope and have said to fine gold, 'You are my confidence'; ²⁵if I have rejoiced because my wealth was great and because my hand secured so much; ²⁶if I have looked at the sun when it shone, or the moon moving along in splendor ²⁷and by them have been secretly seduced, my hand kissing my mouth;^x ²⁸this also would have been a heinous enormity, punishable by the judges, for I would then have been false to God above.

²⁹"If I have felt happy at the calamity of him who hated me, or exulted when misfortune hit him (³⁰I did neither commit the sin of cursing my enemy, nor pray God to cause him to die); ³¹if my tent fellows have not so witnessed, then never was a man whom I did not generously supply with meat; ³²nor did I ever allow a stranger to lodge in the street; I always opened my doors to wayfarers;

³³"If I have concealed my transgressions, as Adam's son, hiding my guilt in my bosom, ³⁴because I was afraid to face the crowd and was scared of the contempt of the tribes, staying at home and keeping quiet indoors — ³⁵Oh, that someone would hear me! Here is my signature! Let the Almighty answer me! Oh, that my adversary would write out his indictment!^y ³⁶I would surely carry it on my shoulder; I would wind it about my head as a crown. ³⁷I would count out to him the number of my steps,^z and as a prince I would approach him.

³⁸"For if my land has cried out against me and its furrows have wept together; ³⁹if I have eaten its fruits without payment, or caused the souls of its owners sorrows, ⁴⁰then let thistles grow instead of wheat and cockles^a instead of barley!"

The words of Job are ended.

32 SO THESE THREE MEN CEASED to answer Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes. ²Then the anger of Elihu^b the son of Barachel the Buzite, of the family of Ram, was kindled; against Job his anger blazed, because he justified himself rather than God; ³and against his three friends too, his anger blazed, because they had found no answer, and yet they had pronounced Job wrong.

⁴Now Elihu had delayed answering

v) From disappointed hope. w) Where court sat.

x) In order to throw a kiss to the sun, or moon. In such an act the hand was more active than the mouth. Sun-worship is forbidden in Deut. 17:2-7, and was punishable by death.

y) Job appeals to God to make known to him the sins which his friends laid to his charge.

z) Cf. v. 4; Job can give an account of his "steps," which were always on errands of duty and mercy! a) Cockles or any offensive weed.

b) Elihu, whose name signifies "My God is He," seems to have been a Syrian, that is, an Aramean.

Job because they were older than he; ⁶but when Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of the three men, his anger flared up.^c ⁶And Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite answered: "I am still young in years, and you are old; therefore I hesitated and dared not show you my views. ⁷I said, 'Let age speak, and added years announce wisdom.' ⁸But it is the spirit in man and the breath of the Almighty that gives him understanding. ⁹It is not the aged who are wise, nor the elders who understand what is justice; ¹⁰therefore, listen to me, and I too will show what I think.

¹¹"You see, I waited for your words with ears open for your reasoned remarks, as you examined what to say. ¹²I gave you my undivided attention; but, take note, not one of you confuted Job, or answered his reasonings. ¹³Do not say, 'We have found wisdom; God only, and not men, can put him down.' ¹⁴As he did not direct his words to me, I will not answer him with your speeches.

¹⁵"Dismayed they stand, having no further answer. Their verbosity has gone; they are silent. ¹⁶Shall I wait longer? Because they are stricken dumb, shall I too remain silent? ¹⁷No! I will give my answer, too; I will tell what I know. ¹⁸For I am full of words, and the spirit within me constrains me; ¹⁹my thoughts are like wine that has no vent; like new wineskins so filled they are about to burst! ²⁰I must speak to obtain relief, my lips open to reply. ²¹I will not be partial to any man, nor flatter anyone. ²²Indeed I can not flatter, lest my Maker should put an end to me.^d

33 "O JOB,^e HEAR MY SPEECH; LISTEN to all my words. ²See! I have opened my mouth, my tongue under my palate is talking, ³and what my lips know they speak sincerely.^f ⁴The

spirit of God has made me, and the breath of the Almighty gives me life. ⁵Answer me, if you can. Draw up before me; marshal your words; take your stand. ⁶See! before God, I am like you; I too was formed out of clay. ⁷Let no fear of me terrify you; my hand on you will not be heavy.

⁸"Yet you have said in my hearing and I heard the sound of your words, ⁹I am pure and without transgression; I am innocent and without guilt.^g ¹⁰But He finds grounds of hostility against me and counts me as His enemy.^h ¹¹He puts my feet in the stocks and watches all my ways.ⁱ

¹²"But I must contradict you; in this claim you are not fair; for God is greater than mortal man. ¹³Why do you accuse Him of never answering your cries? ¹⁴For God speaks in different ways; if not heard in one way, then He chooses another; ¹⁵in dreams and visions of the night, when deep sleep falls on men, in hours of slumber on their beds; ¹⁶then He opens the ears of men and affirms the warnings directed to them, to ¹⁷withdraw man from his purpose and to make him give up his pride;^j ¹⁸to hold him back from the pit, and his life from perishing by the sword.

¹⁹"He is also chastened by pain upon his bed; his bones torture him,^k ²⁰his stomach abhors food; his soul cares for no dainties. ²¹His flesh becomes so wasted that it cannot be seen, but his bones, not seen before, protrude into view. ²²He hovers long on the verge of the pit and draws nearer and nearer to the destroying agencies.^l ²³If there is for him an angel, an interpreter, one of the thousand, to declare to man what is right for him, ²⁴then He is gracious and says, 'Release him from going down to the pit; I have found a ransom; ²⁵having repented, his flesh shall return fresh as in youth, let him return

c) He eventually persuades Job to change his attitude to God, to take down his fist of defiance, with which he had closed his concluding monologue.

d) Elihu intends to speak as an umpire, not as a partisan; Job had longed for an arbiter [Job 9:33, 34]. e) Elihu calls Job by name cf. 34:5, 7, 35f; 35:16; the friends never did.

f) Job had said, "How forcible are honest words!" ch. 6:25.

g) Cf. 10:7; 16:17; but also 9:20, 21. h) Cf. 13:24. i) Cf. 13:27.

j) Job's besetting sin was spiritual "pride"; cf. 35:12; 36:9. k) Rheumatism or arthritis?

l) Later the Jews interpreted passages like this, saying that when a wicked man dies, three bands of destroying angels meet him and counsel him which to choose: peace, pain or punishment.

to the days of youthful vigor.' ²⁶He prays to God, and He accepts him; he beholds God's face and is joyful; the man is restored to his normal living; ²⁷he tells others how God has saved him; he sings with joy and says, 'I sinned and twisted what was straight; but He requited me not according to my iniquity. ²⁸He has redeemed my life from going down into the pit, and my soul sees the light.'

²⁹"See! All these things God does, twice, yes, three times with man, ³⁰to turn back his soul from the pit, that he may see the light of life. ³¹Give heed, Job; listen to me; keep quiet, and I will say more. ³²If you have anything to say, answer me; speak, for I desire to justify you; ³³if not, then listen to me; keep still, and I will teach you wisdom."^m

34 ELIHU CONTINUED: ²"HEAR MY words, you wise men, and you who have knowledge, give ear to me; ³for the ear tests speech as the palate tastes food. ⁴Let us choose for ourselves what is right; let us determine among us what is good. ⁵For Job has claimed that he is innocent; that God has taken away his right; ⁶that, in spite of being right, he seems to be a liar; that his wound is incurable, though he is without transgression. ⁷What man is there like Job, who drinks down blasphemy like water; ⁸who keeps company with evildoers and walks with wicked men? ⁹For he has said, 'It profits a man nothing to be in fellowship with God!'

¹⁰"Therefore, listen to me, you men of discernment. Far be it from God that He should work ungodliness, and from the Almighty that He should do wrong. ¹¹For according to the deeds of a man will He requite him, and as by his behavior he deserves. ¹²Surely God will not do wickedly, nor will the Almighty pervert justice. ¹³Who deputed to Him authority over the earth, or who has established the whole world? ¹⁴If God were to withdraw His spirit and gather to Himself His spirit and His breath, ¹⁵all flesh would expire together, and man would return to the dust.

¹⁶"If you have understanding, hear this, and listen to what I say: ¹⁷Can one who hates justice govern? Will you condemn the Righteous and Mighty ¹⁸who tells a king, 'You are worthless,' and nobles, 'You are ungodly?'ⁿ ¹⁹He is not partial to princes, nor does He favor the rich more than the poor; for they all are His handiwork. ²⁰Suddenly men die, high and low alike; at midnight the people are shaken and pass away; the mighty are removed by no human hand.^o ²¹"For His eyes are on the ways of a man, He takes note of all his steps. ²²There is no darkness or dense blackness where evildoers can hide themselves. ²³He sets a man no stated time when he should appear before God in judgment. ²⁴He shatters the mighty without a trial and puts others in their place. ²⁵Knowing well their works, He overthrows them in the night and crushes them. ²⁶He shatters the wicked and smites them down in the sight of others, ²⁷because they turned aside from following Him and showed no regard for any of His ways, ²⁸so that the lament of the lowly reached up to Him, and He heard the cry of the afflicted.^p ²⁹If He remains quiet, who can condemn Him? If He hides His face, who shall catch a glance of Him? He watches alike over nations and over individuals, ³⁰so that no godless man may reign and that there be no snares to the people. ³¹It is well to confess to God, 'I have felt discipline; now I will offend no more'; ³²and to ask God to explain to him what he has done amiss and cannot understand. ³³Then He will repay you as you deserve. Will you reject it? You yourself must choose, not I. Whatever you know, that declare. ³⁴Men of understanding will say to me, and any wise man listening to you will agree, ³⁶that Job does not speak intelligently, that his words are without discernment.

m) By "wisdom" Elihu means the disciplinary value of suffering and affliction.

n) Injustice and good government are incompatible.

o) God is no viceroy; as Creator He is supreme over all the world and accountable to no man.

p) Those who turn from God have no regard for human suffering, so that those suffering have no resort but God.

³⁶Would that Job were tried all the way, because he answers like wicked men; ³⁷he adds rebellion to his sin, yet keeps on clapping his hands in our presence, and at the same time he multiplies his verbal charges against God."^q

35 ELIHU ANSWERED FURTHER:

²⁴"Do you think it right to claim that you are more righteous than God? ²⁵And to ask, 'What profit is there in being good; in what respect have I gained advantage above sinners?' ²⁶I will answer you and also your friends with you. ²⁷Look up to the heavens and see; gaze at the clouds high above you! ²⁸If you have sinned, how does that affect Him, and if your transgressions are repeated, what have you done to Him? ²⁹If you are righteous, what gain is that to Him? Does He receive anything from your hand? ³⁰But your wickedness affects your own self and your righteousness a human being.

³¹"At often repeated oppressions men cry out; they shriek for help because of the violence of the mighty. ³²But no one says, 'Where is God, my Maker, who gives songs of joy in the night?' ³³He makes us more intelligent than the earth's animals and grants us greater wisdom than the birds of the air! ³⁴There they call, but He does not answer, because of the presumptions of evil men.^r ³⁵Surely God will not hear a baseless cry, nor will the Almighty acknowledge it. ³⁶How much less in your case, when you admit you do not see Him, and, though you wait for Him, your cause is not considered. ³⁷And now, because God has not visited you in His anger and does not attend to your transgression, ³⁸Job uselessly opens his mouth and indulges in unreasonable verbiage."

36 ELIHU^s SAID FURTHER: ²⁴"DEAR with me a little longer, and I will instruct you; for I have more to say on behalf of God. ²⁵I will fetch my knowledge^t from afar and justify my Maker. ²⁶For truly my words are not false; He who is perfect in knowledge is with you.

²⁷"Behold! God is mighty, and yet He regards nothing as trivial. He is mighty in power of understanding. ²⁸He will not prolong the life of the wicked, but He will give the wronged one his right. ²⁹He does not withdraw His eyes from the righteous, but places them forever with kings upon the throne, so they are exalted. ³⁰If they are bound in fetters, and caught in the cords of affliction, ³¹then He makes known to them their deeds and their transgressions, and shows them that they have inflated themselves. ³²He also opens their ears for admonition and bids them to renounce iniquity. ³³If they listen and obey Him, then they live out their days in prosperity and their years in joyousness; ³⁴but if they give no heed, then they perish by the sword, to die in ignorance. ³⁵But those pretending in heart harvest anger; they cry for no help when He has bound them. ³⁶They die in youth; their lives end in dissipation. ³⁷The afflicted He delivers through their miseries, and through their distress He opens their ears. ³⁸Yes, He would still allure you out of distress into a broad place, where there is no restraint and set upon your table the abundance of fatness.

³⁹"But you fully deserve the judgment that befalls the wicked; judgment and justice have caught up with you. ⁴⁰Beware lest wrath entice you to scorn; and do not let the heavy ransom of your personal losses turn you aside. ⁴¹Would your wealth have saved you without suffering, or would all your resources have given you back your strength? ⁴²Foster no longing for the night when people are overwhelmed where they are. ⁴³Beware! Do not turn to evil; for this you were tested by suffering! ⁴⁴Observe! God is exalted in His might; who is a teacher^u like Him? ⁴⁵Who would assign to Him

q) Elihu shares the attitude of Job's three friends, and he uses language exceeding in harshness almost anything they had said. r) Job's great sin; cf. 33:17, with note.

s) This chapter is Elihu's chief contribution. He was inspired with a solution of Job's dilemma and points out that affliction is not merely punitive, but also disciplinary. Job should regard it as the warning of love. t) The phrase "perfect in knowledge" is ascribed by Elihu to God.

u) Elihu speaks repeatedly of God as a teacher. Cf. 33:14ff.; 34:32; 35:11, through the operations of His providence.

His way, and who dares to say, 'Thou hast dealt unfairly?' ²⁴Remember to glorify His works, which have moved so many to sing. ²⁶All men look on it, but a mortal sees it only from afar.

²⁶"Behold! God is great, and we do not understand Him; the number of His years is incalculable. ²⁷For He draws up drops of water from the sea and distils them through vapor into rain, ²⁸which the clouds pour down, dropping in showers on man. ²⁹Who understands the spreading of the clouds, the thunderings from His pavilion? ³⁰See how He disperses lightning around Him and covers the tops of the mountains. ³¹By these He judges the peoples and gives them food in abundance. ³²He covers both hands with the lightning and commands it to strike the mark. ³³His thunder announces His presence; the cattle feel warned of the storm.

37 "AT THIS TOO MY HEART TREMBLES; it leaps out of its place. ²Listen to the rolling of His voice, the thunder that comes out of His mouth. ³He lets it loose under the whole heaven, and His lightning to the ends of the earth. ⁴After it His voice roars; He thunders with His majestic voice, and He does not restrain them^v when His voice is heard. ⁵God thunders wondrously with His voice; He does great things we cannot understand. ⁶For He commands the snow, Fall on the earth; and to the lesser and the greater rains, Be strong! ⁷He seals the hands of all men,^w so that all men may recognize His doings. ⁸Then the wild beasts enter their lairs and rest in their dens. ⁹From the south comes the whirlwind and out of the north the cold. ¹⁰By the breath of God ice is formed, and the broad waters are congealed. ¹¹Yes, He loads the thick clouds with moisture, and from them He disperses the lightnings. ¹²Under

His control they circle about and do what He commands them throughout the whole inhabited world; ¹³whether sent on the earth for correction or as acts of mercy, He directs it to its goal.

¹⁴"O Job, stand still and listen and consider the wondrous works of God. ¹⁵Do you know how God controls these, causing the lightning to flash out of His clouds? ¹⁶Do you grasp how He balances the clouds? These are wonders of One who is perfect in knowledge.^x ¹⁷Do you have any idea why your clothes are hot when the earth is stilled, awaiting a hot wind? ¹⁸Can you, like Him, spread out the skies, solid as a molten mirror? ¹⁹Tell us what we should say to Him; for because we are in the dark we cannot state our case. ²⁰Should it be told Him that I would speak? If a man talks, will he be swallowed up?

²¹"Just now men do not see the light that is bright behind the clouds; the driving wind will clear it up. ²²From the north comes the golden splendor.^y God is clothed with majesty. ²³The Almighty we cannot understand. He excels in power and in fairness. He who is great in righteousness will not pervert justice. ²⁴Therefore men revere Him; but He will not respect anyone who is conceited."^z

38 THEN THE LORD ANSWERED JOB out of a whirlwind: ²Who is this that obscures purpose by thoughtless words?^a ³Gird up your loins like a man; I will question you, and you shall answer Me.^b

⁴Where were you when I founded the earth? Tell me, if you have insight. ⁵Who determined its measurements? You surely know! Or who stretched the builder's line upon it? ⁶Upon what were its foundations sunk, or who laid its cornerstone, ⁷while the morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy? ⁸Who

v) The lightnings.

w) In Mt. Lebanon when deep snow falls, the peasants, having no winter shoes, are compelled to remain indoors until the snow melts away; they can do no work. x) Cf. 36:5.

y) The northern lights, aurora borealis.

z) Elihu does not challenge Job's integrity; his chief influence was to have Job take down his fist of defiance to God.

a) The Lord is here addressing Job, not Elihu, who had given Job a portrait of the grace of God, addressing his intellect. The Lord addresses his heart.

b) Job had long wished for a personal interview with God, cf. 9:35; 13:22.

fixed the boundaries of the sea, when it burst forth from the womb? ⁹When made I the clouds its clothes, and thick darkness its swaddling bands, ¹⁰prescribing for it bars and doors, ¹¹and saying, 'Thus far you may come but no farther; here shall your proud waves be stayed?

¹²Have you ever in your life commanded the morning or showed the dawn its place, ¹³so that it may get hold of the corners of the earth and shake the wicked out of them? ¹⁴It changes like clay into which a seal is pressed; it is colored like a robe. ¹⁵Light is withdrawn from the wicked, and the lofty arm is broken.

¹⁶Have you explored the fountains of the sea, or walked through the recesses of the deep? ¹⁷Have the gates of death been shown to you, and have you stood before the doors of deep darkness? ¹⁸Has your grasp taken in the breadth of the earth? ¹⁹Tell it, if you know all this. Where is the way to the home of light, and where is the abode of darkness, ²⁰that you may conduct it to its domain and know the path to its house? ²¹You must know, for you were born then; the number of your days being great!

²²Have you entered the storehouses of the snow, and have you seen the treasures of the hail, ²³which I have reserved for the time of distress and kept for the day of battle and war? ²⁴Where is the path to the place from which light is distributed, or the place from which the hot, dry wind issues over the earth?

²⁵Who has dug gullies for the torrents of rain, or a path for the thunderbolts, ²⁶causing it to rain on uninhabited land, and on deserts where no one lives, ²⁷to satisfy desert and desolation, so that the blade of grass springs up?

²⁸Has the rain a father? Who has given birth to the dewdrops? ²⁹From whose womb did the ice appear, and who has fathered the hoarfrost of heaven? ³⁰The waters congeal and harden like rock, and the surface of the whole deep becomes frozen together.

³¹Can you bind the bonds of the Pleiades or loosen the girdle of Orion? ³²Do you lead forth the signs of the zodiac in their season, or guide the Bear with her cubs? ³³Do you know the laws of the heavens? Can you establish their rule upon earth?

³⁴Can you raise your voice to the clouds, so that floods of water cover you? ³⁵Can you order the lightnings, so they go and say to you, "Here we are!" ³⁶Who has imparted wisdom in the inner self, or who has given the heart understanding? ³⁷Who can tell the number of the clouds or overturn the pitchers of the heavens, ³⁸causing the dust to form lumps and the clods to stick together like mud?

³⁹Will you hunt the prey for the lioness, to supply the hunger of her young, ⁴⁰when they crouch in their dens and lie in wait in the thicket? ⁴¹Who provides for the ravens when their young cry to God and wander about for food?

39 DO YOU KNOW WHEN THE mountain goats deliver, or have you watched the travail of the does? ²Can you number the months they fulfil, and do you know the time of their gestation? ³They bend, bring forth their young and are delivered of their offspring. ⁴Their young are strong; they grow up in the open field; they run off and do not go back to them.

⁵Who has set the wild donkey free? Who has let the wild donkey go abroad, ⁶whose range I have appointed in the desert and whose home is in the salt marshes? ⁷He scorns the noises of the city and disdains the shoutings of the driver. ⁸He explores the mountains for pasture, searching after every green thing. ⁹Is the wild ox^c willing to serve you? Does he spend the night

c) The earth.

d) The Pleiades were Seven Sisters, a conspicuous constellation of stars, thought to be fastened in their place. Orion, in mythology was one of the giants, who because of rebellion against the gods was lashed to the sky. e) Her satellites.

f) Wild goats and does are especially shy, as are also the chamois species.

g) The wild ox is often identified with the Assyrian rimu or wild bull, which was not immense in size, but terrible in the use of his horns. Assyrian kings are represented on the monuments as hunting them.

over your crib? ¹⁰Can you rope him to the furrows? Will he harrow the fields of the valley after you? ¹¹Would you trust him because his strength is great, or depend on him for what you have toiled for? ¹²Would you rely on him to bring your grain home and gather it onto your threshing floor?

¹³The wings of the ostrich beat forcibly, but they are not the pinions and plumage of kindness; ¹⁴she leaves her eggs in the warm sand to hatch, ¹⁵forgetting that a foot may crush them and wild beasts may trample upon them. ¹⁶She treats her young cruelly, as if they were not hers, quite unconcerned that her labor may have been in vain. ¹⁷For God has denied her wisdom and has imparted to her no intelligence. ¹⁸When she flaps her wings to flee, she mocks the horse and his rider.

¹⁹Do you give the war horse his strength? Do you clothe his neck with thunderclouds?^h ²⁰Do you make him leap like a locust? The snorting of his nostrils is terrifying. ²¹He paws in the valley and glories in his strength; he goes to meet the battle without fear. ²²He laughs at terror and is not dismayed; he turns not back from the sword. ²³Against him rattle the quiver, the flashing spear point, and the javelin. ²⁴Quivering and excited he eats up the ground, no longer willing to stand still, having heard the sound of the trumpet. ²⁵When the trumpet sounds he neighs joyously, scenting the battle from afar, the thunders of the captains and their war cries.

²⁶Does the hawk soar and spread his wings southward through your wisdom? ²⁷Does the eagle mount up at your command, make his nest on high, ²⁸settle on a rock, and perch on a craggy peak, his stronghold? ²⁹From thence he spies out prey; his eyes see it far away. ³⁰His nestlings gulp down blood, and where the slain are, there is he.

40 THE LORD FURTHER ANSWERED Job: ²Will the faultfinder contend with the Almighty? He, who would reprove God, let him answer.

³Then Job answered the LORD: ⁴"See, I am of small account; what can I say? I lay my hand upon my mouth. ⁵Once I have spoken, but I will not repeat, yes, twice, but I will not do so again."ⁱ ⁶Then the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind: ⁷Gird up now your loins like a man; I will question you, and you must inform Me. ⁸Will you discredit My justice? Will you condemn Me and claim that you are righteous? ⁹Have you an arm like God, and can you thunder with a voice like His? ¹⁰Cover yourself now with honor and majesty;^j clothe yourself with dignity and splendor. ¹¹Pour out the rage of your wrath; look at everyone who is proud, and abase him. ¹²Look at everything that is haughty, and throw it down; crush the wicked where they stand. ¹³Bury them all in the dust together, and shut them all up in the nether region. ¹⁴Then will I also praise you, because your own right hand can save you.

¹⁵Look at the hippopotamus.^k I made him, as I made you; he eats grass like cattle. ¹⁶Look at the strength in his loins and his force in the muscles of his body. ¹⁷He stretches his tail like a cedar; the sinews of his thighs are knit together. ¹⁸His bones are like copper tubes, his limbs as iron bars. ¹⁹He is the foremost of the ways of God; let Him who made him bring his sword near. ²⁰For the mountains bring him their produce, where all the wild animals play. ²¹Beneath the lotus he lies down, covered out of sight with reeds. ²²The lotus trees screen him with their shade; the willows of the brooks hide him. ²³When the waters of the stream become turbulent, he is not troubled; though the Jordan should rush against his mouth, he remains

h) Dapples on the neck of a young, vigorous bay horse.

i) Job has been brought to silence, which is not enough. Job must repent!

j) The necessary attributes of a supreme ruler, who expects to abase the proud and overwhelm the wicked.

k) The hippopotamus, or river horse is now seldom seen north of the Second Cataract of the Nile; he is strictly herbivorous.

confident. ²⁴Can a man catch him off guard, or trap him with a snare about his nose?

41 CAN YOU DRAW OUT THE CROCODILE¹ with a hook or hold down his tongue with a cord? ²Can you put a rush line through his gills or pierce his jaw with a spur? ³Will he make repeated requests of you? Will he use friendly words in addressing you? ⁴Will he make a bargain with you, that you should take him as your servant for life? ⁵Will you play with him as with a bird or keep him as a plaything for your girls? ⁶Will fishermen traders bargain over him, apportioning him among the merchants? ⁷Can you fill his skin with barbed darts or his head with harpoons? ⁸Lay your hand upon him; then remember the conflict; you will not do it a second time! ⁹The man who hopes to master him will be disillusioned; at the sight of him a person is paralyzed! ¹⁰No one is foolhardy enough to stir him up; who then is he who can stand before Me? ¹¹From whom have I borrowed, that I should have to repay him? Every thing under the whole heaven is Mine.^m

¹²I will not be silent concerning his limbs, his mighty strength and his artistic proportions. ¹³Who has ever stripped off his thick coat of mail, or pierced his impenetrable scales? ¹⁴Who can open the doors of his mouth? Around his teeth there is terror. ¹⁵His back is shingled with scales, as closely fitted together as a tight seal. ¹⁶So near are his scales to one another that no air can get between them. ¹⁷They clasp one another, joined so closely they cannot be separated. ¹⁸His sneezings sparkle light; his eyes are like the rays of morning. ¹⁹Out of his jaws come burning torches, and sparks of fire shoot out. ²⁰From his nostrils vapor

issues as steam from a boiling pot over burning rushes. ²¹His breath sets coals on fire; a flame issues from his mouth.^a ²²Such strength dwells in his neck that panic moves before him. ²³The folds of his flesh close in on each other, firmly and immovably cast upon him. ²⁴His heart is as hard as a rock; solid as a nether millstone. ²⁵When he raises himself up, the mighty are afraid; beside themselves with panic. ²⁶To hit him with a sword is useless; so with a spear, a dart, or a javelin. ²⁷To him iron is as straw and copper as rotten wood. ²⁸Arrows do not rout him; slingstones he treats as stubble. ²⁹Clubs are counted by him as reeds, and he mocks the rattle of javelins. ³⁰His nether parts are like potsherds; they leave threshing-sledge grooves in the mire. ³¹He makes the deep to boil as a pot, the sea like a vessel of ointment. ³²Behind him he leaves a foaming wake; one wonders if the sea might be growing hoary! ³³On earth there is not his equal, a creature devoid of fear! ³⁴He looks down on all that is high; he is king over all the sons of pride.^o

42 THEN JOB ANSWERED THE LORD: ²"I know that Thou canst do all things, and that no plans of Thine can be foiled. ³'Who is he who veils counsel without knowledge?' I then have expressed what I did not understand, things too wonderful for me. ⁴Now therefore hear me, and I will speak. Shall I question Thee any more? Thou hast informed me. ⁵Heretofore I had heard of Thee by the hearing of the ear, but now My eye sees Thee: ⁶wherefore, I retract and repent in dust and ashes."^p

⁷After the LORD had spoken these words to Job, the LORD said to Eliphaz the Temanite: My indignation is kin-

1) Egypt's crocodile, an animal of superior strength. The Egyptians deified it. Its home is in Upper Egypt and the Sudan, though Arabs and European travelers report that it has been seen in the Kishon River of Palestine. Mentioned, Ps. 104:26, as formed to play in the sea; as having its head broken and its carcass eaten at the Red Sea, Ps. 74:14; as the world-power dragon afflicting God's people, Isa. 27:1. m) God is speaking! He made the crocodile.

n) Oriental poetry is full of hyperbole.

o) "Pride" is one of the great concerns of the book; it is rebuked.

p) Thus Job has been moved to confess. By the Lord's speech, he is humbled and completely divested of his pride and his misunderstanding of God. Now Job can identify God of the present with God of the past. By His first speech [38:1-40:2], Job had been brought to silence [40:3-5], which was not enough. The LORD spoke further [40:6-41:34], and Job repents in dust and ashes [42:6].

dled against you and against your two friends; for you have not, as My servant Job, spoken the truth about Me. ⁸Now then, take seven bullocks and seven rams, go to My servant Job and offer them up, a burnt offering for yourselves; and my servant Job shall pray for you, for I will accept his plea that I deal not with you according to your misdemeanor; for you have not spoken the truth about Me, as My servant Job has. ⁹So Eliphaz the Temanite, Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite went and did as the LORD had ordered them; and the LORD had regard for Job.^q

¹⁰The LORD gave a turn to the fortune of Job when he interceded for his friends; and the LORD doubled all his previous possessions. ¹¹Then came to him all his brothers and sisters and all his former acquaintances

and ate bread with him in his house; they also bemoaned him and comforted him for all the affliction, which the LORD had brought upon him, and every one gave him a piece of money and a gold ring.

¹²Thus the LORD blessed the latter days of Job more than the earlier; so that he had fourteen thousand sheep, six thousand camels, one thousand yoke of oxen, and one thousand she-donkeys. ¹³He had also seven sons and three daughters. ¹⁴He called the first Jemimah; the second Keziah and the third Keren-happuch.^r ¹⁵In all the land there were no women as beautiful as Job's daughters, and their father had them inherit on a par with their brothers. ¹⁶After this Job lived 140 years and saw his sons and his sons' sons, four generations. ¹⁷Job died, an old man, after a full life.^s

q) In Job's experiences God taught humanity that material prosperity is no assurance of divine approval and that misfortune proves no divine displeasure. And since, for their remarks, Job's friends needed forgiveness, we Bible readers should carefully sift their words before accepting them as coming from God.

r) Significant names: "Dove," "Cinnamon," and "Horn of Eye-paint," respectively.

s) Job died satisfied. His many years suggest the period of Abraham. Four generations means not only grandchildren, but also great-grandchildren. His experiences taught that there is the good life, independent from earthly compensation, and that Satan's accusation of him was divinely shown to be false, a new vindication of divine justice in the presence of evil.

THE PSALMS^a

The Godly and the Ungodly^b

1 Oh, the joys of the man who walks not after the advice of the wicked, nor stands in the path of sinners,
nor sits in the seat of scoffers!

²but his delight is in the law of the
LORD

and His law he ponders day and night.

³He is like a tree planted by streams
of water,

that yields its fruit in its season,

whose leaf does not wither;

and everything he does shall prosper.

⁴The ungodly are not so but are like chaff which the wind blows away.

⁵Therefore the ungodly shall not stand in the judgment,^c

nor sinners in the assembly of the righteous,^d

⁶for the LORD knows^e the way of the righteous;^d

but the way of the ungodly shall end
in ruin.

The Lord and His Anointed Are Supreme^f

2 Why do the nations make a tumult and the peoples devise an empty scheme?

²The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers consult together against the LORD and His anointed,

saying,

³"Let us tear their restraining bands^g

apart,

and let us cast their shackles from us."^h

⁴He^h who dwellsⁱ in heaven laughs: the LORD derides them.

⁵Then He speaks to them in His indignation

and terrifies them by His fury:^j

⁶I have indeed set My King upon Zion,
My holy mountain.

⁷I will tell of the decree:

The LORD said to Me, Thou art My Son;

this day have I begotten Thee.

a) From the Greek word, meaning a song accompanied by stringed instruments. See Ps. 150:3-5. The title in the Hebrew Bible, Tehillim, "praises," refers to the content rather than to the form.

b) Jesus made similar contrasts: sheep and goats, wise and foolish virgins, broad and narrow way; for our Bible recognizes only two classes, the godly and the ungodly.

c) The sinner shall experience judgment but shall not be approved.

d) Especially in the New Jerusalem after God's final judgment [Rev. 21].

e) God knows what the ungodly do, but He knows favorably His own people. Commonly in the Old Testament, "to know" has that favorable and intimate meaning. Cf. Amos 3:2.

f) By David. See Acts 4:25 about the futility of opposition to Christ, for the Hebrew for "Anointed" is Messiah. g) Man has continually rebelled against God.

h) Thought divisions occur at vss. 4, 7 [where Christ Himself speaks], and 10.

i) Or, "sits," watching such ridiculous behavior.

j) God "laughs" that men should attempt to challenge Him, but He brings punishment because such challenging is rebellion.

PSALMS 2-5

⁸Ask it of Me, and I will make the nations Thine inheritance, and the ends of the earth Thy possession.

⁹Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; Thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's jar.^k

¹⁰Now therefore, O kings, act wisely; be warned, O rulers of the earth.
¹¹Serve the LORD reverently and rejoice with trembling.

¹²Kiss the Son, lest He be angry and you perish in the way; for soon shall His wrath be kindled. But, oh, the joy of all who take refuge in Him!

Trust God in the Morning
A Psalm of David, when He Flew From Absalom, His Son^l

3 O LORD, how many are my foes! How many have risen up against me!

²Many say of me, "There is no help for him in God." Selah^m ³But Thou, O LORD, art a shield about me; my glory and the One who lifts my head.

⁴With my voice I cry to the LORD, and He answers me from His holy mountain. Selah

⁵I laid me down and slept:ⁿ I woke again, for the LORD sustains me.
⁶I do not fear the myriads of people who have set themselves against me all around.

⁷Arise, O LORD; save me, O my God; for Thou hast struck all my enemies on the cheek; Thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.

⁸Salvation belongs to the LORD; Thy blessings be upon Thy people. Selah

Prayers of Trust and for Guidance

Trust God in the Evening
For the Chief Musician; on Stringed Instruments. A Psalm of David

4 Answer me when I call, O God of my righteousness!^o
Thou hast given relief when I was in distress; be gracious to me and hear my cry.

²Sons of men, how long will you turn my honor into shame?
How long will you love futility and pursue falsehood? Selah

³But know that the LORD has set apart the redeemed for Himself; the LORD will hear when I call to Him.

⁴Be agitated,^p but do not sin; commune in your heart upon your bed, and be still. Selah

⁵Offer sacrifices of righteousness, and put your trust in the LORD.

⁶Many say, "Who will show us any good?"^q
Lift the light of Thy countenance upon us, O LORD.

⁷Thou hast put gladness in my heart — more than is present when their grain and wine abound.

⁸In peace I will both lie down and sleep; for Thou, O LORD, alone makest me dwell in safety.^r

A Morning Prayer
For the Chief Musician; with the Nehiloth.^a A Psalm of David

5 Hear my words, O LORD, give heed to my meditation.

²Listen to the voice of my cry for help, my King and my God, for to Thee I pray.

³O LORD, in the morning Thou shalt hear my voice; in the morning I will set in order^t before Thee my prayer, and will look up.

⁴For Thou art not a God who takes pleasure in wickedness; evil does not dwell with Thee.

k) The forces of God will triumph in due time [Phil. 2:10].

l) Described in II Samuel 15-18. A psalm of great comfort, especially for those similarly oppressed.

m) "Selah" may indicate a musical accompaniment or doxology or rest; but it always comes after an impressive thought, thus deserving special notice.

n) David's trust enabled him to sleep even though in flight from his own son.

o) David is aware that he has no righteousness except from God. Cf. Isaiah 45:24,25.

p) Christ Himself demonstrated righteous indignation [Mark 3:5]. Paul's exhortation along similar lines is indicated in Ephesians 4:26. q) The skeptic's attitude.

r) We would do well to make this a part of our evening prayer. s) Probably "wind instruments."

t) Hebrew suggests the picture of arranging a sacrifice.

The boastful have no standing in Thy presence:

Thou hatest all who practice the wrong.

Thou wilt destroy those that tell lies; he LORD abhors the murderer and the deceiver.^a

But as for me, by the greatness of Thine unfailing love I will enter Thy house; at Thy holy temple I will worship in reverence of Thee.

O LORD, lead me in Thy righteousness because of those who watch me; make Thy way straight before me.

For there is nothing in their speech upon which one can rely:

their heart is a destructive chasm; their throat is an opened grave; they deceive with their tongue.

Hold them guilty, O God; let them fall by their own designs; for the mass of their transgressions thrust them away, because they have rebelled against Thee.

But let all who take refuge in Thee rejoice.

Let them ever shout for joy since Thou dost make a covering over them.

Let all who love Thy name be glad in Thee;

For Thou, O LORD, dost bless the righteous; as with a shield Thou dost surround him with favor.

A Prayer for Mercy

For the Chief Musician; on Stringed Instruments; according to the Sheminith.^u

A Psalm of David

O LORD, do not rebuke me in Thine anger; do not discipline me in Thy hot displeasure.

Have mercy on me, O LORD, for I am faint: heal me, O LORD, for my bones are troubled, and my soul is exceedingly disturbed But Thou, O LORD — how long?^w Return, O LORD, deliver my soul; save me for the sake of Thy covenant love.

For in death there are no memorials made to Thee; in the grave^x who shall render praise to Thee?

I am weary in my groaning; every night I moisten my bed with tears; I drench my couch.

My eye has grown dim from grief; it is aging because of all my enemies.

Depart from me, all you who practice the wrong; for the LORD has heard the voice of my weeping.

The LORD has heard my pleading; the LORD receives my prayer.

All my enemies shall be ashamed and greatly dismayed; they shall turn back; they shall be put to shame in a moment.

Prayer for Deliverance

A Shiggaion^y of David, Which He Sang to the LORD concerning the Words of Cush,^z a Benjamite

O LORD, my God, in Thee have I put my trust:

save me from all who pursue me, and deliver me, lest like a lion he tear my soul, dragging me away while there is none to deliver.

O LORD, my God, if I have done this,

if there is injustice on my hands,

If I have rendered evil to him who was at peace with me,^a

u) Intending to dispatch David when they have a chance.

v) Or, "the eighth," an eight-stringed instrument; or an octave lower than alamoth.

w) How long until the LORD returns in mercy?

x) Hebrew Sheol, sometimes translated "hell" [Prov. 15:11], but here simply parallel to "death."

y) Possibly an irregular song.

z) There is no mention of a Cush in David's biography as we have it. Possibly he was one of Saul's company in the attack on David.

a) This enemy seems to have accused David unfairly, and David knows that God is fair in His dealings.

or, without cause, have plundered him who was my enemy,^b ⁵let the enemy pursue and overtake
 my soul;
 let him trample my life to the ground and lay my honor in the dust. Selah

⁶Arise, O LORD, in Thine anger, raise Thyself against the rage of my
 enemies;
 awake for me, Thou who hast ordained judgment.

⁷Let the assembly of the people be gathered to Thee, ⁸and over them return on high.
 May the LORD judge the people.
 Vindicate me, O LORD, according to my righteousness
 and according to the integrity that is upon me.^c

⁹Let the evil of the wicked cease, I beseech Thee,
 and establish Thou the righteous;
 for Thou, who triest hearts and emotions,^d art a righteous God.
¹⁰My shield depends upon God, who saves the upright in heart.

¹¹God is a righteous judge,
 a God who is indignant every day.

¹²If a man will not repent, He will sharpen His sword:^e

He has strung His bow and made it ready.

¹³He has prepared for him weapons of death,
 making His arrows fiery shafts.

¹⁴Behold, he who writhes with iniquity
 has conceived wrongdoing and brings forth falsehood.

¹⁵He has dug a pit, having hollowed it out,
 and has fallen into the hole even while making it.

¹⁶His wrongdoing returns upon his own
 head,
 and his violence comes down on the top of his head.

¹⁷I will give thanks to the LORD
 according to His righteousness, and I will sing praise to the name of the LORD Most High.

The Glory of the Lord

For the Chief Musician; upon the Gittith^f
 A Psalm of David

8 O Jehovah, our LORD, how glorious is Thy name in all the earth!^g Thou hast displayed Thy majesty above the heavens.

²From the mouth of children, even the unweaned,
 Thou hast ordained strength^h
 on account of Thy foes, that the enemy and revengeful might be silenced.

³When I observe Thy heavens, the work of Thy fingers,
 the moon and the stars which Thou hast established:ⁱ

⁴what is man that Thou art mindful of him,
 or the son of man that Thou carest for
 him?

⁵Yet Thou hast made him little less than heavenly beings, and Thou dost crown him with glory
 and honor.

⁶Thou givest him dominion over the works of Thy hands; Thou hast placed all things under his feet,

⁷all sheep and oxen,
 the beasts of the field also,

⁸the birds of the air and the fish of the sea, whatever passes along the paths of the seas.

b) From his own personal vindication, David looks forward to God's coming for the final judgment. David had indeed cut off the hem of Saul's robe in the cave [I Sam. 24:4], but with ample justification and it could hardly be called "plundering."

c) A possible reference by David to God's imputed righteousness.

d) Or "kidneys." Often the "heart" in the Old Testament means our "thinking powers."

e) God punishes the unrepentant. f) Possibly an instrument or a tune from Gath.

g) Here is a prayer without petition — just telling God how wonderful He is.

h) Children testify to God's glory. Jesus quoted this when children in the temple courts sang Him their praises [Matt. 21:15-16].

i) The glory of the heavens seems to make man insignificant, except that God ordained him to be ruler on the earth [Gen. 1:28-30]. When Adam sinned, man lost much of his dominion [Heb. 2:7-8]; but Jesus Christ came as the last Adam and won back what the first Adam had lost. Hence this is a Messianic psalm, applying basically to Him [Heb. 2:9], but also to all men who stand in Him.

⁹O Jehovah, our LORD, how glorious is Thy name in all the earth!

The Lord Is Judge

For the Chief Musician; according to Muth-labben.^j A Psalm of David

9 I will praise the LORD with my whole heart;
I will tell of all Thy marvelous works.
²I will be glad and rejoice in Thee,
I will sing praise to Thy name, O Most High.

³When my enemies are turned back,
they stumble and perish before Thee.
⁴For Thou hast maintained my right and my cause;
Thou dost occupy the throne, a righteous judge.

⁵Thou hast rebuked the heathen;
Thou hast destroyed the wicked;
Thou hast blotted out their name for ever and ever.

⁶The enemy has been cut off, a never-ending ruin.
Thou hast overthrown the cities;
even the memory of them has vanished.

⁷But the LORD abides for ever,^k
He has established His throne for judging.

⁸And He will judge the world in righteousness;
He will minister justice to peoples in uprightness.

⁹So shall the LORD be a stronghold for the oppressed,
a stronghold in times of trouble.^l

¹⁰Thus shall those who know Thy name trust in Thee, for Thou, O LORD, hast not forsaken those who seek Thee.

¹¹Sing praise to the LORD who dwells in Zion, declare among peoples His works.

¹²For He who avenges blood remembers them,
He does not forget the cry of the afflicted.

¹³Be gracious to me, O LORD,
see what I suffer from those who hate me,
O Thou who dost lift me up from the gates of death,

¹⁴that I may recount all Thy praises, that in the gates of the daughter of Zion I may rejoice in Thy deliverance.

¹⁵The nations have sunk into the pit which they made;
in the net which they hid have their own feet been caught.

¹⁶The LORD has made Himself known,
He has executed judgment;
in the work of His own hands have the wicked been snared. Higgaion.^m

Selah

¹⁷The wicked shall be turned into Sheol, all the heathen that forget God.

¹⁸For the needy shall not always be forgotten,
nor the hope of the poor be lost for ever.

¹⁹Arise, O LORD! let not man prevail;
let the nations be judged before Thee!
²⁰Put them in fear, O LORD!
Let the nations know that they are but human. Selah

A Prayer for Judgment on the Wicked

10 Why dost Thou stand at a distance, O LORD?
Why dost Thou hide Thyself in times of trouble?

²In arrogance the wicked hotly pursue the afflicted;
let them be taken in the schemes which they have devised.

³For the wicked boasts of his heart's desire;
the greedy one curses and spurns the LORD.

⁴According to the pride of his countenance, the wicked will not inquire;
all his thoughts are that there is no God.ⁿ

j) Hebrew Muth-labben means "death of the son," perhaps title of a tune.

k) What contrast! Nations rise and fall, but God, their Judge, continues for ever.

l) This same great God never forsakes His own!

m) Higgaion coming from a word meaning "to meditate," probably has reference to a solemn sound [Ps. 92:3] in the music intended to induce a contemplative mind.

n) Notice the emphasis in this psalm on the manner in which the wicked person thinks [vss. 4, 6, 11, and 13].

⁵His ways persist at all times;
Thy judgments are on high, beyond his sight;^o
as for all his foes, he sniffs at them.
⁶He says to himself, "I shall not be moved;
I shall never^p come to adversity."

⁷His mouth is full of cursing, deceit, and oppression;
under his tongue^q are trouble and sin.
⁸He sits in ambush in the villages;
in hiding places he murders the innocent;
his eyes watch stealthily for the unfortunate.
⁹He lies in wait in the hiding place like a lion in his thicket;
he lies in wait to catch the afflicted;
by drawing him into his net, he catches the afflicted, ¹⁰who is crushed and sinks down;
thus do the unfortunate fall by his powers.
¹¹He says to himself that God has forgotten, that He has hidden His face and will never see.

¹²Arise, O LORD; lift up Thy hand, O God; forget not the afflicted.
¹³Why does the wicked spurn God and say to himself that Thou wilt not call to account?
¹⁴Thou hast seen, for Thou dost take note of trouble and grief, that Thou mayest repay it with Thine own hand.
The unfortunate commits himself to Thee;
for the orphan Thou hast been a helper.
¹⁵Break the arm^r of the wicked;
seek out the wickedness of the sinner till Thou findest no more.^s

¹⁶The LORD is King for ever and ever;
the heathen will have perished out of His land.
¹⁷O LORD, Thou hast heard the longing of the afflicted;

Thou dost establish their heart;
Thou dost incline Thine ear ¹⁸to render justice to the orphan and the oppressed, so that no earthly mortal^t may terrify them any more.

Confidence in the Lord

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David

11 In the LORD I take refuge;
how can you say to my soul,
"Flee as a bird to your mountain"?
²For see, the wicked are bending the bow, they have fitted their arrow to the string to shoot in the dark at the upright in heart.

³When the foundations are torn down,
what can the righteous do?^u ⁴The LORD is in His holy temple, the LORD's throne is in heaven.
His eyes observe, His eyelids^v test the children of men.

⁵The LORD puts the righteous to the proof, but His soul abhors the wicked and anyone who loves violence.
⁶Upon the wicked He will rain snarcs:
fire, burning sulphur;
and a scorching wind will be the portion of their cup.

⁷For the LORD is righteous; He loves acts of righteousness;
His countenance beholds the upright.

The Lord Will Judge the Wicked

For the Chief Musician; according to the Sheminith.^w A Psalm of David

12 Do help, O LORD, for godly men have come to an end;
for the faithful have vanished from among the descendants of man.

²Men speak falsehood with each other;
with flattering lips and a double heart^x
they speak.

³May the LORD cut off all flattering lips,
and the tongue that talks so proudly;

^o) In his prosperity the wicked does not think of God's judgment.

^p) Hebrew, "to generation and generation."

^q) Consequently ready to be brought forth at any time in speech.

^r) The arm stands for strength and comes from God, for the ungodly as well as for the godly.

^s) The final conquest over evil [Rev. 21:27]. ^t) Hebrew, "man from the earth."

^u) The righteous take refuge in God, but they themselves have a responsibility as directed by Him. See vs. 7. ^v) Eyelids often close slightly in close examination.

^w) Or, "the eighth." See note under Ps. 6. ^x) A hypocritical heart.

⁴those who have said, "To our tongues will we give strength, our lips are our own;⁷ who is our master?"

⁵Because of the oppression of the poor and the groaning of the needy, I will now arise, says the LORD; I will grant him the safekeeping for which he longs.

⁶The words of the LORD are pure words, as silver purified in an earthen furnace, refined seven times.²

⁷Thou, O LORD, wilt keep them, Thou wilt guard each one from this generation for ever, ⁸where godless men strut around, as baseness is given a high rating among the descendants of man.

*Prayer for Deliverance
To the Chief Musician
A Psalm of David*

13 How long, O LORD? Wilt Thou forget me for ever?^a

How long wilt Thou hide Thy face from me?

²How long shall I keep planning in my soul^b and experience a daily sorrow of heart? How long shall my enemy be higher than I?

³Consider and answer me, O LORD, my God; enlighten my eyes,^c lest I sleep in death;

⁴Lest my enemy say, "I have overpowered him"; lest my foes rejoice that I am overthrown.

⁵But I have trusted in Thine unfailing love:

my heart rejoices in Thy deliverance.

⁶Let me sing to the LORD because He has dealt generously with me.^d

The Wickedness of Mankind

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David

14 The fool has said in his heart, "There is no God."

They have corrupted their behavior and made it abominable.

There is none who does right.

²The LORD looked down from heaven upon the descendants of man to see if any were acting wisely, seeking after God.

³All have turned aside; together they have become corrupt.

There is none who does good, not even one.^e

⁴Do not any evildoers understand, who eat up my people as if they ate bread,^f and who do not call on the LORD?

⁵There they experience great fear, for God is with the generation of the righteous.

⁶You would put to shame the planning of the afflicted; but the LORD is his refuge.

⁷Oh, that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion!^g

When the LORD shall turn back the captivity^h of His people, may Jacob rejoice; may Israel be glad!

Description of the Godly

A Psalm of David

15 O LORD, who shall stay in Thy tabernacle:

Who shall dwell on Thy holy hill?¹

²He who walks in integrity, who does what is right, and who speaks the truth in his heart;

³who does not slander with his tongue, who works no evil against his friend, and who does not carry scandal concerning his neighbor;

⁴in whose eyes a reprobate person is disdained,

y) Hebrew, "with us"; how characteristic of the wicked! z) Completely.

a) David had lost his fellowship with God; time seemed so long!

b) David's contrivances for escape were insufficient. c) In a physical sense; cf. I Sam. 14:27.

d) Restoration to fellowship enables him to say this.

e) In keeping with the thought of Ps. 12:1; also of Elijah when it seemed to him that all had forsaken God. f) With as much indifference to the people's misfortune.

g) God's earthly dwelling, in the Holy of Holies.

h) Captivity to sin, as at Absalom's revolt (II Sam. 15).

i) Zion, where David brought the ark of the covenant.

but who esteems those who revere the
 LORD;
 who, though swearing^l to his own detriment, does not change; ^hwho does not give his money for interest,^k
 and who will not take a bribe against the innocent.

He who does these things shall never be moved.^l

A Psalm of Refuge
A Miktam^m of David

16 Preserve me, O God, for I have looked to Thee for refuge.

²I said to Jehovah, "Thou art my LORD;
 I have no good beside Thee."

³As for the godly that are in the land, they are the glorious in whom is all my delight.

⁴The sorrows of those who choose otherwise shall be multiplied;
 I will not pour out their drink offerings of blood,
 nor take their names upon my lips.

⁵The LORD is my assigned portion and my cup:

Thou dost maintain my lot.

⁶The lines^a have fallen to me in pleasant [places];
 indeed, a good inheritance is mine.

⁷I will bless the LORD who has counseled me:
 even in the night my emotions
 admonish me.

⁸I have placed the LORD before me continually;
 because He is at my right hand, I shall not be moved.

⁹Therefore my heart was glad and my glory^o rejoiced;
 my body too shall dwell securely.

¹⁰For Thou wilt not leave my soul in the realm of the dead nor allow Thy Holy One to see corruption.^p

¹¹Thou dost make me know the path of life;
 in Thy presence is fulness of joy;
 in Thy right hand are pleasures for evermore.

Prayer for Protection
A Prayer of David

17 Do hear what is right, O LORD;
 listen to my cry!
 Give ear to my prayer, from lips free of deceit.

²Let my judgment of vindication come forth from Thy presence.
 May Thine eyes see what is equitable.

³Thou hast tested my heart; Thou hast visited me in the night;
 Thou hast tried me and hast found no evil intention in me;
 neither does my mouth transgress.

⁴In respect to the acts of men, by the words of Thy lips
 have I guarded myself against the course of the violent.

⁵My steps have held closely to Thy paths;^q
 my feet have not slipped.

⁶I have called on Thee, O God, for Thou wilt answer me.
 Incline Thine ear to me; hear my words.

⁷In a marvelous way show Thine unfailing love,
 O Thou, who savest those who look for refuge from their adversaries
 at Thy right hand.

⁸Keep me as the pupil of Thine eye;^r hide me in the shadow of Thy wings ⁹from wicked men who have maltreated me,
 my deadly enemies who surround me.

¹⁰They are enclosed in their own fat;^s

they speak proudly with their mouth.

¹¹Wherever we go, they have surrounded us;
 they fix their eyes to cast us to the ground.

j) Hebrew, "he swears to..."

k) The Law prohibited taking interest [which was high] from other Israelites [Exod. 22:25].

l) An excellent standard for God's children.

m) Miktam means "covering," hence, perhaps a psalm of refuge. n) Boundary lines.

o) Refers to the soul, as in Gen. 49:6, where Jacob calls it "mine honour" [KJV].

p) David's hope for eternity lay in Christ's resurrection, concerning which David speaks here [Acts 2:30-31]. q) Literally "tracks of one who has gone on before."

r) Such are we to our loving Father, as in Christ we trust in Him.

s) Depicts gluttonous living without feelings for others. Cf. Deut. 32:15.

¹²He is like a lion craving to tear,
as a young lion waiting in ambush.

¹³Arise, O LORD! confront him, put him down!

Deliver my soul from the wicked by Thy sword,

¹⁴from men by Thy hand, O LORD,
from men of the world,
whose portion is in this life;
whose stomach Thou dost fill with what

Thou hast stored for them, so that their children are filled, who leave the remainder to their young ones.

¹⁵As for me, with righteousness shall I behold Thy face;
I shall be satisfied when I awake with Thy likeness.^t

The Lord Cares for His Own

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm^u of David, the servant of the LORD, who addressed the words of this song to the LORD on the day that the LORD delivered him from the hand of all his enemies and from the hand of Saul. He said:

18 Fervently do I love Thee,^v
O LORD, my strength.

²The LORD is my stronghold, my fortress, and my deliverer;

my God is my rock, in whom I take refuge,

My shield and the horn of my salvation,
my high tower.

³I call upon the LORD, who is worthy to be praised,
and so I am delivered from my enemies.

⁴Cords of death encompassed me and the floods of ungodliness assailed me;

⁵Cords of Sheol surrounded me, snares of death confronted me.

⁶In my distress I called on the LORD;
to my God I cried for help;
He heard my voice from His temple;^w
my cry before Him reached His ears.

⁷Then^x did the earth quiver and shake and the foundations of the mountains trembled

and rocked, because He was indignant.
⁸Smoke issued from His nostrils, and fire from His mouth devoured;
coals were kindled by it.

⁹He bowed the heavens and came down;
thick darkness was under His feet.

¹⁰He rode upon a cherub and flew.
He soared on the wings of the wind.

¹¹He made darkness His covering about
Him;

His shelter, clouds of the sky dark with water.

¹²At the brightness before Him His clouds issued forth hailstones and coals of fire.

¹³The LORD thundered in the heavens;
The Most High uttered His voice;
there were hailstones and coals of fire.

¹⁴He sent forth His arrows and scattered them;
He shot forth His lightnings and confounded them.

¹⁵Then the channels of the water became visible
and the foundations of the world were laid bare at Thy rebuke, O LORD, at the blast of the breath of Thy nostrils.

¹⁶He reached from on high; He took me;

He drew me out of great waters.

¹⁷He delivered me from my strong
enemy,
and from them that hated me;
for they were too strong for me.

¹⁸They came upon me in the day of my calamity,
but the LORD was my support.

¹⁹He brought me out into a roomy place;^y

He was delivering me because He delighted in me.^z

t) A contrast between what the worldly man desires [vs. 14] and the heavenly hope of the saint [vs. 15]. u) The content of this psalm is also found in II Samuel 22:2-51.

v) David's realization of God's loving protection from Saul causes him to respond with deep feeling. w) God appeared between the cherubim above the mercy seat of the ark, for which David had erected a place in Jerusalem, II Sam. 6:17. But the "temple" here, v. 6, seems to be heaven, cf. Ps. 11:4.

x) God's power in answering David's request is illustrated in vv. 7-15 by the vivid description of a storm. y) A place, unoppressed.

z) The LORD delights in those who are righteous, as David proceeds to explain.

²⁰The LORD rewarded me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands He recompensed me.

²¹For I have kept the ways of the LORD, and have not wickedly departed from my God.

²²For all His ordinances were before me, and His statutes I did not put away from me;

²³So I was faultless toward Him, having guarded myself against my sinfulness.^a ²⁴Therefore the LORD recompensed me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands in His sight.

²⁵With the merciful Thou showest Thyself merciful;

with the perfect man Thou showest Thyself perfect;

²⁶with the pure Thou showest Thyself pure;

and with the perverse Thou showest Thyself opposed.

²⁷For Thou deliverest an afflicted people, but haughty eyes Thou bringest down.

²⁸For Thou causest my lamp to shine; the LORD, my God, illumines my darkness.

²⁹For by Thee I can attack a troop, and by my God I can leap a wall.

³⁰God! — perfect is His way!^b The word of the LORD is proven; a shield is He to all who trust in Him.

³¹For who is God but the LORD and who is a rock besides our God?

³²The God who girds me with strength, and makes my way perfect;

³³who makes my feet like those of a doe,^c

and causes me to stand on the heights;^d

³⁴who trains my hands for war, so that my arm can bend a bow of brass.^e

³⁵Thou hast given me the shield of Thy salvation; Thy right hand sustains me,

Thy gentleness^f has made me great.

³⁶Thou hast enlarged my steps under me,^g my feet have not slipped.

³⁷I pursued my enemies and overtook them, I did not turn back until they were consumed.

³⁸I smote them so that they could not rise, they fell under my feet.

³⁹For Thou hadst girded me with strength for the battle.

Thou didst subdue my assailants under me;

⁴⁰Thou didst cause my enemies to turn their backs to me, so that I destroyed those who hated me.

⁴¹They cried for help, but there was none to deliver; even to the LORD, but He answered them not.

⁴²I crushed them as dust before the wind; like dirt of the streets, I emptied them out.^h

⁴³Thou hast delivered me from strivings of the people; Thou hast made me the head of nations; people I knew not serve me.

⁴⁴At the hearing of the ear, they obey me;ⁱ

outsiders submit^j themselves to me; ⁴⁵foreigners fear and come trembling from their strongholds.

⁴⁶The LORD lives; blessed be my rock,

and exalted be the God of my salvation;

⁴⁷the God who executes retribution for me, and subdues peoples under me;

⁴⁸My deliverer from my enemies.

Indeed, Thou dost exalt me higher than my assailants;

Thou savest me from men of violence.

⁴⁹Therefore I will extol Thee among the nations, O LORD, and will sing praises to Thy name,

a) How important in our daily walk! b) Strong emotion here expressed.

c) Light and swift in battle, sure of footing. d) Symbolizing position of victory.

e) Indicating great strength. f) Or, condescension. g) Given room to take an unhindered step.

h) Contemptuously disposed of them. i) For example II Sam. 8:9-12.

j) Hebrew indicates a cringing submission, one given necessarily, not voluntarily.

¹⁰who gives great deliverances to His king,
and shows lovingkindness to His anointed, ¹¹David and his posterity forever.

God's Glory in Nature and in His Word

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David

19 The heavens are telling the glory of God, and the firmament is showing His handiwork.

¹Day after day pours forth^k speech,¹ and night after night declares knowledge.

²There is no speech, nor are there words;
their voice is not heard.

³Yet their line^m goes out through all the earth, and their words to the ends of the world.

⁴In them He has placed a tent for the sun, ⁵which is like a bridegroom going forth from his chamber,
and like a mighty man rejoicing to run a race.

⁶From the end of the heavens is its rising,
and its circuit to its other end;
nothing is hid from its heat.

⁷Theⁿ law of the LORD is perfect, restoring the soul;
the testimony of the LORD is sure, making wise the simple;^o ⁸the precepts of the LORD are right, rejoicing the heart;

the commandment of the LORD is pure, enlightening the eyes;

⁹the reverence of the LORD is clean, enduring forever;
the judgments of the LORD are true and altogether righteous.

¹⁰More to be desired they are than gold, than much fine gold;

sweeter too than honey, and the drippings of the comb.
¹¹Moreover by them is Thy servant reminded;
in keeping them there is great reward.

¹²Who is aware of his sins?
From those that are secret pardon me;^p ¹³from those presumptuous sins too keep Thy servant away:
let them not rule over me;
then I shall be upright and innocent from gross transgression.

¹⁴Let the words of my mouth and the thoughts of my heart^q be pleasing in Thy sight, O LORD, my rock and my redeemer.

Prayer for Victory^r

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David

20 May the LORD answer you in the day of trouble;
May the name of the God of Jacob set you up on high;

²may He send you help from the sanctuary,
and sustain you from Zion.
³May He remember all your offerings, and accept your burnt sacrifices.

Selah

⁴May He grant you what your heart desires, and fulfill all your plans.^s

⁵May we shout for joy over your triumph,^t and in the name of our God wave our banners;

may the LORD fulfill all your petitions.
⁶Now I know that the LORD saves His anointed;^u

He answers him from His holy heaven with the saving might of His right hand.
⁷Some boast of chariots and some of horses,
but we boast of the name of Jehovah, our God.

⁸They have bowed down and fallen;^v

k) As a flowing stream of water.

l) Sufficiently, says Paul, Rom. 1:20, 21, for all humanity to know there is a Creator, worthy of worship. m) Measuring line showing extent of influence.

n) A change here from natural to written revelation. o) One open-minded for either good or evil.

p) Unintentional or unconscious sins in distinction from those presumptuous, of v. 13.

q) Both what we say and what we think is to be pure before God. r) Prayer for Israel's king.

s) Presumed, of course, that they are in agreement with God's plan and program.

t) Or, "deliverance." u) David himself with assured conviction, as if already accomplished.

v) Answers in v. 8 correspond to the thoughts of v. 7.

but we have risen and stand erect.

⁹Save, LORD! May the king answer us when we call.

Praise for Deliverance

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David

21 In Thy strength, O LORD, the king is made glad,
in Thy saving grace how greatly he rejoices!

²Thou hast given him the desire of his heart,
and hast not refused the request of his lips.

³For Thou dost meet him^w with blessings of goodness;
Thou dost place a crown of pure gold
on his head.

⁴He asked life of Thee; Thou gavest it
to him;
even length of days forever and ever.

⁵His glory is great because of Thy deliverance;^x
honor and majesty Thou dost bestow upon him.

⁶Yes, forever Thou dost make him most blessed;
Thou dost delight him with joy by Thy presence.^y

⁷For the king trusts in the LORD; and because of the covenant-love of the Most High he shall not be moved.

⁸Your^z hand will contact all your
enemies;
your right hand will contact those who hate you.

⁹You will make them like a blazing furnace when you appear;^a the LORD will swallow them up in His anger, and fire will devour them.

¹⁰You will destroy their offspring from the earth
and their children from the sons of men.

¹¹For they have intended evil against you;

they have devised a plot: they will be unable to put it into practice.

¹²For you will make them turn their back;
you will aim at their faces with your bows.

¹³Be Thou exalted, O LORD, in Thy strength;
we will sing and praise Thy power.

Great Suffering Followed by Deliverance

For the Chief Musician, according to "the Hind of the Morning."^b A Psalm of David

22 My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken me,^c so far from helping me and from the words of my groaning?

²O my God, I call by day, but Thou dost not answer,
and by night, but I find no rest.

³Yet Thou art holy,^d enthroned upon the praises of Israel.

⁴In Thee our fathers trusted;
they trusted, and Thou didst deliver
them.

⁵To Thee they cried and were delivered;
in Thee they trusted and were not disappointed.

⁶But I am a worm and not a man, a reproach of men and despised by the people.

⁷All who see me, mock me;
they open the mouth;^e they wag the
head:

⁸He^f trusted in the LORD, let Him deliver him;
let Him save him, since he has delighted in Him.

⁹Yet Thou art He who took me out of the womb,
who made me trust when upon my mother's breast.

¹⁰Upon Thee have I been cast from my birth;
since my mother bore me, Thou hast been my God.

w) Such grace as to meet the king with these blessings!

x) The king's success was due to God's help, cf. v. 7. y) True joy is found in God alone.

z) In vv. 8-12 the king is addressed, probably by himself. a) As if they were in a blazing furnace.

b) Perhaps the title of a tune.

c) This cry fulfilled in Matt. 27:46. This is one of the striking Messianic psalms, depicting marked details of the sufferings of Christ.

d) God's holiness remains, even though we are unable to understand His ways; cf. v. 9.

e) In derision; cf. Ps. 35:21; Joh 16:10.

f) V. 8 gives what these deriders say; fulfilled, Matt. 27:43.

¹¹Be^g not far from me for trouble is near,
and there is none to help.
¹²Many bulls have surrounded me,
strong bulls of Bashan have encompassed me.
¹³They open their mouths at me like a ravening and roaring lion.

¹⁴I am poured out like water,
and all my bones are out of joint.
My heart is like wax melted within me;
¹⁵my strength is dried up like a potsherd,
and my tongue cleaves to my jaws;
Thou dost lay me in the dust of death.

¹⁶For dogs have surrounded me;
a crowd of wicked men have encircled me;
they have pierced^h my hands and my feet;
¹⁷I can count all my bones.
They look, they stare at me;
¹⁸they divide my garments among them,
and for my clothing do they cast lots.ⁱ

¹⁹But, O LORD, be not Thou afar off;
O my Strength, hasten to help me.
Deliver my soul from the sword,
my lonely self^j from the power of the dog.
²¹Save me from the mouth of the lion;
Even from the horns of the wild oxen,
Thou hast answered me.^k ²²I will make known Thy name to my brothers;
in the midst of the congregation I will praise Thee.
²³You who revere the LORD, praise Him;
all you sons of Jacob, glorify Him;
and stand in awe of Him, all you sons of Israel.
²⁴For He has neither despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted, nor has He hid His face from him,
but when he cried to Him, He heard.

²⁵From Thee^m comes my praise in the large congregation;
I will pay my vows before those who revere Him.
²⁶The afflicted shall eat and be satisfied;
those who seek the LORD shall praise Him.
May your heart live forever!

²⁷All the ends of the earth shall remember and turn to the LORD;
all the families of the nations shall bow down before Thee.
²⁸For kingship belongs to the LORD;
He rules over the nations.ⁿ ²⁹All the prosperous^o of the earth shall eat and bow down;
indeed all who go down to the dust shall bow before Him,
even he who is unable to keep his soul alive.
³⁰Posterity shall serve Him; it shall be told of the LORD to the coming generation;
³¹they will come and they will tell of His righteousness to a people yet to be born, for He has performed it.

Shepherd, Guide and Host

A Psalm of David

23 The LORD is my Shepherd; I shall not lack;^p ²He makes me to lie down in green pastures;
³He leads me beside restful water; He revives my soul.
He leads me in paths of righteousness for His name's sake.^q ⁴Yes, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no harm; for Thou art with me:
Thy rod and Thy staff, they comfort me.

⁵Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of my adversaries;

g) Vv. 11-21 vividly describe the suffering experienced. h) Or, like a lion.

i) Fulfilled, Matt. 27:35. j) Refers to His aloneness in suffering.

k) In this concluding note to the description, confidence that God has heard is strongly expressed.

l) Vv. 22-31 give the song of deliverance.

m) Not only is praise of God, but it is also from God.

n) How reassuring to remember this in time of suffering.

o) Even the prosperous and haughty will someday bow.

p) One reason this psalm is so deeply loved is that it comes warm from the heart of a man who knew the meaning of sheep and shepherd and who knew the LORD as thus related to him.

q) To grow aware of God's care and to feel secure for the future one must willingly follow the Shepherd.

Thou hast anointed my head with oil;
my cup runs over.

⁶Surely, goodness and unfailing love shall follow me all the days of my life and I shall dwell in the house of the LORD forever.

The True Worshiper of the King of Glory

A Psalm of David^r

24 The earth and all its fulness are the LORD's,
the world and all who live in it; ²for He has founded it upon the seas,
and established it upon the floods.

³Who shall go up into the mountain of the LORD;
who shall stand in His holy place?

⁴He who has clean hands and a pure
heart,
who has not lifted up his soul to falsehood,

who has not sworn deceptively; ⁵he shall receive a blessing from the LORD,
and righteousness from the God of his salvation.

⁶Such is the generation of those who inquire for Him;
who seek Thy face, like Jacob.^s Selah

⁷Lift up your heads, O ye gates, and be ye raised, ye ancient doors,
so that the King of glory may enter!

⁸Who is the King of glory?
The LORD, strong and mighty, the LORD, mighty in battle.

⁹Lift up your heads, ye gates, and be raised, ye ancient doors,
so that the King of glory may enter!

¹⁰Who is he then, the King of glory?
The LORD of hosts, He is the King of glory. Selah

Prayer for Salvation and Forgiveness
A Psalm of David

25 To Thee, O LORD, I lift up my soul;^t

²my God, in Thee I trust, let me not be ashamed,
let not my enemies triumph over me.
³Yes, none who wait for Thee shall be ashamed;
those shall be ashamed who are vainly disloyal.

⁴Show me Thy ways, O LORD;
teach me Thy paths.^u

⁵Guide me in Thy truth and instruct me;
for Thou art the God of my salvation;
for Thee I wait all day.

⁶Remember, O LORD, Thy tender mercies and Thy lovingkindnesses, for they are from everlasting.

⁷Remember not the sins of my youth,
nor my transgressions;
remember me according to Thy lovingkindness.^v
for Thy goodness' sake, O LORD.

⁸Good and upright is the LORD;
therefore He will instruct sinners in the way.

⁹He guides the humble in what is right
and teaches the humble His way.

¹⁰All the paths of the LORD are lovingkindness and truth to such as keep His covenant and His testimonies.

¹¹For Thy name's sake, O LORD, pardon my sin, for it is great.

¹²Who is the man who reveres the
LORD?
Him He shall instruct in the way that he shall choose.

¹³His soul shall dwell in prosperity,
and his offspring shall inherit the land.

¹⁴The companionship of the LORD is with them that revere Him;
and He will show them His covenant.

¹⁵My eyes are ever toward the LORD,
for He will release my feet from the net.

¹⁶Turn to me and be gracious to me,^w
for I am desolate and afflicted.

r) This psalm seems to have been written by David in connection with bringing the ark of the covenant into a tent or tabernacle at Jerusalem, for public worship [II Sam. 6:17].

s) At the brook Jabbok [Gen. 32:22f.], Jacob wrestled face to face with God [Gen. 32:30; Hos. 12:4, 5], in seeking a blessing [Gen. 32:26].

t) Each verse of this psalm begins with its proper letter from the Hebrew alphabet, which has 22 letters. u) We need instruction and God provides it.

v) We are glad God forgets forgiven sins of our youth; but to understand today's youth, we do well to recall our youthful weaknesses. w) Most of our troubles are due to our sins.

¹⁷The troubles of my heart are enlarged.
Oh, bring me out of my distresses!
¹⁸Consider my affliction and my trouble,
and forgive all my sins.

¹⁹Consider my enemies, for they are many
and they hate me with cruel hatred.

²⁰Keep my soul and deliver me, let me not be ashamed, for I trust in Thee.

²¹Let integrity and uprightness preserve me,
for I wait on Thee.

²²Redeem Israel, O God,* out of all his troubles!

Self-Examination before Worship

A Psalm of David

26 Vindicate me, O LORD, for I have walked in my integrity,^y and in the LORD I have trusted without wavering.

²Examine me, O LORD, and test me;
test my soul and my attitude.

³For Thy lovingkindness is before my eyes,
and I have walked in Thy truth.

⁴I have not associated with deceptive men,
nor do I fellowship with pretenders.
⁵I hate the gathering of evil-doers and will not fellowship with the wicked.

⁶I will wash my hands in innocence^z and would go about Thine altar, O LORD, ⁷that I may publish with a voice of thanksgiving
and tell of all Thy wondrous works.

⁸O LORD, I love the habitation of Thy house and the place where Thy glory dwells.^a ⁹Gather not my soul with sinners, nor my life with bloodthirsty men, ¹⁰in whose hands is wickedness,

and their right hand is full of bribes.

¹¹As for me, I will walk in my
integrity;

redeem me and be merciful to me!
¹²My foot stands on even ground;
in the congregations I will praise
the LORD.

Assurance in the Lord

A Psalm of David

27 The LORD is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear?
The LORD is the stronghold of my life;
of whom shall I be afraid?^b

²When the wicked came at me to eat my flesh,^c
my adversaries and my foes, they stumbled and fell.

³Though an army should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear:
though war should rise against me, I would still be confident.

⁴One thing I have asked of the LORD; that will I look for,
that I may live in the house of the LORD all the days of my life,^d to observe the LORD's loveliness, and to meditate in His temple.

⁵For in the day of trouble He conceals
me in His tabernacle;
He hides me in the shelter of His tent,
He lifts me up on a rock.

⁶Thus shall my head be exalted above
my enemies around me;
in His tent I will offer sacrifices of triumph;
I will sing, yes, I will sing praises to
the LORD.

⁷Hear, O LORD, when I cry aloud;
be gracious to me and answer me.

⁸In Thy behalf my heart proclaims,
"Seek ye My face";

Thy face, LORD, I will seek.

⁹Hide not Thy face from me, put not Thy servant away in anger.

Thou art my help; reject me not,
neither forsake me,
O God of my salvation.

¹⁰For though my father and my mother forsake me, the LORD will take care of me.

x) Our prayers must not be selfish; we include others who also need God's help.

y) We may freely pray for deliverance and vindication when we are in right relations with God and with men.

z) This attitude we show by sincere faith, a consecrated life, aversion to sinful ways, godly behavior.

a) Especially His Presence above the ark of the covenant, between the cherubim, in the Holy of Holies. b) Seeing how God helps us, we can be confident among enemies.

c) "Eat my flesh" may mean, "Slander me."

d) Be able to say, "Thou art my dwelling place," Ps. 90:1.

¹¹Teach me, O LORD, Thy way; and lead me in an even path because of those who lie in wait for me.
¹²Hand me not over to the will of my opponents;^e for false witnesses are risen against me, and such as breathe cruelty.

¹³What if I had not believed to see the LORD's goodness in the land of the living!^f
¹⁴Wait for the LORD; take courage, and He will give strength to your heart; yes, wait for the LORD.^g

An Appeal to God as Judge

A Psalm of David

28 To Thee, O LORD, do I call; my rock, be not deaf to me.^h
 If Thou be silent to me, I become like those who go down into the pit.ⁱ
²Hear the voice of my supplication, when I cry to Thee, when I lift up my hands toward Thine inner sanctuary.^j ³Carry me not away with the ungodly, and with those engaged in wrong, who speak peace with their neighbors, while malice is in their hearts.

⁴Repay them according to their work, according to the wickedness of their actions.
 According to the work of their hands repay them; give them what they deserve.^k ⁵Because they do not observe the LORD's doings, nor the work of His hands, He shall demolish them and not rebuild them.

⁶Blessed be the LORD, because He has heard the voice of my supplication.^l ⁷The LORD is my defense and my shield; my heart trusted in Him, and I am helped.

Therefore my heart rejoices, and with my song I will praise Him.
⁸The LORD is their protection; He is the saving defense of His anointed.^m

⁹Save Thy people, and bless Thy heritage; nourish them and carry them forever.

Heartfelt Praise

A Psalm of David

29 Give to the LORD, O you sons of the mighty, give to the LORD glory and strength.
²Ascribe to the LORD the glory of His name; worship the LORD in sacred adornment.ⁿ

³The voice of the LORD is upon the waters; the God of glory thunders; the LORD is upon great waters.

⁴The voice of the LORD is powerful; the voice of the LORD is full of majesty.

⁵The voice of the LORD breaks the cedars; yes, the LORD breaks the cedars of Lebanon.

⁶He makes them to skip like a calf, Lebanon and Sirion like an antelope.

⁷The voice of the LORD splits flames of fire;

⁸The voice of the LORD makes the wilderness to tremble; the LORD shakes the wilderness of Kadesh.

⁹The voice of the LORD makes the hinds to labor and strips the forests, while in His temple all chant, Glory!

¹⁰The LORD sat enthroned over the flood; the LORD sits enthroned King forever.

¹¹The LORD will give strength to His people;^o the LORD will bless His people with peace.

e) It has never been easy to live a consecrated life; for the unconverted cannot believe our godly motives. f) "Think what trouble I would have been in," seems the concluding thought.

g) He is worth waiting for and He responds.

h) We confess our utter and blessed dependence on Him. i) The grave. j) The Holy of Holies.

k) The ungodly shall not miss their reward. l) Prayer in agreement with His will is heard.

m) Of the writer, who had been anointed to be king.

n) Consider God's nature - His wisdom, power, holiness, fairness, mercy into infinity; it helps us to adore Him and to feel our dependence on Him.

o) The forces of nature witness to His sovereignty, and His grace is greater still. Thunder is a voice of God, with lightning that strikes and consumes

Gratitude for Divine Rescue

A Song for the Dedication of the Temple^p

A Psalm of David

30 I will extol Thee, O LORD, because Thou hast lifted me,
and hast not let my enemies rejoice
over me.

²O LORD, my God,^a I cried to Thee,
and Thou hast healed me.

³LORD, Thou hast brought my soul up from Sheol;

Thou hast revived me from among those who go down to the grave.

⁴Sing praise to the LORD, you His saints,

and praise His sacred memory.

⁶For His anger stays but a moment;
in His favor is life.

At eventide weeping may come in to lodge for the night,
but in the morning — shouts of joy.

⁶As for me, I said in my prosperity, "I shall never be moved."^r

⁷LORD, by Thy favor Thou hast made my mountain to stand strong;
Thou didst hide Thy face; I felt disaster.

⁸I cried to Thee, O LORD; to the LORD I made supplication:

⁹"What profit is there in my blood, when I go down to the grave?
Shall the dust praise Thee? Shall it declare Thy truth?

¹⁰Hear, O LORD, and be gracious to me; O LORD, be Thou my helper."

¹¹Thou hast turned my lamenting for me into a procession;

Thou hast discarded my sackcloth, and hast girded me with gladness,

¹²So that my soul may sing praise to Thee and not be silent.

O LORD, my God, I will praise Thee
forever.

God Our Protector

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David

31 In Thee, O LORD, I take refuge;
let me not be put to shame forever; in Thy righteousness deliver me.

²Incline Thine ear to me, speedily
deliver me;

be Thou to me a strong rock, a fortified house to save me.

³For Thou art my rock and my fortress;
for Thy name's sake lead me and guide me.

⁴Draw me out of the net, which they have hid for me,
for Thou art my stronghold.

⁵Into Thy hand I commit my spirit;^a Thou hast redeemed me, LORD God of truth.

⁶I have abhorred the worshipers of vain idols;
but I trust in the LORD.

⁷I will exult and rejoice in Thy
lovingkindness,
because Thou hast seen my distress; Thou hast known the afflictions of
my soul

⁸and Thou hast not handed me over into the hand of the enemy;
Thou hast established my feet in a large place.^t

⁹Have mercy on me, O LORD,
for I am in anguish;
my eye, my soul and my body are consumed with grief.

¹⁰For my life wastes away with sorrow and my years with sighing.
My strength has failed because of my sin,^u

even my bones have languished.

¹¹To all my enemies I am become a reproach,
most of all to my neighbors; even a dread to my acquaintances.

Those who see me on the street run away from me.^v

¹²I am lost to memory like one dead;
I am discarded like a worn-out utensil.

¹³For I have heard the slander of
many;

there was terror on every side.

When they plotted together
against me,

they schemed to take my life.

^p) Temple may refer to the tabernacle David had built, or David may have written this for future use, since he prepared for Solomon's temple.

^q) His exultation is: From the rim of death Thou hast raised me up.

^r) Prosperity tempts to self-confidence; David had to learn that in God alone we stand sure.

^s) Our Lord's final utterance on the Cross; divine assurance through the ages.

^t) With plenty of room to move. ^u) He feels that not God but his sins brought on his trouble.

^v) Sounds like Job, whose experiences were not altogether unique; they remain typical.

¹⁴But I trust in Thee, O LORD;
I said, "Thou art my God; ¹⁵my times are in Thy hand;
free me from my foes, and from my pursuers.
¹⁶Cause Thy face to shine upon Thy servant;
in Thy lovingkindness save me.
¹⁷Let me not be put to shame, O LORD,
for on Thee do I call."
The wicked shall be ashamed; they shall be silenced in the realm of the dead.
¹⁸Lying lips shall be silenced, that speak insolently against the righteous with pride and contempt.

¹⁹How great is Thy goodness, which Thou hast reserved
for those who revere Thee;
which Thou hast prepared for those who take refuge in Thee in the presence of the sons of men!
²⁰In the shelter of Thy presence
Thou shalt protect them from the conspiracies of men; Thou shalt hide them in a pavilion from the strife of tongues.⁷

²¹Blessed be the LORD, for He has shown me His loving-kindness as in an entrenched city.
²²As for me, I had said in my alarm,
"I am cut off from before Thine eyes."
Yet Thou didst hear the voice of my supplication when I cried to Thee.²

²³Love the LORD, all ye godly;
the LORD preserves the faithful and fully repays the proud doer.
²⁴Be strong and let your heart take courage, all ye who wait for the
LORD.

The Joy of Confession and Forgiveness

A Psalm of David, for Instruction

32 Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven,
whose sin is covered.
²Blessed is the man to whom the LORD

does not charge iniquity, and nothing in his spirit is deceit.^a ³When I kept silent, my bones wasted away in my groaning all

the day.

⁴For day and night Thy hand was heavy upon me;
my marrow dried up as in a summer
drought. Selah

⁵I acknowledged my sin to Thee
and my iniquity I did not hide.
I said, "I will confess my transgressions
to the LORD,"

and Thou didst forgive the iniquity of my sin. Selah

⁶For this let all the godly pray to Thee betimes,

when Thou mayest be met.^b Surely, the flood of great waters shall not touch him.

⁷Thou art my hiding place; Thou wilt preserve me from trouble, Thou wilt surround me with songs of deliverance. Selah

⁸I will instruct you and train you in the way you shall go;^c
I will counsel you with My eye on you.

⁹Be not as the horse, as the mule, without judgment,^d
whose temper must be curbed with bit and bridle,
else they come not near to you.

¹⁰Many sorrows are to the ungodly,
but he who trusts in the LORD shall be encircled with lovingkindness.

¹¹Be glad in the LORD and exult, ye righteous;
shout joyfully, ye upright in heart.

Heavenly Joy

33 Rejoice, ye righteous, in the LORD; praise becomes the upright!^e

²Give thanks to the LORD with a harp;
with a ten-stringed harp sing Him
praises.

w) Quoted by Browning in his "Rabbi Ben Ezra."

x) Help me so to love, that Thou art pleased with me.

y) When His presence grows real to us, their hands cannot touch us and their noises cannot harm us. z) God's mercy and goodness go beyond our faith.

a) David has fully confessed and has been completely forgiven; now he is spiritually clean; which can be our experience. b) A time when God is nearer. Isa. 55:6. c) Vv. 8, 9 God speaks.

d) God has distinguished us from animals by the gift of reason and a sense of God for right or wrong — our conscience. e) All our good qualities spring from our Creator.

³Sing Him a new song;^f play skilfully with a joyful sound.
⁴For right is the word of the LORD, and all His work is in faithfulness.
⁵He loves righteousness and justice; the earth is full of the LORD's lovingkindness.

⁶By the word of the LORD the heavens were made;^g
 by the breath of His mouth all their host.

⁷Gathering as a heap the waters of the sea,

He places the deeps in store-houses.

⁸Let them be in awe before the LORD, all the earth;

let all the inhabitants of the world be reverent before Him.

⁹For He spoke and it became, He commanded and it appeared.

¹⁰The LORD brought to nought the counsel of the Gentiles;^h

He frustrated the purposes of the peoples.

¹¹The counsel of the LORD stands forever,

the purposes of His heart from generation to generation.

¹²Blessed is the nation whose God is the LORD,ⁱ

the people He has chosen for His personal inheritance.

¹³The LORD looked from heaven; He saw all the sons of men.

¹⁴He looked from the place of His dwelling at all the inhabitants of the earth,

¹⁵He who fashions their hearts to be human;^j

He who takes note of all their works.

¹⁶There is no king delivered by a great army;^k

no mighty man is preserved by great strength.

¹⁷The horse is a vain means of safety, and its great strength affords no escape.

¹⁸Behold, the eye of the LORD is on those who revere Him, on those trusting in His mercy, ¹⁹to save their soul from death, to keep them alive in famine.^l

²⁰Our soul waits for the LORD; He is our help and our shield.

²¹Yes, in Him our heart shall rejoice; for we have trusted in His holy name.

²²Let Thy lovingkindness, O LORD, be upon us, according as we hope in Thee.^m

God Cares

A Psalm of David, when he feigned his behavior before Abimelech,ⁿ so that he drove him away and he departed.

34 I will bless the LORD at all times; His praise shall continually be in my mouth.

²My soul shall make her boast in the LORD;

let the humble hear it and be glad.

³Magnify the LORD with me and let us exalt His name together.^o

⁴I sought the LORD and He answered me, and freed me from all my fears.

⁵They looked to Him and were radiant; their faces not put to shame.

⁶This poor man called and the LORD heard,^p

and saved him out of all his troubles.

⁷The Angel of the LORD^q encamps around those who revere Him and rescues them.

⁸O taste and see that the LORD is good; blessed is the man who trusts in Him.

⁹Revere the LORD, ye His saints, for there is no lack to those who revere Him.

¹⁰The young lions do need and suffer hunger;

but those who seek the LORD shall lack in nothing good.

f) Nothing of sin and sorrow in this psalm. As in heaven, so here is only joy and praise.

g) This is applied to our Redeemer, John 1:1-3. h) As sung in Ps. 2.

i) People who can and do say from the heart. "In God we trust."

j) Such was God's creation of man in His image.

k) Napoleon said: "God is with the greatest battalions."

l) We may forget Him; how wonderful that He never forgets us.

m) Twenty-two verses, not alphabetic.

n) Achish, of I Sam. 21:10-15. As Pharaoh was the title of Egyptian kings, so was Abimelech that of leading Philistine kings.

o) Joint worship is essential.

p) David himself who had escaped death. q) The Redeemer, of the New Testament.

¹¹Come, sons and daughters,
listen to me,
I will teach you reverence for
the LORD.
¹²Who is the man desiring life, loving days to see good—:
¹³Keep your tongue from evil and your lips from speaking deceit; ¹⁴turn away from evil and practice
good;
seek peace and keep after it.

¹⁵The eyes of the LORD are toward the righteous,
and His ears open to their cry.
¹⁶The face of the LORD is against the evil-doers;
to root up their memory from off the
earth.
¹⁷The righteous cried and the LORD heard and saved them out of all their troubles.^r ¹⁸The LORD is close to the broken-hearted, and rescues those whose spirit is crushed.^s

¹⁹Many are the afflictions of the
righteous;
but out of them all the LORD
delivers him.
²⁰He protects his every bone; not one of them is broken.^t ²¹Calamity shall slay the wicked and the haters of the righteous shall be penalized.
²²The LORD redeems the soul of His servants;
all those taking refuge in Him shall go free.^u

Prayer for Safety from Enemies

A Psalm of David

35 Contend, O LORD, with my contenders; war against those who war against me.^v ²Lay hold of shield and covering and stand up for my help.
³Draw out the spear and step in to encounter my pursuers;

say to my soul: I am your salvation.

⁴Let them be confounded and ashamed, who seek after my soul;
let them be turned back and abashed
who intend my hurt.

⁵Let them be as chaff before the wind,
the Angel of the LORD driving them.

⁶Let their path be pitch-dark and most slippery,
the Angel of the LORD pursuing them.

⁷For without provocation they hid their net for me;^w
without cause they have digged (a pit)
for my soul.

⁸Let ruin come upon him unawares, and may his net, which he hid,
catch himself;
with destruction let him fall into it.

⁹But my soul shall rejoice in the LORD, shall exult in His salvation.
¹⁰All my bones^x shall say: "LORD, who is equal to Thee, delivering the afflicted from one stronger than he and the poor and needy from him who robs him."

¹¹False witnesses rise up; they ask of me what I do not know.
¹²They reward me harm in return for help; bereavement has come to
my soul.

¹³But I—when they were ill, my clothing was sackcloth—
I humbled my soul with fasting;
but my prayer rebounded to my own bosom.^y

¹⁴As though it were my friend or a brother, I went about;
I bowed down mourning as in sorrow
for a mother.

¹⁵But in my stumbling they rejoiced;
slanderers gathered themselves
against me

and I did not know it. Unceasingly they reviled.^z

¹⁶Among the profanest of the mockers of a feast,
they gnashed their teeth against me.

r) This was David's experience, typically.

s) God considers the broken heart and the crushed spirit as sacrifices to Him, Ps. 51:17.

t) True of every believer spiritually. Observed physically by the Hebrews for their Passover lamb, Ex. 12:46; applied to our Lord's body, John 19:36.

u) This 22-verse psalm is acrostic, emphasizing the 22 letters in the Hebrew alphabet.

v) Only when we live loyally God's way, may we pray like this, and then in the New Testament spirit of seeking salvation. w) Without any decent reason and by deceit trying to trap him.

x) As body and soul he can glorify God.

y) It did not go through to God; they did not care to be prayed for.

z) False accusation is attempt at spiritual murder.

¹⁷LORD, how long wilt Thou look on?
Rescue my soul from their destructions;
my only one^a from the young lions.
¹⁸I will thank Thee in a great congregation;^b
among a mighty people I will praise
Thee.

¹⁹Let not those who are wrongfully my opponents rejoice
over me;
let not those wink the eye, who hate
me without provocation.
²⁰For they do not talk peace; but against the quiet ones
of the land they plot treacheries.
²¹They open their mouth wide
against me,
they say, "Aha! aha! Our eye has seen it!"

²²Thou hast observed, O LORD;
be not silent;
O LORD, be not far from me!
²³Arouse Thyself and awake to my
judgment;
to my cause, my God and my LORD.
²⁴Judge me according to Thy righteousness, O LORD my God,^c and let them not rejoice over me.
²⁵Let them not say in their heart,
"Aha! There is our desire";
let them not say, "We have swallowed him up."
²⁶Let them be ashamed and confounded together who rejoice
at my misfortune;
Let them be clothed with shame and dishonor who puff themselves up against me.

²⁷Let those shout with joy and be glad^d who favor my righteous cause, and say continually, "Let the LORD be magnified,
who has pleasure in the peace of His servant!"
²⁸And my tongue shall speak of Thy righteousness,
Thy praise all the day.

Life False Without God
To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David, the Servant of the LORD 36 Sin appeals to the wicked deep in his heart;^e
no dread of God is present before his eyes;
²for he flatters himself in his own eyes until his sin is found out and hated.
³The words of his mouth are falsehood and deceit;
he has ceased to act wisely, to do good.
⁴He concocts mischief upon his couch;
he takes his stand upon a path that is not good;
he does not loathe evil.

⁵O LORD, high as the heavens is Thy lovingkindness;^f up to the clouds Thy faithfulness!
⁶Thy righteousness is like the mountains of God;
Thy judgments are a great deep;
LORD, Thou dost preserve man and beast.
⁷How precious is Thy lovingkindness,
O God,
so the children of men take refuge in the shadow of Thy wings!
⁸They are perfectly satisfied with the abundance of Thy house; Thou shalt give them to drink of the stream of Thy delights; ⁹for with Thee is the fountain of life;
in Thy light we see light.

¹⁰Prolong Thy lovingkindness to those who know Thee
and Thy righteousness to the upright
of heart.
¹¹Let not the proud foot approach me,^g or the hand of the wicked drive me out.
¹²There are the evil-doers fallen;
they are cast down and shall not be able to rise.

a) The only soul or life I have.

b) As God's cause is his cause, deliverance is rightly acknowledged among fellow worshippers.

c) Not according to his own righteousness, which is fragile.

d) Very different experiences; the godly can jubilate in view of God.

e) A marvelous picture of the sinner, trying to make sin worth while — of course without God.

f) The hymn of praise to our merciful, ever dependable Creator, the source of all real living

g) Let me keep free from the company of a proud person!

Count on God

A Psalm of David

37 Do not get fretful on account of evil-doers;

be not envious of the workers of wickedness,

²for like the grass they shall be quickly cut down;

and as the green sprout they shall wilt.

³Trust in the LORD and do good; inhabit the land and practice faithfulness.

⁴Have your delight in the LORD and He will give you the desires of your heart.^b ⁵Commit your way to the LORD; trust in Him, too, and He will bring it about.

⁶He will bring forth your righteousness like the light, and your right as the noonday brightness.

⁷Be still before the LORD and resign yourself to Him; be not envious of him who prospers in his way; of the man who carries out wicked plans.

⁸Quit being angry, and dismiss fury; do not get heated; it leads only to evil.¹

⁹For evil-doers shall be eliminated, but those who persevere in the LORD, they shall inherit the earth.¹

¹⁰For yet a little while and the evil-doer shall be no more; you will look for his location and it shall be gone.

¹¹But the gentle shall inherit the land and shall delight themselves in plenty of peace.

¹²The evil-doer plots against the just and gnashes at him with his teeth.

¹³The LORD laughs at him;^k for He sees that his day is coming.

¹⁴Evil-doers have drawn the sword and have bent their bow to cast down the poor and needy, to slay those upright in conduct.

¹⁵Their sword shall enter into their own heart and their bows shall be broken.¹

¹⁶Better is the little that the righteous have, than the riches of many evil-doers.

¹⁷For the arms of the wicked shall be broken;

but the LORD upholds the righteous.

¹⁸The LORD knows the days of the upright^m and their inheritance shall be for ever.

¹⁹They shall not be put to shame in time of trouble; even in days of famine they shall be satisfied.ⁿ

²⁰Surely, evil-doers shall perish, and the enemies of the LORD are like the glory of the pastures, — they pass away like smoke; they disappear.

²¹The wicked borrows and does not pay back; but the righteous is generous and donates.

²²For those who are blessed of Him shall inherit the earth; but those who are cursed of Him shall be eliminated.

²³A person's steps are confirmed by the LORD; He establishes him and delights in his way.

²⁴When he falls, he shall not be down and out; for the LORD upholds his hand.

²⁵I have been young; now I am old; but I have not seen the righteous forsaken or his offspring begging bread.^o

²⁶All day long he deals graciously and lends; and his offspring are for a blessing.

^b) Simple and eternal: Learn God's will, live it and progress is inevitable.

¹) One cannot even think straight when furious.

²) With our Father owning the earth, of course we share in its resources; fretting over the apparent prosperity of the ungodly means distrusting our Father.

^k) As in Ps. 2, He laughs at whole nations for their folly. ¹) Our righteous God remains sovereign.

^m) Their immortal self is God-centered. ⁿ) Looks upon them with favor, as in Ps. 1:6.

^o) A personal testimony to a divine order.

²⁷Depart from evil and do good,
and abide for evermore; ²⁸for the LORD loves fairness and will not forsake His saints;
they are preserved forever;
but the offspring of the evil-doers is eliminated.
²⁹The righteous shall inherit the earth and shall dwell on it forever.

³⁰The mouth of the righteous utters wisdom,
and his tongue speaks what is right.
³¹The law of his God is in his heart;
his steps shall not waver.^p ³²The wicked lies in wait for the righteous
and seeks to put him to death.
³³The LORD will not leave him in his hand,
nor condemn him when he is judged.
³⁴Wait on the LORD and keep His way, and He will exalt you to inherit the
earth;
you shall look upon the destruction of the wicked.^a

³⁵I have seen a lawless evil-doer spreading himself like a native green tree;
³⁶yet, he passed away and, look, he was no more;
I sought him and he was not to be found.

³⁷Watch the upright and observe the righteous,
for there is a future to the man of
peace;
³⁸but transgressors shall be destroyed
together;
the offspring of the evil-doers shall be cut off.^r ³⁹But the salvation of the righteous is from the LORD,
their fortress in a time of trouble.
⁴⁰The LORD helps them and delivers
them;
He rescues them from evil-doers;
He will save them because they trust in Him.^s

From Gloom to Confidence

A Psalm of David, to Bring Remembrance

38 O LORD, in Thy indignation do not rebuke me, neither in Thy hot displeasure
chasten me;
²for Thine arrows have sunk into me
and Thy hand comes down upon me.
³There is no soundness in my body in the presence of Thine anger;
there is no peace in my bones in the presence of my sin;^t ⁴for my iniquities have gone over my head;
as a heavy load they are too weighty
for me.

⁵My wounds are repulsive; they are festering because of my folly.
⁶I am bent, I am bowed down greatly;
all the day I go mourning; ⁷for my loins are charged with inflammation
and in my body there is no soundness.
⁸I am benumbed and sorely bruised;
I groan because of my heart murmur-ings.

⁹LORD, all my longing is known to Thee^u
and my sighing is not hidden from Thee.
¹⁰My heart beats fast; my strength fails me,
even the light of my eyes; — I have to do without it.
¹¹My loved ones and my friends stand aloof from my illness;
even my kinsmen stand at a distance, ¹²and they who seek after my soul lay snares;
yes, they who seek my hurt talk mischief;
they think up treacheries all day.

¹³But I am like a deaf man, who does not listen;
like the dumb man, who does not open
his mouth.
¹⁴Yes, I am like a man who does not hear

^p) As in v. 5, his steps are divinely guided.

^q) Viewed from His standpoint the ungodly "is not in it."

^r) Psalm after psalm reiterates the favorable contrast for the godly; for it remains eternally true and is so readily forgotten.

^s) This psalm is a double acrostic, each letter used twice to start a verse.

^t) Sin committed by one who knows better has a disastrous effect on the body, for which there is no healing without complete confession.

^u) Where there is a longing for God there is help in store.

and in whose mouth there are no arguments.^v

¹⁵For in Thee, LORD, I hope; Thou wilt answer, O LORD, my God.

¹⁶For I say: "Let them not rejoice over me, who, when my foot wavers, would puff themselves up against me."

¹⁷For I am ready to fall^w and my sorrow is continually before me.

¹⁸Surely I will confess my iniquity; I am anxious because of my sin.

¹⁹But my enemies are vigorous and strong,

and many hate me wrongly.

²⁰They repay me evil for good; they are hostile toward me because I aim at what is best.

²¹Forsake me not, O LORD; O my God, be not far from me.

²²Make haste to help me, O LORD, my salvation.

A Prayer for Silent Assurance
To the Chief Musician, for Praise. A Psalm of David

39 I said: "Let me guard my ways from sinning with my tongue; let me keep my mouth as with a muzzle, while the evil-doer is around."

²I was bound with silence, I remained quiet, with enjoyment gone while my distress grew worse.

³My heart was hot within me; in my musing the fire burned;^x I pled with my tongue:

⁴Make me to know, O LORD, my end, and the length of my days, what it is. Let me know how transient I am.

⁵Behold, as handbreadths Thou hast measured my days, my lifetime is as nothing in Thy presence;

Surely, all mankind, so self-confident, is as a breath. Selah

⁶Only as a shadow each man walks about; truly, in vanity they are greatly disquieted;

each stores up riches, not knowing who shall gather them.

⁷Now, LORD, what shall I expect? My hope is in Thee!^y

⁸From all my sins deliver me; do not make me the taunt of the simpleton.

⁹I am speechless; I will not open my mouth, for Thou hast done it.

¹⁰Remove from me Thy blow; by the power of Thy hand I am spent.

¹¹When with rebukes because of iniquity Thou dost correct a person then Thou dost consume his winsomeness like a moth; truly, all mankind is as a vapor. Selah

¹²O LORD, hear my prayer; listen to my cry; reply to my tears; to my tears be not speechless; for I am a passing guest with Thee,^z a transient, as were all my fathers. ¹³Oh, spare me and let me rally, before I depart and vanish.

A Christlike Attitude
To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David

40 I waited and waited for the LORD; then He bent over to me and heard my cry.

²He brought me up from a destructive pit, from the miry clay, and set my feet on a rock, steadying my steps.^a ³He put a new song in my mouth, a praise to our God— Many shall see it and revere and trust the LORD.

⁴Blessings the man enjoys who makes the LORD his trust, and does not turn to those defiant, lying apostates.

⁵Thou hast made numerous, O LORD my God, Thy wonders and Thy thoughts toward us; there is none to compare with Thee; were I to declare and tell them, they are too many to be numbered.^b

v) An example we may well follow; silence rarely nourishes a quarrel.

w) A fact good to know if we also know God's help.

x) He took time to think things through; which served him to reach wholesome conclusions.

y) Life being like a breath, our only certainty is in our gracious God.

z) A guest in the Near East enjoyed childlike privileges—safety, food and shelter. Such is the assurance of the godly. a) "I steadier step when I recall, that though I slip, God does not fall."

b) Count your blessings and find that they are countless.

⁶Sacrifice and offering Thou hast not desired;
a responsive ear Thou hast prepared for me;^c
burnt-offering and sin-offering Thou hast not required.
⁷Then I said, "Behold, I come;
in the volume of the Book it is written of me."

⁸I delight to do Thy will, my God —
Thy law is deep within my heart.
⁹I have proclaimed glad tidings of righteousness in the great congregation;
see, my lips I will not close; O LORD, Thou knowest.
¹⁰Thy righteousness I have not hid away in my heart;
Thy faithfulness and Thy salvation I have proclaimed;
I have not concealed Thy lovingkindness and Thy truth from the great assembly.^d ¹¹Thou, O LORD, wilt not withhold Thy mercies from me;

Thy lovingkindness and Thy truth shall continually preserve me.
¹²For evils without number have surrounded me;
my iniquities have overtaken me, even beyond my discerning;
They are more than the hairs of my head, and my heart has failed me.^e ¹³Be pleased, O LORD, to deliver me;
O LORD, make haste to help me!

¹⁴Let them be ashamed and confounded together,
who seek my soul to destroy it.
Let those be turned back and put to shame who desire my hurt.
¹⁵Let them be confounded as a reward for their shame;
they who say to me, "Aha, aha!"
¹⁶Let all those seeking Thee rejoice and be glad in Thee;
let those who love Thy salvation say continually, "The LORD be magnified!"^f ¹⁷Though I am poor and needy, the LORD thinks of me;

Thou art my help and my deliverer.
O my God, delay not.

The Friend Divine
To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David 41 Blessings are his, who considers the weak;
in the day of misfortune the LORD will deliver him.
²The LORD will preserve him and keep him alive;
he shall be counted blessed in the land;
Thou shalt not hand him over to the desires of his enemies.
³The LORD will uphold him on his bed of sickness;
to all his illness on his bed Thou wilt bring a change.^g

⁴As for me, I said, "O LORD, be gracious to me; heal my soul, for I have sinned against Thee."
⁵My enemies speak evil of me: "When will he die and his name vanish?"
⁶And if one comes to visit, he speaks falsehood;
his heart gathers up to itself malice; going out, he tells his tale.
⁷Together they whisper against me, all they who hate me;
they plan harm against me:
⁸"A fatal plague is poured out upon him, so that, when he lies down, he may not rise again."^h ⁹Even a friend of mine on whom I relied, who ate my bread, lifted up the heel against me.ⁱ

¹⁰But Thou, O LORD, be gracious to me; raise me up and let me repay them.
¹¹By this I know that Thou delightest in me,

c) Only by divine grace do we respond to God's call.

d) God reveals Himself to us; we, made in His likeness, are to reveal our experiences with Him to others.

e) Our troubles do not spring from surroundings and neighbors as much as from our own weaknesses. f) A glorious contrast to the godless.

g) Imparting a sense of His presence; infusing physical health.

h) When one is helpless, he discovers who are his real friends.

i) Quoted by Jesus in the upper room regarding Judas, John 13:18.

because my enemy does not exult
over me.

¹²As for me, in my integrity Thou hast upheld me,
and dost set me before Thy face for ever.

¹³Blessed be the LORD God of Israel, from everlasting to everlasting! Amen and Amen!¹

A Soul's Longing for God

To the Chief Musician. Instructive, by the Sons of Korah

42 As a deer pants for water brooks so my soul longs for Thee,
O God.

²My soul thirsts for God, for the living
God;
when shall I come and appear before
God?

³My tears have been my food day and night,
while they keep on saying to me,
"Where is your God?"

⁴These things I would remember and pour out my inner soul,
for I used to walk on with the throng
in their van to the house of God,^k
with the voice of joy and praise, a multitude that kept festival.

⁵Why are you bowed down, O my soul; why so restless within me?
Hope in God, for I shall yet thank
Him

for the help of His countenance.
⁶O my God, my soul is cast down within me,
therefore, I remember Thee from Jordan-land and the Hermon ranges;
from the Mizar hills.¹

⁷Deep calls out to deep at the sound of Thy cataracts;^m all Thy waves and Thy billows have passed over me.

⁸By day the LORD will confirm His
lovingkindness
and in the night His song shall be
with me,
a prayer to the God of my life.

⁹I will say to God, my refuge: "Why hast Thou forgotten me?
Why do I go mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?"

¹⁰As a crushing in my bones my adversaries reproach me,
while they keep on saying to me,
"Where is your God?"ⁿ

¹¹Why are you bowed down, O my soul
and why do you groan within me?
Hope in God, for I shall yet praise
Him,
my face-healer and my God.^o

An Appeal for Fairness

43 Treat me justly, O God, and plead my cause against a merciless people;
from the man of deceit and wickedness
deliver me.^p

²For Thou art the God of my stronghold; why hast Thou cast me off?
Why must I go about mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

³Send out Thy light and Thy truth; let them lead me;^q let them bring me to Thy holy hill and to Thy dwellings.

⁴Then I will go to the altar of God,
to God, the joy of my exultation,
and praise Thee with the harp, O God,
my God.

⁵Why are you bowed down, O my soul,^r
and why do you groan within me?
Hope in God, for I shall yet praise
Him,
my face-saver and my God.

j) With the benediction of verse 13, the First Book of Psalms closes. Note also Ps. 72, Ps. 89, Ps. 106 and all of Ps. 150 for similar endings.

k) As Jesus often worshiped the Father alone, so should we, and as Jesus attended congregational worship regularly, Luke 4:16, so should we. David wanted to worship with many others.

l) Faith in God means confidence in trial.

m) Soul wants to commune with soul; spirit with the Spirit.

n) Their sneer intimated, "God forsakes you because you are not really godly," as Job so sharply experienced.

o) Man's satisfaction is attained in a right relationship with God.

p) Like Job, misunderstood by men, he turns to the Supreme Judge.

q) Deservedly this verse is basic to one of our great anthems.

r) This psalm may have been part of Ps. 42; it seems to spring from a similar occasion.

A Defeated People's Prayer

To the Chief Musician. Instructive by the Sons of Korah

44 O God, with our ears we have heard; our fathers have told us what work Thou didst perform in their days, in the days of old.^a ²Thou with Thy hand didst drive out nations and didst plant them;^t Thou didst scatter nations and Thou didst spread them out.

³For not by their own sword did they possess the land,^u neither did their own arm gain deliverance for them;
but it was Thy right hand and Thine arm and the light of Thy face, because Thou didst favor them.

⁴Thou art He, my King, O God, who didst command the setting free of Jacob.

⁵Through Thee we shall push down our foes;
through Thy name we shall tread
down those who rise up against us.

⁶For I will not trust in my bow; nor shall my sword deliver me;

⁷but Thou hast freed us from our
enemies,
and those who hate us Thou hast put to shame.

⁸In God we have made our boast
all day,
and Thy name we shall forever praise.

Selah

⁹But now Thou hast cast us off and put us to shame;
nor dost Thou go forth with our armies.^v

¹⁰Thou didst make us turn back from the enemy,
and they who hated us take plunder
for themselves.

¹¹Thou hast surrendered us as slaughter-sheep,
and didst scatter us among the nations.

¹²Thou didst sell Thy people dirt-cheap and hast made no profit by their price.

¹³Thou didst make us a taunt to our neighbors,
a scorn and a derision to those around us.

¹⁴Thou didst make us a byword among the Gentiles,
a shaking of the head among the peoples.

¹⁵All day long my reproach
faces me,
and the shame of my face covers me, ¹⁶because of the voice of the scoffer
and the scorner,
at the sight of the enemy and the avenger.

¹⁷All this is come upon us, but we have not forgotten Thee;^w no, we have not been false to Thy covenant.

¹⁸Our heart is not turned back, neither has our step declined from Thy way.

¹⁹Yet Thou hast crushed us in the wild-dogs region;
yes, Thou hast covered us with the shadow of death.

²⁰If we have forgotten the name of our God,
and spread out our hands to a strange
god,

²¹will not God search this out?
For He knows the secrets of the heart.

²²Truly for Thy sake we are slain all day long;^x
we are accounted as sheep for slaughter.

²³Awake! Why sleepest Thou, O
Lord? Arise, cast us not off forever!

²⁴Why dost Thou hide Thy face?
why dost Thou forget our affliction and oppression?

²⁵For our soul is bowed down to the dust,
our body cleaves to the earth.

²⁶Rise up as a help to us and deliver us because of Thy loving-kindness.^y

a) In the godly family Hebrew history was kept alive, to be retold and relived in new homes.
t) God drove out the Canaanites and planted Israel; He scattered other nations and enlarged Israel's boundaries. u) True globally; but specially of Israel.
v) This suggests a lost battle rather than the great exile.
w) The godly must share sufferings with the ungodly, then and now.
x) In his triumphal hymn of Rom. 8:35-39, Paul quotes this verse as his own experience.
y) Not because the supplicant is so good, but because God is so good; which is the poet's conclusion.

The Love of God and His People To the Chief Musician. The Tune of the Lilies. An Instruction by the Sons of Korah
A Song of Love

45 My heart overflows with a goodly theme;
I speak my poem before a king;
my tongue is (like) the pen of a skilled writer.

²Thou art fairer than the children of men;²
graciousness is poured upon Thy lips, therefore God has blessed Thee
forever.

³Gird Thy sword upon Thy thigh, O mighty One,
with Thy glory and Thy majesty, ⁴and in Thy majesty ride forth triumphantly
for the cause of truth, humility and
righteousness;
Thy right hand shall guide Thee to awe-inspiring deeds.
⁵Peoples shall fall under Thee; Thine arrows are sharp
in the heart of the King's enemies.

⁶Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever,
a sceptre of righteousness is the sceptre
of Thy kingdom.

⁷Thou hast loved righteousness and hated injustice,
therefore God, Thy God has anointed
Thee
with the oil of gladness above Thy companions.^a

⁸Myrrh, aloes and cassia are on all Thy robes;
strung instruments out of ivory
palaces delight Thee.

⁹Daughters of kings are among Thine
honorable women;
the queen has set herself at Thy right
hand
wearing gold of Ophir.

¹⁰Listen, O daughter, see and incline your ear;

forget your people and your father's house, ¹¹and the king will delight in your beauty, —
for He is your Lord; yes, revere Him.^b ¹²Then the daughter of Tyre, the rich of the people
shall seek your favor with gifts.

¹³All glorious is the king's daughter within (the palace),
inwrought with gold is her clothing.
¹⁴In embroidered work she shall be led to the king;
virgins, her companions, accompanying
her,
are brought to Thee.
¹⁵They shall be led with joy and exultation;
they shall enter into the palace of the king.

¹⁶Instead of your fathers shall be your sons,^c
whom you shall make princes in all
the earth.
¹⁷I will cause Thy name to be remembered in every generation, therefore the peoples shall praise Thee
for ever and ever.

God Our Strength

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of the Sons of Korah, According to Alamath.
A Song

46 God is for us a refuge and a fortress; found to be a mighty help in troubles.^d ²Therefore we do not fear though the earth is displaced,
though the mountains reel into the midst of the sea;
³though its waters roar and foam;
though the mountains shake at its swelling. Selah

⁴There is a river whose streams make glad the city of God,
the holy dwelling of the Most High.

2) No Hebrews were allowed to read "The Song of Songs" until they were 30, for fear they might misunderstand it. This song summarizes it for everyone to read.

a) The one addressed is man plus, God among men, the Godman.

b) As Christ is the Bridegroom and the Church His bride, so God was the Husband and Israel the Wife, Isa. 54:5; Hos. 2:15. Idolatry was adultery.

c) Our richest legacy is our offspring trained to live with and for God.

d) This psalm, together with the Wartburg Castle in which the Saxon king protected him against Emperor and Pope, inspired Luther to compose "A Mighty Fortress." The psalm itself was probably inspired when the Angel of the Lord had slain 185,000 Assyrians, who besieged Jerusalem, II Kings 19:35.

⁶God is in her midst; she shall not totter;
at morning's dawn God shall help her.
⁶Nations rage, kingdoms fall;
He raises His voice, the earth dissolves.
Selah

⁷The LORD of hosts is with us;
the God of Jacob is our fortress.
⁸Come, see the works of the LORD!
Who brings desolations in the earth;

⁹Who makes wars to cease to the ends of the earth;^a
He breaks the bow into pieces and snaps the spear in two.
He burns the chariots in the fire.

¹⁰Be still and know that I am God;^f
I will be exalted among the nations,
I will be exalted on the earth.

¹¹The LORD of hosts is with us;
The God of Jacob is our fortress. Selah

Our Sovereign Lord
For the Chief Musician. A Psalm
by the Sons of Korah

47 All you peoples, clap your hands;
raise a shout to God with a triumphant note.^g

²For the LORD Most High is awe-inspiring, a great King over the whole earth.

³He subdues peoples to us and puts nations under our feet;

⁴He selects for us our inheritance, the pride of Jacob, whom He loves.
Selah

⁵God has ascended with a shout, the LORD with trumpet-peals.
⁶Sing praises to God, sing praises; sing psalms to our King, sing psalms;
⁷for God is the King of all the earth; sing praises with a thoughtful psalm.

⁸God rules over all the nations;
God sits upon His holy throne.

⁹The nobles of the Gentiles are gathered, a united people for the God of Abraham;
for the shields of the earth belong to God; He is highly exalted.

The Beauty of God's Church
A Song, a Psalm by the Sons of Korah 48 Great is the LORD and greatly to be praised in the city of our God, His holy mountain.

²Beautiful for elevation, the joy of all the earth is Mount Zion, the side of the north,^h the city of the great King.

³In her palaces God made Himself known as a defence.

⁴For, behold, the kings came together; they marched up together;
⁵as they looked, they were amazed and, terrified, they fled.

⁶Panic seized them there, throes like those of childbirth.

⁷With an east wind Thou didst wreck the Tarshish ships.ⁱ

⁸As we have heard, so we have seen in the city of the LORD of Hosts, in the city of our God;^j

God will establish it forever. Selah

⁹We are thinking, O God, of Thy lovingkindness within Thy temple.

¹⁰In agreement with Thy name, O God, so is Thy praise to the ends of the earth;
Thy right hand is full of Thy righteousness.

¹¹Let Mount Zion rejoice, let the daughters of Judah leap for joy, because of Thy just decisions.

¹²Walk about Zion; make a circuit around her; count her towers.

e) Not God, but sinners bring about these desolations.

f) In the hour of prayer, moments of silent meditation are helpful.

g) This psalm continues the teaching of God, the almighty and sovereign God, who rules all nations, but has selected Abraham's offspring to be His special servants under the covenant privileges.

h) The northern portion of Jerusalem.

i) On the Spanish coast; not to be confused with Tarsus, where Paul was born.

j) The essence of Zion's beauty was neither its location, nor its architecture, but the presence of God, especially the Holy of Holies with the ark of the covenant.

¹³Notice well her defence-walls; walk through her palaces, so you may tell the next generation.
¹⁴For this God is our God, for ever and ever;
He will guide us until death.^k

A Mortal Body; an Immortal Spirit
For the Chief Musician. A Psalm, by the Sons of Korah

49 Hear this, all you peoples;
give ear, all inhabitants of the world,

²both low and high, rich and poor together.^l

³My mouth shall speak wisdom;
and the thoughts of my heart shall be of insight.

⁴I will incline my ear to a parable,
I will disclose my riddle upon the harp:

⁵Why should I fear in the evil days, when the iniquity of those who would supplant me surrounds me completely?

⁶They who trust in their wealth and boast of the abundance of their riches,

⁷none can by any means redeem his brother,^m or give God a ransom for him.

⁸For such redemption of their life is costly and can never suffice, ⁹so that he should live forever,
so that he should not see the pit.

¹⁰For he shall notice that wise men die,
that the fool and the brutish similarly perish,
leaving their wealth to others.

¹¹They inwardly think that their houses are forever, their dwelling places to all generations;
they call their lands after their own names.

¹²But man with all his honor does not remain;

he is like the animals that perish.

¹³This is the fate of the self-confident;
yet after them men approve their sayings. Selah

¹⁴They are appointed as a flock for Sheol;ⁿ
death shall be their shepherd.^o
the upright shall have dominion over them in the morning;
their form shall be for Sheol to consume,
so that there is no habitation for it.

¹⁵But God will redeem my soul from the hand of Sheol;
for He will receive me. Selah

¹⁶Be not afraid when some one grows rich,
when the splendor of his house increases;

¹⁷for when he dies, he shall carry nothing away;^p his glory shall not descend after him.

¹⁸Though while he lived he blessed his soul,^q

and people praise you, when you do well for yourself,

¹⁹yet he shall go to the generations of his fathers, who shall see the light no more forever.

²⁰Man with all his pomp but without insight is like the animals that perish.

True Godliness

A Psalm of Asaph^r

50 The Mighty One, God the LORD, speaks and calls the earth from where the sun rises to where the sun goes down.

²Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty,
God appears in glory-light.^s

³Our God comes and shall not keep silent;^t

before Him a fire consumes and around Him a fierce tempest rages.

⁴He calls to the heavens above and to the earth, to judge His people:

⁵Gather to Me My holy ones,

k) A bride and groom might wisely write v. 14 on the flyleaf of their Bible, to be their motto to the end.

l) Ideally humanity is a great democracy; physically of the animal world, of brief existence; spiritually immortal. m) From death. n) The realm of the dead.

o) To the wealthy oppressor, death is the end of habitual activity; to the righteous it is a new beginning. p) An obvious fact. q) Wealth, honor and flattery deceive the careless soul.

r) Also Ps. 73-83. Asaph, a Levite, sounded cymbals in David's time, leading the choir.

s) God had promised His special Presence in the Holy of Holies.

t) God is ever active; if He were not, the universe would cease existing.

who made a covenant with Me by sacrifice.^u

⁶The heavens declare His righteousness;
for God Himself is Judge. Selah

⁷Hear, O My people, and I will speak,
O Israel, and I will testify against you:
I am God, your God.

⁸Not for your sacrifices will I reprove you, and your burnt offerings are always before Me.

⁹I will not take a bullock out of your house,^v nor he-goats from your folds; ¹⁰for every animal of the forest is Mine,
and cattle by the thousands on the hills.

¹¹I know all the birds of the mountains, and the animals of the field are before Me.

¹²If I were hungry, I would not tell you, for the world and its fulness are Mine.^w

¹³Shall I eat the flesh of bullocks, or drink the blood of goats?

¹⁴Offer the sacrifice of praise to God,
and pay your vows to the Most High.
¹⁵Call on Me in the day of trouble;
I will deliver you, and you shall honor Me.^x

¹⁶But to the wicked God says:
Why are you reciting My statutes with praise,
and taking My covenant upon your lips,

¹⁷though you hate correction and cast My words behind you?

¹⁸When you see a thief, you delight to associate with him, and you take part with adulterers.

¹⁹Your mouth you use for evil and your tongue frames deceit.

²⁰You sit and talk about your brother;
on the son of your mother you bring ruin.

²¹These things you have done and I kept silent;
you thought I was altogether like you.
I will censure you and put the case in order before your eyes.

²²Now consider this, you who forget God, lest I tear you up and there be none to deliver.

²³He who offers a sacrifice of praise honors Me:
to him who prepares his way I will show the salvation of God.

A Prayer of Confession

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David, when Nathan the Prophet Came to Him,
after He had Gone in to Bathsheba^y

51 Have mercy upon me, O God, according to Thy loving-kindness:

according to the greatness of Thy compassion blot out my transgressions.

²Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin,

³for I am conscious of my transgressions,
and my sin is ever in mind.

⁴Against Thee, Thee only, have I sinned,^z and done what is evil in Thy sight;
so that Thou art justified in Thy sentence and pure in Thy judging.

⁵Behold, in sinful state I was born and in sin did my mother conceive me.^a ⁶Surely, Thou desirest truth in the inner self,

and Thou makest me to understand hidden wisdom.

⁷Purify me with hyssop and I shall be clean;
wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

u) God accepts the sacrifice of gratitude and sense of dependence.

v) But He does not stand in need of them.

w) Quoted by Paul, I Cor. 10:26, to show our Christian liberty in matters of eating.

x) Sacrifices then and gifts now for His service are in their nature much like presents we offer loved ones and friends: "The gift without the giver is bare." y) II Sam. 12:10.

z) Crime is against man; sin is against God.

a) My mother was sinful; so am I. No teaching here that conception is sin.

⁸Cause me to hear joy and gladness, so that the bones which Thou hast broken may rejoice.

⁹Hide Thy face from my sins and blot out all my iniquities.

¹⁰Create in me a clean heart, O God,
and renew a steadfast spirit within me.

¹¹Cast me not away from Thy presence,

and take not Thy Holy Spirit from me.

¹²Restore to me the joy of Thy

salvation,
and uphold me with a willing spirit;

¹³then I will teach transgressors Thy ways,

and sinners shall be converted to Thee.

¹⁴Deliver me from bloodguilt,^b O God, Thou God of my salvation;

and my tongue shall sing aloud of Thy righteousness.

¹⁵O LORD, open Thou my lips and my mouth shall declare Thy praise.

¹⁶For Thou delightest not in sacrifice, else would I give it, burnt-offering Thou dost not desire.^c

¹⁷The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit;

a broken and penitent heart, O God,
Thou wilt not despise.

¹⁸Do good in Thy good pleasure to Zion; build Thou the walls of Jerusalem.

¹⁹Then shalt Thou delight in sacrifices of righteousness,

in burnt-offering and whole burnt-offering;

then shall bullocks be offered upon Thy altar.

Deceit Is Self-Destructive

For the Chief Musician. A Meditation of David, when Doeg the Edomite Came and Told Saul, David Had Come to the House of Ahimelech^d

52 Why do you boast of mischief, you tyrant?

The lovingkindness of God is exercised
continually.

²Your tongue devises wickedness like a sharpened razor, working deceit.^e

³You love evil more than good, lying more than speaking the truth. Selah

⁴You love all destroying words, O deceitful tongue.

⁵God will likewise strike you down
forever;

He will lay hold of you, pluck you out of the tent

and uproot you from the land of the living. Selah

⁶The righteous shall see and be in awe;

but about him they shall laugh,
(saying),

⁷"Look, this is the man who did not make God his stronghold,

but trusted in the abundance of his wealth

and sought security through his misdemeanor."

⁸But I am like a green olive tree in the house of God;^f

I trust in God's lovingkindness for ever and ever.

⁹I will give Thee thanks forever,
because Thou hast done it;

And I will hope in Thy name, for it is good, in the presence of Thy followers.

The Folly of Atheism

For the Chief Musician; upon Mahalath.^g
A Meditation of David

53 The fool says to himself: "There is no God."

They are corrupt and do abominable
evil;

there is none who does good.

²God looked out from the heavens
at the children of men,

to see if there were any who understood, who looked for God.

³They have all backslidden; they are all corrupt;

there is none well-behaved; no, not
one.

⁴Have the workers of iniquity no understanding.^h

b) The murder of Uriah, for an outstanding example of highhanded sin, as distinguished from sins of error [Numbers 15:27-31]. c) Obedience is preferred, 1 Sam. 15:22.

d) Incident reported in 1 Sam. 22:9, 10.

e) Doeg had told Saul a partial truth with a false accusation.

f) In faith yet to be realized; in fact he was in serious trouble.

g) Which means "grief," so, probably to be sung in a minor key.

h) To think they can accomplish it without penalty.

who devour my people as if they ate bread?

They do not call on God.

⁶They were in dread where there was nothing to fear;¹
for God scatters the bones of your besiegers;
you will put them to shame, because God has rejected them.

⁶Oh, that from Zion Israel's deliverance might come!
When God returns the captivity of His people,
Jacob shall rejoice; Israel shall be glad.

Men Fail Us; God Never

For the Chief Musician; on Stringed Instruments. A Meditation of David, when the Ziphites Came and Said to Saul, "Is Not David Hiding with Us?"¹ 54 O God, in Thy name deliver me and in Thy power vindicate me.

²O God, hear my pleading; give ear to the words of my mouth.

³For strangers are risen against me; and violent men seek my life;
they do not keep God in sight. Selah

⁴Behold, God is my ally;^k the LORD is with those who sustain my soul.

⁵He will return the damage upon my enemies.

Cut them off in Thy faithfulness!

⁶With a freewill offering I will sacrifice to Thee;¹

I will praise Thy name, O LORD, for it is good.

⁷For He has delivered me from every distress,

And my eyes have looked with satisfaction at my enemies.

Prayer Because of a False Friend
For the Chief Musician, on Stringed Instruments. A Meditation of David 55 Hear, O God, my prayer; hide not Thyself from my petition.

²Observe me and answer me.^m

In restlessness I groan and am distracted ³because of the enemy's noisiness; because of the threatenings of the wicked.

For they engulf me with their mischief and in anger they assault me.

⁴My heart is distressed within me,
and terrors of death come down on me.
⁵Fear and trembling get hold of me and horror overpowers me.

⁶So I said, "Oh, had I the wings of a dove,

then I would fly away and be at rest.

⁷Yes, then I would wander far away, and lodge in the desert. Selah ⁸I would hasten to my place of refuge, from this raging wind and storm."

⁹Destroy, O LORD, confuse their speeches,^o

for I have seen violence and strife in the city.

¹⁰Day and night they go about on the walls;

damage and trouble are in its center;

¹¹violence is within her, and from her market place oppression and deceit are never absent.^p

¹²For it is not an enemy who reproaches me;
that I could bear;
it is not a hater, who vaunts himself against me;

then I could hide myself from him;

¹³but you, a man regarded as an equal with me,^q

my companion and my familiar friend,

¹⁴we who together held sweet fellowship;

to the house of God we walked in the festive throng.

¹⁵Let destruction seize them; let them go down alive to Sheol;

i) With nothing and no one to fall back on, the ungodly is likely to turn panicky. But to deny the existence of God is to classify oneself with fools. j) Incident related in I Sam. 23:19,20.

k) To have God as our Helper, we must walk in His truth.

l) Our response for rescue must be as freely offered as was our petition.

m) No one to appeal to except God; fortunately He suffices.

n) Another Babel seems required, but usually God-haters are man-haters, too, and get to quarreling.

o) Without God earth becomes hell. It all sounds like a period of rebellion.

p) In rank none was equal with King David; but in counsel Ahithophel was not below him, II Sam. 15:12, but sided with Absalom against him.

for wickedness is in their dwelling, in their heart.

¹⁶As for me, I will call on God and the LORD will save me.

¹⁷Evening, morning and noon I will lament and sigh;^r and He will hear my voice.

¹⁸He will rescue my soul to have peace from those who war against me; for they who oppose me number many.

¹⁹God will hear and humble them,^s He, who sits enthroned from of old. Selah

Because in them there has been no change^t and they do not revere God.

²⁰He put forth his hand against those at peace with him;

he violated his covenant.^u

²¹His mouth is sleeker than butter, but in his heart there is war: his words are softer than oil, yet they are drawn swords.

²²Cast your burden on the LORD, and He will sustain you:^v

He will never allow the righteous to be pushed over.

²³But Thou, O God, wilt bring them down into the pit of destruction; bloody and deceitful men shall not live out half their days.

But I will trust in Thee.

Confide in God

For the Chief Musician; to the Tune, A Silent Dove among Strangers. By David, a Psalm of Refuge, when the Philistines Seized Him in Gath.^w

56 Have mercy upon me, O God; for man would walk over me; all day long the enemy oppresses me.^x ²Daily would my enemies devour me; for many are they who proudly fight against me.

Confidence in God; His Sufficiency

³In the day when I am afraid, I will have confidence in Thee.

⁴In God, I will praise His word; in God I trust,^y I will not fear; what can flesh do to me?^z ⁵All day long they twist my words; all their thoughts are against me to hurt.

⁶They join together, they lie in wait; they watch my steps as they have waited for my soul.

⁷Shall they escape by such evil-doing?

In Thine indignation cast down the people, O God.

⁸Thou takest note of my roaming; put my tears into Thy bottle; are they not in Thy book?

⁹Then shall my enemies fall back in the day of my crying out; this I know, because God is for me.

¹⁰In God I will praise the word, in the LORD I will praise the word.

¹¹In God I trust, I will not fear; what can man do to me?^a ¹²On me, O God, are Thy vows;^b I will give Thee thank-offerings, ¹³for Thou hast delivered my soul from death,^c

yes, my feet from stumbling too, so that I might walk before God in the light of life.

No Hope but God, Who Suffices
For the Chief Musician, to the Tune, Do Not Destroy, By David, a Refuge Psalm, when He Fled from Saul into the Cave^d

57 Be merciful to me, O God, be merciful to me, for in Thee my soul takes refuge, and in the shadow of Thy wings I will shelter until these calamities^e have passed.

r) Hebrew prayer periods, Dan. 6:10; 9:4.

s) Usually "hear" means a favorable response. Here it would result in their being humbled.

t) Continued prosperity renders them ever less godly.

u) His loyalty pledge as officer of the king and of the state.

v) As butter comes from the churning of milk, so comes this sentence out of the writer's experience. It is not always God's will to remove the trial, but rather to sustain the righteous in it.

w) I Sam. 21:10-15.

x) In the first line man is collective and in the second line "he" retains the plural significance.

y) "In God we trust," is our national motto. May we all practice it.

z) Flesh in the presence of God and opposed to Him stands for weakness. In the N.T. it usually stands for absence of His Spirit, therefore sinfulness.

a) His God-related self no man can touch.

b) From birth there is the covenant-vow, signified by circumcision.

c) Ps. 116:8 gives identical reason for gratitude; in response to deliverance, to walk with God.

d) I Sam. 22:1. e) The threatening dangers occasioned by the crimes of others.

²I will cry to God Most High, to God who completes (all things)
for me.

³He will send from heaven and save me from the slanders
of him who would swallow me. Selah
God will send forth His mercy and His truth.

⁴My soul is among lions;
I lie among those sons of men who breathe fire,
whose teeth are spears and arrows, and their tongues a sharp sword.^f

⁵Be exalted, O God, above the heavens,
Thy glory over all the earth.

⁶They have prepared a net for my steps;
my soul is bowed down.
They dug a pit before me,
but they themselves have fallen into the center of it. Selah

⁷My heart is confident, O God;
my heart is confident,^g
I will sing, yes, I will sing praises.
⁸Awake, my glory, awake psaltery and harp;
I will awaken the dawn.^h ⁹I will give thanks to Thee, O LORD,
among the peoples;

I will praise Thee among the Gentiles.
¹⁰For Thy lovingkindness reaches to the heavens, Thy faithfulness to the clouds.ⁱ

¹¹Be exalted, O God, above the heavens; Thy glory over all the earth.

An Appeal for Fair Judges

For the Chief Musician; to the Tune, Do
Not Destroy, by David, a Refuge Psalm

58 Do you indeed speak righteousness, O you judges,
do you judge the children of men fairly?
²No, at heart you work iniquity;
you deal out the violence of your hands
in the land.^j

³The godless are perverse from the womb;

they go astray from birth, they are falsifiers,

⁴Their poison is like a serpent's venom,
like a deaf adder that stops its ear, ⁵that will not listen to the voice of charmers
casting spells skilfully.

⁶O God, break the fangs in their mouths;
shatter Thou the eyeteeth of young lions, O LORD!

⁷Let them melt away like outrunning water;^k

as he aims his arrows, let those be as split apart,

⁸as a snail that dissolves as it moves on;
as an untimely birth that never sees
the sun.

⁹Before your pots get the touch of the thorns,^l
whether green or ablaze, He will sweep them away with a whirlwind.

¹⁰The righteous will rejoice when he sees the fair punishment;
he will wash his feet in the blood of the wicked.

¹¹And men will say, Surely there is a reward for the righteous; surely there is a God judging in the earth.

The Persecuted Turns to God

For the Chief Musician; to the Tune, Do
Not Destroy; by David, a Refuge Psalm, when Saul Sent and They Watched the House to Kill Him^m

59 Deliver me from my enemies, O
my God;
keep me away from those who rise
against me.

²Deliver me from the workers of
iniquity,
and save me from bloodthirsty men.

³For, behold, they lie in wait for my life;
strong men are banding together to attack me,
not for my transgression, nor for my sin, O LORD.ⁿ

f) The men who joined David in the cave might also answer the description, before David has trained them. g) Confident: the state of perfect certainty. h) Up before daybreak.

i) The psalmist's earthly conception of God's infinity.

j) When God is forgotten, so is fair dealing among men, for God is the source of right and love.

k) Water from a spring that soon dries up. l) Thorns to be used in the kitchen for fire.

m) I Sam. 19:11-17. n) We may pray un hindered when innocent before God and man.

⁴Without any wrong of mine, they run and prepare themselves.
Arise to my aid and take a look!

⁵Thou, O LORD God of hosts,
God of Israel,
arise to visit all the nations;^o spare none of those who treacherously plot evil. Selah

⁶They return at evening; they snarl like dogs and go about the city.

⁷See, they foam at their mouth; swords
are in their lips;

for who, they think, will hear us?

⁸But Thou, O LORD, wilt laugh at
them;

Thou shalt mock at all the nations.

⁹O my Strength, I will wait on Thee, for God is my stronghold.

¹⁰My God in His covenant-love will meet me;

God will let me look at my enemies
with satisfaction.

¹¹Slay them not, lest my people forget;^p scatter them by Thy power and bring them down, O LORD, our shield.

¹²The sin of their mouth is the word of their lips;
they shall be taken in their pride for the curses and lies which they utter.

¹³Destroy in indignation, destroy, that they may be no more,
and let them know that God rules in Jacob^q to the ends of the earth.

Selah

¹⁴They return at evening; they snarl like dogs^r
and go about the city.

¹⁵They wander around for food;
they stay out all night, if they are not filled.

¹⁶But I will sing of Thy strength,^s and will sing aloud of Thy righteousness in the morning;
for Thou hast been a stronghold
for me,

a refuge in the day of my distress.

¹⁷I will sing to Thee, O my strength, for God is my stronghold, my merciful
God.

Prayer for Victory

Lily of Testimony, a Refuge Psalm by David, for Instruction, when He had Striven with the Arameans of Mesopotamia and the Arameans of Zoba, and when Joab Returned and Killed Twelve Thousand of Edom in the Salt Valley^t

60 O God, Thou hast cast us off;
Thou hast scattered us;
Thou hast been angry; O restore us again.

²Thou hast made the land to quake;
Thou hast rent it;

heal its fissures, for it is shaken.

³Thou hast made Thy people to endure hardness;

Thou hast made us drink wine that makes us reel.^u

⁴Thou hast given a banner to those who revere Thee,
so it may display itself, because of Thy truth. Selah

⁵So that Thy loved ones may be delivered,
save with Thy right hand and answer us.

⁶God has spoken in His holiness:^v

I will exult; I will divide Shechem and measure out the valley of Succoth.

⁷Gilead is mine, Manasseh is mine;

Ephraim is the defense of My head;

Judah is My lawgiver;^w ⁸Moab is My washbasin;

over Edom I will throw My shoe; over

Philistia I shout in triumph.

⁹Who will bring me into the fortified city,

who will lead me into Edom?

¹⁰Hast Thou not cast us off, O God, but wilt Thou not go forth, O God,

with our armies?

^o) From the personal petition David considers his people's situation; for neighboring nations are not friendly; they invade when they dare. ^p) Israel needs frequent discipline.

^q) Prayer for their destruction is not Christ's idea; however, those who persist in evil must end in ruin, as Jesus warned the Galilean cities, which did not repent.

^r) Like scavenger dogs, not getting what they want even in the dark.

^s) A happy contrast for him who depends on God.

^t) II Sam. 8 reports much warring against the Arameans, and I Kings 11:16 tells of Joab's slaying Edomites, with no mention of defeats; but many Hebrews probably paid a bloody price.

^u) These verses reflect the ups and downs of war. ^v) Vv. 6-12 are identical with Ps. 108:7-12.

^w) As designated by Jacob on his deathbed, Gen. 49:10, in the Messianic promise.

¹¹Grant us help because of trouble, for vain is the help of man.

¹²With God we shall do valiantly;^x it is He who will tread down our enemies.

Confidence in the Lord's Protection
For the Chief Musician; on Stringed Instruments, by David

61 Hear, O God, my pleading; attend to my prayer.

²From the end of the earth I will call to Thee,^y

when my heart is overwhelmed; lead me to the rock that is higher than I.^z

³For Thou art a refuge to me, a strong tower from the presence of the enemy.

⁴Let me dwell in Thy tent forever; let me take refuge under the covering of Thy wings. Selah

⁵For Thou, O God, hast heard my vows,
Thou hast given a heritage to those who revere Thy name.

⁶Thou wilt add days to the days of the king,^a so his years shall equal many generations.

⁷He shall remain forever before God; ordain lovingkindness and truth to keep him.

⁸Then I will ever sing praises to Thy name, so I may daily pay my vows.^b

Calm in His Friendship
For the Chief Musician; According to Jeduthun.^c A Psalm of David 62 Truly my soul looks in stillness to God;

from Him is my salvation.

²He alone is my rock and my health, my fortress; I shall not be greatly shaken.^d ³How long will you assail a person to break him down, all of you, like a leaning wall, a tottering fence?

⁴They consult only to cast him down from his height;
they cherish falsehood;^e with their mouth they bless, but at heart they curse. Selah

⁵Truly, my soul, look in stillness to God, for my expectation is from Him.

⁶He alone is my rock and my health,^f my sure defence; I shall not be shaken.

⁷My salvation and my glory depend on God;
the rock of my defence, my refuge is in God.

⁸Trust in Him at all times, ye people; pour out your heart before Him; God is to us a refuge. Selah

⁹Lowly man is but a breath; the sons of nobles are only lies; in the scales they go up, altogether lighter than emptiness.

¹⁰Put no trust in oppressing;
do not vainly hope in robbery.
If riches increase, do not set your heart on them.

¹¹Once God has spoken,^g twice have I heard this,
that strength belongs to God.

¹²And to Thee, O Lord, belongs covenant love, for Thou rewardest every man according to his work.

A Soul Thirsting for God
A Psalm of David, when He Was in the Wilderness of Judah^h

63 O God, Thou art my God, I seek Thee earnestly;

x) Faith in the promises of God inspires confidence of coming victory.

y) Wherever he may be; and we know from Ps. 23 that David communed with God most intimately when he felt at ease.

z) The rock he could not climb without divine help. The words have become part of a lovely church anthem. a) King Saul.

b) Vows made with petitions must be fulfilled with praise when the prayers are answered.

c) Earlier mentioned as Ethan, a Levite musician.

d) Quietly David relates life to God and forms a practical philosophy that rests on God.

e) He is not fooled by appearances; godlessness is sham; it is illness.

f) God alone is the source of health.

g) When we worship God humbly, we may converse with Him. Observe silence, to hear Him make Himself and His will known to us, and read His Word. h) I Sam. 22:5 and 23:1-3.

my soul thirsts for Thee; my flesh longs for Thee¹ in a dry and worn-out land, where there is no water.

²So have I beheld Thee in the sanctuary,
to see Thy power and Thy glory.

³Because Thy lovingkindness is better than life,
my lips shall praise Thee.

⁴So will I bless Thee as long as I live;
I will lift up my hands in Thy name.

⁵My soul shall be satisfied as with marrow and fatness,
and my mouth shall praise Thee with joyful lips.

⁶When I remember Thee on my bed in the night watches, I meditate on Thee.

⁷For Thou hast been my help, and in the shadow of Thy wings I will sing joyfully.

⁸My soul follows close behind Thee;¹
Thy right hand upholds me.

⁹But those who seek to ruin my soul
shall go into the lower parts of the earth.^k

¹⁰They shall be handed over to the power of the sword;
they shall be a prey for foxes.

¹¹But the king shall rejoice
before God;
all who swear by Him shall jubilate;
for the mouth of those who speak lies shall be stopped.

Divine Judgment on the Wicked
For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David

64 Hear my voice, O God, in my complaint;
guard my life against the terror of the
enemy.

²Hide me from the conspiracy of
wicked men,

from the noisy gangs of the evil-doers,¹ ³who sharpen their tongue like a sword,
who aim poisoned words like arrows.^m ⁴To shoot from ambush at the innocent
they shoot unexpectedly and without self-reproach.

⁵They confirm for themselves an evil agreement;
they talk of laying snares secretly;
they say, "Who shall detect them?"
⁶They work out wicked schemes;
they are ready with a well-conceived plan;ⁿ
for the inner man and the heart are fathomless.

⁷But God will shoot an unlooked-for arrow at them;^o they will be wounded.

⁸They will be made to stumble, their own tongue being against them;
all who see them shall wag the head.

⁹Then shall all men be in awe, proclaim the act of God
and learn to know His work.

¹⁰The righteous shall be glad in the Lord, and trust in Him;
and all the upright in heart shall offer
praise.^p

How Great Thou Art!
For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.
A Song

65 Silence is praise to Thee, O God, in Zion;^q
and to Thee the vow shall be fulfilled.
²O Thou who hearest prayer, to Thee shall all flesh come.^r

³Iniquities got the better of me;
our transgressions Thou forgivest.

⁴Blessed is the man whom Thou choosest
and bringest near to dwell in Thy courts.

We shall be satisfied with the goodness of Thy house,
Thy sacred temple.

i) A soul longs for God when aware of belonging to God. Attending worship with others helped him to understand God better. j) The longing soul wants to stay near Him.

k) Is there a greater sin than ruining another's soul? Correspondingly there is no greater service than to lead a soul to Christ.

l) Like a few frogs in a pond, so those on the wrong side manage to seem many.

m) Poisoned arrows are usually fatal if they hit.

n) The godly must have a definite plan, being "wise as serpents."

o) They get what is coming to them.

p) The finals are always with God, to whom praise is due.

q) We must be silent, and be receptive. r) Weak man and mighty God.

⁵With awesome deeds Thou dost respond to us in righteousness, O God of our salvation,^a who art the confidence of all the ends of the earth
and of the remotest seas.

⁶Who by Thy might hast founded the mountains, being clothed with power.

⁷Who dost still the roaring of the seas,
the moaning of their waves, and the clamor of the nations.

⁸Those who live farthest away,
stand in awe at Thy signs.

Thou makest the morning dawn and the evening sunset to shout for joy.

⁹Thou visitest the land and waterest it,
Thou greatly enrichest it; God's river is brimful of water.¹

Thou providest them grain, for so
Thou hast ordained it;

¹⁰watering the furrows, softening its ridges,

Thou makest it soft with showers;
Thou dost bless its vegetation.^u

¹¹Thou crownest the year with Thy goodness,^v
and Thy footsteps drop abundance.

¹²The pastures of the wilderness drip and the hills are girded with rejoicing.

¹³The meadows are clothed with flocks and the valleys are covered with grain;
they shout for joy; they also sing.

How Great Thy Goodness!
For the Chief Musician. A Song. A Psalm 66 Shout joyfully to God, all the earth;

²Sing out to glorify His name; render Him glorious praise.

³Say to God, "How awe-inspiring are Thy works;
for Thy great power Thine enemies
submit to Thee.

⁴All the earth shall do Thee homage and shall sing to Thee; they shall sing to Thy name."^w Selah

⁵Come and see what God has done;
in His work He is awesome toward the children of men.

⁶He turned the sea into dry land;
they passed through the river on foot;^x
there we rejoiced in Him.

⁷He rules by His power forever; His eyes observe the nations;
let not the rebellious exalt themselves.
Selah

⁸Bless our God, O ye peoples, and sound His praise abroad,^y

⁹who keeps our soul in life, and does not allow our foot to slip.

¹⁰For Thou hast tested us, O God,^z Thou hast refined us as silver is purified.

¹¹Thou hast brought us into the net;
Thou hast laid a heavy burden on our hips.^a

¹²Thou hast made men to ride over our head;

we went through fire and through water,

and Thou hast brought us to an overflowing abundance.

¹³I will enter Thy house with burnt-offerings;^b

I will pay Thee my vows,

¹⁴which my lips have uttered and my mouth has spoken when I was in distress.

¹⁵Burnt-offerings of fat sheep I will offer
with the incense of rams;
I will offer bullocks with he-goats.
Selah

¹⁶Come and hear, all who revere God,
and I will declare what He has done
for my soul:

¹⁷I called out to Him with my mouth,
and praise was in my tongue.^c

¹⁸If I regard iniquity in my heart the LORD will not hear;

¹⁹But God certainly has heard;

s) If we will listen, God's mighty acts answer many questions.

t) The irrigation canal, supplying untold acres.

u) God provides the moisture; He also causes the growth for which the farmer hopes.

v) From here on we have an up-to-date hymn, parts of which we use in our Thanksgiving anthems.

w) For which the psalmist prepares them. x) At the Red Sea and the Jordan.

y) As lined in one of our great hymns. z) Plenty of testing, leading to victory.

a) Carrying loads on the hip was customary.

b) None but priests entered tabernacle or temple; here as usual the courts outside the holy place and the Holy of Holies are meant.

c) No sooner had he invoked the LORD than he had reason to praise Him.

He has attended to the voice of my prayer.^d

²⁰Blessed be God, who has turned away neither my prayer nor His covenant-love from me.

The God of the Nations

For the Chief Musician, on Stringed Instruments. A Psalm. A Song

67 God be merciful to us and bless us, and cause His face to shine upon us,^e

Selah

²so that Thy way may be known upon earth,
Thy saving health among all nations.^f

³May the peoples praise Thee, O God;
may all the peoples give thanks to Thee.

⁴May the nations be glad and sing for joy;
for Thou shalt judge the people fairly and guide the nations upon earth.

⁵May the peoples thank Thee, O God;
may the peoples praise Thee, all of them.

⁶The earth has yielded her harvest;
God, our God, will bless us.

⁷God will bless us
and all the ends of the earth will revere Him.

Our God Victorious

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David. A Song

68 God shall arise; His enemies shall be scattered;^g those who hate Him shall flee before His face.

²As smoke is driven away, so Thou shalt drive them away;
as wax melts before the fire, so the wicked shall perish before God.

³But the righteous shall exult;
they shall rejoice before God;

yes, they shall rejoice with mirth-making.

⁴Sing to God, sing to His name:
raise a highway for Him who rides through the wilderness;
the LORD is His name; be jubilant before Him.

⁵A father to the fatherless and a champion of the widows^h is God in His holy habitation, ⁶God who makes the lonely to live in a home;
who brings out prisoners into prosperity;
but the rebellious dwell in a parched land.

⁷O God, when Thou didst go forth before Thy people,ⁱ when Thou didst move through the wilderness,
Selah

⁸the earth trembled; even the heavens dropped before God;
Sinai (quaked) before God, the God of Israel.

⁹O God, Thou didst shed a plentiful rain upon Thy heritage,^j
Thou didst restore Thy heritage when exhausted.

¹⁰Thy congregation settled in it;
Thou didst in Thy goodness provide for the destitute, O God.

¹¹The LORD sent forth the command;
those who proclaimed the good news were a great host.

¹²The kings of armies fled; they fled and the women at home divided the booty.

¹³Did you camp among the sheep-folds?
The dove's wings are covered with silver,
and her feathers with glistening gold.^k

¹⁴When the Almighty scattered kings there, it was like snow-fall on Zalmon.^l

¹⁵A mountain of God is the mountain of Bashan;

d) Proof that his heart was clean.

e) For communion with God we need more than forgiveness. Pardon is in a way negative; we need His blessing. Then we should so live that God is pleased with us; His face shines on us.

f) Following this we are ready to tell everyone about our wonderful God, praying that they, too, may find Him, so bringing thanksgiving to all.

g) This is a victory song, God being the Victor, a joy for the righteous, a dread to the wicked.

h) Of whom men so readily took advantage. i) From Egypt to Canaan. j) The Promised Land.

k) After horrible war experiences, luxury. l) Zalmon is a hill in central Palestine.

a mountain studded with peaks is the Bashan range.

¹⁶Why do you gaze with envious hostility, O many-peaked mountains, at the mountains which God has chosen for His abode?^m
Yes, the LORD will dwell there forever.

¹⁷The chariots of God are twice ten thousand, thousands upon thousands;

the LORD came from Sinai into the holy place.ⁿ

¹⁸Thou hast ascended on high, Thou hast led captive a band of captives; Thou hast received gifts among men,^o even rebellious men, for a dwelling of the LORD God.

¹⁹Blessed be the LORD; day by day He carries us, the God of our salvation. Selah

²⁰Our God is a God of rescuings; from the LORD God are escapes from death.

²¹Yes, God will strike the head of His enemies, the hairy scalp of him who goes on in his guilty doings.

²²The LORD said, I will bring back from Bashan; I will restore from the depths of the sea.^p ²³so that your foot may bathe in blood and the tongue of your dogs may have a portion of your enemies.

²⁴They have seen Thy procession, O God, the procession of my God, my King, into the sanctuary.

²⁵Singers in the van; musicians in the rear, in the center maidens playing on timbrels.^q

²⁶Praise ye God in the congregations, the LORD, you who are from Israel's fountain.^r

²⁷There is Benjamin, the smallest, their ruler;

the princes of Judah in their crowd; the princes of Zebulun; the princes of Naphtali.

²⁸Your God has commanded your strength.

O God, display Thy strength, Thou who hast achieved for us.

²⁹Because of Thy temple in Jerusalem, kings shall bring gifts to Thee.

³⁰Rebuke the beasts of the reeds,^s the herd of bulls, with the calves of the peoples,^t prostrating themselves with pieces of silver.

He has scattered the peoples that delight in war.

³¹Princes shall come out of Egypt; Ethiopia shall stretch forth her hands to God.

³²Sing to God, ye kingdoms of the earth; sing praises to the LORD;

Selah
³³to Him who rides upon the heavens, the ancient heavens:

Behold, He sends forth His voice, His mighty voice.

³⁴Ascribe power to God: His majesty is over Israel; His might is in the clouds.^u

³⁵Awe-inspiring art Thou, O God, from Thy sanctuary; the God of Israel, who bestows strength and fulness of might to His people.^v Blessed be God!

Prayer for God's Fatherly Protection
For the Chief Musician, to the Tune, The Lilies. By David

69 O God, save me; for the waters come up to my lips;^w

²I am sinking in deep mire and there is no place for me to stand;

I have come to deep waters and a flood overwhelms me.

³I have cried until I am exhausted; my eyes grow dim while I wait for my God.

m) Zion. n) Zion.

o) Quoted by Paul, Eph. 4:8, applied to the gifts God has granted Christian workers to serve in His church. p) From the heights and from the depths.

q) Like Miriam and the women, Ex. 15:20. r) Jacob's descendants, the tribes of Israel.

s) Crocodiles, so referring to Egypt. t) Bulls represent leaders; calves, the people.

u) Sensed strongly during a thunderstorm.

v) In His strength alone can Israel stand, and He suffices.

w) This is prayer, beginning with telling God of the plight he is in. To know that and to talk it over with God is the beginning of release.

⁴They* that hate me without a reason are more numerous than the hairs on my head.
Those who wish to destroy me are powerful;
they are my enemies wrongfully;
I have to replace what I did not steal.

⁵Thou knowest my blundering;
my guilt is evident to Thee.
⁶May those who have their hope in Thee not be put to shame because of me.⁷
May it never happen that those who seek Thee be brought to dishonor on my account,
O God of Israel!

⁷Because I have been humiliated for Thy sake, confusion has covered my face.
⁸I have become a stranger to my brothers,
an alien to my mother's children.
⁹Because the zeal for Thy house has consumed me,² and reproach falls on me from those who affront Thee.

¹⁰When I myself mourned with fasting, I was humiliated;
¹¹When I put on sackcloth for my clothing,
I became a laughingstock to them.
¹²Those who sit by the gate talk about me;
I have become the song of the drinkers.³

¹³But as for me, my prayer is to Thee, LORD;
at an opportune moment, O God, in Thy plenteous grace, answer me with the truth of Thy salvation.
¹⁴Do not allow me to sink, but save me from the mire;^b rescue me from my enemies and from the deep waters.

¹⁵Keep the flood waters from overwhelming me;
do not let the deep swallow me up,
or the pit close its mouth over me.

¹⁶Answer me, O LORD, for Thy grace is good;
turn to me according to Thy plenteous mercy.

¹⁷Do not turn Thy face from Thy servant,^c for I am in trouble; answer me speedily.

¹⁸Come near to me, redeem me, free me from my foes.

¹⁹Thou knowest my reproach, my shame and my dishonor;
all my adversaries stand before Thee.

²⁰Reproach has broken my heart and I feel depressed;
I looked for sympathy, but there was none;

and for comforters, but I found no one.
²¹They gave me gall for my food;
and in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.^d

²²Let their table before them become a snare,^e and to those at ease a trap.

²³Let their eyes be darkened, that they cannot see,
and make their loins continually to tremble.

²⁴Pour out Thine indignation upon them,
and let the heat of Thine anger overtake them.

²⁵Let their dwelling be a ruin,^f
let none live in their tents.

²⁶For him who is smitten of Thee, they persecute, they gossip of the pain of Thy pierced ones.

²⁷Add iniquity to their iniquity and let them not enter into Thy justification.

²⁸Let them be blotted out of the book of life, and not be recorded with the righteous.

x) Being misunderstood is basic to many of our difficulties.

y) We, too, may well pray daily not to be stumbling blocks. Paul in Romans 14 shows his great concern along that line. z) Fulfilled in Jesus, John 2:17.

a) The leaders meeting in council as well as the riffraff are against him.

b) Similar to Jeremiah's experiences, Jer. 38:6, with whom it was literal.

c) So he is driven to God.

d) In each of the Gospels our Lord's drinking vinegar on the cross is reported.

e) These curses are not in the N. T. spirit. We should consider, though, that the writer felt his cause to be God's cause and his foes God's foes. f) Peter quotes this regarding Judas, Acts 1:20.

²⁹But I am afflicted and in pain, let Thy salvation, O God, set me on high.

³⁰I will praise the name of God with
a song
and will magnify Him with thanksgiving.

³¹It will please the LORD better than any ox,
or bullock with horns and hoofs.

³²The humble shall see it, and be glad:
you who seek God, let your heart revive!

³³For the LORD hears the needy, and does not despise His prisoners.

³⁴Let heaven and earth
praise Him,
the seas and everything that moves
in them;

³⁵For God will save Zion and build the cities of Judah;
that people may dwell there and possess it.

³⁶The offspring of His servants shall inherit it,
and they who love His name shall abide in it.^g

A Prayer for Speedy Aid

For the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David;
to Bring to Remembrance

70 O God, to my rescue,^h
O LORD, to my help make haste.

²Let those be ashamed and confounded who seek my soul;
let those be turned back and put to shame who desire my hurt.

³Let those turn back as a reward of their shame,
who say: "Aha, aha!"ⁱ

⁴Let all those who seek Thee rejoice and be glad in Thee;
and let those who love Thy salvation
say continually,
"Let God be magnified."

⁵But I am poor and needy, O God,
hasten to me:

Thou art my help and my deliverer;
O LORD, do not tarry.

The Prayer of an Aged Worshiper

71 In Thee, O LORD, I take refuge:
let me never be put to shame.^j

²Through Thy righteousness, deliver me and set me free;

incline Thine ear to me and save me.^k

³Be Thou to me a rock for a dwelling, to which I may always resort;
Thou hast ordered to save me, for Thou art my rock and my stronghold.

⁴Deliver me, O my God, from the hand of the wicked, from the hand of the unjust and ruthless;

⁵For Thou art my hope, O LORD God; Thou art my trust from my youth.

⁶Upon Thee I have leaned from birth; it was Thou who took me from the maternal womb. My praise is continually of Thee.

⁷I have been a marvel to many, but Thou art my strong refuge.

⁸My mouth is filled with Thy praise and with Thy glory all day.

⁹Cast me not off in my old age;
forsake me not now that my strength is spent.

¹⁰For my enemies talk of me; those who watch my life consult together,

¹¹saying, "God has forsaken him;
chase and seize him, for there is none to deliver."

¹²O God, be not far from me; O
my God, make haste for my help.

¹³Let them be ashamed and consumed,
who waylay my life;

with reproach and dishonor may they be covered, who seek my hurt.

¹⁴But I will hope continually and praise Thee more and more.

¹⁵My mouth shall tell of Thy righteousness and Thy salvation all
the day;

g) Present rescues encourage the saints and inspire them to expect future security.

h) This psalm is nearly identical with Ps. 40:13-17, also ascribed to David; both plead in different ways and with assurance of God's help. i) May they turn to join the singers of the next verse.

j) Ps. 31:1, 2 is almost identical with vv. 1, 2 of this psalm. Remarkable in both is the plea resting on God's righteousness, in which they felt they had a share.

k) Here is witness to a godly training.

for they are beyond my numbering.

¹⁶I will go in the strength of the LORD God; I will make mention of Thy righteousness, Thine alone.

¹⁷O God, Thou hast taught me from my youth and I still declare Thy wonders.¹

¹⁸So even to old age and gray hairs, O God, do not forsake me, till I proclaim Thy might to this generation and Thy power to all descendants.

¹⁹Thy righteousness, O God, is most high, and Thou hast done great things, O God; Who is Thine equal?

²⁰Thou, who hast made me experience troubles great and sore,^m wilt revive me again and wilt bring me up again from the depths of the earth.

²¹Thou wilt add to my stature, and comfort me again.

²²I will also praise Thee with the harp for Thy faithfulness, O my God;

I will sing praise to Thee with the lyre, O Holy One of Israel.

²³My lips will shout for joy when I sing praise to Thee; and my soul, which Thou hast redeemed.ⁿ

²⁴My tongue also shall mention Thy righteousness all day long; for those who sought my hurt have been shamed and disgraced.

Prayer for Righteous Ruling

By Solomon

72 O God, grant the king Thy justice and Thy righteousness to the king's son.

²May he judge Thy people with righteousness^o and Thy poor with justice.

³May the mountains bring peace to the people, and the hills, through righteousness.

⁴May he judge the poor among the people, save the children of the needy and crush the oppressor.

⁵May they revere Thee while the sun endures,^p as long as the moon, to all generations.

⁶May He come down like rain upon the mown grass, as showers that refresh the earth.

⁷In His days shall the righteous flourish, and abundance of peace till the moon be no more.

⁸May He have dominion from sea to sea and from the river^q to the bounds of the earth.

⁹Before Him shall the dwellers of the wilderness bow, and His enemies shall grovel in the dust.

¹⁰The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall render tribute; the kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts.

¹¹Yes, all kings shall fall down before Him; all nations shall serve Him.

¹²For He will deliver the needy, when he calls, and the poor, who has no helper.

¹³He will have pity on the weak and needy and will save the souls of the needy;^r ¹⁴from oppression and violence He shall redeem their soul;

and precious is their blood in His sight.

¹⁵He shall live and to Him shall be given of the gold of Sheba, and they shall pray for Him continually;^s

1) If he keeps on seeing God's wonders, he will never grow old in attitude.

m) He accepted adversities for what they are—divine discipline.

n) His whole soul was in it when he sang or played.

o) Solomon's reign is to be like that of the Messiah, righteous, spreading and of lasting influence. Here he sets the standard for himself.

p) As this goes beyond human attainments, we consider it Messianic.

q) The Euphrates, which was the eastern boundary of lands promised to Israel and conquered by David.

r) How accurate a picture the poet draws of the Messiah's character! This King is more than human. s) As now we pray for the spread of His kingdom.

they shall bless Him all the day.

¹⁶May there be abundance of grain in the land on top of the mountains;^t may its fruit wave like Lebanon, and may they of the city flourish like grass of the earth.

¹⁷May His name endure for ever; may His reputation flourish before the sun.
May men be prospered in Him; may all nations call Him blessed.

¹⁸Blessed be the LORD God, the God of Israel,^u who alone does wondrous things.

¹⁹And blessed be His glorious name for ever; may the whole earth be filled with His glory! Amen and Amen.^v ²⁰The prayers of David, the son of Jesse are ended.*

Two Kinds of Life; Two Destinies
A Psalm of Asaph

73 Surely God is good to Israel, to those whose hearts are pure;
²but as for me, my feet had almost stumbled, my steps had nearly slipped.

³For I was envious of the arrogant, when I saw the prosperity of the wicked.

⁴They suffer no violent pain; their body is well nourished.

⁵They do not share the troubles of mortals, nor are they plagued like others.

⁶Pride therefore encircles their neck; violence covers them like a garment.

⁷Their eyes swell out from fatness, their hearts overflow with illusions.

⁸They scoff and wickedly they mention depression; they talk disdainfully.

⁹They set their mouth against the heavens^w and their tongue ranges the earth.

¹⁰Therefore His people turn this way and that,^x and like profuse waters are gulped down^y by them.

¹¹And they say, "Does God know? Is there knowledge in the Most High?"

¹²Truly such are the wicked; they are secure and their riches increase.

¹³Uselessly then I have cleansed my heart and have washed my hands in innocence, ¹⁴for all day long I have been beaten and chastened every morning.

¹⁵Had I said, "So I will speak," I would indeed have played false to Thy children.^z

¹⁶Yet, when I pondered to understand this, it was too overwhelming for me,^a ¹⁷until I went into God's sanctuary and perceived their ending.^b

¹⁸Truly, Thou dost set them in slippery places;

Thou dost make them tumble to ruin.

¹⁹How they are brought to desolation in a moment, wiped out, annihilated through terrors!

²⁰Like a dream after one wakes up, so, LORD, Thou wilt despise their imaginings when Thou awakest.

²¹When my heart was bitter and I was pierced deep within,

²²I was stupid and ignorant, a reasonless creature in Thy sight.

²³Nevertheless I am continually with Thee;

Thou dost hold my right hand;^c

²⁴Thou wilt guide me with Thy counsel, and afterward Thou wilt receive me to glory.^d

t) The least likely place for a grain crop.

u) Literally we cannot bless God, for, Heb. 7:7, "The less is blessed of the better." In Scripture, blessing God means ascribing to Him the highest possible praise.

v) This completes the second Book of Psalms. *) For this Second Book of the Psalms.

w) Their mouth they set in heaven; i.e., they speak with supposed heavenly authority, and they blaspheme God. x) Confused in their thinking.

y) They swallow the philosophy and thinking of the ungodly as a thirsty man drinks water.

z) Had the psalmist spoken his thoughts to others, he would have misled God's people.

a) It was labor to my eyes. b) The sad end of evildoers.

c) By faith vivid enough to be felt as an experience.

d) Glory here is not merely a place, but a Presence that will be sensed when afflictions cease and the end of life has come.

²⁶Whom have I in heaven
[but Thee]?
And besides Thee there is none on earth whom I desire.
²⁶Though my flesh and my heart
fail,
God is the strength of my heart and my portion for ever.
²⁷For see, those who are far from Thee
shall perish;
Thou wilt destroy all who play Thee
false.
²⁸But as for me, drawing near^e to God
is good for me;
I have made the LORD my refuge,
so that I may announce all Thy works.

Prayer for God's Help

A Psalm of Asaph. An Instruction

74 O God, why hast Thou cast us off for ever?

Why does Thine anger burn against the sheep of Thy pasture?

²Remember Thy congregation, which Thou hast acquired of old,
which Thou hast redeemed as the tribe of Thy heritage,
this Mount Zion, where Thou art dwelling.

³Direct Thy steps to this perpetual ruin; the enemy has destroyed everything in the sanctuary.

⁴In the midst of Thine appointed place
the adversaries roared and erected their emblems for signs.

⁵It looks as if one had brought down
the axe on brushwood;

⁶all its carved work, too, they have broken down with axe and hammer.

⁷They have set Thy sanctuary on fire;
they have profaned to the ground the dwelling to Thy name.^g

⁸They said to themselves, "Let us subdue them completely";
they burned all God's meeting places
in the land.

⁹We do not see our symbols; there is no longer a prophet,

and none among us knows for how long.

¹⁰How long, O God, shall the adversary reproach?
Shall the enemy disdain Thy name
forever?

¹¹Why dost Thou hold back Thy hand,
even Thy right hand?
[Draw it] out of Thy bosom; make an end.

¹²Still, God is my King from of old,
who has worked salvation in the midst
of the earth.

¹³It was Thou who didst divide the sea by Thy power;
It was Thou who didst crush the heads of the dragons on the waters.^h

¹⁴It was Thou who didst smash the heads of the Leviathan, giving him as food to the animals of the desert.

¹⁵It was Thou who didst break open fountain and brook;ⁱ
It was Thou who didst dry up ever-flowing rivers.^j

¹⁶Thine is the day as well as the
night;
Thou hast established the starlight and
the sun.

¹⁷It was Thou who didst fix all the boundaries of the earth;
summer and winter are the work of Thy hand.

¹⁸Remember, LORD, that the enemy scoffs;
a foolish people reviles Thy name.

¹⁹Do not deliver to the wild beasts the life of Thy turtledove;^k
do not forget the life of Thine afflicted ones for ever.

²⁰Remember the covenant,^l because the dark places of the land are full of caves of violence.

²¹Let not the downtrodden return
in shame;
let the oppressed and needy praise Thy name.

e) Drawing near and being in the presence of God.

g) Temple-burning is mentioned only at the beginning of the Babylonian captivity. There is no mention of houses of Jehovah's worship until after the captivity, but there may have been such earlier.

h) Dragons and Leviathan – the crocodile – typify the Egyptians destroyed at the Red Sea.

i) Water from the rock in the desert.

j) The Jordan through which the Israelites passed.

k) So precious was Israel to God.

l) The old pledge between God and Abraham, confirmed at Sinai.

²²Arise, O God, plead Thy cause; remember the insults which the fools
have hurled at Thee all day long.^m ²³Do not forget the clamor of Thine
enemies,
the noise of Thine adversaries that keeps on increasing.

Thanks to God, the Righteous Judge
To the Chief Musician, to the Melody of "Destroy Not." A Psalm of Asaph. A Song

75 We praise Thee, O God, we praise Thee;
for that Thy name is near Thy wondrous works declare.
²At the time which I have appointed
I will render fair judgments.ⁿ ³The earth is quaking with all its inhabitants;
I have set firm its pillars. Selah

⁴I said to the boastful, "Do not boast;" and to the wicked,
"Do not lift up your horn."
⁵Do not lift your horn up high, and do not talk with an insolent throat.^o ⁶For neither from the east nor from the west nor from the desert does promotion come;
⁷but God is the Judge. He puts down one and promotes another.

⁸For there is a cup in the LORD's hand; the wine is foaming, thoroughly mixed.
He pours out from it; yes, the wicked of the earth must swallow it and drink its dregs.

⁹As for me, I will declare for ever; I will sing psalms to the God of Jacob.
¹⁰All the horns of the ungodly I will strike down; but the horns of the righteous shall be highly exalted.

God, His People's Protector
To the Chief Musician on Stringed Instruments. A Psalm of Asaph. A Song 76 In Judah God has renown; His name is great in Israel.

²His tabernacle is in Salem,^p His dwelling place in Zion.
³There He broke the fiery arrows of the bow,
the shield, the sword, and the battle.^q
Selah

⁴Glorious Thou art, more glorious and more excellent than the mountains of prey.^r ⁵The stouthearted have their loot taken;
they have slept their sleep.
None of the men of might could use their hands.
⁶At Thy rebuke, O God of Jacob, both charioteer and horse lie sunk in sleep.
⁷Thou, even Thou, art to be revered, and who can stand before Thee when Thou art indignant?

⁸From heaven Thou didst cause judgment to be heard;
the earth feared and was still ⁹when God arose for judgment to save all the meek of the earth. Selah
¹⁰Surely the wrath of man shall praise
Thee;
further wrath wilt Thou restrain.

¹¹Make vows to the LORD your God, and perform them;
let all around Him bring gifts to Him,
who is to be revered, ¹²who cuts off the breath of princes, who is dreadful to the kings of the earth.

Encouraging Memories
To the Chief Musician, to Jeduthun.^a A Psalm of Asaph

77 My voice is to God; I call; my voice is to God,^t
that He may listen to me.
²I sought the LORD in the day of my distress;
in the night my hand was stretched out and did not weary;^u
my soul refused to be comforted.
³When I was moaning, I thought of God;

m) What they did against God's worshipers they were doing against God, as Jesus taught concerning His disciples [Matt. 25:40, 45]. n) The Judge of all sets His own time.

o) The bowed head is more befitting. p) Abbreviation for Jerusalem.

q) He breaks battles, too, as Ps. 46:9 teaches.

r) "The everlasting mountains," the Septuagint translates it.

s) "Praise," either indicating the song's content or the name of a musician appointed by David

[1 Chron. 16:41; 25:16]. t) Repetition indicates extreme seriousness.

u) Palm up, hoping to receive divine help.

when my spirit was faint, I pondered.

Selah

⁴Thou holdest my eyelids waking;^v I am so disturbed I am speechless.

⁵I think about the days of old, the years of ancient times.

⁶In the night I remember my song; with my heart I meditated and my spirit made diligent search.

⁷Has the LORD rejected me for ever?^w Will He never again be favorable?

⁸Has His love ended eternally? Has His promise failed to all generations?

⁹Has God forgotten to be merciful? Has He in indignation locked away His compassion? Selah

¹⁰I said, "This grieves me; the right hand of the Most High changes."

¹¹I brought to mind the works of the LORD, for I remembered Thy miracles of old.

¹²I will think of all Thy works and consider well all Thy wonders.

¹³Thy way, O God, is holy.^x

Who is so great a god as God!

¹⁴Thou art the God who workest wonders; Thou hast revealed Thy power.

¹⁵With a mighty arm Thou hast redeemed Thy people,^y the sons of Jacob and Joseph.^z Selah

¹⁶The waters saw Thee, O God; the waters saw Thee, they shuddered;^a the deep shuddered, too.

¹⁷The clouds poured down water; the skies rumbled with thunder;

Thy lightning arrows zigzagged.

¹⁸The voice of Thy thunder was in the whirlwind;

the lightnings illumined the world; the earth trembled and shook.

¹⁹Thy ways are in the sea, Thy paths in the great waters; Thy footprints are untraceable.

²⁰Thou hast led Thy people as a flock by the hand of Moses and Aaron.^b

God in the Nation's History

A Meditation of Asaph

78 My people, give ear to my instruction;

listen to the words of my mouth,

²as I open my lips in a parable, as I utter lessons from ancient times, ³which we have heard and known, for our fathers related them to us.

⁴We do not conceal them from their children, recounting to the following generation the praises of the LORD and His might, yes, the wondrous works He has performed.

⁵For He established a testimony with Jacob;

He appointed a law in Israel, which He commanded our fathers to disclose to their sons,^c ⁶in order that the succeeding generation might know, that the children still to be born might arise and recount it to their sons,

⁷so as to put their confidence in God and not to forget God's works, but to keep His commandments.

⁸That they might not be like their fathers, a generation of obstinacy and rebellion, a generation which did not prepare its heart; and its spirit was not faithful to God.

⁹The sons of Ephraim, equipped with the bow, retreated in the day of battle.

¹⁰They did not keep God's covenant and refused to walk in His Law.

¹¹They forgot His deeds and His wonders which He had shown them.

¹²He performed miracles before the eyes of their fathers in the land of Egypt in the field of Zoan.^d

v) God's nearness never doubted.

w) While this psalm sounds personal, it also represents the nation.

x) The conclusion upon devout observation. y) Also impression of His might.

z) Jacob, as father of all Israel; Joseph through his saving the family.

a) The Red Sea and the Jordan. b) In the exodus and desert journeys.

c) The holy Israelites taught lessons to their children. The textbook was the Word which God had revealed. Their purpose was to bring up the children as worshipers of God, adoring Him and keeping His covenant. The method was narration of the saving acts of God for His people. The school was the home where the fathers took time and pains to teach the children.

d) A town in the eastern part of the Nile Delta now known as San.

¹³He divided the sea and had them pass through;
yes, He made the waters stand up like a heap.^e

¹⁴By day He guided them with a cloud and all night with a burning light.
¹⁵He split the rocks in the wilderness and gave them drink as from the great deep.

¹⁶He made streams gush from the rock and caused waters to run down like rivers.

¹⁷But they sinned still more against Him

by showing disobedience
to the Most High in the wilderness.

¹⁸Indeed, they tested God in their hearts

by asking for flesh as they craved it.

¹⁹They even spoke against God. They said,

"Does God have power to set a table for us in the wilderness?"

²⁰Behold, He struck a rock, so that the waters gushed out and streams overflowed.

Is He also able to give bread?

Will He prepare meat for His people?^f

²¹Therefore, when the LORD
heard, He was provoked;
a fire was kindled against Jacob and anger arose against Israel,

²²because they put no faith in God;
neither did they trust in His salvation,

²³although He had ordered the clouds from above

and opened the doors of heaven;

²⁴although He had rained manna upon them to eat

and had given them heavenly grain.

²⁵Man ate the bread of the mighty;
He furnished them food in abundance.

²⁶He set loose an east wind in the
heavens,

and in His might He brought in a south wind.

²⁷He rained flesh upon them as dust, yes, winged fowl as the sand of the sea.

²⁸He let them fall in the midst of their camp all around their tents.

²⁹So they ate and were fully satisfied, for He sent them what they had craved.

³⁰But scarce had they stilled their craving,

their food still being in their mouths,

³¹when God's indignation came upon them and He slaughtered their sturdiest

and felled the choicest of Israel.

³²In spite of all this, they sinned still more and had no confidence in His wondrous works.

³³So He made their days disappear like a fog, made their years end in sudden disaster.^g

³⁴When He ruined them, they inquired for Him;

they returned and sought God diligently.

³⁵They remembered that God was their Rock,

the Most High God, their Redeemer.

³⁶They flattered Him with their mouth,^h

they lied to Him with their tongue;

³⁷for their heart was not sincere with Him,

they were not faithful in His covenant.

³⁸But He, the merciful One, forgave their sin and did not destroy
them.

Many a time He restrained His anger and did not give vent to His indignation.ⁱ

³⁹He remembered that they were flesh,
a wind that leaves and does not return.

⁴⁰How often they disobeyed Him in the wilderness

and grieved Him in the desert!

⁴¹Repeatedly they tested God and provoked the Holy One of Israel.^l

⁴²They did not remember His hand, the day when He delivered them from
the enemy;

e) Such a heap of water as a mighty wind had formed.

f) Severe discipline was needed and proved effective for those who witnessed it.

g) By the same discipline, some obeyed; others rebelled, as in our day.

h) At Moses' earnest pleading.

i) Blessings God was so ready to bestow were withheld because the people were not receptive.

⁴³how He worked His signs in Egypt and His wonders in the field of Zoan.

⁴⁴He turned their rivers into blood,
and their streams so that they could not drink.^j

⁴⁵He sent among them swarms of flies that ate them;
frogs, too, that devastated them.

⁴⁶He gave their crops to locusts and their produce to grasshoppers.

⁴⁷With hail He broke down their vines and with sleet their sycamores.

⁴⁸He gave up their cattle to hail and their herds to thunderbolts.

⁴⁹Sending forth evil spirits, He cast upon them bursting anger,
His overflowing wrath, indignation,
and distress.

⁵⁰He leveled a path for His anger;
He did not spare their soul from death, but He caused their lives to be delivered to the plague.

⁵¹Yes, He smote all the first-born of Egypt,
the prime of their strength in the tents
of Ham.

⁵²But He moved out His people like sheep
and guided them like a flock in the desert.

⁵³He led them in safety, so they were not afraid;
but their enemies He covered with the sea.^k

⁵⁴He brought them to His holy domain,
to the mountain which His right hand
had gained.

⁵⁵He drove out peoples before them and allotted them a measured inheritance;

He settled the tribes of Israel in their tents.

⁵⁶But they tested and embittered
the Most High God

and did not observe His testimonies.^l ⁵⁷They turned away and acted unfaithfully like their fathers;
they twisted like a warped bow.^m ⁵⁸They made Him angry with their high places,
and with their idols they provoked His jealousy.

⁵⁹God heard it and His anger burned; He deeply abhorred Israel.
⁶⁰He forsook the dwelling at Shiloh, the tabernacle which He had pitched among men;

⁶¹Yes, He delivered His ark into captivity
and its gloryⁿ into the hand of the foe.
⁶²He abandoned His people to the sword and poured His anger on His inheritance.

⁶³The fire consumed their young men and their maidens were not serenaded.^o

⁶⁴Their priests fell by the sword, and their widows made no mourning.

⁶⁵Then the LORD was aroused as one from sleep,
like a strong man heated from wine.

⁶⁶He beat His enemies back; He caused them unending disgrace.

⁶⁷He rejected the tabernacle of Joseph and did not choose the tribe of Ephraim;

⁶⁸but He chose the tribe of Judah,
Mount Zion, which He loved.^p

⁶⁹He built His sanctuary of [heavenly] height and enduring like the earth which He has established.

⁷⁰He chose David, His servant, whom
He took from the sheepfold,

⁷¹whom He brought from following ewes with their young,
to rule Jacob His people, and Israel
His heritage.

⁷²And he^q shepherded them according to the integrity of his heart;
he guided them by the skilled workings of his hands.

j) A restatement of the plagues in Egypt as God prepared for Israel's exodus. To sing these lines greatly aided in these facts being mastered and remembered. k) The Red Sea of the exodus. l) Law, history, poetry, and prophecy.

m) No target can be hit from an imperfect bow. So deceit ruins the aims of persons and of nations. Immanuel Kant called a lie "murder."

n) The ark of the covenant, captured by the Philistines [I Sam. 4:21-22].

o) Youthful love-life was shipwrecked. p) The temple and ultimately the Messiah. q) David.

A Prayer for Retribution on Jerusalem's Destroyers

A Psalm of Asaph

79 O God, the Gentiles have invaded Thy heritage;^r they have profaned Thy holy temple; they have turned Jerusalem into ruins.^s ²They have given the corpses of Thy servants to the birds of the heavens for food, the flesh of Thy worshipers to the beasts of the earth.

³They have poured out their blood like water all around Jerusalem, and no one buried them.

⁴We have become a reproach to our neighbors, a derision and a mockery to those around us.

⁵How long, O LORD? Wilt Thou be angry for ever?

Shall Thy jealousy burn like a fire?^t
⁶Pour out Thy fury on the Gentiles who do not acknowledge Thee, and on the kingdoms that do not call upon Thy name, ⁷for they have devoured Jacob and laid waste his dwelling.

⁸Remember not against us the guilt of our fathers; let Thy compassion speedily meet us, for we are greatly weakened.

⁹Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of Thy name.^u Deliver us and forgive our sins^v for Thy name's sake.

¹⁰Why should the Gentiles say, "Where is their God?"

Let there be manifested among the nations before our eyes, the avenging of the blood of Thy servants which is shed.

¹¹Let the groaning of the prisoner come before Thee;

according to the greatness of Thine arm^w spare the children of death.

¹²Return sevenfold into the bosom of our neighbors their reproach, with which they have scorned Thee, O LORD.

¹³And we Thy people, the flock of Thy pasture, shall give Thee thanks for ever; we shall publish Thy praise to successive generations.^x

A Prayer for Salvation

To the Chief Musician; to the Tune, "The Lilies." A Testimony of Asaph. A Psalm 80 O Shepherd of Israel, give ear, Thou who ledest Joseph like a flock!

Thou who art enthroned above the cherubim, shine forth!

²Before Ephraim, Benjamin, and Manasseh,^y arouse Thy strength and come to our rescue.

³O God, restore us, cause Thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

⁴O LORD God of hosts, how long wilt Thou be angry in the face of Thy people's prayers?^z

⁵Thou hast fed them with the bread of tears, and Thou hast furnished them tears to drink in triple measure.

⁶Thou makest us a contention to our neighbors; our enemies mock us among themselves.

⁷O God of hosts, restore us; cause Thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

⁸Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt;

Thou hast driven out nations and planted it.

r) The Promised Land remained God's property; the Israelites received it in lease.

s) So far as we know, the Chaldean and much later Syrian invasion are the only occasions of city destruction or temple profanation.

t) According to our Lord's parable [Luke 15:8-10], all salvation is to God's glory.

u) Sin brings the need of personal and national discipline.

v) The arm stands for might, so spoken of regarding God and man.

w) They would so deeply and constantly impress God's greatness on their children that the children, when mature, would perpetuate the godly instructions.

x) The supplication concerns northern Israel particularly. Ephraim, Manasseh, and Benjamin had camped together during the desert journey.

y) The worshipers of God were few among the northern Israelites. Only seven thousand are mentioned to encourage Elijah [I Kings 19:18]. As a nation the people had rejected God, and for these people the psalmist was praying.

⁹Thou didst clear [the land] before it,^z
so it took root and filled the land.

¹⁰The mountains were clothed with its shadows,
the cedars of God with its boughs.

¹¹It spread its branches to the sea and its shoots to the River.^a ¹²Why hast Thou broken down its fences,

so that all who pass by pluck from it?

¹³The boar from the forest devours it, and the beasts of the field feed on it.^b

¹⁴O God of hosts, do return;
look from heaven and observe and visit
this vine.

¹⁵Protect what Thy right hand has planted,^c
the son whom Thou hast raised for Thyself.

¹⁶Burned with fire, cut down, they perish at the rebuke of Thine appearance.

¹⁷May Thy hand be on the man of Thy right hand,
upon the son of man whom Thou hast chosen for Thyself.

¹⁸Then we shall not depart from Thee;
revive us and we shall call upon Thy
name!

¹⁹O LORD God of hosts, restore us, cause Thy face to shine, and we shall be saved!

How to Worship Acceptably
To the Chief Musician, to a Gittite Instrument or Tune. By Asaph

81 Sing joyfully to God our strength; shout for joy to Jacob's God!

²Start a psalm, sound the timbrel, the lovely lyre with the harp.

³Blow the trumpet at the new moon,
at the full moon on our feast day.^d

⁴For this is a statute for Israel, an ordinance of the God of Jacob.

⁵He assigned it in Joseph for a testimony
when He went forth against the land of Egypt.^e

The speech of those I knew not, I heard.^f

⁶I freed his shoulder of the burden;
his hands were freed from the freight basket.^g

⁷You called in distress, and I delivered
you;

I answered you in the hiding place of thunder;^h

I tested you at the waters of Meribah.
Selah

⁸Hear, O My people, and I will testify to you,

O Israel, if you will listen to Me!

⁹There shall be no strange god among
you;
neither shall you worship any alien
god.

¹⁰I, the LORD, am your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt.ⁱ

Open your mouth wide, and I will fill it.

¹¹But My people did not listen to My voice;

Israel would not obey Me.

¹²So I left them to the hardness of their hearts;^j
they walked in their own deliberations.

¹³Oh, that My people would listen to Me,^k

that Israel would walk in My ways!

¹⁴Readily I would subdue their
enemies

and turn My hand against their oppressors.

¹⁵Those who hate the LORD would cringe before Him;

and their time [of retribution] would last for ever.

¹⁶But He would feed you with the choicest of the wheat,

^z) As pioneers clear forests for cultivation, so God had cleared Canaan for His people.

^a) The empires of David and Solomon.

^b) Typifying the surrounding peoples who invaded their country and looted it.

^c) Many interpreters see references to Christ as Protector of the vineyard, the Man of God's right hand. ^d) Memorializing the exodus from Egypt, almost certainly the Passover.

^e) To slay Egypt's first-born and to save those of Israel. ^f) Possibly Egyptian.

^g) God freed them from slavery. Pictures of slaves carrying basketloads still remain in Egypt.

^h) On Mount Sinai. ⁱ) Preamble to the Decalogue [Exod. 20:2].

^j) Had God left us to ourselves, no matter how well we were trained, what sort of character would we have developed?

^k) From here on to the end of the psalm, it is all "IF" — supposition contrary to fact, for the people would not listen to poet or prophet; they moved on to their captivity.

and with honey out of the rock I would satisfy you.

God, the Judge of Judges

A Psalm of Asaph

82 God stands in the congregation of God;
in the midst of the judges He gives judgment:¹

²How long will you judge
unjustly and favor the wicked?

Selah

³Dispense justice to the weak and the orphan;

vindicate the wretched and needy!^m

⁴Deliver the lowly and the oppressed, rescue them from the hand of the wicked!

⁵They neither know nor understand;
in darkness they go;

All the foundations of the earth are shaking.

⁶I said, "You are gods," indeed, you are all sons of the Most High.

⁷Yet you shall die as men and fall as one of the princes!

⁸Arise O God! Judge the earth,
for Thou dost possess all the nations!

A Prayer for Help Against the Ungodly
A Song. A Psalm of Asaph

83 O God, do not stand idly by, mute and inactive, O God!

²For Thine enemies are ranting, and they who hate Thee carry their heads high.^p

³They shrewdly forge a plot against Thy people;
they consult together against Thy precious ones.

⁴They say, "Come, let us wipe them out as a nation,

so that the name of Israel may no longer be remembered."

⁵For they have conspired with a united heart;^q

against Thee they make an alliance — ⁶the tents of Edom, the Ishmaelites,

Moab and the Hagrites,

⁷Gebal, Ammon, and Amalek,^r Philistia jointly with those who live in Tyre.

⁸Even Assyria has joined them;
they have meant a strong support for the children of Lot. Selah

⁹Do to them as Thou didst to Midian,

as to Sisera and Jabin at the brook
Kishon,^s

¹⁰who were destroyed at Endor, who became fertilizer for the ground.

¹¹Make Thou their nobles like Oreb and Zeeb,^t all their princes like Zebah and Zalmunna,^u

¹²who say, "Let us take possession for ourselves of the pastures of God."

¹³O my God, make them like the whirling dust, like stubble before the wind.

¹⁴As fire consuming a forest,
as flames setting the mountains ablaze,

¹⁵so do Thou pursue them with Thy wind,
and terrify them with Thy tornado.

¹⁶Fill their faces with shame, and let them seek Thy name,^v O
LORD.

¹⁷Let them be ashamed and terrified
for ever;

yes, let them be disgraced and perish.

¹⁸And let them acknowledge that Thou alone

whose name is the LORD, art the Most High over all the earth.

1) Named Elohim, the name of the Triune God, which the Hebrews also applied to their judges. God speaks to the judges, and through them.

m) The widow, the orphan, and the foreigner are God's special care against unfair judges and greedy people with power.

n) Quoted by Jesus [John 10:34-36], when He had declared Himself to be One with the Father, and they would stone Him.

p) Haters of Israel, because they are God's people are haters of God.

q) United in evil. r) All these, except Hagrites and Gebal, are descendants of Abraham or of Lot.

s) Judg. 4:12-24. t) Judg. 7:23-25. u) Judg. 8:10-21.

v) A consuming passion for God's honor and a hope that those now ungodly may yet learn to know God are the marks of the true believer.

Thanks to God for His Church
To the Chief Musician, on a Gath Instrument. Of the Sons of Korah.
A Psalm

84 How lovely are Thy dwellings,^w O LORD of hosts!

²My soul longs, yes, is homesick for the courts of the LORD;
my heart and my flesh shout hopefully to the living God.

³Even the sparrow has found a home and the swallow a nest for herself where she may lay her young,

at Thine altars, O LORD of hosts, my King and my God.^x

⁴Blessed are they who live in Thy
house;
they shall ever sing Thy praise.

Selah

⁵Blessed is everyone who is strong in Thee,

in whose heart are Thy ways.

⁶Passing through the valley of weeping, they regard it a place of springs;^y also with blessings it is covered, as with early rain.

⁷They go on from strength to strength;^z
each appears before God in Zion.

⁸LORD God of hosts, hear my prayer; give ear, O God of Jacob.

Selah

⁹O God, our shield, observe and see the face of Thine anointed.

¹⁰For better is a day in Thy courts
than a thousand [elsewhere];
I would rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God
than to live in the tents of wickedness.

¹¹For the LORD God is a sun and shield;
the LORD bestows mercy and honor.
He holds back nothing good from those who walk uprightly.

¹²O LORD of hosts, blessed is the man who trusts in Thee.^a

Prayer for Continued Mercies
To the Chief Musician. Of the Sons of Korah. A Psalm

85 Thou didst show favor to Thy land, O LORD;
Thou didst turn Jacob's captivity.

²Thou didst forgive the iniquities of Thy people;
Thou didst cover all their sin.^b

Selah

³Thou didst take back all Thine
indignation;
Thou didst turn away from Thy blazing anger.

⁴Turn to us, O God of our salvation,
and put an end to Thy vexation
toward us.

⁵Wilt Thou be angry with us for ever?
Wilt Thou prolong Thine anger to distant generations?

⁶Wilt Thou not revive us again,
so that Thy people may rejoice in Thee?

⁷Show us Thy lovingkindness, O
LORD, and grant us Thy salvation.

⁸I will hear what God the LORD will say,^c

for He will speak peace to His people and to His worshipers;
but let them not turn again to folly.

⁹Surely His salvation is near to those who revere Him,
so that glory may dwell in our land.

¹⁰Lovingkindness and truth have met together;
righteousness and peace have kissed
each other.

¹¹Truth sprouts forth from the earth, and righteousness looks down from heaven.

¹²Yes, the LORD will give what is good,
and our land will yield its produce.

¹³Righteousness will go before Him and make His footsteps into a way.^d

w) God had given definite orders to make the house of worship lovely.

x) No bird nests on or against the altars; fires and sacrifices would hinder that; but near them, unmolested. y) Only as the traveler trusts in God.

z) The believer who prays, works, and advances, grows stronger on the way.

a) As we trust in Him, we are neither anxious nor self-seeking. Countless blessings come our way, undeserved, yet promised. b) The past is witness for divine grace in the present.

c) Our prayer life would be more fruitful and enjoyable if we, too, would take time to listen to His response when we pray. d) That we may keep in step with Him.

David's Trust in a Self-Revealing God

A Prayer of David

86 Incline Thine ear, O LORD, reply to me, for I am distressed and needy.

²Oh, keep my life, for I am dedicated;^e save Thy servant, O Thou my God, as he trusts in Thee.

³Be merciful to me, O LORD, for to Thee I cry all day long.

⁴Gladden the soul of Thy servant,
for I lift my soul to Thee, O LORD.

⁵Truly, Thou, O LORD, art good and ready to forgive, rich in lovingkindness to all who call on Thee.

⁶Give ear, O LORD, to my prayer; take note of my cry of entreaty.

⁷In the day of my anxiety I call on Thee, for Thou wilt answer me.^f

⁸There is none like Thee among the gods, O LORD,
nor are there any works like Thine.

⁹All the nations which Thou hast made shall come and bow down before Thee, O LORD,
and they shall glorify Thy name;

¹⁰For Thou art great and workest wonders; Thou alone art God.

¹¹Teach me Thy way, O LORD; I will walk in Thy truth;

unite my heart to revere Thy name.^g

¹²I will praise Thee, O LORD my God, with all my heart,

and I will glorify Thy name for ever!

¹³For Thy lovingkindness was great toward me;

indeed, Thou didst rescue my soul
from the lower world beyond.^h

¹⁴O God! arrogant men have risen
up against me;

a gang of brutal men seek my life,
and they do not place Thee before
them.

¹⁵Yet Thou, O LORD, art a compassionate and gracious God,
slow to anger and rich in lovingkindness and truth.

¹⁶Turn to me and be gracious to me;
grant strength to Thy servant.

¹⁷Give a sign of favor to me,ⁱ so that those who hate me may see and be ashamed
because Thou, LORD, didst help me and comfort me.

The Great Glory of Zion

Of the Sons of Korah. A Psalm. A Song

87 What He founded stands on the holy mountains;

²the LORD loves the gates of Zion more than all the dwellings of Jacob.

³Glorious things are told of you,
O City of God. Selah

⁴I mention Egypt and Babylon as those who know Me.^j

Behold, Philistia and Tyre, together with Ethiopia —

[they say], "This one was born there."^k

⁵Yes, of Zion it will be said, "This one and that one were born in her";
and the Most High Himself establishes
her.

⁶The LORD will count as He registers the peoples:

This one was born there. Selah

⁷And in processions they are singing,
"All my fountains are in you."

*A Prayer in Severe Illness*A Song. A Psalm of the Children of Korah. To the Chief Musician, to Chant Mournfully. An Instruction of Heman
the Ezrahite

88 LORD, God of my salvation, by day I cry for help;

at night I am in Thy presence.

²Let my prayer come before Thee, incline Thine ear to my appeal.^l

e) When we are truly devoted to Him [which is one meaning of being holy] then His preserving us assures our continued worship of, and service to, Him.

f) God alone is able to meet our spiritual needs and shortcomings.

g) For genuine dedication to God, thought, will, emotions, every element of our being must be harmonious and in tune with Him. A genuine Christian is no divided personality.

h) Saved him from dreaded harm or healed him from seemingly fatal illness.

i) He knows, but his foes are not aware that they are fighting God when they work against His servant.

j) In the Bible, for God to know persons or for persons to know God always means a favorable feeling between them.

k) This is Gospel; all those Gentiles who know Him [v. 4] are being divinely registered as natives of the Kingdom of God. God's temple means life to them — still our encouragement for missions abroad. l) Distressed but not in despair, for he directs his prayer to God who hears and helps.

⁵For my soul is filled with troubles and my life is nearing death's portals.

⁴I am reckoned among those who go down to the pit.^m

I am as a man without manly strength, ⁵left to himself among the dead,
like the slain who lie in the grave,
whom Thou no longer dost remember;ⁿ
they are removed from Thy help.

⁶Thou hast put me in the pit of the lowest, in dark places, in deep regions.

⁷Thine indignation rests heavy on me,
and with all Thy waves Thou art
keeping me down. Selah

⁸Thou hast put my acquaintances far
from me;

Thou hast made me an object of loathing to them.

I am shut in and I cannot escape.

⁹My eye grows dim because of sorrow;
to Thee I cry daily, O LORD.
I stretch out my hands to Thee.

¹⁰Wilt Thou do wonders for the dead?

Will the dead rise and praise Thee?
Selah

¹¹Is Thy lovingkindness declared in the grave,
Thy faithfulness in the place of destruction?

¹²Can Thy wonders be known in the darkness,
or Thy righteousness in the land of no remembrance?

¹³Therefore, O LORD, I cry to Thee for help;
in the morning my prayer comes before
Thee.

¹⁴Why, LORD, dost Thou reject
my soul
and hide Thy face from me?

¹⁵I am wretched and close to death from my youth up;
I bear Thy terrors, I am helpless.

¹⁶Thy blazing anger passes over me;
Thy terrors destroy me;

¹⁷they surround me like water all day long; together they encircle me.

¹⁸Thou hast put friend and companion far from me,
my familiar friends into darkness.^o

God's Promises to David

An Instruction. Of Ethan the Ezrahite!

89 I will sing^q of the mercies of the LORD forever;

I will make known Thy faithfulness with my mouth

from generation to generation.

²For I said, "Forever shall Thy loving kindness be built up;

in the heavens Thou wilt establish Thy faithfulness."

³Thou didst say: I have made a covenant with My chosen one;
I have sworn to David, My servant:

⁴Your offspring I will make secure
forever,

and I will build your throne to all generations.^r Selah

⁵The heavens shall celebrate Thy wonders, O LORD,

Thy faithfulness shall be praised in the assembly of the holy ones.

⁶For who in the heavens is comparable to the LORD?

Who is like the LORD among the sons of the mighty?

⁷God is greatly revered in the council of the holy ones,
revered above all who are around Him.

⁸LORD God of hosts, who is like Thee, Thou mighty LORD?

And Thy faithfulness surrounds Thee.

⁹Thou rulest over the proud swelling of the sea;
when its billows surge, Thou stillest
them.

¹⁰Thou hast crushed Rahab^s as someone slain;
with Thy mighty arm Thou hast scattered Thine enemies.

¹¹Thine are the heavens; Thine is the earth, too;
the world and its fulness, Thou hast founded them.

m) The grave. n) Until Christ's resurrection, there was little thought of a joyful life hereafter.
o) Rarely does a psalm end on this negative note. The title suggestion - to chant mournfully - seems to suit a funeral dirge.

p) In David's arrangement of choirs, Ethan was appointed a leader [I Chron. 6:44; 15:17, 19];
but in ch. 25:1, his name seems changed to Jeduthun, so mentioned with Ps. 39, 62, and 77.

q) A song of faith when divine promise seems to fail. r) The last two lines state God's promise.
s) Rahab, meaning insolence, stands for Egypt, typical of all who rise against God.

¹²The north and the south, Thou hast created them;
Tabor and Hermon rejoice in Thy name.

¹³Thine is an arm with might;
strong is Thy hand and high Thy right hand.

¹⁴Righteousness and justice are the foundation of Thy throne;^t lovingkindness and faithfulness are at Thy service.

¹⁵Blessed are the people who recognize the festal call.^u
they walk, O LORD, in the light of Thy countenance;

¹⁶in Thy name they rejoice all day long,
and through Thy righteousness they are exalted.

¹⁷For the glory of their strength art Thou, and through Thy favor shall our horn be raised high.^v

¹⁸For our shield is of the LORD, and our king of the Holy One of Israel.

¹⁹Once Thou didst speak to Thy devoted one in a vision, saying:
I bestowed help on a hero; I have elevated a chosen one of the people.^w

²⁰I have found David My servant;
with My holy oil I have anointed him
²¹with whom My hand shall be steadfast, and My arm shall strengthen him.

²²The enemy shall not exact from him,
and no villain shall oppress him.

²³Rather, I will crush his adversaries before him, and I will smite those who hate him.

²⁴My faithfulness and my loving-kindness are with him, and in My name shall his horn be exalted.

²⁵I will also place his hand on the sea and his right hand on the rivers.

²⁶He will call to me, "Thou art my Father,
my God, and the rock of my salvation."
²⁷Yes, I will appoint him first-born,^x
the highest of the kings of the earth.

²⁸Forever shall I maintain My loving-kindness toward him;
My covenant shall be unshakeable with him.

²⁹His offspring I will establish forever,
and his throne as the days of heaven.

³⁰If his children forsake My law,^y
if they deviate from My judgments,

³¹if they profane My statutes and do not keep My commandments, ³²then I shall punish their transgressions with the rod and their iniquity with stripes.

³³But My lovingkindness I will not retract from him, nor will I be false to My faithfulness.

³⁴I will not desecrate My covenant,
nor will I change what went forth from My lips.

³⁵Once I have sworn by My holiness: I will not lie to David.

³⁶His offspring shall endure forever, and his throne shall be like the sun before Me.^z

³⁷As the moon it shall always remain reliable, and the witness in the sky is faithful.

Selah

³⁸But now Thou hast rejected and abhorred;

Thou hast become indignant with Thine anointed one.

³⁹Thou hast spurned the covenant of Thy servant;

Thou hast defiled his crown to the dust.

⁴⁰Thou hast broken down all his walls;^a

Thou hast laid his forts in ruins.

⁴¹All who pass on the road plunder him;

he has become the scorn of his neighbors.

t) Our sovereign God, the infinitely righteous, who judges with fairness.

u) Joining in the annual festivals helped to keep alive spiritual fellowship with God and with one another. v) The horn [of ram or bull] symbolizes strength.

w) God's dealings with David from the sheep to the throne.

x) Neither David nor any other mortal could literally be God's first-born; but Christ, David's offspring, could.

y) "If," on man's part. Discipline and punishment follow disobedience; the sinner disqualifies himself. z) In Christ the covenant with David was amply fulfilled.

a) The king is mentioned as representing the people. Disobedience has brought on national disaster.

⁴²Thou hast exalted the right hand of his antagonists;
Thou hast made all his enemies to rejoice.

⁴³Besides, Thou hast turned the edge of his sword, and Thou hast not made him stand in battle.

⁴⁴Thou hast caused all his splendor to vanish
and hast hurled his throne to the ground.

⁴⁵Thou hast shortened the days of his prime;
Thou hast covered him with disgrace.

Selah

⁴⁶How long, O LORD? Wilt Thou hide Thyself forever?

Shall Thy wrath burn like fire?

⁴⁷Remember how brief my time is,
for what emptiness Thou hast created all the sons of men.

⁴⁸What man is there so strong that he shall live and not see death, so as to deliver his soul from the grip of the grave?

Selah

⁴⁹Where are Thy lovingkindnesses of old, O LORD, which Thou didst pledge to David in Thy faithfulness?^b

⁵⁰Remember, LORD, the reproach of Thy servants, how I carry it in my bosom among all great nations

⁵¹with which Thine enemies have taunted, O LORD, with which they have taunted the footsteps of Thine anointed.

⁵²Praised be the LORD for ever!
Amen and Amen.^c

Mortal Man's Eternal God

A Prayer of Moses, the Man of God

90 LORD, Thou hast been our home in successive generations.^d

²Before the mountains were given birth,^e

or Thou didst bring forth the earth and the world,
yes, from age to age, Thou art God.

³Thou turnest mortal man back to dust and sayest: Return, ye children of men.

⁴For in Thy sight a thousand years are as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

⁵Thou carriest them away as with a flood;^f they are like a sleep.

In the morning they are as the grass that springs up;

⁶in the morning it flourishes and springs up;
by evening it is mown and it withers.

⁷For we are consumed by Thine anger,
yes, terrified by Thine indignation.

⁸Thou hast set our iniquities before Thee,
our secret sins in the light of Thy countenance.

⁹For all our days pass away in Thine indignation;
we spend our years as a sighing.

¹⁰The days of our years — there are seventy of them,^g and if there is great strength, eighty years —

yet their best involves toil and grief,
for it is soon gone, and we vanish.

¹¹Who knows the force of Thine anger,
and Thine awesomeness according to Thine indignation?

¹²Teach us so to number our days,^h that we may acquire discerning minds.ⁱ

¹³Return, O LORD, how long?
Have compassion on Thy servants.

¹⁴Satisfy us in the morning with Thy lovingkindness,
so that we may rejoice and be glad all our days.

b) God's pledge involved the continuance of the Davidic monarchy [II Sam. 7:11-16], on which most of this psalm is based. Persistent sin of prince and people fouled the covenant, which was fulfilled in Jesus, the offspring of David. c) This ends the third Book of Psalms.

d) So we live in God as all our fathers. Do we sense it?

e) What marvelous painting of creation — mountains appearing from the womb of the earth Not merely poetry; it is fact.

f) If you witnessed one of our great floods and saw roofs, cattle, people sweeping by, this duly registers.

g) Only those twenty or under at the exodus entered Canaan, except Caleb and Joshua; all others were taken during the desert wanderings. h) Consider each day of value.

i) The Hebrew's word for "mind" is our "heart."

¹⁶Make us glad to the measure of the days Thou hast afflicted us, of the year in which we have seen calamity.

¹⁶Reveal Thy work to Thy servants and Thy glory to their children.^j

¹⁷May the grace of the LORD our God rest upon us and confirm the work of our hands upon us; yes, the work of our hands, confirm Thou it.

Divine Security

91 He who lives in the secret shelter of the Most High lodges in the shadow of the Almighty.^k

²I will testify of the LORD, "He is my refuge and my fortress, my God, in whom I am trusting."

³Certainly it is He who rescues you from the hunter's trap and from the fatal pestilence.

⁴He will cover you with His feathers, and under His wings you will find protection;

His faithfulness is a shield and armor.^l

⁵You will not fear night's hidden terrors, nor the arrow that flies in the daytime, nor the plague that lurks in the darkness, nor the calamity that spreads havoc at noontime.

⁷A thousand may fall right beside you and ten thousand at your right hand, but it shall not come near you.

⁸You will merely see it with your eyes and witness the sinners' reward.

⁹For Thou, O LORD, art my refuge.^m Since you, too, have established the Most High as your shelter,

¹⁰no harm shall befall you,

nor shall any plague come near your tent.

¹¹For He gives His angels orders regarding you, to protect you wherever you go.

¹²They will support you with their hands

lest you strike your foot against a stone.ⁿ

¹³You will trample on the lion and the adder;

you shall tread upon the lion cub and on the snake.

¹⁴Because he has anchored his love in Me,^o

I will deliver him.

I will place him securely on high, for he has faith in My name.

¹⁵When he calls upon Me, I will answer him;

I will be with him in trouble; I will rescue him and honor him.

¹⁶I will satisfy him with a long life and show him My salvation.

Our Faithful God

A Psalm to Sing on the Sabbath Day

92 It is good to give thanks to the LORD,^p to sing praises to Thy name, O Most High,

²to proclaim Thy loving-kindness in the morning and Thy faithfulness into the night

³on a ten-stringed instrument and a lute, along with music on a harp.

⁴For Thou hast made me glad by Thy doings, LORD;

I shall rejoice in what Thy hands have accomplished.

⁵How great are Thy doings, O LORD!

j) Make us and especially our children aware of Thy active benevolent Presence.

k) This song of trust is precious to Bible readers, and many have memorized portions of it. It was probably sung in responses, with vs. 2 as a solo.

l) The whole psalm is God-centered with the believer assured because God is so dependable.

m) Read Ps. 121:7 in this connection, where being kept from harm is equivalent to our soul being kept safe, if our trust is in God.

n) Quoted by Satan [Matt. 4:6], to tempt Jesus, but true for all believers. God's angels are around us now.

o) From here to the end of this psalm God speaks of us, who sense our need of Him; it is a personal promise.

p) The LORD gives us His day as a joyous day; not as a sad and dreary succession of hours. The first three verses are a call to worship.

How deep are Thy thoughts!

⁶An unthinking person does not understand;

a fool cannot grasp this.⁹

⁷Though sinners spring up like grass and those who practice evil flourish, it is that they shall be eternally destroyed;⁷

⁸but Thou, O LORD, art exalted for ever.

⁹For see, Thine enemies, LORD, for see, Thine enemies shall perish; all those who habitually sin shall bring about their own separation.

¹⁰But Thou hast magnified my horn like that of the wild ox;⁸

I am anointed with invigorating oil.

¹¹My eye has spotted those who insidiously watch me, my ears shall detect those who rise up against me with evil intentions.

¹²The righteous shall thrive like the palm tree;

he shall become mighty like the cedar of Lebanon.⁴

¹³Those who have been transplanted into the LORD's household, they shall flourish in the courtyards of our God.⁵

¹⁴In old age they shall still be bearing fruit.

They shall be full of life and vitality,

¹⁵thus testifying that the LORD is upright,

my Rock, in whom there is no unrighteousness.

In Exaltation of the Lord

93 The LORD reigns; He has robbed Himself with majesty; the LORD is clothed with strength; thus has He girded Himself.

The world also is firmly established; it cannot be moved.

²Thy throne is established from of old;

Thou art from everlasting.⁷

³The rivers have risen, O LORD; the streams have swirled up with their roar;

the floods are surging high.

⁴Above the sound of expansive waters, of mighty ocean breakers, the LORD on high stands supreme.

⁵Thy testimonies are trustworthy; holiness is the mark of Thy house, O LORD, forevermore.

The Folly of Opposing the Lord

94 O LORD, Thou God of retribution,

Thou God of retribution, shine forth!

²Rise up, O Judge of the earth;

give to the proud their due reward.⁷

³O LORD, how long shall sinners, how long shall the wicked be jubilant?

⁴They boast freely; they speak arrogantly; all the wrongdoers brag about themselves.

⁵They trample on Thy people, O LORD;

they oppress Thy heritage.

⁶They kill the widow and the immigrant;

they murder orphans.⁷

⁷For they say, "The LORD is not looking; the God of Jacob pays no attention."

⁸You pay attention, you stupid among the people!

You fools, when will you become wise?

⁹He who makes the ear, is He deaf?

He who forms the eye, is He blind?

¹⁰He who disciplines the nations, shall He not correct?

Is He not the One who teaches man all he knows?

¹¹The LORD discerns the thoughts of man that they are futile.⁷

q) Those so smart they would get along without God are justly termed senseless, foolish.

r) They are wilfully following a path that ends in destruction. s) A horn typified strength.

t) Where the wicked grow like grass [vs. 7], the righteous grow stately, graciously, and strongly.

u) If this verse occurred in the N.T., "transplanted" would intimate regeneration. Possibly a new, a heavenly way of living, is in the writer's mind.

v) Whatever wholesome certainty we enjoy on earth has its basis in God's eternal faithfulness.

Even vs. 3 and 4 leave us secure in Him.

w) God repays. One great reason Immanuel Kant saw for believing in God's existence was that otherwise the wicked might carry out their unfair behavior without retribution.

x) God maintains special interest in widows, orphans, and foreigners because the evil-minded find it easiest to take advantage of them.

y) Our Father's omniscience is among the most encouraging facts of life and is not sufficiently considered by us, His children. Ps. 139 is almost completely devoted to this teaching.

¹²Blessed is the man whom Thou dost discipline, whom Thou dost instruct from Thy Law, O LORD, ¹³that he may enjoy security during the days of distress,
till a pit be dug for the wicked.
¹⁴For the LORD will not forsake His people nor ever abandon His heritage.
¹⁵But justice will be applied to the righteous,
and all whose hearts are right will subscribe to it.
¹⁶Who will arise for me against the evildoers?
Who will take his stand with me against the workers of iniquity?

¹⁷Unless the LORD had been my help,
my soul would soon have dwelt in silence.
¹⁸When I said, "My foot is slipping," Thy lovingkindness, LORD, supported me.² ¹⁹Whenever perplexing cares crowd my inmost self,
Thy consolations cheer my soul.

²⁰Can a corrupt government be allied with Thee,
one that organizes oppression under the pretense of law?

²¹They join forces against the life of the righteous;
they convict innocent people.³

²²But the LORD has been my high retreat,
my God, my impregnable rock of safety.

²³He has made them pay for their crime,
and He will destroy them in their sin;
the LORD our God will make an end of them.

Praise and Obedience to God

95 Come, let us sing to the LORD;
let us cheer in honor of the Rock of our salvation.

²Let us come into His presence with thanksgiving;^b
let us joyfully sing to Him with psalms.
³For the LORD is a great God,
a mighty King above all gods.
⁴The depths of the earth are at His finger tips;
the tallest summits belong to Him.
⁵The sea is His, for He made it;
His hands formed the dry land.
⁶Come, let us worship and bow down;
let us kneel before the LORD, our Maker!
⁷For He is our God, and we are the people of His pasture, the flock which He tends.

Oh, if you would only listen to His voice today!
⁸Do not stiffen your heart as at Meribah,
at the time of testing in the wilderness, ⁹when your fathers tried My patience and tested Me though they had witnessed what I had done.^c ¹⁰For forty years I was disgusted with that generation and said, They are a people whose heart strays, who do not acknowledge My ways.
¹¹Therefore I vowed in My indignation,
They shall never enter My rest.

Render Praise to God's Majesty

96 Sing a new song to the LORD;^d sing to the LORD, all the earth!
²Sing to the LORD, bless His name;
proclaim His salvation from day to day.
³Publish His glory among the nations,
His marvelous works among all peoples.

⁴For the LORD is great and greatly to be praised;
He is to be revered above all gods.

2) God not only knows and cares, but He helps — with advice to go right and with strength: to move on.

a) In I Kings 21, we have the morbid story of Naboth's vineyard, which could not have occurred if the rulers of Israel had been God-minded. This psalm suggests that idolatry had permeated the southern kingdom, too, but His worshipers turned the tide.

b) Thanksgiving is the chief motive of devotion.

c) Meribah means contention, strife, described in Ex. 17:2-7, where the Hebrews complained bitterly for lack of water, prophetic of their repeated discontent with God's dealings.

d) With new experience, we need new songs and the church should teach them to young and old, lest we vegetate.

⁵For all the gods of the nations are idols,
but the LORD made the heavens.^a ⁶Honor and majesty are before Him;
strength and beauty are in His sanctuary.

⁷Ascribe to the LORD, O families of the nations, ascribe to the LORD glory and strength!
⁸Ascribe to the LORD the glory due His name;
procure an offering, and come into His courts!^f

⁹Oh, worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness!
Stand in His presence with awe, all the earth.
¹⁰Proclaim among the nations that the LORD is reigning;^g
the world is established, it cannot be overthrown, and He judges peoples with uprightness.

¹¹Let the heavens be glad and the earth rejoice;
let the sea in its vastness continually roar; ¹²let the fields and all they contain give glory;
all the trees of the forest rustle with praise ¹³before the LORD, for He is coming, for He is coming to judge the earth.
He will judge the world with justice,
the nations with His faithfulness.

God's Power and Justice

97 The LORD reigns; let the earth rejoice;
let the many islands be glad!^h ²Clouds and darkness surround Him;
righteousness and justice are the foundation of His throne.
³A fire issues from His presence and consumes His enemies on every side.

⁴His lightnings illumine the world;
the earth looks on and trembles.
⁵The mountains melt like wax before the LORD,
before Him who is LORD of all the earth.ⁱ

⁶The heavens proclaim His righteousness;
all nations see His glory.

⁷All who serve images shall be ashamed,
who brag about the worthless idols;
bow before Him in worship, all ye gods!

⁸Zion heard and was glad; the cities of Judah rejoiced because of Thy justice, O LORD.

⁹For Thou, O LORD, art Most High above all the earth;
Thou transcendest far above all gods.
¹⁰You who love the LORD, hate evil;
He faithfully preserves the lives of His devoted ones;
He rescues them from the grasp of sinners.^j

¹¹Light is sown for the righteous and joy for those whose hearts are right.

¹²You who are righteous, rejoice in the LORD;
be thankful for the consciousness of His holiness.

God Saves; Worship Him

98 O sing to the LORD a new song
because He has performed wondrous things!^k
His right hand and His holy arm have gained Him victory.
²The LORD has made known His salvation;
He has unveiled His righteousness in the sight of the nations.^l ³He has remembered His loving-kindness and His faithfulness to Israel's descendants.

e) Therefore, crown Him LORD of all

f) The offering to express [for this applies to us] acknowledgment of our utter dependence on Him and His loving care over us.

g) The Hebrews had been chosen, not merely to enjoy divine blessings, but to share them with all nations [Gen. 12:3 to Abraham; 26:4 to Isaac; 28:14 to Jacob].

h) And how glad we are that He whom we worship is in control; but all people everywhere should know it.

i) The LORD on Mount Sinai is not forgotten; His law is a covenant with believers and a threat to evildoers, like the column of darkness and light in the desert.

j) This psalm is full of quotations; its writer knew the Scriptures and used them well.

k) In the physical and in the spiritual world. "The undevout astronomer is mad."

l) So well has God shown His greatness in nature that all human beings of normal mind could know enough of Him to make them believe [Rom. 1:20].

All the ends of the earth have witnessed the salvation of our God.

⁴Make a joyful sound to the LORD, all ye lands;
break forth in joyful song; yes, sing
praises!

⁵Make music on a harp for the LORD,
with the harp and melodious song.

⁶With trumpets and sound of the horn shout ye before the King, even the
LORD!

⁷Let the sea in its vastness roar in praise,

the world and its inhabitants!

⁸Let the rivers clap their hands and the mountains sing praises
together

⁹before the LORD, for He is coming to judge the earth.

He will judge the world with justice,
the peoples with unfaltering fairness.^m

Revere God's Authority and His Holiness

99 The LORD is King; let the nations tremble!

He is enthroned between the cherubim;ⁿ let the earth quiver!

²The LORD is majestic in Zion;
He is supreme above all the nations.

³Let them revere Thy wonderful and awe-inspiring name; it is holy!^o

⁴The King's energy is keenly set on justice;

Thou dost establish equity;

Thou dost guarantee justice and truth in Jacob.

⁵Exalt the LORD, our God; bow in worship at His footstool; He is holy!

⁶Moses and Aaron were among His priests,
Samuel, too, among those who called on His name.

They petitioned the LORD and He granted their request.

⁷He instructed them from the pillar of cloud;

they observed His injunctions and the statutes He gave them.

⁸O LORD, our God, Thou didst answer
them;

Thou wast a forgiving God to them
although Thou didst make them pay for their evil practices.^p

⁹Exalt the LORD our God, and worship at His holy mountain, for the LORD our God is holy!

A Psalm for the Thank Offering

100 Make a joyful sound to the LORD, all ye lands!

²Serve the LORD with gladness!

Come into His presence with singing.^q

³Acknowledge that the LORD, He is God!

It is He who made us, and we belong
to Him;

we are His people and the sheep of His pasture.

⁴Enter into His gates with thanksgiving and into His courts with praise.

Give thanks to Him; bless His name!

⁵For the LORD is good; His loving-kindness shall continue forever,
His faithfulness throughout all generations.^r

Aiming for Perfection

A Psalm of David

101 I will sing of lovingkindness and justice;

I will make melody to Thee, O LORD.

²I will carefully observe the path of the perfect.

When wilt Thou come to me?^s

I will behave in my home with heartfelt integrity.

³I will not allow a base thought to attract my attention.

I despise crooked practices;

They shall not gain hold on me.

⁴A perverse nature shall be absent
from me;

I will not entertain evil.

m) Confirmed by Jesus in His parable of sheep and goats [Matt. 25:31 ff.].

n) Within the Holy of Holies, above the mercy seat, His Shekinah.

o) An echo, as in vss. 5 and 9, of the threefold Holy of Isaiah 6.

p) Forgiveness does not eliminate the consequences of sin in this life, as David learned.

q) That we may commune with God is reason for untold joy.

r) God keeps His covenant with us; do we live up to our obligations?

s) He senses the need of divine help to live that ideal life.

⁵I will silence him who secretly
slanders his neighbor;
I will not tolerate one who is conceited and arrogant.

⁶I look to the trustworthy in the land to be my associates.

He who walks the path of integrity,
he shall work for me.

⁷He who practices deceit shall not stay in my home;
he who habitually tells lies shall not be secure in my sight.

⁸Morning after morning I will do away with all criminals within the country that I may eliminate from the city of the LORD all those who practice sin.^t

Cry of An Afflicted Soul

A Prayer of One Afflicted when He Is Spent and Pours out His Complaint
to the LORD

102 Listen to my prayer, O LORD;
let my plea for help reach Thee.

²Do not hide Thy face from me when I have a distressful day.
Turn Thine ear toward me;
on the day when I call, answer me readily,

³For my days go up in smoke;
my bones are inflamed as a bonfire.

⁴Like grass my heart is crushed and withered^u
so that I have neglected my regular food.

⁵I am nothing but skin and bones
because of the sound of my sighing.

⁶I am like a pelican in the wilderness, like an owl among the ruins.

⁷I lie awake and feel like a sparrow alone on the roof.

⁸All day long my enemies
insult me;
those who are angry with me
curse me.

⁹For I have eaten ashes like bread and have mixed tears with my drink

¹⁰because of Thine indignation and wrath,
for Thou hast taken me up and thrown me down.^w

¹¹My days are like the evening shadow
that fades away;
I wither away like the grass.

¹²But Thou, O LORD, art
enthroned forever;
Thy fame shall last throughout all generations.^x

¹³Thou shalt arise and have mercy on Zion,
for it is time to pity her.

Yes, the set time has come, ¹⁴for Thy servants hold dear her stones;
they show sympathy for her dust.^y

¹⁵The nations, too, shall revere the name of the LORD
and all the kings of the earth Thy
glory.

¹⁶For the LORD has rebuilt Zion;
He has appeared in His glory.

¹⁷He regarded the prayer of the destitute;
He did not slight their petition.

¹⁸This shall be recorded for a generation to come;
a people yet to be born shall praise the
LORD.

¹⁹For He has kept watch from the height of His sanctuary;
from heaven the LORD kept vigil over
the earth,

²⁰to detect the groaning of the prisoners,
to release those who are destined to die;

²¹that the name of the LORD may be proclaimed in Zion,
His praise throughout Jerusalem.

²²when the nations, even the kingdoms, are brought together
for the purpose of serving the LORD.

²³He has lessened my strength on the
way;
He has shortened my days.

^t) Beginning with himself, he will clean house morally.

^u) Like growing grass trampled on until lifeless.

^w) Discouragement followed encouragement.

^x) No genuine worshiper of God grows hopeless, for He remains faithful.

^y) Jerusalem and the temple seem to be in ruins, but about to be restored, not merely for their help but for His honor.

24I plead, "O my God, take me not away in middle age;²
O Thou whose years endure
through all generations!"
25Thou didst found the earth of old, and the heavens are the work of Thy hands.
26They shall perish, but Thou
remainest.
They all shall wear out like a garment;
like a coat Thou shalt change them,
and they shall be changed.
27But Thou art the same;
Thy years shall never end.³
28The children of Thy servants shall dwell safely,
their offspring is established in Thy
presence.

God's Great Goodness

A Psalm of David

103 Bless the LORD, O my soul,
and all that is within me,
bless His holy name!^b 2Bless the LORD, O my soul,
and forget none of His benefits, 3who forgives all your iniquities, who heals all your diseases, 4who redeems your life from the grave,
who crowns you with lovingkindness
and mercy, 5who satisfies you throughout life with good things,
so that your youth is renewed like the eagle's.^c

6The LORD administers justice and fairness
to all who are oppressed.
7He revealed His ways to Moses,
His dealings to the people of Israel.
8The LORD is merciful and gracious, patiently considerate and abounding in mercy.
9He will not always show hostility nor maintain it forever.

10He has not dealt with us to the measure of our sins,

nor rewarded us as our iniquities deserve.
11For as high as the heavens are above
the earth,
so great is His mercy toward those who revere Him.
12As far as the east is from the west,^d
so far has He removed our transgressions from us.
13As a father has compassion for his children,
so the LORD tenderly sympathizes with those who revere Him.
14For He knows what we are made of;
He keeps in mind that we are dust.

15A man's days resemble grass.
He blossoms like a flower in the field; 16the wind blows over it, and it is gone,
with not a sign that it has ever been there.
17But the LORD's faithful love rests eternally upon those who revere Him^e
and His righteousness on the children's children,
18on those who are faithful to His
covenant,
who remember to carry out His instructions.
19The LORD has established His throne
in heaven,
and His kingdom rules over all.

20Bless the LORD, you His angels who abound with strength, who carry out His orders, listening to the sound of His Word!
21Bless the LORD, all you His armies, you His servants who continually do what pleases Him!
22Bless the LORD, all His works in all places of His dominion!^f
Bless the LORD, O my soul!

God's Care for His Creation

104 Bless the LORD, O my soul!
O LORD my God, Thou art
very great!

z) The singer has not fully worked out his life program as God's servant; he needs more time.
a) This magnificent section is fully quoted (Heb. 1:10-12 and 13:81).

b) Addressing our own soul is a wholesome exercise, especially when our whole being is so engaged.

c) All this is said to the poet's soul — and to ours, summing up Isaiah 61:1, on which Jesus preached at Nazareth [Luke 4:18-19] and which He showed the Baptist to be fulfilled in Him [Matt. 11:2-6]. d) A symbol of infinity.

e) How insignificantly brief a human life and how inconceivably unending God's sustaining grace!
f) Even in the old covenant, the worshiper of God feels kinship with all humanity.

Thou art clothed with honor and majesty,^g ²covering Thyself with light as with a robe,
 and stretching out the skies like a tent.
³He lays the beams of His upper chambers in the waters,
 he uses the clouds for His chariot,
 he marches on the wings of the wind, ⁴making the spirits His messengers, flames of fire His servants.
⁵He established the earth on its foundation,
 so that it should never be overthrown.

⁶Thou didst cover it with the ocean depth for a garment.^h
 Above the mountains stood the waters, ⁷which surged in retreat at Thy rebuke,
 at Thy thunderous command swirled
away, ⁸while the mountains sprang up and the valleys descended to the place which Thou didst
reserve for them.
⁹Thou hast set a boundary which they cannot pass;
 they shall never return to cover the
earth.

¹⁰He causes springs to gush forth into valleys;ⁱ
 they wind their way down through the hills.
¹¹They provide drink for every animal
of the field;
 the wild donkeys quench their thirst.
¹²The birds of the air nest beside them;
 they sing among the branches.

¹³He waters the mountains from His lofty chambers;
 the earth abounds with the fruit of Thy works.^j ¹⁴He causes the grass to spring up for the cattle,
 fruits and vegetables for man to cultivate,
 that he may derive sustenance from the land, ¹⁵wine to elate the spirit of man,
 oil to brighten his facial appearance,

and bread to improve a man's health.

¹⁶The LORD's trees are full of sap, the cedars of Lebanon which He planted.

¹⁷In them the birds build their nests;
 the stork's home is the fir tree.

¹⁸He made the mountain heights
for the wild goats,
 the rocky crags for the rock-badger's
refuge.

¹⁹He formed the moon to mark out the seasons;^k

the sun knows the time of its setting.
²⁰Thou makest darkness settle down, so that during the night
 all forest animals may roam about.

²¹The young lions roar for their prey and look to God for their feed.^l

²²When the sun rises, they slink back and lie down in their dens.

²³But man then starts out to his work and remains at his task until evening.

²⁴O LORD, how innumerable are Thy works;
 in wisdom Thou hast made them all!
 The earth is full of Thy well-made creations.

²⁵Yonder is the sea, vast and broad;
 in it are swarms too many to number,
 creatures tiny and large.

²⁶There sail the ships; in it the sea mammal Thou madest to play.

²⁷All these look to Thee to furnish their timely feed.

²⁸When Thou providest for them, they gather it.

Thou openest Thy hand, and they are satisfied with good things.

²⁹When Thou hidest Thy face, they are struck with despair.

When Thou cuttest off their breath,
 in death they return to their dust.^m

³⁰Thou sendest Thy Spirit and more are created,
 and Thou dost replenish the surface
 of the earth.

³¹May the glory of the LORD
 remain forever;

g) This song tells of nature created and ruled for God's glory.

h) The story of creation is generally followed as told us in Genesis.

i) Now the song celebrates nature as man enjoys it in daily life.

j) Interchange of "His" and "Thy" - alternating testimony and prayer.

k) Not so much annual seasons as monthly periods, so that we still use the name "month" from the moon. l) As dependent on God as we are. m) Physically similar to us.

may the LORD be pleased with His works.

³²As He looks at the earth, it trembles; when He touches the mountains, they smoke.

³³I will sing to the LORD through all my life; I will praise my God as long as I have being.

³⁴May my meditation please Him; I will be glad in the LORD.

³⁵The sinners shall perish from the earth and the ungodly be no more. Bless the LORD, O my soul! Hallelujah!

God's Care for Israel

105 O give thanks to the LORD; invoke His name; proclaim His doings among the nations.

²Sing to Him; yes, sing praises to Him; tell of all His wondrous works!

³Glory ye in His holy name; may the heart of the LORD's worshipers be joyful.^a ⁴Seek the LORD and His strength; seek His presence perpetually.

⁵Remember His marvelous deeds which He has performed, His miracles and the judgment which He has pronounced,

⁶O you who are the offspring of Abraham, His servant, you children of Jacob, His chosen ones!^b ⁷He, the LORD, is our God; His judgments reach over the whole world.

⁸He has remembered His covenant forever, the promise which He authorized to a thousand generations, ⁹the covenant He made with Abraham and His oath to Isaac.

¹⁰He also confirmed it to Jacob by decree, to Israel as an eternal covenant,^c ¹¹stating, To you will I give the land of Canaan as your inherited portion.

¹²When there were just a few of them — in fact, very few, and there as strangers —

¹³they wandered about from nation to nation,^d from one kingdom to another people.

¹⁴Yet He allowed no person to harm them;

He rebuked kings on their behalf:

¹⁵Do not touch My anointed ones; see that no harm comes to My prophets.

¹⁶He called for a famine upon the land, depriving them of their bread, the staff of life.

¹⁷Therefore He sent a man to precede them, Joseph, who was sold as a slave.

¹⁸They bound his feet tightly with chains;^e his person was laid in the irons, ¹⁹till the time his word came true, when the LORD's word showed him right.

²⁰The king sent and had him released; the ruler of many people set him free.

²¹He appointed him manager of his estate and ruler over all his possessions ²²with authority to imprison his princes as he pleased and to instruct his elders in the ways of wisdom.

²³When Israel had come to Egypt and Jacob was a migrant in the land of Ham, ²⁴there He greatly increased His people and made them stronger than their oppressors.

²⁵He then changed their heart to hate His people, to deal deceitfully with His servants.

n) Surrounded by pagans and their idols, the godly Hebrew sensed his ineffable privilege of having God to worship and serve.

o) Their history was then as we now regard it, sacred history.

p) No covenant is one-sided; there are at least two covenanters, in this case God and Abraham and his offspring through Isaac and Jacob.

q) When they and their households moved about in Canaan with their herds and flocks.

r) No chains are mentioned in Genesis 39; but they were certainly put on Joseph until he earned the jailer's confidence.

²⁶He sent Moses His servant,
and Aaron whom He had chosen.
²⁷They carried out His orders for signs against them,
His miracles against the land of Egypt.

²⁸He ordered darkness, and it grew black;
and they did not disobey His command.^a

²⁹He turned their waters into blood.^t
He killed their fish.

³⁰He made their country swarm with frogs,
even in their kings' private rooms.

³¹He commanded; the flies came in swarms
and lice throughout their land.

³²He showered them with hail instead of their rain,
coupled with lightning that flamed on their land.

³³He ruined their vines and their fig trees.

He destroyed their outlying forests.

³⁴He spoke and along came the locusts and grasshoppers in countless numbers;

³⁵they consumed all their country's vegetation
and devoured the produce of their land.

³⁶He killed all the first-born in the land,
the first fruits of all their strength.

³⁷He then led them out with silver and gold,
there were no invalids among His tribes.

³⁸Egypt was pleased at their leaving for dread of them had seized them.

³⁹He spread a cloud for a shade and a fire to give light in the darkness.^u

⁴⁰They requested, and He brought in quails
and refreshed them with bread from heaven.^v

⁴¹He opened the rock and water gushed forth;
in the desert areas it flowed like a stream.

⁴²For He remembered His sacred promise to Abraham His servant.

⁴³He brought forth His people
with joy,
His chosen ones with singing.

⁴⁴He gave them the lands of the heathen;^w

they reaped the fruit of their labors

⁴⁵that they might be faithful to His statutes
and diligently keep His laws.

Hallelujah!

God's Mercies and Israel's Rebellion

106 Hallelujah! O give thanks to the LORD, for He is good;
for His lovingkindness lasts forever.

²Who can put into words the mighty deeds of the LORD?

Who can make known all His praise?

³Blessed are they who faithfully observe justice,^x

who practice righteousness at all times!

⁴Remember me, LORD, with the favor Thou showest Thy people.

Visit me with Thy salvation,

⁵that I may share in the welfare of Thy chosen,

enjoy the happiness of Thy nation,
and glory with Thy heritage.^y

⁶We and our fathers have sinned;
we have willfully done wrong;
we have behaved wickedly.^z

⁷Our fathers did not appreciate Thy miracles in Egypt;

they did not consider the endless tokens
of Thy lovingkindness.

Instead, they rebelled near the sea,
by the Red Sea.

⁸Yet He delivered them for His own sake

that He might exhibit His power.

s) The poet draws on the last twelve chapters of Genesis, then turns to Exodus.

t) Here follows a summary of the ten plagues.

u) The column that led the Hebrews all the way from Egypt to the Jordan, assuring them of God's presence and guidance.

v) Called manna, for the question each asked of his neighbor, "What is it?"

w) The seven native and colonizing peoples in Canaan.

x) Essentially those who treat others with fairness.

y) The poet, mainly occupied with Israel's sacred history, takes time out to consider his own relationship with God, his personal salvation, his appreciation of being in the covenant.

z) Not simply as but with our fathers. These covenant people were united from generation to generation, so that parental behavior hurt or blessed their offspring — as it does today.

⁹He rebuked the Red Sea, and it dried up;
He led them through the depths as through a desert.
¹⁰He rescued them from hostile hands;
He redeemed them from the enemies' grasp;
¹¹For the waters engulfed their enemies;
not one of them survived.

¹²Then they believed His promises;
they sang of His glory.
¹³But they speedily forgot His doings;
they would not wait for His counsel.^a ¹⁴For they lusted excessively in the desert and tempted God in the wilderness, ¹⁵so He let them have what they wanted,
but sent leanness within their soul.^b

¹⁶They were jealous of Moses in the camp, of Aaron, the holy one of the LORD.
¹⁷The earth opened and swallowed Dathan;
it covered up Abiram's company.^c ¹⁸A fire broke out among their assemblage, and the flame consumed the wicked.

¹⁹They fashioned a calf at Horeb,
then worshiped the molten image.
²⁰They exchanged their glory^d
for the image of an ox that munches grass.
²¹They forgot God, their Deliverer, who had done such marvelous things in Egypt, ²²such miracles in the land of Ham,
such awe-inspiring deeds at the Red Sea.

²³Then He said He would destroy them — had not Moses, His chosen, stepped into the breach before Him, to turn Him from wiping them out in His anger.

²⁴They then spurned the desirable land;
they would not rely on His promise.
²⁵They complained while in their tents and would not listen to the voice of the LORD.
²⁶Accordingly, He solemnly swore to them that He would let them fall in the wilderness, ²⁷would scatter their offspring among the nations,
and disperse them throughout the world.

²⁸They joined themselves to Baal of Peor and ate the sacrifices to lifeless idols.
²⁹They thus made the LORD angry by their practices
so that a plague broke out among them.
³⁰But when Phinehas got up and intervened,
the plague was checked.
³¹This action was counted to him for righteousness to successive generations for ever.

³²They angered Him at the waters of Meribah,^e which made it hard for Moses on their account; ³³for when they aroused his temper,
he spoke indiscreetly with his lips.

³⁴They did not exterminate the nations^f
as the LORD had commanded them; ³⁵but they associated with those pagans
and acquired their habits.
³⁶And they offered sacrifice to their idols,
which became a seductive bait to them.
³⁷Yes, they even sacrificed their sons and their daughters to the demons.
³⁸They shed innocent blood, the blood of their sons and daughters, whom they sacrificed to the idols of Canaan

a) Divine suggestions retained to this day in the Pentateuch.

b) How rarely material prosperity is accompanied by spiritual advance!

c) Korah, the leader in that rebellion [Num. 16:1, 5, 6, 31, 32]; who died with them is not mentioned here. Descendants of his became noted writers and leaders of music and song.

d) God was Israel's glory.

e) At least seven delinquencies recorded in this psalm [vss. 7, 14, 16, 19, 24, 28, and 32], all during the forty years of travel.

f) Now four delinquencies after crossing the Jordan are enumerated [vss. 34, 35, 37, and 39].

till the land was polluted with blood.
³⁹They were defiled by what they did;
 they were immoral in their practices;

⁴⁰Therefore the LORD's anger burned against His people;
 He regarded His heritage with disgust.

⁴¹He turned them over to the control of the nations.^g

Those who hated them ruled over
 them.

⁴²Their enemies severely oppressed
 them;

they were put to submission under their power.

⁴³Many a time He delivered them, but they repeatedly reverted to their rebellious ways,
 so they went down in their sinfulness.

⁴⁴As He observed their anguish
 and heard their lamenting,

⁴⁵He remembered His covenant in their behalf and felt grieved
 according to His lovingkindness.

⁴⁶He caused them to find sympathy from those who had made them
 prisoners.

⁴⁷Deliver us, O LORD our God; bring us together from among the nations, so we may render thanks to Thy holy name and exult in praising
 Thee.

⁴⁸Blessed be the LORD, the God of Israel, from everlasting to everlasting!
 And let all the people say, "Amen!"
 Hallelujah!^h

The Song of the Redeemed

107 Give thanks to the LORD for He is good;
 for His lovingkindness is everlasting!^b

²Let the LORD's redeemed say so, those He has delivered from trouble ³and gathered in from all lands,
 from the east and from the west,
 from the north and from the south.ⁱ

⁴Some wandered in desert wastes, finding no road to a residence city.

⁵Hungry and thirsty,
 their souls became faint within them.

⁶When they cried out to the LORD in their distress

He delivered them from their plight, ⁷guiding them by a straight course to the residence city they sought.

⁸Let them give thanks to the LORD for His mercy

and for His wonderful deeds to the children of men!^j

⁹For He satisfies the thirsty soul and provides the hungry with good.

¹⁰Some sat in darkness and deep gloom,

prisoners in irons and in misery, ¹¹for they had rebelled against God's commands

and scorned the counsel of the Most High.

¹²He, therefore, brought them low in trouble and sorrow
 and they stumbled from weakness with none to help.

¹³They, too, in their straits called out
 to the LORD,

and He delivered them from all their trials,

¹⁴bringing them out of their darkness and dire despair,
 snapping their bands apart.

¹⁵Let them give thanks to the LORD for His lovingkindness and His wonderful works to the children of men!

¹⁶For He has shattered gates of bronze and has broken the iron bars.

¹⁷Some developed illness because of their wicked ways

and were afflicted on account of sin;^k ¹⁸to them their food became abhorrent, and they were close to the gates of
 death.

¹⁹But they cried out to the LORD in their sore distress

g) Divine discipline administered [vss. 41 and 43]. *) Here ends the Fourth Book.

h) This is a striking song of thanksgiving used chiefly in the celebration of the great festivals at the Jerusalem temple. Vss. 1-3 are introductory; then in vs. 4 instances of peril and rescue are cited. In each, Israel is in dire straits, cries out to the LORD, is delivered, and gives thanks.

i) Clearly the psalm was composed in the time when the Jews gathered from all the known world for the annual feasts.

j) Each of the four sections of the psalm begins with the word "some" and closes near the end with the refrain, "Let them give thanks."

k) In Israel it was the common belief that sickness was due to sin. This concept runs through many psalms. In good part, the Book of Job was written to dispel this view, but the notion was deep seated and was scarcely shaken. However, sin and sickness are related.

and He delivered them from their troubles.

²⁰He sent out His word to heal them and to save their lives from the grave.

²¹Let them give thanks to the LORD for His lovingkindness and His wonderful works to the children of men!

²²Let them bring their thank offerings and gladly tell of His doings.

²³Some went out to sea in ships, there to engage in trade on the great waters.

²⁴These witnessed the works of the LORD, His wonders in the deep.

²⁵At His command storm winds arose and waves rolled high because of them;

²⁶they mounted to heaven, then sank back to the depths, their courage melting in anguish.

²⁷They went reeling and staggering like a drunken man,

all completely at their wits' end.

²⁸Then they cried out to the LORD in their distress and He saved them from their sorry plight.

²⁹For He stilled the storm to a zephyr, the waves of the sea became quiet.

³⁰And the men were glad at the hushing of the waves, and the LORD brought them to their longed-for haven.

³¹Let them give thanks to the LORD for His lovingkindness and for His wonderful works to the children of men!

³²Let them exalt Him

in the congregation of the people and praise Him in the assembly of the elders.

³³He turns rivers into a desert and fountains of water into thirsty ground;¹

³⁴a fruitful land He makes a salty marsh

on account of the wickedness of those who live there.

³⁵He changes desert places into pools of water and dry ground into springs.

³⁶There He causes the hungry to settle that they may build a city to live in, ³⁷sow fields and plant vineyards and gather fruitful harvests.

³⁸He also blesses them and causes their number to increase many fold, while their cattle He does not allow to diminish.

³⁹Again they become few and are brought low by oppression, misfortune, and sorrow.

⁴⁰He pours contempt on princes and makes them wander over pathless wastes.

⁴¹The poor, however, He lifts out of their afflictions and miseries and makes their families like a fruitful flock.

⁴²Upright men will see this and rejoice, while all wrongdoers will be silent.

⁴³Let the wise man think this over and mark well the LORD's benevolent doings.

Thanksgiving and Petition

A Song, A Psalm of David

108 My heart, O God, is steadfast.

I will sing, yes, I will make melody with my soul.

²Awake, harp; awake, lyre; for I will arouse the dawn!

³I will praise Thee, O LORD, among the peoples,

I will chant praises to Thee among the nations.

⁴For Thy lovingkindness is higher than the heavens, and Thy faithfulness soars to the skies.

⁵Be Thou exalted, O God, beyond the heavens, and may Thy glory tower over all the earth!

⁶To the end that Thy beloved be delivered, save by Thy right hand, O God, and respond to me!

⁷God spoke in His holiness: With rejoicing I will apportion Shechem and measure the valley of Succoth.^m

1) Vss. 33-43 are not a part of the psalm of thanksgiving but constitute a hymn of a general character, descriptive of the usual ways of God. He brings princes low, provides help for the poor.

m) Thus through the divine triumph, Canaan became Israel's land.

⁸Gilead is Mine, Manasseh, too, is Mine; Ephraim is the defense of My head,^o while Judah is My scepter.
⁹Moab is My washbasin;
 upon Edom I cast My shoe;^p
 over Philistia I will shout in victory.

¹⁰Who will lead me to the fenced city?
 Who will bring me into Edom?
¹¹Hast Thou not cast us off, O God?
 Thou dost not go out, O God, with our armies.
¹²Oh, grant us help against the enemy,
 for vain is the help of man.
¹³With God we shall do valiantly, for He will tread down our foes.^a Petition of One Betrayed

To the Choirmaster. A Psalm of David 109 Do not remain silent, O God of my praise;
²for evil men have opened wicked mouths against me
 and charged me with a lying tongue, ³besetting me around with words of hatred,
 attacking me without cause.^r ⁴For my love they return enmity
 even while I am at prayer.
⁵In such manner they repay me evil for good,
 hatred for my affection.

⁶Set a wicked judge over him,
 I pray,^s
 and let a perverse accuser^t stand at his right hand!
⁷And when his case is tried, let him
 come off guilty,
 and let his prayer pass for sin!
⁸May his days be few,
 and may another take his office!

⁹May his children be fatherless
 and his wife become a widow;

¹⁰his children wandering off, begging bread and driven out from home.

¹¹May creditors seize all he has and strangers plunder the fruits of his toil!

¹²Let no one show him kindness or even pity his fatherless little ones!

¹³Instead, let his sons be cut off and his name be blotted out in the following generation!

¹⁴May the evil deeds of his father be remembered before the LORD and the sins of his mother never once be forgotten!

¹⁵May all these things come before the LORD continually,
 and the recollection of him be rooted
 out from the earth;

¹⁶Let it be recalled that it never occurred to him to show kindness;
 instead, he persecuted the poor, the needy,
 and the brokenhearted even unto
 death.

¹⁷He loved cursing; so may cursing overtake him!
 He had no concern for blessing; so may blessing be far from him!

¹⁸He dressed himself with cursing as with his coat;
 so may it sink into his flesh like water
 and to his bones like oil!

¹⁹May it then be as the robe he wraps around him
 and like the girdle he buckles on daily!
²⁰May this be the recompense from the LORD to my accusers and to those who threaten my life with evil!

²¹But Thou, O God, my LORD, for Thy name's sake, deal Thou
 with me;
 rescue me for the sake of the goodness of Thy love.

o) As a helmet. p) Poetic expression for "dominate," "conquer."

q) In need of help, Israel can put her trust in the LORD alone. For further comment, see Psalms 57 and 60. This psalm has one striking peculiarity; vss. 1-5 come from 57:7-11 and vss. 6-13 from 60:5-12.

r) Vss. 1-5 and 21-31 present a plaint of the psalmist couched in beautiful poetic speech. In 6-20, the imprecation comes with a bit of a shock to us; for the psalmist, the principles of Jesus had not come yet.

s) The singular here means that the psalmist has the worst man among his enemies, a particular individual, in mind.

t) In a court trial, the one who brought the charges was called the satan, the accuser. He stood at the right hand of the offender. The word "satan" is never used as a proper name in the O.T.

²²For I am needy and afflicted, and my heart is pierced within me.

²³Like a lengthening shadow, I go hence; like a locust, I am shaken off.^u ²⁴My knees give way, due to fasting, my flesh is lean and spare.

²⁵I have become a laughingstock to others; they look at me and shake their heads.

²⁶Help me, O LORD, my God!

Save me in Thy lovingkindness,

²⁷so they may acknowledge that this is Thy hand.

Thou, the LORD, hast done it.

²⁸They may curse, but do Thou bless!

Let them that stand against me be confounded,

and let Thy servant rejoice!

²⁹Let my accusers be clothed in disgrace, and let them wrap themselves in their shame as in a mantle!

³⁰I will give thanks to the LORD in a loud voice;

in a great congregation I will praise Him.

³¹For He stands at the right hand of the needy to save him from those who would judge his soul.

The Divine Priest-King

A Psalm of David

110 The LORD has said to my Lord:

Sit at my right hand until I make Thine^v enemies

a footstool for Thy feet.^w

²The scepter of Thy strength^x

the LORD sends forth from Zion.

Rule, then, in the midst of Thy foes.

³Thy people will offer themselves freely in the day of Thy power.

In consecrated array at early dawn,

Thine is the flower of Thy young men.^y

⁴The LORD has sworn and will not change:

Thou art priest forever

after the order of Melchizedek.^w

⁵The LORD is at Thy right hand and will shatter kings in the day of His indignation.

⁶He will execute judgment among the nations;

He will fill them with corpses, and their chieftains He will shatter over a broad land.

⁷He will drink from the brook on the way;

therefore He lifts up the head.

Thanks for Blessings

111 Hallelujah!

With all my heart I give thanks to the LORD in the gathering of the upright and in the congregation.

²Great are the doings of the LORD, sought out by all who delight in them.

³Majestic and glorious are His acts, and His righteousness stands for ever.

⁴He has made His wondrous deeds to be remembered, for the LORD is gracious and merciful.

⁵He provides for those who revere Him and will remember His covenant

forever.

⁶His mighty deeds He made known to His people

when He gave them the nations for their heritage.

⁷The works of His hands are faithful and right and all His decrees are trustworthy,

⁸standing firm for ever and ever, done in faithfulness and uprightness.

⁹He sent His people redemption and commanded His covenant to be

for ever.

Holy and awe-inspiring is His name.

¹⁰For reverence of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom.

u) The psalmist is ill, that is why he has become the laughingstock of others. They believe it is punishment for sin, a common belief in Israel, as already pointed out.

v) Jesus quotes this verse as referring to Himself (Mt. 22:42-44, etc.), hence we capitalize "Thy."

w) This is a royal psalm, in which God speaks directly to the king, inviting him to sit at His right hand while God makes him victorious over all his foes. God gives him another office, that of priest, like the priest-king, Melchizedek. This psalm receives extensive mention in the N.T. and was early regarded as Messianic.

x) The king regularly carried a hallowed staff, symbol of his God-given rule; he used it in battle, and God gave him victory. The first line of vs. 3 belongs with vs. 2.

y) In Israel, the morning dew was life-giving to man as well as to vegetation.

There is insight in all who observe it.
His praise is everlasting.²

The Blessed Righteous

112 Hallelujah!
Oh, the bliss of the man who
reveres the LORD,
who greatly delights in His ordinances!^a ²His offspring shall be the mighty in
the land;
a blessing shall attend the race of the upright.

³Wealth and riches are in his house,
and his righteousness shall stand firm
for ever.

⁴Light rises for the upright in times of darkness;
gracious and merciful is the good man.
⁵It is well with him who is generous and ready to lend,
the man who conducts his business with fairness.

⁶Such a man will never be laid low,
for the just shall be held in remembrance for ever.

⁷He need never fear any evil report;
his heart will remain firm,
fully trusting in the LORD.

⁸He will be joyful and unafraid
while he looks upon his adversaries.
⁹He distributes freely to the poor and his righteousness will stand firm
for ever;
his horn mounts high in honor.

¹⁰The wicked will see this with vexation;
he will gnash his teeth, but he will
disappear,
and the hope of the wicked shall come
to naught.

The Lord Raises the Lowly

113 Hallelujah!
Praise the LORD, you servants of His, praise the LORD's name!^b ²Blessed be the name of the LORD from now to all eternity and for evermore!

³From where the sun rises to where it sets,
the name of the LORD shall receive
praise!

⁴High above all nations is the
LORD
and His glory is exalted above the heavens.

⁵Who is like the LORD our God,
who is enthroned on high,

⁶who looks down upon the heavens and the earth?

⁷He raises up the poor from the dust
and lifts the needy out of the ash heap,

⁸to have him sit by the side of princes,
with the noblest of His people.

⁹He gives the barren wife a home to live in,
now the joyous mother of children.
Hallelujah!^c

An Exodus Memorial

114 When Israel came forth from Egypt,^d
the house of Jacob from a people of alien speech,

²Judah became His holy place,
Israel His dominion.

³The sea saw it and fled,
the Jordan flowed backwards.

⁴The mountains skipped like rams and the hills like lambs.

⁵What ailed you, sea, that made you flee?
And you, Jordan, that made you turn back in your course?

⁶You too, mountains, that you skipped like rams?
Or you, hills, like lambs?

z) Psalms 111 and 112 are acrostic in form, each line beginning with the appropriate letter of the Hebrew alphabet. Eight of the psalms follow this acrostic form of poetic production.

a) Psalm 112 belongs among the "wisdom psalms," like Psalms 1, 14, and many others; wisdom in the O.T. plays a great role; see the books of Proverbs, Job, etc. He is wise who honors the will of God.

b) Psalms 113-118 are known as the Hallel. In the Jewish church, they were used especially for the great festivals of Passover, Tabernacles, and the feast of Weeks. Psalm 113 reminds us of the LORD's prayer: "Hallowed be Thy name."

c) In the Hebrew text, "Hallelujah" is added at the end of Psalm 113; in the Greek, it is found before verse 1 of 114.

d) For the events, see the following passages: the sea fled [Ex. 14:21]; Jordan turned back [Josh. 3:13, 16 and 4:7, 22, 23]; mountains trembling [Ex. 19:18, Judg. 5:5]; rocks turned into a pool [Ex. 17:1-6].

⁷Go on, earth, tremble at the presence of the LORD,
at the presence of the God of Jacob, ⁸who turned the rock into a water pool,
the flint into a fountain of water!

To God Alone the Glory

115 Not to us, O LORD, not to us, but to Thy name give glory
because of Thy loving-kindness and Thy truth.

²Why should the pagan peoples
say,
"Where now is their God?"
³But our God is in the heavens;
whatsoever pleased Him, He has done.
⁴Their idols are silver and gold;
they are the work of human hands.
⁵Mouths have they, but they cannot speak;
eyes, too, but they do not see.
⁶Ears they have, but they cannot hear;
and noses, but they cannot smell.
⁷They have hands, as well, but they cannot feel;
and feet, but they cannot walk;
neither do they produce any sound in their throats.
⁸Those who make them and all putting their trust in them shall become like
them.

⁹O house of Israel, trust in the
LORD!
Their help and shield is He.
¹⁰O house of Aaron, trust in the LORD!
Their help and shield is He.
¹¹All you who revere the LORD, put your trust in the LORD!
Their help and shield is He.
¹²The LORD has been mindful of us;
He will bless us.
He will bless the house of Israel;
He will bless the house of Aaron;
¹³the LORD will bless those who revere
Him, both small and great.
¹⁴May the LORD give you increase,

both you and your children!
¹⁵You are blessed of the LORD,
who made heaven and earth.
¹⁶The heavens are the LORD's heavens, but the earth He has given to the children of men.

¹⁷The dead do not praise the
LORD,
nor do any who go down into the silence.
¹⁸But we, we will bless the LORD,
from now and for ever. Hallelujah!^a

A Saved Soul Is Grateful

116 I love the LORD for He hears my voice, my supplications.
²Because He has inclined His ear
to me,
therefore I will call on Him as long as I live.
³The cords of death were around me;
the terrors of the grave had laid hold
of me;
I suffered anguish and grief.^c ⁴Then I called on the name of the
LORD:
"I beseech Thee, O LORD, save my life!"

⁵Gracious is the LORD and
righteous;
indeed, our God is merciful.
⁶The LORD takes care of the helpless;
I was brought low, and He saved me.
⁷Return to your rest, O my soul, for the LORD has dealt bountifully with
you.
⁸For Thou hast saved my soul from death, my eyes from tears,
and my feet from stumbling.
⁹I will walk before the LORD
in the land of the living.

¹⁰I clung to my faith, even when I said,
"I am sorely afflicted."
¹¹I said in my alarm,
"Men are all deceitful."^h ¹²What return shall I make to the LORD
for all His bounties to me?

e) Psalm 115 stands out in three ways: it stresses pure monotheism; it impresses upon Israel the necessity of putting her trust in God, and it illustrates the place of singing in the temple service.
f) A remarkable confession. The psalmist had passed through some almost fatal experience in which he cried out to the LORD and was delivered.
g) Not so much that they are evil-minded, but that they lack wisdom; if you put hope in them, you will be misled. Vss. 10 and 11 are difficult; we cannot be sure we have caught their full meaning. However, it seems that the psalmist is returning in vss. 10-19 to review again his terrible experience from which God had delivered him, asking how he can requite the LORD for His marvellous deed in saving him from the grave, and the following verses are his answer.

13I will take the cup of salvation
and call on the name of the LORD.
14I will pay my vows to the LORD
in the presence of all His people.

15Precious in the eyes of the LORD¹ is the death of His saints.
16O LORD, I am Thy servant; I am

Thy servant,
the son of Thy handmaid.
Thou hast loosed my bonds.^j 17I will offer to Thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving

and call on the name of the LORD.

18I will pay my vows to the LORD
in the presence of all His people,

19in the courts of the house of the LORD,
in the midst of you, O Jerusalem.
Hallelujah!

World Praise to God

117 Praise the LORD, all you nations!

Laud Him, all you peoples!

2For His mercy toward us is great and the truth of the LORD is everlasting.^k
Praise the LORD!

Our Everlasting Redeemer

118 Give thanks to the LORD,
for He is good;
for His lovingkindness is everlasting!

2Let the house of Israel say,
"For His lovingkindness is everlasting."

3Let the house of Aaron say,
"For His lovingkindness is everlasting."

4Let those who worship the LORD say,
"For His lovingkindness is everlasting."^l

5In my distress I cried out to my
LORD,
and He answered me with release.

6The LORD is for me; I shall not fear.

What can man do to me?

7The LORD is for me; He is my help, and I look in triumph on them that hate me.

8It is better to rely on the LORD
than to put confidence in man.

9It is better to rely on the LORD
than to put confidence in princes.

10All nations encircled me, and in the name of the LORD I^m beat them down.

11They encircled me, yes, they were all about me,

but in the name of the LORD I beat
them down.

12They swarmed around me as bees;
they are burned out as a fire of thorns;
in the name of the LORD I beat
them down.

13Hard pressed, about to fall was I,
but the LORD came to my help.

14The LORD is my strength and my song;
He has become my salvation.

15The shout of joy and victory is in the tents of the righteous;
the right hand of the LORD is doing
valiantly.

16The right hand of the LORD is lifted up;
the right hand of the LORD does
valiantly.

17I shall not die, but live, and tell of the LORD's deeds.

18The LORD has chastened me sorely, but He has not given me over unto
death.

19Open to me the gates of
righteousness;
through them I will enter in and give thanks to the LORD.ⁿ

20This is the gate of the LORD, and through it the righteous shall enter in.^o

21I will give thanks to Thee for Thou

i) That is, the death of His saints is of great concern to Him; He does not lightly permit it.

j) Loosed me from the bonds of death.

k) This is the shortest chapter in the Bible, and near the center.

l) Psalm 118 is the last of the Hallel Psalms [Psalms of Thanksgiving]. It was clearly intended to be sung in the ritual service of the Temple. Luther called this his psalm because it came to his help in so many grave situations. During later centuries, it was employed particularly at the Feast of Tabernacles.

m) The "I" here is the nation. The celebrating congregation is involved, represented at times by the leading soloist, at times by the choir, at times by the congregation.

n) The procession has reached the gate of the temple and, halting, calls to the Levites within to open it.

o) A Levite within answers the call that comes from without the gate. Who may enter the house of the Lord? See Psalm 15 for the answer.

hast answered me
and hast become my deliverer.

²²The stone which the builders rejected

has become the head of the corner;

²³This is the LORD's doing, and it is marvelous in our eyes.^p

²⁴This is the day which the LORD has made;

let us rejoice and be glad in it.

²⁵O LORD, do grant salvation;

O LORD, do grant prosperity!

²⁶Blessed is he who comes in the name of the LORD!

We bless you from the LORD's house.^q

²⁷The LORD is God; He has supplied us with light.

Bind the festal offering with woven strands to the horns of the altar.

²⁸Thou art my God, and I will give

Thee thanks;

my God, and I will extol Thee.

²⁹Give thanks to the LORD, for He is good,

for His loving-kindness is everlasting.

Aleph^r

119 Blessed are those whose way is upright,^a who walk^t in the law^u of the LORD!

¹²Blessed are those who keep His testimonies,^v who seek Him wholeheartedly,^w

¹³who also commit no unrighteousness;
they walk in His ways.

¹⁴Thou hast prescribed Thy precepts to be observed diligently.^x

⁵Oh, that my ways may be established in keeping Thy statutes!^y

⁶Then I shall not be brought to confusion when I respect all Thy commandments.

⁷I will give thanks to Thee with integrity of heart when I learn Thy righteous judgments.^z

⁸I will keep Thy statutes; oh, do not forsake me completely!

Beth

⁹How can a young man^a cleanse his way? By living in agreement with Thy word.

¹⁰Wholeheartedly I will seek Thee;
oh, do not let me stray^b from Thy commandments!

¹¹Thy word have I stored^c up in my heart, that I might not sin against Thee.

¹²Blessed art Thou, O LORD;
teach me Thy statutes!

¹³With my lips^d I have declared all the ordinances of Thy mouth.

¹⁴I have rejoiced in the way of Thy testimonies, as much as in all riches.

¹⁵I will meditate^e on Thy precepts and have respect for Thy ways.^f

¹⁶I take great delight^g in Thy statutes;
I will not forget Thy word.

Gimel^h

¹⁷Deal generously with Thy servant, that I may live and observe Thy word.

¹⁸Open my eyes,ⁱ that I may contemplate the wonders of Thy law.

¹⁹I am a stranger on earth; do not hide Thy commandments from me.^j

²⁰My soul is breaking with longing for Thine ordinances at all times.

²¹Thou dost rebuke the arrogant,

p) A reference to Isaiah 28:16 where God lays the cornerstone of His Kingdom in Zion. The modern builders, the heathen nations, have rejected Zion, but they reckon without the LORD. His kingdom is sure; it is the day of the LORD.

q) The procession is inside the gate now, and they move in a sacred dance or march around the altar, waving palm branches and shouting their joy.

r) The twenty-two chapters of this psalm each have eight sentences beginning with the same letter of the Hebrew alphabet, beginning with Aleph, our "A", the Beth, our "B", and so successively, so there are 22 times 8 or 176 verses.

s) Perfection is evidenced by godly behavior.

t) By the revealed will of God, they order their conduct and conversation.

u) Torah - the whole code of God's revealed will.

v) Another name for the Law [see Psalm 78:5]; commands to do right and to shun wrong.

w) An expression characteristic of this psalm. Cf. vs. 10, 34, 58, 69, 145.

x) With strict attention and constancy. y) Properly applied to public law.

z) Decrees, laws issuing in acts - no punishments implied, but possible.

a) Especially exposed to temptation. b) Step aside, either in ignorance or in willfulness.

c) As personal and jealously guarded treasure - "no merely outward rule of conduct, but a power and a life within." d) Medium for commending God's law to others.

e) Could mean "converse about." f) The paths of life marked out by the law.

g) "Find my chief pleasure in."

h) Gimel stands for our "G". There is no "C" in Hebrew. We need none, either, having "K" and "S" as do the Hebrews. i) Deep treasures of God's word are spiritually discerned.

j) Having no experience or knowledge of the world; hence, in special need of divine guidance.

the accursed, who err from Thy commandments.

²²Remove from me reproach and contempt, for I have observed Thy testimonies.

²³Princes also sat and slandered me, but Thy servant meditated on Thy statutes.

²⁴Yes, Thy testimonies are my delight and are my counsellors.

Daleth

²⁵My soul cleaves to the dust; revive^k me according to Thy word.

²⁶I confessed my ways,^l and Thou hast answered me; teach me Thy statutes.

²⁷Help me to understand the way of Thy precepts; so shall I meditate on Thy wondrous works.

²⁸My soul weeps out of grief; strengthen Thou me according to Thy word.

²⁹Remove from me the way of falsehood,^m and graciously grant me Thy Law.

³⁰I have chosenⁿ the way of faithfulness; Thine ordinances I have found worthy.

³¹I cling to Thy testimonies; O LORD, put me not to shame!

³²I will run^o in the way of Thy commandments when Thou dost open up my heart.^p

He

³³Teach me, O LORD, the way of Thy statutes, and I shall keep them to the end.^q

³⁴Give me understanding, and I shall observe Thy law, and keep^r it wholeheartedly.

³⁵Make me walk^s in the path of Thy commandments, for I delight in them.

³⁶Incline my heart to Thy testimonies and not to covetousness.

³⁷Turn away^t my eyes from looking at futilities,^u and revive me in Thy ways.

³⁸Confirm to Thy servant what Thou hast said, which is for those who revere Thee.

³⁹Turn away my reproach, from which I shrink; for Thine ordinances are good.

⁴⁰Truly, I yearn for Thy precepts; give me life according to Thy righteousness.

Vav

⁴¹May Thy lovingkindness come to me, O LORD, even my salvation,^v according to Thy word;

⁴²then I shall have a word to answer the one reproaching me, for I trust in Thy word.

⁴³Do not take the word of truth completely out of my mouth, for I am awaiting Thine ordinances.

⁴⁴Then I will keep Thy law continually for ever and ever.

⁴⁵I shall walk with freedom,^w for I have sought Thy precepts.

⁴⁶I will also speak of Thy testimonies before kings,^x and I shall not be put to shame.

⁴⁷I take delight in Thy commandments, which I love.

⁴⁸I will lift up my hands^y also to Thy commandments, which I love, and I will meditate on Thy statutes.

Zayin

⁴⁹Remember the word to Thy servant, because Thou hast made me hope.

⁵⁰This is my comfort in my affliction; what Thou hast said has brought life to me.

⁵¹The arrogant have had me in complete derision, yet I have not deviated from Thy law.

⁵²As I remember Thine ordinances of old, O LORD, I am comforted.

⁵³Burning indignation has seized me because of the wicked who forsake Thy word.

⁵⁴Thy statutes have been my songs in the house of my pilgrimage.

⁵⁵I remember Thy name, O LORD, in the night,^z and I observe Thy law.

k) Restore to vigorous life and health. l) Failures and ministrings.

m) Of every kind of error and deception. n) Indicating the set purpose.

o) Indicates earnestness. p) Expand with a sense of freedom and holy joy. q) Of my life.

r) "Obey." s) From an inward impulse. t) Or, "aid me to turn aside from."

u) Usual word for idols or idolatry. v) Daily deliverance from the power of sin.

w) Hebrew: "in a broad place" — free from constraint and intimidation.

x) Words especially suitable for Ezra and Nehemiah. y) In welcome greetings.

z) Both actual night and nighttime of doubting and fear.

⁵⁶Thus it has happened to me, for I have observed Thy precepts.

Kheth

⁵⁷The LORD is my inheritance; I promised that I would keep Thy words.

⁵⁸Wholeheartedly I sought Thy favor;^a be merciful to me according to Thy word.

⁵⁹I pondered my ways and turned my feet to Thy testimonies.

⁶⁰I made haste^b and did not tarry to observe Thy commandments.

⁶¹The snares of the wicked have coiled around me, but I have not forgotten Thy law.

⁶²At midnight^c I will rise and offer thanks to Thee, because of Thy righteous ordinances.

⁶³I am a companion of all who revere Thee and of those who keep Thy precepts.

⁶⁴The earth, O LORD, is full of Thy lovingkindness; teach me Thy statutes.

Teth

⁶⁵Thou hast dealt well with Thy servant, O LORD, according to Thy word.

⁶⁶Teach me good taste^d and knowledge, for I have confidence in Thy commandments.

⁶⁷Before I was afflicted, I went astray; but now I keep Thy saying.

⁶⁸Thou art good and doest good; teach me Thy statutes.

⁶⁹The arrogant have put together a lie against me;^e with all my heart I will observe Thy precepts.

⁷⁰Their heart is unfeeling as grease;^f but I delight in Thy law.

⁷¹It is good for me that I was afflicted, so that I may learn Thy statutes.

⁷²The law from Thy mouth is better to me than thousands of gold and silver pieces.

Yodh

⁷³Thy hands have made and prepared me; give me understanding, that I may learn Thy commandments.

⁷⁴Those who revere Thee shall see^g me and be glad, because I have hoped in Thy word.

⁷⁵I know, O LORD, that Thy judgments are righteous and that in faithfulness Thou hast afflicted me.

⁷⁶Let, I beseech Thee, Thy lovingkindness be for my comfort, according to what Thou didst say to Thy servant.

⁷⁷Let Thy compassion come upon me, that I may live; for Thy Law is my delight.

⁷⁸Let the arrogant be put to shame; they have distorted my cause deceitfully;^h but I will meditate on Thy precepts.

⁷⁹Let those who revere Thee turn to me,ⁱ and they shall know Thy testimonies.

⁸⁰Let my heart be healthy^j in Thy statutes, that I may not be ashamed.

Kaph

⁸¹My soul longs^k for Thy salvation, but I hope in Thy word.

⁸²My eyes peer longingly for Thy promise,^l while I say, "when wilt Thou comfort me?"

⁸³For I have become like a wineskin in the smoke,^m yet I do not forget Thy statutes.

⁸⁴How many days must Thy servant wait? When wilt Thou judge those who persecute me?

⁸⁵The proud have digged pitfallsⁿ for me, men who do not mind Thy Law.

⁸⁶All Thy commandments are faithful; they persecute me undeservedly; help Thou me!

a) Hebrew: "face." b) The signs of hearty earnestness.

c) Showing his constant thought of God. Paul and Silas at midnight sang their thanks [Acts 16:25]. d) Wise and right discernment.

e) Patched up, fabricated a lie as they did against Nehemiah. See Neh. 6:6-13.

f) Obdurate and unfeeling. g) As a recovered man purified in affliction.

h) Oppressing unjustly, without cause. i) For companionship.

j) Sincerity, wholeness is an O. T. ideal. k) With long and eager watching. See Psalm 84:3.

l) Weary from watching for the fulfillment of God's promise.

m) Shriveled and blackened by the smoke in which it hangs. n) Used to ensnare animals.

- ⁸⁷They almost finished me in the land,
but I did not forsake Thy precepts.
⁸⁸Revive me according to Thy loving-kindness; then I shall keep the testimony of Thy mouth.

Lamedh

- ⁸⁹For ever, O LORD, Thy word^a standeth firm in the heavens.
⁹⁰Thy faithfulness is from generation to generation; Thou hast established the earth, and it stands.
⁹¹They stand today in accordance with Thine ordinances; all things are Thy servants.
⁹²Unless Thy Law had been my delight, I would have perished^b in my affliction.
⁹³I will never forget^c Thy precepts; with them Thou hast granted me
life.
⁹⁴I am Thine, save me, for I have sought Thy precepts.
⁹⁵When the wicked waited^d to destroy me, I considered Thy testimonies.
⁹⁶I have seen limits to all things, however perfect; but Thy commandment is exceedingly broad.

Mem

- ⁹⁷Oh, how I love Thy law! It is my meditation all the day.^e ⁹⁸Thy commandments make me wiser than my enemies, for they are ever with me.
⁹⁹I have deeper insight than all my instructors, because Thy testimonies are my meditation.
¹⁰⁰I have a better grasp on truth than have the elders,^f because I have kept Thy precepts.
¹⁰¹I have refrained my feet from every evil way, that I might observe Thy word.
¹⁰²I have not turned aside from Thine ordinances, for Thou hast taught me.

- ¹⁰³How pleasant to my taste^g is what Thou hast said! Sweeter than honey^h in my mouth!

- ¹⁰⁴Through Thy precepts I gain discernment; therefore I hate every false way.

Nun

- ¹⁰⁵Thy word is a lamp^w to my feet and a light to my path.^x ¹⁰⁶I have sworn^y and have confirmed it, that I will observe Thy righteous ordinances.
¹⁰⁷I am afflicted exceedingly;^z revive me, O LORD, according to Thy word!
¹⁰⁸Accept, I beseech Thee, the freewill offerings^a of my mouth, O LORD, and teach me Thine ordinances.
¹⁰⁹My life is continually in danger,^b
yet I do not forget Thy Law.

- ¹¹⁰The wicked have laid a snare^c
for me, yet I have not strayed from Thy precepts.
¹¹¹Thy testimonies are my heritage for ever; they are the joy of my heart.
¹¹²I have set my heart^d on practicing Thy statutes for ever, even to the end.

Samekh

- ¹¹³I hate waverers,^e but Thy Law
I love.
¹¹⁴Thou art my hiding-place and my shield; I hope in Thy word.
¹¹⁵Depart^f from me, you evildoers, that I may keep the commandments of
my God.
¹¹⁶Uphold me according to Thy word, that I may live; let me not be put to shame with my expectation!
¹¹⁷Hold me up, and I shall be safe and shall have respect for Thy statutes continually.

o) Indicating its everlasting, unchanging character.

p) By giving way to despair and then forsaking God. q) A firm and earnest resolve.

r) Watching for a chance to trip him. s) A strong figure for "constantly."

t) Aged men — wise by fruitage of long experience.

u) Hebrew: "palate" — as the seat of the sense of taste. v) First mentioned in Genesis 43:11.

w) The lamp, or lantern, was held low to throw its light on the steps. x) Or a sun by day.

y) A solemn resolve or public announcement.

z) Reference to his earnest wrestling to hold on to his faith in God.

a) A sacrifice of gratitude, beyond any requirements of the ceremonial law.

b) Hebrew — "My soul is continually in my hand."

c) The peril referred to in vss. 23, 51, 61, 69, 85, 95, etc.

d) With all holy resolves and persuasions.

e) Those who are inconstant — whose heart is not wholly with God — "doubters," "sceptics," "double-minded men." f) "Go away, it is quite useless to tempt me."

- ¹¹⁸Thou dost reject all those who stray from Thy statutes, for their own lying deceives them.
¹¹⁹Thou hast destroyed all the wicked of the earth like dross;^h therefore I love Thy testimonies.
¹²⁰My flesh shudders in awe of Thee; I fear in the presence of Thy judgments.

Ayin

- ¹²¹I have practiced justice and righteousness; leave me not to those who would oppress me.
¹²²Be suretyⁱ for Thy servant for good; let not the arrogant oppress me.
¹²³My eyes grow dim, watching for Thy salvation and for Thy righteous utterance.
¹²⁴Deal with Thy servant according to Thy lovingkindness,^j and teach me Thy statutes.
¹²⁵I am Thy servant.^k Give me understanding, that I may know Thy testimonies.

- ¹²⁶Time is ripe for the LORD to take action;^l they have violated Thy law.^m ¹²⁷Therefore I love Thy commandments above gold, yes, above fine gold.
¹²⁸Therefore I esteem fair all Thy precepts regarding everything; I hate every false way.

Pe

- ¹²⁹Thy testimonies are marvelous;ⁿ therefore my soul keeps them.
¹³⁰The opening up^o of Thy words gives light; it supplies understanding to the simple.
¹³¹I opened my mouth wide and sighed,^p because I yearned for Thy commandments.
¹³²Turn Thou to me and have mercy on me, as is Thy way^q with those who love Thy name.
¹³³Order^r my footsteps in Thy word;

and do not let any iniquity have dominion over me.

- ¹³⁴Redeem me from the oppression of man, and I will keep Thy precepts.
¹³⁵Make Thy face shine^s upon Thy servant, and teach me Thy statutes.
¹³⁶Tears run from my eyes like water brooks,^t because men do not keep Thy law.

Tsadhe

- ¹³⁷Thou art righteous, O LORD, and Thy judgments are fair.^u ¹³⁸Thou hast appointed Thy testimonies in righteousness and in great faithfulness.
¹³⁹My zeal has consumed me because my adversaries have forgotten what Thou hast spoken.
¹⁴⁰Thy word is well tested;^v therefore Thy servant loves it.
¹⁴¹I am insignificant^w and despised, yet I do not forget Thy precepts.

- ¹⁴²Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness,^x and Thy law is truth.
¹⁴³Distress and anguish have found me, yet Thy commandments are my enjoyments.
¹⁴⁴Thy testimonies are righteous for ever; grant me understanding and I shall live.

Qoph

- ¹⁴⁵I cried out with all my heart;^y answer me, O LORD! I will keep Thy statutes.
¹⁴⁶I cried out to Thee, "Save me, for I keep Thy statutes."
¹⁴⁷I was up before dawn and cried, "I am trusting in Thy promise."^z ¹⁴⁸My eyes waited for the night watches, that I might meditate on Thy word.
¹⁴⁹Hear my voice according to Thy lovingkindness; O LORD, revive me, according to Thine ordinances.

h) By the fire of judgments.

i) A guarantee of eventual deliverance and prosperity. j) Tempering His judgments.

k) So would lay claim upon Thy help. l) Intervene with His divine judgments.

m) See Ezra 10:18; Nehemiah 13:4-7.

n) Far exceeding human conception, supplying ever new instructions. o) See Luke 24:27, 32.

p) As one suffering from burning heat, longing for some cool spring of water, or some fresh breeze to fan his brow. q) According to divine custom.

r) Take the rule and management of them. s) With the smiles of gracious approval.

t) A strong practical expression. Most easterners shed tears more copiously than we westerners do u) Or, "all expressions of Thy will." v) Tried to the uttermost. w) Held in little esteem.

x) An absolute, perfect righteousness. y) With the prayer of the earnest heart.

z) God's words of promise and consolation.

¹⁵⁰Those draw near^a who follow wickedness; they are far from Thy law.

¹⁵¹Thou art near,^b O LORD; all Thy commandments are truth.

¹⁵²From of old^c I have known from Thy testimonies that Thou hast established them for ever.

Resh

¹⁵³Look at my affliction, and deliver me; for I do not forget Thy word.

¹⁵⁴Plead my cause and redeem me; revive me according to Thy word.

¹⁵⁵Salvation is far from the wicked; for they do not seek Thy statutes.

¹⁵⁶Great is Thy compassion, O LORD; revive me according to Thine ordinances.

¹⁵⁷My persecutors and adversaries are many; yet I have not deviated from Thy testimonies.

¹⁵⁸When I observed the treacherous, I was grieved, because they do not respect Thy word.

¹⁵⁹See how I love Thy precepts; revive me, O LORD, according to Thy lovingkindness.

¹⁶⁰Thy word all together is truth;^d everyone of Thy righteous ordinances has everlasting vitality.

Shin

¹⁶¹Princes are persecuting me without reason, but my heart stands in awe^e before Thy word.

¹⁶²I rejoice at Thy word as one who finds great beauty.

¹⁶³I hate, I despise falsehood;^f but I love Thy Law.

¹⁶⁴I give Thee praise seven times a day^g because of Thy righteous judgments.

¹⁶⁵Great peace have they who love Thy law; no stumbling block is in their path.

¹⁶⁶I am looking for Thy salvation,

O LORD, and I have practiced Thy commandments.

¹⁶⁷My soul has kept Thy testimonies; I dearly love them.

¹⁶⁸I have observed Thy precepts and testimonies, for all my ways are plain before Thee.

Tav

¹⁶⁹May my cry^h come before Thee, O LORD; grant me understanding according to Thy word.

¹⁷⁰May my petition come before Thee; deliver me according to Thy promise.

¹⁷¹My lips shall run over with praise,ⁱ for Thou shalt teach me Thy statutes.

¹⁷²My tongue^j shall sing of Thy word, for all Thy commandments are fair.

¹⁷³Let Thy hand be ready to help me, for I have chosen Thy precepts.

¹⁷⁴I long for Thy salvation, O LORD; Thy law is my delight.

¹⁷⁵Let my soul live and praise Thee; let Thy judgments help me.

¹⁷⁶I have strayed like a lost sheep; seek Thy servant, for I have not forgotten Thy commandments.

A Cry of Distress Because of Oppressive Neighbors

A Song of Ascents^k

120 In my distress I cried to the LORD, and He answered me.

²Deliver me, O LORD, from lying lips, from a deceitful tongue.

³What shall He give you?

What in addition shall He do to you, O you deceitful tongue?

⁴Sharp arrows^l of the mighty, with coals of broom tree!

⁵Woe is me, for I lodge near Meshech;^m

I dwell beside the tents of Kedar!ⁿ

⁶My soul has lived long enough with those who hate peace.

a) As with hostile intent. b) Nearer than my foes.

c) For a long time; therefore, a thoroughly established conviction.

d) The aggregate of all the individual precepts of God's word from A to Z.

e) I dread desecration of Thy law far more than the force of prince or potentate.

f) All kinds of falseness and deception. g) Figure of speech for "constantly throughout the day."

h) A mournful, supplicating cry. i) Of thankfulness and reverent trust.

j) The instrument of spoken praise.

k) Psalms 120-134 are the Songs of Degrees or Ascents, used as the worshippers approached Jerusalem from many lands, and were climbing hills and finally temple steps.

l) Such as warriors use. m) Between the Black and Caspian Seas.

n) One of the predatory hordes roaming the Arabian desert.

I am for peace; but when I speak,
they are for war.

The Consolation of Divine Protection
A Song of Ascents

121 I raise my eyes toward the hills.^o
Whence shall my help come?
My help comes from the LORD, who made heaven and earth.
He will not allow your foot to slip;
your Keeper will never slumber.
Behold, the Keeper of Israel will neither slumber nor sleep.^p

⁵The LORD is your Keeper;
he LORD is your shade at your right
hand.
The sun shall not smite you by day,
nor the moon by night.
The LORD will keep you from all harm;^q
He will preserve your soul.
The LORD will shield your going out and your coming in from now on for evermore.

Memories of a Returning Pilgrim
A Song of Ascents; of David

122 I was glad^r when they said
to me,
'Let us go to the house of the LORD!'
Our feet are standing within your gates, O Jerusalem!

³Jerusalem is built as a city which is bound together;^s whither the tribes go up,
he tribes of the LORD,
is enjoined upon Israel,
o give thanks to the name of the
LORD.

For there seats are placed for judging,
he seats of the house of David.

⁶Pray for the peace^t of Jerusalem!
May those who love you prosper!

⁷May peace be within your walls,^u
and prosperity in your palaces!
⁸For the sake of my brothers and companions,
I will now say, "Peace be within you!"
⁹For the sake of the house of the LORD our God,
I will seek your good.

Prayer for Divine Aid in Distress
A Song of Ascents

123 Toward Thee I raise my
eyes,
O Thou, enthroned in the heavens!^v ²Behold, as the eyes of servants
look to the hand^w of their master, as the eyes of a maid to the hand of
her mistress,
so our eyes look to the LORD our God until He has mercy upon us.
³Have mercy upon us, O LORD, have mercy upon us,
for we have had more than enough of contempt.
⁴Our souls have had more than enough of the scoffing by those who are at ease,
and of the disdain of the arrogant.^x

The Lord the Deliverer of His People
A Song of Ascents; of David

124 If it had not been for the LORD who was on our side,^y
let Israel now say — ²if it had not been the LORD who was on our side,
when men rose up^z against us, ³then they would have swallowed us up alive,
when their anger burned against us.
⁴Then the waters would have overwhelmed us,
the stream passing over our soul; ⁵then the proud waters^a would have passed over our soul.
⁶Blessed be the LORD,

o) District around Jerusalem; Mounts Zion and Moriah were sacred peaks.

p) Language of firm, unquestioning confidence.

q) Whatever bodily harm may come, the soul is safe with Him.

r) Overjoyed, a sense of inner glee. s) As a closely knit unit. t) The sign of prosperity.

u) Wall and trench round it, your bulwarks.

v) Unmoved by the excitements and troubles of men.

w) Easterners prefer silence — often indicated their wishes merely by movements of the hand.

x) Self-complacent ones, who disregard God's law. y) Ever ready to help in time of need.

z) In active efforts to destroy. a) Added epithet denotes the insolence of the enemies.

who gave us not as a prey to their teeth.^b

⁷Our soul has escaped^c as a bird out of the snare of the fowlers; the snare is broken, and we have escaped.

⁸Our help is in the name of the LORD, who made heaven and earth.^d

The Lord the Protector of His People

A Song of Ascents

125 Those who trust in the LORD are like Mount Zion,^e which cannot be shaken but abides^f for ages.

²As there are mountains around Jerusalem, so the LORD is around His people from this time forth and for evermore.

³For the scepter of wickedness shall never rest upon the lot of the righteous, lest the righteous stretch forth their hands to iniquity.

⁴Do good, O LORD, to those who are good, and to those who are upright in their hearts.

⁵But as for those who turn aside^g to their crooked ways, the LORD will lead them forth with the workers of iniquity. Peace be upon Israel!^h

The Lord the Restorer of His People

A Song of Ascents

126 When the LORD brought back the captives of Zion, we were like those who dream.ⁱ

²Then our mouth was filled with laughter and our tongue with singing. Then they said among the nations, "The LORD has done great things for them."

³The LORD has done great things for us, for which we are glad.

⁴Restore our fortunes, LORD, as the streams^j in the Southland.

⁵They who sow in tears^k shall reap with joy.

⁶He who goes forth weeping,^l carrying seed for sowing, shall doubtless come again with joy, carrying his sheaves.^m

The Lord the Homemaker for His People

A Song of Ascents; of Solomon

127ⁿ Unless the LORD builds the house,^o their labor is futile who build it. Unless the LORD preserves the city, the sentry watches in vain.

²It is useless for you to be early in rising while being late^p in sitting up, eating the bread of toil; for^q He gives to His loved ones sleep.

³Behold, children are a legacy from the LORD; the fruit of the womb is His reward.

⁴As arrows in the hand of a mighty man,^r

so are the children of one's youth.^s

⁵Blessed is the man who has his quiver full of them.^t

They shall not be put to shame when they speak with their enemies in the gate.^u

b) Figure of a wild beast. c) The Hebrew expresses the deep joy felt at the escape.
d) During the twenty-three hundred bombings of the Island of Malta in World War II, as the people gathered for prayer, this was their favorite psalm. e) Emblem of permanency.
f) Hebrew: "sits." g) Bend their crooked paths.
h) All psalms were sung, but these fifteen songs served especially those worshipers whose greatest hope and consolation was their covenant God, on whom they could depend no matter what befell them. i) Could not at once receive such joyful news as true.
j) Which are restored and filled with heavy rains. k) Indicating the anxiety of the exiles.
l) At every step, because he must sow all he can spare.
m) Genuine believers in God are bound to be optimistic.
n) The pivotal psalm of the songs of ascents.
o) Or, found a family. p) Lengthening the natural day to accomplish more. q) Or "so."
r) The hunter, called "a mighty man" [Gen. 10:9], carries arrows which he shoots forward, making his effort felt where he does not personally contact. So worthy children live nobly after their parents are gone. s) Born in his early manhood.
t) Symbol of abundant resources for the battlefield of life.
u) Such fathers become leaders in their city.

The Lord the House Keeper of His People

A Song of Ascents

128 Blessed is every one who
reveres the LORD,
who walks in His ways.^v ²Because you shall eat the product of your hands,^w
happy shall you be, and it shall be well with you.
³Your wife will be as a fruitful vine^x
inside your house;
your children like olive plants^y surrounding your table.

⁴Truly, thus shall the man be rewarded who reveres the LORD.
⁵The LORD bless you from Zion,^z
so you may see the good of Jerusalem^a all the days of your life; ⁶so you may see your children's children.
Peace be upon Israel!

The Cry of the Persecuted People

A Song of Ascents

129 "Many a time they have oppressed me from my youth,"^b
let Israel now say;
²"Many a time they have oppressed me
from my youth,
but they have not prevailed against me.
³The plowmen plowed^c upon my back;
they made long their furrows."

⁴The LORD is righteous;
He has completely severed the cords^d
of the wicked.

⁵May all who hate Zion
be put to shame and turned backward.
⁶Let them be as the grass upon the housetops,^e
which withers before it grows up,

⁷with which the reaper does not fill his hand
nor the binder of sheaves his bosom.
⁸Neither do the passers-by say:
"The blessing of the LORD be upon
you;
we bless you in the name of the LORD."^f

A Sinner's Cry for Forgiveness of Sin

A Song of Ascents

130 Out of the depths^g I cry to Thee, O LORD;
²LORD,^h hear my voice;
let Thine ears be attentive to the voice of my supplications!
³If Thou, LORD, shouldst keep in mind
our iniquities,ⁱ who could stand?^j ⁴But there is forgiveness^k with Thee,
in order that Thou mayest be revered.

⁵I am waiting for the LORD; my soul is in expectation,
and in His word do I hope.
⁶My soul is looking for the LORD
more than watchmen for the morning;^l yes, more than watchmen for the morning.
⁷O Israel, hope in the LORD!
For with the LORD there is loving-kindness,
and with Him is abundant redemption.
⁸He Himself will redeem Israel
from all his iniquities.

The Lord the Satisfaction of His People

A Song of Ascents of David

131 O LORD, my heart is not haughty,^m
nor are my eyes disdainful;ⁿ
neither do I concern myself in great matters,
nor in things too wonderful for me.

v) See Psalm 1:1 for a description of the person who abstains from breaches of the prohibitory commandments of the Decalogue and performs the positive order.

w) The products of our labor. x) Usual emblem of fruitfulness.

y) Emblem of vigorous, healthy, and joyous life.

z) The earthly dwelling place and throne of God.

a) Welfare of the family and the welfare of the state are indissolubly linked.

b) Egyptian bondage.

c) A figure of scourging — for another use of the figure, see Jer. 26:18; Mic. 3:12.

d) By which the ox was yoked to the plough — also a general image of slavery.

e) On ill-compacted, flat, eastern roofs, grass is often found springing into short-lived existence.

f) Customary salute to reapers. See Ruth 2:4.

g) Of misery and deep waters of overwhelming affliction. h) Hebrew: adonai, or Sovereign LORD.

i) Strictly watch, and keep in memory in order to punish.

j) Endure their unforgiven continuance. k) Just what man needs.

l) As do sentinels and sleepless sufferers.

m) Humility properly regarded as the crown of virtues.

n) As those of the Pharisee in Luke 18, looking down on others.

²Surely I have calmed and quieted my soul,
like a weaned child^o with his mother;
like a weaned child is my soul within me.^p

³O Israel, hope in the LORD,
from this time forth and for evermore.

The Lord the Trust of His People

A Song of Ascents

132 O LORD, remember David
for all his difficulties;

²how he swore^a to the LORD and vowed to the Mighty One of

Jacob:

³"Surely I will not enter the tent of my house,

nor lie down on my bed;

⁴I will not give sleep to my eyes
or slumber to my eyelids,

⁵until I find a place^r for the LORD,
a tabernacle for the Mighty One of

Jacob."

⁶We heard of it in Ephrathah^s and found it in the field of the forest.^t

⁷Let us go to His dwelling;
let us worship at His footstool!^u

⁸Arise,^v O LORD, go into Thy resting place,

Thou, and the ark of Thy strength.

⁹Let Thy priests be clothed with righteousness,^w

and let Thy saints shout for joy.

¹⁰For Thy servant David's sake turn not away the face^x of Thine anointed.

¹¹The LORD swore to David in truth —
He will never retract it:^y

Of the fruit of your body will I set upon your throne.

¹²If your children will keep My
covenant
and My testimony which I shall teach
them,

their children shall sit upon your throne for ever.

¹³For the LORD chose Zion and cherished
it for His dwelling place.

¹⁴This is My resting place for ever;
here will I dwell, for I have desired it

¹⁵I will abundantly bless her provision
I will satisfy her poor with bread.^z

¹⁶Her priests also I will clothe with salvation;

her saints shall shout aloud for joy.

¹⁷There will I make the horn^a of David to bud;

I have ordained a lamp^b for My
anointed.

¹⁸His enemies I will clothe with sham but upon himself shall his crown shine.

Brotherly Love

A Song of Ascents of David

133 See, how good and how pleasant it is for brothers to live harmoniously

together!^c

²It is like the precious oil upon the head,^d

flowing down upon the beard, Aaron beard,

flowing down upon the edge of his garments;

³like the dew^e of Hermon, that falls upon the mountains of Zion!

For there the LORD commanded the blessing,
even life for evermore.

The Lord, the Rest of His People

A Song of Ascents

134 Come! Bless the LORD, all you servants of the LORD, who stand nightly^f in the house of the LORD.

o) One who has ceased fretting after its mother's milk.

p) This soul is unwilling to depart from God. q) Or, firmly resolved.

r) A settled resting place.

s) One of the names of Bethlehem — no record that the ark was temporarily settled there.

t) The Hebrew for forest is ja-ar; so this may refer to Kirith-Jearim, where the ark of the covenant remained for many years [I Sam. 7:1; II Sam. 6:4].

u) As the LORD dwells above, the cover of the ark, the mercy seat, is regarded as His footstool.

v) Usual word on moving the ark; see Num. 10:35.

w) White clothing as the symbol of righteousness. x) Sign of rejecting a petition.

y) From vs. 11 to the end, we find God's promise to David.

z) A sign of national prosperity. a) Symbol of dominion. b) Also denotes "progeny."

c) Harmony in the godly home as they jointly worship God; harmony among the tribes of Israel who come from far and near to worship unitedly at His temple.

d) See Exod. 29:7; Lev. 8:10; 21:10; the flowing of the ointment, diffusing fragrance all over the body. e) Symbol of life. f) As night watchmen.

- ²Lift up your hands^g to the sanctuary;
bless the LORD!
³Bless the LORD out of Zion, the Maker of heaven and earth!

The Lord the Object of His People's Praise

135 Praise the LORD!
Praise the name of the LORD;
praise Him, O you servants of the LORD,^h

- ²you, who are standing in the house of
the LORD,
in the courtsⁱ of the house of our God!
³Praise the LORD, for the LORD is good;
make melody to His name, for it is sweet!
⁴For the LORD has chosen Jacob for Himself,
and Israel for His own possession.

- ⁵As for me, I know^j that the LORD
is great,
and that our LORD is above all gods.
⁶Whatever the LORD desired, that has He done
in heaven and in earth, in the seas and in all deeps.

- ⁷[He it is] who causes the vapors^k to rise from the ends of the earth;
who makes lightnings for the rain;^l who brings forth the wind out of His treasuries;

- ⁸who smote the first-born of Egypt, both man and beast; ⁹who sent signs and wonders^m in the midst of you, O Egypt,
upon Pharaoh and all his servants;
¹⁰who smote many nations and slew
mighty kings, ¹¹Si-hon king of the Amorites, Og king of Bashan,
and all the kingdoms of Canaan; ¹²who gave their land for a heritage,
a heritage to Israel His people.

- ¹³Thy name, O LORD, is forever;
Thy renown, LORD, from generation to generation.
¹⁴For the LORD will vindicate the cause of His people,
and will have compassion on His servants.ⁿ

- ¹⁵The idols of the nations are gold and silver, the work of human hands.
¹⁶Though they have a mouth, they do not speak;

- though they have eyes, they do not see;

- ¹⁷though they have ears, they do not
hear;

- there certainly is no breath in their mouth.

- ¹⁸Those who make them become like them, as does everyone who trusts in
them.

- ¹⁹O house of Israel, bless the LORD!
O house of Aaron, ²⁰bless the LORD!
O house of Levi, bless the LORD!
You who revere the LORD, bless the LORD!^o

- ²¹The LORD be blessed from Zion,
He who dwells at Jerusalem!
Hallelujah!

God's Faithful Provision for His Covenant People

136 Give thanks to the LORD, for He is good, for His covenant love is everlasting.^p

- ²Give thanks to the God of gods, for His covenant love is everlasting.

- ³Give thanks to the LORD of lords, for
His covenant love is everlasting;

- ⁴to Him who alone works great wonders, for His covenant love is everlasting;

- ⁵who with wisdom made the heavens,
for His covenant love is everlasting;

- ⁶who spread out the earth above the

g) In the attitude of prayer. This marks the completion of the fifteen Songs of Degrees. Vss. 1 and 2 seem to have been sung by the pilgrims as their greetings to the priests, and vs. 3 the response of the priests with their blessing.

h) The writer knew the Scriptures well and quoted aptly. Vs. 6 is from Ps. 115: 3; vs. 8 from Ex. 13:15; vs. 13 from Ex. 3:15; vs. 14 from Deut. 32:36; vss. 15-18 from Ps. 115:4-8.

i) The enclosed space before the sanctuary. j) A firsthand religious experience.

k) Hebrew: "things lifted up," clouds rather than fogs.

l) To accompany rain, with its beneficent influence.

m) Miraculous judgments, no mere wonders, but tokens of divine will.

n) We always have God to fall back on; He is there, mindful of us.

o) Praise Him appreciatively to the nth degree.

p) This refrain resembles the congregational response of a litany. It is repeated throughout the psalm to emphasize that each redemptive or creative deed of God is a manifestation of His covenant love [hesed]. The Psalm is especially adapted to use by a choir in the Temple worship.

waters, for His covenant love is everlasting;
 7who made the great luminaries, for His covenant love is everlasting;
 8the sun to rule by day, for His covenant love is everlasting;
 9the moon and the stars to rule by night, for His covenant love is everlasting;^q 10to Him who smote Egypt in their first-born, for His covenant love is everlasting; 11and brought Israel out of their midst; for His covenant love is everlasting;
 12with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm, for His covenant love is everlasting;^r

13to Him who divided the Red Sea in two,^s for His covenant love is everlasting; 14and led Israel through the midst of it, for His covenant love is everlasting;
 15tossed Pharaoh and his army into the Red Sea, for His covenant love is everlasting; 16and led His people in the wilderness, for His covenant love is everlasting;
 17to Him who smote great kings, for His covenant love is everlasting;
 18and slew famous kings, for His covenant love is everlasting;
 19Sihon, king of the Amorites, for His covenant love is everlasting;
 20and Og, king of Bashan, for His covenant love is everlasting.

21He granted their land as a possession,^t for His covenant love is everlasting;
 22as a possession to Israel, His servant, for His covenant love is everlasting.
 23In our humiliation He remembered us, for His covenant love is everlasting;
 24and freed us from our adversaries, for His covenant love is everlasting;^u

25bestowing food on all mankind, for His covenant love is everlasting.
 26Give thanks to the God of heaven, for His covenant love is everlasting.

Captive Israel Longs to Return and See Zion Avenged

137 By the rivers of Babylon,^v there we sat down and wept as we remembered Zion.

2On the willows in the midst of her we hung up our harps.
 3Our captors asked us there for the words of a song; our tormentors [asked for] a song of mirth, "Sing us one of Zion's songs."

4How can we sing a song of the Lord in the land of strangers?
 5If I forget you, O Jerusalem, may my right hand forget her skill; 6let my tongue cleave to my palate, if I fail to remember you,
 if I fail to exalt Jerusalem above my chief joy!

7Remember, O Lord, the Edomites who said in the day of Jerusalem, "Lay her bare, lay her bare down to her foundations!"

8O daughter of Babylon, you devastator, blessed be he who will pay back to you the recompense for what you did to us!
 9Blessed [be] he who will seize your evil children and dash them against the rock!^w

Praise to the Lord for His Gracious Deliverance
 A Psalm of David

138 I will praise Thee, O Lord, with all my heart; in the presence of the gods^x I will sing praise to Thee.

2I will bow down toward Thy holy temple and praise Thy name because of Thy covenant love and faithfulness,

q) God in nature meant much in Hebrew worship. r) The Hebrew learned his history.

s) North and south of their passageway. t) The extra gift east of the Jordan.

u) When repentant they turned to God.

v) That is, during the captivity of the Jews in Babylon. This would date the composition of the psalm around 570 B.C. During this exile, Israel's only hope lay in God's promise of restoration [cf. Jer. 25:12].

w) Alluding to the horrors usually accompanying the conquest and sack of ancient cities.

x) The gods of the heathen, unable to work redemption and judgment such as Jehovah wrought.

for Thou hast magnified Thy word
above all Thy name.^y ³In the day when I called Thou didst
answer me,
and didst encourage me with strength
in my soul.
⁴All the kings of the earth shall praise
Thee, O LORD,
when they have heard the words of Thy mouth;
⁵they shall sing of the LORD's dealings, for great shall be the glory of the
LORD.
⁶Though the LORD is exalted, He looks upon the lowly;
but the haughty man He notes from a distance.
⁷When I walk through the midst of trouble, Thou bringest me through alive;
against the wrath of my foes, Thou dost stretch forth Thy hand,
and Thy right hand saves me.
⁸The LORD will fulfil His purpose on my behalf;
O LORD, Thy covenant love is
everlasting.
Do not forsake the works of Thy
hands!

God's Omniscience, Omnipresence, and Omnipotence Toward Us

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David

139 Thou hast searched^z me, LORD, and Thou knowest
me.^a

²Thou hast me in mind when I sit down and when I rise up;
Thou discernest my thoughts from afar.
³Thou hast traced my walking and my resting,
and art familiar with all my ways.
⁴For there is not a word on my tongue,
but Thou, LORD, knowest it perfectly.^b

⁵Thou hast closed me in behind and in front,
and hast placed Thy hand upon me.

⁶[This is] a knowledge too wonderful for me,
too inaccessible for me to reach.

⁷Where can I escape Thy Spirit, or where can I flee from Thy
presence?

⁸If I ascend to heaven, Thou art there;
if I make the underworld my couch,
then Thou art there!

⁹If I were to take the wings of the dawn
and dwell in the remotest part of the sea,

¹⁰even there Thy hand would lead me and Thy right hand would take hold
of me.

¹¹If I should say, "Surely the darkness will cover me," then the night [would become] light
around me;

¹²[for] even darkness does not hide
from Thee,
but night is as bright as day;
darkness is the same as light [to Thee].

¹³Thou didst possess my inward parts and didst weave me in my mother's womb.

¹⁴I praise Thee because I have been fearfully and wonderfully made;
marvelous is Thy workmanship, as my soul is well aware.^c

¹⁵My bones were not hidden from Thee when I was made in secrecy and intricately fashioned in utter seclusion.^d

¹⁶Thine eyes beheld my unformed
substance,
and in Thy book all was recorded and prepared day by day,
when as yet none of them had being.

¹⁷How precious to me are Thy thoughts, O God!

y) Or else, "Thy promise". God had given David a promise [that his dynasty would abide forever in Christ (II Sam. 7:13, 16)], which surpasses everything by which He has hitherto established a reputation and memorial for Himself.

z) "X-rayed me," would be today's equivalent.

a) This Hebrew verb vada, "Know," often implies favorable acquaintance, [Ps. 1:6; Amos 3:2] or, taking notice of someone or something, with a view to rewarding the faithful and punishing the disobedient.

b) When everyone else misunderstands and misjudges, God and God alone knows better, and He cares. There is no loftier and truer appreciation of God's gracious presence than this psalm.

c) Man, the crowning work of creation, not only as a spirit but also in body. All so true to the findings of today's physiology! d) Literally, "in the lowest parts of the earth."

How vast is the sum of them!

¹⁸If I tried to count them, they would be more numerous than the sand;
when I awake, I am still with Thee.

¹⁹If Thou, O God, wouldst slay the
ungodly,
then would bloodguilty men depart
from me!

²⁰Those who speak of Thee with crafty malice
exalt themselves as Thy foes to no avail.

²¹Shall I not hate those, O LORD, who hate Thee?

And am I not grieved with those that rise up against Thee?

²²I hate them with a complete hatred;
they have become my own enemies.^e

²³Search me, O God, and know my heart!

Test me and know my thoughts!

²⁴See whether there is any baneful motive within me,
and lead me on the everlasting way!^f

The Deliverance of Believers from Persecutors

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David

140 Deliver me, O LORD, from
wicked men;
protect me from men of violence, who ²in their hearts devise evil plots, and constantly stir up warfare.

³They have sharpened their tongue
like a serpent's;
adder's venom is under their lips. Selah

⁴Keep me, O LORD, from the hands of the wicked;
protect me from violent men who have plotted to trip my feet.

⁵Conceited men have hidden a snare
for me,
and have stretched out the cords of a hunting net at the wayside, planting traps for me. Selah

God Delivers from Persecution and Sin

⁶I said to the LORD, "Thou art
my God!

Give ear, O LORD, to my voice of supplication!"

⁷Jehovah^g LORD, the strength of my
salvation,
Thou hast shielded my head in the day
of battle.^h

⁸O LORD, do not grant the desires of the ungodly,
nor promote their schemes lest they exalt themselves. Selah

⁹Upon the heads of those who encircle me,
may the mischief of their own lips
come down!

¹⁰May coals of fire be dropped upon their heads,
or let them be cast into trenches,
unable to rise!

¹¹Let not the slanderer be established
in the land;
let punishment speedily overthrow the violent man!

¹²I know that the LORD will maintain the cause of the afflicted and the rights of the poor.ⁱ

¹³Surely the righteous^j will praise Thy name;
the upright shall dwell in Thy
presence.

A Prayer for Deliverance from Sin and Sinners

A Psalm of David

141 I call upon Thee, O LORD;
hasten to me!

Hear my voice as I cry out to Thee!

²Let my prayer be prepared as an incense offering before Thee, the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice.

³Set a guard at my mouth, O LORD;
keep watch over the door of my lips.

⁴Let not my heart incline to evil
so as wickedly to busy myself with evil

e) This is no expression of personal spite, but the psalmist has so completely identified himself with God's cause that he grants no quarter to sin. Whenever ancient Israel leaned toward God's enemies, they themselves were so compromised that they joined the heathen in opposition against God. Not until Christ's advent and the impartation of His divine nature by the Holy Spirit, could men learn to love God's enemies — in the holy way in which God Himself loves them.

f) These last two verses will enrich our lives until the final day, if we master and daily use them prayerfully.

g) LORD where the Hebrew text has Yahweh [Jehovah], the covenant name of God. But where the covenant name comes right before the Hebrew word for LORD [Adonai], it seems best to revert to "Jehovah." h) "In the day of weapons."

i) This term [ani, "poor" or "afflicted"] implies a believer who is persecuted and downtrodden because of his loyalty to God. This is a key term in the Psalms. j) See note on p. 637.

deeds, with men who practice iniquity;

I will not eat of their dainties.

⁵Let a righteous man^l smite me; it is kindness.

Let him reprove me; it is oil for my head, which my head shall not refuse;

for I will still pray in the face of their wickedness.

⁶When their judges are hurled down along the sides of a rock, then they will listen to my words, for they are pleasant.

⁷As when a man plows and breaks open the earth, so our bones have been strewn about at the grave's opening.^k

⁸For my eyes are towards Thee, O Jehovah LORD; in Thee I have taken refuge; do not pour out my life.

⁹Keep me from the trap they have set for me, and from the snares of those who practice iniquity.

¹⁰Let all the ungodly together fall into their own nets, while I myself pass safely by.

The Only Savior from Destructive Foes
A Meditation of David. A Song of Praise when He Was in the Cave^l

142 To the LORD I cry out with my voice;
to the LORD I lift up my voice imploring mercy.

²I will pour out my grief before Him; I will set forth my trouble before Him.

³When my spirit within me weakens,
Thou art aware of my path,
how men have concealed a trap for me in the way by which I walk.

⁴I look to the right and I watch.
There is no one who cares about me.
My every refuge has disappeared; no one seeks my welfare.^m

⁵I cry out to Thee, O LORD, [and] declare,
"Thou art my refuge, my portion in the land of the living.

⁶Listen to my cry of entreaty, for I have been brought very low! Deliver me from my persecutors, for they are too strong for me.

⁷Lead out my soul from its prison, that I may praise Thy name.
May the righteous throng around me, because Thou dealest kindly with me."ⁿ

A Penitential Cry for Help

A Psalm of David

143 O LORD, hear my prayer; listen to my supplications; in Thy faithfulness and in Thy righteousness answer me.

²Do not enter into judgment with Thy servant, for no man living is righteous^o in Thy sight.

³For the enemy has hunted after my soul, and has trampled my life to the ground;
he has made me dwell in dark hiding places,

like those who have long been dead.

⁴My spirit is losing hope; my heart within me is numbed with dismay.

⁵I recall the former days and think about all Thy dealings;
I meditate upon the works of Thy hands.

⁶I stretch out my hands toward Thee; my soul thirsts for Thee like parched land.^p

Selah

j) This term [tsaddiq, "righteous"] when applied to human beings implies a believer who is justified by faith and is walking sincerely with the LORD, not a person who has attained sinlessness. The psalmist recognizes with Paul that "there is none righteous, no not one" [cf. Ps. 14:1; 53:1; 143:2]. See note on Ps. 146:8.

k) Though godly men have died at the hands of the wicked, yet their bodies shall be turned up out of the soil at the Resurrection, as the ploughshare exhumes what is buried beneath the surface of the ground.

l) Almost certainly the Cave of Adullam, in which David hid from Saul [I Sam. 22].

m) Literally, "for my soul"; but nephesh ["soul"] often signifies "personal interest" or even "life."

n) This prayer was answered; enough fighting men joined David there to form the nucleus of a mighty army [I Sam. 22].

o) This word sadaq, "righteous," "just," is often used as the technical term for that litigant in a court action who is found to be innocent of the crime charged or who is in the right as regards the point in controversy. David recognizes that no man is good enough to be saved, but that justified believers ["the righteous" or tsaddiqim] are sinners saved by grace.

p) Because of a parching drought.

⁷Answer me quickly, LORD, [for] my spirit is pining away!
Do not hide Thy face from me, lest I become like those who descend to the pit.
⁸In the morning proclaim to me Thy covenant love,
for I have put my trust in Thee.
Make me understand the way I should go,
for I lift up my soul to Thee.^a ⁹Deliver me from my foes, O LORD, for to Thee have I fled for hiding.

¹⁰Teach me to carry out Thy good pleasure,
for Thou art my God; may Thy good Spirit lead me on level ground.^r ¹¹For the glory of Thy name, O LORD, preserve my life;
in Thy righteousness remove my soul
from distress.
¹²In Thy covenant love mayest Thou silence my foes
and destroy all those who oppress my soul, for I am Thy servant.

A Song of Confidence

A Psalm of David^s

144 Blessed be the LORD, my Rock,
who teaches my hands to wage war,
and my fingers to do battle;
²my Covenant Love, my Fortress, my lofty Stronghold, my Deliverer, my Shield in whom I have taken
refuge,
and the One who subdues my people under me.

³LORD, what is man, that Thou takest notice of him,
or the son of man, that Thou
coniderest him?

⁴Man is like a breath;
his days are like a passing shadow.
⁵O LORD, bow down Thy heavens and descend;
touch the mountains so that they smoke!
⁶Flash forth the lightning and scatter them;^t
shoot forth Thine arrows and confound
them.
⁷Extend Thy hand from on high;
rescue and deliver me from the many waters,
from the power of the aliens' children.
⁸For they have each one spoken
falsehood,
and have extended their right hand
for fraudulent oaths.

⁹O God, I sing to Thee a new
song;
on a ten-stringed harp I sing psalms
to Thee
¹⁰who grantest victory to kings,^u and who savest Thy servant David from the sword of evil.^v ¹¹Save me and rescue me from the hand of aliens,^w
who have with their mouth spoken
falsehood,
and with their right hand have sworn deceitfully.

¹²Our sons then are^x like plants, raised to full size in their youthful vigor;
our daughters like sculptured corner pillars^y
after a palatial pattern; ¹³our granaries filled with provisions of every kind;
our sheep multiplying by the thousands and tens of thousands in our pastures;
¹⁴our oxen well burdened, and no

q) This Hebrew idiom implies: "I have directed my desire toward Thee," "I have centered my yearning in Thee."

r) In contrast to a dark and perilous mountain path, the phrase might be rendered, "the land of righteousness."

s) A dubious tradition connects this psalm with David's victory over Goliath. The resemblances to Ps. 8 [cf. 144:3 and 8:4], Ps. 18 [cf. 144:1 and 18:2, 34; also 144:2 and 18:47], and Ps. 39 [cf. 144:4 and 39:5, 6] serve to confirm Davidic authorship.

t) The proud foes of God's people. u) By the sovereign working of God behind the scenes.

v) An ancient tradition refers this sword of evil to Goliath. We understand this "sword of evil" more generally to be the sword engaged in the service of evil.

w) Such as Doeg, the Edomite [1 Sam. 21:7; 22:7-16].

x) There is no copulative verb in the Hebrew of this clause, so we translate these all as statements of present fact rather than of a desired future state of affairs.

y) Or, on the basis of well-attested practices in the Near East, beautifully carved, inlaid or painted corners in a wealthy home.

disaster* or loss [of fruit] or cry of distress in our city squares.

¹⁶Blessed is the people which is in such a state!

Blessed is the people whose God is the Lord!

Praise to God All-Bountiful

A Praise Song of David^a

145 I will exalt Thee, my God and King;

I will bless Thy name for ever and ever.

²Every day will I bless Thee, and praise Thy name for ever and ever.

³Great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised;

His greatness is unsearchable.

⁴One generation shall extol Thy works to the following one, and set forth Thy mighty acts.

⁵I will dwell on the glorious splendor of Thy majesty, and on the records of Thy wonders.

⁶Men shall speak of the might of Thine awe-inspiring deeds, and as for Thy greatness, I will recount it.

⁷They will pour forth a recital of Thy great goodness, and sing aloud of Thy righteousness.^b

⁸The LORD is gracious and compassionate, slow to anger and abounding in covenant love.

⁹The LORD is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works.

¹⁰All Thy works shall praise Thee, LORD, and Thy saints shall bless Thee.

¹¹They shall speak of the glory of Thy kingdom and tell of Thy might, ¹²that they may make known to the children of men His feats of power, and the majestic glory of His kingdom.

¹³Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and Thy dominion endures through all generations.

¹⁴The LORD supports all those who fall, and lifts up all those bowed down.

¹⁵The eyes of all look expectantly to Thee, for Thou art ever giving them their food at the proper time.

¹⁶Thou art ever opening Thy hand to satisfy the desire of every living creature.^c

¹⁷The LORD is just in all His ways, and gracious in all His works.

¹⁸The LORD is near to all who call upon Him, to those who call upon Him sincerely.

¹⁹He fulfills the desire of those who revere Him; He hears their call for help and saves them.

²⁰The LORD protects all those who love Him, but He will destroy all the ungodly.

²¹My mouth shall utter the LORD's praise, and all mankind shall bless His holy name for ever and ever.^d

*God the Only Helper;
the Compassionate Deliverer*

146 Hallelujah!^e Praise the LORD, O my soul!

²I will praise the LORD as long as I live; I will sing praise to my God as long as I have being.

³Put not your trust in nobles,^f in a child of Adam,^g in whom is no salvation.

⁴When his breath departs he reverts to his earth, and in that day his plans go to ruin.

⁵Blessed is he who has the God of Jacob for his help,

z) "Breath" [perets], usually of a city wall, but applicable figuratively to any grave calamity.

a) This is an acrostic psalm but with the letter nun [n] missing.

b) Through this psalm, prayer to God and testimony about Him repeatedly interchange, which is not unique; Ps. 23 is typical. c) Vss. 15 and 16 furnish a helpful "grace" at the table.

d) The formula, "Bless His holy name for ever and ever," occurs with slight variations at the end of other groups of Davidic psalms — the closing verse of Ps. 41, 72, 89, and 106.

e) Jah or Yah is a shorter form of Yahweh, the covenant name of God, which we usually render LORD; so we may translate this phrase, "Praise the LORD!"

f) Primarily: voluntary donors, benefactors.

g) Although the Hebrew word Adam actually means "of the ground" or "from the ground," the reference here is either to Adam as an individual or to man in the generic sense.

whose hope is in the LORD his God, 6the Maker of heaven and earth, the sea and all that is in them;
 who keeps faith forever;^b

7who administers justice on behalf of the oppressed; who gives bread to the hungry —

the LORD, who loosens the chains of those who are bound.

8The LORD opens the eyes of the blind;

the LORD lifts up those who are bowed down;

the LORD loves the righteous.¹

9The LORD protects the immigrants;¹
 He relieves orphans and widows, and He reverses the path of the ungodly toward ruin.

10The LORD shall reign for ever, your God, O Zion,
 from generation to generation.

Hallelujah!

Jehovah Praised as Restorer and Defender

147 Praise the LORD! For it is good to sing praise to our God,

for it is a delight; the song of praise
 is so befitting.

2The LORD is building Jerusalem,
 [and] is gathering the exiles of Israel.

3It is He who heals the brokenhearted, and binds up their wounds.^k

4He determines the number of the stars, and assigns their names to them all.¹

5Our LORD is great and mighty in strength;

His understanding is unlimited.

6The LORD brings relief to the humble, [and] brings down the ungodly to the ground.

7Sing to the LORD with
 thanksgiving;

sing praise to our God on the harp.

8[It is He] who covers heaven with clouds,
 who prepares rain for the earth, and causes grass to sprout on the hills.^m 9He gives the cattle their feed, and the young ravens that for which they cry.

10His delight is not in the strength of the horse,ⁿ neither does He take satisfaction in the legs of a man;

11[but] the LORD takes satisfaction in those who revere Him,
 those who place their hope in His covenant love.

12Extol the LORD, O Jerusalem!
 Praise your God, O Zion,

13for He has strengthened the bars of your gates,
 and has blessed your sons in your midst.

14He appoints peace^o in your boundaries,
 and satisfies you with the choicest of the wheat.

15He issues His orders to the earth;
 His word speeds swiftly on its way.

16He bestows snow like wool,
 and scatters hoarfrost like ashes.

17He hurls down His ice in fragments;¹
 who can withstand His cold?

18He issues His order and makes them
 melt.

He causes His wind to blow;
 then flow the waters.

19He announces His word^a to Jacob,
 His statutes and ordinances to Israel.

20He has not dealt so with any nation
 nor do they know His ordinances.
 Praise ye the LORD!

Let All Creation Praise God for Life

148 Hallelujah! Praise the LORD from the heavens,
 praise Him in the heights!

h) This word emeth is closely related to the word for "faithfulness" [emunah] and here connotes promise keeping and covenant faithfulness in His providential sustaining of the created universe.
 i) Those justified by grace through faith stand in sincere covenant relationship to God. Cf. Gen. 15:6; Ps. 14:1-3; 51:5, 17, 19; 130:3; Hab. 2:4. In each of these passages occurs this same word, tsaddiq ["righteous"] — the righteousness of God, imparted to the repentant, sincere believer, and finding expression through his yielded life. Cf. note at Ps. 140:13.

j) Hebrew gerim or "immigrants," those who dwell in a country not their own. They did not enjoy the full citizenship rights in the land of their adoption and could be oppressed or defrauded without much protection. But they were under the special protection of God, along with the similarly defenseless widows and orphans.

k) Our Great Physician in the Old Testament. 1) As their Creator and Owner.

m) Which no human hand has planted. n) In which warriors put their trust.

o) "Peace" [shalom] is accusative of manner: "He appoints your boundary with peace."

p) As hailstones.

q) God's grace in giving Israel His special revelation, over and above what He grants through nature.

²Praise Him, all His angels!
 Praise Him, all His hosts!
³Praise Him, sun and moon!
 Praise Him, all you radiant stars!
⁴Praise Him, heavens of heavens,
 and you waters above the heavens!
⁵Let them praise the name of the
 LORD,
 for it was He who commanded and they were created,
⁶He established them for ever and
 ever,
 and gave a decree that shall never pass
 away.

⁷Praise the LORD on earth,
 you sea monsters and all you ocean
 depths, ⁸fire and hail, snow and fog,
 you windstorm carrying out His orders, ⁹you mountains and all hills,
 fruit trees and all cedars, ¹⁰you wild beasts and all cattle, creeping creatures and the winged birds, ¹¹you kings of the earth and all
 peoples,
 you princes and all judges of the earth, ¹²you young men and maidens,
 you old and young together, ¹³let them
 praise the name of the LORD;
 for His name alone is supreme!
 His majesty is above earth and heaven.

¹⁴He has raised up a horn^a for
 His people,
 a song of praise for all His godly ones,
 for the children of Israel, the people who are close to Him. Hallelujah!

God's People Rejoice in His Victory 149 Hallelujah! Sing to the LORD a new song,
 His praise in the congregation of the godly!

²Let Israel rejoice in his Maker,^t

let the children of Zion exult in their King.
³Let them praise His name with processional;
 let them sing praise to Him with timbrel and harp.
⁴For the LORD takes pleasure in His
 people,
 and adorns the humble^u with salvation.

⁵Let the godly rejoice in this honor;^v
 let them shout for joy on their beds.^w ⁶Let their throats [voice] hymns of adoration to God,
 with the two-edged sword in their
 hands,
⁷to bring retribution upon the nations
 and to rebuke the peoples, ⁸to bind their kings with fetters
 and their nobles with iron handcuffs, ⁹thus inflicting upon them the judgment decreed,
 to the glory of all His godly ones.
 Hallelujah!

The Completing Glorification
150 Praise ye the LORD! Praise God in His sanctuary;
 praise Him in His mighty firmament!^x ²Praise Him for His mighty deeds; praise Him according to His excelling greatness!

³Praise Him with the trumpet blast;
 praise Him with lyre and harp!
⁴Praise Him with timbrel and processional;^y
 praise Him on stringed instruments and flutes!
⁵Praise Him with clashing cymbals;
 praise Him with loud clanging cymbals!
⁶Let everything that has breath^z
 praise the LORD!
 Praise ye the LORD!^a

r) The music of the spheres. Do we hear it? The sacred poet did.

s) He has furnished them with power, prosperity, and pre-eminence; note Zacharias' song [Luke 1:69]. t) God had made them a nation, as well as having created each of them.

u) This is a standard term [anawim, "bowed over" or "bowing over"] designating the people of God who suffer oppression because they deny self-pride and self-interest, putting first their loyalty to God.

v) The honor which God bestows on them by delivering them — the "salvation" mentioned in vs. 4.

w) On the same beds on which they had wept out their laments during their days of oppression.

x) "The firmament established by His strength"; literally, "the firmament of His strength."

y) This word connotes a whirling or circular kind of dance performed by separate individuals, not by dancing partners or the like. z) "Every breath of life" [neshamah].

a) This concluding psalm answers four questions: Where, why, how, and by whom, is God to be glorified?

THE BOOK OF PROVERBS

1 THE PROVERBS^a OF SOLOMON^b SON of David,
king of Israel: ²To gain wisdom^c and instruction,^d
to understand discerning words, ³to receive the instruction of prudence,
right, justice, and uprightness;
⁴to give insight^e to the simple,^f
to the young man knowledge and discretion.

⁵A wise man will hear and increase his learning.

A man of understanding will attain to leadership,^g

⁶to understand a proverb and a figure, the words of the wise and their enigmas.^h

⁷Reverenceⁱ of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge;
but foolish men despise wisdom and instruction.

⁸My son,^j heed the instruction of your father

and reject not your mother's teaching; ⁹for they are a fair garland upon your head

and adornments for your neck.

¹⁰My son, if sinners entice^k you, do not consent.

¹¹If they say, "Come with us; we will lie in wait for blood;
we will ambush the innocent without
cause;

¹²we will swallow them like the dead-realm,
and whole, like those going down
into the pit;

¹³we shall find all sorts of valuable things

and we shall fill our houses with spoil; ¹⁴throw in your lot with us; all of us
shall have one purse"—

¹⁵My son, do not walk in the way with them;

keep your feet from their path:^l

¹⁶for their feet run to evil and they hurry to shed blood.

¹⁷For in vain the net is spread in the sight of any bird;

¹⁸but these lie in wait for their own
blood;

they ambush their own lives.^m

¹⁹So is the way of each one destroying for plunder;

it takes away the life of its followers.

²⁰Wisdomⁿ cries aloud in the street;
in the market places she lifts her voice;

²¹at the noisy intersections she calls;

a) The Hebrew word Nisble, "Proverbs," applies to a comparison. Bible proverbs are wise sayings, varying from moral maxims to the lengthy discourses of ch. 1-9.

b) Solomon is the principal author. Other inspired writers contributed, see 30:1; 31:1.

c) Wisdom is practical, moral intelligence, in harmony with the principles by which God runs the universe. d) From root "to chastise" so as "to instruct."

e) From root "to make naked," hence to see basic issues. f) One "wide open" to every opinion.

g) From root "to steer." h) "Involved terminology."

i) The theme emphasizes obedience to God and urges honoring parental teaching. j) "My pupil."

k) This is the verb from which "simple" of v. 4 is derived: "attempt to make a simpleton of you."

l) Two reasons for rejecting their offer: They are doing evil to others [v. 16], and they bring evil upon themselves [17-19].

m) Even a silly bird knows better than to approach a trap he sees being set; yet these sinners set a trap and fall in it themselves. The verbs in v. 18 are the same as in v. 11.

n) Wisdom is here personified.

in the entrances of the city gates^o
 she speaks her words:
 22^pHow long, O simple ones, will you love being simple?
 How long will scoffers delight in their mocking
 and fools despise knowledge?
 23^qTurn to my reproof!
 Look, I will pour out my spirit for you;
 I will disclose my words to you.
 24^rBecause I besought and you refused,
 I stretched out my hand and no one responded,
 25^sand you have treated all my counsel
 lightly,
 would have none of my reproof,
 26^tI also will laugh at your calamity;
 I will deride when terror comes to you,
 27^uwhen terror strikes you like a storm, and your calamity hits like a whirlwind,
 when distress and despair come
 upon you.

28^vThen they will beseech me, but I will^w not answer;
 they will seek me diligently, but will not find me.^x 29^yBecause they despised knowledge, and did not choose
 reverence for the LORD, 30^zwould have none of my counsel,
 scorned all my reproof, 31^atherefore they will eat of the fruit of their way,
 will be sated with their own counsel.
 32^bFor the waywardness^c of the simple brings their death and the self-assurance of fools their destruction.
 33^dBut the one listening to me will dwell secure,
 will be quiet without dread of
 calamity."

2 MY SON, IF YOU WILL ACCEPT MY words,
 and store up my commandments
 within you,

2^eso that you make your ear attend to wisdom,
 and your heart reach out for discernment;
 3^fyes, if you beseech understanding,
 and lift your voice for discernment;
 4^gif you seek her as silver,
 and search for her as for hidden treasures;
 5^hthen you will understand reverence
 of the LORD
 and find the knowledge of God.
 6ⁱFor the LORD gives wisdom;
 from His mouth come knowledge and discernment.
 7^jHe has stored up sound wisdom^k for the upright;
 He is a shield to those walking in
 integrity,
 8^lthat He may guard the paths of justice;
 for He protects the way of His saints.^l

9^mThen you will understand right,
 justice
 and uprightness, every good road; 10ⁿFor wisdom will enter into your heart;
 knowledge will be pleasant to your
 soul;
 11^odiscretion will protect you;
 discernment will guard you,^u 12^pto deliver you from the way of evil, from men speaking perverted^v
 things,
 13^qwho leave the paths of uprightness
 to walk in the ways of darkness;
 14^rwho delight in doing evil, and exult
 in evil's perversity;^w 15^swhose ways are crooked and their roads meandering.

16^tTo deliver^x you from the loose^y
 woman,
 from the wanton^z woman with her flattering words,
 17^awho forsakes the husband of her
 youth

o) In whose shade the elders sit.

p) Wisdom is here personified, a foreshadowing of the Word, the Son of God, but not identified with Him, for 8:22 tells a beginning, such as is not ascribed to the Son of God.

q) The penitent may be forgiven, but he must face the consequences of his sin, that the lesson may be learned, II Sam. 12:10.

r) Literally "turning"; see v. 23. They had turned the wrong way.

s) "Wisdom that results in successful living."

t) From root, "to love, desire," hence those loving and loved of God.

u) Compare with v. 8. God protects by giving man wisdom to protect himself.

v, w) "Upside-down." See Isa. 29:16 — topsy-turvyness. x) See v. 12.

y, z) Hebrew — alien or foreign, referring to female spies or foreign agents.

and forgets the covenant^a of her God; ¹⁸for her house sinks down to death;
 her roads to the shades;^b

¹⁹none going to her return, nor reach the ways of life.
²⁰So^c you may walk in the way of good men
 and keep the paths of the righteous.
²¹For the upright will inhabit the
 land
 and men of integrity remain in it; ²²but the wicked will be cut off from
 the land,
 and the treacherous plucked up
 from it.

3 MY SON, DO NOT FORGET MY teaching;
 let your heart keep my commandments;
²for length of days and years of life full of peace will they add to you.
³Let not lovingkindness and faithfulness leave you;
 bind them about your neck,^d
 write them on the tablet of your heart, ⁴thus finding favor and ideal understanding
 in the sight of God and of man.
⁵Trust in the LORD with all your heart and lean not on your own
 understanding;
⁶in all your ways acknowledge^e Him,
 and He will direct^f your paths.
⁷Be not wise in your own eyes;
 revere the LORD and depart from evil; ⁸it will be healing to your body^g and nourishment to your bones.

⁹Honor the LORD with your substance
 and with the first fruits of all your income.
¹⁰So shall your barns be filled with plenty
 and your vats overflow with new wine.
¹¹Despise not, my son, the discipline^h of the LORD
 nor loathe His reproof;
¹²for whom the LORD loves He corrects,ⁱ

as a father the son in whom he delights.
¹³Blessed is the man who has found
 wisdom,
 the man who obtains understanding; ¹⁴for her profit is better than that of silver
 her increase superior to fine gold.
¹⁵She is more valuable than jewels;
 all desirable things are not comparable to her:
¹⁶Length of days is in her right hand, riches and honor in her left;
¹⁷her ways are pleasant ones, peaceful all her paths.
¹⁸She is a tree of life^j to those laying hold of her,
 making happy each one holding her fast.

¹⁹The LORD by wisdom founded the
 earth;
 by understanding He established the
 heavens;
²⁰By His knowledge the deeps pour forth,
 and the skies distil the dew.

²¹My son, let them not leave your sight:
 keep sound wisdom and discretion, ²²for they shall be life to your soul
 and an ornament to your neck.
²³Then you will walk your way confidently
 and will not stumble; ²⁴when you lie down it will not be in dread;
 for when you lie down your sleep
 will be sweet.
²⁵Fear not sudden terror,
 the stormy blast^k of the wicked when it comes;
²⁶for the LORD will be in your inward parts^l
 keeping your foot from being caught.
²⁷Hold back no benefit from those entitled^m to it,
 when it is in the power of your hand
 to perform.
²⁸Say not to your neighbor, "Go and come back

a) Marriage vows. b) Inhabitants of Sheol.
 c) Continues thought of vv. 11, 12, 16: how discretion and discernment protect. Positive aspect emphasized here. d) As you would a signet. e) Lit. "know." f) Lit. "make straight."
 g) "Navel," the vital center of the body's being before birth. h) "Instruction" [by chastisement].
 i) "Reproves by punishment." j) See Gen. 2:9. Repeated in Prov. 11:30, 13:12, 15:4.
 k) See 1:27. l) God will be within us, a force to aim and practice right. m) Lit. "its owners."

and tomorrow I will give"; when you already have it.
²⁹Do not devise harm against your neighbor,
 for trustingly he lives beside you.
³⁰Strive not with a man without cause, when he has done you no wrong.
³¹Do not envy a violent man, nor choose any of his ways;
³²for an abomination to the LORD is the perverse,
 but His intimate counsel is with the upright.
³³The curse of the LORD is on the house of the wicked,
 but the dwelling of the righteous He blesses.
³⁴As for scorners, He scorns them, but to the humble He gives grace.
³⁵The wise will inherit honor,ⁿ but fools carry away shame.^o

4 HEAR, O SONS, THE INSTRUCTION of a father; listen carefully to gain insight.
²Since I give you good doctrine^p do not forsake my teaching.
³For I was once a son with my father,^q tender and the only one in the sight of my mother, ⁴and he taught me, saying to me:
 "Let your heart hold fast my words;
 keep my commandments and live.
⁵Get wisdom, get understanding;
 forget not, neither turn away from the words of my mouth.
⁶Do not forsake her and she will protect you;
 love her, and she will guard you.
⁷The beginning of wisdom is: Get^r wisdom!
 and in every gain^s get understanding.
⁸Exalt her and she will lift you up;
 she will bring you honor when you embrace her.
⁹A fair garland she will place on your head, bestow upon you a glorious crown."

¹⁰Hear, my son, accept what I say, and the years of your life will be many.
¹¹In the wise way I have directed you; I have led you on straight roads.^t ¹²When you walk, your step will not be hindered;
 and if you run, you will not stumble.
¹³Hold fast to instruction, do not let go;
 guard her, for she is your life.
¹⁴Enter not the path of the wicked, nor continue in the way of evil men.
¹⁵Avoid it; do not go on it; turn from it, and pass on; ¹⁶for they sleep not unless they do evil;
 their sleep is taken away unless they cause stumbling.
¹⁷For they eat the bread of wickedness and drink the wine of violence.
¹⁸But the path of the righteous is like the dawning light^u shining brighter, brighter until the full-orbed day.^v ¹⁹The way of the wicked is like deep darkness;
 they know not at what they stumble.
²⁰My son, listen to my words; incline your ear to my sayings;
²¹let them not depart from your eyes; keep them in the midst of your heart;
²²for they are life to those finding them
 and healing to all their flesh.
²³Above all that you guard, watch over your heart,^w for out of it are the sources of life.
²⁴Put away from you a crooked mouth, and put far from you perverse lips;
²⁵Let your eyes look forward and your gaze straight ahead of you.^x ²⁶Consider well^y the path for your feet and all your ways will be sure.
²⁷Turn not to the right or to the left;
 keep your foot away from evil.^z

n) From root, "to be heavy."

o) From root, "to be light" [of no consequence]. Such fools heap shame upon themselves.

p) "What is received."

q) We may here picture king David instructing his son Solomon. The father had many sons, but the mother, Bathsheba, thought of Solomon as her only son.

r) Of primary importance in obtaining wisdom is the determination to acquire it. s) "Getting."

t) Or "roads of uprightness." u) Lit. "light of brightness."

v) Lit. "the establishment of the day" [noon]. w) Hebrew equivalent of mind.

x) In contrast to v. 24. y) Lit. "weigh," before starting journey.

z) From wrong paths pull back the one foot there. When both are there, advice will do little good.

5 MY SON, LISTEN TO MY WISDOM;^a 1incline your ear to my discernment;
 2that you may protect discretion;
 that your lips may guard knowledge.
 3For the lips of a loose^b woman drop honeyed words^c
 and her palate^d is smother than oil; 4but in the end she is bitter as wormwood,
 sharp as a devouring^e sword.
 5Her feet go down to death; her steps take hold of hell.
 6The path of life she does not consider;^f
 her paths meander, but she knows it not.
 7Now, my sons, listen to me, and depart not from the words of my mouth.
 8Keep your feet far from her;
 do not go near the door of her house;
 9lest you give your honor to others,
 and your years to the merciless; 10lest aliens take their fill of your
 wealth,
 your labors go to a foreign house 11and you moan when your end comes, when your flesh and body are consumed, 12and you exclaim, "Alas, I have hated discipline,
 and my heart despised reproof;
 13I have not listened to the voice of my teachers,
 nor inclined my ear to my instructors; 14I was almost in utter ruin in the midst of the congregation and assembly."
 15Drink waters from your own cistern,^g running water out of your own well.
 16Should your springs^h be dispersed
 abroad,
 your courses of waterⁱ in the streets?
 17But let them be only your own,
 and not those of aliens, too.
 18Let your own fountain^j be blessed;
 derive delight from the wife of your
 youth; 19a lovely hind, a graceful doe,

let her breasts satisfy you at all times;
 be always infatuated with her love; 20for why, my son, should you be infatuated with a loose woman,
 and embrace the bosom of an outsider?
 21For directly before the eyes of the LORD are a man's ways,
 and all his paths are well considered.^k 22His own iniquities seize the wicked, and he is held fast by the ropes of his own sin.
 23He dies for lack of discipline;
 but with the magnitude of his folly
 he is infatuated.^l

6 MY SON, IF YOU HAVE BECOME
 surety^m for your neighbor,
 if you have struck handsⁿ for another,^o 2you have been snared by the words of your mouth,
 by the words of your mouth you have been caught^p—3do this at once, my son, and deliver
 yourself,
 for you have come into the hand of
 your neighbor:
 Go, humble yourself; beg of your neighbor desperately,^q 4permit no sleep to your eyes nor slumber to your eyelids;
 5deliver yourself as a captured gazelle,
 as a bird from the hand of the fowler.
 6Go to the ant, you sluggard, consider her ways, and be wise;
 7who, having no chief, official, or ruler, 8provides her bread in the summer,^r gathers her food in the harvest.
 9How long will you lie down, O
 sluggard?
 When will you get up from your
 sleep?
 10"Yet a little sleep, a little slumber,
 a little folding of the hands^s to rest"— 11and your poverty will come upon you as a bandit,
 your want like an unyielding warrior.
 12A worthless man, a wicked man, is he who walks with a crooked^t
 mouth,

a) The only time in the book that "my" is added to "wisdom." b) See 2:16.

c) Lit. "drop honey." d) Her talk. e) Lit. "a sword of mouths."

f) See 4:26 for the same verb. g) Essentially, stay faithful to your own wife.

h, i) Figurative of offspring; children.

j) Your wife. k) See v. 6. l) Blind to his real situation.

m) "Interchanged with."

n) "Made a pledge." o) Or "for a stranger."

p) Such business transactions were of a speculative nature. q) To release you.

r) Many Palestine farmers set fire to all ant hills near their threshing floors.

s) For an afternoon siesta. t) See 4:24.

¹³winking his eyes, shuffling his foot, signaling with his fingers.^u

¹⁴With perversity in his heart, devising evil continually, he sows discord.

¹⁵Therefore suddenly will his calamity come; in a moment will he be broken and there will be no healing.

¹⁶There are six things which the LORD hates, yes, seven^v that are an abomination to Him:

¹⁷haughty eyes, a lying tongue, hands shedding innocent blood,

¹⁸a heart devising wicked schemes, feet quick to run to evil,

¹⁹a false witness breathing out lies, and he who is sowing discord among brothers.^w

²⁰Keep, my son, the commandment of your father, and do not neglect the teaching of your mother;

²¹bind them upon your heart always; fasten them around your neck.

²²When you are walking about, it will lead you;

when you are lying down, it will watch over you;

and when you awake, it will speak to you.

²³For to you the commandment is a lamp, the teaching a light, and the reproofs of discipline a way of life

²⁴to keep you from the evil woman, from the smooth tongue of an unfamiliar woman.^x

²⁵Do not lust for her beauty in your heart;

neither let her eyelashes captivate you;

²⁶for a harlot seeks only for a loaf of bread,^y

but another man's wife stalks a priceless soul.

²⁷Can a man carry fire in his bosom and his clothes not be burned?

²⁸Or can a man walk on hot coals and his feet not be scorched?

²⁹So is he who visits his neighbor's wife;

whoever touches her will not go unpunished.

³⁰A thief is not despised if he steals to satisfy his vital need when he is hungry;

³¹nevertheless, when caught, he must restore sevenfold;

he must give all the substance of his house.^z

³²He who commits adultery is lacking in sense;

he who does it is destroying himself;

³³wounds and dishonor he will find, and his disgrace will not be wiped away.

³⁴For jealousy rouses a strong man's anger;

in the day of vengeance he will not spare.

³⁵He will not regard any ransom^a — not accept, when you multiply bribes.

7 MY SON, KEEP MY WORDS and store up my precepts within you.

²Keep my precepts and live and my teaching as the pupil of your eye.

³Bind them upon your fingers; write them on the tablet of your heart.

⁴Say to wisdom, "You are my sister," and call understanding your close friend;

⁵to keep you from the unknown woman,

from the female stranger with flattering words.

⁶For at the window of my house I looked out through my lattice

⁷and I saw among the simple, I perceived among the youths a senseless young man.

⁸Passing along the street near her corner,

he takes the way to her house,^b

⁹in the twilight,^c in the evening,

u) He says one thing with his mouth, another with his gestures.

v) Seven are mentioned here and many more are implied.

w) See v. 14. Of all that the LORD hates, the "sower of discord" is the worst.

x) Making conversation foreign to the character of Israel's revealed religion.

y) The verb is lacking in the Hebrew.

z) Although sympathized with he must still pay the consequences.

a) As was done in the case of the thief. b) Not knowing the danger.

c) Lit. "cool." A cool breeze starts in the East just about the time of sunset.

in the middle^d of the night, in the darkness.^e

¹⁰And look, a woman comes to meet him, with the attire of a harlot, and a crafty mind.^f

¹¹She is loud and lewd; her feet do not stay in her own house;

¹²now in the street, now in the market places, near every corner she sets her ambush.

¹³So she catches him and kisses him; with a hardened^g face she says to him:

¹⁴"Sacrifices of peace offerings I owed; today I paid my vows;^h ¹⁶thereforeⁱ I come out to meet you, to seek your face; and I have found you.^j

¹⁶I have decked my couch with coverings, colored sheets of Egyptian linen.

¹⁷I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.

¹⁸Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning;

let us delight ourselves with love,

¹⁹For my husband is not at home;

he has gone on a distant journey;

²⁰a bag of money he has taken with him;

at full moon he will come home.^k

²¹By her sophistries she draws him away;

with the flattery of her lips she entices him.

²²Suddenly he goes after her, as an ox goes to the slaughter,^l as in fetters a fool to his punishment,^m

²³till an arrow strikes his liver;

as a bird hastening to the snare,ⁿ for he does not know that it will cost his life.

²⁴Now therefore, my sons, listen to me;

listen to the words of my mouth:

²⁵Let not your heart incline toward her ways;

do not stray upon her paths, ²⁶for many victims she has brought down;

a great multitude are her slain.

²⁷Her house is the way of Sheol, descending to the chambers of death.

8 DOES NOT^o WISDOM CALL AND discernment utter her voice?

²On the top of the heights along the way,

at the crossroads^p she takes her stand;

³beside the gates, in front of the town, from the portals' entrance she cries out;

⁴"To you, O men, I call;

my voice is directed to the sons of men.

⁵O simple ones, learn to get insight.

O fools, make your mind understand.

⁶Hear, for I will declare noble things, from my lips things that are right.

⁷For my mouth shall utter truth;

wickedness is an abomination to my lips.

⁸All the words of my mouth are in righteousness,

there is nothing twisted or crooked in them;

⁹they are all clear to him who is discerning and right to those finding knowledge.^q

¹⁰Take my instruction, and not silver, and knowledge rather than choice gold.

¹¹For wisdom is better than jewels, all desirable things are not comparable to her.

¹²I, wisdom, dwell with insight, I find out knowledge through deliberating.

¹³Reverence of the LORD is hatred of evil.

Pride, arrogance, an evil way and a perverse mouth I hate.

¹⁴I have counsel and sound wisdom, I am understanding,^r power is mine;

¹⁵by me kings reign

and rulers decree righteously;^s

¹⁶by me princes rule

and all noble judges of the earth.

d) Translated "apple" in v. 2 for the pupil is in the middle of the eye. e) He loiters for hours.

f) She pretends love for all, but she loves no one. g) Lit. "she hardened her face."

h) See Lev. 7:15ff. The sacrificer must eat the meat that day or the next, so she has plenty of good food to offer him.

i) Her first approach is to tempt him with food. She needs a companion with whom to enjoy it.

j) Now it is flattery; he is the man of her dreams.

k) So they will not be surprised by his unexpected return.

l, m) Reluctantly, but not completely aware of the danger.

n) He now quickens his pace as he yields to her charms.

o) In contrast with the unknown woman. p) Lit. "at the house of the paths."

q) Truth is quickly perceived by those who are sincerely seeking it, when it is proclaimed to them.

r) Understanding and wisdom are identical. s) Lit. "right."

¹⁷I love those loving me; those diligently seeking me will find me.^t
¹⁸Riches and honor are with me, enduring wealth and righteousness;^u ¹⁹my fruit is better than gold, even fine gold, and my increase than choice silver.
²⁰In the way of righteousness I walk firmly in the midst of the paths of justice, ²¹in order to bestow^v real substance^w upon those loving me, and I will fill their treasuries.

²²The LORD made me in the beginning of His way,^x before His works of old; ²³I was poured out^y from ages past, from the beginning, before the earth was. ²⁴When there were no depths, I was born; when there were no springs abundantly flowing; ²⁵before the mountains settled down. I was brought forth before the hills; ²⁶when the earth and the field were yet unmade as well as the first dust particles of the world. ²⁷When He^z established the heavens, there was I;^a when He inscribed a circle upon the face of the deep, ²⁸when He made firm the skies from above, when the fountains of the deep were given their force, ²⁹when He gave to the sea its bounds, that the waters should not transgress His spoken word,^b ³⁰then I was beside Him, a master builder;^c I was daily full of delight, ³¹rejoicing before Him all the time, rejoicing in the habitable part of the earth, for my delight was with the sons of men.

³²Therefore^d now, O sons, listen to me; for happy are those who keep my ways. ³³Hear instruction, be wise, and do not refuse it. ³⁴Happy is the man listening to me, watching daily at my gates, keeping watch at my doorposts. ³⁵For the one finding me finds life, and wins approval from the LORD. ³⁶But the one missing^e me does violence to his own soul; all those hating me love death.

9 WISDOM HAS BUILT HER^f HOUSE, she has hewn out her seven pillars,^g ²she has slaughtered her meat,^h she has mixed her wine, she has also prepared her table;ⁱ ³she has sent forth her maidens; she calls upon the top of the high places of the city: ⁴"Whoever is simple, let him turn in here!" As for the one lacking understanding,^j she says to him: ⁵"Come, eat of my bread, and drink of the wine that I have mixed. ⁶Quit the company of the simple and live; walk in the way of understanding. ⁷He who corrects a scorner heaps abuse upon himself, and he who reproves a wicked man gets bruises in return.^k ⁸Do not reprove a wise man and he will love you; ⁹reprove a wise man and he will become yet wiser; teach a righteous man and he will add to his grasp of things. ¹⁰Reverence for the LORD is the beginning^l of wisdom and knowledge of the Most Holy^m is understanding. ¹¹For by me your days will be multiplied, the years of your life increased.ⁿ ¹²If you are wise, you benefit yourself,^o and if you scorn, you alone will bear it."^p

¹³A foolish woman is noisy; being simple^q she knows nothing. ¹⁴She sits at the door of her house, on the seat

t) Life's dearest prize is within reach of everyone.

u) These do not naturally go together, but wisdom will make it possible to combine them.

v) Or "cause to inherit."

w) "Being," "existence," hence, "possessions," "substance." Compare our term "real estate."

x) His way of creation. y) From the LORD Himself? z) The LORD.

a) Compare these verses with John 1:1ff., but here wisdom is feminine in gender, and comes into being. Although vitally related, logos [word] and chokmah [wisdom] cannot be equated without doing violence to the eternal pre-existence of the Christ. b) Lit. "his mouth." See Gen. 1:9. c) See S. of Sol. 7:1. Or "young child." See Lam. 4:4. The verbs that follow usually apply to children's play or laughter [as the name Isaac from this root]. When applied to adults they usually describe frivolous merrymaking. Here they describe unusual joy and happiness.

d) Since she enjoys such an ancient and intimate relationship with God, and has always been devoted to their welfare. e) Or "sinning against."

f) In contrast to the alien woman who misuses her husband's house. See 7:19.

g) Seven is the number of perfection. Wisdom's house has perfect support, for it is resting upon the complete truth of God. h) See 7:14. i) See Ps. 23:5. j) Lit. "heart."

k) Lit. "his blemishes."

l) A different word from that in 1:7. "Wisdom" is also substituted for "knowledge."

m) Lit. "holy ones." Perhaps a plural of majesty.

n) Note the place of individual choice in increase of life. o) Lit. "you are wise for yourself."

p) "You hurt no one except yourself." q) Lit. "wide-openness."

in the high places of the city, ¹⁵to call to those passing by her way, to those going straight on their paths: ¹⁶"Whoever is simple let him turn in here!"^r

As for the one lacking in understanding, she says to him: ¹⁷"Stolen waters are sweet; secret bread is pleasant."

¹⁸But he does not know that ghosts^s are there; her guests are in the depths of Sheol.

10 A WISE SON MAKES HIS FATHER glad, but a foolish son is the grief of his mother.

²Treasures of wickedness bring no profit, but righteousness saves from death.^t

³The LORD does not let the soul of the righteous go hungry, but He frustrates^u the desire of the wicked.

⁴Always poor is he who works with an indolent hand, but the hand of the diligent brings wealth.

⁵He who gathers during the summer is a prudent son, but a son who sleeps during harvest acts shamefully.

⁶Blessings are upon the head of the righteous,^v but the mouth of the wicked conceals violence.

⁷The memory of the righteous^w continues a blessing, but the name of the wicked shall rot.

⁸The wise of heart accepts commandments, but the prating^x fool will fall headlong.

⁹He who walks in integrity walks securely, but he who takes a crooked course will be found out.

¹⁰He who winks with his eye^y causes heartache, and a prating fool will fall headlong.^z

¹¹The mouth of the righteous is a fountain of life, but the mouth of the wicked conceals violence.^a

¹²Hatred stirs up contentions, but love covers all transgressions.^b

¹³On the lips of the discerning one wisdom is found, but a rod is for the back of one devoid of understanding.^c ¹⁴Wise men store up knowledge, but the mouth of the foolish hastens ruin.

¹⁵The wealth of the rich man is his fortress; the ruin of the poor is their poverty.

¹⁶The labor of the righteous is for life; the increase of the wicked is for sin.

¹⁷He who heeds instruction is on the way of life, but he who neglects reproof goes astray.^d

¹⁸He who hides hatred has lying lips^e and he who spouts forth slander is a fool.^f

¹⁹Among a multitude of words transgression is not missing, but he who restrains his lips is prudent.

²⁰The tongue of the righteous is as choice silver, but the heart of the wicked is of little value.

²¹The lips of the righteous nourish many, but the foolish perish from lack of understanding.

²²It is the blessing of the LORD that brings riches and toiling will add nothing to it.^g ²³To a fool doing wickedness is sport, just as wisdom is to a man of understanding.

²⁴What the wicked fears will come upon him, but the desire of the righteous will be granted.

²⁵When the whirlwind passes over, the wicked is no more but the righteous has an enduring foundation.

²⁶As vinegar to the teeth and as smoke to the eyes, so is the lazy one to those who send him.

²⁷Reverence for the LORD adds days,^h but the years of the wicked will be shortened.

²⁸The hope of the righteous is gladness, but the expectation of the wicked comes to nothing.

r) See v. 4.

s) Lit. "shades." See note on 2:18. t) Not only in a spiritual way; it lengthens life on earth.

u) "Thrusts away" just when they think it is within their grasp.

v, w) A singular noun. "Wicked" is plural. The righteous are in the minority.

x) "Foolish of lips." y) See 6:13.

z) Repeated from v. 8. The emphasis on malicious behavior is hurt to others, and with it idle talk to oneself. a) See v. 6. b) That is, overlooks them.

c) The course of one is self-directed, the other must be driven by discipline.

d) Thus missing the path of life.

e, f) Deceit can take two forms, either to conceal the truth or to utter falsehood.

g) Not that one should not toil, but rather that unless God blesses, all toil is in vain.

h) Lengthens life.

²⁹The way of the LORD is a stronghold to the upright, but ruin to workers of iniquity.

³⁰The righteous will never be moved, but the wicked shall not stay in the land.

³¹The mouth of the righteous blossoms forth with wisdom, but the perverse tongue will be eliminated.¹

³²The lips of the righteous know what delights others, but the mouth of the wicked is perverse.¹

11 DECEITFUL SCALES ARE AN abomination to the LORD, but an accurate weight is His delight.^k ²Pride comes, and then shame, but wisdom is with the humble.

³The integrity of the upright guides them, but the glibness of the treacherous destroys them.

⁴Riches do not profit in the day of wrath, but righteousness delivers from death.¹

⁵The righteousness of the blameless makes straight his way, but by his own wickedness the wicked falls.

⁶The righteousness of the upright delivers them, but the treacherous are trapped by their own greediness.

⁷When a wicked man dies, so does expectation perish; yes, the hope of his strength dies out.^m ⁸The righteous is delivered from trouble, and the wicked takes his place.

⁹With his mouth the profane man destroys his neighbor, but the righteous are delivered by their knowledge.

¹⁰In the prosperity of the righteous the city rejoices, and there is joy when the wicked perish.

¹¹By the blessingⁿ of the upright a city is advanced, but by the mouth of the wicked it is overthrown.

¹²He who despises his neighbor lacks good sense and a man of understanding will hold his peace.

¹³He who is a habitual talebearer betrays confidence,^o but he who is trustworthy^p keeps a matter hidden.

¹⁴Where there is no leadership^q the people fall, but in an abundance of counselors there is safety.

¹⁵Certain calamity comes to him who is surety for a stranger, but he who hates suretyship is secure.

¹⁶A gracious woman gets honor, while violent men gain wealth.

¹⁷A kindly man does himself good, but a troublemaker hurts himself.

¹⁸The wicked gets deceptive wages, but he who sows righteousness gets a sure reward.^r

¹⁹Surely righteousness brings life, but he who pursues evil brings about his own death.

²⁰Those who are evil-minded are an abomination to the LORD but those who are wholehearted in their ways^s are His delight.

²¹Be assured,^t the evil man will not go unpunished, but the offspring of the righteous will escape.

²²Like a gold ring in a swine's snout, so is^u a beautiful woman who neglects good taste.

²³The righteous desire only good, while the wicked can expect only wrath.

²⁴There is one who gives liberally, yet he grows richer,^v and one who withholds what he should give,^w and suffers want.

²⁵The charitable soul will be enriched,^x and he who waters, will himself be watered.

²⁶The people will curse the man who holds back the grain,^y but a blessing will be on the head of the one selling it.

²⁷He who diligently seeks good finds favor, but evil comes to him who searches for it.

²⁸He who trusts in his riches will fall, but the righteous will flourish like a fresh leaf.

i) "Cut off."

j) The righteous man works for harmony and good will; he has the making of a good speaker, of an interesting converser; but the wicked stirs up discord.

k) God takes a personal interest in the honesty of business transactions.

l) A clear conscience has victory in it. m) Lit. "perishes." n) His good influence.

o) Or "reveals a secret." p) Lit. "faithful of spirit." q) See note on 1:5.

r) Rarely does it look that way; instead, to be perfectly honest often seems a handicap; but there is a stimulus in it which no ill-gotten gain can match. s) "Wholehearted of way."

t) "Hand to hand," "agreed."

u) "Like . . . so is" are added to clarify the meaning. The Hebrew leaves to the reader the supplying of the words of comparison. They are not in the Hebrew itself. v) "Increases."

w) "What is right." x) "Will be made fat." y) In time of famine to inflate the price.

²⁹He who troubles his own house will inherit wind, and the foolish shall be a servant of the wisehearted.

³⁰The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life, and a wise man wins friends.^z

³¹Behold, the righteous will be repaid on the earth, how much more the wicked and the sinner!

12 WHOEVER LOVES DISCIPLINE loves knowledge, but he who hates reproof is like a cow.^a ²A good man obtains favor from the LORD, but He condemns the man who devises evil.

³A man will not be established in wickedness, but the root of the righteous will never be moved.

⁴A wife with strength of character^b is a crown to her husband,^c but she who acts disgracefully is rotteness in his bones.

⁵The thoughts of the righteous are reliable, but the suggestions^d of the wicked are deceptive.

⁶The words of the wicked lie in wait for blood, but the mouth of the upright delivers them.^e ⁷The wicked are overthrown and are no more,^f but the house of the righteous shall stand.

⁸For his common sense a man is commended, but a man with twisted thoughts^g shall be despised.

⁹Better is he who is lightly esteemed, but has a servant, than he who boasts of himself, and lacks bread.

¹⁰A righteous man understands the needs^h of his livestock, but even the mercy of the wicked is cruel.

¹¹He who tills his ground will have his fill of bread, but he who follows vain pursuits is lacking in sense.

¹²The wicked man desires the booty of evil men, but the root of the righteous bears fruit.ⁱ

¹³An evil man is ensnared by the transgression of his lips, but the righteous comes forth from trouble.

¹⁴From the fruit of his words a man is well satisfied, and the work of a man's hands will come back to him.

¹⁵The way of the foolish is right in his own eyes, but the wise listens to advice.

¹⁶As for the foolish, his displeasure is known at once,^j but the discerning man ignores an insult.

¹⁷He who speaks truth gives correct evidence, but a false witness practices deception.

¹⁸Some speak rashly like the piercing of a sword, but the tongue of the wise heals.

¹⁹Truthful lips endure forever, but a lying tongue only for the wink of an eye.

²⁰Deceit is in the heart of those who plan evil, but those who plan good have joy.

²¹No harm befalls the righteous, but the wicked are filled up with trouble.

²²Lying lips are an abomination to the LORD, but those who deal faithfully are His delight.

²³A man of insight conceals his knowledge, but the heart of fools proclaims foolishness.

²⁴The hand of the diligent will rule, but the slack hand will be forced to serve.^k ²⁵Anxiety in a man's heart weighs it down, but a kind word makes it glad.

²⁶The righteous seeks guidance from his friend, but the way of the wicked leads them astray.

²⁷A slothful man will not roast his prey,^l but the possessions of the diligent man are precious.

²⁸Life is in the way of the righteous, a pathway where there is no death.^m

13 A WISE SON ACCEPTSⁿ HIS FATHER'S correction, but a scorner does not listen to rebuke.

²From the fruit of his mouth a man

z) Lit. "takes souls." a) As stupid. b) "A wife of strength."

c) This word in its primary sense means "master," which throws light on the early concept of the marriage relationship. d) Or, "attempts at leadership." See note on 1:5.

e) The upright defend the innocent victims of the wicked. f) "Are not." See Gen. 5:24.

g) Or, "distorted of mind."

h) "Knows the soul of"; only one who knows God can understand his neighbor.

i) The Hebrew has only "the root of the righteous gives." The sense is that the wicked always wants what belongs to somebody else, the righteous earns his own living.

j) Lit. "on the day," "at the time." And this because, like a child, he thinks aloud.

k) "Under tribute." l) Or, "hunt."

m) This is one of the few assertions of immortality in the Old Testament, and the only certain one in the Book of Proverbs. n) The verb is absent in the Hebrew.

will eat bountifully, but the desire of the treacherous is for violence.

³He who guards his mouth controls himself, but he who opens wide his lips comes to ruin.

⁴The soul of the lazy one craves and gets nothing, but the soul of the diligent is well supplied.

⁵A righteous man hates a lying word, but a wicked man acts odiously^o and shamefully.

⁶Righteousness guards him who is blameless in the way, but wickedness overthrows the sinner.

⁷There is one who considers himself^p rich, yet has nothing; and one who considers himself^a poor, yet possesses great wealth.

⁸His riches are a ransom for a man's life, but the poor do not even hear a rebuke.^r ⁹The light of the righteous dances, but the lamp of the wicked is put out.

¹⁰Only through pride comes contention, for wisdom is with those who take advice.

¹¹Wealth acquired rashly dwindles away, but he who gathers by labor⁸ increases.

¹²Hope drawn out makes the heart sick, but a longing come true is a tree of life.

¹³He who despises the Word is in debt toⁱ it and he who reveres the commandment will be rewarded.

¹⁴The teaching of the wise is a fountain of life to deliver from the snares of death.^u

¹⁵Ideal understanding lends attractiveness, but the way of the treacherous is rugged.

¹⁶Every person of insight acts with forethought,^v but a fool displays his folly.

¹⁷An unreliable messenger precipitates trouble, but a faithful envoy brings healing.

¹⁸Poverty and shame will be for him who refuses instruction, but the one listening to reproof will be honored.

¹⁹Longing fulfilled is sweet to the soul, thus it is an abomination to fools to give up evil.

²⁰He who walks with wise men will be wise,^w but the companion of fools will suffer harm.

²¹Calamity pursues sinners, but prosperity rewards the righteous.

²²A good man leaves an inheritance to his children's children,^x but the wealth of the sinner is stored up for the righteous.

²³Much food is in the fallow ground of the poor, but it is swept away for lack of justice.

²⁴He who spares his rod hates his son, but he who loves him is diligent to chasten him.^y

²⁵The righteous eats to satisfy his need,^z but the wicked's stomach never has enough.^a 14 A WISE WOMAN BUILDS HER own house, but a foolish one with her own hands tears it down.

²He who walks in his uprightness reveres the LORD, but he who is perverse in his ways despises Him.

³In the mouth of the foolish man lies a rod for his pride, but the lips of the wise preserve them.

⁴Where there are no oxen, the stable is clean, but much increase comes by the strength of the ox.^b

⁵A faithful witness will not lie, but a false witness breathes out falsehoods.^c ⁶Should a scorner seek wisdom, it is not for him;^d but for the discerning knowledge is readily acquired.

o) Lit. "causes a bad smell."

p, q) Or, "makes himself" - the poor person with great thoughts and the wealthy person whose thinking is limited to his own immediate interests.

r) The rich man's offense is often exaggerated to get his money. s) Lit. "by hand."

t) He has broken his covenant pledge to the LORD; he has defaulted in his obligation.

u) i.e., "fatal snares." v) Lit. "knowledge."

w) Conversing personally with a noble character; also reading the works of splendid writers, certainly of the sacred writers.

x) Not merely material wealth, but their exemplary and enriching lives.

y) Lit. "seeks him with chastening." z) Lit. "soul." a) "Is always lacking."

b) One has less work with no oxen, but also less income. So where few worshipers attend church, it is easier for the janitor, but how about the church's impact on the community?

c) Repeated from 6:19.

d) He lacks the prerequisite - reverence for the LORD. He does not love it for its own sake.

⁷Leave the presence of a man who is a fool, for you will not discern words^a of knowledge there.

⁸The wisdom of the man of insight is in his anticipating his way, but the folly of fools is deceiving.

⁹The bond^c between foolish men is guilt, but between the upright it is good-will.

¹⁰The heart knows its own bitterness, and no stranger can intermingle with its joy.

¹¹The house of the wicked shall be overthrown, but the tent of the upright shall prosper.

¹²There is a way that seems right to a person, but its end is the way of death.

¹³Even in laughter the heart may be sad and joy may eventuate in grief.

¹⁴The perverse man will get filled up on his own ways, and the good man gets satisfaction from his.

¹⁵The simple believes every word, but the man of insight makes sure where he is going.

¹⁶A wise man is cautious and avoids misfortune, but a fool parades himself and feels confident.

¹⁷He who is quick-tempered acts foolishly,^e and a man who plans wickedness is hated.

¹⁸The simple have folly for their portion, but people of insight have knowledge for a crown.

¹⁹Evil men shall bow before the good, and the wicked at the gates of the righteous.

²⁰Even by his neighbor the poor is spurned, but the friends of the rich man are many.

²¹He sins who despises his neighbor,^h but happy is he who is gracious to the humble.

²²Do they not go astray who plot mischief? Loyal love and stability are for those who plan good.

²³In all toil there is profit, but mere talk leads only to want.¹

²⁴The crown of the wise is their wealth (of wisdom), but the folly of fools is still folly.

²⁵A faithful witness delivers souls, but he who breathes out lies is a betrayer.

²⁶In reverence for the LORD one has strong confidence and for his children there shall be a refuge.

²⁷Reverence for the LORD is a fountain of life to deliver from the snares of death.¹

²⁸In the multitude of people is a king's glory, and in a lack of people lies the ruin of a prince.

²⁹He who is slow to anger is of great understanding, but whoever is hasty of spirit exalts folly.

³⁰A relaxed^k mind makes for physical health; but passion is rottenness to the bones.

³¹He who oppresses the poor insults his Maker, and he who is kind to the needy honors Him.¹

³²The wicked is overthrown by his mischief-making, but the righteous, while dying, has confidence.^m

³³In the heart of a man of understanding wisdom quietly rests, but she must make herself known to the inner self of fools.ⁿ

³⁴Righteousness exalts a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people.^o

³⁵The king's favor is toward the servant who deals wisely, but his wrath is evidenced toward him who acts shamefully.

15 A PLEASANT ANSWER TURNS away wrath, but a harsh word arouses anger.^p ²The tongue of the wise makes knowledge attractive, but the mouth of fools gushes forth with folly.

³The eyes of the LORD are in every place, observing the evil and the good.

⁴A soothing tongue is a tree of life, while perversity in it breaks down the spirit.

e) Lit. "lips." f) "Interpreter," "intermediary."

g) Most of us regret occasions when we failed to control our temper, for it hurt ourselves and others. h) For instance, the Pharisee in the temple, but he is not unique.

i) Not what he says but what he does is the measure of a person. j) Cf. 13:14.

k) Free from tension. l) For he co-operates with God.

m) This passage certainly seems to imply life after death for the righteous.

n) Wisdom must clamor loudly before being recognized by fools.

o) A national maxim every citizen does well to make his own.

p) Another maxim for daily behavior, to be practiced.

⁵The foolish rejects his father's correction, but he who remembers reproof is prudent.

⁶In the house of the righteous is great treasure, but the income of the wicked is freighted with trouble.

⁷The lips of the wise spread knowledge, but not so the mind of fools.

⁸The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the LORD, but the prayer of the upright is His delight.^a ⁹The way of the wicked is an abomination to the LORD, but He loves him who seeks after righteousness.

¹⁰There is severe discipline for him who forsakes the way, and he who hates reproof will die.^r ¹¹Sheol^s and Abaddon^t lie open before the LORD, how much more the hearts of the sons of men!

¹²A scorner does not like to be rebuked, so he will not go to the wise.

¹³A happy heart makes the face look sunny; but in grief of heart the spirit is broken.^u

¹⁴The heart of a discerning person seeks knowledge, but the mouth of the foolish feeds on folly.

¹⁵All the days of the poor are unfortunate, but the glad-hearted has a continual feast.^v

¹⁶Better a little with reverence for the LORD than great treasure and lamentation with it.

¹⁷Better a vegetable meal where love is, than a fattened ox^w and hate with it.

¹⁸A hot-tempered man stirs up strife, but one slow to anger quiets contention.

¹⁹The sluggard's path is like a growth of thorns,^x but the way of the upright is leveled.^y

²⁰A wise son makes his father glad, but a foolish man despises his mother.

²¹Folly is joy to one who lacks sense, but a discerning man takes a straight course.^z

²²For lack of advice plans go wrong, but with many counselors they are accomplished.

²³What joy to a man is the answer of his mouth; for how good is a word at the right time!

²⁴The path of life leads upward for the wise, that he may avoid Sheol below.^a ²⁵The LORD tears down the house of the proud, but He protects the boundaries of the widow.

²⁶Wicked thoughts are an abomination to the LORD, but kindly words are pure.^b

²⁷He who plunders for profit troubles his own house, but the one who hates bribes will live.

²⁸The mind of the righteous ponders before answering, but the mouth of the wicked pours forth evil things.

²⁹The LORD is far from the wicked, but He hears the prayer of the righteous.

³⁰The light of the eyes rejoices the heart, and a good report nourishes^c the bones.

³¹The ear that listens to the reproof of life will stay among wise men.^d

³²He who ignores correction despises himself, and he who listens to reproof acquires intelligence.

³³Reverence of the LORD is the instruction of wisdom, for before honor must be humility.

16 ORDERLY THINKING^e BELONGS to man, but the answer of the tongue is from the LORD.^f

²All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes, but the LORD^g weighs the spirits.

³Roll your work onto the LORD and your plans will be achieved.

⁴The LORD has made everything for His purpose, even the wicked for the day of calamity.

q) Another way of saying that obedience is better than sacrifice.

r) They are doomed to get discipline the hard way. s, t) Synonyms for the grave.

u) In joy one naturally shares with others, but in grief he is more likely to retreat within himself, causing an impossible burden. v) Even though poor. w) Served as juicy steaks.

x) He imagines it so. y) The way of the righteous is cleared for his coming before he arrives.

z) Lit. "makes his going straight."

a) The righteous is moving away from the grave rather than toward it, as most men do.

b) Are recognized as coming from a pure heart. c) Lit. "fattens."

d) Who will furnish the reproof. e) Lit. "orderly arrangement of the mind."

f) Man can think logically, but only God can teach him how to say it most effectively, especially on the spur of the moment. g) Note the frequency of the name of God in vv. 1-9.

⁵Every one proud of heart is an abomination to the LORD; be assured^a he will not go unpunished.

⁶By loyal love and faithfulness iniquity is atoned for, but turning from evil is through reverence for the LORD.¹

⁷When the ways of a man please the LORD, He makes even his enemies to be at peace with him.

⁸Better is a little with righteousness by fair means than a large income without justice.

⁹A man's mind plans his road, but the LORD directs his steps.¹

¹⁰A godly decision is on the lips of the king; in judgment his mouth does not sin.^k

¹¹The balance and scales of justice are the LORD's, and all the weights in the bag are His work.¹

¹²To do wickedness is an abomination to kings, for the throne is established by righteousness.

¹³Righteous lips are a delight to a king and he loves him who speaks what is right.

¹⁴The wrath of a king is a messenger of death, but a wise man will appease it.

¹⁵In the light of a king's face is life, and his favor is as showers of spring.

¹⁶How much better to get wisdom than gold, as understanding is rather to be chosen than silver.

¹⁷The highway of the upright turns away from evil, and he who guards his life takes heed to his way.

¹⁸Before destruction comes pride, and before a fall a proud spirit.^m ¹⁹It is better to be humble in spirit among the poor, than to divide the plunder with the proud.

²⁰He who acts wisely concerning the Word will find good, and happy is he who trusts in the LORD.

²¹The wise in heart will be called a discerning man, and pleasant speech will increase learning.ⁿ

²²Prudence is a fountain of life to its possessor, but folly is the chastisement of fools.

²³The mind of the wise teaches his mouth and adds learning to his lips.

²⁴Pleasant words are as a honeycomb, sweet to the soul and healing to the bones.^o

²⁵There is a way that seems right to a man, but its end is the way of death.^p

²⁶A worker's appetite works for him, for his mouth urges him on.^q ²⁷A worthless man plots harm, and his speech is like a searing flame.

²⁸A perverse man sows strife, and a whisperer separates familiar friends.^r ²⁹A man of violence entices his neighbor, and leads him in a way that is not good.

³⁰He who winks his eyes to plan perverse things, pinching his lips,^s brings harm to pass.

³¹A hoary head is a crown of glory: it is found in the way of righteousness.^t

³²Better is he who is slow to anger than the mighty hero, and he who rules his spirit than he who captures a city.

³³The lot is cast into the lap, but from the LORD is its every decision.^u

17 BETTER IS A DRY MORSEL WITH quiet than a house full of feasting^v with strife.

²A slave who acts wisely will rule over the son who acts shamefully, and he will share the inheritance with the sons.^w

³The crucible is for silver and the furnace for gold, but the LORD tests hearts.^x

⁴An evildoer listens to wicked lips,

h) See 11:21. i) Only by a walk with God can man turn from evil.

j) Man must do the stepping and should plan which way to go, but always with God in mind, for He has a plan with us and a task for us; He also supplies the strength to walk. See Jer. 10:23.

k) He is not true to his divine anointing if he acts otherwise.

l) Let the king remember this, lest he think he is God.

m) The world says, "Have self-confidence." His word teaches, "Trust in God, then advance confidently." n) Make others more amenable to learning.

o) Not flattering but encouraging words. p) Identical with 14:12.

q) That we must work to keep body and soul together God in His goodness has turned into a blessing. r) Gossip is from the devil; it always hurts.

s) Pretending to leave something damaging unsaid. t) Since long life is a blessing of God. u) God has much more to do with our biography than we take for granted. Look back over your life and see what critical moves were not your own idea. v) Lit. "sacrifices of strife."

w) Joseph and Daniel are outstanding examples. x) And we are in His crucible.

and a liar pays attention to a vicious tongue.^y

^bHe who mocks the poor insults his Maker, and he who rejoices at another's calamity will not go unpunished.

^cGrandchildren are the crown of old age, and the glory of children is in their fathers.

^dExcellent speech is not suitable in a fool, much less deceitful speech in a prince.

^eA bribe is a precious stone in the eyes of the one receiving it; whatever he turns to, he causes to succeed.^z ^aHe who covers an offense seeks love, but he who brings up a matter again, alienates a close friend.

^bA rebuke goes deeper into a man of understanding than a hundred blows into a fool.

^cA wicked man seeks only rebellion; but a stern messenger will be sent against him.

^dRather a man should encounter a bear robbed^a of her cubs, than a fool in his folly.

^eWhoever returns evil for good, calamity will not leave his house.^b

^fThe beginning of strife is like letting out water; so quit before the quarrel breaks forth.

^gHe who judges the wicked to be righteous and he who judges the righteous to be wicked, even both are an abomination to the LORD.

^hWhy is this — a price in the hand of a fool to buy wisdom, when he has no capacity?^c ⁱA friend is perpetually friendly, and a brother is born for adversity.^d ^jA man without good judgment is he who makes an agreement, becoming surety in the presence of his neighbor.

^kHe who loves transgression loves strife, and he who opens wide his mouth^e seeks destruction.

^lThe man of a crooked mind does not find prosperity, and he who has a perverted tongue tumbles into trouble.

^mHe who fathers a fool, it is grief to him; yes, the father of a fool is joyless.

ⁿA cheerful heart makes a good cure,^f but a broken spirit makes the bones dry up.

^oA wicked man accepts a personal bribe to pervert the ways of justice.

^pWisdom is before the eyes of the discerning man,^g but the eyes of the fool are upon the ends of the earth.^h ^qA foolish son is grief to his father and bitterness to her who bore him.

^rTo impose a fine on the righteous is not good, nor to flog noble men for their uprightness.

^sHe who restrains his words has knowledge, and he who is calm of spirit is a man of understanding.

^tEven a fool when he is silent is thought to be wise,ⁱ and he who keeps his lips closed is considered intelligent.

18 HE WHO WILFULLY SEPARATES himself seeks his own desire and breaks out against all sound wisdom.

¹A fool does not delight in understanding, but only in revealing his own opinion.

²The wicked brings contempt with him^j and with disdain brings reproach.^k

³The words of a man's mouth are deep waters; the fountain of wisdom is a flowing stream.^l

⁴It is not good to show partiality to the wicked, to deprive a righteous man of justice.

⁵The lips of a fool lead to strife, and his mouth calls for a beating.

⁶A fool's mouth is his ruin, and his lips are a snare to his soul.

⁷The words of a gossip are tempting morsels, and they go down into the inner parts of the body.

y) Not only is the slanderer doing wrong, but also the one who listens to him.

z) In order to keep the bribe. This is sarcasm. No genuine success can result. a) Lit. "bereaved."

b) He perpetuates unpleasant relationships. c) Lit. "mind."

d) A brother may help in the hour of need; the friend is always there.

e) Lit. "makes high his opening." f) Up-to-date therapy, unsurpassed.

g) She is his one pursuit, immediately perceived and grasped.

h) The fool has some far-off objective he never reaches.

i) Who of us does not regret the occasion when he did not practice this hint?

j) Contempt for others. k) Against himself.

l) The more one concentrates in his thinking, the more fresh ideas present themselves.

⁹Also, he who is slack in his work is a brother to him who destroys.^m

¹⁰The name of the LORD is a strong tower; into it runs the righteous and cannot be touched.ⁿ

¹¹The rich man's wealth is his strong city and as a high^o wall — so he thinks.

¹²Before destruction a man's heart is haughty, but before honor goes humility.

¹³He who answers before he hears, it is folly to him and reproach.

¹⁴A man's spirit will endure sickness,^p but a broken spirit who can carry?

¹⁵A discerning mind gets knowledge and the ear of the wise seeks information.^q

¹⁶A man's gift makes room for him^r and brings him before great men.

¹⁷He who states his case first seems right until another comes to examine him.

¹⁸The lot puts an end to disputes and separates powerful men.^s

¹⁹A brother offended is harder to be won than a strong city, and quarrels are as bars of a castle.^t

²⁰With the fruit of his mouth a man's stomach is filled; with the increase of his lips he will be satisfied.^u

²¹Death and life are in the power of the tongue, and those who love it will eat its fruit.

²²He who has found a wife has gained a goodly portion, and obtains favor from the LORD.

²³The poor use entreaties, but the rich answer roughly.

²⁴A man has many friends^v for companionship,^w but there is a friend who sticks closer than a brother.^x

19 BETTER IS THE POOR MAN WHO walks in integrity than a fool who is perverse of lips.

²Even as it is not good to be ignorant, so he who hurries his feet misses the mark.^y

³The foolishness of man ruins his affairs, but his heart is resentful toward the LORD.^z ⁴Wealth adds many friends, but as for the poor, his only friend leaves him.

⁵A false witness will not go unpunished, and he who breathes out lies will not escape.

⁶Many will entreat the favor^a of a generous man, and everyone is the friend of the man who gives gifts.

⁷All the brothers of the poor despise him, how much more do his friends go far from him! He pursues them with words,^b but they are gone.^c ⁸He who gains wisdom loves his own life; he who maintains insight finds success.

⁹A false witness will not go unpunished, and he who breathes out lies will perish.

¹⁰Luxury is not fitting for a fool, much less for a slave to rule over princes.^d

¹¹It is prudent for a man to restrain his anger; it is his glory to overlook an offense.^e

¹²A king's anger is like the roaring of a lion, but his favor is as dew upon the grass.

¹³A foolish son is a calamity to his father, and the quarreling of a wife is as a constant dripping of water.

¹⁴House and wealth are inherited from fathers, but a prudent wife is from the LORD.

¹⁵Laziness makes one sleep heavily; an idle person will suffer hunger.

¹⁶He who keeps the commandments keeps his own soul, but he who despises His way shall die.

¹⁷He who is gracious to the poor is lending to the LORD; He will repay him for his benevolent action.

m) Not producing is next to destroying. n) Above the danger.

o) The rich man thinks he is protected, but the righteous actually is.

p) The will to live when there is something to live for.

q) With few available writings, most information came by ear.

r) Money helps to pave the way to temporal success.

s) Who are about to fight. The result brings harmony. t) Preventing entry.

u) Good speech is profitable. v) Lit. "a man of friends." w) Lit. "to act as companions."

x) Which has been found supremely true of Jesus.

y) Or "sins." The contrast is between those who do not know and those who only think they know.

z) When he can find no one else to blame for his failure then, instead of blaming himself he is likely to find fault with God. a) "Smooth the face." b) Of entreaty. c) His friends.

d) The fool certainly and the slave probably does not have the ability to spend or to direct profitably. e) Lit. "to pass over."

¹⁸Discipline your son, for there is hope, and do not set your heart on his destruction.^f

¹⁹A man of great wrath must bear his penalty, for if you deliver him, you must do it again.

²⁰Hear advice and accept instruction, that you may be wise the rest of your days.

²¹Many schemes are in a man's mind, but the counsel of the LORD will stand.^g ²²What is desired in a man is steadfast love, for better is a poor man than a liar.

²³Reverence for the LORD leads to life; he who remains satisfied with that will not be visited by harm.

²⁴The sluggard buries his hand in the dish and will not even bring it back to his mouth.

²⁵Strike a scorner, and the simple will become prudent; and when a discerning man is reproved, he will gain knowledge.^h

²⁶A son who slanders his father and drives out his mother acts shamefully and disgracefully.

²⁷Cease, my son, to hear instruction only to stray from the words of knowledge.

²⁸A worthless witness scoffs at justice and the mouth of the wicked swallows iniquity.

²⁹Judgment is ready for scorners and flogging for the back of fools.

20 WINE IS A SCORNER, STRONG drinkⁱ a brawler, and whoever gets drunk^j is not wise.

²The fury of a king is like the roaring of a lion; he who makes him angry endangers his own life.^k

³It is an honor for a man to keep away from strife, but every foolish man will be quarreling.

⁴In the autumn the sluggard will not plow; he will search at harvest time and have nothing.

⁵Planning in a man's mind is deep water, but a man of understanding will draw it out.

⁶Many a man proclaims his own steadfast love, but who can find a faithful man?

⁷He who walks righteously in his integrity — how happy are his children after him!

⁸A king who sits on the throne of judgment winnows all evil with his eyes.

⁹Who can say, "I have made my heart clean; I am pure from my sin?"

¹⁰Diverse weights and diverse measures^l are both alike an abomination to the LORD.

¹¹Even a child reveals himself by his acts, whether what he does is pure and right.^m

¹²The hearing ear and the seeing eye, the LORD has made them both.ⁿ

¹³Be not overfond of sleep lest you come to poverty; keep your eyes open and have plenty of food.

¹⁴"Bad! Bad!" says the buyer;^o but when he goes his way, then he boasts.

¹⁵There is gold and a mass of costly stones, but the understanding lips are a precious jewel.

¹⁶Take the man's garment who is surety for a stranger, and hold him in pledge when he is surety for foreigners.^p ¹⁷Sweet to a man is food gained by deceit, but afterwards his mouth will be filled with gravel.

¹⁸Every plan is confirmed by counsel, and thus by wise guidance you carry on war.

¹⁹He who goes about as a talebearer reveals secrets; therefore do not associate with him who opens wide his lips.

²⁰He who curses his father or his

f) A boy is never hopeless; his ruin is not inevitable.

g) "Man proposes, but God disposes."

h) A discerning man needs only a verbal reproof. The scorner will profit from no amount of discipline, but he can be made an object lesson to help teach the immature [simple].

i) Fermented from fruits other than grapes, such as dates and pomegranates. j) Lit. "staggers."

k) "Sins against his own soul."

l) Pound and pound; bushel and bushel. Some unscrupulous merchants used one size for buying and another for selling. m) So, as Jesus put it, "By their fruits you shall know them."

n) God made us so that we may daily increase our knowledge and understanding.

o) The buyer wants to make the seller feel that the sales price is too high.

p) For that man will financially be bankrupt.

mother, his lamp will be put out in utter darkness.

²¹An estate may be obtained hastily at the beginning, but its end will not be blessed.

²²Do not say, "I will repay evil"; wait for the LORD and He will save you.^a ²³Diverse weights are an abomination to the LORD, and false scales are wrong.

²⁴A man's steps are ordered by the LORD; how then can a man understand his way?^r

²⁵It is a snare for a man to say rashly, "It is holy," and after vows to consider more thoroughly.^s

²⁶A wise king winnows the wicked and drives the wheel over them.^t

²⁷The spirit^u of man is a lamp of the LORD, searching out all the inward parts.

²⁸Lovingkindness and faithfulness preserve the king, and his throne is upheld by justice.

²⁹The glory of young men is their strength, and the attractiveness of old men is their gray head.

³⁰Blows that wound cleanse away evil, and are strokes that reach the innermost parts.

21 THE HEART OF THE KING IS AS streams of water in the hand of the LORD; wherever He wills, He turns it.

²Every way of a man is right in his own eyes, but the LORD weighs hearts.^v

³To practice righteousness and justice is more acceptable to the LORD than sacrifice.^w

⁴Haughty eyes, a lustful^x heart and the tilling of the wicked are sin.^y

⁵The plans of the diligent lead only to plenty, but every one who is hasty comes only to want.

⁶The getting of riches by a lying tongue is a fleeting vapor, a pursuit of death.

⁷The violence of the wicked snares them, for they refuse to act with fairness.

⁸The way of some men is perverse and wrong,^z but as for the pure, his work is right.

⁹It is better to live in the corner of a housetop than to share a house^a with a contentious woman.

¹⁰The soul of the wicked desires evil; his neighbor finds no favor in his eyes.

¹¹When the scorner is punished, the simple become wise; when one is considerate of the wise man, he acquires knowledge.^b

¹²The righteous man deals considerately with the house of the wicked; the wicked are tumbled into ruin.^c

¹³He who closes his ears to the cry of the poor will himself also cry and not be heard.

¹⁴A gift in secret quiets anger, and a present in the bosom calms fury.

¹⁵The doing of justice is a joy to the righteous, but to the workers of iniquity it is a calamity.

¹⁶A man who strays from the way of prudence will find rest in the assembly of the dead.^d

¹⁷He who loves pleasure will be a poor man; he who loves wine and oil will not be rich.

¹⁸The wicked is a ransom for the righteous and the treacherous for the upright.^e

¹⁹It is better to live in a desert land^f than with a contentious and fretful woman.

²⁰Desirable treasure and oil are in the dwelling of the wise, but a foolish man devours them.

²¹He who follows after righteousness and loving-kindness finds life, righteousness and honor.

q) Exemplified so perfectly when David refused to put Saul out of the way, I Sam. 26:8-10.

r) He must receive help from God, who will direct his steps, although he may never completely understand the way. s) The man rashly dedicates something to God before he counts the cost.

t) As was done in threshing. u) Lit. "life-breath," see Gen. 2:7. v) Compare 16:2.

w) So said God's prophet [I Sam. 15:22], and the scribe to Jesus [Mark 12:33].

x) Lit. "broad," with unlimited desire. y) Because not for a God-honoring purpose.

z) Lit. "foreign," contrary to what should characterize them.

a) Lit. "than a house of a companion."

b) The ignorant are moved by fear, but the wise by concern for others.

c) See 25:21-22. His thoughtfulness accentuates the evil of his neighbor. d) Lit. "shades."

e) God sees to it that ultimately right triumphs over wrong; hence the godly, too, triumph over the ungodly, whatever appearances may suggest otherwise. f) Where no one else lives.

²²A wise man scales the city of the mighty and brings down the stronghold in which they trust.

²³He who guards his mouth and his tongue keeps his soul from troubles.

²⁴Proud, haughty, "scorner" is his name, who acts with arrogant pride.

²⁵The desire^g of the sluggard slays him, for his hands refuse to work;

²⁶all day long he feels greedy; but the righteous gives^h and does not hold back.

²⁷The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination; how much more when he brings it with evil intent!

²⁸A false witness will perish, but a man who listens faithfully will be at liberty to speak.ⁱ

²⁹A wicked man has an impudent face, but as for the upright, he ponders his ways.

³⁰There is no wisdom, there is no understanding, there is no counsel against the LORD;^j

³¹The horse is made ready for the day of battle, but the victory belongs to the LORD.

22 A GOOD NAME IS TO BE CHOSEN rather than great riches and loving favor than silver and gold.

²The rich and the poor meet together — the LORD is Maker of them all.^k

³A prudent man sees danger and hides himself, but the simple continue on and suffer for it.

⁴The results of humility^l — reverence for the LORD — are riches, honor and life.

⁵Thorns and snares are in the way of the perverse; he who guards his soul will go far from them.

⁶Educate a child according to his life requirements; even when he is old he will not veer from it.

⁷The rich rules over the poor, and the borrower is slave to the lender.

⁸He who sows injustice will reap nothing, and the rod of his fury will fail.

⁹He whose eye is generous^m will be blessed, for he gives food to the poor.

¹⁰Cast out the scorner and strife will go out, and contention and abuse will cease.

¹¹He who loves purity of heart and whose speech is pleasant will have the king as his friend.

¹²The eyes of the LORD protect knowledge, and He turns aside the words of the treacherous.

¹³The sluggard says, "There is a lion outside; I will be slain in the streets!"ⁿ ¹⁴The mouth of strange women is a deep pit; he who is cursed of the LORD falls into it.

¹⁵Foolishness is bound up in the heart of a child, but the rod of discipline will drive it far from him.

¹⁶He who oppresses the poor to make gain for himself, or he who gives to the rich,^o surely he will suffer want.

¹⁷Incline^p your ear and listen to the words of the wise; apply your mind to know them;

¹⁸For it will be pleasant if you keep them within you; if all of them are ready upon your lips.

¹⁹That your trust may be in the LORD I have informed you this day, even you.

²⁰Have not I written for you previously of counsels and knowledge, ²¹so that I might make you know certainty, even the words of truth, that you might return words of truth to those who send you?

²²Do not rob the poor because he is poor, nor oppress the afflicted in the gate; ²³for the LORD will plead their cause and He will take the life of those killing them.

²⁴Do not associate with one given to anger, and with a wrathful man do not keep company, ²⁵lest you learn his ways and get yourself in a snare.

g) He desires only the fruit, not the labor.

h) The sluggard waits for life to come to him; the righteous gives himself to life unsparingly.

i) He will not be interrupted in his testimony. j) None that prevails.

k) We are all horn equal before God. l) True humility will lead a man to revere God.

m) Lit. "good." n) He always finds an excuse for his laziness.

o) Gives a bribe. A man must be scrupulous both in how he makes and how he uses his money.

p) A new section begins here, resembling chapters 1-9.

²⁶Be not among those who give pledges, who are securities for debts; ²⁷if you do not have the means to pay, why should your bed be taken from under you?^q

²⁸Do not remove the ancient landmark which your fathers have set.^r

²⁹Do you see a man skilful in his work? Before kings he will stand; he shall not stand before the undistinguished.

23 WHEN YOU SIT DOWN TO EAT with a ruler, consider well what is before you ²and put a knife to your throat if you are a man given to appetite;^a ³do not desire his delicacies, for they are deceptive food.

⁴Do not toil to get wealth; surrender that personal ambition.^t

⁵Do your eyes light on it? But it is gone; for riches surely take wings like an eagle that flies heavenward.

⁶Eat not the bread of him whose eye is selfish,^u neither desire his delicacies; ⁷for as one who inwardly figures the cost,^v so is he; "Eat and drink," he says to you, but his heart is not with you;^w ⁸you will vomit up the bit you have eaten, and spoil your compliments.^x

⁹Do not speak to the ears of a fool, for he will despise the wisdom of your words.

¹⁰Remove not the ancient landmark, and the fields of the fatherless do not enter, ¹¹for their Redeemer is mighty; He will defend their cause against you.

¹²Apply your heart to instruction and your ears to the words of knowledge.

¹³Withhold not correction from a child; if you beat him with a rod, he will not die;^y ¹⁴beat him with a rod, and you will deliver his soul from

Sheol. ¹⁵My son, if your heart is wise, my heart will rejoice, mine too; ¹⁶yes, my soul will rejoice when your lips speak what is right. ¹⁷Let not your heart envy sinners, but continue^z in the reverence of the LORD all the day; ¹⁸for surely there is a future^a and your hope will not be cut off.

¹⁹Hear, my son, and be wise and direct your heart in the way. ²⁰Be not among winebibbers, among gluttonous eaters of flesh; ²¹for the drunkard and the glutton^b will be poverty-stricken, and drowsiness^c will clothe a man with rags. ²²Heed your father who begot you and despise not your mother when she is old. ²³Buy the truth and do not sell it, along with wisdom, instruction, and understanding.^d

²⁴The father of the righteous will gladly rejoice, and he who begets a wise child will find joy in him; ²⁵let your father and mother find joy; let her who bore you rejoice. ²⁶My son, give me your heart and let your eyes delight in my ways. ²⁷For a harlot is a deep pit; an alien woman is a narrow well;^e ²⁸she also lies in wait like a robber and increases the treacherous among men.^f

²⁹Who has sorrow? Who has woe? Who has strife? Who has complaints? Who feels hurt without cause? Who has bloodshot eyes? ³⁰They who tarry long over wine, they who go to sample mixed wine.^g ³¹Look not upon wine when it is red, when it sparkles in the cup,^h when it goes down smoothly. ³²In the end it bites like a serpent, and stings like an adder. ³³Your eyes will see strange things, and your mind will utter upside-down things; ³⁴yes, you will be as one who lies down in the heart of the sea, or as one who lies down upon the top of a mast. ³⁵"They struck me; I did not feel it! They beat

q) To this day good people have regretted putting down their names as security, for it ruined them financially. r) The landmarks showed the bounds of one's property; to move them involved theft. s) Lit. "if you are the owner of desire." To "put a knife to the throat" is an Eastern expression meaning to put restraint on one's appetite. t) Lit. "desist from your own understanding."

u) Lit. "evil," the opposite of the "generous [good] eye," cf. 22:9. v) Of the food he is serving. w) He hopes you will refrain.

x) When you try to compliment your host you will choke on the words.

y) The correction will prevent his death. See v. 14.

z) The verb supplied to clarify the sense. The Hebrew lacks a verb. a) Lit. "an afterwards."

b) Note how drunkenness and gluttony are kindred sins, both intemperate.

c) The result of excessive indulgence. d) Though it cost you to secure it, share it with others.

e) Therefore difficult to escape from.

f) She not only is wicked but leads the innocent into crime.

g) See 9:2. We might paraphrase: "they who go to sample cocktails."

h) "When it gives its life in the cup."

me; I did not know it! When shall I awake? I will seek it yet again."¹

24 BE NOT ENVIOUS OF EVIL MEN
nor desire to be with them;

²for their minds devise violence, and their lips speak mischief.

³By wisdom is a house built and by understanding it is established;

⁴for by knowledge the rooms are filled with all precious and pleasant riches.

⁵A wise man is strong,¹ and a man of knowledge adds to his strength;^k

⁶for by wise guidance you will wage your war, and there is victory in a multitude of counselors.

⁷Wisdom is too high for the foolish; in the gate he opens not his mouth.

⁸He who plans evil will be called a mischief-maker.

⁹Folly's schemes are sin, and the scoffer is an abomination to men.

¹⁰If you faint in the day of adversity,¹ your strength is small.^m

¹¹Deliver those who are being taken to their death; and from those staggering toward slaughter will you withhold yourself?

¹²If you say, "See, we did not know this," does not the One who weighs hearts perceive it? And He who watches over the soul, does He not know and shall He not repay each man for his deeds?

¹³My son, eat honey, for it is good and its drippings are sweet to your taste; ¹⁴know that wisdom is thus to one's soul; if you have found it, then there will be a future and your hope will not be cut off.

¹⁵Lie not in wait, O wicked man, against the dwelling of the righteous; do no violence to his home; ¹⁶for the righteous may fall seven times and yet arise, but the wicked stumbles headlong in adversity.

¹⁷When your enemy falls, do not rejoice, and when he stumbles, let not your heart be glad; ¹⁸lest the LORD see it and it appear wrong in His eyes, and

He turn away His wrath from him.

¹⁹Fret not yourself^a because of evil-doers, neither be envious of the wicked; ²⁰for there will be no future for the evil man; the lamp of the wicked will burn out.

²¹My son, revere the LORD and the king; do not mingle with those who are given to change;^o ²²for their calamity will arise suddenly and who knows the ruin that will come to them both?

²³To^p have respect of persons^q in judgment is not good.

²⁴Peoples will curse and nations abhor him who says to the wicked, "You are righteous." ²⁵But those who rebuke the wicked will find delight, and a good blessing^r will come upon them.

²⁶To give the right answer is like a kiss on the lips.

²⁷Prepare your work outside and get it ready for yourself in the field; afterwards, then, build your house.

²⁸Be not a witness against your neighbor without cause, for would you deceive with your lips? ²⁹Say not, "As he did to me, so I will do him; I will repay a man according to his deeds."

³⁰I passed by the field of a lazy man, by the vineyard of a man who lacked understanding; ³¹and, see, it was completely overgrown with thorns; the ground was covered with nettles, and its stone wall was broken down. ³²So I looked and took it to heart; I observed and received instruction. ³³"Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest"^s — ³⁴and your poverty will come upon you as a bandit, your want like an unyielding warrior.

25 THESE ARE ALSO PROVERBS OF Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah, king of Judah, copied:

²It is the glory of God to conceal a matter; it is the glory of a king to search one out.^t ³The heavens for height and the earth for depth and there is no searching^u out the mind of a king. ⁴Take away the dross from sil-

i) The drunkard is determined to start another round of drinking, for thus he momentarily escapes reality. j) "In strength." k) "Strengthens power."

l, m) A play on words: "tsarah . . . tsar." n) "Do not make yourself hot." See Pr. 37:1.

o) Those who frequently change allegiance.

p) The following is probably another collection of proverbs.

q) "Recognition of faces" — discrimination. r) "Blessing of good."

s) See 6:10f. The Hebrew varies slightly. t, u) A play on words.

ver and a vessel will result^v for the smith. ⁶Take away the wicked from before the king and his throne will be established in righteousness.

⁶Do not put yourself forward in the presence of the king and do not stand in the place of great men; ⁷for it is better to be told, "Come up here," than that you should be put lower in the prince's presence, as your eyes have seen.^w ⁸Do not go out hastily to strive, else what will you do in the outcome when your neighbor puts you to shame? ⁹Argue your cause with your neighbor, but do not reveal the secret of another;^x ¹⁰lest the one hearing you put you to shame, and your ill repute never cease.

¹¹Like apples of gold in settings of silver, so is a word spoken at the right moment.^y

¹²Like a gold ring and an ornament of gold, so is a wise reprover for a listening ear.

¹³Like the cold of snow in the day of harvest,^z so is the faithful messenger to the one who sends him; for he refreshes the soul of his master.

¹⁴Like clouds and wind when there is no rain, so is a man boasting of a false gift.

¹⁵When one is slow to anger, a ruler is persuaded, and soft speech will break a bone.

¹⁶Have you found honey? Eat only what you need,^a lest being filled with it, you vomit it up.

¹⁷Let your foot be rarely in your neighbor's house, lest he become weary of you and hate you.

¹⁸As a scattering club, or a sword, or a sharp arrow, so is a man bearing false witness against his neighbor.

¹⁹Like a broken tooth or a foot out of joint, so is trust in a faithless man in a time of adversity.

²⁰Like one who takes off a garment

on a cold day, or like vinegar upon soda, so is a singer of songs to a heavy^c heart.

²¹If your enemy is hungry, give him bread to eat; if he is thirsty, give him water to drink; ²²for live coals you will heap upon his head, and the Lord will reward you.

²³The north wind brings forth rain, and a concealed^d tongue an angry face.

²⁴It is better to live in the corner of a housetop than to share a house with a contentious woman.^e

²⁵As cold waters to a weary soul, so is good news from a far country.^f

²⁶Like a trampled fountain or a polluted spring, so is a righteous man who gives way before the wicked.

²⁷To eat much honey is not good, nor for men to seek their own glory.^g

²⁸Like a city whose wall is broken down, so is a man whose spirit is without restraint.

26 AS SNOW IN SUMMER AND AS rain in harvest, so a place of honor is not fitting for a fool.

²As a sparrow wanders and a swallow flies about, so an unjustified curse does not alight.^h

³A whip for the horse, a bridle for the donkey, and a rod for the back of fools.

⁴Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest you, too, be like him.

⁵Answer a fool according to his folly, lest he be wise in his own eyes.ⁱ

⁶He cuts off his own feet and drinks poison^j who sends a message by the hand of a fool.

⁷As the legs of a lame man hang useless, so is a proverb in the mouth of fools.^k

⁸Like one binding a stone in a sling is he who gives honor to a fool.^l

⁹As a thorn that goes up into the hand of a drunkard, so is a proverb in the mouth of fools.

v) "Come forth." w) As our Lord suggested in His parable [Luke 14:7-11].

x) Do not draw outsiders into the dispute. y) Lit. "upon its revolvings."

z) Which relieved the intense heat. See II Kings 4:18f. a) Lit. "eat your sufficiency." c) "Bad."

d) Talking behind one's back. e) See 21:9. f) Especially to one far away from home.

g) Lit. "glory, their glory."

h) "Come." Another reading is, "...curse comes to him [the one who makes it]."

i) Size up him and the occasion and respond accordingly. j) "Violence."

k) He applies it wrongly, l) It is put out of commission.

¹⁰A master performs all things, but he who hires a fool, hires a passer-by.^m ¹¹As a dog returns to his vomit, so a fool repeats his folly.

¹²Do you see a man wise in his own eyes? There is more hope for a fool than for him.

¹³The sluggard says, "There's a lion in the road! There's a lion in the streets!"ⁿ ¹⁴As the door turns on its hinges, so does a sluggard on his bed.

¹⁵The sluggard buries his hand in the dish; it tires him to return it to his mouth.^o ¹⁶The sluggard is wiser in his own eyes than seven men who answer^p with intelligence.

¹⁷Like him who catches a dog^q by the ears, so is he who, passing by, involves himself in a quarrel not his own.

¹⁸Like a madman who hurls firebrands, arrows and death,

¹⁹so is the man who deceives his neighbor and says, "Was I not joking?"

²⁰For lack of wood the fire goes out, and where there is no whisperer,^r contention ceases. ²¹As charcoal to hot embers, and wood to fire, so is a contentious man for keeping a strife aflame.

²²The words of a whisperer are like delicious morsels; they go down into the inner parts of the body.^s

²³Fervent lips and a wicked heart are like an earthen vessel overlaid with silver dross.^t

²⁴He who hates, pretends with his lips, but he harbors deceit within; ²⁵when he speaks pleasantly, do not trust him, for there are seven abominations in his heart; ²⁶though his hatred is hidden by deceit, his wickedness will be revealed before the congregation.

²⁷He who digs a pit will fall into it, and he who rolls a stone will have it come back upon him.^u ²⁸A lying tongue hates those it crushes, and a flattering mouth works ruin.

27 DO NOT BOAST ABOUT TOMORROW for you do not know what a day will bring forth.^v

²Let another praise you, and not your own mouth; a stranger, and not your own lips.^w ³A stone is heavy and sand is weighty, but the offenses of a fool are heavier than both.

⁴Wrath is cruel and anger is overwhelming, but who can stand before jealousy?

⁵Better a rebuke revealed than love concealed.^x

⁶Faithful are the wounds of a friend; profuse are the kisses of an enemy.

⁷He whose appetite is satisfied disdains^y a honeycomb, but to him who is hungry everything bitter is sweet.

⁸Like a bird who wanders from her nest, so is a man who wanders from his place.

⁹Oil and perfume make the heart rejoice, as does the pleasantness of a friend's suggestions from the heart.^z

¹⁰Do not forsake your friend and your father's friend, and go not to your brother's house in the day of your trouble. Better a neighbor who is near than a brother who is far away.

¹¹My son, be wise, and make my heart rejoice, that I may answer him who reproaches me.^a

¹²A prudent man sees evil and hides himself, but the simple go on and are punished.^b

¹³Take the man's garment who is surety for a stranger, and hold him in pledge who is surety for an alien woman.^c

¹⁴He who blesses his neighbor with a loud voice, rising early in the morning, will have it reckoned to him as a curse.

¹⁵A constant dripping on a rainy day and a contentious woman are alike; ¹⁶to restrain her is like restraining the wind; the oil^d of his right hand betrays him.^e

m) "Those who pass by." n) A variant of 22:13. o) A variant of 19:24.

p) Lit. "return." This could be a reference to eating as in v. 15.

q) Dogs were not domestic pets, but ran wild. r) No gossip, we would say.

s) The same as 19:8. t) Gives the appearance of genuine solid silver.

u) If dug or rolled for another. v) A figure of giving birth. w) Beware of autobiographies.

x) There is partial rhyming in the Hebrew, a rare occurrence. y) "Tamples."

z) "Advice of soul." a) The teacher's one defense - the success of his students.

b) Almost identical with 22:3. c) Similar to 20:16.

d) The oil was perfumed, its perfume fills the place. e) Lit. "calls."

¹⁷Iron sharpens iron, so one man sharpens the face of another.^f

¹⁸He who watches over the fig tree will eat its fruit, and he who protects his master will be honored.

¹⁹As in water face answers to face, so the heart of one man answers to another.

²⁰Sheol and Abaddon are never satisfied, even as a man's eyes are never satisfied.

²¹The crucible is for silver, and the furnace for gold, and a man is tested by what he praises.^g

²²Though you crush the fool in a mortar with a pestle among the crushed grain, yet his foolishness will not leave him.

²³Know thoroughly the condition of your flocks;^h keep your mind on your herds; ²⁴for riches are not forever — and is a crown from generation to generation?ⁱ ²⁵The grass appears, yes, the tender grass is seen, when the herbage of the mountains has been gathered in.^j ²⁶The lambs are for your clothing; the goats furnish money for a field.^k ²⁷There will be enough goats' milk for your food, for the food of your household, and a living for your maidens.^l

28 THE WICKED FLEE WHEN THERE is no one pursuing, but the righteous are as fearless as a young lion.

²When a land transgresses, it has many rulers; but when there is a man of discernment and knowledge,^m stability continues on.

³A poor man who oppresses the weak is like a cloudburst that leaves no nourishment.ⁿ

⁴Those who forsake the law praise the wicked, but those who keep the law contend with them.

⁵Evil men do not understand justice, but those who seek the LORD understand all about it.

⁶Better is a poor man walking in his integrity, than a perverse double-dealer,^o though he be rich.

⁷He is a discerning son who keeps the law, but a companion of gluttons puts his father to shame.

⁸He who augments his wealth by interest and increase,^p gathers it for him who is considerate of the poor.

⁹He who turns away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer is an abomination.

¹⁰The one who causes the righteous to go astray in an evil way shall fall into his own pit, but the blameless man^q shall gain a good heritage.

¹¹Wise in his own eyes is a rich man, but a discerning poor man sees through him.

¹²When the righteous rejoice, great is the glory; but when the wicked rise, men hide themselves.

¹³He who conceals his transgressions will not prosper, but he who confesses and forsakes them will receive mercy.

¹⁴Blessed is the man who is always reverent; but he who hardens his heart will fall into calamity.

¹⁵Like a roaring lion or a prowling^r bear is a wicked ruler over a poor people.

¹⁶A prince who lacks understanding is cruelly oppressive, but he who hates covetousness will prolong his days.

¹⁷A man who is guilty of the blood^s of another, let him flee to the pit; let no one help him.

¹⁸Whoever walks wholeheartedly will be saved, but the perverse in his double-dealing will fall in a moment.^t

¹⁹He who tills the soil will have plenty of food, but he who follows worthless pursuits will have plenty of poverty.

²⁰A faithful man will have great blessings, but he who chases wealth shall not escape the penalty.

²¹To show partiality is not good; yet

f) As for instance when matters are discussed from two different angles and are seen out of different experiences, so that both may learn.

g) "Is tested by his praise," for it reveals his own preferences.

h) There follows in the succeeding verses a picture of the advantages of agricultural life above those of the precarious riches and glory of city life.

i) Riches are not handed down many generations before they are squandered. Not so simple the rural homestead. j) As soon as one crop is harvested, another appears.

k, l) Rural economy is a stable one. It is self-sufficient. m) Lit. "knowing."

n) It is unexpected and takes men unawares. They are prepared to be exploited by those already in power. o) "Perverse in his two ways." p) Cf. Lev. 25:36. q) "Complete."

r) Hungry, searching for food. s) "Oppressed [laden] because of the blood." t) Lit. "in one."

for a piece of bread a man will do wrong.

²²He whose eye is evil hastens after wealth, but he does not know that want will come upon him.

²³He who rebukes a man will afterward find more favor than he who flatters with the tongue.

²⁴Whoever robs his father and his mother, and says, "It is not wrong," is the companion of one who destroys.

²⁵The greedy man stirs up strife, but he who trusts in the LORD will be enriched.

²⁶He who trusts in his own heart is a fool, but he who walks in wisdom will escape.

²⁷He who gives to the poor will not lack, and he who hides his eyes^u will receive many curses.

²⁸When the wicked rise, men hide themselves; but when they perish, the righteous increase.

29 THE MAN WHO IS OFTEN REPROVED but stiffens his neck will suddenly be broken beyond remedy.

²When the righteous increase, the people rejoice; but when the wicked rule, the people groan.

³The man who loves wisdom makes his father rejoice, but he who associates with harlots wastes his substance.

⁴By justice the king makes his land secure, but one who must be bribed^v overthrows it.

⁵The man who flatters his neighbor spreads a net upon his steps.

⁶In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare, but the righteous man sings and rejoices. ⁷The righteous man knows the rights of the weak; the wicked man does not understand such knowledge.

⁸Scorners set a city aflame, but wise men turn wrath away.

⁹If a wise man argues with a foolish man, he^w only rages and laughs and there is no quiet.

¹⁰Bloodthirsty men^x hate the man of integrity, but the upright seek his life.^y

¹¹A fool gives full vent to his anger,^z

but the wise man, holding it back, quiets it.

¹²If a ruler listens to false suggestions all his officials will be wicked.

¹³The poor and the oppressor meet; the LORD gives light to the eyes of both.

¹⁴The king who judges the weak faithfully, his throne shall be established forever.

¹⁵The rod and reproof give wisdom, but an undisciplined child causes his mother shame.

¹⁶When the wicked increase, transgression multiplies, but the righteous will observe their fall.

¹⁷Correct your son and he will give you rest, yes, he will give joy to your soul.

¹⁸Where there is no vision^a the people run wild; but happy is he who keeps the law.

¹⁹By mere words a servant will not be corrected; although he understands, there will be no response.

²⁰Have you seen a man of hasty words? There is more hope for a fool than for him.

²¹He who pampers his servant from a child, afterwards shall have him for a son.^b

²²A quick-tempered man stirs up strife, and a wrathful man abounds in wrong.

²³A man's pride will bring him low, but the lowly in spirit obtains honor.

²⁴The partner of a thief hates himself; he heard the curse,^c but says nothing.

²⁵The fear of man brings a snare, but whoever trusts in the LORD will be lifted up.

²⁶Many seek the ruler's favor, but justice due a man comes from the LORD.

²⁷An evil man is an abomination to the righteous, but a man of upright ways is an abomination to the wicked.

30 THE^d MAN SAYS TO ITHIEL, TO Ithiel and Ucal:^e

²Surely I am too stupid to be a man;

u) Acts as if he did not see the poverty. v) Lit. "man of offerings." w) The fool.

x) "Men of bloods." y) To preserve it. z) Lit. "sends forth all his spirit."

a) A term applied to the prophetic ministry. b) The servant will expect to be treated as a son.

c) Pronounced on the thief. d) Cf. Gen. 25:14. The Oracle of Agur, the son of Massa.

e) As names have meaning, this line may well be translated: "I wore myself out, O God, I wore myself out and, O God, I languish."

I am without human understanding.
³I have not learned wisdom, that I should possess knowledge of the Holy One.
⁴Who has ascended up to heaven and descended? Who has gathered the wind in his fists? Who has wrapped up the waters in his garment? Who has established all the ends of the earth? What is His name, or what is the name of his Son? Surely you know!^f
⁵Every word of God has been proven true;^g He is a shield to those who take refuge in Him;
⁶add not to His words, lest He reprove you, and you be found a liar.

⁷Two things I have asked of Thee;^h deny them not to me before I die:
⁸remove falsehood and lying far from me; grant me neither poverty nor riches; feed me my portion of nourishment,
⁹lest I be full and deny Thee and say, "Who is the LORD?" or lest I be poor, and steal, and violate God's name.ⁱ

¹⁰Do not slander a servant to his master, lest he curse you, since you are guilty.

¹¹There are those^j who curse their father and do not bless their mother.
¹²There are those who are pure in their own eyes and yet are not washed from their own filth.^k
¹³There are those — how their eyes are lifted and their eyelids raised!^l ¹⁴There are those whose teeth are swords, whose teeth are knives, to devour the poor from off the earth and the needy from among men.

¹⁵The leech has two daughters: Give! Give! There are three things that are never satisfied, ¹⁶Four that say not, "Enough": Sheol, a barren womb, the earth over-thirsty for^m water, and the fire that never says, "Enough."

¹⁷The eye that mocks a father and scorns to obey a mother will be picked out by the ravens of the valley and eaten by the young vultures.

¹⁸There are three things which are too wonderful for me, yes, four which I do not comprehend:

¹⁹the way of an eagle in the sky, the way of a serpent upon a rock, the way of a ship in the midst of the sea, and the way of a man with a maiden.

²⁰This is an adulterous woman's way: she eats and wipes her mouth, and says, "I have done no wrong."

²¹Under three things the earth trembles, under four that it cannot bear:
²²under a servant when he reigns; and a fool when he is filled with food;
²³under an unloved woman when she gets a husband; and a handmaid who succeeds her mistress.

²⁴There are four things that are small on the earth, but they are exceedingly wise:
²⁵The ants are a people not strong, yet they provide their food in the summer;
²⁶the rabbits are but a feeble folk,ⁿ yet they make their homes in the rocks;
²⁷the locusts have no king, yet all of them march in rank;^o ²⁸the lizard^p you can take with your hands, yet it is found in kings' palaces.

²⁹There are three things that are stately^q in their tread;^r yes, four that are stately in their stride:^s ³⁰the lion, which is mightiest of the beasts, and turns not away from any;

³¹the fighting cock;^t the he-goat; and the king accompanied by his army.

³²If you have played the fool in exalting yourself, or if you have devised evil, put your hand to your mouth;^u
³³for the churning of milk brings forth butter, and the wringing^v of the nose^w brings forth blood; so the churning of anger^x brings forth strife.^y

31 THE WORDS OF KING LEMUEL the lesson which his mother taught him.
²What, my son? And what, O son of my womb? What, O son of my vows?
³Do not give your strength to women, nor your ways to

f) Cf. Job, ch. 38ff.

g) "Tried," as a metal in furnace, coming out unalloyed. Therefore accept revelation instead of following after speculation. h) The prayer follows. i) "Lay hold of."

j) "A generation," "a class." k) Lit. "dung." l) Haughty and disdainful of others.

m) "That is not satisfied with." n) "A people not mighty." o) "Go out dividing," cf. Joel 2:2ff.

p) Or "spider." q) Lit. "cause to be good." r) "Step." s) "Going."

t) Lit. "girded of loins." LXX Syr Tg: "cock."

u) Let it go no farther. Certainly do not brag about it. v) "Churning."

w, x) From the same Hebrew root.

y) Strife will not arise without artificial stimulation. Most people desire peace more than war.

what destroys kings. ⁴It is not for kings, Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine, nor for rulers to desire strong drink; ⁵lest they drink and forget what is decreed and pervert the rights of all the afflicted. ⁶Give strong drink to him who is perishing and wine to the bitter of soul; ⁷let him drink and forget his poverty and remember his misery no more. ⁸Speak up for the dumb,^z for the cause of those who are left desolate;^a ⁹speak up, judge righteously and defend the rights of the poor and needy.

¹⁰Who can find a wife with strength of character?^b She is far more precious than jewels. ¹¹The heart of her husband trusts in her, and he will never lack profit. ¹²She does him good and not harm all the days of her life; ¹³she seeks wool and flax, and works with willing hands; ¹⁴she is like the merchant ships; she brings her food from afar. ¹⁵She rises while it is yet night, and gives food^c to her household, even a portion to her maidens; ¹⁶she considers a field and buys it; with the fruit of her hands she plants a vineyard. ¹⁷She girds her loins with strength, and makes her arms strong.

¹⁸She sees that her merchandise is profitable; her lamp does not go out at night; ¹⁹she puts her hands to the distaff; she manipulates the spindle; ²⁰she opens her palm to the poor and reaches out her hands to the needy.^d ²¹She does not fear the snow for her household, for they are clothed with scarlet; ²²she makes herself coverings, her clothing is fine linen and purple. ²³Known in the gates is her husband,^e when he sits among the elders of the land. ²⁴She makes linen garments and sells them, and delivers sashes to the merchants. ²⁵Strength and dignity clothe her and she laughs at the future.^f ²⁶She opens her mouth with wisdom and gentle^g teaching is on her tongue. ²⁷She looks well to the ways of her household and eats no bread of idleness. ²⁸Her children rise up and call her blessed; her husband, too, and he praises her: ²⁹"Many daughters have done nobly,^h but you transcend them all." ³⁰Charm is deceitful and beauty is passing, but a woman who reveres the LORD will be praised. ³¹Acknowledge the product of her hands; let her works praise her in the gates.

z) Dumb because of overwhelming grief or inability to argue a case.

a) Lit. "sons of passing away."

b) Lit. "strength." Cf. 12:4. This passage is an acrostic [vv. 10-31].

c) Lit. "prey." The result of her wise provision.

d) Vv. 19, 20 depict vividly her busy and helpful hands.

e) His wife has aided him toward his success.

f) "Latter day." She and her loved ones are prepared for it.

g) She is not domineering as such an energetic woman often is. h) "Have done strongly."

ECCLESIASTES

1 THE WORDS OF THE PREACHER,^a the son of David, king in Jerusalem. ²Futility of futilities, says the Preacher, futility of futilities, all is futile.

³What is the advantage to man in all his labor at which he toils under the sun? ⁴One generation goes and another generation comes, but the earth remains forever. ⁵The sun rises and the sun sets and breathlessly hurries to the place where it rises. ⁶Going to the south and circling to the north, the wind goes round and round; and the wind returns on its circuit. ⁷All the rivers flow to the sea, but the sea is not full; to the place where the rivers flow, there they flow again. ⁸All things are unspeakably tiresome; the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor does the ear get enough hearing. ⁹Whatever has been, that will be, and whatever has been done that will be done; and there is nothing new under the sun. ¹⁰Is there anything of which it may be said, "See, this is new"? It has existed long ago in times past.^b ¹¹There is no remembrance of former times and furthermore, there will not be any remembrance of later things yet to take place on the part of those who are to come hereafter.

¹²I, the Preacher, was king over Israel in Jerusalem; ¹³and I applied my heart to seek and to search for wisdom in all that is done under heaven. This is a trying task, which God gives to the sons of men to be afflicted in it. ¹⁴I saw all the things which were done under the sun and truly, all is worthlessness and chasing of wind. ¹⁵What is crooked cannot be straightened, and what is lacking cannot be counted.

¹⁶I said to myself, "Look at me, how I have increased and added wisdom more than all who ruled Jerusalem before me, and my heart has observed an abundance of wisdom and knowledge." ¹⁷I applied my heart to know wisdom and knowledge, madness and folly. I discovered that this, too, is chasing after wind. ¹⁸For in more wisdom is more vexation, and increasing one's knowledge increases one's distress.

2 I SAID TO MYSELF, "COME NOW AND I will test you in gladness; have a good time." But this also is worthless. ²Of laughter I said, "It is madness," and of amusement, "What does it accomplish?" ³I explored in my heart to stimulate my body with wine — while my heart was acting with wisdom — and to lay hold of frivolity, so that I might see what was good for man to do under the sun during his lifetime. ⁴I made me great works; I built houses for myself and I planted vineyards for myself; ⁵I laid out gardens and parks for myself and I planted in them fruit-trees of every kind. ⁶I made for myself pools of water to irrigate a plantation

a) A Greek translation of Koheleth, the Hebrew title which the author gives himself in v. 1. It means, "One who calls together an assembly," so that "Preacher" seems a suitable translation.
b) Whatever is "under the sun" is earthly, temporal; it passes. Then in some form or other, possibly in similar form, it is seen or heard or felt again.

of growing trees; ⁷I acquired male and female servants, and children^c were born to me in my house. My possessions, too, of herds and flocks became greater than those of all who had preceded me in Jerusalem. ⁸I also gathered for myself^d silver and gold and the treasures of kings and of provinces; I acquired singers, both men and women, and the delights of men — mistresses galore.^e ⁹So I became greater and wealthier than all who were before me in Jerusalem, while my wisdom continued with me. ¹⁰Whatever my eyes desired I did not deny them; I did not keep my heart back from any pleasure, for my heart rejoiced in all my toil and that much I got for all my toil. ¹¹I then turned to observe^f all the work which my hands had done, and the effort I exerted in doing it; and see, all was worthless, chasing after wind, and there was no gain under the sun.

¹²Then I turned to consider wisdom, madness and folly; for what can the man do who succeeds the king? Only what has already been done! ¹³Then I realized that as light is better than darkness, so wisdom is better than folly. ¹⁴The wise man has eyes in his head, and the fool walks in darkness; but I myself know that one fate overtakes them both. ¹⁵Then I said to myself, "What happens to the fool will also happen to me; why then have I acted so extremely wise?" And I said to myself, "This, too, is futile." ¹⁶For the wise man there is no more lasting remembrance than for the fool, inasmuch as in the coming days everything is forgotten — and the wise man dies along with the fool. ¹⁷I hated life because the work which was done under the sun seemed bad to me, for all is fruitless^g and chasing after wind.

¹⁸I hated all my toil at which I had labored under the sun, seeing that I must leave it to the man coming after me; ¹⁹and who knows whether he will be a wise or a foolish man? Yet he will be master over all my possessions for which I labored and used my wisdom under the sun; this, too, is worthlessness. ²⁰So I came to the point where my heart despaired about all the work that I had done under the sun; ²¹for here is a man who toiled in wisdom, in knowledge and in skill, yet to a man who did not work for it must he leave his possession; this, too, is useless and a great misfortune.^h ²²For what does a man get for all his toil and for all his heart's striving with which he wears himself under the sun? ²³For all his days are full of pain and his task vexatious; even at night his mind has no rest. This also is emptiness. ²⁴There is nothing better for a manⁱ than to eat and to drink and to let his soul get enjoyment from his work.

This, too, I saw, came from the hand of God. ²⁵For who can eat with enjoyment apart from Him? ²⁶For to the man who pleases Him He gives wisdom, knowledge and joy;^j while to the sinner He commits the task of gathering and heaping, to give it to the one who pleases God. This, too, is profitless and chasing after wind.

3 FOR EVERYTHING THERE IS AN APPOINTED season, and there is a proper time for every project under heaven:^k

^{2a} a time to be born, and a time to die; a time to plant, and a time to root up what is planted;

^{3a} a time to kill, and a time to heal; a time to wreck, and a time to build;

^{4a} a time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance;

^{5a} a time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones;

a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;

c) "Children" — slaves born in his household.

d) All for himself. No wonder it failed to inspire him.

e) It would be error to consider this book a series of philosophical dissertations. The author tests by experience rather than by theorizing, and gives us the results of his findings. Thus far the author remains the center of interest. f) Considered.

g) Five expressions — worthless, useless, futile, fruitless and chasing after wind, all meaning the same thing, but the thought so repeated equals the assurance of an oath.

h) This is the essence of our Lord's parable of the rich fool, Luke 12:20, 21. God said, What you have gotten ready, whose is it to be?

i) Almost invariably the word "man" may well be "person," for it designates the human being.

j) God awards the good of life to the godly. k) God has ordained order, it is ours to observe it.

⁶a time to seek, and a time to lose;
a time to retain, and a time to throw away;¹

⁷a time to rend, and a time to sew;
a time to be silent, and a time to speak;

⁸a time to love, and a time to hate;
a time for war, and a time for peace.^m

⁹What benefit does the workman get from that for which he wears himself out? ¹⁰I have observed the employments in which God has granted men to be engaged. ¹¹He has made everything beautiful in its time; He also has planted eternity in their heart,ⁿ without man finding out the work that God does from beginning to end.

¹²I have learned that there is nothing better for them than to rejoice and to do good all through life; ¹³then, too, that if a man eats and drinks and sees good in all his toil, — it is God's gift.

¹⁴I know that everything that God does shall remain forever;^o nothing can be added to it nor can anything be taken from it. God did it so that they should be reverent in His presence.

¹⁵Whatever exists has been long ago,
and whatever is to be has already existed long ago, and God seeks out what has passed by. ¹⁶Again I observed under the sun the place of judgment — there was wrong; and the place of righteousness — there was wickedness. ¹⁷I said to myself, "God will judge the righteous and the wicked,"^p for there is a time there for every purpose and for every work." ¹⁸I said to myself, "For the sake of men God is testing them and causes them to see that in themselves they are but animals." ¹⁹For the fate of men and of animals is the same; one dies as the other; all have one breath and the advantage of men over animals amounts to nothing; for all is uselessness. ²⁰All go to one place; all are from the dust and all return to the dust. ²¹Who takes note that the breath of man goes upward and the breath of animals goes downward to the earth?^q ²²So I saw that there is nothing better than that a man should rejoice in his works, for that is his portion. Who can bring him to consider what shall be after him?

4 AGAIN I TURNED AND SAW ALL THE oppressions that occur under the sun, and there were the tears of the oppressed, with none to comfort them;
and power in the hand of the oppressor,
but no one to sustain them. ²Then
I congratulated the dead, who have long been dead, more than the living who are still alive; ³but more fortunate than both is he who has not yet been,
and has not yet viewed the wicked deeds which are practiced under the sun. ⁴Then I saw that all the toil and skill in activities bring envy between a man and his neighbor. This, too, is futility and chasing after wind. ⁵The fool^r folds his hands together and consumes his own flesh. ⁶Better is a handful with rest, than both fists full of toil and chasing after wind.^s

⁷Again I turned and saw uselessness under the sun. ⁸There is an individual and no one with him, neither son nor brother, and no end to all his toiling.
His eyes are not satisfied with wealth and (he never reflects), "For whom am I working and denying myself enjoyment?" This, too, is worthlessness and a sorry situation.

⁹Two are better than one,^t because they gain a good reward in their toil.
¹⁰For if they fall, the one will lift up his companion; but woe to the one alone who falls, when there is no other to lift him up! ¹¹So if two lie together, they keep warm; but how can one alone keep warm?^u ¹²Although one

l) How difficult for most of us to follow!

m) To retrace these maxims frequently would aid us in wisdom.

n) One great reason for our lack of satisfaction lies in this innate sense of the eternity of the inner self, which no earthly things and doings can fully meet.

o) God alone can answer man's sense of the eternal.

p) Suffering under human unfairness, we can look to God to help us in the changing of situations, with the certainty that from Him we receive justice and mercy.

q) On a frosty morning on the farm it is a repeated item of interest to see the breaths of persons and of animals; the first going upward, the other downward, as "The Preacher" describes it. Perhaps he saw in it a hint of the ultimate destiny of the godly soul — heavenward.

r) "Fool" — stupid fellow; "eats his own flesh" — destroys himself.

s) One handful acquired at ease is better than two obtained by exertion, unless its results are worth-while. t) The practical virtue of co-operation.

u) The night's covering for the poor was their coat.

may prevail against him who is alone, yet two will hold out against him; and a threefold cord is not readily broken.^v

¹³Better is a youth poor and wise, than a king old and foolish, who no longer knows how to take advice; ¹⁴for the former comes from prison to be king, although in the other's kingdom he was born poor.^w ¹⁵I viewed all the living under the sun, following the youth, the second, who succeeded him. ¹⁶There was no end to all the people, all of whom he headed. But the ones after them will not rejoice in him. This too is futility and chasing after wind.

5 GUARD YOUR FEET WHEN YOU GO to the house of God;^x to be ready to listen is better than to give sacrifice like the fools, who do not know when they do wrong. ²Be not hasty with your mouth; and your heart — do not allow it to be hasty to utter a word before God; for God is in heaven and you are on the earth; therefore let your words be few.^y ³For a dream comes with many concerns, and the voice of a fool in many words. ⁴When you vow a vow to God do not delay in paying it, for He takes no pleasure in fools. Pay what you vow. ⁵It is better that you do not vow, than that you vow and not pay.^z ⁶Do not allow your mouth to cause you to sin, and do not say before His messenger that it^a is a mistake. Why should God be angry at your voice and destroy the work of your hand? ⁷For in many dreams and follies and many words — this remains:^b You shall revere God.

⁸If you observe the oppression of the poor and the seizure of justice and right, be not astonished at the matter; for a high official is guarded by a higher one and a higher one guards over them.^c ⁹After all, a king devoted to the field is an advantage to the land.

¹⁰The lover of money shall not be satisfied with money, nor the lover of wealth with his gain;^d this, too, is futility. ¹¹With the increase of goods there is an increase of those consuming them, and what advantage is there to the owner, except that he sees it with his eyes? ¹²Sweet is the sleep of the toiler, whether he eats little or much; but the abundance of the rich will not let him sleep.^e

¹³There is a grievous trouble which I have seen under the sun — wealth retained by the owner to his own hurt. ¹⁴That wealth is lost in a bad venture, then he begets a son and has nothing at hand.^f ¹⁵As he came naked from his mother's womb so he shall return again as he came, and nothing shall he take for his labor that he may carry away in his hand. ¹⁶This, too, is a grievous misfortune; in all points as he came so shall he go, and what profit did he get from wearing himself out for wind, ¹⁷all his days eating in darkness with plenty of grief, sickness and wrath?

¹⁸Note! What I myself have seen to be preferable and fair is to eat and drink and to find enjoyment in all his labor at which he toils under the sun all the days of his life which God gives him, for this is his lot. ¹⁹Further, every man to whom God has given riches and wealth and whom He has given power to enjoy them, to take his portion and to find enjoyment in his labor — that is the gift of God.^g ²⁰For he shall not often think of the brevity of his life, because God keeps his heart occupied in gladness.

6 THERE IS AN ADVERSITY WHICH I have seen under the sun and it is common among men: ²a man to whom God has given riches, wealth

v) Our "In unity there is strength."

w) There seems to be a reminder here of Joseph, who out of his prison became second to Pharaoh; yet later his virtues as the people's savior were forgotten.

x) Not merely within the house of worship but on the way to it reverence is expected, preparatory to the service. y) James devotes ch. 1:19-26 and 3:2-10 to the right use of words.

z) Best of all is to pledge and to pay; it helps us to strive toward a high goal. a) The vow.

b) "This remains" is not expressed but implied. c) And ruling all is God.

d) Both labor and capital witness to man's urge for more income.

e) "Abundance" — satiety. Overeating is no recent intemperance.

f) Or "There is nothing for him." Three generations from shirt-sleeves to shirt-sleeves.

g) Rightly to enjoy living is in agreement with the will of our benevolent Father. There is something wrong with us either physically, mentally or spiritually if we fail to enjoy living, presuming we are free. And the first step is to see God as the Giver.

and honor, and he lacks nothing for himself of all that he might desire; yet God does not give him ability to enjoy it, but a stranger enjoys it — this is fruitlessness and it is a hurtful disease. ³If a man begets one hundred children and lives many years — however many the years may be — and his soul is not satisfied with good and furthermore he has no burial, I say that an untimely birth is better than he. ⁴For that comes in vain; in darkness it departs and in darkness its name is covered; ⁵it has neither seen nor known the sun; it has more rest than he.^h ⁶Even though he lives one thousand years twice over but experiences no enjoyment — do not all go to one place?ⁱ

⁷All the toiling of man is for his mouth, but the longing is not satisfied. ⁸For what advantage has the wise man over the fool? What is there for the poor who knows how to conduct himself among the living? ⁹Better is what the eyes see than the wanderings of desire; this, too, is futile and a striving after wind. ¹⁰Whoever he is, ere long his name is called; it will be known that he is human; he is not able to contend against Him who is stronger than he.

¹¹The more words, the more worthlessness; what advantage does man gain from them? ¹²For who knows what is good for man in the numbered days of his empty life which he spends as a shadow? For who can declare to man what shall be after him under the sun?^j

7 BETTER IS A GOOD NAME THAN GOOD OINTMENT.

Better is the day of death than the day of birth.^k

²Better to go to the house of mourning than to the house of feasting; for this is the destiny of all men, and the living should take it to heart.

³Better is sorrow than laughter; for by the facial sadness the heart is made glad.^l

⁴The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning, but the heart of fools is in the house of gaiety.

⁵It is better to hear the reproof of the wise than to hear the song of fools.^m ⁶For as the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of fools; this, too, is emptiness.

⁷Surely, extortion maddens the wise man, and a bribe corrupts the heart.

⁸Better is the completion of a thing than its beginning; better is the patient one than the haughty one.

⁹Be not hasty in your spirit to be offended; for resentment abides in the bosom of fools. ¹⁰Do not say, 'How is it that past times were better than these?' For you have not wisely raised this question.ⁿ ¹¹Wisdom is as beneficial as a legacy; an advantage to those who see the sun. ¹²For wisdom protects as wealth protects; but the advantage lies with knowledge. Wisdom preserves the lives of those who possess it.^o ¹³Consider the work of God, for who can make straight what He has bent? ¹⁴In the day of prosperity enjoy life, and in the day of adversity observe that God has made the one as well as the other, so that man may not uncover anything that will be after him.

¹⁵I have seen everything in the days of my unproductive existence. There is the righteous man who perishes in

h) The lot of the stillborn child is better because there is no awareness of missing so much.
i) To Sheol, the realm of the dead. There is not that distinction in the O.T. between heaven and hell, nor the expectation of a glorious hereafter that has come to believers with the resurrection of Christ and the N.T. teachings.

j) We have reason to thank God daily for our living hope because of our Redeemer who is preparing a place for us. This is a prominent feature of the Gospel, more certainty regarding the invisible than the visible future.

k) Oil is associated with birth; the certainty of accomplished things is preferable to an uncertain future, such as lies before the newborn. l) A good cry relieves emotional upheaval.

m) Criticism from a friend can be wholesome and even that of an opponent is usually worth consideration, because we are so imperfect and make so many mistakes. False prophets, who failed to warn the Hebrews, led them to their doom.

n) It is the present, not the past, that challenges our efforts.

o) Without wise use of it, a legacy is no blessing, while with the "know-how" a person is likely to get along without any monetary legacy.

his righteousness, and there is the wicked who prolongs his life in his wickedness. ¹⁶Be not over-righteous nor behave yourself over-wisely. Why should you destroy yourself?^p ¹⁷Do not abound in wickedness, nor play the fool. Why should you die before your time? ¹⁸It is well that you get hold of this, and from that do not withdraw your hand, for he who reveres God comes clear with both.^q ¹⁹Wisdom affords a wise man more power than ten city fathers. ²⁰For there is not one righteous man on earth who does good and never sins. ²¹Further, do not pay attention to everything that people say, lest you hear your servant curse you; ²²and you know well enough that in your heart you have cursed others.^r

²³All this I have tested from the viewpoint of wisdom; I said, "I will be wise," and it was far beyond me. ²⁴What exists is beyond reach and unfathomable; who can master it? ²⁵With all my heart I turned to know, to explore and to come to a wise conclusion, to realize that wickedness is foolishness and that folly is madness. ²⁶I found more bitter than death the woman who is snares and nets at heart and whose hands are chains. Whoever pleases God will escape her; but the sinner will be ensnared by her. ²⁷See, this is what I have found, says the preacher; step by step I searched for the conclusion. ²⁸What my heart sought continually, that I did not find; a man among a thousand I found, but a woman among all these I did not find. ²⁹Only see this, that I have found — God made man upright, but they have sought out many devices.^s

8 WHO IS LIKE THE WISE MAN AND who knows the true meaning of things? A man's wisdom brightens his face; the crudeness of his face becomes refined.^t ²Keep the command of the king, and that because of the oath of God.^u ³Do not hasten to leave his presence; do not mess with contrary matters, for he does as he pleases. ⁴Since the king's word prevails, who can say to him, "What are you doing?" ⁵Whoever observes the royal orders will experience no harm. The heart of the wise man knows time and procedure. ⁶For every interest there is a time and decision, since a person's trouble rests heavily upon him. ⁷Even as he does not know what shall be, who can declare to him when it will occur? ⁸As no one can be master over the wind to restrain the wind,^v so no one can prevail in the day of death. There is no furlough during battle; neither will wickedness liberate those who practice it.

⁹I considered all this and paid attention to all the work which was done under the sun — a time when man has the mastery over another to harm him. ¹⁰I saw how the wicked were buried, who had gone in and out from the holy place, and they were forgotten in the city as having behaved like that; this also is ineffective.

¹¹Where no sentence is speedily executed upon the criminal, there the heart of men is filled in them to do evil.^w ¹²Although the sinner commits evil a hundred times and his life is prolonged to him, even so I know that it will be well with those who revere God, who are in awe before Him. ¹³It shall not be well with the evildoer; he shall not prolong his days as a shadow,^x because he does not revere God.

¹⁴There is a fruitlessness that happens on earth. There are the righteous, who have allotted to them just as what happens to the wicked, and there are the wicked who have allotted to them

p) For two possible reasons — we may weigh matters too long without acting, and we may set standards for others which they will never reach.

q) Tackle your various tasks with God in view; then wisdom and power are yours.

r) Let us examine how much truth there is in gossip about us, examine ourselves rather than tracing the gossipers.

s) This is one of the few statements in the Bible regarding man's original innocence and his subsequent delinquency; although sin and salvation form its leading theme.

t) An observation verified around us if we, too, observe.

u) Our loyalty to the king, because he is the anointed of God.

v) Suggested by Jesus to Nicodemus, John 3:8.

w) Punishment for sin is so unlikely to happen, as the ungodly thinks of it, that he goes on sinning, unrestrained by any fears. x) A shadow that lengthens near sunset.

what happens to the righteous. I declare that this also is futility.^y ¹⁵And I praised enjoyment; for nothing is better under the sun than to eat, to drink and to rejoice; this shall accompany him in his work all the days of his life, which God gives to him under the sun.

¹⁶When I applied my heart to acquire wisdom and to see the activity taking place on the earth, that one neither by day nor by night sees himself sleeping, ¹⁷then I saw of all the work of God, that man is not able to discover the work which is done under the sun, for the sake of which a man labors to search but does not find it; even though a wise man thinks he knows, he shall not be able to find it.^z

9 FOR ALL THIS I TOOK TO HEART AND clearly understood, that the righteous and the wise and their activities are in the hand of God — love as well as hate.^a Man knows nothing of what lies before him.

²All things are alike for all; one fate for the righteous and for the wicked, to the good and the pure and to the impure; to the one who brings a sacrifice and to the one who sacrifices nothing. As fares the good, so the sinner; as the one swearing so the one who reveres an oath.^b

³This is the worst that happens under the sun,^c that one fortune comes to all. Human hearts are filled with evil; there is madness in their hearts while they live, and afterward there is their death. ⁴For the one who belongs among the living there is hope; a living dog is better than a dead lion.^d ⁵The living know that they shall die, but the dead do not know anything. Neither is there still a reward for them, since their memory is forgotten.

⁶Moreover their love, yes, their hatred, even their jealousy have long since vanished and no longer do they have a share in all that is taking place under the sun.

⁷Go, eat your bread with joy, and drink your wine with a merry heart; for God has already accepted your doings.^e ⁸At all times let your clothes be white, and let not oil on your head be lacking. ⁹Enjoy life with the wife you love all the days of the passing life which He grants you under the sun, all your unprofitable days; for that is your portion among the living and your labor in which you weary yourself under the sun. ¹⁰All that your hand finds you able to do, do it with your might; for there is neither work nor invention nor knowledge nor wisdom in Sheol, toward which you are moving.^f

¹¹I returned and saw under the sun that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor riches to the clever, nor favor to the skilled, for time and chance encounter them all.^g ¹²For even man knows not his time; as fish caught in a treacherous net and as birds seized in a snare, even so are men trapped in a disastrous time, when it comes down on them suddenly.

¹³This, too, I saw of wisdom under the sun and it made a deep impression on me. ¹⁴There was a small city with few people in it and a great king attacked it, besieged it and built great bulwarks around it. ¹⁵They found in it a poor, wise man and he saved the city by his wisdom; but no one remembered that poor man. ¹⁶So I said, Better is wisdom than strength; nevertheless the poor man's wisdom is despised and his words are not considered. ¹⁷Words of the wise, heard

y) The folly lies in the human conclusion that the good and the bad are in the same boat.

z) God's thoughts and ways are higher than ours, Isa. 55:8.

a) How insistently the author relates life to God; this is his great consolation; "I steadier step when I recall that when I slip, God does not fall."

b) The one swearing lightly, the other with awe. c) Between us here on earth.

d) This is a telling sentence for those of us who feel our inadequacies; we are alive; we may accomplish what the greatest thinkers and doers, now dead, cannot now accomplish on earth.

e) A benevolent Father gave us life to enjoy with others in fellowship with Him.

f) Confirming v. 5, that "now is the accepted time"; while alive on earth we shall apply the powers God gave us.

g) The question is not so much how excelling our powers are, but how well we use them — and what God's plans are with us.

quietly, are better than the shouts of a ruler among fools. ¹⁸Wisdom is better than weapons of war, but one sinner destroys much good.^h

10 DEAD FLIES PUTREFY THE PERFUMER'S OINTMENT;ⁱ

so a little folly outweighs an abundance of wisdom.

²A wise man's heart turns to the right; a fool's heart turns to the left.

³In whatever path a fool walks, he lacks sense;

he makes known to all that he is a fool.

⁴If a ruler's temper rises against you, do not resign your position, for composure may remedy serious mistakes.

⁶There is something amiss I have seen under the sun, indeed an error coming from the ruler:

⁶A fool, elevated to a high position, while the noble dwell in low places.

⁷I have seen servants on horses, and princes walking on foot as servants.^j ⁸He who digs a pit shall fall into it,^k and he who breaks through a wall shall be bitten by a serpent.

⁹He who removes stones shall be hurt by them, and he who splits logs is endangered by them.

¹⁰If an axe is dull and a man does not sharpen it, then he must exert more strength;^l but wisdom is an advantage for gaining success.

¹¹If the snake bites before the charming, then the charmer's skill does not benefit.^m

¹²The words from the mouth of the wise have a winning way, but the lips of the fool engulf him.ⁿ

¹³The beginning of the words of his mouth is folly, and the end of his speech is perverse stupidity.

¹⁴The fool multiplies words; man does not know what is to be; who can tell him what will happen after his lifetime?

¹⁵The efforts of a fool weary him, for he does not even know the way to the city.^o

¹⁶Woe to you, O land, whose king is a child, and whose princes feast in the morning!

¹⁷Happy are you, O land, whose king is the son of a noble, and whose princes feast in due season, as stalwarts and not as drunkards.

¹⁸Through continual neglect the ceiling sinks, and because of slack hands the house leaks.

¹⁹People prepare a banquet for enjoyment, and wine cheers the living; but money has to bring about everything.

²⁰Even in your thoughts do not curse the king, nor in your bedchamber curse the rich.

For a bird of the heavens may convey your voice,^q and a winged creature may repeat your words.

11 CAST YOUR BREAD UPON THE WATERS, for you will find it after many days. ²Divide it into seven or even in eight portions, for you do not know what trouble there may be upon the earth.^r

³When the clouds are filled with

h) So, in spite of the world's ingratitude, the service of the wise remains worth-while.

i) A continuance of ch. 9, to contrast wise and foolish persons and their influence.

j) The harm of favoritism in government and of rejecting those most needed.

k) Retribution, the reaping of what we sow. Jacob's impersonation, Gen. 27:19-29, and Laban's similar trick, Gen. 29:20-25. l) For any work use the choicest instruments available.

m) Our locking the stable door when the horse has been stolen.

n) To talk constantly is evidence of a weak mind — thinking aloud as little ones do.

o) But Isa. 35:8 tells of a way in which fools do not err.

q) From which our saying, "A birdie told me."

r) Benevolent retribution such as brings enjoyment through the years.

rain, they empty themselves on the earth. If a tree falls to the south or to the north, in the place where it falls there shall it lie.^a ⁴He who watches the wind shall not sow; he who studies the clouds shall not reap. ⁵Even as you do not know how the wind blows, or how the embryo develops in the womb of a pregnant woman, so you do not know the work of God, who makes everything. ⁶In the morning sow your seed, and in the evening be not idle, for you do not know which shall prosper, this or that, or whether both shall have equal success.^t ⁷Sweet is the light, and it is pleasant for the eyes to sense the sun. ⁸Therefore, if a man lives many years and rejoices in them all, let him consider the days of darkness, for they will be many. All that comes is nothingness.

⁹Take pleasure, young man, in your youth and let your heart cheer you in your youthful days; follow the ways of your heart and the sight of your eyes, but be aware that for all these God will call you to account.^u ¹⁰Banish grief from your mind and keep pain from your body, for youth and the dawn (of life) are transitory.

12 BE MINDFUL OF YOUR CREATOR in the days of your youth before the troubling days come and the years draw near when you will say, "I do not enjoy them." ²Before the sun and the light, the moon and the stars are darkened and the clouds cumulate after the rain;^v ³in the day when the watchers of the house tremble,^w the strong men are bent,^x the grinders cease for they are few,^y and those looking through the windows are darkened.^z ⁴When the doors to the street are shut;^a when the sound of the mill becomes low and one rises at the voice of a bird.^b When all the daughters of song are brought low,^c ⁶when one is afraid of what is high^d and there are terrors in the way; when the almond blossoms,^e the grasshopper is a burden^f and desire fails;^g for man goes to his eternal home and the mourners go about in the street.

⁶Before the silver cord is severed,^h the golden bowl shattered,ⁱ the pitcher broken at the fountain^j and the wheel broken at the cistern.^k ⁷Then the dust returns to the earth as it was, and the spirit returns to God who gave it.^l

⁸Futility of futilities, says the Preacher, all is futile. ⁹In addition to being wise, the Preacher taught the people knowledge, weighing and searching out; he made many proverbs. ¹⁰The Preacher searched to find words of delight, and to write correctly the reliable words of truth.

¹¹The words of the wise are like spurs, his collected sayings driven home like spikes, provided by one Shepherd. ¹²Furthermore, my son, be warned; there is no end to the making of many books, and much study is wearying to the body.

¹³To sum up the whole matter, all that was heard: revere God, and keep His commandments, for this is every person's duty. ¹⁴For God shall bring every work into judgment, even everything hidden, whether it be good or bad.^m

s) Certain events are unchangeable. The life hereafter is determined by our ways of living this side the grave.

t) Reasons can always be found to delay an enterprise; we must have faith, or we fail.

u) To live enjoyably, reckon with our wise, benevolent and mighty Father.

v) Vitality is lessening and infirmities increase. w) The lips. x) The legs. y) The teeth.

z) The eyes. a) The ears. b) Less sleep. c) Less voice, particularly for singing.

d) The heart is weaker and walking grows dangerous. e) The hair is grey.

f) There is loss of weight. g) Manly urge is gone.

h, i, j, k) Organs of digestion, of breathing, perhaps even of reasoning, are deteriorating; it is time to go home. l) God welcomes His worshiper to that home.

m) With God as the sovereign Lord and as the goal of life in view, it is well to read these twelve chapters again, marking the repeated conclusions that without God life would not be worth living.

THE SONG OF SOLOMON

The Maiden to Her Lover

- 1 THE SONG OF SONGS,^a WHICH IS Solomon's.
²Oh, that he would kiss me with the kisses of his lips,
for your love is sweeter than wine!
³The savor of your ointments is fragrant;
your name is as perfume poured out;
therefore do the maidens love you.
⁴Draw me after you; let us hasten;
The king^b has brought me into his chambers;
we are glad and in you we truly
rejoice;
We prize your love more highly than wine;
rightly do they^c love you.

The Maiden to the Daughters of Jerusalem^d

- ⁵Swarthy am I, but comely,
O daughters of Jerusalem;
Dark as are the tents of Kedar,^e lovely as the curtains of Solomon.
⁶Do not look askance at me because I am swarthy;
the scorching sun has tanned me.

The sons of my mother became incensed with me,
and they put me to keeping the
vineyards,
But my own vineyard have I not kept.

The Maiden to Her Distant Lover

- ⁷Tell me, you whom deep in my soul
I love,
where you pasture your flock,
where you have it lie down at midday
for why should I be as a veiled woman,^f
wandering among the flocks of your companions?

The Reply

- ⁸If you do not know, thou fairest among women,
then follow the footprints of the flocks,
pasture your flocks near the tents
of the shepherds.

The Lover to His Loved One

- ⁹To a mare^g of Pharaoh's chariots^h
have I likened you, my loved one.

a) These Songs speak the love-language of a young woman and her lover. Their frankness and intimacy express the joyful exaltation of that love which sanctifies marriage. To the O.T. prophets and poets, the begetting and rearing of children was part of the divinely ordered life of the "male and female," whom God had created. This truth they voiced in glad and grateful song. If we enter into the spirit of these songs, our own lives may be chastened and exalted. No Jew younger than thirty was allowed to read this book. It was admitted into the canon of the O.T. because it was decided that it allegorizes the love of God for Israel. Hosea 2 and Ezekiel 23, are outstanding examples of it. The same symbolic thinking is expressed in Ephesians 5:23-33 concerning Christ and the Church.

b) "King" was a designation also for a bridegroom in West-Semitic and Jewish usage.

c) Cf. the closing clause in verse 3 and the reference in 6:8 to "maidens without number" who are part of the harem.

d) In 6:9 "daughters" is plainly used in parallelism with "queens and concubines," the royal harem. e) A well-known desert tribe living in black tents.

f) By Gen. 38:15 the habit of a harlot. g) A common comparison among desert riders.

h) A royal type as distinguished from lesser makes.

¹⁰How beautiful are your cheeks with jeweled spangles,
your neck with strings of beads!
¹¹Circlets of gold, with studdings of
silver,
we shall make for you.

She Thinks Yearningly of Him

¹²As long as the king¹ was on his couch,
my spikenard gave forth its
fragrance;
¹³My loved one is to me a bundle of myrrh

lying between my breasts;

¹⁴He is to me a cluster of henna of the gardens of Engedi.²

He Speaks of Her

¹⁵Ah, beautiful you are, my love, beautiful you are;
your eyes are as doves.

In Her Heart She Answers Him

¹⁶Behold, you are beautiful, my loved
one,

you are very handsome.

Our leafy couch is luxuriant;

¹⁷the beams of our house are the cedars,

its panels are the cypresses.

2 I AM A ROSE OF SHARON,^k A LILY of the valleys.

He to Her

²As a lily among thistles, so is my love among the daughters.

She to Him

³As an apple tree among the trees of the wood,

so is my lover among the sons.

In his shadow I delight to sit,
and his fruit is sweet to my taste.

⁴He has brought me into the banqueting hall,
and his banner over me¹ is love.

⁵Sustain me with dainties, refresh me with apples,
for I am so lovesick.

⁶Let his left hand be under my head,
and let his right hand embrace me.

The Beloved Speaks of Her Lover

⁷I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,

by the gazelles of the mountains
and the hinds of the fields, that you do not awaken nor stir up
love,

until love itself shall please.

Her Love Song to Him

⁸Listen, the voice of my beloved!
See! He comes bounding up the mountains,
leaping over the hills.

⁹My beloved is like a gazelle or a young hart;^m

here he is standing by our wall, he is looking through the windows,

he is peering through the lattices.ⁿ

¹⁰My beloved sings, and he calls to me:
Arise, my love, my beauty, and come
along with me;

¹¹For lo! the winter is past,
the season of rain is over and gone.

¹²The flowers appear on the earth;
the season of singing has come;^o
the voice of the turtledove^p is heard in our land.

¹³The fig trees are putting forth their figs,

and the vines coming into blossom
are giving forth their fragrance.

Arise, my love, my beauty, and come
along with me.

¹⁴O thou, my dove, in the clefts of the rock,

in the covert of the cliff,

Let me hear your voice, let me see your face;

for your voice is sweet, and your face is lovely.

A Chorus

¹⁵Catch for us the foxes, the little foxes

j) Cf. 1:4 and the note there given.

j) A famous oasis, and one of the three major entrances to Judea from the Jordan valley and the Dead Sea country. k) The famously beautiful coast plains. l) Proclaiming me as his.

m) In his springing speed.

n) Proverbs 7:6 suggests that "looking through my lattice" was a natural part of everyday life.

o) Judges 21:19, 21 refers to a "feast of the Lord," "from year to year" with the "daughters of Shiloh" "in the dances" close to "the vineyards."

p) The turtledove is gentle, harmless, and innocent [Ps. 74:19; Jer. 8:7]. It came in the spring; much used in offerings [Gen. 15:9; Lev. 1:14]. As a spring love-song these vss. 11-13 are unsurpassed in all literature.

that are spoiling our vineyards;^q
for our vineyards are in bloom.

She Sings Again

¹⁶My beloved is mine, and I am his;
he is pasturing his flock among the lilies.

¹⁷Until the day begins to cool
and the shadows lengthen, turn, my lover, and be as a gazelle or a young hart
upon the mountains that separate us.^r

The Loved One Dreams of Her Lover

3 UPON MY BED AT NIGHT^s I SOUGHT him whom my soul loves,
I sought him but did not find him;
I called him, but he did not answer.
²I shall arise now and go round about
the city
in the streets and the market places, and I shall seek him whom my soul loves.

I sought him, and I found him not.
³The watchmen that go about in the city found me;

I said to them, "Have you seen him
whom my soul loves?"

⁴Scarcely had I left them when I found him
whom my soul loves;
I laid hold on him and would not let him go until I brought him in to the home
of my mother,
into the chamber of her who bore me.

The Beloved's Refrain

⁵I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
by the gazelles and the hinds of the field,
that you do not awaken nor stir up love
until it please.

The Lover's Arrival

⁶What is this coming up from the desert

like columns of smoke, perfumed with myrrh and frankincense,
with all fine powders of the merchant?

⁷Behold, it is the litter of Solomon;
sixty warriors are around it
from among the heroes of Israel, ⁸all skilled with the sword and trained to do combat.

Every man wears his sword upon his thigh,

against dread dangers of the night.

⁹King Solomon made himself a litter from the lumber of Lebanon.^t

¹⁰The pillars of it he made of silver,
the inlaid top he made of gold;
the seat of it was of purple, and the inside lining
was a gift of love from the daughters of Jerusalem.

¹¹Go forth, O you daughters of Zion,^u and gaze upon king Solomon, upon the crown
with which his mother crowned him on his wedding day,
the day of his gladness of heart.

The Lover Sings His Loved One's Beauty

4 BEHOLD, YOU ARE FAIR, MY LOVE;
behold you are fair;
Your eyes are as doves behind your veil,

Your hair as a flock of goats
trailing down Mount Gilead.^v

²Your teeth are as a flock of ewes ready for the shearing,

all fresh from their washing.^w
They are in pairs, not one of them is missing.

³Your lips are as a scarlet thread,
and your mouth is very comely.

q) Some regard this verse as a symbolic allusion to the rivals of the lover who are seeking to win the loved one for themselves.

r) Cf. vs. 8, "the mountains": the last word is uncertain. "Cut" or "divide" or "craggy" is the LXX.

s) In a dream. Cf. Gen. 37:5-10, 40:5-23; Matt. 2:12-20.

t) The cedars of Lebanon were far famed and highly prized: I Kings 5:6-11, used for building Solomon's temple; Ezra 3:7, for rebuilding the temple after the exile.

u) Zion is another name for Jerusalem and is so used nearly 150 times in the O.T. The term "daughters of Zion" usually refers to the women of the entire city.

v) Micah 7:14; Num. 32:1: a famous feeding ground "in the days of old." The goats of the region had shiny, black hair.

w) Washing sheep at shearing time was and is a widely spread custom. Cf. also 6:6. Cf. Isa. 1:18 "White... as wool."

SONG OF SOLOMON 4, 5

Your cheeks are as halves of a pomegranate^x
gleaming behind your veil.
4Your neck is as a tower of David,
built to serve as an arsenal,^y upon which there hang a thousand shields
and all the armor of the mighty.
5Your breasts are as two fawns, twins of a gazelle,
feeding among the lilies.
6Until the day breathes its evening coolness^z
and the shadows lengthen and
disappear,
I shall hasten away to the mountain of
myrrh,
to the hill of frankincense.
7You are altogether fair, my love;
there is no blemish on you.

The Lover Calls and Extols Her

8With me from Lebanon, my bride, with me from Lebanon, come!
Gaze from the summit of Amana,^a from the top of Senir, that is Hermon,^b from the dens of lions,

from the mountains of the panthers.^c

9You have ravished my heart, my sister, my bride,
you have ravished my heart with
one glance of your eyes,
with a single bead of your necklace.

10How sweet is your love, my sister,
my bride;

How much more delicious is your love than wine;

and the fragrance of your ointments
than all the rich spices.

11Your lips drop honey, my bride, honey and milk are under your tongue;

He Sings to Her of Her Beauty.

and the fragrance of your garments is.
like

the fragrance of Mount Lebanon.^d

12A garden you are, my sister, my bride,

a garden walled in, a fountain well
sealed;

13A pomegranate orchard with precious fruits,

a garden of henna with spikenard,

14spikenard and saffron, calamus and cinnamon,

with all the trees of frankincense, myrrh and aloes,^e with all the chief spices.

15You are a garden fountain, a well of living water,
flowing streams from Lebanon.

The Beloved Calls for Her Lover

16Awake, O north wind, and come,
you south wind,

blow you both upon my garden,^f
that its fragrance may be wafted
abroad.

Let my beloved come into his garden and eat its choice fruits; they are his.

The Lover to His Beloved

5 I HAVE COME TO MY GARDEN, MY
sister, my bride,

I gather my myrrh with my spices,

I eat honeycomb with my honey,^g

I drink wine with my milk.

A Welcome to the Lovers

Eat, friends! Drink, yes, drink abundantly,

you, lover and beloved!

Her Dream Song

2I was asleep, but my heart was awake:
Listen! A sound! My lover is knocking!

He pleads, "Open to me, my sister,
my love, my dove, my perfect one;

x) A highly prized fruit with rich coloring, much used in pictorial ornamentation.

y) The Hebrew word here translated "arsenal" is not found anywhere else. Ezek. 27:10, 11, indicates that the statement here suggests beauty. z) Cf. 2:17 for a similar statement.

a) One of the streams flowing eastward from the top of the Lebanon mountains [II Kings 5:17].

b) Mt. Hermon, the highest peak of the Lebanon mountains, was called Senir by the Amorites.

[Deut. 3:9]. c) Known in the Lebanon mountains.

d) The fragrance came from its cedars and balsam firs which grew in abundance. Hosea 14:6, 7 makes it the standard of fragrance. e) Some aloes wood is fragrant and produces aromatic resin.

f) The north wind came from the mountains and was cool. "The north wind drives away rain" [Prov. 25:23]. The south wind came from the desert and brought "scorching heat" [Luke 12:55. Cf. Eccles. 1:6].

g) Jonathan ate honey from a stick dipped in honeycomb [I Sam. 14:27].

for my head is wet with dew, and my hair is drenched
with the dew of the night."^h

In Her Dream She Responds

⁸"I have put off my coat; why should
I put it on again;
I have washed my feet; why should I soil them again?"

⁴My loved one put his hand on the latch,
and my heart grew desirous of him;

⁵I rose to open to my loved one,
my hands both dripping with myrrh,
and my fingers dropping myrrh
on the handles of the bar.

⁶I opened to my beloved.
But my Beloved had turned away;
he was gone!

My soul had failed him when he spoke.

I sought him, but I did not find
him,

I called him, but he did not answer.

⁷The watchmen, making the rounds of the city, found me;
they struck me, they wounded me,
they stripped me of my mantle,
those guardians of the city walls.¹

Her Appeal to Jerusalem's Maidens

⁸I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
if you find my lover, that you tell him I am lovesick.

Their Reply

⁹What is your lover beyond any lover,
O you fair one among women?
What is your lover beyond any lover,
that you do thus adjure us?

Her Description of Her Lover

¹⁰My lover is fair and ruddy,
the choicest among ten thousand.
¹¹His head is finest gold,
his locks are wavy, black as a raven.
¹²His eyes are like doves beside brooks
of water,
washed with milk and fitly set.
¹³His cheeks are like a bed of spices,
like banks of sweetest herbs;

his lips are lilies dropping liquid
myrrh.

¹⁴His hands are rods of gold, set with gilded stones,
his body is as polished ivory,
overlaid with sapphires.

¹⁵His limbs are pillars of marble, set in sockets of gold.

His stature is like Lebanon, as striking
as the cedars.

¹⁶His mouth is all sweetness, and he is most lovely.

Such is my lover, and such is my friend,

O daughters of Jerusalem.

The Jerusalem Maidens

6 <sup>WHITHER HAS YOUR LOVED ONE gone, thou fairest among women?</sup>

Where has he hidden himself?
We would seek him with you.

The Beloved Answers

²My loved one has gone down to his garden,

to the beds of the spices;
he has gone to feed in his garden
and there to gather some lilies.

³I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine;
he pastures his flock among the
lilies.

The Lover Praises His Beloved

⁴You are beautiful, my love, beautiful as Tirzah,¹ lovely as Jerusalem;^k captivating as an army with banners.

⁵Turn your eyes away from me, for they overcome me;

Your hair is like a flock of goats moving down the trail of Gilead.¹

⁶Your teeth are like a flock of ewes coming from their washing;
each is paired, not one of them is missing.

⁷As the halves of a pomegranate,
so are your cheeks behind your veil.

⁸Sixty queens there are and eighty concubines,

^h) Gideon squeezed a bowlful of water from a fleece of wool after it had been exposed to the dew overnight [Judg. 6:38]. ⁱ) They thought she was a wandering wanton.

^j) An ancient Canaanite city, taken by Joshua [Josh. 12:24]. It became the first capital of the northern kingdom [1 Kings 15:21, 33; 16:8, 15, 23].

^k) In Lam. 2:15, Jerusalem is referred to as the "perfection of beauty."

^l) Compare 4:1 above and its footnote.

and harem daughters beyond number;

- ⁹My dove, my undefiled, stands out
alone;
she was an only one to her mother,
first choice of her who bore her;
The daughters saw her and called her happy,
the queens and concubines, too,
and thus they praised her:
¹⁰"Who is this, who shines forth as the morning dawn,
fair as the moon, radiant as the sun,
captivating as an army with banners?"^m

The Maiden

- ¹¹I went down to see the nut garden
to see the green plants of the valley;
to see whether the vines already had budded,
and the pomegranates had put forth their bloom.
¹²Ere I was aware, my soul's fancy seated me in a princely chariot of my people.

Her Beauty as She Dances

- ¹³Turn you, turn, O maid of Shulem, Turn you, turn, that we may gaze
upon you.
What do you see in the Shulammit
As she dances the Mahanaim dance?ⁿ

The Lover Praises His Beloved

- 7 HOW BEAUTIFUL ARE YOUR FEET
in sandals,
O maiden of queenly form!
Your rounded thighs are a jeweled chain,
the work of a master craftsman.
²Your navel is as a rounded bowl in which mingled wine is never lacking;
your belly as a heap of wheat, set about with lilies.

- ³Your breasts are as two fawns, the twins of a gazelle;
⁴Your neck is as a tower of ivory, your eyes as pools in Heshbon by the gate Bath-rabbim.^o

Your nose is as a tower of Lebanon, looking down upon Damascus.

- ⁵Your head crowns you as Mount Carmel;
your flowing locks are purple,
A king is caught in their tresses.^p

The Lover Praises His Beloved

- ⁶How beautiful you are, my love,
how lovely in that which delights!
⁷Your stature itself is a stately palm,
your breasts are as clusters of grapes.
⁸I said, I will climb into my palm tree,
I will take hold of the branches of it.
Your breasts shall be as clusters of vines,
the fragrance of your breath as of apples.

- ⁹The roof of your mouth is like red wine^q

flowing down for my beloved with smoothness,^r moving gently over the lips of those sleeping.^s

Her Call to Her Lover

- ¹⁰I belong to my beloved, and his desire is for me.
¹¹Come, my beloved, let us go out into the fields,
let us lodge among the hennas.^t ¹²Let us rise and go early to the vineyards;
let us see whether the vines have now
budded,
whether the blossoms have already opened and the pomegranates are come into flower;
there will I give you my love.
¹³The mandrakes^u give forth their
fragrance;

m) This comparison is unexpected, but it is the same wording as in 6:4 and is there in parallel with the idea of comeliness.

n) The Hebrew word is Mahanaim, according to II Sam. 2:8-10, the residence of Ishbosheth, son of Saul, when he became king over Gilead and other peoples. There David found refuge when he fled from Absalom [II Samuel 17:24, 27].

o) Mentioned only here; it was a gate of Heshbon, the home of Sihon, a king of the Amorites [Deut. 3:6; 4:46].

p) Because of their beauty. q) In Proverbs 23:21, "red wine" may go down "smoothly."

r) Apparently we should understand this line to mean "your kisses are as choice red wine."

s) The entire verse is difficult; for "lips of sleepers" the LXX and Syriac read "lips and teeth."

t) Cf. the same idea as 4:13.

u) Gen. 30:14-16 indicates that mandrakes were thought of as "love apples."

at our doors are all kinds of choice
fruits,
fresh and ripe they are, too, my beloved;
all of these I have laid up for
you.

Her Tender Wish for Him

8 OH, THAT YOU WERE AS MY brother,
who nursed at the breast of my mother!
Should I find you outside in the open,
I would kiss you, and no one would scorn me 2I should lead you and bring you to the house of my mother,
and she would instruct me;^v
I should give you some spiced wine to drink,
also the juice of my pomegranates.
3Oh, that his left hand were under my
head,
and with his right hand he would embrace me.^w 4I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem,
that you do not awaken or stir up love,
until love itself so please.

She of Him

5aWho is this coming up from the wilderness,
leaning closely upon the arm of her lover?

He of Her

5bUnder the apple tree I awakened
you,^x
there your mother came to travail with you,^y
there she came to travail, there she bore you.

She to Him

6Set me as a seal upon your heart, as a seal upon your arm;^z

For love is mighty as death, ardent love as demanding as Sheol.
Its flashes are flashes of fire,
a very flame of the LORD.

7Many waters cannot extinguish love,
nor can rivers drown it.
If a man should offer for love all the wealth of his house,
it would be scornfully refused.

The Maiden's Brothers

8We have a little sister and she has no breasts.^a
What shall we do for our sister in the day she shall be spoken for?
9If she be a wall,^b
we will build for her a turret of silver;
But if she be a door,^c
we will enclose her with boards of cedar.

The Maiden's Answer

10I am a wall and my breasts are as its towers;
I am in my lover's eyes as one finding favor.
11Solomon had a vineyard in Baal-hamon;^d
he entrusted the vineyard to keepers.
Each man was to bring for his share of the fruit
a thousand pieces of silver.^e 12My vineyard, my own, lies before me.
The thousand is yours, O Solomon, and two hundred each to those keeping the fruit.^f

Bride and Groom to Each Other

13O you who dwell in my gardens, your companions listening to your voice,
make me hear it, too.
14Come quickly, my lover, beloved,
and be like a gazelle,
or like a young hart upon mountains of spices.

v) The LXX and the Syriac repeat here 3:4, "into the chambers of her who conceived me."
w) Cf. 2:6. x) Cf. 2:3 and 2:5 to see the meaning here.

y) Birth in the open was common at that time.

z) In Jer. 22:24 it is implied that a seal upon the hand is an almost inescapable declaration of an agreement that cannot be disregarded.

a) When young and undeveloped, as Ezekiel 16:7 makes clear. b) An unbroken wall.

c) A "door open to callers." d) A place nowhere else mentioned; location unknown.

e) According to Isaiah 7:23, a symbol of opulence.

f) One-fifth in cash, besides what they ate and drank from the vineyard and adjoining vegetable gardens; 20% was an ancient rate of interest in the Near East.

THE BOOK OF

ISAIAH

1 THE VISION OF ISALAH^a THE SON OF Amoz, which he saw concerning^b Judah and Jerusalem in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.^c

²Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth, for the LORD speaks: I have nurtured and brought up children, but they have become rebellious against Me. ³The ox knows its owner and the donkey its master's feeding rack; [but] Israel does not understand; My people show themselves lacking in discernment.

⁴Alas! A sinning nation, a people loaded with iniquity, descendants of evildoers, corruptly-behaving children. They have forsaken the LORD; they have shown contempt for the Holy One of Israel; they have become utterly estranged.

⁵For what reason would you be punished again, seeing that you insist on increasing your apostasy?^d The whole head has become diseased, and the whole heart is faint. ⁶From the sole of the foot up to the head, there is nothing sound in it; only bruises, welts, and raw wounds; [these] have neither been pressed out, nor bandaged, nor softened with oil. ⁷Your country is devastated; your cities have been burned with fire; as to your cultivated fields, in your very presence foreigners are plundering them. It is a devastation, as a demolishment by aliens. ⁸The daughter of Zion is left behind like a shanty in a vineyard, like a shack^e in the cucumber patch, like a besieged city. ⁹If the LORD of hosts had not kept alive the few survivors, we would have been like Sodom and similar to Gomorrah.

¹⁰Hear the word of the LORD, you rulers of Sodom! Listen to the teaching of our God, you people of Gomorrah!

¹¹Of what significance to Me are your many sacrifices? says the LORD; I am wearied of whole burnt offerings of rams and with the fat of your fatted calves; and in the blood of young bulls, lambs, and he-goats, I find no delight.

¹²When you come to appear in My presence, who has demanded this from your hand: the trampling of My courts? ¹³Come no more with your meaningless offerings! Incense is abominable to Me; [likewise] the new moon and sabbath, the convoking of the assembly; I cannot endure iniquity and a solemn assembly! ¹⁴My soul hates your new moon festival and appointed

a) This verse serves as the title for the entire prophecy.

b) The central theme of this prophecy pertains to the people of God in the land of Judah and in Jerusalem, which included much of Benjamin and Simeon; also many priests and Levites. All other nations and cities referred to by Isaiah are dealt with because of their relationship to Judah and Jerusalem.

c) These four kings ruled in succession over Judah in Jerusalem during the latter part of the 8th century, B.C.

d) As punishment brings no correction, why punish any more with the intent of sparing and correcting?

e) Temporary shacks were placed in or near vineyards, cucumber or melon patches to provide lodging for the fruit pickers. These were the center of bustling activity during the fruit picking season; once this was ended, the shacks and shanties remained in deserted silence.

seasonal feasts;^f they have become a burden on Me; I am weary of bearing them. ¹⁶When you spread out your hands, I will hide My eyes from you; yes, even though you multiply your prayers, I will not hear. Your hands are full of blood. ¹⁶Wash yourselves! Purify yourselves! Remove the wickedness of your doings from before My eyes. ¹⁷Learn to do good! Seek justice; restrain the ruthless; protect the orphan; defend the widow.

¹⁸Come now, and let us adjudge^g the matter, says the LORD; though your sins be as scarlet, they shall become white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool. ¹⁹If you become willing and obedient, you shall eat the good of the land; ²⁰but if you refuse and are rebellious, you shall be annihilated by the sword,^h for the mouth of the LORD has spoken [it].

²¹How the faithful city has become a prostitute! She was filled with justice; righteousness did lodge in her, but now murderers! ²²Your silver has become dross; your choice liquor is diluted with water; ²³your princes are rebellious, the associates of thieves; they all are lovers of the bribe, and they continually chase after rewards. They do not protect the orphan, nor does the case of the widow come up before them.ⁱ

²⁴Therefore says the LORD, the LORD of hosts, the Mighty One of Israel: Alas! With vengeance will I relieve Myself of My foes; I will avenge Myself on My enemies; ²⁵for I will turn My hand against you, and I will burn away your dross as with lye, and I will remove all your alloy.^j ²⁶I will restore your judges as at first and your counselors as at the beginning. After that you will be called a stronghold of righteousness, the faithful city. ²⁷Zion shall be ransomed by justice and her converts by righteousness; ²⁸but there shall be a crushing of the apostates and sinners together, and those who forsake the LORD shall be annihilated. ²⁹For you will be ashamed of the oak trees in which you take pleasure, and you shall blush because of the gardens which you have chosen.^k ³⁰For you will become like an oak tree shedding her withering leaves and like a garden in which there is no moisture; ³¹the strong will be like tow^l and his activity as a spark; and the two will burn together with no one to quench them.

2 THE WORD WHICH ISAIAH THE SON of Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem. ²It shall be in the latter days that the mountain of the LORD's house shall be firmly established as the highest of the mountains and be raised above the hills, to which all the nations shall stream.^m ³Many peoples shall go and exhort, "Come! let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, to the house of the God of Jacob; so that He may teach us concerning His ways, and that we may walk in His paths." For from Zion shall instruction go forth and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem. ⁴He shall arbitrate between the nations and shall decide [disputes] for many peoples; they shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning shears; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, nor shall they learn war any more.

⁵O house of Jacob, come, and let us walk in the light of the LORD. ⁶Surely, Thou hast rejected Thy people, the house of Jacob, because they are influenced from the eastⁿ and by soothsayers like the Philistines, and they join^o hands with foreigners; ⁷their land is full of silver and gold, and there is no end to their chariots; ⁸their

f) The new moon feast was celebrated each month; the appointed seasonal festivals each year.
g) The LORD gives the sinner an invitation, which is also to be considered a command, to enter into judicial proceedings; He is not inviting the sinner to a discussion but to a court trial.

h) In Hebrew it reads, "you shall be made to eat the sword." Modern Arabs employ this same phrase for annihilation. i) The royal judges of the land refused to decide those cases fairly.

j) Alloy in the sense that it is a base substance, detracting from purity.
k) Trees were worshiped by many ancients at their "high places," in "vaulted chambers," and in attractive "gardens" assumed as sacred, but sensual [cf. Ezek. 9:4; 14:1 ff.; 23:1 ff.].

l) That portion of flax left after the linen substance has been removed.

m) In His spiritual world God makes water flow upward.

n) Omitted, yet clearly implied, the heathen customs of Assyria and Babylon.

o) Hebrew uses an idiom, "strike hands with," meaning to associate with and join in the activity of the foreigners, especially, trading with them.

land also is full of idols; they worship the work of their own hands, that which their fingers have fashioned.⁹ Accordingly, man lowers himself, and even the more respectable man is brought down. Forgive them not!

¹⁰Enter into the rocks,^p and hide yourself in the dust away from the dread presence of the LORD and from the splendor of His majesty. ¹¹The proud looks of man shall be brought low; the haughtiness of men shall be humbled, and the LORD alone shall be exalted in that day. ¹²For the LORD of hosts has a day against all who are haughty and proud, and against all that lifts itself up, that it may be brought low; ¹³against all cedars of Lebanon, proud and lofty, and against all the oaks of Bashan; ¹⁴against all the high mountains and against all the elevated hills; ¹⁵against every high tower and against every fortified wall; ¹⁶against all the ships of Tarshish and all the pleasure yachts. ¹⁷Then will the pride of man be humbled, and the haughtiness of men will be brought low, and the LORD alone shall be exalted in that day. ¹⁸As for the idols, every one shall vanish. ¹⁹For men will slink into the caves of the rocks and into the holes of the ground, away from the dread presence of the LORD and from the splendor of His majesty when He arises to terrify the earth. ²⁰In that day a man shall cast away his idols of silver and his idols of gold, which each made for himself to worship, to the rats and the bats, ²¹and hide in the crevices of the rocks and in the clefts of the cliffs from the dread presence of the LORD and from the splendor of His majesty, when He arises to strike terror on the earth. ²²Cease depending on man, whose breath is in his nostrils; for at what should he be valued?

3 FOR BEHOLD, THE LORD, THE LORD of hosts, is about to remove from Jerusalem and from Judah support and sustenance, all support of bread and all support of water; ²the mighty man and the soldier, the judge and the prophet, the diviner and the elder, ³the captain of fifty and the honorable person, the counselor, the skilful craftsman, and the expert charmer. ⁴I will give them boys as their princes, and babes^q shall rule over them. ⁵The people shall oppress, one his fellow man and another his neighbor; the youth shall domineer over the aged and the dishonorable over the honorable. ⁶When a man will take hold of his brother in his father's house, [saying,] "You have a robe; you shall be our ruler, and this heap of ruins shall be under your administration," ⁷he will protest at that time, answering, "I am not able to restore, for in my house there is neither bread nor a robe; you can not make me ruler over the people."

⁸For Jerusalem has stumbled, and Judah has fallen; because their language and their deeds are against the LORD, provoking His glorious aspect. ⁹The expression of their faces witnesses against them, and they make their sin conspicuous as Sodom. They conceal nothing! Woe to them, for they deal out misery to themselves! ¹⁰Say to the righteous that it shall go well with them, for they shall eat the products of their doings. ¹¹Woe to the wicked! It shall go ill with him, for the full result of his hands shall be repaid him. ¹²As for My people, their ruling tyrants are children, and women rule over them. My people, your leaders are misleaders; they confuse the course of your paths.

¹³The LORD stands up to hold court; He is standing to judge the peoples. ¹⁴The LORD enters into judgment with the elders of His people and His princes. And you! You have devoured the vineyard; the plunder from the poor is in your houses. ¹⁵What ails you, that you suppress My people and grind the faces of the poor?^r says the Lord God of hosts.

¹⁶Moreover, the LORD has spoken: Because the daughters of Zion are

p) A hiding repeated until the finals [Rev. 6:16].

q) The Hebrew word here rendered "babes" occurs again in Isa. 66:4, and nowhere else in the Old Testament. It conveys the idea of "capricious children," who treat others maliciously for their own pleasure.

r) A Hebrew expression for severe oppression in which the last little that the poor own is taken from them.

haughty and walk with outstretched necks and ogling eyes, they go about with a mincing step and tinkle their ornaments on their feet: ¹⁷so the LORD will cause a scab to come upon the scalp of the daughters of Zion, and the LORD will expose their secret parts. ¹⁸In that day the LORD will remove the finery of their anklets, net-bands, and crescents; ¹⁹earrings, bracelets, and gauze veils; ²⁰head bands, ankle chains, sashes, perfume boxes, and charms; ²¹signet rings and jewels of the nose; ²²festive robes, top tunics, shawls, and purses; ²³handmirrors, lingerie, headwear, and large veils. ²⁴It shall be, that instead of a sweet smell, there will be rottenness; instead of a girdle, a rope; instead of well-set hair, baldness; instead of a rich robe, a wrapping of sackcloth; instead of beauty, a branding mark. ²⁵Your men shall fall by the sword and your valiant men in battle. ²⁶Her gates shall mourn and grieve; deserted she sits on the ground.

4 AND SEVEN WOMEN WILL GRASP one man in that day, saying, "We will eat our own bread, and we will wear our own clothes; only let us be called by your name; take away our stigma."^s

²In that day the branch of the LORD shall become beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the land excellent and splendid for the escapees of Israel. ³And it shall be that the one left in Zion and the one remaining in Jerusalem will be called holy—everyone registered for eternal life in Jerusalem, ⁴when the LORD shall have washed away the filth of the daughter of Zion and shall have rinsed away the blood-spots from the midst of Jerusalem by the spirit of judgment and by the spirit of burning. ⁵The LORD will create over the area of Mount Zion and over her assemblies a cloud by day, and smoke and a flaming fire shining at night; for it will be a protection over all that is glorious; ⁶there shall be a pavilion as a shade by day from the heat, and as a shelter and refuge from the storm and rain.

5 LET ME SING TO THE ONE I LOVE a song for my loved One regarding His vineyard: My loved One had a vineyard on a fertile hill. ²He carefully spaded it and cleared off the stones, and He planted choice vines. He also built a lookout tower in the center of it and cut out a winevat in it;^t then He waited for it to produce grapes, but it yielded wild grapes.

³And now, residents of Jerusalem and men of Judah, please arbitrate between Me and My vineyard. ⁴What more was there to do for My vineyard that I did not do in it? For what reason, when I expected it to produce grapes, did it yield worthless grapes? ⁵Now, let me inform you what I am going to do to My vineyard; remove its hedge, and it shall be a pasture;^u break holes in the walls, and it shall be a trampled place. ⁶I will make it a desolation; it shall be neither pruned nor hoed; briers and thornbushes shall come up, and I will forbid the rain clouds to pour rain upon it. ⁷For the vineyard of the LORD of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah are His cherished planting. He eagerly looked for justice, but see, bloodshed! For righteousness, and lo, a cry of distress.

⁸Woe to those joining house to house, who unite field to field until there is no more room; you shall be made to live alone in the middle of the land. ⁹In my ears the LORD of hosts has spoken. Most certainly will many houses become desolate, spacious and fair, without occupants. ¹⁰For ten acres of vineyard will produce but nine gallons, and ten bushels of seed will produce but one bushel.

¹¹Woe to those getting up early in the morning to secure intoxicants, lingering late in twilight until wine inflames them. ¹²The guitar and harp, the tambourine, flute, and wine constitute their feasts! But they do not show re-

s) Of being unmarried.

t) Winevats in Palestine and in the Lebanon were generally cut in the rocks at two levels; the upper vat is the larger and shallower. In this the grapes are thrown and trodden [cf. Isa. 63:3]; the lower one is smaller, but deeper. Into it the grape juice is made to flow by a channel from the upper vat. u) Heb.: "it shall be for animal consumption."

gard for the deeds of the LORD, and the works of His hands they do not see. ¹³Therefore my people go into captivity^v for lack of knowledge—their nobles famished men and their multitudes parched with thirst. ¹⁴Therefore Sheol^w has enlarged her appetite and has opened her mouth immeasurably wide, and [into it] descend her^x splendor, her crowds, her din, and all who are jubilant in her. ¹⁵Then mankind shall be abased; men shall be brought low, and the faces of the haughty shall be humiliated. ¹⁶But the LORD of hosts will be exalted in justice, and the holy God will show Himself holy through righteousness. ¹⁷Then the lambs will graze as in their pastures, but foreigners will seize the waste fields of the fat ones.^y

¹⁸Woe to those who continually draw iniquity upon themselves with worthless cords and sin with cart ropes, ¹⁹who say, "Let Him make haste! Let Him speed His work, so that we may see it! Let the purpose of the Holy One of Israel draw near and come, that we may know it!"

²⁰Woe to those who call evil good and good evil; who place darkness as light and light as darkness; who put bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter!

²¹Woe to those who are wise in their own eyes and shrewd in their own sight!

²²Woe to those who are champions at drinking wine and expert men at mixing intoxicants, ²³who acquit the guilty for a bribe and take away the rights of the righteous! ²⁴Therefore, as a tongue of fire consumes stubble and as flaming straw shrivels away, so shall their root be as decay and their sprouts shall go up as dust. For they have rejected the teachings of the LORD of hosts and have shown contempt for the words of the Holy One of Israel.

²⁵Therefore the anger of the LORD is kindled against His people, and He has stretched out His hand upon them and smitten them, so that the mountains quake and their corpses are like refuse in the middle of the streets. Despite all this, His anger has not subsided, and His hand is still stretched out.^z

²⁶He raises a signal for faraway peoples and whistles^a for them from the ends of the earth; and look, quickly, swiftly they come!^b ²⁷Not one is exhausted, there is not a staggering one with them; none is drowsy or sleeps; his waistcloth is not loosened, and his sandal-strap does not break; ²⁸his arrows are sharp, and all his bows are bent; his horses' hoofs are hard as flint and his wheels as swift as a whirlwind. ²⁹His roaring is like that of a lioness; he roars like a young lion; he will growl, seize the prey, and conceal it; and there is no rescuer! ³⁰In that day he will roar upon him like the roaring sea; if he looks to the land, see, darkness and distress; for light is darkened by its clouds.

6 IN THE YEAR OF KING UZZIAH'S death, I saw the Lord sitting upon a high and eminent throne, and the trailing of His robe filled the temple. ²The seraphim^c were standing above Him; each had six wings;^d with two he covered his face, with two he covered his feet, and with two he flew.^e ³The one called to the other and said: "Holy, holy, holy is the LORD of hosts; the whole earth is full of His glory."^f ⁴The supports of the thresholds shook at the sound of the one calling, and the house became filled with smoke.

⁵Then I said, "Alas for me; for I feel beaten, because I am a man of unclean lips and I am living among a people of unclean lips; for my eyes have seen the King, the LORD of hosts." ⁶Then one of the seraphim flew to me, having in his hand a glowing coal which he had taken with tongs from off the altar. ⁷He touched my mouth with it and said, "Look!"

v) The Hebrew verb here is in the perfect tense, the perfect of certitude [as in 1:7].

w) The realm of the dead. x) Referring to Jerusalem.

y) The thought is—the innocent shall continue in their ways as formerly, but the fat [i.e., rich, wicked men] shall be removed by aliens who plunder them. z) To strike some more.

a) Cf. 7:18; Zech. 10:8. b) The nation the LORD employs to administer the punishing.

c) Fiery attendants, not mentioned elsewhere in the Bible until Rev. 4:6-8.

d) Massoretic text repeats six wings; the Dead Sea Scroll—Isaiah, does not.

e) Heb. "to fly to and fro," or "to hover in flight."

This has touched your lips; your iniquity is now removed, and your sins are atoned for." ⁸Thereupon I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send and who will go for us? Then I said, "Here am I, send me."

⁹He said, Go! say to this people: Keep on hearing, but do not understand; keep on seeing, but do not perceive!

¹⁰Cause the heart of this people to be unreceptive; cause their ears to be hard of hearing, and paste their eyes shut,^f lest they see with their eyes, hear with their ears, their heart understand, and they repent and are healed.

¹¹Then I asked, "How long, Lord?" He responded: Until that time when cities are made ruins without residents, houses without people, the land utterly desolate, ¹²the LORD will have sent the people far away, and the forsaken sections of the land will be many. ¹³And though a tenth^g remains in it,^h it shall again be consumed, as an oak and as a terebinth tree,ⁱ which, when felled, has a stump; [so] the holy seed is its^j stump.

7 IN THE DAYS OF AHAZ, THE SON OF Jotham, the son of Uzziah, the king of Judah, Rezin king of Syria and Pekah the son of Remaliah the king of Israel came to wage war against Jerusalem, but were unable to conquer it. ²When it was reported to the house of David that Syria was allied with Ephraim, his heart and the heart of his people shook as trees of the forest shake in the wind.

³Then the LORD said to Isaiah: Go forth, you and your son Shearjashub,^k to meet Ahaz at the end of the aqueduct from the upper pool, on the highway to the Fuller's Field, ⁴and say to him, "Be on your guard and keep calm; be not afraid nor timid of heart before these two butts of smoking firebrands; [nor] in the presence of the burning anger of Rezin of Syria and the son^l of Remaliah. ⁵Because Syria has plotted evil against you [with] Ephraim and the son of Remaliah, saying, ⁶'Let us go up against Judah, harass it, create a schism in it to our advantage, and set up the son of Tabeal as king in it,' ⁷thus says the Lord God: It shall not stand; it shall not take place!

⁸For Damascus is Syria's capital, and the sovereign of Damascus is Rezin, and within sixty-five years Ephraim shall be shattered as a nation. ⁹Samaria is the capital of Ephraim, and the sovereign of Samaria is the son of Remaliah. If you do not have firm confidence, you surely shall not abide firmly."

¹⁰Then the LORD continued speaking to Ahaz: ¹¹Ask for a sign for yourself from the LORD your God; let it be either deep as Sheol or high as heaven. ¹²But Ahaz declared, "I will not ask, nor will I test the LORD."

¹³Then he^m said, "Hear now, house of David, is it not enough for you to try the patience of men, that you try the patience of my God also? ¹⁴Therefore the LORD Himself will give you a sign: Behold, the virginⁿ shall conceive and shall bear a son and shall call His name Immanuel;^o ¹⁵He shall eat curds^p and honey until He knows how to reject the evil and choose the good. ¹⁶Even before the child shall know to reject the evil and to choose the good, the land before whose two kings you feel a sickening dread shall be forsaken. ¹⁷The LORD shall bring upon you, upon your people, and upon your father's house days such as have never been since the days of Ephraim's departure from Judah — the king of Assyria.

¹⁸In that day it shall be that the LORD shall whistle for the fly at the end^q of Egypt's rivers and for the bee from the land of Assyria. ¹⁹They shall come, and all of them shall settle in the steep ravines,^r in the clefts of the rocks, upon all thornbushes and in all the pastures.^s ²⁰Also in that day the

f) Heb.: "besmear his eyes."

g) Of the people. h) The land. i) Source of turpentine, secured by cutting into the tree stem.

j) Israel's. k) Meaning, "a remnant shall return." l) Pekah, a usurper on the throne of Israel.

m) Isaiah.

n) The Hebrew term "almah" is also applied to Miriam at about 14 [Ex. 2:8]; and to Rebekah, whose virginity is affirmed [Gen. 24:16]. The Greek translation made before Christ, has parthenos, usually rendered "virgin." o) God with us. An unusual child indeed [cf. Isa. 8:8; 9:6].

p) Or, "butter." q) Mouth or source. r) Or, "desolate valleys." s) Or, "drinking places."

Lord will shave with a razor, hired from regions beyond the river,^t with the king of Assyria, the hair from head to foot, including the beard.^u

²¹It shall be in that day that a man will keep alive a young cow and two sheep, ²²and that from the abundant production of milk he shall eat curds; then everyone, who is left in the midst of the land, shall eat curds and honey. ²³In that day it shall be that in every place where there were a thousand vines, worth a thousand dollars, there shall be briers and thornbushes. ²⁴With bow and arrows they shall come there, for the whole land shall be briers and thornbushes. ²⁵As for all the hills which were tilled with a hoe, one shall not come there for fear of briers and thornbushes; it shall be a place in which to send cattle and for sheep to trample.

8 THE LORD SAID TO ME, TAKE A large tablet and write upon it in common script:^v Hasty spoil, speedy booty.^w ²And I will have two reliable witnesses testify for me — Uriah the priest and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah. ³I went in to the prophetess,^x and she conceived and bore a son. The LORD said to me: Call his name Maher-shalal-hash-baz; ⁴for before the child knows how to cry, "My father" and "My mother," the riches of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria shall be carried away before the king of Assyria.

⁵Again the LORD spoke to me: ⁶Because this people has rejected the waters of Shiloah,^y which flow gently, and there is rejoicing^z in Rezin and the son of Remaliah; ⁷therefore, look, the LORD is bringing upon them the mighty and many waters of the river,^a even the king of Assyria and all his glory. It shall rise over all its channels and overflow all its banks, ⁸and shall sweep on into Judah, flood, and submerge^b [it]; it shall reach up to the neck; and its outspread wings shall fill the breadth of your land, O Immanuel

⁹Do you worst,^c O people, and be shattered! Yes, listen, distant places of the earth! Gird yourselves and be shattered; gird yourselves and be shattered ¹⁰Devise a plan and it shall be frustrated; speak a word and it shall not stand, for God is with us.^d

¹¹For thus the LORD spoke to me when His hand was strong [upon me] and He warned me from walking in the ways of this people: ¹²Do not call everything "conspiracy" which this people is calling "conspiracy"; fear no what they fear, nor be in dread of it ¹³The LORD of hosts, regard Him a holy; let Him be your fear; let Him be your dread. ¹⁴And He shall be a sacred asylum [to you], but a stone of stumbling and a rock of offense to the two houses of Israel, a trap and a snare for the residents of Jerusalem ¹⁵Many will stumble on it and will fall; they will be broken, trapped, and taken.

¹⁶Bind up the testimony, seal the law among my disciples.^e ¹⁷I will wait for the LORD, who is hiding His face from the house of Jacob; indeed, I will hope in Him. ¹⁸Behold, I and the children whom the LORD has given me are for signs and portents in Israel from the LORD of hosts who dwells in Mount Zion.

¹⁹Therefore when men will say to you, "Consult the necromancers and fortunetellers,^f that chirp and mutter," should not a people consult its God? Should a people consult the dead for the benefit of the living? ²⁰To the Law^g and to the testimony!^h Whoever will not speak according to this word there shall surely be no dawn for him ²¹He shall wander through [the land] distressed and hungry; it shall be that because he is famished, he will rave within himself and curse his king and his God. Then he will turn [his eyes]

t) The Euphrates. u) To be thus shaven was very humiliating [cf. II Sam. 10:5].

v) Or, "with the pen of a man." w) Maher-shalal-hash-baz. x) His wife.

y) Shiloah may be identified as Siloam, meaning "sent," because its waters were directed from the Fountain of the Virgin through an ancient tunnel.

z) Therefore also allied with them. a) Euphrates. b) Heb.: "pass over." c) Or, "rage."

d) Or, "Immanuel." e) Teaching God's instructions is their surest seal.

f) Disembodied spirits who were to foretell the future. g) Teaching.

h) Prophetic attestation to the teachings of the books of the Law.

upward ²²and will also look to the earth and see distress and darkness, the gloom of anguish. Into darkness shall he be thrust.

9 BUT SHE WHO WAS IN ANGUISH shall not continue in gloom. As in earlier time He brought the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali¹ into contempt, so in the succeeding period He has made glorious² the way of the sea, the other side of the Jordan, Galilee of the nations.

²The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light; upon those who lived in the land of intense darkness light has shined. ³Thou hast enlarged the nation and increased its joy; they rejoice before Thee as men are joyful in harvest time, as men shout for joy during the dividing of the booty. ⁴For his burdensome yoke, the stick for his shoulder,^k and his slave-driver's rod Thou hast broken as in the day of Midian.¹ ⁵For every tramping soldier's boot in the middle of the battle turmoil and every coat rolled in blood shall be burned—fuel for the fire. ⁶For to us a Child is born, to us a Son is given; the government shall be upon His shoulder; and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace. ⁷There shall be no end to the increase of [His] government or to the peace upon the throne of David and upon His kingdom, in that it is firmly established and supported in justice and righteousness from now on and forever. The zeal of the LORD of hosts shall do this.

⁸The Lord has sent a word into Jacob, and it has fallen on Israel. ⁹Therefore all the people know, Ephraim and the residents of Samaria, who in pride and in arrogance of heart boast, ¹⁰"The bricks have fallen, but we will rebuild with quarried stones; the sycamore trees have been cut down, but we will plant cedars instead." ¹¹[These know] that the LORD brought up the adversaries of Rezin against them and stirred up their enemies, ¹²Syria from the east and the Philistines from the west, who have devoured Israel with an open mouth. Despite all this, His anger has not subsided, and His hand is still stretched out.

¹³Yet the people did not turn to Him who smote them; they did not seek the LORD of hosts.^m ¹⁴So the LORD cut off from Israel head and tail, branch and reed, in a single day. ¹⁵The elder and the man of honor is the head; the prophet who teaches lies is the tail; ¹⁶for the leaders of this people are become misleaders, and their followers are swallowed up. ¹⁷Therefore the Lord does not rejoice over their young men and has no compassion on their orphans and widows; for every one of them is godless and an evildoer, and every mouth speaks folly. Despite all this, His anger has not subsided, and His hand is still stretched out.

¹⁸For wickedness burns as fire, consumes briars and thornbushes; it ignites the thickets of the forests, and they roll up as columns of smoke. ¹⁹The land is scorchedⁿ by the fury of the LORD of hosts, and the people become the fuel for fire. No man spares the other; ²⁰they destroy on the right and are famished; they devour on the left and are not satisfied; man consumes the flesh of his own arm—²¹Manasseh Ephraim, and Ephraim Manasseh, and together against Judah. Despite all this, His anger has not subsided, and His hand is still stretched out.

10 ALAS FOR THOSE ISSUING UN-righteous decrees and for the scribes who put injurious decisions into writing;^o ²who thrust aside the needy from their court rights and rob the poor of My people of justice, so that widows become their prey and orphans their plunder. ³What will you do in the day of visitation and in the annihilation that comes from afar? To

i) These provinces were the first to be depopulated by Tiglath-pileser [II Kings 15:29].

j) The verb is a prophetic perfect of certainty. k) Stick used to beat the upper back.

l) Recall Gideon's victory over the Midianites.

m) The LORD's intent is repentance, not punishment. n) Or, "darkened," "burned black," o) Mean judges registered unfair decisions as legal precedents, which other unfair judges could follow.

whom will you flee for help, and where will you leave your glory?" ⁴You can only crouch among the prisoners and fall among the slain. Despite all this, His anger does not subside, and His hand is still stretched out.⁵

⁶Alas for Assyria, the rod of Mine anger!⁷ My indignation is the staff in their hand. ⁸I send him against a godless nation; I give him orders against the people of My indignation to take booty, to seize prey, and to trample them as the mud of the street. ⁹But he does not so intend, nor does he so plan in his heart; it is in his heart to exterminate nations—not a few.¹⁰ ¹¹For he said, "Are not my princes all kings? ¹²Is not Calno like Carchemish? Is not Hamath like Arpad? Is not Samaria like Damascus? ¹³As my hand found the kingdoms of the idols, even though their idols excelled those of Jerusalem and Samaria, ¹⁴shall I not do to Jerusalem and her images as I did to Samaria and her idols?"

¹⁵It shall be when the LORD has finished all His work on Mount Zion and in Jerusalem, that I will inflict punishment on the fruit^p of the arrogant heart of Assyria's king, on the boasting of his haughty looks. ¹⁶For he claims, "By the strength of my hand have I done this and by my wisdom, for I have understanding; I have removed the frontiers of the peoples and plundered their treasures. Like a bull I have dislodged those who sat [on thrones], ¹⁷and my hand reached the wealth of the peoples [which were] as in a nest; and as men gather eggs left behind, so I gathered the whole earth. There was none that flapped a wing, opened its beak, or chirped." ¹⁸Should an axe boast itself over the man who hews with it, or a saw vaunt itself over the one who moves it back and forth? [Should] a stick wave him who takes it up, or a cane lift up him who is not wood? ¹⁹Therefore the LORD, the LORD of hosts, shall send a wasting disease upon his robust [soldiery], and under his glory shall be kindled a burning as the burning of a fire. ²⁰The light of Israel shall be as a fire, and the Holy One of Israel as a flame, and it shall burn and destroy his thorn-bushes and his briars in one day. ²¹It will consume the glory of his forest and of his productive field; both soul and body shall be consumed; it shall be as a sick man wasting away. ²²The remaining trees of the forest shall be so few that a child could write them down.

²³It shall be in that day that the remnant of Israel and the survivors of the house of Jacob will no more lean upon the one smiting them, but trustingly they shall lean upon the LORD, the Holy One of Israel. ²⁴A remnant, the remnant of Jacob, will return to the mighty God. ²⁵For though your people, O Israel, be like the sand of the sea, only a remnant of them will return.²⁶ Annihilation is determined, overflowing with righteousness.²⁷ ²⁸For a full destruction and that a decisive one, the LORD, the LORD of hosts, shall make in the midst of the whole earth.²⁹

³⁰Therefore the LORD, the LORD of hosts, says this: My people, who dwell in Zion, be not afraid of the Assyrian nation, when it hits you with a stick and lifts up its rod against you as the Egyptians did. ³¹For in a very short time Assyria's indignation will be spent; for My anger is to their destruction. ³²Then shall the LORD of hosts raise up over them a scourge like that with which Midian was smitten at the rock of Oreb,³³ and His rod [shall be] over the sea, and He shall lift it up as in Egypt. ³⁴In that day his burden shall be lifted from your shoulder and his yoke from your neck; the yoke shall be broken off because of ointment.³⁵

³⁶He has arrived at Aiath, passed

p) Wealth, possessions. q) Divine discipline has failed; only judgment remains.

r) The Assyrians are the rod which the LORD is using to punish the godless nations, Judah in particular.

s) The LORD is working out His own plan, while the Assyrians imagine that they are working out theirs. Assyria must not assume that the LORD is a mere tribal deity.

t) The thoughts, words, and deeds his heart produces.

u) That a "remnant should return" was foretold in the name of Isaiah's son, "Shear-jashub" [7:3].

v) Paul cites this passage in Rom. 9:27-29. w) Or, "the whole land," i.e., of Israel.

x) By Gideon and his men [Judg. 7:25]. y) Divine anointing and calling.

through Migron, and stored his baggage at Michmash. ²⁹They have crossed the pass; they stay overnight in Geba; Ramah is panic-stricken; Gibeah of Saul has fled. ³⁰Shriek aloud, daughter of Gallim! Listen, Laishah! Poor Anathoth! ³¹Madmenah flees; the residents of Gebim flee for safety. ³²This very day he halts at Nob;² he shakes his fist at the mount of the daughter of Zion, the hill of Jerusalem.

³³Behold, the Lord, the LORD of hosts, will lop off the branches with tremendous force; the lofty in height shall be hewn down; the high ones shall be brought low. ³⁴He will cut down the thickets of the forest with an iron [axe], and Lebanon shall fall by a majestic One.

11 A TWIG SHALL SHOOT FORTH from the stump of Jesse, and a Branch from his roots shall bear fruit. ²The Spirit of the LORD shall rest upon Him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the reverence of the LORD; ³and His delight shall be in the reverence of the LORD. He shall not judge by what His eyes see, or decide by what His ears hear; ⁴but with justice shall He judge the poor, and with fairness shall He decide for the meek^a of the land. He shall strike the earth with the rod of His mouth, and the wicked He shall slay with the breath of His lips. ⁵Righteousness shall be the girdle of His waist, and faithfulness the belt for His loins.

⁶The wolf shall live with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down beside the kid; the calf, the young lion, and the beef cattle together, and a little child shall lead them.^b ⁷The cow shall graze with the bear; their young ones shall lie down together, and the lion shall eat straw like the ox. ⁸The nursing child shall play over the asp's hole, and the weaned child shall reach its hand in the snake's nest. ⁹They shall not hurt or destroy on all My holy mountain; for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the LORD as the waters cover the sea. ¹⁰In that day the nations shall seek after the root of Jesse, who shall stand as a banner for the peoples, and His resting place shall be glorious.

¹¹In that day it shall be that the Lord will stretch out His hand a second time to recover the remnant, which is left of His people from Assyria, from Egypt, from Pathros, from Ethiopia, from Elam, from Shinar, from Hamath, and from the islands^c of the sea. ¹²He holds up the banner to the nations; He will gather the outcasts of Israel and shall assemble the scattered of Judah from the four corners of the earth. ¹³Ephraim's envy shall vanish, and Judah's hostility shall be done away with; Ephraim shall not envy Judah, nor shall Judah vex Ephraim; ¹⁴but they shall swoop down upon the shoulder of the Philistines to the west; together they shall plunder the tribes of the east. Their hand shall possess Edom and Moab; the Ammonites shall become subject to them. ¹⁵Then the LORD shall dry up the tongue of the sea of Egypt,^d and in His scorching breath He shall wave His hand over the river^e and smite it into seven streams, enabling men to cross it on sandals; ¹⁶there shall be for the remnant of His people which is left over a highway from Assyria, as there was for Israel at the time when they came up from the land of Egypt.

12 'IN THAT DAY YOU WILL SAY, "I will give thanks to Thee, O LORD, for though Thou wast angry with me, Thy anger is turned away and Thou dost comfort me. ²Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust and not be afraid, for JEHOVAH, the LORD, is my strength and my song; yes, He has become my salvation." ³With

z) The places mentioned are within 10 miles of Jerusalem.

a) Or, "poor of the land," "the downtrodden."

b) Special enemies becoming special friends; the wild and the tame living peacefully together.

c) Or, "the coastlands." d) The Red Sea at the north end which the Israelites once crossed.

e) The Euphrates.

f) This song has striking affinities to Moses' song [cf. Ex. 15] and is frequently quoted in both Testaments.

joy, therefore, will you draw water from the fountains of salvation; ⁴and you will say in that day, "Give thanks to the LORD; call upon His name! Make known His doings among the nations. Proclaim that His name is exalted!"

⁵"Sing to the LORD, for He has wrought glorious feats; let this become known through all the earth. ⁶Cry out and shout joyfully, you residents of Zion, for great in your midst is the Holy One of Israel."

13 THE ORACLE^g CONCERNING BABYLON which Isaiah the son of Amoz saw in a vision. ²On the bare summit of the mountain raise a banner, and shout aloud to them; wave a hand that they may enter the gates of the nobles. ³For I have commanded those dedicated to Me, I Myself have summoned My strong warriors, even My proudly exultant ones, to execute My anger.

⁴Listen, an uproar on the mountains as of a great multitude! Listen, an uproar of kingdoms, of nations assembling!^h The LORD of hosts is mustering a battle-host; ⁵they come from a distant land, from the end of heaven, the LORD and the weapons of His indignation, to destroy the whole earth. ⁶Wail, for the day of the LORD is at hand; as destruction from the Almighty will it come. ⁷Therefore all hands shall hang helpless, and every man's heart will grow weak with fear. ⁸They will become dismayed; pangs and agonies will seize them; they will writhe like a woman in travail. One will gaze in amazement at another, with their faces aflame.

⁹Behold, the day of the LORD comes! It is pitiless, accompanied with wrath and fierce anger, to make the earth a desolation and to destroy its sinners out of it. ¹⁰For the stars of heaven and its constellations shall not give their light; the sun shall be dark at its rising and the moon shall not send out its light. ¹¹I will punish the world for its evil and the wicked for their iniquity; I will put an end to the arrogance of the proud and lay low the boasting of the violent. ¹²I will make mortal man scarcer than fine gold, and mankind rarer than the gold of Ophir.ⁱ ¹³The heavens, therefore, shall tremble and the earth quake out of its place at the indignation of the LORD of hosts in the day of His fierce anger. ¹⁴It shall be that as a hunted gazelle, or as a shepherdless flock of sheep, so shall every man turn to his own people and every man flee to his own land. ¹⁵Anyone who is found shall be thrust through, and anyone captured shall fall by the sword. ¹⁶Their infants, too, shall be dashed in pieces before their eyes: their houses shall be looted and their wives ravished.

¹⁷Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, who neither care for silver nor desire gold. ¹⁸Their bows shall cut down the young men; they shall have no mercy upon the fruit of the womb; they shall not look in pity on children. ¹⁹Babylon, the beauty of empires, the proud glory of the Chaldeans, shall be as Sodom and Gomorrah when God overthrew them. ²⁰It shall never, never be inhabited; no one shall dwell in it from generation to generation; neither shall the Arab pitch his tent there, nor shall shepherds fold [their flocks] there. ²¹But wild beasts shall stretch themselves out there, and their^j houses shall be full of howling creatures; the ostriches shall live there, and shaggy goats^k shall be skipping about. ²²Hyenas shall howl within the castles and jackals in her luxurious palaces; her time has nearly come, and her days will not be prolonged.

14 FOR THE LORD WILL HAVE COMpassion on Jacob and will still choose Israel. He will set them in their own land, and aliens will join them and will cling to the house of Jacob.

g) Or, "burden." The Hebrew term conveys the idea of a revelation given to the prophet which he in turn was to utter.

h) Dead Sea Scrolls Sec. 10, No. 2, "though peoples roar, though kingdoms rage."

i) To reach Ophir the Red Sea was used [I Kings 9:28; 22:48], but it was beyond it, so probably in southeast Arabia. j) Houses of Babylonians.

k) The Greek translation has "demons"; the Hebrew term usually refers to the wild goats. In this context of wild animals, the shaggy goat is most likely referred to.

And the peoples will take them^l and bring them to their place, and the house of Israel will give them a foothold upon the LORD's soil as male and female servants. They will make captives of those who took them captive, and they will rule over their oppressors.

³It shall be in the day when the LORD gives you rest from your sufferings and from your turmoil and from the severe service you had to perform, that you will take up this poem^m against the king of Babylon:

How the tyrant has stopped; how [his] insolent rageⁿ has ceased! ⁵The LORD has broken the staff of the wicked, the scepter of rulers ⁶who smote the peoples in wrath with ceaseless blows and trampled down the nations in anger with unrestrained persecution.

⁷The whole earth is at ease and quiet! They burst out with singing. ⁸Even the cypress trees rejoice over you, the cedars of Lebanon [are saying], "Since you have fallen, no woodcutter comes against us."

⁹Sheol below is excited because of you, to meet you when you come; it arouses the dead^o for you, even the chieftains^p of the earth; it makes all the kings of the nations to rise from their thrones. ¹⁰They all will respond and say to you, "So you, too, have become weak as we; you have become like us!" ¹¹Your pomp has been brought down to Sheol, and the music of your harps. Worms are spread out underneath you, and maggots are your covering. ¹²How you are fallen from heaven, shining gleam,^q son of the morning! Chopped down to the ground,^r conqueror of nations! ¹³You reflected in your heart, "I will scale the heavens; I will elevate my throne above the stars of God. I will sit on the mount of assembly,^s far away in the north. ¹⁴I will rise above the heights of the clouds; I will rival the Most High!" ¹⁵But you will be brought down to Sheol, down to the farthest recesses of the pit. ¹⁶At the sight of you, men will gaze at you and reflect upon you, "Is this the man who caused the earth to tremble, who made kingdoms quake, ¹⁷who turned the world into a desert and overthrew its cities, who would not permit their prisoners to go to their homes?" ¹⁸All the kings of the nations lie in glory, each in his own tomb; ¹⁹but you are cast forth away from your tomb, like a loathed growth, clothed like the slain, pierced by the sword, who go down to the stones^t in the pit, as a carcass trodden under foot. ²⁰You will not join your fathers in burial, because you have ruined your country, you have slaughtered your people. May the descendants of evildoers not be mentioned forever! ²¹Prepare for his sons a slaughtering place because of their father's guilt, lest they rise up, obtain possession of the earth, and fill the face of the world with cities.

²²I will rise up against him, says the LORD of hosts, and I will cut off from Babylon name and remnant, son and grandson, says the LORD. ²³And I will make it the possession of the porcupine, marshes of water, and I will sweep it with the broom of destruction, says the LORD of hosts.

²⁴The LORD of hosts has sworn: Truly, as I have planned, so shall it be; as I have purposed, so shall it stand, ²⁵to break Assyria in My land, and I will tread him down on My mountains; then his yoke will be removed from upon them, and his burden shall be taken off their shoulder. ²⁶This is the purpose that has been planned for the whole earth, and this is the hand that is stretched out over all the na-

l) The covenant nation, Israel.

m) Heb.: mashal, a "proverbial saying," "a parable"; when these are longer and in poetic form, the word may be translated "poem."

n) The Dead Sea Scrolls - Isaiah, and other manuscripts have term meaning, "insolent rage" or "fury." o) Heb.: "Rephaim." In Ps. 88:10, "dead" and "Rephaim" are parallel; spirits of the dead in Sheol are aroused to meet Babylon's king.

p) Heb.: "he-goats"; i.e., the trim, well-prepared superior he-goats - the earth's able fighters, all in the realm of death.

q) Heb.: the "shining one," which some have translated Lucifer, because of these predicates.

r) Heb.: "to disable," "to prostrate."

s) Among the Babylonians there prevailed a vivid description of an Olympus of the gods, called Aralu, in the far north, where the gods of the nations assembled.

t) Orientals might throw heavy stones on a hated enemy who had fallen.

tions. ²⁷For the LORD of hosts has purposed it, and who can annul it? His hand is now stretched out, and who can turn it back?

²⁸In the year that King Ahaz died came this message: ²⁹Rejoice not, O Philistia, all of you,^u that the rod which smote you is broken, for out of the root^v of the snake will come forth an adder, and its fruit will be a fiery, flying serpent. ³⁰The first-born of the poor will eat, and the needy will lie down in safety; but I will starve your root with a famine, and your remnant will be slain. ³¹Howl, O gate, and cry aloud, O city; you are melting away, O Philistia, all of you; for out of the north comes a smoke, and there is not a single straggler with him. ³²What then shall one answer the messengers of the nation? That the LORD has founded Zion, and in her shall the afflicted of His people find refuge.

15 A MESSAGE CONCERNING MOAB. Surely, in a night Ar of Moab is laid waste and completely ruined. Surely, in a night Kir^w of Moab is laid waste and completely ruined. ²They have gone up to the house;^x Dibon^y has gone up to the high places to weep. On Mount Nebo and at Medeba Moab wails; on every head there is baldness, and every beard is shorn.^z ³In the streets they wear sackcloth; on the roofs of their houses and in their public squares everybody wails, melting with tears. ⁴Heshbon and Elealeh cry out so loudly that their voices are heard as far as Jahaz; therefore the strong men of Moab cry; his soul quivers within him. ⁵My heart cries out for Moab; her fugitives [flee] to Zoar^a and to the third [town], Eglath. For weeping they made the ascent to Luhith^s; on the road to Horonaim they raise a cry of destruction. ⁶For the waters of Nimrim are become deserts;^b thus the grass is withered away, and the new grass fails; there is no verdure. ⁷Therefore the provisions, acquired and stored, they carry over to the Brook of the Willows. ⁸For the cry of distress has circled the borders of Moab, the howling to Eglaim and the howling to Beer-elim. ⁹Though the waters of Dimon^c are full of blood, I [the LORD] will bring additional calamities upon Dimon — a lion for the escaped of Moab and for the remnants of the land.

16 SEND THE TRIBUTE LAMB TO the ruler of the land from Sela of the desert to the mountains of the villages of Zion. ²Then, like fluttering birds [from] an overturned nest, the daughters of Moab shall gather at the fords of the Arnon. ³"Bring counsel and arbitrate justly; give us shade as the night in the middle of the day; hide the hunted; do not betray the refugee. ⁴Let the outcasts of Moab live among you; be a hiding place to Moab who faces the devastator."^d For then the oppressor has met his end, the destruction has ceased, and the pillager has disappeared; ⁵then a throne will be established in loving-kindness,^e and One shall sit upon it in faithfulness, in the tent of David, judging and seeking justice, and eager to do justice.

⁶We have heard of the pride of Moab, how proud he was; of his arrogance and insolence; of his idle boasting. ⁷Therefore Moab laments for Moab, every one wailing. For the

u) The five important cities of Philistia at that time were Gaza, Ashdod, Askelon, Gath, and Ekron [Josh. 13:3].

v) While a root usually means the underground part of a tree and its source of life, it may also stand for offspring, as in Isa. 11:10 — a "root of Jesse"; so it means here the source from which the adder springs.

w) Ar and Kir are located on the high plains of southern Moab, from the Arnon south a few miles to Kerak; both cities were fortified. x) To their temple.

y) Dibon, 3 mi. north of the Arnon, where the famous "Moabite Stone" of Mesha was discovered in 1868. z) To an Oriental, shaving the face is a sign of special sorrow.

a) Close to the south end of the Dead Sea, on the east side [cf. Jer. 48:34]. Lot fled to it from Sodom [Gen. 19:20-23]. b) Heb.: desolations.

c) The stream near the south end of the Dead Sea, which was the boundary between Moab and Edom. Dead Sea Scroll has 'Dibon.'

d) This is the plea of the refugees of Moab, who had hid in Edom.

e) Hebrew word hesed, meaning "loving-kindness," is one of the greatest concepts in the O.T. [cf. John 3:16].

raisin-cakes^f of Kir-hareseth you sigh, utterly discouraged,^g because the fields of Heshbon languish, [also] the vine of Sibmah. The masters of the nations struck down its red-colored clusters; its runners^h reach to Jazer, stray into the desert, and stretch over the shores of the sea.^b

⁹Therefore will I weep in the weeping of Jazer for the vine of Sibmah; I shall drench you with my tears, O Heshbon and Elealeh, because upon your summer fruits and on your harvest the shout of battle has fallen. ¹⁰Joy and gladness have been removed from the productive fields; in your vineyards no songs, no shouts of joy [are heard]; the wine in the pressing trough is not trodden out by the treader; cheering shouts I have made to cease. ¹¹Accordingly, my feelings are moved for Moab like a harp, and my soul for Kir-harsh. ¹²For it shall be that when Moab has presented himself and has wearied himself upon the high placeⁱ and has entered into his sanctuary to pray, it will avail him nothing.

¹³This is the word which the LORD did speak concerning Moab. ¹⁴But now the LORD speaks, saying that within three years, like the years of a hired hand, the glory of Moab shall be brought into contempt with all its great throng [of people], and the remnant shall be small, few, insignificant.

17 A MESSAGE CONCERNING Damascus. Observe! Damascus is about to be undone as a city; she will become a heap of ruins. ²The cities of Aroer are forsaken and given over to flocks which lie down, with no one to make them afraid. ³The fortifications will disappear from Ephraim, the royal power from Damascus, and the remnant from Syria; they shall be as the glory of the sons of Israel, declares the LORD of hosts.

⁴It shall be in that day that the glory of Jacob shall wane, and his fatness shall become lean. ⁵It will be as when a reaper gathers the standing crop, his arms full of ears of grain; yes, it will be as when one gathers the few remaining stalks in the valley of Rephaim. ⁶However, there shall be a leftover in it, as when an olive tree is beaten,^j two or three olives on the topmost bough, four or five on the outer branches of a fruit tree, says the LORD, the God of Israel.

⁷In that day man will turn to his Maker,^k and his eyes will look to the Holy One of Israel. ⁸He will look no more to the altars, the work of his own hands, or what his fingers have made; nor will he have regard for the images of Ashteroth or for the sun-images. ⁹In that day their strong cities^l shall be like the forsaken places of the wooded heights and mountain tops, which they have deserted at the approach of the Israelites, and they shall become a desolation. ¹⁰Because you have forgotten the God of your salvation^m and have not remembered the Rock of your protection,ⁿ therefore you have established pleasant plantations^o and have planted in them strange slips. ¹¹On the day you plant them, you carefully shield them,^p and in the morning you have the seed blossoming; yet the crop will vanish in the day of grief and incurable pain.

¹²Alas, the uproar of many peoples that roar like the roaring of the sea, and the rushing of the nations that rush like the rushing of mighty waters. ¹³Nations rush like the rushing of mighty waters. He will rebuke them, and they will flee far away, chased like chaff on the mountains^q before the

f) They enjoyed raisin-cakes when celebrating the vintage festival, and offerings were made to Chemosh, Moab's national god.

g) Branches of vine of Sibmah. h) Dead Sea.

i) Bringing sacrifices. j) Rarely can one beat every olive from its tree.

k) Isa. calls God the "Maker"; as again in 27:11; 51:13; 54:5 [cf. 22:11].

l) Heb.: "cities of refuge"; the strong city afforded shelter in times of warfare and calamity.

m) The word "salvation," as a noun, occurs nowhere else in the book; though it is part of the prophet's name. n) Or, strength, help, safety.

o) The pleasant plantations quite likely were in the "Adonis gardens," in which Adonis festivals took place. p) Heb.: vine slips of a strange god are hedged in carefully to assure their growth.

q) Ground threshing floors in Palestine and Mt. Lebanon are to this day located on prominent knolls or hilltops where the winds will drive the chaff swiftly away.

wind, like whirling dust before the hurricane. ¹⁴At eventide, lo, terror! Before morning they are gone. Such is the fate of those who pillage us and the lot of those who plunder us.

18 ¹ALAS, LAND OF BUZZING WINGS,⁹ which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia, ²that sends ambassadors by the sea,¹ and in vessels of papyrus upon the face of the sea. Go, you swift messengers, to a people tall and smooth, to a people dreaded near and far, that conquers and treads down, whose land the rivers divide. ³All you inhabitants of the world and you dwellers upon earth, when a signal is raised on the mountains, look! When a trumpet is blown, hear! ⁴For thus the LORD has spoken to me: I will remain quiet and look on from My dwelling place like the glowing heat of sunshine and the heavy dew in the heat of the harvest. ⁵For before the harvest, when the blossom-time is over and the bud is becoming a ripening grape, He lops off the branches with pruning shears; and the tendrils He removes, He cuts away. ⁶They will be left together for the vultures of the mountains and for the wild beasts of the land; the vultures [will feed] all summer upon them, and all the wild beasts of the land will winter upon them. ⁷Yet, at that time gifts will be brought to the LORD of hosts from a people tall and smooth, from a people dreaded near and far, a nation conquering and treading down, whose land the rivers divide, to the place of the name of the LORD of hosts, to Mount Zion.

19 ¹A MESSAGE CONCERNING EGYPT. Behold, the LORD is riding on a swift cloud; He comes to Egypt; Egypt's idols tremble before Him; the heart of Egypt melts within him. ²I will stir up the Egyptians to fight Egyptians, [every] man will fight with another, a man with his neighbor, city against city, kingdom against kingdom. ³The Egyptian's energy shall become exhausted; his wisdom will I make useless, and they will resort to the idols and magicians, to the wizards and fortunetellers. ⁴And I will give the Egyptians into the hand of a cruel master; a fierce king will reign over them, says the Lord, the LORD of hosts.

⁵The waters of the sea will be dried up, and the river will run empty and be dried up. ⁶The rivers will become foul, and the streams of Egypt^u will decrease and dry up; the reeds and rushes will rot away. ⁷The meadows alongside the river and the mouth of the river and all the seeded fields bordering on the river will be dried up, blown away; they shall be no more. ⁸Fishermen will lament, those who cast hooks into the river will mourn, and the spreaders of nets over the top of the water will pine away. ⁹They who prepare the combed flax and weave cotton^v will be humiliated. ¹⁰Its supporting pillars will be crushed,^w and those who work for wages will be grieved in soul.

¹¹Utterly foolish are the princes of Zoan,^x likewise, the advice of Pharaoh's wisest counselors is folly. How can they say to Pharaoh, "I am a son of the wise; a son of ancient kings"? ¹²Where now are your wise men? Let them declare to you; let them know what the LORD of hosts has planned against Egypt. ¹³The princes of Zoan are confused, and the princes of Memphis^y are deluded; [those forming] the cornerstone of her tribes have led Egypt astray. ¹⁴The LORD has mingled a spirit of error in its midst so that Egypt now staggers in all her doings, as a drunken man sways back and forth in his vomit. ¹⁵Neither head nor tail, palm branch nor reed can do anything for Egypt.

¹⁶In that day the Egyptians will be

r) This chapter of warning reads like a page of actual history. To one who has seen the White Nile across a thousand miles, as far as Uganda, the prophet's description is surpassingly graphic!

s) Ethiopia is one of the homes of the stinging "tsetse" fly. Its vast territory lies between the White Nile and the Blue [cf. Zeph. 3:10].

t) The natives still speak of the Upper Nile as a "sea," because of its great width.

u) The banks and the delta area. v) Heb: white stuff.

w) Probably referring to the business men of Egypt.

x) Zoan was a famous city in the n.e. part of the Delta.

y) Memphis is on the Nile, about ten miles south of Cairo; it was the capital of lower Egypt.

like women; they will fear and tremble under the threatening hand which the LORD of hosts will shake over them. ¹⁷The land of Judah will become a terror to all Egypt, and anyone who recalls it to mind will dread the purposes of the LORD of hosts which He is purposing against it. ¹⁸In that day there will be five cities in the land of Egypt speaking the language of Canaan and swearing by the LORD of hosts, one of which shall be called the City of Destruction.

¹⁹In that day there shall be an altar to the LORD in the midst of the land of Egypt and a pillar to the LORD near its border. ²⁰It will be for a sign and a witness to the LORD of hosts in the land of Egypt, so that they will cry to the LORD because of their oppressors; and the LORD will send a Savior, even a mighty One, and He will deliver them. ²¹The LORD will reveal Himself to the Egyptians, and the Egyptians shall know the LORD in that day and shall worship Him with sacrifice and offerings; and they shall make vows to the LORD and perform them. ²²The LORD will surely smite Egypt, smiting and healing, when they return to the LORD. He will heed their petitions and heal them.

²³In that day there will be a highway from Egypt to Assyria; the Assyrian will come into Egypt and the Egyptian into Assyria, and Egypt will with the Assyrians serve the LORD. ²⁴At that time Israel will be the third^z with Egypt and Assyria and become a blessing in the midst of the earth, ²⁵a blessing which the LORD of hosts will have given them, saying: Blessed be Egypt My people, Assyria the work of My hands, and Israel My inheritance.^a

20 IN THE YEAR THAT THE GENeralissimo, who was sent by Sargon the king of Assyria, came to Ashdod,^b he fought against it and took it. ²The LORD said at that time by means of Isaiah the son of Amoz: Go and loose the sackcloth from your loins and remove the sandals from your feet; and he did so, going naked and barefoot. ³And the LORD said: As My servant Isaiah has gone for three years naked and barefoot as a sign and a portent against Egypt and Ethiopia, ⁴so shall the king of Assyria lead away the captives of Egypt and the exiles of Ethiopia, both young and old, naked and barefoot with stripped buttocks, to the shame of Egypt. ⁵Then they will be dismayed and be put to shame because of Ethiopia their hope and of Egypt their boast. ⁶And on that day the inhabitants of this coastland will lament, "See! so it goes with those on whom we relied, to whom we fled for help to save us from the king of Assyria! And we, how shall we escape?"

21 A MESSAGE CONCERNING THE desert of the west. As whirlwinds in the southland^c sweep on, so [it] comes from the desert, the land of terror. ²A harsh vision is declared to me; the traitor deals treacherously, and the destroyer demolishes. Go up, Elam; lay siege, Media;^d all the groaning I bring to an end. ³Therefore my loins are filled with anguish; pangs have seized me like those of a woman giving birth. Having heard, I squirm; having seen, I am terrified. ⁴My heart reels; horror appals me; the evening twilight, which I love, has been turned into trembling for me.

⁵Set the table! Spread the cloth! Eat, drink! Arise, princes; anoint your shields!^e ⁶For thus the LORD said to me: Go, set a watchman; let him announce what he sees. ⁷Should he see cavalry,^f horsemen in pairs, a troop on donkeys and on camels, let him listen very diligently! ⁸Then he cried as a

z) These three will form a spiritual alliance, united nations for God.

a) The great historical enemies of Israel are thus reconciled through their acceptance of the faith of the covenant people.

b) Ashdod was a fortified city situated s.w. of Jerusalem on the Plain of the Philistines.

c) The Negeb is the name of the desert immediately south of Judah; "the desert of the west," probably including some of Arabia.

d) Elam lay east of the Tigris, bordering partly on the Persian Gulf; Media was the mountainous district adjoining it on the north.

e) Shields were anointed to ward off more effectively the strokes of the enemy.

f) May refer to chariots.

lion, "Lord, I am standing on my watchtower continually by day, at my observation post I am stationed every night. ⁹And, behold, this comes: a troop of men, horsemen in pairs!" And the [watchmen] announced, saying, "Fallen, fallen is Babylon; and all the images of her gods lie shattered on the ground." ¹⁰O, my threshed and winnowed one of the threshing floor,^g what I have heard from the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, I announce to you.

¹¹A message concerning Dumah. Someone from Mount Seir keeps calling to me, "Watchman, what [period] of the night?"^h Watchman, what [period] of the night?" ¹²The watchman answers, "Morning comes, but also night! If you wish to inquire, seek; turn; come!"

¹³A message concerning Arabia. In the thickets of the Arabian desert you must lodge, caravans of the Dedanites.ⁱ

¹⁴Greeting the thirsty, bring [them] water, you inhabitants of the land of Tema;^j meet the fugitives with bread.

¹⁵For before the sword have they fled, before the drawn sword, and before the bent bow, before the hardship of battle. ¹⁶For thus the Lord said to me: Within a year, according to the years of a hired hand, all the glory of Kedar shall come to an end; ¹⁷and those that are left of the numbered^k archers, the heroes of the sons of Kedar, shall be few. For the LORD, the God of Israel, has spoken.

22 A MESSAGE CONCERNING THE valley of vision. What troubles you that all of you have climbed upon the housetops, ²you, full of noise, a tumultuous city, an exultant town? Your slain have not been slain by the sword, nor have they died in battle. ³All your leaders have fled together; without a bow have they been captured. All those of you whom they overtook were made captive together, even those who had fled far away. ⁴Therefore I said, "Turn your gaze from me, [as] I weep bitterly; do not try to comfort me because of the devastation of the daughter of my people." ⁵For a day of confusion, downtreading, and perplexity from the LORD, God of hosts [is] in the valley of vision, a crashing down of walls and shouting to the mountains. ⁶Elam has taken up the quiver, with the chariots, infantry, and horsemen. Kir has uncovered the shield. ⁷Your choice valleys were filled with chariots, and horsemen set themselves in array against the gate. ⁸Then He removed the covering^l of Judah, and you looked for weapons in the house of the forest.^m ⁹You saw that the breaches in the walls of the city of David were numerous. You also collected the waters of the lower pool, ¹⁰counted the houses of Jerusalem, and broke down houses to fortify the wall. ¹¹You made a reservoir between the two walls for the water of the old pool; but you did not look to the Maker of it, nor did you recognize Him who planned it long ago!

¹²Therefore at that time, the Lord, the LORD of hosts, called [you] to weeping and lamenting, to baldness and to the girding on of sackcloth. ¹³But instead, see, pleasure and mirth, the slaying of cattle and the killing of sheep, eating meat and drinking wine, "Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we shall die." ¹⁴The LORD of hosts has revealed in my ears: Surely this iniquity will not be atonedⁿ for by you till you die, says the Lord, the LORD of hosts.^o

¹⁵Thus says the Lord, the LORD of hosts, Come, go to this steward, to Shebna,^p who is over the palace, [and say,] ¹⁶What do you have here, and whom have you here, that you have here carved a sepulchre for yourself.

g) Heb.: "son of a threshing floor" — idiom for "afflicted people."

h) First, second, third or fourth, each 3 hours, from 6:00 to 6:00.

i) The Dedanites were desert traders, related to Abraham through Keturah. They carried merchandise across the desert to Babylon.

j) Tema was the capital of the Ishmael tribe of the district north of the Dedanite territory, and s.e. of Damascus. k) Specific number of offensive warriors necessary for victory. l) Protection.

m) Solomon named his armory "the House of the Forest of Lebanon" [I Kings 7:2].

n) Heb.: "covered." o) Jerusalem's iniquity was frivolity, ignoring the LORD in a time of crisis.

p) Shebna was the administrator of a palace but his position did not entitle him to a tomb among royalty. He was arrogant.

you who are carving out a lofty sepulchre for yourself, hewing out a home in this rock for yourself? ¹⁷Behold, the LORD will hurl you away with violence, you strong man; He will thoroughly cover you. ¹⁸He will twist you together [and cast you] as a ball into a far-reaching land; there you will die and there will be your luxurious chariots. You are the disgrace of your master's palace. ¹⁹I will thrust you from your office and will pull you down from your position.

²⁰In that day I will summon My servant Eliakim the son of Hilkiah. ²¹I will clothe him with your robe, support him with your girdle, and commit to him your authority; he shall become a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem and to the house of Judah. ²²And I will place on his shoulder the key of the house of David; he shall open and no one shall shut; he shall shut and none shall open. ²³I will fasten him like a peg in a firm place and he shall become a throne of honor to his father's house. ²⁴And they shall hang on him all the weight of his father's house, shoots and growths,^q every small vessel, from bowls to pitchers.

²⁵But in that day, as the LORD of hosts said, the other peg that is fastened so firmly in a sure place shall give way, be cut down, and fall; and it fell; the burden that was upon it shall be cut off, for the LORD has spoken it.^r

23 A MESSAGE CONCERNING TYRE.
Wail, you ships of Tarshish! Devastation [has come]. so that there is no house or harbor.^s It was reported to them from Cyprus. ²Be silent, inhabitants of the coastlands; the merchants of Sidon,^t sailing the sea, have replenished you;^u and [from across] the big sea ³came her revenue, the seed of Sihor and the harvest of the river;^v you were the merchant trader of the nations. ⁴Be ashamed, Sidon, for the sea has spoken, the strength of the sea, saying, "I have neither travailed nor given birth; I have neither reared young men nor nourished virgins." ⁵When the news [comes] to Egypt, they will be pained because of the report about Tyre.

⁶Cross over to Tarshish, you dwellers of the coastlands! ⁷Is this your exultant [city] whose birth dates far back into antiquity, and whose feet carried her to settle far away? ⁸Who planned this against Tyre, the distributor of crowns, whose merchants were princes and whose traders were the honorable of the earth? ⁹The LORD of hosts planned to blemish the pride of all glory and to bring into contempt the honored of the earth. ¹⁰Overflow your land like the [Nile] river, daughter of Tarshish! There is no longer restraint for you.^w ¹¹He has stretched out His hand over the sea; He has shaken kingdoms; the LORD has given command concerning Canaan^x to destroy her fortresses. ¹²He has said: You shall no longer triumph, you dishonored virgin daughter of Sidon.^y ¹³Arise, pass over to Cyprus; yet even there you shall find no rest. ¹⁴Wail, O ships of Tarshish, for your stronghold shall be laid waste.

¹⁵It shall be in that day that Tyre shall be forgotten for 70 years, like the days of one king. But at the end of the 70 years, Tyre will fare as the prostitute in the song: ¹⁶"Take a harp, go about the city, forgotten harlot; make a sweet melody; sing many songs

q) Heb.: uses vegetable world terms to denote all descendants.

r) If the peg in vs. 23 refers to Shebna, then the promises made to Eliakim suggest that the prophet regarded Eliakim as a type of the Messiah. s) Heb.: deprived of house and entrance.

t) Sidon was 25 mi. north of Tyre on the Mediterranean coast.

u) There is added in The Dead Sea Scrolls: "your messengers passed over the sea."

v) Grain from the Nile valley.

w) Vs. 10 is probably advice to return to country life and till the soil, exchanging seagoing traffic for agriculture; but it could refer to Tarshish's freedom, to trade with Tyre, the strongest competitor destroyed.

x) Or, "concerning the merchant city."

y) According to Gen. 10:15, Sidon is reckoned as Canaan's first-born; hence Tyre was once a colony of Sidon.

that you may be remembered." ¹⁷It shall be at the end of 70 years that the LORD will visit Tyre, and she will return to her harlot hire and will maintain improper relationships with all the kingdoms of the world on the face of the earth. ¹⁸Her merchandise and her hire will be set apart to the LORD;² it will not be stored up or hoarded, but her gain will be given to those who dwell in the presence of the LORD, [to supply] them with adequate food and elegant clothing.

24 BEHOLD, THE LORD IS EMPTY-
ing the earth and laying it bare; He is distorting its surface and scattering its inhabitants. ²It shall be as with the people, so with the priest; as with the slave, so with the master; as with the maid, so with her mistress; as with the buyer, so with the seller; as with the lender, so with the borrower; as with the creditor, so with the debtor. ³The country shall be completely emptied and utterly looted; for the LORD has spoken the word.

⁴The earth mourns and fades away; the world languishes and withers; the most prominent of the people^a shall languish. ⁵The land lies polluted by its inhabitants, because they have transgressed the Law, violated the statutes, and broken the everlasting covenant. ⁶Therefore a curse is consuming the land, and the people living in it are found guilty; therefore the inhabitants of the earth are scorched, and few men are left.

⁷The new wine mourns, the vines languish, all the merry-hearted sigh. ⁸The mirth of the timbrels is still; the din of the revelers has ceased; the music of the harp is silent. ⁹No more will they drink wine with song; strong drink will be bitter to the drinkers. ¹⁰Broken down, the city has become desolate; every house is closed up, so that no one can enter! ¹¹There is an outcry for wine in the streets. All joy is turned to darkness;^b the mirth of the earth is gone; ¹²desolation is left in the city, and its gates are battered into ruins. ¹³For so shall it be in the midst of the whole earth among the peoples, as the beating of an olive tree,^c or as the gleaning [of grapes] when the vintage is over.^d

¹⁴They will raise their voice and sing; concerning the majesty of the LORD do they joyfully shout from the sea. ¹⁵Therefore, glorify the LORD in the regions of the sunrise,^e the name of the LORD, the God of Israel, in the islands of the sea. ¹⁶From the ends of the earth we hear psalms; yes, glory to the Righteous One! Yet, I confess, "Woe to me! Woe to me! Alas for me!" For the deceivers deceive; yes, with deceit the deceivers deceive."

¹⁷Panic, pitfall, and plot^f are upon you, inhabitant of the land! ¹⁸It shall be that he who flees from the noise of panic shall fall into a pit, and he who climbs out of the pit shall be captured by a snare; for the sluices on high are opened and earth's foundations tremble. ¹⁹The earth is utterly broken; the earth is completely shattered! The earth is violently shaken. ²⁰It reels and rocks like a drunken man and totters like a shanty; its transgression weighs heavily upon it; it shall fall to rise no more.

²¹In that day it shall be that the LORD will visit with punishment the hosts of those lofty on high, and the kings of the earth on the earth. ²²They will be gathered as prisoners are gathered in a pit and imprisoned in a dungeon; after many days they shall be visited. ²³Then shall the moon blush, and the sun shall be ashamed; for the LORD of hosts shall be king on Mount Zion, and in Jerusalem His glory shall be before His elders.

25 O LORD, THOU ART MY GOD, I will exalt Thee; I will praise
Thy name; for Thou hast wrought

2) Tyre is to be restored, not by her own devices, but by the favor of God. Trading and profits become jointly related to the LORD. [Cf. Deut. 23:18]. a) Or, "the heavens with the earth."

b) Or, "joy grown dark"; some mss. read, "passed away."

c) To get the last olive an olive tree was beaten with long slender poles.

d) The prophet uses the same figure in 17:6 of a few grapes left on the vines in gleaning.

e) Heb.: "in the fires" [of the east]. f) Ch. 6:4.

g) Hebrew reads, "pachad, pachoth, and pach are upon you."

marvels; plans determined long ago are steadfast and reliable. ²For Thou hast turned the city into a heap, the fortified city into ruins; the castle of foreigners is no more a city; it will never be rebuilt. ³Therefore strong peoples will glorify Thee, and the cities of ruthless nations will revere Thee. ⁴For Thou hast been vigor to the weak and power to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm and a shade from the heat, when the blast of the tyrants was like a rainstorm on a wall. ⁵As heat in a dry place Thou dost subdue the noise of foreigners; the song of the tyrants is subdued like heat by the shadow of a cloud.

⁶On this mountain^h the LORD of hosts shall make for all peoples a feast of rich food; a feast of well aged wine, of rich [beef] full of marrow; a feast of old wine well refined. ⁷And He shall destroy on this mountain the veilⁱ which is upon all peoples and the shroud that covers all nations. ⁸He shall swallow up death forever, and the LORD God shall wipe away tears from all faces; He shall remove from all the earth the reproach of His people, for the LORD has spoken it.^j

⁹It will be said in that day, "Behold, this is our God on whom we have put our hope that He might save us. This is the LORD; we have waited for Him; let us be glad and rejoice in His salvation." ¹⁰For the hand of the LORD shall rest on this mountain, and Moab shall be trodden down in its place as straw is trodden down into the moisture of a dung pit. ¹¹Though Moab stretches out his hands in the middle of it as a swimmer stretches out [his hands] to swim, He shall lay low his pride despite the craftiness of his hands. ¹²And the high-towering fortifications of his walls shall be cast down, made low, brought to the ground, even to the dust.

26 IN THAT DAY THIS SONG SHALL be sung in the land of Judah, "We have a strong city; He sets up salvation as walls and bulwarks. ²Open the gates, that the righteous people which maintains truth may enter in. ³Thou wilt keep Him in perfect peace^k whose mind is stayed on Thee, because he trusts in Thee. ⁴Trust in the LORD forever, for the LORD God^l is the Rock of Ages.^m ⁵For He has brought down the residents of the lofty places; He humbled the inaccessible city; He leveled it low to the earth, throwing it down to the dust. ⁶The foot shall trample upon it, the feet of the poor, and the steps of the needy."

⁷For the just the way is level. Thou, Upright One, makest smooth the path of the righteous. ⁸Yes, in the way of Thy judgments, LORD, we wait for Thee. Our heart's desire is for Thy name and for Thy remembrance. ⁹My soul yearns for Thee in the night; indeed, from the depths of my spirit, do I diligently seek Thee; for when Thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world learn righteousness.ⁿ ¹⁰[Though] favor is shown to the wicked, the wicked will not learn righteousness; in the land of right-doing, he is perverse and refuses to see the majesty of the LORD. ¹¹Though Thy hand was lifted,^o LORD, they refused to look; let them see Thy zeal for Thy people and be shamed. Yes, LORD, let Thy fire for Thy enemies consume them.^p

¹²LORD, Thou shalt establish peace for us forever; all our works Thou hast wrought for us, ¹³O LORD our God; other masters besides Thee have had dominion over us, but we shall acknowledge only Thy name. ¹⁴The dead do not live; the ghosts do not stand up. Accordingly, Thou hast visited and destroyed them and caused all memory of them to perish. ¹⁵Thou hast in-

h) Mount Zion, as in 2:2-4.

i) The veil of mourning covering the face. j) The prophet anticipates Paul [I Cor. 15:26].

k) "Perfect peace" is expressed in Hebrew by repeating the word for peace.

l) Heb.: Yah-Yahweh, the combination occurring here and in 12:2, and nowhere else in the O.T.

m) Or, "in the LORD God is an everlasting rock."

n) God's judgments may bring the disobedient to their senses. o) Heb.: "high," i.e., "to strike."

p) Such a prayer reminds us of the imprecatory psalms, 69, 109, and 137. Cf. Isa. 9:3.

creased the nation, LORD. Thou hast increased the nation; Thou art glorified. Thou hast extended the boundaries of the land. ¹⁶LORD, in distress they sought Thee; they poured forth a whispered prayer when Thy punishment was upon them. ¹⁷As a woman with child writhes when the hour draws near for her delivery and cries out in her pangs, so have we suffered without Thy presence, LORD; ¹⁸we have been in pain; we writhed, but we brought forth only wind; we wrought no deliverance in the earth nor have the inhabitants of the world fallen. ¹⁹But Thy dead shall live, [including] my corpse; they shall rise. [You] who dwell in the dust, awake and sing joyfully; for Thy dew is a dew of light, and Thou shalt drop it on the earth, upon the dead.

²⁰Come, my people, enter your chambers, and shut your doors behind you. Hide yourselves a little while until [God's] indignation is past. ²¹For see! the LORD is coming out of His place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity; the soil will not cover her blood, nor longer conceal her slain.

27 IN THAT DAY THE LORD, WITH His relentless, great, and strong sword shall visit^q Leviathan, the fugitive snake, Leviathan, the coiling serpent, and shall slay the dragon^r which is in the sea.

²In that day there shall be a red-wine vineyard; sing to it in responses.

³I, the LORD, am its keeper. I water it continually;^s and I watch over it night and day, lest harm might befall it. ⁴There is no wrath now with Me. Should I find thornbushes and briars [in it], I would fight them and burn them all together. ⁵Or let them obtain My protection and make peace with Me! Let them make peace with Me!

⁶In the days to come, Jacob shall take root; Israel shall bud and blossom and shall cover the face of the earth with produce.

⁷Has He smitten him as He smote those who were smiting him? Or, were they slain as those they had slaughtered?^t

⁸By driving her,^u by sending her away, He contended with her. He removed her with His rough blast as in the day of an east wind. ⁹Only in this way, therefore, could Jacob's iniquity be atoned for; and this will be the full fruition of the removal of his sins, that he shall make the stones of the altars^v into crushed lime and that the shame images and the sun pillars shall stand no more.

¹⁰For the fortified city shall become desolate, a dwelling left deserted and forsaken like the wilderness; there calves browse and lie down and eat the twigs of it. ¹¹When its boughs are withered, women shall come, break them off, and burn them in the fire. For this is a people without discernment; therefore He who made them will have no compassion on them; He who formed them will show no favor.

¹²In that day it shall be that the LORD shall thresh out grain from the river^w to the Brook of Egypt, and you will be gathered one by one, O you children of Israel! ¹³In that day a great trumpet shall be blown, and those perishing in the land of Assyria and the outcasts in the land of Egypt shall worship the LORD on the holy mountain at Jerusalem.^x

28 WOE TO THE HAUGHTY CROWN^y of the drunkards of Ephraim, and to the fading flower of its ornament of beauty, which is on the head of the fertile valley of those overcome with wine! ²Behold, the Lord has a strong and mighty agent; like a tempest of hail and a destroying storm, like a flood of powerful, overwhelming wa-

q) i.e., "to afflict," "punish."

r) Heb.: tannin, "sea monsters." This and Leviathan are figurative terms for God's agents of destruction, such as Assyria, Babylon, and Egypt. s) Heb.: "every moment."

t) God punished His agents, through whom He disciplined Israel, worse than Israel.

u) Or, "by exact measure." v) Pagan altars.

w) The "river," the Euphrates; the "Brook of Egypt," the Wadi el-Arish, along the bounds of the Negeb, between Gaza and Pelusium.

x) The great world judgment is over, the enemies of Israel annihilated, and the redeemed restored to their own land.

y) The "crown" of Ephraim was Samaria, the capital city of the Ten Tribes, situated in a large fertile valley.

ters, He will cast down to the earth with the [clenched] hand. ³The proud crown of the drunkards of Ephraim shall be trodden under foot; ⁴and the fading flower of its ornament of beauty, which is at the head of the fertile valley, shall be like a first ripe fig² before summer; when a man sees it, he eats it as soon as he has put it in his hand.

⁵In that day the LORD of hosts shall be a crown of glory and a diadem of beauty to the remnant of His people, ⁶a spirit of justice to him who executes justice, and of valor to those who turn back the battle to the gate.

⁷These also reel with wine and wander about because of strong drink; [both] priest and prophet reel because of strong drink; they are victims of wine; they wander about due to strong drink; they err in vision and stumble in giving judgment;^a ⁸for all their tables are covered with vomit; there is not a place without filth. ⁹Whom will He teach knowledge, and who shall be made to understand the message? [Babes just] weaned from the milk, [just] drawn from the breasts? ¹⁰For [it is] precept upon precept, precept upon precept, line upon line, line upon line, here a little, there a little.^b ¹¹But with stammering lips and in a foreign language,^c He will speak to this people, ¹²to whom He said: This is the rest you shall give to the weary, and this is the refreshing. Yet they would not listen. ¹³However, the word of the LORD shall be to them, precept upon precept, precept upon precept, line upon line, line upon line, here a little, there a little; that they may go and stumble backward, be broken, snared, and taken.

¹⁴Therefore, hear the word of the LORD, you scoffers, who rule this people in Jerusalem! ¹⁵Because you have boasted, "We have made a covenant with death, and with Sheol we have an agreement; when the overwhelming scourge passes through, it shall not reach us, for we have made falsehood our refuge, and in fraud we hid ourselves"; ¹⁶therefore, thus says the Lord God: Behold, I lay in Zion a foundation Stone, a tested Stone,^d a precious cornerstone, a sure foundation; he who believes will not be hurried.^e ¹⁷I will make justice the measuring line and righteousness the plummet; hail will sweep away your refuge of lies, and waters will flood your hiding place. ¹⁸Your covenant with death will be annulled, and your agreement with Sheol will be canceled. When the overwhelming scourge passes through, you shall be trampled down by it. ¹⁹As often as it passes through, it will carry you away, for morning by morning will it pass, by day and by night. It will be unmixed terror to understand the message. ²⁰For the bed is too short to stretch one's self upon it and the covering too narrow for him to wrap himself in it. ²¹For the LORD shall arise as on Mount Perazim^f and be indignant as in the valley of Gibeon,^g to do His work, His strange work, and to perform His task, His unusual task. ²²Now therefore, scoff no more, lest your bondage be aggravated; for of a determined annihilation upon the whole earth have I heard from the Lord God of hosts.

²³Give ear and hear my voice; listen and hear my words. Does he who plows for sowing plow continually? ²⁴Does he [continually] tear up and harrow his land? ²⁵Does he not rather, after leveling the surface, scatter till and sow cummin, put the wheat in rows, barley in the appointed places and rye around its border? ²⁶His God correctly instructs and teaches him.^h

z) Early figs in Palestine ripen in late May or early June, about two months earlier than the ordinary crop, even in Jerusalem, 2500 ft. above sea level. a) Cf. 5:11, 22.

b) Rhyming monosyllables in Hebrew: tsaw-la-tsaw, tsaw-la-tsaw; kaw-la-kaw, kaw-la-kaw; z'er-sham, z'er-sham; which as imitated in English, has been suggested, "Law on law, law on law; saw on saw, saw on saw; a little here and a little there!" Thus do the toppers mock!

c) Dead Sea Scrolls, "Hymns," Sect. 8, No. 11: "with stammering tongue and with barbarous lips." d) Faith in God is Israel's only sure foundation.

e) An Arab proverb runs: "Hurry is of the devil."

f) Perazim in central Judah, one scene of David's victories over the Philistines (II Sam. 9:20).

g) The Gibeonites were punished by Joshua for their deceit, when Israel had entered Canaan. Gibeon or Geba was about five miles north of Jerusalem [Josh. 9].

h) The farmer's methods are a parable of God's dealing with men.

²⁷Dill is not threshed with a threshing sledge, neither does a cart wheel roll over cummin; but dill is beaten out with a rod and cummin with a flail. ²⁸Grain is crushed; he will not continually thresh it, but he rolls the wheels of his cart over it, since with his horses he cannot crush it.¹ ²⁹Even this comes from the LORD of hosts, who is wonderful in counsel and excellent in wisdom.

29 ALAS FOR ARIEL, ARIEL,¹ THE city where David encamped! Add year upon year, let the feasts run their annual cycle. ²Then will I bring distress upon Ariel; there shall be moaning and mourning; she shall be to Me an altar hearth.^k ³I will encamp against you round about you and push siege instruments and set up fortifications against you. ⁴Then from deep underground you will speak; your speech will come muffled from the dust; your voice will be coming from the ground as that of the spirit of one dead; yes, your words will be whispered from the dust.

⁵But the multitude of your enemies shall be like fine dust and the mass of the terrible ones like chaff blowing away; unexpectedly, suddenly it shall come.¹ ⁶You shall be visited by the LORD of hosts with thunder and earthquake and mighty din; with whirlwind and tempest and the flame of devouring fire. ⁷The multitude of all the nations that war against Ariel, with all its equipment, even those who distress her, shall be like a dream, a vision in the night. ⁸It will be as when a hungry man dreams that he is eating, but he awakes with his hunger unsatisfied;^m or as when a thirsty man dreams, and see, he is drinking, but he awakes and lo, he is faint and craving; so shall it be with all the multitude of nations that war against Mount Zion.ⁿ

⁹Confuse yourselves and be confounded! Blind yourselves and be blind! Become drunk, but not with wine; stagger, but not with hard liquor.^o ¹⁰For the LORD has poured out upon you a spirit of deep sleep,[thus] He closed your eyes^p—the prophets; and covered your heads—the seers. ¹¹To you the visions of all [these things] have become like the words of a writing that is sealed; which if a man hand it to a learned one, requesting him to read it, he will answer, "I cannot, for it is sealed"; ¹²or, if one gives the writing to another who is not a scholar saying, "Read this please," and he replies, "I cannot read."

¹³The LORD said: Because this people draw near to Me with their mouth and honor Me with their lips, while their hearts^q are far from Me, and their reverence for Me is but the memorized injunction of men,^r ¹⁴therefore take notice: I will continue to do astounding things with this people, things wonderful and marvelous; the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their intelligent men shall vanish.

¹⁵Alas^s for those who hide deep their plans from the LORD, whose deeds are done in the dark; who say, "Who sees us?" and, "Who knows us?" ¹⁶Your perversity! Is the potter to be considered on an equal with the clay, so that the thing made can say of its maker, "He has not made me"? Or the thing that is molded, can it say to him who formed it, "He has no knowledge"?^t

¹⁷Is it not still a little while until Lebanon becomes a garden^u and the gardens shall be considered a forest?^v

¹⁸In that day the deaf shall hear the words of this writing, and then the

i) Suitable means must be used to gain the goal in each instance.

j) Jerusalem, eulogized as Lion of God. k) The altar hearth was drenched with blood.

l) Cf. 37:36; Sennacherib and the sudden destruction of his vast army.

m) Heb.: His soul is empty.

n) A most vivid picture of the disenchantment of aggressive warfare!

o) Cf. 8:9. The imperatives here are emphatic.

p) The atrophy of an unused faculty. God has closed their eyes; but the people had also closed their own eyes! Paul quotes vs. 10 in Rom. 11:8. q) Their thoughts.

r) Religious attitudes and actions by training and habit, and not from conviction.

s) This "woe" is directed against the political intrigues of certain conspirators, who, by hoping to obtain help from Egypt against Assyria, were deaf and dumb to spiritual things. Isaiah is aware of their plans. t) Cf. 45:9; Rom. 9:20. u) Heb.: carmel. v) Forest of fruit trees.

eyes of the blind shall see, in spite of their dimness and darkness; ¹⁹the meek shall have increasing joy in the LORD, and the poor among men shall exult in the Holy One of Israel. ²⁰For the tyrant shall have vanished; the scoffer shall have ceased; and all those intent on doing evil shall be cut off, ²¹who for a word declare a person guilty, and entrap the defender of justice in the gate,^w and with empty arguments turn aside the person who is in the right.

²²Therefore thus says the LORD, who redeemed Abraham, concerning the house of Jacob: Jacob shall no more be put to shame, neither shall his face now grow pale. ²³For when he and his children see the work of My hands in their midst, they shall sanctify My name; they shall sanctify the Holy One of Jacob and shall stand in awe of the God of Israel. ²⁴Those erring in spirit shall come to understanding, and those who murmured shall accept instruction.

30 ALAS FOR YOU, REBELLIOUS children, says the LORD, who formulate a policy that is not Mine; who make an alliance^x contrary to My Spirit, thus adding sin to sin; ²who set out to go down to Egypt without asking for My counsel, to take refuge in the protection of Pharaoh and to seek shelter in the shadow of Egypt. ³The protection of Egypt shall end in shame,^y and the protection you seek in the shadow of Egypt shall be to your reproach. ⁴His princes are in Zoan, and his messengers have arrived in Hanes.^z ⁵All shall come to shame because of a people who will bring them no benefit, that are of no help or profit, but bring shame and disgrace.^a lioness and the lion, the viper and the flying serpent, they carry their riches on the backs of donkeys and their prized treasures on the humps of their camels to a people who cannot help them. ⁷As for Egypt, its assistance is empty and vain; therefore I have called her "Rahab^c who sits still."

⁶A message concerning the beasts of the southland.^b Through a land of trouble and anguish, the home of the

⁸Go now, write it in their presence on a tablet, and inscribe it in a book, that it may be for the time to come [as a witness] for ever and ever: ⁹that they are a rebellious people, lying children, children who will not listen to the LORD's instruction,^d ¹⁰who say to the seers, "See not," and to the prophets, "Do not prophesy to us right things! Speak smooth things to us; predict delusions!" ¹¹Forsake the way, swerve from the path, and cease holding up before us the Holy One of Israel.^e ¹²Therefore thus says the Holy One of Israel: Because you have spurned this word and have trusted in oppression and crookedness and have relied on them, ¹³therefore this iniquity shall be to you as a broken section ready to fall, bulging out from a high wall, whose crash shall come suddenly at any instant. ¹⁴It shall be broken like the smashing of a potter's vessel smashed intentionally in pieces, so that among the fragments there shall not be found a piece with which to carry a coal of fire from the hearth or to dip water from a cistern. ¹⁵For thus says the Lord God, the Holy One of Israel:^f In conversion and rest you shall be saved; in quietness and confidence shall be your strength. Yet you would not, ¹⁶but you answered, "No! we will flee upon horses"; therefore you shall flee—"upon the swift shall we flee"; therefore your pursuers shall be swift. ¹⁷At the threat of one, a thousand of you and at the threat of five [all of you] shall flee, till you will

w) Where legal cases were tried and criminals judged. x) Heb.: "who weave a web."

y) An alliance with Egypt will give Jerusalem only tottering walls and ultimate ruin.

z) Hanes was not far south of Memphis; Zoan was ancient Tanis.

a) Hosea had denounced the foreign alliance of northern Israel with Assyria [7:11]; so also Isaiah himself [20:5, 6].

b) Heb.: Negeb, the southern part of Judea between Hebron and the desert.

c) Rahab or "sea-dragon," which became a symbol of Egypt; menacing in mien, but laggard in action. d) Cf. Isa. 1:10.

e) Faithful prophets are charged with pessimism and lack of patriotism by people preferring "smooth things" which please [Cf. Amos 2:12; Hos. 9:8, 7; Mic. 2:6, 11].

f) Vs. 15 is a summary of Isaiah's gospel: Confidence in God and in His control of history; renunciation of earthly assistance in the face of international affairs; a calm reliance on God, as in 28:12, 16.

be left like a flagstaff on the peak of a mountain, and as a beacon on a hill.

¹⁸Nevertheless the LORD longs to be gracious to you! Therefore He shall rise up to bestow mercy on you; for the LORD is a God of justice. Blessed are they who wait for Him.^g ¹⁹O people in Zion, who dwell in Jerusalem, you shall weep no more. He shall surely be gracious to you at the sound of your cry! He will answer you when He hears you. ²⁰Though the LORD gave you the bread of adversity and the water of affliction, yet your Teacher^h will not hide Himself any more, for with your eyes you will see your Teacher.^h ²¹When you turn, whether to the right or to the left, your ears will hear a voice behind you, saying, "This is the way; walk in it!" ²²Then you will consider unclean your graven images overlaid with silver and your molten images plated with gold;ⁱ you will cast them aside as an unclean thing, and you will say to them, "Be gone!"

²³He shall then give you rain for the seed with which you sow the soil, and food, the produce of the soil which is rich and plenteous; your cattle in that day will graze in large pastures. ²⁴The oxen and the donkeys that till the ground will feed on salted provender^j winnowed with sieve and fan. ²⁵On every lofty mountain and on every high hill there will flow brooks, copious streams in the day of the great slaughter when the towers fall. ²⁶Then the light of the moon will be as the light of seven days, at the time the LORD binds up the fractures of His people and heals the severe wounds of His blow.

²⁷Behold, the Name^k of the LORD is coming from afar, in burning anger, amid thick rising smoke; His lips are filled with fury; His tongue is like consuming fire. ²⁸His breath as an overflowing torrent shall reach the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of destruction [and to place] on the jaws of the people a bridle that will mislead them.^l ²⁹But you shall have a song as in the night consecrated for feasting; and you shall [have] gladness of heart as when men march with flutes to come to the mountain of the LORD, the Rock of Israel. ³⁰For the LORD will cause His powerful voice to be heard and will show His arm descending with furious anger, [with] a flame of devouring fire, a cloudburst, a tempest, and hailstones.^m ³¹The Assyrians will be terror-stricken at the voice of the LORD when He smites with the rod; ³²but every stroke of the rod of chastisement which the LORD lays upon them shall be accompanied by the timbrel and harp,ⁿ when, in battles, He assails them with a brandishing arm. ³³For Topheth^o has already been prepared; yes, for the king it has been made ready, made deep and wide and piled high with fire and logs in abundance. The breath of the LORD, like a stream of brimstone, is setting it on fire.

31 ALAS FOR THOSE WHO GO DOWN to Egypt for help, who rely on horses and trust in chariots because they are many and in horsemen because they are powerful; but they do not look to the Holy One of Israel; they do not seek the LORD.^p ²Yet He who brings calamity is also wise, He shall not retract His words; He will arise against the house of evildoers and against the helpers of those who work iniquity. ³The Egyptians are men and not God; their horses are flesh and not spirit. For, when the LORD stretches out His hand, he who helps falls and he who is helped stumbles; they shall all perish together.

⁴For thus the LORD said to me: As

g) Cf. 64:4.

h) Teacher may be a name for the Messiah, for in vss. 18-26 the prophet gives a picture of the blessings for the remnant in the Messianic dispensation, one of which is a teachable disposition in them. i) Cf. 40:19.

j) Domestic animals, usually fond of salted provender, will share in the general prosperity.

k) "The Name" of the LORD implies God Himself.

l) Vss. 27-33 reveal the omnipotence of God, by whom Assyria is to be annihilated.

m) As He fought for Israel against the Canaanites [cf. Josh. 10:11]. n) On Israel's part.

o) The place of refuse burning, the deep valley south of Jerusalem, where human sacrifices had been offered to Molech. The Assyrians, by implication, are here to be sacrificed, too. In this we have an example of Semitic warfare past and present.

p) The prophet here emphasizes the contrast between trust in Egyptian cavalry and trust in God.

the lion or the young lion growls over his prey and, though a full band of shepherds be called out against him, is neither terrified at their shouting nor daunted at their noise, so the LORD of hosts will come down to fight upon Mount Zion and upon His hill. ⁶Like hovering birds, [so] will the LORD of hosts protect Jerusalem, protect and deliver it; [by] passing over,^q He will preserve it.

⁶Return, O children of Israel, to Him from whom you have so gravely revolted! ⁷For in that day^r each man will cast away with contempt his idols of silver and his idols of gold, which your sinful hands have made for you. ⁸The Assyrian shall fall by the sword of no man; no human's sword shall devour him. He shall flee from the sword, and his young men shall be put to bond service.^s ⁹His rock^t will pass away in terror, and his princes will desert the standard in panic, says the LORD, whose fire is in Zion and His furnace in Jerusalem.

32 BEHOLD! A KING SHALL REIGN in righteousness, and princes shall rule in justice;^u ²each of them shall be like a hiding-place from the wind and a shelter from the storm, like streams of water in a dry place, as the shade of a great rock in a weary land. ³Then the eyes of those who see shall no more be blind, and the ears of those who hear will listen. ⁴The heart of the heedless will understand knowledge, and the tongue of the stammerers will speak readily and distinctly. ⁵No more will the fool^v be called noble, nor the churl be considered liberal. ⁶For the fool speaks folly, and his mind brings forth iniquity, to practice hypocrisy and to utter falsehood concerning the LORD, starving the soul of the hungry and taking away the drink of the thirsty. ⁷The instruments of the churl are evil; he devises sinister plans in order to ruin the poor with lying words, even when the needy speaks justly.^w ⁸But a noble man plans noble things and he stands for what is noble.

⁹You careless women,^x get up! Hear my voice; you irresponsible daughters, listen to my words. ¹⁰In little more than a year you so at ease shall be shaken; for the vintage will fail and the ingathering will not come. ¹¹Tremble, you careless women, shudder, complacent ones; strip yourselves bare; gird sackcloth^y upon your loins! ¹²Beat your breasts in mourning for the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vines, ¹³for the land of my people, where thornbushes and briars grow; yes, for the houses of mirth in the joyous city! ¹⁴Because the palace hill and the watchtower^z for all time will become caves, the joy^a of wild donkeys, the pasture lands of flocks; ¹⁵until the Spirit^b is poured upon us from on high and the wild desert becomes a fruitful field and the fruitful field is thought to be a forest. ¹⁶Then justice will dwell in the desert, and righteousness will abide in the fruitful field; ¹⁷and the fruit of justice will be peace and the effect of righteousness rest and security forever. ¹⁸My people will live in a habitation of peace, in secure dwellings and quiet resting places ¹⁹even when hail falls, felling the forest, and the city is utterly brought down. ²⁰Blessed are you, who sow beside all waters, sending forth the feet of your ox and donkey.^c

33 ALAS FOR YOU, DEVASTATOR! you who have not been devastated yourself; you traitor, whom they have not betrayed! When you have

q) "Passing over" is the root of pesah, from which the word "passover" is derived, meaning to "rescue" or "preserve." r) Day of deliverance and judgment [cf. Isa. 2:20-21].

s) So also in Solomon's time [I Kings 9:21]. t) "His strength."

u) This chapter describes a future of pure religion and general prosperity, when "the aristocracy of birth and wealth will be replaced by an aristocracy of character" [Delitzsch]. Cf. 11:1-9.

v) A "fool" to the Hebrews was one who neither revered God nor respected his fellow men.

w) When the poor man's plea is legally right. x) Cf. Isa. 3:16-26, Amos 6:1-6.

y) The prophet mentions some ways of expressing grief; all are still practiced in the Middle East.

z) "The hill" is probably Ophel, the name given to the southern projection of the hill on which the temple stood. The watchtower rose above it; and nearby were palaces of the royalty.

a) i.e., favorite resort.

b) "Spirit" here, as well as in Isa. 63:10, 11, because the prophet regarded it as the divine principle of life which transforms land and people. c) Securely, in plenty — a scene of peace.

ceased to devastate, you shall be devastated yourself; and when you have ended your traitorous deeds, you shall be betrayed yourself.

²O LORD, be gracious to us! We have waited for Thee. Be Thou our strong arm every morning, yes, our salvation in time of trouble. ³At the sound of tumult the peoples flee; when Thou liftest up Thyself, the nations scatter. ⁴Then your plunder^d will be snatched away as when the caterpillar loots; they will leap upon it as do grasshoppers.

⁵The LORD is exalted; He dwells on high; He has filled Zion with justice and righteousness. ⁶The stability of your times will be a wealth of deliverances, wisdom, and knowledge; the reverence of the LORD is his treasure.

⁷Listen! Their heralds cry aloud outside; the ambassadors of peace weep bitterly; ⁸the highways are desolate; the traveller has disappeared. He breaks the covenant; he despises cities;^e he^f respects no man. ⁹The land mourns and languishes; Lebanon is ashamed and withers; Sharon is as a desert; Bashan and Carmel drop their foliage. ¹⁰The LORD announces: I will now arise; I will now be exalted; I will now lift Myself up.^g ¹¹You conceive chaff, and you bring forth stubble.^h Your firelike breath shall consume you; ¹²the peoples shall be as in lime kilns, as thorns cut down that are set on fire.ⁱ

¹³Hear, you who are afar off, what I have done; and you who are near, acknowledge My might. ¹⁴The sinners in Zion are afraid; trembling has seized the godless.

Who among us can live with devouring fire? Who among us can dwell with everlasting flames? ¹⁵He who walks righteously and speaks uprightly; who scorns gain won by oppression, who shakes his hands^j refusing bribes, who stops his ears, refusing bloodshed, and shuts his eyes, refusing to look [favorably] on evil. ¹⁶He will dwell on the heights; his resort for safety will be the fortresses of rocks; his bread will be provided him; his water will be sure.^k ¹⁷Your eyes will see the King^l in His beauty; they will behold a land that stretches far. ¹⁸Your heart will meditate on the terrors: "Where is the scribe? Where is the weigher? Where is he who counted the towers?"^m ¹⁹No longer will you see a determined, fierce people, a people of an obscure speech, and of an unintelligible, barbarous language.ⁿ

²⁰Observe Zion, the city of our festivals. Your eyes shall see Jerusalem, a quiet habitation; a tent, immovable,^o whose pegs will never be plucked up nor any of its cords be broken. ²¹But there the LORD will be with us in majesty; in a place of rivers and broad streams on which no oar-propelled boats will go nor mighty ships pass. ²²For the LORD is our judge, the LORD is our lawgiver, the LORD is our King; He will save us. ²³The tacklings hang loose; they cannot hold the mast firmly in its socket, nor keep the sail spread out.^p Then the abundant loot will be divided; even the lame will carry off plunder. ²⁴No resident there will say, "I am sick," for the people living there will have had their sins forgiven.^q

34 DRAW NEAR, O NATIONS, TO hear, and listen, you peoples! Let the whole earth and its fulness hear,^r the world and all its offspring. ²For the LORD's anger is against all the nations and [His] indignation against all their hosts; He has doomed them and has given them over for slaughter. ³Their slain shall be cast out; the stench of their corpses shall

d) What Israel's enemies had robbed from them.

e) The Dead Sea Scrolls read: "despises witnesses." f) "He" is the Assyrian invader.

g) Judah's extremity is God's opportunity.

h) For this metaphor, compare 59:4; and for a parallel, 26:18.

i) In kilns, as a thornfire, the fire is hot, consumes rapidly. j) Indignantly refusing.

k) The image of war and siege is here maintained.

l) The Messianic King ever central in prophetic vision. In vs. 22 identified with the LORD Himself.

m) Referring to tribute-collecting officials or looting armies.

n) Assyrian was a sister-tongue to Hebrew, but unintelligible to the people [Jer. 5:15].

o) Or, "tabernacle, that shall not be taken down."

p) i.e., "your present ship of state is unsafe."

q) Was sickness proof to the Hebrews of God's displeasure, because of sin still unforgiven?

r) The same Hebrew word for "fulness" is used in 6:3.

rise, and the mountains shall melt in their blood. ⁴All the host of heaven shall dissolve, and the skies shall be rolled up like a scroll; all their host^a shall drop as leaves drop from the vine and as a fig falls from the fig tree.

⁵For My sword has been bathed^t in the heavens; and see, it descends on Edom, on the people whom I have doomed for judgment. ⁶The LORD has a sword coated with blood, besmeared with fat, with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of rams' kidneys; for the LORD has a sacrifice in Bozrah,^u a great slaughter in the land of Edom.^v

⁷Wild oxen shall fall with them, and bullocks with steers; their land shall be glutted with blood, and their dust saturated with fat. ⁸For the LORD has a day of retribution, a year of recompense for the cause of Zion. ⁹The streams [of Edom] shall be turned into pitch^w and her soil into brimstone; her land shall become burning pitch, ¹⁰that shall not be quenched night or day;^x its smoke shall ascend forever from generation to generation; it shall be desolate, no one shall pass through it for ever and ever. ¹¹But the pelican and the porcupine shall possess it; the owl and the raven shall dwell in it. He shall stretch over it the measuring line of chaos and the plummet of worthlessness.^y ¹²Her caves,^z with no one in them, will [still] be called a kingdom, but all her princes shall have vanished. ¹³Thorns will thrive [where once] were palaces; nettles and thistles [will fill] its fortresses; it will become a haunt of jackals and an abode for ostriches. ¹⁴Desert beasts will meet [there] with howling creatures. Shaggy goats^a will call one to another. The night monsters will settle there and find a place to rest. ¹⁵There the screech owl will make her nest, lay and hatch [her eggs], and gather [her brood] under her shadow; vultures too will assemble, each one with her mate. ¹⁶Search and read it out of the book of the LORD that not one of them will be missing, not one will be without a mate, for the mouth of the LORD has given orders and His Spirit has gathered them. ¹⁷He has cast the lot for them; His hand has apportioned [the land] for them by a line. They shall possess it forever and shall dwell in it from generation to generation.^b

35 THE WILDERNESS AND THE DRY land shall be glad; the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose. ²It shall blossom abundantly and rejoice with delight and singing. The glory of Lebanon shall be given to it,^c the excellency of Carmel and of Sharon; they shall see the glory of the LORD, the splendor of our God.

³Strengthen the feeble hands; make firm the tottering knees. ⁴Say to those who are impatient of heart, "Be strong, fear not! Behold, your God will come with retribution, with the recompense of God. He shall come and save you." ⁵Then shall the eyes of the blind be opened, and the ears of the deaf unstopped. ⁶Then shall the lame man leap like a deer, and the tongue of the dumb shall sing, because waters shall break forth in the wilderness and streams in the desert. ⁷The scorching sand shall become a pool and the thirsty ground springs of water; in the haunt of jackals, where they lay, shall be grass with reeds and rushes. ⁸A highway shall be there, yes, a way; it shall be called the Holy Way.^d The unclean shall not pass over it; it shall be for them alone;^e travellers and

s) The stars and planets.

t) "Bathed," in the sense of appointed and equipped with fury, to do its work here on earth.

u) Bozrah is beautifully situated about 20 miles s.e. of the Dead Sea, but has long been lying in ruins. v) Edomites as animals for sacrifice.

w) So, too, The Dead Sea Scrolls, Section 6, No. 20.

x) Like Sodom, on Edom's northern boundary, [Gen. 19:24].

y) Or, "line of confusion," "stone of emptiness," same terms as in Gen. 1:2, Tohu and Bohu.

z) Choreyah can be translated "her caves," or "her nobles." Edom's capital was a city of caves.

a) See note on Isa. 13:21.

b) The LORD has assigned Edom to these wild animals as explicitly as He had once assigned Canaan to Israel.

c) Nature will be transformed. In contrast to the pathetic annihilation of Edom, the joy of Judah stands out happy and radiant.

d) Other mention of this "highway" in Isa. 11:16; 40:3; 43:19; 49:11.

e) Only the remnant or believers in God will be welcomed; the uncircumcised and the unclean are, as in 52:1, denied entrance to the holy city.

fools' shall not wander about on it. ⁹No lion shall be there nor shall any beast of prey come thither or be found there; but the redeemed^d shall walk there. ¹⁰The ransomed of the LORD shall return and come to Zion with singing and everlasting joy upon their heads. They shall obtain joy and gladness, while sorrow and sighing shall flee away.^h

36 IN THE FOURTEENTH¹ YEAR OF King Hezekiah, Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the fortified cities of Judah and occupied them. ²Then the king of Assyria sent the field marshal^k from Lachish^k to Jerusalem against Hezekiah with a large army. He took a position by the aqueduct of the upper pool on the highway to the fuller's field.¹ ³And there came to him Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, who was [steward] over the [king's] household, Shebna the secretary, and Joah the son of Asaph, the recorder.

⁴The field marshal said to them, "Say now to Hezekiah, 'Thus says the great king, the king of Assyria: What confidence is this in which you trust? ⁵I say, is a mere word of the lips enough counsel and strength for war? On whom do you now rely, that you dare to rebel against me? ⁶Look, you are relying upon the support of Egypt, a broken reed, which will only enter into and pierce the hand of any man who leans on it. So is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all who rely on him. ⁷But if you say to me, 'We trust in the LORD our God,' is He not the God whose high places and altars Hezekiah has removed and who has said to Judah and Jerusalem, 'Before this altar you must worship'?^m ⁸Come now, make a bargain with my master, the king of Assyria, and I will give you 2,000 horses, provided you can set riders on them. ⁹How can you repulse the attack of a single captain, the least of my master's officers, and rely on Egypt for chariots and horsemen? ¹⁰Is it without the LORD's approval, that I have come up against this land to destroy it? The LORD said to me: Go up against this land and destroy it."ⁿ

¹¹At this, Eliakim, Shebna, and Joah said to the field marshal, "Please, speak to your servants in Aramaic,^o for we understand it; do not speak in the Jews' language with the people listening upon the wall." ¹²But the field marshal replied, "Was it to you and your master^p only that my master sent me to speak these words, and not to the men sitting on the wall, who are to eat their own dung and drink their own urine with you?" ¹³Then the field marshal stood up and shouted with a loud voice in the Jews' language: "Hear the words of the great king, the king of Assyria. ¹⁴Thus the king says to you: 'Do not let Hezekiah deceive you; for he will not be able to deliver you. ¹⁵And do not let Hezekiah cause you to trust in the LORD by saying, 'The LORD will surely deliver us; this city will not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.'"

¹⁶"Do not listen to Hezekiah; for thus says the king of Assyria: Make your peace with me and come out to me; then every one of you will eat of his own vine and fig tree, and every one of you will drink the water of his own cistern; ¹⁷until I come^q back and take you to a land like your own, a land of grain and wine, a land of bread and vineyards. ¹⁸Beware lest Hezekiah beguile you by saying, 'The LORD will deliver us.' Has any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria? ¹⁹Where are the gods of Hamath and

f) The godless are fools, Ps. 14:1; 53:1. g) The penitent sinner.

h) The Dead Sea Scrolls, "Hymns," Sect. 18, No. 6: "for sorrow and sighing are no more."

i) The 14th of the 15 additional years given to Hezekiah [38:1-5].

j) Rabshakeh is the Assyrian word for "field marshal," a title.

k) Lachish, modern Tel el Hesi, an important fortress, s.w. of Jerusalem, commanding the road from Egypt. l) Where Isaiah had met Ahaz [7:3].

m) Hezekiah had done much to reform worship in Judah [II Kings 18:4], destroying their "high places." n) Cf. Isa. 10: 5, 6.

o) Aramaic was the common language of commerce and diplomacy of that time.

p) Throughout his speech the commander refrains from calling Hezekiah "king."

q) Come back from conquering Egypt?

Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim? Have they delivered Samaria out of my hand? ²⁰Who among all the gods of these lands ever delivered their land from my hand, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem from my hand? ²¹But they were silent and answered him not a word; for the king's command was, "Do not answer him."

²²Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, who was the steward of the [king's] household, and Shebna the secretary, and Joah the son of Asaph, the recorder, came to Hezekiah with their clothes rent and told him the words of the field marshal.

37 SO IT WAS THAT WHEN KING Hezekiah heard it, he rent his clothes, put on sackcloth, and went into the house of the LORD. ²He also sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebna the secretary, and the senior priests, covered with sackcloth, to Isaiah^r the prophet, the son of Amoz. ³They said to him, "Thus says Hezekiah: 'This day is a day of anguish, of rebuke and of disgrace; children have come to the birth,^t and there is no strength to bring forth. ⁴It may be that the LORD your God will hear the words of the field marshal, whom his master, the king of Assyria, has sent to insult the living God, and will rebuke the words which the LORD your God has heard; therefore lift up a prayer for the remnant that is left!'"^u ⁵So the servants of King Hezekiah came to Isaiah, ⁶and Isaiah said to them, "In this manner you shall report to your master, 'Thus says the LORD: Be not afraid because of the words which you have heard, with which the household attendants^v of the king of Assyria have blasphemed Me. ⁷See, I will send a spirit in him, and he shall hear a rumor, so that he will return to his own land; and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land!'"

⁸So the field marshal returned and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah; for he had heard that he had departed from Lachish. ⁹Now [the king] had heard a report that Tirhakah the king of Ethiopia had come to fight against him. When he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying, ¹⁰"Thus shall you say to Hezekiah king of Judah: 'Do not let your god, in whom you trust, deceive you, promising that Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria. ¹¹See, you have heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all other lands, destroying them utterly, and are you to escape? ¹²Have the gods of the nations, which my fathers destroyed, delivered them, Gozen, Haran, Rezep, or the Edenites who were in Telassar? ¹³Where is the king of Hamath, the king of Arpad, or the king of the city of Sepharvaim, of Hena, or of Ivvah?'"^w

¹⁴Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, read it, went up to the house of the LORD, and Hezekiah spread it before the LORD. ¹⁵Hezekiah then prayed to the LORD: ¹⁶"O LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, who art enthroned above the cherubim,^x Thou art the God, Thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth; Thou hast made the heavens and the earth. ¹⁷Incline Thine ear, O LORD, and hear; open Thine eyes, O LORD, see and hear all the words of Sennacherib, which he has sent to mock the living God. ¹⁸Of a truth, LORD, the kings of Assyria have laid waste^y all the nations and their lands ¹⁹and have cast their gods into the fire; for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands — wood and stone; therefore they destroyed them. ²⁰So now, O r) Hamath, Arpad, and Sepharvaim were located north of Damascus, west of the Euphrates river.

s) Hezekiah recognized that Isaiah stood nearer to God than he stood; he craves Isaiah's help through prayer, and he speaks to him of the LORD as "your God" [vs. 4]. Prophets were frequently consulted in times of public danger [cf. Jer. 37:3].

t) The Dead Sea Scrolls, "Book of Hymns," Section 5, No. 5.

u) The efficacy of genuine intercessory prayer is taught and assumed throughout the O.T. The idea of a "remnant" to be saved is characteristic of Isaiah. v) Heb.: "the king's boys."

w) Many of these as yet unidentified places, probably located in the region about Hamath, and in Haran, between the Euphrates and Tigris rivers.

x) The cherubim were symbols of the divine presence, the reference here being to the two figures over the ark of the covenant.

y) The Hebrew verb translated "laid waste" is used here of nations, but never elsewhere of nations in the O.T., except in 60:12.

LORD, our God, save us from his hand that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that Thou, LORD, art God alone."

²¹Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent to Hezekiah, saying,² "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Because you have prayed to Me concerning Sennacherib king of Assyria, ²²this is the word which the LORD has spoken concerning him: The virgin daughter of Zion despises you and laughs you to scorn; the daughter of Jerusalem wags her head^a behind you. ²³Whom have you reproached and blasphemed? Against whom have you raised your voice and lifted up your eyes? Against the Holy One of Israel! ²⁴By your messengers you have insulted the LORD^b and have boasted, With the multitude of my chariots, I have scaled high mountains and the recesses of Lebanon; I have felled its tallest cedars and its choicest fir trees; I reached its extreme height, its luxurious forest.^c ²⁵I dug and drank water, and with the soles of my feet I have dried up all the streams of Egypt.

²⁶"Have you not heard how I have done it long ago, having planned it in ancient times? Now I have brought it to pass, that you should lay waste fenced cities into ruinous heaps. ²⁷Their residents, shorn of their strength,^d grew dismayed and confounded. They became like grass of the field, like tender green plants, like the grass upon the housetops, like a cornfield [blasted] before it is full grown. ²⁸I know your sitting down, your going out and your coming in, also your raging against Me. ²⁹Because of your raging against Me, and because your arrogance has come to My ears, I will put My hook in your nose and My bridle in your lips,^e and I will drive you back, to return by the way you came.

³⁰"And this shall be a sign^f to you: This year you will eat what grows of itself and next year likewise what springs from the same; but in the third year you may sow and reap and plant vineyards and eat their fruit. ³¹And the surviving remnant of the house of Judah shall again strike root downward and bear fruit upward. ³²For a remnant shall go forth from Jerusalem and the escapees from Mount Zion; the zeal of the LORD of hosts shall accomplish this. ³³Therefore thus says the LORD concerning the king of Assyria: He shall neither enter this city nor shoot an arrow there; neither shall he approach it under shield nor cast up a mound before it. ³⁴By the way that he came, by the same shall he return; he shall not enter the city, says the LORD; ³⁵for I will defend this city and save it, for My own sake and for the sake of My servant David."

³⁶Then the Angel of the LORD went forth and smote in the camp of the Assyrians 185,000; and when men rose in the morning, look, these were all dead!^g ³⁷So Sennacherib king of Assyria broke camp, went back, and lived at Nineveh. ³⁸And so it was that as he was worshipping in the house of Nis-roch, his god, Adrammelech and Sharezer, his sons, slew him with the sword, and they escaped into the land of Ararat. After that, Esarhaddon his son reigned in his stead.^h

38 IN THOSE DAYS HEZEKIAH FELL ill to the point of death. Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz, came to him and said to him, "Thus says the LORD: Set your house in order, for you shall die and not live on." ²Then Hezekiah turned his face to the wall and

z) Hezekiah's prayer, in vss. 15-20, is followed by Isaiah's Taunt Song, in vss. 21-29, the latter displaying the prophet's thought and vigor of diction.

a) To wag the head was an oriental gesture of contempt.

b) Heb.: Adonai, as a divine name conveys the meaning of "the LORD" as Master, superhuman, and above all other gods. c) Sennacherib's boast of his might and of his greatest achievements.

d) Heb.: "Short of hand."

e) Pictured as a roaring, raging bull, pulled back home against his will.

f) This sign would prove to the Jews that the LORD had foreseen all the circumstances of the deliverance [cf. 10:5-15]. The Assyrians attacked the Hebrews during the 7th Sabbatical year, followed by the year of Jubilee; two years of rest and diminished harvests.

g) Herodotus witnesses to Sennacherib's great losses near Pelusium on the border of Egypt, stating that a plague of field mice caused it.

h) One ancient authority states that Sennacherib was slain, because of his choice of Esarhaddon to succeed him; Esarhaddon reigned 681-668 B.C.

prayed to the LORD, ³"Remember now, I beseech Thee, O LORD, how I have walked before Thee in truth and in sincerity of heart and have done what is good in Thy sight." And Hezekiah wept bitterly. ⁴Then the word of the LORD came to Isaiah, saying: ⁵"Go and say to Hezekiah, Thus says the LORD, the God of David your father: I have heard your prayer, and I have seen your tears. See! I will add fifteen years to your life. ⁶Also I will deliver you and this city from the hand of the king of Assyria; I will defend this city. ⁷And this will be the sign to you from the LORD, that the LORD will do this thing which He has promised: ⁸Behold, I will turn back the shadow ten degrees on the dial of Ahaz, on which the sun has gone down.ⁱ And the sun returned ten of the degrees it had gone down.

⁹A writing by Hezekiah, king of Judah, after he had been ill and had recovered from his illness: ¹⁰I said, "In the noontide of my days^j I am to pass into the entrances of the grave, deprived of the rest of my years." ¹¹I said, "I shall not see the LORD, [even] the LORD, in the land of the living, nor again behold men among the inhabitants of the world. ¹²My dwelling is plucked up and wrested from me as a shepherd's tent; I have finished my life^k like a weaver; He cuts me from the loom; from day to night Thou bringest me to an end.^l ¹³I place Him before me until morning. Like a lion He breaks all my bones; from day to night Thou bringest me to an end. ¹⁴Like a twittering swallow I chirp, and like a dove I moan. My eyes grow dim looking upward. I am in anguish; be Thou my surety.

¹⁵"What can I say? For He has spoken to me, and He has done it. I will go softly all my years, because of the bitterness of my soul. ¹⁶O LORD, by these things men live,^m through them may my spirit revive; restore me to health and make me to live!

¹⁷"See, this great bitterness was for my own peace; Thou hast lovingly delivered me from the pit of corruption;ⁿ Thou hast cast all my sins behind Thy back.^o ¹⁸Surely, the grave cannot praise Thee; death cannot rejoice in Thee; those who go down to the pit cannot hope in Thy faithfulness. ¹⁹The living, the living, he praises Thee, as I do this day; the father makes known to his children Thy faithfulness. ²⁰The LORD is ready to deliver me, and my songs will we sing all the days of our life in the house of the LORD."^p

²¹Now Isaiah had said, "Let them take a cake of figs and apply it to the eruption that he may recover." ²²Hezekiah had also said, "What is the sign that I shall again go up to the house of the LORD?"

39 AT THAT TIME MERODACH-BALADAN the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah, for he had heard that Hezekiah had been ill and had recovered.^q ²Hezekiah was pleased with their visit and showed to them his treasure house, his silver and gold, the spices and fine oil, his whole armory, all that was found among his treasures; there was nothing in his house or in all his kingdom that Hezekiah did not show them. ³Then Isaiah the prophet came to King Hezekiah and asked him, "What did these men say and where did they come from?" Hezekiah replied, "They came from the far-away country of Babylon." ⁴[Isaiah] said, "And what did they see in your house?" Hezekiah answered, "They

i) The clause, "on which the sun has gone down," is in the Greek translation, not in the Hebrew.

j) Heb.: "the time of rest" [cf. Ps. 102:24]. k) Heb.: "rolled up my life."

l) Hebrew idiom: as a weaver cuts his threads from the loom before his cloth is finished, so Hezekiah's life was to be prematurely cut off.

m) Hezekiah came to see that the LORD's discipline was a pledge of forgiveness [cf. Heb. 12:11]. "Sweet are the uses of adversity." n) The Dead Sea Scrolls, Section 6, No. 1.

o) We may forgive, but we rarely forget: God forgives and forgets!

p) If Hezekiah's psalm was used in public worship, it would account for the plural pronouns "us" and "we."

q) Merodach-baladan had once thrown off the yoke of Assyria. Not only did he wish to felicitate Hezekiah on his recovery, but probably, also, to persuade him to ally himself with Babylon, in another revolt against Assyria.

saw everything in my house; there is nothing in my storehouses that I did not show them."^r

⁶Then Isaiah said to Hezekiah, ⁶"Hear the word of the LORD of hosts: Take note, the days are coming when all that is in your house, even all that your fathers have stored up till this day, shall be carried to Babylon; nothing shall be left, says the LORD. ⁷Some of the sons of your own issue, whom you shall beget, shall be carried away, and they shall become eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon." ⁸Then Hezekiah said to Isaiah, "Good is the word of the LORD which you have spoken"; and he added, "For there will be peace and stability in my time."

40 COMFORT YE,^a COMFORT YE MY people, says your God. ²Speak heartily^t to Jerusalem, and shout to her that her warfare is completed, that her iniquity is pardoned, that she has received from the LORD's hand double for all her sins.

³A voice is calling, "Clear the way for the LORD in the wilderness; make straight in the desert a highway for our God. ⁴Every valley must be filled up; every ridge must be cut down; the crooked turns must be straightened, and all rough places made smooth. ⁵The glory of the LORD shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together; for the mouth of the LORD has spoken it."

⁶A voice is calling, "Proclaim!" And I said, "What shall I proclaim? All flesh is grass, and all its beauty is like the flower of the field. ⁷The grass withers and the flower fades when the breath of the LORD blows upon it. Surely, the people is grass; ⁸the grass withers, the flower fades; but the word of our God shall stand for ever!"

⁹Zion's heralds of good tidings, climb up on a high mountain; lift up your voice with strength, Jerusalem's heralds of good tidings. Lift it up, be not afraid! Say to the cities of Judah, "Observe your God!" ¹⁰Behold, the LORD God is coming with power; His arm shall rule for Him. See, His reward is with Him and His compensation before Him.^u ¹¹He will feed His flock like a shepherd; He will gather the lambs in His arms, carrying them in His bosom and gently leading those that are with young.

¹²Who has measured the waters in the hollow of His hand, marked off the heavens with a span,^v enclosed the dust of the earth in a measuring basket, weighed the mountains in scales or the hills in a balance? ¹³Who has directed the Spirit of the LORD, or has, as His counselor, instructed Him? ¹⁴Whom did He consult so as to impart understanding to Him, showing Him the path of justice, teaching Him knowledge, and indicating the way of discernment? ¹⁵Behold, the nations are as a drop in the bucket and are reckoned as a speck of dust on scales. He lifts up islands like fine dust particles. ¹⁶Lebanon's trees are not enough to kindle a fire nor its animals sufficient for a burnt offering. ¹⁷All the nations are as nothing before Him; they are accounted as less than nothing and worthlessness. ¹⁸To whom then will you liken God, or with what likeness would you compare Him?

¹⁹The skilful designer casts an image, the goldsmith overlays it with gold and fashions for it silver chains! ²⁰He who is too poor for such an offering chooses a tree that will not rot; he then seeks for it a skilful carver to set up an image that will not be overthrown.^w

²¹Do you not know, have you not heard, has it never been told you in times past, have you not understood from the foundations of the earth?^x

²²It is He who sits above the circle^y of the earth [to whom] the earth's in-

r) Hezekiah had shown childish vanity, had lacked faith and vision.

s) Chs. 38 and 39 are the introduction to ch. 40. The newly discovered Dead Sea Scrolls Isaiah confirms it, as the first line in Hebrew of ch. 40 is written as the final line of the page which carries ch. 39. t) Heb.: "to the heart."

u) An Arab sheikh, after conquering some rival tribe, usually comes back driving his plunder of livestock before him [cf. Isa. 62:11; Rev. 22:12]. v) A "span" was about 9 inches.

w) For an idol to fall would be a bad omen [cf. I Sam. 5:3].

x) Cf. Rom. 1:20—creation reveals God's eternal power and deity.

y) Suggested, probably, by skies and horizon.

habitants are as grasshoppers; who stretches out the heavens like a curtain and spreads them like a tent in which to live; ²³who brings princes to naught, and makes the dignitaries of earth look like nothing. ²⁴Scarcely are such potentates planted, scarcely sown, their stock has hardly struck root in the ground,² when He breathes upon them and they wither and the wind carries them away like stubble. ²⁵To whom, then, would you liken Me, that I should be equal? says the Holy One.³ ²⁶Lift up your eyes on high and see! Who created these? He who brings out their host by number and calls them all by name through the greatness of His might and the force of His power. Not one lacks anything!

²⁷Why, Jacob, do you say, and why, Israel, do you declare, that your way is hidden from the LORD, that your rights are overlooked by your God? ²⁸Do you not know, have you not heard? The LORD is the everlasting God, the Creator of the ends of the earth; He never faints or grows weary; His wisdom is unsearchable. ²⁹He imparts vigor to the fainting, and to those who have no might He increases strength. ³⁰Even youths shall faint and grow weary and young men go down exhausted; ³¹but they that await the LORD shall renew their strength. They shall mount up with wings like eagles;^b they shall run and not be weary; they shall walk and not faint.

41 SILENTLY [LISTEN] TO ME, YOU islands;^c let the peoples renew their strength; let them approach and then speak; let us draw near together for judgment. ²Who raised him up from the east, whom righteousness called to service?^d ³Who placed nations in subjection to him and made kings submit to him, rendering them as dust to his sword and as whirling straws to his bow? ³He pursued them; he passed unhindered in the way which his feet had never trod. ⁴Who has wrought and accomplished all this? It was He, who summoned the generations from the beginning; it was I, the LORD, the first and with the last; I am He.

⁵The islands saw it and became alarmed; the ends of the earth trembled; they approached and drew near. ⁶Every one helped his neighbor and said to his brother, "Take courage!" ⁷The craftsman encourages the goldsmith, and he who polishes with the hammer encourages him who strikes on the anvil, saying of the soldering, "That is good!" And he fastens it with nails so that it may not be moved.^e

⁸But you, O Israel, My servant,^f Jacob, whom I have chosen, the offspring of Abraham, My friend; ⁹you whom I have taken hold of from the ends of the earth and called from its utmost corners, and to whom I said: You are My servant; I have chosen you and have not rejected you; ¹⁰fear not, for I am with you; be not dismayed, for I am your God! I will strengthen you, yes, I will help you; yes, I will uphold you with My vindicating right hand.^g ¹¹Behold, all those who are incensed against you shall be ashamed and confounded; the men who strive against you shall perish; they shall be as nothing. ¹²You will seek those who contended against you, but you shall not find them; they shall be as nothing; the men who fought you shall be as a vacuum. ¹³For I, the LORD your God, will hold your right hand, saying to you, Fear not, I will help you.

¹⁴Fear not, you worm^h Jacob, you men of Israel! I will help you, says the LORD; your redeemer is the Holy One of Israel. ¹⁵See, I will change you to a sharp, new, threshing sledge, having cutting edges;ⁱ you shall thresh

z) The Dead Sea Scrolls, "Hymns," Sect. 14, No. 20: "its stocks are grounded firm in the earth."

a) The full name of God, characteristic of the book of Isaiah, is "The Holy One of Israel," occurring in Isa. 1-39 twelve times and in chs. 40-66 thirteen times.

b) Eagles were to renew their plumage in riper years, and thereby to acquire new strength for activity and endurance. c) Heb.: term for calling "all lands and peoples." d) Heb.: "to his foot."

e) Idols are dependent on nails and craftsmen — in contrast to God.

f) The prophet uses the word "servant" with elasticity; of the Patriarchs, Moses, David, Job, Cyrus, and others; also of all Israel and especially of the Messiah; in all some 40 times.

g) Heb.: "right hand of my righteousness." h) "Helpless," easily "trodden under foot."

i) An instrument still used in threshing grain on circular ground floors, the heavy planks supported underneath with stones.

the mountains^j and crush them, and the hills you shall make like chaff. ¹⁶You shall winnow them; the wind shall carry them away; the whirlwind scatter them. But you shall exult in the LORD; you shall glory in the Holy One of Israel. ¹⁷When the wretched and poor seek for water and there is none, so that their tongues are parched with thirst, I, the LORD, will answer them; I, the God of Israel, will not forsake them. ¹⁸I will open rivers on the bare heights and fountains^k in the midst of the valleys; I will make the wilderness a pool of water and arid lands springs of water. ¹⁹I will plant the cedar, the acacia, the myrtle, and the olive tree in the wilderness; the cypress, the hard oak, and the pine tree will I place together in the desert; ²⁰that men may both see and recognize, both consider and understand, that the hand of the LORD has done this, and that the Holy One of Israel has created it.

²¹Present your case,^l says the LORD; produce your strongest grounds, says the King of Jacob. ²²Let them bring them near and declare to us what is to happen. Let them tell us of former events as to what they are; tell us that we may consider them and know the outcome, or let us hear the coming events. ²³Declare [now] the things to occur hereafter, that we may know that you are gods; yes, do either good or evil, that we may be astonished, observing it together. ²⁴See, you are nothing, and your work is worthless; an offense is he who chooses you!^m ²⁵But I have roused up one from the north, and he shall come from where the sun rises; he shall call on My name; he shall trample on princes as on mortar, as a potter kneads his clay. ²⁶Who announced this from the beginning so that we could know, or who predicted this so that we might confess, "He is righteous"? There was no one who foretold it; in fact, no one let it be heard; truly, no one heard your words. ²⁷I first [said] to Zion, Look, behold! And to Jerusalem, I send heralds with the good news. ²⁸When I look there is not a man; I look around and there is not a counselor whom I could ask and who could answer a word. ²⁹Behold, theyⁿ are all uselessness; their work is nothing, and their images are wind and waste.

42 BEHOLD MY SERVANT, WHOM I uphold, My elect in whom My soul delights!^o I have put My Spirit upon Him, He shall bring forth judgment^p to the nations; ²He shall not cry or shout aloud, or cause His voice to be heard in the street; ^{3a}a bruised reed He shall not break, and a dimly burning wick^q He shall not quench; but He shall bring forth justice in agreement with truth; ⁴He shall not fail nor be suppressed, until He has established justice in the earth; the islands will await His teaching.

⁵Thus says the only God, the LORD, who created the heavens and stretched them out, who spread out the earth with all its vegetation; who gives breath to the people upon it and spirit to them who walk therein: ⁶I, the LORD, have called you in righteousness; I will hold your hand and guard you and give you as a covenant^r for the people, as a light for the Gentiles ⁷to open blind eyes, to bring captives out of prison, and those who sit in darkness out of houses of bondage. ⁸I am the LORD, that is My name; and My glory I will not give to another nor My praise to graven images. ⁹The messages of former times, see, they have come to pass, and now I declare new things; before they come forth I let you hear of them.

¹⁰Sing a new song to the LORD, His praise from the ends of the earth: you who sail the sea and all its fulness; the islands and those who dwell on

j) The "mountains" and "hills" are symbols of giant opposition.

k) The word for "fountains" in the Hebrew is really an Assyrian root but is found also in the Siloam Inscription, meaning "running waters."

l) In vss. 1-4 worshipers of idols were addressed; in vss. 21-24 the idols are challenged.

m) The challenge which should settle the controversy is not accepted. n) Idols.

o) Identity of Servant and the Messiah [cf. 49:5, 6; 53:11; Matt. 12:18].

p) "Judgment" in the sense of the truth, the right knowledge of God.

q) Heb.: "a dim flax," wicks were made of tow, flax fibre.

r) The Messiah will bring to pass all that was contained in the covenant God made with His people.

them. ¹¹Let the desert and its fortified towns raise their voices and the encampments in which Kedar^s dwells; let the residents of Sela^t sing; let them shout from the top of the mountains.

¹²Let them give glory to the LORD and proclaim His praise in the islands!

¹³For the LORD shall go forth like a mighty hero, like a warrior He stirs up His zeal; He utters the war cry; He shouts aloud! He proves Himself mighty against His foes.

¹⁴I have been still, I was silent, restraining Myself; but like a woman in travail I will now shriek; I will both pant and gasp at once. ¹⁵I will lay waste mountains and hills and dry up all their herbage; I will turn rivers into islands^u and dry up the pools. ¹⁶I will make the blind walk in a way that they do not know and lead them in paths unfamiliar to them. Darkness before them I will turn to light, and rough places I will make smooth. These are the things I will do, and I will not leave them undone. ¹⁷They who trust in idols and say to molten images, "You are our gods," shall be turned back and be utterly ashamed!

¹⁸Listen, you who are deaf; and look, you who are blind, that you may see! ¹⁹Who is blind but My servant, or deaf as My messenger whom I send? Who is as blind as My devoted one^v or blind as the servant of the LORD? ²⁰You have seen many things, but would not observe; your ears have been open, but you would not hear. ²¹It delighted the LORD for His righteousness' sake; therefore He magnified the Law and made it honorable. ²²Nevertheless this is a robbed and plundered people, all of them are entrapped in holes and hidden in houses of bondage; thus they become a prey. Yet no one came to their rescue, [they became] booty. And no one said, "Give back." ²³Who among you will listen to this, pay attention and hear for the time to come? ²⁴Who gave up Jacob to plunderers and Israel to robbers? Was it not the LORD against whom we had sinned, in whose ways they refused to walk and whose law they would not obey? ²⁵So He poured out upon them the fierceness of His anger, even the violence of war. He placed them in an encircling fire without their perceiving it; it burned them, yet they did not lay it to heart.

43 BUT NOW THUS SAYS THE LORD, who created you, O Jacob, and formed you, O Israel: Be not afraid, for I have redeemed you; I have called you by your name;^w you are Mine. ²When you pass through the waters I will be with you, and when through the rivers, they shall not overwhelm you; when you go through fire you shall not be scorched; or through flames, you shall not be burned. ³For I am the LORD your God, the Holy One of Israel, your Savior. I give Egypt as your ransom, Ethiopia and Seba^x in exchange for you. ⁴Because you are precious in My eyes, you are honored and I love you; therefore I will give men in your place and nations in exchange for your life.^y ⁵Fear not, therefore, for I am with you. I will bring your offspring from the east and gather you from the west. ⁶I will say to the north, Give up! and to the south, Hold not back! Bring My sons from afar and My daughters from the ends of the earth, ⁷all indeed who are called by My name whom I have created and formed for My glory; yes, I have made them. ⁸They shall bring forth the blind people who have eyes, and the deaf who have ears.^z

⁹Let the nations be gathered together, and let the peoples assemble; who among them could declare this, or inform us of past events? Let them

s) "Kedar" was the distant home of Ishmael's descendants in Arabia.

t) "Sela" is usually identified with Petra in Mt. Seir, 50 mi. south of the Dead Sea.

u) Land with streams will become land without moisture.

v) This Hebrew word meshullam is akin to the Arabic "moslim," meaning "the surrendered one."

w) As My favorite friend. To be called "by name" here means singled out for special honor, position, and function.

x) Egypt, Ethiopia, and Seba at that time were the most opulent and powerful of all Israel's neighbors. Those addressed here are exiles.

y) Other men and nations to take the place of captive Israel.

z) Blind and deaf to God's teaching in history.

produce their witnesses to justify themselves, or else let them hear and respond, "It is true." ¹⁰You are My witnesses, says the LORD, and My servant whom I have chosen, in order that you may know and believe Me, and understand that I am He. Before Me no God was formed, nor shall there be after Me.^a ¹¹I, even I, am the LORD, and beside Me there is no savior. ¹²I have spoken and I have saved; I have made known, and there is no strange god among you; you are My witnesses, says the LORD, ¹³and I am your God. From all time I am He; no one shall wrest you out of My hand; I shall perform and who shall undo it?

¹⁴Thus says the LORD, your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: For your sake I have sent [one] to Babylon and have brought down as fugitives all the Chaldeans into the ships, over which they rejoiced. ¹⁵I am the LORD, your Holy One, the Creator of Israel, your King. ¹⁶Thus says the LORD, the One who made a way in the sea, a path amid its mighty waters,^b ¹⁷who led forth chariot and horse, the army and power; together they lie down, they cannot rise, they are extinguished, snuffed out as a wick. ¹⁸But do not recall former events, nor consider longer the things of the past. ¹⁹Behold, I do a new thing; now it is springing forth; do you not recognize it?^c In the desert I surely will make a way, rivers also in arid wastes. ²⁰The beasts of the field will honor Me, the jackals and the ostriches, because I provide waters in the desert and streams in the arid wastes to give drink to My chosen people, ²¹this people whom I fashioned for Myself that they might set forth My praise.

²²Jacob, you have not called upon Me, for you, Israel, became weary of Me; ²³you have not brought Me sheep for a burnt offering or honored Me with your sacrifices; I have not forced you to serve with offerings or exacted incense from you. ²⁴You have neither brought Me sweet cane with money, nor satisfied Me with fat sacrifices; but you have burdened Me with your sins and wearied Me with your iniquities.

²⁵It is I, I who blot out your transgressions for My own sake, and I will remember your sins no more.^d ²⁶Remind Me;^e let us judge together; state [your case] that you may be vindicated. ²⁷Your first father sinned, and your interpreters rebelled against Me. ²⁸Therefore I have profaned the chief ones of the sanctuary; I have delivered up Jacob to a curse and Israel to reviling.

44 BUT NOW^f HEAR, O JACOB MY servant, Israel whom I have chosen. ²Thus says the LORD, your Maker, who formed you from the womb and who will help you: Be not afraid, Jacob My servant, the upright,^g whom I have chosen. ³I will pour water upon the thirsty and streams upon the dry; I will pour out My Spirit upon your seed and My blessing upon your offspring; ⁴they will spring up in the midst of grass^h like willows by running streams. ⁵One will confess, "I am the LORD's," and another will call himself by the name of Jacob; still another shall inscribe upon his hand, "unto the LORD," and entitle himself with the name Israel.ⁱ

⁶Thus says the LORD, the King of Israel and his Redeemer, the LORD of hosts: I am the first and I am the last; besides Me there is no God. ⁷Who is like Me? Let him call it out, declare it and state [his proofs] before Me, for I directed the ancient people and future events. And that which is to take place let them make known. ⁸Fear not, be

a) In Babylonian cosmology, the gods were the first to emerge from primeval chaos.

b) The great miracle in Israel's history was the exodus from Egypt; but the prophet sees Israel's deliverance from idolatry and evaluates it as greater.

c) In 42:9 the new things are announced before they spring forth; here the prophet sees them germinating. The people have done nothing to merit forgiveness.

d) Vs. 25, and chap. 53, may well be regarded as the highest revelation of grace in the O.T.

e) Of your past merits.

f) "Now" the LORD, no longer a legal adversary, but a divine Redeemer.

g) Jeshurun: a title meaning "upright," in contrast to "Jacob," which means "supplanter." Jacob is now to become noble and trustworthy; a rare name for Israel [Deut. 32:15].

h) Some mss. read: "like grass in the midst of water."

i) Thus branded, desiring to be recognized as proselytes to Israel's faith.

not afraid! Have I not foretold it and long ago announced it? You are My witnesses; is there a god beside me? There is no other Rock; I know of none!

⁹All the carvers of images are confused, for their precious productions are worthless; they themselves witness that they neither see nor know anything, so that they are put to shame.

¹⁰Who formed a god and cast an image that is utterly useless? ¹¹See, all its associates shall be put to shame. Their makers are but human beings.

Should they assemble together and take their stand, they would fear and be disconcerted together. ¹²The work-er with an iron tool¹ worked it^k in the coals and shaped it with hammers, working with a strong arm; yes, he became hungry and his strength was exhausted; he drank no water and was faint. ¹³The wood-carver stretched a line and marked it with a pencil; he shaped it with chisels; then with the compass he marked it out and made it after the figure of a man, according to the beauty of the human [body], so that it inhabited a house.¹ ¹⁴A man cut down a cedar for himself and took a cypress tree, or an oak, and raised it for himself among the trees of the forest; he planted a pine tree and rain made it grow. ¹⁵This shall be to men for fuel. A part of it he took and warmed himself; yes, he kindled a fire and baked bread; and surely he made a god^m and fell prostrate before it; he fashioned it into an idol and bowed down to it. ¹⁶Part of it he burned in the fire; with that part of it he ate flesh, he roasted flesh and was satisfied; he also warmed himself and said, "Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire!" ¹⁷The rest of it he made into a god, an idol; he bowed down to it and worshiped it and prayed to it, saying, "Deliver me, for thou art my god!"

¹⁸They are ignorant, they will not understand; their eyes are besmeared so that they cannot see, and their hearts, so that they cannot understand. ¹⁹Not one considers in his heart; there is neither knowledge nor understanding to say, "Part of it I burned in the fire, yes, I baked bread upon its coals, I roasted flesh and ate it; and shall I make the remainder of it an abomination? Shall I cast myself down to the log of wood?" ²⁰He feeds on ashes; his heart is deceived, and it has led him astray; he cannot save himself, nor will he ask, "Is there not a lie in my right hand?"ⁿ ²¹Remember this, Jacob, for you, Israel, are My servant! I formed you, you are My servant; Israel, you will not be forgotten by Me. ²²I have caused your transgressions to vanish like a cloud and your sins as a fog; return to Me, for I have redeemed you.^o ²³Sing, O heavens, for the LORD has done it; shout, O you depths of the earth; break forth, O you mountains, into song; the forests also and every tree in it! For the LORD has redeemed Jacob and has glorified Himself in Israel.

²⁴Thus says the LORD, your Redeemer, He who formed you from the womb: I am the LORD, the Maker of all things, I alone stretched out the heavens and founded the earth by Myself; ²⁵I am He who confounds the omens of soothsayers, makes diviners mad, refutes the sages showing that their wisdom is folly, ²⁶who confirms the words of His servants, and fulfills the counsel of His messengers. It is I who say to Jerusalem, Be inhabited and to the cities of Judah, They shall be rebuilt, and I will raise her ruins. ²⁷I am the One saying to the deep, Be dry, I will dry up your rivers; ²⁸I am He who says of Cyrus: He is My shepherd, and he shall fulfil all My pleasure; and of Jerusalem, She shall be rebuilt, and of the temple, I will restore your foundations.

45 THUS SAYS THE LORD TO HIS anointed, to Cyrus,^p whose right hand I hold fast to subdue nations be-

j) The workman in metal. k) The image. l) As a shrine. m) Of the other portion.

n) The prophet here, in vs. 9-20, lashes idolatry with satire and scorn. The details of the work in making them is the most vivid exposure of idols and their manufacture in his entire book.

o) Cf. 43:25; their consciousness of guilt will vanish through the LORD's promise of forgiveness; clouds and mists are transitory. Redemption is regarded as a motive for conversion.

p) Cyrus is consecrated as the LORD's agent in the redemption of Israel. He alone of foreign rulers receives the title, "His anointed."

fore him, and I will loose the loins of kings,^q to open double doors before him and the gates shall not be closed.^r ²I Myself will go before you^r and make smooth the rough places. I will shatter the doors of brass and cut apart the bars of iron.^s ³I will give you the treasures of darkness and hoarded wealth of secret places that you may know that I am the LORD, and that I, who have called you by name, am the God of Israel. ⁴For the sake of My servant Jacob and of Israel, My chosen one, I have called you by name; I have given you a title though you do not know Me.^t ⁵I am the LORD; there is no other; beside Me there is no God. I will gird you, though you do not know Me,^u so that all may know, from the rising of the sun to its setting, that beside Me there is none; I am the LORD, and there is no other. ⁶I form the light and create darkness; I make peace and create calamity; I am the LORD who does all these things. ⁷Pour down, O heavens from above, and let the skies rain righteousness; let the earth open and salvation spring forth^v and righteousness sprout together with it. I the LORD have created it.

⁸Alas for him who strives with his Maker, an earthen vessel from [among] vessels of earth! Shall the clay ask him who fashions it, "What are you making?" or [say], "Your workmanship has no hands?" ⁹Alas for him who says to [his] father, "What would you beget?" or to a woman, "What would you travail for?" ¹⁰Thus says the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, his Maker: Would you question Me about the things to come concerning My children? Would you command Me concerning the work of My hands? ¹¹I made the earth and created man upon it; I with My hand stretched out the heavens and appointed their starry host. ¹²I raised him up in righteousness^w and will make plain all his ways. He shall rebuild My city and return My exiles without reward or hire, says the LORD of hosts.

¹³Thus says the LORD: The resources of Egypt, the merchandise of Ethiopia, and the Sabeans, men of great stature, shall come toward you and belong to you; they shall come after you; in chains shall they come and bow down before you and plead with you because with you alone is God, and there is no other. ¹⁴Truly Thou art a God who hidest Thyself,^x God of Israel, Savior! ¹⁵All the makers of idols are together ashamed and disgraced and are gone away in confusion. ¹⁶But Israel shall be saved by the LORD with an everlasting salvation; you shall never be ashamed or disgraced for ever and ever.

¹⁷For thus says the LORD, who created the heavens; He is the God who formed the earth, fashioned it, and firmly fixed it; He created it not in vain, but made it for habitation: I am the LORD, and there is no other. ¹⁸I have not spoken in secret or in dark corners of the earth, nor have I ever said to the descendants of Jacob, Seek Me in vain. I, the LORD, speak the truth and declare what is right.

¹⁹Assemble now, approach, and come near unitedly, you escapees of the nations! No knowledge have they who carry their carved idols of wood and pray to gods that cannot save. ²⁰Declare them, bring them,^x yes, take counsel together. Who announced this long ago and since declared it? Was it not I, the LORD? There is no other God beside Me. I am a righteous and rescuing God; there is no God apart from Me! ²¹Look to Me and be saved, all the ends of the earth; for I am God, and there is no other. ²²By Myself I have sworn: The word of truth has gone forth from My mouth, and it shall not return; therefore to Me every knee shall bow and every tongue shall swear. ²³Surely, one shall say, in the

q) Hebrew idiom meaning: "I will weaken or handicap kings."

r) The LORD here is addressing Cyrus [vss. 2-7].

s) A phrase quoted in "The Hymn of the Initiates," The Dead Sea Scrolls. "Hymns," Sect. 10, No. 23: "Bars of iron and doors of brass [held me]."

t) Cyrus, when called, was not a worshiper of the LORD.

u) This reading of the Dead Sea Scrolls is preferable to "let them bring forth salvation."

v) They will see that the LORD's choice of Cyrus to assist in the emancipation of Israel was right.

w) He works in mysterious ways.

x) Give reasons for praying to gods that cannot save.

LORD I have righteousness⁷ and strength; unto Him shall all men who were incensed against Him come and be ashamed. ²⁵In the LORD shall all the offspring of Israel be justified and be triumphant.²

46 BEL IS BOWED DOWN, NEBO IS stooping,^a their images are consigned to animals and to cattle; these which are carried about are heavily loaded, making a burden for the weary beast. ²They stoop, they bow down together, they cannot save the load; they themselves are gone into captivity.

³Listen to me, O house of Jacob, and all of you who remain of the house of Israel, whom I have transported from birth and carried from the womb!^b ⁴Even to old age I am the same and to [the time of] gray hair I will bear^c you. I have made you and I will carry you: even I will bear you and save you.

⁵To whom then will you liken Me, make Me equal, and compare Me, that we should be like one another?

⁶They lavishly pour out gold from a bag and weigh silver in a balance; they hire a goldsmith to make it into a god, and they prostrate themselves and worship it. ⁷They lift it upon their shoulders, they carry it, and they put it down in its place. There it stands; it cannot move from its place. Though one cries to it for help, it does not answer or save him from his distress.

⁸Remember this and show yourselves human;^d recall this to mind, you apostates; ⁹remember the former things of old; for I am God, and I alone am God; there is no other like Me ¹⁰who announces the end from the beginning and from ancient times things that have not yet taken place, saying, My purpose shall stand, and I will do all that pleases Me; ¹¹calling a ravenous bird^e from the east and from a faraway land the man of My counsel. Yea, I have spoken, I will bring it about; I have planned it, I will perform it. ¹²Listen to Me, you stout-hearted who are far from righteousness. ¹³I will bring My righteousness near; it shall not be far away and My salvation shall not tarry. I will give salvation in Zion and to Israel My glory.^f

47 COME DOWN AND SIT IN THE dust, virgin daughter of Babylon;^g sit on the ground, there is no throne [for you], daughter of the Chaldeans; for you shall no longer be called dainty and delicate. ²Take the millstones and grind meal, doff your veil, strip off the skirt, bare the leg, pass through rivers. ³Your disgrace shall be exposed, likewise your shame shall appear! For I will take vengeance, I will spare no man.^h ⁴The name of our Redeemerⁱ is the LORD of hosts, the Holy One of Israel.

⁵Sit in silence and enter obscurity, daughter of the Chaldeans, for you shall no longer be called the mistress of kingdoms. ⁶I was angry with My people, I profaned My heritage;^j I gave them into your hand, you showed them no mercy; on the aged you made your yoke excessively heavy. ⁷You boasted, "I shall remain as mistress forever," so that you took none of these things to heart, nor did you think on the result of it.^k

⁸Now hear this, you sensual one,

y) "Righteousness" is here in the plural, which intensifies the idea of both salvation and victory.
z) Apparently including the Gentiles [cf. vss. 14, 22].

a) Bel and Nebo were the supreme deities of the Babylonians, Bel being Baal in Hebrew and meaning "lord"; Nebo was the god of learning, whose chief seat of worship was in Borsippa near Babylon.

b) Idols had to be carried by worshipers. God carries His worshipers from time of birth.

c) Hebrew term means: "carry a heavy load."

d) This Hebrew term is found nowhere else in the Scriptures. Thought is: "acknowledge your guilt."

e) Birds of prey were swift in their movements; Nebuchadrezzar is likened to an eagle [Jer. 49:22; Ezek. 17].

f) Vs. 13 has 3 terms indicating the one redemption for God's people: righteousness, salvation, and glory.

g) Babylon is here portrayed as a delicate but haughty queen, reduced to the condition of a menial slave, in spite of all that her magicians and astrologers can do for her.

h) i.e., no man shall be able to resist Me!

i) When Babylon is disgraced by the Lord, captive Israel is redeemed.

j) i.e., I ordered it to be defiled. k) Babylon's boasting resulted in a blind mind and a hard heart.

sitting securely and saying to yourself, "I am, and there is no one equal to me; I shall not sit as a widow or experience the loss of children!" ⁹But these two things shall come upon you suddenly, in a single day, loss of children and widowhood; in full measure they shall come upon you in the midst of your numerous sorceries and the great abundance of your enchantments. ¹⁰You have felt secure in your wickedness and said, "No one sees me"; but your wisdom and your knowledge have seduced you, for you said in your heart, "I am, and there is no one equal to me." ¹¹But disaster shall come upon you, which you shall not be able to charm away; ruin shall fall upon you, which you will not be able to avert; and desolation shall suddenly come upon you, of which you had no expectation. ¹²Persist then with your incantations and your many enchantments, with which you have wearied yourself from your youth; perhaps you will be able to profit; perhaps you will inspire terror.

¹³You are exhausted due to your many plans; let the astrologers, the stargazers, and the monthly prognosticators^m stand up and save you from what shall come upon you. ¹⁴Take note! They shall all be like stubble, the fire shall consume them. They shall not be able to save themselves from the power of the flame. Such coals are not for warming, not as a fire to sit by. ¹⁵Such to you are theyⁿ with whom you have wearied yourself, with whom you have dealt from your youth. Each one wanders off in his own direction; not one will save you.^o

48 HEAR THIS, HOUSE OF JACOB, who are called by the name of Israel and are sprung from the waters of Judah; who swear by the name of the LORD and profess the God of Israel, but neither truthfully nor rightfully.^p ²For they call themselves citizens of the holy city^q and depend on the God of Israel whose name is the LORD of hosts.

³Former events I declared in ancient times, they issued from My mouth. I caused them to be heard; then suddenly I did them and they came to pass. ⁴Because I knew that you were obstinate, that your neck was an iron sinew and your forehead brass, ⁵therefore I told you long ago; before it happened I warned you, lest you should say, "My idol did these things; my graven and molten image ordered them." ⁶You have heard and now see it all, and you, will you not declare it? Henceforth I am going to tell you of new things, guarded secrets of which you have never heard,^r ⁷things created now and not long ago; before today you did not hear of them lest you should say, "Look, I knew about them!" ⁸Indeed, you never heard nor knew them, nor did you open your ears before this. For I knew you to be very treacherous and that you have been called a transgressor from your birth.

⁹For My name's sake I have postponed My anger, and for My praise I have held Myself back from cutting you off. ¹⁰Look! I have refined you, but without finding silver, and tried you in the furnace of affliction. ¹¹For My own sake, for My own sake,^s I must do it, for how My name is profaned! I will not yield My glory to another.

¹²Listen to Me, O Jacob, and Israel, My called one; I am He, I am the first; I am also the last. ¹³My hand founded the earth, and My right hand spread out the skies; I call to them and they respond together. ¹⁴Assemble, all of you, and hear! Who among you foretold these things? There is one whom the LORD loves;^t therefore He shall

l) In 8:19, Isaiah had already boldly challenged the sorcerers.

m) Referring to those who mapped out the heavens in zones, gazed at the stars, and professed to foretell lucky and unlucky days. n) i.e., such is their fate.

o) No amount of sorcery or enchantment will suffice to avert Babylon's desolation!

p) Israel is again addressed as apostates, as in Isa. 1.

q) Jerusalem is still called "the holy city."

r) Namely, the overthrow of pagan idolatry, the coming of Cyrus, and the new manifestations of the LORD's glory.

s) The LORD's honor is carefully guarded by the prophet's repetition of "For My own sake."

t) "The called one": Israel [cf. vs. 12].

carry out His pleasure on Babylon, and His arm shall be raised against the Chaldeans. ¹⁵I, even I, have foretold it; yes, I called him^u and brought him and prospered his way. ¹⁶Draw near to Me and listen to this: from the first I have not spoken in secret; at the time it comes to pass I will be there. For God the Lord has sent Me^v and His Spirit.

¹⁷Thus says the LORD, your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel: I am the LORD your God, who teaches you for your profit, who leads you in the way you should go. ¹⁸Oh! that you had listened to My commandments; then your peace would be like a river and your righteousness like the waves of the sea.^w Your descendants would be like the sand, and like its grains so would be the offspring of your body; their name would not be cut off nor destroyed from before Me.^x

²⁰Go forth from Babylon! Flee from the Chaldeans! Announce this with a singing voice; let this be heard, let it go forth to the ends of the earth. Say, "The LORD has redeemed His servant Jacob!" ²¹They thirsted not when He led them through the deserts. Water for them He made to flow from the rock; He split the rock and water came gushing forth.^y

²²There is no peace, says the LORD, for the wicked.

49 LISTEN TO ME, YOU ISLANDS, and pay attention, you peoples from afar! The LORD called me from my birth, from the body of my mother He has caused my name to be remembered. ²He made my mouth like a sharp sword and in the shadow of His hand He hid me; He made me a polished arrow, and in His quiver He concealed me. ³He said to me, You are My servant, Israel, in whom I will be glorified. ⁴But I said, "I have labored in vain, I have spent my strength for nothing; nevertheless surely my right is at the LORD's disposal and my recompense rests with God."

⁵But now the LORD, who formed me from my birth to be His servant, to bring Jacob back to Him and that Israel might be gathered for Him — for I am honorable in the LORD's eyes and my God is my strength — ⁶He says: It is too light a thing that you should be My servant, to raise up the tribes of Jacob and to restore the preserved of Israel; I will make you a light to the nations that My salvation may reach to the end of the earth.^z ⁷Thus says the LORD, the Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel, to the one despised by men, abhorred by the nation and the servant of rulers: Kings shall see and stand up; princes also shall pay homage; because of the LORD, who is faithful, the Holy One of Israel, who has chosen you.^a ⁸Thus says the LORD: In a favorable time I have answered you, and in a day of salvation I have helped you; I will protect you and make you a covenantal pledge to the people to re-establish the land and cause to re-inherit the desolate possessions;^b ⁹to say to the prisoners, "Come out," and to those in darkness, "Show yourselves." Alongside the roads^c they shall feed, and on all the bare hills shall be their pasture. ¹⁰They shall not hunger or thirst, and no mirage or sun shall plague them; for He who has mercy shall lead them, and to fountains of water He shall guide them. ¹¹I will make the hills into a roadway, and my highways shall be elevated. ¹²Behold, these come from far away; look, these [are] from the north and from the west; and these are from the land of Syene.^d ¹³Sing, O heavens, and rejoice, O earth; let the mountains break forth into song; for the LORD has compassion on His people and

u) Cyrus, the Lord's agent for Babylon's destruction and Israel's deliverance.

v) Cf. Isa. 61:1 and its fulfillment, Luke 4:18-21.

w) What Israel might have been may still become their experience.

x) Cf. the Lord's promise to Abraham [Gen. 13:16; 15:5; 17:6].

y) Vss. 20 and 21 are full of both prospect and retrospect.

z) To restore Israel was but part of the Servant's task. a) Vs. 7 anticipates the message of ch. 53.

b) Reflects Joshua's initial dividing of the land. c) As they travel homeward.

d) Syene may be China or identified with Assouan near the First Cataract of the Nile in Upper Egypt. Later a Jewish colony sprang up there.

will show mercy to His afflicted ones.

¹⁴But Zion says, "The LORD has forsaken me; the Lord has forgotten me!"

¹⁵Can a woman forget her nursing child that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? Yes, they may forget, but I, I will never forget you. ¹⁶Behold, I have graven you upon the palms of My hands. Your walls are continually before Me. ¹⁷Your builders have caused your destroyers to hasten away, and your devastators are departing from you. ¹⁸Lift up your eyes, look round about and see! They all are gathering to come to you.^e As I live, says the LORD, you shall surely adorn yourself with them all as ornaments and fasten them on like a bride.^f

¹⁹Then your ruined and desolate places, yes, your devastated land will become too narrow for your inhabitants. Those who swallowed you up will be far away. ²⁰Also the children of which you were bereft shall say in your ears, "This place is too narrow for us; give us room to live." ²¹And you will say to yourself, "Who has produced these for me? I was bereaved and childless, exiled and wandering, but these, who has brought them up? See, I was left alone, whence have these come?"

²²Thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will lift up My hand to the nations; I will raise high My signal to the peoples, and they shall bring your sons in their arms, and your daughters shall be carried on their shoulders. ²³Kings shall be your foster fathers^g and their queens your nursing mothers. With their faces to the ground, they shall fall down before you and they shall lick the dust of your feet;^h then you will know that I am the LORD, and that no one who trusts in Me shall be ashamed.

²⁴Shall booty be recovered from a mighty one, or shall lawfully held captives be rescued?ⁱ ²⁵But thus says the LORD: Even the captive of the mighty one shall be freed, and the booty of the tyrant recovered. I will strive with your opponents, and I Myself will save your children. ²⁶I will make your oppressors eat their own flesh^j and become drunk with their own blood as with wine. All flesh shall know that I am the LORD your Saviour, your Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.

50 ¹THUS SAYS THE LORD: WHERE is the bill of divorcement of your mother with which I dismissed her?^k Or, to which of My creditors did I sell you? Observe, for your iniquities you sold yourself, and for your transgressions your mother was put away. ²Why, when I came, was there no man^l and no one to answer Me when I called? Is My hand too shortened^m to redeem? Have I no power to deliver? Behold, by My rebuke I dry up the sea and turn rivers into a desert; their fish begin to stink for want of water, they die of thirst. ³I clothe the heavens with blackness and cover them with a mourning garb of sackcloth.

⁴The Lord God has given me a tongue to know how to speak a timely word to the weary. He awakens every morning, He alerts my ear to hear as a student. ⁵The Lord God has opened my ear, I have not been rebellious, I did not pull back. ⁶I gave my back to the smiters, my cheeks to those who plucked off my beard; I did not shield my face from insult and spitting.

⁷The Lord God is my helper; therefore I am not confounded, for I set my face like a flint; I know that I shall not be put to shame. ⁸He who vindicates me is near by. Who will contend with me? Let us take our stand together. Who is my adversary? Let him come near to me. ⁹Behold, the Lord God helps me; who is he that can condemn me? Take note, all of them will wear out like a garment; moth will consume them!

¹⁰Who among you reveres the LORD? Who listens to the voice of His servant? When he walks in darkness, with-

e) In vision the prophet sees the Israelites returning and calls on Jerusalem to welcome her sons.

f) Returned exiles will adorn Jerusalem as jewels a bride. g) Heb.: "nursing fathers."

h) Licking the dust of a superior's feet is an extravagant, but thoroughly Oriental, metaphor for abject self-humiliation. Cf. Mic. 7:17; Ps. 72:9. i) Cf. 31:4. j) Cf. 9:20.

k) According to Deut. 24:1-4, a man could not remarry his divorced wife, if she had, by another husband, become a widow; Zion's divine Husband had not renounced His right to her; the wife had separated herself. l) To greet Me. m) Heb.: "Is My hand shortened, shortened?"

out a gleam of light, he will trust in the name of the LORD and rely on his God. ¹¹Look, all you who kindle the fire and set off the sparksⁿ — walk in the light of your fire and amid the sparks you have lit. This comes to you from My hand;^o you shall lie down in torment.

51 LISTEN TO ME, YOU WHO FOLLOW after righteousness,^p you who seek the LORD; look to the rock from which you were hewn and to the quarry from which you have been dug. ²Look to Abraham your father and to Sarah who bore you! For when he was but one I did call him; I blessed him and multiplied him. ³Thus the LORD comforts Zion; He comforts all her piled-up ruins. Her wilderness He shall make like Eden and her desert portions like the garden of the LORD. Joy and gladness shall abound in her, thanksgiving too and melodious song.

⁴Attend to Me, My people, and give ear to Me, My nation; for a law^a shall issue forth from Me, and My justice^r will I set for a light to the peoples. ⁵My victory is near; My salvation is gone forth; My arms shall judge the people; the islands shall wait for Me, and in Me shall they put their trust. ⁶Lift up your eyes to the heavens; then look to the earth below! The skies shall vanish like smoke, and the earth shall wear out like a garment; its dwellers shall die in swarms; but My salvation shall abide forever, and My victory^q shall never be annulled.

⁷Listen to Me, you who know what is right, you people in whose heart is My instruction. Fear not the reproaches of man nor be dismayed by their revilings. ⁸For the moth shall devour them like a garment, and the worm shall consume them as wool; but My victory shall be forever and My salvation to all generations.

⁹Awake, awake, put on strength, arm of the LORD! Bestir Thyself as in the days of old, times long past! Was it not Thou who didst hew Egypt in pieces and who pierced the dragon?^t ¹⁰Was it not Thou who didst dry up the sea, the waters of the mighty deep, who madest the depths of that sea a road for the redeemed to pass over?^u ¹¹So the ransomed of the LORD shall return and come to Zion with singing and with everlasting joy upon their heads. They shall obtain joy and gladness, but sorrow and sighing shall flee away.^v

¹²I, I am He who comforts you; who are you that you should fear mortal man, or the son of man who shall be made like the grass? ¹³Should you forget the LORD, your Maker, who stretched out the heavens and laid the foundations of the earth, so that you are every day continually filled with terror because of the wrath of the oppressor when he is out to destroy? Where, now, is the wrath of the oppressor? ¹⁴The captured ones shall speedily be set free; he shall not die or go down to the pit of death, nor shall he lack bread. ¹⁵For I am the LORD your God, who stirs up the sea that its billows roar; the LORD of hosts is His name. ¹⁶I have put My words in your mouth and have covered you in the shadow of My hand, stretching out the heavens, founding the earth, and saying to Zion, You are My people!^w

¹⁷Awaken! Rouse yourself, rise up, Jerusalem! You have had to drink from the LORD's hand His cup of indignation, the cup that causes you to stagger,^x and you have drained it to the dregs.^y ¹⁸There is not one to lead you of all the sons she has borne; neither is there one of all the sons she nourished that takes her by the hand.^z ¹⁹These two things have overtaken you — but who can be sorry for you? — desolation and destruction, starvation

n) Fire and sparks of sin, apostasy.

o) The LORD overrules evil, causing it to return upon the heads of evildoers.

p) i.e., you can seek to conform to God's will. q) Torah: revelation of God's will.

r) The LORD's application of His will to life.

s) Heb.: tzaddik — righteousness executed equals victory. t) Cf. chap 27:1 and footnotes.

u) Israel's passage through the Red Sea. v) Cf. Isa. 35:10.

w) This was comfort and encouragement to a people who had before heard, "You are not my people" [cf. Hos. 1:9]. x) Heb.: "bowl of cup of reeling."

y) Sennacherib's own account of Judah's humiliation records 46 of her walled cities conquered, many inhabitants carried away, and King Hezekiah shut up in his palace like a bird in its cage.

z) The princes and rulers were carried away captive.

and slaughter. Whom can I use to comfort you? ²⁰Your sons are lying helpless at the head of every street like antelopes entrapped in nets; they are full of the LORD's fury, the rebuke of your God.

²¹Therefore hear this, you afflicted ones, who are drunk but not with wine.^a ²²Thus says the Lord, the LORD, your God, who pleads the cause of His people: See, I have removed from your hand the cup that causes you to stagger, even the cup you drained to the dregs, and you shall not continue to drink of it. ²³But I will place it in the hand of your oppressors, those who said to you, "Bow down, that we may pass over you"; and you made your back as the earth and as a street to them who passed over.

52 AWAKE, AWAKE, PUT ON YOUR strength, O Zion; put on your glorious apparel, Jerusalem, the holy city; for there shall no more come into you the uncircumcised and unclean. ²Shake off the dust, stand erect, then sit down, Jerusalem; free yourself from the bonds about your neck, captive daughter of Zion. ³For thus says the LORD: You sold yourself for nothing, and without money you shall be redeemed. ⁴For thus says the Lord God: My people went down long ago into Egypt to sojourn there; the Assyrians have oppressed them without cause.^b ⁵And now, what do I find? asks the LORD; that My people have been taken away for nothing? that their rulers complain and My name, says the LORD, is blasphemed all day continually; ⁶therefore My people must learn My name; yes, on that day, they must learn that it is I who speak; it is I!

⁷How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him who brings good tidings, who publishes peace, who brings good tidings of well-being, who publishes salvation, who says to Zion, "Your God reigns!" ⁸Listen! Your watchmen raise their voices,^c together they sing for joy; for eye to eye they gaze at the return of the LORD to Zion. ⁹Break forth joyously, sing together, you wasted ruins of Jerusalem, for the LORD has comforted His people; He has redeemed Jerusalem. ¹⁰The LORD has bared His holy arm before the eyes of all the nations, and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God.

¹¹Depart, depart, go out of there;^d touch no unclean thing; go out from the midst of her; purify yourselves, you who bear the vessels of the LORD. ¹²For not with haste will you go out, nor in flight will you depart, for the LORD goes before you, the God of Israel is your rear guard.

¹³Behold! My Servant shall work wisely,^e He shall arise, be exalted, and shall stand exceedingly high. ¹⁴As many at first were astonished at Him — His appearance was so disfigured beyond human semblance and His form beyond that of the sons of men^f — ¹⁵so He shall sprinkle^g many nations; kings shall stand in silence before Him, having never been told what they now see and never understood what they now hear.^h

53 WHO HAS BELIEVED OUR MESSAGEⁱ and to whom has the arm of the LORD been revealed? ²For He grew up before Him as a tender plant, like a root out of a dry ground, without form or comeliness, that we should have looked at Him; possessed of no beauty, so that we should be drawn toward Him. ³He was despised and shunned by men,^j a man of sufferings and acquainted with sickness; and we hid our faces at the sight of Him;^k He

a) Zion's desperate state of spiritual declension exceeded her sad physical condition.

b) The Lord classifies the Egyptian sojourn with Assyrian oppression. From both God brought, or will bring, relief.

c) From afar the watchmen on Zion's walls see some of Israel's exiles returning, the Lord leading them. d) From all centers of pagan idolatry. e) The abundant results prove this.

f) What follows in Chap. 53 is an amplification of this statement.

g) The terms used here might mean startle, but the term used is the regular O.T. term employed for sprinkling; e.g., with sacrifices.

h) The glory of the Messiah will outshine all earthly glory.

i) The revelation received, and here referring especially to the proclamation of that revelation.

j) Shunned, because unattractive; but what He suffered, they and we deserved.

k) Heb.: literally, "and as a hiding of faces from Him."

was despised and we did not esteem Him.

⁴Surely He has borne our sicknesses and carried our sorrows; yet we regarded Him as a stricken one, smitten of God, and afflicted. ⁵But He was pierced for our transgressions; He was bruised for our iniquities; the punishment which procured our peace fell upon Him, and with His stripes we are healed. ⁶All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned each one to his own way; and the LORD has laid on Him the iniquity of us all.

⁷He was maltreated, and He submitted Himself;¹ He opened not His mouth; as a lamb that is led to the slaughter and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so He opened not His mouth. ⁸From distress and from judgment He was taken, and who of His contemporaries would consider that He was cut off from the land of the living for the transgressions of my covenant people to whom the stroke was due?^m ⁹Men made His grave with the criminals, and He was with the rich in His death,ⁿ although He had done no violence, nor was there any deceit in His mouth.

¹⁰Yet it was the LORD's will to bruise Him; He put Him to grief. When His soul shall constitute an offering for sin, He shall see His followers, He shall prolong His days,^o by His hand shall the LORD's will advance. ¹¹The results of the sufferings of His life He shall see — He shall be satisfied. By knowledge of Him shall My Righteous Servant make many righteous, for He shall bear their guilt. ¹²Therefore I will give to Him His portion among the great, and with mighty ones shall He apportion gain. For He poured out His soul unto death and was numbered with the transgressors, while He bore sins of many and made intercession for transgressors.^p

54 SING, BARREN ONE, "YOU WHO did not give birth; break into a song, and shout aloud, you who never writhed in childbirth; for more numerous are the children of the single than the children of the married, says the LORD. ²Enlarge the space of your tent, and stretch out the curtains of your dwelling; do not hesitate, but lengthen your cords and make secure your tent pegs! ³For to the right and to the left you will expand abroad, until your descendants shall possess the nations and populate desolate cities.^r

⁴Fear not, for you shall not be ashamed; be not confounded, for you shall not be made to blush; you shall forget the shame of your youth, and the reproach of your widowhood you shall remember no more. ⁵For your true husband is your Maker, the LORD of hosts is His name, and the Holy One of Israel is your Redeemer; He shall be called the God of the whole earth. ⁶For the LORD has called you when you were an outcast woman and grieved in spirit, and as a woman in youth who was rejected, says your God. ⁷For a brief moment did I forsake you,^s but with great compassion I will gather you. ⁸In an outburst of indignation I hid My face from you for a moment, but with everlasting mercy I will have compassion on you, says the LORD, your Redeemer.

⁹For this is to Me as in the days of Noah: I swore that the waters of Noah should never again submerge the earth, so have I sworn not to be angry with you again or to rebuke you. ¹⁰For though the mountains should move and the hills should shake, My loving-kindness shall never depart from you nor the covenant of My peace be withdrawn, says the LORD, who has compassion upon you.

¹¹Wretched one, storm-tossed, and disconsolate, see! I will lay your stones

1) The Father's will is also the will of the suffering Son.

m) The Servant's sufferings were for all mankind and for all time.

n) Jesus was with criminals on crosses, and His body was laid in Joseph's tomb.

o) Though dead, He continues to live.

p) This fourth "Servant" song has been rightly interpreted by the Church as fulfilled in Jesus Christ.

q) We hear no more of the "Servant," but of "the servants" of the LORD [54:17; 56:6; 63:17; 65:8, 9, 13-15; 66:14; cf. 61:1-3].

r) The vision of the LORD's victorious "Servant" in Chap. 53 inspires the prophet with a rapturous picture of Jerusalem's glorious future [cf. Isa. 11:14].

s) "Brief," in comparison with the endless glory which shall follow; all their catastrophes are regarded as incidents.

in antimony^t and will establish you upon sapphires. ¹²I will make your pinnacles of agates, your gates of carbuncles, and your surrounding walls of precious gems. ¹³All your sons shall be taught by the LORD, and great shall be the peace of your children. ¹⁴In righteousness you shall be established; you shall be far from oppression, so be not afraid, and from terror, for it shall not come near you. ¹⁵They who gather to attack you do so not by Me; he who stirs up strife with you shall fall before you. ¹⁶Behold, it is I who created the smith who blows on the burning coals to produce a tool for his work, and I have created the devastator to destroy.^u ¹⁷No weapon that is formed against you shall prosper, and every tongue that rises against you in judgment you shall condemn. This is the heritage of the LORD's servants and their victory from Me, says the LORD.

55 PAUSE, EVERYONE WHO IS thirsty, come to the waters, and he who has no money, come, buy and eat; yes, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price.^v ²Why do you spend your money for what is not bread and your labor for what never satisfies? Listen carefully to Me, and eat what is good;^w let your soul delight itself in abundance. ³Incline your ear and come to Me; hear, and your soul^x shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the unfailing mercies to David.^y ⁴Behold, I made Him a witness to the people, a leader and a commander of the nations. ⁵Surely, you shall call a nation that you do not know, and peoples that did not know you shall run to you because of the LORD your God and for the Holy One of Israel, for He has glorified you.

⁶Seek the LORD while He may be found. Call upon Him while He is near! ⁷Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his schemings; let him return to the LORD, and He will have mercy on him, to our God, for He will abundantly pardon. ⁸For My thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways My ways, says the LORD. ⁹For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than your ways and My thoughts than your thoughts. ¹⁰For as the rain and the snow come down from heaven and do not return thither, but water the earth and make it bring forth and bud and so give seed to the sower and bread to the eater, ¹¹so shall My word be, which goes forth from My mouth; it shall not come back to Me uselessly, but it shall do what I purpose and accomplish what I commissioned it.

¹²For you shall go out with joy and be led forth in peace, the mountains and the hills breaking out in song before you and all the trees of the field clapping their hands. ¹³Instead of the thorn shall come up the cypress; instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle; and they shall be to the LORD for His renown, for an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off.

56 THUS SAYS THE LORD: MAINTAIN justice and practice the right, for My salvation is close at hand and My victory is ready to be revealed. ²Blessed is the man who observes this and the son of man who holds to it strictly, who observes the Sabbath, does not profane it, and restrains his hand from doing evil.^z ³Let not the stranger who has joined himself to the LORD say, "The LORD will surely separate me from His people"; neither let the eunuch say, "See, I am a dry tree."^{aa} ⁴For thus says the LORD: The eunuchs who keep My Sabbaths and choose things in which I delight and hold fast to My covenant, ⁵to them I will give within My house and within My walls

t) Antimony is a black powder, used by Oriental ladies in painting their eyelids and eyebrows, to give them a more distinctive appearance. u) The LORD is the arbiter of war.

v) The gospel appeal to a people, oblivious of the "wells of salvation" promised in 12:3.

w) Israel's prosperity depends on obedience to the invitation.

x) To the Hebrew, the "soul" was the seat also of sensuous enjoyment [cf. 29:8].

y) Cf. II Sam. 7:8-16.

z) These two ordinances were fundamental conditions of Jewish citizenship, Sabbath observance, and upright living. Chap. 55 expounds the grace and faithfulness of God; this chapter emphasizes obedience to His Law.

a memorial^a and a name better than sons and daughters; an endless name I will give them, one that shall not be cut off.

⁶Also the foreigners who join themselves to the LORD, to minister to Him, to love the name of the LORD, and to be His servants, every one who keeps the Sabbath and does not profane it, holding fast to My covenant — ⁷them I will bring to My holy mountain, and I will make them joyful in My house of prayer. Their burnt offerings and their sacrifices will be accepted on My altar, for My house shall be called a house of prayer for all peoples.^b ⁸Thus says the Lord God, who gathers the exiled of Israel, I will collect yet others unto them besides those already gathered.

⁹All you beasts of the field and you animals of the forest, come and devour. ¹⁰His watchmen are blind; they do not know they are all dumb dogs that cannot bark, loving to lie down to dream and slumber. ¹¹As greedy dogs they never experience satisfaction; without exception, the shepherds themselves cannot make distinctions;^c each in his own way seeks his own gain. ¹²"Come," they say, "let us^d fetch wine; let us guzzle strong drink, and let tomorrow be as today, only more so."

57 THE RIGHTEOUS MAN PERISHES and nobody cares; godly^e men are snatched away, while no one lays it to heart that the righteous man is taken away before calamity comes; ²he enters peace. They rest each in his bed^f who has gone on his upright way. ³But come here, you sons of a sorceress, offspring of an adulterer and a harlot! ⁴At whom are you sneering with open mouth and jeering with thrust-out tongue? Are you not the children of sin, a disloyal brood? ⁵You who inflame your passions under the oak and under every green tree, even slaughtering children in the valleys and in the clefts of the rocks? ⁶Among the polished stones of the valley is your portion; they, yes, they are your lot; to them you pour out your libations and bring your meal offerings. Should I be appeased by such doings? ⁷Upon a high and lofty mountain you have spread your [adulterous] bed, and thither you climbed to offer sacrifice. ⁸Behind the door and the side post you have set up your symbol.^g Deserting Me, you have uncovered your bed, have gone up on it, have widened it, and have bargained for those whose embraces you love and with whom you have multiplied your harlotries, gazing upon your symbol. ⁹You have anointed yourselves for Molech^h and have sent him presents of oil and perfume;ⁱ you sent your envoys far off and abased yourselves to Sheol. ¹⁰Thus you have wearied yourselves with your many wanderings; yet you never said, "It is hopeless." You found new strength, so you were not exhausted.

¹¹Now whom did you dread and fear that you were so false; that you did not remember Me or give Me any thought? Was it not because I have so long kept silent that you have not revered me? ¹²I will make known what your righteousness and your doings come to, and they will not benefit you. ¹³When you cry out, let your idol-collection save you. The wind will carry them away; even a breath will take them off. But he who takes refuge in Me shall inherit the land and shall possess My holy mountain.

¹⁴It shall be said,^j Build up, build up, prepare the way; remove every ob-

a) In Hebrew for "memorial" the word is yad, "hand." On ancient Phoenician and Punic stones the figure of a "hand" is often found, intended as a "memorial." To the prophet "the house of God" was more abiding than posterity.

b) Prayer taking the place of ritual sacrifices; therefore more attractive in winning foreigners. Jesus in cleansing the Temple cited this passage [cf. Mark 11:17].

c) Between right and wrong, the good and evil.

d) The Dead Sea Scrolls support "us" rather than "I."

e) The Hebrew word, hesed, rendered "godly," expresses deep spiritual significance. The Hasideans, forerunners of the Pharisees, bore a name built on the same Hebrew root.

f) Coffins and tombs were often spoken of by the ancients as "beds."

g) Carvings of the sexual organs were prominent in the Asherah worship, which led to the exposing of the worshippers' secret organs themselves. h) The god of the Ammonites.

i) To consult the oracles of Sheol was necromancy. Unguents played a great part in the cults of the Semites. j) The LORD is speaking, as in 40:3 ff. and also 62:10.

struction from My people's way.^k ¹⁶For thus says the high and lofty One who inhabits eternity, whose name is Holy: I dwell in the high and holy place; I also dwell with him who is lowly and contrite in spirit, to restore the spirit of the humble and to revive the heart of the contrite.^l ¹⁶For I will not contend forever, nor will I be angry forever; for the vital breath of men would fail before Me, the souls whom I created.^m ¹⁷Because of their sins of greed, I was indignant for a time and smote them and in anger hid My face; then they went astray according to their own desires. ¹⁸I saw their doings, but I will now heal them and guide them, repaying them with comfort — those of them who are sorry. I create the product of the lips.ⁿ ¹⁹Peace! peace! to those afar and to those near, says the LORD; and I will heal them. ²⁰But the wicked are like the troubled sea; it cannot rest and its waters cast up mire and dirt. ²¹There is no peace, says my God, for the wicked.^o

58 CRY ALOUD, SPARE NOT, LIFT up your voice like a trumpet; announce to My people their transgression and to the house of Jacob their sins.^p ²Yet they seek Me daily and delight to know My ways, as a nation that does what is right and has not forsaken the law of their God. They ask of Me about the righteous ordinances;^q they delight to draw near to God. ³They say, "Why have we fasted, and Thou seest it not? Why do we afflict ourselves, and Thou takest no notice of our humility?"

Because on your fast days you seek your own pleasure and oppress all your employees. ⁴You fast for strife and contention; you strike with your wicked fist.^r You are not fasting today so as to have your voice reach on high. ⁵Can such a fast be the kind I choose — a man to bow down his head like a rush, to lie in sackcloth and ashes? Is that what you call fasting, or an acceptable day to the LORD?^s ⁶Is not this the fast I have chosen: to loosen the bonds of wickedness; to undo the bands of the yoke; to let the oppressed go free, and to break every yoke? ⁷Is it not to share your bread with the hungry, and to take the outcast poor into your home; to clothe those you see unclad, and not to hide yourself from your own flesh?

⁸Then shall your light break forth like the dawn, and your healing shall follow speedily; your righteousness shall go before you, and the glory of the LORD shall follow you as your rear guard. ⁹Then you will call and the LORD shall answer; you will cry and He shall say, Here am I. If you will banish from your midst all oppression, the finger of scorn and slanderous speech, ¹⁰if you will open your heart to the hungry and satisfy the desire of the afflicted, then shall your light shine in the darkness, and your gloom shall become like noonday. ¹¹The LORD shall guide you continually and shall satisfy your soul in dry places; your strength shall be renewed, and you shall be like a well-watered garden, like a spring whose waters never disappoint.^t ¹²Your sons shall rebuild the ruins of former years and shall revive the foundations of old, and you shall be called the repairer of the breach, the restorer of streets in which to dwell.^u

¹³If you do not tramp upon the Sabbath^v by doing your business on My holy day, but call the Sabbath an en-

k) Social and political, but especially all spiritual obstacles.

l) God's infinite greatness meeting man's limitations, poverty, and need; especially those whom the rich and powerful oppress.

m) To abandon the faithful would defeat God's object in their creation.

n) Quoted in "Hymn of the Initiates," The Dead Sea Scrolls.

o) Specifically those who ignore and disobey God's law.

p) In chs. 49-57 the spiritual agent of salvation, now the conditions on which salvation may be enjoyed [chs. 58-66]. He begins, as in 40:1 and 49:1, with a double imperative.

q) Correct forms of worship. r) Such fasting only makes a man quarrelsome!

s) Lev. 16 records the only fast day required by the Law, the great day of Atonement, when Israel should "afflict their souls and do no work of any kind" [vs. 29].

t) The Dead Sea Scrolls, "Hymns," Sect. 14, No. 1: "a fountain of waters never failing."

u) Great the glory of those who repair the holy city!

v) The appointed Sabbath is holy ground. To observe the day cheerfully is a test of the people's fidelity to the LORD. The Sabbath is as a sanctuary, not to be trodden upon with irreverent feet.

joyment, in order that the LORD might be sacredly honored; and if you honor it by not doing your business, nor seeking your own pleasure, nor talking idle talk; ¹⁴then you shall find your delight in the LORD, and I will make you ride on the highways of the earth; I will nourish you with the heritage of Jacob your father, for the mouth of the LORD has spoken it.^w

59 BEHOLD, THE LORD'S HAND IS not too short to save,^x nor His ear too dull to hear; but your sins have separated you and your God; ²your iniquities have hidden His face from you, so that He could not hear you. ³Your hands are tainted with blood^y and your fingers with iniquity. Your lips spoke falsehood, and your tongue muttered injustice. ⁴No one demanded justice nor did anyone plead for honesty; they trusted in confusion and spoke falsehood, conceived mischief and produced iniquity.^z ⁵They hatch the eggs of asps^a and weave the spiders' webs. He who eats of their eggs dies; from a broken egg a viper is hatched. ⁶Their webs shall not serve as clothing; they shall not cover themselves with their own handiwork. Their works are of wickedness; deeds of violence are in their hands; ⁷their feet run to do evil; they make haste to shed innocent blood; their schemes are schemes of deceit; rapine and ruin are on their path. ⁸The way of peace they do not know; justice is not in their tracks; they have twisted their ways before them; whoever walks in that way does not know peace.^b

⁹Therefore justice is far from us, and righteousness does not overtake us. We wait for light, but look, darkness; for brightness, and we walk in gloom.^c

¹⁰We grope like a blind man along a wall, we feel our way like one without eyes; we stumble at midday as in the night. In the prime of our life we resemble the dead. ¹¹All of us growl like bears and sadly moan like doves;^d we wait for justice, but there is none; for deliverance, but it remains far from us. ¹²For our transgressions are multiplied in Thy presence; our sins witness against us; truly, our transgressions are ever with us. In regard to our iniquities, we are conscious of them:^e ¹³rebellious against and denying the LORD; discontinuing from following after our God; talking oppression and revolt; conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood. ¹⁴Justice is turned back, and righteousness stands afar off; for truth has fallen in the street, and honesty is unable to enter. ¹⁵Truth is so lacking, that if anyone turns from evil, he becomes a victim of plunder.

¹⁶The LORD saw it, and it displeased Him that there was no justice.^f He saw that there was no man; He was amazed that there was none to interpose; then His own arm brought Him victory, and His righteousness sustained Him. ¹⁷He put on righteousness as a coat of mail and salvation as a helmet upon His head; He dressed Himself in robes of vengeance for clothing, and He put on zeal^g as a cloak.^h ¹⁸According to deeds shall He surely requite: wrath to His enemies, recompense to His adversaries; to the islands shall He render retribution. ¹⁹So shall they revere the name of the LORD from the west and His glory from the rising of the sun; for He will come like a rushing stream, the breath of the LORD driving it. ²⁰He will come to Zion as her Redeemer and to those in Jacob who turn from sin, says the LORD.

w) This clause occurs also in 1:20 and 40:5, but nowhere else in the O.T. x) Cf. Isa. 50:2. y) This chapter finds its natural historical background in the 8th cent. B.C. Cf. vs. 3 with Isa. 1:15, 21.

z) The nation has become alarmingly corrupt: murder, lying, injustice, and violence fill the catalogue of Israel's many sins. Cf. Isa. 29:21.

a) Heb.: Tziphoni - a fabulous, deadly monster. Cf. Isa. 11:8.

b) In contrast to this, cf. Isa. 26:3.

c) Isaiah identifies himself with his people, and he leads them in confession of their sins as though their sins were his own. Cf. 6:3; 53:4-6. d) Pining for liberty.

e) Conscience troubled them.

f) Justice, honor, truth, and uprightness are personified in vss. 14-15; justice forced back, honor not to be found, truth stumbling in the market, and uprightness unable to enter! The scenes of this tragedy are the law courts. g) Divine jealousy.

h) Vss. 17-18 give the fullest description of the LORD as a warrior in the O.T. See also Ex. 15:3. Cf. with Eph. 6:14-17; I Thess. 5:8.

²¹And as for Me, this is My covenant with them, says the LORD: My Spirit which is upon you and My words which I have put in your mouth shall not depart from your mouth nor from the mouth of your children, nor from the mouth of your grandchildren, says the LORD, from now onward even forever.¹

60 ¹ARISE, SHINE; FOR YOUR LIGHT has come, and the glory of the LORD has risen upon you! ²For behold, darkness shall cover the earth and a dark cloud the nations; but the LORD shall arise over you, His glory shall be seen upon you. ³Nations shall walk in your light and kings in your dawning radiance. ⁴Lift up your eyes round about and see!^k They all are assembling themselves and are coming to you; your sons are coming from afar, and your daughters are carried to you on the hip.¹ ⁵Then you shall see and be radiant; your hearts will be filled with awe and swell [with joy]; because the riches of the sea shall be turned to you, and the wealth of nations shall come to you. ⁶A stream of camels will come upon you; the dromedaries^m of Midian and Ephah; all those from Sheba shall come, bringing gold and frankincense; they shall proclaim the fame of the LORD. ⁷All the flocks of Kedar shall be gathered to you, the rams of the Nabaioth shall minister to you; they shall come up with acceptance upon My altar, and My glorious house shall be glorified.ⁿ

⁸Who are these that roll in like clouds, like doves flying to their dove-cote openings? ⁹Surely, the islands must wait eagerly on Me. The vessels of Tarshish are among the first, bringing your sons from afar; their silver and gold is with them [to honor] the name of the LORD your God, the Holy One of Israel, because He has glorified you.

¹⁰The sons of strangers shall build up your walls, and their kings shall minister to you; for though in My wrath I smote you, yet in My favor^p I will have mercy upon you. ¹¹Your gates shall be open continually; neither by day nor by night shall they be closed, that men may bring to you the wealth of the nations as their kings are led captive. ¹²For the nation and the kingdom that will not serve you shall perish; those nations shall become utterly desolate. ¹³The glory of Lebanon shall come to you — the cypress, the buttonwood, and the pine together — to adorn the place of My sanctuary, and the place of My feet I will make beautiful. ¹⁴The sons of your oppressors, bending low, shall come to you; all those who once despised you shall crouch at your feet. Then they shall call you, "The city of the LORD, Zion, the Holy One of Israel."^p ¹⁵Instead of you being forsaken and hated, with no one passing through you, I will make you an everlasting majesty, a joy for many generations. ¹⁶You shall drink the milk of the nations and drain the wealth of kings; then you shall know that I am the LORD your Saviour and that your Redeemer is the Mighty One of Jacob. ¹⁷Instead of brass I will bring gold, and instead of iron I will bring silver; instead of wood, bronze, instead of stones, iron, and I will make Peace your governor and Justice your ruler.^q ¹⁸Violence shall no more be heard in your land, neither desolation nor ruin within your borders. You shall call your walls Salvation and your city gates Thanksgiving. ¹⁹No more shall the sun be your light by day nor the moon give light for brightness at night; but

j) Repeating the essential covenant promises first given to Abraham, then to all believers.

k) Ch. 53 announced the coming of the Redeemer to Zion; this chapter pictures Zion as redeemed and prosperous, exiles from distant lands crowding to share the wondrous light of God. To the eye of faith, it has come. k) i.e., look in all directions.

l) Still a mode of carrying children in the Orient [cf. Isa. 66:12].

m) Working dromedaries are usually young; they are single-humped and speedy, especially those of Midian.

n) Midian, Ephah, Sheba, and the Nabaioth were the tribes to the south and the southeast of the Dead Sea in n.w. Arabia.

o) The Biblical idea of sovereign grace, undeserved favor, is indicated here.

p) This picture of Zion's restoration is a graphic vision, transcending those of the prophet's youthful ministry [cf. 11:9; 25:8].

q) Peace and Righteousness stand in sharp contrast to the violence and injustice.

the LORD shall be your everlasting light and your God your glory. ²⁰Your sun shall never set, and your moon shall never wane; for the LORD shall be your everlasting light;^r your days of mourning shall be ended. ²¹Your people, everyone of them, shall be righteous, and they shall possess the land forever; they are a shoot which I have planted and the work of My hands, through whom I shall glorify Myself. ²²The least [among them] shall become a thousand and a small one shall become a strong nation; I, the LORD, will hasten it in its [proper] time.

61 THE SPIRIT OF THE LORD GOD is upon me;^s for the LORD has anointed^t me to preach good tidings to the humble;^u He has sent Me to heal the brokenhearted; to proclaim liberty to the captives and the opening of the prison to those who are bound; ²to proclaim the year of the LORD's favor and the day of vengeance of our God; to comfort all who mourn; ³to settle the mourners in Zion, giving them a laurel wreath instead of ashes, the oil of joy instead of mourning, the mantle of praise instead of the spirit of heaviness; so that they may be called oaks of righteousness planted by the LORD to glorify Himself.

⁴They shall rebuild the ancient ruins; they shall raise up the former devastations and renew the ruined cities, the devastations of many generations. ⁵Aliens shall stand [ready] and feed your flocks, and the sons of foreigners shall be your plowmen and vinedressers. ⁶As for you, you shall be called a priesthood^v of the LORD; "servants of our God" shall be said of you. You shall partake of the wealth of the nations, and with their riches you shall become famous.^w ⁷Instead of your shame you shall have double [reward]; instead of reproach they shall rejoice in their portion; thus shall they possess a double inheritance in their land; they shall have everlasting joy. ⁸For I the LORD love justice; I hate unjust plundering. I will faithfully give them their recompense, making an everlasting covenant with them. ⁹Their descendants shall be known among the nations and their offspring in the midst of the people. All that see them shall recognize them as descendants whom the LORD has blessed.^x

¹⁰I will greatly exult in the LORD, and my soul shall rejoice in my God;^y for He has clothed me with robes of salvation, and He has covered me with a mantle of righteousness — as a bridegroom adjusts his priestlike crown and as a bride adorns herself with jewels. ¹¹For as the earth brings forth its shoots and as a garden makes its plants to grow, so the Lord God shall cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

62 ¹FOR ZION'S SAKE I WILL NOT keep silent, and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, until her righteousness shines forth brightly and her salvation radiates as a lamp. ²The nations shall behold your deliverance and all the kings your glory. You shall then be called by a new name which the mouth of the LORD shall bestow. ³You shall be a crown of glory in the hand of the LORD and a royal diadem in the palm of your God. ⁴No more shall you be termed "Forsaken," nor your land be called "Desolate"; but you shall be called "My delight is in her,"^a and your land "Beulah";^b for the LORD takes pleasure in you, and your land shall be married [to Him]. ⁵For as a young man marries a virgin, so shall

r) The LORD's presence is symbolized as a supernatural light, superseding nature's ordinary light. Cf. 4:5; 24:23; 30:26; Rev. 21:23; not that the sun and the moon shall cease to exist, but that the new Jerusalem shall then realize her dependence on God.

s) The speaker in chaps. 61 and 62 is the Great Deliverer; the prophet is His mouthpiece.

t) Anointed in sense of appointed and qualified.

u) The Hebrew term anawim is variously translated: poor, needy, weak, afflicted, lowly.

v) Cf. 1 Peter 2:5.

w) Humbled Israel would exchange places with her famously rich captors.

x) Material prosperity will be an additional proof of God's attitude to those in Israel who believe.

y) This believer's response to the message of salvation is possible because redemption is realized. Cf. Luke 4:18-21. z) This chapter continues ch. 61. a) Heb.: Hephzibah.

b) Beulah: "Married," or "The Espoused."

your sons wed you; and as a bridegroom rejoices over his bride, so shall your God rejoice over you.

⁶Upon your walls, O Jerusalem, I have set watchmen^c who shall not be silent any day or night; and you who put the LORD in remembrance shall take no rest ⁷and give Him no rest until He establishes [you] and sets up Jerusalem for a praise in the earth. ⁸The LORD has sworn by His right hand and by His strong arm: I will certainly not give your grain as food for your foes again nor shall the aliens' sons drink your new wine for which you have labored; ⁹but they who have garnered the grain shall eat it and praise the LORD; they who have gathered the wine shall drink it in the courts of My sanctuary.

¹⁰March, march through the gates;^d prepare the way of the people; build, build up the highway; clear away the stones; lift up a banner for the people! ¹¹Behold, the LORD has made it to be heard to the end of the earth: Say to the daughter of Zion, Behold, your salvation comes; behold, His reward is with Him and His recompense before Him.^e ¹²They shall call them "The holy people, the redeemed of the LORD"; and you shall be called, "Sought out; a city not forsaken."

63 WHO^f IS THIS WHO COMES FROM Edom, with crimson-stained apparel from Bozrah, the One adorned in His apparel, marching in the greatness of His might? It is I, the One speaking righteousness, mighty to save!

²Why is thy apparel red and thy clothing stained as those of one who treads the wine press?

³I have trodden the wine press alone and from the peoples there was none with Me; I trod them in My anger and trampled them in My wrath; thus their blood was sprinkled on My clothing, and I stained all My raiment. ⁴For a day of vengeance was in My heart, and the year of My redemption has come.

⁵I looked, but there was no one to help; I marvelled that there was no one to support; so My own arm saved for Me, and My own indignation upheld Me. ⁶I trod down the peoples in My anger; I made them drunk in My fury and poured their lifeblood upon the ground.

⁷I will recount the lovingkindnesses of the LORD, the praises of the LORD, according to all that the LORD has done for us and the great goodness to the house of Israel which He showed them, according to His mercy and according to the abundance of His lovingkindness. ⁸For He said, Surely they are My people, children who will not deal falsely; so He became their Saviour. ⁹In all their affliction He was afflicted; but the Angel^g of His Presence saved them;^h in His love and in His sympathy He redeemed them; He lifted them up and carried them all the days of old.

¹⁰But they rebelled and grieved His Holy Spirit;ⁱ therefore He was turned to become their antagonist and He Himself fought against them. ¹¹But He recalled the days of old, Moses and His people. Where is He who brought up from the sea the shepherd of His flock? Where is He who put His Holy Spirit within him,^j ¹²the one causing His glorious arm to go at the right hand of Moses and dividing the waters before them to make for Him an everlasting name? ¹³Who led them through the depths? Like a horse in the wilderness they should not stumble. ¹⁴As cattle descend to the valley,^k so the Spirit of God gave them rest. Thus Thou didst lead Thy people to make for Thyself a glorious name.

¹⁵Look down from heaven, and see from Thy holy and glorious abode. Where are Thy zeal and Thy mighty acts? Thy yearning pity and compassion are withholding themselves from

c) Not mere "watchmen," who look out for the enemy, but guardians and protectors of the city's welfare. d) The gates of Jerusalem. e) Cf. 40:10.

f) Vss. 1-6 is a poem of judgment and redemption.

g) The Angel in whom the LORD was personally present.

h) The LORD and His Presence are identical. In ancient times, the LORD came to save them in person, not by proxy.

i) His Holy Spirit is grieved, which shows the prophet conceived of Him as a person.

j) The Holy Spirit is becoming more explicitly emphasized as a person, as the personal aspect was in the "Servant" in ch. 53. k) To find better pasturage, refuge, and rest.

me. ¹⁶For Thou art our Father;¹ though Abraham does not know us and Israel does not recognize us, Thou, O LORD, art our Father; our Redeemer from of old is Thy name. ¹⁷Why, O LORD, dost Thou have us wander from Thy ways and harden^m our heart so that we do not revere Thee? Return for Thy servants' sake, for the tribes of Thy heritage! ¹⁸Thy holy people possessed it for a short time; our enemies have trodden down Thy sanctuary. ¹⁹We have become like people over whom Thou hast never ruled, like those who are not called by Thy name.

64 OH, THAT THOU WOULDST REND the heavens and come down, that the mountains might quake at Thy presence, ²as fire kindles brushwood and as fire makes water to bubble; to make Thy name known to Thy adversaries; to cause the nations to tremble before Thy face ³by way of executing terrible deeds which we did not expect. Thou didst come down, the mountains quaked at Thy presence. ⁴From ancient times men have not heard or perceived, nor has human eye seen a God besides Thee who works for him who waits for Him.ⁿ ⁵Thou dost meet him who is joyful, who works righteously and who in Thy ways remembers Thee. Thou wast indeed angry because we have committed sins; we continued long in them; shall we be saved? ⁶We have all become as one unclean; all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags; we all fade as a leaf;^o our iniquities, like the wind, carry us away. ⁷No one calls on Thy name or bestirs himself to lay hold on Thee; for Thou hast hidden Thy face from us and hast delivered us to the control of our iniquities.^p

⁸Yet, LORD, Thou art our Father. We are the clay; Thou art our potter;

we all are the work of Thy hands.^q ⁹Be not angry, LORD, beyond measure, and do not remember our iniquities forever. Behold, observe, we pray Thee, we are all Thy people! ¹⁰Thy holy cities have become a wilderness; Zion is become a waste and Jerusalem a desolation. ¹¹Our holy and beautiful house in which our fathers worshiped is burned with fire, and all our cherished places have been laid waste.^r ¹²In view of these things, LORD, wilt Thou restrain Thyself, wilt Thou be silent and afflict us beyond measure?

65 I HAVE LET MYSELF BE SOUGHT out by those who did not inquire for Me;^s I was found by those who did not seek Me. I said: Here am I, here am I, to a nation which did not call on My name. ²I spread forth My hands all day long to a rebellious people, who walk in a way which is not good, after their own devices; ³a people who continually provoke Me to My face, offering sacrifices in gardens, burning incense on bricks, ⁴sitting in graves^t and lodging in secret caverns;^u who partake sacrificially of the meat of hogs,^v and in whose vessels is the broth of unclean animals;^w ⁵who say, "Keep your distance, come not near me, for I am holier than you." These are a smoke in My nostrils and a fire that burns all day. ⁶Look, it is written before Me:^x I will not keep silent, but I will recompense, I will repay into their bosoms ⁷both your iniquities and the iniquities of your fathers, says the LORD, because they too burned incense upon the mountains and reproached Me upon the hills. Therefore I will measure out their former work into their bosoms.^y

⁸Thus says the LORD: As new wine is found in the cluster and one says, "Do not destroy it, for a blessing is in it," so I will do for My servants' sakes,

l) The clearest expression in the O.T. regarding our relation to God.

m) All that happens is divinely permitted and thus forms part of His program, including human opposition to His will. n) Cf. 40:31. The prophet longs for new theophanies [physical manifestations of God's presence to man]. o) Fading both in moral vigor and in material well-being.

p) Heb.: "melted us in the hand of our iniquities."

q) Isaiah emphasizes divine sovereignty and human dependence. Cf. Isa. 29:16; 45:9; 60:21; also Ps. 100:3; Rom. 9:20-21. r) Sennacherib's humiliation of Judah went deep.

s) Heb.: "I afforded access to Myself for consultation." t) Practicing necromancy; cf. 8:19; 29:4.

u) Sleeping in secret places to obtain dreams. v) Swine were sacred to some idols.

w) Possible of mice [cf. 66:17]. x) Isaiah uses similar language in 34:16.

y) The LORD punishes according to sin; thus Isaiah re-emphasizes the LORD's justice.

that I do not destroy them all. ⁹I will bring forth a progeny² from Jacob, and from Judah the inheritors of My mountains; My chosen ones shall inherit it, and My servants shall dwell there. ¹⁰Sharon shall become a pasture for flocks, and the valley of Achor a resting place for herds for My people, because they sought Me! ¹¹But you who forsake the LORD and ignore My holy mountain, who spread a table for Fortune and make abundant mixed wine for Destiny,^a ¹²I will destine you for the sword, and you all shall bow down to the slaughter; because when I called, you did not answer, and when I spoke you did not obey, but you did what was evil in My eyes and you chose what displeased Me.

¹³Therefore thus says the Lord God: Behold, My servants shall eat, but you shall be hungry; take note, My servants shall drink, but you shall be thirsty; observe, My servants shall rejoice, but you shall be put to shame; ¹⁴mark well, My servants shall sing for gladness of heart, but you shall cry out for sorrow of heart and shall wail for anguish of soul.^b ¹⁵You shall leave your name for a curse to My chosen ones; the Lord God shall slay you; but His servants shall be called by another name. ¹⁶Then he who blesses himself in the land shall swear by the God of truth,^c because the former troubles shall have been forgotten and hidden from My eyes.

¹⁷For behold, I am creating new heavens and a new earth.^d The past shall be forgotten and shall never come to mind; ¹⁸but rejoice and exult forever over what I create, for I create Jerusalem [an occasion] for joy, and her people will rejoice. ¹⁹I too will rejoice over Jerusalem and will delight in My people. No more will there be heard in her the voice of weeping or the voice of crying. ²⁰No more shall there be in it infants that live a few days; or old men who do not live out their days;^e for the youth shall die a centenarian. Even the sinner shall be struck by the curse at a hundred. ²¹They shall build houses and inhabit them; they shall plant vineyards and eat their fruit. ²²They shall not build and another inhabit; nor shall they plant and another eat. For as the lifetime of a tree so are the days of My people, and My elect shall enjoy the work of their hands. ²³They shall neither labor in vain, nor bring forth [children] for calamity; for they and their offspring with them are the offspring of those blessed of the LORD. ²⁴It shall come to pass that before they call I will answer, and while they are yet speaking I will hear. ²⁵The wolf and the lamb shall feed together; the lion shall eat straw like the ox, and dust shall be the serpent's food; they shall not hurt nor destroy on any of My holy mountains, says the LORD.^f

66 THUS SAYS THE LORD: HEAVEN is My throne and the earth is My footstool; what manner of house would you build for Me, and where would be the place of My rest? ²My hand has made everything, and thus it came to be, says the LORD. I will look favorably^g upon that man who is humble, feels crushed in spirit, and trembles at My word;^h ³rather than on him who slays an ox as though he slew a man; who sacrifices a sheep as he would break a dog's neck; who brings a cereal oblation as if it were the blood of swine; who presents frankincense as though he were worshiping idols.ⁱ They certainly have chosen their own ways and delight in their abominations; ⁴indeed, I have decided their calamity; what they dread I will

2) Promised also in Isa. 6:13 and 53:10; that is, descendants who were a true "offspring."
a) "Fortune" and "Destiny" were regarded by some in Israel as deities, in whose cults they participated.

b) The prophet's fourfold contrast between the LORD's servants and apostates is striking [vss. 13, 14]. c) Literally, the "Amen of Truth."

d) Nature also is to be transformed in harmony with a renewed humanity; as so frequently emphasized by Isa. [cf. 11:6-9; 25:8; 30:23-26; 32:15; 35:10].

e) Among the blessings of Israel's new theocracy is the extension of life—longevity as before the Flood. f) Cf. Isa. 11:6-9. g) With compassion.

h) That is, listening in awe and obedient to His commands.

i) The four prescribed acts of worship are as sinful, when executed without love for the LORD, as the four enumerated sins.

bring upon them; because when I called, no one answered, and when I spoke, they did not listen; they did what was evil in My eyes and chose what was displeasing to Me.

⁶Listen to the message of the LORD, you who stand in awe of His word:^j Your brothers who hate you and who spurn you for My sake,^k say, "Let the LORD be glorified that we may see your joy"; but they shall be confounded!

⁶Listen, a thunderous voice from the city! A voice from the temple! It is the LORD's voice rendering recompense to His enemies. ⁷But before she travailed she gave birth; before her pains came on, she was delivered of a son!

⁸Who ever heard of such a thing? Who ever saw its like? Shall a land be brought forth in a single day? Shall a nation be born in a moment? Yet Zion had hardly travailed, when she gave birth to her children. ⁹Shall I bring to birth and not give delivery? says the LORD; shall I cause to bear and yet close the womb? says your God.^l

¹⁰Rejoice with Jerusalem and exult in her, all you who love her; rejoice exceedingly, all you who mourn over her; ¹¹that you may nurse and be satisfied from her consoling breasts, that you may drain out and enjoy yourself from the fulness of her glory.

¹²For thus says the LORD: Observe! I will extend to her peace like a river, and the glory of the nations like an overflowing stream. Then you shall be nursed, carried upon the hips, and be dandled on the knees.^m ¹³As one whom his mother comforts, so will I comfort you; in Jerusalem you shall be comforted. ¹⁴When you see it, your heart will rejoice; your bones shall flourish like green grass; so shall the hand of the LORD be revealed toward

His servants and His indignation toward His enemies. ¹⁵For behold, the LORD shall come with fire and His chariots like a whirlwind to satisfy His anger in fury, His rebuke with flames of fire.ⁿ ¹⁶For by fire the LORD will execute judgment, even with His sword upon all flesh; the slain by the LORD shall be many.

¹⁷Those who consecrate and cleanse themselves to go into the garden, following someone in the center, who eat swine's flesh, vermin, and mice, shall come to an end together,^o says the LORD. ¹⁸For I know their doings and their thoughts; [the time] comes to gather all nations and tongues; they shall come and they shall see My glory. ¹⁹I will set up a sign;^p I will send some of those who survive to the nations—to Tarshish,^q Put and Lud, to Mesheck and Rosh, to Tubal and Javan, to the islands afar off who have neither heard of My fame nor seen My glory—they shall proclaim My glory among the nations. ²⁰They shall bring there all your brothers from all the nations as an offering to the LORD; [they shall return] on horses, in chariots, on litters, upon mules, and upon dromedaries to My holy mountain Jerusalem, says the LORD; just as the Israelites used to bring their cereal offerings in clean vessels to the house of the LORD.

²¹Some of them I will take for priests^r and Levites, says the LORD.

²²For as the new heavens and the new earth which I will make shall continue before Me, says the LORD, so shall your progeny and your name remain.

²³It shall be that from new moon to new moon and from Sabbath to Sabbath, all flesh shall come to worship before Me, says the LORD. ²⁴They shall go forth; they shall gaze upon

j) Messianic expectations; religion will become spiritual; unbelieving scoffers will be silenced, and Zion shall rejoice. k) Zion's apostates mock the hopes of their pious brothers.

l) The LORD has begun to restore His people; He will not leave their salvation incomplete [cf. 37:3]. m) Cf. 49:22, 23; 60:4. n) Cf. 17:13; 30:17.

o) Apostates, who regulated the idolatrous ceremony of purification, are especially condemned. p) Sign is a miracle as in Isa. 7:11. To send Jewish ambassadors on any mission would be a "miracle" to them!

q) Tarshish is thought to be the important port in Spain called Tartessus; Put and Lud were in north Africa; Mesheck and Tubal in Asia Minor; Javan was another name for Greece [compare Ezek. 38:1 and 39:1]. r) Something beyond what was prescribed in Deut. 17:9 ff.

the dead bodies of those who have re- quenched;^t they shall be an abhorbelled against Me;^s for their worm rence to all mankind.
shall not die, nor shall their fire be

s) This verse became the basis of the Jewish conception of Gehenna, or Ge-Hinnom, the "Valley of Hinnom," in which human sacrifices were offered to Molech. The Talmud locates the mouth of hell in this valley.

t) The torments of the apostates are eternal; Jesus uses this text in Mark 9:46. When this verse has been read in Jewish synagogues, the reader usually rereads vs. 23, as the book of Isaiah, he feels, should conclude happily.

JEREMIAH

626 B.C.

1 THE WORDS OF JEREMIAH THE SON of Hilkiah, one of the priests who lived at Anathoth in the territory of Benjamin. ²The word of the LORD first came to him in the days of Josiah^a the son of Amon, king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign.^b ³It continued to come during the reigns of Jehoiaquim^c son of Josiah, king of Judah, until the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah^d the son of Josiah, king of Judah, until the captivity of Jerusalem in the fifth month.

⁴The word of the LORD came to me, ⁵Before I fashioned you in the womb I knew you, and before you were born I dedicated you; I designated you for a prophet to the nations. ⁶Then I said, "Alas! LORD God, I do not know how to speak, for I am but a child."^e ⁷The LORD went on to say to me, Stop saying that you are a child; for wherever I shall send you, you shall go, and whatever I shall command you, you shall speak. ⁸Never fear their faces, for I am with you to rescue you, says the LORD. ⁹Then the LORD extended His hand and touched my mouth; the LORD said to me, Now I have put My words in your mouth. ¹⁰Look! Today I have appointed you as the overseer of nations and over kingdoms, to root up, to break down, to destroy, to exterminate, to rebuild, and to establish.

¹¹Later the word of the LORD came to me, What do you see, Jeremiah? I replied, "I see the shoot of an almond tree."^f ¹²Then the LORD said to me, You are a close observer! I am likewise awake over My word to fulfill it.^g

¹³The word of the LORD came to me the second time, What do you see? I replied, "I see a boiling pot^h with its face from the north."ⁱ ¹⁴Then the LORD said to me, Calamity will come from the north upon all the settlers of the land. ¹⁵I will summon all the members of the kingdoms of the north, says the LORD; they will come and will place each one his throne at the entrance of Jerusalem and around on every one of her walls and also of all the cities of Judah.^j ¹⁶Because of their evil I will pronounce My judgments upon them, for they have forsaken Me, have offered sacrifices to other gods, and have prostrated themselves before the works of their hands.

¹⁷Now, gird up your loins, arise and declare to them everything I shall command you; do not be undone by their faces, lest I ruin you in their presence. ¹⁸See! I, on My part, have made you today as a beleaguered city, as an im-

a) Ruled from around 638 B.C. to 609 B.C.; slain in the battle of Megiddo, 609 B.C., by Pharaoh Necho. b) 626 B.C. c) The oldest son of Josiah. He ruled from 608 to 597 B.C.

d) 586 B.C. Zedekiah ruled 597 to 586 B.C.

e) The Hebrew "na'ar" may mean anyone from three months to forty years of age. Jeremiah was about twenty-four when his prophetic ministry began.

f) The "awake tree"—first tree to awake from the winter sleep. The blossom comes before the leaves.

g) God continuously working in history and in persons bringing His plan to fruition; a play on words in the original for emphasis.

h) A household utensil used for cooking food, or washing clothes. i) Region of calamity.

j) Complete invasion of the land.

pregnable fortress, and as an unassailable stronghold against the entire land — against the kings of Judah, against her princes, against her people, and against the people of the land.^k ¹⁹They will fight against you, but they shall not overcome you, because I am with you to rescue you, says the LORD.

626-621 B.C.

2 THEN THE WORD OF THE LORD came to me, ²Go and proclaim in the ears of Jerusalem, I remember the devotedness of your youth, the love of your courtships,^l and your following Me in the desert,^m in the land that was not sown. ³Israel was holy to the LORD, the first fruits of His yield;ⁿ all those devouring him shall be punished. Calamity shall come upon them, says the LORD. ⁴Listen to the word of the LORD, O house of Jacob, and every family of the house of Israel.

⁵Thus speaks the LORD: What injustice did your fathers find in Me, that they abandoned Me, habitually followed after^p futility, and became useless? ⁶None of them said, "Where is the LORD, the One who brought us up from the land of Egypt, the One who brought us through the wilderness, through a land of steppes and pits, through a land of deep darkness, and through a land that no man passes through or inhabits?" ⁷Then I brought you into a garden land to eat of its fruit and its good things; but when you went in, you defiled My land and made My inheritance an abomination. ⁸Even the priests did not say, "Where is the LORD?" The experts of the law did not know Me; the rulers rebelled against Me, and the prophets^q prophesied for Baal and pursued things which did not profit. ⁹Nevertheless I again will plead with you, says the LORD, and with your children's children I will plead. ¹⁰For cross over to the isles of Kittim^r and see; also send to Kedar, carefully consider and see if anything like this has happened. ¹¹Has a nation ever changed its gods, though they were not gods? But My people have exchanged their glory for something that does not profit. ¹²Be awestruck, O heavens, at this! bristle with horror and be exceedingly desolate, says the LORD, ¹³because My people have committed two evils: they have forsaken Me, the Fountain of living waters, and they have hewn out for themselves cisterns, broken cisterns, which cannot hold water.

621 B.C.

¹⁴Is Israel a servant, or a homeborn slave? Why has he become a victim? ¹⁵The young lions have roared over him and have made their voice resound; they have made his land a waste, and his cities a ruin without inhabitants. ¹⁶Also the men of Noph and Tahpanhes^s have shorn the crown of your head. ¹⁷Did you not bring this on to yourself when you forsook the LORD your God when He guided you in the way? ¹⁸And now what are you doing in the way of Egypt, to drink of the waters of the Nile? And what are you doing in the way of Assyria, to drink from the waters of the Euphrates? ¹⁹You will be chastened by your own wickedness; your own backslidings will reprove you; therefore, know and see that this evil and bitter thing is due to your forsaking the LORD your God and having no reverence for Me, says the Lord God of hosts.^t

²⁰From of old you have shattered your yoke and have snapped your bands. Also you have said, "I will not serve Thee." Yes, upon every high hill and under every shady tree you have bowed down like a harlot. ²¹Yet I, on

k) His ministry will be both offensive and defensive.

l) Your betrothal time. m) In the Orient, the wife followed the husband.

n) The most precious part of the harvest, the part waved by the priests before the LORD [Lev. 23:10-14; Num. 18:12, 13].

p) "Breath," "nothingness," "bubble" — characteristic terms for false gods in contrast to the true and living God. By following these empty gods, Israel assimilated their character; like god, like people.

q) The religious leaders later arraigned against Jeremiah.

r) Generally the coast lands of the Mediterranean — the extreme western world.

s) Both well-known towns in Josiah's day. The former, Memphis, the capital of Lower [Northern] Egypt; the latter in Upper Egypt.

t) Vs. 18 is connected with vs. 13: Israel had forsaken God, the Fountain of living waters, and was drinking from the rivers of Egypt and Assyria.

u) The theme of vs. 19: Sin carries its own punishment.

My part, planted you as a choice vine, of completely reliable stock. How then did you turn into bastard shoots of an alien vine to Me? ²²Although you wash yourself with nitre^v and though you use soap^w abundantly, your perversity is still ingrained before Me, says the Lord God. ²³How can you say, "I have not followed after Baals?"^x Look at your action in the valley, and realize what you have done. You are as a swift, young she-camel^y entangling her walk; ²⁴like a wild donkey accustomed to the wilderness, in the heat of her passion snuffing up the wind; in the time of her mating, who can turn her lust away? All those pursuing her will not be disappointed, because in her month they shall find her. ²⁵Protect your foot from bareness and your throat from dryness; but you have said repeatedly, "It is useless, because I love strangers and after them I will go." ²⁶As a thief is ashamed when he is caught, just so the house of Israel is ashamed; they, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, ²⁷who say to a piece of wood, "You are my father," and to the stone, "You have borne me"; but to Me they have turned the neck^z and not their faces. However, in the time of calamity they will cry, "Arise and deliver us!" ²⁸Where now are your gods that you manufactured? Let them arise, if in the hour of calamity they can deliver you! Notice, your gods are as numerous as your cities, O Judah!

²⁹Why do you complain to Me?^a For all of you have rebelled against Me, says the LORD. ³⁰In vain I have stricken your children; you accepted no discipline. Your own swords have devoured your prophets like a destructive lion. ³¹O generation, will you not listen to the word of the LORD? Have I been a desert to Israel? A land of deep darkness? Why therefore do My people say, "We roam, at large; we will come no more to you?" ³²Can a virgin forget her ornaments or a bride her attire? Yet My people have forgotten Me days without number. ³³Why do you trim your way for making love? Therefore, even to the evil women you have taught your ways. ³⁴Also there is found on your skirts the lifeblood of the innocent poor, although you did not catch them in the act of burglary.^b Nevertheless, in spite of all these things, ³⁵you keep on saying, "I am innocent; surely His anger has turned away from me." See! I will bring judgment upon you because of your saying, "I have not sinned." ³⁶Why do you roam about so much, to change your ways? You shall be ashamed of Egypt just as you were ashamed of Assyria. ³⁷You will go away from him also with your hands upon your head;^c for the LORD has rejected all your confidences. You will not prosper in them.

626-621 B.C.

3 IF A MAN PUTS AWAY HIS WIFE and she goes from him and becomes another man's wife,^d will he return to her? Would not that land be greatly polluted? Yet you have played the harlot with a multitude of lovers and have returned to Me, says the LORD. ²Lift up your eyes to the bare hills and see! Where have you not been dishonored? You have waited for lovers by the roadside like an Arab in the wilderness;^e you have defiled the land with your fornication and your wickedness. ³Therefore the early showers have been withheld, and the spring rain has not come;^f still you have the brow of a harlot;^g you even choose not

v) Carbonate of soda, used for making soap.

w) Vegetable alkali obtained from ashes of plants. These were the two most powerful detergents known; both used in washing and scouring garments, also for refining metals [Malachi 3:2].

x) Canaan's gods of fertility.

y) Which has never yet had a foal, famed for amazing speed, used to carry dispatches in haste - ancient telegraph [Esther 8:10]. z) Figure of apostasy. a) The LORD's patience is too sorely tried.

b) Subjected to oppression and abuse.

c) As Tamar, Absalom's sister, went out after Amnon had abused her [II Samuel 13:19].

d) See Deut. 24:1-4: When a woman was given a bill of divorce by her husband and married another, a bill of divorce given her by her second husband did not set her free to remarry her first husband.

e) As the Bedouin freebooter is eager to plunder a passing caravan, so Israel is eager to worship false gods.

f) The latter rain fell in March and April, the second rainy season; the "early" rain [James 5:7] fell in October and November. g) Shameless.

to feel ashamed. ⁴Have you not just now cried to Me, "My Father, Thou art a friend from my youth?" ⁵Will He be angry forever? Will He keep it to the end?" See, you have spoken, but you have done all the evil you could do.

⁶In the days of Josiah the king, the LORD said to me: Have you seen what that faithless Israel did, how she went upon every high hill and under every green tree, and there played the harlot? ⁷And after she has done all of this, I said, Return to Me; but she did not return. Her treacherous sister Judah saw it. ⁸Also she saw that for all the adulteries which faithless Israel had done, I sent her away and gave her a divorce bill;^h but her faithless sister, Judah, did not fear; instead she too went and played the harlot. ⁹Also through the wantonness of her harlotry she defiled the land, committing adultery with stones and stocks.ⁱ ¹⁰Yet in spite of all this, her faithless sister, Judah, has not returned to Me with her whole heart, but in pretense, says the LORD.

¹¹Then the LORD said to me: Backsliding Israel has shown herself more righteous than faithless Judah.^j ¹²Go, and announce these words toward the north,^k and say, "Return, backsliding Israel, says the LORD. I will not look in anger upon you; for I am a merciful God. The LORD says, I will not be angry forever. ¹³Only admit your iniquity, that you have rebelled against the LORD your God and promiscuously consorted with strangers under every green tree; that you have not obeyed My voice, says the LORD. ¹⁴Return, O backsliding children, says the LORD, because I am your husband; then I will take you, one of a city and two of a family, and I will bring you to Zion.^l ¹⁵I will give you shepherds after My own heart, who will feed you with knowledge and understanding. ¹⁶Besides, when you are multiplied and increased in the land, in those days, says the LORD, they shall no more say, 'The ark^m of the covenant of the LORD.' It shall not come to mind, because they will not remember it or miss it; for it shall not be made again.

¹⁷At that time they shall call Jerusalem the throne of the LORD,ⁿ and all nations^o will be gathered to it, in the name of the LORD to Jerusalem, and they shall no more stubbornly follow their own evil heart. ¹⁸In those days the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel, and together they shall come from the land of the north to the land which I gave as an inheritance to their fathers. ¹⁹But I said, How^p I would place you among My children and give you a pleasant land, the most beautiful heritage of all nations! Then^q I said you would call Me, 'My Father,' and would not turn from following Me. ²⁰Surely, as a deceitful wife has forsaken her husband, so you have been deceitful with Me, O house of Israel, says the LORD."

²¹A voice is heard upon the bare heights, the weeping, the supplication of the children of Israel, because they have distorted their way; they have forgotten the LORD their God. ²²Return, O backsliding children, I will heal your backsliding. "See, we have come to Thee because Thou art the LORD our God.^r ²³Truly the hills are a delusion, the orgies on the mountains. Indeed, the salvation of Israel is in the LORD our God. ²⁴But shame^s has consumed the labor of our fathers from our youth, their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters. ²⁵Let us lie down^t in our shame, and

h) By sending her into exile. i) Worshipping idols of stone and of wood.

j) Judah had advantages: succession of kings from David's dynasty, temple, Levites, and the warning example of Israel.

k) Toward Assyria and Media. The ten tribes had been carried captive there in 722 B.C.

l) Although they have wandered from God and are now in "a far country" and "in want," they may count on a Father's welcome, if they return in a filial spirit [Luke 15:19].

m) The ark, with its mercy seat, marking God's presence, was a center of reverence.

n) The LORD's glory and visible presence shall be manifested throughout the holy city.

o) Gentiles will be gathered into the kingdom of God.

p) Not a question, but, "How gloriously!" "How honorably!" q) Time: Exodus from Egypt.

r) The offer of pardon is accepted.

s) "Bosheth" — Baal, the god of shame, the god who brings disgrace, whose worship is an opprobrium to the worshiper.

t) Repentance for the misdeeds of the past shall be so strong that they will be overwhelmed with emotion and lie prostrate. Cf. II Samuel 12:16; 13:31; I Kings 21:4, for the practice of such a custom under painful feelings.

let our confusion cover us, for we have sinned against the LORD our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even to this day; also we have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God."

4 IF YOU RETURN, O ISRAEL, SAYS the LORD, you should return to Me and put away your abominations^u from My presence and cease wandering,^v and swear, "As the LORD lives,"^w in truth, in justice, and in righteousness; then nations shall bless each other by Him, and in Him shall they glory.^x For thus says the LORD to the men of Judah and Jerusalem: Break up your fallow ground, and do not sow among thorns.^y ⁴Circumcise yourselves to the LORD, and cut off the foreskins of your hearts, O men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem, lest My indignation go forth as fire and burn with none to quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

⁵Announce in Judah, publish in Jerusalem, and say, "Blow the trumpet in the land." Cry aloud and say, "All of you get together, and let us enter fortified cities!" ⁶Lift up a standard toward Zion and flee for refuge; do not remain,^z for I am bringing evil from the north,^z a great destruction. ⁷A lion has gone up from his lair and a destroyer of nations.^z He has struck his tent to make your territory desolate, and your cities shall be destroyed without inhabitants.

⁸For this gird yourselves with sackcloth; lament and wail, for the fierce anger of the LORD is not turned back from us.^a ⁹It shall be in that day, says the LORD, that the hearts^b of both the king and princes shall fail; the priests shall be amazed, and the prophets shall be astounded. ¹⁰They will say, "Ah, Lord God, Thou surely hast misled this people and Jerusalem, saying, 'You shall have peace', — and the sword touches the soul." ¹¹At that time it shall be said to this people and to Jerusalem, "A glowing wind^c from the bare heights in the desert comes toward the daughter of My people, not to winnow,^d nor to cleanse. ¹²A wind too strong for this shall come at My orders. Now I will speak with judgment upon them. ¹³See! He comes up like clouds^e and his chariots as a tempest;^f his horses are swifter than eagles. Woe to us, for we are all spoiled! ¹⁴Purify your heart from wickedness, O Jerusalem, in order that you may be saved; how long will you permit your vain^g thoughts to remain in you? ¹⁵For a message comes from Dan^h and bad news from the hills of Ephraim. ¹⁶Announce to the nations, publish concerning Jerusalem, that besiegers are coming from a far country, and they shout against the cities of Judah. ¹⁷Like keepers of the field they are surrounding her because she has rebelled against Me, says the LORD. ¹⁸Your ways and your works have brought these things upon you, due to your wickedness. Surely it is bitter because it has reached even into your heart.

¹⁹O my feelings, my feelings!ⁱ Let one writhe! Walls of my heart! My heart is torn within me! I cannot keep silent!^j For my soul hears the cry of the trumpet, a shout of battle. ²⁰Devastation upon devastation is proclaimed; for the whole land is laid waste. Suddenly my tents are destroyed, and my curtains are torn down in a moment. ²¹How long must I see the war signals and hear the trumpet blasts? ²²For my people are foolish; they do not know me; they are stupid children; they have no understanding; they are experts in doing evil, but they do not know how to do good.

²³I beheld the earth, and see, it was

u) Idols [I Kings 11:5, 7].

v) The living God is not sworn to, but sworn by. w) Need of repentance — the broken heart.

x) Mark out a route for those seeking shelter inside the walls of Jerusalem. y) Babylonia.

z) Not merely destroying individuals, but nations.

a) The wicked days of Manasseh [698-643 B.C.] are unrepented of by Israel.

b) "Understanding," intellect will be paralyzed.

c) A scorching sirocco from a cloudless sky [ch. 18:17; Job 1:19], figure of the invader.

d) The eastern mode of winnowing grain: by casting and scattering in the wind.

e) See the enemy Gog coming up against Israel "as a cloud to cover the land" [Ezek. 38:16].

f) Sweeping all before it [Isa. 5:28, 29]. g) Sin of any kind, especially worship of idols.

h) In northern Palestine: one of two religious centers made by Jeroboam I. [931].

i) "Bowels" — the seat of deeply felt emotions [Song of Songs 5:4; Isa. 16:11; 63:15; ch. 31:20].

j) The exclamations following one another are expressive of the prophet's intense emotion.

formless and empty, and the heavens had no light.^k ²⁴I beheld the mountains, and look! They trembled, and all the hills were in commotion. ²⁵I looked, and see! There was no man, and all the birds of heaven had fled. ²⁶I looked, and behold! The garden land was a desert, and all the cities were broken down before the LORD in the presence of His fierce anger.

²⁷For thus says the LORD, All the land will be a desolation, yet I will not bring it to a finish. ²⁸On account of this, let the earth mourn and the heavens be black, because I have spoken; I have purposed; I have not repented, nor will I turn back from it.

²⁹At the noise of the horsemen and bowmen every city flees; they enter thickets, and they climb among the rocks; every city is forsaken, and no man dwells in them. ³⁰And you, ruined creature, what will you do? Clothe^l yourself in scarlet? Adorn yourself with ornaments of gold? Paint your eyes with antimony?^m You beautify yourself in vain; your paramoursⁿ despise you; they are seeking your life. ³¹For I have heard the voice of a woman in labor, a cry as of one giving birth to her first child, the voice of the daughter of Zion,^o panting, begging for help, "Oh, woe is me! For my soul faints because of the slain."

5 ROAM AROUND THROUGH THE BAZAARS of Jerusalem; look closely and consider! Search her marts to see if you can find anyone who practices justice and searches for truth, so that I may deal graciously with her. ²Although they say, "As the LORD lives," yet they swear falsely.^p ³O LORD, do not Thy eyes search for truth? Thou hast beaten them, but they felt no rebuke; Thou hast disciplined them, but they spurned correction. They have made their faces harder than flint; they have refused to repent. ⁴Then I said, "These are only the poor; they have no understanding; for they do not know the way of the LORD, the judgment of their God." ⁵I will go to the great and will speak to them; for they know the way of the LORD, the judgment of their God." But they all alike had broken the yoke; they had burst apart the bonds. ⁶Therefore a lion from the forest shall slay them; a wolf from the desert shall destroy them; a leopard^q is lurking by their cities; everyone who goes out of them will be torn to bits, because their rebellions are many and their desertions are appalling. ⁷How can I pardon you for this? Your children have forsaken Me and have sworn by those who are no gods. When I had filled them up, they committed adultery and trooped to the harlots' houses. ⁸They were like well-fed, lusty stallions, each neighing with passion after his neighbor's wife.^r ⁹Shall not I punish them for these things? says the LORD, and shall I not avenge myself on such a nation as this? ¹⁰Go up and spoil her vineyards,^s but make no complete end; strip away her branches, because they are not the LORD's.

¹¹For the house of Jacob and the house of Israel have been altogether faithless toward Me. ¹²They have acted deceptively against the LORD and have said, "He will not see! No calamity will come upon us, nor shall we see the sword or famine." ¹³The prophets will become as whirlwind; the word is not in them." Thus shall it be done to them.

¹⁴Therefore thus says the LORD, the God of hosts: Because they have spoken this word, see! I am making My word in your mouth a fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them. ¹⁵Look! I am bringing upon you a nation from afar, O house of Israel, says the LORD. It is a lasting and age-

k) See Gen. 1:2; Isa. 34:11.

l) Jerusalem like a woman adorning herself to gain the attention and assistance of her admirers [Isa. 57:9; Ezek. 23:40, 41].

m) Or "subium" — the edge of the eyelids was blackened for the purpose of increasing by contrast the lustre of the eyes and making them look larger [Jezebel in II Kings 9:30; Ezek. 23:40].

n) Political friends or allies [Ezek. 23:5, 7, 9, 12, 16, 30].

o) The personified population of Zion.

p) To swear by their God should be a token of loyalty to Him; but it was not [see Deut. 10:20].

q) A leopard will conceal himself near a village or watering place and wait for hours its opportunity of pouncing upon the cattle, or on the people.

r) Profligate Judeans.

s) Judah is here likened to vineyards [cf. Isa. 5:1-7].

old nation, a nation whose language you do not know, nor can you understand what they say. ¹⁶Their quiver^t is like an open grave; they are all mighty men.^u ¹⁷They shall eat up your harvest and your food; they shall consume your sons and your daughters; they shall devour your flocks and your herds; they shall eat your vines and your fig trees; your impregnable cities in which you trust they shall destroy with the sword. ¹⁸But even in those days, says the LORD, I will not make a complete end of you. ¹⁹And when they shall say, "Why has the LORD our God done all these things to us?" you shall say to them, "As you have forsaken Me and served foreign gods in your land, so you shall serve strangers in a land that is not yours."^v

²⁰Declare this in the house of Jacob, and proclaim it in the house of Judah: ²¹Listen to this, foolish and heartless^w people, who have eyes but do not see; who have ears, but do not hear. ²²Do you not reverence Me? says the LORD. Do you not tremble in My presence? I have set the dunes as the boundary for the sea, an eternal barrier which it cannot pass; though the waves leap, they cannot prevail; though they roar, yet they cannot pass over it. ²³But this people has a rebellious and contentious heart; they turned aside and wandered away.^x ²⁴They did not say in their heart, "Let us reverence the LORD our God, the One who gives the early and latter rains in their seasons and keeps for us the weeks appointed for the harvest."^y ²⁵Your iniquity has turned these away,^z and your sins have withholden the good from you. ²⁶For wicked men were found among My people. They lurk like fowls, lying in wait. They act like a trap; they catch men. ²⁷Like a basket full of birds, their houses are full of treachery;

therefore they have become great and rich; ²⁸they have grown fat and sleek.^a They know no limit in their wickedness; they do not know justice to make the cause of the orphan to succeed; they do not defend the rights of the innocent. ²⁹Shall I not punish for these things? says the LORD. Shall I not avenge Myself on such a nation as this?

³⁰An astounding and horrible thing has occurred in the land: ³¹the prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests rule according to their own hands; and My people like it so. But what will they do when the end comes?

6 FLEE FOR SAFETY, O PEOPLE OF Benjamin, from the midst of Jerusalem! Blow the trumpet in Tekoa,^b and erect a sign on Bethhaccerem;^c for harm is looming from the north, a great destruction. ²The comely and luxurious I will destroy, the daughter of Zion. ³Shepherds with their flocks^d shall come against her; they shall pitch their tents around her; they shall pasture every one in his place.^e ⁴Sanctify yourselves^f for war against her; arise, and let us attack at noontime. Woe to us, for the day declines, for the shadows of evening are lengthening! ⁵Arise, and let us attack by night; let us destroy her palaces. ⁶For thus says the LORD of hosts: Hew down her trees; cast up a siege mound around Jerusalem. This is the city that must be punished; there is nothing but oppression within her. ⁷As a well keeps its water cool, so she keeps fresh her wickedness; violence and destruction are heard in her; sickness and wounds are continually before Me. ⁸Be disciplined,^g O Jerusalem, lest I be alienated from you; lest I make your land desolate, without inhabitants.

⁹Thus says the LORD of hosts: Glean

t) As part of warlike equipment [Isa. 22:6].

u) Warriors [II Sam. 23:8]. v) So Deut. 29:24-26; I Kings 9:8, 9; Jer. 16:10-13.

w) The heart was regarded by the Hebrews as the seat of understanding [Job 12:24; 36:13; Hosea 7:11]. x) Not content with revolt they became foes of God.

y) The appointed harvest weeks are the seven between the Feast of the Passover and the Feast of Weeks or Pentecost [see Deut. 16:9]. z) The blessings mentioned in the preceding verse.

a) The Hebrews regarded fatness as a mark of contented self-indulgence and associated it with impiety [Job 15:27; Ps. 73:7].

b) In the hill country of Judah, about 12 miles south of Jerusalem; the home of the prophet Amos.

c) Vineyard house about 3 miles northeast of Tekoa, overlooking the Dead Sea.

d) Bedouin invaders [ch. 12:10]. e) Ravaging the country [Micah 5:6].

f) Alluding to a custom of opening a campaign with sacrifice [I Sam. 7:8-10].

g) Not intellectual "instruction," but moral discipline.

thoroughly as a vine the remnant of Israel; like a grape gatherer, pass your hand again over its branches. ¹⁰To whom shall I speak and testify so that they will hear? See, their ears are uncircumcised; therefore they are not able to understand. Behold, the word of the LORD is to them a reproach; they take no pleasure in it. ¹¹Therefore I am full of the wrath of the LORD; I am weary of holding it in. Pour it out upon the children of the streets and upon the joint circle of young men as well; both the husband and the wife shall be taken, the old man and the very aged. ¹²Their houses shall be given to others, together with their fields and wives; for I will stretch out my hand against the inhabitants of the land, says the LORD. ¹³Every one from the least of them to the greatest is guilty of unjust gain; every one from the prophet to the priest practices deceit.^h ¹⁴Hence they have healed the wound of my people slightly, saying, "Peace, peace," when there is no peace. ¹⁵Were they embarrassed when they committed abominations? No, they were not at all embarrassed; they did not even know how to blush; therefore they shall fall among the fallen; during the time that I punish them, they shall be overthrown, says the LORD.

¹⁶Thus says the LORD: Stand at the crossroads, and look; ask for the ancient paths, where is the good way;ⁱ then walk in it, and find rest for your souls. But they said, "We will not walk in it." ¹⁷I placed watchmen^j over you, saying, Listen to the sound of the trumpet! But they said, "We will not listen." ¹⁸Therefore hear, O congregation, what will happen to them. ¹⁹Hear, O earth: behold, I am bringing calamity upon this people, the fruit of their schemes, because they have not given heed to My words, and as for My teaching, they spurned it. ²⁰To what purpose does frankincense come to Me from Sheba^k and cinnamon cane from a far country?^l Your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor are your sacrifices pleasing to Me. ²¹Therefore thus says the LORD: I am laying before the people stumbling blocks against which they shall stumble, fathers and sons together; neighbor and friend shall perish.

²²Thus says the LORD: See, a people is coming from the north country; a great nation is rising from the extremity of the earth. ²³They seize the bow and spear; they are cruel and merciless; their voice sounds like the sea; they ride upon horses, arrayed for battle against you, O daughter of Zion. ²⁴We have heard the reports of it; our hands hang slack,^m and anguish has seized us like pain of a woman in labor. ²⁵Go not in the field, nor walk the road, for the enemy has a sword; terror is on every side. ²⁶O daughter of My people, gird yourself with sackcloth, and then roll in ashes; mourn as for an only son, making most bitter lamentation; for the destroyer shall suddenly come upon us.

²⁷I have made you an assayer and examinerⁿ among my people, so that you may test and analyze their actions. ²⁸They are all grievous revolters, going about as talebearers; they are as brass and iron;^o all of them deal corruptly. ²⁹The bellows blow fiercely, and the lead is consumed by fire;^p in vain the refining goes on, for the wicked are not removed. ³⁰They are called refuse silver, because the LORD has rejected them.

607 B.C.

7 THE WORD THAT CAME TO JEREMIAH FROM THE LORD: ²Stand in the gate of the LORD's house and proclaim there this word: Hear the word of the LORD, all you men of Judah,

h) Seeking their own advancement; not the welfare of their people.

i) In searching for the old paths, they will find the Lord's path [Deut. 32:7].

j) His prophets [Ezek. 3:17; 33:7].

k) South Arabia, noted for producing fragrant resin called frankincense. l) Probably India.

m) Helplessness [Isa. 5:24].

n) A moral analyst, a tester of people's natures - God speaking to Jeremiah.

o) Worthless people; evildoers [Ezek. 22:18, 20]. Their impudence resembles brass and their obstinacy, iron.

p) In refining, the goldsmith mixes lead with the alloy containing the gold or silver, fused in a furnace on a vessel of earth or bone ash; a current of air is turned upon the molten mass [not upon the fire]; the lead then oxidizes and, acting as a flux, carries away the alloy, leaving the pure gold or silver.

who enter these gates to worship the LORD. ³Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Amend your ways and your actions,^a and I will let you dwell in this place. ⁴Do not trust in false words, saying, "The Temple of the LORD, the Temple of the LORD, the Temple of the LORD is this."^r ⁵If you completely mend your ways and your actions; if you truly execute justice between a man and his neighbor; ⁶if you do not oppress the immigrant, the fatherless, or the widow;^a or shed innocent blood^d in this place; and if you do not follow after other gods to your own hurt; ⁷then I will let you dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers forever.^u ⁸See, you are trusting in words of falsehood which cannot profit. ⁹Will you steal, murder, commit adultery, and swear falsely, burn incense to Baal, and walk after other gods, whom you have not known, ¹⁰and then come and stand before Me in this house, which is called by My name, and say, "We are delivered,"^v only to go on committing all these abominations? ¹¹Has this house, which is called by My name, become a den^w of robbers in your eyes? Observe, I, even I Myself, have seen it, says the LORD.

¹²Go now to My place which was in Shiloh, where I made My name to dwell at first,^x and see what I did to it on account of the wickedness of My people Israel. ¹³And now, because you have done all these things, says the LORD, when I persistently spoke to you, you did not listen; and when I called you, you did not answer; ¹⁴therefore, I will do to the house which is called by My name and in which you are trusting, and to the place that I gave you and your fathers, as I did to Shiloh.^y ¹⁵I will cast you out of My sight, just as I cast out all your kinsmen, all the offspring of Ephraim.^z ¹⁶As for you, do not pray for this people, or lift up a cry or prayer for them; do not intercede to Me, for I will not hear you. ¹⁷Do you not see what they are doing in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem? ¹⁸The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle fire, and the women knead dough to make cakes for the queen of heaven,^a and they pour out drink offerings to other gods, to provoke Me to anger. ¹⁹Is it not I they provoke? says the LORD. Is it not themselves, to their own confusion? ²⁰Therefore thus says the Lord God: See, My anger and My indignation will be poured out on this place, upon man and beast, upon the trees of the field and the fruit of the ground; it shall burn, and it shall not be extinguished.

²¹Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Add your burnt offerings to your sacrifices and eat the flesh.^b ²²For I did not speak to your fathers, and I did not command them concerning burnt offerings and sacrifices in the day^c that I brought them out of the land of Egypt. ²³But this command I gave them: Obey My voice, and I will be your God, and you shall be My people; walk in all the way that I shall command you, that it may be well with you.^d ²⁴But they did not listen or incline their ear, but they habitually walked in their own counsels and in the stubbornness of their evil heart; they went backward and not forward. ²⁵From the day that your fathers came out of the land of Egypt to this day, I have repeatedly sent you all My servants, the prophets, daily rising up early and sending them. ²⁶Yet they did not

q) General lines of conduct and individual acts which, by frequency and repetition, form habits.

r) Threefold repetition for emphasis [ch. 22:29; Isa. 6:3].

s) The defenseless and needy classes of society [Ex. 22:21-23; Deut. 24:14, 17].

t) Judicial murders, violent attacks on prophets and godly men, sacrifice of infants to Moloch.

u) Literally, from eternity and to eternity, strongest Hebrew formula for perpetuity.

v) Secure, so they can go on sinning with impunity, because they observe the externals of religion.

w) Matt. 21:13; Luke 19:46. Many caves in the limestone strata of Palestine were in ancient times dens of robbers. x) Josh. 18:1; Judg. 18:31; I Sam. 1:3.

y) The destruction of Shiloh is alluded to in ch. 26:6; Ps. 78:60; but not mentioned in the historical books; probably happened after the Philistine victory described in I Sam. 4.

z) Ephraim, the ten northern tribes, carried into captivity in 722 B.C. by Sargon II of Assyria.

a) Probably Ashtoreth or Astarte [II Kings 21:3-5; Jer. 44:17, 18, 19].

b) Words of irony and contempt; the burnt offering was not eaten by the worshiper; only parts of the peace offering.

c) The first day encamped before Mount Sinai; the spiritual covenants came first; sacrifice, the third day [see Ex. 19]. d) Ex. 19:5, 6; Deut. 28:1, 2.

listen to Me or incline their ear, but stiffened their necks, doing worse than their fathers.

²⁷You shall speak all these words to them, but they will not listen to you. You shall call to them, but they will not answer you. ²⁸And you will say to them, "This is the nation that did not obey the voice of the LORD its God and did not receive correction; truth^e has perished; it is cut off from their lips.

²⁹"Cut off your hair^f and throw it away; raise a lamentation on the bare heights; for the LORD has rejected and forsaken the generation of His wrath."

³⁰For the children of Judah have done evil in My sight, says the LORD; they have placed their abominations^g in the house, which is called by My name, to defile it. ³¹They have built the high places of Topheth, which is in the valley of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire, which I did not command, nor did it come into My mind. ³²Therefore, behold, the days are coming, says the LORD, when it shall no more be called Topheth, the valley of the son of Hinnom, but the valley of Slaughter; for they shall bury in Topheth because there is no room elsewhere. ³³The dead bodies of this people shall be food for the birds of the air and the beasts of the earth, and none shall frighten them away.^h ³⁴I will cause to cease from the cities of Judah and from the streets of Jerusalem the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, for the land shall become a desolation.

609 B.C.

8 AT THAT TIME, SAYS THE LORD, the houses of the kings of Judah, the bones of the princes, the bones of the priests, the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem shall be brought out of their sepulchres. ²They shall be spread before the sun and the moon and all the hosts of heaven,ⁱ which they have loved, which they have served, after which they have walked and which they have sought and worshiped; they shall not be gathered or buried; they shall be as dung upon the face of the earth. ³And death shall be preferred to life by all the remnant that remains of this evil family in all the places I have driven them, says the LORD of hosts.

⁴You shall further say to them: Thus says the LORD: When men fall, do they not rise again? If one turns away, does he not come back? ⁵Why then is this people of Jerusalem turned away in perpetual backsliding? They hold fast to deceit,^j refusing to return. ⁶I have given heed and listened, but they have not spoken properly; no man repents of his wickedness, saying, "What have I done?" Everyone turns away to his own devices like a horse rushing into battle. ⁷Even the stork in the heavens knows her appointed times; the turtledove, swallow, and crane observe the time of their coming^k but My people do not know the ordinances of the LORD.

⁸How dare you say, "We are wise, and the teaching of the LORD is with us"? But see, the falsifying pen of the scribes made it into a fabrication.^l ⁹The wise men are put to shame, they are dumbfounded and trapped; since they have spurned the word of the LORD, what kind of wisdom is there in them? ¹⁰Therefore I will give their wives to others and their fields to conquerors, because everyone, from the least to the greatest, practices covetousness; everyone deals deceitfully, from the prophet to the priest. ¹¹They have healed the wound of the daughter of My people slightly, saying, "Peace, peace," when there is no peace. ¹²Were they ashamed when they committed abomination? No, they were not at all abashed; they did not even know how

e) Faithfulness, loyalty.

f) To poll the hair was a mark of mourning [Job 1:20; Micah 1:16]. g) See II Kings 23:13.

h) As David, slaying Goliath, did to the Philistines [I Sam. 17:46].

i) See Deut. 4:19; 17:3; II Kings 21:3, 5; Jer. 19:13.

j) Insincerity toward Jehovah; false teachings of idolatry [ch. 14:14; 23:26].

k) Migratory birds, which return to Palestine every spring with suddenness and regularity.

l) Jeremiah implies that the scribes have falsified the traditional body of divine directions respecting religious practices.

to blush. Therefore they shall fall with the fallen; in the time of their visitation they shall stumble, says the LORD.

¹³When I would gather them, says the LORD, there are no grapes on the vines, nor figs on the fig tree; even the leaves are dried up,^m and what I gave them has eluded them. ¹⁴Why do we remain seated? Assemble yourselves! Let us go into fortified cities and perish there! For the LORD our God has marked us for doom and has given us a poisonous drink^a because we have sinned against the LORD. ¹⁵We looked for peace, but no encouragement came; for a time of healing, but look, defeat. ¹⁶The snorting of their horses is heard from Dan; at the sound of the neighing of their stallions the whole land trembles. They come and devour the land and all that it produces, the city and those dwelling in it. ¹⁷For see, I am sending among you serpents, adders, that cannot be charmed, and they shall bite you, says the LORD.

¹⁸My sorrow is uncontrollable! My heart is pained within Me! ¹⁹Observe the cry of the daughter of My people from a distant land,^o "Is the LORD not in Zion? Is her King not in her?" Why have they provoked Me with their graven images and with foreign idols? ²⁰The harvest^p is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved.^q ²¹For the hurt of the daughter of My people I am hurt;^r I mourn, and confusion has overwhelmed Me.^s ²²Is there no balm in Gilead?^t Is there no physician? Why, then, has the health of the daughter of My people not been restored?

608-597 B.C.

9 OH, THAT MY HEAD WERE WATERS and my eyes a fountain of tears, so that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people!

²Oh, that I had in the desert a lodging place for wayfarers,^u so that I might leave My people and go from them. For they are all adulterers, an assembly of deceivers. ³They bend their tongue like a bow,^v so that falsehood and not truth have grown strong in the land;^w for they proceed from evil to evil; consequently, they do not know Me, says the LORD. ⁴Let every man watch his neighbor and place no trust in any brother; for every brother is a supplanter and every neighbor goes about gossiping. ⁵Every one deceives his neighbor, and no one speaks the truth; they have taught their tongues to speak falsely; they commit iniquity and twist truth unto weariness. ⁶Here injury lives on injury and deceit on deceit, on account of which they refuse to know Me, says the LORD.

⁷Therefore, thus says the LORD of hosts: Take notice! I will smelt^x them and assay them; for what can I do because of the daughter of My people? ⁸Their tongue is a deadly arrow; it speaks deceitfully; with his mouth each one speaks peaceably to his neighbor, but in his heart he devises an ambush for him. ⁹Shall I not punish them for these things? says the LORD, and shall I not avenge Myself on such a nation as this?

¹⁰For the mountains will I take up weeping and wailing, and a dirge for the pastures of the desert,^y because they are burned up, so that no man passes through, neither is the lowing of cattle heard; both the fowls of the air and the beasts have fled and are gone.

¹¹I will make Jerusalem a heap of ruins, a lair of night-dogs;^z and I will

m) The people are like a tree with worthless fruit on it.

n) The name of the herb "rosh" which yields some extremely bitter fruit or extract [Lam. 3:5, 19]; gall, hile, figure of something very bitter; so they blame God for their misfortune.

o) The people in exile are complaining bitterly that the LORD has forsaken them.

p) The "harvest" lasted from April to June.

q) The "summer" was the period of "ingathering of summer fruits." If the harvest failed, the people might still look forward to the fruit season; but if the fruit, too, failed, famine stared them in the face. r) "Shattered" mentally, prostrated by grief.

s) Referring to the drab and squalid attire and appearance of a mourner in the East [II Sam. 19:24; Esther 4:1].

t) Mountain range or hill country east of Jordan, noted for its balsam and famous physicians.

u) During the reign of Jehoiaikim — where caravans stop, either in the open air or under a roof.

v) Aim darts toward the innocent [Psalm 64:3-5].

w) Those in authority abuse their power and position.

x) Figure for purifying by severe discipline: "refine" in Jer. 6:29 and in Zech. 13:9; "purge away" in Isa. 1:25; "tried" in Psalm 66:10.

y) Literally, "a driving place" for cattle; hence, "uncultivated pasture ground."

z) See ch. 9:12; 49:33; 51:37. Packs of night-dogs still haunt deserted cities in Syria.

make the cities of Judah a desolation without inhabitant.

¹²Who is the man so wise that he can understand this? To whom has the mouth of the LORD spoken, that he may declare it? Why is the land ruined and laid waste like a wilderness, so that no one passes through? ¹³The LORD says: Because they have forsaken My law which I set before them^a and have not obeyed My voice or walked according to it; ¹⁴but have stubbornly followed their own hearts and have gone after the Baals, as their fathers taught them. ¹⁵Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Observe! I will feed this people with wormwood and give them poisonous water to drink. ¹⁶I will scatter them among the nations, whom neither they nor their fathers have known; and I will send the sword after them until I have consumed them.

¹⁷Thus says the LORD of hosts: Consider and call for the mourning women^b to come, and send for skilful women to hasten hither; ¹⁸let them hasten and take up a lamentation for us; let our eyes run down with tears, and our eyelids gush with waters. ¹⁹For a mournful song is heard in Zion, "How ruined we are! We are utterly ashamed, because we have forsaken the land, and they have overthrown our dwellings." ²⁰Hear, O women, the word of the LORD, and let your ear receive the word of His mouth! Teach your daughters a lamentation, and each to her neighbor a dirge. ²¹For death has come up into our windows; it is entered into our palaces, cutting off the children from the streets and the young men from the squares. ²²Speak! Thus says the LORD: The corpses of men shall fall like manure upon the open field, like cut grain after the reaper, and none shall gather them.

²³Thus says the LORD: Let not the wise man boast in his wisdom, let not the mighty man^c boast in his strength, let not the rich man boast in his riches; ²⁴but let the one who glories boast in this, that he understands and knows^d Me, that I am the LORD who practices loving-kindness, justice, and righteousness in the earth; for in these I delight, says the LORD.

²⁵Note! The days are coming, says the LORD, when I will punish all these circumcised who are still uncircumcised^e — ²⁶Egypt, Judah, Edom, the children of Ammon, Moab, and all who dwell in the desert, that clipped^f the corners of their hair; for all these nations are uncircumcised,^g but all the house of Israel is uncircumcised in heart. 597 B.C.

10 HEAR THE WORD WHICH THE LORD is speaking to you, O house of Israel! ²Thus says the LORD: Do not learn the way of the nations nor be terrified by the signs of the heavens,^h because the nations are terrified by them. ³For the customs of the peoples are false. A tree from the forest is cut down and fashioned with an axe by the hands of the craftsmen. ⁴They beautify it with gold and silver; they further fasten it with hammer and nails so that it cannot move. ⁵Their idols are like scarecrows in a cucumber garden; they cannot speak; they must be carried, for they cannot march. Do not fear them, for they can do no evil; neither do they have the power to do good.

⁶Where is any like Thee, O LORD? Thou art great, and Thy name is great in power. ⁷Who should not revere Thee, O King of the nations, for toward Thee itⁱ is befitting; for among all the wise men of the nations and in all their kingdoms there is none like Thee. ⁸They^j are both stupid and foolish; the instruction^k of idols is

a) Alluding particularly to Deut. 4:8, 44.

b) Acting as professional mourners, they recite from memory or extemporize for the occasion, poetry, with a weird haunting effect, which extolls the virtues of the deceased and bewails his loss.

c) "Wise . . . mighty . . . rich" — the three classes that might expect to defend and preserve themselves and their city in times of national disaster.

d) The former refers to the intellect, the latter to the emotions.

e) Literally, "with a foreskin." The ungodly Jews are circumcised physically, but are equally in need of the spiritual circumcision [ch. 4:4].

f) See ch. 25:23, 49:32. Certain Arab tribes shaved their hair off their temples, contrary to Jewish practice [Lev. 19:27]. g) Physically.

h) Extraordinary celestial appearances, such as eclipses and comets. i) Adoration.

j) Idolatrous nations. k) Moral education [Prov. 4:1, 13; 8:10, 33; 13:1].

wooden!¹ ⁹Beaten silver is brought from Tarshish and gold from Uphaz. They are the work of craftsmen and of the hands of the goldsmith; their clothing is scarlet and purple; they are all the work of skilled men. ¹⁰But the LORD is the true God; He is the living God, the everlasting King.^m At his wrath the earth quakes, and the nations cannot endure His indignation.

¹¹Thus^a shall you say to them, "The gods who did not make the heavens and the earth shall perish from the earth and from under the heavens."

¹²It is He who made the earth by His power, who established the world by His wisdom, and by His understanding stretched out the heavens.

¹³When He utters His voice,^o there is a tumult of waters in the heavens, and He causes the vapors to ascend from the ends of the earth; He makes lightnings for the rain, and He brings forth the wind from His storehouses.^p ¹⁴Every man is dull-hearted and without knowledge; every goldsmith is put to shame by his graven images, for his images are false; there is no life in them.

¹⁵They are worthless, a work of mockery; at the time of their punishment they will perish. ¹⁶Not like these is He who is Jacob's portion; for He is the Creator of all things; and Israel is the tribe of His inheritance.^q The LORD of hosts is His name.

¹⁷Gather up your bundle from the ground,^r O you who live under the siege, ¹⁸for thus says the LORD: Take note! I am at this time flinging out the inhabitants of the land, and I will distress them so that they may feel it.

¹⁹Woe^s is me because of my hurt! My wound is grievous; but I said, "Surely this is my sickness and I will bear it." ²⁰My tent is destroyed, and all my cords are broken; my children are gone forth from me, and they are not; there is none to stretch forth my tent again, and to set up my curtains.^t ²¹For the shepherds^u are thoughtless and do not search for the LORD; therefore they have not prospered, and their whole flock is scattered. ²²Listen! A new flash! Look: A great commotion is coming from the land of the north, to make the cities of Judah a desolation, a lair of night-dogs.

²³I know, O LORD, that the way of man is not in himself, that it is not in man who walks to direct his steps.^v ²⁴Correct me, O LORD, but justly; not in Thy anger, lest Thou render me too insignificant.^w ²⁵Pour out Thy wrath upon the nations which do not know Thee, and upon the peoples that have not called on Thy name; for they have devoured Jacob and consumed him and have laid waste his habitation.

620 B.C.

11 THE WORD THAT CAME TO JEREMIAH FROM THE LORD: ²Hear the words of this covenant, and announce them to the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ³You shall say to them, So says the LORD God of Israel: Cursed be the man who does not listen to the words of this covenant,^x ⁴which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the iron furnace,^y saying, Listen to My voice, and do all that I command you; then you shall be My people, and I will be your God, ⁵in order that I may fulfill the agreement I made with your fathers, to give to them a land flowing with milk and honey, as on this day. Then I answered and said, "Amen,"^z O LORD."

⁶Then the LORD said to me, Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem:

1) Wooden as the idols are; no better than the idol itself. Idolatry is destitute of moral and spiritual force. m) Cf. II Chron. 15:3; Ps. 10:16; 42:2.

n) This verse is written in Aramaic, which the exiled Hebrews acquired and continued using after their return. o) Thunder [Ps. 18:14; 29:3-9].

p) Ps. 135:7, effects of the thunderstorm; man is dumb before it. q) See Ps. 16:5.

r) In preparation for going into exile.

s) The community in vss. 19, 20 is personified, dramatically bewailing its fate.

t) My tent-hangings [ch. 4:20]. u) Figure of rulers, as in ch. 2:8; 3:15; 23:1, etc.

v) See Prov. 16:9.

w) See ch. 29:6; 30:19; "Be few." "Lest Thou rub me out," Martin Luther put it. As in Isa. 40, man stands here in the presence of His sovereign God, of whom and to whom are all things.

x) See Deut. 11:28; 27:26; 28:13; 29:9.

y) Furnace in which iron is smelted—figure of severe suffering [Deut. 4:20; I Kings 8:51].

z) "Let it be so," or "so be it."

Listen to the words of this covenant and do them. ⁷For I earnestly admonished your fathers in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, even to this day, rising up early^a and admonishing, saying, Obey My voice. ⁸Yet they neither obeyed nor inclined their ear, but every one walked in the stubbornness of his own evil heart; consequently, I brought^b upon them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do, but which they did not observe.

^cImmediately after 621 B.C.

⁹Again the LORD said to me: There is a conspiracy among the men of Judah and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ¹⁰They have returned to the iniquities of their fathers who refused to hear My words; they have gone after other gods to serve them; the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken the covenant that I made with their fathers. ¹¹Therefore, thus says the LORD: Observe, I am bringing calamity upon them which they cannot escape; though they shall cry to Me, I will not listen to them.^c ¹²Then the cities of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem shall go and cry out to the gods to whom they burn incense, but they cannot save them in the time of their calamity. ¹³For your gods have become as numerous as your cities, O Judah; and as numerous as the streets of Jerusalem are the altars which you built to the shameful thing,^d altars to burn incense to Baal.

¹⁴Therefore do not pray in behalf of this people, or lift up a cry or a prayer for them; for I will not listen when they call to me in the time of their trouble. ¹⁵What right has my beloved^e in my house when she has committed wicked acts? Can vows and sacrificial flesh remove wickedness from you? Can you then rejoice? ¹⁶"A green olive tree, fair, with goodly fruit," the LORD once called you; but at the roaring^f of a great tempest He will set fire to it and consume its branches.^g ¹⁷For the LORD of hosts, who planted you, has threatened adversity against you, because of the great evil which the house of Israel and the house of Judah have done, goading Me by burning incense to Baal.

¹⁸The LORD revealed it to me and I knew it; then He showed me their actions. ¹⁹But I was like a pet^h lamb led to the slaughter. I did not know that they had concocted plots against me, saying, "Let us destroy the tree with its sap,ⁱ and let us cut him off from the land of the living, so that his name may be remembered no more." ²⁰But, O LORD of hosts, who judgest rightly, who tests^j the reins^k and heart,^l let me see Thy vengeance on them; for to Thee have I committed my case. ²¹Therefore, thus says the LORD about the men of Anathoth, who seek your life, saying, "Stop prophesying in the name of the LORD, or you will die by our hand" — ²²therefore, thus says the LORD of hosts: See, I will punish them; the young men shall die by the sword; their sons and their daughters shall die by famine, ²³and there shall be no remnant left of them. For I will bring calamity upon the men of Anathoth in the year of their punishment.

12 RIGHTEOUS ART THOU, O LORD, when I complain to Thee; yet will I argue with Thee about justice. Why does the way of the wicked prosper? Why do all who are very treacherous flourish? ²Thou plantest them, and they sprout; they grow^m and bring forth fruit; Thou art near in their mouth but far from their inmost selves. ³Thou, O LORD, knowest me; Thou seest me and triest my heart toward Thee. Pull them out like sheep

a) Giving it special attention. b) See the treatise in Deut. 8:19; 28:15 ff.

c) The essence of prayer is friendly conversation — impossible without love. d) Baal [ch. 3:24]. e) Judah [ch. 12:7]. f) As the rising of the tempest.

g) See Ps. 52:8; Hosea 14:6; during a great storm the olive tree was struck suddenly by lightning, sadly marring its beauty. h) "Tame" — trustful, unsuspecting.

i) Figure for a person in the full strength and vigor of life.

j) He is cognizant of man's emotions and affections, as well as of his thoughts and purposes [see ch. 17:10; 20:12; Ps. 7:9; 26:2].

k) Kidneys — innermost self, the seat of "feeling" [Prov. 23:16; Ps. 16:7; 73:21; Job 19:27]. l) The "heart," the seat of "understanding" [Prov. 15:14; 20:5]. m) Ps. 37:35.

for the slaughter, and mark them for the day of butchering.^o ⁴How long will the land mourn and the grass of every green field wither? For the wickedness of these that dwell in it, the beast and the bird are swept away, because they say, "He will not see our ending."^p ⁵If you have raced with the footmen and they have worn you out, how then will you compete with horses? And if in a land of peace you are not secure, what will you do in the Jordan jungle?^q ⁶For even your brothers and the house of your father, even they have treated you treacherously; they pursue you with an alarm cry; do not believe them, though they speak flattering words to you.

⁷I have forsaken My house, I have cast off My heritage; I have given the beloved of My soul into the hand of her enemies. ⁸My heritage has become to Me like a lion^r in the forest; she utters her voice against Me; therefore I consider her hateful. ⁹Is^s My heritage to Me like a speckled bird of prey? Are the birds of prey against her all around?^t ¹Go, assemble all the beasts of the field; bring them to devour.^u ¹⁰Many shepherds^v have laid waste My vineyard; they have trampled underfoot My portion; they have made My pleasant portion a forlorn wilderness.

¹¹They have made it a waste; solitary, it wails to Me.^w The whole land is made desolate, but no man lays it to heart.^x ¹²Upon all the bare heights in the wilderness^y the spoilers are come; for the sword of the LORD has consumed from one end of the earth to the other; no flesh has peace. ¹³They have sown wheat but have reaped thorns; they have uselessly exhausted themselves, but they profit nothing; and they shall be ashamed of their harvests because of the fierce anger of the LORD.

¹⁴Thus says the LORD regarding all My evil neighbors who touch the inheritance which I have given My people Israel to inherit: Observe, I will pluck them up from their land, and I will pluck the house of Judah from the midst of them. ¹⁵And after I have plucked them up, I will return and have compassion on them, and I will bring back each to his inheritance and each to his land. ¹⁶And it shall be, if they will diligently learn the ways of My people, to swear by My name, "As the LORD lives," even as they taught My people to swear by Baal, then they shall be built up in the midst of My people. ¹⁷But if they will not listen, then I will utterly uproot that nation and destroy it, says the LORD.

605 B.C.

13 THUS THE LORD SPOKE TO ME: Go and buy a linen waistcloth, put it on your loins, and do not dip it in water. ²So I bought the waistcloth according to the word of the LORD and put it on my loins. ³Then the word of the LORD came to me a second time: ⁴Take the waistcloth that you have bought, which is upon your loins, and arise, go to Euphrates,^z and bury it there in a cleft of the rock. ⁵So I went and hid it by Euphrates, as the LORD commanded. ⁶After many days the LORD said to me: Arise, go to Euphrates, and take the waistcloth from the place where I commanded you to hide it. ⁷Then I went to Euphrates and digged and took the waistcloth from the place where I had buried it. And look, the waistcloth was ruined;^a it was good for nothing. ⁸Then the word of the LORD came to me: ⁹Thus says the LORD: Just so I will ruin the pride of Judah and the excessive pride of

o) As though they were victims for sacrifice.

p) Not see his predictions fulfilled; they will outlive him, or put him out of the way.

q) The luxuriant growth of bushes and thick vegetation fringing the banks of the Jordan, infested with lions and other wild beasts, consequently dangerous to enter.

r) Unruly, uncontrollable, My open enemy.

s) A bird of unusual plumage which the other birds of the same kind attack.

t) Questions of astonishment, but true. u) Beasts of prey. v) Figure of invaders [ch. 6:3].

w) As a trouble resting upon Me.

x) No one has considered what would be the end of the policy which Judah has been pursuing.

y) The uncultivated pasture lands.

z) "Perath" means the Euphrates River when it has the article. Here it probably refers to "Parah," a town about three miles northeast of Anathoth [Josh. 18:23], located in a wild and rocky valley watered by a copious spring, Wady Fara, which runs into the Wady Kelt flowing down past Jericho into the Jordan.

a) It had been in a moist place, so the water had penetrated.

Jerusalem. ¹⁰This evil people, who refuse to hear My words, who stubbornly follow their own hearts and have gone after other gods to serve them and to worship them, shall be like this waistcloth, which is good for nothing. ¹¹Just as the waistcloth cleaves to the loins of a man, so I made to cleave to Me all the house of Israel and all the house of Judah, says the LORD, that they might be for Me a people, a name, and a glory; but they would not listen.

¹²Now you shall speak to them this word: Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, Every jar shall be filled with wine, and they will say to you, "Do we not know full well that every jar is filled with wine?" ¹³Then you shall say to them, Thus says the LORD: Behold, I will fill with drunkenness^b all the inhabitants of this land, the kings who sit on the throne of David, the priests, the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ¹⁴And I will dash^c them one against another, the fathers and sons, says the LORD. I will not pity or spare or have compassion, that I should not destroy them.

¹⁵Listen and give ear; be not proud,^d because the LORD has spoken. ¹⁶Give glory to the LORD your God^e before He brings darkness, before your feet stumble on the twilight mountains and while you hope for light. He turns it into gloom and makes it gross darkness. ¹⁷But if you will not hear it, my soul will weep in secret because of your pride; my eyes shall weep bitterly and run with tears, because the flock of the LORD has been taken captive. ¹⁸Say to the king and to the queen mother, "Take a lowly seat, for your crown of beauty^f has been removed from your head."

¹⁹The cities of the South^g are shut up, with none to open them. All Judah is carried into captivity, completely taken into exile. ²⁰Raise your eyes and see those coming from the North.^h

Where is the flock that was given you, your beautiful flock? ²¹What will you say when they set as head over you those whom you trained to be friends with you? ²²Will not pangs take hold of you, like those of a woman in labor? ²³And if you say in your heart, "Why have these things come upon me?" it is for the greatness of your iniquity that your skirts are lifted and your heels are rudely exposed. ²⁴Can the Ethiopian change his skin or the leopard his spots? Then also you can do no good who are accustomed to do evil. ²⁵I will scatter you like chaff driven by the desert wind. ²⁶This is your lot, the portion I have measured out to you, says the LORD, because you have forgotten Me and have trusted in falsehoods. ²⁷Also I, on My part, will strip off your skirts up to your face and your nakedness will be exposed. ²⁸I have seen your detestable behavior, your adulteries and lustful cries, your lewd harlotries on the foothills in the fields. Woe to you, O Jerusalem! How long will it be before you are made clean?

603 B.C.

14 THE WORD OF THE LORD WHICH came to Jeremiah concerning the drought: ²Judah mourns and her gatesⁱ languish; her people are mourning on the ground; the cry of Jerusalem goes up. ³Her noblemen send their servants for water; they come to the wells; they find no water; they return with their vessels empty; they are disappointed^k and confounded and cover their heads.^l ⁴Because of the ground they are frustrated, since there is no rain on the land; the plowmen are ashamed; they cover their heads. ⁵Even the hind in the field forsakes her newborn calf because there is no grass. ⁶The wild asses stand on bare heights; they pant for air like jackals; their eyes fail^m because there is no vegetation.

b) Mental paralysis and bewilderment, rendering man helpless in the face of a great calamity. c) Ch. 25:15-18; Ps. 60:3; Isa. 51:17. d) Refusing to listen to the LORD's warnings.

e) Recognize His majesty by obeying His words. f) "Headdress."

g) "The Negeb," a particular district in southern Judah. h) See ch. 4:6; 6:1, 22.

i) "You asked for it," we remark today [ch. 2:36; 4:30; Ezek. 23:22].

j) Place of public discourses [Ruth 4:1, 2, 11]. k) See Job 4:20; Joel 1:11. l) A sign of grief.

m) Looking in vain for food [Job 11:20; Lam. 4:17].

⁷Though our iniquities testify against us,^a do it,^o O LORD, for Thy name's sake; for our backslidings are many; against Thee have we sinned. ⁸O Thou Hope of Israel, its Savior in time of adversity, why shouldst Thou be like a stranger in the land, as a traveling man who turns aside for a night?^p ⁹Why shouldst Thou be like a man surprised, like a strong man^q who cannot save? Yet Thou, O LORD, art in the midst of us, and we are called by Thy name; leave us not.

¹⁰Thus says the LORD concerning this people: They have loved to wander thus; they have not curbed their feet; therefore the LORD does not accept them; now He will remember their iniquity and punish their sins.^r

¹¹Then the LORD said to me: Do not even pray for the prosperity of this people. ¹²When they fast, I will not hear their cry, and when they offer burnt offering and oblation, I will not accept them; but I will consume them by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence.^s

¹³Then I said, "Alas, Lord God: see, the prophets tell them, 'You shall not see the sword, neither shall you experience famine, but I will give you assured peace' in this place."^t ¹⁴The LORD said to me: The prophets are prophesying lies in My name; I did not send them, neither did I command them, nor did I speak to them. They are prophesying to you a deceitful vision, a worthless divination, and the distortion of their own minds.^u ¹⁵Therefore, thus says the LORD concerning the prophets who prophesy in My name: Although I did not send them, yet they say, "Sword and famine shall not come on this land." By sword and famine those prophets shall be consumed,¹⁰ and the people to whom they prophesy shall be flung out in the streets of Jerusalem, victims of famine and sword, with no one to bury them, their wives, their sons, and their daughters. For I will pour out their wickedness upon them.

¹⁷You shall pronounce this word to them: Let my eyes run with tears night and day, and let them not cease; for the virgin daughter of my people is smitten with a great breach, with a very ugly wound. ¹⁸If I go forth into the field, look, these slain by the sword! And if I enter into the city, note the diseases of famine.^v Both prophet and priest roam in the land,^w not knowing what to do.^x ¹⁹Hast Thou utterly rejected Judah? Does Thy soul despise Zion? Why then hast Thou smitten us so that there is no healing for us? We expected peace, but no good came; a time of healing, but behold, dismay! ²⁰We confess^y our wickedness, O LORD, and the iniquity of our fathers, for we have sinned against Thee! ²¹For Thy name's sake do not reject the throne of Thy glory; remember, and do not break Thy covenant with us.^z ²²Are there any among the fallen gods^a of the nations that can make rain? Or can the heavens give copious showers? Art Thou not He, the LORD our God? We wait for Thee, for Thou doest all these things.

603 B.C.

15 THEN THE LORD SAID TO ME, Though Moses and Samuel stood before Me, yet My mind would not incline toward this people. Send them out of My sight, and let them go forth! ²When they say to you, "Where shall we go?" you shall tell them, Thus says the LORD: Those who are for death,^b to death; and those who are for the sword, to the sword; and those who are for famine, to famine; and those who are for captivity, to captivity. ³I will appoint over them four destroyers, says the LORD: the sword to slay, the dogs to tear, the fowls of the heavens and the beasts of

a) Like Moses and Nehemiah, pleading for their ill-behaving people, Jeremiah identifies himself with those who deserve punishment. It is not "they" and "them" but "we" and "us."

o) I Kings 8:32, 39; Ezek. 20:9, 14, 22. p) As a passing visitor or traveler.

q) A warrior. Contrast ch. 20:11; Zeph. 3:17. r) A quotation from Hosea 8:13.

s) Threefold punishment found frequently in the roll of Jeremiah.

t) "Peace of stability" or "faithfulness." u) See ch. 23:16, 26, 32.

v) Jeremiah imagines himself to be witnessing the approaching invasion, siege, and exile.

w) Degradation from an honorable office. x) See ch. 15:14; 17:4. y) See ch. 3:13; Isa. 59:12.

z) Jeremiah, priest and prophet, puts himself, as did Jesus, in the place of his sinful people.

a) Unreal gods [ch. 2:5; 8:19]. b) By pestilence [ch. 18:21].

the earth to devour and to destroy. ⁴And I will make them a terror to all the kingdoms of the earth, because of what Manasseh the son of Hezekiah, king of Judah, did in Jerusalem.^c ⁵For who will have pity on you, O Jerusalem? Or who will commiserate you? Or who will turn aside to inquire of your welfare? ⁶You have forsaken Me, says the LORD. You keep on going backward; therefore I have stretched out My hand against you and destroyed you; I am weary of grieving. ⁷I have sifted them with a sifting sieve^d in the gates of the land; I am broken-hearted, for I have destroyed My people, because they did not return from their ways. ⁸I have increased the number of your widows more than the sands of the sea; I have brought against the mothers of young men^e a devastation at noonday; I have caused agitation and dismay to fall suddenly upon them. ⁹She who bore seven has languished; her soul has expired;^f her sun^g has gone down while it was still day. She has been put to shame and disgraced. And the remainder of them I will give to the sword before their enemies, says the LORD.

¹⁰Woe is me, my mother, that you have borne me, a man of strife and contention to the whole earth! I have lent no money, nor have I borrowed any money, yet they all curse me.^h

¹¹The LORD said: I will leave you some who shall prosper again, and I will help you among the enemy in the time of trouble and in the hour of calamity. ¹²Can one break iron, iron from the north, and bronze?ⁱ ¹³Your wealth and your treasures will I give for spoil, without price, for all your sins, throughout all your territory. ¹⁴And I will make you serve your enemies in a land which you do not know; for a fire is kindled in My anger^j which shall burn for ever.

¹⁵Thou knowest, O LORD, remember me and visit me, and take vengeance for me on my persecutors. Take me not away in Thy patience;^k know that for Thy sake I suffer reproach.

¹⁶Thy words were found, and I ate them,^l and Thy words were to me a joy and a rejoicing of my heart; for I bear Thy name, O LORD, God of hosts.

¹⁷I did not sit in the assembly of merrymakers, nor did I rejoice; because of Thy hand^m I have sat alone; for Thou hast filled me with indignation.

¹⁸Why is my pain perpetual and my wound incurable, refusing to be healed? Wilt Thou be to me like a deceitful brook, as waters that dry up?

¹⁹Therefore thus says the LORD: If you return, then will I restore you, and you shall stand before Me.ⁿ If you bring out the precious from the worthless,^o you shall be My mouth.^p They shall return to you, but you shall not return to them,^q and I will make you to this people a fortified wall of bronze. They will fight against you, but they shall not prevail over you; for I am with you to save you and to deliver you, says the LORD. ²¹I will deliver you out of the hand of the wicked and redeem you from the grip of the tyrants.

604-597 B.C.

16 THEN^q THE WORD OF THE LORD came to me: ²You must not take a wife, you must not have sons and

c) Manasseh had repented and was forgiven, but the consequences of his sin were plaguing the people.

d) A wooden fork about six feet long with five or six prongs, bound together by fresh hide; when the hide shrinks, it forms a tight band. e) The young warriors slain in battle.

f) Mental collapse at the death of her sons in battle; see Job 11:20.

g) The brightness of her home. h) His unpopularity was due to his predictions of coming disaster.

i) Can anything avail to resist the power of the Chaldeans, the "Northern Colossus"?

j) So Deut. 32:22.

k) Through Thy mercy towards my enemies. The prophet is confident that the Babylonians will effect their purpose.

l) I found Thy word and assimilated it, made it part of myself; so did Ezekiel [2:8-3:3], eating a written scroll; so also John [Rev. 10:9, 10].

m) The grasp of the Lord's hand, seizing him and bringing him into a prophetic accord [I Kings 18:46; II Kings 3:15; Isaiah 8:11; Ezek. 1:3; 3:14, 22].

n) Be His servant. If Jeremiah turns back from his distrust and despair, the LORD will co-operate with him and help him again to resume his place as His minister.

o) Like a refiner, separating the pure and divine from the slag of earthly passion and weakness.

p) As My spokesman or prophet [Ex. 4:16], Aaron is called Moses' mouth.

q) During the latter half of Jehoiakim's reign.

daughters in this place. ³For thus says the LORD concerning the sons and the daughters, who are born in this place and concerning the mothers who bore them and the fathers who begot them in this land: ⁴They shall die of the pestilence;^r they shall not be mourned, neither shall they be buried; they shall be as fertilizer on the topsoil. They shall be consumed by the sword and by famine, and their corpses shall be food for the birds of the air and for the beasts of the field.

⁵For thus says the LORD: Do not enter the house of grief, neither go to lament, nor to comfort them; for I have withdrawn My good will from this people, says the LORD, even kindness and compassion. ⁶Both great and small shall die in this land; they shall not be buried; no one shall mourn^s for them, or gash himself, or make himself bald^t for them. ⁷No one shall break bread for the mourner or comfort him for the dead; neither shall they give him the cup of consolation to drink for his father or his mother.^u ⁸You shall not enter the house of feasting to sit with them, to eat and drink. ⁹For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Observe! I will banish from this place before your eyes and in your days the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride.

¹⁰Now, when you tell this people all these words, and they ask you, "Why has the LORD decreed all this great evil against us? What is our crime? What sin have we committed against the LORD, our God?" ¹¹then you shall tell them: "Because your fathers forsook Me, says the LORD, because they followed after foreign gods, serving and worshiping them; because they forsook Me and did not keep My teaching; ¹²and because you have done worse than your fathers; for look, every one of you is following your own stubborn, evil mind, refusing to listen to Me. ¹³So I will hurl you out of this land into the land which neither you nor your fathers have known, and there you shall serve other gods day and night, who will grant you no favor." ¹⁴Therefore, take notice, the days are coming, says the LORD, when it shall no more be said, "As the LORD lives, who brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt," ¹⁵but, "As the LORD lives who brought up the children of Israel from the north country, and from all the countries whither He had driven them." For I will bring them back into their own land that I gave to their fathers.

¹⁶Behold, I will send many fishers, says the LORD, and they shall catch them; and afterwards I will send many hunters, and they shall hunt them^v out of every mountain and high hill and cleft of the rocks. ¹⁷For My eyes are upon all their ways; they are not hid from Me, nor is their iniquity concealed from My eyes. ¹⁸And I will double the recompense of their iniquity and their sin, because they have defiled My land with the dead bodies of their detestable idols^w and have filled My heritage with their abominations. ¹⁹O LORD, my strength and my stronghold, my refuge in the hour of trouble, to Thee shall nations come from the ends of the earth, and they shall say, "Our fathers got hold of unmitigated lies, vain and without profit."^x ²⁰Can a man make for himself gods, when they are not gods?^y ²¹Therefore, I will cause them to know, this once will I cause them to know My hand and My authority, and they shall know that My name is the LORD.

597 B.C.

17 THE SIN OF JUDAH IS WRITTEN with a pen of iron;^z with the point of a diamond it is engraved on the tablet of their heart and on the horns of their altars, ²while their chil-

^r) "Deaths of sickness."

^s) With the loud and piercing cries of grief with which in the East a death is bewailed [Mark 5:38]. ^t) Marks of mourning [Amos 8:10; Micah 1:16].

^u) Allusion to the custom, when the first outbreak of grief had subsided, the friends of the mourners would endeavor to comfort them and induce them to take food [II Sam. 3:35; 12:17].

^v) Those who forsake God expose themselves to fake leaders and to superstition to take His place in life. ^w) Called "dead bodies" in contempt [Lev. 26:30]. ^x) Ch. 2:8, 11; Isa. 44:9, 10.

^y) Either God is worshiped or a god is found or made to which to bow.

^z) Used for incising indelible characters on hard surface [Job 19:24].

dren remember their altars and their Asherim,^a by the spreading trees^b upon the high hills, ³on the mountains in the field. Your wealth and all your treasure I will give for spoil as the price of your sin throughout all your territories. ⁴You shall abandon your heritage which I gave you, and I will make you serve your enemies in a land which you do not know. You have kindled My wrath into a fire that will burn forever.

⁵Thus says the LORD: Cursed is the man who trusts in man and makes flesh his arm, whose heart departs from the LORD. ⁶He is like a juniper tree^c in a desert and shall not be aware when good comes; he shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, an uninhabited salt land. ⁷Blessed is the man who trusts in the LORD and whose confidence is the LORD. ⁸He is like a tree planted by water, that sends out its roots by the stream, and it does not fear when heat comes, for its leaves remain green; in the year of drought it is not anxious, for it does not fail to yield fruit. ⁹The heart is deceitful above all things and utterly corrupt; who can know it? ¹⁰I the LORD search the heart and test the inner self to give to everyone according to his ways, in accordance with the fruit of his actions. ¹¹Like a partridge that collects a brood that she did not hatch,^d so is he who unfairly collects riches; in the midst of his days they will forsake him, and at his final end he will be a fool.^e ¹²A glorious throne, on high from the beginning, is the place of our sanctuary! ¹³O LORD, the Hope of Israel, all who forsake Thee shall be put to shame; those who turn aside from Thee shall be written on the ground,^f because they have forsaken the LORD, the Fountain of living waters.^g

¹⁴Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved;

for Thou art my praise, ¹⁵See, they say to me, "Why tarries the word of the LORD? Let it come!"^h ¹⁶I have not urged Thee to send calamity, nor have I desired the woeful day, Thou knowest; that which came out of my lips was known to Thee. ¹⁷Be no terror to me; Thou art my refuge in the day of adversity. ¹⁸Let my persecutors be put to shame, but let me not be put to shame; let them be dismayed, but let not me be dismayed; bring upon them the day of calamity; destroy them with double destruction.ⁱ

Near 621 B.C.

¹⁹Thus said the LORD to me: Go, and stand in the People's Gate where the kings of Judah enter and go out; in all the gates of Jerusalem say to them: ²⁰"Hear the word of the LORD, you kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem who enter by these gates. ²¹Thus says the LORD: Pay attention for the sake of your lives, and bear no burden on the Sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem. ²²Do not carry a burden out of your house on the Sabbath or do any work, but keep the Sabbath day holy as I commanded your fathers. ²³Yet they did not listen or incline their ear, but they stiffened their neck that they might not hear and receive instruction. ²⁴But if you listen to Me, says the LORD, and bring no burden through the gates of this city on the Sabbath day, but keep the Sabbath day holy and do no work on it, ²⁵then there shall enter by the gates of this city kings and princes sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, they and their princes, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and this city shall be inhabited forever. ²⁶The people shall come from the cities of Judah and from the places around Jerusalem, from the land of Benjamin, from the low land, from the hill country, and from

a) Shame images carved with sexual suggestions [see Judg. 6:25, 26].

b) Often alluded to as places of idolatrous rites [see Deut. 12:2].

c) The dwarf juniper tree, of gloomy and stunted appearance, with its leaves cropped close by wild goats.

d) The partridge lays a large number of eggs which the Arabs eagerly seek for food; hence, the bird often hatches no young. e) Showing himself to be morally and spiritually bankrupt.

f) From which their names will soon be obliterated. g) Ever fresh and never failing [ch. 2:13].

h) A taunting question [Isa. 5:19; Ezek. 12:22].

i) Jeremiah has spoken and done all that the LORD commanded. Why should He abandon him to his foes? He wonders.

the south,¹ bringing burnt offerings and sacrifices, oblations and frankincense, bringing thank offerings to the house of the LORD. ²⁷But if you do not listen to Me, to keep the Sabbath day holy, not to bear a burden and not to enter in at the gates of Jerusalem on the Sabbath day, then I will kindle a fire in its gates, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem^k and not be extinguished."

Prior to 605 B.C.

18 THE WORD WHICH CAME TO Jeremiah from the LORD: ²Arise, go down to the potter's house,¹ and there I will help you to understand My words. ³So I went down to the potter's house, and look, he was doing a piece of work on the wheel.^m ⁴The vessel he was making of the clay was misformed in the hands of the potter. So he remade it into another vessel, as it seemed good to the potter to do. ⁵Then the word of the LORD came to me: ⁶O house of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter did? says the LORD. Take notice, just as the clay is in the potter's hand, so are you in My hand,ⁿ O house of Israel. ⁷If suddenly I declare concerning a nation or a kingdom, to pluck up, to break down, and to destroy it, ⁸and if that nation concerning which I have spoken turns from its evil, then I will feel grieved about the punishment that I planned to apply to it. ⁹And if at any moment I speak concerning a nation or a kingdom, to build and to plant it, ¹⁰and if it does evil in my sight, not listening to My voice, then will I change from the good which I had intended to do to it.^o

¹¹Therefore, now say to the men of Judah and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, "Thus says the LORD: Behold, I am preparing calamity against you and devising a plan against you. Return, I pray you, everyone from his evil way, and amend your ways and your doings."^p ¹²But they say, "There is no use;^q for we will follow after our own schemes, and behave each in accordance with the wilfulness^r of his evil heart." ¹³Therefore, thus says the LORD: Inquire among the nations, who ever heard of anything comparable to this? The virgin Israel has done an exceedingly horrible thing. ¹⁴Does the snow of Lebanon leave the rocks of the field? Or do the cold, flowing streams dry up?^s ¹⁵But My people have forgotten Me; they burn incense to false gods; and they have stumbled in their ways, in the ancient roads,^t and have walked in bypaths, not the highway, ¹⁶making their land a desolation and a perpetual hissing; everyone who passes by it is appalled and shakes his head."^u ¹⁷I will scatter them before the enemy like a hot east wind;^v I will show them my back, not my face, in the day of their calamity.

¹⁸Then they said, "Come, and let us devise schemes against Jeremiah; for direction^w shall not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet.^x Come, and let us smite him with the tongue,^y and let us not heed any of his words."

¹⁹Give heed to me, O LORD, hear what my opponents say. ²⁰Shall evil be recompensed for good? Yet they have dug a pit for my life. Remember how I stood before Thee to speak good for

j) Three districts of Judah.

k) These words are based on the refrain in the book of Amos [ch. 1:4, 7, 10, 12].

l) "The potter's field" lay just beyond the valley of Hinnom, south of Jerusalem [Zech. 11:13; Matt. 27:10].

m) Hebrew: "on the two [circular] stones" — the lower one was turned by the feet; the upper [on the same vertical axle] supported the clay.

n) A strong assertion of the LORD's absolute power and right over the creatures He makes and the nations He calls into being [cf. Isa. 45:9; Rom. 9:20, 21].

o) The LORD's action is not arbitrary but always in accordance with our behavior toward Him. p) Turn from evil and return to God and goodness [II Kings 17:13; Jer. 7:3].

q) Ch. 2:25. The speakers are not despondent over their state and prospects, but they would silence the troublesome preacher. This language of the Jews marks the last stage of hardened wickedness. r) "Firmness" or "stubbornness" [ch. 13:10; 23:17; Ps. 81:13].

s) The snow of Lebanon never fails; its gushing streams never dry up; a contrast to Israel's fickleness. t) Ch. 6:16. u) "Wagging the head" — in mockery and ridicule.

v) A scorching, suffocating, and destructive wind, which is apt to spring up suddenly with great violence, from the desert on the east or southeast.

w) Direction to the laity what to do on points of ceremonial observance [ch. 8:8].

x) They could not conceive of the day when the state would come to an end and the religious leaders be no longer able to fulfil their various duties [Ezek. 7:26].

y) Bring some serious accusation against him, such as a charge of treason.

them, to turn back Thy anger from them. ²¹Therefore deliver up their children to famine; give them over to the power of the sword,² and let their wives become childless and widowed; let their men meet death by pestilence and their young men be smitten by the sword in battle. ²²Let a cry^a be heard from their houses, when Thou bringest the marauder suddenly upon them! For they have dug a pit to take me and laid snares for my feet. ²³Yet Thou, O LORD, knowest all their scheming to slay me. Forgive not their iniquity, neither blot out their sin from Thy sight; but let them be made to stumble before Thee; deal Thou with them in the time of Thy indignation.

19 THUS SAYS THE LORD: GO AND buy a potter's earthen jar, take some of the elders of the people and some of the older priests,² and go out to the Ben-hinnom Valley close to the entrance of the Potsherd Gate, and there proclaim the message I give you. ³Say, "Hear the word of the LORD, O kings of Judah and dwellers of Jerusalem. Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Take note, I am bringing such a calamity upon this place that the ears of every hearer shall tingle.^b ⁴Because the people have abandoned Me and have desecrated this place by burning incense to other gods, which neither they nor their fathers nor the kings of Judah have known, and because they have filled this place with the blood of innocents,^c ⁵and have erected shrines to Baal for burning alive their sons in the fire for burnt offerings to Baal, which I did not command or decree, a thing that never entered My mind; ⁶therefore, see, the days are coming, says the LORD, when this place shall no more be called Topheth, nor the Ben-hinnom Valley, but the Valley of Slaughter. ⁷I will make void the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem in this place; and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies and by the hands of those seeking their life. I will give their corpses as food for the birds of the air and for the beasts of the earth. ⁸I will make this city an astonishment and a scorn so that every one who passes by will be amazed and hiss because of all its calamities.^d ⁹And I will make the people eat the flesh of their own sons and daughters, and every one shall eat the flesh of his neighbor in the siege and in the distress with which their enemies and those who seek their life mistreat them."^e

¹⁰Then you shall break the jar in the sight of the men who go with you, ¹¹and shall say to them, "Thus says the LORD of hosts: So will I break this people and this city as one breaks a potter's vessel, so that it cannot be repaired. Men shall bury in Topheth because there shall be no other place to bury. ¹²This is how I will treat this place, says the LORD, and its inhabitants, making this city like Topheth. ¹³The houses of Jerusalem and the houses of the kings of Judah shall be as unclean as Topheth — all the houses upon whose roofs they have burned incense to all the host of heaven^f and have poured out drink offerings to foreign gods."^g

¹⁴Then Jeremiah left Topheth, where the LORD had sent him to prophesy, and he stood inside the court of the LORD's house, where he told all the people, ¹⁵"Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Behold I am bringing upon this city and upon all her environs all the calamity that I have pronounced against it, because they have stiffened their neck, refusing to hear My words."

20 NOW PASHUR THE SON OF IMMER the priest, who was overseer^h in the LORD's house, heard Jeremiah prophesying this message. ²Then Pashur beat Jeremiah the prophet and put him in the stocks that were in the

2) Literally: "Spill them into the hands of the sword."

a) Such as arises when a city is given over to be sacked.

b) See the expression in I Sam. 3:11; II Kings 21:12. c) See II Kings 21:16; 24:4, of Manasseh.

d) "Plagues" or "blows." e) See Deut. 28:53. f) See II Kings 23:5; Zeph. 1:5.

g) Invariably the LORD gave His people over to the nations whose idols they worshiped. Babylon was guided by astrologers. h) Chief officer or ruler.

upper Benjamin Gate of the house of the LORD.¹ ³The next day Pashur released Jeremiah from the stocks, and Jeremiah said to him, "The LORD's name for you is not Pashur, but Magor-missabib."⁴ For thus says the LORD: Take note, I will make you a terror to yourself and to all your friends; they shall fall by the sword of their enemies as you look on. And all Judah I will give into the hand of the king of Babylon, who shall carry them captive to Babylon and shall slay them with the sword. ⁵I will also hand over all the wealth of this city, all its possessions, all its prized belongings, and all the treasures of the kings of Judah into the hands of their enemies who shall rifle and seize them and cart them off to Babylon. ⁶And you, Pashur, and all who live in your house, shall go into captivity; to Babylon you shall go; there you shall die, and there you shall be buried, you and all your friends to whom you have prophesied falsely."⁷

⁷Thou didst persuade me, O LORD, and I was persuaded;¹ Thou art stronger than I, and Thou hast prevailed. I have become a laughingstock all day long; everyone ridicules me. ⁸For whenever I speak, I cry out, I must shout, "Violence and spoil!" For the word of the LORD has become to me a reproach and a derision all day long. ⁹If I say, "I will not think of Him or speak in His name again," then there is in my heart as it were a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I am weary with holding it in;^m I cannot continue. ¹⁰For I hear much muttering. Terror is on every side. "Silence him! Let us silence him,"ⁿ all my familiar friends remark, watching for my fall.^o "Perhaps he will be enticed;^p then we shall overcome him and take our revenge on him."

¹¹But the LORD is with me as a fear-inspiring warrior. Therefore my persecutors will stumble and not prevail. They shall be greatly ashamed because they have acted unwisely. Their eternal dishonor will never be forgotten. ¹²But, O LORD of hosts, who tests the righteous, who sees the heart and the mind, let me see Thy vengeance upon them; for to Thee have I committed my case. ¹³Sing to the LORD; give praise to the LORD. For He has delivered the life of the needy from the hands of evildoers.^q ¹⁴Cursed be the day when I was born! The day when my mother bore me, let it not be blessed! ¹⁵Cursed be the man who brought the news to my father, saying, "A son is born to you," making him very glad. ¹⁶And let that man be like the cities^r which the LORD crushed without pity; let him hear shrieks^s at dawn and the war cry at noon, ¹⁷because he did not kill me in the womb so that my mother should have been my grave and her womb for ever great. ¹⁸Why did I come forth from the womb to see toil and sorrow and spend my days in shame?

588 B.C.

21 THE MESSAGE THAT CAME TO Jeremiah from the LORD, when King Zedekiah sent Pashur the son of Malchiah and Zephaniah the priest, the son of Maaseiah, saying, ²"Inquire, I pray you, of the LORD for us, because Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, is making war on us.^t Perhaps the LORD will deal with us according to all His wondrous works and will force him to retreat."

³But Jeremiah said to them, ⁴"This shall you say to Zedekiah: 'Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Observe, I will turn back the weapons of war which are in your hands, with which you are fighting against the king of Babylon and against the Babylonians who are besieging you outside the walls, and I will gather them in the midst of this city. ⁵Also, I Myself will

i) The north gate of the inner court of the temple.

j) "Terror on every side." Same expression in ch. 46:5; Lam. 2:22.

k) Pashur and his friends pursued a policy directly opposite to Jeremiah's - that fear of the Babylonians was groundless.

l) Overpowered by the LORD to become his prophet and induced into a position fraught with vexations and disappointments, which he never anticipated. m) "Enduring."

n) Report him to authorities for treason.

o) "Limping" - halting; figure for "fatal step," "ruin" [cf. Ps. 35:15; 38:17].

p) Saying an unguarded word, that might be construed as treason. q) A jubilant thanksgiving.

r) Sodom and Gomorrah. s) Of his household and friends, attacked by the foe.

t) When the siege had just begun.

fight against you with an outstretched hand, with a strong arm, in anger, in fury, and in great indignation. ⁶I will strike down the dwellers of this city, both man and beast; they shall die of a great pestilence." ⁷Afterwards, says the LORD, I will deliver Zedekiah, king of Judah, and his servants and the people in this city who survive the pestilence, sword, and famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, and into the hands of their enemies, into the hand of those who seek their lives. He shall smite them with the edge of the sword; he shall not spare nor have pity or compassion on them."

⁸"And to this people you shall say, 'Thus says the LORD: See, I set before you the way of life and the way of death.' ⁹Any one remaining in this city shall die by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence; but he who goes out and surrenders to the Chaldeans who are besieging you, shall live and shall have his life as a prize of war." ¹⁰For I have set My face against this city for evil and not for good, says the LORD. It shall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire."

¹¹"And to the house of the king of Judah say, 'Hear the word of the LORD, ¹²O house of David! Thus says the LORD: Practice judgment in the morning, and deliver from the hand of the oppressor him who has been robbed, lest My indignation go forth like fire and burn with none to quench it, because of your evil doings.' ¹³Look, I am against you, O mistress^x of the valley, O rock of the plain, says the LORD; you who say, 'Who shall come down upon us? Or who shall push into our lairs?' ¹⁴I will punish you according to the fruit of your doings, says the LORD; I will kindle a fire in her forest,^z and it shall consume all that is around her."

608 B.C.

22 ¹THUS SAYS THE LORD: GO DOWN^a to the house of the king of Judah, and speak there this word, ²"Hear the word of the LORD, O king of Judah, who is sitting upon the throne of David, you, your servants, and your people who enter these gates. ³Thus says the LORD: Execute right and justice. Deliver the plundered out of the hand of the oppressor. Do neither wrong nor violence to the immigrant, the fatherless, or the widow; neither shed innocent blood in this place. ⁴For if you really obey this word, then shall there enter the gates of this house kings sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, they, their servants, and their people. ⁵But if you will not hear these words, I swear by Myself, says the LORD, that this house shall become a ruin.

⁶"For thus says the LORD regarding the house of the king of Judah: As Gilead^b you are to me, as the summit of Lebanon. Yet I will certainly make you a wilderness, an uninhabited city. ⁷I will prepare destroyers against you, every one with his weapons; and they shall cut down your choice cedars and cast them into the fire. ⁸Many nations shall pass by this city and will say to one another, 'Why has the LORD done thus to this great city?' ⁹And they will answer, 'Because they have forsaken the covenant of the LORD their God and worshiped other gods and served them.'"

609 B.C.

¹⁰Weep not for the dead,^c nor commiserate him; but weep sorely for him who goes away,^d for he shall never return to see his native country again.

u) How would we feel toward a pastor who told us that for our sins we would be defeated in war? v) See Deut. 30:15.

w) He will escape with it [cf. ch. 38:2; 39:18]. The only way of escape was to submit to God's instrument of judgment. This apparently unpatriotic advice later led to Jeremiah's arrest, imprisonment, and demand for his death [ch. 37:13-16].

x) The feminine gender denotes the personification of the community.

y) Place of security, like lions in their forest homes.

z) The queen city, Jerusalem, is figured as a forest [see Isa. 9:18, of Israel], destroyed by a sudden conflagration. a) From the temple mount, located on the top of Zion, to the palace.

b) Named as examples of finely wooded regions.

c) Josiah, slain by Pharaoh Necho at the battle of Megiddo, 609 B.C. [II Kings 23:29].

d) Jehoahaz succeeded his father Josiah, but after a reign of three months, 609 B.C. he was taken captive by Pharaoh Necho and carried into Egypt, where he died [II Kings 23:31-35].

¹¹For thus says the LORD about Shallum^e the son of Josiah, king of Judah, who reigned instead of Josiah his father, who went forth out of this place: He shall return here no more. ¹²Also, he shall die in the place where you have carried him into exile; he shall never see this land again.

608 B.C.

¹³Woe to him^f who builds his palace by unfairness and his roof chambers^g by injustice; who forces his neighbor to work for nothing and does not give him his wages; ¹⁴who says, "I will build myself a wide house and spacious roof chambers," and cuts out windows for it, paneling it with cedar and painting it with vermilion.^h ¹⁵Will you reign, because you compete with cedar? Did not your father eat and drink and do justly and rightly? Then it was well with him. ¹⁶He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then it was well. Is it not this to know Me? says the LORD. ¹⁷But you have set your eyes and your heart only upon dishonest gain, even shedding innocent blood, and practicing oppression and violence.

¹⁸Therefore, thus says the LORD about Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah: They shall not lament for him, saying, "Ah, my brother!" or "Ah, sister!" They shall not lament for him, saying, "Ah, master!" or "Ah, his majesty!"ⁱ ¹⁹He shall be buried with the burial of a donkey, dragged along and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem.

597 B.C.

²⁰Go up to Lebanon, cry out, and lift up your voice in Bashan. Cry from Abarim,^j for all your lovers^k are destroyed. ²¹I spoke to you in your prosperity. You said, "I will not listen." This has been your way since you were young; you have not listened to My voice. ²²All your leaders the wind shall consume, and your lovers shall go in captivity; then you will be ashamed and confused because of all your wickedness. ²³O inhabitress of Lebanon, the one nestling among the cedars,^l how you will groan when pangs come upon you, like the pain of a woman in labor! ²⁴As I live, says the LORD, though Coniah^m the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, were the signet upon My right hand, yet would I pluck you from there. ²⁵And I will hand you over to these seeking your life, to the men whom you are dreading, to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and the Chaldeans. ²⁶I will hurl you and your motherⁿ who bore you, into another country, where you were not born, and there you shall die. ²⁷But to the land to which their soul yearns to return, they shall not return.

²⁸Is this man Coniah a despised, broken vessel?^o Is he a vessel in which no one delights?^p Why then are he and his offspring hurled and cast into an unknown land? ²⁹O land, land, land! hear the word of the LORD! ³⁰Thus says the LORD: Register this man as childless, a man who shall not prosper in his days; for none of his offspring shall succeed in sitting upon the throne of David and ruling again in Judah.

593 B.C.

23 WOЕ TO THE SHEPHERDS WHO destroy and scatter the sheep of My pasture, says the LORD. ²Therefore, thus says the LORD, the God of Israel concerning the shepherds who feed My people: you have scattered My sheep and driven them away and have not tended them. Look! I on My part will attend to you for the evil of your doings, says the LORD. ³I will also gather

e) Jehoahaz, called "Shallum" [I Chronicles 3:15].

f) Jehoiakim, 608-597 B.C., whose selfish and oppressive luxury is contrasted with the just rule of his father Josiah.

g) A chamber on the flat roof, with latticed windows, giving free circulation to the air, secluded and cool [Judges 3:20; II Kings 1:21].

h) Jehoiakim enlarged and beautified his palace with forced, unpaid labor.

i) Neither relatives nor subjects will bewail his loss [cf. ch. 34:5; I Kings 13:30].

j) The "parts across" — a range of mountains east of the Dead Sea, including Nebo, from which Moses saw the Promised Land [Deut. 34:1]. k) Your allies [ch. 4:30].

l) Jerusalem poetically depicted as nestling in the recesses of Lebanon, to portray its sense of security.

m) Jehoiachin, who, after a reign of three months, was carried captive to Babylon with the flower of the nation by Nebuchadnezzar [II Kings 25:27-30]. n) Nehushta [II Kings 24:8].

o) A broken terra-cotta figurine. p) See Hosea 8:8.

the remainder of My sheep from all the lands where I have driven them, and I will return them to their fold, and they shall be fruitful and multiply. ⁴I will raise up shepherds over them who will care for them, and they shall fear no longer nor be dismayed, neither shall any be missing, says the LORD.

⁵See, the days are coming, says the LORD, when I will raise up to David a righteous Branch,^q and He shall reign as king, deal wisely,^r and execute judgment and righteousness in the land. ⁶In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell securely; and this is His name whereby He shall be called: THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS.^s ⁷Therefore, behold, the days are coming, says the LORD, when they shall say no more, "As the LORD lives who brought the children of Israel from the land of Egypt," ⁸but, "As the LORD lives who brought up and who led the offspring of the house of Israel out of the north country and from all the countries where I had driven them." And they shall dwell in their own land.

⁹Concerning the prophets: My heart is broken within me; all my bones tremble; I am like a drunken man, like a man who has been overcome by wine, because of the LORD and because of His holy words. ¹⁰For the land is filled with adulterers; on account of the curse^t the land mourns, the pastures of the wilderness are dried up. They pursue evil, and they seek their might in unfairness. ¹¹Both prophet and priest are profane; even in My house have I found their wickedness, says the LORD. ¹²Therefore their way shall become to them as slippery places in the dark; they shall be thrust along and fall; for I will bring misfortune upon them in the year of their punishment, says the LORD.

¹³In the prophets of Samaria I saw something unsavory: they prophesied by Baal and caused My people Israel to err. ¹⁴But in the prophets of Jerusalem I have seen a horrible thing: they commit adultery and walk in lies; they encourage the hands of evildoers so that they do not repent every one from his wickedness. They are all of them become to Me as Sodom and its inhabitants as Gomorrah. ¹⁵Therefore, thus says the LORD of hosts concerning the prophets: See, I will feed them with wormwood and make them drink the poison of gall water; for from the prophets of Jerusalem profaneness is gone forth into all the land.

¹⁶Thus says the LORD of hosts: Do not listen to the words of the prophets that prophesy to you; they fill you with vain hopes; they utter the vision of their own heart and not from the mouth of the LORD. ¹⁷They say continually to those who detest the word of the LORD, "You shall have peace"; and to every one walking in the stubbornness of his own heart, they say, "No evil shall come upon you." ¹⁸For who among them has stood in the council of the LORD to perceive and hear My word? Who among them has listened to My word and obeyed it?^u

¹⁹Notice the tempest of the LORD! Fury has gone forth and a whirlwind: it shall whirl round upon the head of the wicked. ²⁰The LORD's anger will not subside until He has executed and until He has performed the purpose of His heart; in the latter days you shall understand it perfectly. ²¹I did not send those prophets, yet they ran; I had not spoken to them, yet they prophesied. ²²But if they had stood in My council, then they would have caused My people to hear My words and would have turned them back from the evil way, from the evil of their doings.

²³Am I a God close by, says the LORD, and not a God afar off? ²⁴Can a man hide himself in secret places and I shall not see him? says the LORD. Do I not fill heaven and earth? says the

q) See ch. 33:15. Jeremiah's word for the Messiah, ideal king to come.

r) Dealing with wisdom, such as commanding success [Josh. 1:8; 1 Sam. 18:5, 14].

s) Receiving a name symbolizing the ideal character displayed by the nation [Isa. 1:26; 61:11], for God, as now we know, in Christ, is the source of our righteousness.

t) Because of its transgression [Isa. 4:5,6; Deut. 8:15,16].

u) The questions imply: "No one." None of these prophets was admitted into the council of the LORD and there heard His word [see I Kings 22:19-23].

LORD. ²⁵I have heard what the prophets say, who prophesy lies in My name, saying, "I have dreamed, I have dreamed." ²⁶How long shall there be lies in the heart of the prophets who prophesy lies and who prophesy the conceit of their own heart; ²⁷who intend to cause My people to forget My name by their dreams, which they tell one another, as their fathers forgot My name through Baal? ²⁸The prophet who has a dream, let him tell his dream, and he who has My word, let him speak My word faithfully. What has straw to do with grain? says the LORD. ²⁹Is not My word like a fire, says the LORD, and like a hammer that shatters the rock?

³⁰Therefore, behold, I am against the prophets, says the LORD, who steal My words everyone from his neighbor.^v

³¹Look, I am against the prophets, says the LORD, who use their own tongues and say, "The LORD says."^w ³²Behold, I am against those who prophesy lying dreams, says the LORD, and who tell them and lead my people astray by their lies and reckless boasting; yet I did not send nor command them; neither do they profit this people at all, says the LORD.

³³And when one of this people, or the prophet, or a priest, asks you, "What is the LORD's burden?"^x then you shall say to them, "You are the burden! And I will cast you off," says the LORD. ³⁴And as for the prophet, priest, or one of the people who says, "The LORD's oracle," I will punish that man and his house.^y ³⁵Thus shall you say every one to his neighbor and every one to his brother, "What has the LORD answered?" or "What has the LORD spoken?" ³⁶But "the LORD's oracle" you shall mention no more, for every man's own word is his oracle, and you pervert the words of the living God, the LORD of hosts, our God.

³⁷Thus shall you say to the prophet, "What has the LORD answered you?" or "What has the LORD spoken?" ³⁸But if you say, "The LORD's oracle," thus says the LORD, Because you say this word, "The LORD's oracle," when I sent to you saying, "You shall not say, 'The LORD's oracle,'" ³⁹therefore, behold, I will surely lift you up and cast you away from My presence, you and the city which I gave to you and your fathers. ⁴⁰And I will bring upon you an everlasting reproach and a perpetual ignominy which shall not be forgotten.

24 THE LORD SHOWED ME TWO baskets of figs^a arranged before the temple of the LORD after Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon had taken into exile Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, together with the princes of Judah, the craftsmen, and the smiths from Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon. ²One basket had very good figs, like the first-ripe figs; the other basket had very bad figs, which were so bad, they could not be eaten. ³Then the LORD said to me: "What do you see, Jeremiah? I said, 'Figs, the good figs very good, and the bad, very bad, which cannot be eaten, they are so bad.'"

⁴Then the word of the LORD came to me: ⁵Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: As these good figs, I will regard approvingly the exiles of Judah, whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the Chaldeans. ⁶For I will set My eyes upon them for their good, and I will bring them again to this land; I will build them and not pull them down; I will plant them and not pluck them up. ⁷And I will give them a heart to know Me, that I am the LORD; and they shall be My people, and I will be their God; for they shall return to Me with their whole heart.

v) Having no prophetic inspiration of their own, they appropriate the prophecies of the true prophets. w) A formula constantly used by true prophets.

x) "Massa"; something "lifted" or "taken up." Either literally a burden or a figure, something "taken up" upon the lips, a solemn "utterance" or "oracle."

y) The LORD retorts: Not My words, but you yourselves, are the "burden"; and I will no longer be burdened with you.

z) They had despised Jeremiah's prophecies of coming disaster; hence they were never to use the word "burden" in the future. They were not to ask a prophet, "What message have you?" but, "What has the LORD answered, or said?"

a) Always the contrast between the godly and the ungodly — with a promise.

⁸As the bad figs which cannot be eaten because they are so foul, thus, says the LORD, will I treat Zedekiah the king of Judah and his princes and the remainder of Jerusalem, that remain in this land, and those that dwell in the land of Egypt. ⁹I will give them up to be tossed back and forth among all the kingdoms of the earth for evil, to be a reproach and a byword, a taunt, and a curse in all places where I shall scatter them. ¹⁰I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence among them till they are consumed from off the land that I gave them and their fathers.^b

604 B.C.

25 THE WORD THAT CAME TO JEREMIAH concerning all the people of Judah, in the fourth year of Jehoia-kim^c the son of Josiah, king of Judah (that was the first year of Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon), ²which Jeremiah the prophet spoke to all the people of Judah and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem: ³For twenty-three years^d now, from the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, to this day, the word of the LORD has come to me, and I have spoken persistently to you, but you have not listened. ⁴Also, the LORD persistently sent to you all His servants the prophets, rising early and sending, but you neither listened nor inclined your ear to hear, ⁵saying, "Return every one of you from his evil way and from your wrong doings, and dwell in the land which the LORD has given you and your fathers from of old and forever. ⁶Go not after other gods to serve them and worship them or provoke Me to anger with the work of your hands; then I will bring upon you no calamity." ⁷But you have not listened to Me, says the LORD, that you might provoke Me to anger with the work of your hands to your own hurt.

⁸Therefore, thus says the LORD of hosts: Because you have not obeyed

My words, ⁹look, I will send for all the tribes of the north, says the LORD, and for Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, My servant,^e and I will bring them against this land and its inhabitants, and against all these nations all around; I will utterly destroy them and make them an abomination, a hissing, and an everlasting reproach. ¹⁰And I will remove from them the voice of mirth and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the grinding of millstones,^f and the light of the lamp. ¹¹This whole land shall be a ruin and a waste, and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years. ¹²Then after seventy years are completed, I will punish the king of Babylon and that nation, the land of the Chaldeans, for their iniquity, says the LORD, making the land an everlasting waste. ¹³I will bring upon that land all the words which I have pronounced against it, everything written in this book, which Jeremiah prophesied against all the nations. ¹⁴For many nations and great kings shall make them slaves,^g too. I will reward them according to their deeds and according to the work of their hands.

¹⁵For thus says the LORD, the God of Israel to me: Take this cup of the wine of indignation from My hand, and make all the nations to whom I send you drink it. ¹⁶They shall drink and stagger^h and be frantic, because of the sword which I am sending among them.

¹⁷So I took the cup from the hand of the LORD and gave it to all the peoples to whom the LORD had sent me, to drink it: ¹⁸Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, its kings and princes, to make them a waste and a horror, a hissing and a curse, as at this day; ¹⁹Pharaoh, king of Egypt, his servants, his princes, all his people, ²⁰all the mixed people;ⁱ all the kings of the land of Uz;^j and all the kings of the

b) Hearers and readers need never wonder whether the affairs of earth, private and public, are under divine control, including our times.

c) Four years after the Megiddo battle in which good king Josiah had been slain, 604 B.C.

d) 626-604 B.C. e) Kings and nations are under His command.

f) Heard daily in Eastern villages, a sign of the presence of life in it [Rev. 18:22].

g) Slaves or servants. h) Figure of bewilderment and helplessness [ch. 13:13].

i) The mixed foreign population, settled in Egypt for trade or other purposes [Ezek. 30:5].

j) The name of an Aramean tribe settled in the east or northeast of Edom [see Lam. 4:21; Job 1:1].

land of the Philistines — Ashkelon, Gaza, Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod.^k ²¹Edom and Moab and the children of Ammon; ²²all the kings of Tyre, all the kings of Sidon, and the kings of the coastland across the sea;^l ²³Dedan, Tema, Buz,^m and all who clip the corners of their hair;ⁿ ²⁴all the kings of Arabia^o and all the kings of the mixed tribes^p that dwell in the desert; ²⁵all the kings of Zimri,^q all the kings of Elam,^r and all the kings of Media; ²⁶all the kings of the north, far and near, one after another, all the world kingdoms that are upon the face of the earth. After them the king of Sheshach^a shall drink.

²⁷Then you shall say to them, Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Drink, and be drunk; vomit, and fall to rise no more, because of the sword which I am sending among you. ²⁸If they refuse to take the cup from your hand to drink, then you shall say to them, Thus says the LORD of hosts: You shall surely drink! ²⁹Look! If, with the city which is called by My name^t I am beginning to work calamity, should you go unpunished? You shall not go unpunished, for I am summoning a sword against all the inhabitants of the earth, says the LORD of hosts.

³⁰Now you prophesy against them all these words. Say to them: The LORD will roar^u from on high and utter His voice from His holy habitation; He will roar mightily at His homestead^v and shout like those who tread the grapes,^w against all the inhabitants of the earth. ³¹The crash of battle will resound to the ends of the earth, for the LORD has a court case against the nations. He is entering into judgment with all flesh, and the wicked He will give to the sword, says the LORD.

³²Thus says the LORD of hosts: Behold, punishment is going forth from nation to nation, and a great tempest is stirring up from the uttermost corners of the earth! ³³Those slain by the LORD on that day shall extend from one end of the earth to the other. They shall not be mourned, or gathered, or buried; they shall be as manure upon the face of the ground.

³⁴Howl, you shepherds, and cry; roll in ashes, you masters of the flock,^x for your days to be slaughtered are completed; you shall be dashed to pieces and fall like a choice vessel. ³⁵No refuge will remain for the shepherds nor escape for the keepers of the flocks. ³⁶Hear! The cry of the shepherds and the howling of the lords of the flock! For the LORD is laying waste their pasture, ³⁷and the peaceful meadows are devastated, because of the fierce indignation of the LORD. ³⁸Like a roaring lion He has left His covert.^y Yes, their land is become a waste because of the devouring sword and because of His fierce indignation.

607 B.C.

26 IN THE BEGINNING OF THE reign of Jehoiaikim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, came this word from the LORD, ²Thus says the LORD: Stand in the court of the LORD's house, and speak to all the cities of Judah, who come to worship in the LORD's house, all the words that I command you to speak to them; do not restrain a word.^z ³It may be that they will listen and every man turn from his evil way, so that I may relent of the disaster which I am planning to bring upon them because of the evil of their doings.^a ⁴You shall say to them, Thus says the LORD: If you will not listen to Me, to walk in My teaching which

k) Such as survived the two year sieges by the Egyptian king, Psammetichus I [666-610 B.C.].

l) Phoenician colonies on the coast of the Mediterranean Sea. m) Three tribes of northern Arabia.

n) See Lev. 19:27.

o) Another tribe or group of tribes dwelling in the steppes of northern Arabia [see Isa. 21:13-17].

p) Another local "mixed population" whose home was the wilderness. q) Unknown tribe.

r) In the farther east, on the other side of the Tigris, about 200 miles east of Babylon [see Dan. 8:2; Acts 2:9]. s) Babel — Babylon. t) In token of ownership [ch. 7:10,11].

u) Like a lion [Amos 1:2]. v) Figure for Judah [ch. 23:6].

w) Joyous shout of the vintagers as they trod the juice out of the grapes in the wine press [ch. 51:14].

x) Figure for the principal and wealthiest men of the nations who would have been God's representatives and the spiritual guides of the people.

y) Judah being a desolation, the Lord is compelled to leave her, just as a lion has to leave its slain when destroyed.

z) This chapter provides the narrative for the famous temple sermon in chapter 7.

a) In this life divine punishment is primarily disciplinary.

I have set before you, ⁶to heed the words of My servants the prophets whom I send to you continually, rising up early and sending them (but you have not listened), ⁶then I will make this house like Shiloh, and this city I will make a curse to all the nations of the earth.

⁷The priests, the prophets,^b and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the LORD's house. ⁸And when Jeremiah had finished speaking all that the LORD had commanded him to speak to all the people, then the priests, the prophets, and all the people seized him, saying, "You shall surely die! ⁹Why have you prophesied in the LORD's name, saying, 'This house shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate, without an inhabitant?'" And all the people were gathered around Jeremiah in the LORD's house.

¹⁰When the princes of Judah heard these things, they came up from the king's house to the house of the LORD and sat in the entrance of the New Gate^c of the LORD's house. ¹¹Then the priests and the prophets said to all the princes and to all the people, "This man is worthy of death, because he has prophesied against this city, as you have heard with your ears." ¹²Then Jeremiah told all the princes and all the people, "The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that you have heard. ¹³Now therefore, amend your ways and your doings,^d and obey the voice of the LORD your God, and the LORD will relent concerning this calamity which He has spoken against you. ¹⁴But as for me, you see, I am in your hands. Do to me as appears good and right to you. ¹⁵Only know for certain that if you put me to death you will bring innocent blood upon yourselves, upon this city, and upon its inhabitants; for in truth the LORD sent me to you to speak all these words in your ears."

¹⁶Then the princes and all the people said to the priests and to the prophets, "This man does not deserve death, for he has spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God." ¹⁷Then certain of the elders of the land stood up and said to all the assembled people, ¹⁸"Micah,^e the Morasthite,^f prophesied in the days of Hezekiah, king of Judah, saying, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts: Zion shall be plowed as a field; Jerusalem shall become a heap of ruins, and the mountain of the house^g a wooded height.' ¹⁹Did Hezekiah and all Judah, indeed, put him to death? Did he not revere the LORD and entreat His favor, and did not the LORD feel grief about the calamity, which He had pronounced against them? But we are about to bring great misfortune upon ourselves."

²⁰There was another man who prophesied in the name of the LORD, Urijah the son of Shemaiah of Kiriath-jearim.^h He prophesied against this city and against this land in words like those of Jeremiah. ²¹And when King Jehoiakim, with all his warriors and all the princes, heard those words, the king sought to put him to death; but when Urijah heard of it, he was afraid and fled and escaped to Egypt. ²²Then King Jehoiakim sent some men to Egypt, Elnathan the son of Achborⁱ and others with him to Egypt. ²³They brought forth Urijah out of Egypt and brought him to King Jehoiakim, who slew him with the sword^j and cast his body into the cemetery of the common people.^k ²⁴But the hand of Ahikam^l the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah so that he was not given over to the people to put him to death.

597 B.C.

27 AT THE BEGINNING OF THE reign^m of Zedekiahⁿ the son of Josiah, king of Judah, this message

b) False prophets who would hear nothing of the coming disaster; they preferred to please.

c) Probably the gate leading into the upper [inner] court built by Jotham about a century before.

d) See ch. 7:5. e) Micahiah [Micah 1:1; 3:12].

f) Moreseth, Micah's home, a village about 23 miles s.w. of Jerusalem [Micah 1:14].

g) The temple. h) Modern Karyet el-Inab on the Jaffa road, seven miles n.w. of Jerusalem.

i) One of the "princes" [ch. 36:12].

j) Urijah was the scapegoat, after they dared not take Jeremiah. k) See II Kings 23:6.

l) Father of Gedaliah, Babylonian governor of the Judean province [586-581 B.C.], also friendly to Jeremiah [ch. 39:14; 40:5, 6]. Ahikam was one of the messengers sent by Josiah to inquire of the prophetess Huldah after the discovery of the roll of Deut. in 621 B.C. [II Kings 22:3, 12].

m) 597 B.C. n) Hebrew text has "Jehoiakim" but the context demands "Zedekiah."

came to Jeremiah from the LORD. ²Thus said the LORD to me: Make yourself thongs and yoke-bars^o and put them on your neck. ³Then send^p a message to the king of Moab, to the king of the Ammonites, to the king of Tyre and to the king of Sidon by the hand of the messengers who have come to Jerusalem to Zedekiah king of Judah. ⁴Give them this charge for their masters: Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: This is what you shall say to your masters: ⁵It is I who made the earth, with the men and the beasts that are upon it, by My great power and by My outstretched arm, and I give it to whomever it seems right to Me. ⁶Now I have given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar, the king of Babylon, My servant; even the beasts of the field too I have given him to serve him. ⁷All nations shall serve him and his son and grandson, until the time comes around for his own land; then many nations and great kings shall make him their servant.^q ⁸But if any nation or kingdom will not serve this Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon and will not place its neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, I will punish that nation with the sword, with famine, and with pestilence, says the LORD, until I have destroyed it by his hand. ⁹So then, do not listen to your prophets, your diviners, your dreamers,^r your soothsayers, or your sorcerers,^s who are saying to you, "You shall not serve the king of Babylon." ¹⁰For they prophesy a lie to you; in consequence your feet will be removed from your land, for I will drive you out, and you will perish. ¹¹Whereas the nation that puts its neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon and serves him, I will leave on its own land, to till and to dwell in it, says the LORD.

¹²To Zedekiah king of Judah, I spoke in like manner saying: Place your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon; serve him and his people and live. ¹³Why should you and your people die by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence, as the LORD has threatened any nation that will not serve the king of Babylon? ¹⁴Do not listen to the words of the prophets who are saying to you, "You shall not serve the king of Babylon," for they prophesy a lie to you. ¹⁵I have not sent them, says the LORD, but they prophesy falsely in My name; consequently, I will drive you out, and you will perish, you and the prophets who prophesy to you.

¹⁶Then I said to the priests^t and to all this people, Thus says the LORD: Do not listen to the words of your prophets who prophesy to you, saying, "Look, the vessels of the LORD's house will now shortly be brought back from Babylon," for they prophesy a lie to you. ¹⁷Do not listen to them; serve the king of Babylon and live. Why should this city become a waste? ¹⁸If they are prophets and if the LORD's word be really with them, let them plead with the LORD of hosts, that the vessels which are left in the LORD's house and in the house of the king of Judah and in Jerusalem, may not be carried to Babylon. ¹⁹For thus says the LORD of hosts concerning the pillars, the sea, the pedestals,^u and the remainder of the vessels which are left in this city, ²⁰which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon did not take away, when he took into exile Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, from Jerusalem to Babylon, with all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem — ^v ²¹thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, regarding the vessels that remain in the LORD's house, in the house of the king of Judah, and in Jerusalem: ²²They shall be carried to Babylon^w and remain there until the day that I remember them, says the LORD. Then I will bring

o) In forming a yoke, the "thongs" used for binding the "bars" together [see Lev. 26:13].

p) Jer. 28:10 shows the yoke was not delivered to the five kings. q) See ch. 25:14.

r) See ch. 23:25-28.

s) All these fortune-tellers were living on the people, who had forsaken God, as thousands in our own land do today. t) Unfriendly to Jeremiah, disposed to listen to false prophets [ch. 26:11].

u) Mostly never restored, too heavy for safe transporting to Babylon; much of it broken up by the Chaldeans in Jerusalem [ch. 52:17]. v) See II Kings 24:11-16.

w) Ch. 52:17-19; II Kings 25:13-15.

them back and restore them to this place.^x

593 B.C.

28 THIS HAPPENED IN THE SAME year at the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year, in the fifth month. The prophet Hananiah the son of Azur, a Gibeonite,^y said to me in the house of the LORD in the presence of the priests and all the people, ²"Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon. ³Within two years I will bring back to this place all the vessels of the LORD's house, which Nebuchadrezzar removed from this place and carried to Babylon. ⁴I will also bring back to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, and all the exiles from Judah who went to Babylon, says the LORD, because I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon."

⁵Then the prophet Jeremiah addressed the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the priests and of all the people who were standing in the LORD's house. ⁶The prophet Jeremiah said, "Amen! May the LORD do so;^z may the LORD fulfil the words which you have prophesied, by bringing back the vessels of the LORD's house and all the exiles from Babylon to this place. ⁷Yet hear, I plead with you, this word which I am about to speak in your hearing and in the hearing of all the people. ⁸The prophets who have preceded me and you from of old prophesied calamity against many countries and great kingdoms. ⁹But as for the prophet who prophesied only peace, when the word of that prophet is fulfilled, then it will be known that the LORD has truly sent the prophet."

¹⁰Then the prophet Hananiah took the yoke-bars from the neck of the prophet Jeremiah and shattered them. ¹¹And Hananiah said in the presence of all the people, "Thus says the LORD: Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon within two years from off the neck of all the nations." But the prophet Jeremiah went his way.

¹²The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah some time after the prophet Hananiah had broken the yoke-bars from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, saying: ¹³Go, tell Hananiah, "Thus says the LORD: You have broken the wooden bars, but I will replace them with bars of iron. ¹⁴For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: I have placed an iron yoke upon the neck of all these nations, a yoke of slavery to Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and serve him they shall; even the beasts of the field I have given him."^a ¹⁵Then the prophet Jeremiah said to the prophet Hananiah, "Listen, Hananiah! The LORD has never sent you; but you are making this people trust in a lie. ¹⁶Therefore thus says the LORD: Observe, I will remove you from off the face of the earth. This year you shall die, because you have advocated disloyalty to the LORD." ¹⁷So in that same year during the seventh month the prophet Hananiah died.

29 THESE ARE THE CONTENTS OF the letter that Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem to those left of the elders of the exiles, to the priests, to the prophets, and to all the people, whom Nebuchadrezzar had carried into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon. ²This was after the surrender of King Jeconiah and the queen mother,^b the eunuchs, the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, the craftsmen, and the smiths from Jerusalem. ³The letter was sent to Elash the son of Shaphan^c and Gemariah the son of Hilkiah, whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent to Babylon to Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon: ⁴Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, to all the exiles whom I have sent into exile from Jerusalem: ⁵Build houses and live in them; plant

x) See Ezra 1:7-11 for restoration of various gold and silver bowls, etc., returned by Cyrus 526 B.C.

y) Five miles northwest of Jerusalem, now the village of El-Jib.

z) Jeremiah could only wish the return of the Lord's people.

a) See ch. 27:6. God gave His people another chance to turn from falsehood to truth, from paganism to divine worship; but few gave heed. b) Nehushta [II Kings 24:8-12].

c) The brother of Ahikam the son of Shaphan [Jer. 26:24].

gardens and eat their products; ⁶take wives and bear sons and daughters; take wives for your sons, and give your daughters in marriage so that they may bear sons and daughters; multiply there and do not decrease. ⁷Seek the welfare of the city where I have sent you into exile, and pray to the LORD for it; for its welfare shall be your welfare.^d

⁸For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Do not permit your prophets and soothsayers who are among you to deceive you; do not listen to their dreams. ⁹For they prophesy falsely to you in My name; I did not send them, says the LORD. ¹⁰For thus says the LORD: As soon as the seventy years are completed for Babylon,^e I will visit you and fulfill My promise to you^f in returning you to this place. ¹¹For I know the thoughts I think^g concerning you, says the LORD, thoughts of peace and not of hurt, to give you a future and a hope. ¹²Then you will call upon Me and will come to pray to Me, and I will hear you. ¹³You will seek Me and find Me when you will seek Me with all your heart.^h ¹⁴I will be found of you, says the LORD, and I will restore your fortune by gathering you from all the nations and from all the places where I have driven you, says the LORD, and I will bring you back to the place from which I sent you into exile.ⁱ

¹⁵Because you have said, "The LORD has raised up prophets for us in Babylon," ¹⁶thus says the LORD concerning the king who sits on the throne of David and concerning all the people who dwell in this city, your kinsmen who did not go with you into exile: ¹⁷Thus says the LORD of hosts, Take notice! I am sending upon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence; and I will make them like ripe figs which are so bad they cannot be eaten. ¹⁸I will pursue them with the sword, with famine, and with pestilence, and

I will make them a consternation to all the kingdoms of the earth,^j an execration, a terror, a hissing, and a reproach among all the nations where I have driven them, ¹⁹because they did not obey My words, says the LORD, which I continually sent to them by My servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them; but they would not listen, says the LORD.

²⁰Hear the word of the LORD, all you exiles whom I sent away from Jerusalem to Babylon: ²¹Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning Ahab the son of Kolaiah and concerning Zedekiah the son of Maa-seiah, who prophesy lies to you in My name: Look! I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he shall slay them before your eyes. ²²Because of them, this curse shall be used by all the exiles from Judah which are in Babylon: "The LORD make you like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire."^k ²³They committed a disgraceful thing^l in Israel; they have committed adultery with their neighbors' wives, and they have spoken false words in My name which I did not command them. I am He who knows, and I am witness, says the LORD.

²⁴To Shemaiah the Nehelamite you shall say, ²⁵"Thus speaks the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: You have sent letters in your own name to all the people who are in Jerusalem and to Zephaniah^m the son of Maa-seiah the priest, and to all the priests, saying that ²⁶the LORD has made you priest instead of Jehoiada the priest, to have oversight in the house of the LORD over every ecstatic who makes himself mad, pretending to be a prophet,ⁿ to put him in the stocks and collar. ²⁷Why then have you not rebuked Jeremiah of Anathoth, who prophesies to you? ²⁸For he has sent to us in Babylon, saying, 'The time^o is long;

d) Be productive, diligent, cooperative, build up your community; be a constructive part of it.

e) See Jer. 25:11, 12. f) The promises in ch. 24:4-7; 50:4, 5. g) See Deut. 4:29.

h) From which the anthem refrain, "If with all thine heart ye truly seek Me, ye shall ever surely find me." Memorize it. i) God's discipline is constructive, positive.

j) As God's mighty acts for Israel had become known to surrounding peoples, so would His punishments be published.

k) Denoting a state of mind or an action marked by utter disregard for moral or spiritual feeling, a gross act of immorality [see Gen. 34:7; II Sam. 13:12].

l) See ch. 21:1; 37:3 — a man of some standing.

m) With wild and frenzied gestures resembling a modern dervish. n) The time of the captivity.

build you houses and live in them; plant gardens and eat their products.'"

²⁹And Zephaniah the priest read this letter in the hearing of Jeremiah the prophet. ³⁰Then came the word of the LORD to Jeremiah: ³¹Send this message to all the exiles, Thus says the LORD regarding Shemaiah the Nehelamite: Because Shemaiah has prophesied to you and I did not send him, and he has made you to trust a lie, ³²therefore, thus says the LORD: Look, I will punish Shemaiah the Nehelamite and his posterity; he shall not have a man living among this people; neither will he see the good that I will do to My people, says the LORD, because he has preached rebellion against the LORD.

587 B.C.

30 THE WORD THAT CAME TO JEREMIAH from the LORD. ²Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: Write all the words that I have spoken to you in a book. ³For note, the days are coming, says the LORD, that I will return the captivity of My people Israel and Judah, says the LORD, and I will bring them back to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it. ⁴And these are the words that the LORD spoke concerning Israel and concerning Judah.

⁵For thus says the LORD: We have heard a voice of trembling; there is terror and no peace. ⁶Ask now and see, can a man bear a child? Why then do I see every man with his hands on his loins as a woman in travail? And why has every face turned pale? ⁷Alas! that day is great; there is none like it. It is a time of distress for Jacob; yet he shall be saved out of it. ⁸And it shall come to pass in that day, says the LORD of hosts, that I will break the yoke from off their neck, and I will burst their bonds; and strangers shall no more make servants of them. ⁹But they^p shall serve the LORD their God and David their king,^q whom I will raise up for them.

¹⁰And thou, fear them not, O Jacob, My servant, says the LORD, neither be dismayed, O Israel; for lo, I will save you from afar, and your posterity from the land of their captivity; Jacob shall return and enjoy peace and security, and none shall make him afraid.^r ¹¹For I am with you, says the LORD, to deliver you; for I will make a complete end of all the nations among whom I have scattered you, but of you will I not make a complete end; but I will discipline you with judgment^s and will nowise hold you guiltless. ¹²For, says the LORD, your injury is incurable, and your wound is grievous. ¹³There is none to plead your cause, no medicine for your bound up wound; there is no healing for you. ¹⁴All your lovers^t have forgotten you; they do not seek you; for I have stricken you with the blow of an enemy, the chastisement of a cruel foe, because your iniquity is great and your sins are numerous. ¹⁵Why do you cry over your injury? Your pain is incurable; because your guilt is great and your sins are numerous, I have done these things to you. ¹⁶However, all who devour you shall be devoured; and all your adversaries, every one of them, shall go into captivity; those who exploit you shall be exploited, and all who prey upon you I will make a prey. ¹⁷For I will restore health to you, and I will heal your wounds, says the LORD, because they have called you an outcast, "It is Zion, for whom no one cares!"

¹⁸Thus says the LORD: Observe, I will return the captivity of Jacob's tents, and I will have compassion on his dwellings; the city shall be rebuilt upon its own mound,^u and the palace shall be inhabited after its accustomed manner. ¹⁹Out of them shall arise hymns of thanksgiving and the voices of merrymakers; I will multiply them, and they shall not be diminished; I will also glorify them, and they shall not be small. ²⁰Their children, too,

o) What is the cause of terror and agony they are all displaying? p) The Israelites.

q) The second David, the ideal King of the future (Hosea 3:5; Ezek. 34:23, 24) — the Messiah.

r) Or "disturb him." The expression is used of sheep lying undisturbed upon the pastures [Isa. 17:2], and of people [Lev. 26:6; Ezek. 39:26; Micah 4:4].

s) In a judicial spirit, not in anger. t) Allies. u) Upon its former site.

shall be as they were of old; their congregation shall be established before Me,^v and I will punish all who oppress them. ²¹Their prince shall be from among themselves, and their ruler shall come forth from their midst;^w I will cause him to draw near, and he shall approach Me;^x for who else has the boldness on his own initiative to approach Me? says the LORD. ²²Then you shall be My people, and I will be your God. ²³Observe the tempest of the LORD! Indignation has gone forth, a sweeping tempest; it will burst upon the head of the wicked. ²⁴The fierce indignation of the LORD will not turn back until He has executed and performed the intents of his heart; in the latter days you shall understand this.

597 B.C.

31 AT THAT TIME, SAYS THE LORD, I will be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be My people. ²Thus says the LORD: In the wilderness^y the people who survived the sword found grace when Israel sought rest for himself. ³From afar^z the LORD has appeared to me, saying: I have loved you with an everlasting love; therefore I have prolonged kindness to you. ⁴Again I will build you, and you shall be built, O virgin Israel! Again you shall adorn yourself with timbrels^a and shall go forth in the dances of the merry-makers. ⁵Again you shall plant vineyards upon the mountains of Samaria; the planters shall plant and enjoy the fruit.^b ⁶For there will be a day when the vineyard watchmen in the hills of Ephraim will cry, "Arise, and let us go up to Zion, to the LORD our God."^c ⁷For thus says the LORD: Sing out with gladness for Jacob, and cry aloud for the leader of the nations;^d publish, praise, and say,

"The LORD has saved His people, the remnant of Israel."

⁸Take note, I will bring them from the north country, and gather them from the extreme corners of the earth; among them the blind and the lame, the woman with child and she who is in labor, together; a great company, they shall return here. ⁹They shall come with weeping, and I will lead them back with supplications. I will cause them to walk by streams of water,^e in a straight path in which they shall not stumble; for I am a Father to Israel, and Ephraim is My first-born.^f

¹⁰Hear the word of the LORD, O nations; publish it in the islands afar off, and say, "He who scattered Israel will gather him and keep him, as a shepherd does his flock." ¹¹For the LORD has ransomed Jacob and redeemed him from the hand of him who was stronger than he. ¹²And they shall come and sing out their joy on the height of Zion and beam with joy over the bounty of the LORD, over the grain, over the new wine, and over the fresh oil, and over the young of the flock and the herd; and their soul shall be like a watered garden;^g they shall pine away no more. ¹³Then the virgin shall rejoice in the dance, and the young men and old shall be merry; I will turn their mourning into joy; I will comfort them and make them rejoice for their sorrow. ¹⁴And I will feast the soul^h of the priests with abundance,ⁱ and My people shall be satisfied with My bounty, says the LORD.

¹⁵Thus says the LORD: A voice is heard in Ramah,^k lamentation and bitter weeping. Rachel,^l weeping for her children, refuses to be comforted for

v) Under My eye and care [Gen. 17:18; Hosea 6:2].

w) No foreigner will rule over them; they will be under the rule of a native prince [Deut. 17:15].

x) Their future native ruler will have the right access to the altar and enjoy priestly privileges [Lev. 21:21, 23; Ezek. 44:13]. y) "Wilderness," now prophetic figure of the land of exile.

z) From Zion to the people in exile.

a) "Hand drums" — a ring of wood or metal covered with a tightly drawn skin, held up in one hand and struck by the fingers of the other.

b) Treat as common — the first produce of fruit trees being regarded as sacred, not used for food [Lev. 19:23-25]. c) The break between the northern and southern kingdoms is healed.

d) Foremost among the liberated nations. e) Isa. 49:10b.

f) Jacob treated Ephraim, favored grandson of Rachel, whom alone he had loved, as his first-born. Here God agrees, if Ephraim, leading northern Israel, will fall in line.

g) A "saturated," "thoroughly moistened" garden.

h) The "soul" as the seat of desire, particularly the appetite [Num. 11:6; Job 33:20; Micah 7:1].

i) Figure of rich satisfaction [Ps. 36:8; Isa. 55:2]. k) Five miles north of Jerusalem.

l) Wife of Jacob, mother of Joseph and Benjamin; died during the latter's birth.

her children, because they are not. ¹⁶Thus says the LORD: Restrain your voice from weeping and your eyes from tears, for there is a reward for your work, says the LORD, and they shall return from the land of the enemy. ¹⁷There is hope for your future, says the LORD; your children shall return to their own country.

¹⁸I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself and saying, "Thou hast disciplined me, and I was chastened like an untrained calf.^m Oh, bring me back that I may be restored,ⁿ for Thou art the LORD my God. ¹⁹For after I had turned away, I repented and after I was taught, I smote upon my thigh;^o I was shamed, even confounded, because I bore the reproach of my youth." ²⁰Is Ephraim My dear son? Is he My darling child? For as often as I speak against him, I do remember him still. Therefore My emotions stir^p for him; I will surely have compassion upon him, says the LORD.

²¹Set up road-marks for yourself; make yourself guideposts; set your heart toward the highway, even the way by which you went.^q Return, O virgin Israel, return to these cities. ²²How long will you vacillate, O you backsliding daughter? For the LORD has created a new thing in the earth: A woman shall encompass a man.^r

²³Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Once more they shall use this speech in the land of Judah and in her cities when I restore their fortresses: "The LORD bless you, O habitation of righteousness,^s O holy mountain!"^t ²⁴And Judah and all her cities^u shall dwell there together and the farmers and they that move about with their flocks.^v ²⁵For I will revive the weary soul, and every pining soul I will replenish. ²⁶Upon this I awoke and looked up, and my sleep^w was sweet to me.

²⁷See, the days are coming, says the LORD, that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man and with the seed of beast. ²⁸And it shall be that as I have been watchful over them to pluck up and to break down, to pull down, to destroy, and to afflict, so will I watch over them to build and to plant, says the LORD. ²⁹In those days they shall no longer say, "The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are blunted." ³⁰But every one shall die for his own iniquity; every man who eats the sour grapes, his teeth shall be blunted.^x

³¹See, the days are coming, says the LORD, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and the house of Judah, ³²not like the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, which covenant of Mine they broke, although I was a Husband to them, says the LORD. ³³But this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, says the LORD: I will put my law in their inward parts, and upon their hearts will I write it; I will be their God and they shall be My people.^y ³⁴And no longer shall each man teach his neighbor and each his brother, saying, "Know the LORD," for they shall all know Me, from the least of them to the greatest, says the LORD; for I will forgive their iniquity, and their sin will I remember no more.

³⁵Thus says the LORD, who gives the sun for light by day, and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars for light by night, who stirs up the sea so that its waves roar, the LORD

m) Undisciplined for work and for bearing the yoke. n) See the prodigal son in Luke 15.

o) Gesture of grief [Ezek. 21:12]. p) Isa. 63:16.

q) Turn your thoughts to the way by which you went into exile, so you may not miss the way back.

r) Zion, instead of holding aloof and waiting to be sought by her husband [the Lord], will affectionately cling "round about Him" [Hosea 2:19].

s) The inhabitants of restored Jerusalem invested with ideal perfections [Isa. 1:26; 32:1, 18].

t) Term of greeting used by those visiting Jerusalem. u) Their inhabitants.

v) Tilling their land and moving about with their flocks, unmolested [Isa. 30:23].

w) The first good night's sleep in a long time.

x) Thus far good Israelites had worshiped and obeyed God nationally. Now the relationship becomes personal, with personal responsibilities.

y) Idea of new birth, prophetic of the New Testament Gospel.

God of hosts is His name: ³⁶If these ordinances depart from before Me, says the LORD, then the descendants of Israel also shall cease from being a nation before Me forever. ³⁷Thus says the LORD: If the heavens above can be measured and the foundations of the earth below can be explored, then I will cast off all the inhabitants of Israel because of what they have done, says the LORD.

³⁸Look, the days are coming, says the LORD, that the city shall be built for the LORD from the tower of Hananel² to the Corner Gate.^a ³⁹And the measuring line shall go out further, straight to the hill Gareb,^b and shall then turn round to Goah.^c ⁴⁰The whole valley of the dead bodies and the altar ashes,^d and all the fields as far as the valley of Kidron, to the corner of the Horse Gate^e toward the east, shall be holy to the LORD. It shall not be plucked up nor overthrown any more forever.

587 B.C.

32 THE WORD CAME TO JEREMIAH from the LORD in the tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar. ²At that time the king of Babylon's army was besieging Jerusalem, and Jeremiah the prophet was shut up in the court of the guard,^f which was in the king of Judah's house. ³For^g Zedekiah king of Judah had imprisoned him, saying, "Why do you prophesy and say,"^h "Thus says the LORD: Behold, I am giving this city into the hands of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it; ⁴and Zedekiah king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but shall surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon and shall speak with him face to face and see him eye to eye. ⁵And he shall lead Zedekiah to Babylon, and there he shall remain until I visit him, says the LORD; though you fight against the Chaldeans, you shall not succeed?"

⁶Jeremiah said, "The word of the LORD came to me: ⁷See, Hanamel the son of Shallum your uncle is coming to you, saying, 'Buy my field that is at Anathoth,ⁱ for the right of redemption is yours to buy it.' ⁸Then Hanamel my uncle's son came to me in conformity with the word of the LORD in the court of the guard and said to me, 'Buy my field that is at Anathoth in the land of Benjamin, for the right of inheritance and redemption is yours; buy it for yourself.' Then I knew that it was the LORD's word.^j ⁹So I bought the field at Anathoth of Hanamel my cousin and weighed out the money to him, seventeen silver shekels.

¹⁰"I signed the deed, sealed it, secured witnesses, and weighed him the money on balances. ¹¹Then I took the purchase deed, both that which was sealed, containing the injunction and conditions,^k and the open copy. ¹²I handed the purchase deed to Baruch^l the son of Neriah the son of Mahseiah, in the presence of Hanamel my uncle's son and in the presence of the witnesses who signed the purchase deed and in the presence of all the Jews who sat in the guardhouse. ¹³I charged Baruch in their presence, ¹⁴"Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Take these deeds, the purchase deed which is sealed and this open deed, and put them in an earthen vessel,^m so that they may endure for a long time. ¹⁵For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Houses and fields and vineyards shall again be bought in this land.'

z) At the northeast corner of the city [Neh. 3:1; 12:39].

a) At the northwest corner of the city [II Kings 14:13; II Chron. 26:9].

b) A high point southwest of the "Corner Gate."^h c) A point at the west end of the south wall.

d) The broad open depression just south of Siloam, where the brook Er-Rababi meets the brook Kidron.

e) On the east of Jerusalem overlooking the wady of Kidron at the southeast corner of the temple courts [Neh. 3:28].

f) A part of the court surrounding the palace railed off to guard prisoners.

g) Vss. 3-5 are parenthetical.

h) Indirectly Zedekiah's question suggests the reason Jeremiah was confined in the court of the guard. i) Jeremiah's native home. j) The arrival of his cousin confirmed the word.

k) Technical legal terms: injunction — the seller's ceding possession of the property; conditions — stating the terms on which the property was purchased by the buyer.

l) Jeremiah's devoted friend and amanuensis [ch. 36:4-8; 45:1-5].

m) To secure them against dampness, etc. Earthen jars containing such duplicate contracts have been excavated by archaeologists.

16" After I had given the purchase deed to Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed to the LORD, 17 "Alas, Lord God! See, Thou hast made the heaven and the earth by Thy great power and by Thy outstretched arm. Nothing is too wonderful for Thee, 18 the One showing kindness to thousands, the One recompensing the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them; O great and mighty God, the LORD of hosts is His name, 19 great in counsel and mighty in deed, whose eyes are open to all the ways of the sons of men, rewarding every one according to his ways and according to the fruit of his doings; 20 who hast set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt and to this day in Israel and among all mankind and hast made Thee a name, as at this day 21 and brought Thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs, with wonders, with a strong hand, an outstretched arm, and with great terror. 22 Thou gavest them this land, which Thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey. 23 They came in and possessed it; but they did not obey Thy voice, or walk in Thy law; they did nothing of all Thou commandest them to do; Thou hast sent all this punishment upon them. 24 Behold, the siege mounds^o are come to the city to take it; because of the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, the city is given into the hands of the Chaldeans who fight against it. What Thou hast spoken has come to pass, and behold, Thou seest it. 25 Yet, Thou, O LORD God, hast said to me, Purchase the field for money and secure witnesses — although the city is given into the hands of the Chaldeans!"

26 Then came the word of the LORD to Jeremiah: 27 Observe, I am the LORD, the God of all flesh. Is there anything too difficult for Me? 28 Therefore, thus says the LORD: See, I am giving this city into the hands of the Chaldeans and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take it.^p 29 The Chaldeans who are fighting against this city shall come and set this city on fire and burn it with the houses upon whose roofs incense has been offered to Baal and drink offerings have been poured out to other gods in order to provoke Me to anger. 30 For the children of Israel and the children of Judah have done nothing but evil in My sight from their youth; for the children of Israel only vex Me with the work of their hands, says the LORD. 31 For this city has aroused My anger and My wrath from the day when it was built to this day, so that I will remove it from My sight 32 because of all the evil of the children of Israel and of the children of Judah which they did to vex Me — they, their kings, their princes, their priests, their prophets, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. 33 They have turned to Me their back and not their face; and although I taught them persistently, rising up early and teaching them, yet they have not listened to receive correction. 34 But they set their detestable things in the house which is called by My name, to defile it. 35 They built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire to Molech, which I neither commanded them nor did it enter My mind — this abominable practice to make Judah sin. 36 Therefore, thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning this city of which you say, "It is given into the hand of the king of Babylon by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence": 37 Look, I will gather them out of all the countries where I have driven them in My anger and My fury and in My great wrath; and I will bring them back to this place, and I will make them dwell in safety. 38 Then they shall be My people, and I will be their God; 39 and I will give them one heart and

n) Thoughtfully read this prayer, repeat it audibly and silently. Use it personally.

o) Elevated embankments of earth, as high as the walls of the hostile city upon which the besiegers advanced to attack.

p) God is reasonable; He fully replies to the prophet's questioning. It is good for us to be frank with God; not irreverent or haughty, but confessing our limited knowledge and His omniscience. His Word is revelation of His thoughts toward us.

one way, that they may revere Me for ever for the good of them and of their children after them. ⁴⁰And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from doing good to them; and My reverence will I put in their heart that they may not turn away from Me. ⁴¹I will rejoice over doing them good, and I will plant them in this land in faithfulness with all My heart and with all My soul.^a ⁴²For thus says the LORD: Just as I have brought upon this people all this great calamity, so I will bring upon them all the good that I promise them. ⁴³Fields shall be bought in this land of which you are saying, "It is desolate, without man or beast; it is given into the hands of the Chaldeans." ⁴⁴They shall buy fields for money, sign the deeds, seal them, and secure witnesses in the land of Benjamin, in the places about Jerusalem, in the cities of Judah, in the cities of the hill country, in the cities of the Shephelah,^c and in the cities of the south; for I will restore their fortunes, says the LORD.

587 B.C.

33 THEN THE WORD OF THE LORD came to Jeremiah a second time, while he was shut up in the court of the guard: ²Thus says the LORD, who made the earth,^b who created it, and who established it — the LORD is His name: ³Call to Me and I will answer you and reveal to you great and mighty things which you do not know.^d ⁴For thus says the LORD, the God of Israel regarding the houses of this city and the houses of the kings of Judah, which were broken down to make a defense against the siege mounds and the sword: ⁵The Chaldeans are coming to fight and to fill them with the dead bodies of the men whom I shall slay in My anger and in My fury. I have hid My face from this city because of all their wickedness. ⁶Look, I will bring to her restoration and health; and I will heal them and reveal to them an abundance of peace and prosperity. ⁷I will bring back the captivity of Judah and of Israel, and I will rebuild them as they were formerly.^e ⁸Also, I will cleanse them^f from all their iniquity which they have committed against Me, and I will pardon all their iniquities in which they have sinned and rebelled against Me. ⁹And she^g shall be to Me a name of joy, a praise, and a glory before all the nations of the earth, who shall hear of all the good which I will do for them, and they shall be amazed and shall wonder over all the good and all the peace that I bestow on her.

¹⁰Thus says the LORD: Again there shall be heard in this place of which you say,^h "It is waste, without man and beast," even in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem that are desolate, without man or inhabitant or beast, ¹¹the voice of joy and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride,ⁱ the voices of those who say, "Give thanks to the LORD of hosts, for the LORD is good, for His mercy endures forever,"^j and who bring sacrifices of thanksgiving to the house of the LORD. For I will restore the fortunes of the land as formerly, says the LORD.

¹²Thus says the LORD of hosts: Again there shall be in this place, which is waste, without man or beast, in all its cities, habitations of shepherds resting their flocks. ¹³In the cities of the hill country, in the cities of the lowland, and in the cities of the South, in the land of Benjamin, in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah,^k shall the flocks again pass along under the hands of the one who counts them, says the LORD.

¹⁴Behold, the days are coming, says the LORD, when I shall fulfil that good thing which I have promised to the house of Israel and the house of Judah.

q) Wholeheartedly and whole-souledly.

r) The lowlands or plain between the Judean hills and the west coast.

s) His purposes as described in ch. 32:42; Isa. 40:12, 13, 26.

t) Things cut off, i.e., inaccessible, unattainable, or withheld [Isa. 48:6].

u) As in former times, as of old [Isa. 1:26]. v) Ezek. 36:25.

w) "This city" — Jerusalem, even as the worst of us after genuine repentance and faith in Christ may live to God's glory. x) Ch. 32:43.

y) The reversal of Jer. 7:34; 16:9; 25:10, for joy goes with genuine worship.

z) A liturgical refrain in later Psalms — 106:1; 107:1; 118:1, 29. a) Ch. 32:44.

¹⁵In those days and at that time, I will cause a Branch of righteousness to spring forth for David; and He shall execute judgment and righteousness in the land. ¹⁶In those days Judah will be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely. And this is the name by which He shall be called, "THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS."^b ¹⁷For thus says the LORD: David shall never lack a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel,^c ¹⁸neither shall the priests, the Levites,^d lack a man before Me to offer burnt offerings and to burn oblations and to do sacrifices continually.

¹⁹Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: ²⁰Thus says the LORD: If you can break My covenant with the day and My covenant with the night so that day and night will not come at their appointed times, ²¹then may also My covenant be broken with David My servant, so that he shall not have a son to reign upon his throne, My covenant with the Levites the priests, My ministers. ²²As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured, so will I multiply the descendants of David, My servant, and the Levites who minister to Me.

²³The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: ²⁴Are you not aware of what these people are saying, "The two families which the LORD has chosen, He has even cast them off"? And thus they have despised My people so that they are no longer a nation before Me. ²⁵Thus says the LORD: If my covenant with day and night does not stand, if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth, ²⁶then will I also cast away the descendants of Jacob and of David My servant, and I will not choose one of his descendants to rule over the offspring of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. For I will restore their fortune and have compassion on them.

588 B.C.

34 THE WORD WHICH CAME TO Jeremiah from the LORD when Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon and all his army and all the kingdoms of the earth under his rule and all the peoples were fighting against Jerusalem and against all its cities: ²Thus says the LORD God of Israel: Go and speak to Zedekiah king of Judah and say to him, "Thus says the LORD: Look! I am giving this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire. ³You shall not escape from his hand, but you shall surely be taken and be delivered into his hand; your eyes shall look straight into the eyes of the king of Babylon, and he shall speak with you face to face; and you shall go to Babylon. ⁴Yet hear the word of the LORD, O Zedekiah^e king of Judah. Thus says the LORD concerning you: You shall not die by the sword; ⁵you shall die in peace, and as incense was burned for your fathers,^f the former kings who were before you, so shall men burn incense for you and lament for you, 'Alas, master!' For I have spoken the word, says the LORD."

⁶Then Jeremiah the prophet spoke all these words to Zedekiah king of Judah in Jerusalem, ⁷when the king of Babylon's army was fighting against Jerusalem and against all the cities of Judah that remained, against Lachish^g and Azekah;^h for these cities that remained of Judah were the only fortified cities.

⁸The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD after King Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people in Jerusalem to make a proclamation of liberty to them, ⁹that every man should set free his Hebrew slaves, male

b) Our righteousness due to God – expression of the ideal character which the nation will then display [ch. 23:6]; future ideal King, see the symbolic name, "The Lord is there," in Ezek. 48:35.

c) I Kings 2:4; 9:5.

d) The priests of the tribe of Levi, the Levitical priests – a Deut. expression [Deut. 17:9; Josh. 3:3; Ezek. 44:15].

e) Zedekiah died in prison in Babylon after having had his eyes put out by Nebuchadrezzar at Riblah, in Coele-Syria north of Palestine.

f) See II Chron. 16:14; 21:19 – God's judgment tempered with mercy.

g) Now Tell-el-Hesi, about 35 miles s.w. of Jerusalem.

h) Probably about 15 miles s.w. of Jerusalem [Josh. 10:11; I Sam. 17:1, Neh. 11:30].

and female, so that no man should enslave a Jew, his relative.¹ ¹⁰All the princes and all the people who had entered into the covenant agreed that everyone would release his slave, male and female, so that they would not be enslaved again; they obeyed and released them.¹ ¹¹But afterwards they turned and caused the bondmen and bondmaids, whom they had let go free, to return, and brought them into subjection for bondmen and bondmaids.

¹²The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah from the LORD: ¹³Thus says the LORD, God of Israel: I made a covenant with your fathers in the day when I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, saying: ¹⁴At the end of seven years^k each of you must release your Hebrew relative who has been sold to you and has served you six years; you shall let him go free from you. But your fathers did not obey Me or incline their ear. ¹⁵You recently repented and did what was right in My eyes by proclaiming liberty, every man to his neighbor, and you made a covenant before Me in the house which is called by My name; ¹⁶but you turned around and profaned My name,¹ when each of you took back his male and female slave, whom you had set free according to their desire, and you brought them into subjection to be your slaves. ¹⁷Therefore, thus says the LORD: You have not obeyed Me in proclaiming liberty, every man to his brother and every man to his neighbor. Look! I proclaim to you a liberty to the sword, to pestilence, and to famine, says the LORD, and I will make you a consternation to all the kingdoms of the earth. ¹⁸I will give the men who have transgressed My covenant,^m who have not kept the words of the covenantⁿ which they have made before Me, when they cut the calf in two and passed between its parts — ^o ¹⁹the princes of Judah, the princes of Jerusalem, the eunuchs, the priests, and all the people of the land who passed between the parts of the calf — ²⁰I will even give them into the hand of their enemies and into the hand of those who seek their lives. Their dead bodies shall be food for the birds of the air and the beasts of the field. ²¹And Zedekiah king of Judah and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which has lifted the siege.

²²See! I will command, says the LORD, and will return them to this city; and they shall fight against it, take it, and burn it with fire. The cities of Judah will I make a desolation without inhabitant.

597 B.C.

35 THE WORD WHICH CAME TO Jeremiah from the LORD in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah: ²Go to the house of the Rechabites;^p then speak with them, and bring them to the house of the LORD into one of the chambers;^q there offer them wine to drink. ³So I took Jaazaniah the son of Jeremiah son of Habazziniah and his brothers and all his sons, the whole house of Rechabites. ⁴I brought them to the house of the LORD into the chamber of the sons of Hanan the son of Igdaliah, the man of God, which was near the chamber of the princes, above the chamber of Maaseiah^r the son of Shallum, the keeper of the threshold.^s ⁵Then I set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites pitchers full of wine and

i) See law in Deut. 15:12. j) During the siege of Jerusalem.

k) When you come to the conclusion of your seven-year period, that is, at the beginning of the seventh year. l) Disowning the agreement sworn solemnly to in the temple.

m) See vs. 8, 10, 15.

n) A ceremony symbolically ratifying a covenant of agreement [Gen. 15:10, 17].

o) The contracting parties passed between the divided pieces of the victim, invoking upon themselves a similar fate if they failed to fulfil the stipulated conditions.

p) A subdivision of the Kenites, settled afterward in the south of Judah [Judg. 1:16; I Sam. 15:6; 27:10].

q) Arranged around the courts of the temple, serving partly as storehouses and partly as residences for priests, etc. [I Chron. 9:27; Ezek. 40:17; Neh. 10:37-39].

r) Probably father of the priest Zephaniah [ch. 21:1; 29:25].

s) One of the three "keepers of the threshold" — three gates to the temple. Officers ranked next to the chief priest and deputy [ch. 52:24; II Kings 12:9].

cups, and I said to them, "Drink wine."⁶ But they replied, "We will drink no wine, for Jonadab the son of Rechab,¹ our father, commanded us, 'You shall not drink wine, neither you nor your sons forever. ⁷Neither shall you build a house, or sow seed, or plant, or have a vineyard; but you shall dwell in tents all your days so that you may live many days in the land where you sojourn.' ⁸We have obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab, our father, in all that he charged us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, or our daughters, ⁹and not to build houses to dwell in. We have no vineyard or field or seed; ¹⁰but we have lived in tents and have obeyed and done all that Jonadab our father commanded us. ¹¹But when Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came up against the land, we said, 'Come, let us go to Jerusalem for fear of the army of the Chaldeans and the army of the Syrians.' ¹²So we are living in Jerusalem."

¹²Then came the word of the LORD to Jeremiah: ¹³Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Go, and speak to the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Will you not receive correction to listen to My words? says the LORD. ¹⁴The word which Jonadab the son of Rechab gave his sons, to drink no wine, has been observed, and they drink none to this day, for they have obeyed their father's commandment.^v But I, on My part, have spoken to you, rising up early and speaking, but you have not listened to Me. ¹⁵I have sent also to you all My servants, the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying, Return, I plead with you, every man from his evil way; amend your doings, and go not after other gods to serve them; then you shall dwell in the land which I gave you and your fathers.^w But you did not incline your ear or listen to Me. ¹⁶The sons of Jonadab the son of Rechab have kept the commandment which their father gave them; but this people has not obeyed Me. ¹⁷Therefore, thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Look, I am bringing upon Judah and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem all the misery that I have pronounced against them, because I have spoken to them, but they have not listened; I have called to them and they have not answered.

¹⁸But to the house of the Rechabites Jeremiah said, "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Because you have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, observed all his instructions, and done all that he commanded you, ¹⁹therefore, thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Jonadab the son of Rechab shall never lack a man to stand before Me."^x
604 B.C.

36 IN THE FOURTH YEAR OF JEHOIAKIM the son of Josiah, king of Judah, this word came to Jeremiah from the LORD: ²Acquire a scroll^y and write on it all the words that I have spoken to you about Israel and about Judah and about all the nations, from the day I spoke to you, from the days of Josiah until this day. ³It may be that the house of Judah will consider all the misfortune which I am planning to apply to them, so that every one may turn from his evil way and that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin. ⁴Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah, and Baruch wrote upon the scroll at the dictation of Jeremiah all the words of the LORD which He had spoken to him. ⁵And Jeremiah instructed Baruch, "I am restrained;^z I cannot go into the house of the LORD; ⁶therefore, you go and read from the scroll, which you have written from my dictation, the words of the LORD, in the hearing of all the people in the LORD's house on a fast day. You shall read them too in the hearing of all the men of Judah who come out of their cities. ⁷Perhaps they will make their supplication^a before

t) II Kings 10:15, 23. u) "Aram" [cf. Gen. 25:20; Judg. 10:6; II Kings 24:2].

v) So there are non-church members, living by "The Golden Rule," which does not suffice for salvation, but which faithful church members may not follow equally well.

w) Jeremiah's summary in one phrase of the teaching of former prophets.

x) "To serve Me" (I Kings 10:8; Jer. 15:19). Morality led on to godliness.

y) How Jeremiah's prophecies were first committed to writing. z) Under a temple interdict.

a) See Jer. 37:20; 38:26; Dan. 9:18, 20.

the LORD, and every one will turn from his evil way; for great is the anger and the indignation that the LORD has pronounced against this people." ⁸And Baruch^b the son of Neriah did all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading from the scroll the words of the LORD in the LORD's house.

⁹In the fifth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, in the ninth month,^c all the people in Jerusalem and all the people who came from the cities of Judah to Jerusalem proclaimed a fast before the LORD. ¹⁰Then, in the hearing of all the people, Baruch read from the scroll the words of Jeremiah, in the house of the LORD, in the chamber of Gemariah^d son of Shaphan^e the secretary,^f in the upper court at the entrance of the New Gate^g of the LORD's house.

¹¹When Micaiah the son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, heard all the words of the LORD from the scroll, ¹²he went down^h to the king's house, into the secretary's chamber, and all the princes were sitting there: Elishama the secretary, Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, Elnathan the son of Achbor,ⁱ Gemariah the son of Shaphan, Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the other princes. ¹³Micaiah told them all the words that he had heard when Baruch read the book in the hearing of the people. ¹⁴Then all the princes sent Jehudi the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, son of Cushi, to say to Baruch, "Take in your hand the scroll that you read in the hearing of the people, and come." So Baruch the son of Neriah took the scroll in his hand and came to them. ¹⁵They said to him, "Sit down! Now read it to us." So Baruch read it to them. ¹⁶When they heard all the words, they turned in fear one toward another and said to Baruch, "We must report all these words to the king." ¹⁷They quizzed Baruch, "Tell us, how did you write all these words? Was it at his dictation?" ¹⁸Baruch answered them, "He dictated all these words to me with his mouth, while I wrote them with ink on the scroll." ¹⁹Then the princes said to Baruch, "Go and hide, you and Jeremiah, and let no man know where you are."

²⁰So they went to the king into the court;^j but they deposited the scroll in the office of Elishama the secretary and gave a full report to the king. ²¹Then the king sent Jehudi to get the scroll, and he took it from the office of Elishama the secretary. Jehudi read it to the king and to the princes who stood beside the king. ²²It was the ninth month; the king was sitting in the winter house, and there was a fire burning in the brazier before him. ²³As Jehudi read three or four columns, the king would snip them off^k with a scribe's knife and fling them into the fire that was in the brazier, until the entire scroll was consumed in the fire that was in the brazier.

²⁴Yet neither the king, nor any of his servants who heard all these words, was afraid, nor did they rend their garments. ²⁵Even though Elnathan, Delaiah, and Gemariah cautioned the king not to burn the roll, he would not listen to them. ²⁶And the king ordered prince Jerahmeel,^l Seraiah the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel to arrest Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet; but the LORD hid them.

²⁷After the king had burned the scroll containing the words which Baruch wrote at Jeremiah's dictation, the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: ²⁸Take another scroll and write on it all the former words that were in the first scroll, which Jehoiakim the king of Judah has burned. ²⁹And concerning

b) Baruch is typical of the layman who assists his pastor.

c) Late Chisleu [Neh. 1:1], corresponding to our December. The Hebrew year in those times began in spring. d) Brother of Ahikam, who befriended Jeremiah in 607 B.C. [ch. 26:24].

e) Eighteen years before Shaphan had brought and read Deut. to Josiah after it had been discovered by the high priest, Hilkiah, in the temple [1 Kings 22:8-10].

f) "The king's scribe," an important minister of state [I Kings 4:3; Isa. 37:2]. g) Ch. 26:10. h) From the temple. i) Ch. 26:22. j) The open inner court of the palace.

k) The verb implies repeated action; as if disposing of the divine warrant would also dispose of the deserved punishment.

l) Probably a royal prince. See Jer. 38:6; I Kings 22:26b; Jehoiakim could not have had a grown son.

Jehoiakim king of Judah you shall say, "Thus says the LORD: You have burned this roll, saying, 'Why have you written in it that the king of Babylon will certainly come and destroy this land and cut off from it man and beast?'³⁰ Therefore thus says the LORD about Jehoiakim king of Judah: He shall have none to sit upon the throne of David, and his dead body shall be flung out^m to the heat by day and the frost by night.³¹ I will punish him, his offspring, and his servants for their iniquity; I will bring upon them and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem and upon the men of Judah, all the disaster that I have pronounced against them; but they would not hear."

³²Then Jeremiah took another scroll and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Neriah, who wrote on it at the dictation of Jeremiah all the words of the scroll which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire; and many similar words were added to them.

588-586 B.C.

37 ZEDEKIAH THE SON OF JOSIAH, whom Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon made king in the land of Judah, reigned instead of Coniahⁿ the son of Jehoiakim. ²But neither he nor his servants nor the people of the land listened to the words of the LORD which He spoke through the prophet Jeremiah. ³King Zedekiah sent Jehucal the son of Shelemiah and Zephaniah the priest, the son of Maaseiah,^o to the prophet Jeremiah, saying, "Pray for us to the LORD our God!"^p ⁴Now Jeremiah was still coming in and going out among the people, for they had not yet put him in prison. ⁵Pharaoh's army^q had come out of Egypt, and when the Chaldeans, who were besieging Jerusalem, heard news of them, they retreated from Jerusalem.

⁶Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah the prophet: Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: ⁷Thus shall you say to the king of Judah who sent you to Me to inquire of Me, "Observe!

Pharaoh's army, which came to help you, is about to return to Egypt to its own land; ⁸and the Chaldeans shall come and fight against this city; and they shall take it and burn it with fire. ⁹Thus says the LORD: Do not deceive yourselves by saying, 'The Chaldeans will surely stay away from us'; for they will not stay away. ¹⁰For even if you should smite the whole army of the Chaldeans who are fighting against you, and there remained of them only the wounded men, every one in his tent, even they would get up and burn this city with fire."

¹¹When the army of the Chaldeans had withdrawn from Jerusalem at the approach of Pharaoh's army, ¹²Jeremiah went out to leave Jerusalem and to go to the land of Benjamin to receive his portion^r there among the people. ¹³When he was at the Benjamin Gate,^a a sentinel named Irijah son of Shelemiah, son of Hananiah, seized Jeremiah the prophet, saying, "You are deserting to the Chaldeans." ¹⁴Then Jeremiah said, "It is false. I am not deserting to the Chaldeans." But Irijah would not listen to him, and he seized Jeremiah and brought him to the princes. ¹⁵The princes were angry with Jeremiah; they beat him and put him in the prison in the house of Jonathan the secretary,^t for it had been made a prison. ¹⁶Thus Jeremiah was placed in the dungeon cells, and he remained there many days.

¹⁷Then King Zedekiah sent for him and received him. The king questioned him secretly in his house and said, "Is there any word from the LORD?" Jeremiah said, "There is!" Then he said, "You shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon." ¹⁸Jeremiah also said to King Zedekiah, "What wrong have I done against you or your servants or this people, that you have put me in prison? ¹⁹And where are your prophets which prophesied to you, 'The king of Babylon shall not come against you or against this land'? ²⁰Now hear, I beg of you,

m) Jer. 22:19. n) See Jer. 22:24. o) Jer. 21:1; 29:25.

p) The king is near repentance when he mentions "the LORD our God"; but he stopped with words. q) Sent by Pharaoh Hophra [Jer. 44:30]. r) Probably what he had bought [ch. 32:9].

s) On the north wall of the city, leading into the territory of Benjamin.

t) Shaphan, who was "secretary" 17 years before under Jehoiachin [ch. 36:10], was no longer in office.

O my master, the king; please, let my plea be accepted before you; do not send me back to the house of Jonathan the secretary, lest I die there." ²¹Then King Zedekiah gave orders, and they committed Jeremiah into the court of the guard; and daily a loaf of bread was given him from the bakers' street, until all the bread in the city was gone. So Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

38 NOW SHEPHATIAH THE SON OF Mattan, Gedaliah the son of Pashur, Jucal^u the son of Shelemiah, and Pashur the son of Malchiah^v heard the words that Jeremiah was speaking to all the people, saying, ²"Thus says the LORD: He who remains in this city shall die by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence; but he who surrenders to the Chaldeans shall live; he shall have his life as a prize for his loot, and he shall survive. ³Thus says the LORD: This city shall surely be given into the hand of the army of the king of Babylon, and they shall take it." ⁴Then the princes said to the king, "Let this man, we beg of you, be put to death; for he is weakening^w the hands of the soldiers who remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, by speaking such words to them. For this man is not seeking the good of the people, but their destruction."

⁵King Zedekiah said, "See, he is in your hand; for the king can do nothing against you."^x ⁶Then they took Jeremiah and cast him into the cistern^y of Malchiah, the king's son, that was in the court of the guard. They let Jeremiah down with cords. There was no water in the cistern, but only mire, and Jeremiah sank in the mire.

⁷When Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, a eunuch who was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah into the cistern — the king was sitting in the Benjamin Gate — ⁸Ebed-melech went out from the king's house and said to the king, ⁹"My master the king, these men have done altogether wrong in the way they have treated Jeremiah the prophet by casting him into the cistern; he will starve on the spot because of the famine; for there is no bread left in the city." ¹⁰Then the king ordered Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, "Take three men with you, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the cistern before he dies." ¹¹So Ebed-melech took the men with him, went into the house of the king underneath the treasury,^a and took from there old rags and worn-out clothes, which he let down to Jeremiah in the cistern by cords. ¹²Then Ebed-melech the Ethiopian said to Jeremiah, "Place the rags and clothes between your armpits and the cords."^b And Jeremiah did so. ¹³Then they drew Jeremiah up with the cords and lifted him out of the cistern, and Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard.

¹⁴Then King Zedekiah sent for Jeremiah the prophet and received him at the third entrance of the temple of the LORD. The king said to Jeremiah, "I will ask you something; hide nothing from me." ¹⁵Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, "If I declare it to you, will you not surely put me to death? And if I give you counsel, you will not listen to me."^c ¹⁶So King Zedekiah swore to Jeremiah secretly, "As the LORD lives who made our souls, I will not put you to death or deliver you into the hand of these men who are seeking your life." ¹⁷Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, "Thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: If you will surrender to the king of Babylon's princes, then your life will be spared, and this city will not be burned with fire; and you and your house shall survive. ¹⁸But if you do not go out to the king of Babylon's princes, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans; they will burn it with fire, and you will not escape out of their hands." ¹⁹King Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, "I am afraid of the Jews who deserted to the Chaldeans, lest I be delivered into their hands and they abuse

u) Jehucal in Jer. 37:3 v) Jer. 21:1, w) "Causes to droop down," weakening their morale.

x) Compare Pilate's statement concerning Jesus [Matt. 27:24].

y) An underground pit for the storage of water. z) See Jer. 37:13. a) Used as a lumber room.

b) A colored man felt sympathy and acted on it. c) Jeremiah was a hard bargainer.

me." ²⁰But Jeremiah said, "You shall not be given to them. Obey now, I plead with you, the voice of the LORD in what I speak to you, and it shall be well with you; your soul shall live. ²¹But if you refuse to go out, this is the word that the LORD has shown me: ^d ²²I saw all the women who were left^e in the king of Judah's house brought out to the king of Babylon's princes, while they said, 'Your trusted friends have deceived you and prevailed against you; now that your feet are sunk in the quicksand, they desert you.' ²³All your wives and your children shall be brought out to the Chaldeans, and you yourself shall not escape from their hand, but you shall be seized by the hand of the king of Babylon; and this city shall be burned with fire."

²⁴Then Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, "Let no man know of these words, and you shall not die. ²⁵But if the princes hear that I have conferred with you and they come to you and say, 'Tell us now what you said to the king and what did the king say to you.' Hide nothing from us, and we will not put you to death," ²⁶then you shall say to them, 'I was presenting my plea before the king that he would not send me back to Jonathan's house to die there.'"

²⁷Then all the princes came to Jeremiah and asked him; and he answered them with the words as the king instructed him.^f So they left off speaking with him, for the matter^h had not been overheard. ²⁸So Jeremiah remained in the court of the guard until the day that Jerusalem was taken. He was still there when Jerusalem was taken.

586 B.C.

39 IN THE NINTH YEAR OF ZEDEKIAH king of Judah, in the tenth month, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon and all his army came against Jerusalem and besieged it. ²In the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, a breach was made in the city. ³All the princes of the king of Babylon came and sat¹ in the middle gate: Nergal-sharezer, Samgar-nebo, Sarsechim, Rabсарis, Nergal-shareser the Rabmag,^j with all the rest of the princes of the king of Babylon. ⁴It eventuated^k when Zedekiah the king of Judah and all the men of war saw them, that they fled and left the city by night by the way of the king's garden, through the gate between the two walls;¹ and he went toward the Arabah.^m ⁵But the army of the Chaldeans pursued them and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho; and when they had captured him, they brought him up to Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, at Riblahⁿ in the land of Hamath; and he passed sentence upon him. ⁶The king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes. The king of Babylon also slew all the nobles of Judah. ⁷He put out Zedekiah's eyes and bound him with chains to carry him to Babylon. ⁸The Chaldeans burned with fire the king's house and the houses of the people, and the walls of Jerusalem they broke down. ⁹The remainder of the people who were left in the city, the deserters who had gone over to him, and the remaining skilled workers, Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard, carried into exile to Babylon. ¹⁰But poor people who owned nothing, Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard, left in the land of Judah, and he gave them vineyards and fields at the same time.

¹¹Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, gave charge concerning Jeremiah through Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard, ¹²"Take him and look after him; do him no harm, but treat him as he tells you." ¹³So Nebuzaradan the

d) Cf. Jer. 24:1: In a vision of the women leaving the palace and addressing the king in the mocking words of vs. 22b. e) 10,000 carried away in 597 B.C. with Jehoiachin.

f) News reporters of their day. g) There are facts we are wise not to reveal.

h) The details of Zedekiah's conversation with him. i) Held a solemn session for judgment.

j) Names and titles of officers.

k) Vss. 4-10 contain particulars of what happened one month after the capture of the city [II Kings 25:8-12; Jer. 52:12-16]. l) Those below the Fountain Gate [Neh. 2:14].

m) The deep valley through which the Jordan flowed and in which the Dead Sea lay [Deut. 1:1; 3:17].

n) Between the ranges of Lebanon and Hermon, about 100 miles north of Dan and 50 miles south of Hamath.

captain of the guard, Nebushasban chief of eunuchs, and Nergal-sharezer chief of Magi, and all the chief officers of the king of Babylon,¹⁴ sent and took Jeremiah out of the court of the guard and entrusted him to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan,^o that he should take him home.^p So he lived among the people.

¹⁵The word of the LORD^q came to Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the court of the guard: ¹⁶Go and say to Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: See, I will fulfil my words against this city for punishment and not for pleasure, and they shall be accomplished before you on that day. ¹⁷But I will deliver you on that day, says the LORD, and you shall not be given into the hand of the men of whom you are afraid. ¹⁸For I will surely save you, and you shall not fall by the sword; but your life shall be for your booty because you have anchored your trust in Me, says the LORD."

586-581 B.C.

40 THE WORD THAT CAME TO JEREMIAH from the LORD after Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had let him go from Ramah,^r when he had taken him bound in chains among all the exiles of Jerusalem and Judah who were carried captive to Babylon. ²The captain of the guard took Jeremiah and said to him, "The LORD your God has pronounced this punishment upon this place. ³The LORD has brought it about just as He decreed. Because you have sinned against the LORD and have not obeyed His voice, this thing is come upon you. ⁴And now, observe! I free you today from the chains on your hands. If it seems good to you to come with me to Babylon, come, and I will look after you;^s but if it seems wrong to you to come with me to Babylon, then do not go.

See, the whole land is before you; go wherever it seems well and appropriate for you to go. ⁵If you are so minded, you may go back to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon has made governor over the cities of Judah, and live with him among the people; but go wherever you think it is right to go." So the captain of the guard gave him an allowance of food and a present, and set him free. ⁶Then Jeremiah went to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, at Mizpah,^t and lived with him among the people who were left in the land.

⁷Now^u when all the captains of the forces in the open country and their men heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam governor in the land and had committed to him men, women, children, and those of the poorest of the land who had not been deported into exile to Babylon, ⁸they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai the Netophathite,^v Jezaniah the son of the Maacathite,^w they and their men. ⁹Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, swore to them and to their men, saying, "Be not reluctant to serve the Chaldeans;^x live in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you. ¹⁰As for me, look, I will live at Mizpah to represent you before the Chaldeans who may come to us; but as for you, gather wine, summer fruits, and oil, put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that you have taken."

¹¹Likewise, when all the Jews who were in Moab and among the Ammonites and in Edom and in other countries heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant in Judah and had appointed Gedaliah the son of Ahikam,

o) Gedaliah son of Ahikam, who, twenty years previously, had been instrumental in saving Jeremiah's life [ch. 26:24]. p) From the precincts of the palace in which the court was. q) Vss. 15-18 form a supplement to chapter 38. They relate to a period anterior to the capture of Jerusalem [ch. 39:1-14], while Jeremiah was confined in the court of the guard [ch. 38:13, 28]. r) Chapters 40-44 relate events in the life of Jeremiah after the capture of Jerusalem by the Chaldeans. s) Jer. 39:12.

t) In Benjamin, probably on the commanding height now called Neby Semwil, four and one-half miles northwest of Jerusalem. u) Vss. 7-9 are abridged in II Kings 25:23, 24.

v) Netophah, a village not far from Jerusalem [Neh. 12:28].

w) Maacah, a land and people southeast of Hermon, east of the lake of Gennesareth [Deut. 3:14].

x) On account of the officers stationed by them in different parts of the country.

the son of Shaphan, as governor over them, ¹²then all the Jews returned from all the places where they had been driven and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah at Mizpah; and they gathered wine and summer fruits in abundance.

¹³Now Johanan the son of Kareah and all the captains of the forces in the open country came to Gedaliah at Mizpah ¹⁴and said to him, "Do you know that Baalis the king of the Ammonites^y has sent Ishmael^z the son of Nethaniah to assassinate you?" But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam would not believe them. ¹⁵Then Johanan the son of Kareah said secretly to Gedaliah in Mizpah, "Let me go, I beg of you, and I will slay Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it. Why should he take your life so that all the Jews who are gathered around you would be scattered and the remnant of Judah would perish?" ¹⁶But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said to Johanan the son of Kareah, "You shall not do this thing, for you are falsely accusing Ishmael."

581 B.C.

41 ¹IN^a THE SEVENTH MONTH, ISHMAEL the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama, of royal descent and one of the chief officers of the king, came with ten men to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, at Mizpah. As they ate bread together there at Mizpah, ²Ishmael, the son of Nethaniah, and the ten men that were with him arose and slew with the sword Gedaliah, the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, and so killed him whom the king of Babylon had appointed governor over the land. ³Ishmael also slew the Jews who were with Gedaliah at Mizpah and the Chaldean soldiers who happened to be there.^b

⁴The second day after the slaying of Gedaliah, before any one knew it, ⁵eighty men came from Shechem, Shiloh, and Samaria, with their beards shorn, their clothes torn, and with their bodies gashed,^c bringing oblations and frankincense to present them to the house of the LORD. ⁶Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went out from Mizpah to meet them, weeping as he walked.^d When he met them, he said to them, "Come to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam." ⁷When they came into the city, Ishmael the son of Nethaniah and the men with them slew them and cast them into a cistern. ⁸But there were ten men among them who said to Ishmael, "Do not slay us, for we have hidden in the field^e wheat, barley, oil, and honey." So he refrained and did not slay them with their companions.

⁹Now the cistern, where Ishmael cast all the dead bodies of the men whom he had slain, was the great cistern that King Asa had made for a defense^f against Baasha king of Israel; Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with the slain.

¹⁰Then Ishmael took away captive the whole remnant of the people who were in Mizpah, the king's daughters and all the people who remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard, had committed to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam. Ishmael the son of Nethaniah took them away captive, and he departed to cross over to the Ammonites.

¹¹But when Johanan the son of Kareah and all the captains of the forces with him heard of all the evil which Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had committed, ¹²they took all the men and went to fight against Ishmael the son of Nethaniah. They overtook him by the great Gibeon waters.^g ¹³When all the people with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah and all the captains of the forces with him, they were glad; ¹⁴so all the people whom Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah turned about, came back, and went over to Johanan the son of Kareah. ¹⁵But Ishmael the son of Netha-

y) The king of Ammon was unfriendly to the Chaldeans [ch. 27:3].

z) Regarded Gedaliah as a traitor and desired the governorship of the Judean province.

a) Cf. vs. 1-3 with II Kings 25:25. b) The Chaldeans who formed Gedaliah's bodyguard.

c) Mourning over the fate which had befallen Jerusalem. d) Feigning sympathy with them.

e) Allusion to large subterranean pits used for the storage of grain.

f) For the purpose of supplying Mizpah with water.

g) See II Sam. 2:13; now "El-Jib," about a mile north of Neby Samwil [Mizpah].

niah escaped from Johanan with eight men and fled to the Ammonites.

¹⁶Then Johanan the son of Kareah and all the captains of the forces with him took all the rest of the people whom Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had carried away from Mizpah, after he had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam — soldiers,^h women, children, and eunuchs,ⁱ whom Johanan brought back from Gibeon. ¹⁷They departed and dwelt in Geruth Chimham,^j which is near Bethlehem, intending to enter Egypt, ¹⁸due to the Chaldeans; for they were afraid of them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon had made governor over the land.

581 B.C.

42 THEN^k ALL THE CAPTAINS OF the forces, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and Azariah^l the son of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least to the greatest, came near ²and said to Jeremiah the prophet, "We beg of you, let our supplication be accepted before you, and pray for us to the LORD your God for all this remnant — for we are left but a few out of many, as the sight of your eyes confirms — ³that the LORD your God may declare to us the place we should go and what we should do." ⁴Then Jeremiah the prophet said to them, "I understand you! Look! I will pray to the LORD your God as you have requested, and whatever the LORD shall answer I will tell you; I will keep nothing back from you." ⁵Then they said to Jeremiah, "May the LORD be a true and faithful witness against us if we do not act according to every word which the LORD your God shall send to us! ⁶Whether it be pleasing or whether it be hard, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God to whom we are sending you, that it may be well with us when we obey the voice of the LORD our God."^m

⁷After ten days the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah. ⁸Then he called Johanan the son of Kareah and all the captains of the forces who were with him, and all the people from the least to the greatest, ⁹and said to them, "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, to whom you sent me to present your request before Him: ¹⁰If you will remain in this land, then I will build you up and not pull you down; I will plant you and not uproot you; for I will regret the calamity that I brought on you. ¹¹Do not fear the king of Babylon, of whom you are afraid; do not fear him, says the LORD, for I am with you, to save you and to rescue you from his hand. ¹²I will grant you compassion, so that he may have compassion for you and let you reside in your own land. ¹³But if you say, 'We will not remain in this land,' spurning the voice of the LORD your God, ¹⁴saying, 'No! We will go into the land of Egypt, where we shall neither see war nor hear the sound of the trumpet, or have hunger for bread, and there we will dwell,' ¹⁵then hear the word of the LORD, O remnant of Judah. Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Ifⁿ you set your faces to enter Egypt and to sojourn there, ¹⁶then the sword which you fear shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine which you are dreading shall follow close after you to Egypt, and there you shall die. ¹⁷All the men who set their faces to go to Egypt to live there, shall die by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence, and none of them shall survive or escape from the calamity that I will bring upon them. ¹⁸For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: As My anger and My indignation have been poured out on the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so shall My indignation be poured out on you when you go to Egypt. You shall be an execration, a desolation, a curse, and a reproach. You shall see this place no more. ¹⁹The LORD has said to you, O remnant of Judah, go not into Egypt. Now, there-

h) See Jer. 43:6; 44:20. i) The guardians of the young princesses [vs. 10].

j) So-called from Chimham, son of Barzillai the Gileadite who accompanied David to Jerusalem after Absalom's rebellion [II Sam. 19:37-40]. k) Abridged in II Kings 25:26.

l) Following the LXX, the pre-Christian Greek translation from the Hebrew, commonly called the Septuagint. m) "Your God" repeatedly, as if He were not their God.

n) One of the many "ifs" of God, giving His children a chance to choose His wholesome way.

fore, know for certain that I have warned you this day ²⁰that you have gone astray at the cost of your lives. For you sent me to the LORD your God, saying, 'Pray for us to the LORD your God, and whatever the LORD our God says, declare to us and we will do it.' ²¹And I have this day declared it to you, but you have not listened to the voice of the LORD your God in anything with which He sent me to you. ²²Now, therefore, know for certain that you shall die by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence, in the place where you choose to go and live."

581 B.C.

43 WHEN JEREMIAH HAD FINISHED speaking to all the people all these words of the LORD their God, with which the LORD their God had sent him to them, ²Azariah the son of Hoshai and Johanan the son of Kareah and all the arrogant men said to Jeremiah, "You are speaking falsely." The LORD our God did not send you to say, 'Do not go into Egypt to sojourn there'; ³but Baruch the son of Neriah has set you against us in order to deliver us into the hands of the Chaldeans, that they may kill us and carry us into exile to Babylon." ⁴So Johanan the son of Kareah and all the captains of the forces and all the people did not obey the voice of the LORD to remain in the land of Judah. ⁵Instead, Johanan the son of Kareah and all the captains of the forces took the whole remnant of Judah who had returned to live in the land of Judah from all the nations to which they had been driven — ⁶the men, the women, the children, the king's daughters, and every person whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan;^p also Jeremiah the prophet and Baruch the son of Neriah. ⁷They came into the land of Egypt, for they did not obey the voice of the LORD, and they arrived at Tahpanhes.^q

⁸Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah in Tahpanhes: ⁹Take large stones in your hand, and bury them in mortar under the pavement^r which is at the entrance of Pharaoh's palace in Tahpanhes, in the sight of the men of Judah, ¹⁰and say to them, "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Look, I will send and take Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, My servant, and He will set his throne above these stones that I have buried, and he will spread his glittering tapestry^s over them. ¹¹He shall come and shall smite the land of Egypt, giving to pestilence those who are doomed to pestilence, those for captivity to captivity, and those for the sword to the sword. ¹²He will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt; and he shall burn them and carry them away captive; he shall array himself with the land of Egypt as a shepherd puts on his garments,^t and he shall go out from there in peace. ¹³He shall break the obelisks of Bethshemesh^u that are in the land of Egypt, and the temples of the gods of Egypt he shall burn with fire."^v

581 B.C.

44 THE WORD THAT CAME TO JEREMIAH concerning all the Jews who lived in the land of Egypt, at Migdol,^w at Tahpanhes, at Noph,^x and in the section of Pathros:^y ²Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: You have seen all the calamity that I brought upon Jerusalem and upon all the cities of Judah. Look, this day they are a waste, and no one dwells in them, ³because of their wickedness which they committed, provoking Me

o) To justify their own misdemeanor they had to accuse the prophet of lying. So the Bible is denied authority by many who do not care to carry out its instructions. p) Jer. 40:7; 41:10, 16.

q) Ch. 2:16. Now "Tell Defneh" on the northeastern frontier of Egypt. r) Oblong area. s) Either the carpet on which the royal throne stood or the pavilion about it.

t) Suggesting the ease with which Nebuchadnezzar would take possession of Egypt and treat it as his own.

u) House of the sun — about six miles northeast of modern Cairo, a famous temple dedicated to the sun, with an avenue of obelisks in front of it, built by Thutmes III of the 18th dynasty about 1500 B.C.

v) An inscription of Nebuchadnezzar states that in his 37th year [567 B.C.] he invaded Egypt, defeated its king Amasis [568-525 B.C.], and slaughtered or carried away soldiers and horses.

w) Probably the Magdalo of the Romans, east of Tahpanhes, on the extreme northeastern border of Egypt [Ezek. 29:10]. x) Memphis, near the site of modern Cairo [Jer. 2:16].

y) Upper Egypt, "The Land of the South."

to anger, in that they went to burn incense and serve other gods whom they did not know, neither they, nor you, nor your fathers. ⁴And I persistently sent to you all My servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them,² saying, "Oh, do not practice this abominable thing that I hate!" ⁵But they did not heed or incline their ear to turn from their wickedness, to burn no incense to other gods. ⁶Therefore My indignation and My anger were poured out and were kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem, and they are become a waste and a desolation, as it is this day.

⁷Now, therefore, thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel: Why do you commit a great injury against yourselves, to cut off from you man and woman, infant and child from the midst of Judah, denying yourself a remnant? ⁸Why do you vex Me with the works of your hands, burning incense to other gods in the land of Egypt where you came to abide, so that you may be cut off and become a curse and a hissing among all the nations of the earth? ⁹Have you forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, the wickedness of the kings of Judah, the wickedness of their princes, your own wickedness and of your wives, which they have committed in the land of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem? ¹⁰They have not humbled themselves even to this day, nor have they revered or walked in My law and in My statutes which I set before^a you and before your fathers.

¹¹Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: See! I have set My face against you for calamity, to cut off all Judah entirely. ¹²I will take the remnant of Judah, who have set their faces to come into the land of Egypt to live, and they all shall be consumed; in the land of Egypt shall they fall; by the sword and by famine they shall be consumed; from the least even to the greatest, they shall die by the sword and by famine; and they shall become an execration, a horror, a curse, and a reproach.^b ¹³I will punish those who dwell in the land of Egypt as I have punished Jerusalem, with the sword, with famine, and with pestilence, ¹⁴so that none of the remnant of Judah who have come to live in the land of Egypt shall escape or survive to return to the land of Judah, to which they have a desire to return to dwell there; for none shall return except a few escapees.

¹⁵Then all the men who knew that their wives burned incense to other gods, and all the women that stood by—a great assembly—all the people who dwelt in Pathros in the land of Egypt, answered Jeremiah, ¹⁶"As for the word which you have spoken to us in the LORD's name, we will not listen to you. ¹⁷But we will certainly perform every word that is gone out of our mouth,^c burn incense to the queen of heaven and pour out drink offerings to her, as both we and our fathers have done, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; for then we had plenty of food; we prospered and experienced no adversity. ¹⁸But since we ceased burning incense to the queen of heaven and pouring out drink offerings to her, we have lacked everything and have been consumed by the sword and by famine." And the women^d said, ¹⁹"When we burned incense to the queen of heaven and poured out drink offerings to her, was it without our husbands' approval that we made her cakes portraying her and poured out drink offerings to her?"

²⁰Then Jeremiah said to all the people, men and women, and the people who had answered him, ²¹"As for the incense^e you burned in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem, you and your fathers, your kings and your princes, and the people of the land, did not the LORD remember it?

z) An expression occurring eight times in Jeremiah and not elsewhere. It intimates God's special interest, to which so little attention is paid. a) See Deut. 4:8; 11:32; Jer. 9:13; 26:4.

b) Again an "if" in God's announcement of doom; if they repent and obey, He is ready to bless them.

c) A solemn expression for a vow. See Judg. 11:35 ff—Jephthah's daughter; also Num. 30:2, 12.

d) When the women turn from God, the day of doom is near. e) Sweet smoke from sacrifices.

Did it not come into His mind? ²²The LORD could no longer endure your wicked behavior and the abominations which you have committed; therefore your land has become a waste, a desolation, and a curse, without inhabitant, as it is this day. ²³It is because you burned incense, and because you sinned against the LORD and did not obey the LORD's voice or walk in His law and in His statutes and in His testimonies, that this calamity has come upon you, as at this day."

²⁴Jeremiah further said to all the people including the women, "Hear the word of the LORD, all you of Judah who are in the land of Egypt. ²⁵Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: You and your wives have spoken with your mouths, and with your hands you have fulfilled it,^f saying, 'We will surely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incense to the queen of heaven and to pour out drink offerings to her.'^g Then establish your vows, and perform your vows! ²⁶Consequently, hear the word of the LORD, all you of Judah who dwell in the land of Egypt: Take note! I have sworn by My great name,^h says the LORD, that My name shall no more be mentioned from the mouth of any man of Judah, saying, 'As the Lord God lives,' in the land of Egypt. ²⁷Look! I am awake over them for punishment and not for favor.ⁱ All the men of Judah who are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine, until there be an end of them. ²⁸They that escape the sword shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah few in number; and all the remnant of Judah, who came into the land of Egypt to live there, shall know whose word will stand, Mine or theirs. ²⁹And this shall be a sign to you, says the LORD, that I will punish you in this place, in order that you may know that My words shall surely stand against you for affliction. ³⁰Thus says the LORD: Look, I will give Pharaoh Hophra king of Egypt into the hands of his enemies and into the hand of those who seek his life, as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, his enemy, who also sought his life."^j

604 B.C.

45 THE WORD THAT JEREMIAH THE prophet spoke to Baruch the son of Neriah when he had written these words in a book at the dictation of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, the king of Judah: ²"Thus says the LORD God of Israel to you, O Baruch: ³You said, 'Woe is me, because the LORD has added sorrow to my pain; I am weary with my groaning, and I find no rest.'^k ⁴This shall you say to him, Thus says the LORD: Observe, what I have built I will break down, and what I have planted I will pull up — that is, the whole land. ⁵Are you seeking great things for yourself? Do not seek them;^l for remember, I will bring misfortune upon all flesh, says the LORD; but I will grant you your life as a prize of war in all places where you may go."^m

46 THE WORD OF THE LORD WHICH came to Jeremiah the prophet regarding the nations, ²regarding Egypt, concerning the army of Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt, which was by the river Euphrates at Carchemish which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon defeated in the fourth yearⁿ of Jehoiakim son of Josiah, king of Judah:

³Set in line the buckler and shield, and draw near to battle! ⁴Harness the horses, mount the chargers, and stand forth with your helmets! Polish the lances, and put on the coats of mail! ⁵Why do I see them dismayed and turned backward? Their mighty men^o also are beaten down, are fled in haste, and they look not back. Terror is on every side,^o says the LORD. ⁶Let not

f) See the expression in I Kings 8:15, 24.

g) Being made in God's likeness, we are granted the power to defy His will — always to our destruction. h) I Kings 8:42. i) Ch. 1:10; 21:10; 31:28.

j) "Apries" in Greek [590-571 B.C.], deposed by a military revolution, fell into the hands of Amasis, his successor, who delivered him to the Egyptians by whom he was strangled.

k) To seek great things for ourselves brings disappointments; but seeking great things for God or for others greatness us. l) Chapters 36, 40, and 44 have the same historical background.

m) Equated with the first year of Nebuchadrezzar [604 B.C.]; battle of Carchemish [605 B.C.], the political turning point of the age. n) Warriors. o) See Jer. 6:25.

the swift flee away, nor the mighty man escape! Northward by the river Euphrates they have stumbled and fallen.

⁷Who is this that rises up like the Nile, whose waters toss themselves like rivers? ⁸Egypt rises like the Nile, and his waters toss themselves like the streams. And he says, "I will rise up and cover the earth; I will destroy the city and those who dwell in it." ⁹Up,^p you horses, and go wild, you chariots; let the mighty men march forward: men of Cush^q and Put^r who handle the shield, and Lydians^s who handle and bend the bow! ¹⁰But that day belongs to the LORD God of hosts — a day of retribution, to inflict His punishment on His adversaries. The sword^t shall devour and be satiated and drink its fill of their blood.^u For the LORD God of hosts has a sacrifice in the north country by the river Euphrates. ¹¹Go up to Gilead, and take balm, O virgin daughter of Egypt! In vain you have used many medicines; there is no healing for you. ¹²The nations have heard of your shame, and the earth is full of your cry; for the mighty man has stumbled against the mighty; they have both fallen together.

¹³The word which the LORD spoke to Jeremiah the prophet about the coming of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon to smite the land of Egypt: ¹⁴Declare in Egypt, and publish in Migdol; announce in Noph and in Tahpanhes. Say, "Stand forth^v and be prepared, for the sword shall devour all around you." ¹⁵Why is your strong one^w dashed down? He did not stand because the LORD thrust him down. ¹⁶He^x made many stumble; they fell one upon another. They said, "Arise, and let us go again to our own people, to the land of our nativity, because of the oppressing sword." ¹⁷Call the name of Pharaoh king of Egypt, "Brawler^y who lets the appointed time^z pass by." ¹⁸As I live, announces the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts, surely there shall come one^a like Tabor among the mountains and like Carmel by the sea. ¹⁹O thou daughter, the one^b dwelling in Egypt, prepare yourself to go into exile;^c for Noph shall become a desolation, a ruin without inhabitant!

²⁰Egypt is a graceful heifer; but a gadfly^d from the north has come upon her. ²¹Even her hired soldiers in the midst of her are like calves of the stall,^e for they also have turned back; they are fled together; they did not stand; for the day of their calamity has come upon them, the time of their retribution. ²²Her voice sounds like a serpent's;^f for her enemies march, and they come against her with axes like those who fell the trees. ²³They shall cut down her forest, says the LORD, though it be invulnerable, because they^g are more numerous than the locusts. ²⁴The daughter of Egypt shall be put to shame. She shall be given into the hand of the people from the North. ²⁵The LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, says: See, I will punish Amon of No,^h Pharaoh, Egypt and her gods and her kings, Pharaoh, and those trusting in him. ²⁶I will deliver them into the hand of those who seek their life, into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and of his officers. Afterwards Egypt shall be inhabited as in the days of old, says the LORD.ⁱ

²⁷But you, fear not, O Jacob, My servant, neither be dismayed, O Israel; for be assured I will save you from afar, and your posterity from the land

p) Ironically bids the Egyptians to begin their attack with all their forces — availing nothing.

q) The Ethiopians. r) The Libyans [Ezek. 30:5; Dan. 11:43].

s) People dwelling on the western border of Egypt.

t) The sword of the Chaldeans which will annihilate the Egyptians.

u) Literally, "be soaked and saturated with" [Isa. 34:5, 7].

v) Take your stand to resist the invader [II Sam. 23:12].

w) Your "bull" — allusion to Apis, the sacred bull of the Egyptians [Ps. 22:12b]: "the strong ones" of Bashan — the "bulls" of Bashan. x) The LORD.

y) Symbolical of a great disaster [Jer. 20:3]. z) When he might have averted disaster.

a) A foe [Nebuchadnezzar], towering above all others.

b) Personification of the population of Egypt.

c) Prepare household goods, dress, provisions, etc., to go into exile. d) Figure for the Babylonians.

e) Well-nourished, but useless in war [Amos 6:4].

f) Inaudible, so weak and powerless will Egypt have then become. g) The host of the invaders.

h) Thebes, the capital of upper Egypt; Amon, the tutelary god of Thebes [Nahum 3:8].

i) Ezek. 29:13, 14 on the expectation of Egypt's future restoration.

of their captivity. Jacob shall return and enjoy rest and ease, and none shall make him afraid. ²⁸Fear not, O Jacob, My servant, announces the LORD, for I am with you. I will make a full end of all the nations, where I have driven you, but of you I will not make a full end. I will fairly correct you, and I will by no means leave you unpunished.¹

47 WHAT CAME AS THE LORD'S word to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the Philistines before Pharaoh smote Gaza.^k ²Thus says the LORD: See, waters are rising out of the North,¹ and they shall become an overflowing torrent; they shall flood the land and all that is in it, the city and those who dwell in it. Men shall cry out, and all the inhabitants of the land shall wail. ³At the tumult of the galloping of his steeds, at the clattering of his chariots, at the rumbling of his wheels, the fathers look not back to their children, so feeble are their hands ⁴because of the day that is coming to destroy all the Philistines, to cut off from Tyre and Sidon every helper that survives. For the LORD is destroying the Philistines, the remnant of the isle of Caphtor.^m ⁵Baldnessⁿ has come upon Gaza; Ashkelon has perished. O remnant of the Anakim,^o how long will you gash yourself?^p ⁶Ah, sword of the LORD! How long will it be until you are quiet? Put up yourself into your scabbard; rest, and be still! ⁷How can it be quiet, when the LORD has given it a charge? Against Ashkelon and against the seashore, there has He appointed it.

Prior to 605 B.C.

48 ABOUT MOAB:^q 1 THUS SAYS THE LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Woe to Nebo,^r because it is laid waste; Kiriathaim is put to shame, it is taken; Misgab^s is put to shame and broken down; ²the renown of Moab is gone. In Heshbon^t they have devised ill against her, saying, "Come, and let us cut her off from being a nation." You, too, O Madmen,^u you shall be brought to silence; the sword shall pursue after you. ³Listen! A cry from Horonaim, of spoiling and great destruction! ⁴Moab is destroyed; a cry is to be heard as far as Zoar.^v ⁵For at the ascent of Luhith they go up with weeping; for at the descent to Horonaim they have heard a cry of destruction. ⁶Flee! Save your lives! Be like a donkey in the desert.^w ⁷For, because you have trusted in your strongholds and in your treasures, you also shall be taken; and Chemosh^x shall go forth into exile with his priests and princes. ⁸The spoiler shall come upon every city, and no city shall escape; the valley^y too shall perish, and the tableland^z shall be destroyed, as the LORD has spoken. ⁹Give wings to Moab, for she is eager to fly away; her cities shall become a desolation, without any to dwell in them. ¹⁰Cursed be anyone doing the LORD's work negligently; and cursed be anyone keeping back his sword from blood.

¹¹Moab has been at ease from his youth and has settled on his lees;^a he has not been emptied from vessel to vessel, nor has he gone into exile; so his taste^b remains in him, and his scent is not changed. ¹²Therefore, take

j) God's punishment on earth is disciplinary; it is aimed at repentance and a change of behavior and is constructive when so accepted. So His offspring are His disciples.

k) The date of Pharaoh's smiting Gaza is uncertain. l) Referring to the Chaldeans.

m) Probably Crete or Cilicia [Amos 9:7; Deut. 2:23].

n) A mark of mourning [Jer. 16:6; Deut. 14:1; Micah 1:16].

o) A giant race, dwelling in or near Hebron in pre-historic times [Num. 13:22, 28; Josh. 11:21; Judg. 1:20]. p) Another mark of mourning [ch. 16:6; Deut. 14:1].

q) The rich plateau east of the Dead Sea. r) The city, not the mountain [Num. 33:47; Deut. 34:1]. s) "A high retreat."

t) An ancient, famous Moabite city, about 13 miles east of the upper end of the Dead Sea; the capital of Sihon king of the Amorites. After its allocation to Reuben, it fell into the hands of the Moabites [Josh. 13:17; Isa. 15:4]. u) Moab. v) At the extreme southeast of the Dead Sea.

w) Stripped and desolate [Jer. 17:6]. x) The national god of Moab.

y) As in Josh. 13:11, 27; probably the broad depression into which the Jordan valley opens as it approaches the Dead Sea. z) The plateau, about 2500 feet above the Mediterranean Sea, on which most Moabite cities lay [Deut. 3:10; Josh. 13:9].

a) As the sediment at the bottom of a wine vat accumulates and remains in its place when there is no pouring out, so Moab is too inactive, stale.

b) Experience of Moab's national character and its spirit of haughty independence [vs. 29].

note! The days are coming, says the LORD, when I will send tilters to him who will tilt him, empty his vessels, and dash their jars in pieces.¹³ Then Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed^c of Bethel, their confidence.^d ¹⁴How can you say, "We are heroes and valiant warriors?" ¹⁵The destroyer of Moab and of his cities has come up, and the flower of his young men is gone down to the slaughter, says the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts. ¹⁶The calamity of Moab is near at hand, and his affliction is fast hastening. ¹⁷Be-moan him, all you who surround him and all who know his name; say, "How is the strong staff broken, the beautiful rod!"^e ¹⁸Come down from your glory, and sit on parched ground, O you daughter,^f the one inhabiting Dibon;^g for the spoiler of Moab is come against you; he has destroyed your fortresses. ¹⁹Stand by the way and watch, O inhabitress of Aroer!^h Ask him who flees and her who escapes; say, "What is the matter?"

²⁰Moab is put to shame, for it is shattered. Howl and cry! Tell it by the Arnon, that Moab is laid waste. ²¹Judgment has come upon the table-land, upon Holon, Jahzah, Mephaath, ²²Dibon, Nebo, Bethdiblahaim, ²³Kiriathaim, Bethgamul, Bethmeon, ²⁴Kerioth, Bozrahⁱ and upon all the cities of the land of Moab, far and near. ²⁵The horn^j of Moab is sawed off, and his arm is broken, says the LORD.

²⁶Make him drunk,^k for he has magnified himself against the LORD; let Moab splash in his vomit,^l and let him also be held in derision. ²⁷Was not Israel a derision to you? Was he found among thieves, that whenever you spoke of him you wagged the head?^m ²⁸Leave the cities, and dwell in the rocks, O you inhabitants of Moab, and be like the dove that makes her nest in the side of the cave's mouth!

²⁹We have heard of the pride of Moab — he is very proud — of his loftiness, his pride, and his arrogance, and the haughtiness of his heart. ³⁰I know his insolence, so speaks the LORD; his wrath and his boastings are untrue; his deeds are false. ³¹Therefore I howl for Moab, and I cry out for all Moab; for the men of Kirheresⁿ I moan.^o ³²With more than the weeping of Jazer I weep for you, O vine of Sibmah!^p Your branches passed over the sea,^q they reached even to Jazer; upon your summer fruits and upon your vintage the spoiler has descended. ³³Gladness and joy are taken away from the fruitful field and from the land of Moab; and I have caused wine to cease from the wine vats; no one treads the grapes with shouting;^r the shouting is not the shout of joy.^s ³⁴Heshbon and Elealeh cry out; as far as Jahaz they utter their voice, from Zoar to Horonaim and the third Eg-lath, for the waters of Nimrim also shall become desolate.^t ³⁵And I will cause to cease from Moab, so speaks the LORD, him who offers sacrifice in the high place and burns incense to his god. ³⁶Therefore My heart sounds for Moab like a flute, and My heart yearns like a flute for the men of Kirheres;^u therefore the riches they had gathered have perished. ³⁷For every head is bald, and every beard is

c) We would say, "be disappointed by." d) See Amos 5:5. e) Figures of strength and authority.

f) Figure for population [Jer. 46:19].

g) Thirteen miles east of the Dead Sea and four miles north of Arnon.

h) Four miles southeast of Dibon, but about 1500 feet below it, just on the north edge of the deep chasm through which the Arnon flows.

i) Probably Bezer of Deut. 4:43; Josh. 20:8; site uncertain.

j) A figure for power [Ps. 75:10; Lam. 2:3, 17]. k) Let him be bewildered by terror and despair.

l) A further trait of Moab's helplessness [Jer. 25:27].

m) Was Israel like a detected thief, for you to wag your head at him in mockery?

n) The Kirhariseth of II Kings 3:25; Isa. 16:7, was probably Kerah, 18 miles south of the Arnon, and 8 miles east of the Dead Sea, a strongly fortified place, situated on a very steep, rocky hill, surrounded by deep ravines.

o) With a low, plaintive cry, resembling the note of the dove.

p) As weeping over its ruined vineyards, so will I weep. q) Dead Sea.

r) "Hidad," the joyous shout, or hurrah, of the vintagers as they trod the juice out of the grapes in the wine presses. s) But shouting of attacking foes.

t) They will be dried up, their sources being stopped by the enemy [II Kings 3:25].

u) Named from Isa. 16:11.

clipped; upon all the hands are gashes, and on the loins is sackcloth. ³⁸Upon all the housetops of Moab and in the streets every one is wailing; for I have broken Moab like a vessel in which no one delights, says the LORD. ³⁹How it is broken! How they howl! How Moab has turned the back in shame! So Moab has become a derision and a horror to all that surround him.

⁴⁰For thus says the LORD: Observe! One like an eagle^v shall swoop down and spread out his wings against Moab.

⁴¹Kerioth^w shall be taken and the fortresses seized. The heart of the mighty men of Moab in that day shall be as the heart of a woman in her birth pangs. ⁴²Moab shall be destroyed and no longer be a people, because he has magnified himself against the LORD.

⁴³Terror, pit, and trap are before you, O inhabitant of Moab; so speaks the LORD. ⁴⁴He who flees from the terror shall fall into the pit, and he who climbs out of the pit shall be caught in the trap. For I will bring these things upon Moab in the year of their punishment,^x says the LORD. ⁴⁵Under the shadow of Heshbon they who fled stand powerless,^y for a fire has gone forth from Heshbon, and a flame from the house of Sihon;^z it has devoured the temples of Moab's head, and the craniums of the sons of tumult.^a ⁴⁶Woe to you, O Moab! The people of Chemosh are undone; for your sons have been taken away captive, and your daughters into captivity. ⁴⁷Yet will I restore the fortunes of Moab in the latter days, says the LORD. So much for the judgment upon Moab.

605 B.C.

49 CONCERNING THE AMMONITES, thus says the LORD: Has Israel no sons? Has he no heir? Why then has Milcom^b dispossessed Gad, and his people settled in its cities? ²Therefore, look, the days are coming, says the LORD, when I will cause the battle cry to be heard against Rabbah of the children of Ammon; it shall become a desolate mound, and her daughters^c shall be burned with fire. Then Israel shall dispossess those who dispossessed him, says the LORD. ³Howl, O Heshbon, for Ai^d is laid waste! Cry, O daughters of Rabbah! Gird yourselves with sackcloth; lament, and run back and forth among the hedges! For Milcom shall go into exile with his priests and his princes. ⁴Why do you glory in your valleys,^e O backsliding daughter, who trusts in her treasures, saying, "Who will come against us?" ⁵Look! I will bring terror upon you, says the Lord God of hosts, from all who are around you, and you shall be driven out, every man straight ahead, and there shall be none to gather the fugitives. ⁶But afterward I will restore the fortunes of the Ammonites, says the LORD.

⁷Concerning Edom, thus says the LORD of hosts: Is wisdom no more in Teman?^f Has counsel perished from the prudent? Has their wisdom faded?^g ⁸Flee, turn back, hide deeply,^h O inhabitants of Dedan!ⁱ For when I punish him I will bring the calamity of Esau upon him. ⁹If grape pickers came to you, would they not leave gleanings? If thieves came by night, would they not destroy till they had enough?

¹⁰But I have stripped Esau bare; I have disclosed his lurking places, and he is not able to hide himself. His offspring is spoiled and his brother and his neighbors, and he is no more.

¹¹Leave your fatherless children, I will preserve them alive; and let your widows trust in Me.

¹²For thus says the LORD: Mind you, if those, who did not deserve to drink of the cup,^j must drink it, will

v) A figure of the foe, Nebuchadrezzar.

w) An important city of Moab, mentioned in Amos 2:2; also by Mesha on the Moabite Stone.

x) See ch. 11:23; 23:12. y) In vain the fugitive Moabites seek protection in Heshbon.

z) A political designation of Heshbon, Sihon's old capital [Num. 21:26; Deut. 2:26].

a) Moab's martial warriors. b) The national god of the Ammonites [1 Kings 11:5, 33].

c) Figure for surrounding towns or villages [Num. 21:25; 32:42; Josh. 15:45].

d) An Ammonite town. Not the Ai that Joshua conquered in the southern conquest.

e) Alluding to the broad open plain, about 2700 feet above the sea, surrounded on three sides by mountains in which Rabbah itself lay. f) A district in the north of Edom [Amos 1:12].

g) Aramaic "corrupted." h) Hide yourselves in inaccessible places.

i) Neighbors of Edom on the southeast who are here bidden to take flight if they wish to escape Edom's fate [Isa. 21:13]. j) The cup of the Lord's anger.

you go unpunished? You shall not go unpunished, but you shall surely drink. ¹³For I have sworn by Myself, says the LORD, that Bozrah^k shall become a horror, a reproach, a waste, and a curse; and all her cities shall become perpetual wastes.

¹⁴I have heard a rumor from the LORD, and an ambassador has been sent among the nations, saying, "Get together and come against her; rise up for battle." ¹⁵For, observe, I will make you small among the nations and despised among men. ¹⁶The dread for you, the pride of your heart has deceived you, O you who dwell in the clefts^l of the rock, who hold the height of the hill.^m Though you should make your nest like the eagle's, even from there I would bring you down, says the LORD. ¹⁷Edom shall become a horror; every one who passes by shall be horrified and shall hiss because of all its calamities. ¹⁸As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah and their neighbor cities,ⁿ says the LORD, no man shall dwell there; no man shall sojourn in her. ¹⁹See, there shall come up one like a lion from the Jordan jungles^o against the enduring habitation.^p But in a moment I will chase them away, and whosoever is chosen, him will I appoint over it; for who is like Me, and who will set a time for Me?^q What shepherd can stand before Me? ²⁰Therefore, hear the counsel which the LORD has devised against Edom and the purposes which He has planned against the inhabitants of Teman. Even the little ones of the flock^r shall be dragged away; surely He shall make their homestead appalling because of them. ²¹At the sound of their fall the earth trembles; the sound of their cry is heard at the Red Sea. ²²See, one like an eagle shall mount up and swoop and spread out his wings against Bozrah, and the heart of the mighty men of Edom in that day shall be as the heart of a woman in her birth pangs.

²³Concerning Damascus: Hamath^a and Arpad^t are put to shame, for they have heard bad tidings; they melted in fear,^u they are troubled like the sea; they cannot rest. ²⁴Damascus has waxed feeble; she turned herself to flee, and panic seized her; anguish and sorrows have taken hold of her as of a woman in her labors. ²⁵How the renowned city is forsaken, the city of My joy! ²⁶Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets, and all the men of war shall be silenced in that day, says the LORD of hosts. ²⁷I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, and it shall devour the palaces of Benhadad.^v

²⁸Concerning Kedar^w and the kingdoms of Hazor^x which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote, thus says the LORD: Rise up! March against Kedar! Despoil the people of the east! ²⁹Their tents and their flocks shall be appropriated; their curtains, all their vessels^y and their camels shall be taken from them, and men shall cry to them, "Terror on every side!"^z ³⁰Flee, wander far away, hide completely, O inhabitants of Hazor! says the LORD. For Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon has schemed against you and has conceived a plan against you. ³¹Up,^a and march against a nation that is at ease, that lives carelessly, says the LORD, that has neither gates nor bars, that dwells alone.^b ³²Their camels shall be a

k) A city in the north of Edom, now Busaiah, about 20 miles southeast of the Dead Sea [Isa. 34:6; Amos 1:12]. l) Refuge or retreats.

m) Allusion to the physical topography of Edom. Petra, its capital, lay in an amphitheater of mountains, accessible only through the narrow gorge, called the Siq, winding in with precipitous sides from the west.

n) Admah and Zebaiim, destroyed with Sodom and Gomorrah [Gen. 14:2, 8; 19:28].

o) "The pride of the Jordan" [Jer. 12:5; Zech. 11:3].

p) The abode of long standing, and likely to endure. q) See Job 9:19.

r) Edomites, the most helpless of peoples, whom their enemies, like dogs, will drag along and treat as they please [ch. 15:3]. s) 110 miles north of Damascus.

t) 95 miles north of Hamath and 10 miles north of Aleppo. Both cities appear in Isa. 10:9; 36:19; 37:13, and frequently in Assyrian inscriptions.

u) Rendered powerless through fear [Josh. 2:9, 24; Ps. 75:3]. v) See Amos 1:4.

w) A wealthy pastoral tribe [Isa. 60:7], famous also as bowmen [Isa. 21:17], living in villages [Isa. 42:11], in the wilderness to the east or southeast of Palestine [Isa. 21:16 ff; Jer. 2:10], often mentioned in the Assyrian inscriptions.

x) Or "the village settlements" - Hazor probably a collective term denoting Arab tribes living in fixed settlements or villages. y) Tent hangings. z) Ch. 6:25; 20:3, 4, 10; 46:5.

a) Addressed to the assailants of Hazor. b) In seclusion, far from liability of attack.

booty, and the herds of their cattle shall be for a spoil. I will scatter to the winds those who clipped the corners of their hair; and from every side of them I will bring their calamity, says the LORD. ³³Hazor shall become a den of wild dogs, a desolation forever; no man shall live there, no man shall sojourn there.

³⁴That which came as the LORD's word to Jeremiah the prophet concerning Elam^c in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah. ³⁵Thus says the LORD of hosts: Look! I will break the bow of Elam, the main element of their strength.^d ³⁶I will bring upon Elam the four winds from the four quarters of heaven, and I will scatter them to all these winds; there shall be no nation to which the outcasts of Elam shall not come.^e ³⁷I will terrify Elam before their enemies, and before those who seek their life; I will bring adversity upon them, even My fierce indignation, says the LORD. I will send the sword after them until I have consumed them; ³⁸and I will set My throne^f in Elam and will destroy their king and princes, says the LORD. ³⁹But in the latter days I will restore the fortunes of Elam, says the LORD.

593 B.C.

50 THE WORD WHICH THE LORD spoke regarding Babylon, regarding the land of the Chaldeans, by Jeremiah the prophet: ²Declare among the nations and publish, lift up a standard and publish; conceal it not, and say, "Babylon is taken; Bel^g is put to shame; Merodach is dismayed. Her images are put to shame; her idol-blocks^h are dismayed." ³For there has come up against her a nation out of the North;ⁱ it shall render her land a desolation, and none shall dwell in it; both man and beast shall flee away.

⁴In those days and in that time, says

the LORD, the children of Israel and the children of Judah shall come together, weeping as they come; and they shall seek the LORD their God. ⁵They shall ask the way to Zion, with their faces turned toward it, saying, "Come and let us join ourselves to the LORD in an everlasting covenant which will never be forgotten."

⁶My people have been as lost sheep; their shepherds have caused them to stray, turning them away on the mountains;^j they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten their resting place. ⁷All who found them have devoured them, and their adversaries said, "We are not guilty,"^k because they have sinned against the LORD, the habitation^l of righteousness and the hope of their fathers, the LORD. ⁸Flee from the midst of Babylon, and go out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be as the he-goats before the flocks.^m

⁹For, note! I am stirring up and am bringing against Babylon a coalition of great nations from the north country, and they shall set themselves in array against her; from there she shall be taken.ⁿ Their arrows are like an expert warrior who returns not empty-handed.^o

¹⁰Chaldea shall be plundered, and all who plunder her shall have their fill, says the LORD. ¹¹Though you exult, though you rejoice, O you that plunder My heritage, though you skip like a calf in pasture and neigh like a stallion, ¹²your mother^p shall be utterly ashamed; she who bore you shall be disgraced. Look! You shall be the hindmost of the nations, a desert, as a dry land and a steppe.^q ¹³Because of the indignation of the LORD she shall not be inhabited but shall be wholly desolate; every one who passes by Babylon shall be appalled and shall hiss because of all her wounds.^r

c) On the east of Babylonia [ch. 25:25]. d) Their "atomic bomb."

e) As fugitives or as immigrants. f) The throne of judgment [ch. 1:15; 43:10].

g) A title of Merodach [Marduk], the supreme god of Babylon, meaning "lord" [Isa. 46:1].

h) A contemptuous name for idols; used thirty-nine times by Ezekiel, six times by the compiler of Kings, once in Lev., and in Deut., and here.

i) Media was northeast of Babylon [ch. 51:11, 28; Isa. 13:17].

j) Instead of pasturing them, they have lived on them by false teachings. k) Contrast ch. 2:3.

l) Literally, "honesty." [ch. 31:23]. m) Leading the way.

n) God, the sovereign Lord, moves peoples, who do not acknowledge Him, to discipline other nations, including Israel. o) See II Sam. 1:22.

p) Babylon regarded as the mother of its individual citizens. q) See ch. 2:6; 51:43.

r) Ch. 19:8; 49:17.

¹⁴Set yourselves in array against Babylon all around, all you who bend the bow; shoot at her, spare no arrows; for she has sinned against the LORD.

¹⁵Shout against her round about; she has surrendered;^a her buttresses are fallen, her walls are thrown down. For this is the LORD's retribution; take vengeance on her. Do to her as she has done. ¹⁶Cut off the sower from Babylon, and him who handles the sickle in the time of harvest. For fear of the oppressing sword, they shall turn everyone to his own people, and everyone shall flee to his own land.¹

¹⁷Israel is a hunted sheep, driven away by lions. First the king of Assyria devoured him, and now at last Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon has gnawed his bones. ¹⁸Therefore, thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: Observe, I am bringing punishment upon the king of Babylon and on his land, as I punished the king of Assyria. ¹⁹I will bring Israel back to his homestead; he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, and his soul^u shall be satisfied upon the hills of Ephraim and in Gilead. ²⁰In those days and at that time, says the LORD, the iniquity of Israel shall be searched for, and there shall be none; the sins of Judah, too, and none shall be found; for I will pardon those whom I leave as a remnant.

²¹Go up against the land of Merathaim^v and against the inhabitants of Pekod.^w Slay and utterly destroy^x what is left, says the LORD, and do all that I have ordered you. ²²There is a sound of battle in the land and of great destruction.^y ²³How the hammer of the whole earth is cut asunder and broken! How Babylon has become a desolation among the nations! ²⁴I have laid a snare for you, and you were also taken, O Babylon, and you were not aware of it; you were found and caught because you have provoked the LORD.

²⁵The LORD has opened His armory and has brought out the weapons of his indignation;^z for the LORD God of hosts has a work to do in the land of the Chaldeans. ²⁶Come against her from every quarter; open her fodder-stores; pile her up like shocks of grain and destroy her utterly; let nothing be left of her. ²⁷Slay all her bulls;^a let them go down to the slaughter. Woe to them! For their day is come, the time of their retribution. ²⁸Listen! They^b flee and escape^b out of the land of Babylon, to declare in Zion the recompense of the LORD our God, the retribution of His temple.^c

²⁹Muster the archers against Babylon, all those who bend the bow. Encamp against her on every side; let no one escape. Recompense her according to her actions, do to her according to all that she has done; for she has proudly defied the LORD, the Holy One of Israel. ³⁰Therefore her young men shall drop in her streets, and all her men of war shall be silenced in that day, says the LORD.^d ³¹See! I am against you, O you proud one, says the LORD God of hosts. For your day has come, the time when I will chasten you.^e ³²The proud one shall stumble and fall, with none to lift him up; I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall engulf all that is around him.

³³Thus says the LORD of hosts: The children of Israel and the children of Judah are oppressed together; all who took them captive hold them fast; they refuse to let them go. ³⁴Their Redeemer is strong; the LORD of hosts is His name. He will surely defend their cause, so that He may give rest to the earth, but disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon.

³⁵A sword is upon the Chaldeans, says the LORD, upon the inhabitants of Babylon, upon her princes and her wise men! ³⁶A sword is upon the

s) Lam. 5:6. t) Isa. 13:14; allusion to foreigners settled in Babylon.

u) The seat or organ of appetites [ch. 31:14]. v) A name for Babylonia.

w) A people of Babylonia [Ezek. 23:23], mentioned by Sargon among tribes bordering on Elam.

x) "Ban" or "devote" [ch. 25:9]. y) Ch. 48:3; 51:54.

z) Figure for the nations who unconsciously perform His purpose against Babylon [Isa. 13:5].

a) Figure for young warriors [Isa. 34:7; Jer. 48:15]. b) The liberated Jews.

c) Punishment due for their burning His temple. d) Repeated from ch. 49:26.

e) See vs. 27; ch. 46:21.

boasters,^f and they shall dote,^g a sword is upon her warriors, and they shall be dismayed. ³⁷A sword is upon her horses and upon her chariots and upon all the foreign troops^h who are among her, and they shall become as women; a sword is upon her treasures, and they shall be robbed. ³⁸A drought is upon her waters, and they shall be dried up. For it is a land of graven images, and through idolsⁱ they make themselves demented. ³⁹Therefore wild beasts^j of the desert, with howling creatures,^k shall resort there, and ostriches shall home in her. It shall be no more populated forever, neither inhabited for all generations. ⁴⁰As when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah and their neighbor cities, says the LORD, so no man shall live there, neither shall a son of man stay there.

⁴¹Look!^l A people comes from the North, and a great nation and many kings are stirring from the remote corners of the earth. ⁴²They lay hold of bow and spear; they are cruel and have no mercy. Their voices roar like the sea, and they ride upon horses, arrayed as a man to the battle against you, O daughter of Babylon! ⁴³The king of Babylon has heard the fame of them, and his hands hang helpless; distress has seized him and pain as of a woman in labor. ⁴⁴Look,^m there is one like a lion coming from the Jordan jungle against an enduring habitation; I will suddenly chase them away from it, and I will place over it whomever I choose. For who is like Me? And who will set a time for Me? And what shepherd can stand before Me? ⁴⁵Therefore hear the program of the LORD which He devised against Babylon, and the purposes that He has planned against the land of the Chaldeans. Surely they shall drag them away, even the small ones of the flock; surely He shall make their homestead appalled before them. ⁴⁶At the tidings,ⁿ "Babylon is taken," the earth shall tremble, and the cry shall be heard among the nations.

593 B.C.

51 THUS SPEAKS THE LORD: TAKE note! I will arouse the spirit of a destroyer^o against Babylon and against the inhabitants of Lebkamai.^p ²I will send to Babylon winnowers who shall winnow her, and they shall empty her land when they come against her from every side on the day of trouble. ³Let not the archer bend his bow, and let him not lift himself up in his coat of mail.^q Do not spare her young men; utterly destroy all her host. ⁴The slain shall drop down in the land of the Chaldeans, the wounded in her streets. ⁵For Israel and Judah have not been left in widowhood^r by their God, the LORD of hosts, although their land^s is full of guilt before the Holy One of Israel. ⁶Flee out of the midst of Babylon; let every man save his life! Be not cut off in her iniquity; for this is a time of retribution for the LORD, the recompense He is repaying her.

⁷Babylon was a golden cup in the LORD's hand making all the earth drunk; the nations drank of his wine; therefore the nations went mad!^t ⁸Suddenly Babylon has fallen and is broken! Howl for her! Take balm for her pain; perhaps she may be healed. ⁹We^u would have healed Babylon, but she is not healed. Forsake her, and let us go everyone to his own country; for her judgment reaches to heaven; it even pierces the sky. ¹⁰The LORD has revealed our righteousness.^v Come, let us declare in Zion the word of the LORD our God.

f) The prophets and diviners, who promised Babylon security [Isa. 44:25].

g) Become foolish [Isa. 19:3; Jer. 5:4]. h) Foreign mercenaries.

i) Objects of alarm, ironically for false gods. j) Arabic, "wild cats" [Isa. 34:14].

k) Probably wolves [Isa. 13:22].

l) Vss. 41-43 are repeated from ch. 6:22-24 with the necessary changes, adapting them from Judah to Babylon.

m) Vss. 44-46 are repeated from 49:19-21, with the necessary changes, adapting them from Edom to Babylon. n) Hebrew, "sound" or "voice." o) See ch. 22:7.

p) Meaning "the heart of," or "the midst," "center," of Chaldea.

q) Let none of the warriors of Babylon arm themselves to defend her, for it will be useless.

r) See the figure in Isa. 54:4. s) Of the Chaldeans.

t) Bewildered and helpless before her [ch. 25:16].

u) In vs. 9, 10 the Jews in Babylon are addressing other foreigners resident in Babylon to flee to their own land since the doom of Babylon is sealed.

v) Has shown openly the justice of our cause by the overthrow of our oppressors [Ps. 37:6; Isa. 62:1b, 2].

¹¹Polish^w the arrows; put on the shields.^x The LORD has stirred up the spirit of the kings of Media,^y because His plan regarding Babylon is to destroy it; for that is the LORD's recompense, the retribution for His temple.^z

¹²Set up a standard against the walls of Babylon; make the watch strong;^a set up guards;^b prepare the ambushes; for the LORD has both devised and done what He spoke against the dwellers of Babylon. ¹³O you who dwell by many waters, rich in treasures, your end has come; the thread of your life is severed!^c ¹⁴The LORD of hosts has sworn by Himself: Surely I will fill you with men^d as numerous as locusts,^e and they shall sound forth a shout over you.

¹⁵It is He who made the earth by His power, who established the world by His wisdom and by His understanding stretched out the heavens. ¹⁶When He utters His voice,^f there is a roar of waters in the heavens and He causes the vapors to ascend from the ends of the earth. He makes lightnings for the rain, and He brings forth the wind out of His treasures. ¹⁷Then every man becomes senseless and loses knowledge; every goldsmith is put to shame by his graven image. For his molten image is falsehood, and there is no spirit in them. ¹⁸They are vanity, a work of mockery; in the time of their punishment they shall perish. ¹⁹The portion of Jacob is not like these, for He is the Creator of all things; and Israel is the tribe of His inheritance; the LORD of hosts is His name.

²⁰You are My war club,^g My weapons of war; with you I will shatter the nations; with you I will destroy the kingdoms; ²¹with you I will shatter the horse and his rider; with you I will shatter the chariot and the charioteer;

²²with you I will shatter man and woman, and with you I will shatter the young man and the maid; ²³with you I will shatter the shepherd and his flock; with you I will shatter the farmer and his yoke of oxen; with you I will shatter governors and viceroys.^h ²⁴I will repay Babylon and all the inhabitants of Chaldea before your eyes for all the harm that they have wrought in Zion, says the LORD.

²⁵See, I am against you, O destroying mountain, so speaks the LORD, who destroys all the earth. I will stretch out My hand against you, roll you down from the crags and make you a burnt mountain.ⁱ ²⁶They shall not take from you even a stone for a corner nor a stone for foundations, but you shall be desolate forever, says the LORD.

²⁷Set up a standard on the earth; blow the trumpet among the nations; prepare the nations against her; muster against her the kingdoms of Ararat,^j Minni,^k and Ashkenaz;^l appoint a marshal^m against her; bring up horses like rough locusts.ⁿ ²⁸Prepare the nations for war against her, the kings of Media with their governors and every land under their dominion. ²⁹The land trembles and writhes in anguish; for the LORD's purposes against Babylon stand, to make the land of Babylonia a desolation without inhabitant. ³⁰The mighty men^o of Babylon have ceased to fight, they remain in fortresses; their power has failed, they have become like women; her dwelling places are on fire; her bars are broken. ³¹One post^p runs to meet another, and one^q messenger to meet the next, to tell the king of Babylon that his city is engulfed on every side, ³²that the fords^r have been seized; the bulwarks are burned with fire, and the men of war are panicky.

w) See Isa. 49:2. x) Suits of armor. y) Cyrus [Isa. 13:17; Ezra 1:1].

z) Ch. 50:28. a) Blockade it closely.

b) Men to watch the city closely by blockading it; thus "guarders," "blockaders."

c) The web of your destiny is finished [Isa. 38:12]. d) The assailants.

e) In the pupa stage of their development. f) In thunder.

g) Something that shatters or dashes in pieces [see Nahum 2:1].

h) Both words are of Assyrian origin, often used in the Assyrian inscriptions of governors of cities or provinces. i) As barren and exhausted as an extinct volcano.

j) "Urartu" of the Assyrian inscriptions, northwest of Lake Van, corresponding generally to modern Armenia. k) "Manna" of the Assyrian inscriptions, southeast of Lake Van.

l) Perhaps the "Ashguza" of the inscriptions, south of Lake Urumiyeh.

m) Some high military official [see Nahum 3:17].

n) Locust in the second or pupa stage; its wings are enveloped in hornlike sheaths and project roughly on the back. o) The warriors. p) See Esther 3:13, 15; Job 9:25.

q) "Teller" — news-bearer. r) Across the Euphrates.

³⁸For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing floor at the time when it is trodden;^a yet a little while and the time of her harvest will come.^t ³⁴"Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon has devoured me,"^u he has crushed me; he has made me an empty vessel;^v he has swallowed me up like a monster;^w he has filled his stomach with my delicacies; then he threw me out. ³⁵"The violence done to me and to my flesh^x be upon Babylon," let the inhabitress of Zion say, "My blood be upon the inhabitants of Chaldea," let Jerusalem say.

³⁶Therefore thus says the LORD: Take note! I will defend your cause and require recompense; I will dry up her sea and make her fountain dry;^y ³⁷Babylon shall become heaps, a kennel for wild dogs, a horror, and a hissing, without inhabitant.

³⁸They shall jointly roar like young lions.^z They shall growl as lions' whelps. ³⁹When they are infuriated, I will prepare them a feast and make them drunk, that they may exult^a and sleep a perpetual sleep and not wake up, says the LORD. ⁴⁰I will bring them down like lambs to be slaughtered, like rams and he-goats.^b ⁴¹How Sheshach^c is taken! And the praise of the whole earth seized! How Babylon has become a desolation among the nations! ⁴²The sea^d is come upon Babylon; she is covered with her multitudinous waves. ⁴³Her cities are become a desolation, dry land and a steppe, a land in which nobody dwells, neither shall any person pass through it. ⁴⁴I will punish Bel^e in Babylon, and I will take out of his mouth what he has swallowed up.^f The nations shall no longer stream toward him. Yes, the wall of Babylon has fallen!

⁴⁶Move out from her midst, O My people! Let everyone save his life from the LORD's fierce indignation! ⁴⁶Be careful, lest your heart faint, and be not afraid concerning the rumor that is heard in the land. A rumor one year, another rumor the next year. There is violence in the land, ruler is against ruler.

⁴⁷Therefore, see! The days are coming when I will punish the graven images of Babylon; her whole land shall be put to shame, and all her slain shall fall in her midst. ⁴⁸Then heaven and earth, and all that is in them, shall herald their joy over Babylon; for from the North spoilers shall come against her, says the LORD. ⁴⁹Babylon must fall for the slain of Israel, as for Babylon have fallen the slain of all the earth.^g ⁵⁰You who have escaped the sword, go, and do not stand still.^h Remember the LORD from afar, and let Jerusalem come into your mind. ⁵¹Weⁱ are put to shame because we have heard reproach; dishonor has covered our faces, for strangers are come into the holy places of the LORD's house.

⁵²Therefore, take notice! The days are coming, says the LORD, when I will execute judgment upon her graven images, and through all her land the wounded shall groan. ⁵³Though Babylon should mount up to heaven, and though she should fortify the height of her strength,^j yet from Me would spoilers come upon her, says the LORD. ⁵⁴Listen! A cry from Babylon!^k The noise of a great crash from the land of the Chaldeans! ⁵⁵For the LORD is devastating Babylon and silencing her loud report.^l Their waves^m roar like

s) Trodden down hard in readiness for the threshing.

t) Soon Babylon will be as the grain on the floor itself.

u) Israel is dramatically introduced as the speaker. v) Spoiled and stripped of everything.

w) "Tannia," denoting a large sea or river monster [as the crocodile of Ps. 74:13; Ezek. 29:3].

x) My torn and injured flesh.

y) Probably alluding to the great lake constructed by Nebuchadrezzar for the defense of Babylon.

z) So elated over their spoils.

a) That they may be elated, at least for the time, by the intoxication of the feast. b) Isa. 34:6.

c) Babel [Babylon]. d) The overwhelming numbers of invaders [ch. 46:7; Isa. 17:12].

e) Ch. 50:2. f) The plunder of subjugated nations.

g) Babylon must fall because of the havoc wrought by her among the peoples of the earth, particularly because of the slain Israelites.

h) Flee from the doom impending upon Babylon and hasten your return to Jerusalem [ch. 50:5].

i) The Israelites reply. j) Her lofty walls. k) Varied from ch. 48:3.

l) The hum of the great city. m) The surging masses of the foe.

many waters; the din of their voice is heightened,⁶⁶ for devastation has come upon her, even upon Babylon; her warriors are taken; their bows are broken in pieces; for the LORD is a God of recompense, He will surely repay.⁶⁷ I will intoxicate her princes, her wise men, her governors, her vice-roys and her warriors; they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not awaken, says the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts.

⁶⁸Thus says the LORD of hosts: Babylon's broad wall shall be leveled to the ground, and her lofty gates shall be burned with fire. The people labor for emptiness, and the nations exhaust themselves only for fire.^a

⁶⁹The instruction which Jeremiah the prophet gave Seraiah the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah to Babylon, in the fourth year of his reign. Now Seraiah was quartermaster.^o

⁶⁹Jeremiah wrote in a book all the punishment that should come upon Babylon, all these words that are written concerning Babylon. ⁶¹And Jeremiah said to Seraiah, "When you come to Babylon, then see that you read all these words, ⁶²and say, 'O LORD, Thou hast spoken concerning this place, that Thou wilt cut it off, so that nothing shall dwell in it, neither man nor beast, and it shall be desolate forever!'" ⁶³When you complete reading this book, tie a stone to it, and cast it into the middle of the Euphrates, ⁶⁴and say, 'Thus shall Babylon sink, to rise no more, because of the punishment that I am bringing upon her.'" Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.^p

52 ZEDEKIAH WAS TWENTY-ONE years of age when he began to reign; and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah. ²He committed evil before the LORD, matching all that Jehoiakim had done. ³Surely because of the anger of the LORD, things came to such a pitch in Jerusalem and Judah that He cast them out from before His face.^q

Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon. ⁴In the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, on the tenth day of the month, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came with his whole army against Jerusalem, laid siege to it and built siege mounds against it. ⁵So the city was besieged until the eleventh year of King Zedekiah. ⁶In the fourth month, on the ninth day of the month, the famine was so severe in the city that there was no bread for the people of the land. ⁷Then a breach was made in the city, and all the men of war took flight. They left the city by night by way of the gate between the two walls by the king's garden, while the Chaldeans had surrounded the city. They took the road toward the Arabah.^r ⁸But the Chaldean army pursued the king and overtook Zedekiah on the plains of Jericho, and his whole army was scattered from him. ⁹They captured the king and brought him up to the king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath, and he passed sentence upon him. ¹⁰The king of Babylon slew Zedekiah's sons before his eyes; he also slew the princes of Judah at Riblah. ¹¹He then gouged out the eyes of Zedekiah, and the king of Babylon bound him in fetters, carried him to Babylon, and put him in prison until the day of his death.

¹²Now in the fifth month, on the tenth day of the month, which was the nineteenth year of King Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, who served the king of Babylon, entered Jerusalem. ¹³He burned the LORD's house, the king's house, and all the houses of Jerusalem; every prominent house he burned with fire. ¹⁴The whole army of the Chaldeans, who were with the captain of the guard, tore down all the walls around Jerusalem.

¹⁵The residue of the people who

n) See a citation like Hab. 2:13, fire and nothingness.

o) The captain of the "resting place" [see Num. 10:33], who selected the place where the king, when on a journey, would halt for the night.

p) The compiler's note, intended to mark off Jeremiah's own prophecies from the appendix (ch. 52), excerpted from II Kings.

q) From II Kings 24:18-25; vs. 28-30 from an independent source. This appendix is placed here to show that Jeremiah's main prediction was fulfilled. r) The Jordan valley.

were left in the city, and the deserters who had deserted to the king of Babylon, together with the rest of the skilled workmen, were carried into exile by Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard.

¹⁶But Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard, left some of the poorest of the people to be vinedressers and farmers.

¹⁷The bronze columns that belonged to the LORD's house, the pedestals and the bronze sea^a that were part of the LORD's temple, the Chaldeans broke into pieces; and they carried everything of bronze to Babylon. ¹⁸The pots,^t too, and the shovels,^u the snuffers,^v and the basins,^v the spoons, and all the vessels of bronze used in the service of the temple, they took away; ¹⁹also the cups,^w the snuff dishes,^x the basins, the pots, the lampstands,^y the spoons and the libation bowls.^z Whatever was of gold and whatever was of silver, the captain of the guard took away. ²⁰The two columns, the one sea, the twelve bronze bulls which were under the sea, and the pedestals which King Solomon had made for the LORD's house, the bronze of all these vessels was beyond weighing. ²¹As for the columns, the height of the one column was twenty-seven feet; its circumference was eighteen feet; its thickness was four inches, and it was hollow. ²²A capital of bronze was upon it; the height of one capital was seven and one-half feet; a network and pomegranates, all of bronze, were upon the capital round about. Similarly, the second column had the pomegranates. ²³Ninety-six pomegranates were visible; the entire number of all the pomegranates was a hundred upon the surrounding network.^a second priest, and the three keepers of the threshold. ²⁵He also took out of the city a eunuch who supervised the men of war, and seven men who were found in the city and who personally supervised the king's council;^b also the secretary of the commander of the army, who drafted the people of the land;^c and sixty men, natives of the land, who were found in the midst of the city. ²⁶Nebuzaradan the captain of the guards seized them and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblah, ²⁷and the king of Babylon smote them; he put them to death in Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Judah was carried into exile out of its own land.

²⁴The captain of the guard seized Seraiah the chief priest, Zephaniah the

²⁸This is the number of the people whom Nebuchadnezzar carried into exile: In the seventh year, 3,023 Jews; ²⁹in the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar, he carried away captive out of Jerusalem 832 persons; ³⁰in the twenty-third year of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried into exile of the Jews 745 persons; all the persons were 4600.

³¹This occurred in the thirty-seventh year of the exile of Jehoiachin king of Judah. In the twelfth month, on the twenty-fifth day of the month, Evil-merodach^d king of Babylon, in the year that he became king,^e raised the head^f of Jehoiachin king of Judah and brought him out of prison; ³²he spoke kindly to him and set his throne above the thrones of the kings that were with him in Babylon. ³³So Jehoiachin changed his prison garments and ate bread in his company^g regularly all the days of his life. ³⁴And for his support there was a perpetual allowance given him of the king of Babylon, every day a portion^h until the day of his death as long as he lived.

s) See I Kings 7:15, 21, 23 ff., 27 ff.

t) Of bronze and for the altar of burnt offering [see Ex. 27:3; I Kings 7:45].

u) For the lamps [I Kings 7:49; 50].

v) Literally, "tossing vessels," for tossing the sacrificial blood against the sides of the altar [Lev. 1:5]. w) Of gold [I Kings 7:50]. x) For the lamps [Ex. 25:31; Num. 4:9].

y) See I Kings 7:49. z) For the table of showbread [see Ex. 25:23-30].

a) For vs. 21-23 [see I Kings 7:15-18]. b) Privileged courtiers or advisers [Esther 1:14].

c) Apparently an officer who registered those who had to serve in the army.

d) "Man of Marduk" - succeeded Nebuchadnezzar and reigned for two years [561-559 B.C.].

e) So II Kings 25:27. f) Gen. 40:13, 20; Ps. 3:3. g) Cf. II Sam. 9:7, 10.

h) See the same idiom in Ex. 16:4; Dan. 1:5.

THE BOOK OF

LAMENTATIONS^a

1 HOW SITS SHE ALL ALONE,^b
the city once great with people!
She has become like a widow;^c
she, great among the nations,
a princess in the provinces,
has now become a vassal.^d ²She weeps bitterly at night,
the tears flow always on her cheeks;
no one of all her lovers
now seeks to bring her comfort.
All her friends have dealt treacherously with her;
they have become her enemies.
³From affliction and servitude
Judah has now gone into exile;
she dwells among the nations
and nowhere finds her rest.
All those who pursued her overtook her in the narrow places.^e ⁴The highways to Zion are in mourning,
no pilgrims come to her solemn assemblies;^f
all her gates are deserted.^g
Her priests are in deep anguish.
Her virgins are afflicted,^h

she is herself in bitter distress.
⁵Those smiting her have come to lord
it over her;
all her foes are prospering.
For the LORD has afflicted her because of the greatness of her transgressions.
Her young children have gone as captives
before the face of her foe.
⁶From the daughter of Zion has gone
all her splendor;ⁱ
her princes have become like stags
that can find no pasture;
they have gone without strength
before the one pursuing them.
⁷In the days of her affliction and wandering Jerusalem remembers all the treasures which were hers in the days of old.
When her people fell into the hands of the enemy
and no one aided her,
her enemies saw her and mocked at her destruction.

a) The Book of Lamentations is composed of five poems in the meter of the Hebrew Dirge (or Lament). Each poem except the 3rd, has 22 verses, the initial letter of each verse of the 1st, 2nd, and 4th poems being, progressively, those of the 22-letter Hebrew alphabet. The 3rd poem has 66 verses, each letter of the alphabet being used as the initial letter in three consecutive verses. Poem 5 is related to the Hebrew alphabet only in the number of its verses.

b) Lamentations bewails the capture, destruction, and devastation of Jerusalem by the armies of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon in 587. King Zedekiah, his sons, the chief priest, his close associates, and the leading men of the city were captured, his sons killed, the city and temple burned, everything of value taken, the wall of the city broken down, thousands of captives taken, and only a poor and desolate population left in city and land. For a brief report see Jer. 52.

c) "Alone," as in Isaiah 47:8,9; "in reproach," as in Isaiah 54:4; "forsaken," as in Isaiah 54:6.

d) Owed her conquerors "tribute, customs, and toll," as in Ezra 4:20.

e) From which she could not escape. Some think there is reference to her "spiritual straits," as in Psalm 118:5; the Hebrew word is closely akin to the word for "Egypt," and some understand it to refer to Egypt [cf. Jer. 44].

f) To some of these feasts pilgrims were expected from all over the world.

g) The gates were a common meeting place. h) No young men as prospective husbands.

i) Zion is "the perfection of beauty" [Psalm 50:2].

⁸Jerusalem sinned her grievous sin and therefore came to be as one unclean.
All who honored her now despise her,
for they have seen her nakedness;^k
she groans and turns her back to them.
⁹Her uncleanness was in her skirts;^l
she did not keep in mind the consequences;
hence she fell grievously,
and there was for her no comforter.
Behold, O LORD, my affliction,
for the enemy has become arrogant.
¹⁰The adversary has spread out his hand
on all her precious things;^m for she has seen heathen nations
invade her sanctuary, concerning whom Thou didst declare they should never enter the congregation belonging to Thee.ⁿ ¹¹All her people are in groaning
as they search for bread.
They have given their valuables for food
that they may keep alive.
Look, O LORD, observe it well,
for I have become abject, despised.
¹²Is it nothing to you, all you who pass
by?
Look and see if there is any sorrow
like my sorrow,
which is being dealt out to me,
which the LORD inflicted in the day of His fiery anger.
¹³From on high He sent fire into my bones,^o
and it has subdued them;
He has spread a net for my feet,
He has turned me backward;
He has given me over to frustration and faintness all day long.
¹⁴Bound together as a yoke are my transgressions;
by His hand they are woven tight;
they are bound upon my neck.^p

He has made my strength to fail.
The LORD has delivered me into hands which I am unable to withstand.
¹⁵The LORD has tossed aside
all the mighty men in my midst;
He has called against me a solemn
assembly
to crush my young men.
The LORD has trodden as in a wine press
the virgin, the daughter of Judah.^q ¹⁶On account of these things I weep, from my eyes flow copious tears;^r
for far from me is any comforter, who should revive my soul.
My children have become desolate,
for the enemy has prevailed.
¹⁷Zion stretches forth her hands,
but for her there is no comforter;
The LORD has ordered concerning
Jacob,
that those around him be his adversaries;
Jerusalem has become among them
as one who is unclean.
¹⁸Righteous in His doing is the LORD,
for I have rebelled against His voice.
Hear me now, all you peoples,
and behold my suffering.
My virgins and my choice young men have gone into captivity.
¹⁹I called for those who had loved me,
but they played me false.
My priests and my elders perished in
the city
even as they sought for food that they might keep themselves
alive.
²⁰Look on, O LORD, for I am in
distress,
my spirit is sorely troubled.
My heart is upset inside me,
for I have most grievously rebelled.
Abroad the sword has brought bereavement;
in our homes is the silence of death.

k) Used many times in Old and New Testaments as a symbol of complete destitution.

l) The abiding evidence of her habitual uncleanness—idolatry, low degenerate conduct [Jer. 13:20-27]. m) Furniture and utensils for the sacrificial offerings in the temple [Jer. 52:17-20].

n) Because they are morally and ceremonially unclean, and no unclean person or thing may enter the sanctuary [Deut. 23:1-14].

o) The frame of her existence as a city. Jer. 52:13 says the enemy burned the temple, the royal palace, and "every great house," in the city.

p) Jer. 27:2, 28:10, 11, and 12-14 give vivid descriptions of the yoke on the neck as a symbol of subjugation and slavery.

q) Isaiah 62:5 tells of God's rejoicing over Jerusalem as a young man rejoices over marriage to a virgin. Hosea 2:19, 20 speaks of Israel as a virgin whom the LORD will betroth to Him "in righteousness, justice, lovingkindness, tender mercies, and faithfulness."

r) Jer. 14:17 says of Jerusalem, "Let my eyes run down with tears night and day."

²¹They have heard how I moan,
with no one to comfort me.
All my enemies have heard of my
trials,
they exult that Thou hast done it;
Thou hast brought the day which Thou hadst declared;
may they fare like me.
²²Let all their evil come before Thee;
and deal Thou with them
as Thou hast dealt with me
for all my transgressions.
For many are my groanings,
and my heart is forlorn.

2 HOW THE LORD IN HIS ANGER HAS covered

the daughter of Zion with a cloud!
The beauty of Israel He has cast down from heaven to earth.

His footstool^a He did not remember in the day of His anger.

²The LORD has swallowed up, and that without pity,
all the precious things of Jacob.

He has, in His wrath, destroyed the strongholds

of the daughter of Judah;
He has cast to the ground and made common

the kingdom and her princes.

³In His fiery anger He has cut off
every horn^t of Israel;

He has withdrawn His right hand
in the face of the enemy;

Yes, He has kindled a flaming fire in the midst of Jacob,
and it has consumed all things around.

⁴He has bent His bow as an enemy;
He has taken His stand,

His right hand firmly fixed as an adversary.

He has destroyed all things desirable
to the eyes.

In the tent of the daughter of Zion
He has poured out His fury like fire.

⁵The LORD has become like an enemy;
He has swallowed up Israel;

He has swallowed up all her palaces;
He has destroyed all her fortresses,

and in the daughter of Judah

He has multiplied moaning and mourning.

⁶He has demolished His tabernacle as if but a vineyard,

He has destroyed His place of
assembly.

The LORD has caused feast and Sabbath

to be forgotten in Zion.

In His indignation and anger

He has rejected the king and the priest.

⁷The LORD has cast off His altar;

He has repudiated His holy place.

The walls of her palaces

He has given into the hand of her enemy.

A shouting as on an appointed feast day

they have raised in the house of the
LORD.

⁸The LORD has determined to make desolate

the wall of the daughter of Zion.

He has stretched out His measuring line;

He has not withdrawn His hand
from destruction.

He has caused both wall and rampart
to languish;

together they tottered.

⁹Her gates are sunk deep in the
ground;

He has broken and destroyed her bars.^u

Her king and her princes are among the nations.

There is no longer teaching of the law,^v

and her prophets receive no vision
from the LORD.

¹⁰The elders of the daughter of Zion sit on the ground and are silent;^w

they have thrown dust upon their heads;^x

they have girded themselves with sackcloth.^y

The virgins of Jerusalem

hang their heads to the ground.

¹¹My eyes are exhausted with weeping;
my emotions are deeply disturbed;

my grief is poured out on the earth

s) The temple, 1 Chron. 28:2.

t) Cf. ch. 2:17. In 1 Sam. 2:10 and Amos 6:13 a symbol of strength and daring.

u) Symbols of security [Jer. 49:31; Psalm 147:13].

v) No religious instruction can be given [cf. Ezek. 7:26].

w) Dumb with grief [Job 2:13; Ezek. 3:15].

x) A sign of lamentation [Josh. 7:6; Job 2:12].

y) Wailing bitterly [Jer. 6:26; 49:3].

LAMENTATIONS 2, 3

for the downfall of the daughter of
my people,
for the swooning of babies and nurslings
in the open places of the city.
¹²To their mothers they keep crying,
"Where is there bread and wine?"^z
They collapse, as do the wounded in the streets of the city;
and their lives ebb away
on the bosom of their mothers.
¹³What shall I say in bearing my witness to you?
To what shall I liken you, O daughter of Jerusalem?
What shall I compare with you, that I may comfort you,
O virgin daughter of Zion?
For vast as the sea is your ruin;
who can bring you healing?
¹⁴Your prophets have seen for you only vanities and empty visions;
they have not shown you your iniquity,
to hold you back from captivity.
They have seen and declared to you visions of vanity and falsehood.^a ¹⁵All those passing along the way clap their hands at you;^b
they hiss and wag their heads
at the daughter of Jerusalem.^c
This is the city of which man said,
"The perfection of beauty, a joy to all the earth."
¹⁶All your enemies have opened wide their mouths against you;
they hoot and gnash their teeth;^d
they say, "We have swallowed her up!
This is certainly the day for which we have looked;
we have found it; we have seen it
come."
¹⁷The LORD has done what He had forewarned;
He has accomplished His word which He declared in days of old.
He has thrown down; He has not spared;
He has caused your enemy to rejoice
over you;

Both Affliction and Comfort from God

He has exalted the horn of your
enemies.
¹⁸Their heart cried out to the LORD.
O wall of the daughter of Zion, let tears run like a brook day and
night;
Give yourself no respite, the daughter of your eye no rest.^e ¹⁹Arise you, cry out in the night, at the beginning of the night watches.
Pour out your heart as waters before the face of the LORD!
Lift up your hands to Him for the life of your children that faint with hunger at the corner of every street.
²⁰Look, LORD, and carefully consider to whom Thou hast done thus!
Shall women eat the fruit of their womb,
the children whom they have bounced upon their knees?
Shall priest and prophet be slain
in the sanctuary of the LORD?
²¹In the dust of the streets lie boy and greybeard;
my virgins and my youth are felled
by the sword;
Thou hast slain them in the day of Thy anger;
Thou hast slaughtered, Thou hast not
spared.
²²Thou hast called, as in a day of solemn assembly,
my terrors from every side.
In the day of the anger of the LORD
not one escaped or survived;
Those I have fondled and brought up,
my enemy has destroyed.

3 I AM THE MAN WHO HAS SEEN affliction^f
by the rod of His wrath.^g ²He has led me and brought me in darkness
without a glimmer of light.
³Surely He has turned away from me;
He has turned His hand against me all the day.

^z) Staple articles of food.

^a) The false prophets here in mind are described briefly in Jer. 14:14-16 and fully in 23:9-40.

^b) In derision [Job 27:23]. ^c) Poetic reference to the people of the city.

^d) In derisive mockery; see Psalm 35:15, 16.

^e) This expression is found only here. Some think it means tears from the eyes; others think it refers to the pupil of the eye that makes vision possible. ^f) For literary form, see ch. 1, note 1.

^g) In Isaiah 10:3 Assyria is "the rod of My anger"; here it is Babylon.

4He has made my skin and my flesh
turn old;
He has crushed my bones.
6He has piled up against me, and surrounded me
with bitterness and distress.
6He has caused me to dwell in dark places,
as the dead of former times.^b 7He has built a wall around me, I cannot go forth;
He has weighted me down with chains.
8Even when I cry aloud and call for help,
He shuts out my prayer.
9He has walled in my ways with hewn stones,ⁱ
He has made crooked all my paths.
10He is to me as a bear lying in wait,
as a lion in hidden places.
11He has turned aside my ways and has torn me in pieces;^j
He has made me desolate.
12He has bent His bow, and placed me as a mark for His arrow.
13He has caused His arrows^k to enter my inmost parts.
14I have become a derision to all my people,
their laughingstock all the day long.
15He has filled me with bitterness;
He has saturated me with wormwood.^l
16He has broken my teeth with gravel;^m
He has caused me to cringe in ashes.
17Thou hast removed my soul far from
peace;
I have forgotten what enjoyment is.
18I said, "Vanished is my strength and my expectation from the LORD." 19Remember my affliction and my anguish,
the wormwood and the gall.
20My soul holds them in remembrance and is bowed down within me.

21Of this I remind myself,
therefore I still have hope:
22Because of the LORD's mercies we are not consumed;
His compassions never fail.
23They are new every morning;
great is Thy faithfulness.
24The LORD is my portion, says my
soul,
therefore do I hope in Him.
25The LORD is good to those who wait for Him,
to the soul that seeks Him.
26It is good if one hopes and quietly waits
for the salvation of the LORD.
27It is good for a man to bear
a yoke in his youth.
28Let him sit alone and remain silent,
for He has laid it upon him.
29Let him press his mouth in the dust;ⁿ
there may yet be hope.
30Let him offer his cheek to the one smiting him;^o
let him be sated with reproach.
31For the LORD will not cast off for ever.
32For, although He may bring grief,
yet He will show compassion according to the greatness of His loving-kindness.
33For He does not afflict willingly from His heart
and grieve the children of men, 34to crush under his feet
all the prisoners of the earth, 35to turn aside the rights of a man before the face of the Most High, 36to refuse a man justice in court,^p
the LORD does not approve.
37Who speaks and it comes to pass
if the LORD has not ordained it?^q 38Do not calamity and welfare proceed from the mouth of the Most High?
39Why should a living man complain?
Each (may lament) because of his sin.

b) This idea is clearly expressed in Psalm 143:3.

i) 1 Kings 7:9-12 gives a vivid description of the careful completeness here implied.

j) As a lion or a bear would do.

k) The Hebrew phrase is "sons of his bow"; it is found only here. Cf. the expression "daughter of the eye" in ch. 2:18 with note.

l) Jer. 23:15 states this idea more vividly and completely.

m) Proverbs 20:17 is the only other passage with this word and idea: a vivid description of what is unwelcome and injurious.

n) In abject recognition of his unworthiness. Cf. Psalm 72:9; Micah 7:17 for fuller statement.

o) Job 16:9-11 gives a more complete description of the same act.

p) Favoritism and injustice in the courts was common in that day. q) The answer is, no one.

⁴⁰Let us search and test our ways,
 then let us return to the LORD.
⁴¹Let us lift our hearts with our hands to God in the heavens.
⁴²We have transgressed and rebelled,
 and Thou hast not forgiven.
⁴³Thou hast clothed Thyself with anger and pursued us;
 Thou hast slain and hast not pitied.
⁴⁴Thou hast screened Thyself with a cloud
 through which our worship cannot pass.
⁴⁵Thou hast made us offscouring and refuse
 in the midst of all the peoples.
⁴⁶All our enemies
 have opened their mouths against us.
⁴⁷Dread and destruction have come upon us,
 devastation and ruin.
⁴⁸Streams of tears flow down from my eyes
 because of the downfall of the daughter of my people.
⁴⁹My eye keeps flowing unceasingly;
 there is no intermission ⁵⁰until the LORD looks down from heaven
 and takes account of me.
⁵¹My eyes are paining my soul because of all the daughters of my city.
⁵²Those who were my enemies without cause
 have chased me as a bird.
⁵³They have cast me alive into a pit and have cast stones upon me.
⁵⁴Waters have closed over my head;
 I said in my heart, "I am gone."
⁵⁵Out of the depths of the pit
 I have called on Thy name, O my
 LORD, ⁵⁶Thou hast heard my cry;
 close not Thy ear to my sighs and my cries.
⁵⁷Thou didst draw near in the day that I called Thee;
 Thou saidst to me, Fear thou not.
⁵⁸Thou, O LORD, hast pleaded in the pleadings of my soul;
 Thou hast redeemed to me my life.

⁵⁹Thou, O LORD, hast seen the wrongs done to me;
 vindicate Thou me in righteous
 judgment.
⁶⁰Thou hast seen all their vengeance,
 all their devices against me.
⁶¹Thou hast heard all their tauntings,
 O LORD,
 all their reproaches against me, ⁶²the voices of those rising against me,
 and their mutterings against me all the day long.
⁶³Look well to their sitting down and their rising up;
 I am the theme of their taunt-song.
⁶⁴O LORD, Thou wilt recompense them according to the works of their hands;
⁶⁵Thou wilt give them dullness of
 heart;
 Thy curse will be upon them.
⁶⁶Thou wilt pursue them in fierce
 indignation,
 and destroy them from under the LORD's heavens.

4 HOW THE GOLD HAS BECOME DIM; how the fine gold has lost its luster!

The holy stones* lie scattered about at the corners of the streets.
²The precious sons of Zion,
 in value like to fine gold,
 how they have been reckoned as earthenware,
 the work of the hands of the potter!
³Even jackals present their breasts and suckle their young;
 the daughter of my people has become as cruel
 as ostriches in the wilderness.
⁴The tongue of the nursing babe cleaves to his palate in thirst;
 the young children ask for bread,
 with no one to break it to them.
⁵Those used to eating dainties are famishing in the streets.
 Those once clothed in scarlet lie nestling in the dunghills.
⁶For the sin of the daughter of my people
 is greater than the sin of Sodom,

r) Both their times of leisure and of work; i.e., unceasingly.

s) Ch. 4 is closely related to ch. 2. The symbols "holy stones" [vs. 1] and "fine gold" [vs. 2] have as background the earthly materials of the temple, but they refer to the high and sacred value of the people.

which was overthrown in a moment,
with no man's hand laid upon her.
7 Her princes were brighter than snow,
whiter than milk.

They were ruddy in body as rubies, they were sapphires in beauty of form.

8 Their looks now are blacker than soot;
they are not recognized on the streets.

Their skin, shrivelled upon their bones,^t
has withered, is become dry as a stick.

9 Those slain with the sword are happier than those who must perish from hunger;

for these pine away, pierced through from want of the fruits of the field.

10 The hands of compassionate mothers have boiled their own children.

They became their food at the downfall of the daughter of my people.

11 The LORD has executed His fury,
He has poured out the fierceness of His anger;

He has kindled a fire in Zion, and it has consumed her foundations.

12 The kings of the earth did not believe,
nor did any of those inhabiting the
earth,
that an adversary and an enemy
would enter the gates of Jerusalem.

13 It was because of the sins of the prophets,^u

and the iniquities of her priests, who shed in her midst
the blood of the righteous.

14 They staggered, blind, through the streets;

they were polluted with blood.
Those they should not touch they were defiling with their
garments.

15 "Away! Unclean!"^v men shouted aloud to them;

"Away! Away! Touch not!"

They fled and wandered about; men
said among the nations,

"They shall no longer sojourn with us."

16 The LORD Himself has divided them;
He no longer looks favorably upon
them.

The faces of the priests they have not honored;
to the elders they have not been gracious.

17 Though we continue to live,
our eyes fail us as we look vainly for help.

In our watching we have looked to a nation
that made no attempt to save.^w

18 They have waylaid our every step so that we could not go out on our streets.

Our end is near, our days are numbered.

Yes, our end has come.

19 Those pursuing us were swifter than the eagles of the heavens;
upon the mountains they chased us;
in the wilderness they lay in wait
for us.

20 In their pits they have placed the breath of our life,
the anointed of the LORD,^x

of whom we had said,
"Under his shadow
we shall live among the nations."

21 Well may you rejoice and be glad,
O daughter of Edom,
who dwellest in the land of Uz;^y
for also to you shall a cup be passed.

You shall become drunk and strip
yourself.

22 Your iniquity is now completed, O daughter of Zion;

He will not again carry you captive.

To your iniquity, O daughter of Edom,^z He will now attend;
He will now uncover your sins.

t) Job 30:30 says: "My skin is black upon me, and my bones are burned with heat."

u) Jer. 14:14-16 gives a brief vivid statement about the prophets here in mind. 23:9-40 gives a very full statement concerning them.

v) This is the exact word that a leper must cry out to prevent people from coming into contact with him [Lev. 13:45].

w) Jer. 37:7 speaks of Egypt as one in whom Israel had placed hope as a helper, but she had failed them.

x) A reference to Zedekiah the king and his experiences as given in Jer. 52:7-11.

y) The land of Job: Job 1:1; Jer. 25:20 gives a suggestion as to the number of small kingdoms in the area.

z) Jer. 49:7-13; Ezek. 25:12-14; and Obadiah, vss. 11-13 promise the desolation of Edom because of her attitude toward Judah in the day of the destruction of Jerusalem.

5 REMEMBER, O LORD, WHAT HAS come to us;
 observe us and see our reproach.
2 Our inheritance has been turned over to strangers;
 our homes have been given to aliens.
3 We have become orphans, without fathers;
 our mothers now are as widows.
4 We must pay for the water we drink;
 our wood we secure at high cost.
5 Our pursuers now sit on our necks;^a we toil without rest.
6 To Egypt we have stretched out our
 hand,
 to Assyria also to have enough bread.
7 Our fathers sinned and are no more;
 their iniquities we have to bear.
8 Servants rule over us;
 no one delivers us from their hand.
9 With peril to our lives we secure our bread,
 in the face of the sword in the wilderness.
10 Our skin is as hot as an oven
 because of the fever heat of famine.
11 Women in Zion they have ravished, virgins in the cities of Judah.
12 Princes they hanged by their hands;
 the faces of elders they have not honored.

13 Young men have carried the grinding mill;
 youths have stumbled under loads
 of wood.
14 Elders have ceased to sit in the gates;^b young men no longer are playing their music.
15 The joy of our hearts has ceased;
 our dancing has been turned into
 mourning.
16 The crown has fallen from our head;
 woe to us, for we have sinned.
17 Because of this our heart is faint;
 because of these things our eyes are dim,
18 because on Mount Zion, which is desolate, the foxes roam about.
19 Thou, O LORD, art forever enthroned; Thy throne endures from generation
 to generation.
20 Why dost Thou forget us for ever,
 why dost Thou forsake us so long?
21 Turn us to Thee, O LORD, and we shall be turned,
 Renew our days as of old.
22 Wouldest Thou reject us completely?
 Art Thou excessively angered against us?

a) Joshua 10:24 reports the call of Joshua to those about to kill five captured kings. "Come near, put your feet upon the necks of these kings." In Jer. 30:8 it is said that the LORD will break the yoke of the oppressor "from off your necks."
 b) Deut. 16:18 [Am. Rev. Ver.] gives definite instruction that "judges and officers" shall sit in "all thy gates," and "they shall judge the people with righteous judgment."

EZEKIEL^a

592 B.C.

1 IN THE THIRTIETH YEAR,^b IN THE fourth month, on the fifth day of the month, as I was among the exiles by the river Chebar, the heavens opened, and I saw visions from God.² On the fifth day of the month, in the fifth year of the exile of King Jehoiachin,^c ³the word of the LORD came to Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans by the river Chebar; and the LORD's hand was there upon him.

⁴As I was looking, there came a stormy wind out of the north, accompanied by a great cloud, in what was a mass of fire with a brightness around it, while out of its center something gleamed like shining metal. ⁵Then out of its center emerged what looked like four living beings,^d and this was their appearance: their form was that of a man; ⁶each of them had four faces, and each of them had four wings. ⁷Their legs were straight, the soles of their feet were like the feet of oxen; and they sparkled like the surface of burnished bronze. ⁸Under their wings on their four sides there were human hands. As for their four faces and their wings, ⁹their wings touched one another; and their faces did not turn as they went, but every one went straight forward. ¹⁰As for the form of their faces, each of the four had in front the face of a man; all four had, on the right side, the face of a lion; all four had the face of an ox on the left side; and all four had the face of an eagle at the back. ¹¹Such were their faces. When their wings were stretched out above, one pair of each touched those of the next being; the other pair covered the body.

¹²Each went straight forward, going wherever the spirit impelled them to go, without turning as they went. ¹³In the midst of the living beings there was what looked like burning coals of fire, like torches moving back and forth among the living beings. The fire was bright, and out of the fire shot forth lightning. ¹⁴The living beings darted back and forth like flashes of lightning.

¹⁵As I was still looking at the living beings, I saw a wheel^e on the ground beside each of the four living beings. ¹⁶As for the appearance of the wheels and their construction, their appearance was like the gleam of a Tarshish stone. All four of them were formed alike;

a) Ezekiel, "God strengthens," was the "St. John" of the O.T., who saw many visions. A deep spiritual tone pervades all his messages. He was a priest among those carried captive to Babylon in 597 B.C. Five years later he was called to become a prophet. He preached to his companion exiles in Babylon 22 years [592-570 B.C.]. Twice Jerusalem was decimated: first, when her vassal king, Jehoiachin, and the flower of the nobility were taken by the king of Babylon in 597; again 9 years later, when Nebuchadnezzar, having discovered King Zedekiah's treachery in seeking help from Egypt to rebel, besieged Jerusalem, carrying away the best of the remnant to Babylon in 586 B.C.

b) Ezekiel's age. The Levites entered the service of the sanctuary at 30 [Num. 4:23, 30].

c) This was in 592, six years before the fall of Jerusalem in 586 B.C.

d) In ch. 10:15, 20, he calls them "cherubim."

e) From the Hebrew word ophan, meaning "wheel." From its plural form ophanim, came a sect in Judaism known as "The Ophanim," associated with seraphim and cherubim, as angels; mentioned in the Book of Enoch and in the Talmud, but not in the O.T.

they were so constructed that there seemed to be one wheel inside another wheel. ¹⁷When they went, they went in any of their four directions without turning as they went. ¹⁸The wheels had high and dreadful rims, and all four of the rims were full of eyes all around. ¹⁹When the living beings went, the wheels went with them; and when the living beings rose from the earth, the wheels rose too. ²⁰Wherever the spirit was to go, they went, and the wheels were lifted up alongside of them, for the spirit of the living beings was in the wheels. ²¹When those went, these went; when those stood still, these stood still; and when those arose from the earth, the wheels arose along with them; for the spirit of the living beings was in the wheels.^f

²²Over the heads of the living beings there was the semblance of an expanse, glittering like transparent crystal, spread out above their heads. ²³Under the expanse their wings were stretched out straight, one pair touching those of the next being,^g the other pair covering the body. ²⁴Whenever they went, the sound of their wings was like the sound of many waters, like the thunder of the Almighty, a sound of tumult like the sound of an army camp. When they stood still, they let down their wings, ²⁵and a voice from above their heads was heard. When they stood, they lowered their wings.

²⁶Above the vault over their heads was the likeness of a throne, in appearance like a sapphire stone, and upon the throne a form like that of a man!^h ²⁷Upward from what had the appearance of His loins I saw a luster like that of shining metal, and downward from what had the appearance of His loins, there was something resembling fire with a bright halo all about it ²⁸like

the rainbow in the clouds after a shower. Such was the appearance of the glory of the LORD.ⁱ When I saw it, I fell on my face, and I heard the voice of One speaking.

2 HE SAID TO ME: SON OF MAN,^j stand on your feet^k so I may speak to you. ²The Spirit entered into me as He spoke to me and set me on my feet, and I heard Him speaking to me. ³He said to me: Son of man, I am sending you to the children of Israel, to a nation of rebels, who have rebelled against Me; they and their fathers have sinned against Me to this very day.^l ⁴Their children, to whom I am sending you, are also impudent and stubborn. Say to them, "Thus says the LORD God";^m and they, whether they hear or refuse to hear (for they are a rebellious house) shall know that there has been a prophet among them. ⁵And as for you, son of man, be not afraid of them, nor afraid of their words; though briars and thorns are all around you and you dwell among scorpions, do not fear their words nor be dismayed at their looks, for they are a rebellious house.ⁿ ⁶You shall speak My words to them, whether they will listen or refuse to listen; for they are rebellious. ⁷As for you, son of man, hear what I say to you; be not rebellious like that rebellious house. Open your mouth, and eat what I give you.

⁸When I looked, there was a hand stretched out to me; and see, a written scroll was in it! ⁹He unrolled it before me, and it had writing both inside and out,^o and there were written on it words of lamentation, of sighing, and of woe.

3 HE SAID TO ME: SON OF MAN, EAT^p what you find here; eat this scroll;

f) The spirit of the living creatures is repeatedly emphasized [vss. 12, 20, 21; ch. 10:17].

g) Colossal genii are found on Assyrian monuments, their wings touching horizontally.

h) God as having the form of a man, supernaturally glorified [cf. Phil. 2:7].

i) The prophet saw the outward manifestation of the divine presence in ecstasy, invisible to the natural eye [cf. Exod. 33:18-23].

j) The title "son of man" occurs in this prophecy 87 times; Jesus employed it often of Himself to emphasize His humanity. Beside Ezekiel, only Daniel uses it in the O.T. [Dan. 7:13].

k) To stand up, when spoken to by a superior, implied both courtesy and willingness to learn.

l) Alluding to all twelve tribes [cf. chs. 16 and 23].

m) In Hebrew, Adonai Yahweh, a somewhat unusual combination, emphasizing God's Being.

n) The prophet repeats the expression "a rebellious house," 15 times.

o) Sizes of Hebrew scrolls differed greatly; they were usually of skin written with great care; seldom written on both sides, but this one was of great importance.

p) Symbolic of accepting and digesting God's Word.

then go and speak to the house of Israel. ²So I opened my mouth, and He had me eat the scroll. ³He said to me, Son of man, eat this scroll which I am now giving you; fill your stomach with it and digest it! Then I ate it, and it was in my mouth sweet as honey.

⁴He said to me: Son of man, go now to the house of Israel, and speak to them^a with My words. ⁵For it is not to a people of foreign speech and a difficult language to whom you are sent, but to the house of Israel; ⁶not to a people of foreign tongue and a hard language whose words you cannot understand. If I sent you to such, they would listen to you; ⁷but the house of Israel will not listen to you; for they are not willing to listen to Me, because the whole house of Israel is defiant; they are stubborn. ⁸But I will make your face^r as hard as their faces and your forehead as hard as their foreheads; ⁹like a diamond, harder than flint, I will make your forehead. Do not fear them nor be dismayed at their looks, for they are a rebellious house. ¹⁰Son of man, He said to me, receive in your heart all the words that I shall speak to you, and hear with your ears. ¹¹Go, get to your fellow exiles, and tell them, "Thus says the LORD God," whether they listen or refuse to hear.

¹²Then the Spirit lifted me up, and as the glory of the LORD ascended from His place, I heard behind me the sound of a great rushing,^s ¹³the sound of the wings of the living beings as they touched one another and the sound of the wheels beside them, the sound of a great rushing. ¹⁴The Spirit lifted me up and took me away and I went, bitter and disturbed in my spirit, the hand of the LORD being heavy upon me. ¹⁵And I came to the exiles living at Tel Abib, by the river Chebar. There I remained with them, overwhelmed in spirit for seven days.

¹⁶At the end of seven days, the word of the LORD came to me: ¹⁷Son of man, I have appointed you a watchman to the house of Israel; when you hear a word from My mouth, you shall give them warning in My name. ¹⁸When I say to the wicked, You shall surely die, and you give him no warning, saying nothing to warn the wicked man from his wicked way to save his life, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but I will make you responsible for his blood. ¹⁹If, however, you warn the wicked man and he does not turn from his wickedness and from his wicked way, then he shall die in his iniquity; but as for you, you will have saved your soul. ²⁰Again, if a righteous man turns away from his righteousness and does wrong and I put a stumbling block before him, he shall die; because you have not warned him, he shall die for his sin, and his righteous deeds which he has done shall not be remembered; but I will make you responsible for his blood.^t ²¹However, if you warn the upright man not to sin and he does not sin, then he shall surely live, because he took warning; and as for you, you will have saved your soul.

²²There the hand of the LORD came upon me, and He said to me, Arise, go out to the plain, and there I will speak with you. ²³So I got up and went to the plain; and, behold, there stood the glory of the LORD like the glory which I had seen by the river Chebar, and I fell face forward. ²⁴But the Spirit entered into me and set me upon my feet. He addressed me and said to me: Go inside and shut yourself up in your house.^u ²⁵As for you, son of man, they will bind you with ropes, so that you cannot go among them. ²⁶I will make your tongue cleave to your palate; you will remain dumb; you shall not be a reprover to them; for they are a rebellious house. ²⁷But when I speak with you, I will open your mouth, and you shall say to them, "Thus says the LORD God." Let him hear who will, and let him decline who will; for they are a rebellious house.

4 AND AS FOR YOU, SON OF MAN, GET a clay tablet and, placing it before

q) Not to discover what might please his audience, but what came directly from God.

r) The LORD's own face would be reflected in Ezekiel's; "God strengthens."

s) Made by the departure of the sacred chariot that was designed to bear the LORD's throne from Jerusalem to Babylon. t) The fairness of God's justice is impressed on the prophet's mind.

u) That is, cease preaching in public for the present.

you, trace on it the city of Jerusalem. ²Put siegeworks against it, build a watchtower against it, throw up a rampart against it, pitch army camps against it, and plant battering rams against it on every side. ³Then take an iron plate, place it as an iron wall between you and the city; and turn your face toward it, bringing it under a state of siege, and conduct the siege against it. This is to be a sign for the house of Israel.

⁴Then you lie on your left side^v and lay the iniquity of the house of Israel upon it. As many days as you lie on it, you will carry their iniquity.^w ⁵I am assigning to you a number of days equal to the years of their punishment, 390 days, during all of which you shall have on you the guilt of the house of Israel. ⁶When you have completed these, you shall lie down a second time, on your right side,^x and take on you the punishment of the house of Judah. I assign to you forty days, one day for each year. ⁷With your arm bared, you shall set your face toward the siege of Jerusalem, and you shall prophesy against it. ⁸And, see, I am going to place binding cords upon you, that you may not turn from one side to the other till you have completed the days of your siege.

⁹Besides, take wheat, barley, beans, lentils, millet, and spelt;^y put them all into a single vessel, and make them into bread; for during the 390 days that you are lying upon your side, you shall eat it. ¹⁰The food you shall eat each day shall be weighed, an ample half-pound, to be eaten at a fixed hour each day. ¹¹Water also shall be given you by measure, two pints, to be drunk at a fixed time. ¹²You shall eat it as a barley cake, baking it in the people's sight, on human dung.

¹³The LORD said, Even so shall the children of Israel eat their bread among the nations whither I will drive them. ¹⁴Whereupon I said, "Ah LORD God!

truly, I have never yet defiled myself with uncleanness; from my youth up, till now I have never eaten the flesh of any animal that died of itself nor flesh torn by wild beasts; nor has there ever come any abominable thing into my mouth."¹⁵ Then He told me, See, I will allow you cow's dung instead of man's excrement, and you may prepare your bread upon it.^z ¹⁶He further said to me: Son of man, see! I will break the staff of bread in Jerusalem; with anxiety they shall eat bread rationed by weight, and in dismay they shall drink water rationed by measure, ¹⁷in order that they may lack bread and water and look at one another in dismay, wasting away under their punishment.

5 AND YOU, SON OF MAN, TAKE A sharp sword and use it as a barber's razor; run it over your head and your beard; then get scales for weighing, and divide your hair. ²One third you shall burn in the fire inside the city, when the days of the siege are over; one third you shall take and strike with the sword all around; and one third you shall scatter to the wind, and My unsheathed sword shall pursue it. ³Take, however, a few of your hairs, and tie them in the skirts of your robe; ⁴but of these, too, some shall be taken out and cast into the fire; burn them in the fire, and from it a fire will spread against the whole house of Israel.

⁵Thus says the LORD God: This is Jerusalem, which I have set in the center of the nations with other countries around her. ⁶Yet she has wickedly rebelled against My ordinances more than the nations, and against My statutes^a more than the countries surrounding her; for they have scorned My ordinances and have not followed My statutes. ⁷Therefore, thus says the LORD God: Because you have been more rebellious than the nations around you,

v) The "left" side indicates the north, hence the northern kingdom of Israel or Ephraim. w) Isa. 53:12, "bore the sin of many" is a significant parallel!

x) The "right" indicates the south, i.e. the kingdom of Judah. y) Spelt, a species of wheat. This unusual mixture involved ceremonial uncleanness in the popular mind of that day.

z) As a priest, Ezekiel would be particularly scrupulous about his diet, zealously observing every dietary law. Bedouin Arabs and the poor fellahin of the villages in western Asia still use cow dung and camel dung for fuel.

a) Ordinances were civil and legal; statutes were religious and ceremonial.

by not walking in My statutes or obeying My ordinances, nor having done after the ordinances of the nations that are round about you; ^atherefore, thus says the LORD God: Look! I, even I, am against you, and I will execute judgments in the midst of you in the sight of the nations.^b ^cAnd because of all your abominable doings, I will do among you what I have never done before, and the like of which I will never do again. ^dFathers among you shall eat their sons, and sons shall eat their fathers; I will execute judgments among you, and all who are left of you I will scatter to all the winds.^e ^fWherefore, as I live, says the LORD God,^g because you have defiled My sanctuary with all your detestable and loathsome impurities,^h My eye will not spare you; therefore, I will cut you down without mercy or pity!ⁱ ^jA third part of you shall die of pestilence or perish with famine among you; a third part shall fall by the sword around you; a third part I will scatter to all the winds, and My sword shall pursue them. ^kThus shall My anger be fully poured out, and My fury will be appeased upon them. They shall know that I, the LORD, have spoken in My zeal, when I have accomplished My fury upon them. ^lI will make you a desolation and a reproach among the nations around you in the sight of all those who pass by.^m ⁿYou shall be a byword and an object of scorn, a warning and a horror to the nations around you when I execute My judgments upon you in My indignation and furious chastisements. It is I, the LORD, who have said it.^o ^pWhen I send My fatal arrows of famine and destruction against you and prolong the agonies of famine on you, breaking your staff of bread, ^qsending hunger and wild beasts among you, which will rob you of your children, sending pestilence and bloodshed to decimate you and the sword to destroy you, behold, it is I, the LORD, who have spoken it.

6 THE WORD OF THE LORD CAME TO me: ¹Son of man, set your face^a toward the mountains of Israel;¹ prophesy against them; ²say, You mountains of Israel, hear the word of the LORD God! Thus says the LORD God to the mountains and the hills, the creek-beds and the valleys: Listen! I, even I, will bring a sword on you, and I will abolish your high places. ³Your altars shall be demolished; your incense altars shall be broken, and I will cast down your slain before your idols; ⁴I will pile up the corpses of the Israelites before their idols and scatter your bones around your altars. ⁵Wherever you live, the cities shall be destroyed and the high places made desolate, so that your altars shall be ruined and made desolate, your idols smashed, your sun-images hewn down, and your evil-doings ended. ⁶The slain shall lie among you, and you will recognize that I am the LORD.

⁷Yet I will spare a few who escape the sword among the nations and when you have become scattered throughout the nations. ⁸Those who escape shall remember Me wherever they may be carried, when I have broken their adulterous hearts that turned from Me and their eyes that have run wantonly after idols.¹ Then they will loathe themselves because of the evils they have done through all their abominations. ¹⁰They shall know that I am the LORD,^k and that I have not for naught said that I would bring this punishment upon them.

¹¹Thus says the LORD God: Clap

b) Ezekiel insists that God will perform His judgments on Israel publicly, both as an example to them and to vindicate His Godhead to the world.

c) Ezekiel fixes his hopes on the faithful among the exiles in Babylon, out of whom a new Israel will be created [cf. chs. 33-37]. d) Ezekiel uses, "as I live," as said by God, 13 times.

e) False gods with their rites and images. f) These afflictions were all verified [cf. Lam. 2:15, 16]. g) "It is I, the LORD, who have spoken it," Ezekiel uses 13 times as a conclusion to His warnings.

h) One of Ezekiel's favorite phrases, "set your face against," employed by him 9 times, is here used to express his abhorrence of the idolatrous practices associated with the Canaanites.

i) As the Canaanites had put their shrines on the high places, where they indulged in sexual license as part of their worship, so many Israelites followed suit, either joining the natives or having their own shrines, so that the high places were divinely condemned, including the mountains as the highest places. j) Captivated by the licentious customs of the Canaanite religion.

k) This is one of Ezekiel's most characteristic expressions occurring over 60 times like a refrain, in recognition of His sole Godhead and supreme power.

your hands, stamp your foot,¹ and say, Alas, because of all the evil abominations of the house of Israel; for they shall fall by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence.¹² He who is far off shall die of pestilence; he who is near shall fall by the sword, and he who is left over and preserved shall die of famine. Thus will I spend My fury upon them.¹³ You shall know that I am the LORD when your slain shall lie beside their altars on every high hill and upon every mountain top, under every green tree, under every leafy oak, wherever they offered pleasing odors to all their idols.^m ¹⁴I will stretch forth My hand against themⁿ and will make the land a desolation and a waste from the [south] desert to Riblah,^o through all their dwelling places. So shall they know that I am the LORD.

7 AGAIN THE WORD OF THE LORD came to me: ²Son of man, thus says the LORD God to the land of Israel:^p The end is coming; the end approaches on the four corners of the land. ³Now the end is upon you; I will let loose My anger against you;^q I will judge you according to your ways and repay you for all your abominations. ⁴My eye will not spare you, nor will I pity you; I will repay you for your evil ways while you are practicing them publicly, and you shall know that I am the LORD.

⁵Thus says the LORD God: See, it comes! Woe upon woe! ⁶An end is come; the end has come. It has awakened against you. Behold, it comes! ⁷Your day is near, inhabitant of the land! Your time is come! Your doom is on the way! A day of tumult; no joyful shouting upon the mountains.^r ⁸Soon I will vent My fury on you and spend My indignation upon you, judging you according to your conduct and repaying you for all your abominations. ⁹My eye shall neither spare nor pity you, but I will repay you according to your doings, while your abominations are in your midst, and you shall know that I, the LORD, do the smiting. ¹⁰Here is the day; it has come! Your doom appears! Your scepter has blossomed, and your pride has budded.^a ¹¹Violence has grown into a scepter of wickedness. Nothing of them shall survive, none of their noisy crowd, none of their wealth; for them there shall be no wailing. ¹²The end has come, and the time is close. Let not the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn;^t for indignation comes on the whole noisy crowd. ¹³The seller shall not recover what he has sold, although they both live; for the prophecy regarding the whole multitude shall not turn back; none can sustain his life through unrighteousness, for wrath is upon all alike.

¹⁴The trumpet has sounded, and all is ready. It is a call to resist the enemy, but no one volunteers to fight; for My indignation is upon all their teeming multitudes. ¹⁵Outside is the sword; inside are pestilence and famine; he who is in the open field shall die by the sword, and he who is in the city shall be overtaken by famine and pestilence.^u ¹⁶Should any survivors escape, they will flee to the mountains, like doves of the valley, all of them moaning over their guilt, ¹⁷all hands hanging down with prostration and all knees as weak as water.^v ¹⁸They shall gird themselves with sackcloth; shame and shuddering shall cover their faces, and bald spots shall be on every head. ¹⁹Their silver they shall fling into the streets, and their gold shall become to them an object of disgust. Neither silver nor gold shall be able to deliver them in the day of the LORD's indignation; it will neither satisfy their crav-

1) Signs of neither sorrow nor indignation, but rather gestures of malicious satisfaction on the part of the ungodly.

m) For example, at Mizpah, Gibeon, Ramah, Gibeon, Nob, and Shiloh, beside Jerusalem.

n) Another expression frequently used by Ezekiel.

o) Riblah on the Orontes river, 50 miles south of Hamath.

p) The final fall of Jerusalem took place in 586 B.C. This dirge-like oracle may well have been inspired at almost any time after Jehoiachin was captured in 597.

q) To the Hebrew, guilt carried with it the punishment of guilt.

r) Neither joyous cries of harvest nor pagan shouts of idolatrous worshippers.

s) Apparently addressed to the new rulers in Jerusalem, who try to recoup the city's fortunes.

t) Those who bought and those who sold Jerusalem property when exiles had to leave.

u) Jer. 14:18 voices a like warning.

v) Completely enervated and paralyzed in strength [cf. 21:7].

ings nor fill their stomachs, for it has been their stumbling block to sin.^w ²⁰They made of it beautiful ornaments with which to adorn their idols, and out of it they made detestable and loathsome images; therefore, I will make it for them an unclean thing. ²¹I will hand it over as plunder to strangers, to the most goddess on earth for booty, to defile it. ²²I will turn away My face from them, and they will profane My jewel;^x robbers shall enter it, profane it, ²³and make it a desolation. Prepare a chain, because the land is full of bloody crimes and the city is full of violence. ²⁴I will also bring in the vilest of the Gentiles to take possession of their houses; for I will put an end to the pride of the mighty, and their sanctuaries shall be profaned. ²⁵Anguish shall overtake them; they will seek peace, but there shall be none. ²⁶Woe upon woe and disaster upon disaster shall come. Then they will seek a vision from a prophet; but the priest shall be devoid of instruction, and the aged shall have no counsel. ²⁷The king shall mourn; the prince shall be wrapped in despair, and the hands of the people shall be paralyzed with fear,^y for according to their deserts I will reward them; by their own judgments I will judge them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

591 B.C.

8 IN THE SIXTH YEAR, IN THE SIXTH month, on the fifth day of the month, as I sat in my house with the elders of Judah sitting before me, the hand of the LORD God came down upon me there.^z ²I looked, and there was a form like that of a man;^a from His loins downward His appearance was like fire and from His loins upward His appearance brilliant like that of a gleaming metal. ³He reached out what was formed as a hand and caught me by a lock of my head. Then the Spirit lifted me up between earth and heaven and brought me in visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the north gate of the inner court, where stood the idol of resentment that provokes to resentment. ⁴And there was the glory of the God of Israel, like the vision I had previously seen in the plain.^b ⁶Then He said to me, Son of man, lift up your eyes now to the north. So I looked northward, and there north of the altar gate at the entrance stood the idol He resented. ⁶He said to me, Son of man, do you see what they are doing, the great abominations which the house of Israel are practicing here, driving Me away from My sanctuary? And you shall see still greater abominations than these.

⁷So He brought me to the entrance of the court. And when I looked, there was a hole in the wall. ⁸He said to me, Son of man, dig now into the wall! When I had digged into the wall, look, there was a door. ⁹He said to me, Go in, and see the wicked abominations they are practicing there. ¹⁰So I went in and looked; there, portrayed upon the wall all around, were all kinds of creeping creatures and loathsome beasts and all the idols of the house of Israel.^c ¹¹Facing them stood seventy men of the elders of the house of Israel, with Jaazaniah^d the son of Shaphan standing among them, each with his censer in his hand, from which rose the fragrance of a cloud of incense.^e ¹²Then He said to me: Son of man, do you see what the elders of the house of Israel are doing in the dark, each in his image room? For they say, "The LORD can not see us"; and, "The LORD has forsaken His land!" ¹³He also said to me, You will see them commit still greater offenses.

w) Ezekiel, more than any other O.T. prophet, had the N.T. evaluation of money. In his vision of the new temple that would be built [ch. 48], gold and silver are not mentioned.

x) The temple.

y) Ezekiel lowers the claim of government officials; he never mentions a king as the prospective head of the new Israel. In his closing visions of the new state [chs. 40-48], at the head of the government he predicts a prince.

z) The prophet is transported in vision from Babylon to Jerusalem. The elders are the leading men of the exiled community at Tel Abib.

a) Not the appearance of an angel, but of the LORD Himself, glowing with divine splendor. b) 3:23. c) Showing that Israel's national religion had completely broken down.

d) Evidently a well-known leader of his time, an idolater mentioned only here. The other idolater of the same name [ch.11:1] was a son of Azur.

e) A heathen rite, commonly used by the Babylonians.

¹⁴So He brought me to the entrance of the north gate of the LORD's house, and there women sat weeping for Tammuz.^f ¹⁵He said to me, Do you see them? Son of man, you will see still greater abominations than these.

¹⁶He then brought me into the inner court of the house of the LORD; and there at the entrance to the LORD's temple, between the vestibule and the altar, were about twenty-five men, with their backs toward the temple of the LORD and their faces toward the east; they worshiped the sun toward the east. ¹⁷Then He said to me, Do you see this, Son of man? Is it a small matter for the house of Judah to practice such abominations as they are here committing, filling the land with lawlessness and adding to My vexation? They are thrusting the branch to the nose.^g ¹⁸Therefore I will recompense them in fury. My eye will not spare, nor will I show pity; though they cry in My ears with a loud voice, I will not listen to them.

9 HE THEN SHOUTED LOUDLY IN MY hearing, Come near, you executioners of the city;^h each of you with his weapon of destruction in his hand! ²And look! Six men came from the direction of the upper gate,ⁱ each with his slaughter-weapon in his hand, and among them one man, clothed in linen, with a writer's inkhorn^j at his side. They came in and stood beside the bronze altar.

³The glory of the God of Israel had gone up from the cherubim on which it rested, to the threshold of the house. Then He called to the man clothed in linen, who carried the inkhorn at his side ⁴and said to him, Go through the city, through Jerusalem, and put a mark^k on the foreheads of the men who moan and groan over all the offenses that are practiced in the midst of it. ⁵And to the others I heard Him say, Follow him through the city, and smite without mercy or pity; ⁶slay old men, young men and maidens, children and women alike; but do not touch anyone on whom is the mark. Begin at My sanctuary.^l So they began with the old men who were in front of the temple. ⁷He said to them, Defile the temple and fill its courts with the slain. Go out! So they went out to slay in the city. ⁸As they went ahead slaying and I was left behind, I fell face down and cried out, "Ah, LORD God, wilt Thou destroy all that is left of Israel in the outpouring of Thy indignation upon Jerusalem?" ⁹Then He told me: The guilt of the house of Israel and of Judah is excessive;^m the land is full of bloodshed and the city full of injustice;^m "for," they say, "the LORD has forsaken the land, and the LORD does no longer see it." ¹⁰As for Me, My eye shall not spare or pity; I will bring their doings down upon their own heads.

¹¹Then the man clothed in linen, who carried the inkhorn at his side, brought back his report, "I have done as Thou hast commanded me."

10 THEN I LOOKED,ⁿ AND SAW HOW, in the expanse over the heads of the cherubim, there appeared above them something like a sapphire throne.^o ²He said to the man clothed in linen, Go in among the whirling wheels beneath the cherubim; fill both your hands with blazing coals from between the cherubim, and scatter them over

f) Tammuz, referred to elsewhere in Dan. 11:37, was a deity of the Babylonians and king of the nether world. He was the husband of his sister Ishtar, a goddess, and the god and patron of pastures and flocks. They are represented as dying annually and returning to life with each successive spring. g) Their ill-smelling obscenity.

h) The first act in the execution of the LORD's threat in 8:18. The faithful are marked and spared; the guilty are put to death!

i) Seven angels, including "the man clothed in linen" [cf. Rev. 8:2 ff.].

j) The "inkhorn" was a writing outfit consisting of pens of sharpened cane and ink, in separate cases.

k) The form of the mark was the Hebrew letter Tau which resembles in form a cross, to which some early Christians attached a mystical interpretation. l) So Amos 1:2.

m) Even child murder [16:20, 21].

n) Instead of describing in detail the physical destruction of the city, Ezekiel describes, symbolically, the spiritual. He reminds us of his original vision in ch. 1.

o) The throne was empty, but the attending cherubim seem to be waiting for the LORD to mount and to leave. The cherubim were the winged guardians of the chariot.

the city — and I saw him go there. ³Now as the man went in, the cherubim were standing on the right side of the temple, and a cloud filled the inner court; ⁴for when the glory of the LORD went up from the cherubim to the threshold of the temple, the house was filled with the cloud; the court, too, was filled with the radiance of the glory of the LORD. ⁵And the sound of the wings of the cherubim was heard as far as the outer court, like the voice of God the Almighty^p when He speaks.

⁶Thus it happened, when He had ordered the man clothed in linen, Take fire from among the whirling wheels between the cherubim, that he went in and stood beside a wheel.^q ⁷There a cherub reached out his hand from among the cherubim to the fire that was between the cherubim, took some of it, and put it into the hands of the man clothed in linen, who took it and went out. ⁸The cherubim seemed to have the form of human hands under their wings.

⁹As I looked, I saw that beside the cherubim there were four wheels, one wheel beside each cherub, and the color of the wheels was like a Tarshish beryl stone. ¹⁰All four had the same appearance, as if a wheel were within a wheel. ¹¹When they moved, they went in the direction of any of the four sides without turning as they went; for in whatever direction the front wheel moved, the others followed without turning as they went.

¹²The bodies of them, their backs, their hands, and their wings, together with the wheels, were full of eyes all around, (even) the wheels that they four had.^r ¹³The wheels were in my hearing called whirl-wheels. ¹⁴Each had four faces. The first face was the face of the cherub;^s the second the face of a man; the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

¹⁵The cherubim mounted up; they were the same living beings I had seen by the river Chebar.^t ¹⁶When the cherubim went, the wheels went beside them; and when the cherubim lifted their wings to mount up from the earth, the wheels did not leave their side. ¹⁷When they stood still, these stood still, and when they mounted up, these mounted up with them; for the spirit of the living beings was in them.

¹⁸Then the glory of the LORD moved from the threshold of the temple and stood over the cherubim.^u ¹⁹The cherubim lifted up their wings and mounted up from the earth in my sight, and they went forth with the wheels beside them. They stood still at the entrance of the east gate of the house of the LORD; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them.^v

²⁰These were the living beings that I had seen underneath the God of Israel by the river Chebar, and I recognized them as cherubim. ²¹Each had four faces, and each had four wings, and underneath their wings each had the semblance of human hands. ²²As for the likeness of their faces, they were the same faces I had seen by the river Chebar; they were of the same appearance; they were the same. Each went straight ahead.

11 THE SPIRIT LIFTED ME UP^w AND brought me to the east gate of the LORD's house and, facing east, there at the entrance of the gateway were twenty-five men, among whom were Jaazaniah^x the son of Azzur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, princes of the people. ²He said to me, Son of man, these are the men who devise iniquity and who give evil advice in

p) The name Shaddai, "Almighty," occurs nowhere else in Ezekiel.

q) The Hebrew word for wheel here and in vs. 2 is galgal, meaning a wheel of intricate wheel-work; not an ordinary wheel, as ophan in 1:15.

r) In 1:18, only the fellows (a segment of the rim into which a spoke fits) of the wheels were described as full of eyes. s) Here regarded as the leader.

t) Vs. 15 anticipates vs. 19 and 20, repeated, perhaps, in order to emphasize the identity of the cherubim with the living beings of ch. 1.

u) Ready to depart and be carried from the city by the cherubim.

v) This is Ezekiel's majestic description of the LORD's migration to Babylon, 700 miles away!

w) Factions sprang up in Jerusalem during the prolonged siege, who insisted on various alternatives in policy. x) Not Jaazaniah, the son of Shaphan [8:11]. Pelatiah is not mentioned elsewhere.

this city, ³saying, "Should we not begin to build new houses? This [city] is the pot, and we are the flesh."^y ⁴Therefore prophesy against them, son of man, prophesy!

⁵Then the Spirit of the LORD came down upon me and said to me: Speak! Thus says the LORD: So you think, O house of Israel. I know the thoughts that come up in your hearts. ⁶You have slain many in this city and filled its streets with the slain. ⁷Therefore thus says the LORD God: It is your slain whom you have laid in your midst who are the flesh, and the city is the caldron; but as for you, I will pull you out of the midst of it. ⁸You are afraid of the sword; and upon you, I will bring the sword, says the LORD God. ⁹I will thrust you out of the midst of it and hand you over to the power of strangers to execute judgments upon you. ¹⁰By the sword you shall fall, and to the utmost borders of Israel I will execute judgments. You shall know that I am the LORD. ¹¹This city shall be no caldron for you, and you will not be the flesh inside of it; as far as the borders of Israel I will punish you, ¹²to teach you that I am the LORD, for you have not walked in My statutes nor obeyed My judgments, but you have conformed to the practices of the nations around you.

¹³While I was prophesying, Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died; whereupon I fell face down and cried with a loud voice, "Ah LORD God! wilt Thou make a complete ending of the remnant of Israel?"

¹⁴Then the word of the LORD came to me: ¹⁵Son of man, your relatives, your fellow exiles and the whole house of Israel—all of them—are they of whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem are saying, "They are far removed from the LORD; to us belongs this land."^z

¹⁶Therefore say, Thus says the LORD God: Though I have removed them far away among the nations and though I have scattered them among the countries,^a yet have I been a sanctuary to them for a little season while in the lands to which they have gone. ¹⁷And say, Thus says the LORD: I will gather you from the peoples and assemble you out of the countries where you have been scattered, and I will give back to you the land of Israel. ¹⁸And when they return, they shall remove from it all traces of its detestable and offensive impurities. ¹⁹I will give them one heart^b and put a new spirit in them; I will take away the stony heart out of their flesh and give them a heart of flesh ²⁰so that they may follow My statutes and keep My ordinances and obey them; then they shall be My people, and I will be their God.^c ²¹But as for those whose heart is set upon their loathsome and abominable impurities, I will repay their deeds upon their own heads, says the LORD God.

²²Then the cherubim lifted up their wings with the wheels beside them; and the glory of the God of Israel was over them. ²³And the glory of the LORD rose from the midst of the city and stood upon the mountain east of the city.^d ²⁴And the Spirit lifted me up and, in vision, brought me by the Spirit of God into Chaldea,^e to them of the captivity. Then the vision that I had seen passed from me. ²⁵And I told the exiles all that the LORD had shown me.^f

12 THE WORD OF THE LORD CAME to me: ²Son of man, you live in the midst of a rebellious house, among a people who have eyes to see but see not; they have ears to hear but hear not; ³for they are a rebellious house. Therefore, son of man, prepare your

y) They assumed that the really worthwhile citizens were still left in Jerusalem and that only the refuse had been carried to Babylon; but cf. II Kings 24:15. They failed to see that the siege would end in complete destruction. The city is the pot; we are the flesh!

z) To the local remnant in Jerusalem, to be exiled from the soil meant exile from Jehovah.

a) Though deprived of temple privileges, they had not wholly forfeited His protection.

b) Restoration would involve a return to firm belief in one God [Deut. 4:35-40].

c) In Ezekiel's time the Semites generally believed that a god was bound to his people by natural laws; but the Hebrews had been taught that the bond is spiritual. The heart to them was the seat of the emotions, and the spirit the mainspring of conscious life.

d) The Mount of Olives.

e) Chaldea was originally the name of only the southern portion of Babylonia, but later became the name of the whole.

f) The same Spirit, which had transported him in ecstasy to Jerusalem, carried him back to Babylon and the exiles.

necessary equipment for exile, and let the people see you go into exile in plain daylight.^g Like an exile before their eyes go from your own place to another; it may be that they will understand though they are a rebellious house. ⁴By daylight let them see you carrying your belongings for exile, and then in the evening let them see you loaded down with your baggage like those who go into exile. ⁵Let them see you digging through the city wall,^h going out through it; ⁶and let them observe you carrying your baggageⁱ on your shoulders in the dark; and screen your face, so that you do not see the ground. For I am making you a symbol to the house of Israel.

⁷So I did as I was ordered. I brought out my belongings for exile in the daytime. In the evening I dug a hole through the wall with my hands^j and brought my baggage out in the dark, carrying it on my shoulder in their sight.

⁸Next morning the word of the LORD came to me: ⁹Son of man, has not the house of Israel, that rebellious house, said to you, "What are you doing?" ¹⁰Tell them, Thus says the LORD God: This oracle concerns the prince^k in Jerusalem and all the house of Israel that live there. ¹¹Say to them, I am a symbol for you; as I have done, so shall it be done to them; they shall go into exile, into captivity. ¹²And the prince among them shall carry his belongings on his shoulder and steal away in the dark, having dug a hole in the wall and going out through it; he shall cover his face, for his eyes shall not see the ground again. ¹³I will spread My net about him; he shall be caught in My snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, the land of the Chaldeans, but he shall not see Babylon, and there he shall die. ¹⁴And all his attendants, his retinue, and his guard,

I will scatter to the winds; and them, too, I will pursue with my unsheathed sword. ¹⁵Then shall they know that I am the LORD, when I have dispersed them among the nations and scattered them in different countries. ¹⁶Yet I will leave a few survivors^l to escape the sword, the famine and the pestilence so that they may recount all their abominations among the nations where they go, and may know that I am the LORD.

¹⁷This word, also, from the LORD came to me: ¹⁸Son of man, eat your bread with anxiety, and drink your water with fear and trembling; ¹⁹and say concerning the people of the land,^m Thus says the LORD God concerning the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the land of Israel: They shall eat their bread with quaking, and drink their water with dismay; for their land shall be stripped of all it contains, because of the lawlessness and violence of those who have dwelt in it. ²⁰The cities that are inhabited shall be laid waste, and the land shall be desolate; and you shall know that I am the LORD.

²¹Again the word of the LORD came to me: ²²Son of man, what is this proverb that you have about the land of Israel, "The days go by, and no vision is verified"?ⁿ ²³Therefore say to them, Thus says the LORD God: I will end the repetition of this proverb, and they will repeat it no longer in Israel; for the days are drawing near, and the fulfillment of every vision shall soon come to pass. ²⁴No longer shall there be empty vision and flattering divination within the house of Israel. ²⁵For I the LORD will speak, and the word which I speak will come to pass; it will no longer be deferred; for in your own days, O rebellious house, I will speak the word and perform it, says the LORD God.

²⁶The word of the LORD came to

g) He repeats with emphasis in vss. 3-7 the publicity of the king's escape.

h) Great walls of sun-dried mud were readily punctured by digging.

i) Such as sandals, knapsack, a drinking cup, bread, olives, etc.

j) His own hand did the arduous work, probably with a tool.

k) The "prince" pointed to Zedekiah, Judah's last king. The Babylonians never esteemed the rulers of Jerusalem as worthy of the title "king."

l) To vindicate My honor and My ways and let the world know that the fall of the Jewish state was due to Israel's sin and not the LORD's inability to protect His own.

m) Those left behind in the land of Israel.

n) The people were impatiently complaining that the prophets predict but disaster, and no disaster came. True prophets could not often be optimistic; yet, even their threats were in a sense implicit promises [cf. II Pet. 3:4-9].

me: ²⁷Son of man, see, the house of Israel keeps saying, "The vision he sees relates to the distant future; he is prophesying of times far off." ²⁸Therefore say to them, Thus says the LORD God: None of My words shall any longer be postponed; but when I speak a word, it shall be performed, says the LORD God.

13 THE WORD OF THE LORD CAME to me: ²Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel who prophesy. Say to them that prophesy out of their own heart, Hear the word of the LORD. ³Thus says the LORD God: Woe to the foolish^o prophets who prophesy out of their own mind concerning things they never saw, ⁴O Israel, your prophets are like foxes among ruins; ⁵they have not stood in the breaches or built a wall for the house of Israel, that it might stand in battle in the day of the LORD. ⁶They see deceitful visions and false divinations, saying, "The LORD says," when the LORD has not sent them; yet they expect to see their message fulfilled. ⁷Have you not seen false visions and reported lying divinations, when you said, "The LORD says," when I have not spoken?

⁸Therefore thus says the LORD God: Because you have uttered empty words and have seen false visions, take note, I am against you, says the LORD God. ⁹My hand shall be against prophets who see vain visions and who announce lying divinations; they shall not be in the congregation of My people, nor shall they be enrolled in the record of the house of Israel, nor shall they enter the land of Israel. You shall know that I am the LORD God. ¹⁰Because, yes, because^p they have seduced My people, saying, "Peace!" when there is no peace. When people have built a flimsy wall, these [prophets] daub it over with whitewash.^q ¹¹Say to those who daub it with whitewash that it shall fall. A deluge of rain is coming and great hailstones will fall; a violent gale shall crack it. ¹²And lo, the wall will fall, and you will be asked, "Where is the coating you daubed it with?" ¹³Therefore thus says the LORD God: I will cause a tempestuous wind to break out in My indignation, and there shall come a flooding deluge of rain in My anger and great hailstones to destroy it. ¹⁴I will shatter the wall you daubed with whitewash and bring it down to the ground; its foundation shall be laid bare; it shall fall, and you will be crushed under it. Then you shall know that I am the LORD. ¹⁵Thus will I spend My wrath upon the wall and upon those who daubed it with whitewash. I will say to you: Gone is the wall, and gone are those who daubed it, ¹⁶the false prophets of Israel who prophesied about Jerusalem, seeing visions of peace for her when there is no peace, says the LORD God.

¹⁷And you, son of man, set your face against the daughters of your people, who prophesy from their own minds.^r Prophesy against them ¹⁸and say, Thus says the LORD God: Woe to the women who tie magic charms upon all wrists and wrap veils around the heads of persons great and small to catch souls! Will you hunt down the lives of My people to make a living for yourselves?^s ¹⁹You are profaning My name among My people for handfuls of barley and for crumbs of bread, thus putting to death those who should not die and saving alive persons who should not live, by lying to My people who listen to your lies.^t

²⁰Wherefore thus says the LORD God: See! I am against your magic stripes with which you hunt souls like birds; I will tear them from your arms and set free the souls of those for whom you hunt. ²¹I will tear off your veils and rescue My people out of your hands, that they may no more be

o) Godless prophets were personally deceived, and they deceived others, being possessed of human wisdom only and preaching what the people wanted. p) "Because" is repeated for emphasis.

q) Adding nothing to its solidity. r) Women too were guilty of false prophesying.

s) Witchcraft was "hunting souls"; to gain a living by it for themselves.

t) Soothsayers and magicians were many [Jer. 14:15] and through bogus revelations many were deceived. The barley and the crumbs of bread [vs. 19] were prized as omens to reveal whether an offering was accepted and whether a sick patient was to recover.

hunted as prey; and you shall know that I am the LORD. ²²Because you have disheartened the righteous with your lies, although I have not discouraged them, and you have strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not turn from his wicked way and live; ²³therefore you shall no more see illusions nor practice divination. ²⁴I will rescue My people out of your hands, and you shall know that I am the LORD.

14 THEN CERTAIN OF THE ELDERS of Israel came^u and sat in front of me. ²And the word of the LORD came to me: ³Son of man, these men have set up idols in their hearts and have set temptations to sin before themselves; should I at all be inquired of by such men? ⁴You talk with them and say to them, Thus says the LORD God: Everyone of the house of Israel who harbors idols in his heart and is bent upon the sin which trips him up, when he comes to a prophet, he will get an answer from Me according to the multitude of his idols, ⁵so that I may grip the house of Israel in their own thoughts,^v those who are estranged from Me through their idols.^x

⁶Therefore say to the house of Israel, Thus says the LORD God: Repent and turn from your idols; and turn your face from all your abominations, ⁷for everyone of the house of Israel and any alien resident in Israel who abandons Me, setting up idols in his heart and placing temptations to sin before himself, yet coming to the prophet to consult Me through him, I the LORD will answer him Myself. ⁸I will set My face against that man; I will make him a sign and a byword and cut him off from the midst of My people; and you shall know that I am the LORD. ⁹If that prophet is beguiled to speak a message, it is I, the LORD, who has

beguiled that prophet;^y I will stretch out My hand against him and destroy him from the midst of My people Israel. ¹⁰They shall both be punished alike — the prophet's punishment shall be like the punishment of the inquirer; ¹¹so that the house of Israel may no more go astray from Me nor defile themselves any more with all their transgressions; but that they may be My people and that I may be their God,^z says the LORD God.

¹²The word of the LORD came to me: ¹³Son of man, when a land sins against Me, sinning treacherously, and I stretch out My hand against it, break its staff of bread, send famine upon it, and cut off from it both man and beast, ¹⁴even though these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, they would by their righteousness deliver only their own lives, says the LORD God.

¹⁵Were I to cause wild beasts to overrun the land and they should ravage it and leave it desolate so that no man would pass through it because of the beasts, ¹⁶though these three men^a were in it, as I live, says the LORD God, they would save no one, neither sons nor daughters, but only themselves; the land would be left desolate. ¹⁷Or if I bring the sword upon that land and say, Sword, go through the land and cut off from it man and beast, ¹⁸though these three men were in it, as I live, says the LORD God, they would deliver neither sons nor daughters; they would save but themselves alone. ¹⁹Or if I send a pestilence into that land and pour out My wrath on it with bloodshed, cutting off from it man and beast, ²⁰even though Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, as I live, says the LORD God, they would save neither son nor daughter; they, by their righteousness, would save but themselves.

u) Ezekiel saw evidences of false prophecy among the exiles in Babylon and knew that wicked divination was rife in Jerusalem.

v) The elders, as the leaders of the colony in exile, probably came often to visit the prophet. w) "Take them in their own heart," literally, because of their idolatrous prejudices. Sin carries its own retribution.

x) The prophets saw sin as related to God [cf. Amos 3:6; Isa. 45:7; I Kings 22:20-23]. The Arabs still attribute all that happens, good and bad alike, to God.

y) As He did to mislead King Ahab [I Kings 22:19-23].

z) God's purpose in punishment on earth is always warning, in quest of peace and love.

a) Noah had saved his family, Daniel his companions, and Job his friends. But their righteousness could not have made up for the wickedness of Ezekiel's contemporaries in Jerusalem.

²¹For thus says the LORD God: How much more when I send upon Jerusalem My four deadly judgments, sword, famine, harmful beasts, and pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast! ²²Yet, if there are left in it any survivors, either sons or daughters who succeed in escaping, when they get out to you and you see their ways and doings, you will be convinced by all the wickedness which they have brought upon Jerusalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it. ²³You will be comforted and know that I did, not without just cause, all that I brought about in it, says the LORD God.

15 THE WORD OF THE LORD CAME to me: ²Son of man, in what way does the wood of the vine^b excel that of any other tree of the forest? ³Is wood taken from it used to construct anything? Is even a peg cut from it and used to hang a vessel on? ⁴Even when cast into the fire as fuel, only the two ends are burned and the middle is charred. Is it then useful for [making] anything? ⁵Even when it was whole, nothing was made from it; how much less when the fire has consumed and charred it shall it yet be meet for any work!

⁶Therefore thus says the LORD God: As the wood of the vine among the trees of the forest, which I have given to feed the fire, so will I give up the inhabitants of Jerusalem; ⁷I will set My face against them, and though they may have escaped from the fire, the fire will yet consume them; and they shall know that I am the LORD when I set My face against them. ⁸I will make the land a desolation, because they have acted unfaithfully,^c says the LORD God.

16 ^dTHE WORD OF THE LORD CAME to me: ²Son of man, make known to Jerusalem her abominations.

³Say, Thus speaks the LORD God to Jerusalem: By origin and by birth you belong to the land of Canaan. Your father was an Amorite and your mother a Hittite. ⁴When you were born, your navel cord was not cut, nor were you washed with water to cleanse you, nor were you rubbed with salt^e or swaddled with bands. ⁵No eye had compassion or took pity on you to attend to any of those needs; but you were thrown out upon the open field with no appreciation for your life on the day you were born.

⁶But as I passed by you and saw you weltering in your blood, I said to you in your blood: Live! ⁷Yes, I said, live and grow up like a plant in the field. You grew tall and strong, an ornament of ornaments; your breasts were formed, and your hair grew; yet you remained naked and nude.

⁸When I passed by you again, I observed that you were of age for courting; so I spread out the skirts of My robe over you and covered your nakedness. I plighted My troth to you and entered into a covenant with you, says the LORD God, and you became Mine! ⁹Then I bathed you with water; yes, I thoroughly washed away your blood and anointed you with oil. ¹⁰I clothed you with an embroidered dress, shod you with porpoise leather, wrapped you in fine linen, and covered you with silk. ¹¹I also adorned you with rich ornaments, putting bracelets on your arms and a chain around your neck. ¹²I put a ring in your nostril,^f earrings in your ears, and a beautiful crown upon your head. ¹³Thus you were decked with gold and silver and clothed with fine linen, silk, and embroidered robes; and you ate fine flour with honey and oil. By these you grew to be a woman of surpassing beauty, fit to be a queen. ¹⁴Your fame spread abroad among all the nations because of your beauty, which was perfect through the

b) A wild vine is good for nothing but wood; and as wood any vine is even poor fuel. The parable is a fitting prelude to ch. 16. c) Through their idolatry!

d) This long chapter has one theme — the Hebrew people from their beginning to their downfall [586 B.C.]. Certain statements are shocking to western tastes; but the Orientals in their poetry speak of physical details very frankly. There is a poetic rhythm in the chapter.

e) The custom of rubbing a newborn child with salt is still practiced in the East, to signify dedication to God.

f) Some married women in the Sudan and in other parts of the Near East today wear such an identification, a medium-sized ring in the right nostril.

splendor that I had bestowed upon you, says the LORD God.

¹⁵But you trusted in your beauty and played the harlot on your reputation;^g you lavished your harlotries on everyone who passed by. ¹⁶You took of your costly garments of diverse colors in order to decorate and make more attractive your high places on which you played the harlot. The like has never been, or ever shall be. ¹⁷You parted with your lovely jewels and splendid ornaments of gold and silver which I had given you, making for yourself images of men, and with those you played the harlot. ¹⁸You took your own beautifully embroidered garments to dress them, setting before them oil and incense, which I had furnished you.^h ¹⁹My food that I gave you, fine flour, oil, and honey which I gave you to eat, you set before them as a soothing fragrance, says the LORD God. ²⁰You took your sons and your daughters, whom you had borne to Me, and offered them as sacrifices to be consumed. Was harlotry so exacting and so important a matter ²¹that you had to slaughter My children and offer them as burnt offerings to your idols?ⁱ ²²And amid all your loathsomeness and harlotry, you did not remember the days of your youth when you were naked and nude and lay wallowing in your blood.

²³And now to crown your wickedness — woe betide you! says the LORD God — ²⁴you have built vaulted chambers for yourself in every square ²⁵and at the head of every prominent street,^j prostituting your beauty and offering your body to any passer-by and multiplying your harlotry. ²⁶You repeatedly went whoring to the sons of Egypt,^k your lustful neighbors, to provoke Me to anger. ²⁷So I stretched out My hand against you, diminished your allowance of food, and handed you over to the preferences of your haters, the daughters of the Philistines, who grew ashamed of your lewd conduct. ²⁸With the Assyrians, too, you played the harlot because you were insatiable; you committed harlotry with them, and still you remained unsatisfied. ²⁹You multiplied your harlotry also with the Chaldeans in trade and exchange, and even so you were not sated.

³⁰How you are consumed by passion, says the LORD God, that you were doing all these things, the doings of a brazen-faced harlot, ³¹having built your vaulted chambers on every street corner and erected lofty chambers in all the squares. Yet you were not like the harlot who received hire; you scorned hire! ³²You have been an adulterous wife, who welcomes strangers instead of her husband. ³³Men are accustomed to give gifts to all harlots; but you gave away your precious gifts to all your lovers, bribing them to come to you from every direction for your embraces. ³⁴You were in contrast to other women; in your whoredom you gave hire, while no hire was given you!^l Therefore you were different.

³⁵Wherefore, you harlot, hear the word of the LORD! ³⁶Thus says the LORD God: Because of your throwing away your virtue, your exposure of your nakedness to your lovers, because of your abhorrent idolatry, and because of the bloodshed of your children whom you sacrificed to your gods, ³⁷therefore, behold! I will gather all your paramours, whose embraces you enjoyed, those whom you loved as well as those whom you loathed, and I will assemble them against you from every side. I will expose your nakedness for them to gaze upon, ³⁸and I will judge you as women are punished who break wedlock and who shed blood.^m I will bring upon you bloody wrath and jealousy. ³⁹I will give you into the hand of your lovers. They shall destroy your vaulted shrines and demolish your

g) Israel's entrance into Canaan under Joshua subjected them to the constant temptation of visiting the Canaanite sanctuaries. h) All these God-given luxuries they thus squandered.

i) The sacrifice of children was practiced under Ahaz and Manasseh, kings of Judah; and in the desperate days before the capture of Jerusalem, a revival of this deep-seated superstition seems to have taken place [cf. 20:31; 23:37-39].

j) As in Athens, with "more gods than men"; or at Petra, in Mt. Seir, where evidences remain of "vaulted chambers" near the high places.

k) Seeking military assistance against threatening foes.

l) According to Hosea 8:9, Ephraim, too, hired Assyrian lovers.

m) Death was the penalty for fornication and for child murder [Gen. 9:6; Lev. 20:10; Deut. 22:22].

high places; they shall strip you of your clothing and take your fair jewels, leaving you naked and bare. ⁴⁰And they shall bring forces against you, too, who will stone you and slaughter you with their swords. ⁴¹They shall burn your houses and execute judgments upon you in the sight of many women.ⁿ I will put a stop to your harlotry, and you shall cease paying hire. ⁴²So will I appease My fury on you,^o and My jealousy shall pass from you; I will be pacified and no longer angry. ⁴³Because you did not remember the days of your youth, I am incensed with wrath to resent your doings; I will bring your behavior down on your own head, says the LORD God. Have you not added this shameful unchastity to all your abominations?

⁴⁴Take note! Every one who quotes proverbs will use this proverb about you, "As the mother, so the daughter."^p ⁴⁵You are the daughter of a mother who scorned her husband and her children; and you are the sister of your sisters who loathed their husbands and their children. Your mother was a Hittite and your father an Amorite. ⁴⁶Your elder sister was Samaria, who, with her daughters,^q was located north of you; and your younger sister was Sodom who, with her daughters, lived south of you. ⁴⁷But you were not content merely to follow in their ways or to copy their abominations; that was too slight a thing for you, for you acted more corruptly in all your ways than they. ⁴⁸As I live, says the LORD God, your sister Sodom and her daughters have never gone the lengths in evil which you and your daughters have gone. ⁴⁹See! This was the iniquity of your sister Sodom: pride, fullness of bread, and careless ease were in her and in her daughters; neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy.^r ⁵⁰They were haughty and committed abominations before Me; I swept them away when I observed it.

⁵¹Samaria has not committed half your sins; you have committed more abominations than they; compared with your abominations, your sisters seemed innocent. ⁵²You must bear the shame of having your sister judged more favorably than yourself. In comparison with you and your abominations, she is adjudged less guilty than you; yes, be also confounded; you must bear your ignominy in justifying your sister.

⁵³But I will restore their fortunes,^s the fortune of Sodom and her daughters and the fortune of Samaria and her daughters; and I will restore your fortune along with theirs, ⁵⁴so that you may bear your disgrace and be ashamed of the little you have done in comforting them.^t ⁵⁵Your sisters, Sodom and her daughters, will return to their former estate; Samaria and her daughters will return to their former estate; and you, too, and your daughters will return to your former estate. ⁵⁶As the name of your sister Sodom never passed your lips in the day of your pride, ⁵⁷before your own wickedness was uncovered, so now you have become an object of reproach to the daughters of Syria and all who are around them, and to the daughters of the Philistines — those all around who detest you. ⁵⁸Thus you will bear the consequences of your lewdness and abomination, says the word of the LORD.

⁵⁹For thus says the LORD God: I will deal with you as you have done in despising the oath and breaking the covenant; ⁶⁰yet I will remember My covenant with you, which I made in the days of your youth, and I will establish an everlasting covenant with you.^u ⁶¹Then you will remember your ways and be ashamed when I take your sisters, both your elder and your younger sisters, and give them to you as your daughters, though not on account of your covenant with Me. ⁶²But I will establish My covenant with you;^v and you will know that I

n) These will look on your punishment and take warning.

o) As in ch. 5:13, the LORD's emotions are portrayed very humanly. He is represented as finding relief when He has given full vent to them.

p) The Arab version is: "Look at the mother, and choose the daughter." q) Nearby villages.

r) This is Ezekiel's great text on sociology! s) Literally, "I will turn their captivity!"

t) Or spoken in irony?

u) This idea of an "everlasting covenant" is shared by Jeremiah [31:31], involving faithfulness on God's part. The conception of God and of His law dwelling in the hearts of the faithful marks the climax of the religion of the O.T. v) A compact of grace.

am the LORD, ⁶³so that you may remember and be confounded and never open your mouth again because of your disgrace, when I forgive^w you for all you have done. The LORD God has spoken.

17 THE WORD OF THE LORD CAME to me: ^x"Son of man, propound a riddle,^y and utter a parable to the house of Israel. ³Say, Thus says the LORD God: A great eagle^z with mighty wings and a wide spread of pinions, full of plumage of various colors, came to Lebanon and snatched off the crest of a cedar, ⁴cropping off its topmost twig and carrying it to a land of traders, laying it down in a city of merchants. ⁵Then he took of the seed of the land and planted it in fertile soil, beside abundant waters, so that like a willow ⁶it sprouted and became a low spreading vine with branches turned toward him and its roots under it. And so it became a vine; it sent out its boughs and put out foliage.

⁷But there was another great eagle with exceedingly widespread wings and heavy plumage; and see, this vine bent its roots to him^a and sent out its tendrils for him to water, away from the bed where it was planted; ⁸though it was planted in good soil where water was plentiful for it to yield foliage, bear fruit, and become a goodly vine. ⁹Thus says the LORD God: Ask! Will it prosper? Will they not pluck up its roots and strip off its fruit that its leaves may wither? Neither a strong arm nor many hands are required to uproot it. ¹⁰It is well planted, but will it thrive? When the blasting east wind strikes it, it shall wither; it shall wither in the furrows where it sprouted.

¹¹Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying: ¹²Say now to the rebellious house, Do you not know what these things signify? Tell them, See, the king of Babylon^b came to Jerusalem, took its king^c and its princes, and carried them home with him to Babylon. ¹³He also took one^d of the seed royal and made a covenant with him, putting him under oath. The chiefs of the land he removed, ¹⁴to keep the realm in subjection without an uprising, continuing to exist under treaty obligations. ¹⁵But he rebelled against him, sending messengers to Egypt^e to grant him horses and a strong army. Will he prosper? Can one who so behaves escape? ¹⁶Can he break his covenant promise and go free? As I live, says the LORD God, in Babylon shall he die, in the place where the king dwells who made him king, whose oath he despised and whose covenant he broke. ¹⁷And Pharaoh with his mighty army and unnumbered resources will not sustain him in the day of battle when they cast up mounds and build siege walls to cut off escape. ¹⁸Because he scorned the oath and broke the covenant, because he pledged his word and yet did all these things, he shall not escape. ¹⁹Therefore thus says the LORD God: As I live, My oath which he despised and My covenant which he broke, I will turn down upon his own head. ²⁰I will spread My net over him, and he shall be caught in My snare. I will bring him to Babylon, and there I will conduct court with him for the treason which he has worked against Me. ²¹All the choicest of his troops shall fall by the sword; any fugitives shall be scattered in every direction the wind blows; and you shall know that I, the LORD, have spoken it.

²²Thus says the LORD God: I, too, will take a tender twig from the top of

w) Ezekiel's first mention of forgiveness.

x) In chapter 16, the prophet set forth Israel's history down to Jerusalem's fall; he now describes in a parable the political cause of her destruction — her attempt to secure Egypt's help and to throw off her allegiance to Babylon.

y) The Hebrew word rendered "riddle" conveys the idea of an ethical problem, and the word translated "parable" denotes, as in Prov. 10:1-3, a "sentence," based upon "ethical wisdom."

z) Pharaoh Hophra, king of Egypt [588-570 B.C.]. a) Made overtures to Egypt.

b) Nebuchadrezzar. c) Jehoiachin. II Kings 24:8, 11-15.

d) Zedekiah, whom Nebuchadrezzar had appointed as vassal in the place of Jehoiachin, already an exile.

e) Jeremiah warned Judah against dependence on Egypt [Jer. 37:7; II Kings 24:17; 25:1-7].

a high cedar^f and put it in the ground; one of its top twigs I will plant on a lofty mountain height. ²³On the high mountain of Israel I will plant it, and it shall grow branches and bear fruit and become a noble cedar, in the shadow of whose branches the birds of every feather will nestle and find rest. ²⁴All the trees of the field shall know that I am the LORD; and that it is I who brings low the lofty tree and exalts the humble tree, who causes the green tree to wither and the dry tree to flourish. I, the LORD, have spoken, and I will do it.

18 THE WORD OF THE LORD CAME to me: ²What do you mean by quoting this proverb in the land of Israel, "The fathers have eaten sour grapes and the children's teeth are blunted"? ³As I live, says the LORD God, this proverb shall no more be used by you in Israel. ⁴Observe! All souls are Mine; the soul of the father as well as the soul of the son is Mine; it is the person that sins who shall die.

⁵If a man is righteous and does what is lawful and fair, ⁶if he does not eat on the mountains nor lift up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, if he does not seduce his neighbor's wife or approach a woman in the period of her uncleanness, ⁷if he oppresses no one but restores to a debtor his pledge, if he commits no robbery but shares his food with the hungry and clothes the naked with a robe, ⁸if he does not lend money on usury¹ or take any increase; if he withholds his hand from crime, practices strict justice between man and man, ⁹follows My statutes, and is careful to observe My ordinances to deal truly — such a man does what is right; he shall surely live, says the LORD God.

¹⁰But, if he begets a son who is a robber and a murderer, who keeps none of these requirements ¹¹but eats upon the mountains, defiles his neighbor's wife, ¹²oppresses the poor and needy, steals, does not restore a pledge, lifts up his eyes to idols, commits abominations, ¹³lends on interest and takes increase — shall such a man live? He shall not live. He has committed all these evils; he shall surely die, and his blood shall be upon himself.

¹⁴But note well: If a man begets a son, who, seeing all the sins his father has committed, has reverence and renounces his father's behavior — ¹⁵he does not eat upon the mountains or does not lift up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, does not seduce his neighbor's wife, ¹⁶does not wrong anyone, exacts no pledge, commits no robbery, shares his food with the hungry and covers the naked with a robe, ¹⁷withholds his hand from wronging the poor, takes no usury or increase, observes My ordinances and walks according to My statutes — he shall not die for his father's iniquities, but shall surely live. ¹⁸His father shall die for his own iniquity, having exploited his neighbor, having robbed his brother, and having done what was evil among his people.¹

¹⁹Yet you say, "Why should not the son suffer for his father's iniquity?" If the son does what is lawful and fair and has been careful to observe all My statutes, he shall surely live. ²⁰The soul that sins shall die.^k The son shall not be loaded with his father's iniquities nor a father with the iniquity of his son. The righteousness of the righteous shall be put to his own account, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be put to his own account.

²¹But if the wicked man turns away

f) In vs. 22-24 we have Ezekiel's first prediction of restoration through a Messiah, a Prince of the future, a descendant of the royal line of David; later, in 34:23 and 37:24, he unfolds his expectations.

h) Jeremiah also quotes this proverb [31:29-30]. "Unripe grapes, if eaten, cause blunted teeth." Ezekiel declares that this proverb does not morally apply. He solves objections by pointing to new life through union with God — a new heart and a new spirit [31:31-32].

i) The Hebrew word for "interest" was a portion "bitten off" the loan in advance. When a "charity loan" was made, it was a heinous sin to keep a portion of it.

j) The prophet, by three examples, shows that wickedness need be no more hereditary than righteousness: a righteous man [vs. 5-9]; a righteous man's son who does not follow his father's good example [vs. 10-13]; a son, who does not follow his father's wicked example [vs. 14-17].

k) Cf. Exod. 20:5 and Rom. 5:12 ff.

from all the sins which he has committed and keeps all My statutes and does what is lawful and fair, he shall surely live and not die. ²²None of the transgressions which he has committed shall be remembered against him; in the righteousness which he has practiced he shall live.¹ ²³Have I any pleasure in the death of the wicked, says the LORD God, and not rather that the sinner should turn from his wicked way and live?^m ²⁴But when a righteous man turns from doing right and commits iniquity and does according to all the abominations that a wicked man does, shall he live? None of the righteous deeds which he has done shall be remembered because of the unfaithfulness and the sins which he has committed; in them he shall die.

²⁵Yet you say, "The way of the LORD is not fair." Hear now, O house of Israel! Is My way not fair? Are not your ways unfair? ²⁶When a righteous man turns away from doing right and commits iniquity and dies because of it, in the iniquity which he has done he shall die. ²⁷Just so, when a wicked man turns away from his wickedness which he has done and does what is lawful and right, he shall save his life. ²⁸On reflecting, he gives up all his transgressions; he shall live, he shall not die. ²⁹But the house of Israel still says that the way of the LORD is not fair. O house of Israel, are not My ways fair? Is it not rather that your ways are unfair?

³⁰Therefore, O house of Israel, I will judge each one of you according to his behavior, says the LORD God. Repent and turn from all your transgressions, lest your iniquity bring you to ruin. ³¹Throw away from you all your transgressions which you have committed, and renew your heart and your spirit;ⁿ for why should you die, O house of Israel? ³²For I have no pleasure in the death of anyone who dies, says the LORD God; so turn and live.

19 AND AS FOR YOU, TAKE UP a dirge over the princes^o of Israel ²and say: What a lioness your mother was among lions! She couched between young lions, rearing her whelps. ³One of her whelps she brought up—a young lion that learned to catch prey — devoured men. ⁴The nations cried out against him; he was caught in their pit^p and brought with hooks to the land of Egypt.

⁵When she^q saw that she was baffled, that her hope was gone, she took another of her whelps, and of him she also made a young lion. ⁶He prowled around among the lions of strength, became strong himself, and learned to catch prey, even devouring men. ⁷He ravaged their palaces and laid waste their cities. The land and its people became appalled by him at the sound of his roaring. ⁸Then the nations turned against him; from realms all around they spread a net over him, and he was captured in their pit. ⁹With hooks they put him in a cage, brought him to the king of Babylon, and put him in a stronghold so that his voice should no more be heard on the mountains of Israel.

¹⁰Your mother was like a vine,^r fruitful and full of branches, planted near plentiful waters. ¹¹She had one strong branch which became a royal scepter; it towered aloft among the forest foliage and was ever visible because of its height and its massive boughs. ¹²But she was plucked up in fury and cast down to the ground, the east wind withering all her fruit; and her strong branch was broken off and consumed

l) As in ch. 33:16, penitence, demonstrated by change of conduct, cancels past sin and secures life.

m) The time had come when the prophet had to go behind the covenant to the unchanging nature of God, which was the basis of the covenant, the mercy which endures forever!

n) The prophet recognized that man's yielding and God's grace both have a place in the process of conversion.

o) The elegy is about Prince Jehoahaz, who reigned three months over Judah and was carried to Egypt; also about Prince Jehoiachin, who reigned three months and was taken to Babylon. It is written in lamentation rhythm, each line falling into two unequal parts, one long and the other short, like the poetry of Lamentations.

p) The ancient Orientals trapped wild animals in deep pits, so covered that they were not detected. q) "She" seems to refer to Judah and specially to Jerusalem [the lioness].

r) Verses 10-14 are an allegory of the vine and her branches; in it Zedekiah, the last "prince" of Judah, is referred to.

in the fire. ¹³Now she is transplanted in the wilderness in a dry and thirsty land. ¹⁴Fire has spread from the branch, devouring her shoots and fruit, so that there remains in her no strong scion, no scepter for a ruler. This is a dirge; a dirge it has become.

20 IN THE SEVENTH YEAR, IN THE fifth month, on the tenth day of the month, certain of Israel's elders came to inquire of the LORD, and they sat before me. ²Then the word of the LORD came to me; ³Son of man, speak to the elders of Israel. Tell them, Thus says the LORD God: Is it to inquire of Me that you have come? As I live, says the LORD God, I will not be inquired of by you. ⁴Will you judge them? ⁵Then arraign them, son of man, and tell them of the abominations of their fathers. ⁶Say to them, Thus says the LORD God: On the day when I chose Israel, ¹I swore with uplifted hand to the descendants of the household of Jacob, making Myself known to them in the land of Egypt. I swore to them, saying, I am the LORD your God. ⁶On that day I swore to them that I would bring them out of the land of Egypt into a land which I had selected for them, a land flowing with milk and honey, ^uthe gem of all countries. ⁷I told them: Every one of you shall throw away the detestable things you love; do not defile yourselves with the idols of Egypt; I am the LORD your God.

⁸But they rebelled against Me and would not listen to Me; they did not every one cast away the detestable things which they loved, nor did they forsake the idols of Egypt. ^vSo I resolved that I would pour out My wrath upon them and vent My fury against them while they were still in Egypt. ⁹But I was ever careful to maintain the honor of My name, ^wthat it should not be profaned in the eyes of the nations among whom they sojourned, in whose sight I had revealed Myself to them in bringing them out of the land of Egypt.

¹⁰So from the land of Egypt I brought them and led them into the desert. ¹¹I gave them My statutes and taught them My judgments, by obedience to which man shall live. ¹²I gave them also My Sabbaths as a sign between Me and them, that they might know that I am the LORD, who consecrates them. ¹³But the house of Israel rebelled against Me in the desert; they did not walk according to My statutes, and they scorned My ordinances, by which, if a man observes them, he shall live; and My Sabbaths ^xthey grossly profaned. Then I resolved I would pour out My indignation upon them in the desert to annihilate them. ¹⁴But in dealing with them, I had regard for My honor, that it might not be sullied before the nations, in whose sight I had brought them out. ¹⁵However, I did swear to them in the desert, with My hand uplifted, that I would not bring them to the land which I had given them, a land flowing with milk and honey, a land which is the gem of all lands, ¹⁶because they had scorned My ordinances, did not walk in My statutes, and had profaned My Sabbaths; for their heart went after their idols. ¹⁷Nevertheless, My eye spared them, and I did not destroy them or make a complete end of them in the desert. ¹⁸Then I said to their children in the desert, Do not walk by the rules of your fathers nor observe their ordinances, nor pollute yourselves with their idols. ¹⁹I the LORD am your God; walk in My statutes, and be careful to observe My ordinances. ²⁰Hallow My Sabbaths, and they shall be a sign between Me and you, that you may know that I am the LORD your God. ²¹But those children rebelled against Me;

s) Here only is Ezekiel called on to judge his countrymen.

t) This is the single mention in Ezekiel of God's choice of Israel.

u) These words, "a land flowing with milk and honey," occur also in vs. 15, and in Jer. 11:5, 32:22, and nowhere else in the O.T. outside the Pentateuch. Goats, camels, and cows supplied the milk, and Palestine's flowers gave the bees their honey.

v) There is but one other mention in the O.T. [Josh. 24:14] that Israel practiced idolatry in Egypt. w) The Lord could vindicate His moral character by punishing His people for their rebellion and preserve His honor in the eyes of the nations [cf. Num. 14:13-18].

x) Two instances of Sabbath-breaking are recorded in the Pentateuch [Exod. 16:26-30; Num. 15:32-36]. In this chapter Ezekiel places great emphasis on keeping the Sabbath [vs. 12, 13, 16, 20, 21, 24]. Its importance as a religious institution would be increased in the exile. To profane the Lord's Sabbaths meant oblivion of the covenant promise [cf. Exod. 24:3; Amos 8:5].

they did not walk in My statutes and were not careful to observe My ordinances, by obeying which a person shall live. They profaned My Sabbaths, and I resolved that I would pour My indignation on them and apply My anger against them in the desert.

²²But I withdrew My hand^y and acted on behalf of My name, that it might not be profaned before the nations in whose sight I had brought them out. ²³Yet I swore to them in the desert that I would scatter them among the nations and disperse them among foreign lands,^z ²⁴because they had not obeyed My ordinances, but had scorned My statutes and profaned My Sabbaths and set their eyes on their fathers' idols.

²⁵Moreover I gave them statutes that were not good and ordinances by which they should not live,^a ²⁶and I defiled them through their own gifts, as they passed all their first-born children through the fire that I might confound them, and that they might know that I am the LORD.

²⁷Therefore, son of man, speak to the house of Israel. Say to them, Thus says the LORD God: Your fathers further blasphemed Me, dealing unfaithfully with Me. ²⁸When I had brought them into the land which I had sworn to give them, they looked for any high hill or any lofty tree,^b and there they offered their sacrifices; there they presented their offensive oblations; and there they set their soothing odors and poured out their libations. ²⁹I said to them: What means this high place to which you go up? So it is still called High Place to this day. ³⁰Therefore, say to the house of Israel, Thus says the LORD God: Will you still defile yourselves after the manner of your fathers and run wantonly after their detestable things? ³¹You offer your gifts, causing your sons to pass through the fire, and you defile yourselves with all your idols to this day! Shall I then be inquired of by you, O house of Israel? As I live, says the LORD God, I will not be inquired of by you. ³²Your whim of adopting heathen practices and becoming pagan like other nations, worshiping blocks of wood and stone, will never be realized.

³³As I live, says the LORD God, I will rule over you with a strong hand and an outstretched arm and with indignation poured out. ³⁴I will lead you out from the peoples and gather you from among the lands where you are scattered, with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm and with indignation poured out. ³⁵I will bring you into the desert of peoples^c and will plead with you there face to face; ³⁶as I pleaded with your fathers in the desert of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, says the LORD God. ³⁷I will make you pass under the rod^d and bring you into the bond of the covenant.^e ³⁸I will purge from among you the rebels and the transgressors of My law. I will bring them out of the land where they stay, but they shall not enter the land of Israel; and you will know that I am the LORD.

³⁹As for you, O house of Israel, thus says the LORD God: Go, serve everyone his idols, now and hereafter, if you will not listen to me; but My holy name you shall no more profane with your gifts and your idols. ⁴⁰For on My holy mountain, the mountain height of Israel, says the LORD God,^f all the house of Israel, all of them,^g shall serve Me in the land; there I will accept them, and there I will require your contributions and the choicest of your

y) Already outstretched to smite.

z) The exile resulted from sins of long standing, culminating in recent acts of disloyalty; their disposition was one of rebellion.

a) His reference here is probably to God's special claim on every first-born, in view of the pagan child-sacrifices, which Israelites were tempted to imitate, a dastardly malpractice of God's benevolent claim.

b) High places, so often rebuked in the O.T. None of outstanding dimensions have been found in Palestine, due probably to the reformation of King Josiah. A great high place was found in 1900 at Petra, fifty miles almost directly south of the Dead Sea, in Mt. Seir.

c) Referring probably to the great desert between Palestine and Babylonia.

d) As a shepherd counts his sheep when bringing them home at nightfall, making them pass under his staff. e) The yoke of God's mercy and of man's duty.

f) Ezekiel uses the twofold name, LORD GOD, 217 times; and the name, LORD, alone, 218 times. g) Ezekiel emphasizes that all Israel, including the tribes of the northern kingdom, shall return [cf. 11:15, 36:10].

gifts, with all your sacred offerings.⁴¹

⁴¹As a pleasant fragrance will I accept you, when I bring you out from among the peoples and gather you out of the countries wherein you have been scattered; and through you I will be sanctified¹ in the sight of the nations. ⁴²You will recognize that I am the LORD when I bring you back into the land of Israel, the land I swore to give your fathers. ⁴³There you shall remember your ways and all your actions by which you have polluted yourselves, and you will loathe yourselves for all the evils you have practiced. ⁴⁴You shall know that I am the LORD when I have dealt with you for My name's sake, not according to your wicked ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O house of Israel, says the LORD God.

⁴⁵The word of the LORD came to me:^j ⁴⁶Son of man, set your face toward the south;^k speak against the south, prophesying also against the shrubbery of the southland,⁴⁷ saying, Hear the word of the LORD, Thus says the LORD God: See! I will kindle a fire in you, and it shall devour every green shrub and every dry tree in you; the blazing flame shall not be quenched, and all faces from the south to the north shall be scorched by it. ⁴⁸All flesh shall see that I, the LORD, have kindled it; it shall not be quenched. ⁴⁹Then I said, "Ah, LORD God!" But of me they are saying, "Is he not an inventor of allegories?"

21 THE WORD OF THE LORD CAME to me: ²Son of man, turn your face toward Jerusalem, denounce her sanctuaries, and prophesy against the land of Israel. ³Say to the land of Israel, Thus says the LORD: See, I am against you; I will draw My sword^l from its sheath and will cut off from you the righteous and the wicked. ⁴And because I cut off from you the good and the bad alike, My sword shall be unsheathed against all that lives from south to north; ⁵and everything living shall know that I the LORD have drawn My sword out of its sheath to return it no more. ⁶Sigh therefore, you son of man; sigh with a broken heart and with bitter grief in their presence. ⁷When they ask you, "Why do you sigh?" say, "Because of the tidings at the coming of which every heart shall melt and every hand be limp; every spirit shall faint and every knee become weak as water." See, it comes, and it shall take place, says the LORD God.

⁸Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying, ⁹Son of man, prophesy, say, Thus says the LORD:^m A sword, a sword is sharpened and whetted; ¹⁰it is sharpened for slaughter and whetted to flash like lightning. Shall we then make mirth? You have despised the rod, my son, with everything of wood. ¹¹But the sword is polished to be handled; His sword is sharpened and brightened to be given into the hand of the killer.ⁿ ¹²Shriek and lament, son of man, for [judgment] has fallen upon My people and on all the princes of Israel; they have all been handed over to the sword; so, strike your thigh.^o ¹³For there is a trial ahead for you. Who would despise the rod? says the LORD God.

¹⁴Prophesy therefore, son of man! Strike your hands together, and let the sword come down twice, yes, thrice, the sword of the slain, the sword of great slaughter that hems them in. ¹⁵I have set the sword of slaughter against all their gates, so their hearts may melt and many go down; it flashes like light-

h) Offerings become sacred through sacrifice.

i) Recognized by the Gentiles and justified through the LORD's willingness to restore the exiles.

j) These verses [45-49] are in the Hebrew text the introduction of chap. 21 and are attached to it.

k) Three different words in the Hebrew of vs. 45 are employed and translated "south": the first two referring to the southern part of Judah and the region of Edom to the southeast; and the third to Negeb, or southland, to the desert stretch south of Judah, extending toward Egypt. The trees of these parts were never great forests.

l) The figure of Jehovah drawing His sword was in keeping with the conception of Jehovah as "a Man of war" [Exod. 15:3]. His sword is to be the sword of His servant, the king of Babylon [vss. 18 ff.].

m) The song which follows [vss. 9-17] expresses the agitation of the prophet at the thought of the coming judgment and destruction of Jerusalem.

n) Compare the Song of Lamech [Gen. 4:23-24].

o) "Striking the thigh" is still an Oriental gesture of despair, often used upon receiving heart-rending news [cf. Jer. 31:19].

ning and is sharpened for slaughter. ¹⁶Turn, O sword, to the right or to the left, whichever way your edge is directed. ¹⁷I, too, will strike My hands together and give vent to My indignation. I, the LORD, have spoken.

¹⁸The word of the LORD came to me again, saying: ¹⁹Son of man, trace^p two ways by which the sword of the king of Babylon may come, both ways coming out of the same country. And place a signpost at the fork of the road to the city. ²⁰Point out the way for the sword to come to Rabbah^q of the Ammonites, and to Judah, to fortified Jerusalem. ²¹For the king of Babylon stands at the parting of the ways, at the fork of the two roads, practicing divination. He shakes the arrows;^r he consults the teraphim;^s he inspects the liver.^t ²²Into his right hand falls the lot marked "for Jerusalem," calling for slaughter and the shout of battle, the planting of battering rams against the gates, the casting up of mounds, and the building of forts. ²³But to them^u it will seem like a false divination, because solemn oaths^v have been made to defend the city; but their iniquity is soon to be revealed. So they shall be taken.

²⁴Therefore, thus says the LORD God: Because you keep Me mindful of your guilt through your transgressions, which are flagrant and uncovered, and your sins, which are manifest in your deeds, and through them you are kept in remembrance, therefore you shall be apprehended. ²⁵And as for you,^w the prince of Israel, you wicked knave, your hour will come on the final day of reckoning. ²⁶Thus says the LORD God: Remove the turban, and take off the crown; change is in process.^x Let the low be exalted and the lofty abased. ²⁷Ruin, ruin I will make it; only ruin will remain; there shall not be a trace left of it until He comes,^y whose right it is; to Him will I give it.

²⁸And you, Son of man, prophesy and say, Thus says the LORD God concerning the Ammonites^z and concerning their reproach: say, A sword, a sword is drawn for slaughter, whetted to flash like lightning and to devour — ²⁹while they see for you false visions and while they divine for you lies — to lay you on the necks of those who are mortally wounded, the wicked whose day is coming at the time of final reckoning. ³⁰Sheathe your sword, therefore, for I will judge you where you were created, in your native land. ³¹I will pour out My indignation upon you; I will blow on you with the fire of My wrath, and I will deliver you into the hand of brutal men, skilful to destroy. ³²You shall be fuel for the fire; your blood shall flow in the midst of the land, and you shall be no more remembered; for I, the LORD, have spoken.

22 THE WORD OF THE LORD CAME to me: ²Son of man, would you judge, are you willing to judge the city of blood?^a Then declare openly to her all her abominable deeds. ³Say, Thus says the LORD God: O city that sheds blood in the midst of her so that her doom will come, which has made idols and has defiled herself, ⁴you are guilty because of the blood you have shed, and you are defiled because of the idols you have made; you have brought your day near, and you have reached the limit

p) Literally, "place for yourself," as if the prophet drew a map on the ground with the point of his sword.

q) The capital of Ammon, known as Amman today, about 25 mi. n.e. of the Dead Sea.

r) Arrows, with names on them, were used, as sometimes today, to guide decisions. Shaking arrows in a quiver, known as "bellomancy," was a lottery; the first one falling out gave the decision!

s) Images of household gods, regarded as bringers of good luck [Gen. 31:19, 34].

t) Inspection of the liver is nowhere else mentioned in the Bible. The Greeks and the Babylonians employed it, the liver being regarded as the seat of life. u) To those of Jerusalem.

v) Zedekiah, the last king of Judah, had been placed under oath by the king of Babylon [17:13-19].

w) Referring to Zedekiah, who had appealed to Pharaoh Hophra of Egypt for help to rebel against Nebuchadnezzar. x) Literally, "this is not this."

y) A strong hint of a coming one, the Messiah, as in Gen. 49:10, where "Shiloh" is predicted.

z) Though Ammon had been passed by in order that Jerusalem might first be punished, their turn has now come; they too had listened to their false prophets, who inspired them to hope, seizing portions of Israel's territory after Jerusalem's fall [cf. Ezek. 25:4, 10].

a) The two great sins of Jerusalem were cruel bloodshed and gross idolatry. This chapter falls naturally into three divisions: [1] The city's crimes [vss. 1-16]; [2] The LORD's smelting fires [vss. 17-22]; and [3] The fall of the city [vss. 23-31].

of your years. Therefore I have made you a reproach to the nations and a ridicule to all lands. ⁶Both those near you and those far from you will mock you, you infamous one, abounding in rioting.

⁶Observe! The princes^b of Israel among you are every one bent on shedding blood. ⁷Father and mother are treated with contempt by their children; the foreigner suffers extortion among you; the orphan and the widow are oppressed. ⁸My holy things you have despised, and My Sabbaths you have profaned.^c ⁹There are those among you who accuse falsely to shed blood, and those who eat upon the high places,^d those who commit lewdness in your midst. ¹⁰Among you there are those who uncover their father's nakedness and those who humble women unclean from their impurity. ¹¹One commits abomination with his neighbor's wife; another lewdly defiles his daughter-in-law; another humbles his own sister, the father's daughter.^e ¹²Among you men take bribes to shed blood. You exact usury and interest and make gain of your neighbors through extortion; and you have forgotten Me,^f says the LORD God.

¹³See! I strike My hands together in anger at the extortion which you practice and at the blood that has been shed in your midst. ¹⁴Can your heart hold out with courage, and can your hands remain strong when I come to deal with you? I the LORD have spoken, and I will do it. ¹⁵I will scatter you among the nations and disperse you over the countries, and I will purge you of the moral foulness within you. ¹⁶You shall be personally profaned before the nations,^g and you shall know that I am the LORD.

¹⁷The word of the LORD came to me, saying: ¹⁸Son of man, the house of Israel has become dregs to Me; all of them are but brass, tin, iron, and lead in the furnace, dross like that of silver.^h ¹⁹Therefore thus says the LORD God: Because you have all become dross, see, I will assemble you in the midst of Jerusalem. ²⁰As men collect silver, bronze, iron, lead, and tin into a furnace, and fire is blown upon it in order to melt it, so I will gather you in My anger and in My indignation, and I will throw you in and melt you. ²¹I will gather you and blow upon you with the fire of My wrath, and you will be melted in the midst of it. ²²As silver is melted in a furnace, so shall you be melted in the midst of it; and you will know that I the LORD have poured out My indignation upon you.

²³The word of the LORD came to me, saying: ²⁴Son of man, say to her, You are a land not cleansed or rained upon in the day of My indignation.ⁱ

²⁵There is a conspiracy among her princes; like roaring lions they are tearing their prey; they devour men's lives, seizing treasures and wealth and multiplying the number of widows in her midst. ²⁶Her priests violate My law and profane My holy things, making no distinction between sacred and secular, teaching no difference between unclean and clean, and disregarding My Sabbaths, so that I am profaned among them. ²⁷Her princes in her midst are like wolves that rend the prey, shedding blood and destroying lives to obtain personal benefit. ²⁸Her prophets daub with whitewash their empty visions and their divinations for them, saying, "Thus says the LORD God," when the LORD has not spoken.

²⁹As for the people of the land, they too have practiced extortion and committed robbery; they have oppressed the poor and needy and cruelly extorted the foreigners without redress. ³⁰I have looked for a man among them who would build up the wall and hold the breach before Me in defense of the land, that I should not destroy it; but I did not find him. ³¹Therefore I pour out My indignation upon them; with

b) Zedekiah and his predecessors, including Manasseh [II Kings 24:4].

c) Both were sins of the priesthood in particular [cf. vs. 26]. d) Cf. Ezek. 18:6.

e) Alluding to marriage with a step-daughter.

f) Social morality depends upon remembrance of God.

g) Saying that he was unable to protect his own.

h) Israel is the raw material in the furnace of Jerusalem. Pure silver was obtained through heating ore in a crucible of bone-ash, which absorbed the baser elements until only pure silver remained. i) Nature must share the guilt of Israel.

the fire of My indignation I have consumed them; their own ways have I repaid upon their own heads,¹ says the LORD God.

23 THE WORD OF THE LORD CAME to me, saying: ²Son of man, there were two women, daughters of one mother,^k ³who, when they were young, played the harlot in Egypt. There their bosoms were pressed, and there their virgin nipples were stroked.¹ ⁴Their names were Oholah, the elder, and Oholibah, her sister.^m They became Mine, and they bore sons and daughters; Oholah signifies Samaria, and Oholibah Jerusalem.

⁵Oholah played the harlot while she was My wife; and she doted on her lovers, the Assyrians, ⁶her neighbors, courtiers clothed in purple; captains and commanders, all of them attractive young men, horsemen mounted on horses. ⁷On all of them, the choicest men of Assyria, she bestowed her harlotries; and she defiled herself, worshipping the idols of those on whom she doted. ⁸She never gave up her harlotry since her Egyptian period when, in her girlhood, men lay with her and pressed her girlish bosom and lavished their lust upon her. ⁹So I delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the Assyriansⁿ on whom she doted. ¹⁰They uncovered her nakedness; they seized her sons and her daughters, and her they slew with the sword; and she became notorious among women when final judgment was executed on her.

¹¹Although her sister Oholibah saw this, yet she carried on more corruptly in her lusting and her harlotries and became more wanton than her sister. ¹²She doted on the Assyrians, governors and high officers, cavaliers clad in purple, riding on horses, all of them attractive young men. ¹³I saw she was defiling herself, both going the same way, ¹⁴but she went still further in her harlotries. She saw portraits of men upon the wall, figures like those of the Chaldeans,^o painted in vermillion, ¹⁵with girdles about their loins and tasselled turbans upon their heads, princes to look upon, all of them looking like Babylonians of Chaldea, the land of their nativity. ¹⁶When she saw them, she longed for them and sent messengers to them in Chaldea. ¹⁷The Babylonians came to her into the bed of amours, and they defiled her with their lust, and when she had been polluted by them, she turned from them in disgust. ¹⁸And because she flaunted her harlotries and exposed her nakedness, I also became disgusted with her, as I had become disgusted with her sister. ¹⁹Yet she increased her harlotries, remembering the days of her girlhood when she played the harlot in the land of Egypt.^p ²⁰She longed for her paramours, who were lustful as donkeys and impetuous as stallions. ²¹You repeated the lewdness of your youth when the Egyptians handled your breasts and pressed your girlish bosom.

²²Therefore, Oholibah, thus says the LORD God: Take notice! I will raise up against you your paramours from whom you turned in disgust. I am about to bring them against you from every side — ²³the Babylonians and all the Chaldeans, the men of Pekod, Shoa, and Koa,^q together with all the Assyrians, desirable young men, all of them governors and rulers, counselors and men of renown, all of them riding on horses. ²⁴They shall come against you with chariots and wagons and a host of infantry; they shall array themselves against you on every side with buckler, shield, and helmet. I will commit to them the

j) Zephaniah corroborates Ezekiel [3:3-5]; Jerusalem had become morally and religiously paralyzed. The Lord could find no "Saviour of society" [cf. Isa. 63:5].

k) Oholah, "her tent," is Samaria; Oholibah, "My tent is in her," is Jerusalem. Samaria sought alliance with the Assyrians, Jerusalem with the Babylonians. The prophet considers the period of schism under Jeroboam [c. 940 B.C.] down to the fall of Samaria (720 B.C.) and on to the fall of Jerusalem (586 B.C.). They both played the harlot in religion through their foreign alliances.

l) In Egypt they did not wholly give up their Hebrew faith.

m) The Arabs today frequently give names of similar rhythm to their children; e.g., Ali named his two sons Hasan and Husein! n) Tiglath-pileser III, Shalmaneser IV, and Sargon of Assyria.

o) Carved bas-reliefs, and colored.

p) The gross lasciviousness of the Egyptians was especially abhorrent to godly Hebrews.

q) All different peoples belonging to the Babylonian empire at that time, on the south, on the east of the Tigris, and in the more northern parts.

judging, and they will judge you according to their customs.^r ²⁵I will set My jealousy against you, and they will deal with you in fury, cutting off your noses and your ears;^s your survivors shall fall by the sword. They will take away your sons and daughters, and what remains of you shall be burned up. ²⁶They shall strip you of your clothes and take away your fine jewels. ²⁷Thus will I put an end to your lewdness and cause your harlotry, brought from the land of Egypt, to cease, so that you shall not lift up your eyes to Egypt or have your mind on them any more.

²⁸For thus says the LORD God:^t Note! I am delivering you into the hand of those you hate, into the hand of those with whom you became disgusted. ²⁹They will treat you hatefully; they will rob you of all your earnings and leave you naked and nude. The nakedness of your harlotry shall be uncovered, both your lewdness and your whoredom. ³⁰This will be done to you because you played the harlot with the nations and polluted yourself with their idols. ³¹You have gone the way of your sister; therefore I will give her cup into your hand.^u

³²Thus says the LORD God: You shall drink of your sister's cup, which is deep, large, and brimful; you shall be laughed at and held in derision, for it contains much; ³³you will be filled up on drunkenness and sorrow, a cup of horror and terror, the cup of your sister Samaria. ³⁴You shall drink it, drain it to the dregs, chew on it, and tear your breasts; for I the LORD your God have spoken. ³⁵Therefore, thus says the LORD God: Because you have forgotten Me and have cast Me behind your back, you must suffer for your lewdness and your harlotry.

³⁶The LORD^v said to me: Son of man, will you judge Oholah and Oholibah? Then declare to them their abominations, ³⁷for they have committed adultery, and blood clings to their hands; with their idols they have committed adultery, offering up to idols for food the sons they had borne to Me. ³⁸Moreover, this they have done to Me: they have made My sanctuary unclean, in the same day, and they have profaned My Sabbaths. ³⁹For when they had done slaughtering their children in sacrifice to their idols, on the same day they came into My sanctuary, so that they profaned it;^w they did so in My house. ⁴⁰They even sent for men to come from afar, dispatching special messengers to bring them;^x and they came, those for whom you bathed yourself, painted your eyes,^y and adorned yourself with ornaments. ⁴¹And together you sat on a stately divan, with a table spread before you on which you had placed My incense and My oil. ⁴²Sounds of a careless crowd were heard; men of the commonest sort, including drunkards, were brought from the desert, who had placed bracelets on their hands and gorgeous crowns upon their heads. ⁴³I said: Will they at their fading age commit adultery and play the harlot with men like them? ⁴⁴Yet they went in to them as men of lust go in to harlots, to Oholah and Oholibah, those shameful women. ⁴⁵But righteous men shall condemn them to the punishment due to adulterous women, to women who shed blood; for they are wantons, and blood clings to their hands.

⁴⁶For thus says the LORD God: Bring up an assembly against them, and hand them over to be maltreated and robbed. ⁴⁷This host will stone them and dispatch them with their swords;^z they will slay their sons and their daughters and burn their houses. ⁴⁸Thus will I make lewdness to cease in the land;

r) The Gentiles will be trusted to judge them, and Israel will be treated savagely, the natural result of their faithlessness to God.

s) Among the ancient Egyptians an adulteress was punished by having her nose cut off.

t) This is the prophet's introduction to the second of the LORD's four threats of punishment [vss. 22, 28, 32, 35], each one being spoken by Adonai Yahweh.

u) In this threat the prophet sums up the three threats which have gone before.

v) This exact form, Yahweh by itself, "the LORD" is found here only in Ezekiel.

w) Their mere presence was a desecration.

x) Jeremiah speaks of messengers from different nations coming to Jerusalem to organize a revolt against Babylon [27:3].

y) With a black pigment, usually made from powdered antimony and painted around the eyes to increase brilliancy. z) Cf. Ezek. 16:40 and Deut. 21:21.

all women shall take warning^a and not commit lewdness as you have done. ⁴⁹Thus your lewdness shall be turned back upon you; you shall suffer the penalty for your sinful idolatry, and you shall acknowledge that I am the LORD God.

Early 588 B.C.

24 IN THE NINTH YEAR, IN THE tenth month, on the tenth day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me, saying: ²Son of man, write down the date of this day, for on this day the king of Babylon has besieged Jerusalem.^b ³Propound also an allegory to the rebellious house. Say to them, Thus says the LORD God: Set on the caldron; set it on, pour water into it, ⁴and put into it all the best pieces of meat, the thigh and the shoulder, filling it up with the choicest bones. ⁵Besides, take the best of the flock, pile wood under them, and boil them all together, seething well the bones.

⁶For this is the word of the LORD God: Woe to the city of bloodshed, a pot whose rust is in her and whose rust never leaves her! Take it out piece by piece, without a lot falling on them. ⁷For she has shed blood in every quarter of the city and poured it out on the bare rocks instead of on the ground where dust might cover it. ⁸To arouse wrath and to apply retribution, I have smeared her blood on the bare rock, so that it could not be covered.^c

⁹Therefore thus says the LORD God: Woe to the bloody city! I will pile the city's firewood still bigger. ¹⁰Heap on the logs, kindle the fire to boil the meat well; pour off the broth, and let the bones be burned up. ¹¹Then place the empty caldron on the coals to make it hot, so that the pot itself may glow and all its impurities be burned up, that the rust of it be consumed. ¹²To no avail have I wearied Myself; its thick filth will not leave it. To the fire its impurities! ¹³Therefore, you filthy one, because I sought to cleanse you but you refused to be cleansed, you will not be purified till I have spent My indignation upon you. ¹⁴I, the LORD, have spoken, and I will do it. I will neither relent nor show pity; I will punish you according to your doings, and I will judge you, says the LORD God.

¹⁵The word of the LORD also came to me: ¹⁶Son of man, I am about to take from you by a stroke the desire of your eyes,^d yet you shall not lament or weep or shed tears; ¹⁷you may quietly sigh, but make no mourning for the dead.^e Bind on your turban, and put your sandals on your feet; do not cover your lips nor eat the bread of mourners. ¹⁸So I spoke to the people in the morning, and at eventide my wife died. Next morning I did as I was ordered.

¹⁹The people said to me, "Will you not tell us what these things mean to us; why you are acting thus?" ²⁰Then I said to them, "The word of the LORD came to me: ²¹Say to the house of Israel, Thus says the LORD God: Look! I am about to desecrate My sanctuary, the pride of your strength, the delight of your eyes, and the desire of your heart; and your sons and daughters, whom you leave behind, shall fall by the sword. ²²Then you shall do as I have done; you shall not cover your lip^f nor eat the bread of mourners. ²³Your turbans shall remain wrapped about your head,^g and your sandals shall be on your feet; you shall not lament or weep, but you shall pine away in your sins and moan and groan together. ²⁴Thus shall Ezekiel be a sign for you; for according to all that he has done, you shall do.^h When the time comes, then you will know that I am the LORD God."

²⁵As for you, son of man, on the day when I take from Israel their

a) The LORD's judgment is to be a public example.

b) Early in 588 B.C., Nebuchadnezzar began to besiege Jerusalem; his siege lasted about 1½ years. God's judgments on Israel through all the years had produced no visible effect.

c) Blood violently shed, if left uncovered, was said to cry out from the ground [cf. Gen. 4:10].

d) Two momentous incidents are here associated with the fall of Jerusalem — the death of Ezekiel's wife from a stroke and the end of his own silence as a prophet.

e) Ezekiel being a priest as well as a prophet, the law forbade him mourning for the dead [cf. Lev. 10:6; 21:1-5]. f) The upper lip.

g) Orientals let their long hair hang down loose in times of grief, cover the shaven upper lip, and eat "funeral food."

h) Not have their private tragedies interfere with their public responsibilities.

stronghold,¹ their joy and glory, the delight of their eyes and their heart's chief desire, and also take their sons and daughters,² on that day a fugitive shall come to you to report it.³ On that same day your mouth shall be opened; you shall again preach and be no longer dumb. So shall you be a sign to them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

25 THE WORD¹ OF THE LORD CAME to me: ²Son of man, set your face toward the Ammonites, and prophesy against them. ³Say to the children of Ammon,^k Hear the word of the LORD God: Thus says the LORD God, Because you shouted "Aha!" when My sanctuary was profaned and rejoiced when the land of Israel was made desolate and when the house of Judah went into exile,⁴ therefore, see, I am handing you over to the children of the East for a possession; they shall pitch their tents in your midst and select their camp sites among you, eat your fruit and drink your milk. ⁵I will permit camels to pasture in Rabbah¹ and flocks to have folds in the cities of Ammon, and you shall know that I am the LORD. ⁶For thus says the LORD God: Because you have clapped your hands, stamped your feet, and rejoiced with all the malice within you against the land of Israel, ⁷therefore I have stretched out My hand against you and will hand you over as a booty to the nations; I will cut you off from the peoples and eliminate you from the countries, I will destroy you; and you will know that I am the LORD.

⁸Thus says the LORD God: Because Moab and Seir said, "See, the house of Judah has become like all the Gentiles,"^m ⁹behold, I am laying open Moab's flank, the cities of its frontier,

Judgment Against Neighboring Nations

Beth-jeshimoth, Baal-meon, and Kiriathaim,ⁿ the glory of the land. ¹⁰I will give Moab along with Ammon as a possession to the Easterners, so that the Ammonites may be remembered no more among the nations. ¹¹I will execute judgments on Moab, and they will know that I am the LORD.^o

¹²Thus says the LORD God: Because Edom acted revengefully against the house of Judah and has assumed great guilt practicing revenge, ¹³therefore, so says the LORD God: I will stretch out My hand against Edom,^p destroying man and beast, and I will make it desolate from Teman to Dedan;^q they shall fall by the sword. ¹⁴I will execute My retribution on Edom by the hand of My people Israel; and they shall deal with Edom according to My anger and according to My indignation; and they shall know My repayment, says the LORD God.

¹⁵Thus says the LORD God: Because the Philistines acted revengefully, wreaking malicious revenge upon them, seeking to destroy [Israel] by a never-ending enmity, ¹⁶therefore thus says the LORD God: See, I am stretching out My hand against the Philistines; I will cut off those Cherethites^r and destroy the remainder of the seacoast. ¹⁷I will execute on them sore retribution by acts of furious chastisement, and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I carry out My punishment upon them.

26 SO IT WAS IN THE ELEVENTH year, on the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came to me: ²Son of man, because Tyre^s has said about Jerusalem, "Aha, the gate of the peoples is broken; it stands open toward me. Now that she is ruined, I shall get abundance,"

i) Jerusalem.

j) In the list Babylon, the chief aggressor, is not included, she being the LORD's instrument of justice to punish Israel.

k) Bible writers nearly always speak, as Ezekiel does here, not of "Ammon," but of the "children of Ammon," even when referring to the land.

l) The chief city of Ammon and its only city mentioned in the Bible.

m) Judah had long enjoyed pre-eminence among the nations.

n) These towns were north of the Arnon river, northeast of the Dead Sea.

o) Moab and Ammon were also subjugated by Nebuchadnezzar soon after Jerusalem's fall.

p) Edom's hatred of Judah was bitter; Jacob and Esau were twin brothers.

q) Teman, modern Shobek; Dedan, s.e. of Akabah. Shobek is a walled city on a high hill, supplied with water through a shaft sunk from its center some 200 feet straight down to a spring.

r) The Cherethites were Philistines and once part of David's bodyguard.

s) Tyre was the Venice of antiquity, the most famous port of Phoenicia and of the east coast of the Mediterranean. She enjoyed security from attack, being almost impregnable.

³therefore thus says the LORD God: Surely I am against you, Tyre, and I will bring up as many nations against you as the sea brings up waves. ⁴They shall destroy the walls of Tyre and tear down her towers. I will scrape away her very dust and will make her a bare rock.⁵ ⁵She shall be a place fit for the spreading of nets in the midst of the sea; for I have spoken, says the LORD God, and she shall become a pilgrimage to the nations. ⁶Her daughters^u on the mainland shall be conquered by the sword, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

⁷For thus says the LORD God: See! I am about to bring upon Tyre from the north Nebuchadrezzar^v king of Babylon, king of kings, with horses, chariots, and cavalry, beside a host of infantry. ⁸Your daughters on the mainland he shall put to the sword. He will build forts against you, throw up against you a mound, and build a shield-formed roof against you.^w ⁹His battering rams he shall pound against your walls, and with his crowbars he shall break down your towers. ¹⁰His countless horses will cover you with the dust they raise. At the noise of the horsemen^x and of the wheels of the chariots, your walls will quake as he enters your gates as one enters a breached city. ¹¹With the hoofs of his horses he will trample all your streets; your people he will slay with the sword, and your strong pillars shall topple to the ground. ¹²They will plunder your wealth and make a prey of your merchandise; they will tear down your walls and destroy your pleasant houses, casting your stones, your timbers, and your garden soil into the sea. ¹³I will cause the sound of your songs to cease, and the music of your harps shall be heard no more. ¹⁴I will make you a bare rock, a place for the spreading of nets. You shall never be rebuilt;^y for I the LORD have spoken it, says the LORD God.

¹⁵Thus says the LORD God to Tyre: Shall not the coastlands^z shake at the sound of your fall when the wounded groan and murder is rampant among you? ¹⁶Then all the princes of the sea shall descend from their thrones, lay aside their robes, take off their embroidered garments, and clothe themselves with trembling, crouching upon the ground, continuously trembling, and be astonished at you. ¹⁷They will raise a lamentation over you and say to you, "How you have vanished from the seas, O city of renown; you that once were so mighty on the sea, you and your inhabitants, who struck terror into everyone around!" ¹⁸How the coastlands will tremble on the day you fall; yes, the isles in the sea will be dismayed because you are gone!"

¹⁹For thus says the LORD God: When I make you a desolate city, like cities that are depopulated, when I bring up the deep over you and the mighty waters cover you, ²⁰then I will thrust you down with those who descend into the pit,^a to the people of ancient times. I will make you dwell in the nether world amid primeval wastes, with those who go down to the pit, so that you^b will remain uninhabited and no more arise in the land of the living. ²¹I will make you a terror, and you shall be no more; though you will be sought, you shall nevermore be found, says the LORD God.

27 THE WORD OF THE LORD CAME to me:^c ²You, Son of man, raise a lamentation over Tyre; ³say concern-

t) The island on which Tyre was situated was high and rocky, some 140 acres in size and half a mile from the mainland. u) Suburbs and nearby villages.

v) The name is correctly spelled with an "r." In Babylonian it is spelled Nabu-kudurri-usur, that is "May Nebo protect my boundary." In Dan 2:37 Nebuchadrezzar is called "king of kings."

w) A large screen was often built by the enemy in taking a city, under which the walls of a city could be undermined. x) Horses would be strange in Tyre.

y) Tyre had suffered similar devastations when Esarhaddon in 673 B.C., and Assurbanipal of Assyria had besieged the city in 668 B.C. Josephus reports that Nebuchadrezzar besieged Tyre 13 years.

z) The coastlands were the inhabited centers on the shores of the eastern Mediterranean, including islands, with which the merchants of Tyre were accustomed to trade.

a) By the ancients the pit was conceived of as a vast subterranean cave, with a narrow opening like that of a well. It is here regarded as the home of departed nations as well as of individuals [cf. 32:17-32]. b) Tyre.

c) Tyre is pictured as a gallant ship, sailing proudly on the high seas, when it is overtaken by a storm and wrecked.

ing Tyre, which is situated at the entrances^d of the sea, the market city of the people of many coasts, thus says the LORD God: Tyre, you have said, "I am perfect in beauty."⁴ Your domain was in the heart of the seas; your builders made you perfect in beauty.⁵ They fashioned all your planks^e from fir trees of Senir;^f they took a cedar from Lebanon to make you a mast; ⁶of oaks from Bashan they carved your oars; from the pines of Cyprus they made your deck and inlaid it with ivory. ⁷Linen with embroidered work from Egypt served for your sail; your ensign and awning were blue and purple, and came from the coastlands of Elishah.^g ⁸Bold seamen of Sidon and Arvad^h were your oarsmen; your skilled men, O Tyre, were your pilots. ⁹The ancients of Gebalⁱ and their wise men repaired your leaks and caulked your seams; all the ships of the sea with their mariners came to handle your wares. ¹⁰Warriors from Persia, Lud, and Put^j served in your army as soldiers. They hung on you their shields and helmets, displaying the glory of your equipment. ¹¹The men of Arvad and Helech manned your walls round about, and the men of Gammad^k were in your towers; they hung their shields on your walls all around and made your beauty perfect.

¹²Tarshish^l traded with you because of your great wealth of every kind — silver, iron, tin, and lead. These they exchanged for your wares. ¹³Javan,^m Tubal, and Meshech traded with you; they exchanged for your goods, slaves and vessels of bronze. ¹⁴They of the house of Togarmahⁿ traded for your wares, horses, war horses, and mules. ¹⁵The men of Dedan^o traded with you; many islands were your customers; ivory tusks and ebony they brought you in payment. ¹⁶Syria trafficked with you because of your many products; she bartered with you garnets, purple dyes, embroidered work, fine linen, coral, and rubies in exchange for your merchandise. ¹⁷Judah and the land of Israel traded with you, exchanging for your wares wheat from Minnith,^p early figs, honey, oil, and balm. ¹⁸Damascus traded with you because of your abundant supplies and your immense wealth of every kind. Wine of Helbon^q and white wool, ¹⁹wine also from Uzal^r they exchanged for your wrought iron, cinnamon, and sugar cane. ²⁰Dedan^s sold you saddle trappings for riding. ²¹Arabians and all the princes of Kedar^t were your favored dealers in lambs, rams, and goats; in these they bartered with you. ²²The merchants of Sheba^u and Raamah^v traded with you, supplying you with the choicest spices and also with jewels and gold. ²³Haran,^w Canneh, Eden, Assyria, and all the Medes traded with you. ²⁴They sold you choice fabrics, mantles of blue and embroidered work and carpets of colored goods bound with cords and made secure; in all these ways they trafficked with you. ²⁵Tarshish ships carried your merchandise, swelling your caravan and together making you an imposing fleet on the high seas. ²⁶By many waters your oarsmen conveyed

d) Tyre's two harbors, one on the north toward Sidon, the other on the south toward Egypt.

e) To build their ships. f) Senir was the Amorite name for Hermon.

g) Elishah is sometimes identified with Italy. h) Arvad was 25 miles north of Tyre.

i) Gebel was halfway between Beirut and Tripoli.

j) Lud was Lydia in Asia Minor; Put was probably Punt on the African coast of the Red Sea.

k) Gammad may possibly be identified with Gomer, the Armenian name of Cappadocia; Arvad was in the neighborhood of Hamath; Helech was in Cilicia near Tarsus.

l) Tarshish, usually identified with Tartessus in Spain, was the center of a mining district.

m) Javan is Ionia of Asia Minor; Tubal and Meshech, also, in the eastern portion.

n) Togarmah was Armenia.

o) Rhodes was probably meant in the original, as the Greek translation reads.

p) An Ammonite town [Judg. 11:33].

q) Helbon is a village still inhabited on the eastern slopes of Anti-Lebanon, 9 miles south of Damascus. r) Uzal was a small oasis in Arabia.

s) Dedan was a district on the northeast of the Red Sea.

t) The inhabitants of Kedar were a nomad race in the Arabian desert, renowned for their archers and flocks.

u) Sheba was in South Arabia, 1200 miles south of Jerusalem, famous for its gold, frankincense, and precious stones. v) Raamah was probably on the Persian Gulf.

w) Haran, named, it seems, for Abraham's brother [Gen. 11:31], was an ancient city in n.w. Mesopotamia, 60 miles east of Carchemish on the Euphrates; the name probably means "way" or "caravan." Canneh and Eden were centers of trade in the same general region; likewise Asshur, on the Tigris River.

you;^{*} but a wind from the east has wrecked you on the high seas! ²⁷Your wealth and your wares, your goods, your mariners and your sailors, your caulkers, your experts in bargaining, all your men of war, and the entire crew on board with you, shall sink into the depths of the sea on your day of ruin. ²⁸At the wailing cries of your pilots, the pasture lands shake. ²⁹All the oarsmen and sailors and the pilots of the sea come down from their ships, stand on shore, ³⁰and raise their voices in bitter agony over you, casting dust on their heads, wallowing in ashes, ³¹making themselves bald for your sake, girding themselves with sackcloth, and weeping over you in bitter-hearted lamentation. ³²In their wailing they raise a dirge for you and lament over you, "Who is destroyed like Tyre in the midst of the sea!" ³³When your wares went out by sea, you satisfied many peoples with your abundant wealth and your attractive wares, making kings rich. ³⁴Now you are wrecked by the seas; in the depths of the waters your merchandise and all your crew have sunk with you. ³⁵All the dwellers of the coastlands are appalled at you; their kings are aghast with horror, their faces are convulsed. ³⁶The merchants among the nations hiss at you. You have become a horror. You have forever ceased to be.

28 THE WORD OF THE LORD CAME to me: ²Son of man, say to the prince of Tyre, Thus says the LORD God: Because you are puffed up with pride, and have said, "I am a god," and I sit in the seat of the gods in the heart of the sea," yet you are only human and no god, though you boast yourself to be like a god, ³yes, wiser than Daniel, no secret thing being hidden from you! ⁴By your shrewdness and your skill you have won for yourself great wealth and have gathered gold and silver into your treasures.

⁵By your sharpness in trade you have increased your wealth and because of your great riches you have become proud in heart. ⁶Therefore thus says the LORD God: Because you count yourself wise as a god, ⁷behold, I am bringing aliens against you, the most ruthless of nations; they shall draw their sword against your subtle wisdom and defile your brightness. ⁸They shall thrust you down into the pit, and you shall die the death of the slain in the heart of the seas. ⁹Will you venture to claim, "I am a god," when you face those who slay you when you are but human, and no god, in the hand of those wounding you? ¹⁰You shall die the death of the uncircumcised^z at the hand of foreigners; for I have spoken it, says the LORD God.

¹¹This word of the LORD came to me: ¹²Son of man, intone a dirge over the king^a of Tyre. Say to him, Thus says the LORD God: You complete the sum, full of wisdom and perfect in beauty. ¹³You lived in Eden,^b the garden of God; you were adorned with every kind of precious stone, the ruby, topaz, and emerald, the beryl, onyx, and jasper, the sapphire, garnet, chrysolite, and gold, all in a wealthy setting of fine gold; they were prepared on the day when you were created. ¹⁴You were the anointed cherub with overshadowing [wings]. I placed you so that you were on the sacred hill of God, and you walked amidst flaming stones.^c ¹⁵You were perfect in your ways from the day you were created till you were discovered doing wrong. ¹⁶Through the abundance of your trade your inner self was filled with violence, and you sinned; so I am casting you out as a profane thing from the hill of God, and I will destroy you, O overshadowing cherub, from the midst of the flaming stones. ¹⁷You became puffed up with pride because of your beauty, and your wisdom became corrupted by reason of your splendor. I have cast you to the

x) The second half of vs. 25 resumes the poem from vs. 9 and continues the description of Tyre as a great ship. y) Ithobaal II of Tyre and Alexander the Great regarded themselves as divinities; so later did most of the Roman emperors.

z) The Phoenicians practiced circumcision and looked upon the uncircumcised as barbarians. a) The title, "king," is not found in Phoenician inscriptions, but Herodotus and Josephus both mention kings of Tyre in the 6th and 5th centuries B.C.

b) The prophet shows acquaintance with the account of Eden in Gen. 2 and 3; cf. also Isa. 14:4-21. c) Due to the brilliance of your gems.

ground and exposed you for kings to gaze at you. ¹⁸Through your many iniquities and the intrigues of your trade, you profaned your sanctuaries; so I brought forth fire from your midst to burn you up, and I reduced you to ashes upon the ground in the sight of all who saw you. ¹⁹All who know you among the nations are appalled at your fate; for you have become a horror; you shall be no more forever.

²⁰The word of the LORD came to me: ²¹Son of man, turn your face toward Sidon;^d prophesy against her. ²²Say, Thus says the LORD God: See! I am against you, Sidon, and I will reveal My glory in the midst of you. They shall know that I am the LORD when I execute judgments in her and reveal My holiness to her;^e ²³for I will send her pestilence and bloodshed in her streets; the wounded shall fall in her midst by the sword, coming down on her from every side. Then you shall know that I am the LORD. ²⁴Then the house of Israel shall no more be subjected to pricking thorns and painful briars among their neighbors who treat them with contempt. Then they will know that I am the LORD God.

²⁵Thus says the LORD God: When I have gathered the house of Israel from the nations among whom they are scattered and have revealed My holiness through them in the sight of the Gentiles, then they shall dwell in their land, which I gave My servant Jacob; ²⁶they shall live securely in it and build houses and plant vineyards. In safety and security they shall dwell in it after I have executed judgments on all their neighbors, who have treated them with contempt; and they shall know that I am the LORD their God.

29 IN THE TENTH YEAR, IN THE tenth month, on the twelfth day of the month,^f the word of the LORD came to me: ²Son of man, set your face against Pharaoh,^g king of Egypt. Prophesy against him and against all Egypt; ³speak, and say, Thus says the LORD God: Look! I am against you, Pharaoh, king of Egypt. You are a big crocodile lying in the midst of the streams, that says, "The Nile is my own; I made it for myself." ⁴I will put hooks in your jaws and will make the fish^h of your streams to stick to your scales; then I will pull you out of your streams with all the fish of your streams that stick to your scales. ⁵I will throw you into the desert, you and all the little fish of your streams; and I will leave you on the open desert; you shall be neither picked up nor buried,ⁱ but given as food to the beasts of the earth and the birds of heaven. ⁶Then all the dwellers of Egypt shall know that I am the LORD; for they have been a staff of reeds to the house of Israel, ⁷breaking when they grasped you by the hand and tearing their shoulders; and when they leaned on you, you broke and caused the loins of all to stagger. ⁸Therefore thus says the LORD God: See! I will bring a sword upon you and will cut off from you man and beast. ⁹The land of Egypt shall become a desolation and a waste, and they shall know that I am the LORD; for you boasted, "The Nile is mine; I made it." ¹⁰Therefore, behold, I am against you and against your streams, and I will make the land of Egypt an utter waste, a desolation from Migdol^j to Syene, as far as the borders of Ethiopia. ¹¹No foot of man or beast shall cross it; for forty years^k it shall remain uninhabited. ¹²I will make the land of Egypt a desolation among desolated lands,^l and for forty years her cities shall remain a desolation among cities that are already wasted. I will scatter the Egypt-

d) Sidon was the first-born of Canaan [Gen. 10:15]. The city he founded was larger than Tyre and located 20 miles north of it on the coast. After Tyre's siege, Sidon became the leading city of Phoenicia. This brief oracle of warning fittingly concludes Ezekiel's prophecies against Phoenicia.

e) God will be sanctified through just chastisements of those who harass Israel; "holiness" in the O.T. implies uniqueness and separation in moral character and justice.

f) Egypt had always been an unreliable ally of Israel, and Hebrew religion detested the gross idolatry of Egypt. g) Hophra was then Egypt's king [588-569 B.C.].

h) The "fish" are the officers of Pharaoh's court, who are destined to share his fate.

i) To forfeit the rights of burial was the last indignity.

j) Migdol, "tower," located probably on the n.e. side of the Delta, near Pelusium. Syene was the modern Aswan near the Nile's First Cataract on the south.

k) Persia's occupation and domination over Egypt lasted well-nigh 40 years [525-487 B.C.]

l) The fertile Nile valley like the deserts, Arabian on the east and Libyan on the west.

tians among the nations and disperse them over the countries.

¹³For thus says the LORD God: At the end of forty years I will gather the Egyptians from the people among whom they were scattered; ¹⁴I will turn the captivity of Egypt and bring them back to the land of Pathros,^m into the land of their birth, and there they shall abide, an insignificant kingdom. ¹⁵It shall be the weakest of all kingdoms and shall no more rise above other nations; and I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations. ¹⁶It shall never again be the confidence of the house of Israel, who will recall their sin when they turn to look at them. And they shall know that I am the LORD God.

¹⁷It was so in the twenty-seventh year, in the first month, on the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came to me, saying:ⁿ ¹⁸Son of man, Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, made his army render heavy service in fighting Tyre. Every soldier's head was peeled bald, and every shoulder was blistered; yet neither he nor his army gained any returns^o from the long campaign which he directed against Tyre. ¹⁹Therefore thus says the LORD God: See, I am giving the land of Egypt to Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon, and he shall carry away her wealth, despoil, and plunder her; it shall be the wages for his army. ²⁰I am giving the land as his recompense for which he labored, because they worked for Me, says the LORD God.

²¹In that day I will cause a horn^p to bud for the house of Israel, and to you I will give open lips in their midst, and they will know that I am the LORD.

30 THE WORD OF THE LORD CAME again to me: ²Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus says the LORD

God: Wail! Alas for the day! ³For the day is near.^q The day of the LORD is near, a day of clouds; it is the hour for the nations. ⁴A sword shall descend on Egypt, and there shall be anguish in Ethiopia, when Egypt's slain shall fall, her wealth be carried away, and her foundations demolished. ⁵Ethiopia, Put, and Lud,^r all the Arabians, the Libyans, and the people of the land in league with them, shall fall by the sword. ⁶Thus says the LORD: Those who sustain Egypt shall fall; her vaunted strength shall come down; from Migdol to Syene^s those within her shall fall by the sword, says the LORD God. ⁷She shall be desolate in the midst of desolate lands, her cities among cities already wasted. ⁸They shall know that I am the LORD when I kindle a fire in Egypt and all her helpers are crushed. ⁹On that day messengers shall go forth from Me in ships to terrify the unsuspecting Ethiopians, and anguish shall seize them on the day of Egypt's doom; for, observe, it is coming.

¹⁰Thus says the LORD God: I will bring Egypt's masses to an end by the hand of Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon. ¹¹He and his people with him, the most violent of nations, shall be brought in to destroy the land; they shall draw their swords against Egypt and shall fill the land with the slain. ¹²I will make Nile streams dry ground and sell the land into the hand of villains. I will make the land and all that is in it a desolation by the hand of aliens; I, the LORD, have spoken it.

¹³Thus says the LORD God: I will also annihilate the idols and make the images disappear from Memphis.^t There shall no longer be a prince in the land of Egypt, and I will make fear reign in Egypt. ¹⁴I will make Pathros^u a ruin. I will kindle a fire in Zoan^v

m) Pathros was upper Egypt; the mother section of the whole land, between Oxyrhynchus and Syene.

n) These verses bear the latest date in the book and were probably composed about 571 B.C. Nebuchadrezzar set out to invade Egypt 567 B.C.

o) Soldiers were paid from the spoils of captured cities. Nebuchadrezzar could pay his troops out of the booty taken from Egypt.

p) The word "horn" implies power and prosperity. In Ps. 132:17 it is used to describe the revival of the Davidic dynasty. The vision of a Coming One may be back of it, a Messianic hope.

q) A day of judgment, as in Amos, Joel, Obadiah, and Nahum. r) See 25:16; 27:10.

s) See 29:10.

t) Noph is Memphis, the principal city of lower Egypt at that time, ten miles south of modern Cairo. u) Pathros was the name originally of Upper Egypt [cf. 29:14].

v) Zoan is the modern San, in the eastern Delta.

and execute judgment on No.^w ¹⁵I will pour out My fury on Sin,^x the stronghold of Egypt, and I will cut off the crowds of Thebes. ¹⁶I will kindle a fire in Egypt, and Sin shall tremble in anguish; Thebes shall be split up and Memphis reduced to ruins. ¹⁷The young men of On and of Pibeseth^y shall fall by the sword, and the [women] shall go into captivity. ¹⁸At Tehaphnehes^z the day will become dark when I break there the yoke of Egypt and when the pride of her power ceases. She shall be covered by a cloud, and her daughters shall go into captivity. ¹⁹Thus will I execute My judgments on Egypt, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

²⁰In the eleventh year, in the first month, on the seventh day of the month,^a the word of the LORD came to me: ²¹Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh, king of Egypt; and see, it has not been bound up, nor have healing medicines been applied that it might become strong again to wield the sword. ²²Therefore, thus says the LORD God: See! I am against Pharaoh, king of Egypt, and I will break his arms, both the sound one and the broken one, and I will make the sword fall out of his hand. ²³I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations and disperse them throughout the lands. ²⁴I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon and will put My sword in his hand; but I will break the arms of Pharaoh, making him groan before him^b like a man mortally wounded. ²⁵I will hold up the arms of the king of Babylon, but the arms of Pharaoh shall slump. They shall know that I am the LORD when I put My sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he swings it over the land of Egypt. ²⁶I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations and disperse them throughout the countries. Then they will know that I am the LORD.

31 IN THE ELEVENTH YEAR, IN THE third month, on the first day of the month,^c the word of the LORD came to me: ²Son of man, say to Pharaoh, king of Egypt, and to his teeming crowd: Whom are you like in your greatness? ³Behold! Assyria was a cedar in Lebanon with graceful branches and forest shade, lofty in height with its head among the clouds, ⁴waters nourishing it, deep waters supplying its roots, sending out channels and streamlets of refreshment to all the trees around. ⁵So it towered aloft above all the trees of the field. Its boughs multiplied, and its branches lengthened through the wealth of water at its roots. ⁶Among its boughs all the birds of the air made their nests, and under its branches all the beasts of the field bore their young, while in its shadows many nations dwelt. ⁷It was beautiful in its size and the length of its branches, for its roots reached abundant water; ⁸the cedars in the garden of God could not conceal it; no cypress had branches like it; no plane tree had boughs to compare with it; no tree in God's garden equalled it in beauty. ⁹Because of its boughs and the beauty of its foliage, all of Eden's trees that were in the garden of God, envied it. ¹⁰Therefore, thus says the LORD God: Because it towered high, carrying its head in the clouds and priding itself on its height, ¹¹I gave it into the hand of a mighty one among the nations, who dealt with it as its wickedness deserved; I, Myself, have cast it off.^d ¹²Strangers, the most ruthless of peoples, cut it down and left it lying upon the mountains, its branches forsaken in the valleys, and all the people of the earth left its shade and let it lie.

w) No is modern Thebes, the seat of Ammon worship, 400 miles south of Cairo, and the capital of Upper Egypt. x) Sin was one of the chief fortresses of the Delta.

y) On and Pibeseth are in Lower Egypt; On, center of "cat" worship, is modern Heliopolis, 7 miles n.e. of Cairo. A cat cemetery is still extant.

z) Tehaphnehes is probably the modern Tel Defenneh, 3 miles west of El Kantara on the Suez Canal.

a) This independent section [vss. 20-26] is dated three months later than 29:1 and only four months before the fall of Jerusalem; it refers to a defeat of Pharaoh Hophra.

b) Pharaoh before Nebuchadnezzar. c) Two months before Jerusalem's fall.

d) The allegorical figure of the cedar and the literal description of the Pharaoh, run into each other in these verses [vss. 11-17].

¹³Upon its fallen trunk all the birds of the heavens gathered, and among its branches and thick boughs all the beasts of the field rested; ¹⁴so that no trees beside the waters may exalt themselves because of their height or lift their heads into the clouds, and no water-fed tree may show off its height; for all are delivered to death, to the nether parts of earth, and with the children of men, with those who go down to the pit.

¹⁵Thus says the LORD God: On the day when he^e went down to the realm of the dead, I made the deep mourn for him and restrained its floods; the great waters were held back, and I caused Lebanon to mourn for him; and all the trees of the field fainted because of him. ¹⁶I made the nations quake at the sound of his fall when I cast him down to Sheol with those who go down to the pit; and all the trees of Eden, the choicest and best of Lebanon, all that thrive on water, were comforted in the underworld. ¹⁷Those slain by the sword also went down with him into the realm of the dead, his helpers, who had lived under his shadow among the nations. ¹⁸To whom, then, are you really like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden? You, with them,^f shall be brought down to the underworld with the trees of Eden and die there among the uncircumcised,^g slain by the sword. Such shall be the fate of Pharaoh and of all his teeming masses, says the LORD God.

32 IN THE TWELFTH YEAR, IN THE twelfth month, on the first day of the month,^h the word of the LORD came to me: ²Son of man, intone a dirge over Pharaoh, king of Egypt. Say to him: You compared yourself to a young lion among the nations, whereas you are a crocodile in the seas, making water bubble, troubling the waters with your feet, and befouling their streams. ³Thus says the LORD God: I will spread out My net over you with a host of many peoples; I will haul you up in My net; ⁴and I will leave you upon the land, and hurl you out on the open field. I will make the birds of the air settle on you and will glut the animals of all the earth with you. ⁵I will strew your flesh upon the hills and fill the valleys with your bones, ⁶drenching with your gushing blood the whole earth to the tops of the mountains, so that the ravines will be filled with you. ⁷And when I have extinguished you, I will veil the heavens and darken the stars, covering the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall cease giving her light. ⁸All the beaming lights of heaven I will darken over you, bringing darkness on your land, says the LORD God.

⁹I will cause dismay in the hearts of many peoples when I announce your downfall to the nations, to countries which you never knew. ¹⁰I will make many peoples astonished at you; their kings will shudder with terror when I brandish My sword before them. They shall tremble every moment, each for his own life, on the day of your downfall. ¹¹For thus says the LORD God: The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon you. ¹²By the sword of the mighty, the most terrible of the nations, I will make your host fall; they shall humble the pomp of Egypt, and all its multitudes shall perish. ¹³I will destroy all your cattle from beside many waters which no foot of man shall roil any more, nor shall the hoofs of beasts trouble them. ¹⁴Then I will make their waters clear and cause their rivers to flow like oil, says the LORD God. ¹⁵When I have made the land of Egypt a ruin and a waste, when I have stripped the land of all its fulness, and when I have smitten all who dwell in it, then they shall know that I am the LORD. ¹⁶This is the dirge which shall be chanted by the daughters of all the nations, lamenting for Egypt and her teeming masses, says the LORD God.

¹⁷Also in the twelfth year, on the

e) The pronoun is masculine and refers to Pharaoh. [The Hebrew language has no neuter form]. In these vss. 15-18, both cedar and Pharaoh are described in semi-allegorical language.
f) The doom of Pharaoh is to be shared by his allies; Ezekiel often uses the "prophetic perfect"! g) The Egyptians practiced circumcision and considered those uncircumcised as outside the pale of civilization [cf. Josh. 5:8, 9]. To be buried among the uncircumcised was to them the last indignity. h) Dated some 19 months after 586 B.C., the date of Jerusalem's fall.

fifteenth day of the month,¹ the word of the LORD came to me: ¹⁸Son of man, wail over the masses of Egypt, and send them down, her and the daughters of famous nations to the nether world, with those who have gone down to the pit. ¹⁹Whom do you surpass in loveliness? Go down, and be laid with the uncircumcised; ²⁰they shall fall among those who were slain by the sword. Lie down, you and all your vast multitude. ²¹The mighty warriors of Sheol will welcome you and your helpers.¹ They have all gone down and lie still with the uncircumcised in the midst of those who have been slain by the sword. ²²Assyria^k is there and all her multitude; their graves are around her, all of them slain, fallen by the sword, ²³whose graves are made in the sides of the pit, her company around her grave, all of them slain, fallen by the sword, who caused terror in the land of the living. ²⁴There is Elam,¹ with all her multitude around her grave; all of them slain, fallen by the sword, and gone down to the underworld uncircumcised, who in the land of the living had caused terror; they have borne their shame with them that go down to the pit. ²⁵Among the slain they have made for her a bed and for the many in numberless graves around her, all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword, for the terror they caused in the land of the living; hence they bear their shame with those who go down to the pit and are placed among the slain.

²⁶Meshech and Tubal^m are there, with all their crowds, their graves surrounding them, all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword, because they struck terror in the land of the living. ²⁷But the fallen of the uncircumcised do not lie with the mighty men who went down to Sheol with their weapons of war, whose swords were laid under their heads, and their wickedness upon their bones, because their terror was mighty in the land of the living. ²⁸So you too shall lie broken among the uncircumcised, with those who were slain by the sword.

²⁹There also is Edom, whose king and princes, in spite of all their might, are laid with those who were slain by the sword;ⁿ they shall lie among the uncircumcised, with those who go down to the pit.

³⁰The princes of the north, including the Sidonians, all of them, who have gone down in shame with the slain, in spite of the terror because of their might, they shall be in the pit among the uncircumcised, slain by the sword, and they shall bear their disgrace.

³¹When Pharaoh sees them, he will be consoled that all his multitude, Pharaoh and all his army, who were slain by the sword, are with him in Sheol,^o says the LORD God. ³²For I spread My terror in the land of the living among all the victims of the sword, uncircumcised, Pharaoh and his multitude, says the LORD God.

33 THE WORD OF THE LORD CAME to me:^p ²Son of man, speak to your countrymen. Say to them: When I bring the sword upon a land and the people of that land take one of their number and make him their watchman, ³if he sees the sword coming on the land and blows the trumpet to warn the people, ⁴then whoever hears the sound of the trumpet but does not take warning, if the sword come and take him away, his blood shall be on his own head. ⁵He heard the sound of the

i) Though the month is here not specified, the twelfth may be assumed from vs. 1; hence vss. 17-32 may be dated about two weeks after vss. 1-16. j) Cf. Isa. 14:9.

k) Assyria had been conquered by Babylon in 612 B.C.

l) After Assyria, Elam was the next most formidable warrior state. Originally they were sons of Shem, but they got mixed and spoke a different language from all other Semites. They inhabited the region east of the Tigris and joined the Assyrian army against Jerusalem in Isaiah's time [Isa. 22:6].

m) Meshech and Tubal were remnants of the old Hittite population, sons of Japheth, and therefore Arian.

n) The Edomites were circumcised, but they are destined to share Sheol with those who were not.

o) In Isa. 14, and here in vss. 18-32 are the most vivid descriptions in the Bible concerning Sheol. p) Ezekiel turns from divine judgment to divine restoration. The future, he sees, lies with the exiles; they must form a new Israel. For seven years he had preached the coming of judgment and the certainty of doom; now, in chaps. 33-39, he proclaims the forgiveness of sin. In these chapters there is but one date [33:21], 586 B.C., the date of Jerusalem's fall.

trumpet and did not take warning; his blood shall be upon himself; had he taken warning, he would have saved his life. ⁶But if the watchman sees the sword approaching and does not blow the trumpet, so that the people are not warned, and the sword comes and takes any one of them, that man is taken in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand.

⁷So you, son of man, I appoint you a watchman to the house of Israel; when you hear the word from My mouth, warn them from Me. ⁸When I say to the wicked, Sinner, you shall surely die; but you say nothing to warn that sinner to turn from his way, that sinner shall die in his sins; but his blood I will require at your hand. ⁹But if you warn the sinner to turn from his way and he does not turn from it, he shall die in his iniquity, but you have saved your soul.

¹⁰Therefore, son of man, say to the house of Israel: ^aYou have said, "Our sins are heavy upon us," and under them you are wasting away and are crying, "How then can we live?" ¹¹Say to them: As I live, says the LORD God, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but rather in this, that he turns from his way and lives. Turn you, oh, turn you, from your evil ways; for why should you die, ^chouse of Israel? ¹²And you, son of man, say to the children of your people, The righteousness of the righteous shall not save him when he transgresses; and as for the wickedness of the wicked, it shall not be his downfall ^bin the day that he turns from his wickedness; neither shall the righteous be able to live by his righteousness in the day he does the sinning. ¹³Though I say to the righteous that he shall surely live, yet if he trusts in his righteousness and commits sin, none of his righteous deeds will be remembered; but in the sin he commits he shall die. ¹⁴Again, when I say to the wicked, you shall surely die; yet if he turns from his sin and does what is lawful and fair — ¹⁶he restores the pledge and gives back what he had robbed, follows the statutes of life and does no wrong — he shall surely live; he shall not die. ¹⁶None of his sins which he has committed shall be remembered ^dagainst him; he has done what is lawful and fair; he shall surely live.

¹⁷Yet, the children of your people say, "The way of the LORD is not consistent"; rather, it is their way which is not consistent. ¹⁸When the righteous turns from his righteousness and does wrong, he shall die for it; ¹⁹and when the wicked turns away from his wickedness and does what is lawful and right, he shall live by it. ²⁰Yet you say, "The way of the LORD is not consistent." O house of Israel, I will judge each one of you according to his ways.

²¹It happened in the twelfth year of our captivity, in the tenth month, on the fifth day of the month that a fugitive from Jerusalem came to me and announced, "The city is smitten!" ²²Now the hand of the LORD had been upon me the evening before the fugitive arrived, and in the morning about the time when the fugitive came, my mouth was opened and I could speak; I was no longer dumb.

²³Then the word of the LORD came to me: ²⁴Son of man, those who inhabit these wastes of the land of Israel are saying, "Abraham was but one man, yet he received possession of the land; now we are many, to us therefore the land should be given as a possession." ^u²⁵Therefore say to them, Thus says the LORD God: You eat [flesh] with the blood in it; you lift up your eyes to your idols, and you shed blood; should you then possess the land? ^v²⁶You depend on your sword; you commit abominations, each one of you defiling his neighbor's wife; should you then possess the land? ²⁷Tell them this, too, Thus says the LORD God: As

q) Ezekiel speaks in these verses as a pastor, not as a speculative theologian.

r) A man's past may not necessarily determine his possible future. A man is morally free to repent [cf. 18:21-29]. The apostles carried this doctrine even higher [cf. Rom. 7:6; I John 3:9].

s) Wickedness leads to stumbling [cf. Prov. 4:19]; repentance will arrest the fall.

t) How such forgiveness becomes possible, through Christ, and how the old sinful personality ceases to be, is taught clearly in the N.T.

u) It is character, not numbers, that counts with God. v) With the better elements of the people carried into exile, there was no future for those left behind. The land had become desolate.

I live, those among the wastes shall be taken by the sword; those in the open country I will give to the beasts for nourishment; those in strongholds and in the caves shall die of pestilence. ²⁸I will make the land a desolation and a waste; the pomp of its strength shall come to an end, and the mountains of Israel shall become so deserted that none will pass through them. ²⁹They will know that I am the LORD, when, because of all the abominations they have committed, I have made the land a desolation and an astonishment.

³⁰As for you, son of man, your fellow countrymen are talking about you by the walls and the doors of houses. They say to one another, each to his brother, "Please come, and hear what is the word from the LORD." ³¹They will come to you as My people used to come, and they will sit before you as My congregation; they will listen to your words but they will not obey them; for with their lips they make a show of love, but their hearts are set on their own selfish gain.* ³²See! You are to them like a lovely song, sung with a beautiful voice and played well on an instrument; they hear your words, but they will not obey them. ³³But when the hour comes — and it is coming — will they recognize that a prophet has been among them?^y

34 THE WORD OF THE LORD CAME to me: ²Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds^z of Israel. Prophesy; say to them, Thus says the LORD God to the shepherds: Ah! You shepherds of Israel, who have been tending yourselves; should not shepherds tend the sheep? ³You eat the fat and dress yourselves with the wool; you slaughter the fatlings, but you do not feed the flock. ⁴The weak you have not strengthened; nor have you healed the sick or bound up the wounded; nor have you brought back the straying or sought after the lost; only with force and with rigor have you ruled over them. ⁵They were scattered because there was no shepherd, and they became food for all the beasts of the field when they were scattered. ⁶My sheep wandered all over the mountains and on every high hill. Yes, My flock was scattered on the whole face of the earth, with no one to seek or search for them.

⁷Therefore, you shepherds, hear the word of the LORD: ⁸As I live,^a says the LORD God, because My sheep^b have become a prey and My flock have become food for all the wild beasts for want of a shepherd, because the shepherds did not care for My flock but fed themselves, not having fed My sheep; ⁹therefore, you shepherds, hear the word of the LORD. ¹⁰Thus says the LORD God:^c Observe! I am against the shepherds; I will require My sheep at their hand and put a stop to their feeding the flock; neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more. I will rescue My flock from their mouths, so that they may not be food for them any longer. ¹¹For thus says the LORD God: Lo! I, even I, will search for My flock and seek them out. ¹²As a shepherd seeks out his sheep when he is among those who are scattered, so will I seek out My sheep and rescue them from all the places where they have been scattered in the day of cloud and darkness.^d ¹³I will bring them out from among the peoples and gather them from the countries and bring them into their own land; and I will feed them on the mountains of Israel, by the watercourses and in all the habitable portions of the country. ¹⁴In good pastures will I feed them; upon the

w) As a rule, the Gentiles will learn from His judgments that the LORD is God; but through Israel's tragic discipline, the Jews too may learn this vital fact.

x) They show enthusiasm, but their inclinations are not Godward [cf. Isa. 29:13].

y) A prophet's true function is to interpret history in the light of God's purpose to redeem His people.

z) The shepherds are their native kings, rulers, and priests [Moses, Isa. 63:11, 12; David, Ps. 78:70-72; Cyrus, Isa. 44:28].

a) "As I live, says the LORD God" finds a corresponding equivalent in "I assure you" in the N.T. as spoken by Jesus.

b) The phrase "My sheep," is repeated often in these verses: four times in verse 8 alone.

c) Repetition is for emphasis.

d) The LORD here shows what a good shepherd would do [cf. Luke 19:10]. The kings of Israel were responsible for the morals of the nation, and the prophets shared the responsibility. Jeremiah had warned Israel that a better brand of pastors was needed [23:1-8].

mountain heights of Israel shall be their fold; there they will lie down in a good fold, and in rich pastures they shall graze on the mountains of Israel.

¹⁶I Myself will feed My flock, ^{16a}and I will cause them to lie down, says the LORD God.^e I will seek the lost and bring back the strayed; I will bind up the wounded; I will strengthen the sick; and the fat and the strong I will guard, tending them all with judgment.^f

¹⁷As for you, my flock, thus says the LORD God: See! I judge between lambs and kids, between rams and he-goats.^g

¹⁸Is it not enough for you to graze in the good pasture, that you must trample down with your feet the rest of the pasture; and to drink of the clear waters yourselves, that you must befoul the rest with your feet? ¹⁹Must My flock graze on what you have trampled upon and drink what you have befouled with your feet?

²⁰Therefore, thus says the LORD God to them: Behold! I Myself will judge between the fat sheep and the lean sheep. ²¹Because you push with your side and shoulder and thrust at all the weak with your horns till you have driven them out, ²²I will save^b My sheep, so that they may no longer be your prey, and I will judge between sheep and sheep. ²³I will appoint over them one shepherd,¹ even My servant David; he shall feed them and be a shepherd to them; ²⁴I, the LORD, will be their God, and My servant David shall be a prince among them. I, the LORD, have spoken it. ²⁵I will make with them a covenant of peace¹ and will banish the wild animals from the land, so that they may live securely in the plains and sleep in the woods. ²⁶I will make them and the places around My hill a blessing, sending rains to come down in their season; there shall be showers of blessing.^k ²⁷The trees of the field shall yield their fruit, and the land shall yield her produce; they shall be secure in their land! They shall know that I am the LORD, when I have broken the bars of their yoke¹ and have rescued them from the hands of those who enslaved them. ²⁸They shall no more be a prey to the nations, neither shall the wild beasts of the earth devour them; but they shall dwell securely, and none shall make them afraid. ²⁹I will provide them with vegetation renowned for its growth. No more will they be subjected to famine, and no longer shall they bear the reproach of the nations. ³⁰Thus they shall know that I, the LORD their God, am with them, and that they, the house of Israel, are My people, says the LORD God. ³¹You are My flock, the sheep of My pasture, and I am your God,^m says the LORD God.

35 THE WORD OF THE LORD CAME to me: ²Son of man, set your face against Mount Seirⁿ and prophesy against it. ³Say to it, Thus says the LORD God: Look! I am against you, Mount Seir; I will stretch out My hand against you, and I will make you a desolation and a waste. ⁴Your cities^o I will destroy, and you shall become a desolation. You shall know that I am the LORD, ⁵for you have perpetuated enmity toward the children of Israel and have handed them over to the violence of the sword at the time of their calamity, the time of their final

e) To gather and restore Israel is repeatedly emphasized in Ezekiel's later chapters [36:24; 37:22; 38:8; 39:27]. That the Lord Himself will act as the Shepherd of His people leads directly to the N.T. f) The divine Shepherd tempers His treatment of His flock with mercy and discernment. g) The he-goats are the strong, leading men of the community, who ignore the rights of common people.

h) To Ezekiel salvation meant largely restoration of Israel; Jesus saves from sin [Matt. 1:21], for the new life.

i) The "one shepherd" implies a single flock, such as David and Solomon had before the schism between Israel and Judah. j) Ensured by the extermination of hurtful beasts.

k) Not only the former rains which fall in Oct. and Nov., but also the winter rains [Dec. to Mar.] and the latter rains of April.

l) The oriental yoke consists of four crosspieces around the neck of an ox.

m) The ideal relation between the Lord and His people will be re-established in the blessed future. n) Mt. Seir, a mountainous region stretching south from the Dead Sea to the Gulf of Akabah, 100 miles on the east of the Arabah, was the home of the Edomites, the sons of Esau.

o) Only a few small villages remain today in Edom, the chief of which from north to south are Bozrah, Shobek, Elgi, Maan, Ezion-geber, and Petra, once the capital, but empty now of all settled inhabitants.

doom. ⁶Therefore, as I live, says the LORD God, because you are guilty of blood, blood shall pursue you; since you have not hated blood, blood will pursue you. ⁷Thus I will make Mount Seir a waste and a ruin. I will cut off from it him who arrives and him who leaves. ⁸I will cover its mountains with the slain; those slain by the sword shall fall, in your hills, in your valleys and in your creek-beds. ⁹I will make you a perpetual desolation, and your cities shall remain uninhabited.^p You shall know that I am the LORD.

¹⁰Because you have said, "These two nations and these two lands^q shall become mine, and we will take possession of them," — although the LORD was there — ¹¹therefore, as I live, says the LORD God, I will do to you according to your anger and your envy which you have shown in your hatred for them. I will make Myself known among them when I judge you. ¹²And you shall know that I, the LORD, have heard all your revilings which you have uttered against the mountains of Israel, saying, "They are a desolation! They are given us to devour!" ¹³You spoke boastfully with your big words against Me; I heard them all. ¹⁴Thus says the LORD God: The whole world will rejoice when I make you desolate. ¹⁵As you rejoiced over the heritage of the house of Israel because it was ruined, so will I deal with you; you shall become desolate, Mount Seir, and all Edom, all of it. So shall they know that I am the LORD.

36 AND YOU, SON OF MAN,^r PROPHESY to the mountains of Israel. Say, You mountains of Israel, hear the word of the LORD. ²Thus says the LORD God: Because the enemy^s has exulted over you, saying, "Aha! The ancient heights have become ours," ³therefore prophesy, Thus says the LORD God: Because, yes, because^t you were crushed and were trampled on every side to become the possession of the remaining nations, and you became the talk and slanderous gossip of the people; ⁴therefore, you mountains of Israel, hear the word of the LORD God: Thus says the LORD God to the mountains and to the hills, to the ravines and to the valleys, to the desolate wastes and to the deserted cities, which have become a spoil and a mockery to the nations remaining all around, ⁵thus says the LORD God: Surely I will speak in the heat of My zeal against the remainder of the surrounding nations, especially against all Edom, who allotted My land to themselves with the utmost joy and with utter contempt, so that they might hold it as booty. ⁶Therefore prophesy concerning the land of Israel, and say to the mountains and to the hills, to the ravines and to the valleys, Thus says the LORD God: Behold, I will speak in my wrathful jealousy, because you have suffered the reproach of the nations. ⁷Therefore, thus says the LORD God: I swear with My uplifted hand^u that the nations which are around you shall themselves bear their reproach.

⁸But you, mountains of Israel, shall put forth your branches and yield your fruit for My people Israel; for they shall soon be coming home.^v ⁹For see, I am for you, and I will turn to you, and you shall be tilled and sown; ¹⁰I will multiply you into a large population, the whole house of Israel, all of it;^w your cities shall be inhabited and the ruins rebuilt. ¹¹I will multiply in the land both man and beast; they shall increase and be fruitful; and I will populate you as of old, and I will do even better to you than during your early days.^x Then you shall know that I am the LORD. ¹²Yes, I will allow men to travel over you;^y My people Israel shall possess

p) The Edomites of Mt. Seir probably hoped, in Israel's humiliation, to seize some of their territory. q) Mt. Seir and Canaan.

r) Ch. 36 follows ch. 35 naturally; as Edom is weakened, Israel will prosper.

s) In particular, the Edomites. t) "Because" is repeated for emphasis, as in 13:10.

u) An established custom when making covenants.

v) Israel's return from Babylon was imminent. Jeremiah had named 70 years as the length of their captivity [Jer. 29:10]; Jerusalem was without a temple 70 years [586-516 B.C.].

w) Including both Judah and northern Israel [cf. 11:15; 20:40]; the unity of the whole nation is emphasized by Ezekiel.

x) The land is implicitly depicted here as bereaved by their historic losses.

y) Over the land, doing business.

you; you shall be their inheritance, and no longer shall you make them childless.¹³ Thus says the LORD God: Because men taunt you, declaring that you are a land which devours its population,^z ¹⁴you shall no longer diminish the number of men and no longer bereave your nation [of children], says the LORD God. ¹⁵I will no longer make you hear the sneer of the nations, and you shall no more bear the reproach of peoples, and no longer shall you make your people stumble,^a says the LORD God.

¹⁶The word of the LORD came to me:^b ¹⁷Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their ways and their doings, their worship being to Me as the uncleanness of a woman in her impurity.^c ¹⁸So I poured out My fury on them because of the blood which they had shed in the land and for the defilement, which they had brought upon it through their idols.^d ¹⁹I scattered them among the nations, and they were dispersed over the countries; for according to their ways and their doings, I judged them. ²⁰When they came to the nations whither they went, they profaned My holy name, for men said of them, "These are the people of the LORD, yet they had to leave His land!" ²¹But I had concern for My holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the nations whither they went.

²²Therefore say to the house of Israel, Thus says the LORD God: It is not for your sakes, house of Israel, that I am about to act, but for My holy name,^e which you have profaned among the nations to which you came. ²³I will vindicate My great name, which has been profaned among the nations, and which you have profaned

among them; and the nations shall know that I am the LORD, says the LORD God, when, through you, I vindicate My holiness^f before their eyes. ²⁴For I will lead you from among the nations, gather you from all the countries, and bring you into your own land. ²⁵I will sprinkle clean water upon you, and you will be cleansed from all your impurities; from all your idols I will purify you. ²⁶A new heart,^g too, I will give you, and a new spirit I will put within you. I will take the heart of stone out of your flesh, and I will give you a heart of flesh. ²⁷I will put My Spirit within you and cause you to walk in My statutes, and you shall observe My ordinances and do them. ²⁸You shall live in the land which I gave your fathers; you shall be My people, and I will be your God; ²⁹I will also save you from all your impurities. I will command the grain, to make it abundant, allowing no famine to overtake you. ³⁰I will multiply the fruit of the tree and the produce of the field, that you may no more be reproached by the nations for famine.^h ³¹Then you will remember your evil ways and your doings which were not good, and you will loathe yourselves in your own sight because of your iniquities and your abominations.ⁱ ³²It is not for your sake that I do this, says the LORD God. Be that known to you. Be ashamed and confounded for your ways, O house of Israel!

³³Thus says the LORD God: On the day that I cleanse you from all your iniquities, I will cause the cities to be inhabited, and the waste places to be rebuilt. ³⁴The acreage that was left desolate shall once more be cultivated in the sight of all those who pass by. ³⁵They shall say, "This soil that was

z) The land of Israel has always had thin soil and is subject to droughts, blasting mildew, and locusts [cf. Jer. 14]. The land itself is being addressed. a) Offering their children to idols.

b) Vss. 16-38 are read by the Jews as the prophetic lesson in the worship of Sabbaths, in the synagogues. He who has power to punish has power also to restore. c) A figure for idolatry.

d) Though Israel must be punished, yet they must also be restored and sanctified, that the Lord's name may be held in honor.

e) Israel's exile was, to the nations, a reflection upon Israel's God, detracting from His power and majesty. Vss. 22-32 are among the most spiritual in the O.T.; implicitly they point to a promised Messiah. f) "Holiness" in the O.T. means uniqueness, separation from all other gods.

g) A "new heart" implies a new nature or attitude spiritually, inspired by the Lord's active energy [cf. Isa. 42:1; 59:21].

h) Ezekiel, here and in 34:27, makes the noteworthy fertility of the soil and fruit trees one of the tokens of the coming age.

i) Repeated from 20:43. In the doctrine of the "new birth," Jesus explained how obedience to His ordinances becomes possible.

barren is become like the garden of Eden; the waste, desolate, and devastated cities are again fortified and inhabited." ³⁶Then the nations that are left around you shall know that I, the LORD, have rebuilt the broken-down places and replanted the desolate wastes. I, the LORD, have spoken, and I will do it.

³⁷Thus says the LORD God: This, too, I will let the house of Israel ask Me to do for them — to make their population as numerous as a flock, ³⁸as large flocks for sacrifices, as the flocks at Jerusalem during the appointed feasts; so shall the waste cities be filled with crowds of men,^j and they will know that I am the LORD.

37 THE HAND OF THE LORD CAME upon me, and by His Spirit the LORD brought me out and set me down in a valley which was full of bones.^k ²He led me all around them; and observe, there were very many on the surface of the valley; and see, they were very dry.^l ³He said to me: Son of man, can these bones live? I answered, "LORD God, Thou knowest." ⁴Then He said to me: Prophecy over these bones. Say to them, You dry bones, hear the word of the LORD. ⁵Thus says the LORD God to these bones: Notice! I will put breath into you, and you shall live. ⁶I will lay sinews upon you, clothe you with flesh, cover you with skin, put breath in you, and you shall live; and you shall know that I am the LORD.

⁷So I prophesied as I was ordered; and as I prophesied, there was a noise, a rattling;^m and see, the bones were uniting, bone to its [fitting] bone. ⁸And as I looked on, see, sinews came upon them, and flesh, and then skin covered them; but there was no breath in them. ⁹Then He said to me: Prophecy to the wind;ⁿ prophesy, son of man, and say to the wind, Thus says the LORD God: Come from the four winds, O Spirit, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live. ¹⁰So I prophesied as He had ordered me, and breath came into them; they lived and stood on their feet, an unusually large army.

¹¹Then He said to me: Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel.^o Yet they continue to say, "Our bones are dried up, our hope is lost, and we are completely done for!" ¹²Therefore prophesy. Say to them, Thus says the LORD God: Take note! I will open your graves, raise you from your graves, and bring you into the land of Israel. ¹³You shall know that I am the LORD when I have opened your graves, My people, and brought you up out of your graves. ¹⁴I will put My Spirit within you, and you shall live. I will settle you in your own land, and you shall know that I, the LORD, have said it and have done it, says the LORD.^p

¹⁵The word of the LORD came to me: ¹⁶Son of man, take a stick and write on it, "For Judah and adhering Israelites."^q Then take another stick and write on it, "For Joseph and the house of Israel." ¹⁷Join them together into one stick that they may become one stick in your hand. ¹⁸When your people say to you, "Will you not show us what you mean by these?" ¹⁹say to them, Thus says the LORD God: See, I am about to take the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel associated with him; and I will join with it the stick of Judah, making them a single stick so that they are united in My hand. ²⁰Then holding the sticks on which you have written in your hand before their eyes, ²¹say to them, Thus says the LORD God: Observe! I am taking

j) According to Josephus, there were about 120,000 priests attached to the temple worship in the first century A.D. Ezekiel was a priest as well as a prophet.

k) This vision is a marvel of brevity and vividness. The prophet pictures the nation as dead, but the new Israel as its resurrection, a resurrection of the nation; yet a nation composed of individuals. (Cf. Isa. 26:19; Hos. 6:2; 13:14). In vs. 12 they are represented as brought out of their graves. l) A veritable valley of death!

m) Like the trembling of nature in an earthquake; the vision of a revival service rather than that of a cemetery.

n) The Hebrew word ruach means either "wind" or "breath" or "spirit," according to context.

o) Of the entire nation, not of the Judean exiles only.

p) Such faith was reborn in Israel's exile. The vision of "Dry Bones" meant more to Ezekiel than restoration to Canaan — the sanctifying of their whole national life.

q) "Judah" standing for the southern kingdom of Israel; "Joseph" for Ephraim and the northern.

the children of Israel from among the nations whither they are gone and will gather them from every quarter and bring them into their own land; ²²and I will make them one nation in the land, upon the mountains of Israel. One king^r shall be king over them all. They shall no longer be two nations and no longer divided into two kingdoms. ²³Neither shall they defile themselves any more with their idols, their foul practices, and all their other transgressions; for I will save them from all their sinful apostasies and will purify them; so shall they be My people, and I will be their God. ²⁴My servant David shall be king over them. They shall all have one shepherd and shall follow My ordinances, obey My statutes, and practice them. ²⁵They shall dwell in the land which I gave Jacob My servant, the land in which their fathers lived. They shall home in it, they and their children and their children's children forever, and David My servant shall be their prince forever. ²⁶I will make with them a covenant of peace; it shall be for them an everlasting covenant.^a I will bless them and multiply them, and I will set My sanctuary in the midst of them for all time. ²⁷My dwelling place shall be with them;^t I will be their God, and they shall be My people. ²⁸When My sanctuary remains established among them, then the nations shall know that I, the LORD, sanctify Israel.

38 THE WORD OF THE LORD CAME to me: ²Son of man, set your face toward Gog,^u of the land of Magog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophesy against him. ³Say, Thus says the LORD God: Look, I am against you, Gog, chief prince of Meshech and Tubal. ⁴I will turn you around and put hooks in your jaws and lead you out with your whole army, your horses and horsemen, all clad in full armor, a great host, equipped with buckler and shield, and wielding swords. ⁵With them are Persia, Ethiopia, and Put,^v all of them supplied with shields and helmets; ⁶Gomer^w and all his hordes; the house of Togarmah and all their troops from the north and many others with you. ⁷Prepare and hold yourself in readiness, you and all your host mustered around you, and be a guide for them. ⁸After many days you will be called up for service; and in the end of the years you will march against the land that has recovered from war and is occupied by people, now living in security, all of them, brought together from the nations in the mountains of Israel, which had become a perpetual wilderness. ⁹You will advance, coming on like a storm and covering the land like a cloud, you and all your hordes and many people with you.

¹⁰Thus says the LORD God: It shall be in that day^x that ideas shall come to mind, and you shall concoct an evil device. ¹¹You will say, "I will march against the land of villages, and I will fall upon the quiet people who dwell securely without walls to defend them, without bars or gates, ¹²and I will seize booty and carry it away as plunder, assailing the waste places now inhabited and the people who were gathered from the nations, who have become possessed of cattle and goods and who dwell at the center of the earth."^y ¹³Sheba and Dedan^z and the merchants of Tarshish, the traders and all the mighty ones,^a will say to you, "Have you come to seize spoil? Have you as-

r) Only here and in vs. 24 does Ezekiel use the word "king" as the ideal ruler of Israel's coming age; even in vs. 25 he uses the word "prince." Christ is the realization of the prophet's prediction.

s) When as a united nation they are restored and their sanctuary is established as the center of their national life, radiating holiness throughout the nation.

t) The LORD's presence in the sanctuary brings Him and heaven down to earth. In the O.T. man is not thought of as dwelling in the heavenlies with God; God comes down to dwell with man.

u) Gog seems to descend into Palestine from the far north as the representative of heathen barbarians. In Rev. 20:7-9 Gog and Magog are depicted as destined to break in hostility to the Church. They are not mentioned elsewhere in the Bible. Could it be Russia?

v) Persians, Ethiopians, and East Africans.

w) The Cimmerians, who originally dwelt north of the Black Sea.

x) This prophetic phrase occurs nowhere else in the book of Ezekiel. The "day" is that of Gog's invasion. y) Literally, "the navel of the earth" [cf. 5:5].

z) Both Sheba and Dedan were great trading centers in Arabia.

a) Literally, "all their young lions."

sembled your forces to take prey, to carry away silver and gold, to drive away cattle, and to seize goods?"

¹⁴Therefore, son of man, prophesy. Say to Gog, Thus says the LORD God: On that day, when My people Israel are dwelling in security, you will bestir yourself ¹⁵and come from your place out of the far north, you and the many peoples with you, all of them riding on horses, a great host and a mighty army; ¹⁶and you will come against My people Israel like a cloud covering the land. It shall be in the latter days that I will bring you against My land, so that the nations may recognize Me, when through you, Gog, I vindicate My holiness before their eyes.^b

¹⁷Thus says the LORD God: You are those of whom I spoke in former days by My servants, the prophets of Israel, who prophesied for years in those days, through whom I threatened to bring you against them.^c ¹⁸And on that day, the day when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, says the LORD God, My anger shall come up into My nostrils. ¹⁹For in My jealousy and in the fire of My indignation, I have spoken: Surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel; ²⁰the fish of the sea, the birds of the air, the beasts of the field, all creatures that creep upon the ground, and all people that live on the face of the earth, shall quake at My presence. The mountains shall be thrown down; cliffs shall fall, and walls shall tumble to the ground.^d ²¹I will then summon the sword against him^e on all My mountains, says the LORD God; every man's sword shall be against his brother. ²²With pestilence and with blood I will enter into judgment with him, and I will pour upon him, upon his hordes, and upon all the nations in his train, floods of rain accompanied by hailstones, fire, and brimstone. ²³Thus I will manifest My greatness and My holiness and make Myself known in the eyes of many nations; they will know that I am the LORD.^f

39 SON OF MAN, PROPHECY AGAINST Gog. Say, Thus says the LORD God: Look! I am against you, Gog, chief prince of Meshech and Tubal. ²I will turn you around and drive you on to leave the extreme north, so as to bring you to the mountains of Israel: ³then I will strike your bow from your left hand and will make your arrows drop out of your right hand. ⁴You shall fall upon the mountains of Israel, you and all your hordes and your many allies, and I will give you to the birds of prey of every sort and to the beasts of the field to be devoured. ⁵You shall fall in the open field; for I have said it, says the LORD God. ⁶I will send fire on Magog^g and on those who dwell securely in the coastlands; and they shall know that I am the LORD. ⁷I will make known My holy name in the midst of My people Israel, and I will no longer allow My holy name to be profaned. So shall the nations^h know that I am the LORD, the Holy One of Israel. ⁸Behold, it comes! It shall be done, says the LORD; this is the day I predicted.

⁹Then shall those who live in the cities of Israel go out and make fires of their weapons, the shields and bucklers, bows and arrows, the handpikes and the spears. For seven years they shall make fires of them; ¹⁰they shall not gather wood from the fields or cut it in the forests, but they shall make fuel of the weapons; thus they shall despoil those who despoiled them and plunder those who plundered them, says the LORD God.

¹¹On that day I will give Gog a place for burial in Israel, the valley of the travelers, east of the sea. It will block the road for all who travel that way; for there Gog and his whole army will

b) Gog comes up of his own accord; at the same time the LORD says, "I will bring you up against My land." Thus the divine purpose overrules Gog's base motives and uses them.

c) Note Isa. 17:12; Jer. 4:6 ff.; Joel 2:2; Zeph. 1:14, 15; 3:8.

d) Zech. 12:2 ff. describes similar apocalyptic accompaniments; both animate and inanimate nature are involved. e) Gog [vs. 14; ch. 39:1].

f) The LORD reveals Himself in destruction and in blessing [cf. 37:28].

g) Magog here seems to be the name of a people; the prophet probably intended to include those also of the nations that made up Gog's great army.

h) The destruction of Gog and Magog will be a revelation to the Gentiles of the LORD's holiness, as well as to Israel.

be buried; it will be called, "the Valley of Gog's Host." ¹²For seven months the house of Israel will be burying them, so that the land may be thoroughly cleansed. ¹³All the people of the land will be burying them; it will bring them renown on the day that I show My glory, says the LORD God. ¹⁴They will set apart certain men, definitely commissioned to traverse the whole land searching for those who remained on top of the ground unburied, to bury them and to cleanse the land; they will begin their search at the end of seven months. ¹⁵As they pass through the land and one notices human bones, he shall set up a markerⁱ beside it, till the gravediggers bury it in the Valley of Gog's Host. ¹⁶A city named "Multitude" is there. Thus they shall cleanse the land.

¹⁷And for you, son of man, thus says the LORD God: Speak to the birds of every feather and to all the beasts of the field. Say, Assemble yourselves and come, gather from every quarter to the great sacrificial feast^j that I am preparing for you upon the mountains of Israel, at which you shall eat flesh and drink blood. ¹⁸You shall eat the flesh of warriors and drink the blood of princes of the earth — of rams, of lambs, of goats, and of bulls, all of them fatlings of Bashan. ¹⁹You shall eat fat^k until you are glutted and drink blood^k until you are drunk, at the sacrificial feast which I am preparing for you; ²⁰you shall be sated at My table with horses and riders, warriors and soldiers of every sort, says the LORD God.

²¹Thus I will manifest My glory among the nations; all the nations shall see the judgments that I execute and the hand which I have laid on them. ²²From that day onwards the house of Israel shall know that I am the LORD their God. ²³And the nations shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity, because they dealt treacherously toward Me; for which reason I hid My face from them and gave them into the hand of their adversaries; and they fell, all of them, by the sword. ²⁴According to their uncleanness and transgressions I dealt thus with them and hid My face from them.

²⁵Therefore,^l says the LORD God: I will reverse the captivity of Jacob^m and have mercy on the whole house of Israel; I will be jealous for My holy name. ²⁶They shall forget their shameⁿ and all the treachery they have practiced against Me, when they are settled and undisturbed in their own land, ²⁷when I have brought them back from the peoples and gathered them from the lands of their enemies and through them I have vindicated My holiness in the sight of many nations. ²⁸They shall know that I am the LORD their God^o in that I have caused them to go into exile among the nations and have now gathered them into their own land. I will never leave any of them alone again, ²⁹nor any longer hide My face from them, for on the house of Israel I have poured out My Spirit, says the LORD God.

40 IN THE TWENTY-FIFTH YEAR OF our exile, in the beginning of the year, on the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after the city had been smitten, on that very day the hand of the LORD was upon me, ²and in visions of God He brought me into the land of Israel. He set me down on a very high mountain, on the south side of which there was laid out something like a city.^p ³When He brought me to it, behold, there was a man, whose appearance was like shining bronze, with a linen tape and a measuring reed in his hand, standing

i) Probably an upturned stone, or cairn.

j) Not merely a sacrifice, but a sacrificial meal; based probably on Isa. 34:6, and influencing the writer in Rev. 19:17-21.

k) The "fat" and "blood" of sacrifices were regarded as most holy, because they were the seat of life, the choicest physical gift of God (cf. 44:15).

l) The prophet concludes with a profound sense of the Lord's Deity.

m) Ezekiel seldom uses the name "Jacob" [20:5], but then as a parallel with Israel, including the whole nation. n) With self-reproach [16:63].

o) This is the major truth taught by Ezekiel through the whole book.

p) Having portrayed in chs. 34-37 his ideal of the coming age, the prophet as a priest shows his deep concern for a place of worship.

in the gateway. ⁴The man^q said to me, "Son of man, look with your eyes, hear with your ears, and take to heart all that I shall show you; for you were brought here so that I might show it to you; then go and tell the house of Israel all that you see." ⁵Observe, a wall ran all around the outside of the building,^r and in the hand of the man standing there was a measuring reed, 10½ feet long by the longer measure;^s so he measured the thickness of the wall, one reed in breadth, and the height one reed.

⁶Then he brought me to the gateway looking east.^t Going up its steps, he measured the threshold of the gate, one reed broad, and the other threshold, one reed broad. ⁷Each guard room was one reed long and one reed broad; and the space between the guard rooms, 8¾ feet; and the threshold of the gate by the vestibule of the gate at the inner end, one reed. ⁸He also measured the vestibule of the gateway leading into the building, one reed; then the vestibule, 14 feet; ⁹the jambs^u on either side of the gateway porch being 3½ feet wide, and the porch of the gate was inside. ¹⁰The three guard rooms of the east gate were on each side, all of the same dimensions; and the jambs between them were all of the same size. ¹¹Then he measured the breadth of the gateway, 17½ feet, and the length of the gateway, 22¾ feet. ¹²In front of each guard room there was a platform, 1¾ feet square; the guard rooms themselves being 10½ feet square. ¹³Then he measured the gate from roof to roof of the guard rooms, a breadth of 43¾ feet from door to door. ¹⁴He measured the vestibule, too, which was 35 feet in length; and around the vestibule was the inner court. ¹⁵From the front of the gateway at the entrance to the inner front was 87½ feet.^v ¹⁶The gateway had latticed windows all around, which were beveled inward toward the jambs between the guard rooms; the vestibule, too, had windows all around, and on the jambs were palm-tree^w decorations.

¹⁷Then he brought me into the outer court; and see, there were chambers and a pavement around the court, thirty chambers fronting on the pavement.^x ¹⁸The lower pavement, which was on a different level from that around the temple, ran along before the gates, as broad as they were long. ¹⁹Then he measured the breadth of the court from the inner front of the lower gate to the outer front of the inner court, 175 feet, on the east side and the north side.

²⁰He also brought me to the north gate of the outer court and measured its length and its breadth. ²¹This gate had three guard rooms on each side, with jambs and vestibule of the same size as that of the first gate; it was 87½ feet in length and 43¾ feet in breadth. ²²And it had windows, a vestibule, and palm trees, of the same size as those of the east gate. It was reached by a stairway of seven steps, and its vestibule was on the inside. ²³Opposite the gate on the north, as on the east, was a gate to the inner court; and he measured from gate to gate, 175 feet.

²⁴Then he led me southward; and look, there was a gate facing south. He measured its jambs and its vestibule and found they were the same size as the others. ²⁵There were windows too about the gate and its vestibule, of the same size as the others. It was 87½

q) The prophet Zechariah, too, had an interpreting angel [Zech. 1:9 ff.; cf. Rev. 21:15].

r) The whole temple area with its courts and chambers.

s) The Hebrew standard of measurement was the cubit, the length from the elbow to the end of the middle finger, which equals 1½ feet. But Ezekiel refers to the longer cubit, a hand-breadth [¾ foot more], so that six such cubits are six times 1¾ feet, or 10½ feet. These longer cubits are applied in these temple measurements. We express our measurements in inches and feet—21 inches to Ezekiel's cubit.

t) The east gate was a most important entrance to the temple area, for the Holy of Holies faced east.

u) From French jambe, "leg," corresponding to our "post," but usually large, of column type.

v) The total length of the gateway, from east to west, was 87½ feet; the building was thus twice as long as broad.

w) The palm was especially sacred to the Oriental in the decoration of temples; Solomon's temple was adorned with palms [1 Kings 7:36].

x) Thus creating a colonnade around the court. These chambers were used as storerooms, the four corner rooms being kitchens or "boiling places," used on festival occasions.

feet long and $43\frac{3}{4}$ feet wide. ²⁶It too had a stairway of seven steps; its vestibule was on the inside, and it had palm trees on its jambs, one on each side. ²⁷The inner court had a gateway on its south side, corresponding to the south gate of the outer court. He measured from gate to gate, 175 feet.

²⁸He further brought me to the inner court⁷ by the south gate, and he measured the south gate. It was of the same size as the others ²⁹and its guard rooms, its jambs, and its vestibule were of the same size as the others; and there were windows all around in it and in its vestibule; its length was $87\frac{1}{2}$ feet and its breadth $43\frac{3}{4}$ feet. ³⁰There were vestibules round about, and its vestibule was $43\frac{3}{4}$ feet long and $8\frac{3}{4}$ feet broad. ³¹The vestibule faced the outer court. It had palm trees on its jambs, and its stairway had eight steps.

³²Then he took me to the inner court² on the east side; and he measured the gate, which was the same size as the others. ³³Its guard rooms, jambs, and vestibule were of the same size as the others. The gate and its vestibule had windows all around; it was $87\frac{1}{2}$ feet long and $43\frac{3}{4}$ feet broad. ³⁴Its vestibule faced the outer court and palm trees were on its posts, both sides; and its stairway had eight steps.

³⁵Then he led me to the north gate and measured it ³⁶with its guard rooms, jambs, and vestibule of the same size as the others. It also had windows all around and was $87\frac{1}{2}$ feet long by $43\frac{3}{4}$ feet broad. ³⁷Its vestibule faced the outer court; it had palm trees on its posts, one on either side; and its stairway had eight steps.

³⁸There was one chamber with its door opening into the vestibule of the gate, where the victims of the burnt offerings were washed. ³⁹In the vestibule of the gate there were two tables on each side, on which the burnt offerings,

the sin offerings, and the guilt offerings were slaughtered.^a ⁴⁰On the outside of the vestibule at the entrance of the north gate were two tables, and on the other side of the vestibule of the gate were two tables. ⁴¹Four tables were on the inside, and four tables were on the outside of the gateway, in all eight tables, on which the sacrifices were cut up and made ready. ⁴²There were also four tables of hewn stone for the burnt offering, $2\frac{3}{8}$ feet long, and $2\frac{3}{8}$ feet broad, and $1\frac{3}{4}$ feet high, on which the instruments, used in the preparation of the sacrifices, could be laid. ⁴³Hooks, 3 inches long, were fastened all around on the inside of the vestibule, on which to hang the flesh of the sacrifices.

⁴⁴Outside the gate to the inner court, there were two chambers in the inner court, one by the north gate, facing south, and the other by the south gate, facing north. ⁴⁵He said to me, "This chamber, facing south, is for the priests who have charge of the house; ⁴⁶the other chamber, facing north, is for the priests, the sons of Zadok, who have charge of the altar; they among the sons of Levi may approach the LORD to minister to Him."^b ⁴⁷Then he measured the court, a perfect square, 175 feet long and 175 feet broad; and the altar was in front of the temple.

⁴⁸He then brought me to the vestibule of the temple and measured the jambs of the vestibule, which were $8\frac{3}{4}$ feet thick on each side. The breadth of the gate was $24\frac{1}{2}$ feet and the breadth of its sides, each $5\frac{1}{4}$ feet. ⁴⁹The length of the vestibule was 35 feet, and the breadth $19\frac{1}{4}$ feet. Ten steps led up to it, and there were two pillars beside the jambs one on each side.^c

41 HE THEN TOOK ME INTO THE nave of the temple, and he measured the jambs on each side,

y) Solomon's temple had only one court, but one court was not enough [Ezek. 43:7-9]; in this temple there must be one for the use of the laity and an inner one for the priests [Ezek. 44:7 ff; 46:3].

z) The inner court stood on a higher level than the outer one, to express, probably, an ascending scale of holiness and separation.

a) The Hebrew word, translated "slaughtered" here, refers to the care and manipulation of the flesh of these offerings rather than to the actual killing, which took place outside.

b) The distinction in ranks of the priesthood seems to have arisen in the days of Josiah [1 Kings 23:8, 9].

c) In Solomon's temple there were two pillars, Jachin and Boaz [1 Kings 7:21]. Two great pillars still stand at the entrance to the "Great High Place" of Petra in Edom of Mt. Seir.

which were $10\frac{1}{2}$ feet thick. ²The breadth of the entrance was $17\frac{1}{2}$ feet, the leaves of each door being $8\frac{3}{4}$ feet. Then he measured the nave, which was 70 feet long and 35 feet broad. ³He then entered the inner room and measured the jambs of the door, which were $3\frac{1}{2}$ feet thick, while the width of the entrance was $10\frac{1}{2}$ feet; and the sidewalls of the entrance were $12\frac{1}{4}$ feet on each side. ⁴Then he measured the [inner] room,^d which was 35 feet long and 35 feet broad at the front of the nave. He said to me, "This is the Holy of Holies."^e ⁵Then he measured the wall of the temple, $10\frac{1}{2}$ feet thick, with side chambers 7 feet broad all around the house. ⁶These side chambers were three stories high, one over another, thirty in each story. They were attached to the wall of the temple on joints that were not inserted in the wall of the house.^f ⁷These side chambers increased in width as they rose upward; so in ascending, one went up from the lowest chamber to the highest by the middle chamber. ⁸I noticed a raised platform surrounding the temple on which the foundations of the chambers also rested, full $10\frac{1}{2}$ feet high. ⁹The thickness of the wall for the side chambers on the outside was $8\frac{3}{4}$ feet, and the part of the platform left free was $8\frac{3}{4}$ feet, ¹⁰leaving a 35-foot space between the side rooms and the service rooms on every side. ¹¹The doors of the side chambers opened on a free space, one door to the north and another to the south; and the open space was $8\frac{3}{4}$ feet broad all around the temple.

¹²The building^g which faced the temple yard on the west side was $122\frac{1}{2}$ feet broad; the wall of the building was $8\frac{3}{4}$ feet thick round about and its length $157\frac{1}{2}$ feet.

¹³Then he measured the temple, 175 feet long, including the yard with its building and walls, 175 feet long;

¹⁴and the east front of the house with the yard was 175 feet broad. ¹⁵Then he measured the building on the west side of the yard with its walls on either side, 175 feet long. The nave, the inner temple, and the vestibule ¹⁶were roofed over, and all three had latticed windows all around. The inside walls of the temple were paneled with wood from the floor to the windows and from the windows to the roof, ¹⁷including the space over the door leading to the inner room, inside and out. And on all the walls round about and on the nave there were carved likenesses ¹⁸of cherubs and of palm trees,^h a palm tree alternating with every cherub. Each cherub had two faces, ¹⁹a man's face looking to the palm tree on one side, and a lion's face looking to the palm tree on the other side. They were carved all around the temple. ²⁰From the floor to the roof there were carved cherubim and palm trees on all walls.

²¹As for the temple, the doorposts were squared, and in front of the holy place was something resembling ²²an altar of wood;ⁱ it was $5\frac{1}{4}$ feet high and $3\frac{1}{2}$ feet long, its corners, its base, and its sides being all of wood. He said to me, "This is the altar-like table which stands before the LORD."^j ²³Both the nave and the holy place had double doors, ²⁴each door having two swinging leaves. ²⁵On the doors of the nave were carved cherubs and palm trees, such as were carved on the walls; and there was a canopy of wood over the front of the vestibule outside. ²⁶There also were recessed windows with palm trees on either sidewall of the vestibule. Thus were the side chambers of the house, and the thresholds.

42 THEN HE LED ME OUT INTO THE outer court northward to the chambers extending along the side of the temple, facing its yard and the

d) Ezekiel, a priest as well as a prophet, does not enter the most holy place with his guide; the angel alone enters.

e) To express the superlative degree, the Hebrews often repeated the same word, thus "Holy of Holies," "Lord of lords," "Song of songs," "heaven of heavens."

f) These were not an integral portion of the temple building [cf. I Kings 6:6].

g) The purpose of this building is not stated; possibly it was an open summerhouse.

h) Solomon's temple was so decorated [I Kings 6:29], the cherubim symbolizing the guardians of God's dwelling place.

i) This was the only piece of furniture inside the temple; it is called an altar in I Kings 6:20 [in the Septuagint].

structure to the north. ²The length of the building on the north side was 175 feet and its breadth 87½ feet. ³Adjoining the 35 feet which belonged to the inner court and facing the pavement which belonged to the outer court, rose the chambers with galleries¹ three stories high. ⁴Before the chambers was a passageway 17½ feet wide and 175 feet long, their doors opening to the north. ⁵The upper chambers were narrower because the gangways took from them more than from those of the lower and the middle stories, ⁶and the three stories had no pillars like the rooms in the outer court; hence the upper chambers were set back more than those on the ground floor. ⁷There was a wall outside, parallel to the chambers in the outer court, 87½ feet long; ⁸for the chambers in the outer court were 87½ feet, while those opposite the temple were 175 feet long. ⁹From under these chambers, as one approached them from the outer court, was the entrance on the east side.

¹⁰On the south side, in front of the yard and the outer wall of its building, there was another row of chambers, ¹¹with a passage in front of them, similar to the chambers facing north, of the same length and breadth, with like exits, arrangements, and doors, ¹²facing the south. There was a door too at the head of the passage in front of the outer wall as one approached it from the east.

¹³He said to me, "The north chambers and the south chambers facing the yard are the holy chambers, where the priests who approach the LORD shall eat the most holy offerings and where they may deposit the most holy offerings, the cereal offerings, the sin offerings, and the guilt offerings; for the place is holy. ¹⁴When the priests enter in, they shall not go out of the holy place into the outer court, without laying off the clothes there in which they have been ministering, for these are holy; they shall put on other clothes, in which they shall approach the part of the building open to the people."^k ¹⁵When he had finished measuring the interior of the temple, he led me out by the gate facing east and measured the whole building all around. ¹⁶First he measured the east side, 875 feet by the measuring reed. ¹⁷Then he turned and measured the north side, 875 feet by the measuring reed. ¹⁸Then he turned and measured the south side, 875 feet by the measuring reed. ¹⁹Then he turned and measured the west side, 875 feet by the measuring reed. ²⁰On the four sides he measured it. There was a wall about it on all four sides, 875 feet long and 875 feet broad,¹ to separate the sacred from the secular.

43 AFTERWARD HE BROUGHT ME to the gate looking east, ²and behold, the glory of the God^m of Israel came from the east. The sound of His coming was like the sound of many waters, and the earth beamed with His glory. ³The vision which I saw was like the appearance I had seen when He came to destroy the city and like the vision which I saw by the river Chebar; and I fell face downward. ⁴The glory of the LORD entered the temple by the gate facing east; ⁵then the Spirit caught me up and brought me into the inner court, and the glory of the LORD filled the temple.

⁶I heard Him speaking to me out of the temple, while the man stood by me. ⁷He said to me: Son of man, this is the place of My throne, the place of the soles of My feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel forever. The house of Israel shall no more defile My holy name, neither they nor their kings, by their harlotry or by the corpses of their wicked kings. ⁸By putting their threshold next to My threshold and their doorposts next to My doorposts with only a wall between

j) There was a gallery on the top story of each block of the chambers facing inward, and the rooms in that story were open in the front without pillars.

k) Holiness was regarded as contagious [cf. Hag. 2:12]. The Hebrew prophets distinguished sharply between the sacred and the common.

l) The heavenly Jerusalem is represented also in Rev. 21:15, 16 as foursquare and surrounded by a wall; but much larger.

m) The prophet had seen the glory of the LORD abandon His former sanctuary [10:19]; now he beholds Him return.

them,ⁿ they sullied My holy name by their abominable practices; so I consumed them in My anger. ⁹Now let them remove their whoredoms and the corpses of their kings far from Me, and I will dwell in the midst of them forever.

¹⁰And you, son of man, picture to the house of Israel the temple, its plan and design, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities. ¹¹And if they are ashamed of their doings, explain to them the construction of the temple, its arrangements, its exits and its entrances, its ordinances, all its arrangements, and all its laws; and write them down in their sight that they may observe the whole constitution and its regulations and do them. ¹²This is the law of the temple: the whole area around the top of the mount is sacred ground.^o Such is the law of the temple.

¹³Here are the special measurements of the altar^p by 21-inch yards: the gutter 21 inches deep and 21 inches wide and along on the outside a ridge 9 inches high. ¹⁴And this shall be the height of the altar; from the top of its base to the lower ledge, 3½ feet and the width, 21 inches; and from the lower ledge to the upper ledge, seven feet, and the width, 21 inches; ¹⁵from this upper ledge to the top of the altar hearth, 7 feet and the width, 21 inches. So the altar shall be 7 feet, and from the altar hearth four horns^q shall project. ¹⁶The altar hearth shall be 21 feet square; ¹⁷the block beneath it 24½ feet square, with a channel about each block of 10½ inches broad and its base 21 inches broad all around. The steps of the altar shall face east.^r

¹⁸Then He said to me, Son of man, thus says the LORD God: These are the regulations for the altar, on the day it is erected to offer burnt offerings and to sprinkle blood against you. ¹⁹You shall give the Levitical priests of the Zadok family, who draw near to minister to Me, says the LORD God, a bullock for a sin offering. ²⁰You shall take some of its blood and put it on the four horns and on the four corners of the ledge and on the border round about; thus you shall cleanse the altar and make atonement for it.^s ²¹Take the bullock for the sin offering, and have it burned at the proper place in the temple area outside the sanctuary. ²²Then on the second day you shall offer a he-goat without blemish for a sin offering; thus the altar shall be cleansed as it was cleansed by the bullock. ²³When you have finished the cleansing, you shall offer a bullock without blemish and a ram from the flock without blemish. ²⁴You shall present them before the LORD, and the priests shall sprinkle salt^t on them and offer them up as a burnt offering to the LORD. ²⁵For seven days you shall provide daily a he-goat as a sin offering; also a bullock and a ram from the flock without blemish shall be provided. ²⁶For seven days you shall continue to make atonement for the altar, to purify and cleanse it, thus consecrating^u it. ²⁷At the end of these days, from the eighth day onward, the priests shall offer your burnt offerings and peace offerings on the altar; and I will accept you, says the LORD God.

44 THEN HE BROUGHT ME BACK TO the outer gate of the sanctuary, which faces east, and it was shut. ²The LORD said to me: This gate shall remain shut; it shall never be opened, and no man shall enter by it; for the LORD, the God of Israel, entered by it; therefore it shall remain closed.^v ³Only the prince, because he is prince, may

n) Solomon's temple had only a wall between it and his palace [cf. I Kings 7:7, 8].

o) Sacred, because the abode of God's presence.

p) The altar was composed of four square stones, one above another, decreasing in breadth and increasing in thickness: the highest being 39 feet square. q) Horns, symbolizing oxen strength.

r) The altars at the Great High Place, at Petra, face east.

s) The blood of the sin offering, applied to the essential parts of the altar, was to expiate and remove the inherent sinfulness of it; for sin infects even material things.

t) Salt signified covenant keeping. "There is salt between us," says the Arab, after eating with another. Therefore they are friends as long as, supposedly, the food they have shared remains in their system — three days!

u) Literally, "filling its hand," a common Hebrew phrase to denote "installing" or "setting apart," applied here metaphorically to the altar.

v) The LORD would not forsake His sanctuary again [43:6]. The Mohammedans have held this east gate of the Temple Area, the Gate Beautiful, closed for centuries.

sit in it, to eat bread before the LORD, entering always by the vestibule and departing the same way.^w

⁴Then He brought me by way of the north gate to the front of the temple; and when I looked, there was the glory of the LORD filling the LORD's temple, and I fell face downward. ⁵The LORD said to me: Son of man, note carefully; see with your eyes, and hear with your ears all that I shall tell you concerning the ordinances of the house of the LORD and all its laws, and mark well those who may be admitted to the sanctuary and who are to be excluded. ⁶Say to the rebellious, to the house of Israel, Thus says the LORD God: O house of Israel, you have committed more than enough abominations ⁷in admitting aliens, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to enter My sanctuary, profaning it, when you offer to Me My food, the fat and the blood. You have thus broken My covenant with all your abominations. ⁸You have not kept proper charge of My holy things, but you have appointed for yourselves keepers to take charge of My sanctuary.

⁹Therefore, thus says the LORD God: No alien,^x uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter My sanctuary of all the aliens that are among the children of Israel. ¹⁰But the Levites, who went far from Me when Israel went astray—who strayed from Me after their idols—they shall bear their punishment. ¹¹They may minister in My temple as guards by My temple gates and as temple servants in slaughtering the burnt offerings for the people and standing before the people to serve them. ¹²But because the Levites ministered to the people before their gods and thereby became a stumbling block of iniquity to the house of Israel, therefore I have sworn with uplifted hand concerning them, says the LORD God, that they shall bear their punishment. ¹³They shall not come near Me to minister as priests to Me or to touch any of My sacred things, but they shall bear their shame because of the abominations which they have committed. ¹⁴Yet I will make them keepers of My house to do all the work and all the service that is to be done in it.

¹⁵But the Levitical priests, the sons of Zadok, who kept the charge of My sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from Me, they shall come near to Me to minister to Me,^y and they shall stand before Me to offer to Me the fat and the blood, says the LORD God; ¹⁶they shall enter My sanctuary, and they shall come near to My table to minister to Me, and they shall keep My charge.

¹⁷It shall be when they enter the gates of the inner court, they shall wear linen garments; they must not wear anything woollen when they are on duty within the gates of the inner court or within the house. ¹⁸They shall have linen turbans on their heads and linen breeches on their loins; they shall not gird themselves with anything that causes sweat. ¹⁹On going out into the outer court to join the people, they shall take off the clothes in which they ministered and deposit them in the sacred chambers; they shall put on other clothes, lest by contact with the people they render them and their clothes consecrated. ²⁰They shall neither shave their heads, nor let their hair grow long;^z they shall trim the hair of their heads. ²¹No priest shall drink wine^a when he enters the inner court. ²²Nor shall he marry a widow or a woman who has been divorced, only a virgin of the house of Israel or the widow of a priest.

²³They shall teach My people the difference between the sacred and the secular and show them how to distin-

w) The prince is to enjoy no priestly rights in the temple.

x) The aliens, in many cases, may have been prisoners of war, who were presented by the kings of Judah to the temple as slaves [cf. Zech. 14:21]. On a tablet, found in the ruins of Herod's temple, death is threatened as a penalty for any alien entering within the balustrade of the building.

y) Setting out the showbread, burning incense, dressing lamps, etc. Zadok and Abiathar, in David's time, represented the two leading families of priests [II Sam. 8:17; 20:25].

z) To let the hair grow long marked a person as under a vow, such as a warrior, or a Nazarite.

a) Ezekiel excludes wine from all the sacred offerings.

guish between the unclean and the clean. ²⁴In cases of legal controversy,^b they shall serve as judges, who shall decide all cases according to My laws. They shall observe My rules and regulations at all My festivals, and they shall maintain the sacredness of My Sabbaths. ²⁵No priest shall contaminate himself by touching the body of a dead person,^c except for a father or mother, for a son or a daughter, for a brother or a sister who has no husband; for them they may defile themselves. ²⁶After defilement he shall reckon for himself seven days, and then he shall be clean. ²⁷On the day that he goes into the holy place, into the inner court to minister in the sanctuary, he shall offer a sin offering for himself, says the LORD God.

²⁸This shall be their heritage; I am their heritage, and you shall give them no possession in Israel, for I am their possession. ²⁹They shall eat the cereal offerings, the sin offerings, and the guilt offerings; and everything devoted to the LORD in Israel shall be theirs. ³⁰The first of all the first-ripe fruits and all the gifts which you give as an oblation shall go to the priests; the first batch of your bakings, too, you shall give the priests, that a blessing may rest on your homes.^d ³¹But of nothing, whether bird or animal, that dies a natural death or has been torn by wild beasts shall the priests eat.

45 WHEN YOU ALLOT THE LAND as an inheritance, you shall set apart for the LORD a district, lifted up from the whole, as a sacred portion,^e approximately 8-1/3 miles long and 6-2/3 miles broad, which shall be sacred throughout its whole extent. ²Of this whole allotment, 875 feet square shall be for the sanctuary, with 87½ feet for an open space around it. ³And in this sacred allotment you shall measure off a section approximately 8-1/3 miles long by 3-1/3 miles broad, in which shall be the sanctuary, the most holy place. ⁴There shall be the holy portions in the land for the priests, who minister in the sanctuary and approach the LORD in ministering to Him; it will furnish room for their houses as well as a holy place for the sanctuary.^f

⁵Another section, about 8-1/3 miles long and 3-1/3 miles broad, shall be for the Levites who serve in the temple, and it shall be their possession for their houses in which to live.^g

⁶Alongside this portion set apart as the holy district, you shall assign as the possession of the city an area about 8-1/3 miles long and 1-2/3 miles broad, which shall belong to the whole house of Israel. ⁷To the prince shall belong the land on both sides of the holy district and of the assignment to the city, on the west and on the east, corresponding in length to one of the tribal portions and extending from the western to the eastern boundary of the land; ⁸this shall be his property in Israel. For My princes shall no longer oppress My people but shall assign the land to the house of Israel according to their tribes.

⁹Thus says the LORD God: Enough, you princes^h of Israel! Have done with violence and oppression; practice justice and righteousness; cease evicting My people from their homes, says the LORD God.

¹⁰You shall have honest scales, an honest bushel and an honest gallon.ⁱ ¹¹The dry and the liquid measures shall be of like standard, the bath containing one-tenth of the ten-bushel homer; the homer shall be the standard measure. ¹²The shekel^j shall be twenty

b) In the administration of justice, the officials of the sanctuary were regarded as well possessed of moral knowledge and legal equity.

c) This natural repugnance was due to the bodily corruption which follows death; but among the Babylonians from fear of demons. d) Mal. 3:10 confirms this promise!

e) As a spiritual center in the Palestine of the future. f) Literally, "a sanctuary for a sanctuary."

g) Aid for the domestic life of the priests was thus provided.

h) The title "king" gives place to "prince" [cf. Ezra 1:8]. Some day the Messiah will be their King.

i) The "ephah" was a dry measure about equal to our bushel; and the "bath" a corresponding liquid measure of approximately nine gallons.

j) The silver shekel was the ordinary unit of weight, a little more than half an ounce, the gerah being one twenty-fourth of a shekel, about 4 cents.

gerahs; five shekels shall be five shekels, and ten shekels shall be ten shekels, and your mina shall be fifty shekels.

¹³This is the contribution which you shall make: one sixth of a bushel from every ten bushels of wheat and a sixth of a bushel from every ten bushels of barley; ¹⁴and as a fixed portion of oil, one percent of the standard measure (the cor, like the homer, containing about ten bushels); ¹⁵one sheep from every flock of two hundred, from all the families of Israel, these to provide for the cereal offering, the burnt offering, and the thank offerings, in order that atonement may be made for them,^k says the LORD God. ¹⁶All the people of the land shall give this offering for the prince in Israel, ¹⁷and it shall be the prince's part to furnish the burnt offerings, the cereal offerings, and the libations at the various festivals — the new moons, the Sabbaths, and all the appointed feasts of the house of Israel. He shall provide the sin offering, the cereal offering, the burnt offering, and the peace offering, to make atonement for the house of Israel.^l

¹⁸Thus says the LORD God: In the first month, on the first day of the month,^m you shall take a bullock without blemish and purify the sanctuary. ¹⁹The priest shall take some of the blood of the sin offering and apply it to the doorposts of the temple, the four corners of the altar ledge and the posts of the gate of the inner court. ²⁰So shall you do, also, in the seventh month, on the first day of the month for anyone who has sinned through error or ignorance, and you shall thus make atonement for the house. ²¹In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, you shall hold the feast of the Passover, and during the feast of seven days unleavened bread shall be eaten. ²²On that day the prince shall provide for himself and for all the people of the land a bullock as a sin offering, ²³and during the seven days of the feast he shall provide, as a burnt offering to the LORD, seven bullocks and seven rams without blemish, on each of the seven days, and a he-goat daily for a sin offering. ²⁴For a cereal offering he shall provide a bushel for each bullock, and a bushel for each ram, with 1½ gallons of oilⁿ for each bushel. ²⁵In the seventh month, on the fifteenth day of the month and during the days of the feast,^o he shall make the same provision for the sin offering, the burnt offering, the cereal offering, and the oil.^p

46 ¹THUS SAYS THE LORD GOD: THE gate of the inner court that faces east shall be closed on the six working days; but it shall be opened on the Sabbath and on the day of the new moon. ²The prince^q shall enter the vestibule of the gate by the porch which is on the outside, pass through the gate and stand by the post of the gate, while the priests offer his burnt offering and his peace offering, worshipping on the inner threshold of the gate and then going out through the gate, which shall not be closed till evening. ³The people of the land likewise shall worship before the LORD at the entrance^r of the same gate on the Sabbaths and at the new moons. ⁴The burnt offering which the prince shall offer to the LORD on the Sabbath day shall be six lambs without blemish and a ram without blemish. ⁵The cereal offering with the ram shall be a bushel and with the lambs as much as each worshiper can afford, with one and

k) For those who brought them.

l) As the ritual act was carried out by the priests, probably the taxes were paid to them.

m) The year was halved, each half beginning with a rite of purification to remove any contamination which might have defiled the sanctuary during the previous six months. The first month was Nisan [March-April]; Tishri that of Sept.-Oct.

n) The cereal offering might consist of crushed grain or meal or cakes. Olive oil was needed to make this flour edible. o) The autumn feast of ingathering.

p) Emphasis was placed on the festivals of April and October. To avoid all tendency to sun-worship, the opening of the east gate of the Temple Area, in spring and autumn for a time, that the rays of the rising sun might penetrate into the heart of the Temple, was discontinued [cf. Ezek. 9:16].

q) The prince, that is the king, is assigned a much humbler position in the temple than what Solomon assumed [1 Kings 8:22].

r) Unlike the prince, the common people are to remain outside the inner eastern gateway. They were allowed only a glimpse through the gateway at the altar and the priests.

a half gallons of oil for each bushel. ⁶On the day of the new moon, he shall offer a bullock without blemish and six lambs and a ram, all of which shall be without blemish. ⁷As a cereal offering he shall provide a bushel for the bullock, a bushel for the ram, and as much as the worshiper can afford for the lambs, with one and a half gallons of oil for each bushel. ⁸When the prince enters, it shall be by way of the vestibule of the gate; and he shall leave by the same way. ⁹But when the people of the land come before the LORD at the appointed feasts,^s he who enters by the north gate to worship shall leave by the south gate, and he who enters by the south gate shall leave by the north gate; no one shall return by the same gate by which he entered, but each shall go out straight ahead. ¹⁰The prince shall go in among them; and when they leave, he shall go out with them.^t

¹¹At the feasts and at appointed festivals the cereal offering shall be a bushel for the bullock, a bushel for the ram, and as much as the individual can afford for the lambs, with one and a half gallons of oil for each bushel.

¹²When the prince offers a freewill offering to the LORD, be it a burnt offering or a peace offering, the gate facing the east shall be opened for him, and he shall offer his burnt offering or his peace offering as he does on the Sabbath day. Then he shall go out, and the gate shall be shut after him.

¹³You shall provide a lamb a year old for a daily burnt offering to the LORD, morning by morning you shall provide it; ¹⁴you shall also provide a cereal offering morning by morning, the sixth^u part of a bushel and half a gallon of oil to besprinkle^v the fine flour, as a cereal offering to the LORD; this is the ordinance for the continual burnt offering. This shall be the standing requirement for the continual burnt offering. ¹⁵Thus the lamb, the cereal offering, and the oil shall be provided, morning by morning, for a continual burnt offering.

¹⁶Thus says the LORD God: When a prince makes a gift to one of his sons, it becomes the son's inheritance; it is his property by right of inheritance. ¹⁷But when the prince makes a gift of part of his inheritance to one of his servants, it shall remain in his possession till the year of release, when it shall return to the prince; only his sons may keep a gift from his inheritance. ¹⁸However, the prince shall not wrest from any of his people the property which belongs to them, thrusting them out of their possession; out of his own property shall he endow his sons; so that My people shall not be evicted every man from his possession.

¹⁹He then took me through the entrance beside the gateway, to the sacred chambers for the priests facing north, and there I saw a place at the extreme westward end of them. ²⁰He said to me: "This is the place where the priests shall boil the guilt offering and the sin offering and where they shall bake the cereal offering, to prevent the necessity of their bringing them into the outer court and rendering the people dedicated."

²¹He then brought me out into the outer court and led me past the four corners of the court; and look, at each corner of the court there was another small court; ²²in the four corners of the court were courts enclosed, all four courts being of the same size, 70 feet long by 52½ feet broad. ²³Around each of the four courts, on the inside, ran a line of masonry with ranges for boiling built into the masonry, under each of the rows all around. ²⁴He said to me, "These are the kitchens, where the ministering Levites of the temple shall boil the sacrifices for the people."^x

s) Passover, Pentecost or Feast of Weeks, and Feast of Booths, with Thanksgiving.

t) On the Sabbaths and the new moon festivals the prince enters and stands by himself; but on the great feasts he goes in and out with the common people.

u) The amount of the cereal offering is here fixed; but the amount required for the Sabbaths and new moons is left optional.

v) The verb in Hebrew rendered here "besprinkle" is usually translated "moisten"; it occurs nowhere else in the O.T.

w) According to Deut. 15, every seven years debts and slaves were released; also, according to Lev. 25:10, every fifty years — the year of jubilee — a release of the land took place, and it returned to the original owner.

x) There were two sets of kitchens connected with the holy area; one for the priests near the temple proper; and another for the people in the four corners of the outer court.

47 HE THEN TOOK ME BACK^y TO the door of the temple,^z and behold, water was issuing from under the threshold of the temple eastward, for the temple faced east; and the water came down from under the right side of the house on the south side of the altar. ²He then brought me out by way of the north gate^a and led me round on the outside of the outer gate that faces east; and see! the water was trickling out on the south side. ³Passing eastward with the measuring line in his hand, the man measured about a third of a mile and made me cross the stream; and the water was ankle-deep. ⁴Again he measured about a third of a mile and made me pass through the water and it was knee-deep. ⁵Again he measured about a third of a mile and made me cross the water, and it was up to the hips. Again he measured about a third of a mile, and it was a flood which I could not cross, for the water had become a river deep enough to swim in, too deep to be crossed on foot.

⁶He said to me, "Have you seen this, son of man?" Then he led me back along the bank of the stream, ⁷and as I went back, look, on the bank of the stream, along both sides of it, I saw many, many trees. ⁸Then he said to me, "These waters are flowing toward the region of the east, descending into the Arabah,^b and when they enter the saline waters of the Dead Sea, those will become fresh. ⁹For wherever the river goes, every swarming creature shall live; fish in great numbers will be there, for as this water reaches there, it makes those [of the Dead Sea] wholesome; everything will live wherever the river goes. ¹⁰Fishermen shall stand on the shores; all the way from Engedi to Eneglaim,^c these will be places to spread their nets; and the varieties of fish shall be many, like the fish of the Great Sea, untold many. ¹¹But its marshes and pools will not become fresh; they shall continue to be given over to salt. ¹²On both sides of the river, there will grow all kinds of trees for food, the leaves of which shall not wither, nor their fruit fail, but they will bear fresh fruit every month, because their water flows from the sanctuary. Their fruit will be for food, and their leaves for healing."^d ¹³Thus says the LORD God: These are the tribal boundaries according to which the land shall be divided among the twelve tribes of Israel for their inheritance. Joseph shall have two portions. ¹⁴It shall be divided equally; for, as I swore with uplifted hand to give this land to your fathers, so shall it fall to you as your inheritance. ¹⁵These, then, are the boundaries of the land: On the north side, from the Great Sea, by way of Hethlon,^e where the road turns to go to Hamath^f and on to Zedad,^g ¹⁶to Berothah, Sibram (on the border between Damascus and Hamath); and Hazarenon,^h on the border of Hauran.ⁱ ¹⁷So the boundary shall run from the sea^j to Hazarenon on the northern border of Damascus and Hamath. This is the northern border.

¹⁸On the east side, the boundary shall run from Hazarenon between Hauran and Damascus, along the Jordan between Gilead and the land of Israel, to the eastern sea,^k and as far as to Tamar.^l This shall be the eastern frontier.

¹⁹The southern frontier shall run from Tamar as far as the waters of

y) The new sanctuary has been rebuilt; the LORD has returned to Jerusalem; His glory has filled the house; it is to become the center of Israel's national life and a source of blessing to the whole country. Even the most arid portions of the land will be transformed.

z) In the inner court. a) The east gate was closed.

b) Today the Arabah is called El-Ghor, "the Depression," applied to the deep Jordan Valley, especially the portion between the Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea.

c) Engedi is identified with the modern fishing point known as Ain Tidi, and Eneglaim as another fishing station with Ain Hailah, both on the north and northwest shores of the Dead Sea.

d) This verse is echoed in Rev. 22:2.

e) The exact location of Hethlon is not known, but probably it was some 25 miles south of Hamath. f) Hamath was on the Orontes River about 115 miles north of Damascus.

g) Zedad toward Damascus. h) Hazarenon was probably near the chief source of the Jordan.

i) Hauran is the great Basaltic region, south of Damascus, generally known as Bashan.

j) Mediterranean. k) Dead Sea. l) Tamar was about 25 miles s.w. of the Dead Sea.

Meribath-kadesh; thence along the Brook of Egypt^m to the Great Sea.^j This is the southern frontier.

²⁰On the west side, the Great Sea shall be the boundary, from the southern frontier to the point at which the northern boundary begins. This is the western frontier.

²¹Thus you shall divide the land among you according to the tribes of Israel. ²²You shall allotⁿ it as an inheritance for yourselves and for the immigrants who permanently reside among you, who have begotten children among you. Such children shall be regarded as native-born children of Israel and shall be allotted an inheritance along with you among the tribes of Israel. ²³In whatever tribe the immigrant^o homes, there you shall assign him his inheritance, says the LORD God.

48 THESE ARE THE NAMES OF THE tribes:^p Beginning from the northern extremity, from the sea by way of Hethlon and the entrance to Hamath, as far as Hazarenon (which is on the northern border of Damascus near Hamath), extending from east to west, Dan, one portion. ²By the border of Dan, from the east side to the west side, Asher, one portion. ³By the border of Asher, from the east side to the west side, Naphtali, one portion. ⁴By the border of Naphtali, from the east side to the west side, Manasseh, one portion. ⁵By the border of Manasseh, from the east side to the west side, Ephraim, one portion. ⁶By the border of Ephraim, from the east side to the west side, Reuben, one portion. ⁷By the border of Reuben, from the east side to the west side, Judah, one portion.

⁸By the border of Judah, from the east side to the west side, shall be the sacred oblation which you shall set apart, about 8-1/3 miles in breadth, and in length equal to one of the tribal portions, from the east side to the west side, with the sanctuary in its center.

⁹The portion which you shall set apart for the LORD shall be about 8-1/3 miles long and 6-2/3 miles wide. ¹⁰Of this sacred allotment the priests shall have a section measuring about 8-1/3 miles in length from east to west, and 3-1/3 miles in breadth from north to south, with the LORD's sanctuary in the midst of it. ¹¹This dedicated section shall be for the priests, the sons of Zadok, who kept My charge and did not go astray, as the Levites did, when the children of Israel went astray. ¹²It shall belong to them as a special portion from the allotment of the land, most sacred, adjoining the frontier of the Levites. ¹³Alongside the allotment of the priests, the Levites shall have a section about 8-1/3 miles in length and 3-1/3 miles in breadth. The whole length shall be about 8-1/3 miles and the breadth 6-2/3 miles. ¹⁴None of this choice portion of the land shall be sold or exchanged or alienated, for it is holy to the LORD.

¹⁵The remaining strip, about 1-2/3 miles in breadth and 8-1/3 miles in length, shall be for common use, for the city, for dwellings and pasture lands, with the city situated in the midst of it. ¹⁶And these shall be the divisions of the city: about 1½ miles on the north side, about 1½ miles on the south side, about 1½ miles on the east side, and about 1½ miles on the west side.^q

¹⁷The city shall have pasture lands, 437½ feet northward, 437½ feet southward, 437½ feet eastward, and 437½ feet westward. ¹⁸The remaining length of an ample 3 miles, along the east and west sides of the sacred portion, shall belong to the city, and its produce shall supply food for the work-

m) Wadi-el-Arish, 50 miles south of Gaza; Kadesh, about 50 miles south of Beersheba.

n) Presumably by lot.

o) This ordinance of Ezekiel goes much further than the statutes of the Pentateuch in its treatment of strangers. Only those circumcised and following divine instructions would be so fraternally treated in Moses' law.

p) The twelve tribes of Israel are all settled on the west side of the Jordan; seven tribes north of the Temple Area, and five south. They are assigned strips of land running from east to west. Levi is not included, but the sons of Joseph, Ephraim and Manasseh, are reckoned as two. Ezekiel assumes that all twelve tribes are united, settled in the land west of the Jordan promised to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and available to their descendants who obey God.

q) The city itself is square [cf. Rev. 21:16]; being equivalent to about six miles in circumference; the walls of modern Jerusalem measure about 2½ miles in circuit.

ers of the city.^r ¹⁹By the workers in the city from all the tribes of Israel it shall be cultivated. ²⁰The whole allotment, consisting of the sacred assignment and the city property, shall be about 8-1/3 miles square. ²¹What remains shall belong to the prince — the land on either side of the sacred allotment and the city property, extending from the holy allotment of 8-1/3 miles square to the east border,^s and west of the allotment of 8-1/3 miles square as far as the western border^t parallel to the tribal portions. The possession of the Levites ²²and the possession of the city shall be in the midst of what belongs to the prince. The prince's portion shall lie between the frontiers of Judah and of Benjamin.^u

²³As for the remaining tribes: from the east side to the west side, Benjamin, one portion. ²⁴By the border of Benjamin, from the east side to the west side, Simeon, one portion. ²⁵By the border of Simeon, from the east side to the west side, Issachar, one portion. ²⁶By the border of Issachar, from the east side to the west side, Zebulun, one portion. ²⁷By the border of Zebu-

lun, from the east side to the west side, Gad, one portion. ²⁸By the border of Gad, the south border of Gad's territory shall run from Tamar^v to the waters of Meribath-kadesh,^w and thence along the Brook of Egypt^x to the Great Sea. ²⁹This is the land which you shall divide by lot as a heritage to the tribes of Israel, and these are their portions, says the LORD God.

³⁰These shall be the gates of the city, each gate bearing the name of one of the tribes of Israel: On the north side's 1½ miles, ³¹three gates, the gate of Reuben, the gate of Judah, and the gate of Levi. ³²On the east side's 1½ miles, three gates, the gate of Joseph, the gate of Benjamin, and the gate of Dan. ³³On the south side's 1½ miles, three gates, the gate of Simeon, the gate of Issachar, and the gate of Zebulun. ³⁴On the west side's 1½ miles, three gates, the gate of Gad, the gate of Asher, and the gate of Naphtali.

³⁵The circumference of the city shall be about six miles. And the name of the city henceforth shall be, THE LORD IS THERE.^y

r) These two plots of ground were in size about equal to five square miles; the district was the possession of the city. s) To the Jordan. t) The Mediterranean.

u) The prince's portion consisted of two parts on the east and on the west of the whole block dedicated to, and surrounding the temple, Benjamin taking the place of Judah to the south of the Holy City. v) Tamar may be Hazaron-tamar, on the west side of the Dead Sea.

w) Meribath-kadesh is best identified with Ain Kadees.

x) "The Brook of Egypt" is very probably Wadi el-Arish, south of Gaza some 50 miles.

y) YAHWEH SHAMMA. The Seer of Rev. 21:3, heard a great voice out of heaven, saying, "Behold, God's dwelling place is among men, and He will dwell with them." The Gospel, beginning with Immanuel GOD WITH US ends with our LORD's promise, "Lo, I am with you always."

THE BOOK OF DANIEL

605 B.C.

1 IN THE THIRD YEAR OF THE REIGN of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, Nebuchadrezzar, king of Babylon came and laid siege to Jerusalem. ²The LORD handed Jehoiakim, king of Judah, over to him with a portion of the utensils of God's house, which he took to the land of Shinar,^a to the house of his god, placing the utensils in his god's treasury.

³The king then ordered Ashpenaz, chief of his eunuchs, to bring in for service in his palace some Israelites of the royal family and of the nobility — ⁴boys without any defects, good-looking, versed in various studies, well informed, with intelligent views, fit to take their place in the royal palace — and to teach them the Chaldean literature and language. ⁵The king appointed for them a daily ration from his menu and of the wine which he usually drank. In this way they were to be trained for three years, at the end of which they were personally to wait on the king. ⁶Among them were from the tribe of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah, ⁷whom the chief of the eunuchs renamed. Daniel he called Belteshazzar, Hananiah Shadrach, Mishael Meshach, and Azariah Abed-nego.^b permission from the chief of the eunuchs not to make himself unclean. ⁹Then God granted Daniel favor and sympathy from the chief of the eunuchs, ¹⁰and the chief of the eunuchs said to Daniel, "I am afraid my master, the king, who has appointed your food and drink, will find your faces gloomier than those of the other youths your age; then you would endanger my head with the king." ¹¹Daniel then suggested to the overseer, whom the chief of the eunuchs had put in charge of Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah, ¹²"Please, give your servants a ten days' test, allowing us to eat vegetables and to drink water. ¹³Then compare our looks with that of the other youths, who have eaten of the king's menu, and act according to your findings." ¹⁴He agreed with them on this score, gave them a ten days' test. ¹⁵and after ten days they looked healthier and were in better condition than the youths who were eating the royal dishes; ¹⁶so the overseer discontinued their royal rations of meat and wine and served them vegetables.

⁸Daniel, however, made up his mind not to render himself unclean with the royal menu, or with the wine that the king usually drank; so he begged

¹⁷As for these four youths, God gave them mastery and understanding in all the literature and science, and Daniel gained insight in every kind of vision and dream. ¹⁸At the close of the period which the king had fixed to bring them in, the chief of the eunuchs brought them into the presence of

a) Babylonia; also called Shinar [Gen. 10:10; 11:2; 14:1, 9]. Babylon, the capital of Babylonia, was considered their god Marduk's residence, to which king and captives were taken and where the golden articles from the temple were put in the treasure chest.

b) The new names were intended to discard remembrance of God and to replace Him by Bel, Marduk and Nebo.

Nebuchadnezzar¹⁹ and when the king interviewed them, none among them all were found equal to Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah, who therefore entered the king's personal service.²⁰ On all subjects in which grasp and information counted, the king, as he questioned them, found them ten times^c more able than all the magicians and astrologers in his entire realm.²¹ Daniel carried on until the first year of king Cyrus.

603 B.C.

2 IN THE SECOND YEAR OF NEBUCHADREZZAR'S REIGN Nebuchadnezzar* had dreams that disturbed him; he woke up and could not sleep again.² So the king gave orders to summon all the magicians, the astrologers, the sorcerers and the Chaldeans^d to explain to the king his dream. They came and stood in the king's presence,³ and the king then told them, "I had a dream and my spirit is troubled to know what the dream was."⁴ The Chaldeans replied to the king in Aramaic: "O king, live forever!^e Tell your servants the dream, and we will show its meaning."⁵ The king answered the Chaldeans, "This word I speak, I mean! If you do not tell me the dream and what it means, you shall be torn limb from limb and your houses will be destroyed.^f But if you will declare to me the dream and show its meaning, you will receive from me gifts, rewards and great honor. So tell me the dream and its message."⁷ Again they answered, "Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will explain it."⁸ The king replied, "I see plainly that you are trying to gain time; because you see how capital punishment awaits you;⁹ and that if you do not make the dream known to me there is but one sentence awaiting you. You have banded together to speak false and deceitful words to me, hoping that a change may come.⁶ So tell me the dream and I shall know that you can truthfully explain it."

¹⁰The Chaldeans answered the king, "There is not a man on earth who can tell the king what he asks; for no other king, no matter however great and mighty, has ever demanded such a thing of any magician, enchanter or Chaldean."¹¹ The king is asking a hard thing, which none can tell him except the gods, whose dwelling is not with mortals."¹² Because of their answer, the king became so angry and furious, that he commanded that all the wise men of Babylon be destroyed.¹³ So the decree went forth that all the sages of Babylon should be slain; and they sought Daniel and his companions to slay them.

¹⁴Then Daniel made answer with wisdom and tact to Arioch, the captain of the king's patrol, who were gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon; asking meekly of the king's chief executioner, "Why is the king's decree so harsh?" Then Arioch explained the matter to Daniel,¹⁶ and Daniel went in and asked the king to set a date, and he would give the king the explanation.

¹⁷Then Daniel went home and explained the matter to his companions, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah,¹⁸ that they might ask the God of heaven to be merciful concerning this mystery; and that Daniel and his companions might not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon.¹⁹ Then the mystery was revealed to Daniel in a vision of the night, and Daniel blessed the God of heaven, saying:¹ ²⁰"Blessed be the name of God forever and ever, to whom belong wisdom and might!²¹ He changes the times and the seasons; He removes kings and He sets up kings; He gives wisdom to the wise, and knowledge to those who have under-

c) Incomparably. *) This is the correct spelling, from the Babylonian.

d) Those called Chaldeans were usually diviners, "wise men" and fortune-tellers, who studied the stars and the planets. The Aramaic language continues from this fourth verse through ch. 7:28.

e) The usual mode of greeting Oriental kings.

f) Similar deeds of despotism are gruesomely pictured in the bas-reliefs of the ancient Assyrians.

g) Hoping that circumstances might take a favorable turn, and that the king might have his attention diverted to something else.

h) Which was correct, as Daniel confirmed in testimony for Jehovah God..

i) Again they joined forces as believers in God.

j) Verses 20-23 are Daniel's thanksgiving for the great mercy granted him. We believe that God let Daniel dream the king's dream.

standing; ²²He reveals deep and mysterious things; He knows what is in the darkness, for the light dwells with Him. ²³I thank Thee and praise Thee, O God of my fathers; for Thou hast given me wisdom and strength, and hast made known to me what we asked of Thee; for Thou hast made known to us what the king demanded."

²⁴So Daniel went to Arioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon, and said to him, "Do not slay the sages of Babylon; take me into the presence of the king. I will tell the king his dream and what it means." ²⁵At once, therefore, Arioch brought in Daniel before the king, and said to him, "I have found among the exiles of Judah a man who can make known the message to the king!" ²⁶The king said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, "Are you able to make known to me the dream that I have seen, and its meaning?" ²⁷Daniel answered the king, "No wise men living, be they enchanters, magicians, or astrologers,^k can tell the king the mystery which the king has asked; ²⁸but there is a God in the heavens, who reveals mysteries, and He is now about to make known to King Nebuchadnezzar what is to happen in the days to come.^l Your dream and the visions of your head upon your bed were these: ²⁹You, O king, as you lay in bed, were thinking of the future, speculating as to what should come to pass hereafter, and He who reveals secrets disclosed to you what is going to happen. ³⁰As for myself,^m this secret has not been revealed to me because of any wisdom I possess more than other men, but in order that the meaning may be made known to the king and that you, O king, may understand the thoughts of your own heart.

³¹"You, O king, looked and, behold, there stood before you a mighty image, huge and of surpassing brilliance, and it was terrible to look upon! ³²The head of the image was of fine gold; its breast and arms of silver; its belly and thighs of bronze; ³³its legs of iron and its feet partly of iron and partly of clay.ⁿ ³⁴You kept looking at it until you saw a stone, hewn without hands from a mountain, strike the image on its feet of iron and clay, breaking them to pieces — ³⁵the iron, the clay, the bronze, the silver and the gold, so pulverized that they became like chaff of the summer threshing floor, which the wind carries away, and not a trace of them could be found. But the stone^o that struck the image became a great mountain and filled the whole earth. ³⁶Such was the dream; we will now tell the king what it means.

³⁷"You, O king, are a king of kings,^p to whom the God of heaven has given the kingdom, the power, the strength, and the glory;^q ³⁸and wherever the sons of men dwell, He has put the beasts of the field and the birds of the air into your hand and has given you power over all of them; you are the head of gold! ³⁹After you another kingdom shall arise, less forceful than you; then a third kingdom of bronze, which shall also have sway over all the earth.^r ⁴⁰And the fourth kingdom shall be as strong as iron; for as iron breaks everything to pieces and beats all things down, so shall it break in pieces and crush all peoples. ⁴¹Yet, as you saw, the feet and the toes were partly of potter's clay and partly of iron, — it shall be a divided kingdom;^s there shall be in it something of the firmness of iron; for as you saw, the toes were partly of iron and partly of clay. ⁴²So the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly brittle. ⁴³As you saw the iron and clay mixed, so shall they be mixed in marriage,^t but they will not hold

k) The Babylonians were famed for their astrology.

l) Including not only the king's own lifetime, and the closing years of the fourth kingdom [vv. 40-43], but also the Messianic age.

m) Like Joseph [Gen. 40:8] Daniel disclaims the power to interpret dreams by his own wisdom.

n) Not raw clay, but potsherd quality. o) The effects of the Messiah, we believe.

p) An inscription in Aramaic, found at Sakkarah near Cairo, reads, "Xerxes, king of kings."

q) As Daniel ascribes Nebuchadnezzar's dominion to the providence of God, so does Jeremiah, Jer. 25:9; 27:6; 28:14.

r) The second kingdom was that of Persia, including Cyrus; the third that of Macedonia, including Alexander. s) Referring to the Roman Empire, including Caesar Augustus.

t) The decline of the Roman Empire in brief.

together, just as iron does not mix with clay. ⁴⁴But in the days of those kings the God of heaven shall set up a kingdom,^u which shall never be destroyed, nor shall the kingdom be left to another people, a kingdom which shall break in pieces and completely destroy all these kingdoms — it shall stand sovereign forever! ⁴⁵And just as you saw that a stone was cut from a mountain by no human hand, and that it broke in pieces the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver and the gold of the image, so the great God has made known to the king what shall take place hereafter;^v the dream is certain, and its interpretation sure.”

⁴⁶Then king Nebuchadrezzar fell on his face, prostrated himself before Daniel,^w and ordered that a present and soothing odors be offered to him. ⁴⁷The king confessed to Daniel, “Truly your God is the God of gods,^x the LORD of kings and a revealer of secrets; for you have ably revealed the mystery!” ⁴⁸Then the king promoted Daniel, giving him high honors and many large gifts; for he made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and appointed him chief governor over all the “wise men” of Babylon.^y ⁴⁹And at Daniel’s request, the king set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego over the business of the province of Babylon; but Daniel remained a member of the king’s court and sat at the main entrance to his palace.

3 KING NEBUCHADREZZAR^z MADE AN image of gold, ninety feet in height and nine feet in breadth, which he erected on the plain of Dura^a in the province of Babylon. ²Then king Nebuchadrezzar sent and assembled the presidents, the generals, the governors, the counselors, the treasurers, the judges, the magistrates, and all the officials of the provinces to come to the dedication of the image which he, king Nebuchadrezzar, had set up, and they stood before the image which Nebuchadrezzar had erected. ³When the presidents, the generals and the governors, the treasurers, the judges, the magistrates, and all the officials of the provinces were assembled for the dedication of the image, which king Nebuchadrezzar had set up,^a a herald shouted with a loud voice, “Peoples, nations, and races of every tongue, to you the royal command is proclaimed, ⁵that as soon as you hear the sound of the horn, the pipe, the lyre, the lute, the harp, the bagpipe, and every kind of music, you shall fall down and prostrate yourselves before the image of gold, which king Nebuchadrezzar has set up; ⁶and whoever does not fall down and worship, shall at once be cast into a burning fiery furnace.” ⁷So, as soon as all the people heard the sound of the horn, pipe, lyre, lute, harp, bagpipe, and every kind of music, all the peoples, nations, and races fell down and worshiped the golden image which king Nebuchadrezzar had erected.

⁸But certain Chaldeans came forward and brought charges^b against the Jews, ⁹reminding king Nebuchadrezzar, “O king, live forever! ¹⁰You, O king, have made a decree that every man who hears the sound of the horn, the pipe, the lute, the harp, the bagpipe, and every other kind of music, shall fall down and worship the golden image, ¹¹and that anyone, who does not fall down and prostrate himself, shall be cast into a furnace of flaming fire. ¹²Now there are certain Jews whom you have raised to high positions over the business affairs of the province of Babylon, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. These three men, O king, pay no regard to you; they do not respect your gods, nor will they worship the golden image which you have set up.”

¹³Then Nebuchadrezzar was furiously enraged, and ordered Shadrach,

u) Christ's kingdom.

v) As Joseph told Pharaoh [Gen. 41:28].

w) Nebuchadrezzar at the feet of Daniel represents the Gentile powers humbled before Israel's God.

x) Marduk, the supreme god of Babylon, included. Cf. “King of kings and Lord of Lords” in Rev. 19:16. y) A position of great authority.

z) The Septuagint begins this chapter: “In the eighteenth year” of the king [580 B.C.].

a) About six miles below Babylon. b) The Aramaic verb strictly means, “to accuse falsely.”

Meshach, and Abednego to be brought; and when these men were brought before the king, ¹⁴Nebuchadrezzar charged them, saying, "Is it true, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, that you will not worship my gods, nor prostrate yourselves before the image which I have set up? ¹⁵Now if you are ready when you hear the sound of the horn, pipe, lute, harp, bagpipe, and other kinds of music, to fall down and worship before the image which I have made, very well; but if you will not prostrate yourselves, you shall at once be cast into a furnace of flaming fire; and what god is there who can deliver you out of my hands?"^c

¹⁶Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered the king, "O Nebuchadrezzar, we would not make any defense in this matter; ¹⁷for the God whom we serve is able to save us from the fire of the furnace and He will deliver us out of your hand, O king. ¹⁸But, whether He does or not, be it known to you, O king, we will not serve your gods, or worship the golden image which you have set up."

¹⁹At this Nebuchadrezzar was filled with extreme fury, and his face was distorted with rage against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. He gave orders that the furnace should be heated seven times as hot as usual ²⁰and he ordered certain powerful men of his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and to throw them into the burning, fiery furnace.

²¹These men were then bound in their mantles, their tunics, their turbans and their other clothes and were thrown into the fires of the furnace. ²²Indeed, so sharp was the king's order, and so hot was the furnace, that the flames of the fire killed those men who took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego; ²³but these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego fell down bound into the midst of the flaming furnace.

²⁴Then king Nebuchadrezzar became alarmed, rose hastily and inquired of his officers, "Did we not cast three men bound into the fire?" They answered the king, "We certainly did." ²⁵He replied, "But I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire; they are unhurt, and the appearance of the fourth is like that of a son of the gods."^d ²⁶Thereupon, king Nebuchadrezzar went toward the mouth of the furnace of flaming fire and called, "Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, servants of the Most High God, come forth and come here!" So Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego came out of the fire, ²⁷and when the presidents, the generals, the governors, and the king's ministers of state gathered round and saw that the fire had had no effect upon their bodies, that their hair had not been singed, nor their mantles damaged, nor was there any smell of burning about them,^e ²⁸Nebuchadrezzar reflected and said, "Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego! He sent His angel to deliver His servants who trusted in Him, and frustrated the king's order by giving up their bodies to die rather than serve and worship any god, except their own God! ²⁹Therefore I make a decree: Any people, nation, or tongue, that speaks a word against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, shall be torn limb from limb, and their houses shall be made a dunghill; for there is no other god who is able to deliver in this manner." ³⁰Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego in the provinces of Babylon.

4 NEBUCHADREZZAR THE KING TO all peoples, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth: "Peace be multiplied to you. ²It has seemed good to me to show the signs and wonders that the Most High God has wrought toward me. ³How great are His signs, and how mighty His wonders! His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and His dominion endures from generation to generation.

c) A Pharaoh-like challenge to God.

d) The word for "God" is always plural in Daniel, and therefore should probably be so put here; meaning, "son of Deity."

e) Ch. 4 in Hebrew begins after this verse.

f) In a doxology of toleration.

⁴"I, Nebuchadrezzar, was living at ease in my house, and enjoying prosperity in my palace, ⁵when I had a dream that troubled me; fancies upon my bed and visions of my head that upset me. ⁶So I made a decree that all the wise men of Babylon should be brought before me, that they might make known to me the meaning of the dream. ⁷Then came in the magicians, the enchanters, the Chaldeans, and the astrologers; but when I told them the dream, they could not make known to me its message. ⁸At last Daniel came in, whose name is Belteshazzar (according to the name of my god)^h and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods, and I told him the dream, saying, ⁹Belteshazzar, chief of the magicians, I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in you, and no mystery is any trouble to you; here is the dream which I saw; tell me what it means. ¹⁰The visions of my head which I saw in my bed were these: I looked, and behold a tree stood in the midst of the earth and its height was abnormal! ¹¹The tree had grown strong until its top reached to heaven, and had become visible to the ends of the whole earth; ¹²its leaves were lovely, and its fruit abundant, providing food for all. The beasts of the field and wild animals were sheltered by it; the birds of the air nestled in its branches, and all flesh was fed from it.

¹³"But in the visions of my head on my bed, I looked, and see! a holy guardian, a watcher,ⁱ came down from heaven ¹⁴and shouted aloud, 'Hew down the tree and cut off its branches; strip off its leaves and scatter its fruit; let the animals flee from under it and the birds fly away out of its branches! ¹⁵But leave the stump^j of its roots in the earth amid the herbage of the earth with a band of iron and bronze about it. Let the dews of heaven drench him and let him share the herbage of the earth with the animals of the field;

¹⁶let his human mind be taken from him and let an animal mind be given him, and let seven years pass over him. ¹⁷This sentence is by the decree of the Guardian-Watcher and by the authority of the holy ones; in order that all who live may know that the Most High rules the kingdom of men, giving it to whomever He wills and setting up over it the lowliest of men.'

¹⁸"This dream I, king Nebuchadrezzar saw; and now, you, Belteshazzar, tell me the meaning of it; since all the wise men of my kingdom are unable to make known to me its message; but you are able, because the spirit of the holy gods is in you."

¹⁹Then Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, was stunned and stood aghast for a time, his thoughts appalling him. But the king said, "Belteshazzar, let not the dream and its meaning make you hesitate to tell me." Belteshazzar replied, "My master, may the dream be for those who hate you, and its message for your enemies! ²⁰The tree which you saw,^k which grew great and strong, whose height reached to the heavens, and which was visible to the ends of the earth; ²¹whose leaves were lovely and whose fruit was plentiful, providing food for all; the tree under which the field animals found shade and in whose branches the birds built their nests — ²²you, O king, are that tree! You have grown and become strong, so that your power has increased till it reaches to heaven, and your dominion extends to the ends of the earth. ²³And as the king saw a watcher, a holy one, coming down from heaven and saying, 'Hew down the tree and destroy it; yet save the stump of its roots in the earth, bound about with a band of iron and bronze amid the herbage of the earth, and let him be wet with the dew of the heavens, and let him share with the animals of the field, till seven times pass over him'; ²⁴this is the interpretation, O

h) Belshazzar signified, "Bel, protect his life"; not to be confused with the royal name Belshazzar, meaning, "Bel, protect the king," "Bel" in Babylonian being the equivalent of "Baal" in Hebrew.

i) The term denotes an angel who was ever ready to fulfil the divine requests.

j) Stumps, when ringed by iron bands, were regarded as sure to live a long time; Nebuchadrezzar is to be cut down, but not destroyed.

k) Vv. 20 and 21 are repeated with good effect from vv. 11 and 12.

king: It is a decree of the Most High,¹ which has come upon my master the king, ²⁵that you shall be driven from among men and you will live as the animals of the field, eating grass like an ox and wet with the dew of the heavens, till seven years pass over you and you have learned that the Most High rules the kingdom of men and gives it to whom He wills. ²⁶And as it was commanded to leave the stump of the roots of the tree, your kingdom shall be assured to you from the time you learn that it is the Heavens^m that rule. ²⁷Therefore, O king, let me counsel you to break off your sins by practicing justiceⁿ and showing pity to the oppressed; perhaps your prosperity may be prolonged."

²⁸All this befell king Nebuchadnezzar. ²⁹At the end of twelve months he was walking on the roof of his royal palace in Babylon ³⁰and the king was saying to himself, "Is not this great Babylon, that I have built^o by my mighty power as a royal residence and for the glory of my majesty?" ³¹While the words were still in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying, "King Nebuchadnezzar, to you is this sentence: Your kingdom is taken from you ³²and you shall be driven from among men; your dwelling shall be with the field animals; you shall be made to eat grass like an ox and seven years shall pass over you, till you learn that the Most High rules the kingdom of men, giving it to whomever He wills." ³³Instantly the sentence upon king Nebuchadnezzar was executed. He was driven from among men, ate grass like an ox, and his body was wet with the dew from heaven till his hair grew as long as eagles' feathers and his nails as the claws of a bird.^p chadnezzar, lifted up my eyes to the heavens and my reason returned to me. I blessed the Most High and praised and honored Him, who lives forever; for His dominion is an everlasting dominion and His kingdom endures from generation to generation. ³⁵All the inhabitants of the earth are accounted as nothing;^r He does according to His will in the army^s of heaven and among the inhabitants of the earth and none can stay His hand or say to Him, "What doest Thou?"^t ³⁶My reason returned to me at once and, for the glory of my kingdom, my majesty and my splendor also returned to me. My counselors and my rulers came to me for council. I was reestablished in my kingdom and exceptional greatness was added to me. ³⁷Now I, Nebuchadnezzar praise, extol, and honor the King of heaven; for all His works are truth. All His dealings are just, and those who walk in pride He is able to abase."

³⁴At the end of the days,^q I Nebu-

538 B.C.

5 KING BELSHAZZAR^v MADE A GREAT feast for a thousand of his rulers and drank wine^w before the thousand. ²Inflamed by the taste of wine, he ordered that the vessels of gold and of silver, which Nebuchadnezzar, his grandfather, had taken away from the temple at Jerusalem, be brought, in order that the king and his rulers, his consorts and his concubines might drink out of them. ³So they brought in the golden and silver vessels, which had been taken out of the temple at Jerusalem and the king and his rulers, his consorts and his concubines drank out of them. ⁴As they drank the wine, they praised the gods of gold and silver, bronze, iron, wood, and stone.

⁵Suddenly, that very hour the fingers of a man's hand appeared, which wrote on the plaster of the wall of the king's

1) The humiliation of the king was to teach him that his power was not his own, but delegated to him by God, the supreme Ruler of the world.

m) The repeated use of the word "heavens" here expresses a degree of reverence for God.

n) Nebuchadnezzar needed to be told that "righteousness delivers from death" [Prov. 10:2]; and that a primary virtue of a ruler is justice.

o) The "I" is emphatic!

p) The delusion under which he was suffering led him naturally to neglect his person.

q) That is, "the seven times" of vv. 16, 23, 25, 32.

r) "As nothing," without God.

s) The Aramaic equivalent of the Hebrew "host of heaven."

t) Cf. Isa. 45:9.

u) This doxology sums up the teaching of the entire chapter.

v) Belshazzar the king was the son of Nabonidus and the grandson of Nebuchadnezzar, and is often spoken of as "the king's son." Five short reigns intervened between them.

w) To drink wine thus publicly was really against Babylonian etiquette, though the Babylonians had a reputation for debauchery. At feasts women were allowed to be present.

palace, opposite the lampstand; and the king saw the palm of the hand as it wrote. ⁶The glorious brightness of the king's face paled and his thoughts alarmed him; the muscles of his loins loosened and his knees knocked against each other.

⁷The king then called loudly for the enchanters, the Chaldeans and the fortune-tellers to be brought in. To them, as the wise men of Babylon, the king said, "Whoever reads this writing and tells me its meaning shall be clothed with purple, wear a golden chain about his neck and shall rank as the third ruler in the kingdom."^x

⁸But when all the king's wise men came in, they could not read the writing, nor could any one of them explain to the king its meaning. ⁹At this, king Belshazzar was greatly perplexed; and his countenance was changed in him, and his rulers were at their wits' end. ¹⁰Then the queen, because of the cries of the king and his rulers, came into the banqueting hall,^y and the queen said, "O king, live for ever! Let not your fears alarm you; let not your color vanish!" ¹¹There is in your kingdom one man in whom is the spirit of Deity. In your father's days there were found in him light, understanding and wisdom like the wisdom of the gods. King Nebuchadrezzar, your grandfather, made him chief of the magicians, enchanters, Chaldeans, and astrologers; ¹²he possessed an excellent spirit, knowledge, and understanding to interpret dreams, solve riddles, and unravel knots. Call in Daniel; he will be able to interpret the writing."

¹³So Daniel was brought in before the king, and the king, addressing Daniel, said: "Are you that Daniel of the exiles of Judah, whom my grandfather the king brought from Judah?" ¹⁴I have heard of you that the spirit of the gods is in you, and that light, understanding and surpassing wisdom are found in you. ¹⁵Already the wise men, the enchanters have been brought in before me, that they might read this writing and make known to me its meaning; but they could not decipher it. ¹⁶But I have heard of you, that you can give explanations and solve problems. Now, if you can read the writing and make known to me its meaning, you shall be clothed with purple, and have a chain of gold to wear around your neck, and shall be the third ruler^z in the kingdom."

¹⁷Then Daniel answered the king, "Keep your gifts, and give your rewards to another; nevertheless I will read the writing to the king and make known to him its meaning. ¹⁸O king, the Most High God gave Nebuchadrezzar, your grandfather, the kingdom with its greatness, glory and majesty; ¹⁹and because of the greatness which He gave him, all peoples, nations and languages trembled and feared before him. Whom he would, he slew, and whom he would, he kept alive; whom he would, he promoted, and whom he would, he demoted. ²⁰But when his heart became proud and his spirit became haughty and self-confident, he was thrust from his kingly throne and deprived of his glory; ²¹he was driven away from human society. His mind was made like the instincts of animals and he lived among the wild donkeys,^a eating grass like an ox and his body getting wet with the dew of heaven, till he learned that the Most High God rules over the kingdom of men, setting over it whom He wills. ²²And you, his son, Belshazzar, have not humbled yourself, though you knew all this; ²³but you have lifted up yourself against the LORD of heaven; having ordered the sacred vessels of His house to be brought in, that you and your rulers, your wives, and your concubines might drink wine from them. You have praised the gods of silver and gold, bronze, iron, wood, and stone, which can neither see, nor hear, nor understand, and you have not honored the God in whose hand is your breath, and to whom belong all your ways."^b

x) Nabonidus would stand first in the kingdom; Belshazzar would remain second to his father; and the successful interpreter would be Prime Minister. "Purple" was the royal color.

y) She came in without being summoned by the king. z) As one of the three chief rulers.

a) Wild donkeys are the shyest and most untamable of all animals, suggestive of the king's wildness and savagery.

b) Belshazzar had deliberately ignored his grandfather's fate; he was culpable.

²⁴"It was His palm and His hand which was seen, and it was His writing that was inscribed. ²⁵This is the writing: 'MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN'.^c ²⁶And this is the interpretation of the words: 'MENE' — God has numbered the days of your kingdom and brought it to an end; ²⁷'TEKEL' — you have been weighed in the balances and been found wanting; ²⁸'UPHARSIN' — your kingdom is divided and given to the Medes and Persians."^d

²⁹Then Belshazzar gave orders, and Daniel was clothed in purple, a chain of gold was placed about his neck and it was published about him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom that very night.

³⁰Belshazzar, the king of Chaldea, was slain. ³¹and Darius, the Mede, received the kingdom, being then about sixty-two years of age.

538 B.C.

6 IT PLEASED DARIUS, THE MEDE, to set over the kingdom a hundred and twenty provincial governors to administer the whole kingdom, ²and over them three presidents,^e of whom Daniel was one, so that to them the governors might be responsible and that the king might suffer no loss. ³Above all the other presidents and governors Daniel distinguished himself, because of his surpassing spirit, so superior that the king was planning to set him over the whole kingdom.

⁴Then the presidents and the governors sought some ground of complaint against Daniel in the discharge of his official duties; but they could find no ground of complaint, because he was faithful, and no error or fault was found in him. ⁵So these men said, "We shall find no ground of complaint against this Daniel unless we find it in connection with service to his god."^f

⁶Whereupon these presidents and

governors rushed^g in jointly to the king, and said to him, "O king Darius, live forever! ⁷All the presidents of the kingdom, the chiefs and the governors, the counselors and the rulers have agreed that the king should establish an ordinance and enforce a strict decree, that whoever petitions any god or man for thirty days, except you, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions.^h ⁸Now, O king, lay down the law, and sign it as a document, which cannot be changed forever, according to the law of the Medes and Persians which can not be changed." ⁹Therefore king Darius signed such a document in keeping with this decree.

¹⁰When Daniel learned that such a decree had been officially signed and issued, he went to his house on the roof of which there were chambers with windows opening toward Jerusalem, and three times a day he kneeled and prayed and gave God thanks as he was accustomed to do. ¹¹Then these accusers came in throngs and found Daniel praying and making humble petition before his God.ⁱ ¹²So they approached the king and reminded him of his decree. They said, "O king! Did you not sign a decree to the effect that any man who prays to any god or man within thirty days except to you, O king, should be cast into the den of lions?" The king replied, "The thing stands fast according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which cannot be revoked." ¹³Upon this they protested to the king, "That man Daniel, of the exiles of Judah, neither heeds you, O king, nor regards the decree which you have signed; for thrice a day he continues to pray to his own god."^j ¹⁴When the king heard these words, he was greatly distressed and set his mind to deliver Daniel. He struggled till sunset to rescue him. ¹⁵But these men together rushed to

c) The first letter in Hebrew of the word of the inscription, is our "and"; hence Upharsin of our English translations is better understood as "and Peres" — four nouns in all.

d) The first word of the four being repeated, because of its solemn significance.

e) The Aramaic word, translated "president," is found only in this chapter [vv. 2-6].

f) They were doubtless prejudiced against an alien holding high position in the government.

g) Tumultuously, as in Ps. 2:1. h) The Persians had a custom of "keeping lions for the chase."

i) Daniel furnishes a valuable illustration of the ritual and piety of early Judaism.

j) Mohammed borrowed the custom from the Jews, adding two and praying five times daily; at first toward Jerusalem, but later after his flight, toward Mecca. Christians in some cases have orientated their cathedrals and churches toward the east.

the king, and said, "Know, O king, that a law of the Medes and Persians, in particular a decree of royal authority, cannot be changed." ¹⁶So the king gave the order and Daniel was brought and cast into the den of lions, the king voicing the hope, "May your God, whom you worship so faithfully, deliver you."^k

¹⁷Then a great boulder was brought and laid upon the opening of the den and the king sealed it with his own seal and also with the seal of his rulers, to prevent any possible change of plan about Daniel. ¹⁸Then the king went to his palace, and spent the night in meditation and fasting, instead of enjoying his usual diversions,¹ and his sleep fled from him. ¹⁹In the morning, as soon as it was light, the king arose and went in haste to the den of lions. ²⁰When he came near to the den where Daniel was, he cried in a tone of anguish and anxiety, "Daniel, servant of the living God, has your God, whom you worship so regularly, been able to save you from the lions?" ²¹Daniel answered the king, "O king, live forever! ²²My God sent His angel and shut the lions' mouths and they have not hurt me; because He found me innocent, not having done you any injury."

²³Then the king was exceeding glad and ordered that Daniel be lifted out of the den. So Daniel was lifted out, and no kind of hurt was found on him, because he had trusted in his God. ²⁴The king gave orders, and the men who had accused Daniel were brought and cast into the den of lions; they, their children and their wives and before they reached the bottom of the den, the lions overpowered them, and crunched all their bones in pieces.^m

²⁵Then king Darius wrote to all nations, races, and peoples of every tongue that dwell in all the earth: "Peace be multiplied to you! ²⁶I make a decree,ⁿ that in all my dominion men tremble in reverence before the God of Daniel, for He is the living God, enduring forever; His kingdom shall never be destroyed; His dominion shall last to the end: ²⁷He saves and He delivers; He works signs and performs wonders both in heaven and on earth; for it was He who saved Daniel from the power of the lions."

²⁸So this Daniel prospered during the reign of Darius, and also during the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

7 IN THE FIRST YEAR OF BELSHAZZAR, king of Babylon, Daniel upon his bed saw^o a dream, even visions of his head; whereupon he wrote down the dream, and recounted the visions which he had seen. ²Daniel said, "I saw in my vision by night and behold, the four winds of heaven were stirring up the great sea.^p ³Out of the sea rose four large animals, different from one another. ⁴The first was like a lion and had wings like an eagle. As I looked, its wings were plucked off and it was lifted from the ground and made to stand on two feet like a man, and the mind of a man was given to it. ⁵And behold, a second animal came up, like a bear,^q having its paw raised, ready to strike, and with three ribs in its mouth between its teeth, and it was told, 'Arise, devour much flesh.' ⁶After this I looked, and see! there was another like a leopard, with four wings like those of a bird on its back; it had four heads, and dominion was given to it! ⁷After that I saw in the visions of the night, and note, there was a fourth animal, dreadful, terrible, and exceedingly powerful, with huge iron teeth; it devoured and tore its victims in pieces, and stamped the remaining por-

k) Throughout the narrative Darius shows brotherly care for Daniel.

l) Musicians, dancing women, concubines, etc.

m) Their punishment here described is in keeping with the Oriental standards of justice [cf. Heb. 11:33] in such extreme instances.

n) V. 25 is, in part, verbatim the language of 3:29.

o) Daniel saw four animals; Nebuchadnezzar dreamed of four metals in an image. In both, the kingdom of this world is superseded by a kingdom of celestial origin; that of Nebuchadnezzar, by "a stone," which becomes a great mountain filling the whole earth [2:34, 35]; that of Daniel "like a son of man," coming with the clouds of heaven, to whom universal and everlasting dominion are given [7:13, 14]. The visions are parallel.

p) Figuratively expressing the troubled world of nations!

q) The bear being regarded as, next to the lion, the most ferocious.

tions of it with its feet.^r It was different from all the animals that were before it. It had ten horns.^s These horns I studied, and while I was contemplating them attentively, behold, up rose another horn, a little one and a marvel, by which three of the ten horns were uprooted. This little horn had the eyes of a man and a mouth ever boasting of great deeds and uttering proud words.^t I watched till thrones were placed^u and a Venerable One^v sat on the throne of justice; His clothing was white as snow and the hair of his head was like pure white wool; His throne was a blaze of flames and its wheels were burning fire.¹⁰ A stream of fire came forth from His presence,^v a thousand thousands served Him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before Him;^w the court sat in judgment and the books were opened.

¹¹"I watched till the animal was slain and his body destroyed and handed over to be burned by fire; because of his proud words, which the little horn had spoken. ¹²As for the rest of the animals, their dominion was taken away, but their lives were prolonged for a season and a time. ¹³Then in my night-vision I saw and behold, One coming with the clouds of heaven^x like a son of man, and He came advancing toward the Ancient of Days, before whom He was presented. ¹⁴And to Him was given dominion and glory and a kingdom, so that all peoples, nations, and languages should serve Him; His dominion is an everlasting dominion which shall not pass away and His kingdom one that shall not be destroyed.^y

¹⁵"As for me, Daniel, my spirit with-

in me was distressed by these things, and the visions of my head perplexed me. ¹⁶I approached one of those standing by and asked him to tell me the truth regarding all this. He answered me, explaining to me the meaning of it all. ¹⁷These huge animals, he said, being four in all, are the four kingdoms, which shall arise out of the earth; ¹⁸but the saints^z of the Most High shall receive the kingdom and possess the kingdom^a forever, even forever and ever.¹⁹

¹⁹"Then I desired to know the truth about the fourth animal, so different from all the others, exceedingly terrible, with iron teeth and bronze claws, which devoured and tore in pieces, trampling what remained of a victim under its feet;^b ²⁰and concerning the ten horns which were on its head, and the other horn which came up, and before which three of them fell, — the horns which had eyes and a mouth speaking great things; the horn that seemed stronger than its fellows. ²¹This horn I saw making war against the saints, and it was prevailing against them^c ²²until the Ancient of Days came, and the court took its seat and dominion was given to the saints of the Most High and the time came for the saints to possess the kingdom.^d r) In wanton destructiveness.

²³"He said this: 'The fourth animal shall be a fourth kingdom on earth, which shall be different from all other kingdoms; it shall devour the whole earth, and trample it down, breaking it as grain is broken on the threshing floor. ²⁴For out of its ten horns shall arise ten kings and after them shall arise another, who shall be different^e from the former kings, and shall put down three of them. ²⁵He shall speak

s) "Eyes" implying keen observation and insight; yet speaking proudly; cf. Rev. 13:5.

t) "Thrones" stand for the judicial bench; cf. "throne" for judgment in Ps. 122:5 and Matt. 19:28. u) Deity represented as "advanced in years."

v) The river of fire signified divine energy, irresistible.

w) The Jews confessed their sins and prayed "before" God, rather than "to" Him, by way of reverence. x) This clause "with the clouds of heaven" implied superhuman authority.

y) Cf. Rev. 11:15.

z) "The saints of the Most High," here, and also in vv. 22 and 27 seem to be allied with the "One, like to a son of man" in v. 13, and to receive the same never-ending dominion.

a) The phrase "kingdom of God" is never used by Daniel, but it is implied here, meaning Divine Sovereignty.

b) The description of the fourth animal here, being repeated in the main from vv. 7 and 8.

c) Cf. Rev. 13:7.

d) The time came which God had appointed for the purpose; for vv. 23-28, which follow, seem of Messianic import. e) In that he is most aggressive and presumptuous.

words against the Most High; he shall plan to change the sacred seasons and the law, and they shall be given over to him, for a year, two years, and half a year.^f ²⁶Then the Court of Justice shall sit and his dominion shall be taken away, to be consumed and destroyed for all time. ²⁷For the kingdom, the dominion, and the greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heaven shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High; their kingdom shall be an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey them.^g

²⁸"This is the end of the matter. As for me, Daniel, my thoughts alarmed me greatly, and my color changed, but I kept the matter in my heart."

8 IN THE THIRD YEAR OF THE REIGN of king Belshazzar^h a vision appeared to me, Daniel, of a kind with the earlier vision² and this is the vision I saw: I found myself in the Susan stronghold in the Elam province beside the Ulai stream.^h ³As I raised my eyes and looked, behold, there stood on the bank of the stream a ram with two horns, tall horns, but the one higher than the other, and the higher one grew out later.ⁱ ⁴I saw the ram butting westward, northward and southward and no creature could hold out against him, nor could anyone rescue from his power. He did as he pleased and made himself great.

⁵As I was pondering, behold, there came a he-goat advancing from the west over the whole earth without touching the ground, and between his eyes the he-goat grew a prominent horn. ⁶On approaching the horned ram, which I had seen standing on the bank of the stream, he ran at him in the wrath of his power; ⁷I saw him close in on the ram. In brutal rage he butted him and broke both his horns. There was no strength in the ram to hold out against him; he threw him to the ground and trampled him and no one rescued the ram from his power. ⁸The he-goat then assumed gigantic proportions, but when he grew powerful, the prominent horn was broken and in its place four good-sized horns came up, pointing to the four winds of heaven.^j

⁹From one of them a horn emerged, that began small but grew very large southward, eastward and toward the Glory-land.^k ¹⁰Its greatness reached to the host of heaven; some of the starry host it caused to fall to the ground and it trampled on them. ¹¹Even against the Prince of the starry host it matched itself, whose daily sacrifice was abolished and His sanctuary profaned. ¹²It was granted power in opposition to the daily sacrifice; it cast truth to earth and whatever it did succeeded.

¹³I then heard a holy one speaking, and another holy one inquired of the holy one who had spoken, "How long shall the vision hold good regarding the daily sacrifice, the desolating transgression, the surrender of the sanctuary, and of the host of heaven to be trampled?" ¹⁴He told me, "For 2,300 evenings and mornings;^l then the rights of the sanctuary shall be restored."

¹⁵As I, Daniel, was observing the vision and trying to make out its meaning, behold, there was standing before me a human form, ¹⁶and I heard a man's voice over the Ulai that called, "Gabriel, make him understand the vision." ¹⁷He^m then came near to where I stood and as he came I felt panic-stricken; I fell on my face. But he said to me, "Understand, son of man, that the vision relates to the final period." ¹⁸But while he was speaking to me I swooned face-down to the ground; then he touched me and made me stand up straight. ¹⁹He said, "I am here to acquaint you with the final events of the indignation time; for the end comes at the appointed time.

²⁰"The ram you saw with the two horns means the kings of Media and

f) 3½ years; the Fathers in the Early Church often refer it to the era of the dominion of Antichrist. It may find parallels in Rev. 12:14; 13:15; 11:2, 3; cf. Dan. 12:7.

g) Son of the king, Nabonidus, who had delegated some authority to him.

h) A canal of running water, connecting the Kerkha and the Karun rivers.

i) Symbolizing the Medo-Persian empire, Persia later and greater.

j) Four kingdoms after Alexander's death. k) Palestine.

l) 1150 days, with omission of 2,300 daily sacrifices. m) The angel Gabriel.

Persia; ²¹the hairy he-goat — the king of Greece, and the prominent horn between his eyes is the first king. ²²That it was broken and that four arose in its place — four kingdoms shall develop from the nation, but not with its strength.ⁿ ²³In the later period of these kingdoms, when the wicked go to extremes, a hard-faced king shall arise, skilled in intrigues.^o ²⁴His power shall be mighty, but not by force of arms; in astonishing ways he shall bring ruin. He shall succeed in what he undertakes. He shall destroy mighty opponents; also the holy people.^p ²⁵By his scheming he shall make the treachery, which he applies, win out; proud of heart, he shall destroy the unsuspecting. He shall rise up against the Prince of princes; however, without use of human hands he shall be broken.^q ²⁶The vision of mornings and evenings, of which mention was made, is true; you, therefore, seal up the vision,^r for it concerns many days."

²⁷Then I, Daniel, was exhausted; for several days I was ill. Afterward I got up and rendered service to the king. I was amazed at the vision and did not fathom its meaning.

521 B.C.

9 IN THE FIRST YEAR OF DARIUS,^s son of Ahasuerus of the Median race, who had been made king over the Chaldean realm, ²in the first year of his reign, I, Daniel, took notice from the Scriptures of the number of years about which the word of the LORD had come to Jeremiah, the prophet — that Jerusalem would lie desolate for seventy years. ³Then I turned my face to the LORD God to pray and to supplicate in fasting and in sack-cloth and ashes. ⁴I interceded with the LORD my God and made confession, saying,

"O LORD, great and awesome God, who keepest the merciful covenant with those who love Thee and keep Thy commands, ⁵we have sinned; we have done wrong; we have behaved wickedly; we have rebelled and have swerved away from Thy commands and Thy ordinances.^t ⁶We have not heeded Thy servants, the prophets, who spoke in Thy name to our kings, our princes, our fathers and all the people in the land. ⁷With Thee, O LORD, is righteousness, but with us shamefacedness as we today experience — the men of Judah, the dwellers of Jerusalem and all Israel near and far in all the countries to which Thou hast driven them, because of the disloyalty they have practiced toward Thee. ⁸With us, LORD, there is the shamed face, with our kings, our princes and our fathers; for we have sinned against Thee; ⁹but with the LORD our God there are mercies and pardons, although we have rebelled against Him. ¹⁰We have not listened to the voice of the LORD our God, to live in agreement with the laws He laid before us through His servants, the prophets. ¹¹Indeed, all Israel has transgressed Thy law and has by-passed it, so as not to heed Thy voice; therefore there is poured upon us the curse confirmed with an oath, which is written in the law of Moses, the servant of God; for we have sinned against Him.^u ¹²He has confirmed His words, which He spoke regarding us and regarding our rulers who directed us, by bringing on us such an immense disaster, the like of which has occurred nowhere under heaven except in Jerusalem. ¹³Just as it is written in the law of Moses, all this punishment has come upon us, and we have not mollified the LORD our God by turning from our offenses, and observing Thy truth. ¹⁴The LORD therefore has

n) After Alexander's death in 323 B.C., the Grecian empire dismembered. Wars followed for 22 years. In 301 B.C. Cassander became king of Greece and Macedonia; Lysimachus of Asia Minor; Ptolemy of Egypt, Coele-Syria and Palestine; Seleucus of Upper Asia.

o) Antiochus Epiphanes, the eighth king of the Seleucidæ dynasty, reigned from 175 to 163 B.C. and was determined to displace the Hebrew worship by Grecian paganism. p) The Hebrews.

q) God remains the sovereign Judge; He creates and destroys, sets up and pulls down.

r) Daniel must for the present keep it a secret.

s) After the capture of Babylon by the army of Cyrus, Darius exercised interim kingship until Cyrus came back from further conquests.

t) Daniel, not over 14 when carried away from Jerusalem, included himself with those whose sins resulted in the exile. His prayer deserves study and assimilation.

u) Interchange of second and third personal pronouns is rather frequent in man's communication with God, because petition and testimony form part of it, of which Ps. 23 is an outstanding example.

taken care to bring the calamity upon us; for the LORD our God is righteous in all His doings; but we have not heeded His voice.

¹⁵Now then, O LORD, our God, who didst lead Thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand,^v and hast gained for Thyself the renown Thou hast today, we have sinned; we have behaved wickedly. ¹⁶LORD, in view of all Thy righteousness, please turn away Thy anger and Thy indignation from Thy city Jerusalem, Thy holy hill; for, due to our sins and the offenses of our fathers, Jerusalem and Thy people have become a disdain among all those around us. ¹⁷Now therefore, our God, hear the prayer of Thy servant and his supplications and make Thy face to shine upon Thy ruined sanctuary for Thy sake, O LORD. ¹⁸Incline, O my God, Thine ear and hear; open Thine eyes and see our desolation, the city which is called by Thy name; for we are not pouring out our petitions before Thee on account of our righteousness but on account of Thy great compassions. ¹⁹O LORD, hear! O LORD, forgive! O God, take notice and take action; for Thine own sake, O God, do not delay; for Thy city and Thy people are called by Thy name."

²⁰While I was still speaking in my prayer, and confessing my sins and the sins of my people Israel, pouring out my supplication before the LORD my God on behalf of my God's holy hill; ²¹while I was still speaking in prayer, the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the previous vision,^w came close to me in swift flight about the time of the evening sacrifice. ²²He came and said to me, "Daniel, this time I have come to enlighten your understanding. ²³At the beginning of your petitions a message went forth and I have come to bring it to you; for you are greatly appreciated; so, notice the message and get hold of the vision: ²⁴Seventy weeks^x are settled on for your people and for your holy city, to restrain the transgression, to end sins,^y to atone for the guilt and to bring in everlasting righteousness; to confirm the prophetic vision and to consecrate the Holy of Holies. ²⁵Know and understand, then, that from the going forth of the message to restore and rebuild Jerusalem until the coming of a Prince, a Messiah, there are seven weeks and sixty-two weeks; in the seven weeks it will be in process of restoring and rebuilding with squares and streets even in times of affliction; ²⁶but after the sixty-two weeks Messiah shall be slain, although there is nothing against Him. The people of a prince, who comes, shall destroy the city and the sanctuary;^z its end shall come overwhelmingly and till the end there shall be warfare; ruins that are determined. ²⁷In a week He shall make the covenant to prevail for many,^a and in the middle of the week He will cause sacrifice and offering to cease. Then on a wing of horrors shall a desolator come to bring ruin until a fully determined end comes down on the desolation."

544 B.C.

10 IN THE THIRD YEAR OF CYRUS,^b king of Persia, a message was revealed to Daniel — called Belteshazzar; the message is true, pertaining to a lengthy struggle. He paid attention to the message and understood the vision. ²At that time I, Daniel, spent three weeks in mourning; ³I ate no appetizing food; neither meat nor wine entered my mouth and I did not anoint myself at all until the entire three weeks were over.

⁴On the 24th day of the first month,^c as I stood on the bank of the

v) He who led Israel out of Egypt is able and willing to return His repentant people to Palestine.
w) Ch. 8:15.

x) Seventy sevens; so later, v. 25 — seven sevens and sixty-two sevens. If taken literally, seven times seven would equal the jubilee period; but symbols are not meant to be taken literally.

y) Antiochus Epiphanes, ruling Judea 175-164 B.C., robbed the Temple, set up a statue of Zeus in the Holiest, ordered swine for sacrifice there, forbade circumcision, destroyed all sacred Writings of the Jews that could be found and tried to force Grecian paganism on the Jews.

z) This seems to refer to the Romans and the destruction of city and Temple, 70 A.D.

a) None but Christ, mentioned in vs. 25, made the Covenant prevail.

b) Cyrus became king of Persia 547 B.C., and a detachment of his armies, under Darius, took Babylon 539.

c) The month Abib, later called Nisan, with Passover on the 14th and Feast of Unleavened Bread 15-21st day.

great river, the Tigris,^d ⁵I looked up and behold, a man dressed in linen, his loins girded with fine gold of Ophaz; ⁶his body like topaz; his face like lightning; his eyes like flaming torches; his arms and legs like polished bronze and the sound of his voice like the sound of a multitude.^e ⁷I, Daniel, alone saw the vision; but the men with me saw no vision, so that great trembling overcame them; they fled and hid themselves. ⁸I was left by myself and, as I saw this great vision, no strength remained in me; the color left my cheeks and my energy was gone. ⁹Then I heard the sound of his words and on hearing the sound of his words I fell unconscious with my face to the ground. ¹⁰Now note! Then a hand touched me and had me rise tottering to my hands and knees; ¹¹he said to me, "Daniel, highly esteemed man, note well the words I speak to you and stand up straight; for I have been sent to you." And as he was speaking to me, I stood, trembling.

¹²He said to me, "Have no fear, Daniel; because from the first day in which you set your heart to gain understanding and to humble yourself before your God, your prayers were being heard and I have come in response to your prayers. ¹³But the prince of the Persian kingdom opposed me for 21 days. And observe! Michael,^f one of the chief princes, came to my aid, so that I retained the upper hand with the Persian kings. ¹⁴Now I am come to help you understand what shall befall your people in the latter days; for it is once more a vision regarding the future."^g

¹⁵While he was speaking to me along this line I turned my face toward the ground and was speechless; ¹⁶but note! One resembling a human form touched my lips; then I opened my mouth and spoke. I said to him who stood facing me, "Sir, on account of the vision my agonies have come upon me and I have no strength left. ¹⁷How can I, my Master's servant, converse with Thee, my Master? For I have now neither strength nor breath in me."

¹⁸The man-like being then touched me again and strengthened me, ¹⁹saying, "Have no fear, greatly beloved man! Peace to you; be strong and take courage." During his speaking to me I became strengthened and said, "Speak my Master, for Thou hast strengthened me." ²⁰He asked me, "Do you know why I have come to you? I must return at once to contend against the prince of Persia, and as soon as I have left, observe, the prince of Greece will come. ²¹Nevertheless, I will convey to you what is recorded in the Book of Truth — and none is joining force with me against them except your prince Michael."^h

539 B.C.

11 ⁱIN THE FIRST YEAR OF DARIUS, the Mede, I personally stood up to support and strengthen him. ²Now I shall make the truth known to you: Take notice! Three more kings shall arise in Persia and the fourth shall possess greater wealth than they.^j When through his wealth he has become strong, then he shall move everything against the kingdom of Greece. ³A valiant king shall then arise,^k who shall rule with wide-spread authority and will do as he pleases. ⁴But by the time he has risen, his realm shall be broken up and divided toward the four winds of heaven, neither among his descendants nor with the authority with which he ruled; for his realm shall be rooted up and apportioned to others than these.

⁵"The Southern king^k shall then grow in power, but one of his leaders

d) Hiddekel, mentioned in Gen. 2:14 as one of the four rivers of Eden.

e) Compare Rev. 1:13-17 regarding Christ.

f) Michael, the archangel, seems Israel's appointed guardian. The prince of Persia is not the king, but the guardian spirit of Persia, a supernatural power back of the Persian gods and idols. See Isa. 24:21; Jer. 46:25; I Cor. 8:5; 10:20.

g) The message intimated in v. 1 and filled out in ch. 11.

h) The speaker leaves the impression that we are in the presence of the Son of God.

i) Possibly, in their order — Cyrus, Cambyses, Darius-Hystaspis and Xerxes.

j) Alexander the Great, whose empire became four kingdoms after his demise.

k) Ptolemy Soter, a Macedonian, ruled Egypt 322-305 B.C. His chief leader was Seleucus, who became the head of the Seleucid dynasty that ruled from Phrygia in Asia Minor to the Indies, a far greater realm than Egypt; but Ptolemy had first appointed him general.

shall surpass him in prowess and shall govern; his rule shall be immense. ⁶After a number of years they shall form an alliance; the daughter of the king of the South shall come to the king of the North to make an agreement;¹ but she shall not retain the effectiveness of her might; neither shall he and his might endure. She shall be surrendered with her retinue, he whom she bore and he who won her. ⁷In those times a branch shall emerge from her roots,^m who shall march with an army and invade the stronghold of the Northern king; he shall be active against him and conquer. ⁸Even their gods with their golden images and their costly articles of silver and gold he shall carry as loot into Egypt. For some years he shall refrain from attacking the Northern king, ⁹who shall invade the realm of the Southern king and shall then return to his own land. ¹⁰His sons, however, shall arm themselves and muster immense forces, which shall certainly come and overwhelm and march through, pushing the attack to the stronghold.

¹¹The Southern king, enraged, shall march forth and battle against the king of the North, who shall raise a great army; but that army shall be surrendered to him.ⁿ ¹²When this host has been captured, he will grow conceited; he will beat them down by myriads; nevertheless, he shall not follow up his success. ¹³The northern king shall once more muster a host greater than the first and after some years he shall march against him with a formidable army amply equipped. ¹⁴In those times many will rebel against the king of the South and violent men of your own people shall elevate themselves to make the vision come true;^o but they shall stumble. ¹⁵The king of the North shall come and throw up a rampart; he shall take a fortified city and the armed forces of the South shall not hold out against him, not even the shock-troops; strength shall fail them to hold their own.^p ¹⁶The invader shall do as he pleases, with none standing up against him. He shall occupy the Fair Country,^q with all of it in his power. ¹⁷He shall then do his best to overpower the other's entire realm; to this one he shall give his daughter in marriage to come to terms with him, aiming to ruin his kingdom; but the plan shall neither succeed nor benefit him.^r ¹⁸He will then turn his attention to the coastlands and occupy many, but a general shall stop his insolence and throw his insults back on himself. ¹⁹Subsequently he shall busy himself with the strongholds of his own lands; but he shall stumble, fall and disappear.

²⁰"In his place one shall arise who shall make a tribute collector traverse the glory^s of the realm; but in a few days he shall be broken, though neither by spite nor by battle. ²¹In his stead a disreputable person shall come to the fore to whom no royal dignity is attributed. In an unguarded period he shall come and acquire royalty by devious intrigues. ²²Before him overwhelming forces shall be swept away; yes, also a prince of the covenant.^t ²³When a treaty has been made with him, he will practice deceit; thus he will with few people rise to great power. ²⁴Stealthily he will invade the fertile spots in a province and shall do what neither his fathers nor their ancestors did — he will distribute spoil, booty and property among them and he shall for a time plan strategies against fortresses. ²⁵With a great army he will direct his strength and his courage against the king of the South^u and the Southern king shall prepare for war with an unusually vast and

1) Berenice, daughter of Ptolemy, married Antiochus, but was discarded after her father's death, and Laodice, Antiochus' previous wife, taken back. Fearing her rival, Laodice poisoned Antiochus and had Berenice and her infant son murdered. m) Berenice's brother became king of Egypt.

n) Antiochus surrenders to Ptolemy. o) Jews aiming to fulfil this prophecy.

p) At Sidon Antiochus made Ptolemy's general surrender. q) Palestine, as also in v. 20.

r) The betrothal of Antiochus' daughter Cleopatra to Ptolemy, not consummated until five years later because Ptolemy was only seven, did not result well.

s) Seleucus Philopater sent his prime minister Heliodorus to seize the temple treasury, but a divine providence frustrated him. Seleucus died suddenly, probably poisoned by Heliodorus.

t) Probably the Jewish high priest Onias, whom Antiochus deposed.

u) Second campaign against Egypt by Antiochus Epiphanes, Egypt's king losing because of treachery. Subsequently they pretend friendship while scheming against each other.

mighty host; but he shall not be able to stand, because they will plot schemes against him. ²⁶Those eating at his table shall ruin him; his army shall drift away, with many fatalities. ²⁷Both of these kings shall have mischief in mind and, seated at a common table, they shall tell lies; but fruitlessly, for the destined final period must be awaited. ²⁸He shall then return to his land, loaded with loot and his mind set against the Holy Covenant,^v working his will as he returns to his country.

²⁹"At the appointed time he will again invade the South, but the last time it shall not be as at first. ³⁰Warships from Cyprus^w shall come against him, which scare him off. On the way back, he shall burn with rage against the Holy Covenant and take action. Once returned, he shall make common cause with those who abandon the Holy Covenant. ³¹He will set in motion armed forces who shall desecrate the sanctuary's citadel,^x cause the sacrifices to cease and set up an abomination that brings desolation. ³²With flat-teries he shall disaffect those who be-leave wickedly toward the Covenant; but the people who know their God shall be steadfast and will accomplish notable feats. ³³The teachers among the people shall cause many to gain insight, but for many days they shall be downed by sword and flame, prison and plunder. ³⁴However, while stumbling, they shall receive some aid and then many shall without conviction cooperate with them.^y ³⁵On the part of some teachers their stumbling shall be for their refinement and purification to make them white, preparatory to the final period which is delayed until the appointed time.

³⁶"The king shall do as he pleases; he will exalt and magnify himself above every god, even above the God of gods.^z He shall utter monstrous

boasts, and he shall prosper until the time of indignation is completed; for what is determined shall take place. ³⁷Of the gods of his fathers he shall take no notice, or of the beloved of women;^a neither shall he pay respect to any other god; for he shall exalt himself above them all. ³⁸Instead of them, however, he shall honor the god of fortresses; with gold and silver, with precious stones and jewelry he will honor a god whom his fathers never knew.^b ³⁹With devotees of a strange god he will man the fortified strong-holds; on those who acknowledge him he will bestow great honor; he shall make them rulers over many and will apportion the land to them.

⁴⁰"But ultimately the king of the South shall collide with him. The king of the North shall march against him like a tempest, with chariots and horse-men and a great fleet of ships. ⁴¹He shall invade the land and overwhelm it as he passes through. He shall also invade the Glory Land and many shall be worsted; but Edom, Moab and the prominent Ammonites shall escape his power.^c ⁴²He shall extend his dominion over several countries, and the land of Egypt shall not go free; ⁴³he shall gain control of Egypt's treasures, gold, silver and all of Egypt's valuables. The Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be in his retinue. ⁴⁴But reports from the East and from the North shall alarm him, so that he shall withdraw in great fury to destroy and annihilate many. ⁴⁵He shall pitch his palatial tents between the sea and the glorious Holy Mountain — and come to his end with none to help him.

12 "AT THAT TIME MICHAEL SHALL stand up, the great prince who defends the children of your people.^d It will be such a time of anguish as has never occurred since a nation existed

v) The Jews as people of the Holy Covenant. w) Roman power opposing Antiochus.

x) Antiochus determined to root out the Hebrew religion.

y) Cooperating with the Maccabees against Grecian paganism.

z) What follows here to the end of the chapter applies not alone to Antiochus Epiphanes but to others of his type; it is symbolic of Antichrist, represented by various characters as in I John 2:18; 4:3; II John 7; II Thess. 2:3-12, of which Christ speaks, Matt. 24:5, 23, 24; Mark 13:21, 22.

a) Tammuz, a Babylonian idol for whom Ezekiel saw Jewish women weeping, Ezek. 8:14.

b) No particular god but in general the god of war.

c) In Antiochus' day Moab no longer existed. Antiochus made no African invasions beyond Egypt and he died at Tabae in Persia.

d) The time of ch. 11:40-45; Michael protects the godly, so sorely persecuted.

— until that time; yet your people, every one who is found recorded in the Book, shall be saved. ²Many, who sleep in the earth's dust, shall awake,^e some to everlasting life and others to shame, to everlasting abhorrence. ³Those who are teachers^f shall then shine as the brightness of the firmament and those who turned many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever. ⁴But you, Daniel, keep the message a secret; seal the Book until the final period; many shall investigate^g and information shall advance."

⁵Then I, Daniel, looked and, behold, two others were standing, the one on this bank of the stream and the other on that bank. ⁶One asked the man dressed in fine linen who was above the water of the stream, "How long until these marvels shall end?" ⁷Then I heard the man clothed in fine linen,^h who was above the waters of the stream, as he raised his right hand and his left toward heaven; he swore by Him who lives forever, "A period, periods and a half period, and when the breaking of the power of the holy people ends, then all these things shall be completed."

⁸I heard, but failed to understand, so I said, "My Master, to what outcome does it all run?" ⁹But he said, "Move on, Daniel, for the words are secret and sealed until the final period. ¹⁰Many shall be purified, made white and revived, while the wicked shall behave wickedly and none of the ungodly shall understand; only the learners shall understand. ¹¹From the time when the daily offering is eliminated and the desolating abomination is set up there shall be 1,290 days. ¹²Blessed is the expectant one who attains 1,335 days.ⁱ ¹³But you, go on to the end; you will rest and you will arise for your allotment at the end of time."

e) No unconsciousness is intimated; the body returns to its dust, and our Lord's parable of sheep and goats, Matt. 25:31-46, is strongly foreshadowed.

f) Those who have instructed others Godward receive distinction.

g) Literally, shall run back and forth. h) Almost certainly the Son of God.

i) As in Revelation the numbers are symbolic of time, therefore fragmentary. 1200 days, or 40 months of 30 days, or 3½ years; or time, times and a half time, Rev. 12:6, 14. The added years in 1,335 days may suggest advance in spiritual freedom and expression.

THE BOOK OF

HOSEA

1 THIS IS THE LORD'S MESSAGE THAT I came to Hosea the son of Beeri, during the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and during the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.^a

²In the LORD's first message to Hosea, this is what the LORD said to him: Go, take to you a wife of harlotry and children of harlotry; for the land is doubly guilty of harlotry, forsaking the LORD completely. ³So Hosea went and took Gomer, the daughter of Diblaim, and she conceived and bore him a son. ⁴Call his name Jezreel, the LORD told him, for after a little time now, I will punish the house of Jehu because of the blood of Jezreel, and put an end to the kingdom of the house of Israel. ⁵On that day I shall break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel.^b

⁶When again Gomer conceived and bore a daughter, the Lord said, Call her name Unloved, for never again will I show pity for the house of Israel so as to forgive them at all. ⁷I will, however, still show pity for the house of Judah, and I will deliver them through the LORD their God; but I will not deliver them by bow, or sword, or war, or horses, or horsemen.

⁸Gomer weaned Unloved, then conceived again and bore a son. ⁹And the Lord said: Call him, Not-my-people;^c for you are not My people, and I shall not be your God.^d

¹⁰Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be like the sand of the sea that cannot be measured or counted; and where it used to be said to them, "You are not my people," they will be called, "Sons of the living God."

¹¹Then shall the children of Judah and the children of Israel be gathered into one, and they shall choose for themselves one head; and they shall go up from the land; for great shall be the day of Jezreel.

2 SAY TO YOUR BROTHER, "MY PEOPLE," and to your sister, "Beloved."

²Strive with your mother, plead — for she is not my wife, nor am I her husband — persuade her to clear her face of her marks of harlotry and remove her adulterous charms from her breasts; ³or I shall strip her naked and leave her as in the day she was born; I will make her as a desert waste and leave her like a land all parched, and thus I will slay her with thirst.^e ⁴For her children I shall have no mercy for they are children of harlotry. ⁵Their mother played the harlot; the one who con-

a) This verse, the title of the book, may have been provided to convey Hosea's prophecies to Judah, mentioning four kings of Judah but only one of Israel.

b) Jezreel in the northern kingdom was the scene of the bloody massacre by Jehu, as told in II Kings 9-10. In Jehu's day it was accepted as an act of justice, being done under an order of Elisha as punishment of the house of Ahab for the sins of Jezebel. c) Her son was not Hosea's.

d) The book of Hosea presents some of the greatest, most revealing writings in the O.T. The prophet was a man of profoundly spiritual insight. He loved his people, being born among them and reared with them, he being the only "writing prophet" of the northern kingdom. He loved Gomer in spite of her infidelity; so did God's love for Israel continue, steady and sure, in spite of her apostasy. e) The speaker here is the LORD. He is addressing the whole nation.

ceived them has been shameless. She said, "I shall go after my lovers, who give me my bread and water, my wool and my flax, my oil and my drink."^f

⁶Therefore I will hedge up her path with thorns, and I will build a wall against her, so she will never find her way out. ⁷She will run after her lovers but she will not overtake them; she will search for them but will not find them. Then she will say, "I shall go back to my first husband; for then it went better with me than now." ⁸However, she did not understand that it was I who gave her the grain, the wine and the oil; and silver I gave her, too, in abundance, as well as gold, which they made into a Baal. ⁹Therefore, I shall take back My grain in harvest time and My wine in its season; I shall reclaim My wool and My flax, given to cover her nakedness. ¹⁰Now I shall show her in her shame to her lovers, and none shall come to take her again. ¹¹So shall I put an end to all her gaiety, her feasts, her new moons, her Sabbaths, and all her festal assemblies.^g

¹²I will destroy her vines and her fig trees of which she said, "They are my pay; my lovers gave them to me."^h I will turn them into a jungle, and the wild beasts shall devour them. ¹³I shall visit upon her the days of the Baals, when she offered incense to them, decked herself out with her rings and her jewels, sought to attract her lovers and forgot Me utterly. Such is the LORD's message.

¹⁴Therefore, see! I shall allure her; I will take her to the wilderness, and I will speak tenderly to her heart. ¹⁵I will give her there her vineyards, and the Valley of Achor for a door of hope.ⁱ There she will sing as in the time of her youth, in those days when she came up from the land of Egypt.

¹⁶On that day — this is the word of the LORD — you will call Me, "My Husband," and not again will you say to Me, "My Baal." ¹⁷I will take away from her lips the names of the Baals, and they shall never again be mentioned by name. ¹⁸Then, too, on that day I shall make a covenant for them with the beasts of the field and with the birds of heaven, even with the creeping things of the ground. Bow, sword, and war I will banish from the earth, and they shall live in safety. ¹⁹I will betroth you to Me for ever, in righteousness and justice, in love and tender mercy, ²⁰betroth you to Me in faithfulness, and you shall know the LORD.

²¹On that day too — it is the LORD who says it — I will call on the heavens, and they shall call on the earth; ²²the earth shall call on the grain, the wine and the oil, and they shall call on Jezreel.^j ²³I will sow her for Myself in the land; I will love Unloved; I will say to Not-my-people, "You are My people," and they will say, "My God!"^k

3 AGAIN THE LORD SAID TO ME: GO, love a woman now in love with a paramour, herself an adulteress, besides; such is the way the LORD loves His people Israel, even though they keep turning to other gods and love raisin cakes.^l ²So I bought her, paying fifteen silver dollars and fifteen bushels of barley for her,^m ³and I said to her: "For many days you will remain quietly here at home with me; no more are you to play the harlot; nor are you to have a husband; furthermore my relation to you will not change." ⁴For the people of Israel shall continue many days without a king or a prince, without sacrifice or an altar, and without a pillar, without ephod or

f) This refers to Israel's most serious religious problem; most of the people believed they owed all the products of the soil to the Baals, the pagan gods of Canaan, all fertility to be due to their bounty.

g) Such as the feast of ingathering when the people lived in booths or tents in the vineyards and celebrated the occasion in song and gaiety. They made religious festivals of them, observed their rituals and brought sacrifices.

h) The harlot's hire was the harvest as coming from the Baals.

i) The valley in which Achan and his family had been destroyed because of their treacherous sin [Josh. 7:1, 20-24].

j) The relationship between God, the heavens, the earth, the grain, wine and oil is close, and the people should have been an inner part of it; but they lost that marvelous heritage. However, it is theirs if they will return for it.

k) The names which Hosea gave the children, typifying Israel, are reversed; the people may be restored to God's grace. Cf. Rom. 9:23-26. ¹) An important item in the Baal feasts.

m) Almost certainly Gomer, who had left Hosea for one or more "lovers."

teraphim. ⁵Thereafter the Israelites shall turn to seek the LORD their God and David their king.ⁿ They shall come with reverence to the LORD and to His goodness in the end of the days.

4 LISTEN TO THE WORD OF THE LORD, sons of Israel; for the LORD has a charge against the dwellers of the land, because there is no fidelity, no kindness, no knowledge of God in the land. ²There is swearing, lying, murder, theft, adultery, violent outbreaks, bloodshed after bloodshed. ³Wherefore the land mourns and everything living in it languishes; the beasts of the field, the birds of the air, the fish of the sea, too, are swept away.

⁴Even at that, let no one enter complaint; let no one bring accusation, for My people are like their priestlings.^o ⁵You priests! You stumble by day; the prophet, too, stumbles with you by night, and I will destroy your mother. ⁶My people perish for lack of knowledge, and because you have rejected knowledge, I reject you from being priest to Me. Since you^p have forgotten the law of your God, I, too, will forget; I will forget your children.

⁷The more they multiplied, the more they sinned against Me;^q I will turn their glory into shame. ⁸They feed on the sin of My people, and toward their iniquity they turn their desire.^r ⁹So it becomes — like priest, like people. I will visit their ways upon them and reckon to them their doings. ¹⁰They shall eat and not be satisfied; they shall play the harlot but beget no increase, since they have failed to pay heed to the LORD.

¹¹Lust, strong drink, and wine take away the intelligence; ¹²people inquire of their wood, and their staff gives them their answers;^s for a spirit of har-

lotry has led them astray, and it has made them apostates from their God. ¹³They sacrifice on the tops of their mountains and burn incense on the hills, under an oak or poplar or terebinth, for their shade is pleasant. Therefore your daughters give themselves to harlotry and your brides to adultery.^t ¹⁴I will not punish your daughters for playing the harlot, nor your daughters-in-law when they commit adultery; for the men themselves go aside with harlots; they sacrifice with temple prostitutes, and the people, not being sensible, are ruined.

¹⁵Though you play the harlot, Israel, let not Judah be guilty. Never go up to Gilgal or to Bethaven, and never swear, "By the life of the LORD." ¹⁶Yes, like a stubborn heifer, Israel is stubborn. How can the LORD feed them like a lamb in a broad place? ¹⁷Ephraim is wedded to idols; let him be! ¹⁸Their drinking bout over, whoring they go; they love shame more than glory. ¹⁹A wind has folded them in its wings, and they shall be put to shame by their altars.^u

5 HEAR THIS, YOU PRIESTS; GIVE heed, O house of Israel; and you, too, family royal, lend an ear; for the sentence pronounced pertains to you. A snare you have become at Mizpah, a net spread out on Tabor,^v ²and the pit they made deep at Acacia.^w But I, I will be a scourge to all of you.

³Yes, I know Ephraim well, and Israel is not hid from Me. You have played the harlot, Ephraim; Israel is defiled. ⁴Their doings will not permit them to return to their God; for with a spirit of harlotry in them, they cannot know the LORD.

⁵But Israel's pride testifies to his face;^x both Israel and Ephraim go

n) To every Hebrew David meant true worship of God and, in God, a united nation.

o) The fault lay not as much with the people as with their leaders.

p) Probably the parents who set their children an idolatrous example. q) Especially the priests.

r) The priests thrive by collecting fines and sin offerings from the people; then use their income for their own pleasure — to buy wine, etc. s) Objects made of wood, looked to for divination.

t) This was a type of prostitution participated in at places of worship and at shrines, common throughout the ancient world. It was believed that by some magic it fostered fertilization. The women involved were respected as contributing to the prosperity of the community.

u) The wind is the Assyrian invasion which Hosea sees on the horizon. It came, and in 12 years the nation disappeared from history.

v) Mizpah, Tabor, etc., are conspicuous shrines, where the people were led to adopt pagan worship.

w) Snare, net and pit were used by hunters. Acacia was the camp at Baal-Peor in Moses' day.

x) Under Jeroboam II, the northern kingdom prospered, felt no need of God.

stumbling in their guilt; Judah, too, will stumble with them. ⁶With their flocks and herds they shall go to seek the LORD^y but they will not find Him; He has withdrawn Himself from them. ⁷For they have dealt treacherously with the LORD and have begotten strange children.^z Now a new moon shall devour them together with their portions.^a ⁸Blow the horn in Gibeah, the trumpet, too, in Ramah. Sound the alarm at Beth-Aven. "After you, Benjamin!"^b ⁹Ephraim shall become a desert on the day of rebuke, and concerning the tribes of Israel, what I now make known is determined. ¹⁰The princes of Judah for their part have become like those who remove a landmark;^c upon them will I pour out My indignation like water. ¹¹Ephraim is an oppressor; he crushes justice to earth, for he has gone after vanity with a will. ¹²Therefore I am like a moth to Ephraim and as dry rot to the house of Judah.

¹³When Ephraim saw his sickness and Judah his running sores, Ephraim turned to Assyria and sent to the fighter king.^d But he is unable to heal you or to cure your sore distress.^e ¹⁴For I am as a lion to Ephraim, a young lion to the house of Judah; so I tear and go My way; I carry off, and there is none to come to the rescue. ¹⁵I will go and return to My place until they acknowledge their guilt and seek My face. When trouble comes, they will earnestly seek Me, and then their cry will be:

6 "COME, LET US RETURN TO THE LORD; for He has torn, and He may heal us; He has smitten, and He may bind us up. ²In two days He will revive us, and on the third day He will raise us up that we may once more live before Him. ³Let us know, let us press on to know the LORD; for as certain as the break of dawn He comes to us; He will come to us like winter rain, as the spring showers that water the earth."

⁴What can I do with you, Ephraim, and with you, too, Judah, what can I do? Your love is like a morning cloud and like the dew, so early gone.^f ⁵Wherefore I hewed them down by the prophets; I slew them by the words of My mouth, and My judgment breaks forth as the light. ⁶For I desire loving-kindness and not sacrifice and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.^g ⁷But they, like Adam, transgressed the covenant; there^h they broke faith with Me. ⁸Gilead is a city of evildoers,ⁱ tracked with footprints of blood. ⁹A pack of priests lies in wait for a man, as do bands of marauders. On the road to Shechem they murder;^j they practice villainy. ¹⁰In the house of Israel I have seen horrible sights; there Ephraim has indeed played the harlot; Israel is defiled. ¹¹For you, too, Judah, a harvest is reserved, when I would turn the fortunes of My people.

7 WHEN I WOULD HEAL ISRAEL, THE guilt of Ephraim is before Me and the evil doings of Samaria; for they commit fraud. Burglars they are, who break into houses; bandits who raid on the highways. ²Through it all they never consider in their hearts that I remember their evil doings. Now their sinful deeds confront them everywhere; before My face, too, they appear.

³With their evil doings they gladden the king,^k and in their intrigues they include princes. ⁴They are all adul-

y) With all their sacrifices.

z) They have married foreign wives; the parents have not taught the children knowledge of the LORD.

a) They are faithless to the LORD and any month now, any new moon, the invader may come and they will perish. b) A war cry [Judg. 5:14].

c) Those who removed landmarks were the lowest thieves [Deut. 19:14; 27:17].

d) Nickname for the Assyrian king.

e) Only Israel's God could cure her. Troubles at home were due to her disregard of Him.

f) Hosea sees that Israel's repentance was too easy. They must be made to realize how serious their situation is.

g) Love and obedience God desires; the blood of bulls cannot bring forgiveness.

h) Trans-Jordan, farthest from worship-center.

i) East of the Jordan and often representing the whole Trans-Jordan country.

j) Simeon and Levi with their servants had murdered many in Shechem, because their sister Dinah had been dishonored by its crown prince [Gen. 34:25-27].

k) They anoint one king after another.

terers; like an oven heated by the baker who rests from kneading the dough until it is leavened. ⁵On our king's day¹ the royal princes became sick with the fever of wine; they made common cause with worthless fellows, ⁶and their hearts were fired like an oven with their plotting. All night their anger smoldered; in the morning it blazed out like a raging fire, ⁷all aglow like an oven.^m They consume their rulers; so all their kings have fallen, not one among them ever calling on Me.

⁸Ephraim mixes himself among the nations; Ephraim is a cake not turned.ⁿ ⁹Strangers have devoured his strength, and he does not know it; gray hairs are sprinkled upon him, but he is not aware of it. ¹⁰The pride of Israel bears witness against him; but they neither turn to the LORD their God, nor seek Him on account of all this. ¹¹So Ephraim has become like a silly, witless dove; they call to Egypt; they run off to Assyria. ¹²As they fly off, I cast My net over them; as if they were birds of the air, I bring them down; I will punish them because of their evil ways. ¹³Woe to them for forsaking Me! As for Me, I would have redeemed them, but they spoke lies against Me!

¹⁴They never cry out to Me from their hearts when howling upon their beds; for grain and new wine they cut themselves and rebel against Me.^o ¹⁵Although I trained them and strengthened their arms, yet toward Me they think only evil. ¹⁶They turn, but not to the Most High; they are like an unreliable bow. Their princes shall fall by the sword because of the insolence of their tongue. So there shall be only scorn for them in the land of Egypt.^p

8 THE TRUMPET TO YOUR MOUTH! For like an eagle it comes against the LORD's house,^q because they have transgressed My covenant and have revolted against My Law. ²To Me they cry, "My God, we know Thee, we of Israel!" ³But Israel has spurned the good, and an enemy shall pursue him.

⁴They have made kings, but without My consent; they have made princes too, but I knew it not.^r With their silver and their gold they have made themselves idols to their own elimination. ⁵I reject your calf, Samaria; My wrath burns against them.^s How long will a pure heart be impossible among them? ⁶For this^t too is of Israel, a craftsman made it; it is not God. It shall become broken chips, the calf of Samaria.

⁷They are sowing the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind. A grain stalk standing bare without a shoot will produce no grain, and if perchance it did produce, foreigners would soon swallow it. ⁸Devoured is Israel, now among the nations like a useless vessel. ⁹For they have gone up to Assyria like a wild donkey wandering off by himself; So too Ephraim offers love-gifts,^u ¹⁰but even though they hire help among the nations, I am now going to gather them in; they have begun to be few because of the burden of tribute to the great king.^v

¹¹Ephraim has indeed multiplied altars, but to him they have become altars for sinning. ¹²If I were to write for him My laws by the myriads, they would be accounted laws of foreigners. ¹³They bring sacrifices; they offer flesh and eat it; the LORD has no pleasure in them; He will remember their guilt and visit their sins upon them. They must return to Egypt.^w

¹⁴Truly Israel has forgotten his Maker and has built himself palaces, while Judah has multiplied cities highly fortified; but I shall send a fire on his

1) The king's birthday or the anniversary of his ascension to the throne.

m) These most godless years, 743-735, and no repentance. n) Half-baked.

o) They approach God by heathen practices.

p) As it was for their fathers in Egypt [Ex. 5:21; 14:11, 12].

q) Sound alarm; war will break upon Israel; the enemy will come swiftly.

r) They did not consult Me. s) One at Bethel, one at Dan. t) This calf probably at Bethel.

u) In these perilous times Israel seeks to hire help from Assyria, or from Egypt, but it will not accomplish anything, for it is not the help she needs.

v) The king of Assyria; as king of kings he was an emperor.

w) Slaves [again and now] to sin and to others because of their forsaking God.

cities, that shall consume his strongholds.

9 NO REJOICING NOW, ISRAEL, NOR any exulting in gladness like that of the pagan people around you; for you have played the harlot. Turning away from your God, you have, indeed, loved a harlot's hire upon every threshing floor.^x ²Threshing floor and wine-vat shall nourish them no more, and the new wine shall play them false. ³They shall not be dwelling in the LORD's land;^y but Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and in Assyria they shall eat unclean food.

⁴There they shall not pour out libations of wine to the LORD, nor would their sacrifices please Him. Their bread shall be like mouners' bread; all who partake of it shall be defiled; for they shall eat bread only to satisfy hunger; it cannot enter the LORD's house.^z ⁵What will you do on the great assembly day and on the LORD's feast day? ⁶For lo, they are going to Assyria; away from destruction, Egypt will gather them in; Memphis will bury them. Weeds shall possess the strong-box of their silver, and brambles shall be in their tents. ⁷The days of punishment have arrived, the time for retribution; Israel shall experience it. The prophet is a fool;^a the spiritual man has gone demented, because of the multitude of your sins and your massive enmity. ⁸God's watchman over you, Ephraim, is His prophet, yet on every path which he must tread there are fowler's snares; within the house of his God there is hostility. ⁹They are as deeply steeped in depravity as in the days of Gibeah.^b God will remember their guilt and punish their sins.

¹⁰Like grapes in the wilderness I found Israel, and as the first fruits of the fig tree's first crop I looked upon your fathers.^c But they came to Baal-peor^d and there gave themselves over to shame, becoming abominable, like the object of their love.

¹¹Ephraim's glory has flown away like a bird; no more births, no more motherhood, no more conception!^e ¹²Even if they brought up children, I would bereave them to the last man; it is woe to them when I turn from them. ¹³Ephraim's sons, as I foresaw, are destined to be a prey; he must bring forth his sons for slaughter. ¹⁴Give them, LORD, what wilt Thou give? Give them wombs that miscarry, withered breasts! ¹⁵All their evil is in Gilgal,^f there I have hated them; because of the wickedness of their deeds I will drive them out of My house;^g no more will I love them; their nobles are all rebels.

¹⁶Ephraim is smitten; their roots are all dried up; they will never produce fruits; even if they should bear offspring, I will slay the darlings of their womb. ¹⁷My God will cast them off for they have not listened to Him, and they shall become wanderers among the nations.

10 A LUXURIANT VINE IS ISRAEL, productive of fruit for himself; but the more fruits he produced, the more he multiplied altars; and the better his land became, the more beautiful he made his sacred pillars.^h ²Their heart was slippery, and so they must suffer for it. Their altars the Lord shall break down; their sacred stones He will destroy.

³Now they say, "We have no king; if we have no reverence for the LORD, what could the king do for us?" ⁴They mouth words; with false oaths they enter covenants, and judgments sprout

x) The harvests Israel ascribes to the Baals as answer to her recognition of them at their local altars.

y) Israel ate no meat without first offering part of it on the altar; but in exile there will be no altar, hence all foods will be unclean. z) To be offered to Him before being eaten.

a) The men of God are beside themselves because of the evil all about them.

b) The Israelites. [See Judg. 19].

c) In God's first dealings with Israel they were an attractive people.

d) When Israel arrived there, some sinned with Moabite women, who enticed them to the feast of Baal-peor.

e) The religious prostitution, practiced at the Canaanite shrines, was deemed to have fertilizing effects. f) A chief center of idol worship [Amos 4:4 and 5:5]. g) Meaning Palestine.

h) An essential part of a pagan shrine erected beside the altar.

like poisonous weeds in the furrows of a field. ⁵For the calf of Beth-avenⁱ the dwellers in Samaria shall tremble; yes, its people shall mourn for it and its priestlings wail on account of it, lamenting its glory that has departed. ⁶The thing itself they shall pack along to Assyria; it will be tribute for the fighter king. Ephraim shall suffer disgrace, and Israel shall be put to shame through his counsel.

⁷Samaria's king will cease to be; as a chip on the surface of the waters will he be. ⁸The high places of Aven,^j Israel's sin, will crumble away; thorns and thistles shall come creeping up over their altars. They shall say to the mountains, "Cover us," and to the hills, "Fall upon us."^k

⁹From the days of Gibeah you have sinned, Israel; you have not advanced in the warfare against the sons of iniquity; you never even caught up with the men of Gibeah.^k ¹⁰I will come and I will chastise them, and peoples shall be gathered against them to punish them for their double guilt. ¹¹Ephraim was a young, trained heifer loving to tread the threshing floor, and I have been sparing her comely neck; but I will put Ephraim to the yoke; Judah must plow and Jacob must harrow.

¹²Sow for yourselves righteousness and reap the fruit of love; break up your fallow ground;^l it is time to seek the LORD until He comes and rains righteousness upon you. ¹³You have cultivated ungodliness; you have harvested injustice; you have eaten the fruit of lies because you trust in your chariots and in the abundance of your warriors.

¹⁴Tumults shall rise among your peoples, and all your forts will be destroyed as Shalman destroyed Beth-Arbel,^m on the day of battle when the mother was dashed in pieces with the children. ¹⁵So shall Iⁿ do to you, O house of Israel, because of your great wickedness. Israel's king shall be cut off utterly in the morning.

11 WHEN ISRAEL WAS YOUNG, HOW I loved him and called him from Egypt to be My son.^o ²But the more I called to them, the more they deserted Me, offering sacrifices to the Baals and burning incense to idols.

³But it was I who taught Ephraim to walk; I who took them up in My arms; yet they did not know that I healed them. ⁴With human cords I would lead them, with bands of love. I was to them as one lifting the yoke from their jaws, and, bending down, I fed them.

⁵They shall return to the land of Egypt, and Assyria shall be their king; for they refuse to return to Me. ⁶So the sword shall whirl in their cities, destroy the bars of their gates, and devour them in their fortresses. ⁷My people are bent on wandering away from Me, and though they call to Him on high, He will not lift them up.

⁸How can I give you up, Ephraim? How can I let you go, Israel? How can I give you up like Admah or make you like Zebaoim?^p My heart overturns within Me; all My compassions kindle. ⁹I will not let the heat of My anger burn; I will not again destroy Ephraim; for I am God, not man, the Holy One among you; I came not to consume.

¹⁰They will walk after the LORD; like a lion He will roar; and as He roars, sons will come trembling from the west. ¹¹Like birds they come hurrying from Egypt and like doves from the land of Assyria, and I will bring them back home; it is the word of the LORD. ¹²Ephraim surrounds Me with

i) Hosea's nickname for Bethel, which means House of God; Beth-aven means House of Nothingness. So Aven. j) The cry of Rev. 6:16.

k) The men of Gibeah [Judg. 19:22-30] proved as low as those of Sodom; sins were not adequately dealt with in Hosea's time.

l) To which Jeremiah adds, "and sow not among the thorns," meaning, cleanse the heart to do the will of God.

m) Identified with Arbela in Galilee, 4 miles w.n.w. from Tiberias, cruelly destroyed by Shalman, probably Shalmaneser, Assyria's emperor, whose armies were near. Beth-Arbel means, House of God's ambush.

n) They will be punished for their ungodly practices at the shrine of the golden calf.

o) Hosea insisted it was God's love for Israel which had made her mankind's teacher in the things of the Spirit. p) Two cities destroyed with Sodom and Gomorrah.

lies and the house of Israel with deceit; but Judah still acknowledges God and is faithful to the Holy One.

12 EPHRAIM IS FEEDING ON THE wind and following after the east wind all day long.^q They multiply lies and desolation, entering into contracts with Assyria and carrying oil to Egypt.^r

²The LORD has a lawsuit with Judah, to see that Jacob is punished as his ways require, to repay him according to his doings. ³In the womb he seized his brother's heel^s and later in his manly strength he strove with God. ⁴Yes, he wrestled with the Angel and prevailed;^t he wept and entreated Him for mercy. At Bethel he found Him and there God spoke with him^u ⁵the LORD, the God of hosts, YAHWEH I His name. ⁶So, you return to your God, hold on to love and justice and wait continually on your God.

⁷As for Canaan, in his hand are false balances; for he loves to practice fraud. ⁸But Ephraim says, "Truly, I am growing wealthy; I have gotten me riches, and none of my gains have come to me wrongfully, for that would be sin."

⁹Now I the LORD, your God, since the land of Egypt,^v could again make you to live in tents, as in the days of the harvest festival.^w ¹⁰I spoke to you repeatedly by the prophets; I multiplied visions for you, and by the prophets I appealed to you in parables;^x ¹¹but in Gilead all is wicked worthlessness; in Gilgal their bullocks were offered to demons. Their altars shall become as stone-heaps in the furrows of the field. ¹²Jacob fled to the land of Aram, and there Israel served for a wife — for a wife he herded sheep.^y ¹³By a prophet the LORD brought Israel from Egypt, and by a prophet he was shepherded. ¹⁴But Ephraim has provoked (Him) bitterly; so He will leave his bloodguilt upon him and make him pay for his reproach.

13 WHEN EPHRAIM SPOKE, THERE was trembling;^z he was prince in Israel; but he fell into sin through Baal, and thus he died. ²Now they continue their sinning; they make themselves molten images, shaping as they are minded their silver into idols — the work of craftsmen, all of it. They say of them, "The men who offer sacrifices kiss the calves."^a ³Wherefore they shall be like the morning cloud and like the dew vanishing early, like chaff driven in the wind from the threshing floor and like smoke from a window.

⁴Yet I am the LORD your God, since the land of Egypt; and you, you know no God but Me; nor is there any Savior besides Me. ⁵I knew you in the desert in that scorched land. ⁶But as they ate and were filled, their heart was exalted; therefore they forgot Me. ⁷So I shall be like a lion to them, like a leopard by the wayside ready to leap. ⁸I will spring on them like a bear bereaved of her young; I will tear open their hearts and devour them there as would a lion, as wild beasts would rend them.

⁹When I destroy you, O Israel, who then comes to your aid? ¹⁰Where now is your king, that he may save you, and all your princes besides, that they may rule over you, concerning whom you said, "Give me a king and princes"? ¹¹I will give you a king, but in My anger, and I will take him away again in My indignation. ¹²Harvested is Ephraim's guilt; stored up now is his sin. ¹³Pangs like those of childbirth are come upon him; but a foolish son is he; for this is no time to stay in the mouth of the womb.^b

¹⁴Should I save them from the hand

q) Hosea has a gift for striking expressions. Ephraim was ever the shepherd; he still is, but now it is only the wind he herds. r) Isa. 30:6, 7. s) Gen. 25:26. t) Gen. 32:28.

u) God spoke with Jacob, but the revelation was also for Jacob's descendants.

v) Through all the time since I brought you out.

w) Those were the happy days while the grapes were being gathered and the wine made. x) This equals: "I have used every channel whereby to send warning, but without avail."

y) Gen. 29:20.

z) Once the tribe of Ephraim was awe-inspiring as chief among the northern tribes.

a) Homage to kings and others, shown by a kiss, was common; here the same to idols.

b) Spiritually, the northern kingdom, since their independent beginning was like a stillborn babe; there has been no life, no growth.

of Sheol? Should I redeem them from death? Where, O Death, are your plagues; where, O Sheol, is your destruction?^c Relenting is hid from My eyes. ¹⁶Though among his brothers he is the "fruitful" one,^d an east wind^e shall come, a wind of the LORD out of the desert, and mounting high, it shall dry up his fountain and parch his spring, stripping him of every precious thing. ¹⁶Samaria must bear her guilt, for she rebelled against her God. They shall fall by the sword; their children shall be dashed in pieces and their women with child ripped open.

14 COME BACK, O ISRAEL, TO THE LORD your God; for your sins have caused you to stumble. ²Come back to the LORD and bring words with you. Say to Him, "Take away all guilt, grant us favor, that we may bring as an offering to Thee the fruit of our lips!"^f

³Assyria will not save us; neither will we be riders of horses;^g nor will we ever again say, "Our God," to what our hands have made; for in Thee the fatherless finds mercy.

⁴I will heal their backsliding;^h I will love them freely, for My anger is now turned from them. ⁵I will be as the dew to Israel; he shall blossom as the lily; he shall throw out his roots like Lebanon. ⁶His branches shall spread, and his beauty shall be like that of the olive tree, his fragrance like Lebanon. ⁷They shall return and dwell beneath His shadow. They shall live as a well-watered garden, flourish like the vine and become as fragrant as the wine of Lebanon.

⁸What more then has Ephraim to do with idols? I make answer to him; I look after himⁱ with watchful care; I am like an evergreen cypress; and your fruit, it is found, comes from Me.

⁹Whoever is wise will understand these things, and the discerning man will know them; for the ways of the LORD are right and the righteous walk in them; but transgressors stumble in them.^j

c) St. Paul's I Cor. 15:55 recalls this passage, but with a glorious reversed meaning.

d) Ephraim, in Heb. "fruitful," was thought of as the "productive" one.

e) The wind from the east is Assyria. f) Offer words of thanksgiving and praise.

g) They will no longer look to Assyria for help nor turn to Egypt [Isa. 30:16; 31:1].

h) Now God responds. i) When he calls to Me.

j) Ch. 14 offers an encouraging picture — Israel's return to God, to the land, and to the blessings to follow — such as only God's love could offer. Could Hosea have written thus after all those messages? Yes, his understanding of God's love would make it agreeable to him.

JOEL

1 THE WORD OF THE LORD THAT CAME to Joel, the son of Pethuel:

²Hear this, you old men, and listen, all you who dwell in the land!

Has such a thing ever taken place in your days, or in the days of your fathers?

³Tell these things to your children, and they to their children, and their children to the generation after them.

⁴What the crawling locust left, the swarming locust ate, and what the swarming locust left, the hopping locust ate, and what the hopping locust left, the stripping locust ate.^a

⁵Wake up, you drunkards and cry aloud; wail, all you drinkers of wine, because of the sweet wine, for it is cut off from your mouth.

⁶For a nation has now invaded My land, mighty and beyond numbering; their teeth are the teeth of a lion, their fangs are those of a lioness.

⁷He has made of My vineyards a waste-land,

And My fig trees he has blasted; He has stripped them clean of their bark, and thrown it away.

He has bleached the branches white.

⁸Wail (O land), like as a virgin girded with sackcloth for the bridegroom of her youth.

⁹The meal offerings and the drink offerings^b are cut off from the house of the LORD; the priests, the ministers of the LORD, now mourn.

¹⁰The fields are desolate, the land is in mourning, for the grain is destroyed; the new wine is dried up; the oil does not flow.

¹¹The farmers are depressed, the vine-dressers lament; for the wheat and the barley, the harvest of the field is ruined.

¹²The vines languish, and the fig tree is withered.

The pomegranate, the palm and the apricot, all the trees of the field are dried up, and all gladness is gone from among men.

¹³Gird yourselves and mourn, O priests! Wail, you ministers of the altar!

Come inside, and lie all night in sackcloth, you ministers of my God.

For sacrifices and drink offerings are now not offered in the house of your God.

¹⁴Sanctify a fast, announce a solemn assembly, gather together the elders, and all those living in the land, to the house of your God, and cry to the LORD fervently.

¹⁵Alas, for the day, for the day of the LORD is near! It comes as a day of destruction from the Almighty.

a) Of the nine names for locust used in the Hebrew Old Testament four are found here and in 2:25. Palestine had similar terrifying experiences as here described in the years 1915 and 1928.
b) The regular daily offering, Ex. 29: 4-6; Num. 15:5-7; 28:7-9.

¹⁶Has not food been cut off from before your eyes,
gladness and joy from the house of our
God?

¹⁷The seed rots under the clods;
the granaries are all empty;
the barns are falling down, now that all grain is withered.

¹⁸What can we put away in them?
The herds of cattle wander aimlessly about

because there is no pasture for them.
The flocks of sheep also are depressed.

¹⁹To Thee, O LORD, I cry aloud, for fire has destroyed the pastures of the plains,
and flames have burned up the trees
in the fields.

²⁰Also the beasts of the field turn panting to Thee,
for the water brooks have run dry,
and fire has destroyed all pastures of
the land.

2 BLOW THE TRUMPET^c IN ZION; raise the alarm in my holy mountain.
Let all those dwelling in the land tremble,
for the day of the LORD is coming, it is near.^d

²A day of darkness and gloom,
a day of clouds and dense darkness!
Like morning gray that spreads upon
the mountains,
there comes a great and powerful people, the like of whom have never been from of old,
nor will they again be known throughout the years of all coming generations.

³Before them fire destroys, and after them a flame consumes;
before them the land was like the Garden of Eden,
and after them it is a desert waste.
From them there is no escape.

⁴Their appearance is that of horses,
and they run like war horses;

⁵they leap like the rumbling chariots
on the tops of the mountains,

Like the crackling flames of fire devouring the stubble;
like a mighty people prepared for battle.

⁶Before them people are in anguish,
all faces grow pale with consternation.

⁷They run like warriors; like men of war they climb the walls;
they go each in his own path, they do not entangle themselves.

⁸They do not jostle each other in the
way,
each goes his own path;
they plunge through the defenses;^e
they are not stopped.

⁹They leap upon the city; they run upon its walls;
they climb upon its houses;
they enter through its windows as do thieves.

¹⁰Before their face the earth quakes,
and the heavens tremble;
the sun and the moon are darkened,
and the stars lose their brightness.

¹¹The LORD thunders before His army,
His advancing host is mighty;
he that obeys His commands is very powerful.

The day of the LORD is very great and terrible,
who can withstand it?

¹²Yet even now the LORD announces,
Return to Me with all your hearts, fasting, and weeping and mourning,
come!

¹³Rend your hearts and not your garments,
and return to the LORD, your God.

For He is merciful and compassionate, long-suffering and abounding in mercy,
and feels grieved over punishment.

¹⁴Who knows but that He will turn and feel grievance

and leave a blessing behind Him, even for cereal offerings and drink offerings

which you may offer to the LORD,
your God.

¹⁵Blow the trumpet in Zion, sanctify a fast day; proclaim a solemn
assembly.

c) The original trumpet was a ram's horn.

d) This arrangement of the sentence is apparently that of the original.

e) In the locust invasions of Palestine mentioned in note "a" of ch. 1, heaps upon heaps were beaten to pulp and burned, but the invaders moved on over the debris, and all attempts to stop them were useless.

- ¹⁶Assemble the people; arrange a holy convocation.
Bring together the elders; gather the children,
even those nursing at the breast.
Let the bridegroom come forth from his quarters,
and the bride from her bridal closet.
- ¹⁷Between the vestibule and the altar let the priests, those ministering to the LORD, weep, and let them say, "Spare Thy people, O LORD, and make not Thy heritage a reproach, a byword among the nations.
Why should those among the nations say,
'Now where is your God?'"
- ¹⁸Then the LORD became zealous for His land,
and had pity on His people.
- ¹⁹The LORD answered and said to His people,
Lo, I will send you the grain, and the wine and the oil;
you will be satisfied with them,
and I will no longer make you a reproach among the nations.
- ²⁰I will remove the invader from the north^f far from you and I will drive him into a parched wasteland, his front to the eastern sea,^g and his rear to the sea of the west.^h
His stench will arise, his foul smell will ascend, for his (evil) works have been vast.
- ²¹Fear not, O land, be glad, and rejoice;
for the LORD has done great things!
- ²²Fear not, ye beasts of the field, for the pastures of the plains are now green; the tree bears its fruit,
the fig tree and the grapevine give their full yield.
- ²³And you, O sons of Zion, be glad;
rejoice in the LORD your God;
for He gave you warning, teaching unto righteousness;
and He has now poured down rain for you,
the early rains, and the latter rainsⁱ at the first.
- ²⁴The threshing floors will be full of grain,
and the wine vats overflow with wine and oil.
- ²⁵I will repay for the years which the locust devoured —
the hopper, the stripper and the shearer—
My great army which I sent upon you.
- ²⁶You shall eat and be full, and be satisfied, and you shall praise the name of the LORD your God,
who has done these wonders for you.
My people shall never again be put to shame,
- ²⁷and you shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, that I am the LORD your God, and
My people shall never again be put to shame.
- ²⁸It shall come to pass after this that I will pour out My Spirit upon all flesh, your sons and your daughters shall prophesy;
your old men shall dream dreams,
and your young men shall see visions,
- ²⁹Even upon the servants and the maids
I will, in those days, pour out of My Spirit.
- ³⁰And I will give signs in the heavens
and upon the earth,
blood and fire, and columns of smoke.
- ³¹The sun shall be changed into darkness,
and the moon into blood,
before the coming of the day of the LORD, dark and terrible;
- ³²but every one who calls upon the name of the LORD shall be saved.
For in Mount Zion and in Jerusalem there shall be those who escape, as the LORD has said.
And those who are saved will be those whom the LORD has called.
- 3 FOR BEHOLD, IN THOSE DAYS AND AT that time, when I restore ²the fortunes of Judah and Jerusalem, I shall gather all the nations and bring them

^f) Most of the invaders of Israel came, or will come, from the north. Cf. especially Ezek. 38:6, 15.

^g) Dead Sea; Ezek. 47:18. ^h) Mediterranean; Deut. 11:24.

ⁱ) Early-winter rains; latter-spring rains.

down into the valley of Jehoshaphat;¹ I shall there enter into judgment with them on account of My people and My heritage, Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations. ³My land they have divided up, and for My people they have cast lots; they have given a boy for a harlot, and have sold a maiden for wine and have drunk it.

⁴And further, what are you to Me, O Tyre and Sidon, and all the regions of Philistia?^k Are you paying Me back for something I have done? If so, I shall speedily return your recompense upon your own heads; ⁵for you have taken My silver and My gold, and My precious treasures you have carried away into your own temples. ⁶The sons of Judah and the sons of Jerusalem you have sold to the Greeks, that you might remove them far from their own borders. ⁷But listen! I am going to remove them from the place whither you have sold them, and I shall return your retribution upon your own heads. ⁸I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hands of the sons of Judah, and they will sell them to the Sabeans,^l a nation far away; for the LORD has spoken.

⁹Proclaim this among the nations:

Declare a holy war; arouse your warriors,
let all fighting men draw near, let them all go up!

¹⁰Beat your plowshares into swords and your pruninghooks into spears;
let the weak one say, I am strong.

¹¹Come^m and help, all you nations,
from every side,
gather yourselves there;
thither bring together thy heroes, O LORD.

¹²Let the nations bestir themselves, and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat;
for there, will I, the LORD, sit to judge all the nations round about.

¹³Bring forth the sickle, for the harvest is ripe;
go in and tread, for the wine press is full;
the vats overflow, for their wickedness
is great.

¹⁴Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision,
for the day of the LORD is near, in the valley of decision;

¹⁵The sun and the moon are darkened,
and the stars withhold their shining.

¹⁶For the LORD roars from Zion, and from Jerusalem He utters His voice.

The heavens and the earth are shaken;
but the LORD is a refuge for His people

and a stronghold for the sons of Israel.

¹⁷You shall know that I am the LORD
your God,
that I am dwelling in Zion, My holy mountain.

Jerusalem shall remain holy,
and aliens shall never again pass through her.

¹⁸It shall be in that day that the mountains shall drip sweet wine, and the hills shall flow with milk;
all the brooks of Judah shall flow full
of waters,
and a fountain shall send forth its waters from the house of the LORD, and irrigate the valley of Acacia.

¹⁹Egypt shall become a desolation,
and Edom shall be a barren wasteland, because of their violence against the sons of Judah;

for they have poured out innocent blood in their land.ⁿ

²⁰But Judah shall be inhabited forever and Jerusalem from generation to generation,

²¹and I will avenge their blood; I will not leave it unrequited.
I am the LORD, dwelling in Zion.

j) The name of this valley is found only here and in ch. 3:12 in the Old Testament. The word means "Jehovah has judged."

k) I Sam. 6:17 names five such areas in Philistia.

l) The Sheba of the queen who visited Solomon, I Kings 10:1-13; it was a noted country of trading people, Ezek. 28:22.

m) The Hebrew verb used here is found only here in the Old Testament. The Arabic root means to help. Change the verb ushu to hushu, and you get the word for hasten. Scholars do not agree as to the best translation.

n) Compare the fuller statement in Obadiah, vss. 8-18.

AMOS

1 THE WORDS OF AMOS,^a WHO WAS one of the shepherds from Tekoa,^b which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah^c and Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel,^d two years before the earthquake.

²He said, "The LORD will roar from Zion; He will utter His voice from Jerusalem;^e the pastures of the shepherds shall mourn, and the top of Carmel shall be dried up."

³Thus says the LORD: Because of three transgressions of Damascus, yes of four,^f I will not revoke it;^g because they have threshed Gilead with iron threshing sleds. ⁴I will send fire on the house of Hazael, and it will consume the palaces of Ben-hadad.^h ⁵I will break the bolt of Damascus and cut off the inhabitants from the valley of iniquity,ⁱ and the holder of the sceptre from the house of luxury,^j and the Syrian shall go captive to Kir, says the LORD.

⁶Thus says the LORD: On account of three transgressions of Gaza, yes of four, I will not revoke it;^k because they took a complete captivity to turn it over to Edom. ⁷Therefore I will send fire on the walled city of Gaza, and it shall consume her palaces. ⁸I will cut off the inhabitants of Ashdod and the holder of the sceptre from Ashkelon; I will cause my hand to turn against Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistines^k shall perish, says the Lord God.

⁹Thus says the LORD: On account of three transgressions of Tyre,^l yes of four, I will not revoke it;^m because they turned over a complete captivity to Edom and they did not remember the covenant of brothers. ¹⁰Therefore I will send fire on the walled city of Tyre, and it shall consume her palaces.

¹¹Thus says the LORD: On account of three transgressions of Edom,ⁿ yes of four, I will not revoke it;^o because he pursued his brother with the sword and stifled his love while his anger tore incessantly and he kept his wrath forever. ¹²Therefore I will send fire on Teman, and it shall consume the palaces of Bozrah.

¹³Thus says the LORD: On account of three transgressions of the sons of Ammon, yes of four,^p I will not revoke it;^q because they ripped up the pregnant women of Gilead in order to expand their boundaries.^r ¹⁴Therefore I will kindle a fire on the walled city

a) Not to be confused with Amoz, father of Isaiah [Isa. 1:1].

b) Now Tekoa, a ruined village five miles south of Bethlehem. Amos prophesied at Bethel to the northern kingdom. c) Reigned 790-739 B.C. d) Jeroboam II, reigned 793-753 B.C.

e) Cf. Joel 3:16.

f) A common Semitic idiom stressing the fact that the sins have been numerous. The one singled out in each instance is the most heinous. g) His decree to punish the nation mentioned.

h) Son of Hazael, who maintained his palace in Damascus. i) Or Aven. j) Or Beth-edon.

k) Gaza, Ashdod, Ashkelon and Ekron represent the Philistines.

l) Cf. I Kings 5:12, where Hebrews and Phoenicians are allies; the Tyrians may have sold Hebrews to Edomites, or people from other Phoenician cities.

m) The Hebrews were Edom's closest relatives as descendants of Jacob and Esau. Usually the Hebrews ruled the Edomites, but fortunes changed; tables were turned.

n) We know that the Ammonites plagued the Hebrews repeatedly. Gideon and Jephthah fought them successfully, after much suffering from them.

o) Territorial expansion gained by extremely cruel methods.

of Rabbah, and it shall consume their palaces with a cry on the day of war, with a storm on the day of tempest. ¹⁵Their king shall go into captivity, he and his princes together, says the LORD.

2 THUS SAYS THE LORD: BECAUSE OF three transgressions of Moab, yes of four, I will not revoke it;^g because he burned the bones of the king of Edom to lime.^p ²Therefore I will send fire on Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of the city; and Moab shall die in the tumult with a cry, with the sound of a ram's horn. ³I will cut off the judge from its midst, and all its princes I will kill with him, says the LORD.

⁴Thus says the LORD: On account of three transgressions of Judah, yes of four, I will not revoke it;^g because they despised the law of the LORD, and His statutes they did not keep. Their lies after which their fathers walked have led them astray; ⁶therefore, I will send fire on Judah, and it will devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

⁶Thus says the LORD: On account of three transgressions of Israel,^q yes of four, I will not revoke it;^g because they sold the righteous for silver and the poor for a pair of sandals. ⁷They are panting after dust on the head of the poor; the way of the meek they stretch out.^r A man and his father go in to the same girl in order to profane My holy name; ⁸on pledged garments they stretch out beside every altar; wine bought with fines they drink in the house of their god.^s ⁹Yet it was I who destroyed the Amorite before them, although his height was as the cedars and his strength was that of the oak; I destroyed his fruit above and his roots below. ¹⁰It was I who brought you up from Egypt, and I led you in the desert 40 years, so you could possess the land of the Amorite.

¹¹I raised up some of your sons to be prophets and some of your young men to be Nazarites. Is it not so, sons of Israel? — it is affirmed by the LORD. ¹²But you caused the Nazarites to drink wine and the prophets you commanded, "Do not prophesy." ¹³Behold, I will make you groan as a wagon groans loaded with sheaves. ¹⁴Flight shall perish from the swift; the strong man shall not save his life; ¹⁵the bowman shall not stand; the lightfooted shall not be saved,^t even the rider of the horse shall not save his life. ¹⁶The strong of heart among the heroes shall flee naked in that day — it is affirmed by the LORD.

3 HEAR THIS WORD WHICH THE LORD has spoken to you, sons of Israel, to every family that I brought up from Egypt:^u ²Only you have I known^v of all the families of the earth. Therefore will I visit upon you all your iniquities. ³Do two walk together without having agreed? ⁴Does a lion roar in the forest when there is no prey for him? Does a young lion growl from his den unless he has seized something? ⁵Shall a bird swoop down into a snare on the earth when there is no bait in it? Does a snare spring up from the ground if it has seized nothing? ⁶If a ram's horn is blown in a city, are the people there not afraid? Shall there be calamity in a city and the LORD has not made it? ⁷Truly the Lord God will not do anything unless He has revealed His secret to His servants the prophets. ⁸A lion has roared; who is not afraid? The Lord God has spoken, who can but prophesy?

⁹Cause it to be heard at the palaces

g) His decree to punish the nation mentioned.

p) A glimpse is afforded in II Kings 3:5-27, where Moab's hatred develops especially against Edom. Not able to take Edom's king alive, they got his corpse and cremated it, an outrage among all Semitic peoples.

q) Amos had enjoyed little formal schooling, but note his skill as a speaker. His hearers agreed and felt good about God's judgment on surrounding nations, including Judah. Now he shows that northern Israel deserves no less.

r) These figures are equivalent to saying, "They ground the poor in the dust; the meek they compel to lengthen their walking."

s) Israelites, like pagans, satisfying lust under a mantle of religion.

t) Hebrew, "will not save"; without harmony with God there is no success in life.

u) The southern as well as the northern kingdom of Israel; both singularly privileged, therefore singularly guilty. v) In the Biblical meaning of "know," intimately and with favor.

in Ashdod* and at the palaces in the land of Egypt and say, "Assemble yourselves on the mountains of Samaria and see the many disorders within her and oppressions in her midst." ¹⁰They do not know how to do right — it is affirmed by the LORD — those who store up violence and robbery in their palaces.

¹¹Therefore thus says the Lord God: An enemy! He is surrounding the land, and he shall break down your strongholds from you and your palaces shall be plundered. ¹²Thus says the LORD: As a shepherd snatches from the mouth of a lion two leg bones or part of an ear, so shall the sons of Israel be delivered; those who sit on the corner of a bed in Samaria, or on a couch in Damascus. ¹³Hear and bear witness in the house of Jacob, says the Lord God, the God of hosts, ¹⁴for when I bring back the transgressions of Israel upon him, then I will punish the altars of Bethel;^x the horns of the altars shall be cut off, and they shall fall to the earth. ¹⁵I will cut off the winter house together with the summer house; the houses of ivory shall perish, and the ample houses shall come to an end — it is affirmed by the LORD.

4 HEAR THIS WORD, YOU HEIFERS OF Bashan,^y who are in the mountain of Samaria, the oppressors of the common people, the crushers of the poor, those who say to their husbands, "Bring, that we may drink!" ²The Lord God has sworn by His holiness that the days are even now coming upon you when He shall lift you up with hooks and your posterity with fish-hooks. ³You shall go out at the breaches, each of you going straight ahead; and you shall be driven to the fortress — it is affirmed by the LORD.

⁴Come to Bethel and transgress, to Gilgal and multiply transgression; bring your sacrifices every morning, your tithes^z every three days! ⁵Offer leavened burnt offerings as a thank offering, and proclaim freewill offerings and publish them, for thus you love (to do), O sons of Israel — it is affirmed by the Lord God.

⁶But on My part, I have given you cleanness of teeth^a in all your cities and lack of bread in all your places, and still you have not returned to Me — it is affirmed by the LORD. ⁷Also I have held back from you the heavy rain when there were yet three months to the harvest; I caused rain to come upon one city, and I withheld the rain from another city. One portion was rained upon, and the portion which was not rained upon withered, ⁸so that two or three cities wandered into one city to drink water; but they were not satisfied, and still you have not returned to Me — it is affirmed by the LORD.

⁹I have smitten you with blight and with mildew. The yield of your gardens, of your vineyards, of your fig trees and your olive trees, the locusts are eating, and still you have not returned to Me — it is affirmed by the LORD. ¹⁰I sent upon you pestilence after the manner of Egypt; I slew your warriors with the sword and took away your horses; I caused the stench of your camps to rise even to your noses, and still you have not returned to Me — it is affirmed by the LORD. ¹¹I have overthrown in your midst as God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah; you have been like a firebrand plucked from the burning, and still you have not returned to Me — it is affirmed by the LORD.^b

¹²Therefore thus shall I do to you, O Israel, and since I shall do this to you, prepare to meet your God, O Israel!

¹³Look at the Fashioner of the moun-

w) One of five larger cities in Philistia. The ark of the covenant was taken there, to Dagon's temple, after its capture and the defeat of the Hebrew army [1 Sam. 5:1-8]. It is Azotus of Acts 8:40.

x) Amos was preaching there. The golden calf, which Jeroboam had erected, was its worship shrine. y) Designating the dissolute women of Samaria. The Bashan plateau, east of Jordan, contained rich pasture land [Ps. 22:12].

z) The sacrifices were to be offered at the annual feasts and the tithe once every three years. These offerings and tithes, even though greatly multiplied, did not suffice; there was no surrender of self in them. a) Little to eat.

b) Because God still cares for them, He applies His fatherly discipline. Will they learn their lesson?

tain, the Creator of the wind, the One who proclaims to man His thought, the Maker of the dawn and darkness, the One who treads upon the high places of the earth: the LORD, the God of hosts, is His name.^c

5 HEAR THIS WORD WHICH I AM bringing against you as a complaint, O house of Israel! ²The virgin Israel has fallen, never to rise. She is forsaken upon her ground; there is no one to lift her up. ³For thus says the Lord God: The city which goes forth a thousand strong shall return a hundred, and the one which goes forth a hundred strong shall return ten to the house of Israel.

⁴For thus says the LORD to the house of Israel: Seek Me and live. ⁵Do not seek Beth-el; do not enter Gilgal; do not pass through Beersheba. For Gilgal shall go rolling away,^d and Beth-el shall become wickedness.^e ⁶But seek the LORD and live, lest He break out as fire in the house of Joseph and it will consume and there is no extinguisher at Beth-el. ⁷O you who turn justice into wormwood,^f and cast down righteousness to the earth! ⁸(Seek Him) who makes the Pleiades and Orion, who turns blackness to morning and darkens day to night; Him who calls the waters of the sea and pours them out on the face of the earth — the LORD is His name, ⁹Him who causes destruction to flash forth against strength, and destruction comes upon the fortified city.

¹⁰They hate the one who reproves in the gate,^g and they abhor the one who speaks with integrity. ¹¹Therefore, because you have trodden upon the poor and exact wheat from him — rock houses you have built, but you shall not dwell in them; desirable vineyards you have planted, but you shall not drink their wine! ¹²For I know your transgressions to be many, and your sins very great. You are enemies of the righteous, receivers of bribes, and you turn down the needy in the gate.

¹³Therefore the prudent shall be silent at that time, for it is an evil time. ¹⁴Seek good and not evil, that you may live; so shall the LORD, the God of hosts, be with you, as you say. ¹⁵Hate evil, and love good. Place justice up high in the gate, and perhaps the LORD, the God of hosts, will be gracious to the remnant of Joseph.

¹⁶Therefore thus says the LORD, the God of hosts, the Lord: In all the squares there will be wailing, and in all the streets they shall say, "Woe, woe!" They shall call the plowman to mourning and professional mourners to lamentation. ¹⁷In all the vineyards there shall be mourning — for I will pass through your midst, says the LORD.

¹⁸Woe to those who long for the day of the LORD! What good will the day of the LORD do you? It is darkness and not light — ¹⁹as when a man flees from a lion only to have a bear fall on him; then he runs into the house and leans his hand against the wall only to have a serpent bite him. ²⁰Is not the day of the LORD darkness and not light, gloom with no gleam in it? ²¹I hate, I despise your festivals; I will not be pleased with your assemblies. ²²For if you cause burnt offerings to ascend to Me and meal offerings, I will not accept them; and the peace offerings of your fatlings I will not look upon. ²³Take away from Me the noise of your songs; the melody of your musical instruments I will not hear. ²⁴Let justice roll on like water, and righteousness like a mighty stream.^h ²⁵Did you offer to Me sacrifices and cereal offerings during the 40 years in the wilderness, O house of Israel? ²⁶But you did carry Siccuth your king, and Kiyyun the images, the star of your gods which you made for yourselves.ⁱ

c) The man who centers his thoughts on God is being educated. What sublimity in this thirteenth verse! d) This in Hebrew is a play on the word Gilgal — rolling [Josh. 4:19-24]. e) Again this is a play on the Heb. words; for Bethel, "house of God," was sometimes called Beth-aven, "house of sin."

f) There is a suggestion of iniquity in the word "wormwood" in Hebrew.

g) Where the local court sat, dealing with local affairs—appeals, complaints, fair and unfair dealings.

h) Prophetic of our Lord's, "Not everyone who says LORD, LORD, but he who does the will of My Father who is in heaven."

i) Siccuth was an Assyrian god, also known as Kiyyun, which some of the Hebrews, or the mixed crowd that came along with them from Egypt, must have worshiped in the desert.

²⁷Therefore I will cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, says the LORD; the God of hosts is His name.

6 WOE TO THOSE WHO ARE AT EASE in Zion and those who feel secure in the mountain of Samaria, the appointed men of the first of the nations, to whom the house of Israel comes! ²Pass through Calneh¹ and see. Go from there to greater Hamath.^k Then go down to Gath¹ of the Philistines. Are you better than these kingdoms, or are their boundaries greater than your boundary? ³You who put off the day of punishment, yet cause the seat of violence to draw near; ⁴who lie on beds of ivory and stretch out on couches; who eat sheep from the flock and calves straight from the stable;^m ⁵who croon to the sound of the lute; who like David invent for themselves instruments of song; ⁶who drink wine from bowls and anoint themselves with the choicest ointments, but they are not at all grieved over the ruin of Joseph!ⁿ ⁷Therefore they shall now go into captivity with the first of the captives, and the noisy banquets of those who stretch out shall come to an end.^o

⁸The Lord God has sworn by Himself — it is affirmed by the LORD, the God of hosts: I detest the pride of Jacob, and I hate his palaces! I shall hand over the city and its fulness. ⁹It shall come to this, that if there are ten men left in one house, they shall die. ¹⁰If a man's uncle and the one who is to anoint^p him shall lift him up to bring the bones out of the house and shall say to those who are still in the house, "Is there yet another with you?" and he says, "No," then he shall say, "Hush, we must not mention the name of the LORD!"

¹¹For see, the LORD commands: He will smite the great house with breaches and the little house with clefts. ¹²Do horses run on the rock? Does one plow there with oxen? But you turn justice to wormwood and the fruit of righteousness to bitterness.^q ¹³You who rejoice in what is nothing; who say, "Is it not by our own strength we have taken horns" for ourselves?" ¹⁴Behold, I am raising up against you, house of Israel — it is affirmed by the LORD, the God of hosts — a nation, and they shall oppress you from the entrance of Hamath to the brook of the Arabah.^a

7 HERE IS WHAT THE Lord God showed me. He is forming locusts in the first stages of the shooting up of the aftergrowth; in fact, it was the aftergrowth after the king's mowings. ²When they had finished eating the grass of the land, I said, "O Lord God, pardon me; who will lift up Jacob, for he is little?" ³The LORD had compassion on account of this. The LORD said, It shall not be.

⁴Thus the Lord God showed me, and see, the Lord God was calling for a trial by fire: it would consume the great deep, it would also consume the tilled land. ⁵So I said, "O Lord God, cease, I pray; who shall raise up Jacob, for he is little?" ⁶The LORD had compassion on account of this. The Lord God said: This too shall not be.

⁷Thus He showed me, and behold, the LORD stood upon a plumb line with a plumb line in His hand. ⁸The LORD said to me, What do you see, Amos? And I said, "A plumb line." The LORD said, See, I am placing a plumb line in the midst of My people Israel.^t I will not again pass by him any more. ⁹The high places of Isaac shall be desolate and the sanctuaries of Israel

j) City of Assyria on the banks of the Tigris. k) City of Syria on the Orontes River.

l) Formerly the capital of the Philistines. God is here calling upon His people to learn from the lessons of history. m) Where they had been confined to be fattened. n) Northern Israel.

o) Amos said this about 760 B.C. when Jeroboam II reigned a prosperous people. Less than 40 years later Northern Israel was conquered by Assyria and all but the poor were exiled.

p) Rub him with oil for the burial, or possibly cremate the body.

q) God is accusing the leaders of Israel of violating the very principles of common sense; making life unbearable by discouraging fair dealings. r) The symbol of strength or authority.

s) The depression of the Galilean Sea, the Jordan, the Dead Sea and on to the Red Sea. The word means desert, as does Arab. Its brook marks the southern boundary of Palestine.

t) How straight were the people walking the God-appointed way?

shall be destroyed, and I will rise up against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

¹⁰Then Amaziah^u the priest of Beth-el sent to Jeroboam the king of Israel, saying, "Amos has conspired against you in the midst of the house of Israel. The land can not bear all his words. ¹¹For thus said Amos, 'With the sword shall Jeroboam die, and Israel shall surely go into captivity from his own land.'"

¹²And Amaziah said to Amos, "Seer, go, flee into the land of Judah; there eat your bread and prophesy;^v ¹³but do not prophesy any more at Beth-el; for it is the king's sanctuary and the house of the kingdom."

¹⁴Amos answered Amaziah, "I am neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet, but I was a herdsman and a grower of sycamore figs. ¹⁵The LORD took me from behind the flock and the LORD said to me, Go, prophesy to My people Israel. ¹⁶Now hear the word of the LORD. You are saying, 'Do not prophesy against Israel, and do not preach against the house of Isaac.' ¹⁷Therefore thus says the LORD: Your wife will commit adultery in the city; your sons and daughters will fall by the sword, and your land will be divided by the sword. As for you, upon an unclean ground you will die, and Israel shall certainly go into captivity from its own land."^w

8 ¹THUS THE LORD GOD SHOWED ME and see, a basket of summer fruit. ²He said, What do you see, Amos? I said, "A basket of summer fruit." The LORD said to me, The end^x has come for My people Israel. I will not again pass by any more. ³The songs of the temple they shall make into howlings in that day — it is affirmed by the LORD God. Many shall be the corpses; in every place they shall, with a hush, cast them out.

⁴Hear this, you who swallow up the needy and cause the poor of the land to cease, ⁵saying, "When will the new moon^y be over, so we can sell corn for money, and the Sabbath, so we can open the wheat market to make the bushel little and the shekel large and to deal crookedly with false balances; ⁶to buy the poor with silver and the needy for a pair of sandals, and sell the refuse of the wheat?"^z

⁷The LORD has sworn by the pride of Jacob: I will never forget all their deeds!^a ⁸On account of this shall not the earth shake and every dweller in it mourn! All of it shall rise like the Nile, and it shall be tossed and sink like the River of Egypt.

⁹In that day — it is affirmed by the LORD God — I will bring in the sun at noonday; I will cause darkness on earth in broad daylight time. ¹⁰I will turn your festivals to mourning and all your songs to a dirge. I will cause sackcloth to go up on all loins and baldness on every head. I will make it as mourning for an only son; the end shall be as a bitter day. ¹¹For the days are coming — it is affirmed by the LORD God — that I will send famine in the land; not famine for bread or thirst for water, but for hearing the words of the LORD. ¹²Then they shall be cast from sea to sea and from the north even to the sunrising. They shall scurry about to seek the word of the LORD, but they shall not find it. ¹³In that day beautiful virgins and young men shall faint for thirst. ¹⁴Those who swear by the guilt of Samaria^b — "As your God lives, Dan!" and, "As the way of Beer-sheba^c lives!" — they shall fall, and they shall not rise again!

u) Taking the place of the LORD's high priest in the Jerusalem temple, Amaziah was serving at the shrine of the golden calf, set up at Beth-el to keep worshippers away from Jerusalem.

v) Intimating that Amos tried to make a living from his prophesying.

w) The warning applied to the people generally, including the priest, who would die captives abroad. x) The Hebrew word for "end" is very similar to the word for "summer."

y) Retaining sacred customs of the faithful Hebrews, the new moon was observed by cessation of work and of marketing, but with a feeling of wasting time.

z) They measured out less than they should and charged more for it than was fair.

a) Which always holds where there is no sincere sorrow and confession.

b) In agreement with golden-calf worship.

c) Where Abraham lived for years and called on Jehovah; where Jacob sacrificed on his way to Joseph in Egypt, thus a secondhand relationship with God.

9 I SAW THE LORD STANDING^d BY the altar, and He said: Smite the capitals,^e and the threshold shall shake! Break them in pieces on the head of all of them! The last of them I will slay with the sword. Not a single one shall escape, and not one fugitive of them shall be saved. ²If they dig through to Sheol, from there My hand shall take them. If they go up to heaven, from there I will cause them to go down. ³If they hide in the top of Mount Carmel, from there I will dig them out and take them. If they be hid from before My eyes in the bottom of the sea, from there I will command the serpent, and he shall bite them. ⁴If they go into captivity before their enemies, from there I will command the sword, and it shall slay them.^f I will set My eyes upon them for hurt and not for help. ⁵The Lord, God of hosts, He it is who smites the earth and it melts, and all the dwellers in it mourn; it shall rise like the Nile, all of it, and it shall sink like the River of Egypt. ⁶He who builds His upper room in the heavens, who rests His vaults upon the earth, He who calls the waters of the seas and pours them out upon the face of the earth — the LORD is His name.

⁷Are you not as the sons of Cush^g to Me, O sons of Israel? says the LORD. Was it not Israel that I caused to go up from the land of Egypt, also the Philistines from Caphtor, and the Syrians from Kir? ⁸Behold, the eyes of the Lord God are upon the sinful kingdom. I will root her up from the face of the earth; only I will not completely root up the house of Jacob — it is affirmed by the LORD. ⁹For I command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all the nations as one shakes a sieve. There shall not fall to earth the smallest portion.^h ¹⁰All the sinners of My people shall die with the sword, those who say, "Harm will not soon approach because of us!"

¹¹In that day I will raise up the fallen tabernacle of David;ⁱ I will repair its breaks; I will raise up its ruins and build it as in the days of old, ¹²so that they may possess the remnant of Edom and all the nations upon whom My name is called — it is affirmed by the LORD, who is doing this.

¹³The days are coming, it is affirmed by the LORD, that the plowman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him who scatters the seed. The mountains shall drip new wine, and all the hills shall dissolve. ¹⁴I will turn the captivity of My people Israel. They shall build cities which have been desolate; they shall dwell in them; they shall plant vineyards, and they shall drink their wine. They shall make gardens, and they shall eat their fruit. ¹⁵So I will plant them on their land, and they shall not be plucked up again from their land which I have given them, says the LORD your God.

d) Isaiah sees God seated; but Amos sees Him standing — previously on the wall, here by the altar; for He is administering justice in both instances.

e) Ornaments on top of the pillars; so from top to bottom the place will turn to ruin.

f) The reverse of Ps. 139 where God's benevolent omnipresence is sung.

g) The Ethiopians, who also are His offspring. And God is the Ruler of Egypt, Philistia, and the Syrians too — God of all the earth, for there is no other.

h) Their sifting served to let fine particles drop through, to retain the grain.

i) Amos sees repentance on the part of David's house, representing Judah, whom discipline has brought back to God. Not only Judah, but Simeon, most of Benjamin, the majority of Levites and priests, and the godly of the northern kingdom will enjoy these blessings, spiritually, with adjoining nations sharing divine favor.

THE BOOK OF OBADIAH

1 THE VISION OF OBADIAH.

Thus the LORD God speaks concerning Edom: We have heard a report from the LORD, and a messenger has been sent among the nations: "Rise up, let us rise up against her for battle!"²Behold! I will make you insignificant among the nations; you will be greatly despised.³The insolence of your heart has misled you, you who reside in the retreats of the cliff, whose dwelling is high,^b who say in your heart, "Who will bring me down to the ground?"⁴Though you fly high like the eagle, though your nest is set among the stars, from there I will bring you down, says the LORD.

⁵If thieves came to you, if robbers by night — how you have been ruined! — would they not steal (only) what they want? If grape gatherers came to you, would they not leave gleanings? ⁶How Esau has been ransacked, his hidden treasures searched out!^c ⁷All your allies^d have pushed you to the border, they have misled you; your intimate friends^e have prevailed over you; those eating your bread have placed a trap under you^f without your sensing it.

⁸Shall it not be on that day, says the LORD, that I will cause the wise men to perish from Edom, and discernment from the mount of Esau? ⁹Then your mighty men shall be filled with terror, O Teman, so that every man may be cut off from the mount of Esau by slaughter. ¹⁰Because of violence against your brother Jacob, shame will overwhelm you, and you shall be cut off forever. ¹¹On the day when you stood aloof, as foreigners carried off his possessions and aliens came into his gate,^g and for Jerusalem they cast lots, yes, you were as one of them.

¹²Now do not gloat over your brother's day, the day of his misfortune; do not rejoice over the sons of Judah in the day when they perish; do not speak overbearingly^h in the day of his distress. ¹³Do not enter the gate of My people in the day of his disaster; yes, you, do not take pleasure in seeing his misery in the day of his misfortune. Do not reach out for his possessions in the day of his calamity. ¹⁴Do not stand at the crossroadsⁱ in order to cut off those refugees of his who escape and do not deliver up his survivors in the day of distress.

¹⁵For the day of the LORD is near upon all the nations; as you have done, so it shall be done to you; your doings will come back upon your own head. ¹⁶For as you have drunk upon My holy mountain, so all the nations will

a) The divine message begins with this second verse; vs. 1 is introduction.

b) Most of Edom was rocky and high, specially Petra [biblically Sela], the remains of which show how secure the Edomites might feel in their rock-dwellings.

c) Thieves bother only with what they want but Esau has been thoroughly looted.

d) Men of your covenant. e) Men of your peace.

f) The sustenance derived from an alliance with Edom has been made the occasion of conspiring against her. g) That is, into Judah's cities.

h) Literally, "do not make your mouth great," like our idiom, "do not get the big-mouth."

i) At the fork in the road, or, where the road divides.

drink^j continually. They will drink and sip slowly^k and will become as though they had not been.

¹⁷But in Mount Zion there will be escape,^l and it^m shall be a sanctuary, and the house of Jacob shall take possession of their heritage.ⁿ ¹⁸The house of Jacob shall be a fire and the house of Joseph a flame, but the house of Esau shall become stubble. They shall set them ablaze and consume them, and the house of Esau shall not have a single survivor,^o for the LORD has spoken it.

¹⁹Then they of the south country^p

shall take possession of the mount of Esau, and they of the lowland^q shall possess the plain of the Philistines; and they shall possess the field of Ephraim and the field of Samaria, and Benjamin (shall possess) Gilead. ²⁰Exiles of this host belonging to the children of Israel (shall possess) that of the Canaanites up to Zarephath, and the exiles of Jerusalem who are in Sepharad^r shall possess the cities of the south country. ²¹Deliverers shall go up in Mount Zion to judge the mount of Esau, and the kingship shall belong to the LORD.

j) "Drink," that is, of God's wrath.

k) They will continue to taste the wrath of God. l) A way of escape. m) Mount Zion.

n) The possessions of the nations. o) None shall escape from the sword. p) The Negeb.

q) The Judean foothills.

r) Probably Shaparda in southwestern Media, to which Sargon transported Israelites [II Kings 17:6].

THE BOOK OF

JONAH

1 THE WORD OF THE LORD CAME TO Jonah the son of Amittai, with this message: ²Get up and go to Nineveh,^a that great metropolis, and preach against it, because their wickedness has mounted up before Me. ³But Jonah arose to flee to Tarshish^b from the presence of the LORD; so he went down to Joppa^c and found a ship going to sail for Tarshish; he paid the fare and boarded it to go with them to Tarshish, from the presence of the LORD.

⁴But the LORD flung a terrific wind over the sea so that there was a great tempest on the sea, and the ship was about to be wrecked. ⁵Then the sailors^d were afraid, and each cried out desperately to his god; and they threw out into the sea the cargo which was in the ship, to lighten it. But Jonah had gone below into the hold of the vessel, had lain down, and fallen sound asleep.^e ⁶So the captain came to him and said to him, "What's the matter with you, you sleeper? Get up, call on your god; perhaps your god will think about us, that we may not perish." ⁷Then they said one to another, "Come, let us cast lots so that we may know on whose account this calamity has come upon us." They cast lots, and the lot fell on Jonah. ⁸Then they said to him, "Tell us, we beg of you, for what fault this disaster has come on us.

What is your occupation? Where do you come from? What is your country? What people are you from?" ⁹Then he told them, "I am a Hebrew; and I worship the LORD, the God of heaven, who made the sea and the dry land." ¹⁰Then the men were terribly afraid, and they said to him, "What is this you have done?" For the men realized that he was running away from the presence of the LORD, because he had told them.

¹¹They said to him, "What shall we do to you, so that the sea may calm down for us?" For the sea kept growing more tempestuous. ¹²He replied, "Pick me up and throw me into the sea, and the sea will quiet down for you; for I know that because of me this terrific tempest is upon you." ¹³But the men worked hard at the oars in order to get back to the shore; but they could not make headway, because the sea grew ever more stormy against them. ¹⁴So they cried out to the LORD, "We beg of Thee, O LORD, do not let us perish for the life of this man. Do not charge innocent blood against us; for Thou, O LORD, hast done as it pleases Thee!" ¹⁵Then they picked up Jonah and flung^f him into the sea; the sea ceased from its raging. ¹⁶And the men, in great awe of the LORD, offered a sacrifice to the LORD and made vows.

¹⁷Meanwhile the LORD had ap-

a) Capital of the Assyrian Empire [cf. Gen. 10:12].

b) A copper-smelting station in Sardinia or Spain, from which Phoenician traders brought the refined metal in exchange for other commodities.

c) Joppa [Jaffa], 34 miles n.w. of Jerusalem, whose port it was in ancient times.

d) Heb. "salts," well-seasoned sailors. e) Probably snoring, too, as the Heb. rahdam suggests.

f) Same word as in verse 4.

pointed a great fish to swallow Jonah, and Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.

2 THEN JONAH PRAYED TO THE LORD his God from the belly of the fish and said, ^{2a}"I called to the LORD out of my anguish, and He answered me. From the innermost part^g of Sheol I cried for help — Thou didst listen to my voice.

³"Thou didst cast me into the deep, into the heart of the seas, and the current was engulfing me. All Thy breakers and Thy waves passed over me.

⁴"Then I^h said, 'I have been driven away from Thine eyes; but I shall again behold Thy holy temple.'

⁵Waters encompassed me, threatening my life, the oceanⁱ surrounding me. Seaweed was wrapped about my head. ⁶I went down to the base of the mountains; the earth with its bars was behind me forever; yet Thou hast brought up my life from the pit,^j O LORD my God.

⁷"When my soul fainted away within me, I remembered the LORD; then my prayer came to Thee, into Thy holy temple. ⁸Those who revere worthless idols give up the grace that might be theirs.^k ⁹But I will sacrifice to Thee with the voice of thanksgiving; what I have vowed, I will make good. Deliverance is the LORD's."

¹⁰Then the LORD spoke to the fish, and it disgorged Jonah onto the dry land.

3 THEN THE WORD OF THE LORD came to Jonah the second time: ²Get up, and go to Nineveh, that great metropolis, and preach to it the message which I tell you. ³So Jonah got up and went to Nineveh in accordance with the LORD's instruction.

Now Nineveh was an extremely large city requiring three days' travel.¹

⁴When Jonah began to enter the city one day's travel, he proclaimed, "Forty days more and Nineveh shall be overthrown." ⁵And the people of Nineveh believed God, proclaimed a fast, and from the greatest to the least of them put on sackcloth.^m ⁶When the news reached the king of Nineveh,ⁿ he arose from his throne, laid aside his royal robe, covered himself with sackcloth, and sat in ashes. ⁷He made a proclamation and published it throughout Nineveh by a decree of the king and his nobles:^o "Let not man or beast, herds or flocks, taste anything at all; let them not feed or drink water; ⁸but let man and beast be covered with sackcloth and cry out fervently to God, and let every one turn from his evil way and from the violence that is in his hands." ⁹Who knows but God may change His mind, relent and turn away from His fierce anger, so that we may not perish?"

¹⁰So when God saw what they did, how they turned from their evil way, God relented of the punishment which He had said He would inflict on them, and He did not do it.

4 BUT THIS GREATLY DISPLEASED Jonah, and he grew angry. ²Then he prayed to the LORD, saying, "O LORD, was not this what I said while I was still in my homeland? This is why I fled to Tarshish to prevent it; for I know that Thou art a gracious God and disposed to pity, slow to anger, most merciful, and grieved at calamity. ³So now, LORD, please take my life^a from me; for it is better for me to die than to live." ⁴Then the LORD said: Do you have good reason to be angry? ⁵Now Jonah had left the city and lodged to the east of the city. There

g) Or, "Womb," a different word than in 1:17 and 2:1. h) "I" is emphatic.

i) Hebrew, tehom, used often for the primeval ocean. Hence, waters, as old as time, enclosed about him. His fate seemed sealed. j) Grave, dwelling place of the dead.

k) Heb. "their own benefit" [grace], the result of being properly related to the LORD, the "Gracious One."

l) That is, to go through the complex of turns that made up the city and its extensive suburbs. m) A garb of penitence, either coarse material of goat's hair or a loin covering of mourning worn on the naked body.

n) That is, the king of Assyria. Probably Adad-nirari III, 810-783 B.C., who worshiped a single God; possibly Assur-dan III, 771-754 B.C., during whose reign two serious plagues and one total sun eclipse occurred. o) His cabinet, to some degree representing the people.

p) Heb. caph, the hollow or palm of the hand. q) Heb. "soul."

he constructed a foliage covering for himself and sat underneath it in the shade until he might see what was going to happen to the city. ⁶And the Lord God appointed^r a gourd^s and made it grow up over Jonah to be a shade over his head, to deliver him from his discomfort. And Jonah was very much elated over the gourd. ⁷But when dawn came the next day, God appointed a cutworm, and it struck the gourd so that it withered. ⁸Then as the sun shone forth, God appointed a sultry east wind, and the sun beat down upon Jonah's head, so that he grew faint. Then he wanted to die and said, "It is better for me to die than to live." ⁹But God said to Jonah, Do you have good reason to be angry about the gourd? He answered, "I have good reason to be angry, enough to die."^t ¹⁰Then the Lord said, You feel grief over the gourd for which you neither labored nor did you make it grow, which came up in a night and perished in a night.^u ¹¹Then should not I feel grief over Nineveh, that great metropolis, in which there are more than 120,000 persons who cannot discriminate between their right hand and their left,^v and much livestock?^w

r) Or, "ordained," same word as in 1:17 and 4:7, 8.

s) Of uncertain variety, perhaps a species of cucumber or the castor oil plant.

t) Jonah gave no reason for his anger.

u) Heb. "which is a son of a night and perished a son of a night," that is, lasted a night.

v) Who had not reached the age of choice between good and evil.

w) Our Father is concerned about His whole creation, supremely about His offspring.

MICAH

740-710 B.C.

1 THE WORD OF THE LORD THAT WAS given to Micah of Moresheth^a in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah,^b which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.

²Hear, all you peoples; pay attention, earth and its fulness, so that the Lord God may be a witness against you, the LORD from His holy temple. ³For behold! The LORD is going out from His place; He is coming down to tread upon the high places of the earth. ⁴The mountains shall melt beneath Him, and the valleys shall split like wax before the fire, like water poured out upon a slope. ⁵All this is because of the transgression of Jacob and the sins of the house of Israel.

What is the transgression of Jacob? Is it not Samaria?^c And what are the sins of the high places of Judah? Are they not Jerusalem?^d ⁶So I will make Samaria a ruin on the field with terraces for planting a vineyard; I will throw down her stones into the valley, and her foundation I will lay bare. ⁷All her idols shall be broken; all her harlot hires shall be burned in the fire; all her carved images I will make an astonishment; for from the hire of a harlot she has collected them, and to a harlot's hire they shall return.

⁸On account of this let me weep, let me mourn, let me go away barefoot and stripped; let me make howling like the jackals and mourning like the ostrich. ⁹For her wounds are incurable, for it has come to Judah; it has touched even the gate of my people — Jerusalem. ¹⁰Do not publish it in Gath; weep not at all in Acco, in Beth-le-Aphrah^e roll in dust. ¹¹Move on, dwellers of Shaphir, in nakedness and shame! The dwellers of Zaanan do not dare go forth; the wailing of Beth-ezel takes from you his standing place. ¹²The dwellers of Maroth wait for good, because calamity has come down from the LORD to the gate of Jerusalem. ¹³Hitch the horse to the chariot, dwellers of Lachish, for she was the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion; the transgressions of Israel are found in you. ¹⁴Therefore give a parting gift for Moresheth-gath; the houses of Achzib shall be deception to the kings of Israel.^f ¹⁵Yet will I bring to you, dwellers of Moreshah, the possessor; the glory of Israel shall come to Adullam. ¹⁶Make yourselves bald; cut off your hair on account of your fondled children. Make your baldness as bald as the eagle, for they go from you into captivity.

a) Called Moresheth-Gath, vs. 14, probably near Gath but inside the Judah boundaries.

b) Jotham "reigned" [as co-regent and king] 751-736, Ahaz 735-716, and Hezekiah 716-687 B.C.

c) The idolatries of Samaria and what went with them were being practiced in the southern kingdom.

d) Vss. 5, 6, 8, and part of 9 were found among the Dead Sea scrolls, agreeing with our text. False teachers are called culprits, whose punishment is certain. e) "House of dust."

f) The names found in these five verses are used as a series of plays on words in Hebrew, the names of places corresponding to their distressing experiences: Aphrah, dust; Shaphir, fair; Zaanan, sheepyard; Maroth, bitterness; Moresheth, possession; Achzib, deceitful.

2 WOE TO THEM THAT PLAN IN-iquity, that scheme wickedness upon their beds; in the morning light they act on it; for it is in the power of their hands. ²They covet fields and seize them; houses, and take them away. They defraud a man and his household, the person and his inheritance.

³Therefore thus says the LORD: See! I am planning punishment against this family, from which you shall not remove your necks, and you shall not walk erect,⁵ for this is disastrous. ⁴In that day they shall take up against you a proverb, and they shall wail a lamentation, "Done for!" They shall say, "We are certainly laid waste! He let go the inheritance of my people; how He does remove it from me! He divides our field to the apostate!" ⁵So you shall have no one to cast a line by lot in the congregation of the LORD.

⁶"Don't preach," they^b preach. (But if) they do not preach to these, the shame will never cease. ⁷Are you called, "House of Jacob?" Is the Spirit of the LORD limited? Are these His ways? Do not My words benefit him who walks honestly? ⁸Only yesterday My people were rising up as an enemy; from one languishing in peace you strip off the garment, from those who pass by in security, averse to war.¹ ⁹The women of My people you evict from their happy homes; from their young children you take away My splendor forever. ¹⁰Get up and leave, for this is not a resting place; because uncleanness destroys, and the destruction is grievous. ¹¹If a man went around having lied with wine and falsehood, (saying), "I will preach to you of wine and strong drink," he would be the preacher of this people. ¹²I will surely gather all of you, O Jacob; I will certainly collect the remnant of Israel; I will collect them like a flock in a fold; like a herd in the midst of its pasture; it will be humming with people.

¹³The breach-maker will have gone up before them; they have broken through and have passed by the gate and have gone out through it; their king has passed by before them, and the LORD at their head.

3 THEN I SAID: HEAR NOW, HEADS OF Jacob and rulers of the house of Israel: Are you not supposed to know justice, ²you who hate good and love evil; who strip the skin off people and their flesh off their bones; ³who eat the flesh of my people? The skin they have stripped from them, and their bones they have broken as for a kettle, like meat in the midst of the cauldron. ⁴Then they cry to the LORD, but He does not answer them; He hides His face from them in that time, according as they have made their deeds evil.

⁵Thus says the LORD to the prophets who lead my people astray; who, when they get something between their teeth, preach "Peace!" — but whoever does not put something in their mouths, against him they sanctify¹ war. ⁶Therefore it shall be night to you without vision, darkness to you without divination;^k the sun shall go down upon the prophets, and dark shall be the day to them. ⁷The seers shall blush, and the diviners shall be ashamed; they shall cover their mouths,¹ all of them; for there is no answer from God. ⁸As for me, I am full of power, by the Spirit of the LORD and of judgment and might, to proclaim to Jacob his rebellion and to Israel his sin.^m ⁹Hear this, you heads of the house of Jacob and rulers of the house of Israel, who spurn justice and twist everything that is straight, ¹⁰who build Zion in blood and Jerusalem in iniquity. ¹¹Her leaders deal out judgment for a bribe; her priests teach for hire; her prophets divine for silver, and then they lean on the LORD, saying, "Is not the LORD in our midst? Evil shall not

g) Proudly. h) The false prophets.

i) The ungodly become unreasonable, for they have no love or respect for men; they manhandle even those who have no selfish purpose to promote with them.

j) This use of the word is still found in the word "sanction" in international law.

k) We would say, "revelation." l) Hebrew, "beard," the sign of having nothing to say.

m) Micah is addressing the southern kingdom, 740-710 B.C., about 20 years later than Amos in the north, but the burdens are very similar — backsliding into paganism, the wealthy taking the lead.

come upon us!" — ¹²Therefore, for your sake, Zion shall be plowed as a field, Jerusalem shall be heaps, and the temple mountain shall become as a jungle hill.^a

4 IN THE LATTER DAYS THE MOUNTAIN of the LORD's house shall be established as the highest of the mountains; it shall be raised above the hills, and the nations shall flow unto it. ²Many nations shall come and say, "Come, let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, to the house of the God of Jacob, so He may teach us His ways, and we may walk in His paths." For from Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem. ³He shall judge among many peoples and decide for mighty nations afar off. Then they shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning shears; nation shall lift up no sword against nation, and they shall not learn war any more. ⁴A man shall dwell beneath his vine and fig tree and no one shall make him afraid; for the mouth of the LORD of hosts has spoken it. ⁵For all the nations walk, each one in the name of its god, but we shall walk in the name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.

⁶In that day — it is affirmed by the LORD — I will gather the lame and those who have been driven out; I would gather even those whom I have afflicted.^o ⁷I will put the lame for a remnant and the outcast for a mighty nation; and the LORD will reign over them in Mount Zion from this time and through eternity.

⁸As for you, tower of the flock, hill of the daughter of Zion, to you it shall come, even the former dominion shall come, a kingdom for the daughter of Jerusalem. ⁹Now why do you shout aloud? Is there no king with you, or has your counsellor perished? For pangs have taken hold of you as of a woman in travail. ¹⁰Writhe and cry out, daughter of Zion, like a woman in labor, for now you shall go out from the city, and you shall live in the field. You shall enter into Babylon; there you shall be delivered; there the LORD will redeem you from the hand of your enemies. ¹¹Now many nations shall be gathered to you; those who say, "Let her be defiled! Let our eyes gaze on Zion!" ¹²But they do not know the thoughts of the LORD; they do not understand His counsel; for He has gathered them like sheaves on the threshing floor. ¹³Rise and thresh, daughter of Zion, for I will make your horn of iron, and your hoofs I will make of brass; you will crush many people, and I will devote to the LORD their ill-gotten gain,^p and their wealth to the LORD of all the earth.

5 NOW ASSEMBLE IN TROOPS, O daughter of troops; a state of siege has been placed against us; with a rod they shall strike the judge of Israel on the cheekbone.^q

²As for you, Bethlehem Ephrathah, little as you are among the thousands of Judah, from you shall He come forth to Me, who is to be ruler over Israel,^r His goings forth are from of old, from days of eternity. ³Therefore He shall give them up until the time when she who is in labor has brought forth,^s and the rest of His brothers shall return to the sons of Israel. ⁴He shall stand and feed in the strength of the LORD; in the majesty of the name of the LORD His God; and they shall abide, for now He shall be great to the ends of the earth, ⁵and He shall be peace.

When Assyria shall enter our land and tread on our palaces, we shall raise against him seven shepherds and eight princes among men. ⁶They shall shepherd the land of Assyria with the sword and the land of Nimrod within her gates,^t but He shall deliver us from Assyria, when He shall go forth in our land and tread in our borders.

⁷The remnant of Jacob shall be in

n) Or, "as a wooded hill" [cf. Jer. 26:18]. Note the identity of vss. 1-5 with Isa. 2:2-5. His period, 740-710 B.C., coincides with that of Isaiah, who was exceptionally well educated.

o) A foretaste of Gospel days; for such Jesus had special sympathy and help.

p) The Exile will prepare them for the Messiah.

q) In Hebrew this is ch. 4:14, and this verse belongs to ch. 4.

r) Bethlehem had also furnished their first conquering king. This verse was quoted to the wise men. s) Cf. Isa. 7:14. t) Where the city's council and court sat.

the midst of many people as dew from the LORD, as the showers upon the grass, which do not wait for man nor tarry for the sons of men.⁴ ⁸The remnant of Jacob shall be among the nations in the midst of many peoples as a lion among the animals of the forest, as the young lion in a sheepfold, which, if he passes through, he tramples and tears, and there is no deliverer. ⁹Your hand shall be lifted up against your foes, and all your enemies shall be cut off!

¹⁰In that day — it is affirmed by the LORD — I will cut off your horses from your midst, and I will destroy your chariots.⁵ ¹¹I will cause the cities of your land to be cut off; I will throw down all your fortifications. ¹²I will cut off all the sorceries from your land, and you shall have no more soothsayers. ¹³I will cut off your graven images and your idols; you shall no longer worship the works of your hands. ¹⁴I will root out your shame-images^w from your midst; I will annihilate your cities. ¹⁵I will execute retribution in anger and indignation with the nations which did not hear.

6 HEAR WHAT THE LORD IS SAYING:

Rise, enter your plea before the mountains, and let the hills hear your voice. ²Hear, O mountains, the LORD's indictment, and you, everlasting foundations of the earth, for the LORD has an accusation against His people, and He will indict Israel. ³My people, what have I done to you, and how have I exhausted your patience? Answer Me, ⁴for I brought you up from the land of Egypt and from the house of bondage; I ransomed you from slavery; I sent before you Moses, Aaron, and Miriam. ⁵My people, I urge you, remember what King Balak of Moab devised, and what Balaam son of Beor answered him;^x (also the events) from Acacia to Gilgal,^y so that you may fully understand the LORD's rights.

⁶With what shall I come before the LORD, or bow myself in the presence of God, the exalted? Shall I come before Him with burnt offerings, with yearling calves? ⁷Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams, with ten thousands of rivers of oil? Shall I give my first-born for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sins of my soul? ⁸He has declared to you, O man, what is good, and what does the LORD require of you but to do justice, to love mercy and to walk humbly with your God?^z ⁹The voice of the LORD cries to the city^a — and it is wholesome to revere Thy name. Heed the rod and him who has appointed it. ¹⁰Are there not still in the house of the ungodly treasures of wickedness and the condemned bushel of scant measure? ¹¹Would I be innocent with crooked balances and bags of false weights? ¹²For her rich men are full of oppression; her inhabitants seek falsehood; they have false tongues in their mouth. ¹³On My part, I have smitten you with a grievous wound; I have made you desolate on account of your sins. ¹⁴You will eat; but you will not be satisfied; inside you there will still be hunger. You will put away, but you will not save, and what you do save I will give to the sword. ¹⁵You will plant, but you will not harvest; you will tread the olives, but you will not anoint yourself with the oil; you will tread^b the grape, but you will not drink the wine. ¹⁶You have kept the statutes of Omri and all the work of the house of Ahab;^c you have walked in their counsel in order that I might hand you over to destruction and the inhabitants to scorn, and the reproach of My people you shall bear.

u) As God had ordained in His covenant with Abraham for Israel to bless the world [Gen. 12:2].
v) When Israel became a nation, the multiplying of horses and chariots was forbidden [Deut. 17:16], lest they put their trust in them.

w) Asherah, the Canaanite shrine that encouraged lewdness. The court of heaven is moved down to earth, to clarify the unwholesome situation of a thankless, paganizing people.

x) Balak had secured Balaam, hoping he would curse Israel, but instead he blessed them [Num. 23]. y) Cf. Num. 22-36. Israel is sinning high-handedly [Num. 15:30].

z) A responsive life rather than response in offerings, the grateful attitude to the merciful Helper.

a) Referring to the city, Jerusalem. b) The word "tread" supplied from the previous clause.

c) The most idolatrous of kings in northern Israel, committing high-handed sins [Num. 15:27-31].

7 WOE TO ME! FOR I HAVE BEEN AS the gatherings of summer fruit, as the gleanings of the grape harvest. Not a cluster to eat; not an early fig, on which my heart is set! ²The godly man has perished from the earth; not one is honest among men. They all lie in wait for blood, each man to snare his brother with a net. ³They do evil with both hands and have skill in using them. The prince asks for a bribe; so does the judge; the outstanding man seeks his own satisfaction; so between them they make their deal. ⁴The best of them is like a briar; the straightest is worse than a thorn hedge. The day of your watchmen — your visitation — is on the way; now is their confusion. ⁵Do not trust your neighbor; do not confide in your friend; guard the doors of your mouth from the one who lies in your bosom! ⁶For son despises father, daughter stands up against mother, daughter-in-law against mother-in-law, and a man's enemies are the men of his house.^d

⁷As for me, I will wait on the LORD; I will hope in the God of my salvation; my God will hear me. ⁸Do not rejoice, my enemy, against me! If I fall, I shall rise;^e though I live in darkness, the LORD is my light.

⁹The LORD's indignation I will bear, for I have sinned against Him;^f He shall plead my cause and execute my justice. He shall bring me out to the light; I shall gaze on His righteous ways. ¹⁰So my enemy shall see, and shame will cover her who said to me, "Where is the LORD your God?"^g My eyes shall look upon her; she shall be trodden down as mud of the streets. ¹¹A day comes for rebuilding your walls — the day of broad extensions — ¹²when they shall come to you from Assyria to Egypt, from Egypt to the Euphrates, from sea to sea and from mountain to mountain. ¹³Yet the earth shall become a waste on account of her inhabitants, because of the fruits of their works.

¹⁴Shepherd the people with Thy rod, the flock of Thy inheritance,^h who live alone in the forest in the midst of a fruitful land; they shall feed in Bashan and in Gilead, as in days of old. ¹⁵As in the days when Thou didst bring them out from the land of Egypt, I will cause them to see wonders. ¹⁶As the nations see, let them despair of all their might; they shall put their hand on their mouth; their ears shall become deaf. ¹⁷They shall lick the dust like serpents; like worms of the ground, trembling they shall come out of their fortresses to the LORD our God, whom they shall revere, and they shall stand in awe of Thee. ¹⁸Who, O God, is like Thee, forgiving iniquity, passing over transgressionⁱ for the remnant of His inheritance? He does not maintain His indignation forever because He delights in covenant love. ¹⁹He will turn; He will again show us mercy; He will trample upon our iniquities; and Thou wilt cast all our sins into the depths of the sea.^j ²⁰Thou wilt show faithfulness to Jacob and covenant love to Abraham, which Thou hast sworn to our fathers from the days of old.

d) Largely quoted by Jesus of situations where some in the same home accept Him and some reject Him (Matt. 10:34-36).

e) "I steadier step when I recall, that when I slip, God does not fall."

f) The godly person sees adversities as divine discipline.

g) Throughout Scripture and through life the ungodly either deny God's hand in life or see His displeasure when His children are disciplined.

h) A picture of the Messianic fulfilment, when the Redeemer of Israel is the world's Redeemer.

i) No idol was ever formed and no god has been humanly thought of who forgives; forgiveness is God's unique attribute.

j) His forgiving is thorough. As Christians we have a mind to forgive, but how hard it is to forget! God dropping our sins to the bottom of the sea is a picture of His complete forgetting.

THE BOOK OF NAHUM

1 AN ORACLE ON NINEVEH: THE book of the vision of Nahum of Elkosh.^a ²The LORD is a jealous God, a LORD of retribution, and indignant. The LORD takes full vengeance upon His adversaries, retaining wrath toward His foes. ³The LORD is slow to anger and great in power, and will not at all acquit the guilty.

The way of the LORD is in the whirlwind and in the storm; the clouds are the dust of His feet. ⁴He restrains the sea and dries it up; He makes all the rivers desert places; Bashan and Carmel wither; likewise the bloom of Lebanon.

⁵At His presence the mountains tremble, and the hills shrink away; the earth is laid waste before Him, the world and all its occupants. ⁶Who can stand before the LORD's indignation, and who can keep standing in the heat of His anger? His fury is poured forth like fire, and before Him rocks are shattered.

⁷The LORD is good, a stronghold in the day of trouble; He knows those who commit themselves to Him.^b

⁸With an overwhelming flood He will make an end of all who rise up against Him, and He will pursue His foes into darkness.

⁹Whatever your plotting is against the LORD, He will bring it to nothing; He will not avenge Himself upon His foes a second time.^c ¹⁰Though they are as entangled thorns, they shall be consumed utterly like dry stubble.

¹¹Did not a plotter of evil against the LORD come out from your presence, a counselor of wickedness?^d

¹²This is what the LORD says: Although they are strong and many, they shall be cut off so as to vanish; although I have humbled you, I will humble you no more.^e ¹³And now I will break his yoke from upon you, and snap your bonds asunder.

¹⁴The LORD has given command concerning you:^f Nothing of your name shall survive; even from the house of your gods I will cut off the graven and molten images, and I will make your grave; for you are vile.

¹⁵Behold, on the mountains the feet of him who brings good tidings, who proclaims peace. So keep your feasts, O Judah, pay your vows; for not again shall the wicked pass over against you; he will be cut off completely.

a) The book of Nahum is a brief prophecy on the fall of Nineveh, capital of Assyria [612 B.C.]. The Assyrians were northern Babylonians who had migrated about 2000 B.C. to the area on the Tigris river where Nineveh was built. They were the most powerful of the Semitic peoples and their first world-conquerors. They captured Samaria and destroyed northern Israel in 722 B.C. Elkosh was pointed out to Jerome [c. 400 A.D.] as Elcesi in Galilee. We know of Nahum only what we learn from this book. He was one of the ablest writers in Israel.

b) This chapter introduces the prophecy proper. Ch. 1:2-6 is a general description of the LORD's power to avenge Himself and His people; verses 7-15, His promise to utterly destroy the enemies of His people, the Assyrians and Nineveh. c) Once will be enough.

d) These plotters of evil are Assyrian kings.

e) This line is addressed to Judah; what lies before is said of Nineveh. f) Assyria.

2 THE SHATTERER HAS COME UP against you,^g so, man the ramparts; watch the road; gird your loins; build up your strength to the limit! ²For the LORD is restoring the vine^h of Jacob as also the vine of Israel; for devastators have stripped them and have destroyed their branches.

³The shields of his mighty men are red; the soldiers are clad in scarlet; the chariots flame like torches on the day of mustering, while the chargers prance.

⁴The chariots are racing in the streets, dashing back and forth in the broad, open places; they appear like torches darting about like lightning.

⁵Heⁱ summons his officers; they stumble in their speed as they hurry to her walls; the mantelet^j is being constructed. ⁶The river gates are opened, and the palace is dissolved in the tumult. ⁷Its queen is stripped and taken into captivity while her ladies lament, moaning like doves and beating their breasts.

⁸Nineveh is of old like a pool full of water, that is now draining away. "Stand! Stand!" they shout, but no one rallies them. ⁹Loot the silver, loot the gold! the plunder is endless. Wealth is everywhere, all kinds of precious things, untold amounts!

¹⁰Emptiness! Desolation! Utter waste! Hearts melting, knees knocking; on every loins only anguish and all faces colorless. ¹¹Where is now the lion's lair, the cave of the young lions?^k Where do the lions hide, all of them, with none to molest? ¹²The lion tore up enough to feed his whelps; other prey he strangled for his lionesses; he then filled his caves with prey and his den with plenty of booty.

¹³Behold, I am against you, says the LORD of hosts; I will burn your chariots in smoke, and the sword will devour your young lions; I will eliminate your plunder from the earth, and the voice of your envoys shall be heard no more.

3 WOE TO THE CITY OF BLOOD, FULL of lies, and crammed with plunder, never ceasing her pillaging. ²Hear the crack of the whip, the wheels rumbling, the horses prancing, and the chariots rattling, ³cavalry charging, swords flashing, spears gleaming along the way; masses of the slain, many carcasses everywhere, men stumbling over the corpses of men; ⁴and all because of the harlot in her harlotries^l with all her beauty besides, mistress of seduction, selling nations by her prostitutions, bewitching peoples everywhere.

⁵Look, I am opposing you, says the LORD of hosts, I will lift your skirts to your face; your nakedness I will display before nations and your shame before kingdoms. ⁶I will fling filth your way, treat you with contempt and render you a gazingstock. ⁷Such that every one who looks at you will take to flight, crying out, "Nineveh is ruined! Who will lament her? Where can I find any to console her?"

⁸Are you any better than No-Amon,^m enthroned upon the banks of the Nile with waters all around her, her rampart the sea and the water her walls? ⁹Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, unlimited; Put and the Libyans were her allies. ¹⁰Yet even so she was exiled and carried into captivity. At every street corner her children were dashed to death. For her leaders they cast lots, and all her great ones were shackled in chains.

¹¹You, too,ⁿ will reel and swoon, and seek refuge from the foe. ¹²All your fortresses are but fig trees with their first ripe fruits; when they are shaken, they fall quickly into the eater's mouth. ¹³Observe the warriors among you; they are women. The gates of your land are wide open to your enemies; fire has consumed your lock-bars.

¹⁴Draw water for the siege;^o strengthen your forts; go down into the clay pits; trample the mortar and lay hold

g) Nineveh. After the attack of Sennacherib upon Judah, the Hebrews believed the LORD would avenge them, so they now are expecting Nineveh's downfall. It is to this expectation that Nahum gives voice. h) The glory of His people. i) The commander in Nineveh.

j) A shot-proof shelter for siege-war.

k) Symbolic of looting Assyria with her palaces in Nineveh. Vss. 11-13 with comments were found among the Dead Sea Scrolls, essentially identical with our text. l) Nineveh.

m) No-Amon is Nahum's name for Thebes, a great city up the Nile, captured and destroyed by the Assyrians in 663 B.C. n) "You, too," Nineveh.

o) In time of siege, then as now, water is most essential.

of the brick mold! ¹⁶There fire will consume you; the sword will cut you down, devour you like young locusts; there is no escape. You must make yourselves many, as numerous as the young grasshoppers; multiply like locust swarms! ¹⁶You have multiplied your merchants more than the stars of heaven! Young locusts unfold their wings and fly away. ¹⁷Your princes are like locusts, your nobles like swarms of grasshoppers that settle in the hedges on a cold day; and when the sun rises they fly away, no one knows whither.

¹⁸Your shepherds are asleep, O king of Assyria! Your nobles are lying down. Your people are scattered on the hills with no one to get them together. ¹⁹There is no cure for your fracture and no healing for your wound. All who hear this report about you will clap their hands over you. For who is there upon whom your wrongs have not rested unceasingly?

THE BOOK OF HABAKKUK

1 ^aTHE DIVINE ORACLE WHICH Habakkuk^b the prophet saw: ²How long, O LORD, shall I cry and Thou wilt not hear? I cry to Thee, "Violence!" and Thou wilt not save! ³Why dost Thou show me iniquity and (make me) look upon perverseness? For violence and oppression are before me; strife and contention keep on rising. ⁴In the presence of this, the law is slack^c and justice is not at all applied; for the wicked encircle the righteous,^d hence justice goes forth perverted.

⁵Look out among the nations, observe and be astounded, be amazed; for I am doing a work^e in your day, which you would not believe, if it were told you. ⁶Behold, I am raising up the Chaldeans,^f a fierce and impetuous nation, who march through the breadth of the earth to seize dwelling places which are not theirs. ⁷Dreadful and terrible they are; their judgment and dignity proceed from themselves.^g ⁸Their horses are swifter than leopards, fiercer than evening wolves;^h their horsemen also spread themselves, coming from afar. They fly as an eagle hastening to devour. ⁹They all come for violence; their vanguard breaks through as the east wind; they gather captives as the sand.ⁱ ¹⁰At kings they scoff; deriding princes, laughing at every stronghold, and piling up earth, they take them.^j ¹¹Then they sweep by like the wind and pass on; but they are guilty men, for their might is their god.

¹²Art Thou not from everlasting, O LORD my God, my Holy One? We shall not die! O LORD, Thou hast ordained them for judgment, and Thou, O Rock,^k hast placed them for correction. ¹³Thou who art of purer eyes than to behold evil and to countenance wrong, why dost Thou look upon those unfaithful ones and keep silent when the wicked swallows up the man more righteous than he?

¹⁴For Thou makest men like the fish of the sea, like creeping things who have no ruler over them. ¹⁵He hauls all of them up with a hook; he drags them out with his net and collects them in his seine; then he^l rejoices and exults.^m ¹⁶Therefore he sacrifices to his net and burns incense to his seine,ⁿ because by them his portion is

a) The book opens with a dialogue between the prophet and God that continues through ch. 2:5. Problem: Why does a righteous God permit universal rampant evil? b) The embracer.

c) Numbed, paralyzed, bereft of life and force.

d) Chs. 1 and 2, remarkably identical with ours, with comments, are among the Dead Sea Scrolls; "the righteous" is the Law teacher. e) Used of divine operation [see Psa. 44:1; Isa. 5:12].

f) Term for Babylonians. "Kasdim" in Hebrew — became the ruling caste in Babylon under Nabopolassar and Nebuchadnezzar. D.S.S. suggests Kittaeans [of Kition in Cyprus] foreigners.

g) An impetuous and autocratic nation — a law unto themselves.

h) Wolves in the East conceal themselves during the day, but prowl at night.

i) As innumerable as the sand [see Gen. 22:17; 32:12].

j) Piling it higher than the wall of the besieged city.

k) The unchangeable support or refuge of His people: "The Rock of Israel."

l) "He" refers to the Chaldeans thrice in this verse. m) Over his successful catch.

n) Deifies his instruments of success.

fat,^o and his food is rich. ¹⁷Shall he therefore keep on emptying his net^p and continually slay nations without mercy?

2 I WILL TAKE MY STAND ON MY post, station myself on the tower, and watch to see what He will say to me; what answer I shall receive concerning my complaint. ²The LORD answered me and said: Write the vision! Make it plain upon tablets, so he who runs by may read it! ³However, the vision waits for its appointed time; it hastens toward the end; it will not lie. If it lingers, wait for it; for it will certainly come; it will not lag. ⁴Look, his soul is puffed up;^q it is not upright in him!^r But the righteous shall live by his faith.^s ⁵But wine is treacherous to a haughty man; he cannot endure. He who widens his greed like the grave^t is like death, never satisfied; he gathers to himself all the nations and collects all peoples as his own.

⁶Shall not all these take up a taunt-song against him, a song of derision, saying, "Woe to him who heaps up what is not his! — How long? — Or who loads himself with pledges!" ⁷Will not your creditors suddenly arise, and those wake up who make you tremble? Then you will be plunder for them! ⁸Because you have robbed many nations, all the remnant of peoples^u shall rob you, because of the blood of men and violence done to the land, to the city,^v and to all its inhabitants.

⁹Woe to him who acquires an evil gain for his house, in order to set his seat on high, to be out of the reach of calamity! ¹⁰You have directed shame to your house; also by cutting off many peoples, you have forfeited your own life. ¹¹For the stone will cry out from the wall, and the beam from the timbers will answer it.

¹²Woe to him who builds a town by blood and establishes a city by iniquity! ¹³Consider, it is not from the LORD of hosts that peoples exert themselves for what goes up in smoke,^w and that nations exhaust themselves for nothing. ¹⁴For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD as the waters cover the sea.

¹⁵Woe to him who gives his neighbor drink; pouring out from your wine-skin to make him drunk so as to gaze upon his nakedness. ¹⁶You will be filled with reproach instead of glory. Drink, yourself, and be as one uncircumcised!^x The cup^y in the LORD's right hand will come around to you and great shame will come on your glory. ¹⁷For the violence done to Lebanon^z shall overwhelm you, and the destruction of beasts will terrify you, because of the blood of men and the violence done to the earth, to cities, and all who live in them.

¹⁸What profit is a graven image, when its maker has formed it: a molten image and the instructor of lies? For the maker trusts in his own creation when he makes dumb idols.^a ¹⁹Woe to him who says to a wooden object, "Awake!" or to a dumb stone, "Arise!" Can this teach? See, it is overlaid with gold and silver, and there is no life in any of it. ²⁰The LORD^b is in His holy temple; let all the earth keep silence before Him.

3 A PRAYER OF THE PROPHET HABAKKUK according to Shigionoth:^c ²⁰O LORD, I have heard tidings of Thee, and Thy work, O LORD, fills me with fear. In the midst of the years revive Thy work;^d in the midst of the years

o) He lives in luxury.

p) Changing hermo to harbo, the D.S.S. has "bare his sword" for "empty his net."

q) Swollen, commented in D.S.S., as piling up double retribution for their sins.

r) Sin is suicide — carries within itself its power of destruction.

s) Some prefer "faithfulness" to "faith," but Paul (Rom. 1:17 and Gal. 3:11) quotes "faith"; so Heb. 10:38, where only "faith" would serve. t) Insatiate as the grave.

u) Retribution will come upon the Chaldeans [see Isa. 14:2; 33:1].

v) Those who have escaped destruction. w) Heb. — for fire. x) Become an object of mockery.

y) Cup of His wrath which intoxicates and renders helpless [see Jer. 25:15, 17, 28].

z) Cutting large amounts of timber from the forests to build temples and palaces in their capitals.

a) Idols useless in time of need. b) Contrasting idols and Yahweh, the true and living God.

c) Set to irregular music. d) The prophet looks back to the Exodus.

make it known!^e In wrath remember mercy!

³God comes from Teman,^f the Holy One from Mount Paran.^g Selah
His majesty covers the heavens, and the earth is full of His praise.

⁴His brightness is like the light;^h rays flash from His hand, and there is the hiding of His power.

⁵Before Him the pestilence goes out, and burning fever follows at His feet.

⁶He stands and surveys the earth; He looks and startles the nations.ⁱ

The eternal mountains are scattered;^j the everlasting hills bow down; His goings are as of old.^k

⁷I see the tents of Cushan in distress; the curtains of the land of Midian^l are trembling.

⁸Is the LORD displeased with the rivers? Is Thy anger against the rivers, or Thy wrath against the sea, that Thou dost ride upon Thy horses, upon Thy victory-chariots?

⁹Thou dost strip the sheath from Thy bow and puttest arrows to the string. Selah

Thou cuttest through the earth with rivers;

¹⁰The mountains see Thee and are in pangs;

the raging waters sweep on.^m The deep utters its voice and lifts its hands on high.ⁿ

¹¹The sun and the moon stand still in their habitations;^o

at the light of Thy arrows as they speed,

at the shining of Thy glittering spear.

¹²Thou dost stride the land in indignation;

Thou dost thresh the nations in Thy anger.

¹³Thou dost march out for the deliverance of Thy people, for the salvation of Thy anointed.

Thou dost demolish the top of the house of the ungodly, laying bare the foundation even to the nethermost stone. Selah

¹⁴Thou dost pierce with his own shafts^p the heads of his warriors; who come like a whirlwind to scatter me, rejoicing as if to devour the innocent^q in secret.

¹⁵Thou dost tread the sea with Thy horses;

the mighty waters are piled up.

¹⁶I hear, and my body trembles; my lips quiver at the sound.

Decay enters my bones,^r and I tremble where I stand.

I will quietly wait for the day of trouble to come upon the people who would invade us.

¹⁷Although the fig tree may not blossom, nor fruit be on the vines, the produce of the olive fail and the field yield no food, the flock be cut off from the fold, and there be no herd in the stalls, ¹⁸yet I^s will rejoice in the LORD,

I will joy in the God of my salvation. ¹⁹The LORD God is my strength;

He makes my feet like hinds' feet, He makes me tread upon my high places.

To the chief musician,^t with stringed instruments.

e) LXX: "make Thyself known."

f) A district northwest of Edom. g) Between the Sinaitic Peninsula and Kadesh-Barnea.

h) The full light of the sun. i) The Judge's look made them quail with terror.

j) Cleft asunder before Him [Micah 1:4].

k) When He stood in the stream of history during the Exodus.

l) The country on the east side of the Gulf of Aqabah.

m) The rush of waters, pouring down the mountain side, dug out channels in the earth and filled dry waddies with terror. n) Its waves mounted high. o) Josh. 10:12, 13.

p) Enemies will be thrown into a panic and will turn their weapons against themselves [Zech. 14:13]. q) Suffering and afflicted people of God.

r) Framework of the body - his strength utterly failed him. s) Introducing an antithesis.

t) Among the collection of psalms sung in the temple services.

THE BOOK OF ZEPHANIAH

1 THE WORD OF THE LORD THAT came to Zephaniah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, during the days of Josiah^a the son of Amon, king of Judah.

²I will completely consume all things from off the face of the earth, says the LORD. ³I will consume man and beast; I will consume the birds of the heavens, the fish of the sea, and the stumbling blocks^b with the wicked. I will cut off man from the face of the earth, too, says the LORD.

⁴I will stretch out My hand^c against Judah and all the inhabitants in Jerusalem; I will cut off the remnant of Baal^d from this place and the name of the idolaters with the priests;^e ⁵those who worship the host of heaven upon the housetops;^f those who worship, swearing by the LORD and then by Malcham;^g ⁶those who have turned back from following the LORD; and those who have not sought the LORD, nor inquired after Him.

⁷Be still in the presence of the Lord God! For the day of the LORD is near!

The LORD has prepared a sacrifice; He has sanctified His guests.

⁸It shall be in the day of the LORD's sacrifice^h that I will punish the princes,ⁱ the king's sons,^j and all who are dressed in foreign apparel.^k ⁹On that day I will punish all who leap over the threshold,^l who fill their master's house with violence and deceit. ¹⁰Also on that day there shall be, says the LORD, the noise of a cry from the fish gate, a howling from the second quarter, and a great crashing from the hills.^m ¹¹Howl, you inhabitants of Maktesh,ⁿ for all the people of Canaan are undone; all who were loaded with silver are cut off. ¹²And it shall be at that time that I will search out Jerusalem with lamps,^o and I will punish the men who are settled on their dregs,^p who say in their heart, "The LORD will do no good, neither will He do harm."^q ¹³Their wealth shall become a spoil and their houses a desolation. Yes, they will build houses, but not inhabit them; they will plant vineyards, but not drink their wine.

¹⁴The great day of the LORD is near;

a) Beginning in 639 B.C. at 8 years of age, under guidance of Hilkiyah the high priest, Josiah reigned until 608, honored by Jeremiah and all his people.

b) All objects giving occasion for moral and religious stumbling [Ezek. 14:3, 4; Matt. 13:41].

c) Ready to smite [see Isa. 14:26; 23:11].

d) The god of Phoenicians and Canaanites, whose worship fascinated many Israelites.

e) Vss. 5, 6: three classes of laity who will also be swept away in judgment.

f) Worship of the heavenly bodies, a cult prevalent in Judah.

g) Also named Milcom and Molech, the god of the Ammonites [I Kings 11:5, 7, 33; II Kings 23:13; Jer. 49:1, 3]. h) Figure: sacrifice for judgment, first used by Zephaniah.

i) "Nobles," i.e. those entrusted with a judicial or other responsible office.

j) The royal house, not including good king Josiah.

k) Parading their sympathy with some foreign country.

l) A superstitious performance, as in I Sam. 5:5, or this first clause balancing with the second.

m) No class spared. n) "Pounding place," i.e., where traders dwelt.

o) Explore thoroughly the darkest corners [Luke 15:8].

p) Sunken into a state of moral stagnation and spiritual indifference.

q) Because He either lacks interest or power.

it is near and hastening greatly, even the voice of the day of the LORD. The mighty man will then cry bitterly. ¹⁶That day will be a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of wreck and desolation, a day of darkness and gloom, a day of clouds and heavy darkness, ^{16a}a day of the trumpet and alarm against the fortified cities and the corner towers. ¹⁷And I will bring distress upon men; they shall walk like blind men because they have sinned against the LORD! Their blood shall be poured out as dust and their flesh as dung. ¹⁸Neither their silver nor their gold^r will be able to deliver them in the day of the LORD's indignation, for the whole land shall be devoured by the fire of His jealousy; for He will make an end, yes, a speedy end, of all those who dwell in the land.

2 COME TO YOURSELVES, CHECK UP on yourselves, O shameless people, ²before the decree takes effect^s — for the day passes like chaff, before the fierce anger of the LORD falls upon you, before the day of the LORD's anger comes upon you. ³Seek the LORD, all ye humble^t of the earth, who have kept His ordinance; seek righteousness, seek meekness; perhaps you will be hid in the day of the Lord's anger.

⁴For Gaza shall be depopulated, Ashkelon, a desolation; they shall drive out Ashdod at noon,^u and Ekron shall be rooted up. ⁵Woe to the inhabitants of the seacoast, the nation of the Chere-thites!^v The word of the LORD is against you, O Canaan, land of the Philistines; I will so destroy you that there will be no inhabitant left. ⁶The seacoast will be pastures, with caves for shepherds and folds for flocks. ⁷The coast will be for the remnant of the house of Judah;^w they shall feed their flocks there; in the houses of Ashkelon they shall lie down in the evening. The LORD their God will visit them and restore their fortune.

⁸I have heard the reproach of Moab and the revilings of the children of Ammon, with which they have reproached My people and exalted themselves against their domain.^x ⁹Therefore, as I live, says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, surely Moab shall be as Sodom^y and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah — a possession of nettles, salt pits, and a perpetual desolation. The remainder of My people shall loot them, and the leftover of My nation shall inherit them. ¹⁰This they will receive for their pride, because they have reproached and have vaunted themselves against the people of the LORD of hosts. ¹¹The LORD will be terrible to them, for He will make lean^z all the gods of the earth; men shall worship Him, everyone from his place,^a even all the islands of the nations.

¹²You Ethiopians, too, you shall be slain by My sword. ¹³He will also stretch out His hand against the north^b and destroy Assyria; He will make Nineveh a desolation, dry as the desert. ¹⁴Flocks shall lie down in the midst of her; all the beasts of the nations, both the pelican and the porcupine, shall lodge on top of its columns; the noise they make shall wail in the windows; desolation shall be on the threshold, for He has laid bare the cedar work.^c ¹⁵This is the exulting^d city which dwelt carelessly, that said in her heart, "I am, and there is none else."^e How^f is she become a desolation, a place for beasts to lie down in! Every passerby shall hiss and shake his fist at her.^g

r) A time when money will fail! s) God's decree of judgment [see Prov. 27:1].

t) Hope of the nation rests on this group, a nucleus.

u) Time of the noon siesta [see II Sam. 4:5], a sudden surprise.

v) A clan or subdivision of the Philistines [see I Sam. 30:14; Ezek. 25:16].

w) Those who escape the coming judgment. x) To encroach on Hebrew territory.

y) As a salt and barren plain — a type of desolation [see Deut. 29:23; Isa. 13:19; Jer. 49:18].

z) Rendered powerless by the LORD; unable to defend their worshippers.

a) Not making a pilgrimage to Jerusalem.

b) Taken as an example of distant lands. Although located eastward, the Assyrians invaded Palestine from the north. c) Walls of palaces and temples were panelled [see I Kings 6:9, 10].

d) Exuberant joy, unrestrained by any thought of responsibility or care [see Isa. 22:2; 23:7; 32:13].

e) Proud of her unique, imperial position.

f) Amazement at such tragic turn of fortune [see Jer. 50:23; 51:41].

g) In scorn and hatred [see I Kings 9:8]; in anger and aversion — compare "shaking the head" in derision [Lam. 2:15; Ps. 22:7].

3 WOE TO HER WHO IS DEFIANT^h AND polluted, the oppressing city. ²She obeyed not the voice;ⁱ she received not correction; she trusted not in the LORD; she drew not near to her God. ³Her princes among her are roaring lions;^j her judges are evening wolves; they leave nothing until the morning. ⁴Her prophets are reckless and treacherous men; her priests have defiled the sanctuary; they have done violence to the law.

⁵The LORD in the midst of her is righteous; He will do no iniquity; morning by morning He brings His judgment to light;^k He does not fail; but the unjust knows no shame. ⁶I have cut off nations, their corner towers are desolate; I have made their streets waste so that no man passes through; their cities are so desolate that there is no man, nobody to inhabit them. ⁷I said: Surely you will revere Me; you will receive instruction, so that her residence would not be cut off, in accordance to all that I assigned to her. Nevertheless they rose up early and corrupted all their actions.

⁸Therefore wait upon Me, says the LORD, for the day when I stand up for booty;^l for My verdict is to muster the nations, to assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them My indignation, even all My fierce anger; for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of My jealousy. ⁹For then I will give the people a pure language^m that all of them may call upon the name of the LORD, to serve Him shoulder to shoulder.ⁿ ¹⁰From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia they will bring^o My supplicants, My dispersed, as a present for Me. ¹¹In that day you shall not be ashamed because of all your actions, in which you have transgressed against Me; for then I will remove from among you your proud, exulting ones; you will no more be haughty in My holy hill.^p ¹²But I will leave among you a humbled and poor people,^q who shall take refuge in the name of the LORD. ¹³The remnant of Israel will neither act perversely nor speak lies; neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth, for they will graze and lie down,^r and no one shall frighten them.

¹⁴Sing joyfully, O daughter of Zion;^s shout, O Israel, be glad and rejoice wholeheartedly, thou daughter of Jerusalem! ¹⁵The LORD has dismissed the sentence against you. He has repelled your enemy; the King of Israel, even the LORD,^t is among you. You shall fear disaster no more. ¹⁶In that day it shall be said to Jerusalem, Do not fear, O Zion; let not your hands droop. ¹⁷The LORD, your God, is in your midst, a Mighty One^u who will save. He will rejoice over you with delight; He will rest you in His love; He will be joyful over you with singing.

¹⁸I will gather those belonging to you who sorrow for the solemn assembly,^v who have borne the burden of reproach. ¹⁹Observe how at that time I will deal with all those who oppress you; I will save the one who limps and gather in the one who was driven away; to those whose disgrace^w was in all the earth I will assign praise and a reputation. ²⁰At that time, the time when I gather you, I will appoint you for renown and praise among all the peoples of the earth, when I bring back your captivity before your eyes,^x says the LORD.

h) Obstinate refusal to listen to the LORD.

i) The voice of God by the prophets [see Jer. 7:23].

j) Ready at any moment to seize and rend the prey.

k) Both on the daily life of the individual and on the nations.

l) For the destruction of the nations. m) Literally "lip." n) Unanimously.

o) The present to be "led" or "brought up," accompanied by a procession.

p) Judah will be purified; unworthy members swept away, leaving a righteous "remnant," the nucleus of a new community. q) Those who survive the judgment.

r) Like a flock, grazing and lying down in complete security.

s) Poetical personification of the community. t) Your Protector.

u) A warrior [see Exod. 15:3; Isa. 42:13; Jer. 20:11].

v) A stated place of time — fixed, sacred seasons of the Jewish year.

w) On account of their exile [see Ezek. 36:15].

x) So that you will witness and experience it yourselves.

HAGGAI

1 IN THE SECOND YEAR OF DARIUS the king, in the sixth month, on the first day of the month,^a the word of the LORD came through the ministry of the prophet Haggai to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, saying, ²Thus says the LORD of hosts: This people say, "The time has not yet come for the house of the LORD to be rebuilt." ³Then the word of the LORD came by Haggai the prophet, saying: ⁴Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your paneled houses, while this house lies in ruins? ⁵Now therefore, thus says the LORD of hosts: Consider your ways.^b ⁶You have sown much, but you have brought in little; you eat, but you do not have enough; you drink, but you do not have your fill; you clothe yourselves, but no one is warm; and he who earns wages earns wages for a purse with holes.

⁷Thus says the LORD of hosts: Consider your ways. ⁸Go up to the hill country, bring lumber and rebuild the house; I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, says the LORD. ⁹You counted on much; and see, it came to little; and when you brought it home, I blew it away. Why? says the LORD of hosts. Because of My house that is in ruins, while you each busy yourself with his own house. ¹⁰Therefore for your sake the heavens have withheld the dew and the earth has withheld its produce.

¹¹I called for a drought^c upon the land, upon the mountains, upon the grain, upon the new wine, upon the oil, upon what the ground produces and upon men, upon cattle and upon all the labor of their hands.

¹²Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him; and the people stood in awe of the LORD. ¹³So Haggai, the messenger of the LORD, spoke to the people with the LORD's message: I am with you, says the LORD. ¹⁴The LORD also stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people. They came and worked on the house of the LORD of hosts, their God, ¹⁵on the twenty-fourth day of the month, in the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king.^d

2 IN THE SEVENTH MONTH, ON THE twenty-first day of the month, the word of the LORD came by Haggai the prophet, saying: ²Say now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of

a) Around September in the year 520 B.C.; the first return from exile was 537 B.C.

b) This call to self-examination is one of the key expressions of the book. [Cf. 1:7; 2:15, 18].

c) A clear case of play on words. Because the people left God's house chareb ["in ruins," vss. 4, 9], He brought them choreb ["drought"].

d) The lesson of the first of Haggai's four prophecies is the need for giving priority to God's interests, the New Testament parallel being Matt. 6:33, first the kingdom of God.

Judah, to the high priest, Joshua son of Jehozadak, and to the remnant of the people: ³Who is there left among you who saw this house in its former glory?^e And how do you see it now? Is it not in your eyes nothing when compared with it? ⁴Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, says the LORD, and be strong, O Joshua, son of Jehozadak, the high priest; and be strong, all you people of the land, says the LORD, and work; for I am with you, says the LORD of hosts, ⁵according to the word that I covenanted with you when you came out of Egypt. My spirit abides among you; fear not. ⁶For thus says the LORD of hosts: Once more, in a little while, I will shake the heavens and the earth and the sea and the dry land; ⁷and I will shake all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come,^f and I will fill this house with glory, says the LORD of hosts. ⁸Mine is the silver and Mine is the gold, says the LORD of hosts. ⁹The latter glory of this house shall be greater than the former, says the LORD of hosts; and in this place I will give peace, says the LORD of hosts.^g

¹⁰On the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came to Haggai the prophet, saying, ¹¹Thus says the LORD of hosts: Ask now the priests for instruction concerning the law, ¹²"If one carries holy flesh in the skirt of his garment and if his skirt touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any food, will it become holy?" The priests answered, "No." ¹³Then Haggai said, "If one who is unclean because of contact with a dead body, touches any of these, will it be unclean?" The priests answered, "It will be unclean." ¹⁴Then Haggai responded, So is this people, and so is this nation before Me, says the LORD, and so is every work of their hands, and what they offer there is unclean.^h ¹⁵And now, please call to mind days now past, before a stone had been laid upon a stone in the temple of the LORD. ¹⁶Through all that time, when one came to a heap of twenty bushels, there were only ten; when one came to the winevat to draw out fifty barrels, there were only twenty. ¹⁷I smote you and all the work of your hands with blight, and with mildew and with hail; yet you turned not to Me, says the LORD. ¹⁸Please, think back from this day, from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, since the day that the foundation of the temple of the LORD was laid, consider it. ¹⁹Is the seed yet in the barn? Do the vine, the fig tree, the pomegranate, and the olive tree still bear nothing? From this day I am blessing you.ⁱ

²⁰The word of the LORD came a second time to Haggai on the twenty-fourth day of the month: ²¹Say to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah: I will shake the heavens and the earth; ²²I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations. I will overthrow the chariots and their drivers; the horses and their riders shall go down, every one, by the sword of another. ²³In that day, says the LORD of hosts, I will take you, Zerubbabel, My servant, the son of Shealtiel, says the LORD, and make you as a signet ring; for I have chosen you, says the LORD of hosts.^j

e) The first temple was destroyed in 586 B.C.

f) This probably means, as translated in the Greek Old Testament, "the riches [or the wealth] of all nations," as the noun is singular. I Sam. 9:20 has the same noun, when Saul is told by Samuel that his people wanted a king. The verb is plural, so together the meaning seems to be — desirable things, which culminate in Christ who is our supreme wealth, and who came to this second temple.

g) The prophecy is designed to provide the comfort of divine promises amid possible discouragement at the sight of the smaller new temple.

h) Legally holiness is not communicable, but unholiness is [cf. I Cor. 5:6]. But in the realm of grace, holy influences are being communicated [see I Cor. 7:14].

i) Although all claims to divine blessing were forfeited by sin, still blessing will come by grace.

j) Zerubbabel, viewed as the representative of the Davidic line, inherits the royal promises. The glorious future and stability of the Davidic throne is assured [cf. Matt. 1:13].

THE PROPHECY OF

ZECHARIAH

1 IN THE EIGHTH MONTH OF THE second year of Darius,^a the word of the LORD came to Zechariah^b the son of Berechiah the son of Iddo the prophet: ²The LORD was very angry with your fathers. ³Now you shall say to them, Thus says the LORD of hosts: Return to Me — it has been declared by the LORD of hosts — and I will return to you, says the LORD of hosts.^c ⁴Be not like your fathers to whom the former prophets^d cried, "Thus says the LORD of hosts: Turn back from your evil ways and your evil habits!" But they neither heard nor paid attention to Me — it has been declared by the LORD! ⁵Your fathers — where are they? And the prophets — do they live forever? ⁶But My words and My decrees which I gave as command to My servants the prophets — did they not overtake your fathers? They repented and said, "Even as the LORD of hosts determined to do to us on account of our conduct and habits, even so He has done to us."^e

⁷On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month, the month Shebat, in Darius' second year, the word of the LORD came to Zechariah, the prophet, the son of Berechiah the son of Iddo. ⁸I had a vision at night: a man riding a red horse. He was waiting among the myrtle trees in the hollow; and behind him were bay, sorrel, and white^f horses. ⁹I said, "What are these, my master?" The angel who was speaking with me said to me, "I will show you what these are."^g ¹⁰And the man who was standing among the myrtle trees replied, "These are those whom the LORD sent to patrol the earth."^h ¹¹Then they answered the Angel of the LORD who was standing among the myrtle trees, "We have patrolled the earth, and the whole earth is dwelling quietly."

¹²The Angel of the LORD said: O LORD of hosts, how long wilt Thou have no compassion on Jerusalem and the cities of Judah which have been under Thy indignation now for seventy years? ¹³The LORD replied to the angel who was speaking with me in good words, comforting words. ¹⁴Then the angel who was speaking with me said, "Proclaim, Thus says the LORD of hosts: I am extremely jealous for Jerusalem and Zion, ¹⁵and I am exceedingly displeased with the arrogant Gentiles. For while I was only a little displeased,ⁱ the Gentiles helped to worsen the disaster.^h ¹⁶Therefore thus says the LORD: I have returnedⁱ

a) The Persian king Darius Hystaspes, October, 520 B.C. b) "Jehovah remembers."

c) The Gospel in a nutshell: God turns to man; but does man turn to God?

d) These include all the prophets before the exile.

e) The hearers would do well not to receive God's warnings lightly.

f) These colors are not definite. Perhaps "red" and "chestnut" are intended; but "speckled" or "dappled" is not according to the Hebrew. g) With Israel.

h) God employs enemies of His people to discipline them; but when they go beyond His commands in doing so, then those enemies must in turn be punished.

i) The prophetic perfect — already accomplished in God's sight.

to Jerusalem with compassion. My house shall be built there, it has been declared by the LORD, and a line¹ shall be stretched over Jerusalem. ¹⁷Proclaim further: Thus says the LORD of hosts: My cities shall again overflow with prosperity; and the LORD shall once more comfort Zion and once more take pleasure in Jerusalem."

¹⁸Then I raised my eyes and saw four horns, ¹⁹and I said to the angel who was speaking with me, "What are these?" He said to me, "These are the horns^k that scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem."

²⁰Then the LORD showed me four craftsmen, ²¹and I said, "What are these coming to do?" He said, "These are the horns that scattered Judah to such extent that no one could lift up his head, but these [craftsmen] have come to rout them and to cast down the horns of the Gentiles, who are lifting a horn against the land of Judah to scatter it."

2 THEN I RAISED MY EYES AND SAW a man with a measuring line in his hand; ²and I said to him, "Where are you going?" He said to me, "To measure Jerusalem to find out its length and width."

³And see, the angel who was speaking with me was going out, and another angel was going out to meet him, ⁴and said to him, "Run and tell the young man that Jerusalem shall be like unwallled villages for the number of men and cattle in it, ⁵and I shall be for it — it has been declared by the LORD — a wall of fire around it, and for glory I shall be in its midst."¹

⁶Flee from the land of the north — it has been declared by the LORD — for I have scattered you like the four winds of heaven; it has been declared by the LORD. ⁷Be saved, O Zion, you who are dwelling with the daughter of Babylon! ⁸For thus says the LORD of hosts: Afterwards glory! He sent me to the Gentiles who plundered you, for he who touches you touches the pupil of His eye.^m ⁹See, I am shaking my hand at them; they shall be plunder for their servants, and you shall know that the LORD of hosts sent me.

¹⁰Shout and rejoice, daughter of Zion, for I am coming, and I will dwell among you — it has been declared by the LORD. ¹¹Many nations shall join themselves to the LORD in that day, and they shall become My people.ⁿ I will dwell among you, ¹²and you shall know that the LORD of hosts sent me to you. The LORD shall possess Judah as His portion upon the holy land, and He shall again take pleasure in Jerusalem. ¹³Hush, mortals, in the presence of the LORD; for He has roused Himself from His holy habitation!

3 THEN HE SHOWED ME JOSHUA THE high priest standing before the Angel of the LORD and the Adversary^o standing at his right hand to oppose him. ²But the LORD said to Satan: The LORD will rebuke you, Satan; the LORD who delights in Jerusalem will rebuke you. Is not this a smoking firebrand plucked from the fire?^p ³Now Joshua was dressed in soiled garments, and he was standing before the Angel. ⁴So He^q said to those standing before Him: Take off his soiled garments. Then He^r said, "See I have removed from you your iniquity and clothed you with honorable garments." ⁵He further said, "Let them put a clean turban on his head." So they put the clean turban on his head and dressed him in festive garments, while the Angel of the LORD was standing by.

⁶Then the Angel of the LORD charged Joshua, ⁷"Thus says the LORD

j) The measuring line of the builder.

k) Rulers who have oppressed Judah.

l) The measuring apprentice was not reckoning with God's bounteous grace, Himself a wall around His people. Enjoying God's protection, they need no walls of bricks or stones; besides, the population will so increase that walls could not contain them all.

m) Equally true today; God is ever mindful of those who trust in Him; He never lets us down.

n) Prophetic of the coming in of the gentiles as reported in Acts, i.e., Paul going to gentiles.

o) Heb., the Satan. Satan is the adversary of God and man; he tempts men to sin, then accuses them before God, with pride in his success.

p) This picture has grown deservedly popular for it applies to all of us, saved by His grace.

q) The Angel.

r) None but God could speak that sentence; we must therefore again think in terms of God's Son, representing Triune God.

of hosts: If you will walk in My ways and keep My precepts, you shall also govern My house and guard My courts, and I will give you access among these who stand here. ⁸Pay attention, O high priest Joshua, you and your friends sitting before you — for they are significant men; look, I am bringing in My servant the Branch. ⁹See the stone which I have set before Joshua, upon one stone seven eyes. Observe that I am engraving its inscription — it has been declared by the LORD of hosts — and I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day. ¹⁰In that day, it has been declared by the LORD of hosts, each one of you shall invite his neighbor under his vine and under his fig tree.”^a

4 THEN THE ANGEL WHO TALKED with me returned and awoke me, as a man is awakened from his sleep, ²and said to me: “What do you see?”^t I said, “I see a lampstand all of gold with a bowl upon its top, and seven lights upon it with seven ducts, one for each light upon it. ³Also there are two olive trees upon it, one to the right of the bowl and the other to its left.”

⁴Then I asked the angel who was speaking with me, “What are these, my master?” ⁵The angel who was speaking with me said to me, “Do you not know what they are?” And I said, “No, my master.” ⁶So he said to me, “This is the word of the LORD to Zerubbabel: Not by might and not by power, but by My Spirit, says the LORD of hosts.” ⁷Who are you, great mountain, before Zerubbabel? A plain! Then bring forth the capstone! Shoutings of “Grace, grace be to it!”

⁸Again the word of the LORD came to me: ⁹The hands of Zerubbabel established this house, and his hands completed it; so you shall know that the LORD of hosts sent me to you. ¹⁰For who has despised the day of little things?^w And they shall rejoice when they see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel, these seven, [for] they are the eyes of Jehovah traveling throughout the earth.

¹¹Then I asked him, “What are these two olive trees to the right of the lampstand and to its left?” ¹²And I asked him a second time, “What are the two olive branches which, by means of the two golden tubes, are emptying [the oil] into the golden [bowl]?”^x ¹³And he said to me: “Do you not know what these are?” I said, “No, my Master.” ¹⁴Then he said: “These are the two anointed,^y who are standing by the LORD of the whole earth.”

5 ONCE AGAIN I LIFTED UP MY EYES, and I saw a flying scroll. ²And he said to me, “What do you see?” I said, “I see a flying scroll. It is ten yards long and five yards wide.” ³Then he said to me, “This is the judgment which is going forth on the face of all the earth. If anyone be stealing, shall one like him be cleared of it? And if anyone be swearing, shall one like him be declared innocent? ⁴I sent it out,^z it was declared by the LORD of hosts, and it shall enter the house of the thief and the house of the one who swore by My name to falsehood, and it shall lodge in the midst of his house and destroy it and its trees and its stones.”^a ⁵The angel who was speaking with me came forward and said to me, “Raise your eyes now, and look at what is moving to the front.” ⁶I asked, “What is it?” He said, “A bushel measure is going forth,” and he added, “This is their appearance in all the earth.” ⁷As I saw the leaden cover raised, [he said]: “This is a woman sit-

s) Forever those blessed must share their blessings; else they lose them.

t) After these visions there will be prophecies.

u) No overcoming strength and no advance without the Holy Spirit. v) Or, “he shall bring forth.”

w) Again an immortal saying, applicable to our everyday experience. One never knows what change a little incident may bring into our lives.

x) The lights are fed by the oil in the bowl down to which wicks must reach.

y) Literally, “sons of oil,” Zerubbabel, the governor, and Joshua the high priest.

z) Divine judgment.

a) Theft and perjury were the main crimes in which the returned exiles were guilty; these sins must be rooted out. The scroll on which the crimes were written formed a big book; but it is blown out of the land, symbolic of sins removed.

ting in the center of the bushel."^b ⁸Then he said, "This is Wickedness," and he cast her back into the midst of the bushel and threw the leaden covering upon the opening. ⁹Then raising my eyes, I saw two women going forth with wind in their wings. They had wings like a stork's wings, and they lifted up the bushel between earth and heaven. ¹⁰So I asked the angel who was speaking to me, "Where are they taking the bushel?" ¹¹He said to me, "To build a house for it in the land of Shinar.^c And when it is established, it shall be placed there upon its own base."

6 ONCE AGAIN I RAISED MY EYES and saw four chariots coming forward from between two mountains,^d and those mountains were of brass. ²The first chariot had red horses, the second had black horses, ³the third white horses, and the fourth strong dappled horses. ⁴I inquired of the angel who was speaking with me, "What are these, my master?" ⁵The angel answered, "These are the four winds^e of heaven that go forth from standing before the LORD of all the earth. ⁶[The chariot] that has the black horses is going to the land of the north,^f and the white ones are going after them. Those dappled are going to the land of the south,^g ⁷and the powerful ones^h went forth intent on walking back and forth in the earth." [The LORD] said to them: ¹Go, walk back and forth in the earth. So they walked about in the earth. ⁸Then He summoned me and said: See the ones going out into the north country; they have quieted My Spirit in the land of the north.

⁹Then the word of the LORD came to me: ¹⁰Accept donations from the captivity, from Heldai, from Tobijah, and from Jedaiah, and go today and enter the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah, where they have come from Babylon. ¹¹Accept silver and gold, and make a crown, which you shall put on the head of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest. ¹²Then you shall say to him, "Thus says the LORD of hosts: Behold the man whose name is Branch! He shall branch out from His place and build the temple of the LORD. ¹³He shall build the temple of the LORD, and He shall fill it with splendor; He shall sit and rule upon His throne, and He shall be priest on His throne, and a perfect union will reign between the two (offices)."ⁱ ¹⁴The crown shall belong to Helem and to Tobijah, and to Jedaiah and to Hen the son of Zephaniah, for a memorial in the temple of the LORD. ¹⁵Those at a great distance^k shall come and build in the temple of the LORD, and you shall know that the LORD of hosts has sent me to you. This shall take place if you diligently obey the LORD your God.

7 IN THE FOURTH YEAR OF DARIUS the king the word of the LORD was sent to Zechariah on the fourth day of the ninth month which is Kislev.¹ ²Now they had sent Sharezer and Regemmelech with their men to the house of God to seek favor from the LORD, ³and to ask the priests of the house of the LORD of hosts and the prophets, "Should I weep in the fifth month,^m fasting as I have done these many years?"

⁴Then the word of the LORD of hosts came to me: ⁵Say to all the people of the land and to the priests: When you have fasted and mourned in the fifth and seventh months even these seventy years, did you really fast for Me — for Me? ⁶And when you eat and drink, is it not you who are eating and you who are drinking? ⁷Are these not the words which the LORD

b) Sin is personal; it must be eliminated. c) The Babylonian bottom-land.

d) These are often taken to be Mt. Zion and Mt. of Olives, and "between them" the Valley of Jehoshaphat. e) Or, spirits. f) North was Media and Greece.

g) South lay Egypt. The chariots represent divine sovereignty.

h) Verses 2 and 3 and certain versions suggest that this should be "red." i) Hebrew, "He said."

j) Although Zechariah would not fully understand the meaning of his message, we may now, from our Christian standpoint, see the office of king and of priest united in the promised Messiah.

k) This could refer to far-scattered Jews; but more likely to Gentiles, who have learned of God.

l) Our December.

m) The ninth of the fifth month [Ab] is the annual Memorial Day of the destruction of Solomon's temple.

announced by the former prophets when Jerusalem was inhabited and prosperous and the cities around her, and when the Negebⁿ and the Shephelah^o were inhabited?

⁸Then the word of the LORD came to Zechariah: ⁹Thus says the LORD of hosts: Render true judgment; let every one show lovingkindness and compassion to his brother, ¹⁰and do not oppress the widow, the orphan, the immigrant, or the poor. Let a man not think evil in his heart against his brother.^p ¹¹But they refused to listen; they turned a rebellious shoulder; they made their ears too heavy to hear. ¹²Their hearts they made hard as diamond,^q so as not to hear the law and the word which the LORD of hosts sent by His Spirit through the former prophets. So there developed great indignation from the LORD of hosts. ¹³And just as He called out and they did not hear, so they will call out and I will not hear, says the LORD of hosts.^r ¹⁴I will scatter them among all the Gentiles whom they have not known,^s and the land shall be desolate behind them without one to pass by or to return; for they have appointed a desirable land to desolation.

8 THE WORD OF THE LORD OF HOSTS came, saying: ²Thus says the LORD of hosts: I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy; with glowing jealousy I am burning for her. ³Thus says the LORD: I have returned to Zion, and I will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem. Jerusalem shall be called the city of truth, and the mountain of the LORD of hosts, the holy mountain.

⁴Thus says the LORD of hosts: Old men and old women shall yet sit in the streets of Jerusalem, each man with his staff in his hand for his advanced age,^t ⁵and the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in its streets.^u

⁶Thus says the LORD of hosts: Because it will be marvelous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, will it also be marvelous in My eyes? says the LORD of hosts.

⁷Thus says the LORD of hosts: Notice that I am saving My people from the land of the sunrise and from the land of the sunset; ⁸I will bring them home, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; they shall be My people, and I will be their God in truth and in righteousness.

⁹Thus says the LORD of hosts: Let your hands be strong, you who in these days hear these words from the mouth of the prophets, of the day when the house of the LORD of hosts was founded, the temple that was to be rebuilt. ¹⁰For before those days there were no wages for man and no hire for cattle, and for any one going out or coming in, there was no peace because of the enemy; I had set every man against his neighbor. ¹¹But now I am not as in the former days to the remnant of this people, it is affirmed by the LORD of hosts. ¹²For I am sowing the seed of peace; the vine shall give its fruit; the earth shall give its produce; the heavens shall give dew and the remnant of this people I will cause to inherit all these things. ¹³So it shall be that as you were a curse among the Gentiles, O house of Judah and house of Israel, so will I save you, and you shall be a blessing.^v Fear not, let your hands be strong.

¹⁴For thus says the LORD of hosts: Just as I determined to do evil to you when your fathers angered Me, says the LORD of hosts, and I did not relent, ¹⁵so I have resolved to do good in these days to Jerusalem and to the house of Judah. Do not fear. ¹⁶These are the things which you shall do: Let every

n) The desert at the south of the land, still so named.

o) The foothills southwest of Jerusalem, now part of the Gaza section.

p) God wants a godly and fraternal life, more than rituals and offerings; as Jesus put it, to love God above all and your neighbor as yourself.

q) See Isaiah 6:9, 10. r) How great a proportion of punishment is by way of retribution!

s) Or, who have not known them. t) Hebrew, "from a multitude of days."

u) It means the perfection of freedom.

v) An everlasting principle — we bring suffering upon others when we do wrong, and we are a blessing to others when we live in harmony with God.

one speak truth to his neighbor, and judge with truth and justice, leading to peace in your gates. ¹⁷Do not think evil in your heart against one another, and do not love a lying oath; for all this I hate, affirms the LORD.

¹⁸Then the word of the LORD of hosts was directed to me: ¹⁹Thus says the LORD of hosts: The fasting of the fourth, the fifth, the seventh, and the tenth month will become to the house of Judah joy and gladness and enjoyable festivals; therefore love truth and peace.

²⁰Thus says the LORD of hosts: People shall yet come, and the inhabitants of many cities ²¹and the inhabitants of one (city) shall go to another, saying, "Let us go to seek the favor of the LORD continually, and to seek the LORD of hosts; I too will go."^w ²²Yes, many people and strong nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem and to seek the LORD's favor.

²³Thus says the LORD of hosts: In those days ten men from nations of varied languages shall take hold of a Jew's coat, hold on to it, and say, "Let us go with you, for we have heard that God is with you."^x

9 THE BURDEN OF THE WORD OF THE LORD: He is in the land of Hadrach,^y and Damascus is His resting-place; because the LORD's eye is upon all mankind, as on all the tribes of Israel; ²yes, and on Hamath, bordering upon it and on Tyre and Sidon, shrewd as they are; ³although Tyre has built herself a fortress and amassed silver like dust, and gold like mud of the streets. ⁴Behold, the LORD will possess it and will knock its front wall into the sea, and she shall be consumed by fire. ⁵Ashkelon shall see it and be afraid; Gaza shall shake exceedingly, and Ekron because her hope shall be put to shame. The king shall perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon shall be uninhabited. ⁶Mongrels shall live in Ashdod, and I will end the pride of Philistia. ⁷I will take its blood from its mouth and its abominations from between its teeth, and he himself shall be left for our God. He shall be like a clan head^z in Judah, and Ekron like a Jebusite. ⁸And I will encamp around My house as a guard from those who pass through and return, and the oppressor shall no more pass through against them, for now My eyes are upon (them).

⁹Rejoice greatly, daughter of Zion! Shout, daughter of Jerusalem! Behold, your King shall come to you, righteous and victorious, humble and riding on a donkey, on a colt, the foal of a donkey.^a ¹⁰I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim and the horse from Jerusalem; the bow of war, too, shall be cut off. He shall speak peace to the nations, and His dominion shall be from sea to sea and from the River^b to the ends of the earth.

¹¹As for you, in view of the blood of your covenant,^c I have sent forth your prisoners from the pit in which is no water. ¹²Return to the stronghold, you prisoners of hope;^d even today I am proclaiming to you: I will restore to you double. ¹³For I have bent^e Judah for Myself; I have filled the bow with Ephraim,^f and I will incite your son, O Zion, against your son, O Greece, and I will make you as the sword of a mighty man. ¹⁴Then the LORD shall appear above them, and His arrow shall go out as lightning; the LORD God shall give a blast on the ram's horn, and He shall move in the tempests of the south. ¹⁵The LORD of hosts shall defend them, and they will consume and trample upon the sling-stones, and they shall drink and be turbulent as from wine; they shall be

w) When we have submitted our lives to God, then we can and should invite others to share His favor with us.

x) A world turning to God, when the Jews have found and confessed Him again, a process reversed in the new Dispensation, where Paul [Romans 11:25, 26] sees all Israel saved, when the fullness of the Gentiles has come in. y) A region in Syria not far from Damascus.

z) So completely turned to God.

a) Fulfillment seen in our Lord's triumphant entry [Matt. 21:1-9; Mark 11:1-10; Luke 19:29-38; John 12:12-15]. b) Usually the Euphrates; the complete phrase means "the whole earth."

c) Historically this looks back to Ex. 24:8, and prophetically it looks forward to the blood of the new Covenant. d) The prisoner of sin and Satan need never hope in vain.

e) As a bow is bent. f) Ephraim to serve God effectively as an arrow shot from a bow.

filled like a bowl, like the corners of an altar.⁸ ¹⁶The LORD their God shall save them in that day like the flock of His people; yes, they are the stones of a crown brilliant in His land. ¹⁷For how good it is and how fair! Grain will make the young men flourish and new wine the young women.

10 ASK FROM THE LORD RAIN IN the time of the latter rain.^a The LORD is the maker of the thunderbolts,¹ and He will give you rain in abundance with vegetation in every field. ²For the teraphim¹ speak nothingness; the diviners dream a lie; dreams of vanity they speak, and they comfort with hot air; therefore they^k have wandered like sheep; they are afflicted, because there is no shepherd.

³Against the shepherds has My anger burned and against the he-goats¹ I will visit (punishment);¹⁰ because the LORD of hosts has visited His flock, the house of Judah, and He has appointed them as a magnificent horse in the battle. ⁴From themⁿ comes a corner-stone; from them a tent peg; from them a bow of war; from them shall go forth every oppressor together, ⁵and they shall be as mighty men trampling (their foes) in mire of the streets in battle, and they shall fight because the LORD is with them; the riders of horses shall be put to shame.^o ⁶So I will make mighty the house of Judah; I will save the house of Joseph. I will re-establish them because I love them, and they shall be as though I had not cast them off; for I am the LORD their God, and I will answer them. ⁷They shall be like a hero of Ephraim, and their hearts shall rejoice as from wine; their sons shall see and be glad, their hearts shall rejoice in the LORD.

⁸I will whistle for them and gather them; for I have ransomed them. They shall be many even as they were many. ⁹Although I sow^p them among the nations and among those afar off, they shall remember Me; they shall live with their sons and then return. ¹⁰I will bring them back from the land of Egypt; from Assyria I will gather them; to the land of Gilead and to Lebanon I will bring them, and there will not be room for them. ¹¹They shall pass through the sea of trouble; He shall strike the sea waves; all the deeps of the Nile shall dry up; the pride of Assyria shall be brought low, and the scepter of Egypt shall depart. ¹²Then I will make them strong in the LORD, and in His name they shall walk back and forth — it is affirmed by the LORD.

11 OPEN YOUR DOORS, O LEBANON, that fire may consume your cedars! ²Wail, O cypress, because the cedar has fallen; the glory of the trees is ruined! Wail, oaks of Bashan, because the impenetrable forests have come down! ³Hear the cries of the shepherds because their glory is devastated; hear the roaring of young lions because the pride of the Jordan^q is laid waste.

⁴Thus says the LORD my God: Shepherd the flock destined for slaughter, ⁵whose owners will slay them and say they are not guilty; while those who sell them say, "Blessed be the LORD, I have become rich. Their shepherds do not spare them!"^r ⁶For I shall no longer spare the dwellers of the earth — it is affirmed by the LORD.^s See! I cause each man to fall into the hand of his neighbor and into the hand of his king; they shall turn the earth into desert; I shall not deliver it from their hand. ⁷So I shepherded the flock destined for slaughter, even the poor of the flock. I took two sticks; one I called 'Graciousness,' the other I called

g) Covered with the blood of animal sacrifices.

h) The late rains in the springs before the dry season begins.

i) Usually much rain results from heavy thunder storms. j) Household idols.

k) The people themselves, deceived by false leaders. l) The leaders, as pointed by Ezekiel 34:20ff.

m) Those who assume leadership become responsible for those they lead.

n) From the house of Judah.

o) For centuries the army's cavalry was its dreaded division, so likely to trample upon the infantry. It symbolized the army's might. p) Scattering them as a sower scatters the seed.

q) The canyon through which the Jordan passes, thick with growth.

r) Greed, cruelty, and hypocrisy in one brief sentence.

s) A world that fails to find and do the will of its Supreme Ruler is bound for destruction.

'Cords of Unity,' and I shepherded the flock ⁸and wiped out three shepherds in one month.¹ My soul was impatient with them, and also their soul felt loathing against me. ⁹So I said: I will no longer shepherd you. You shall die the death, and you shall be wiped out — completely obliterated;² those who remain shall eat each other's flesh. ¹⁰Then I took the stick, Graciousness, and I hacked it apart to break the covenant which I had made with all the people. ¹¹It was broken in that day.³ And they knew, the wretched among the sheep, who were watching me, that it was the word of the LORD. ¹²I said to them, "If it is good in your eyes, give me my wages; if not, let it go." So they weighed my wages, thirty (dollars) of silver. ¹³Then the LORD said to me: Throw it to the potter — the magnificent value at which I was valued by them! So I took the thirty (dollars) of silver, and I threw it in the house of the LORD to the potter.⁴ ¹⁴Then I hacked apart the second stick, Cords of Unity, to break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

¹⁵The LORD said to me: Take again the equipment of a foolish shepherd, ¹⁶for I am raising up a shepherd in the land who will not visit the perishing, or seek the scattered, or heal the wounded; even the healthy⁵ he will not sustain; but the flesh of the fat ones he will eat — even their hoofs he will tear off. ¹⁷Woe to My worthless shepherd, who forsakes the flock! A sword be upon his arm and his right eye. May his arm be totally withered and his right eye completely dimmed.⁶

12 THE ORACLE OF THE LORD'S word regarding Israel. It is affirmed by the LORD, who stretches out the heavens and laid the foundations of the earth, who fashions the spirit of man within him: ²Behold, I shall make Jerusalem like a cup that causes reeling for all the nations around it, and also against Judah will it go in the siege against Jerusalem. ³In that day I will make Jerusalem a burdensome boulder⁷ for all people; all those who lift it shall be severely injured. All the nations of the earth shall be gathered against her. ⁴In that day — it is affirmed by the LORD — I will smite every horse with bewilderment and its rider with madness; on behalf of the house of Judah I will open My eyes; but every horse of the nations I will strike with blindness. ⁵The chiefs of Judah will say in their hearts, "The inhabitants are my strength in the LORD of hosts their God." ⁶In that day I will make the chiefs of Judah like a fire pot with wood and like a torch of fire in a row of fallen grain; they shall devour on the right and on the left all the peoples around them, and Jerusalem shall dwell again on its own site, at Jerusalem. ⁷The LORD will save the tents of Judah first, in order that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem be not exalted over Judah.⁸

⁸In that day the LORD shall defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; the one who is feeble among them in that day shall be like David and the house of David like God,⁹ like the angel of the LORD before them. ⁹In that day I shall seek to exterminate all the nations that come up against Jerusalem. ¹⁰Then I shall pour out upon the house of David and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem a spirit of grace and supplication, and they shall look upon Him whom they have pierced;¹⁰ they shall wail for Him as one wails for an only son, and they shall be in bitterness for Him like the bitterness for the first-born. ¹¹In that day the mourning in Jerusalem shall be

t) Leaders either spiritual or political or both, in a brief period.

u) This might also be translated, 'the dying shall die and the one to be obliterated shall be wiped out.' v) The people have broken their covenant with God.

w) Literally fulfilled when Judas betrayed our Saviour [Matt. 26:20-25; 27:3-9; Mark 14:10, 11, 43-45; John 13:2, 21-30]. x) Heb., the uprising.

y) This is definitely a curse direct from God.

z) More than half buried in the field that is to be plowed, but so heavy that efforts to raise it result in hurt. a) Not from Jerusalem but from Bethlehem of Judea was the Messiah to come.

b) The strength of heroes imparted to the weak and superhuman might to royalty.

c) Fulfilled at Golgotha, John 19:34; but see also Rev. 1:7.

like the mourning of Hadad-rimmon in the valley of Megiddo.^d ¹²The land shall mourn, each family by itself; the family of the house of David by itself and their wives by themselves; the family of the house of Nathan by itself and their wives by themselves; ¹³the family of the house of Levi by itself and their wives by themselves; the family of Shimeites by itself and their wives by themselves; ¹⁴all of the families that remain, each family by itself and their wives by themselves.^e

13 IN THAT DAY A FOUNTAIN SHALL be opened to the house of David and to the dwellers of Jerusalem for cleansing from sin and uncleanness.^f ²Also in that day — it is affirmed by the LORD of hosts — I will cause the names of the idols to be effaced from the earth, so they shall no longer be remembered; also the prophets^g and the spirit of uncleanness I will cause to pass away from the earth. ³If one of them prophesies again, his father — even his mother who bore him — will say to him, “You shall not live, because you have spoken a lie in the name of the LORD.” His father and the mother that bore him will thrust him through when he prophesies. ⁴In that day every prophet will be ashamed of his vision when he prophesies, and he will not put on a mantle of hair^h in order to deceive. ⁵Each one will say, “I am not a prophet; I am a man who cultivates the ground, for the soil has held me down from my youth.” ⁶And if anyone says to him, “What are these woundsⁱ between your hands?”^j he will say, “Those I got being beaten in the house of my friends.”

⁷O sword, arise against My shepherd and against the man who is My associate! — it is affirmed by the LORD of hosts. Smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered;^k but I will cause My hand to return upon the little ones. ⁸So shall it be in all the land, it has been affirmed by the LORD, two parts in it^l shall be cut off, shall perish, and the third shall be left in it. ⁹But I will bring the third in with fire; I will refine them as the refining of silver, and I will test them as the testing of gold. They shall call on My name, and I will answer them. I have said: This is My people, and they shall say, “The LORD is my God.”^m

14 BEHOLD, A DAY IS COMING which is the LORD's, when plunder shall be taken from your midst; ²for I will gather all the nations to Jerusalem to wage war. The city shall be captured, the houses plundered, the women ravished; half of the city shall go into captivity; but the rest of the people will not be cut off from the city. ³Then the LORD will go forth and wage war against those nations as He fights in a day of war. ⁴His feet shall stand in that day upon the Mount of Olives, which is on the east side of Jerusalem, and the Mount of Olives shall be split in the middle eastward and westward by a very great valley; half the mountain shall move northward and half southward. ⁵You shall flee [from] the valley of My mountain, for the valley of My mountain shall touch Azal;ⁿ you shall flee as you fled before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah, king of Judah.^o Then the LORD my God shall come and all the holy ones with Him.^p

⁶In that day there shall be no light; but cold and freezing.^q ⁷It will be a unique day known to the LORD, neither day nor night, but at evening time

d) Alluding to the defeat of Josiah by Pharaoh Necho [II Kings 23:29-30; II Chron. 35:22-25]. Hadad-rimmon, now Rummaneh, is near Megiddo.

e) With no human comfort available there is none to turn to but God.

f) Joy after genuine sorrow. g) The false prophet whose teachings encouraged immorality.

h) Cf. II Kings 1:8, for Elijah's hairy mantle, imitated by false prophets.

i) Incisions which false prophets made on themselves [I Kings 18:28].

j) Hebrew, “between your hands,” means “in the chest” or “in the back,” the same as “between your arms.” k) Quoted by Jesus [Matt. 26:31], applying it to Himself.

l) Two-thirds of the inhabitants. m) Our benevolent Father wants response to His love for us.

n) Not certainly identified; apparently a hamlet east of Jerusalem and near it.

o) Reigned 790-739 B.C. [cf. Amos 1:1].

p) The ancient versions read ‘Him’ which accords with other Scriptures [e.g., Matt. 16:27; Mark 8:38, etc.].

q) The Hebrew here has been variously translated; to us this seems truest to the original

there will be light. ⁸In that day living waters^r shall flow out from Jerusalem, half of them to the former sea and half of them to the latter^s sea; so shall it be both in summer and in winter.^t

⁹The LORD will become King over all the earth in that day; the LORD shall be One and His name One.^u ¹⁰All the land shall become like the plain^v from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem, and it^w shall rise and stay in its place from the gate of Benjamin to the place of the first gate; then to the gate of the corner and from the Tower of Hananeel to the king's wine press. ¹¹They shall dwell in it, and it shall not be put under a curse any more; Jerusalem shall dwell in security.

¹²This will be the plague with which the LORD shall smite all the people who have waged war against Jerusalem: their flesh shall waste away while they are standing on their feet; their eyes shall fester in their sockets, and their tongues shall decay in their mouths.^x ¹³In that day there shall be great confusion from the LORD among them; each one will grasp the hand of his neighbor; yet his hand will go up against the hand of his neighbor. ¹⁴Judah also will wage war in Jerusalem, and the wealth of all the nations around will be gathered: gold, silver, and clothing in great quantity. ¹⁵At the same time a plague like the preceding plague will strike the horse, the mule, the camel, the donkey, and all the cattle which are in those camps.

¹⁶So it shall be that all who are left from all the nations, which came up against Jerusalem, shall go up as often as once a year to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, and to celebrate the feast of booths.^y ¹⁷But if any one of the families of the earth does not go up to Jerusalem to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, there shall not be any rain upon them. ¹⁸If a family of Egypt does not go up [to Jerusalem] and enter, there shall be no [rain] upon them, but there shall be the plague with which the LORD shall smite the nations that do not go up to celebrate the feast of booths. ¹⁹This shall be the sin of Egypt and the sin of all the nations which do not go up to celebrate the feast of booths. ²⁰In that day there shall be [inscribed] on the bells of the horses, "HOLY TO THE LORD." Even the pots in the house of the LORD, as well as the bowls before the altar, ²¹every pot in Jerusalem and Judah shall be holy to the LORD of hosts;^z and all who come to sacrifice will take of these and boil in them — and there shall not be any more Canaanites^a in the house of the LORD of hosts in that day.

r) See Ezek. 47 for waters from the temple; also Rev. 22:1. Jesus shows it more personal [John 4:14], a water well within His disciples. s) Eastern and western seas.

t) In the dry season as well as in the wet season.

u) God shall be known and worshiped as the only God.

v) Like the Jordan plain of Arabah, so level. Geba marked the northern and Rimmon the southern boundary of Judah. w) Jerusalem.

x) So instead of on Jerusalem, the curse will rest on those who seek its destruction.

y) Those unwilling to observe it are ungrateful. They will be divinely visited with drought.

z) The common things in life are to be among those used for God, because the lives of all should be dedicated to Him.

a) Merchants, dealers, such as had gotten back into His courts, when Jesus came there to worship.

THE BOOK OF MALACHI

1 THE BURDEN OF THE WORD OF THE LORD to Israel by Malachi.^a

²I have loved you, says the LORD, but you say, "How^b hast Thou loved us?" Is not Esau Jacob's brother, says the LORD? Yet I have loved Jacob, ³but I have hated Esau; I have laid waste his mountains and have left his heritage to jackals of the wilderness. ⁴If Edom says, "We are shattered, but we will rebuild the waste places," thus says the LORD of hosts: They may build, but I will throw down. Men shall call them the border of wickedness, and the people against whom the LORD has indignation for ever. ⁵Your eyes shall see this, and you shall say, "The LORD be magnified beyond the borders of Israel."^c

⁶A son honors his father, and a servant his master; if then I am a father, where is My honor? And if I am a master, where is My reverence? says the LORD of hosts to you,^d O priests, who despised My name. And you say, "How have we despised Thy name?" ⁷You are bringing polluted food to My altar. And you say, "How have we polluted Thee?" In that you say, "The table of the LORD is contemptible."^e

⁸When you offer blind animals for sacrifice, is not that wrong? And when you offer the lame and the sick, is not that bad? Present it to your governor (and see) if he will be pleased with you or show you favor? says the LORD of hosts. ⁹Now then, entreat God's favor, that He may be gracious to us. With such a gift from your hand, will He show favor to any of you? says the LORD of hosts.

¹⁰Oh, that there were one among you who would shut the doors, that you might not kindle fire upon My altar in vain!^f I have no pleasure in you, says the LORD of hosts, and I will not accept an offering from your hand. ¹¹For from the rising of the sun to its setting, My name shall be great among the nations, and in every place incense shall be offered to My name, and a pure offering; for My name shall be great among the nations, says the LORD of hosts. ¹²But you profane it in that you say, "The LORD's table is polluted, and its produce, that is its food, is contemptible." ¹³You say, "See, what a weariness it is," and you have sniffed at it, says the LORD of hosts. You have brought what has been taken by vio-

a) "Malachi" means, My messenger, probably a proper name; possibly a noun descriptive of the prophet. He brings from God a series of charges: ch. 1:6 to 2:9, that the people dishonor God and that the priests have broken God's covenant with Levi; ch. 2:10-16, that the peoples are unfair to each other and to God by marrying Gentiles; ch. 2:17-4:6, that priests and offerings need purifying; criminals and sinners must be dealt with seriously, and tithing should be fully restored.

b) One of the key words of the book [cf. 1:2, 6, 7; 2:17; 3:7, 8, 13] which expresses the nation's incredulous astonishment at the charges God makes against them.

c) The message of rebuke is preceded by a revelation of God's loving choice of Israel. Everything that follows is set in this light.

d) God was both their Father and their Master; but they were impolite to Him.

e) If not in words, certainly in behavior, they said so.

f) Hypocritical offerings are worse than none; they should be abandoned.

lence and the lame and the sick; thus you bring the offering! Shall I accept it from your hand? says the LORD. ¹⁴But cursed be the deceiver who has a male in his flock and vows it, then sacrifices something blemished to the LORD; for I am a great King, says the LORD of hosts, and My name is held in awe among the Gentiles.⁵

2 AND NOW, O PRIESTS, THIS COMMANDMENT is for you. ²If you will not hear and if you will not lay it to heart to give glory to My name, says the LORD of hosts, then I will send the curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings; indeed I have cursed them already, because you do not lay it to heart. ³Look! I will denounce your offspring and will spread filth on your faces, the offal of your feasts, and you shall be taken away with it. ⁴Then shall you know that I have sent this order to you, that My covenant might be with Levi, says the LORD of hosts. ⁵My covenant with him was a covenant of life and peace, and I gave them to him,^h that he might stand in awe; and he stood in awe of Me and regarded My name with reverence. ⁶The law of truth was in his mouth and unrighteousness was not found in his lips. He walked with Me in peace and uprightness, and he turned many from iniquity. ⁷For the lips of a priest should keep knowledge, and men should seek the law from his mouth, because he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts.¹ ⁸But you have turned aside from the way; you have caused many to stumble in the law; you have corrupted the covenant of Levi, says the LORD of hosts. ⁹So I have made you despised and abased before all the people, just as you have not kept My ways, but you have shown partiality in (the execution of) the law.

¹⁰Have we not all one Father?¹ Has not one God created us? Why are we faithless to one another, profaning the covenant of our fathers? ¹¹Judah has been faithless, and an abomination has been committed in Israel and in Jerusalem; for Judah has profaned the LORD's sanctuary, which He loves, and has married the daughter of a strange god. ¹²May the LORD cut off, to the man who does this, any to call or answer out of the tents of Jacob, or to offer an offering to the LORD of hosts.

¹³And this, too, you do: You cover the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping and with sighing, because He no longer regards the offering, or accepts it with favor from your hand. ¹⁴Yet you say, "Why?" Because the LORD has been witness between you and the wife of your youth, to whom you have been faithless, although she is your companion and your wife by covenant. ¹⁵Anyone with any intelligence does not act that way; for what did that one do, who was seeking offspring from God?^k So watch out for your feelings lest you be unfaithful to the wife of your youth. ¹⁶For I hate divorce, says the LORD the God of Israel, and the one who covers his clothing with cruelty,¹ says the LORD of hosts. So take heed to your spirit, and be not unfaithful.

¹⁷You have wearied the LORD with your words. Yet you say, "How have we wearied Him?" In that you say, "Everyone who does evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and He delights in them"; or, "Where is the God of justice?"^m

g) Pagans held God in awe when His people failed to serve and worship Him. Because of Israel's hypocritical formalism, God's love cannot gain sway over those to whom the divinely instituted ritual has become a hollow form. Paul put it, "Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof" (II Tim. 3:5). This chapter anticipates the Pharisaism and Sadduceism our LORD rebuked. h) Life and peace.

i) The first part of the prophecy closes on the note of judgment. Because Israel had despised [1:6] His name, God has made them despised [2:9], not only before Him, but also before the people. Apostasy, manifesting itself in hypocritical formalism, leads to the world's ridicule.

j) This could mean Abraham or Jacob, but it is certainly true of God. k) By His covenant with Abraham, the LORD accepted Abraham's offspring as His children, and so they consciously remained through life, presuming they worshiped and served God. Malachi warns Jews who were tempted to get rid of the wives they had married young, so as to marry young girls likely pagans.

l) Divorce was cruel to the wife, who had cared for her husband, even keeping him clothed. m) The second section of the book ends here, the prophet having now finished his denunciation of Israel's implety in mixed marriages. New Testament parallels are II Cor. 6:14-18; Matt. 19:3-12. The remainder of Malachi is a reply to the question, "Where is the God of justice?"

3 BEHOLD, I SEND MY MESSENGER, and he shall prepare the way before Me, and the LORD whom you seek, will suddenly come to His temple, and the Messenger of the Covenant, in whom you delight, look, He is coming, says the LORD of hosts. ²But who can endure the day of His coming, and who will be able to stand when He appears? For He is like a refiner's fire and like fullers' soap. ³He will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver; He will purify the sons of Levi and refine them like gold and silver, so they will present offerings in righteousness to the LORD. ⁴Then the offering of Judah and of Jerusalem shall be pleasing to the LORD as in the days of old and as in former years. ⁵I will draw near to you for judgment; I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, against the adulterers, against the false swearers and against those who oppress the wage earner in his wages, the widow and the orphan, and those who turn aside the foreigner, and do not revere Me, says the LORD of hosts.

⁶For I the LORD do not change; therefore you, O sons of Jacob, are not consumed.ⁿ ⁷From the days of your fathers you have turned aside from My statutes and have not kept them. Return to Me, and I will return to you, says the LORD of hosts. But you say, "How shall we return?"

⁸Will a man rob God? Yet you are robbing Me. But you say, "How have we robbed Thee?" In tithes and offerings.^o ⁹You are cursed with a curse, for you are robbing Me, the whole nation of you. ¹⁰Bring the whole tithe^p into the storehouse, so there may be food in My house, and by this put Me to the test, says the LORD of hosts, if I will not open the windows of heaven for you and pour out for you a more than sufficient blessing. ¹¹And I will rebuke the devouring locust for you, and it shall not destroy the fruit of your ground; your vine in the field shall not fail to ripen, says the LORD of hosts, ¹²and all nations shall call you blessed, for you shall be a delightful land, says the LORD of hosts.

¹³Your words have been obstinate against Me, says the LORD. Yet you say, "How have we spoken against Thee?" ¹⁴You have said, "It is vain to serve God"; and, "What profit is it that we have kept His charge, and that we have walked mournfully before the LORD of hosts?" ¹⁵And now we call the arrogant happy; yes, evildoers prosper; yes, they put God to the test and escape."

¹⁶Then those who revered the LORD conversed with one another; and the LORD listened and heard, and a memorandum book was written before Him, for those who revered the LORD and thought on His name. ¹⁷And they shall be Mine, says the LORD of hosts in the day on which I prepare My special possession; and I will spare them as a man spares his son who serves him. ¹⁸Then you shall once more distinguish between the righteous and the wicked, between one who serves God and one who does not serve Him.^q

4 FOR BEHOLD, THE DAY IS COMING, burning like a furnace; then all the arrogant and all evildoers shall be stubble, and the day that is coming shall burn them up, says the LORD of hosts, so that it will not leave them root or branch. ²But for you, who revere My name, the sun of righteousness^r will arise with healing in its beams, and you will go forth and leap like calves from the stall. ³You will trample down the wicked, for they shall

n) The question of ch. 2:17, "Where is the God of justice?" is answered in this section in the revelation of the coming of the Messenger of the Covenant in judgment. This messenger is the Lord Jesus Christ, who is not only a Savior but also a Judge. Only those who revere God [vs. 5] may expect to welcome His coming.

o) The heaven offering, an annual contribution to the priest [cf. Num. 18:11-20].

p) From Israel's earliest days, national tithing had been a distinct element in their worship, to sustain the true relationship between God and them, and to support the spiritual ministries they needed to remain intelligently loyal.

q) Worshipers need fellowship of purpose and program, encouragement and reminders.

r) There is no fulfillment of this prophecy in any person or event as complete and satisfying as in the coming of Jesus Christ, who is for us "the righteousness of God."

be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day which I shall prepare, says the LORD of hosts.

⁴Remember the law of Moses, My servant, which I commanded him at Horeb for all Israel, its statutes and ordinances.

⁵Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and terrible day of the LORD. ⁶He will turn the hearts of the fathers to their children and the hearts of the children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse.^s

s) Fittingly the Old Testament ends with the mention of a "curse," suggesting the need of man for the coming Messiah. Verse five is repeated after verse six when read in the synagogues, since it is contrary to Jewish custom to conclude a book of Scripture on the note of doom. Our New Testament ends with, "The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ."

The NEW TESTAMENT

The New Berkeley Version
In Modern English

THE BOOKS OF THE NEW TESTAMENT

Their Names and Order, and the Pages at Which They May Be Found

	Page		Page
Matthew	1	I Timothy	229
Mark	36	II Timothy	234
Luke	58	Titus	238
John	95	Philemon	240
The Acts	124	Hebrews	242
Romans	163	James	253
I Corinthians	179	I Peter	257
II Corinthians	194	II Peter	262
Galatians	204	I John	265
Ephesians	210	II John	270
Philippians	215	III John	271
Colossians	219	Jude	272
I Thessalonians	223	Revelation	274
II Thessalonians	227

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO

MATTHEW

c. 5 B.C.

1 A BOOK OF THE GENEALOGY OF Jesus Christ, son of David, son of Abraham: ²Abraham was the father^a of Isaac, Isaac of Jacob, Jacob of Judah and his brothers, ³Judah of Perez and Zerah by Tamar, Perez of Hezron, Hezron of Ram, ⁴Ram of Aminadab, Aminadab of Nahshon, and Nahshon of Salmon.

⁵Salmon was the father of Boaz by Rahab, Boaz the father of Obed by Ruth, Obed of Jesse ⁶and Jesse of David the king.

David was the father of Solomon by Uriah's wife, ⁷Solomon of Rehoboam, Rehoboam of Abijah, Abijah of Asa, ⁸Asa of Jehoshaphat, Jehoshaphat of Joram, Joram of Uzziah, ⁹Uzziah of Jotham, Jotham of Ahaz, Ahaz of Hezekiah, ¹⁰Hezekiah of Manasseh, Manasseh of Amon, Amon of Josiah, ¹¹Josiah of Jeconiah and his brothers about the time of the Babylonian exile.

¹²After the Babylonian exile: Jeconiah was the father of Shealtiel, Shealtiel of Zerubbabel, ¹³Zerubbabel of

Abiud, Abiud of Eliakim, Eliakim of Azor, ¹⁴Azor of Sadok, Sadok of Achim, Achim of Eliud, ¹⁵Eliud of Eleazar, Eleazar of Matthan, Matthan of Jacob, ¹⁶and Jacob of Joseph,^b the husband of Mary,^c of whom Jesus was born, who was surnamed Christ.^d

¹⁷There are then altogether fourteen^e generations from Abraham to David; also fourteen generations from David to the Babylonian exile, and fourteen generations from the Babylonian exile until the Christ.

¹⁸The birth of Jesus Christ came about this way: When His mother Mary was engaged to Joseph, before they came together she was found to be with child from the Holy Spirit. ¹⁹But as Joseph, her fiancé, was fair-minded and did not want to disgrace her publicly, he planned to break with her secretly.^f ²⁰But while he was considering this, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream and said, "Joseph, son of David, be not afraid to take Mary as your wife, for what is conceived in her is from the Holy

a) The Greek word rendered "was the father of" in vss. 1-16 has various meanings including produce, originate and create. The King James Version translates it "begat," which by implication denotes was the father of.

b) This genealogy, vss. 1-17, was that of Joseph, to whose care as a father Jesus was entrusted; that in Lk. 3:23-38 is of Mary, the mother of Jesus.

c) Four women named Mary are mentioned in the Gospels: (1) The mother of Jesus, Mat. 1:16, 18, 20; 2:11; 13:55; Mk. 6:3; Lk. 1:27; 2:5. She is also specifically referred to without the use of her name in more than twenty other passages, e.g. Mk. 3:31; Lk. 1:43; Jn. 2:1; 6:42; 19:25, where she is called "the mother of Jesus," "His mother," etc. (2) The wife of Clopas and mother of James and Joses, Mat. 27:56; Mk. 15:40, 47; Lk. 24:10; Jn. 19:25. (3) Mary of Bethany, the sister of Martha and Lazarus, Lk. 10:39; Jn. 11:1; 12:3. (4) Mary Magdalene, Mat. 27:56; 28:1; Mk. 15:40; 16:1; Lk. 8:2; 24:10; Jn. 19:25; 20:1.

d) Christos, meaning Anointed, is used in the Old Testament not in noun but adjective form when referring to priests and kings, but when referring to the prophesied Messiah it is used as a noun. In the New Testament it is applied to Jesus as Messiah.

e) To confine the list of Jesus' ancestors in each of the three periods to twice seven, and in the second period to stress the royalty of Christ's human ancestors, a number of them are purposely omitted. Frequently one is called a father who precedes his so-called son by several generations. Among the kings Ahaziah, Joash and Amaziah are omitted.

f) Mosaic law prescribed public accusation and death.

Spirit. ²¹She will give birth to a son and you are to call Him Jesus, for He will save His people from their sins."

²²All this took place in fulfillment of what the Lord had said through the prophet,^g ²³"Behold! The virgin will be with child and shall bear a son, and will name Him Immanuel," which means, God with us.

²⁴When Joseph awoke from his sleep he carried out what the angel commanded of the Lord. He took to him his wife ²⁵but had no marital relations with her until she had given birth to a son, whom he called Jesus.

c. 4 B.C.

2 AFTER JESUS HAD BEEN BORN AT Bethlehem^h in Judea during the reign of King Herod,ⁱ there arrived wise men^j at Jerusalem from the east, ²inquiring, "Where is the newborn king of the Jews? For we saw His star in the east and we have come to worship Him."

³On hearing this, King Herod felt disturbed, and with him all Jerusalem, ⁴so he called together all the chief priests and scribes^k of the people and inquired of them where the Christ should be born. ⁵They told him, "In Bethlehem of Judea; for so it is written by the prophet,^l ⁶'And you, Bethlehem in the land of Judah, are by no means insignificant among Judah's rulers, for out of you a leader shall arise who will govern My people Israel.'"

⁷Herod then summoned the wise men for a private interview and ascertained from them just when the star appeared. ⁸As he sent them to Bethlehem he said, "Go and search carefully for the young Child, and when you have found Him, report to me so that I too may go and worship Him."

⁹After listening to the king they traveled on and, lo, the star they had seen in the east preceded them until it came and rested above the place where the young Child was. ¹⁰And on observing the star their joy was boundless.

¹¹Entering the house, they saw the little Child with His mother, Mary,^m and prostrating themselves they worshiped Him. And opening their treasure chests they offered Him presents: gold, frankincense and myrrh. ¹²Then, because of divine warning in a dream not to return to Herod, they went back to their own country by a different route.

¹³After they had left an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream and said, "Rise! Take the Child and His mother and escape to Egypt. Stay there until I tell you, for Herod is about to search for the Child in order to murder Him." ¹⁴So he got up at night, took the Child and His mother and departed into Egypt ¹⁵where he remained until Herod's death, so that the Lord's word through the prophet became fulfilled,ⁿ "Out of Egypt I called My Son."

¹⁶When Herod perceived that he had been outwitted by the wise men he was furious and sent a detachment to murder all the male children in Bethlehem and its environs, those of two years and under, according to the time he had ascertained from the wise men. ¹⁷Then the saying of Jeremiah the prophet was fulfilled,^o ¹⁸"A voice was heard in Ramah, weeping and great mourning; Rachel bewailing her children and refusing consolation because they are gone."

¹⁹But upon Herod's death an angel of the Lord appeared in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, ²⁰saying, "Rise! Take the Child and His mother and go into the land of Israel, for those who were

g) Isa. 7:14. Observe how frequently in Matthew's Gospel attention is called to the fact that events recorded are in fulfillment of O.T. prophecies, e.g. ch. 2:15,17; 3:3; 4:14.

h) Bethlehem is situated five or six miles south of Jerusalem.

i) Herod the Great, who ruled from 37-4 B.C., was the father or ancestor of other Herods.

j) Magi, from magus meaning great, a Persian title that was used for teachers and wise men, in this instance astrologers.

k) The scribes were guardians of the law and teachers of the O.T. Scriptures. Most of the Pharisees were scribes. See note at Mat. 3:3. l) Mic. 5:2.

m) Mary and the Child were in a house, not a stable. Joseph is not mentioned as being there on this occasion. When on the fortieth day Joseph and Mary took the Child to the temple they offered the smallest allowable living thing, Lk. 2:24; cf. Lev. 12:8. The Magi arrived after that bringing rich gifts. Herod died in 4 B.C. Jesus had been born at least two months earlier.

n) Hos. 11:1, referring first to Israel and the Exodus; here to Jesus. o) Jer. 31:15; cf. Gen. 35:19.

seeking the Child's life are dead." ²¹So he arose, took the Child and His mother and came into the land of Israel. ²²But when he heard that Archelaus^p had succeeded his father, Herod, as ruler of Judea he was afraid to go there. However, by divine warning in a dream he withdrew to the Galilean region ²³where he arrived and settled in a town called Nazareth,^q so that the prophetic utterance,^r "He shall be called a Nazarene," might find fulfillment.

c. A.D. 26

3 IN THOSE DAYS JOHN THE BAPTIST appeared, proclaiming in the Judean desert, ²"Repent, for the kingdom of heaven has come near!" ³He is the one spoken of by the Prophet Isaiah,^s "The voice of one calling out in the desert, Make ready the way of the Lord; straighten His paths."

⁴John himself had clothing made of camel's hair. He wore a leather belt around his waist and ate locusts and wild honey. ⁵Then Jerusalem, all Judea and the entire Jordan region went out to him ⁶and, on confession of their sins, were baptized by him in the Jordan River. ⁷But when he noticed many of the Pharisees^t and Sadducees^u coming for his baptism, he said to them, "You viper brood, who warned you to flee from the approaching judgment? ⁸Produce fruit in agreement with your repentance, ⁹and do not fancy you can say to yourselves, 'We have Abraham for our father.' For I assure you that from these stones God can raise up children to Abraham."

¹⁰"The ax is already laid at the root of the trees; so every tree that fails to yield good fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire. ¹¹Whereas I baptize you with water for repentance, the One who comes after me is so far superior to me that I am not fit to carry His sandals. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire. ¹²The winnowing fan is in His hand and He will thoroughly clean His threshing floor. His wheat He will store in the granary, but the chaff He will burn with fire that cannot be put out."

c. A.D. 27

¹³Then Jesus came from Galilee to John at the Jordan to be baptized by him, ¹⁴but John tried to hinder Him, saying, "I need to be baptized by You, and why are You coming to me?" ¹⁵Jesus replied to him, "Permit it to be so now, for so it is needful for us to fulfill all righteousness."^v Then he allowed Him to come.

¹⁶At once after His baptism Jesus came up from the water and, behold, the heavens were opened and He saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and lighting upon Him. ¹⁷And a voice from heaven said, "This is My Son, the Beloved in whom I delight."

4 THEN JESUS WAS LED BY THE SPIRIT it into the desert" to be tempted by the devil; ²and after fasting forty days and forty nights He was hungry. ³The tempter approached Him and said to Him, "If You are the Son of God, command these stones to turn into loaves of bread. ⁴But He replied, "It is written,^x 'Man shall not live on bread alone but on every command that proceeds from the mouth of God.'"

⁵The devil then conducted Him to the holy city and had Him stand on the loftiest point of the temple, ⁶saying

p) Archelaus reigned from 4 B.C. until A.D. 6, when he was deposed. In Hebrew fashion the fact that Joseph and Mary had previously lived in Nazareth is not mentioned.

q) Nazareth is located about halfway between the Mediterranean Sea to the west and the Sea of Galilee to the east. It is approximately sixty-five miles north of Jerusalem.

r) The name Nazareth comes from a Hebrew word, nezer, meaning shoot or branch. Christ is the Branch, Isa. 11:1; Jer. 23:5; Zech. 3:8; 6:12.

s) Isa. 40:3; Mal. 3:1.

t) The Pharisees (Pharisee means separatist) were members of a religious party that was composed mostly of scribes (see note at ch. 2:4). The Pharisees were ritualists who held strictly to the letter of the Law but often departed from its spirit. They opposed the Lord Jesus Christ throughout His earthly ministry. During the final months of the life of Jesus on the earth they joined with their enemies, the Sadducees (see note below) to destroy Him.

u) The Sadducees, a religious party, were rationalists. They did not believe in the resurrection of the dead nor in angelic beings. Mk. 12:18; Acts 23:8.

v) That is, uprightness according to the Law. Jesus accepted the baptism of repentance; for although He was sinless He received baptism as representing sinful humanity.

w) A deserted place, not necessarily a sandy waste. x) Deut. 8:3.

to Him, "If You are the Son of God, throw Yourself down; for it is written,^y 'He will charge His angels concerning You and they will carry You on their hands so You may at no time stub Your foot against a stone.'" ⁷Jesus replied to him, "Furthermore it is written,^z 'You shall not test the Lord your God.'"

⁸Next the devil took Him to a very high mountain and showed Him all the kingdoms of the world and their splendor, ⁹saying to Him, "All these I will give You if You will kneel and worship me." ¹⁰Then Jesus said to him, "Begone, Satan; for it is written,^a 'You shall worship the Lord your God and serve Him alone.'" ¹¹Then the devil left Him and lo, angels came and waited on Him.

c. A.D. 28

¹²When Jesus heard that John had been arrested He withdrew into Galilee. ¹³Leaving Nazareth^b He went and lived in Capernaum^c by the sea in the country of Zebulon and Naphtali, ¹⁴so that Isaiah's prophecy might be fulfilled,^d ¹⁵"Land of Zebulon and land of Naphtali, toward the sea beyond the Jordan, Galilee of the nations; ¹⁶the people who sat in darkness saw a great light and on those who dwell in the land of the shadow of death a light has dawned."

¹⁷From then on Jesus began to preach: "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven has drawn near." ¹⁸And as He was walking by the Sea of Galilee, Jesus noticed two brothers, Simon, called Peter, and his brother Andrew, casting a net into the sea, for they were fishermen. ¹⁹He said to them, "Come! Follow Me and I will make you fishers of men." ²⁰And at once they abandoned their nets and followed Him.

²¹Going a little further He saw two other brothers, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the boat with their father Zebedee, mending their nets, and He called them. ²²So, immediately they left the boat and their father and followed Him.^e ²³Jesus traversed all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, announcing the good news of the kingdom and healing all kinds of disease and illness among the people. ²⁴Report about Him spread to all Syria and they brought to Him all who suffered from various ailments and pains—demoniacs, epileptics and paralytics. And He healed them.

²⁵Great throngs followed Him out of Galilee, Decapolis, Jerusalem, Judea and beyond the Jordan.

5 SO, WHEN HE SAW THE CROWDS He went up on the hill; and when He was seated His disciples came to Him. ²Opening His lips, He taught them:^f ³"Blessed are they who know their spiritual poverty, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. ⁴Blessed are they who mourn, for they shall be comforted. ⁵Blessed are the gentle, for they shall inherit the earth. ⁶Blessed are those who are hungry and thirsty for righteousness, for they shall be satisfied. ⁷Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy. ⁸Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God. ⁹Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called God's sons. ¹⁰Blessed are those persecuted on account of righteousness, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. ¹¹Blessed are you when they slander and persecute you and falsely accuse you of every wrong because of Me. ¹²Be glad and supremely joyful because in heaven your reward is rich: for in the same way they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

¹³"You are the salt of the earth. But if the salt has lost its taste, with what

y) Ps. 91:11-12. z) Deut. 6:16. a) Deut. 6:13. b) Lk. 4:16-30. See notes at Mat. 2:23.

c) Capernaum was situated on the northwestern shore of the Sea of Galilee.

d) Isa. 9:1-2.

e) John, Andrew, Peter and Nathanael (also known as Bartholomew) had begun to follow Jesus nearly a year earlier, Jn. 1:35-51; now they became His full-time disciples.

f) Chapters 5-7 contain the Sermon on the Mount, the best known of all sermons. In it our Lord declares His own divine standard of righteousness and thereby reveals how impossible it is for a man to be saved by the works of the Law. Consequently all men need a Redeemer. Here in the Sermon on the Mount is the basic expression of Christian ethics, reflected in the N.T. epistles as the pattern for Christian living. "Blessed" in vss. 3-11 means happy. See note at Lk. 6:20.

shall it be salted? It is thereafter good for nothing but to be thrown out and walked on by the people.^g ¹⁴"You are the light of the world. A city built on a hill cannot be hidden.

¹⁵Neither do they light a lamp and place it under a grain measure, but on a stand; then it shines for everyone in the house. ¹⁶Similarly let your light shine among the people, so that they observe your good works and give glory to your heavenly Father.^h

¹⁷"Do not suppose that I came to annul the Law or the Prophets. I did not come to abolish but to complete them; ¹⁸for I assure you, while heaven and earth endure not one iotaⁱ or one projection of a letter will be dropped from the Law until all is accomplished.

¹⁹Whoever, therefore, abolishes the least significant of these commands and so teaches the people, he shall be of least significance in the kingdom of heaven; but whoever shall observe and teach them shall be prominent in the kingdom of heaven. ²⁰For I tell you that unless your righteousness surpasses that of the scribes and Pharisees, you shall not at all enter into the kingdom of heaven.

²¹"You have heard how men of ancient times were told,^j 'Do not murder,' and, 'Whoever murders is liable before the court.' ²²But I tell you that anyone who is angry with his brother [without cause]^k is liable before the court, and whoever speaks abusively^l his brother is liable before the Sanhedrin.^m And whoever says 'You fool!' is liable to the fires of hell.ⁿ ²³So, when you are offering your gift at the altar and remember that your brother holds something against you, ²⁴leave your gift there at the altar and go and become reconciled to your brother; then come and offer your gift.

²⁵"Come to terms with your opponent quickly while you are on the way to court with him, else the opponent may hand you over to the judge and the judge to the attendant, and you will be thrown into prison. ²⁶I assure you that you will not get out until you have paid the last penny.

²⁷"You have heard that it was said,^o 'Do not commit adultery.' ²⁸But I tell you that anyone who looks lustfully at a woman has in his heart already committed adultery with her. ²⁹If your right eye causes you to sin, pluck it out and throw it away from you. You had better lose one of your members than have your whole body cast into hell. ³⁰And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away from you. It is better to lose one of your members than have your whole body cast into hell.

³¹"It was also said,^p 'Whoever divorces his wife should give her a divorce certificate.' ³²But I tell you that anyone who divorces his wife, except for unfaithfulness, makes her commit adultery, and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

³³"You have further heard how the ancients were told,^q 'Do not swear falsely, but perform your oaths to the Lord.' ³⁴But I tell you: Do not swear at all; not by heaven, because it is God's throne; ³⁵nor by the earth, because it is His footstool; nor by Jerusalem, because it is the city of the great King. ³⁶Neither swear by your head, because you cannot make one hair white or black. ³⁷But let your word Yes be Yes and your No, No. Anything beyond this is from the evil one.

³⁸"You have heard that it was said,^r 'An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.' ³⁹But I say to you, Do not resist injuries, but whoever strikes you on the right cheek turn to him the other as well. ⁴⁰And if anyone wants

g) As salt is a preservative, so do Christians keep the world from being too wicked to exist.

h) The Christian characteristics suggested by Christ will, when practiced, distinguish disciples as lights amid darkness and will serve to illumine the darkness.

i) The iota is i in the Greek alphabet.

j) Ex. 20:13; 21:12,14. The Hebrew word rendered "kill" in the King James Version means to commit murder.

k) The words enclosed in brackets are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts. l) The Aramaic word shuka used here in the original text means empty, worthless.

m) See note at Lk. 22:66. n) See note at Mk. 9:43.

o) Ex. 20:14. Adultery always involves at least one married person; fornication may relate to the unmarried. p) Deut. 24:1. q) Num. 30:2; Deut. 23:23. r) Ex. 21:24.

to sue you for your tunic, let him have your robe as well.^a ⁴¹And whoever forces you to go one mile, go with him two miles. ⁴²Give to the one who begs from you and do not refuse the borrower.

⁴³"You have heard that it was said,^t 'Love your neighbor and hate your enemy.' ⁴⁴But I say to you, Love your enemy and pray for your persecutors, ⁴⁵so that you may be sons of your heavenly Father;^v for He makes His sun to rise on the evil and the good and He pours rain upon the just and the unjust. ⁴⁶For if you love those who love you, what is your merit? Do not the tax collectors as much? ⁴⁷And if you greet only your kin, how does your conduct excel? Do not even the pagans do the same? ⁴⁸You, then, are to be perfect^w as your heavenly Father is perfect.

6 ¹"BE CAREFUL NOT TO PERFORM your good works publicly to be noticed by the people; else you forfeit reward from your Father who is in heaven. ²Thus, when you give charity, do not blow a trumpet ahead of you as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets to gain glory from men. I assure you, they have reward. ³But when you practice charity, your left hand must not know what your right is doing, ⁴so that your charity will be in secret. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

⁵"And when you pray, do not be like the hypocrites; for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and at the street corners to be seen by the people. I assure you, they have been paid in full. ⁶But you, when you pray, enter your inner room and with your door closed pray to your Father who is there in the secret place, and your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

⁷"When you pray do not repeat and repeat as the pagans do; for they imagine that for their much talking they will secure a hearing. ⁸Do not be like them, for your Father knows your need before you ask Him. ⁹This, then, is the way you should pray:

"Our Father who art in heaven, Thy name be kept holy. ¹⁰Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as in heaven.

¹¹"Give us today our daily bread. ¹²And forgive us our debts^x as we have forgiven our debtors. ¹³And lead us not into temptation but deliver us from the evil one. [For Thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen.]*

¹⁴"For if you forgive others their trespasses, your heavenly Father will forgive you too; ¹⁵but if you do not forgive people, neither will your heavenly Father forgive your trespasses.

¹⁶"When you fast, do not be saddened like the hypocrites, for they disfigure their faces to show others their fasting. I assure you, they have received their full reward. ¹⁷But when you fast, anoint your head and wash your face, ¹⁸so that no one except your heavenly Father who is there in the secret place may notice your fasting. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you.

¹⁹Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy and where thieves dig through and steal. ²⁰But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where no moth or rust destroys and where thieves do not dig through and steal. ²¹For where your treasure is there will your heart be also.

²²"The eye is the lamp of the body. If, then, your eye is sound, your whole body is illumined; ²³but if your eye is defective your whole body is in the dark. If, then, the light within you grows dark — how dense a darkness!

²⁴"No one can serve two masters, for he will either hate the one and love the other or support the one and

s) A tunic reached to the knees; a robe was a long outside garment which reached almost to the ankles. t) Lev. 19:18; Deut. 23:3-6.

u) We show that we are God's sons by living His principles.

v) "Perfect" is from the Greek teleios meaning complete, mature.

w) Debts, or trespasses, in the sense of falling short of God's requirements.

x) The words enclosed in brackets are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts. They may have been added to the text here to make the prayer more appropriate for use in public worship. Certainly the last sentence is compatible with Scripture. Cf. 1 Chron. 29:11. In Luke's account of the Lord's Prayer, Lk. 11:2-4, this sentence is omitted.

treat the other with contempt. You cannot serve God and mammon.^y

²⁵"I tell you therefore, do not worry about your living — what you are to eat or drink, or about your body, what you are to wear. Is not the life more important than its nourishment and the body than its clothing? ²⁶Look at the birds of the air, how they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, but your heavenly Father feeds them. Are not you more valuable than they?

²⁷"Furthermore, who of you is able through worrying to add one moment to his life's course?^z ²⁸And why worry about clothes? Observe carefully how the field lilies grow. They neither toil nor spin, ²⁹but I tell you that even Solomon in all his splendor was never dressed like one of these. ³⁰But if God so clothes the grass of the field that exists today and is thrown into the furnace tomorrow, will He not more surely clothe you of little faith?

³¹"Do not, then, be anxious, saying, 'What shall we eat?' or 'What shall we drink?' or 'What are we to wear?'

³²For on all these things pagans center their interest while your heavenly Father knows that you need them all.

³³But you, seek first His kingdom and His righteousness and all these things will be added to you. ³⁴Do not worry therefore, in view of tomorrow for tomorrow will have its own anxieties. Each day's peculiar troubles are sufficient for it.^a

7 "DO NOT PASS JUDGMENT,^b THAT you may not be judged; ²for the way you judge you will be judged and with what yardstick you measure you will be measured. ³But why notice the splinter in your brother's eye without taking notice of the beam in your own eye? ⁴Or how can you say to your brother, 'Let me extract that splinter from your eye,' when there is a beam in your own eye? ⁵You hypocrite! First get rid of that beam in your eye; then you will see clearly to extract the splinter from your brother's eye.

⁶"Do not give what is sacred to the dogs, so that they may not turn around and attack you; neither throw your pearls before the hogs, so that they may not trample them under their feet.

⁷"Ask and it will be given you; seek and you will find; knock and it will be opened to you. ⁸For everyone who asks receives, and the seeker finds, and to him who knocks it is opened. ⁹Who of you men whose son asks for a loaf of bread will give him a stone; ¹⁰or if he asks for fish, will give him a snake? ¹¹If you then, evil as you are, know enough to give your children what is good, how much more surely will your heavenly Father give what is good to those who ask Him. ¹²Accordingly, whatever you would have people do for you, do the same for them; for this covers the Law and the Prophets.

¹³"Enter through the narrow gate; for wide is the gate and spacious the road that leads on to destruction, and many are those entering by it. ¹⁴Because narrow is the gate and contracted the road that leads on to life, and few are they who discover it.

¹⁵"Be wary of the false prophets who come to you in the guise of sheep while at heart they are voracious wolves. ¹⁶You will know them by the deeds they do. Do people gather grapes from thorns, or figs from thistles? ¹⁷So every healthy tree bears good fruit, but a rotten tree bears defective fruit. ¹⁸A good tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor can a bad tree bear good fruit. ¹⁹Every tree that fails to bear good fruit is felled and thrown into the fire. ²⁰Similarly you will know people by the deeds they do.

²¹"Not everyone who says to Me, 'Lord, Lord!' will enter into the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of My Father in heaven. ²²Many will say to Me on that Day, 'Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in Your name and in Your name cast out demons and in Your name do many won-

y) Mammon is an Aramaic term. It refers to riches which, when trusted, stand in opposition to God, who alone is to be trusted.

z) "One moment to his life's course" could as well be translated "one cubit to his stature."

a) There is no abrogation in this passage of the commandment, "Six days you will labor and do all your work," Ex. 20:9. b) God alone knows motives behind words and deeds.

derful works?' ²³Then I will frankly say to them, 'I never knew you. Get away from Me, you evil workers.'

²⁴"Everyone, then, who listens to these sayings of Mine and puts them into practice will be like a thoughtful man who built his house on the rock. ²⁵The rains came down, the floods rose, the winds blew and beat upon that house, but it never collapsed, for it was based on the rock. ²⁶And everyone who hears these sayings of Mine and fails to practice them will be like a foolish man who built his house on the sand. ²⁷The rains came down, the floods rose, the winds blew and beat upon that house and it collapsed. And the wreck of it was complete."

²⁸It came about that when Jesus had finished these sayings, the crowds were amazed at His teaching, ²⁹for He taught them as an authority and not like their scribes.^c

8 WHEN HE HAD COME DOWN FROM the hill great crowds followed Him. ²And a leper came up and knelt before Him saying: "Lord, if You are willing, You are able to cleanse me." ³Reaching out His hand He touched him saying, "I am willing. Be cleansed." And instantly his leprosy was cleansed. ⁴Jesus told him, "See that you tell no one, but go, show yourself to the priest and offer the gift which Moses prescribed^d as a witness to others."

⁵When He entered Capernaum^e a centurion^f came to Him entreating Him, ⁶"Lord, my servant boy lies paralyzed at home, in great agony." ⁷He replied, "I will come and heal him." ⁸The centurion answered, "Lord, I am not fit to have You come under my roof; only speak the word and my boy will be healed. ⁹For I am personally under authority and have soldiers under me. To one I say, 'Go!' and he goes; to another, 'Come!' and he comes, and to my slave, 'Do this!' and he does it."

¹⁰As Jesus listened He marveled and said to those who were following Him, "I assure you, I have not found anyone in Israel with so much faith. ¹¹And I tell you that many will come from east and west and will sit^g at the table with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven, ¹²while the sons of the kingdom will be expelled into outer darkness. There will be weeping and grinding of teeth there."

¹³Then Jesus said to the centurion, "Go home. As you have believed, so let it be for you." And at that exact moment the serving boy was cured.

¹⁴When Jesus entered Peter's house He observed that his mother-in-law was bedridden with fever. ¹⁵So He touched her hand and the fever left her. She got up and waited on Him.

¹⁶In the evening they brought to Him many demoniacs and with a word He cast out the spirits and healed all who had diseases, ¹⁷so that the word spoken through the Prophet Isaiah might be fulfilled,^h "He Himself took our weaknesses and carried away our diseases."

¹⁸Seeing a great crowd around Him, Jesus gave orders to cross to the other side. ¹⁹When a certain scribe approached and said to Him, "Teacher, I will follow You wherever You may go," ²⁰Jesus told him, "The foxes have lairs and the wild birds have nests but the Son of Man has no place to lay His head."

²¹Another of the disciples said to Him, "Lord, permit me first to go and bury my father." ²²But Jesus said to him, "Follow Me, and leave the dead to bury their own dead."ⁱ

²³As He embarked, His disciples came along with Him. ²⁴And a severe storm came up on the lake,^j so that the boat was being swamped by the waves; but He lay sleeping. ²⁵So they went to Him and roused Him, saying,

c) The scribes quoted commentators in their teaching; Jesus did not need to do so. See note at ch. 2:4. d) Lev. 14:3. e) See note at ch. 4:13.

f) A military officer generally commanding 100 soldiers, although sometimes more.

g) See note at Mk. 2:15. h) Isa. 53:4.

i) This may intimate that this man's relatives were spiritually dead; it certainly means that the inquirer must leave behind every interest that may be a hindrance.

j) Squalls from the canyon where the Jordan River entered the lake, i.e., the Sea of Galilee, were frequent and sudden. See note at Lk. 5:1.

"Lord, save us; we are perishing," ²⁶He said to them, "You of little faith! Why are you afraid?" Then standing up He rebuked the winds and the sea, and there was a great calm. ²⁷Amazed, the men exclaimed, "What kind of man is this that even the winds and the sea obey Him?"

²⁸When He reached the other side in the Gadarene^k country, two demoniacs coming out of the tombs met Him. So ferocious were they that no one could travel on that road. ²⁹They shouted: "Son of God, what business is it of Yours to bother us? Have You come here to torture us ahead of time?"

³⁰Now at some distance from them a large herd of swine was feeding; ³¹so the demons begged of Him, "If You expel us, send us into the herd of swine." ³²He said to them, "Go!" And they, coming out, entered into the swine and the whole herd rushed down the precipice into the sea and perished in the waters.

³³The herdsmen fled, went off to town, and reported everything, including the affair of the demoniacs. ³⁴Then the whole town came out to meet Jesus and when they saw Him they begged of Him to move out of their district.

9 SO HE EMBARKED, CROSSED OVER and reached His own city. ²There they carried to Him a paralytic on a couch. And seeing their faith Jesus said to the paralytic, "Cheer up, son, your sins are forgiven." ³Some of the scribes then said to themselves, "This man blasphemes." ⁴Jesus, knowing their thoughts, said, "Why do you think evil in your hearts? ⁵For which is easier to say, Your sins are forgiven, or to say, Rise and walk? ⁶But to let you know that the Son of Man has authority to forgive sins on the earth," He then said to the paralytic, "Rise, pick up your couch and go home." ⁷Arising, he went home. ⁸And when the crowds saw it they were awed, and they praised God who had granted such power to men.

⁹As Jesus passed on from there, He saw a man named Matthew sitting at the tax office and said to him, "Follow Me." So he arose and followed Him. ¹⁰And as Jesus was sitting¹ at the table in the house^m numerous tax collectorsⁿ and sinners came and sat at the table with Jesus and His disciples. ¹¹When the Pharisees noticed it, they said to His disciples, "Why does your teacher eat with tax collectors and sinners?" ¹²But when He heard it He said, "The healthy have no need of a physician, but the sick. ¹³But go and learn what this means,^o 'I want mercy and not sacrifice.' For I did not come to call the righteous but sinners^p to repentance."

¹⁴Then John's disciples came up to Him and said, "Why do we and the Pharisees fast, and Your disciples do not fast?" ¹⁵Jesus answered them, "Can wedding guests mourn while the bridegroom is with them?^q But the days are coming when the bridegroom will be taken from them, and then they will fast. ¹⁶But no one sews a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old coat, for the patch would tear away from the coat and the tear become worse. ¹⁷Neither do they pour new wine into old wineskins, else the wineskins burst, the wine is spilled and the skins are ruined. Instead they put new wine into new skins, and both are preserved."

¹⁸While He was still speaking to them about this, a ruler^r came and knelt before Him, saying, "My daughter has just died; but come, place your hand on her and she will live." ¹⁹Jesus rose and with His disciples followed him. ²⁰And a woman, who had for twelve years suffered from hemorrhages, came up behind Him and touched the fringe of His robe; ²¹for she said to herself, "If I can only touch

k) See note at Mk. 5:1.

l) See note at Mk. 2:15. m) This was the home of Matthew, also called Levi, Lk. 5:29.

n) Tax collectors as a class were despised by the Jews because, they themselves being Jews, were in the employ of the Roman government. o) Hos. 6:6.

p) The sinners referred to here were specifically those Jews who considered themselves to be righteous and in no need of the Redeemer. They might be called the unchurched of their day, i.e., they neither attended the temple or synagogue, nor offered the sacrifices that were required by Mosaic Law. q) Cf. Jn. 3:28-30. r) Jairus, a ruler of the synagogue, Lk. 8:41.

His robe I will recover."^s ²²Jesus, turning and seeing her, said, "Cheer up, daughter, your faith has healed you." And the woman was well from that hour.

²³On reaching the ruler's house and seeing the flute players and the noisy crowd, ²⁴Jesus said, "Go out; for the girl is not dead but asleep." They laughed derisively at Him. ²⁵But after the crowd had been expelled He went in and took her hand, and the girl rose up. ²⁶The fame of it spread over all that country.

²⁷While Jesus was walking away, two blind men followed Him, crying out, "Son of David, pity us!" ²⁸Then when He had entered the house, the blind men came up to Him and Jesus said to them, "Do you believe I can do this?" They answered Him, "Yes, Lord." ²⁹He then touched their eyes and said, "According to the measure of your faith it shall be to you." ³⁰And their eyes were opened. Jesus charged them strictly, "See that no one learns of this." ³¹But they went out and spread His fame over that whole region.

³²As they were leaving, a dumb man who was demon-possessed was brought to Him. ³³And when the demon had been expelled, the dumb man spoke. Then the crowds marveled, saying, "The like was never seen in Israel." ³⁴But the Pharisees said, "Through the ruler of the demons He casts out the demons."

³⁵Jesus went among all the towns and the villages teaching in their synagogues announcing the good news of the kingdom and healing every disease and every illness. ³⁶But as He looked at the multitudes He was filled with pity over them because they were like shepherdless sheep that are wearied and helpless. ³⁷Then He said to His disciples, "The harvest is indeed abundant but the workers are few. ³⁸Therefore pray the Lord of the harvest that He may send out workers into His harvest."

10 CALLING HIS TWELVE DISCIPLES to Him,^t He gave them power over depraved spirits to cast them out, and to heal every disease and every malady. ²Now these are the names of the twelve apostles: ³first, Simon, called Peter, and his brother Andrew; James, the son of Zebedee, and his brother John; ⁴Philip and Bartholomew; ⁵Thomas and Matthew, the tax collector; James, the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus;^w ⁶Simon the Zealot, and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed Him.

⁷These twelve Jesus sent out with the charge: "Do not go to the Gentiles nor enter a Samaritan^x city, ⁸but rather go to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. ⁹And as you go, preach that the kingdom of heaven is at hand. ¹⁰Heal the sick; raise the dead; cleanse lepers; expel demons. Freely you have received; freely give. ¹¹Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor copper to put in your belts, ¹²nor a bag for the journey; neither two coats, nor sandals, nor staff. For the worker deserves his support.

¹³"Whatever town or village you enter, inquire who in it is deserving and stay there until you leave the community. ¹⁴And as you enter the home, give your greetings, ¹⁵and if the home is deserving, let your peace come upon it; but if it is undeserving your peace will return to you. ¹⁶And where no one welcomes you or listens to your messages, leave that house or town and shake the dust off your feet. ¹⁷I assure you, the land of Sodom^y and Gomorrah will fare better in the judgment day than that town.

¹⁸"Mind you, I am sending you out as sheep among wolves; therefore, be as subtle as serpents and as guileless as doves. ¹⁹And beware of men; for they

s) The healing power was in Christ, not in the robe, Lk. 8:46.

t) Selecting twelve from among His followers Jesus ordained them to apostleship, to be constantly with Him preparatory to His ascension.

u) "Apostle" comes from a Greek word that means one who is sent, i.e., a messenger.

v) Bartholomew is called Nathanael in John's Gospel, cf. Jn. 1:45-49. Observe how the apostles are paired; they did their visiting "two by two," Mk. 6:7.

w) Thaddaeus is called Judas, not Iscariot, in Jn. 14:22. x) See note at Lk. 9:53.

y) See note at Lk. 10:12.

will deliver you to councils, and in their synagogues they will flog you; ¹⁸and you will be haled before governors and kings on My account, to testify to them and to the Gentiles. ¹⁹But when they hand you over, have no anxiety how or what to say, for it will be given you in that hour what to say; ²⁰for it is not you that speak but the Spirit of your Father speaking through you.

²¹"Brother shall betray brother to death, and the father his child. Children shall turn against parents and cause their death, ²²and you shall be hated by everyone on account of My name. But he who perseveres to the end shall be saved.

²³"When they persecute you in one town, flee to the next; for I assure you that you will not have gone through the towns of Israel before the Son of Man comes.

²⁴"A pupil is not above his teacher, nor a slave² above his master. ²⁵It suffices for the pupil to be like his teacher and for the slave to be like his master. If they have called the head of the house Beelzebul,^a how much more its members. ²⁶Do not therefore fear them; for nothing is covered that shall not be uncovered, and hidden that shall not be made known. ²⁷What I tell you in the dark you must say in the light, and what you hear close to your ear you must herald from the housetops.

²⁸"Do not be afraid of those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul; but rather fear Him^b who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell. ²⁹Do not two sparrows sell for a penny? And not one of them falls to the ground apart from the will of your Father. ³⁰As for you, the hairs of your head are all numbered. ³¹Have no fear, then; you are of more consequence than many sparrows.

³²"Everyone, therefore, who shall acknowledge Me before men I will acknowledge before My Father who is in heaven; ³³but whoever disowns Me before men I will also disown before My Father who is in heaven.

³⁴"Do not suppose that I have come to bring peace on the earth. I have not come to bring peace, but a sword. ³⁵For I have come to bring division, a man against his father, a daughter against her mother, a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law; ³⁶and a man's enemies will be those who belong to his own household. ³⁷He who loves father or mother more than Me is not worthy of Me, and he who loves son or daughter more than Me is not worthy of Me. ³⁸And he who does not take his cross and follow after Me is not worthy of Me. ³⁹Whoever finds his life will lose it, and whoever on My account loses his life will find it.

⁴⁰"Whoever receives you receives Me, and whoever receives Me receives Him who sent Me. ⁴¹Whoever receives a prophet because he is a prophet will receive the reward of a prophet, and whoever receives an upright man because he is upright will receive an upright man's reward. ⁴²And whoever gives one of these little ones but a cup of cold water to drink because he is a disciple, I assure you he will not lose his reward."

11 WHEN JESUS HAD FINISHED INSTRUCTING His twelve disciples He left there to teach and preach in their towns.

²Now when John heard in prison of Christ's activities, he sent and asked Him through his disciples, ³"Are you the Coming One or should we look for someone else?" ⁴Jesus replied to them, "Go and report to John what you hear and see: ⁵the blind see, the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised and the poor are evangelized. ⁶And happy is anyone who does not lose his faith in Me."

⁷As they were leaving, Jesus began to say to the crowds about John, "What did you go out into the desert to gaze at? A reed swayed by the wind?" ⁸What did you really go out to see? A man dressed in soft clothes? Wearers of soft clothes live in palaces. ⁹What then did you go out to see? A prophet?

z) See note at ch. 13:27. a) See note at Lk. 11:15.

b) The reference is not, as some suppose, to Satan but to God, who alone determines the final destiny of soul and body. c) Although he was now perplexed, John the Baptist was not weakening.

Yes, I tell you, and far more than a prophet. ¹⁰This is the one about whom it is written, ^a'Behold, I send My messenger before Your face who shall prepare the road ahead of You.' ¹¹I assure you, none has arisen among those born of women greater than John the Baptist; yet the least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he. ¹²But from the time of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven has endured violence, the violent seize it by force. ¹³For until John all the Prophets and the Law prophesied. ¹⁴If you will accept it, he himself is Elijah who was to come. ¹⁵Whoever has ears, let him listen.

¹⁶"But to what shall I compare this generation? It is like children sitting in the market places and calling out to their playmates, ¹⁷'We have played the flute for you and you have not danced; we have sung dirges to you and you did not beat the breast.' ¹⁸For John came neither eating nor drinking and they say, 'He has a demon.' ¹⁹The Son of Man came eating and drinking, and they say, 'Look! A glutton and wine drinker! A friend of tax collectors and sinners!' And still, wisdom is vindicated by her effects."^e ²⁰Then He began to reproach the towns in which most of His wonders had been wrought, because they did not repent: ²¹"Alas for you, Chorazin!^f Alas for you, Bethsaida!^g Because if in Tyre and Sidon^h the wonders had been done that were done in you, they would long ago have repented in sackcloth and ashes. ²²I tell you further, it will be more enduring in the Judgment Day for Tyre and Sidon than for you.

²³"And you, Capernaum, will you be exalted to heaven? Brought down to hadesⁱ you will be. For if in Sodom the wonders had been done that were done in you, it would have remained to this day. ²⁴I tell you further, for the land of Sodom it will be more enduring in the Judgment Day than for you."

²⁵At that time Jesus responded by saying: "I thank Thee, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, for hiding all this from the learned and intelligent and revealing it to babes."^j ²⁶Yes, Father, for thus it was pleasing in Thy sight. ²⁷Everything has been handed over to Me from My Father, and no one really knows the Son except the Father, nor does anyone understand the Father except the Son and he to whom the Son wishes to reveal Him.

²⁸"Come to Me all you who labor and are heavily burdened, and I will give you rest. ²⁹Take My yoke upon you and learn of Me, for I am gentle and humble of heart, and you will find rest for your souls; ³⁰for My yoke is easy and My burden is light."^k

12 AT THAT TIME JESUS WALKED one Sabbath through the grain fields. His disciples were hungry and began to pluck heads of grain and to eat. ²As the Pharisees observed it they said to Him, "Look! Your disciples are doing what is not lawful to be done on the Sabbath."^l ³But He replied, "Have you not read what David did^m when he and his men were hungry, ⁴how he entered the house of God and ate the loaves of presentationⁿ which neither he nor his men, but only the priests, were allowed to eat? ⁵Or have you never read^o in the Law how on the Sabbath days the priests in the temple break the Sabbath and are blameless? ⁶But I tell you that some-

d) Mal. 3:1.

e) Although John was evidently an ascetic and Jesus a companionable Man who attended dinners and weddings, the people generally did not respond heartily to either of them.

f) Chorazin was situated about four miles northwest of the northern tip of the Sea of Galilee.

g) See note at Mk. 3:22.

h) Tyre was a city on an island just off the western shore of the Mediterranean Sea and about twenty-five miles west of Caesarea Philippi (see note at ch. 16:13). Sidon, situated on the main land, was twenty-two miles north of Tyre and fifty miles west of Damascus. Sidon was the principal city of ancient Phoenicia. Queen Jezebel had brought the sins and idolatry of Phoenicia into Israel, and this period remained a horrible memory for every Israelite.

i) The realm of the dead. j) Infants, minors, uneducated and simple people.

k) Our Lord's message now goes beyond Israel with a gracious invitation to all men.

l) To pluck heads of grain was lawful, Deut. 23:24, but not on the Sabbath. m) I Sam. 21:4,6.

n) This was the showbread, Ex. 25:30. o) Num. 28:9.

thing greater than the temple is here. ⁷And had you known what this means,^p 'I want mercy and not sacrifice,' you would not have condemned the innocent. ⁸For the Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath."

⁹Leaving there He went into their synagogue. ¹⁰And a man with a paralyzed hand was there; so, to incriminate Him, they asked Him, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath?" ¹¹But He said to them, "Is there one of you with a single sheep who will not, if it falls into a pit on the Sabbath, take hold of it and lift it out? ¹²How much more valuable, then, is a man than a sheep! Therefore it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath." ¹³Then He said to the man, "Hold out your hand." He held it out and it was restored as healthy as the other. ¹⁴But the Pharisees went away and devised a plot against Him so that they might destroy Him.

¹⁵Jesus, knowing this, withdrew from that place. Many followed Him and He healed them all ¹⁶and charged them not to make Him known, ¹⁷that what was said through Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled,^q ¹⁸"Behold My Servant whom I have chosen, My Beloved in whom My soul delights; I will invest Him with My Spirit and He will announce justice to the nations. ¹⁹He will not quarrel or shout, nor will anyone hear His voice in the streets. ²⁰He will not break a bruised reed; He will not extinguish a smoldering wick until He carries justice to victory. ²¹And the nations will hope in His name."

²²Then there was led to Him a blind and dumb demoniac, and He healed him, so that the dumb man both spoke and saw. ²³And all the crowds were amazed and said, "Is not this the Son of David?" ²⁴But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, "This fellow does not expel demons except through Beelzebub,^r the ruler of demons."

²⁵Reading their thoughts, He said to them, "Any kingdom that is divided against itself goes to ruin and any city or house that is divided against itself cannot stand. ²⁶If Satan expels Satan, he is divided against himself. How then will his kingdom stand? ²⁷Besides, if I cast out demons through Beelzebub, through whom do your sons cast them out? On this score they will be your judges. ²⁸But if I expel demons through the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God has overtaken you.

²⁹"How indeed can a person enter into a strong man's house and rob his belongings unless he first binds the strong man? After that he may rob his house. ³⁰Whoever is not with Me is against Me, and whoever is not gathering with Me scatters. ³¹I tell you therefore: All sins and slanders are forgivable for men, but slander about the Spirit will not be forgiven. ³²If one should speak a word against the Son of Man he may be forgiven, but if he speaks against the Holy Spirit it will not be forgiven him either in this age or in the age to come.^s

³³"You either make both tree and fruit to be good, or you hold both tree and fruit to be rotten; for the tree is known by its fruit. ³⁴You brood of vipers, how can you speak good, evil as you are? For from the overflow of the heart the mouth speaks. ³⁵A good man brings out good things from good treasure in his heart, and a wicked man brings out bad things from bad treasure in his heart. ³⁶But I tell you that for every careless word spoken men shall be answerable in the Judgment Day. ³⁷For by your words you will be acquitted and by your words you will be condemned."

³⁸Then some of the scribes and Pharisees replied to Him, "Teacher, we should like to see your token of proof." ³⁹And He answered them, "A wicked and disloyal generation craves a sign, and no sign will be given it except the sign of the Prophet Jonah. ⁴⁰For as Jonah was for three days and three nights in the belly of the sea-monster,^t so will the Son of Man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth. ⁴¹The men of Nineveh will arise at the judgment along with this generation and will

p) Hos. 6:6; cf. Isa. 1:11; Mic. 6:8. q) Isa. 42:1-4. r) See note at Lk. 11:15.

s) No salvation is possible for one who continues to resist the call and influences of the Holy Spirit. t) Jon. 1:17.

condemn it; for they repented at Jonah's preaching, and indeed something greater than Jonah is here. ⁴²The Queen of the South^u will rise at the judgment with this generation and condemn it; for she came from the ends of the earth to listen to Solomon's wisdom, and indeed something greater than Solomon is here.

⁴³"When the unclean spirit goes out of a person he roams through dry places looking for rest and does not find it. ⁴⁴Then he says, 'I will go back to the house I left,' and comes and finds it vacant, cleaned and orderly. ⁴⁵He then goes out to bring along with him seven other spirits worse than himself, and they enter and live there. And the final condition of that person is worse than the first. So it will be with this wicked generation."

⁴⁶While He was still speaking to the crowds His mother and brothers stood outside wanting to talk with Him. ⁴⁷[Then someone told Him, "Your mother and Your brothers stand outside, wanting to speak to You."]^v ⁴⁸But He replied to the one who told Him, "Who is My mother and who are My brothers?" ⁴⁹And stretching out His hand to His disciples, He said, "Here are My mother and My brothers; ⁵⁰for whoever does the will of My heavenly Father is My brother and sister and mother."^w

13 THAT SAME DAY JESUS, LEAVING the house, sat by the seaside, ²and such great crowds gathered around Him that He stepped into a boat and sat down while the whole multitude stood on the beach. ³And He told them many things in parables, saying:^x "A sower went out to sow ⁴and, in his sowing, some seed fell along the road and the birds came and ate them. ⁵Some fell on rocky soil, where they had little earth and sprang up quickly because the soil was shallow; ⁶but with the rising sun they were scorched and, having no root, withered. ⁷Some fell among the thorns and the thorns grew up and choked them. ⁸But the rest fell on the good soil and bore a crop — some a hundredfold, some sixty and some thirty. ⁹Whoever has ears, let him listen."

¹⁰The disciples came up and said to Him, "Why do You speak to them in parables?" ¹¹He answered, "It is granted you to know the secrets of the kingdom of heaven, but it is not granted them."^y ¹²For whoever has will receive superabundantly, but whoever has not will be deprived of whatever he has. ¹³For this reason I speak to them in parables, because they look and see nothing; they listen and neither hear nor understand. ¹⁴On their part Isaiah's prophecy is fulfilled,^z 'You will listen and listen but not at all understand; you will look and look but never see at all. ¹⁵For this people's heart has grown dull and with their ears they hear poorly; they have their eyes shut so that they may not see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their hearts, and return and I would heal them.'

¹⁶But blessed are your eyes, for they see, and your ears, for they hear. ¹⁷For I assure you that many prophets and upright men have longed to see what you see and did not, and to hear what you are hearing and did not.

¹⁸"Listen, then, to the parable of the sower. ¹⁹When anyone hears the message of the kingdom and does not understand it, the evil one comes and snatches away what is sown in his heart. This represents the sowing along the road. ²⁰But what was sown on rocky soil refers to the one who hears the word and at once accepts it gladly; ²¹but it takes no root in him; it does not last. Trouble or persecution arises

u) II Chron. 9:1-12.

v) Verse 47, enclosed in brackets, is not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

w) Those who do God's will may have a relationship that is closer to the Lord Jesus than that of His own mother and brothers.

x) The parables of chapter 13 describe the influence of the Gospel in this present age, when not all the Word preached will be received in faith, and weeds will grow with the wheat until its end.

y) Not because of arbitrary judgment against them; but because they neglected divine grace they are themselves unresponsive soil. z) Isa. 6:9-10.

on account of the message and at once he turns away from it. ²²And what was sown among thorns means one who listens to the message, but worldly cares and the enjoyment of wealth choke the word and it becomes unproductive. ²³But what was sown in good ground means one who listens and understands the message; he bears fruit and yields, one a hundredfold, one sixty and one thirty."

²⁴He put before them another parable: "The kingdom of heaven is like a man who sowed good seed in his field, ²⁵but while men were asleep his enemy came and sowed weeds among the wheat and went away. ²⁶When the blade shot up and the wheat headed, the weeds appeared too. ²⁷The owner's slaves^a went to him and said, 'Was not that good seed, sir, that you sowed in your field? Where then did the weeds come from?' ²⁸He said to them, 'An enemy has done this.' They asked him, 'Would you like then to have us go and weed them out?' ²⁹But he said, 'No, for in gathering up the weeds you might uproot the wheat along with them.' ³⁰Let them grow side by side until harvest time, and at harvest time I shall direct the reapers to collect the weeds first, bundle them up and burn them, but bring the grain into my barn."

³¹Another parable He presented to them: "The kingdom of heaven is like a mustard seed which a man took and sowed in his field. ³²It is the smallest of all seeds but when grown up it is bigger than any plant and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and roost in its branches."

³³He told them another parable: "The kingdom of heaven is like yeast^c which a woman took and buried in a bushel of flour until it was all raised."

³⁴Jesus said all this to the crowds in parables and never spoke to them except in parables, ³⁵so that the saying of the prophet was fulfilled:^d "I will open my mouth in parables; I will express what has been hidden since the creation of the world."

³⁶Then leaving the multitudes He went indoors and His disciples came to Him saying, "Explain to us the parable of the weeds in the field." ³⁷He replied: "The sower of the good seed is the Son of Man. ³⁸The field is the world.^e The good seed are the children of the kingdom, but the weeds are the children of the evil one. ³⁹The enemy who sowed them is the devil. The harvest is the end of the age. The reapers are the angels. ⁴⁰Just as the weeds are collected and burned up, so will it be at the end of the age. ⁴¹The Son of Man will send forth His angels and they will gather up out of His kingdom all those who offend and those who are guilty of lawlessness ⁴²and will cast them into the fiery furnace. There will be weeping and grinding of teeth there. ⁴³Then will the righteous radiate like the sun in their Father's kingdom. Whoever has ears, let him listen.

⁴⁴"The kingdom of heaven is like a treasure hidden in the field, which a man conceals after finding it. Then out of sheer gladness he goes out and sells everything he has and buys that field.

⁴⁵"Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant looking for beautiful pearls. ⁴⁶Having found one pearl of exceptional value he went out and sold all he possessed and bought it.

⁴⁷"Once more, the kingdom of heaven is like a net cast in the sea which collected every kind of fish.

a) The Greek word doulos means slave and is so translated here and in many places throughout the N.T. Slavery was extremely prevalent in the Roman Empire; estimates of the proportion of slaves to free citizens range as high as three to one. Many slaves were people of education and culture who had been taken captive and enslaved during Roman conquests. Some were placed in positions of authority and were even entrusted with large financial responsibility, e.g. ch. 25:14-18 - these "domestic servants" were slaves, Gk. doulos. Social conditions have, of course, changed since the first century and today slavery is looked upon as unjustifiable and reprehensible. In this translation doulos in its different forms is variously rendered "slave," "bond-servant," or "servant," and, in several parables, "agent," e.g. ch. 18:23-35. In cases where the writers use the word in reference to themselves, e.g. Rom. 1:1; Jas. 1:1, it suggests their total commitment to their Lord. b) God alone sees into the hearts of men; thus He, rather than men, is able to distinguish the wheat from the weeds. Cf. ch. 7:1. c) Or, leaven. d) Ps. 78:2. e) The Greek word here rendered "world," kosmos, means primarily orderly arrangement. It also denotes universe, world, and inhabitants of the earth. In this passage it alludes to those who dwell on the earth.

⁴⁸When it was full they drew it to shore and, sitting down, they put the good ones into baskets and threw out the bad ones. ⁴⁹So will it be at the end of the age. The angels will come out and separate the wicked from the righteous ⁵⁰and will cast them into the fiery furnace; there will be wailing and grinding of teeth there.

⁵¹"Have you understood all this?" They answered Him, "Yes." ⁵²So He said to them, "Every teacher, therefore, who is versed in the kingdom of heaven is like the owner of a house who brings out of his storeroom new things and old."

⁵³When Jesus had finished these parables, He went away from there ⁵⁴and, after arriving in His own home town, taught them in their synagogues in such a way that they were amazed, and said, "From where did this wisdom and these miracles of His come? ⁵⁵Is not this the carpenter's Son? Is not His mother called Mary, and His brothers James, Josés, Simon, and Judas? ⁵⁶And His sisters, are they not all with us? Where did He get all this?" ⁵⁷And they were offended at Him. But Jesus said to them, "A prophet is not without honor except in his own town and house." ⁵⁸And because of their unbelief He did not perform many miracles there.

14 AT THAT TIME THE TETRARCH Herod^f heard of Jesus' fame ²and said to his attendants, "This is John the Baptist. He is risen from the dead; therefore these powers are at work in him." ³For Herod had arrested, bound and imprisoned John on account of Herodias,^g the wife of his brother Philip, ⁴because John had told him, "You have no right to have her." ⁵He wished to kill him but was afraid of the people, for they considered him a prophet.

⁶At the occasion of Herod's birthday the daughter of Herodias danced before them and pleased Herod, ⁷so he promised her on oath that he would give her whatever she might ask. ⁸And, prompted by her mother, she said, "Give me here on a platter the head of John the Baptist." ⁹The king was distressed; yet because of the oath and the guests he ordered it given, ¹⁰and sent and beheaded John in prison. ¹¹His head was brought in on a platter and given to the girl, and she took it to her mother. ¹²Then his disciples came, took up the body, buried it and went and told Jesus.

¹³When Jesus heard it, He withdrew by boat privately for a solitary place. When the throngs found that out, they followed Him afoot from the cities. ¹⁴On landing He saw a great mass of people and felt deep sympathy for them and healed their sick.

¹⁵With the approach of evening the disciples came to Him, saying, "The place is solitary and the time is now advanced. Dismiss the crowds, so that they can go away to the villages and buy food for themselves." ¹⁶But Jesus said to them, "They do not need to go away; you give them to eat." ¹⁷They answered, "We have nothing here except five loaves and two fish." ¹⁸He, however, said, "Bring those here to Me," ¹⁹and ordered the people to sit^h down on the grass. Taking the five loaves and two fish, and looking up toward heaven, He gave thanks and broke the loaves and handed them to His disciples, and the disciples to the people. ²⁰They all ate and were satisfied, and they picked up the fragments which were left over — twelve full baskets. ²¹Not including the women and children there were five thousand men who ate.

²²He immediately urged the disciples to embark and to sail ahead of Him to the other side while He dismissed the crowds. ²³And after He had dismissed the people He climbed the hill to pray. Evening had fallen and He was there alone. ²⁴But the boat was by that time a good distance from shore and was tossed by the waves, for the wind was contrary. ²⁵In the

f) Herod Antipas, one of the sons of Herod I, i.e., Herod the Great. A tetrarch was governor of one-fourth of a province. Herod Antipas is called King Herod in Mk. 6:14.

g) Granddaughter of Herod I and half-niece of Herod Antipas.

h) See note at Mk. 2:15.

fourth watch of the night¹ He approached them, walking on the sea. ²⁶And when the disciples saw Him walking on the sea, they exclaimed in terror, "It is a ghost!" and cried out from fear. ²⁷But He at once addressed them, "Cheer up! It is I; have no fear." ²⁸Peter answered Him, "Lord, if it is You, order me to come to You on the water." ²⁹He said, "Come." Peter got out of the boat and he walked on the water and came toward Jesus; ³⁰but looking at the wind he was afraid and, beginning to sink, he cried, "Lord, save me!" ³¹Instantly Jesus reached out His hand and took hold of him, saying, "You of little faith! Why did you doubt?" ³²After they had gotten into the boat, the wind quieted. ³³Then those in the boat knelt before Him, saying, "Truly, You are the Son of God!" ³⁴Having sailed across, they landed at Gennesaret¹ ³⁵and when the men of that place recognized Him, they sent into all that surrounding country and brought to Him all who suffered ailments. ³⁶They begged of Him that they might simply touch the fringe of His robe, and all who touched Him were completely healed.

15 THEN PHARISEES^k AND SCRIBES^l from Jerusalem approached Jesus with the remark, ²"Why do Your disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? For they do not wash their hands before eating." ³He replied to them, "Why do you transgress the command of God through your tradition? ⁴For God has commanded,^m 'Honor your father and mother,' andⁿ 'He who curses father or mother must suffer death.' ⁵But you say, 'Whoever says to his father or mother, "What you might get from me I make an offering," ⁶he need not honor his father and his mother.'^o So you have nullified the Word of God through your tradition. ⁷You hypocrites, Isaiah rightly prophesied about you,^p ⁸"This people honors me with their lips, but their heart is far away from Me. ⁹Uselessly, they worship Me with their teaching of human commands.'"

¹⁰Summoning the people, He told them: "Listen and understand. ¹¹What enters the mouth does not pollute the person, but what comes out of the mouth pollutes a person."

¹²Then the disciples came and said to Him, "Are You aware that the Pharisees were shocked at hearing You say this?" ¹³He replied, "Every plant that My heavenly Father has not planted will be uprooted. ¹⁴Leave them alone; they are blind guides of the blind. But if one blind person leads another, they will both fall into a pit."

¹⁵Peter replied, "Explain the parable to us." ¹⁶He said, "Even you do not understand?" ¹⁷Do you not know that whatever enters the mouth passes into the stomach and is purged? ¹⁸But what comes out of the mouth comes from the heart; that pollutes a man. ¹⁹For out of the heart come evil designs, murders, adulteries, sexual vices, thefts, lyings and slanders. ²⁰These pollute a person; but to eat with unwashed hands does not pollute a person."

²¹Leaving there, Jesus withdrew to the region of Tyre and Sidon. ²²Here a Canaanitish woman from those parts came out and cried, "Pity me, LORD, Son of David! My daughter is badly demon-possessed." ²³But He answered her never a word. Then His disciples came and urged Him, "Send her away, for she keeps shouting behind us." ²⁴But He replied, "I was sent only to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." ²⁵Then she approached and knelt before Him, saying, "Lord, help me!" ²⁶He answered, "It is not fair to take the children's bread and to throw it to the house dogs."^q ²⁷But she said, "True, Lord, yet even the house dogs eat of the crumbs that fall from their master's table." ²⁸Then Jesus answered her, "O woman, your faith is great! Be it as you desire." And from that very moment her daughter was healed.

i) Between 3 and 6 A.M.

j) Located on the western shore of the Sea of Galilee between Capernaum and Magdala.

k) See note at ch. 3:7. l) See note at ch. 2:4. m) Ex. 20:12. n) Lev. 20:9.

o) Property thus said to be dedicated as an offering released its donor from other responsibilities, e.g., to parents. p) Isa. 29:13. q) See note at Mk. 7:27.

²⁹Moving away from there, Jesus went along the Sea of Galilee, climbed the hill and sat there. ³⁰Great throngs came to Him. They brought along lame, blind, dumb, maimed and many others whom they laid at His feet, and He healed them; ³¹so that the crowd wondered when they saw the dumb speaking, the maimed sound in body, the lame walking, and the blind seeing. And they glorified the God of Israel.

³²But Jesus called His disciples and said, "I feel deeply moved for the multitude because they have now stayed with Me three days and they have nothing to eat. I am not willing to send them away hungry, for they may faint on the road." ³³The disciples said to Him, "Where are we to get loaves enough in the desert to satisfy such a crowd?" ³⁴Jesus asked them, "How many loaves do you have?" They said, "Seven and a few small fish." ³⁵He ordered the masses to sit on the ground, ³⁶took the seven loaves and the fish, gave thanks, broke them and handed them to the disciples, and the disciples to the crowds. ³⁷They all ate and were satisfied; and the leftovers filled seven hampers. ³⁸Four thousand men shared the eating, aside from women and children. ³⁹Then, dismissing the crowds, He embarked and sailed to the Magadan region.^a

16 THE PHARISEES AND SADDUCEES^t approached and, to test Him asked Him to show them a sign from heaven; ²but He replied, "[At eventide you say, 'Fair weather, for the sky is red,' ³and in the morning, 'A stormy day, for the sky is red and overcast.' You hypocrites, you can distinguish the face of the sky, but not the signs of the times]."^u ⁴A wicked and immoral generation seeks a sign and no sign shall be given it except the sign of Jonah.^v" Then He left them and went away.

⁵When the disciples had reached the other side, they had forgotten to bring along bread; ⁶and Jesus said to them, "Take heed and keep away from the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees." ⁷They discussed it among themselves, "We brought no bread." ⁸But Jesus, aware of it, said, "Why these discussions among yourselves, you of little faith? Because you brought no bread? ⁹Do you not understand even yet, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand and how many baskets you took up, ¹⁰nor the seven loaves of the four thousand and how many hampers you took up? ¹¹How is it you do not see that I was not talking to you about bread, but that you should be careful about the ferment of the Pharisees and Sadducees?" ¹²Then they realized that He did not tell them to beware of yeast in bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

¹³When Jesus entered the region of Caesarea Philippi,^w He asked His disciples, "Who do people say the Son of Man is?" ¹⁴They said, "Some say, John the Baptist; others, Elijah; others, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets." ¹⁵He asked them, "But you, who do you say I am?" ¹⁶Simon Peter answered, "You are the Christ, the Son of the living God." ¹⁷Jesus answered him, "Blessed are you, Simon, son of John, because it was not flesh and blood that revealed this to you but My heavenly Father. ¹⁸I also tell you that you are Peter,^x and on this rock I will build My church,^y and the gates of hades shall not prevail against her. ¹⁹I will give

r) See note at Mk. 2:15.

s) At a place on the western shore of the lake, probably near Magdala, the home of Mary Magdalene. t) See notes at ch. 3:7.

u) The words that are enclosed in brackets in vss. 2-3 are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

v) Chapter 12:39; Jon. 1:17. Signs do not always soften stubborn hearts. Cf. Lk. 16:31.

w) Caesarea Philippi, now called Paneas, is situated about twenty-five miles north of the Sea of Galilee on one of the tributaries of the Jordan River. It was founded by Philip the Tetrarch, a son of Herod the Great.

x) From the Greek word petros meaning a stone, a piece of rock. The word "rock" in the next clause is a translation of petra meaning a rock.

y) The word "church" is translated from the Greek noun ekklesia which means a called out group of people, i.e., an assembly. In reading the N.T. one must distinguish whether the allusion is to the church as the whole body of believers in Christ, or to the church organization, i.e., a denomination or a local church.

you the keys of the kingdom of heaven; whatever you bind on earth will be bound in heaven, and whatever you allow on earth will be allowed in heaven."²⁰ Then He forbade the disciples to say to anyone, "He is the Christ."

²¹From then on Jesus began to show His disciples that He must go to Jerusalem and suffer much from the elders, priests and scribes, and be killed, and raised on the third day. ²²Then Peter, leading Him aside, began to remonstrate with Him: "Mercy on You, Lord; this must never happen to You!" ²³But, turning around, He said to Peter, "Get behind Me, Satan, you are a snare to Me; for you are not taking the divine view but man's." ²⁴Then Jesus said to His disciples, "If anyone wants to walk after Me, he must deny himself, take up his cross and follow Me; ²⁵for whoever wants to save his life shall lose it, but whoever loses his life for Me shall find it."

²⁶"For what advantage will a man have if he acquires the whole world and forfeits his own life, or what will a man offer in exchange for his life? ²⁷For the Son of Man is going to come in the glory of the Father with His angels, and then He shall reward each according to his deeds."^a ²⁸I assure you, there are some of those standing here who will not taste death until they see the Son of Man coming in His kingdom."

17 SIX DAYS LATER JESUS TOOK along Peter, James, and his brother John, and led them up a high mountain by themselves. ²In view of them He was transfigured: His face shone like the sun and His clothes became white as the light. ³Moses and Elijah also appeared to them as they conversed with Him. ⁴Then Peter addressed Jesus, "Lord, it is good that we are here. If You approve, I shall make here three booths, one for You, one for Moses and one for Elijah."

⁵While he was still talking, a bright cloud overshadowed them^b and a voice from the cloud said, "This is My Beloved Son, in whom I am delighted; listen to Him."^c ⁶As the disciples heard it, they fell on their faces in great fear; ⁷but Jesus, coming forward, touched them and said, "Stand up and have no fear."^d ⁸And, raising their eyes, they saw no one except Jesus alone.

⁹As they were coming down from the mountain, Jesus commanded them, "Do not mention the vision to anyone until the Son of Man is raised from the dead."^e ¹⁰The disciples asked Him, "Why, then, do the scribes say that Elijah must first come?" ¹¹He replied, "Elijah will come indeed and will restore all things."^f ¹²But I tell you that Elijah has already come and they did not recognize him, but have done to him as they pleased. In a similar way the Son of Man is about to suffer at their hands."^g ¹³Then the disciples realized that He was speaking to them of John the Baptist.^h

¹⁴When they approached the crowd, a man came forward and knelt to Him, saying, ¹⁵"Lord, take pity on my son, for he is an epileptic and suffers badly; he often falls into the fire and often into the water. ¹⁶I brought him to Your disciples, but they had no power to cure him."ⁱ ¹⁷Jesus replied, "O unbelieving and rebellious generation, how long shall I remain with you? How long shall I put up with you? Bring him here to Me."^j ¹⁸So Jesus rebuked the demon and it came out of him, and from that moment the boy was cured.

¹⁹Then the disciples came to Jesus privately and said, "Why did not we have power to expel it?" ²⁰He said to them, "Because of your little faith. For I assure you, if you have faith the size of a mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there,' and it will move. And nothing shall be impossible for you. ²¹[But this kind does not go out except through prayer and fasting.]"^k

z) What the Church teaches as taught by the Holy Spirit is acknowledged in heaven and serves to control human behavior. See the action of the church at Jerusalem, Acts 15.

a) Rev. 20:12-13; cf. Eph. 2:8-10. b) Cf. Ex. 40:34. c) Mal. 4:5-6.

d) Obviously John the Baptist was not a reincarnation of Elijah, for Elijah had just visited with Jesus; but John the Baptist came in the power of Elijah.

e) Verse 21, which is enclosed in brackets, is not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

²²While they were gathering in Galilee, Jesus said to them, "The Son of Man is about to be betrayed into the hands of men, ²³and they will kill Him, and on the third day He will be raised." And they felt deeply distressed.

²⁴When they arrived at Capernaum the tax collectors came to Peter and said, "Does not your teacher pay the tax?" ²⁵He said, "Yes." And as he entered the house, Jesus forestalled him by saying, "What is your idea, Simon? From whom do the kings of the earth collect customs or taxes, from their sons or from foreigners?" ²⁶When he said, "From foreigners," Jesus declared to him, "Then the sons are exempt. ²⁷However, not to offend them, go to the sea, cast a hook and take the first fish you bring up, open its mouth and you will find a coin. Take it and pay them for Me and for yourself."

18 AT THAT TIME THE DISCIPLES came and asked Jesus, "Who really excels in the kingdom of heaven?" ²Calling a little child, He stood it in the midst of them ³and said, "I assure you, unless you are converted and become like little children, you will certainly not enter the kingdom of heaven. ⁴Whoever, then, humbles himself like this little child, he excels in the kingdom of heaven; ⁵and whoever receives one such child in My name, receives Me. ⁶But whoever is an occasion for stumbling to one of these little ones that believe in Me, it were better for him to have a millstone hung around his neck and to be drowned in the depth of the sea.

⁷"Alas for the world because of the occasions of stumbling. The occasions have to come, but woe to the person on whose account they occur. ⁸If your hand or your foot hinders you, cut it off and throw it from you; it is better for you to enter life maimed or crippled than to keep both hands or feet and to be thrown into eternal fire. ⁹If your eye hinders you, pluck it out and throw it from you; it is better for you to enter life with one eye, than having two eyes to be cast into the fires of hell. ¹⁰See to it that you do not despise one of these little ones; for I tell you, that their angels^f in heaven are forever looking at the face of My heavenly Father.

¹¹"[The Son of Man has come to save the lost.]^g ¹²How does this seem to you? If a man has a hundred sheep and one of them strays, does he not leave the ninety-nine on the mountains to go out in search of the stray one? ¹³And if he manages to find it, I assure you that he is happier over that one than over the ninety-nine that did not stray. ¹⁴So it is not the will of your heavenly Father that one of these little ones should be lost.

¹⁵"If your brother should do wrong against you, go and show him his fault privately; in case he listens, you have won your brother.^h ¹⁶In case he does not listen, take one or two along, so that from the testimony of two or three witnesses the whole dispute may be settled.ⁱ ¹⁷If he refuses to listen to them, tell the church; and if he will not listen to the church, treat him like a pagan and a tax gatherer. ¹⁸I assure you, whatever you will bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever you allow on earth will be allowed in heaven.^j ¹⁹Once more I assure you that if two of you are agreed on earth about anything for which you pray, it will be done for you by My heavenly Father. ²⁰For where two or three have gathered in My name, I am there with them."

²¹Then Peter approached and said to Him, "Lord, how often shall my brother act amiss toward me and I forgive him? Up to seven times?" ²²Jesus said to him, "I do not say, up to seven, but up to seventy times seven.

²³"For this reason the kingdom of heaven may be compared to a king who planned to settle accounts with his agents.^k ²⁴As he began the settlement,

f) Our Lord here teaches angelic protection of individuals.

g) Verse 11, enclosed in brackets, is not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts. h) Cf. Gal. 6:1. i) Deut. 19:15.

j) The Church should be diligent in the exercise of the disciplinary functions that Christ has committed to it. k) See note at ch. 13:27.

one was brought in who owed him twenty million dollars,¹ ²⁵but as he had nothing to pay, his master ordered him to be sold, as well as his wife and children and everything he had, and to pay. ²⁶Then the agent fell down and implored him, 'Have patience with me and I will pay you everything.' ²⁷So, in pity for that agent his master released him and canceled his debt.

²⁸"But as that agent was leaving he met one of his fellow agents, who owed him twenty-five dollars. Grabbing him by the throat, he said, 'Pay me what you owe!' ²⁹Then his fellow agent fell down and implored him, 'Have patience with me and I will pay you.' ³⁰But he refused, and went and threw him into prison until he should pay the debt.

³¹"When his fellow servants saw what was done they were greatly distressed, and they went and told their master everything that had occurred.

³²Then his master summoned him and said to him: 'You contemptible slave! I canceled all that debt for you because you begged me. ³³Should not you have had pity on your fellow servant as I had pity on you?' ³⁴And angrily his master handed him over to the scourgers, until he should pay everything he owed him. ³⁵And so will My heavenly Father do to you, if each of you does not heartily forgive his brother."

19 WHEN JESUS HAD COMPLETED these sayings, He left Galilee and entered the Judean territory across the Jordan. ²Large crowds followed Him and He healed them there.

³Then the Pharisees approached Him to test Him. They asked, "Is it right to divorce one's wife for every given reason?" ⁴He replied, "Have you not read that from the beginning the Creator made them male and female, ⁵and said,^m On this account a man shall leave his father and mother and be joined to his wife, and the two shall be one flesh?' ⁶So they are no longer two but one flesh. What God then has joined, man must not separate." ⁷They said to Him, "Why then did Moses commandⁿ to give a divorce certificate and to dismiss her?" ⁸He answered them, "Due to your hard-heartedness Moses permitted you to divorce your wives, but it was not that way from the beginning. ⁹I tell you that whoever divorces his wife, except for unfaithfulness, and marries another commits adultery."

¹⁰The disciples said to Him, "If such is the case of a man with his wife, it is preferable not to marry." ¹¹But He replied, "Not all people accept this saying, but only those to whom it is given; ¹²for some eunuchs are such from birth, some were made eunuchs by men, and some have made themselves eunuchs for the sake of the kingdom of heaven. Whoever is able to accept it, let him accept it."

¹³Then little children were brought to Him so that He might lay His hands on them and pray, and the disciples reproved them. ¹⁴But Jesus said, "Allow the little ones and do not stop them from coming to Me, for of this kind the kingdom of heaven is composed." ¹⁵And after laying His hands on them He went away from there.

c. A.D. 30

¹⁶Someone approached Him and said, "Teacher, what good deed shall I do to secure eternal life?" ¹⁷He said to him, "Why do you ask Me about goodness? Only One is good. But if you wish to enter into life, keep the commandments."^o ¹⁸He inquired of Him, "Which?" Then Jesus said, "This: Do not commit murder;^p do not commit adultery; do not steal; do not witness falsely; ¹⁹honor your father and mother, and^q love your neighbor as yourself."

1) How could a slave owe his master $20,000,000? Obviously this great sum is used to show that the man could not possibly have paid such a huge amount; it is contrasted with the reasonable figure that the second slave is said to have owed the first, namely $25. Even this was a large sum in N.T. times, equivalent to three and a half months' wages.

The text reads "ten thousand talents" in vs. 24 and "a hundred denarii" in vs. 28. One silver talent equals about $2000; a denarius equals approximately twenty-five cents.

m) Christ substantiates the authenticity of the Genesis account of creation.

n) Christ affirms the Mosaic authorship of Deuteronomy.

o) Specifically the Ten Commandments, Ex. 20:1-17. p) See note at ch. 5:21. q) Lev. 19:18.

²⁰The young man said to Him, "All these things I have observed. How do I still fall behind?" ²¹Jesus replied, "If you want to be complete, go and sell what you have and donate it to the needy, and you will have treasure in heaven; then come and follow Me."

²²But the young man, on hearing that, went sadly away, for he had much property.

²³Jesus remarked to His disciples, "I assure you, it will be difficult for a rich person to enter the kingdom of heaven."

²⁴I say to you again, it is easier for a camel to pass through a needle's eye than for a wealthy person to enter the kingdom of God." ²⁵When the disciples heard this, they were utterly dumbfounded and said, "Who then can be saved?" ²⁶But Jesus looked at them and said, "With men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible."

²⁷Then Peter replied to Him, "We have left everything and have followed You. What then is there for us?"

²⁸Jesus answered, "I assure you that you followers of Mine, in the new age, when the Son of Man will sit upon the throne of His glory, you too will sit on twelve thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel." ²⁹Also everyone who has left houses or brothers or sisters or father or mother or children or fields on account of My name, will receive a hundred times over and will inherit eternal life. ³⁰But many now first will be last, and the last will be first.

20 "FOR THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN resembles an estate owner, who went out early in the morning to hire workmen for his vineyard,¹ and after agreeing with the workmen on twenty-five cents² a day, he sent them into his vineyard. ³At about nine o'clock he went out and saw other workmen standing in the market place unemployed, and said to them, 'You go into the vineyard, too, and I will pay you whatever is fair.' So they went. ⁵Going out again at twelve and at three, he did the same thing. ⁶When he went out at five o'clock, he found others standing there and said to them, 'Why do you stand here idle all day?' ⁷They answered, 'Because nobody has hired us.' He said to them, 'You go out into the vineyard too.'

⁸"As evening fell the owner of the vineyard said to his foreman, 'Call the workmen and pay their wages, starting with the last and on to the first.'

⁹When those who began around five o'clock came, they got twenty-five cents each; ¹⁰and when the first workmen came they thought that they would get more, but they, too, got twenty-five cents each. ¹¹On receiving it, they grumbled against the owner ¹²and said,

'These last have worked one hour and you have ranked them equal with us who endured the arduous toil and the scorching heat of the day.' ¹³But he answered one of them, 'Friend, I am not wronging you. Did you not agree with me on twenty-five cents? ¹⁴Take what is yours and go. I choose to pay this last one the same as you. ¹⁵Have I no right to do with my belongings as I please? Or do you look resentful because I am generous?' ¹⁶So the last will be first, and the first last."

¹⁷As Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, He took the Twelve aside and on the road said to them, ¹⁸"Take notice. We are going up to Jerusalem and the Son of Man will be betrayed to the chief priests and scribes. They will sentence Him to death, ¹⁹and hand Him over to the Gentiles to be mocked and scourged and crucified, and on the third day He will be raised."

²⁰Then the mother of Zebedee's sons approached Him with her sons, kneeling and requesting something of Him. ²¹He said to her, "What do you wish?" She replied, "Command that these my two sons will sit one at Your right and one at Your left in Your kingdom." ²²Jesus answered, "You do not know what you are asking. Can you drink the cup I am about to

r) See note at Mk. 10:24. s) Cf. Isa. 1:26. t) Cf. Isa. 5:7.

u) The actual coin was the denarius, worth in the mid-twentieth century about twenty-five cents. In the first century it had a much higher purchasing power than now and was a fair day's wage for a field hand.

drink?" They said to Him, "We can."²³ He told them, "You will indeed drink My cup^v but to sit at My right and My left is not Mine to grant, but it is for those for whom it has been prepared by My Father."

²⁴When the ten heard it, they were indignant at the two brothers, ²⁵but Jesus called them and said, "You know that the rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their superiors oppress them, ²⁶but with you it is different: Whoever among you wants to be great must be your servant ²⁷and whoever would be first will be your slave, ²⁸just as the Son of Man did not come to be served but to serve, and to give His life a ransom for many."

²⁹As they were leaving Jericho, a great throng followed Him. ³⁰And when two blind men who were sitting by the road heard that Jesus was passing, they shouted, "Lord, Son of David, take pity on us!" ³¹The crowd rebuked them, demanding silence, but they shouted the louder, "Lord, take pity on us, O Son of David." ³²Then Jesus stopped, called them and said, "What do you want Me to do for you?" ³³They said, "Lord, we would have our eyes opened." ³⁴So Jesus took pity on them and touched their eyes and at once they received their sight and followed Him.

21 WHEN JESUS CAME NEAR JERUSALEM and reached Bethphage^w at the Mount of Olives, He sent out two disciples, ²saying to them, "Go to the village opposite you and immediately you will find a donkey hitched, and a colt with her. Unhitch them and bring them to Me. ³Should anyone say anything to you, reply, 'The Lord needs them,' and without delay he will let them go." ⁴This happened so that the saying of the prophet might be fulfilled,^x ⁵"Tell Zion's daughter, Behold, your king is coming to you, gentle and mounted on a donkey, even on a colt, the foal of a beast of burden."

⁶The disciples went and did as Jesus had directed them. ⁷They brought the donkey and the colt and placed their coats on them, and He seated Himself on them. ⁸Many of the multitude, too, spread their clothes on the road, while others cut branches from the trees and strewed them on the road. ⁹And the crowds, some marching ahead^y and some in the rear, shouted,^z "Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord! Hosanna in the highest."

¹⁰When He entered Jerusalem, the whole city was agitated. "Who is this?"

¹¹they asked. The crowd replied, "This is the Prophet Jesus, from Nazareth in Galilee."

¹²Jesus entered the temple and expelled all who were buying and selling in its courts. He overturned the tables of the money changers and seats of those who sold doves, ¹³and told them, "It is written,^a 'My house shall be called a house of prayer,' but you are making it a robbers' den."

¹⁴The blind and the lame came to Him in the temple and He healed them. ¹⁵But when the chief priests and the scribes noticed the wonderful things He did, and the children shouting in the temple, "Hosanna to the Son of David!" they were indignant ¹⁶and said to Him, "Do You hear what they are saying?" Jesus answered, "Yes. Did you never read,^b 'From the mouth of babes and nurslings Thou hast perfected praise?'" ¹⁷And leaving them He went outside the city to Bethany,^c and there He spent the night.

¹⁸In the early morning, as He rev) Both James and John would dedicate their lives to the Lord Jesus Christ. Part of the cup that they would drink would be martyrdom for James, Acts 12:1-3, and exile for John, Rev. 1:9. However, the request that they and their mother made of Jesus was essentially selfish.

w) "Bethphage" means house of unripe figs. See note at Lk. 19:29. x) Zech. 9:9.

y) They evidently came from Jerusalem to meet Jesus and became the van of the procession.

z) Ps. 118:25-26, "Hosanna" means save now or salvation. The expression is somewhat similar to "God save the king." a) Isa. 56:7; Jer. 7:11. b) Ps. 8:2.

c) "Bethany" means house of depression or house of a wine press. It was in Bethany, at the home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus, that Jesus was sometimes entertained. Bethany was also the home of Simon, the leper, ch. 26:6, and it was from Bethany that our Lord ascended to heaven, Lk. 24:50. It was at the foot of the Mount of Olives, not more than two miles from Jerusalem.

turned to the city, He felt hungry ¹⁹and, noticing a single fig tree by the roadside, walked to it and found on it nothing but leaves. He said to it, "Let there be no fruit from you any more forever." And instantly the fig tree withered. ²⁰As the disciples observed it, they marveled and said, "How did the fig tree wither so quickly?" ²¹Jesus answered them, "I assure you, if you have faith and do not doubt, you will not only do what was done to the fig tree, but if you say to this mountain, 'Be lifted and thrown into the sea,' it will happen. ²²And everything you ask in prayer you will obtain, if you believe."

²³Upon his entering the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people stepped up to Him during His teaching and said, "By what authority are You doing these things and who gave You this authority?" ²⁴Jesus answered them, "Let Me ask you one question, too, and if you answer Me, then I will tell you by what authority I do these things: ²⁵Where did John's baptism come from, from heaven or from men?" But they argued among themselves, "If we say 'From heaven,' He will say to us, 'Then why did you not believe him?' ²⁶But if we say, 'From men,' we are afraid of the people, for they all consider John a prophet." ²⁷So they answered Jesus, "We do not know." He said to them, "Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things."

²⁸"But how does this seem to you: A man had two sons and, going to the first, he said, 'Son, go out and work today in the vineyard.' ²⁹He replied, 'I won't.' Afterward he felt sorry and went out. ³⁰Going to the second, he said the same to him. He answered, 'I will, sir.' But he did not go. ³¹Which of the two did the father's will?" They said, "The first." Jesus said to them, "Truly I tell you, the tax gatherers and the prostitutes are entering the kingdom of heaven ahead of you. ³²For John came to you on a mission of righteousness and you did not believe him; but the tax gatherers and the prostitutes believed him, and although you saw that, yet you did not afterward repent and believe him."

³³"Hear another parable:^d There was an estate owner who planted a vineyard, hedged it in, dug out a wine press in it, built a watchtower and leased it to tenant farmers, then went abroad. ³⁴When vintage time approached, he sent his agents^e to the tenant farmers to collect his share; ³⁵but the farmers took his agents and beat one, killed another, and stoned a third. ³⁶Subsequently he sent other slaves more numerous than the first, whom they treated in the same way. ³⁷Finally he sent them his son, saying, 'They will respect my son.' ³⁸But when the tenant farmers saw his son, they said among themselves, 'This is the heir. Come on, let us kill him and get hold of his inheritance.' ³⁹So they seized him, put him out of the vineyard, and killed him. ⁴⁰When therefore the owner of the vineyard arrives, what will he do to those tenant farmers?"

⁴¹They answered, "He will put the wretches to a miserable death and will lease the vineyard to other tenant farmers, who will pay him his share each season." ⁴²Jesus said to them, "Did you never read in the Scriptures, 'The stone^f which the builders rejected has become the chief corner stone; this is the Lord's doing and it fills our eyes with wonder?' ⁴³I tell you, therefore, that the kingdom of God will be taken from you and will be given to a people that produces its fruits. ⁴⁴[Whoever falls on that stone will be smashed, and on whom it falls, he shall be pulverized.]"^h

⁴⁵When the chief priests and the Pharisees heard His parables, they knew He was talking about them,

d) Cf. Isa. 5:1-7. e) See note at ch. 13:27. f) Ps. 118:22-23.

g) A stone or a rock is frequently used in the Scriptures as a symbol of Christ. See Gen. 49:24; Deut. 32:4; Isa. 8:14-15; 28:16; Dan. 2:34; Rom. 9:32-33; I Cor. 1:23; 3:11; Eph. 2:19-22; I Pet. 2:3-8.

h) Verse 44, enclosed in brackets, is not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

⁴⁶and they wanted to arrest Him; but they were afraid of the crowds, since they considered Him to be a prophet.

22 JESUS AGAIN TALKED TO THEM in parables, saying,ⁱ ²"The kingdom of heaven is similar to a king who prepared a wedding banquet for his son ³and sent out his servants to notify those invited to the wedding, but they would not come. ⁴Once more he sent other servants, saying, 'Tell those invited, "Look here! I have gotten my dinner ready, my steers and fatted beasts are killed, and everything is prepared. Come to the wedding,"' ⁵But disregarding it, they went off—this one to his farm, that one to his trade, ⁶and the rest, taking hold of his servants, ill-treated and killed them.

⁷"The king was infuriated. He dispatched his troops, destroyed those murderers, and burned their city. ⁸He then told his servants, 'True, the banquet is ready, but the invited guests proved undeserving; ⁹so go to the thoroughfares and invite to the wedding everyone you find.' ¹⁰Those servants, as they went out on the roads, got together all whom they came across, both bad and good, and the wedding was fully supplied with guests.

¹¹"But when the king came in to look the guests over, he noticed there a man not dressed in a wedding robe, ¹²to whom he said, 'Friend, how did you enter here without a wedding robe?' But he was speechless. ¹³Then the king said to his domestic servants, 'Bind him hand and foot and throw him out into the outside darkness; there will be weeping and grinding of teeth.' ¹⁴For many are called, but few are chosen."

¹⁵The Pharisees then went and plotted how they might entangle Him in His speech. ¹⁶So they dispatched their disciples to Him, with the Herodians,^k

who said, "Teacher, we know that You are sincere and that You teach the way of God honestly. You are afraid of none and You court no one's favor. ¹⁷Give us therefore Your opinion: Is it right to pay tax to Caesar or not?" ¹⁸But Jesus saw through their malice and said, "Why do you test Me, you hypocrites? ¹⁹Show Me a coin." And they brought him a coin.^l ²⁰"Whose is this likeness and signature?" He asked them. ²¹They said, "Caesar's." He told them, "Then pay Caesar what is due to Caesar, and God what is due to God." ²²As they listened, they marveled and went off and left Him.

²³That same day Sadducees, who say there is no resurrection, approached Him and asked Him, ²⁴"Teacher, Moses said^m if someone dies childless, his brother shall marry his widow and raise descendants for his brother. ²⁵Now there were seven brothers in our community, the first of whom married and died and, having no children, left his widow to his brother. ²⁶So the second, and the third, down to the seventh; ²⁷and, following them all, the woman died. ²⁸At the resurrection, then, whose wife will she be of the seven? For they all had her."

²⁹Jesus answered them, "You are mistaken. You understand neither the Scriptures nor the power of God, ³⁰for in the resurrected state they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels in heaven. ³¹And about the rising of the dead, have you never read what God said to you,ⁿ ³²I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? He is God, not of dead but living beings."

³³As the crowds listened they were amazed at His teaching; ³⁴but when the Pharisees heard that He had silenced the Sadducees, they put their heads together ³⁵and one of them, a teacher of the Law, by way of testing Him, asked, ³⁶"Teacher! what is the

i) The parables of the final week of Christ's earthly ministry relate to His rejection by His own nation.

j) Cf. Rom. 3:19.

k) The Herodians were not a religious sect like the Pharisees and Sadducees (see notes at ch. 3:7) but a political party that supported the Herods. All three groups opposed Jesus, vss. 15-16, 23, 34-35.

l) The text reads "denarius," a coin equal to about twenty-five cents in mid-twentieth century U.S. currency. See notes at chs. 18:24 and 20:2.

m) A custom that predates even the Mosaic Law, cf. Gen. 38:8; Deut. 25:5-6. n) Ex. 3:6.

great commandment in the Law?"

³⁷He said to him, "You shall love the Lord your God with your whole heart, with your whole soul, and with your whole mind. ³⁸This is the great and chief commandment. ³⁹The second is like it, 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself.' ⁴⁰On these two^o commandments the whole Law and the Prophets depend."

⁴¹While the Pharisees were still together, Jesus questioned them, ⁴²"What is your idea about the Christ? Whose Son is He?" They said to Him, "David's." ⁴³He asked them, "How then does David in the Spirit call Him Lord, saying,^p ⁴⁴'The LORD said to my Lord, Sit at My right hand until I put Thy enemies under Thy feet'? ⁴⁵If then David calls Him Lord, how is He his son?" ⁴⁶No one was able to answer Him a word; neither from that day did anyone presume to question Him any more.

23 THEN JESUS SAID TO THE crowds and to His disciples: ²"The scribes^a and the Pharisees are occupying Moses' seat; ³therefore do and observe whatever they tell you, but do not behave as they do; for they talk and do not practice. ⁴They tie up heavy loads and place them on the people's shoulders, but they themselves do not care to move them with their finger. ⁵They conduct all their activities to be noticed by men. For they enlarge their phylacteries^r and lengthen their fringes;^s ⁶they cherish the chief place at dinners and the best seats in the synagogues, ⁷the greetings in the market places and to be called Rabbi^t by men.

⁸"But you must not be called Rabbi, for one is your teacher and you are all brothers. ⁹And call no one on earth your father, for one is your heavenly Father; ¹⁰neither be called teachers, for you have one teacher — the Christ. ¹¹But he who is greatest among you will be your servant; ¹²for whoever elevates himself shall be humbled, and whoever humbles himself shall be elevated.

¹³"Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, because you shut the kingdom of heaven in people's faces; for neither do you enter^u nor do you allow those entering to go in. ¹⁴[Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for as a pretext for your piety you pray long prayers, and you cheat widows out of their houses. For this you will receive greater judgment.]^v

¹⁵Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for you traverse sea and land to make one proselyte and, when he becomes one, you make him a son of perdition twice worse than yourselves.

¹⁶"Alas for you, blind leaders, who say, 'If anyone swears by the temple, it means nothing; but if anyone swears by the temple's gold, he is bound by his oath.' ¹⁷Blind fools! For which is greater, the gold, or the temple that renders the gold sacred? ¹⁸Furthermore you say, 'If anyone swears by the altar, it means nothing; but if he swears by the offering upon it, he is bound by his oath.' ¹⁹Blind ones, which is greater, the offering, or the altar that renders the offering sacred? ²⁰So one who swears by the altar, swears by it and by everything on it, ²¹and one who swears by the temple, swears by it and by Him who occupies it, ²²and one who swears by heaven, swears by the throne of God and by Him who sits upon it.

²³"Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, because you title

o) Deut. 6:5; Lev. 19:18.

p) Ps. 110:1. This psalm, written by David about 1000 B.C., points to Christ, the Messiah, and is one of a number of Messianic psalms. q) See note at ch. 2:4.

r) A phylactery was a square calfskin box in which slips of parchment, bearing Scripture texts, namely Ex. 13:2-10, 11-17; Deut. 6:4-9; 11:13-22, were placed. The phylactery was worn either on the forehead or on the left arm below the elbow.

s) The Israelites sewed fringes on the borders of their garments as a reminder of God's commandments and that they were His chosen people, Num. 15:37-40.

t) "Rabbi," from the Hebrew word rav or rab, means master, lord.

u) In following the scribes and Pharisees, who were themselves lost, the people would not reach heaven.

v) Verse 14, enclosed in brackets, is not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

mint, dill and cummin,* and you omit the weightier aspects of the Law—justice, mercy, and faith. These you ought to do without omitting the others. ²¹Blind leaders, who strain out the gnat but swallow the camel!

²⁵"Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites; for you clean the outside of the cup and the plate, but inside they are full of extortion and self-indulgence. ²⁶Blind Pharisees! First clean the inside of the cup and the plate so that its outside may be clean as well. ²⁷Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for you resemble white-washed tombs which appear beautiful on the outside, but inside they are full of dead men's bones and every impurity. ²⁸So you seem to men to be outwardly upright, but inside you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness.

²⁹"Alas for you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for you build the tombs of the prophets and you decorate the monuments of the righteous, ³⁰and you say, 'Had we lived in the days of our fathers, we would not have had a part in shedding the blood of the prophets.' ³¹Thus you testify against yourselves; for you are the sons of the prophets' murderers. ³²Fill up the measure of your fathers. ³³Snakes! You viper brood! How will you escape the sentence to hell?*

³⁴"Therefore, take notice: I will send you prophets and sages and scribes, some of whom you will kill and crucify, and some of whom you will flog in your synagogues and persecute from town to town, ³⁵so that there may come upon you all the righteous blood that has been shed on the earth, from the blood of righteous Abel^y to the blood of Zechariah^z the son of Barachiah, whom you murdered between the temple and the altar. ³⁶I assure you that all this will come upon this generation.

³⁷"O Jerusalem! Jerusalem! murdering the prophets and stoning those sent to you! How often have I wanted to gather your children as a hen gathers her chicks under her wings, but you were unwilling. ³⁸See, your house is left forsaken; ³⁹for I tell you that you will no longer see Me at all until you say, 'Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord.'"

24 LEAVING THE TEMPLE, JESUS went on His way; and His disciples came forward to point out to Him the temple buildings. ²And He said to them, "Do you not see all these things? I assure you, not one stone will be left here on another, that will not be thrown down."

³When He was seated on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came to Him privately and said, "Tell us, when will these things happen and what will be the sign of Your coming and of the end of the age?"^a ⁴Jesus replied to them^b, "See that none misleads you; ⁵for many will come in My name, saying, 'I am the Christ,' and will mislead many.

⁶"You will be hearing of wars and rumors of wars; see that you be not troubled; for they have to come, but that is not yet the end. ⁷For nation will rise against nation and kingdom against kingdom, and there will be famines and earthquakes in various places; ⁸all these are but the early pains of childbirth. ⁹Then they will hand you over to be persecuted, and they will kill you, and you will be hated by all the nations on account of My name. ¹⁰Many then will fall away and will betray one another and hate one another; ¹¹and many false prophets will arise and will deceive

w) Dill (or anise) and cummin are herbs that are native of the Near East. Their aromatic seeds are used in flavoring.

x) This was a warning that they were at the point of killing their Messiah's, thus following the murderous spirit of their fathers. y) Gen. 4:1-8.

z) II Chron. 24:20-22. Doubtless Jehoiada was Zechariah's grandfather, whereas Barachiah was his father.

a) There are two questions really: (1) concerning the destruction of the temple, v. 2; and (2) about the Lord's return at the end of the age. The former is answered clearly in the parallel passage in Lk. 21:20, 24, and the latter in this chapter, vss. 4-33.

b) Beginning with the events that culminated with the destruction of Jerusalem, Jesus goes right on to foretell circumstances leading up to His return in judgment.

many¹²and, due to excessive lawlessness^c the love of many will grow cold.¹³But he who endures to the end will be saved.¹⁴And this good news of the kingdom will be preached all over the world to testify to all the nations, and then the end will come.

¹⁵"When you, therefore, see the desolating abomination mentioned by the Prophet Daniel,^d set up in the holy place—let the reader take note of this—¹⁶then those in Judea should flee to the mountains; ¹⁷one on the roof must not go down to fetch things out of his house, ¹⁸and one in the field must not turn back to pick up his coat. ¹⁹But alas for those who are pregnant and those who are nursing children in those days!

²⁰"Pray that your flight may not be in winter or on a Sabbath; ²¹for then there will be such great tribulation as has never been experienced from the world's beginning until now,^e nor ever will be. ²²If those days were not shortened, not a mortal could survive. However, for the sake of the elect, those days will be shortened.

²³"If someone then tells you, 'Look! here is the Christ!' or, 'There He is!' do not believe him; ²⁴for false Messiahs and false prophets will arise and show great signs and wonders to mislead, if possible, even the elect. ²⁵Remember that I have forewarned you. ²⁶So, if they say to you, 'He is there in the desert,' do not go out; 'In these rooms here,' do not believe it. ²⁷For like the lightning that flashes from the east and shines to the west, so will the coming of the Son of Man be.^f ²⁸Wherever there is a corpse the vultures will flock there.

²⁹"Right after the tribulation of those days the sun will be darkened and the moon will not shed her light; the stars will fall from the sky and the forces of heaven will be shaken. ³⁰Then will the sign of the Son of

Man be shown in the sky, and all the tribes of earth will mourn.^g And they will see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of heaven^h with great power and glory. ³¹And He will send out His angels with a loud trumpet call, and they will gather His chosen from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

³²"Learn a lesson from the fig tree. As soon as her branch becomes tender and puts out leaves, you know that summer is near. ³³When you observe all these things, you know that He is so near, that He is at the door. ³⁴I assure you, all these things will take place before this present generation passes on.ⁱ ³⁵Heaven and earth will pass away, but My words will never pass away. ³⁶But no one knows about that day and hour; neither the angels in heaven, nor the Son but only the Father.

³⁷"As were the days of Noah,^j so will the coming of the Son of Man be; ³⁸for as in those days before the flood people ate and drank, married and were given in marriage until the day when Noah entered the ark, ³⁹and did not understand until the deluge came and swept them all away, so will the coming of the Son of Man be. ⁴⁰Then there will be two men in the field—one will be taken and one left; ⁴¹two women will be grinding at the mill—one will be taken and one left.

⁴²"Keep watch, therefore, because you do not know on what day your Lord is coming. ⁴³But of this be sure, if the owner of the house had known in which hour of the night the thief was coming, he would have kept awake and would not have allowed his house to be broken into. ⁴⁴Therefore you also be ready; for the Son of Man is coming at an hour when you do not expect Him.

⁴⁵"Who, then, is the faithful and prudent slave,^k whom the master has

c) Cf. II Thess. 2:7; II Tim. 3:1-5.

d) Dan. 9:27; 11:31; 12:11. One temple desecration had already occurred under Antiochus Epiphanes in 167 B.C.; the temple was destroyed in A.D. 70 under Titus; and this verse points to a future desecration by Antichrist of a rebuilt temple, Dan. 9:26-27. e) Dan. 12:1.

f) Cf. Rev. 19:11-16. g) Zech. 12:10-14; cf. Rev. 18:11, 19.

h) A cloud carried Christ up into heaven at His ascension, Acts 1:9-11.

i) The destruction of Jerusalem is a figure of the world's destruction at the return of the Lord.

j) Gen. 6:1-7:24. k) See note at ch. 13:27.

appointed in charge of his household to provide their sustenance at the proper time? ⁴⁶Happy is that servant whom his master finds doing so when he arrives. ⁴⁷I assure you, he will put him in charge of all his property.

⁴⁸"But if that servant is wicked and says to himself, 'My master is delaying his coming,' ⁴⁹and he starts to strike his fellow workers, and eats and drinks with the drunkards, ⁵⁰that slave's master will arrive on a day when he does not expect him and at an hour he does not know ⁵¹and will scourge him till his flesh is cut and will put him with the hypocrites; there will be wailing and grinding of teeth there.

25 "THEN THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN will be comparable to ten bridesmaids,¹ who, taking their lamps, went out to meet the bridegroom.^m ²Five of them were foolish and five were prudent. ³The foolish ones took lamps but took no oil along with them, ⁴but the prudent ones took along oil in the flasks with their lamps. ⁵And as the bridegroom delayed his coming they all grew drowsy and fell asleep.

⁶"But at midnight there came a shout, 'Here is the bridegroom; go out to meet him!' ⁷Then all those bridesmaids got up and trimmed their lamps. ⁸And the foolish said to the prudent, 'Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.' ⁹But the prudent answered, 'No, indeed; there would not be enough for you and us; go to the dealers and buy for yourselves.'

¹⁰"Now while they went off to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the marriage feast. And the door was shut. ¹¹Afterward the rest of the bridesmaids came and said, 'Master, master, open up for us!' ¹²But he replied, 'I tell you truly, I do not know you.' ¹³So keep watch; for you know neither the day nor the hour [when the Son of Man is coming].ⁿ

¹⁴"For it will be like that of a man going away, who summoned his domestic servants and committed to them his belongings: ¹⁵To one he gave ten thousand dollars;^o to another, four thousand; and to a third, two thousand—to each according to his own ability; then he went away. ¹⁶At once the one with the ten thousand dollars went and did business with them and gained another ten thousand; ¹⁷so did the one with four thousand dollars gain another four thousand. ¹⁸But the one with two thousand dollars went and dug in the earth and hid his master's money.

¹⁹"After a long time the master of those servants came back and settled accounts with them. ²⁰The one who had ten thousand dollars came forward and brought ten thousand dollars more, saying, 'Master, you entrusted to me ten thousand dollars; look, I have gained these other ten thousand.' ²¹His master said to him, 'Well done, good and faithful servant, you were trustworthy in a little, I will appoint you over much. Share the happiness of your master.' ²²Then the one with four thousand dollars came and said, 'Master, you handed me four thousand dollars; see, I have gained four thousand dollars more.' ²³The master said to him, 'Well done, good and faithful servant; you were trustworthy in a little, I will appoint you over much. Share the happiness of your master.'

²⁴"But the one who had received two thousand dollars also came forward and said, 'Master, knowing you, that you are a harsh man, reaping where you never sowed and gathering where you did not winnow, ²⁵I was in fear;

1) The Greek word rendered "bridesmaids" here and in the verses that follow is parthenois, a plural form of a noun which means specifically virgin. It is the precise word which is used to describe Mary, the mother of Jesus, in ch. 1:23, "Behold, the virgin will be with child." Obviously the girls of this parable would be virgins. Because of the context a modern equivalent is employed here. ^m) Some translations, notably the Vulgate and Syriac, read "the bridegroom and the bride." ⁿ) The words enclosed in brackets are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

^o) In vs. 15-28 the direct translation from the Greek text reads "five talents [pentē talanta]," "two talents" and "one talent," and in vs. 29 "ten talents." A silver talent would be equivalent to about $2000 in mid-twentieth century U.S. currency, so that the figures given in this edition are approximately accurate.

so I went and buried the two thousand dollars in the ground; here you have what is yours.' ²⁶His Master replied to him, 'Despicable and lazy slave! You knew that I reap where I did not sow and gather where I did not winnow?' ²⁷Then you should have invested my money with the bankers, and on my return I would have gotten my capital with interest. ²⁸So, take the two thousand dollars away from him and give it to the one with the twenty thousand dollars. ²⁹For to everyone who has will be given, and he will have more than plenty; but from him who is wanting will be taken even what he has.' ³⁰Throw the useless slave into the outside darkness; there will be weeping and grinding of teeth there.'

³¹"When the Son of Man comes in His glory,^a and all the angels with Him, then He will be seated on the throne of His glory, ³²and all nations^r will be gathered before Him. And He will separate them from one another as a shepherd parts the sheep from the goats; ³³and He will place the sheep at His right and the goats at His left.

³⁴"The King will then say to those at His right, 'Come, My Father's blessed ones, inherit the kingdom that has been prepared for you from the foundation of the world; ³⁵for I was hungry and you gave Me food; I was thirsty and you gave Me drink; I was a stranger and you entertained Me; ³⁶naked, and you clothed Me; sick, and you looked after Me; in prison, and you visited Me.'

³⁷"Then the righteous will answer Him, 'Lord, when did we see You hungry and nourished You, or thirsty and provided You drink? ³⁸When did we see You a stranger and entertained You, or naked and provided You with clothing? ³⁹When did we see You ill or in prison and visited You?' ⁴⁰And the King will answer, 'I assure you, insofar as you did it to one of the least of these brothers of Mine, you did it to Me.'

⁴¹"Then will He say to those at His left, 'Begone from Me, accursed ones, to the everlasting fire prepared for the devil and his angels; ⁴²for I was hungry and you did not feed Me; thirsty and you gave Me no drink; ⁴³I was a stranger and you did not entertain Me; naked and you failed to clothe Me; ill and in prison and you did not come to see Me.' ⁴⁴Then will they too answer, 'Lord, when did we see You hungry or thirsty or a stranger or naked or ill or in prison and did not serve You?' ⁴⁵Then He will answer them, 'I assure you, insofar as you failed to do it to one of the least of these, you failed to do it to Me.' ⁴⁶And they will go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous into eternal life."

26 WHEN JESUS HAD FINISHED ALL these words, He said to His disciples, ²"You know that after two days the Passover will be celebrated and the Son of Man will be handed over to be crucified." ³Then the chief priests and the elders of the people met at the palace of the high priest, Caiaphas by name, ⁴and plotted to arrest Jesus underhandedly and to kill Him. ⁵But they said, "Not during the Feast, else there might be a riot among the people."

⁶While Jesus was at Bethany in the house of Simon, the leper, ⁷a woman^a approached Him with an alabaster flask of very precious perfume and poured it on His head as He was seated^t at the table. ⁸Observing it, the disciples said indignantly, "Why this waste? ⁹This could have been sold at a good price and given to the poor." ¹⁰When Jesus heard it He said to them, "Why do you embarrass the woman? She has done something lovely for Me; ¹¹for you always have the poor with you, but Me you do not have always. ¹²By pouring this perfume on My body she has prepared for My burial. ¹³I assure you that wherever this gospel is preached throughout the world, this

p) A basic spiritual principle - i.e., that those who have received most from God are held most responsible to Him. q) Rev. 19:11-16.

r) This does not refer to nations in totality but to individuals among the Gentile nations. Each person who stands before the Lord on this occasion will be classed either as a sheep or a goat.

s) This was Mary, the sister of Martha and Lazarus, Jn. 12:3. t) See note at Mk. 2:15.

that she has done will be mentioned to her memory."

¹⁴Then one of the Twelve, called Judas Iscariot, went to the chief priests ¹⁵and said, "What are you willing to give me and I will hand Him over to you?" And they offered him thirty pieces of silver." ¹⁶From then on he watched for an opportunity to betray Him.

¹⁷On the first day of unleavened bread the disciples approached Jesus and said, "Where do you want us to prepare for You to eat the Passover?"

¹⁸He said, "Go into the city to so-and-so and tell him, 'The Teacher says, My time is near; I shall observe the Passover with My disciples at your house.'"

¹⁹So the disciples did as Jesus directed them and prepared the Passover.

²⁰As evening was falling, He sat at the table with the twelve disciples ²¹and, while they were eating, He said, "I tell you truly that one of you will betray Me." ²²Greatly distressed, they began to say to Him one after the other, "Surely it is not I, Lord?" ²³But He replied, "He who has dipped his hand with Me in the dish, he will betray Me. ²⁴The Son of Man will indeed go away as has been written of Him, but alas for that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed. Better for that man had he never been born!" ²⁵Judas, who betrayed Him, said, "Surely it is not I, Rabbi?" He said to him, "You have said it."

²⁶As they were eating, Jesus took bread, gave thanks, and broke it and gave it to the disciples, saying, "Take, eat," this is My body." ²⁷He also took the cup and, after giving thanks, gave it to them, saying, "All of you drink of it; ²⁸for this is My blood of the new covenant poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins. ²⁹I tell you, from now on I shall not drink of the product of the vine at all until that day when I shall drink it new with you in My Father's kingdom."

³⁰When they had sung a hymn they went out to the Mount of Olives.

³¹Then Jesus said to them, "Tonight you will all desert Me; for it is written,* I shall strike the shepherd and the sheep of the flock will be scattered."

³²But after I am raised up I will precede you to Galilee."

³³Peter answered Him, "Though all the rest desert You, I will never desert You." ³⁴Jesus said to him, "I assure you, this night before a rooster crows, you will deny Me three times." ³⁵Peter said to Him, "Even if I must die with You, never will I deny You." And all the disciples spoke the same way.

³⁶Then Jesus came with them to a place called Gethsemane,[†] and told the disciples, "Sit down here, while I go yonder and pray." ³⁷Taking along Peter and the two sons of Zebedee,[‡] He began to feel grieved and deeply distressed. ³⁸Then He said to them, "My soul is mortally grieved; stay here and keep watch with Me." ³⁹And, moving forward a little, He fell on His face, praying, "My Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from Me; however, not as I will but as Thou wilt."

⁴⁰When He came to the disciples, He found them fast asleep and said to Peter, "So you were not able to watch with Me for a single hour? ⁴¹Watch and pray, so that you may not fall into temptation; the spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak."

⁴²For a second time He went away and prayed, "My Father, if it cannot pass from Me without My drinking it, Thy will be done." ⁴³When He came back, again He found them asleep, for their eyes were heavy. So ⁴⁴He left them once more and went away the third time speaking the same words. ⁴⁵Then He came to the disciples and said to them, "Are you still sleeping

u) These pieces of silver were probably silver shekels equal, in mid-twentieth century U.S. currency, to a little more than one dollar per shekel. Judas' price for betraying Christ was from thirty to thirty-five dollars.

v) "Rabbi," a courteous title of address meaning master, lord. Judas apparently left after Jesus answered his question and did not share in the institution of the Lord's Supper.

w) Cf. I Cor. 11:23-29.

x) Zech. 13:7.

y) "Gethsemane" means oil press. It is situated east of Jerusalem on a slope of the Mount of Olives and across a brook called Kidron. z) James and John, ch. 4:21.

and taking your rest? The hour has come, and the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.^a ⁴⁶Arise, let us be going. Look, My betrayer is at hand."

⁴⁷He was still speaking when Judas, one of the Twelve, came and with him a large mob from the chief priests and elders of the people, carrying swords and clubs. ⁴⁸Now His betrayer had given them a signal, "Whom I kiss, He is the man. Seize Him." ⁴⁹At once he went up to Jesus and said, "Greetings, Rabbi," and kissed Him. ⁵⁰But Jesus said to him, "Friend, for what are you here?" Then they came forward, put their hands on Jesus, and arrested Him.

⁵¹One of Jesus' companions^b put out his hand, drew his sword and, striking the high priest's slave, cut off his ear. ⁵²Jesus then spoke to him, "Return your sword to its place, for all who draw the sword shall be destroyed by the sword. ⁵³Or do you suppose I cannot appeal to My Father and at once He would provide Me with more than twelve legions^c of angels? ⁵⁴How, then, will the Scriptures be fulfilled that it must happen this way?"

⁵⁵At the same time Jesus said to the crowds, "Have you come as against a robber, with swords and clubs to arrest Me? Daily I have sat in the temple teaching, and you never seized Me. ⁵⁶But all this has occurred, so that the writings of the prophets may be fulfilled." Then all the disciples deserted Him and fled.

⁵⁷Those who had arrested Jesus led Him away to Caiaphas, the high priest, where the scribes and the elders had gathered together. ⁵⁸But Peter^d followed Him from a distance as far as the high priest's courtyard and, stepping inside, sat down with the attendants to see the end. ⁵⁹Now the chief priests and the entire Sanhedrin^e looked for false testimony against Jesus,^f in order that they might execute Him; ⁶⁰but although many false witnesses came forward, they found nothing. Finally two came forward, ⁶¹who said, "This fellow said, 'I have power to destroy God's temple and to build it again in three days.'"

⁶²So the high priest stood up and said to Him, "Have You nothing to say? What about their evidence against You?" ⁶³But Jesus was silent.^g The high priest said to Him, "I charge You on oath by the living God that You tell us whether You are the Christ, the Son of God." ⁶⁴Jesus said to him, "As you say. Besides, I tell you that shortly you will see the Son of Man seated at the right hand of the Almighty and coming upon the clouds of heaven."

⁶⁵Then the high priest tore his clothes, saying, "He has blasphemed! What further need do we have of witnesses? You have now heard His blasphemy. ⁶⁶What do you think?" They answered, "He deserves death!" ⁶⁷Then they spat in His face^h and struck Him with the fist.ⁱ Others slapped Him^j ⁶⁸saying, "Prophecy to us, Christ! Who struck You?"

⁶⁹Now Peter was sitting outside in the courtyard and one slave girl came up to him, saying, "And you were with Jesus the Galilean." ⁷⁰But before them all he made denial, "I do not know what you mean!" ⁷¹As he was going out into the entrance of the courtyard, another girl noticed him and said to those who were there, "This fellow was with Jesus the Nazarene." ⁷²Again he denied it with an oath, "I do not know the man!" ⁷³A little later the bystanders came up and said to Peter, "You certainly are one of them too, for your accent reveals it." ⁷⁴Then he started to curse and to swear, "I do not know the man!" Then a rooster crowed. ⁷⁵And Peter recollected the word that Jesus had spoken, "Before a rooster crows you will deny Me three times." And going outside he cried bitterly.^k

a) This may mean the approaching crowd, v. 47, but it also refers to the Romans to whom He would be delivered, ch. 20:19. b) Simon Peter, Jn. 18:10.

c) A Roman legion was composed of 5000 to 6000 men. d) John followed also, Jn. 18:15-16.

e) See note at Lk. 22:66. f) Cf. Ps. 35:11.

g) Isa. 53:7. See also Matt. 27:14. h) Isa. 50:6; Zech. 13:7. i) Cf. Isa. 52:14. j) Cf. Mic. 5:1.

k) See note at Lk. 22:62.

27 AT DAWN ALL THE CHIEF priests and the elders of the people held consultation against Jesus in order to execute Him. ²Having bound Him, they led Him away and handed Him over to Pilate, the governor.

³When Judas, His betrayer, saw that He was condemned, he felt remorse and returned the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, ⁴saying, "I sinned in betraying innocent blood." But they said, "What is that to us? You see to that yourself." ⁵He then flung down the silver pieces in the temple, withdrew and, going off, hanged himself. ⁶The chief priests picked up the money and said, "It is not right to put this in the treasury, since it is blood money." ⁷So, after conferring, they bought with it the Potter's Field as a cemetery for strangers; ⁸therefore that field is called to this day, "The Field of Blood." ⁹Then the saying of Jeremiah the prophet was fulfilled, ¹"And I took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of the man on whom a price was set, whom Israel's sons had evaluated, ¹⁰and gave them for the potter's field as the Lord directed me."

¹¹But Jesus stood before the governor, and the governor questioned Him, "Are You the King of the Jews?" Jesus replied, "As you say." ¹²And to the accusations of the chief priests and the elders against Him He made no reply. ¹³Then Pilate said to Him, "Do You not hear how much they testify against You?" ¹⁴But to the governor's great surprise He answered him never a word.

¹⁵Now it was customary for the governor to release at the feast one prisoner selected by the populace. ¹⁶And at that time they held a notorious convict called Barabbas. ^m¹⁷So when they had assembled, Pilate said to them, "Whom do you want released to you, Barabbas or Jesus, who is called

Christ? ¹⁸For he knew that theyⁿ had delivered Him out of envy.

¹⁹While he was seated on the tribunal, his wife sent him a message that said, "Have nothing to do with that innocent man, for I suffered a great deal today in a dream because of Him."

²⁰But the chief priests and elders persuaded the masses to ask for Barabbas and to have Jesus destroyed. ²¹The governor answered them, "Which of the two shall I release to you?" They said, "Barabbas!" ²²Pilate asked them, "Then what shall I do with Jesus, who is called Christ?" They all said, "Let Him be crucified!" ²³Pilate said, "Why, what wrong has He done?" But they shouted all the more loudly, "Let Him be crucified!"

²⁴When Pilate saw that he was accomplishing nothing but that instead a riot was brewing, he took water and washed his hands^o before the crowd, saying, "I am innocent of the blood of this man; you yourselves see to it." ²⁵And all the people answered, "His blood be on us and our children." ²⁶He then released Barabbas to them; but Jesus he flogged and handed over to be crucified.

²⁷Then the governor's soldiers took Jesus along into the palace and gathered the whole cohort^p around Him. ²⁸They stripped Him and put a scarlet robe on Him; ²⁹they plaited a crown of thorns and placed it on His head, also a reed in His hand, and, kneeling before Him, they ridiculed Him, "Long live the King of the Jews!" ³⁰They spat on Him; they took the reed and struck Him on the head; ³¹and after they had mocked Him, they took off the robe and put on His own clothes. Then they led Him away to be crucified.

³²On the way out they found a Cyrenian called Simon,^q whom they forced to carry His cross. ³³Arriving at a place called Golgotha, which means

1) Although the citation is attributed to Jeremiah, the reference is certainly to Zech. 11:12-13. In Jer. 18:1-4 and 19:1-3 allusion is made to a potter, but no prediction concerning a potter's field for burial is found there. Doubtless "Jeremiah" in vs. 9 is due to a copyist's error. To discover how low a value Judas placed upon Jesus, see Ex. 21:32, note. m) "Barabbas" means son of the father. n) "They" means the leaders and not the crowd; for it was to the leaders of the people that Pilate appealed.

o) It was customary in ancient times to wash one's hands before an audience when absolving oneself from guilt, Deut. 21:6-7. p) See note at Acts 10:1.

q) A Jew from North Africa, near Tripoli. His sons were Alexander and Rufus, Mk. 15:21. One of them may have become a Christian, cf. Rom. 16:13.

"Place of a Skull," ³⁴they gave Him wine to drink mixed with gall;^r but after tasting it He would not drink it.

³⁵And when they had crucified Him, they distributed His clothes among them by casting lots [so that the prophet's saying was fulfilled,^s "They parted My garments among them, and over My vesture they cast lots"].¹ ³⁶And, sitting down, they watched Him there. ³⁷Over His head they placed the written charge against Him, THIS IS JESUS, THE KING OF THE JEWS.

³⁸Then robbers were crucified along with Him, one to the right and one to the left.^u ³⁹And those walking by insulted Him, wagging their heads and saying, ⁴⁰"You destroyer and reconstructor of the temple in three days, save Yourself if You are the Son of God, and come down from the cross!" ⁴¹Similarly, the chief priests with the scribes and the elders scoffed at Him, ⁴²"He saved others but He cannot save Himself. Is He King of Israel? Let Him now come down from the cross and we will believe in Him. ⁴³He trusts in God? Let Him rescue Him now, if He wants Him; for He said, 'I am the Son of God.'"² ⁴⁴The robbers, too, who were crucified with Him, leveled the same reproach at Him.

⁴⁵From twelve o'clock, until three darkness lay on all the land; ⁴⁶and at about three o'clock Jesus cried out with a loud voice,^v "Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani?" that is, "My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?"

⁴⁷Some of the bystanders who heard it, said, "He is calling for Elijah."³ ⁴⁸And at once one of them ran, took a sponge, dipped it in vinegar and, putting it on a reed, offered it to Him to drink. ⁴⁹But the others said, "Hold on! Let us see if Elijah comes to save Him."

⁵⁰Jesus, once more crying with a loud voice, dismissed His spirit. ⁵¹And the veil of the temple was torn in two from top to bottom; the earth shook;

the rocks were split; ⁵²the tombs were opened and many bodies of the buried saints were raised ⁵³and after His resurrection they left their tombs, entered the holy city and appeared to many.

⁵⁴When the centurion and his men, who were watching Jesus, observed the earthquake and everything that happened, they were dreadfully frightened and said, "Truly, this was God's Son!"

⁵⁵There were also numerous women observing from a distance, those who had followed Jesus from Galilee rendering Him service, ⁵⁶including Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Josés, and the mother of Zebedee's sons.

⁵⁷With the coming of evening there came a rich man from Arimathea,^w called Joseph, who was himself a disciple of Jesus. ⁵⁸He went to Pilate and requested the body of Jesus. Then Pilate gave orders to have it relinquished. ⁵⁹When Joseph had obtained the body, he wrapped it in clean linen ⁶⁰and laid it in his own new tomb,^x which he had hewn out in the rock. Then, rolling a large stone in front of the opening of the tomb, he went away. ⁶¹But Mary Magdalene was there and the other Mary^y sitting opposite the tomb.

⁶²The next day, that is the day after the preparation, the chief priests and the Pharisees gathered before Pilate ⁶³and said, "We remember, Sir, that this imposter said,^z while He was still alive, 'After three days I will rise.'

⁶⁴Give orders, therefore, to have the tomb safeguarded until the third day, so His disciples may not come and steal Him and then tell the people, 'He is risen from the dead,' and the final fraud will be worse than the first."

⁶⁵Pilate said to them, "The guard is yours; go on and make it as secure as you can." ⁶⁶So they went and safeguarded the tomb, sealing the stone and setting a guard.

r) Ps. 69:21. s) Ps. 22:18.

t) The words enclosed in brackets are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts. u) Isa. 53:12. v) Ps. 22:1.

w) Arimathea was about twenty miles northwest of Jerusalem. In the O.T. the city is designated as Ramathain-Zophim or Ramah. x) Isa. 53:9. y) See note at ch. 1:16.

z) Chapters 16:21; 17:22-23; 20:17-19; cf. Jn. 2:19-22.

28 AFTER THE CLOSE OF THE Sabbath, with the dawning of the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to look at the tomb. ²And a severe earthquake occurred; for an angel of the Lord came down from heaven and, approaching the stone, rolled it aside and sat on it. ³His appearance was like lightning and his clothing white as snow. ⁴The sentries shook for fear of him and became like corpses. ⁵But the angel said to the women, "Have no fear! I know you are looking for Jesus, who was crucified. ⁶He is not here; for He is risen just as He said. Come, see the place where He lay. ⁷And go, hasten to tell His disciples that He is risen from the dead and is preceding you into Galilee; there you will see Him. See, I have told you."

⁸Hastily they left the tomb, in fear and with great joy, and ran to tell the news to His disciples. ⁹And behold, Jesus met them, saying, "Rejoice!" Going up to Him they clasped His feet and knelt before Him. ¹⁰Jesus then said to them, "Have no fear. Go, tell My brothers to go to Galilee; and they shall see Me there."

¹¹While they were on their way some of the guard entered the city and reported to the chief priests everything that had occurred. ¹²They, deliberating in session with the elders, gave the soldiers considerable money, ¹³telling them, "Say 'His disciples came by night and stole Him while we were asleep.' ¹⁴And if this reaches the governor's ears, we will win him over and keep you out of trouble." ¹⁵So the guards accepted the money and did as they were instructed, and this story has been current among the Jews until the present day.

¹⁶But the eleven disciples went away to Galilee,^a to the mountain to which Jesus had directed them. ¹⁷And when they saw Him they worshiped Him, but some were in doubt. ¹⁸Jesus came to them and He said, "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given Me. ¹⁹Go, therefore, and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, ²⁰teaching them to observe everything that I have commanded you. And, remember, I am with you all the days until the end of the age."^b

^a) Verses 7, 10; ch. 26:32.

^b) The word "age" is from the Greek noun aion which means (1) a lifetime, the period of an individual's existence on earth; (2) a segment of time, such as the present age or the age to come; (3) a very long time, as the age of mankind; (4) perpetuity of time, eternity (especially in the plural); and (5) occasionally the world, the universe. Concepts (1), (2) and (4) all fit the context of Christ's promise.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO

MARK

1 THE BEGINNING OF THE GOOD news of Jesus Christ, the Son of God; ²as it is written^a in the Prophet Isaiah, "Behold, I send My messenger ahead of You, who shall prepare Your way; ³a voice of one shouting in the desert, 'Make the Lord's way ready; make straight His paths!'"

c. A.D. 26

⁴John the Baptist appeared in the desert, preaching a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins, ⁵and all Judea and all the people of Jerusalem came out to him and were baptized by him in the Jordan River upon confessing their sins.

⁶John was dressed in clothing made of camel's hair, with a leather belt around his waist, and he ate locusts and wild honey. ⁷He proclaimed, "After me comes One greater than I, the strings of whose sandals I am not worthy to stoop down and untie. ⁸I have baptized you with water, but He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit."

c. A.D. 27

⁹In those days Jesus came from Nazareth^b in Galilee and was baptized by John in the Jordan. ¹⁰And the moment He came up from the water He saw the heavens parted and the Spirit, like a dove, coming down upon Him. ¹¹There also came a voice from heaven, "Thou art My Son, My Beloved; in Thee I am delighted."

¹²Without delay the Spirit drove Him into the desert ¹³where He remained forty days, being tempted by Satan. He was with the wild beasts, and the angels waited on Him.

c. A.D. 28

¹⁴After John had been arrested Jesus went to Galilee, preaching the good news from God, ¹⁵saying, "The time is completed and the kingdom of God is near; repent and believe in the good news."

¹⁶As he was passing along the Sea of Galilee He noticed Simon and his brother Andrew casting a net into the sea, for they were fishermen. ¹⁷Jesus said^c to them, "Come after Me and I will make you become fishers of men."

¹⁸At once they left their nets and followed Him. ¹⁹Going on a little, He saw James, the son of Zebedee, and his brother John, who were in their boat, mending the nets. ²⁰At once He called them and, leaving their father Zebedee in the boat with the hired hands, they went off after Him.

²¹They entered Capernaum^d and the next Sabbath day He went to the synagogue and taught. ²²They marveled at His teaching, for He taught them as one who had authority and not as the scribes.^e ²³There was in their synagogue just then a man with an unclean spirit, who cried out, ²⁴"What business is it of Yours to bother us, Jesus You Nazarene? Have You come to destroy us? I know who You are, the Holy One of

a) Isa. 40:3; cf. Mal. 3:1. b) See note at Matt. 2:23.

c) This was the second and permanent call, cf. John 1:35-51. Peter, Andrew, James, John and Nathanael (Bartholomew) may have helped Jesus on occasions prior to this.

d) See note at Matt. 4:13. e) See note at Matt. 2:4.

God." ²⁵Jesus rebuked him: "Silence! Get out of him!" ²⁶The unclean spirit, throwing him into a spasm, cried out with a loud voice and came out of him. ²⁷They were all amazed, so that they inquired among themselves, "What does this mean? A new teaching? With authority He orders even the unclean spirits and they obey Him!" ²⁸And rapidly His fame spread in every direction through that whole Galilean region.

²⁹Directly, from the synagogue they went with James and John to the house of Simon and Andrew; ³⁰but Simon's mother-in-law was in bed with fever and at once they told Him about her. ³¹He went to help her, took her by the hand and helped her rise. The fever left her and she began to wait on them.

³²In the evening at sunset they brought to Him all the sick and the demon-possessed ³³until the whole city was gathered at the door. ³⁴He cured many who were ill with various diseases and cast out many demons; but since the demons knew Him, He did not permit them to speak.

³⁵Rising early in the morning long before daylight, He left and went out to a lonely spot and prayed there. ³⁶Simon and his companions searched for Him, ³⁷found Him and told Him, "They are all looking for You." ³⁸He said to them, "Let us go elsewhere into the adjoining towns so that I may preach there too, because for this purpose I came." ³⁹And He went preaching in their synagogues and casting out demons through all Galilee.

⁴⁰A leper came to Him, begging of Him on his knees, "If you are willing, You can cleanse me." ⁴¹Deeply sympathetic, He reached out His hand and touched him, and said to him, "I am willing. Be cleansed." ⁴²Immediately the leprosy left him and he was cleansed. ⁴³Then and there He sent him off with the stern injunction, ⁴⁴"Be careful to tell no one, but go and show yourself to the priest and offer what Moses has prescribed^f for your purification, as a testimony to the people." ⁴⁵But he went off and began to publish it so much and to spread the report so widely that Jesus could no longer enter a town openly, but stayed outside in lonely places. And from everywhere people came to Him.

2 SOME DAYS LATER HE RETURNED to Capernaum, and it was learned that He was at home. ²So many congregated that shortly there was no longer any room even at the door. He was preaching the word to them ³when they came and brought a paralytic to Him, carried by four men. ⁴And, being unable to get near Him on account of the crowd, they removed the roof above Him and through the opening lowered the couch on which the paralytic was lying.

⁵Observing their faith, Jesus said to the paralytic, "Son, your sins are forgiven you." ⁶But some of the scribes were sitting there with questions in their hearts, ⁷"Why does He talk this way? It is blasphemy. Who but God alone can forgive sins?" ⁸Perceiving at once in His spirit that they were reasoning that way to themselves, Jesus said to them, "Why do you question this way in your hearts? ⁹Which is easier, to tell the paralytic, 'Your sins are forgiven,' or to say, 'Rise, pick up your couch and walk off?' ¹⁰But to let you know that the Son of Man has authority to forgive sins on the earth," He said to the paralytic, ¹¹"I tell you, rise, pick up your mat and go home."

¹²At once he arose, picked up his couch and went out in the presence of everyone, so that they were all amazed and glorified God, saying, "We have never seen anything like it before!" ¹³Then He went out again by the seaside, where the whole crowd came to Him, and He taught them.

¹⁴As He walked along He noticed Levi,^g the son of Alphaeus, sitting at the

f) Cf. Lev. 14:2-32. Under the Mosaic Law the priest performed some of the functions of a physician. Jesus, our great high priest before God, Heb. 4:14, is the great physician.

g) Levi is another name for Matthew. This is evident after comparing vss. 14-17 with the parallel passage at Matt. 9:9-13. No explanation is given in the N.T. as to why this man has two names, which was not uncommon among the Jews of that period, e.g., see note at ch. 2:25. Some suppose that like Simon, whom the Lord named Peter, and Saul, who later became Paul, Levi received the name Matthew after he became a Christian. He is always called Matthew in the lists of the apostles.

tax office, and said to him, "Follow Me." He arose and followed Him. ¹⁵And so it was, as He sat^h at the table at his house, that along with Jesus and His disciples, many tax collectors and sinners were seated there also; for many such were His followers. ¹⁶The scribes, who were of the Pharisees,ⁱ who observed that He dined with sinners and tax collectors remarked to His disciples, "Why does He eat with tax collectors and sinners?" ¹⁷On hearing it Jesus told them, "Not the well but the sick have need of a physician. I did not come to call the righteous but sinners."

¹⁸John's disciples and the Pharisees were observing a fast; so they^j came and said to Him, "Why do John's disciples and the disciples of the Pharisees fast, but Your disciples do not fast?" ¹⁹Jesus replied to them, "Can the wedding guests fast while the bridegroom is in their company? So long as the bridegroom is with them they cannot fast, ²⁰but a time will come when the bridegroom^k will be taken from them, and then will be their day to fast. ²¹No one sews a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old coat, for the new piece would tear away from the old and the tear become worse. ²²Neither does one pour new wine into old wineskins, for the wine would burst the skins, with both wine and skins ruined. But new wine goes into new skins."

²³He happened on the Sabbath to pass through a wheat field and His disciples started to pick the heads of wheat. ²⁴The Pharisees said to Him, "See how they are doing what is not allowed on the Sabbath!" ²⁵He replied, "Have you never read^l what David and his men did when they were hungry? ²⁶How in the days of Abiathar, the high priest, he went into the house of God and ate the presentation loaves,^m which none but the priests are allowed to eat, and shared with his companions?" ²⁷He said further to them, "The Sabbath was made for man's sake, not man for the Sabbath, ²⁸so that the Son of Man is Lord also of the Sabbath."

3 AGAIN HE ENTERED THE SYNAgogue, and a man with a withered hand was there. ²They watched Him, whether He would heal him on the Sabbath, so that they might accuse Him. ³He told the man with the withered hand, "Stand there in the center." ⁴Then He asked them, "Is it right to help or to hurt on the Sabbath; to save a life or to kill?" But they kept still. ⁵Looking around at them angrily because He was vexed at their callousness of heart, He said to the man, "Hold out your hand." He held it out and his hand was restored. ⁶And at once the Pharisees went out and plotted against Him with the Herodiansⁿ for the purpose of destroying Him.

⁷With His disciples Jesus retired to the seaside and a great many followed Him from Galilee and from Judea, ⁸from Jerusalem, from Idumea, from beyond the Jordan, and from around Tyre and Sidon — a large number came to Him when they heard what He had done. ⁹He told His disciples to have a little boat ready for Him, so that the throng might not press upon Him; ¹⁰for He healed many, so that all who had ailments closed in on Him to touch Him. ¹¹And whenever the unclean spirits saw Him they fell down before Him, screaming, "You are the Son of God!" ¹²But He charged them strictly not to make Him known.

¹³Then He went up the hill, summoned those whom He wanted, and

h) In N.T. times dining custom was different from what it now is. One did not sit down at a table to eat but reclined on a couch beside a table. While leaning on one elbow he used the other hand for eating. To accord with present-day usage the Greek words for "recline," "reclining" and "reclined" are rendered "sit," "sitting," "sat" and "seated" in this translation.

i) See note at Matt. 3:7. j) "They" are the disciples of John the Baptist, Matt. 9:14.

k) Christ is pictured in the N.T. as the Bridegroom and His Church as His bride, cf. Eph. 5:25, 26; Rev. 19:7-9. In the same way the O.T. alludes to Jehovah as the Husband and Israel His wife, cf. Isa. 54:5; Jer. 31:32; Hos. 2:16-23.

l) I Sam. 21:1-6. Abiathar is called Ahimelech in I Sam. 21:1; 22:9, 11, 20 and Ahiah in I Sam. 14:3, in accord with Hebrew practice of occasionally giving more than one name to an individual.

m) This was the showbread, Exod. 25:30. n) See note at Matt. 22:16.

they came to Him. ¹⁴He appointed twelve to be with Him, that He might send them out to preach ¹⁵with power to [heal the sick and to]^o expel demons. He appointed these twelve: ¹⁶Simon whom He called Peter; ¹⁷James, the son of Zebedee and John, the brother of James, whom He called Boanerges — that is Sons of Thunder; ¹⁸Andrew and Philip; Bartholomew and Matthew; Thomas and James, the son of Alphaeus;^p Thaddeus and Simon of Cana; ¹⁹and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed Him.

²⁰They entered a house, and again the crowd collected so that they could not even have a meal. ²¹When His relatives learned of it, they came out to seize Him, for they said, "He is deranged." ²²But the scribes who had come down from Jerusalem said, "He has Beelzebul^q and through the ruler of demons He expels demons." ²³So He called them to Him and said to them in parables, "How can Satan expel Satan? ²⁴If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot last, ²⁵and if a household is divided against itself, that household cannot last, ²⁶and if Satan rebels against himself, he cannot stand but is about to come to an end. ²⁷But no one can enter a strong man's house and plunder his property unless he first binds the strong man and then will loot his place.

²⁸"I assure you that all the sins that the sons of men commit and all the blasphemies that they utter are pardonable, ²⁹but whoever blasphemes against the Holy Spirit will have no forgiveness forever but is guilty of an eternal sin" — ³⁰because they said, "He has an unclean spirit."

³¹His mother and His brothers came and, standing outside, sent messengers to call Him. ³²A crowd was sitting around Him and they told Him, "Your mother and Your brothers are outside asking for You." ³³He answered them, "Who are My mother and My brothers?" ³⁴Looking at those sitting around

Him in a circle He said, "See! My mother and My brothers. ³⁵Whoever does the will of God, that one is My brother and sister and mother."

4 AGAIN HE BEGAN TO TEACH BY the seaside, and so huge a crowd collected around Him that He got into a boat on the lake and sat in it, while all the people stayed on shore near the water. ²He taught them many lessons in parables, and told them in His teaching, ³"Listen! A sower went out to sow ⁴and, as he sowed, some seed fell along the road, and the birds came and ate it up. ⁵Other seed fell on rocky soil where it had little earth, and because it had no depth of soil it sprang up at once; ⁶but when the sun rose it got scorched, and because it had no root it withered. ⁷Other seed fell among the thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked it, so it yielded no crop. ⁸And other seed fell on the good soil and it sprang up and grew and yielded a crop — thirty, sixty, even a hundred-fold." ⁹He added, "Whoever has ears which can hear, let him listen."

¹⁰When He was by Himself, those near Him, with the Twelve, inquired about the parables ¹¹and He told them, "The secret of God's kingdom is committed to you; but to outsiders these matters all come in parables ¹²so that^a 'for all their seeing they may not perceive and for all their hearing they may not understand, so they may not turn about and be forgiven.'"

¹³He told them further, "If you do not understand this parable, how will you grasp all the parables? ¹⁴The sower sows the word. ¹⁵Those along the road are where the word is sown and, as soon as it is heard, Satan comes and snatches away the word that was sown in them. ¹⁶Similarly those seeds on rocky soil — they readily and gladly receive the word, ¹⁷but it takes no root in them; they last briefly. When trouble or persecution comes on account of the word at once they stumble and

^o) The words enclosed in brackets are not found in the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

^p) This Alphaeus, the father of James, is apparently not identical with the father of Levi (Matthew), ch. 2:14. There is no reason to suppose that Matthew and James were brothers.

^q) See note at Luke 11:15.

^r) Relationship with Christ surpasses family ties no matter how close they may be. ^s) Isa. 6:9, 10.

fall. ¹⁸Others are sown among thorns — they hear the word ¹⁹but the world's cares and the delight of wealth and the passions for other interests enter in to choke the word and it becomes fruitless. ²⁰And those sown on good soil — they are the ones who hear and accept the word and they yield thirty, sixty, even a hundredfold."

²¹He said to them, "Is a lamp brought in so that it may stand under the peck measure or under the bed? Is it not put on the stand? ²²For nothing is hidden except to be shown and nothing kept secret except to be revealed. ²³Whoever has ears which can hear, let him listen."

²⁴He further said to them: "Be careful what you hear. The measure you deal out to others will be dealt to you, with more added; ²⁵for to one who has shall be given, and one who has not shall be deprived of what he has."

²⁶And He said, "The kingdom of God is as when a man scatters seed in the soil, ²⁷then sleeps at night and rises by day while the seed sprouts and springs up, he does not know how. ²⁸The soil produces of itself first the blade, then the head, then the mature wheat in the head; ²⁹and whenever the crop is ready, he puts in the sickle because harvest has come."

³⁰He also said, "To what may we compare the kingdom of God or by what parable may we picture it? ³¹It is like a mustard seed — smaller than any seed on earth, ³²yet, when planted, it springs up and grows to be larger than any plant, producing such large branches that the birds of the air can nest under its shelter."

³³With many such parables He told them the word insofar as they could grasp it; ³⁴He spoke in parables only and explained everything to His disciples by themselves.

³⁵At evening that same day, He said to them, "Let us cross to the other side." ³⁶So, leaving the crowd, they took Him along in the boat just as He was, and other boats accompanied

Him. ³⁷A heavy squall of wind came up and the waves dashed into the boat so that the boat was filling, ³⁸while He was in the stern asleep on a pillow. They awoke Him and said to Him, "Teacher, do You not care that we are sinking?" ³⁹He rose up, rebuked the wind and said to the sea, "Silence! Be still!" Then the wind fell and there was great calm. ⁴⁰He said to them, "Why are you so afraid? Have you still no faith?" ⁴¹They were terribly frightened and said to one another, "Who is this anyway? For even the wind and the sea obey Him!"

5 THEY ARRIVED AT THE OPPOSITE shore in the country of the Gerasenes.¹ ²And no sooner had He disembarked than there met Him a man from the tombs, with an unclean spirit. ³He made his home among the tombs and no one could ever bind him, even with chains; ⁴for several times he had been bound in fetters and chains, but the chains were shattered and the fetters smashed by him. Nobody was strong enough to control him. ⁵All the time, night and day, he remained among the tombs and in the mountains, shrieking and cutting himself with stones.

⁶When from a distance he noticed Jesus, he ran and knelt before Him, ⁷crying with a loud voice, "What business is it of Yours Jesus, Son of God Most High? I adjure You to God, do not torment me." ⁸For He was saying to him, "Unclean spirit, come out of the man!" ⁹And was questioning him, "What is your name?" He answered, "My name is Legion," for we are many." ¹⁰Then he urgently begged Him not to send them out of the country.

¹¹Now a large herd of swine was feeding there on the hillside; ¹²and the demons besought Him, "Send us to the swine so that we may enter them!" ¹³He permitted them, and the unclean spirits went out and entered the swine. Then the herd of about two thousand rushed headlong down the precipice into the lake and drowned in the lake. ¹⁴Those tending them fled and told the news in town and in the countryside, and the people came to see what had happened. ¹⁵They came to Jesus and saw the demoniac, who had been possessed of the legion, sitting down, dressed and sane, and they were filled with awe. ¹⁶Those who had seen it told them what had happened to the demoniac; also about the swine. ¹⁷Then they began to implore Him to leave their shores.

(1) Some other manuscripts read "Gadarenes," still others "Gergesenes." Gerasa was situated twenty miles due east of the Jordan River, approximately halfway between the Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea. u) A Roman legion was composed of 5,000 to 6,000 men.

¹⁸As He was embarking the former demoniac requested that he might be with Jesus, but He did not let him. ¹⁹Instead He said to him, "Go back to your family and friends and tell them everything the Lord has done for you and the mercy He has shown you." ²⁰And he went off and began to announce throughout the Decapolis^v everything that Jesus had done for him, and all were astonished.

²¹When Jesus had crossed again to the other side, a great multitude massed around Him. He was on the shore ²²when one of the synagogue directors, named Jairus, came and at sight of Him fell at His feet ²³and strongly pleaded with Him, "My daughter is at the point of death. Come, place Your hands on her, that she may recover and live." ²⁴And He went with him. A vast host followed Him and pressed upon Him.

²⁵A woman too, who for twelve years ²⁶had suffered hemorrhages and had been treated much by many physicians, spending all she had without improving but rather growing worse, ²⁷when she heard about Jesus, came in the crowd behind and touched His robe, ²⁸for she said, "If only I touch His robe, I shall be healed." ²⁹At once her hemorrhage stopped, and she felt in her body that she was healed of her affliction.

³⁰Then and there Jesus, conscious that power had gone from Him,^w turned around in the crowd and asked, "Who touched My clothes?" ³¹His disciples remarked to Him, "You see the crowd pressing You on all sides and You say, 'Who touched Me?'" ³²But He looked around to see her who had done it. ³³Then the woman, afraid and trembling because she knew what had happened to her, came and fell at His feet and told Him the whole truth. ³⁴And He said to her, "Daughter, your faith has saved you; go in peace and be healed of your affliction."

³⁵While He was still speaking there arrived those from the ruler's house who told him, "Your daughter is dead. Why trouble the Teacher further?" ³⁶But Jesus, overhearing the spoken message, said to the ruler of the synagogue, "Have no fear; only believe."

³⁷He permitted no one to accompany Him except Peter and James and James' brother John. ³⁸Arriving at the ruler's house He observed the bedlam — loud weeping and wailing — ³⁹and as He entered He said to them, "Why this turmoil and weeping? The child is not dead but asleep." ⁴⁰They ridiculed Him; but He personally put them all out, took along the child's father and mother and those with Him, and entered the room where the child was. ⁴¹Then, taking the child's hand, He said to her, "Talitha koum," which means, "Little girl, I tell you, rise." ⁴²And instantly the little girl got up and walked around. She was twelve. They were astonished beyond all expression, ⁴³but He strictly charged them that no one should know it, and told them to give her something to eat.

6 LEAVING THERE, HE CAME TO HIS home town,^x accompanied by His disciples; ²and on the Sabbath He began to teach in the synagogue. Many, when they heard Him, were utterly amazed, saying, "Where did He get all this? What wisdom has been given Him and what miracles are these that happen by His hands? ³Is not this the

v) The Decapolis (from dekapolei meaning ten cities) refers to a group of cities that were allied against common enemies. They were situated in the region between Damascus and the Arabian Desert and are generally listed as Scythopolis, Hippos, Gadara, Pella, Philadelphia, Gerasa, Dion, Canatha, Raphana and Damascus. w) Christ, not His robe, was the source of the power to heal. x) Nazareth. See note at Matt. 2:23.

carpenter, the son of Mary and the brother of James and Joses and Jude and Simon?^y And do not His sisters live here with us?" And they took offense on His account.

⁴Jesus told them, "No prophet is without honor except in his own country and among his relatives and in his home." ⁵And He could do no mighty work there, except that He laid hands on a few sick and healed them. ⁶And He wondered at their unbelief. So He went around the nearby villages teaching, ⁷and called the Twelve, whom He began to send out two by two, giving them authority over the unclean spirits ⁸and directing them to take nothing for the trip except only a staff — no bread, no bag, not a penny in the belt — ⁹to wear sandals and not to put on two coats.

¹⁰He further told them, "Wherever you enter a house, remain there until you leave the place. ¹¹And whatever community will neither receive you nor listen to you, when you leave there shake off the dust from under your feet for a witness against them. [Truly I tell you, it will be more endurable for Sodom^z and Gomorrah in the Judgment Day than for that city.]"^a ¹²So they went out and preached that men should repent. ¹³They expelled many demons; and many sick they anointed with oil and healed.

c. A.D. 29

¹⁴King Herod^b heard of it, for Jesus' name had become well known, and he said, "John the Baptist is risen from the dead and therefore these miracles are being done by him." ¹⁵Others said, "He is Elijah"; others again, "He is a prophet like one of the prophets of old." ¹⁶But on hearing of Him, Herod asserted, "John, whom I beheaded, has risen from the dead." ¹⁷For Herod himself had sent to arrest John and had confined him in prison, because of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife; for he had married her. ¹⁸For John had told Herod, "You have no right to have your brother's wife." ¹⁹So Herodias held a grudge against him and wanted to execute him but was unable to do so; ²⁰for Herod stood in awe of John because he knew that he was an upright and holy^c man. He protected him and, on hearing him, was perplexed; yet he enjoyed listening to him.

²¹An opportune time came, when on Herod's birthday, he gave a banquet to his nobles and commanders and prominent Galileans, ²²at which Herodias' daughter came in and danced. She pleased Herod and his guests. So the king said to the girl, "Ask whatever you want and I will give it to you." ²³Then he swore to her, "Whatever you ask me, I will give it to you up to half my kingdom." ²⁴She went out and asked her mother, "What shall I request?" "The head of John the Baptist," she replied. ²⁵She entered the hall and at once hastened to the king and made the request, "I want you to give me at once on a platter the head of John the Baptist."

²⁶Although the king was extremely sorry, yet for the sake of his oaths and his guests he did not want to refuse her. ²⁷And at once the king dispatched a guardsman with orders to bring John's head. He went, beheaded him in prison, ²⁸brought his head on a platter and gave it to the girl; and the girl presented it to her mother. ²⁹And when his disciples heard of it, they came and took up his body and laid it in a tomb.

³⁰The apostles gathered around Jesus and reported to Him everything they had done and taught. ³¹Then He told them, "Come away to a solitary place and rest awhile." For so many were coming and going that they did not have time even to eat. ³²So they left in a boat for a lonely spot by themselves. ³³But the people saw them leaving and many recognized them, and from all

y) James became the leader of the Jerusalem church, cf. Acts 12:17; 15:13; 21:18, and was the author of the epistle bearing his name. Jude also wrote a N.T. epistle. All four men named in this verse were sons of Joseph and Mary. z) See note at Luke 10:12.

a) The words enclosed in brackets are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts. b) This was Herod Antipas, one of the sons of Herod the Great. cf. Matt. 14:1.

c) "Holy" is from the Greek hagios, which means to be revered, set apart for, dedicated to, consecrated to God.

the towns they ran there on foot and arrived ahead of them. ³⁴When Jesus landed, He saw a large crowd and was moved with pity over them because they were like sheep without a shepherd. And He began to teach them many things.

³⁵As the hour grew late, His disciples came to Him and said, "This is a solitary place and now the hour is late; ³⁶dismiss them so that they may go to surrounding farms and villages and buy themselves something to eat."

³⁷But He answered them, "You give them to eat." They said, "Shall we go and buy fifty dollars worth of food and feed them?" ³⁸He asked them, "How many loaves do you have? Go and find out." When they had found out, they reported, "Five, and two fish."

³⁹He then gave them all orders to sit^d on the green grass by groups, ⁴⁰and they sat in groups of hundreds and fifties. ⁴¹Taking the five loaves of bread and the two fish, and looking up toward heaven, He gave thanks and broke the bread and gave it to the disciples to set before the people. He also divided the two fish for them all. ⁴²They all ate and were fully satisfied. ⁴³They picked up twelve full baskets of the broken pieces of bread and fish. ⁴⁴And there were five thousand men who partook of the food.

⁴⁵Then without delay He urged His disciples to board the boat and to cross over to Bethsaida,^e ⁴⁶while He dismissed the crowd and, after He had taken leave of them, went away to the mountain to pray.

⁴⁷At nightfall the boat was in the middle of the sea and He alone on land. ⁴⁸Seeing them toiling hard at rowing because the wind was against them, He approached them around the fourth watch^f of the night walking on the sea as if He meant to pass them. ⁴⁹But observing Him walking on the sea they supposed that it was a ghost and they cried out; ⁵⁰for they all saw Him and were terrified. But, speaking to them at once, He told them, "Take courage! It is I; have no fear." ⁵¹He then climbed into the boat with them, and the wind fell. They were beside themselves with amazement; ⁵²for they failed to understand the meaning of the loaves — their hearts were dull.

⁵³After crossing the lake they landed at Gennesaret^h and docked. ⁵⁴But as soon as they disembarked the people recognized Him ⁵⁵and ran around that entire district and began to carry to Him on their couches, wherever they heard He was, all who had ailments. ⁵⁶And wherever He went, into village or town or country, they placed their sick in the market place and begged Him to let them touch if only the hem of His robe. And as many as touched Him were healed.

7 THEN THE PHARISEES AND SOME of the scribes who had come from Jerusalem, called on Him jointly, ²having noticed some of His disciples eating their food with unclean, that is, unwashed hands. ³For the Pharisees, and all the Jews who observe the traditions of the elders, do not eat without washing their hands up to the elbow, ⁴and when they come from market they do not eat without washing. And there are numerous other rules which they follow traditionally, such as washing cups and pots and bronze utensils and beds.

⁵So the Pharisees and the scribes questioned Him, "Why do Your disciples behave contrary to the elders' tradition, but eat food with unclean hands?" ⁶He told them, "Suitably did Isaiah prophesy about you hypocrites as it is written, ⁱ 'This people honor Me

d) See note at ch. 2:15.

e) Christ, who made all things, John 1:3, had power over nature as well as human life. The three miracles of this chapter (feeding the 5,000, walking on the water, and calming the sea) are among the most impressive miracles of this kind. It is significant that the first miracle (or sign, Gk. semeion) He performed, changing water into wine, John 2:11, was in the realm of nature.

f) See note at ch. 8:22.

g) The first watch was from 6 to 9 p.m.; the second, 9 p.m. to midnight; the third, midnight to 3 a.m.; and the fourth, 3 to 6 a.m.

h) Gennesaret was on the northwestern shore of the sea of Galilee.

i) Isa. 29:13; cf. Isa. 58:1-3; Ezek. 33:31.

with their lips; but their hearts are estranged from Me. ⁷Vainly they worship Me, when teaching human regulations as doctrines.' ⁸You let go of God's commandments to cling to human tradition."

⁹He added, "How well you frustrate the law of God to observe your own tradition. ¹⁰For Moses said,^j 'Honor your father and your mother' and^k 'Whoever curses father or mother, let him be executed.' ¹¹But you say, 'If a man says to his father or mother, "What you would have received from me is Corban," that is to say consecrated to God, he is exempt,' ¹²you no longer permit him to do anything for his father and mother. ¹³Thus you annul God's word through your tradition which you have handed down. And you do many things of that kind."

¹⁴Calling the people to Him again, Jesus told them, "All of you listen to Me and understand. ¹⁵Nothing entering a man from the outside can defile him, but the things that come out of the man render the person unclean. ¹⁶[If anyone has ears to hear, let him hear.]"^l

¹⁷When He had gone indoors away from the crowd, His disciples questioned Him about the parable ¹⁸and He said to them, "Are you, too, so lacking in comprehension? Do you not perceive that whatever enters from the outside cannot defile a person, ¹⁹because it does not enter his heart but his stomach, and is eliminated?" In saying this He declared all foods to be clean. ²⁰He said further, "What comes out of the man defiles him; ²¹for from within, out of a man's heart wicked thoughts emerge — unchastity, ²²theft, murder, adultery, greed, wickedness, deceit, licentiousness, vicious envy, blasphemy, pride, foolishness. ²³All these wicked things come from the inside and defile a man."

²⁴Then He arose and left there for the district of Tyre^m where He entered a house, not wanting anyone to know it; but He could not remain hidden. ²⁵Instead, a woman whose little daughter had an unclean spirit came as soon as she heard of Him and threw herself at His feet. ²⁶She was a Gentile, a native Syro-Phoenician, and she begged Him to expel the demon from her daughter. ²⁷He said to her, "First let the children be satisfied; for it is not fair to take the children's bread and to throw it to the house dogs."ⁿ ²⁸But she answered Him, "Yes, Lord, yet the house dogs under the table eat from the children's scraps." ²⁹He said to her, "For this thought go your way; the demon has gone out of your daughter." ³⁰And when she reached home she found the child lying on the bed and the demon expelled.

³¹Returning from the district of Tyre He passed through Sidon on to the Sea of Galilee and up the center of the Decapolis^o region. ³²And they brought Him a deaf man who had an impediment in his speech, and begged Him to lay His hands on him. ³³Taking him by himself away from the crowd, He put His fingers into his ears and touched his tongue with saliva. ³⁴Then, looking up toward heaven, He sighed and said to him, "Ephphatha," that is, "Be opened." ³⁵And his ears were opened, and at once the obstruction of his tongue was loosed and he spoke clearly.

³⁶He charged them to tell no one; but the more He charged them, the more widely they made it known. ³⁷They were immeasurably astonished, and exclaimed, "How well He has done everything! He even makes the deaf hear and the dumb speak."

8 IN THOSE DAYS ONCE AGAIN AN IMMENSE crowd gathered and had nothing to eat. So, summoning the disciples, He told them, "I feel very sorry for these people because they have stayed with Me now for three days and

j) Exod. 20:12. k) Exod. 21:17.

l) Verse 16, enclosed in brackets, is not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts. m) See note at Matt. 11:21.

n) The Greek word rendered "house dogs" is the plural form of kunarium, meaning little dog or house dog, any dog that might sit under a dining table hoping for scraps of food. There is another word for "dog," kuōn, which denotes an unclean kind of canine. This word is used in Matt. 7:6; Luke 16:21; II Pet. 2:22. o) See note at ch. 5:20.

have nothing to eat. ³If I should send them home hungry, they would faint on the way, and some of them are from a considerable distance."

⁴His disciples answered Him, "Where in this desert can we secure bread to satisfy such a number?" ⁵He asked them, "How many loaves do you have?" They said, "Seven." ⁶So He instructed the crowd to sit down on the ground and, taking the seven loaves of bread, He gave thanks, broke them, gave them to His disciples to set before the people, and they set them before the crowd. ⁷They also had a few small fish, and when He had given thanks for them He told the disciples to set them before the crowd also. ⁸So they ate and were satisfied; and they picked up the leftovers, seven baskets full. ⁹About four thousand had eaten. He then dismissed them, ¹⁰and immediately embarking with His disciples, reached the region of Dalmanutha.^p ¹¹The Pharisees came out and began to dispute with Him. To test Him, they asked Him for a sign from heaven. ¹²Sighing deeply in His very soul, He said, "Why does this generation seek a sign? I assure you, no sign will be given to this generation." ¹³So He left them, embarked again and crossed to the other side.

¹⁴The disciples had forgotten to bring along bread, nor did they have more than a single loaf with them in the boat. ¹⁵Thus He cautioned them, "Look out. Beware of the yeast^q of the Pharisees and of Herod's yeast."

¹⁶They remarked to one another, "It is because we have no bread." ¹⁷Aware of it, He said to them, "Why are you talking about having no bread? Do you still neither grasp nor understand? Is your heart calloused? ¹⁸Having eyes can you not see and having ears can you not hear? And do you not remember ¹⁹when I broke the five loaves for the five thousand, how many baskets you picked up full of leftovers?" They said to Him, "Twelve." ²⁰"When there were seven loaves for the four thousand, how many baskets of leftovers did you pick up?" They said to Him, "Seven." ²¹And He said to them, "Do you still not understand?"

²²They reached Bethsaida,^r where they brought a blind man to Him and appealed to Him to touch him. ²³So, taking hold of the blind man's hand, He led him out of the village; then after putting saliva on his eyes, He put His hands on him and asked him, "Do you see anything?" ²⁴He looked up and said, "I see people, but they look like trees — walking around." ²⁵Then again Jesus placed His hands on his eyes; and he looked steadily and was restored and saw everything distinctly. ²⁶So Jesus sent him home saying, "Do not even enter the village."

²⁷Jesus and His disciples went to the villages around Caesarea Philippi,^s and on the way He asked His disciples, "Who do the people say that I am?" ²⁸They said to Him, "John the Baptist; but others say, Elijah, and others, one of the prophets." ²⁹He asked them, "But you, who do you say I am?" Peter answered Him, "You are the Christ."^t ³⁰And He charged them to tell no one this about Him.

³¹He then began to teach them that the Son of Man must suffer much and be rejected by the elders, the chief priests and the scribes, and be executed, and after three days rise again.

³²He told them this without reservation. Then Peter, taking Him aside, began to remonstrate with Him; ³³but turning round and looking at His disciples, He rebuked Peter, saying, "Get away from Me, Satan, for you are not taking God's viewpoint, but men's."

³⁴Then, summoning the crowd as well as His disciples, He said to them, "If anyone wishes to come after Me, let him say 'No' to himself and take up his cross and follow Me. ³⁵For whoever wishes to save his life will lose it; but

p) Dalmanutha, called Magadan in Matt. 15:39, was situated at the most western point of the Sea of Galilee. Josephus, the historian, identifies both names with Taricheae. q) Or, leaven.

r) Beth-saida was located on the northern shore of the Sea of Galilee, where the Jordan River flows into the sea, about nine miles from Capernaum. Beth-said means house of fishing or hunting. It was the home of Philip, Andrew and Peter, John 1:44. s) See note at Matt. 16:13.

t) This marks a high point in the Lord's teaching ministry. Toward this conviction He had patiently trained the Twelve.

whoever loses his life on behalf of Me and the gospel will save it. ³⁶For what does it benefit a man to gain the whole world and forfeit his own life? ³⁷For what will a man give in exchange for his life?

³⁸"Should anyone in this immoral and sinful generation be ashamed of Me and of My teaching, of him the Son of Man will be ashamed, too, when He comes in His Father's glory with the holy angels."

9 HE ALSO SAID TO THEM, "I ASSURE you, there are some standing here who will not taste death until they have seen the kingdom of God come in power."

²Six days later Jesus took with Him Peter, James, and John and led them up a high mountain^u alone by themselves, and in their presence He was changed in appearance. ³His clothes became a brilliant white, whiter than any bleacher on earth could bleach them. ⁴And there appeared to them Elijah and Moses, and they conversed with Jesus.

⁵Peter said to Jesus, "Rabbi,^v it is good that we are here. Let us build three booths—one for You, one for Moses, and one for Elijah." ⁶For he did not know what to say, because they were awed.

⁷Then there came a cloud overshadowing them, and a voice came out of the cloud, "This is My Son, the Beloved; listen to Him." ⁸Suddenly, as they looked around, they no longer saw anyone with them except Jesus only. ⁹And as they were descending from the mountain He forbade them to divulge to anyone what they had seen until the Son of Man should rise from the dead. ¹⁰So they kept the matter secret among themselves, while discussing together what rising from the dead might mean.

¹¹They asked Him, "Why do the scribes maintain that Elijah must first come?" ¹²He answered them, "Elijah is indeed to come first, to put everything in order; but how is it written of the Son of Man that He shall endure much suffering and be treated with contempt? ¹³I tell you, however, that Elijah^w has come and they have treated him as they pleased, just as it has been written of him."

¹⁴When they reached the disciples they noticed a large crowd around them and scribes disputing with them. ¹⁵On seeing Him the whole multitude was awed and, running toward Him, they greeted Him. ¹⁶He asked them, "What are you discussing with them?" ¹⁷One of the crowd answered Him, "Teacher, I have brought You my son, who has a dumb spirit; ¹⁸whenever it gets hold of him, it throws him down—he foams at the mouth, he grinds his teeth and becomes rigid." I spoke to Your disciples to cast it out, but they could not."

¹⁹"O unbelieving generation!" He replied, "How long shall I be with you? How long shall I put up with you? Bring him to Me." ²⁰So they brought him to Jesus. The spirit, on seeing Him, instantly threw the boy into convulsions, so that he fell on the ground and rolled over, foaming at the mouth. ²¹Then He asked his father, "How long has this gone on?" He said, "From early childhood. ²²Often it has thrown him into fire and into water to destroy him; but if You can do anything, help us; take pity on us!"

²³Jesus said to him, "'If You can do anything?' Everything is possible for the person who believes!"^x ²⁴At once the father of the boy exclaimed, "I believe. Help me because of my unbelief." ²⁵Jesus, noticing that a mob was collecting, rebuked the unclean spirit, to whom He said, "Dumb and deaf spirit, I order you: Come out of him and never again enter into him."

²⁶And, shrieking and throwing fit after fit, he came out. The boy looked like a

u) It does not seem likely that this was Mt. Tabor since Jesus was at that time northeast of the Sea of Galilee, whereas Mt. Tabor is southwest of the lake. The mountain may have been in the Anti-Lebanon range somewhere near Mt. Hermon.

v) "Rabbi," from the Hebrew word rav or rab, means master, lord. See note at 10:51.

w) John the Baptist, whose ministry was similar to that of Elijah, Matt. 11:13, 14.

x) What Jesus said in this situation stresses the role of believing and praying in the healing of this afflicted boy.

corpse, so that many declared that he was dead; ²⁷but Jesus, taking him by the hand, raised him and he stood up. ²⁸After He had gone indoors His disciples asked Him privately, "Why were we unable to cast it out?" ²⁹He told them, "This kind cannot be expelled except through prayer."^y

³⁰Leaving there they passed through Galilee. He did not want anyone to know it ³¹because He was teaching His disciples, "The Son of Man will be delivered into human hands and they will execute Him and, when He is killed, He will rise again in three days." ³²But they did not understand the saying and were afraid to question Him.

³³They reached Capernaum and, when He arrived home, He asked them, "What were you arguing on the road?" ³⁴But they kept still; for on the road they had argued with one another who was the greatest. ³⁵Seating Himself He summoned the Twelve and told them, "If anyone wants to be first, let him be last of all and servant of all." ³⁶Then taking a little child, He set him in the center of their circle, and taking him in His arms, said to them, ³⁷"Whoever receives one of such children in My name receives Me, and whoever receives Me does not so much receive Me as Him who sent Me."

³⁸John said to Him, "Teacher, we saw someone not in our company, expelling demons in Your name and we forbade him, because he was not one of us."^z ³⁹Jesus told him, "Do not forbid him; for there is no one who performs a miracle in My name who can soon speak evil of Me. ⁴⁰He who is not against us is for us; ⁴¹for whoever gives you a cup of water to drink because you belong to Christ, I assure you that he will not miss his reward."

⁴²"Whoever occasions the stumbling

of one of these little ones who believe in Me, it would be better for him if, with a millstone hung around his neck, he had been cast into the sea. ⁴³Should your hand occasion you to do wrong, cut it off; it is better for you to enter into life maimed than with both hands to be thrown into hell,^a into the fire that cannot be put out. ⁴⁴[Where their worm never ceases and the fire is not put out].^b ⁴⁵In case your foot occasions you to go wrong, cut it off; it is better for you to enter into life crippled than with two feet to be thrown into hell, ⁴⁶[where their worm never ceases and their fire is not put out].^b ⁴⁷If your eye occasions you to stumble, tear it out; it is better for you to enter the kingdom of God with one eye than with two eyes to be thrown into hell, ⁴⁸where their worm never ceases and the fire is not put out.

⁴⁹"For everyone will be salted with fire. ⁵⁰Salt is beneficial; but if the salt loses its saltiness, with what will it be seasoned? Have salt in yourselves and live together in peace."

10 HE LEFT THERE AND WENT TO the Judean region on the farther side of the Jordan. Again crowds flocked to Him and, as usual, He taught them. ²And there came Pharisees questioning Him, "Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife?"—testing Him. ³He answered them, "What ruling did Moses give you?" ⁴They said,^c "Moses permitted the writing of a divorce certificate and to divorce her." ⁵Jesus told them, "In view of your hardheartedness he wrote you this ruling, ⁶but from the beginning, from the time of creation^d male and female He made them; ⁷Therefore shall a man leave his father and mother and shall cling to his wife, ⁸and the two shall be one flesh'; so that they are no longer

y) Some ancient manuscripts read "through prayer and fasting."

z) That this lesson on tolerance has not yet been learned has cost the kingdom of God great losses.

a) "Hell" is rendered here from the Greek noun geenna, from which the English word "Gehenna" is derived. Gehenna is sometimes used to denote the Valley of Hinnom, a place where human sacrifices were once made, Jer. 7:31. In this valley refuse was burned. Consequently fires were constantly going. The Israelites used the word "Gehenna" to express the eternal judgment of the wicked. Jesus employed it here and elsewhere, e.g., Matt. 5:22, to illustrate the consequence of sin. Cf. "lake of fire," Rev. 19:20.

b) Verses 44 and 46 are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts. They are identical with verse 48, which all the best manuscripts carry.

c) Deut. 24:1. d) Gen. 1:27; 2:24.

two but one flesh. ⁹What God therefore has joined, let not man divide."

¹⁰When they were indoors the disciples questioned Him again on that subject, ¹¹and He told them, "Whoever divorces his wife and marries another, commits adultery against her, ¹²and if she divorces her husband and marries another, she commits adultery."

¹³They brought children for Him to touch, but the disciples reprimanded them. ¹⁴When Jesus noticed that, He was indignant and told them, "Permit the children to come to Me. Do not hinder them, for to their kind belongs the kingdom of God. ¹⁵I assure you, whoever fails to receive the kingdom of God like a little child, will not enter it at all." ¹⁶Then taking them in His arms He blessed them while He laid His hands on them.

c. A.D. 30

¹⁷As He was setting out on His journey a man came running to Him, who knelt before Him and asked, "Good Teacher, what shall I do to become heir to eternal life?" ¹⁸Jesus said to him, "Why do you call Me good? No one is good except One, even God. ¹⁹You know the commands: 'Do not murder; Do not commit adultery; Do not steal; Do not witness falsely; Do not cheat; Honor your father and your mother.'"

²⁰He replied, "Teacher, I have observed all these things from my boyhood." ²¹Jesus, looking at him, prized him dearly and told him, "One thing you lack. Go and sell all you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; then come and follow Me." ²²At this saying he was appalled and went away saddened, for he possessed great wealth.

²³Looking around, Jesus said to His disciples, "How difficult it is for these possessing wealth to enter the kingdom of God!" ²⁴The disciples wondered at His remark; but Jesus spoke to them once more, "Children, how difficult it is [for those who trust in wealth]" to enter the kingdom of God. ²⁵It is easier for a camel to pass through a needle's eye than for a wealthy person to enter the kingdom of God."

²⁶Astonished beyond words they said to themselves, "Who then can be saved?" ²⁷With His eyes upon them Jesus replied, "With men it is impossible but not with God; for everything is possible with God."

²⁸Peter began to say to Him, "Look, we have given up everything and have followed You." ²⁹Jesus said, "I assure you, there is no one who has left home or brothers or sisters or mother or father or children or fields on account of Me and the gospel, ³⁰but will receive a hundred times over now in this life homes and brothers and sisters and mothers and children and fields, along with persecutions, and in the future age eternal life. ³¹But many that are first will be last, and the last first."

³²They were on the road going up to Jerusalem with Jesus leading them, and as they followed they were in a daze and were apprehensive. Then summoning the Twelve, He began once more to tell them what was about to happen to Him, ³³"See, we are going up to Jerusalem and the Son of Man will be delivered to the chief priests and the scribes. They will condemn Him to death and will hand Him over to the Gentiles; ³⁴and they will mock Him, spit on Him, flog Him, and execute Him, and after three days He will rise again."

³⁵Then James and John, the sons of Zebedee, approached and said to Him, "Teacher, we want You to do for us what we ask." ³⁶And He said to them, "What do you want Me to do for you?" ³⁷They answered Him, "Grant us to be seated, one at Your right and one at Your left in Your glory." ³⁸But Jesus told them, "You do not know what you are asking. Are you able to drink the cup that I drink, or to undergo the baptism I am baptized with?" ³⁹They replied, "We are

e) Exod. 20:12-17.

f) The words in brackets are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

g) The Greek noun raphis means a sewing needle, such as that commonly used in a household. Nothing is impossible with God, vs. 27.

able." Then Jesus told them, "The cup that I drink you will drink, and with My baptism you will be baptized; ⁴⁰but to sit at My right or left is not Mine to grant, but is for those for whom it is reserved."

⁴¹When the other ten heard it, they began to be indignant at James and John, ⁴²but Jesus summoned them and said to them, "You know how those supposed to govern the Gentiles lord it over them, and their great men exert authority over them; ⁴³but this is not your way. Instead, whoever wants to be great among you will be your servant, ⁴⁴and whoever wants to be first among you will be everyone's slave. ⁴⁵For even the Son of Man did not come to be served but to serve and to give His life a ransom for many."

⁴⁶They came to Jericho and, as He was leaving Jericho with His disciples and a great throng, Bartimaeus,^h son of Timaeus, a blind beggar, was sitting by the roadside. ⁴⁷Hearing that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, "Jesus, son of David, take pity on me!" ⁴⁸Many ordered him to keep still; but he shouted the louder, "Son of David, take pity on me!" ⁴⁹Jesus stopped and said, "Call him." So they called to the blind man, "Have courage! Get up, He is calling you." ⁵⁰Throwing off his coat and springing to his feet, he went to Jesus. ⁵¹In response, Jesus said to him, "What do you want Me to do for you?" The blind man replied, "Rabboni,ⁱ let me see again." ⁵²Jesus said to him, "Go, your faith has restored you." And instantly he recovered his sight and followed Him on the way.

11 WHEN THEY CAME NEAR JERUSALEM, at Bethphage^j and Bethany^k by the Mount of Olives, He dispatched two of His disciples, ²to whom He said, "Go to the village opposite you and, as soon as you enter it, you will find a tethered colt which no one has ever ridden; untie and fetch it. ³If anyone says to you, 'What are you doing there?' you say, 'The Lord needs it, and He will send it back here without delay.'"

⁴They went away, found the colt tethered outside the door in the street and untied it. ⁵Some of the bystanders there remarked to them, "What are you up to, untying the colt?" ⁶So they answered just as Jesus had told them and they let them take it. ⁷Then they brought the colt to Jesus, spread their clothes on it, and Jesus sat upon it. ⁸Many also spread their garments on the road, and others leafy branches which they had cut from the fields. ⁹Both those walking ahead and those behind shouted^l "Hosanna! Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord! ¹⁰Blessed is the coming kingdom of our father David! Hosanna in the highest!"

¹¹He entered Jerusalem and went to the temple, where He observed everything and, as night was approaching, He went out to Bethany with the Twelve.

¹²The next morning, as they were leaving Bethany, He felt hungry ¹³and, noticing a leafy fig tree at a distance, went to see whether He might find anything on it. But on reaching it He found nothing but leaves;^m in fact, it was not the time for ripe figs. ¹⁴And He addressed it, "May none eat fruit from you forevermore." And His disciples were listening.

¹⁵They reached Jerusalem and, on entering the temple, He began to expel the sellers and the buyers that were in the temple. He upset the tables of the money-changers and the stalls of those who sold doves, ¹⁶and did not allow anyone to carry any goods through the temple." ¹⁷He taught them, "Is it not written,ⁿ 'My house

h) The prefix "bar" means son of, e.g., "Barjona" equals son of John. So Bartimaeus was the son of Timaeus.

i) "Rabboni" is a heightened and perhaps more intimate title or form of address than "Rabbi" (see note at Matt. 26:25). Rabbi, from the Hebrew word rav or rab, means master, lord. Rabboni denotes my master, my lord.

j) See note at Luke 19:29. k) See note at Matt. 21:17.

l) Ps. 118:25, 26. "Hosanna" means save now or salvation. The expression is akin to "God save the king."

m) Normally as soon as the leaves begin to bud, early figs show.

n) That is, the temple courts. o) Isa. 56:7; Jer. 7:11.

shall be called a house of prayer among all nations? But you have made it a den of robbers."

¹⁸The scribes and chief priests heard it and looked for ways to destroy Him; for they were afraid of Him, as all the people were amazed at His teaching. ¹⁹With the fall of evening, He left the city.

²⁰And when they came along the next morning they noticed the fig tree withered to the roots. ²¹Then Peter remembered and said to Him, "Rabbi, look! The fig tree You cursed is withered!" ²²Jesus answered them, "Have faith in God. ²³For I assure you, whoever says to this mountain, 'Be taken up and thrown into the sea,' and entertains no inner doubt but believes that what he says will happen, it shall be so for him.

²⁴"I tell you, therefore, whatever you ask in prayer, believe that you have received it and it will be yours. ²⁵And whenever you stand praying and you have a grievance against anyone, forgive him, so that your Father in heaven may forgive you your trespasses. ²⁶[But if you do not forgive, neither will your Father in heaven forgive your trespasses.]"^p

²⁷Once more they entered Jerusalem and, while He was walking around in the temple, the chief priests and the scribes and the elders came to Him ²⁸and asked Him, "By what authority are You doing these things or who gave You this authority to do them?" ²⁹Jesus said to them, "I will ask you one question; you answer Me and I will tell you by what authority I do these things. ³⁰Was the baptism of John from heaven or from men? Answer Me."

³¹They argued among themselves, "If we say, 'From heaven,' He will say, 'Why then did you not believe him?' ³²But if we say, 'From men — ' They were afraid of the people, for everyone considered John to be a prophet; ³³so they answered Jesus, "We do not know." Jesus replied to them, "Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things."

12 HE BEGAN TO ADDRESS THEM in parables: "A man planted a vineyard, encircled it with a hedge, excavated a winepress, built a tower and leased it to tenant farmers, then went away. ²At the proper season he sent an agent^q to the workers to collect from them a share of the vineyard's yield, ³but they took and flogged him and sent him off empty-handed. ⁴Again he sent them another agent whom they wounded in the head and shamefully maltreated. ⁵Once more he sent another, whom they killed, and many others — some they flogged and some they killed.

⁶"Having still one, a son he dearly loved, he finally sent him to them, saying, 'They will respect my son.' ⁷But those tenant farmers said among themselves, 'This is the heir. Come on, let us kill him and the inheritance will be ours.' ⁸So they took and killed him and threw him outside the vineyard. ⁹Now what will the owner of the vineyard do? He will come and put the tenants to death and lease the vineyard to others.

¹⁰"Have you never read this Scripture,^r 'The stone which the builders rejected has become the head of the corner; ¹¹this was the Lord's doing and it is wonderful to our eyes?' ¹²Then they looked for ways to arrest Him, but they were afraid of the people. For they knew He spoke the parable against them.^s So they left Him and went away. ¹³And they sent to Him some of the Pharisees and of the Herodians^t to trap Him with a question. ¹⁴Coming to Him, they said, "Teacher, we know that You are sincere and not partial to anyone; for You court no human favor but teach truly the way of God. Is it lawful to pay tax to Caesar or not? ¹⁵ Shall we pay or not pay?" But knowing their hypocrisy He said

p) Verse 26, enclosed in brackets, does not appear in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

q) See note at Matt. 13:27.

r) Ps. 118: 22, 23.

s) Compare Isa. 5:1-7 where Israel is God's vineyard.

t) See note at Matt. 22:16.

to them, "Why do you test Me? Bring Me a coin," so I may see it." ¹⁶They brought one and He asked them, "Whose image and inscription is this?" They said "Caesar's." ¹⁷Jesus told them, "Pay Caesar what belongs to Caesar, and God what belongs to God." And they greatly wondered at Him.

¹⁸Then the Sadducees,^v who maintain that there is no resurrection, came to Him and asked, ¹⁹"Teacher, Moses wrote^w for us that if a man's brother dies, leaving behind a wife but no child, his brother should take the widow and raise offspring for his brother. ²⁰Now there were seven brothers, the first of whom took a wife and died without offspring. ²¹Then the second married her and died without leaving offspring. ²²So the third and all seven, without leaving offspring. Last of all, the woman, too, died. ²³In the resurrection then, when they rise, whose wife shall she be? For the seven were married to her."

²⁴Jesus said to them, "Are you not mistaken in this, since you know neither the Scriptures nor the power of God? ²⁵For when they rise from the dead they neither marry nor are given in marriage but are like the angels in heaven. ²⁶But in regard to the raising of the dead, have you not read in the book of Moses^x how at the bush God said^y to him, "I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob"? ²⁷He is not the God of the dead but of the living.^z You are much mistaken."

²⁸Then one of the scribes, having listened to the discussion and aware that He had answered them well, came forward to question Him, "Which is the chief commandment of all?" ²⁹Jesus answered him, "The chief one is,^a 'Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord, ³⁰and you shall love the Lord your God with your whole heart, with your whole soul, with your whole mind, and with your whole strength.

³¹"The second is this,^b 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself.' There is no other commandment greater than these."

³²The scribe said to him, "Right, Teacher, You have said in truth that He is One and there is none beside Him, ³³and to love Him with all one's heart, with all one's mind, with all one's soul, and with all one's strength; also to love one's neighbor as oneself, is more than all burnt offerings and sacrifices." ³⁴Then Jesus, observing his intelligent response, said to him, "You are not far from the kingdom of God." After that, no one ventured any more to question Him.

³⁵As Jesus was teaching in the temple, He said, "How can the scribes say that the Christ is David's son? ³⁶For David himself said through the Holy Spirit,^c 'The LORD said to my Lord, "Sit at My right hand until I place your enemies for a footstool of your feet."' ³⁷David himself calls Him Lord; in what way then is He his son?" And the great throng listened to Him with delight.

³⁸In the course of His teaching He said to them: "Beware of the scribes, who enjoy walking around in long robes to be greeted in the market places, ³⁹to have the front seats in the synagogues and the choice places at the banquets; ⁴⁰who prey upon the properties of widows, and pray long prayers for show. They shall receive severer sentence."

⁴¹Taking a seat opposite the treasury He watched how the people put money into the treasure chest. Many of the rich put in much; ⁴²but one poor

u) Probably this coin was a denarius, the smallest silver coin in circulation. It would be worth twenty-five cents in mid-twentieth century U.S. currency.

v) See note at Matt. 3:7.

w) Deut. 25:5, 6.

x) The Pentateuch, the first five books of the Old Testament, was considered and often referred to as The Law. These five books were also sometimes spoken of simply as "Moses." Jesus here affirms the Mosaic authorship of the Pentateuch, its historicity and inspiration.

y) Exod. 3:1-10.

z) God has a vital relationship with living persons. Abraham, Isaac and Jacob still live.

a) Deut. 6:4, 5. b) Lev. 19:18.

c) Ps. 110:1. The interrogation recorded in vss. 35-37 shows that Jesus challenges both the head and the heart.

widow came and put in two mites, that is one-quarter of a cent^d ⁴³Summoning His disciples, He told them, "I assure you that this poor widow has put in more than all those contributing to the treasury; ⁴⁴for they all contributed from their surpluses but she out of her poverty gave all she had—her whole living."

13 AS HE WAS LEAVING THE TEMPLE, one of His disciples said to Him, "Teacher, see what wonderful stones and buildings these are." ²Jesus replied to him, "You see these great buildings? Not a stone shall be left on another, that shall not be torn down."

³As He sat on the Mount of Olives opposite the temple, Peter, James, John and Andrew asked Him privately, ⁴"Tell us when this is to happen and what is the sign when all these things are to be accomplished!" ⁵So Jesus began to tell them: "Look out that no one deceives you; ⁶for many will come in My name saying, 'I am He,' and will mislead many. ⁷But when you hear about wars and rumors of wars, be not alarmed; for it must be so, but the end is not yet. ⁸For nation shall revolt against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; there will be earthquakes at various places; also famines — these are the first pains of childbirth.

⁹"Look out for yourselves; for they will deliver you to councils and you will be flogged in synagogues; you will stand before governors and kings for My sake and in order to testify to them. ¹⁰And the gospel must first be preached to all the nations.

¹¹"And when they arrest you and take you to court, do not worry beforehand what you will say, say whatever is given you in that hour, for it is not you who are speaking, but it is the Holy Spirit.

¹²"Brother will hand over brother for death, and father will hand over son; children will rise against their parents and have them put to death, ¹³and you will be hated by everyone, because of My name. But whoever perseveres to the end will be saved.

¹⁴"But when you see the desolating abomination set up where it should not be^e — let the reader take notice — then let those in Judea flee to the mountains. ¹⁵A person on the housetop should not go down or go inside to fetch anything out of his house, ¹⁶and one in the field should not turn back to pick up his coat.

¹⁷"Alas for the pregnant and the nursing women in those days. ¹⁸Pray that your flight may not be in winter; ¹⁹for the misery of those days will be such as never was since the beginning of God's creation until now, neither ever will be. ²⁰And unless the Lord had shortened those days not a human being would survive; but because of the elect whom He has chosen He has shortened the days.

²¹"If anyone then tells you, 'Look, here is the Christ!' or, 'Look, there!' put no faith in it; ²²for false Christs and false prophets will arise and perform signs and wonders to lead astray, if possible, even the elect. ²³Be on your guard! I am forewarning you of it all.

²⁴"But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun will be darkened and the moon will not shed her light, ²⁵the stars will be falling from heaven and the powers in the heavens will be shaken. ²⁶Then will they see the Son of Man coming in the clouds with great power and glory. ²⁷And then will He send out the angels and gather His chosen from the four winds, from the end of the earth to the end of heaven.

²⁸"Learn this parable from the fig tree: Whenever its branch grows tender and it puts out leaves, you know that summer is near. ²⁹Similarly, when you see these things happen, you will know that He is near, at the door. ³⁰I assure you, the present generation will not pass on until all this takes place.

³¹Heaven and earth will pass away, but My sayings will not pass away.

d) The Greek word rendered "one-quarter of a cent" is kodrantēs, meaning farthing. A mite, a small copper coin worth about one-eighth of a cent, takes its name from the Greek word lepton, which means small, thin, light.

e) This is prophetic of the desecration of the temple by the Romans, who destroyed it in A.D. 70. In 167 B.C. Antiochus Epiphanes offered swine on the temple altar. Cf. Dan. 9:27; 12:11.

³²But about the exact date and hour no one knows, not even the angels in heaven, nor the Son, but only the Father. ³³Be on guard; keep wide awake [and pray!]; for you do not know the time. ³⁴It is like a man leaving his home to go abroad, who authorized his slaves⁶ and assigned to each his work, with the sentinel appointed to watch. ³⁵You, therefore, watch; for you have no idea when the Lord of the house will come—in the evening or at midnight or at the cockcrow or in the morning, ³⁶lest coming unexpectedly, He may find you sleeping. ³⁷And what I say to you, I say to everyone, Watch!"

14 THE PASSOVER AND THE FEAST of Unleavened Bread were due two days later. The chief priests and the scribes were seeking a way to arrest Him through treachery and execute Him, ²for they said, "Not during the feast, lest there will be a mob disturbance."

³While He was at Bethany in the home of Simon the leper as He was sitting¹ at the table, a woman¹ came with an alabaster jar of pure nard perfume, very valuable and, breaking the jar, she poured the ointment on His head. ⁴But there were some who indignantly remarked to one another, "What use is this waste of ointment? ⁵This could have been sold for over seventy-five dollars¹ and given to the poor." And they censured her.

⁶But Jesus said, "Leave her alone. Why do you embarrass her? She has treated Me nobly. ⁷For you always have the poor with you, and whenever you wish, you can benefit them; but you will not always have Me. ⁸She has done what she could; she has prepared My body with perfume for burial. ⁹I assure you, wherever this gospel will be preached over the whole wide world, what she has done will be told as a memorial of her."

¹⁰Then Judas Iscariot, one of the Twelve, went off to the chief priests to betray Him to them; ¹¹and when they learned of it, they were delighted and promised to pay him money. So he looked about how he might conveniently betray Him.

¹²On the first day of Unleavened Bread, when the Passover lamb was annually sacrificed, His disciples asked Him, "Where do You want us to go and prepare, so that You may eat the Passover?" ¹³Then He sent out two of His disciples⁸ and told them, "Go into the city and a man will meet you, carrying a water pitcher; follow him. ¹⁴And wherever he enters, say to the proprietor, 'The Teacher says, "Where is My guest room where I am to eat the Passover with My disciples?"'" ¹⁵He will show you a large upper room—furnishings and everything ready—there prepare for us."

¹⁶His disciples went out, came to the city and found it as He had told them. They prepared the Passover, ¹⁷and as evening fell He arrived with the Twelve. ¹⁸As they were sitting¹ and eating, Jesus said, "I tell you with certainty that one of you who is eating with Me will betray Me." ¹⁹They began to be greatly distressed, and they said to Him, one after another, "It is not I, is it?" ²⁰He answered them, "It is one of the Twelve who is dipping with Me in the dish. ²¹The Son of Man is going the way that has been written of Him, but alas for that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed. It were better for that man never to have been born."

²²As the meal proceeded, He took bread, gave thanks and broke it, gave it to them, and said,^m "Take it. This is My body." ²³Also taking the cup and giving thanks, He gave it to them and they all drank of it. ²⁴He said to them, "This is My blood of the covenant,ⁿ which is poured out for many. ²⁵I assure you, I shall no more drink of the

f) The two words enclosed in brackets are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts. g) See note at Matt. 13:27. h) See note at ch. 2:15.

i) Mary, the sister of Martha and Lazarus, John 12:3.

j) The text reads "three hundred denarii." A denarius would be worth about twenty-five cents in mid-twentieth century U.S. currency. k) Peter and John, Luke 22:8. l) See note at ch. 2:15.

m) Cf. 1 Cor. 11:23-29. n) Some ancient manuscripts read "new covenant."

vintage until that day when I shall drink it new in the kingdom of God."

²⁶With the singing of a hymn^o they went out to the Mount of Olives.

²⁷And Jesus said to them, "You will all turn away from Me, for it is written" 'I shall strike the shepherd and the sheep will be widely scattered.' ²⁸But after My resurrection I will precede you into Galilee."

²⁹Peter said to Him, "Even if all turn away from You, I will never!"

³⁰Jesus told him, "Truly I tell you, during this very night, before the rooster crows twice, you will disown Me three times." ³¹But he asserted more insistently, "Even if I must die with You, never will I disown You." And so they all said.

³²They came to a place called Gethsemane, and He told His disciples, "Be seated here while I pray." ³³But He took along with Him Peter, James and John, and as He began to feel deeply alarmed and distressed, ³⁴He said to them, "My soul is mortally grieved; stay here and watch." ³⁵Going a little farther, He fell on the ground and prayed that, if possible, the impending hour might pass from Him. ³⁶He said, "Abba,^q Father, all things are possible with Thee. Remove this cup from Me. Not, however, what I will but what Thou wilt."

³⁷He came and found them asleep, and said to Peter, "Simon, are you sleeping? Were you not able to watch for one hour? ³⁸All of you watch and pray, so that you may not enter into temptation. The spirit is willing enough, but the flesh is weak."

³⁹He left again and prayed, uttering the same words. ⁴⁰Then He returned to find them asleep once more; for their eyes were heavy. And they did not know what excuse to give Him. ⁴¹He then came for the third time and said to them, "Sleeping and resting still? It is enough; the hour has come. The Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. ⁴²Rise up; let us go. Look, My betrayer is near."

⁴³At once, while He was still talking, Judas, one of the Twelve, approached and with him a great mob with swords and clubs, sent by the chief priests, scribes and elders. ⁴⁴Now His betrayer had given them a signal: "The One whom I kiss is the One. Seize Him and lead Him safely away." ⁴⁵So, as soon as he came, he stepped up to Him, said, "Rabbi,"^r and kissed Him. ⁴⁶Then they put their hands on Him and arrested Him.

⁴⁷One^s of those standing beside Him drew his sword, struck the high priest's slave and cut off his ear. ⁴⁸And Jesus' response to them was: "Have you come out as against a robber, with swords and clubs to arrest Me? ⁴⁹Daily I was with you in the temple teaching, and you did not seize Me. However, this^t is happening so that the Scriptures may be fulfilled."

⁵⁰And they all forsook Him and fled. ⁵¹But a certain youth^u followed Him, wearing a linen cloth on his bare body, and when they seized him, ⁵²he left the linen cloth behind and fled from them naked.

⁵³They brought Jesus before the high priest, and all the chief priests and elders and scribes assembled. ⁵⁴And Peter followed Him from a distance until he was inside the high priest's courtyard, where he sat down with the attendants and warmed himself by the fire.

⁵⁵The chief priests and the entire Sanhedrin^v searched for sufficient evidence against Jesus to execute Him, but failed to find it; ⁵⁶for while many bore false witness against Him, their testimony did not agree. ⁵⁷Some rose up to testify falsely against Him, ⁵⁸"We heard Him say, 'I will break down this temple made by hands and in three days will build another made

o) This hymn would probably have been some such psalm as Ps. 112.

p) Zech. 13:7.

q) "Abba" (Aramaic) means father. Aramaic was the everyday language in Palestine in the first century.

r) That is, "Master." See note at ch. 10:51.

s) Simon Peter, John 18:10. t) Isa. 53:7, 8.

u) It is probable that this was Mark himself.

v) See note at Luke 22:66.

without hands.' " 59But even so their evidence did not agree. 60Then the high priest stood up in the center and asked Jesus, "Are not You answering at all what these are testifying against You?" 61But He kept still and never answered at all."

Again the high priest questioned Him. He said, "Are You the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?" 62Jesus said, "I am. And you will see the Son of Man seated at the right hand of the Almighty, and coming on the clouds of heaven." 63Then the high priest, tearing his clothes, said, "What further need do we have of witnesses? 64You have heard the blasphemy; how does it seem to you?" And they all^x condemned Him as deserving death. 65Some also started to spit^y at Him and to blindfold Him and to hit^z Him with the fist and to say to Him, "Prophecy!" And the attendants took Him and slapped His face.

66As Peter was below in the courtyard, one of the high priest's maids came and saw Peter warming himself. 67She looked at him and accosted him, "You were with the Nazarene Jesus, too." 68But he denied it: "I do not know or understand at all what you are talking about." Then he went outside to the entrance, and the rooster crowed. 69Then the servant girl started again to tell the bystanders, "This fellow belongs to them." 70Again he denied it. In a little while the bystanders once more told Peter, "Surely, you are one of them; for you are a Galilean."

71Then he commenced invoking a curse on himself as he swore, "I do not know the Man you mention." 72And instantly for the second time the rooster crowed. Then Peter remembered how Jesus had told him, "Before the cock crows twice, you will disown Me three times." As he considered that, he wept audibly.

15 AS SOON AS MORNING DAWNED the chief priests formed a conference with the elders and scribes, including the entire Sanhedrin and, binding Jesus, they led Him off and handed Him over to Pilate. 2Pilate asked Him, "Are You the king of the Jews?" He answered him, "So you say." 3Then the chief priests accused Him of many things, 4but Pilate questioned Him again, "Have You no answer? See what they are charging against You." 5Still Jesus made no further reply, so that Pilate wondered.

6But at the feast he used to release to them one prisoner for whom they asked, 7and there was one named Barabbas, confined with the insurrectionists, who had committed murder in the uprising. 8The shouting mob proceeded to request the usual privilege for them. 9Pilate replied to them, "Do you want me to release to you the king of the Jews?" 10For he knew that out of envy the chief priests had delivered Him. 11However, the chief priests stirred up the crowd to prefer that Barabbas be released for them. 12Then Pilate came back at them again, "Then what shall I do with the One you call king of the Jews?" 13But again they shouted, "Crucify Him!" 14Pilate asked them, "Why, what wrong did He commit?" But they cried out the more loudly, "Crucify Him!"

15So Pilate, wishing to satisfy the crowd, released Barabbas for them and, after flogging Jesus, gave Him over to be crucified. 16The soldiers led Him inside the hall, that is, the Praetorium,^a where they mustered the entire cohort.^b 17They dressed Him in purple, and crowned Him with a crown of thorns, which they had twisted; 18then they began to salute Him, "Long live the king of the Jews!" 19They further hit Him on the head with a reed, and spat at Him and with bended knees did Him homage. 20After the mockery, they took the purple off Him and put on His own clothes; then they led Him out to crucify Him.

21They forced a certain passerby,

w) Isa. 53:7.

x) It does not seem likely that Joseph of Arimathea, Luke 23:50, 51, and Nicodemus, John 7:50-52, were present.

y) Isa. 50:6.

z) Cf. Isa. 52:14.

a) "Praetorium" was a name for Roman headquarters, whether in a military camp, a castle, or the governor's palace. Here it was probably Herod's palace.

b) See note at Acts 10:1.

Simon, a Cyrenian, the father of Alexander and Rufus,^c who was coming from the country, to carry His cross.

²²They led Him to the place called Golgotha, which means Place of a Skull, ²³and offered Him a drink of wine, flavored with myrrh; but He refused it. ²⁴And they crucified Him, and divided His clothes, over which they cast lots to determine each one's share. ²⁵It was nine in the morning when they crucified Him. ²⁶The inscription of His accusation was written on top, THE KING OF THE JEWS.

²⁷With Him they crucified two robbers, one at His right and one at His left. ²⁸[So the Scripture was fulfilled, ⁴"He was counted with the lawless."]^e

²⁹The passers-by reviled Him, shaking their heads and saying, "Aha, You who were going to destroy the temple and build it in three days! ³⁰Save Yourself! Come down from the cross!" ³¹Similarly the chief priests, as they mocked between themselves and the scribes, said, "He saved others; Himself He cannot save. ³²Let the Christ, the king of Israel, now come down from the cross, so that we may see and believe." And those crucified with Him reproached Him too.

³³From twelve until three o'clock darkness settled over the whole country; ³⁴and at three o'clock Jesus cried with a great voice, "Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani?" which means, "My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?"

³⁵Some of the bystanders, as they heard it, said, "Notice, He is calling for Elijah." ³⁶But one ran and soaked a sponge in vinegar, then fixed it to a reed and gave Him a drink, with the remark, "Hold on, let us see if Elijah comes to take Him down."

³⁷But having uttered a strong cry, Jesus died. ³⁸The temple veil was torn in two from top to bottom, ³⁹and the centurion, who stood facing Him, seeing how He died in that way, exclaimed, "Truly this man was God's Son!" ⁴⁰There were women also, looking on from a distance, among them Mary Magdalene, and Mary^f the mother of James, the younger, and of Joses, and Salome^g — ⁴¹the women who had been following Him and helping Him when He was in Galilee, and many others who came up with Him to Jerusalem.

⁴²When evening had come,^h since it was the day of preparation, that is the day before the Sabbath, ⁴³Joseph of Arimathea, an honorable member of the Sanhedrin, who was personally awaiting the kingdom of God, came and boldly approached Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus. ⁴⁴But Pilate wondered whether He was already dead; so he summoned the centurion and asked him if He had been dead for some time. ⁴⁵When he had received this information from the centurion, he granted Joseph the body.

⁴⁶He bought a linen sheet in which he wrapped the body after taking it down; then he laid Him in a tomb that was carved out of a rock and rolled a stone against the opening of the tomb; ⁴⁷and Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joses observed where He was laid.

16 AFTER THE SABBATH MARY Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome bought spices, so that they might go and anoint Him. ²And very early in the morning at sunrise on the first day of the week they came to the tomb. ³They said among themselves, "Who will roll the stone from the mouth of the tomb for us?" ⁴But as they looked up, they saw that the stone — a very heavy one — had been rolled away.

⁵They entered the tomb and saw a young man sitting to the right, dressed in a white robe, and they were struck

c) Both sons became known to the church. A Rufus is mentioned in Rom. 16:13, who may have been this son of Simon the Cyrenian.

d) Isa. 53:12.

e) Verse 28, enclosed in brackets, is not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

f) See note at Matt. 1:16.

g) Salome was Zehedee's wife, the mother of James and John, the apostles, Matt. 27:56; Mark 10:35.

h) The time was between 3 and 6 p.m.

with terror. ⁶But he said to them, "Do not be terrified. You are looking for Jesus the Nazarene, who was crucified. He is risen; He is not here; see the place where they laid Him. ⁷But go, tell His disciples and Peter that He precedes you into Galilee; there you will see Him, just as He told you."¹ ⁸Hurriedly they fled from the tomb, trembling and alarmed, and they spoke to no one, for they were afraid.

⁹[After Jesus had risen early the first day of the week, He appeared first to Mary of Magdala, from whom He had expelled seven demons. ¹⁰She went and told those who had accompanied Him, grieving and weeping as they were. ¹¹When they heard that He was alive and had been seen by her, they did not believe it. ¹²But later on He appeared in a different form to two of them while they were walking into the country. ¹³They went and told the others; but neither did they believe them. ¹⁴Afterward He appeared to the Eleven as they sat¹ at the table, and chided their unbelief and hardheartedness, because they did not believe those who had seen Him after He had risen.

¹⁵He also told them, "Go into the whole world and preach the gospel to every creature. ¹⁶He who believes and is baptized will be saved; but he who does not believe will be condemned. ¹⁷And these signs will follow those who believe: in My name they will expel demons; they will speak with new tongues; ¹⁸they will pick up snakes; and if they drink anything fatal it will not injure them in the least. They will lay hands on the sick and they will become well."

¹⁹So after the Lord had talked with them, He was received up into heaven and sat at the right hand of God. ²⁰But they went out and preached everywhere; for the Lord was working with them and was confirming the message by the signs that followed.]^k

i) Chapter 14:28.

j) See note at ch. 2:15.

k) Verses 9-20, enclosed in brackets, are not found in the majority of the most reliable manuscripts.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO

LUKE

1 NOW THAT MANY HAVE PUT THEIR hands to the composition of a narrative regarding the events that have certainly taken place among us, ²transmitted as they were to us by those who were from the first eyewitnesses and ministers of the Word, ³it seemed fitting for me as well, since I investigated accurately everything from its beginning, to write you in orderly fashion, most excellent Theophilus, ⁴so that you may know the certainty of the instructions you have received.

c. 6 B.C.

⁵In the days of Herod, the king of Judea, there was a certain priest named Zechariah, of the week of the priestly service^a named after Abijah, and his wife Elizabeth, of Aaron's daughters. ⁶Both lived uprightly before God, blamelessly walking in accordance with all the commandments and injunctions of the Lord. ⁷They had no child because Elizabeth was barren, and both were getting up in years.

⁸Administering his priestly service before the Lord in the sequence of his series, as customary among the priests, ⁹it fell to him by lot to enter the Lord's temple for the burning of incense. ¹⁰And at the hour of incense the whole multitude of people were praying outside.

¹¹But an angel of the Lord appeared to him, standing to the right of the altar of incense, ¹²and when Zechariah saw him, he was troubled and fear got hold of him. ¹³But the angel said to him, "Have no fear, Zechariah, because your prayer has been heard. Your wife Elizabeth will bear you a son, whom you will call John. ¹⁴He will afford you joy and happiness and many will be glad at his birth, ¹⁵for he will be great before the Lord. He will drink no wine or liquor at all, and from his birth he will be filled with the Holy Spirit. ¹⁶Many of the sons of Israel will he turn to the Lord their God, ¹⁷before whom he shall go forth in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children and the obstinate to the wisdom of the righteous, to prepare a people who are ready for the Lord."

¹⁸Then Zechariah said to the angel. "In what way can I be assured of this, for I am an old man and my wife is advanced in years?" ¹⁹The angel answered him, "I am Gabriel, who stands in the presence of God, and I was sent to speak to you and to announce these glad tidings to you. ²⁰Behold! You will be silent and unable to speak until the day when these things take place, because you did not believe my words, which will come true at the proper time."

²¹The people were waiting for Zechariah and wondering why he lingered in the temple; ²²but when he came out he could not speak to them, and they recognized that he had seen a vision in the temple, for he made signs to them and remained speechless. ²³And as soon

a) King David had assigned the priests to twenty-four divisions, each section to serve at the sanctuary for a week. The Abijah division was the eighth, 1 Chron. 24:10.

as his time of service was over, he went home.

c. 5 B.C.

²⁴After those days his wife Elizabeth conceived and hid herself five months, saying, ²⁵"In this way has the Lord treated me when He favored me to remove my humiliation among men."

²⁶In the sixth month of Elizabeth's pregnancy the Angel Gabriel was sent by God to Nazareth,^b a town of Galilee, ²⁷to a virgin named Mary^c who was engaged to Joseph, a descendant of David. ²⁸The angel, as he approached her, said, "Greetings, favored one. The Lord is with you."

²⁹But she was troubled at his message and reflected what sort of greeting this might be. ³⁰The angel said to her, "Have no fear, Mary, for you have found favor with God. ³¹And lo, you will conceive in your womb and give birth to a son and you shall call Him Jesus. ³²He will be great and will be called Son of the Highest, and the Lord God will give Him the throne of His father David. ³³He will be king over the house of Jacob forever; there will be no end to His kingdom."

³⁴Mary asked the angel, "How will this be, since I have no husband?"

³⁵The angel answered her, "The Holy Spirit will come upon you and the power of the Highest will overshadow you; therefore that holy Offspring will be called the Son of God. ³⁶Also your cousin Elizabeth is to be mother of a son in her old age, and this is now the sixth month with her who was called barren. ³⁷For nothing is ever impossible with God." ³⁸And Mary said, "Here I am, the Lord's bondservant. Let it be with me as you say." And the angel left her.

³⁹After those days Mary got ready and hurried to the hill country to a town of Judah, ⁴⁰arrived at the home of Zechariah, and greeted Elizabeth. ⁴¹And as Elizabeth listened to Mary's greeting, the babe leaped within her. Then, filled with the Holy Spirit,

⁴²Elizabeth spoke with a loud voice, "Blessed are you among women and blessed is the fruit of your womb. ⁴³And how did this happen to me, that my Lord's mother should visit me? ⁴⁴Just think, when the voice of your greeting reached my ears the babe leaped within me for joy! ⁴⁵And blessed is she who believed, because the things told her by the Lord will be accomplished."

⁴⁶And Mary said,^d "My soul magnifies the Lord ⁴⁷and my spirit is glad in God my Savior, ⁴⁸for He took notice of the lowliness of His bondservant. Consider, from now on all generations will call me blessed, ⁴⁹for the Almighty has done great things for me. His name is holy ⁵⁰and His mercy is to those who reverence Him through all generations. ⁵¹He exercised strength with His arm; He scattered the proud in their heart's imaginations; ⁵²He dethroned princes and lifted up the lowly; ⁵³the needy He supplied to the full with good things and the rich He sent away empty-handed. ⁵⁴He sustained Israel, His servant, in remembrance of His mercy, ⁵⁵as He spoke to our fathers, to Abraham and his descendants forever."

⁵⁶And Mary stayed with her for about three months, and returned to her home. ⁵⁷Now Elizabeth's time to give birth had come and she bore a son; ⁵⁸and her neighbors and relatives heard what great mercy the Lord had granted her, and they shared her happiness. ⁵⁹On the eighth day they came to circumcise the baby and were going to name him Zechariah, after his father. ⁶⁰But his mother demurred, "No, he must instead be called John!" ⁶¹They argued with her, "None of your relatives bears that name." ⁶²Then they motioned to his father, what he wanted him to be called ⁶³and he, requesting a writing tablet, wrote, "His name is John." This surprised them all. ⁶⁴And instantly his mouth was opened and his tongue was loosed, and he spoke in praise of God.

⁶⁵A deep sense of awe came upon all

b) See note at Matt. 2:23.

c) See note on the four Marys in the Gospels, Matt. 1:16.

d) Mary knew the Hebrew Scriptures. That is evident from her free use of Hannah's song, I Sam. 21:1-8.

the neighbors, and these happenings became matters of conversation in the entire hill country of Judea. ⁶⁶All who learned of it kept it in mind. They said, "What kind of child will this be?" For the Lord's hand was with him.

⁶⁷His father Zechariah was filled with the Holy Spirit and prophesied, ⁶⁸"Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, for He has looked with favor upon His people and has accomplished redemption for them. ⁶⁹He has raised up a powerful Savior for us in the house of David, His servant, ⁷⁰as He spoke by the mouth of His holy prophets from ancient times — ⁷¹salvation from our enemies and from the hand of all who hate us. ⁷²To show the mercy that was promised our ancestors, and to remember His holy covenant, ⁷³He swore an oath to our father Abraham; ⁷⁴to grant us, being saved from our enemies, fearlessly to worship Him ⁷⁵in holiness and righteousness in His presence all our days.

⁷⁶"And you, little one, will be called a prophet of the Highest; for you will go in advance of the Lord to prepare His way, ⁷⁷to bring to His people a knowledge of salvation by remission of their sins ⁷⁸through the tender mercies of our God, by which the light of dawn will beam on us from on high, ⁷⁹to shine on those sitting in darkness and in the shadow of death, to direct our feet into the path of peace."

⁸⁰And the child grew and was spiritually strengthened, and was in solitary places until the time of his appearing to Israel.

2 IN THOSE DAYS AN ORDER WENT out from Caesar Augustus that a census should be taken of the whole world. ²This registration first occurred while Quirinius was governor of Syria.

³They all went to be registered, each to his own city, ⁴and Joseph, too, went up from Galilee out of the city of Nazareth to Judea, to the city of David called Bethlehem, ⁵because he was of the house and family of David, ⁵to be registered with Mary, his betrothed wife, whose pregnancy was advanced.

⁶While they were there her days were completed to give birth, ⁷and she bore her first-born Son, whom she wrapped in swaddling clothes and laid in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

⁸There were in the same country shepherds, staying in the fields and keeping watch over their flock by night. ⁹And an angel of the Lord stood by them and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they feared greatly.

¹⁰And the angel said to them, "Have no fear, for behold I announce to you good news of great joy that will be for all the people; ¹¹for today there was born for you in the city of David, a Savior, who is Christ the Lord. ¹²And this is a token for you: you will find the baby wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger."

¹³And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God and saying, ¹⁴"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men in His favor!"

¹⁵As the angels went from them into heaven, the shepherds said to one another, "Let us go straight to Bethlehem, and let us see what has happened that the Lord has made known to us." ¹⁶And hastily they went, found both Mary and Joseph, and saw the baby lying in the manger. ¹⁷When they had seen the child they made known to others what had been told them regarding it, ¹⁸and every one who heard it marveled at the things that were reported to them by the shepherds. ¹⁹But Mary treasured those reports and thought them over in her heart. ²⁰And the shepherds went back, glorifying and praising God for everything they had heard and seen, just as it had been told them.

²¹When eight days were completed, ²²at His circumcision the name Jesus was given Him, as named by the angel before His conception in the womb.

c) See note at Matt. 2:1.

f) The precise month of the birth of Christ is uncertain.

g) Lev. 12:3.

c. 4 B.C.

²²When the days for their purification according to the Law of Moses were completed,^h they brought Him to Jerusalem to present Him to the Lord,²³ as prescribed in the Law of the Lord,ⁱ "Every first-born male shall be called holy to the Lord,"²⁴ and to offer a sacrifice as mentioned in the Law of the Lord,^j "A pair of turtle doves or two young pigeons."

²⁵Now there was a man in Jerusalem, Simeon by name, an upright and devout man who was looking for the consolation of Israel.^k The Holy Spirit was on him²⁶ and it was divinely communicated to him by the Holy Spirit that he would not see death before he had seen the Lord's Christ.²⁷ Moved by the Spirit he came into the temple and, when the parents brought in the child Jesus to perform the legal ritual for Him,²⁸ he took Him up in his arms and thanked God,²⁹ "Now let Your bond servant depart in peace, Lord, in agreement with Your word,³⁰ for my eyes have seen Your salvation,³¹ which You have prepared before all the nations,^{32a} a light for revelation to the Gentiles and a glory to Your people Israel."

³³As His father and mother were wondering about the things spoken regarding Him,³⁴ Simeon blessed them and said to His mother Mary, "See, this child is appointed for the falling and rising up of many in Israel and for a sign that will be opposed —³⁵ And a sword shall pass through your own soul — so that the reasonings of many hearts may be revealed."

³⁶There also was Anna, a daughter of Phanuel of the tribe of Asher, a prophetess advanced in years who had, after her girlhood, lived seven years with her husband,³⁷ and was a widow of about eighty-four. She never left the temple but worshiped night and day in fastings and intercessions.³⁸ She, too, came up that same hour and gave similar thanks to the Lord and talked about Him to all those looking for the redemption of Jerusalem.

³⁹When they had finished everything according to the Law of the Lord, they went back to Galilee to their own city, Nazareth.⁴⁰ And the child grew and became strong, filled with wisdom, and the grace of God rested upon Him.

c. A.D. 8

⁴¹Annually at the Passover Feast His parents traveled to Jerusalem.⁴² And when He was twelve they went up to Jerusalem according to the custom of the feast.⁴³ When the days were ended and they returned, the boy Jesus remained behind in Jerusalem without His parents being aware of it.⁴⁴ Supposing that He was in the caravan, they traveled a day, then looked for Him among relatives and acquaintances⁴⁵ and, not finding Him, went back to Jerusalem in search of Him.⁴⁶ The third day they found Him in the temple, sitting among the teachers, listening to them and asking them questions.⁴⁷ And all who heard Him were astonished at His understanding and His answers.

⁴⁸When His parents saw Him they were amazed, and His mother said to Him, "Child, why have You treated us this way? Your father and I have anxiously been looking for You." ⁴⁹He said to them, "Why were you seeking Me? Did you not know that I ought to be in My Father's house?" ⁵⁰But they did not understand the saying which He spoke to them.

⁵¹He went down with them to Nazareth and submitted Himself to them, and His mother treasured all these matters in her heart.⁵² And Jesus advanced in wisdom and in stature and in favor with God and men.

c. A.D. 26

3 IN THE FIFTEENTH YEAR OF TIBERIUS Caesar's reign,¹ when Pontius

h) Lev. 12:1, 2, 4.

i) Num. 8:17. "Holy" (Gk. hagios) equals consecrated to. The first-born male was to be consecrated to the Lord.

j) Lev. 12:6-8.

k) Simeon was looking for the coming of the Messiah, Israel's hope and comfort, Isa. 40:1-5; 61:1-3.

l) The reign of Tiberius began about A.D. 11-12.

Pilate was governor of Judea; Herod, tetrarch of Galilee; his brother Philip, tetrarch of Ituraea and of the Trachonitis region; and Lysanias, tetrarch of Abilene, ²Annas and Caiaphas being high priests, the word of God came to John, the son of Zechariah, in the desert.

³Then he went into all the area on either side of the Jordan River, preaching a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins, ⁴as has been written in the book of messages of Isaiah the prophet, ^m"A voice of one shouting in the desert, Prepare the way of the Lord, make His paths straight. ⁵Every ravine will be filled up and every mountain and hill will be leveled; the crooked paths will become straight and the rough ways smooth, ⁶and all people will see the salvation of God."

⁷So he said to the crowds that came to be baptized by him, "Viper brood, who forewarned you to flee from the coming wrath? ⁸Therefore produce fruits in keeping with your repentance, and do not begin to say within yourselves, 'We have Abraham as our father'; for I tell you that God can raise offspring to Abraham from these stones. ⁹The ax is lying ready at the root of the trees, so that every tree that fails to produce good fruit will be felled and thrown into the fire."

¹⁰The crowds asked him, "Then what should we do?" ¹¹He answered them, "He who has two tunics should share with him who has none, and he who has food should behave similarly."

¹²The tax collectors also came to be baptized and said to him, "Teacher, what shall we do?" ¹³To them he said, "Do not collect more than your appointed rate." ¹⁴And when the soldiers asked him, "What shall we do?" he told them, "Do not extort money by intimidating or informing, but be content with your pay."

¹⁵As the people were in suspense and were all wondering in their hearts about John, whether he might perhaps be the Christ, ¹⁶John answered them all, "I, it is true, baptize you with water, but One mightier than I is coming after me, whose sandal-strings I am not fit to unfasten. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire. ¹⁷His winnowing fan is in His hand and He will thoroughly clean up His threshing floor, storing the wheat in His granary and burning the chaff in fire that cannot be put out."

¹⁸With many another appeal, also, he preached to the people; ¹⁹but when Herod the tetrarch was taken to task by him regarding Herodias, his brother Philip's wife, as well as about all the evils he had practiced, ²⁰he crowned all this by confining John in prison.

²¹When all the people were being baptized, Jesus too was baptized and, while He was praying, heaven was opened ²²and the Holy Spirit came down on Him, in bodily shape like a dove, and a voice came from heaven, "Thou art My Beloved Son; in Thee I am well pleased."

²³And Jesus Himself, when He began His ministry, was about thirty years of age, being the son, as was supposed, of Joseph, the son of Heli, ⁿ²⁴whose father and forefathers were Matthat, Levi, Melchi, Jannai, Joseph, ²⁵Mattathias, Amos, Nahum, Esli, Naggai, ²⁶Maath, Mattathias, Semein, Josech, Joda, ²⁷Joanan, Rhese, Zerubabel, Shealtiel, Neri, ²⁸Melchi, Addi, Cosam, Elmadam, Er, ²⁹Joshua, Eliezer, Jorim, Matthat, Levi, ³⁰Simeon, Judas, Joseph, Janam, Eliakim, ³¹Melea, Menna, Mattatha, Nathan, David, ³²Jesse, Obed, Boaz, Salmon, Nahshon, ³³Aminadab, Arni, Hezron, Perez, Judah, ³⁴Jacob, Isaac, Abraham, Terah, Nahor, ³⁵Serug, Reu, Peleg, Eber, Shelah, ³⁶Cainan, Arphaxad, Shem, Noah, Lamech, ³⁷Methuselah, Enoch, Jared, Mahalaleel, Cainan, ³⁸Enos, Seth, Adam who was of God.

4 FILLED WITH THE HOLY SPIRIT, Jesus returned from the Jordan River and for forty days was guided about in the desert by the Spirit, ²while being tested by the devil. He did not eat at all during those days and

m) Isa. 40:3-5.

n) Jesus was the grandson of Heli through Mary.

on their completion He was hungry. ⁴So the devil said to Him, "If You are the Son of God, tell this stone to become bread." ⁴Jesus answered him, "It is written,^a 'Man shall not live on bread alone; [but by every expression of God].'" ⁵Then leading Him up [to a high mountain],^b the devil showed Him in an instant all the world's kingdoms and told Him, ⁶"All this authority and the splendor of them will I give You, for it has been handed over to me and I bestow it on whomever I please; ⁷so if You will worship me, it shall all be Yours." ⁸Jesus answered him, "It is written,^c 'You shall worship the Lord your God and serve Him alone.'"

⁹Then he brought Him to Jerusalem and, placing Him on the summit of the temple, told Him, "If You are the Son of God, throw Yourself down from here, ¹⁰for it is written,^d 'He will give orders to His angels on your behalf to protect you,' ¹¹and 'They will carry you on their hands so that you may not stub your foot against a stone.'" ¹²Jesus answered him, "It is also written,^e 'You shall not test the Lord your God.'" ¹³So the devil, after bringing to completion every kind of temptation, left Him until a favorable time.

c. A.D. 28

¹⁴Jesus returned to Galilee in the power of the Spirit, and His fame spread over all the surrounding country. ¹⁵He taught in their synagogues and was lauded by everyone. ¹⁶He came to Nazareth,^f where He had been brought up, and in agreement with His custom He went to the synagogue on the Sabbath and stood up to read. ¹⁷The book of the Prophet Isaiah was handed to Him and on opening the scroll He found the place where it was written,^g ¹⁸"The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, for He has anointed Me to preach the gospel to the poor; He has sent Me to announce release to the captives and restoration of sight to the blind, to set free the downtrodden and ¹⁹to proclaim the year of the Lord's favor."^h

²⁰Rolling up the scroll He handed it back to the attendant and sat down. The eyes of everyone in the synagogue were fixed on Him, ²¹and He began by telling them, "Today this Scripture is fulfilled in your hearing." ²²They all remarked about Him and wondered at the gracious words that flowed from His lips. They said, "Is not this Joseph's son?" ²³He said to them, "You will doubtless quote Me this proverb, 'Physician, heal Yourself.' Do in Your own hometown what we hear You did in Capernaum." ²⁴But He continued, "I assure you that no prophet is acceptable in his home town. ²⁵I tell you truly, in the days of Elijahⁱ there were many widows in Israel, when for three years and six months the heaven was closed up and a severe famine visited all the land; ²⁶but to none of them was Elijah sent except to a widow at Sarepta of Sidon. ²⁷There were also many lepers in Israel in the time of Elisha^j the prophet, and none of them was cured but Naaman the Syrian."

²⁸When the people in the synagogue heard this, they all felt deeply resentful. ²⁹They got up and expelled Him from the city and led Him to the brow of the hill on which the city was built, to hurl Him down; ³⁰but He made His way straight through their midst and went away.

³¹He came down to Capernaum,^k a city of Galilee, and taught them on the Sabbath. ³²They were overwhelmed with His teaching, for His message had authority. ³³And in the synagogue there was a man with an unclean demon's spirit, who cried out loudly, ³⁴"Ah, what business is it of Yours to bother us, Jesus of Nazareth? Have You come to destroy us? I know

a) Deut. 8:3.

b) The words in brackets are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

c) Deut. 6:13; 10:20.

d) Psalms 91:11, 12.

e) Deut. 6:16.

f) See note at Matt. 2:23.

g) Isa. 61:1, 2.

h) Compare this with the message sent to the bewildered John the Baptist while he was in prison, Matt. 11:4, 5.

i) 1 Kings 17:1-16; cf. James 5:17, 18.

j) II Kings 5:1-18.

k) See note at Matt. 4:13.

who You are — The Holy One of God.”

³⁵But Jesus rebuked him, “Be still and get out of him!” Then throwing him to the floor in their midst, the demon came out of him without hurting him.

³⁶A sense of awe came over all of them and they remarked to one another, “What teaching this is! For with authority and power He gives orders to unclean spirits and they come out.”

³⁷And a report about Him went out into every place in the surrounding country.

³⁸He then went from the synagogue to Simon's home; but Simon's mother-in-law was suffering from a high fever and they consulted Him about her.

³⁹Standing over her, He rebuked the fever and it left her. And at once she arose and began to wait on them.

⁴⁰At sunset all who had any who were ill with various diseases, brought them to Him and He laid hands on all of them and cured them. ⁴¹Even demons came out of many people, shouting, “You are the Son of God.” But He rebuked them and did not allow them to speak, because they knew that He was the Christ.

⁴²At break of day He went out to a lonely spot, but the crowds were looking for Him and came to where He was and tried to keep Him from leaving them; ⁴³but He told them, “I must preach the good news of the kingdom of God to other towns as well, because for this purpose I was sent.” ⁴⁴And He continued preaching in the synagogues of Judea.

5 AND AS THE PEOPLE WERE CROWDing Him to hear God's message, He noticed, while standing by the Lake of Gennesaret,^z ²two boats moored near the shore, but the fishermen had disembarked and were washing their nets. ³He stepped into one of the boats which belonged to Simon, and asked him to push out a little from the shore;

then when He had sat down He began to teach the crowd from the boat.

⁴When He had finished speaking, He told Simon, “Push out into the deep and lower your nets for a haul.”

⁵Simon replied, “Master, all night we were working hard without catching a thing; however, at Your word, I will cast the nets.” ⁶And when they did so, they enclosed such a shoal of fish that their nets started tearing. ⁷They signaled their partners in the other boat to come and help them, which they did, and they filled both boats until they almost sank. ⁸At the sight of it, Simon Peter fell at Jesus' knees and said, “Leave me, Lord, for I am a sinful man!”^a ⁹For amazement had gripped him and all his partners at the catch of fish they had made — ¹⁰so also with James and John, the sons of Zebedee, partners with Simon. And Jesus said to Simon, “Have no fear; from now on you will be catching men.” ¹¹Then bringing the boats to shore, they left everything and followed Him.

¹²While He was in one of the towns, a man covered with leprosy saw Jesus and, falling on his face, begged of Him, “Lord, if You will, You can cleanse me.” ¹³Reaching out His hand, Jesus touched him, saying, “I will; be cleansed.” And immediately the leprosy left him. ¹⁴Jesus warned him to tell no one; but “Go, show yourself to the priest,”^b He said, “and make offerings for your purification as Moses prescribed, as evidence to the people.” ¹⁵But word about Him spread even more, and large crowds gathered to listen and to be healed of their diseases. ¹⁶Jesus, however, habitually withdrew into the desert for prayer.

¹⁷One of those days He was teaching, and Pharisees^c and teachers of the law, who had come from every village of Galilee and from Judea and Jerusalem, were sitting there, and the power

z) The Lake of Gennesaret is another name for the Sea of Galilee. The same body of water is also called the Sea of Tiberius, John 6:1. In O.T. times it was known as the Sea of Chinnereth, Num. 34:11; Josh. 12:3; 13:27.

a) If he had not realized it before this, Peter was now beginning to understand that Jesus was more than a mere man.

b) In O.T. times part of the priestly function was to prescribe for the sick in accord with the Law of Moses, Lev. 14.

c) See note at Matt. 3:7.

of the Lord was present so that He healed people. ¹⁸Then some men came carrying a paralytic on a couch and tried to bring him in and lay him before Jesus; ¹⁹but as they found no way to carry him in because of the crowd, they went up on the roof and let him down through the tiles, couch and all, right in front of Jesus.

²⁰Seeing their faith, He said, "Man, your sins are forgiven you." ²¹The scribes^d and the Pharisees began to reason, "Who is this, speaking blasphemies? Who is able to forgive sins except God alone?"^e ²²Jesus, aware of their reasonings, said to them, "What are you deliberating in your minds? ²³Which is easier, to say: 'Your sins are forgiven,' or to say, 'Arise and walk'? ²⁴However, so that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins," He said to the paralytic, "I tell you, rise, pick up your couch and walk home." ²⁵At once he got up in their presence, picked up what he had been lying on and, praising God, went home. ²⁶Amazement gripped them all; they, too, praised God and, full of awe, said, "We have seen astounding things today."

²⁷Going outdoors after this, He noticed a tax collector named Levi^f sitting at the revenue office, and said to him, "Follow Me." ²⁸Rising up, he left everything and followed Him. ²⁹Then Levi gave Him a great banquet at his home, at which a large group of tax collectors and others sat^g at the table together. ³⁰But the scribes and the Pharisees grumbled to His disciples, "Why do you eat and drink with tax collectors and sinners?" ³¹Jesus answered them, "Healthy people do not need a physician, but those who are ill. ³²I have come, not to call the upright but sinners to repentance."

³³And they said to Him, "John's disciples fast and pray frequently, as do those of the Pharisees as well; but Yours both eat and drink." ³⁴And Jesus said to them, "Can the wedding guests be made to fast while the bridegroom is with them? ³⁵But the time will come when the bridegroom will be taken from them, and in those days they will fast."

³⁶And He spoke this parable to them: "No one patches an old garment with a patch taken from a new one, or else he will tear the new, and also the patch from the new will not match the old. ³⁷And no one pours new wine into old wineskins; otherwise the new wine will burst the skins and run out and the skins will be ruined. ³⁸But new wine should be put into fresh wineskins. ³⁹And no one, used to drinking old wine, wants new wine right away, for he says, 'The old is preferable.'"^h

6 ON A SABBATH,ⁱ WHILE HE WAS passing through grainfields, His disciples picked the heads of grain, rubbed them in their hands and ate them. ²But some of the Pharisees said, "Why do you practice what is not allowed on the Sabbath?" ³Jesus answered them, "Have you never read^j what David did when he and his companions were hungry, ⁴how he entered the house of God and took and ate the loaves of presentation,^k which none but the priests are allowed to eat, and he shared them with his companions?" ⁵He said further, "The Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath."

⁶On another Sabbath, as He went into the synagogue and taught, a man was present whose right hand was withered, ⁷and the scribes and the Pharisees were watching Him whether He would cure him on the Sabbath, so that they might find something to accuse Him of. ⁸But He knew their thoughts and said to the man with the

d) See note at Matt. 2:4.

e) The scribes and Pharisees were right in thinking that only Deity can forgive sins, and for them Jesus was no more than a mere man. And with Jesus the healing of men's souls was more important than the healing of their bodies.

f) Levi is the Matthew of ch. 6:15. See note at Mark 2:14.

g) See note at Mark 2:15.

h) This parable is Jesus' simple way of portraying the difficult change from the restrictions of the ceremonial Law to the liberty of the Gospel of grace.

i) Some ancient manuscripts read, "On the second Sabbath after the first."

j) I Sam. 21:1-7.

k) This was the showbread, Exod. 25:30.

withered hand, "Arise, and stand here in the center." And he got up and stood there.

⁹Then Jesus said to them, "I ask you, is it allowed to do good or to do evil on the Sabbath; to save a life or to destroy it?" ¹⁰Then, looking around at all of them, He said to the man, "Hold out your hand." This he did, and his hand was fully restored. ¹¹But, maddened with anger, they discussed together what they might do to Jesus.

¹²In those days He went up into the hills to pray and was spending the entire night in prayer to God. ¹³At daybreak He summoned His disciples and chose twelve of them whom He named apostles: ¹⁴Simon whom He also called Peter, and his brother Andrew; James and John; Philip and Bartholomew; ¹⁵Matthew and Thomas; James the son of Alphaeus and Simon called the Zealot; ¹⁶Judas the son of James, and Judas Iscariot, who turned traitor against Him.

¹⁷With them He came down and stood on a level spot with a large throng of His disciples and a vast crowd of people from all over Judea and from Jerusalem and from the borders of Tyre and Sidon, who came to hear Him and to be cured of their diseases. ¹⁸Those troubled with unclean spirits were healed also. ¹⁹And the whole crowd tried to touch Him because power issued from Him and healed every one.

²⁰Fixing His eyes on His disciples, He proceeded to say, ¹"Blessed^m are you poor, for yours is the kingdom of God. ²¹Blessed are you that are hungry now, for you will be satisfied. Blessed are you that weep now, for you will laugh. ²²Blessed are you when people hate you and exclude you and denounce and defame your name as wicked on account of the Son of Man. ²³Be glad at such a time and leap for joy, for in heaven your reward is rich.

Jesus at Prayer; He Chooses the Twelve

Their fathers treated the prophets just that way.

²⁴"Alas, however, for you who are wealthy,^a for you have enjoyed your comfort. ²⁵Alas for you who are filled up now, for you will suffer hunger. Alas for you who laugh now, for you will mourn and weep. ²⁶Alas when everyone praises you, for their fathers treated the false prophets just that way.

²⁷"But to you who are listening to Me I say, Love your enemies; treat well those who hate you; ²⁸bless those who curse you; pray for those who abuse you. ²⁹To him who hits you on the cheek, offer the other, and do not prevent the one who takes your coat from taking your tunic as well. ³⁰Give to everyone who asks you, and do not request your belongings back from him who took them. ³¹Treat others exactly as you would like to have them treat you.

³²"If you love only those who love you, what credit is that to you? For sinners, too, love those who love them. ³³And if you treat well those who treat you well, what credit is that to you? Sinners do that much. ³⁴And if you lend to those from whom you expect a return, what credit is that to you? Sinners lend to sinners as well, to get back an equal amount.

³⁵"But love your enemies; do good and lend without prospect of return. Then your return will be rich; you will be sons of the Most High, for He is kind to the ungrateful and wicked. ³⁶Be merciful, just as your Father is merciful. ³⁷Do not judge and you will not be judged; do not condemn and you will not be condemned; pardon and you will be pardoned; ³⁸give and it will be given to you — good measure, pressed down, shaken together and running over will they pour into your lap. For with the yardstick you use for measuring, it in turn will be measured to you."

³⁹And He told them a parable: "Can

1) In this passage, vs. 20-49, Luke records in somewhat different words a good part of the Sermon on the Mount, Matt. 5-7.

m) The Greek word makarioi, rendered "blessed" here and in the beatitudes as written in Matt 5:3-11, may also be translated "happy." It is significant that Jesus teaches that some of the very things that men consider cause for sorrow will bring His disciples blessing and happiness.

n) Such a reversal of conditions is vividly illustrated in the story of the rich man and Lazarus, Luke 16:19-31.

one blind person guide another? Will they not both stumble into a pit? ⁴⁰A disciple is not above his teacher; but every well-trained student will be like his teacher.

⁴¹"And why do you notice the splinter in your brother's eye without being at all aware of the beam in your own eye? ⁴²How can you say to your brother, 'Brother, let me extract the splinter from your eye,' without noticing the beam in your own eye? Hypocrites, first extract the beam from your eye and then you can clearly see to extract the splinter from your brother's eye.

⁴³"For no good tree bears worthless fruit; neither does a worthless tree bear good fruit; ⁴⁴for each tree is known by its own fruit. Accordingly, no figs are picked from thorns, nor are grapes gathered from a bramble bush. ⁴⁵The good person expresses good from the good that is stored in his heart, and the evil person expresses evil from the evil that is stored in his heart. For from the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks.

⁴⁶"Why do you call Me, 'Lord, Lord,' and do not do what I say? ⁴⁷Whoever comes to Me and listens to My words and does them, I will show you whom he resembles. ⁴⁸He resembles a man who built a house; he dug and went down deep and set the foundation on a rock. When the flood rose, the river rushed against that house but had no power to shake it, because it was securely built. ⁴⁹But one who listens and does not do what I say resembles a man who built his house on the ground without a foundation, against which the river rushed and at once it fell, and the wreck of that house was terrible."

7 WHEN HE HAD FINISHED ALL HIS utterances in the hearing of the people, He entered Capernaum. ²There a centurion's slave,^o who meant much to him, was ill to the point of death;

³but hearing about Jesus he sent Jewish elders to Him who begged Him to come and heal his slave. ⁴On reaching Jesus they urged Him strongly, "He deserves to have this done for him, ⁵for he loves our nation and has built us a synagogue." ⁶So Jesus went with them.

However, they were not far from the house when the centurion sent friends to tell Him, "Lord, take no further trouble; for I am not fit to have You under my roof, and for this reason ⁷I did not consider myself worthy of approaching You. Simply say the word and have my serving boy cured. ⁸For I am also a man under orders and I have soldiers under me and say to this one, 'Go,' and he goes, and to that one, 'Come,' and he comes, and to my slave, 'Do this,' and he does it."

⁹Jesus marveled^p when He heard that and, turning to the crowd that followed Him, said to them, "I tell you, I have found no such faith, even in Israel."^q ¹⁰The messengers then went back to the house and found the slave healed.

¹¹Shortly afterward He visited a town called Nain, accompanied by His disciples and a large crowd. ¹²As He neared the city gate there was being carried out a dead man — an only son whose mother was a widow — and a large crowd from that city was with her. ¹³When the Lord saw her He felt sympathy for her and said to her, "Do not weep." ¹⁴Then going forward He touched the bier. The pallbearers stopped and He said, "Young man, I tell you arise." ¹⁵The lifeless one sat up and began to speak, and He presented him to his mother. ¹⁶Awe took hold of everyone; they gave God the glory and said, "A great prophet has arisen among us," and "God has cared for His people." ¹⁷This report about Jesus spread throughout Judea and all the surrounding country.

^o) See note at Matt. 13:27. The centurion's slave was used as a domestic servant, vs. 7; cf. Matt. 8:6.

^p) The N.T. records only two instances of Jesus' marveling — at the faith of the Roman officer, vs. 6-8; cf. Matt. 8:10, and at the unbelief of the people of His home town, Nazareth, Mark 6:6.

^q) It is not unusual for those outside the place of highest privilege to display greater faith than those who should be closest to God.

¹⁸John's disciples reported all this to him. ¹⁹And John, summoning two of them, sent to ask the Lord, "Are You the Coming One, or should we look for someone else?" ²⁰When the men reached Him, they said, "John the Baptist has sent us to You with the question, 'Are You the Coming One or should we look for someone else?'"

²¹Just then He was curing many of diseases and ailments and evil spirits; He also gave sight to many who were blind. ²²And He answered them, "Go and tell John what you see and hear. The blind see; the lame walk; lepers are cleansed; the deaf hear; the dead are raised; the poor are evangelized, ²³and blessed is he who does not turn away from Me."

²⁴When John's messengers were gone, He began to address the throngs regarding John: "What did you go out to see in the desert? A reed swayed by the wind? ²⁵Really, what did you go out to see? A man elegantly dressed? Of course those who are stylishly dressed and living in luxury dwell in palaces. ²⁶Then what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I tell you and far more than a prophet. ²⁷It is he of whom it is written, 'Behold, I send My messenger ahead of You, who will prepare the road before You.' ²⁸I tell you no person born of woman is greater than John, and yet the least important in the kingdom of God is greater than he."^s ²⁹All the people, when they heard Him, even the tax collectors, acknowledged God as just, because they accepted John's baptism, ³⁰but the Pharisees and the teachers of the Law rejected God's purpose for them by refusing baptism at his hand.

³¹"To what then shall I compare the men of this generation? What do they resemble? ³²They are like children sitting in a market place and calling out to one another, 'We have played the flute for you and you would not dance;

we have sung you dirges and you would not weep.'³³ For John the Baptist came neither dining nor wining and you say, 'He has a demon.'³⁴ The Son of Man came eating and drinking, and you say, 'Look at a man, a glutton and a drunkard, a friend of tax collectors and sinners.'³⁵ So is wisdom vindicated by all her children."^t ³⁶One of the Pharisees invited Him to dinner; so He went to the Pharisee's home and sat^u at the table. ³⁷When a woman of the town, a sinner, learned that He was dining in the Pharisee's home, she brought an alabaster flask of perfume ³⁸and, standing behind Him at His feet, weeping, began to wet His feet with her tears, then wiped them with the hair of her head, tenderly kissed His feet and anointed them with the perfume.^v ³⁹When His host, the Pharisee, saw it, he said to himself, "If this person were a prophet, He would know what kind of woman is touching Him; for she is devoted to sin."⁴⁰ Jesus answered, "Simon, I have something to tell you." He said, "Teacher, go ahead and speak."⁴¹ "Two men were in debt to a moneylender; one owed him one hundred and twenty-five dollars and the other twelve dollars and a half."⁴² As neither had anything to pay him, he generously canceled the debt of both. So which of them will love him more?" ⁴³Simon replied, "I suppose the one for whom he canceled more." He said to him, "You have judged correctly."⁴⁴ Then turning to the woman, He said to Simon, "You see this woman? As I entered your home you supplied no water for My feet but she has washed My feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. ⁴⁵You did not give Me a kiss, but she from the moment I came in has not stopped tenderly kissing My feet. ⁴⁶You did not anoint My head with oil, but she has anointed My feet with perfume. ⁴⁷So I tell you, her sins, many

r) Mal. 3:1.

s) The new covenant is richer than the old.

t) Wisdom is vindicated by those who accept and practice her suggestions.

u) See note at Mark 2:15.

v) Nowhere in the N.T. is it suggested that this was Mary Magdalene.

w) The text reads five hundred denarii and fifty (denarii). A denarius would be equivalent to about twenty-five cents in mid-twentieth century U.S. currency.

as they are, are forgiven, for she has greatly loved.^x But the person who is forgiven little, loves little.”⁴⁸ And He said to her, “Your sins are forgiven.”

⁴⁹Those at the table with Him began to say to themselves, “Who is this who even forgives sin?”⁵⁰But He said to the woman, “Your faith has saved you. Go in peace.”

8 SUBSEQUENTLY HE TRAVELED from one town and village to another, preaching and telling the good news of the kingdom of God. The Twelve were with Him,² and also certain women who had been healed of evil spirits and diseases — Mary called Magdalene, from whom seven demons had been expelled,³ and Joanna the wife of Chuza, Herod’s steward, and Susanna, and many others who helped support them^y out of their means.

⁴When a great throng was gathering and people resorted to Him from every town, He told them in a parable:⁵“A sower went out to sow his seed and, as he sowed, some fell along the road and was walked on, and the birds of the air ate it. ⁶Other seed fell on the bedrock and sprouted, but then withered because it lacked moisture. ⁷Other seed fell among the thorns, and the thorns grew with it and choked it. ⁸Other seed fell on the good soil and grew up and yielded a hundredfold.” Upon telling this, He called out, “He who has ears to hear, let him hear.”

⁹And His disciples asked Him the meaning of this parable,¹⁰ and He said, “It is granted you to know the secrets of the kingdom of God, but I speak the rest in parables that^z seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not hear. ¹¹The parable’s meaning is this: the seed is the word of God. ¹²Those along the road are people who hear; then the devil comes and carries away the word from their hearts, so that they may not believe and be saved. ¹³Those on the bedrock are people who hear the word and welcome it gladly, but they have no root; they believe for a while and in time of trial they fall away. ¹⁴What falls among the thorns are people who listen but, as they go on, the word is choked by worries and wealth and pleasures of life, so that they never mature. ¹⁵But the seed in the good soil are those who listen to the word and retain it in a good and well-disposed heart, and steadily bear fruit.

¹⁶“No one lights a lamp and hides it under a vessel or puts it under a couch; instead, he sets it on a stand so that people who enter the room may see the light. ¹⁷For nothing is hidden that will not be disclosed; nothing concealed that will not be known and brought to light. ¹⁸Look out, therefore, how you listen; for whoever has, will receive more, and from one who has nothing, what he fancies he possesses will be taken away.”

¹⁹His mother and His brothers came to Him but could not get near Him because of the crowd. ²⁰So it was told Him, “Your mother and your brothers are standing at the edge of the crowd, wanting to see you.” ²¹But He replied to them, “My mother and My brothers are those who hear and practice the word of God.”^a ²²One day He and His disciples got into a boat and He said to them, “Let us cross to the other side of the lake”; and they set sail. ²³But as they were sailing He fell asleep. And a squall of wind came down on the lake, and they were shipping water and were in jeopardy. ²⁴So they went and awakened Him, exclaiming, “Master, Master, we are perishing!” And He awoke and rebuked the wind and the surging of the water, and they ceased and there was a calm. ²⁵Then He said to them, “Where is your faith?” But they, awed and

x) Whereas Simon, Jesus’ host, seems not to have shown even the ordinary courtesies to his guest, this woman demonstrated her love for Him by her deeds.

y) Some ancient manuscripts read “him.”

z) Cf. Deut. 29:3, 4; Isa. 6:9, 10; Acts 28: 26, 27.

a) Jesus taught that His family included not just His immediate relatives but all who are obedient to the Word of God. The door to closeness to Christ is the obedience of faith; all who submit themselves to the practice of the Word may be as near to Him as His own mother and brothers were.

amazed, said to one another, "Who is He, anyway, to give orders to winds and water and they obey Him?"

²⁶They landed at the country of the Gerasenes,^b which is opposite Galilee, ²⁷and as He stepped out on the land a demon-possessed man, who came from the town, met Him. He had worn no clothes for a long time, nor did he live in a house, but in the tombs. ²⁸Seeing Jesus, he cried out, threw himself in front of Him and shouted loudly, "What business is it of Yours to bother me, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? I beg of You, do not torture me." ²⁹For He had ordered the unclean spirit to leave the man. Often it had seized him and, although he was securely fastened in chains and fetters, and guarded, he would snap the bonds and be driven by the demon into the desert.

³⁰Jesus asked him, "What is your name?" He said, "Legion,"^c because many demons had entered him. ³¹And they begged Him not to order them to go away into the abyss. ³²But there was a huge herd of swine grazing on the hillside, and they asked Him to give them permission to enter them; which He allowed. ³³Then the demons left the man and entered the swine and the drove rushed down the steep bank into the lake and were drowned.^d ³⁴When the herdsmen saw what had occurred they ran away and reported it in town and country. ³⁵The people came out to see what had happened and, reaching Jesus, they found the man from whom the demons had gone, sitting at Jesus' feet dressed and sane—and they were frightened. ³⁶Those who had seen how the demoniac had been healed then reported it to them; ³⁷and all the Gerasenes and the people living around them requested Him to leave them; for they were thoroughly frightened. So He got into the boat and went back.

³⁸The man whom the demons had left begged to accompany Him, but Jesus sent him away, saying, ³⁹"Go back to your home and tell all that God has done for you." So he went and published all over the town what Jesus had done for him.

⁴⁰At His return the crowd welcomed Jesus, for they were all looking for Him. ⁴¹And a man named Jairus, a ruler of the synagogue, came and fell at Jesus' feet and requested Him to come to his home ⁴²because his only daughter, about twelve, was dying. But as He was going, the throngs pressed Him closely, ⁴³and a woman who had suffered from hemorrhages for twelve years and had spent on doctors all she had, whom no one had been able to cure, ⁴⁴came up behind Him and touched the hem of His robe. Immediately, her hemorrhage stopped. ⁴⁵Jesus said, "Who touched Me?" When everyone denied it, Peter remarked, "Master, the crowds are all around and pressing you." ⁴⁶But Jesus said, "Some one has touched Me, for I am conscious of power having gone out of Me." ⁴⁷When the woman saw that she had not escaped notice, she came trembling, fell before Him and confessed in the presence of all the people why she had touched Him and how she had been instantly cured. ⁴⁸He said to her, "Daughter, cheer up. Your faith has healed you; go in peace."

⁴⁹While He was still speaking, someone came from the home of the ruler of the synagogue and said, "Your daughter is dead. Do not trouble the Teacher any further." ⁵⁰But when Jesus heard it, He replied, "Have no fear; simply believe and she will be healed."

⁵¹On reaching the house He allowed no one to enter with Him, except Peter, John, and James, and the child's father and mother. ⁵²All the people were wailing and beating their breasts for her, but He said, "Stop wailing. She is not dead but asleep." But knowing that she was dead ⁵³they laughed at Him. ⁵⁴Grasping her hand, He

b) Some ancient manuscripts read "Gadarenes." See note at Mark 5:1.

c) A Roman legion was composed of 5,000-6,000 men.

d) The demons were homeless after all!

e) The healing of others was apparently a drain on Jesus' personal strength. It was the power of Christ, not His robe, that healed the woman.

called out, "Little girl, arise." ⁵⁵Her spirit returned and at once she arose, and He ordered that she be given something to eat. ⁵⁶Her parents were amazed; but He instructed them to tell no one what had happened.

9 CALLING THE TWELVE TOGETHER
He gave them power and authority over all the demons and to heal diseases. ²He sent them out to preach the kingdom of God and to heal the sick. ³He said to them, "Take nothing for the journey, neither staff, nor bag, nor money, nor an extra tunic. ⁴Whatever home you enter, stay there and go out from there. ⁵Where they do not welcome you, when you leave that town shake off the dust from your feet for a testimony against them." ⁶So they went out from village to village preaching the gospel and healing everywhere.

⁷Now when Herod^f the tetrarch heard of all the events that were occurring, he was at a loss because it was told by some that John had risen from the dead, ⁸by others that Elijah had appeared, and by still others that one of the old prophets had come back to life. ⁹But Herod said, "John I have beheaded; now who is this about whom I hear such things?" And he endeavored to see Him.

c. A.D. 29

¹⁰The apostles came back and reported to Jesus everything they had done. Then He took them and withdrew into privacy near a town called Bethsaida,^g ¹¹but the crowds learned of it and followed Him. And, bidding them welcome, He spoke to them about the kingdom of God and healed those who needed healing.

¹²As the day began to decline, the Twelve came to Him and said, "Dismiss the multitude, so they may go into the surrounding villages and hamlets to lodge and to find food, for here we are in an isolated place." ¹³But He told them, "You give them to eat." They replied, "We have only five loaves and two fish^h—unless we go and buy food for all these people." ¹⁴For there were about five thousand men. But He told His disciples, "Have them sitⁱ in rows of about fifty"—¹⁵which they did. They had them all sit down. ¹⁶Then taking the five loaves and the two fish, and looking up toward heaven He gave thanks and broke them and gave them to the disciples to set before the crowd. ¹⁷They all ate and were completely satisfied, and the leftovers were picked up—twelve baskets full.

¹⁸When He was praying by Himself the disciples joined Him. He asked them, "Who do the crowds say I am?" ¹⁹They answered, "John the Baptist; but some say, Elijah, and others that one of the ancient prophets has risen." ²⁰Then He asked them, "But who do you say I am?" Peter answered, "The Christ of God." ²¹Then He strictly forbade them to tell this to anyone, ²²and said, "The Son of Man has to suffer and will be rejected by the elders, chief priests, and scribes and be executed, and will rise from the dead on the third day."

²³He told them all, "If anyone wants to come after Me, he must deny himself, take up his cross day by day and follow Me; ²⁴for whoever wants to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life on My account will save it. ²⁵For what will it benefit a person to gain the whole world and lose or forfeit himself? ²⁶For whoever is ashamed of Me and My teachings, of him the Son of Man will be ashamed when He comes in His own glory and His Father's and of the holy angels. ²⁷However, I tell you truly, some of those standing here will not taste death until they see the kingdom of God."^j

²⁸About eight days after these teachings He took along Peter, John, and James, and went up the mountain to

f) This was Herod Antipas, one of the sons of Herod the Great. g) See note at Mark 8:22.

h) The five loaves of bread and the two fish were provided by a boy, John 6:9.

i) See note at Mark 2:15.

j) The transfiguration scene that would follow in about a week, vss. 28-36, would give Peter, James and John a glimpse of the glory of the kingdom.

pray. ²⁹And while He was praying the appearance of His face underwent a change and His garments turned a dazzling white. ³⁰And behold two men, Moses and Elijah ³¹appeared in glory and conversed with Him about His departure^k which He was to accomplish at Jerusalem.

³²Peter and his companions had been overcome by sleep, but when they awoke they saw His glory and the two men standing by Him. ³³At their parting from Him Peter said to Jesus, "Master, it is good for us that we are here. Let us construct three booths, one for You, one for Moses, and one for Elijah," not knowing what he was saying. ³⁴Even while he said it a cloud came and overshadowed them, and they were awe-struck as they entered the cloud. ³⁵Then a voice came out of the cloud, that said, "This is My Son, My Chosen One,^l listen to Him." ³⁶And when the voice had spoken, Jesus was found alone. At that time they kept still and told no one what they had seen.

³⁷The next day, when they came down from the mountain, a great crowd met them ³⁸and a man shouted from the crowd, "Teacher, I beg of You to take a look at my son, for he is my only child. ³⁹A spirit seizes him and suddenly he shrieks; it convulses him till he foams at the mouth. It bruises him and hardly leaves him. ⁴⁰I entreated your disciples to expel him, but they were not able." ⁴¹Jesus replied, "O faithless and perverse generation, how long must I still be with you and endure you? Bring your son here." ⁴²And even while he was coming the demon^m threw him down and convulsed him; but Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and cured the lad and presented him to his father.

⁴³And all were overwhelmed at the majesty of God. While everyone was wondering at everything He was doing, He said to His disciples. ⁴⁴"Let these teachings sink into your ear; for the Son of man is to be delivered into human hands." ⁴⁵However, they did not understand this saying; it was kept hidden from them so that they might not grasp it, and they were afraid to question Him about this saying.

⁴⁶Then there came up a discussion among them, who of them was greatest; ⁴⁷and Jesus, aware of what occupied their minds, took a child, placed it by His side, ⁴⁸and said to them, "Whoever receives this child in My name receives Me, and whoever receives Me, receives Him who sent Me. For the lowliest among you all, he is truly great."

⁴⁹John made the remark, "Master, we saw someone expelling demons in Your name and we forbade him, because he does not follow along with us." ⁵⁰Jesus told him, "Do not forbid him; for whoever is not against you is for you."ⁿ

⁵¹When the time of His ascension was nearing completion He set His face to go to Jerusalem. ⁵²And He sent messengers ahead of Him. And they went and entered a Samaritan village to prepare for His arrival. ⁵³But they would not receive Him because He was traveling with His face toward Jerusalem.^o ⁵⁴The disciples James and John, on observing this, said, "Lord, do you want us to command fire to come down from heaven and destroy them?" ⁵⁵But He turned and rebuked

k) The Greek word rendered "departure" is the accusative form of exodos, from which the English word "exodus" is derived. Exodos is sometimes employed euphemistically to denote decease, death, which is certainly the connotation here.

l) Some ancient manuscripts read "My Beloved."

m) According to Matt. 17:15 this boy was an epileptic. At the same time he was demon-possessed, for here it speaks of this. The epilepsy may have been caused by the demon. Cf. ch. 11:14; Mark 9:29.

n) One's own denomination or local church or other Christian activity must not be thought to be the only one that is faithful to the Lord.

o) The Samaritans and Jews had no dealings with one another, John 4:9. The Samaritans were still worshipping God at Shechem on Mt. Gerazim, Judg. 9:7; cf. John 4:20. Thus the people of the village in Samaria were displeased with Jesus, since He was journeying to Jerusalem, and would not receive Him.

them: "[You do not know your attitude. ⁵⁶The Son of Man did not come to destroy human lives but to save]."^p And they journeyed on to another village.

⁵⁷As they were traveling along the road someone said to Him, "I will follow You wherever You may go."

⁵⁸Jesus told him, "The foxes have holes and the birds have nests, but the Son of Man does not have a place to lay His head." ⁵⁹He said to another, "Follow Me." But he replied, "Allow me first to go and bury my father."

⁶⁰But He said to him, "Let the dead bury their own dead; you go and preach the kingdom of God." ⁶¹Another also said, "I will follow You, Sir, but first allow me to say good-by to those at my home." ⁶²Jesus told him, "No one who puts his hand to the plow and looks back is fit for the kingdom of God."

10 AFTER THAT THE LORD COMMISSIONED seventy^a others, whom He sent ahead of Him two by two into every town and community that He planned to visit, ²and told them, "The harvest is rich but the workmen are few; therefore pray the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers into His harvest. ³Go forth. Notice that I am sending you as lambs into the midst of wolves. ⁴Carry no purse, or wallet, or sandals, neither stop to greet anyone formally along the road. ⁵Whatever home you enter, first say, 'Peace be to this house.' ⁶If a person who is worthy of this greeting lives there, your peace will settle down on him; but if not, it will return to you. ⁷Stay at the same house, eating and drinking what they provide; for the workman deserves his wages. Do not move from house to house.

⁸"Whatever town you enter, if they welcome you, eat what is placed before you. ⁹Heal those who are ill there, and tell them, 'The kingdom of God has approached you.' ¹⁰But whatever town you enter and they fail to welcome you, go out into its streets and say, ¹¹'Even the dust of your town that sticks to our feet, we wipe off in protest against you. Know this, however, that the kingdom of God has approached you.' ¹²I tell you, it will be more endurable on that Day^r for Sodom^s than for that town.

¹³"Alas for you, Chorazin!^t Alas for you, Bethsaida!^u For if the miracles had occurred in Tyre and Sidon^v that were done in you, they would long since have been sitting repentant in sackcloth and ashes. ¹⁴But it will be more endurable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgment than for you. ¹⁵And you, Capernaum,^w will you be lifted up to heaven? No! You will sink to hades.

¹⁶"Whoever listens to you, listens to Me, and whoever rejects you, rejects Me. But whoever rejects Me, rejects Him who sent Me."

¹⁷With joy the seventy returned and said, "Lord, even the demons are subject to us in Your name." ¹⁸He said to them, "I saw Satan fall from heaven like lightning.^x ¹⁹See, I have given you the authority to step on snakes and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy, and nothing will at all hurt you. ²⁰However, do not rejoice because the spirits submit to you, but rejoice because your names are registered in heaven."

²¹At that time Jesus exulted in the Holy Spirit and said, "I praise Thee, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because Thou hast concealed this from the learned and intelligent and hast revealed it to babes. Yes, Father, for thus it was pleasing in Thy presence."^y

²²Everything has been handed over to Me by My Father and no one knows

p) The words in brackets are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

q) Some of the best ancient manuscripts read "seventy-two" here and in vs. 17.

r) That is, the Judgment Day.

s) The wickedness of Sodom is proverbial, Gen. 19. Frequently in Scripture Gomorrah is linked with Sodom, e.g., Gen. 18:20; Matt. 10:15; Mark 6:11; II Pet. 2:6.

t) See note at Matt. 11:21.

u) See note at Mark 8:22.

v) See note at Matt. 11:21.

w) See note at Matt. 4:13.

x) Isa. 14:12-15; Rev. 12:7-17; cf. John 12:31; 16:11.

y) As thanksgiving was a leading element in our Lord's prayers and in those of the Apostle Paul, we should not neglect it.

who the Son is except the Father, nor who the Father is, except the Son and he to whom the Son chooses to reveal Him."

²³Turning to them privately, He said, "Blessed² are the eyes that see what you see. ²⁴For I tell you that many prophets and kings have longed to see what you see but they did not see it, and to hear what you hear but they did not hear it."

²⁵Now a certain teacher of the Law got up to put Him to a thorough test. He asked, "Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?" ²⁶Jesus asked him, "What is written in the Law? How do you read it?" ²⁷The teacher of the Law answered, "You must love the Lord your God with your whole heart, your whole soul, your whole strength and your whole mind, and your neighbor as yourself." ²⁸Jesus told him, "You have answered correctly. Do this and you will live."

²⁹But he, wishing to absolve himself, asked Jesus, "And who is my neighbor?" ³⁰Jesus replied, "A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell among robbers, who stripped and pummeled him and ran off, leaving him half dead. ³¹Coincidentally, a certain priest was coming down that road and, seeing him, passed on the other side. ³²In the same way, a Levite^a arrived at the spot, and passed on the other side. ³³Then a certain Samaritan^b came there as he traveled, saw him, and took pity on him. ³⁴Going to him, he bandaged his wounds, poured oil and wine into them, set him on his own donkey, took him to an inn and looked after him. ³⁵The next morning he took out and handed the innkeeper fifty cents,^c and said, 'Take care of him and whatever further expenses you incur I will refund when I come back.' ³⁶Which of these three, do you think, was really neighbor to the one who fell among the robbers?"

³⁷He said, "The one who was merciful to him." Then Jesus told him, "You go and do the same."

³⁸During their travels He entered a certain village, where a woman named Martha welcomed Him to her home. ³⁹She had a sister named Mary, who took a seat at the Lord's feet and listened to His teaching. ⁴⁰But Martha got worried about much housework so, approaching Him, she said, "Lord, do You not care that my sister left me to do the work alone? Then tell her to help me." ⁴¹But the Lord answered her, "Martha, Martha, you are anxious and bothered about many matters, ⁴²when there is need of but one thing. Mary has selected the good portion which will not be taken away from her."

11 HE WAS PRAYING IN A CERTAIN place and, when He ceased, one of His disciples said to Him, "Lord, teach us to pray as John, too, taught his disciples." ²He said to them, "When you pray, say^d: 'Father, Thy name be held holy. Thy kingdom come. ³Daily grant us our food for the coming day. ⁴And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one indebted to us. And bring us not into temptation.'"

⁵He further said to them, "Let us say that one of you has a friend to whom he goes at midnight and says, 'Friend, lend me three loaves of bread, ⁶since a friend of mine has arrived at my house from a trip and I have nothing to set before him,' ⁷and the one inside should answer him, 'Do not bother me. The door is already locked and my children are in bed with me. I cannot get up and give to you.'"

⁸"I tell you, if he does not get up to give to him because he is his friend, he will rise on account of his brazen

2) Or, "Happy." See note at ch. 6:20.

a) A member of the tribe of Levi, which was chosen by God to serve Him in the tabernacle, Num. 3:12, 40:51. The Levites were substitutes, as it were, for the first-born males of Israel, who had been set apart by God to Himself, Exod. 13:2.

b) The Jews despised Samaritans. See note at ch. 9:53.

c) The text reads "two denarii." A denarius would be equivalent to twenty-five cents in mid-twentieth century U.S. currency. But what seems hardly more than a pittance now would have been ample for a stay of two days at an inn in the first century.

d) In some ancient manuscripts words and phrases from Matt. 6:9-13 are inserted here. Luke gives the essentials of the Lord's Prayer.

insistence,^e and give him as much as he needs.”⁹ And I tell you, “Ask, and it will be given you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you; ¹⁰for everyone who asks receives, everyone who seeks finds, and to everyone who knocks the door will be opened. ¹¹What father among you whose son [asks bread will give him a stone, or if he]^f requests a fish will instead hand him a snake, ¹²or if he requests an egg will hand him a scorpion? ¹³If you then, evil as you are, know enough to give good gifts to your children, how much more will the heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to those who ask Him.”

¹⁴He was expelling a demon that caused dumbness, and after the expulsion the dumb man spoke so that the crowds wondered; ¹⁵but some of them said, “He expels demons through Beelzebul,^g the prince of the demons.” ¹⁶Others by way of testing Him, asked Him for a sign from heaven. ¹⁷Well aware what they were thinking, He told them, “Every kingdom divided against itself comes to ruin; so does the quarreling home go down. ¹⁸And if Satan is divided against himself, how will his kingdom stand? For you say that I expel demons through Beelzebul. ¹⁹But if I expel demons through Beelzebul, through whom do your sons cast them out? They therefore shall be your judges. ²⁰But if I expel demons by means of the finger of God,^h then the kingdom of God has already reached you.

²¹“When a strong man fully armed guards his residence, his belongings are undisturbed; ²²but when one stronger than he attacks and overcomes him, he robs him of his armor on which he depended and distributes his plunder. ²³He who is not with Me is against Me, and he who does not gather with Me scatters.

²⁴“When an unclean spirit leaves a person, it crosses dry places in search of a resting place and, not finding it, says, ‘I will go back to the house I left.’ ²⁵But on his arrival he finds it swept and orderly. ²⁶He then goes and fetches seven other spirits, meaner than himself; they enter and dwell there, and that person’s final condition is worse than it was at first.”

²⁷In the course of His telling this, a woman in the crowd raised her voice and said to Him, “Blessedⁱ is the womb that bore You and the breasts on which You nursed.” ²⁸But He said, “More blessed still are those who hear and keep the word of God.”

²⁹As many people were crowding Him, He began to say, “This generation is an evil generation; it desires a sign, but none shall be granted it except the sign of Jonah,^j ³⁰for as Jonah was a sign to the Ninevites, so will the Son of Man be to this generation. ³¹The queen of the South^k will rise up in the judgment with the men of this age and will condemn them; for she came from the ends of the earth to listen to Solomon’s wisdom, and remember, something greater than Solomon is here. ³²The men of Nineveh will rise in the judgment with this generation and will condemn it, because they repented at Jonah’s preaching, and remember, something greater than Jonah is here.

³³“No one lights a lamp and puts it in a cellar or under the grain measure, but on top of a stand, so that those who come in may see the light. ³⁴Your eye is the body’s lamp. When your eye is sound your whole body is illumined; but in case it is defective, your body is darkened. ³⁵See to it, therefore, that the light in you is not darkness. ³⁶If, however, your whole body is illumined, with no portion dark, then it is as perfectly lit as when a lamp illumines you with its beam.”

e) Literally the Greek word, anaideia, means shamelessness, impudence.

f) The words enclosed in brackets are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

g) Beelzebul (or Baalzebub) was a pagan god of Ekron in Philistia, II Kings 1:2. In N.T. times Beelzebul was a name used for Satan, “the prince of the power of the air,” Eph. 2:2.

h) “The finger of God” denotes divine efficiency by the Holy Spirit, cf. Matt. 12:28.

i) Or, “Happy.” See note at ch. 6:20.

j) Jonah 1:17; Matt. 12:40.

k) II Chron. 9:1-12.

³⁷During His discourse a Pharisee¹ invited Him home to dine with him, so He went in and sat^m at the table. ³⁸But the Pharisee noticed and wondered that He had not washed before the meal. ³⁹The Lord said to him, "Now you Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and of the plate, but inside you are full of robbery and wickedness. ⁴⁰Fools! Did not He who made the outside make the inside too? ⁴¹You had better bestow in kindness what is inside and everything will be clean for you. ⁴²But alas for you Pharisees, because you tithe mint and rueⁿ and every vegetable, while disregarding justice and love for God. These things you should practice without omitting the other things.

⁴³Alas for you Pharisees, for you cherish the prominent pews in the synagogue, and the salutations in the markets. ⁴⁴Alas for you, because you are like unseen tombs over which people walk without being aware of them."

⁴⁵One of the teachers of the Law replied to Him, "Teacher, when You say this, You insult us too." ⁴⁶But He said, "Alas for you teachers of the Law as well, because you pack the people with loads that are hard to carry, while you yourselves do not touch those burdens with one of your fingers. ⁴⁷Alas for you, because you build monuments for the prophets whom your fathers killed. ⁴⁸In that way you are consenting to your fathers' works; for they indeed killed them and you build their monuments.

⁴⁹"The wisdom of God therefore says, 'I will send them prophets and apostles, some of whom they will kill and persecute,' ⁵⁰so that the blood of all the prophets that has been shed from the foundation of the world may be charged against this generation, ⁵¹from Abel's blood^o to that of Zechariah,^p who was murdered between the altar and the temple. Yes, I tell you, it will be charged against this generation.

⁵²"Alas for you, teachers of the Law, for you have taken away the key to knowledge; you yourselves have not entered, and you have prevented those who were entering."

⁵³Upon His leaving there the scribes and Pharisees began to heckle Him fiercely and to draw Him out by cross-questioning on many points, secretly ⁵⁴watching Him for the purpose of trapping Him with something from His lips.

12 MEANWHILE, WHEN COUNTLESS people were massed, so that they stepped on one another, He began to say, primarily to His disciples, "Guard yourselves against the yeast^q of the Pharisees, that is, against hypocrisy. ²Nothing is hidden that will not be shown, or secret that will not be brought to light. ³So whatever you say in the dark will be heard in the light and what you whisper in the ear within a private room will be proclaimed on the roofs.

⁴"My friends, I tell you, have no fear of those who kill the body and afterward can do nothing more; ⁵but I will show you whom to fear: fear Him who, after taking the life, has power to cast into hell." Yes, I say to you, fear Him.

⁶"Are not five sparrows sold for two small coins?^s Yet none of them is forgotten in God's presence. ⁷And the very hairs of your head are all counted. Have no fear; you are worth more than flocks of sparrows.

⁸"I tell you further, whoever acknowledges Me in the presence of people, the Son of Man will acknowledge him in the presence of God's angels. ⁹But whoever denies Me before

1) See note at Matt. 3:7 m) See note at Mark 2:15.

n) Rue is a European strong-scented herb with a somewhat bitter taste. Its seeds are used for flavoring. Rue is comparable to dill (anise), Matt. 23:23.

o) Gen. 4:1-15.

p) II Chron. 24:20-22.

q) That is, leaven.

r) The word here rendered "hell" is the accusative form of the Greek geenna, from which "Gehenna" is derived. See note at Mark 9:43.

s) The text reads "two assarions." An assarion was a small Roman copper coin worth one-sixteenth of a denarius. The value of a denarius would be equal to about twenty-five cents in mid-twentieth century U. S. currency. Thus two assarions are the equivalent of approximately three cents.

men, he will be denied before the angels of God. ¹⁰Whoever will make a statement against the Son of Man, for him there is forgiveness; but for him who blasphemes against the Holy Spirit there will be no forgiveness.^t

¹¹"When they bring you to synagogues and rulers and authorities, do not worry how to defend yourself or what to say, ¹²for the Holy Spirit will "ach you at the very moment what you ought to say."

¹³One of the crowd said to Him, "Teacher, tell my brother to share the inheritance with me." ¹⁴But He said to him, "Man, who appointed Me judge or distributor of your goods?"

¹⁵He then said to the people, "Look out and be on guard against all greed, for one's life is not made up of the abundance of his possessions."

¹⁶Then He told them a parable: "The field of a certain rich man yielded abundantly, ¹⁷so he considered within himself, 'What shall I do; for I have no room to store my crops?' ¹⁸He said, 'I will do this; I will tear down my barns and build bigger ones, and there I will store all my produce and my goods, ¹⁹and I will say to my soul, 'Soul, you have much wealth laid up for many a year. Take it easy; eat, drink, enjoy yourself.'"

²⁰"But God said to him, 'Fool, this night your soul will be demanded of you, and what you have gotten ready, whose is it to be?' ²¹Thus does the person fare who stores up treasure for himself and is not rich in relation to God."

²²But to His disciples He said, "For this reason I tell you, do not worry about what you will eat, or about your body, what you will wear; ²³for life is more than nourishment and the body more than clothes. ²⁴Look at the ravens, how they neither sow nor harvest, have neither barn nor granary, and God feeds them. How far more valuable are you than the birds!

²⁵"Who of you can add one moment to his life's course^u by worrying? ²⁶So, if you cannot bring about that little, why be anxious about the rest? ²⁷Consider the lilies, how they grow; they do not spin, but I tell you that not even Solomon in all his glory was clothed like one of them. ²⁸And if God so clothes the grass that is in the field today and is thrown into the oven tomorrow, how much more will He clothe you, you of little faith!

²⁹"Do not be seeking what to eat and what to drink, neither be anxious; ³⁰for the people of the world desire all these things, but your Father knows that you need them. ³¹But seek His kingdom, and these things will be supplied you besides. ³²Do not fear, little flock, for your Father is pleased to give you the kingdom.

³³"Sell what you have and give to charity; make purses for yourselves that never age—unfailing treasure in heaven where no thief approaches or moth ruins. ³⁴For where your treasure is, there too your heart will be.^v

³⁵"Keep your loins girded and your lamps burning; ³⁶be like persons who await their own master when he comes back from the wedding, so that when he arrives and knocks, they may instantly open the door for him. ³⁷Happy are those slaves^w whom the master finds on the alert when he comes. I assure you that he will gird himself, will have them sit^x at the table and will come and wait on them. ³⁸Whether he arrives in the second watch or in the third, if he finds them alert, they are fortunate. ³⁹But understand this: if the owner of the house had known at what time the thief would come, he

t) To blaspheme against the Holy Spirit is to ascribe to Satan the work of the Holy Spirit, cf. ch. 11:15. This is the only sin for which there is said to be "no forgiveness." For a man can resist God the Father and God the Son and yet in due course be turned about by the wooing of the Holy Spirit; but he cannot resist Father, Son and Spirit, going so far as to attribute to the devil the works of God by His Spirit, and be saved. Those who are concerned about having committed the "unpardonable sin" are the least likely to have been guilty of it, or they would not care. And if they have not already committed themselves to Christ as Lord and Savior, they can do so now.

u) "One moment to his life's course" could equally as well be rendered "one cubit to his stature," and some translations of the Bible read that way.

v) Compare ch. 18:18-27.

w) See note at Matt. 13:27.

x) See note at Mark 2:15.

would have watched and would not have permitted his house to be burglarized. ⁴⁰So you be ready, for the Son of Man comes at an hour you are not anticipating."

⁴¹Peter asked Him, "Lord, are You telling this parable just to us or to everyone?" ⁴²The Lord replied, "Who is indeed the faithful and thoughtful custodian whom the master appoints over his household to supply their food allowance at the proper time? ⁴³Happy is that slave whom the master finds doing so when he arrives. ⁴⁴I tell you truly, he will put him in charge of everything he has.

⁴⁵"But if that slave says to himself, 'My master is putting off his arrival,' and starts to beat the menservants and the maids, and also to eat and to drink and to get drunk, ⁴⁶that slave's master will come on an unexpected day and at an hour of which he has no idea, and will discharge him and will make him share the fate of the unfaithful.

⁴⁷"The slave who knew what his master wanted and neither got ready nor did it, will be severely lashed; ⁴⁸but he who was ignorant of it, who does what deserves flogging, will be punished lightly. For of every one to whom much is given, much will be required, and of him to whom much has been entrusted, people will demand the more.

⁴⁹"I have come to cast fire on the earth, and how I wish it were already kindled! ⁵⁰I have baptism to undergo and how great is My distress until it is finished! ⁵¹Do you suppose that I am here to bring peace on earth? Not at all, I tell you, but rather discord; ⁵²for from now on five will be at odds in one home, three against two and two against three — ⁵³father against son and son against father; mother against daughter and daughter against mother; mother-in-law against daughter-in-law and daughter-in-law against mother-in-law."

⁵⁴And to the crowds He said, "When you see a cloud coming up in the west, at once you remark, 'A shower is coming,' and so it is. ⁵⁵And when the south wind blows, you say, 'It will be hot,' and it happens. ⁵⁶You hypocrites! You know how to interpret the appearance of earth and sky; why then can you not evaluate this time?

⁵⁷"Why do not you yourselves decide what is right? ⁵⁸When you go with your opponent to the magistrate, take pains to come to a settlement with him on the way, so as to be freed from him, for fear he drags you before the judge, the judge hands you over to the jailor, and the jailor throws you in prison. ⁵⁹I tell you, you will not get out of there until you have paid the last penny."²

13 JUST THEN SOME WERE PRESENT who told Him about the Galileans whose blood Pilate had mixed with their sacrifices, ²and He said to them in reply, "Do you suppose, because they suffered this, that those Galileans were worse sinners than all their fellow Galileans? ³Not at all, I tell you, but unless you repent you will all similarly perish. ⁴Or those eighteen on whom the Siloam tower fell so that it killed them, do you suppose that they committed greater sin than all other dwellers in Jerusalem? ⁵Not at all, I tell you, but unless you repent you will all similarly perish."

c. A.D. 30

⁶He spoke this parable: "Someone had a fig tree that was planted in his orchard and came to look for fruit on it, but did not find any; ⁷so he said to the gardener, 'Look here! For three years now I have come to look for fruit on this fig tree and have not found any. Cut it down. Why should

y) This is simply a statement of what may happen when some in a non-Christian home are converted.

z) Quite often, as Jesus here implies, the one who opposes us may be in the right. The word "penny" is the Greek noun lepton which, in Mark 12:42, is translated "mites" in its plural form. Lepton means small, thin, light. Its value in the mid-twentieth century would actually be about one-eighth of a penny.

it use up the soil?' ⁸But he replied, 'Master, leave it yet for this year, till I dig around it and put in fertilizer; ⁹perhaps it will bear fruit next season -- but if not, cut it down.' ¹⁰"

¹⁰While He was teaching in one of the synagogues on the Sabbath, ¹¹a woman attended who for eighteen years had suffered from a weakening spirit; she was bent double and could not straighten herself up fully. ¹²When Jesus saw her He called her to Him and said to her, "Woman, you are set free from your ailment." ¹³And He laid hands on her, and instantly she was made erect, and she praised God.

¹⁴But the ruler of the synagogue, indignant because Jesus healed on the Sabbath, said to the crowd, "There are six days when work should be done; so come to be healed on those days and not on the Sabbath day." ¹⁵But the Lord answered him, "You hypocrites! Does not every one of you on the Sabbath untie his ox or his donkey from the feeding trough and lead him away to drink? ¹⁶Ought not then this woman, a daughter of Abraham whom Satan has held bound these eighteen years, to be loosed from her bond on the Sabbath day?"

¹⁷At these words all His opponents were ashamed, while all the people were glad about all the wonderful things that were done by Him.

¹⁸Then He said, "What does the kingdom of God resemble and to what shall I compare it? ¹⁹It resembles a mustard seed which a man took and planted in his garden. It grew up into a tree and the birds of the air made their nests in its branches." ²⁰He further said, "To what shall I compare the kingdom of God? ²¹It resembles yeast^b which a woman took and mixed in three batches of flour until it was all raised."

²²Making His way to Jerusalem, He went through towns and villages, teaching. ²³Someone asked Him, "Lord, are only a few saved?" He told them,

²⁴"Strain every nerve to enter through the narrow door; for many, I tell you, will try to enter and will be unable to. ²⁵After the owner of the house has gotten up and has shut the door, you will begin to stand outside and knock at the door, calling, 'Lord, open for us!' But He will reply to you: 'I neither know you, nor where you come from.' ²⁶Then you will begin to say, 'We ate and drank with You, and You taught in our streets.' ²⁷But He will tell you, 'I do not know from where you are. Get away from Me, all you evildoers.' ²⁸There will be wailing and grinding of teeth when you see Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, but you yourselves thrown outside. ²⁹And from east and west, north and south they will come and will be sitting^c at the table of the kingdom of God. ³⁰But, mind you, there are last who will be first, and there are first who will be last."

³¹At that time certain Pharisees approached Him, saying, "Get out of this place, for Herod intends to kill You."

³²He replied, "You go and tell that fox that I shall expel demons and perform cures today and tomorrow, and on the third day^d I shall complete My work."

³³However, I must travel on today and tomorrow and the next day; for it would not do for a prophet to perish outside Jerusalem.

³⁴"O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, that kills the prophets and stones those sent to you! How often have I wanted to gather your children as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, and you were not willing. ³⁵Behold, your home is left you destitute. I tell you that you will not see Me at all until you say, 'Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord.'"

14 WHEN HE ENTERED THE HOUSE of one of the rulers of the Pharisees to eat a meal on the Sabbath, they watched Him closely. ²For a man with dropsy was in front of Him. ³So

a) The Jews of Jesus' day, under the leadership of the Pharisees and the Sadducees, had experienced little spiritual care; their souls needed cultivation.

b) That is, leaven.

c) See note at Mark 2:15.

d) This is figurative language denoting a future date, though not in the distant future.

Jesus spoke to the teachers of the Law, and Pharisees, asking, "Is it right to heal on the Sabbath or not?" ⁴But they kept still. He then took hold of him, healed him, and let him go. ⁵He said to them, "Who of you has an ox or donkey that falls into a pit and you do not immediately pull him out on the Sabbath day?" ⁶And they could make no reply to this.

⁷To the guests, whom He noticed selecting the choicest places, He spoke this parable: ⁸"When you are invited by someone to a wedding banquet, do not sit^e in the most preferable place; for one more highly esteemed by your host than yourself may have been invited by him ⁹and, as your mutual host arrives, he may say to you, 'Make room for him,' and then feeling deeply embarrassed, you proceed to take the lowest place. ¹⁰Rather, when you are invited, go and sit in the lowest place so that, when your host arrives, he may say to you, 'Friend, move up higher.' You will then enjoy honor before all your fellow guests. ¹¹For whoever makes himself prominent will be humbled, and whoever humbles himself will be set high."

¹²He further told His host, "Whenever you give a dinner or supper, do not invite your friends or your brothers or your relatives or your well-to-do neighbors; for they may invite you in their turn and so repay you. ¹³Instead, when you give a dinner, invite the poor, the maimed, the lame, and the blind; ¹⁴then blessing will be yours, for they have nothing to repay you, but you will be repaid at the resurrection of the just."

¹⁵One of the fellow guests who heard this, said to Him, "Blessed is he who will eat bread in the kingdom of God." ¹⁶But He told him, "A man gave a great supper and invited many. ¹⁷At the supper hour he sent his slave^f to tell those who were invited, 'Come, for everything is now ready.' ¹⁸But one by one they began making excuse. The first told him, 'I have bought a field and I simply must go to see it; I beg of you, have me excused.' ¹⁹Another said, 'I have bought five yoke of oxen and I am going to test them; I beg of you, have me excused.' ²⁰Another said, 'I have married a wife and on that account I cannot come.'

²¹"The slave came and reported this to his master. Then, his anger aroused, the master of the house told his slave, 'Hurry out into the streets and alleys of the city and bring in here the poor, the maimed, the blind, and the lame.' ²²When the slave said, 'Master, what you ordered has been done and still there is room,' ²³the master instructed the slave, 'Go out to the roads and hedges and force them to come in, so that my house may be filled; ²⁴for I tell you, none of those that were invited shall taste of my supper.'"

²⁵Great crowds accompanied Him; so He turned and told them, ²⁶"Whoever comes to Me without hating^g his father and mother and wife and children and brothers and sisters, yes, even his own life, cannot be My disciple. ²⁷Whoever does not carry his own cross and come after Me cannot be My disciple.

²⁸"For who of you, wanting to build a tower, does not first sit down to figure out the expense, whether he has enough to complete it? ²⁹Or else, when the foundation has been laid and he cannot finish it, everyone who sees it begins to say in ridicule, ³⁰"This man started to build and could not finish it.' ³¹Or what king marches against another king for war without first sitting down to consider whether with ten thousand men he will be able to cope with the enemy, who is marching against him with twenty thousand? ³²For if not, he will send a delegation requesting terms for peace while the other is still at a good distance.

³³"So with every one of you who will not part with all he has; he cannot be My disciple. ³⁴Salt is good; but

e) See note at Mark 2:15.

f) See note at Matt. 13:27.

g) The Greek verb μισέω is used here. It means nothing less than to hate, detest, abhor. Terms that express emotions are sometimes comparative and this must be the case in this instance. In a clash of claims Jesus must be first and everything and everyone else have a lesser claim.

when salt is tasteless, with what can it be seasoned? ³⁵It is fit neither for the soil nor for the manure pile; they throw it away. Whoever has ears to hear let him hear."

15 ALL THE TAX COLLECTORS AND sinners were crowding close to Him to hear Him, ²and the Pharisees and scribes complained, "This person welcomes sinners and eats with them."

³So He told them this parable: "Who of you with a hundred sheep and losing one of them would not leave the ninety-nine alone in the wilderness to go after the lost one until he finds it? ⁵And when he has found it, he lays it on his shoulders, ⁶and, when he gets home, summons his friends and neighbors, to whom he says, 'Be glad with me, for I have found my lost sheep.' ⁷I tell you that in such fashion there will be joy in heaven over one repentant sinner more than over ninety-nine righteous persons who stand in no need of repentance."

⁸"Or what woman with ten silver coins^b does not, at losing one of them, light a lamp and sweep the house and search carefully till she finds it? ⁹And when she has found it, she summons her friends and neighbors, saying, 'Be glad with me, for I have found the lost coin.' ¹⁰I tell you that in like fashion there is joy before God's angels over one repentant sinner."

¹¹He further said, "A certain man had two sons, ¹²the younger of whom said to his father, 'Father, give me the share of the property that is coming to me.' So he apportioned to them his property. ¹³After a few days the younger son collected all he had and traveled to a distant country, and there he squandered what he had in reckless living. ¹⁴When he had run through everything a terrible famine visited that whole land and he began to lack; ¹⁵so he went and hired himself out to a citizen of that country, who sent him into his fields to tend hogs. ¹⁶He longed to have his stomach filled with bean pods which the hogs were eating, but no one gave him any. ¹⁷But when he came to himself, he said, 'How many of my father's hired hands have more than they can eat, and here I am starving. ¹⁸I will rise and go to my father and say to him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you, ¹⁹and I no longer deserve to be called your son; take me on as one of your hired hands.'"

²⁰"So he got up and went to his father; but when he was still a great way off, his father saw him and felt deeply moved and, running, fell on his neck and kissed him. ²¹The son said to him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you; I no longer deserve to be called your son.' ²²But the father told his slaves, 'Hurry! Fetch the choicest robe and put it on him; put a ring on his hand and sandals on his feet; ²³bring the fatted calf too, and butcher it. Let us feast and be merry; ²⁴for this my son was dead and he has come to life again; he was lost and has been found.' So they began to be merry."

²⁵"Now his older son was in the field and, as he came to the house, he heard music and dancing. ²⁶Then calling one of the servants, he asked what it was all about. ²⁷He told him, 'Your brother has come and, because he has received him back safe and well, your father has butchered the fatted calf.' ²⁸And he was stirred with anger and would not go in. His father came out and pleaded with him, ²⁹but he replied to his father, 'See here! I have worked for you all these years without ever neglecting an order of yours, but never have you given me so much as a kid, so that I might make merry with my friends. ³⁰But when this son of yours has come, after squandering your livelihood with prostitutes, you have killed for him the fatted calf.' ³¹But he said to him, 'Son, you are always with me and all I have is yours. ³²We just had to make merry and be happy, for this your brother was dead and he has come to life; he was lost and has been found.'"

^b) The word rendered "coins" is drachmas. A drachma was a silver Greek coin almost equivalent in value to the Roman denarius; it would be worth about twenty cents in mid-twentieth century U. S. currency. The purchasing power of a drachma in the first century would have been sufficient to cause its loss to be a matter of concern to a housewife.

16 HE ALSO TOLD THE DISCIPLES: "There was a rich man who had a manager, and this manager was reported to him as wasting his belongings. ²So he called him and asked him, 'What is this I hear about you? Hand in an account of your management; for you can no longer be manager.'

³"The manager said to himself, 'What shall I do, now that my employer is about to deprive me of my managership? I have not strength to dig; I am ashamed to beg. ⁴I know what I shall do so that, when I am discharged from my management, they may welcome me in their homes.' ⁵So, calling in each one of his master's debtors, he said to the first, 'How much do you owe my master?' ⁶He replied, 'A hundred barrels¹ of oil.' The manager then said to him, 'Take your bill, sit down quickly and write, fifty.' ⁷He then asked another, 'How much do you owe?' And he replied, 'A hundred sacks¹ of wheat.' To him he said, 'Take your bill and write eighty.'

⁸"The master commended his dishonest manager for acting shrewdly; for the sons of this world are more astute than the sons of light in their own generation. ⁹And I tell you to use unrighteous wealth so that you win friends who, when it fails, may welcome you into eternal dwellings.

¹⁰"He who is faithful in the least is faithful also in much, while he who is unreliable in the least is unreliable in much also. ¹¹Therefore if you have not been faithful in matters of unrighteous riches, who will entrust to you the true riches? ¹²And if you are not reliable with what belongs to another, who will give you anything for your personal possession?

¹³"No domestic servant can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will support the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon."^k ¹⁴The Pharisees were listening to all this and were sneering at Him, for they were lovers of money. ¹⁵So He told them, "You claim righteousness before human eyes, but God knows your hearts. What seems outstanding to men is abhorrent in the sight of God. ¹⁶Until John there were the Law and the Prophets; since then the kingdom of God has been preached and everyone forces his way into it. ¹⁷But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away than for the smallest part of a letter of the Law to become invalid.

¹⁸"Whoever divorces his wife and marries another, commits adultery; and he who marries the divorcee commits adultery.

¹⁹"There was a rich man dressed in purple and fine linen, who enjoyed luxurious living every day. ²⁰In front of his gate a beggar named Lazarus was placed, covered with sores, ²¹and hungering to be fed crumbs that fell from the rich man's table. Even the dogs came and licked his sores.

²²The beggar died and was carried by the angels to Abraham's bosom. The rich man also died and was buried. ²³and, while suffering tortures in hades,¹ he looked up and from a distance saw Abraham with Lazarus in his bosom. ²⁴So he called out, 'Father Abraham, take pity on me and send Lazarus to dip his finger tip in water and cool my tongue, for I am tormented in this fire.' ²⁵But Abraham said, 'Son, remember that you enjoyed the good things in your lifetime while Lazarus had the bad things; now he is being comforted here but you are suffering anguish. ²⁶Besides, there is a great chasm fixed between you and us, so that those who want to cross from here to you are unable; neither can they cross from your side to us.'

²⁷"He said, 'Then I plead with you, father, to send him to my father's house, ²⁸for I have five brothers; let him warn them so that they may not

i) Literally "baths." Each bath contained eight or nine gallons.

j) Literally "kors." Each kor was equal to about eleven bushels.

k) That is, riches. Cf. ch. 18:25.

l) The realm of the dead.

come to this place of torment.' ²⁹But Abraham said, 'They have Moses and the Prophets; they may listen to them.' ³⁰He replied, 'No, father Abraham; but should one risen from the dead go to them, they will repent.' ³¹Abraham said to him, "If they will not listen to Moses and the Prophets, they will not be convinced even if someone rises from the dead."

17 TO HIS DISCIPLES HE SAID, "Obstacles must inevitably come, but alas for the person who causes them! ²It would be to his advantage to have a millstone hung around his neck and to be thrown into the sea, rather than to be an obstacle to one of these little ones.

³"Be on your guard. If your brother sins, call him to task, and if he repents, forgive him. ⁴Even if he sins against you seven times a day and comes back to you seven times with the words, 'I am sorry,' forgive him."

⁵The apostles said to the Lord, "Give us more faith." ⁶The Lord said, "If you had faith the size of a mustard seed, you would say to this mulberry tree, 'Be uprooted and planted in the sea,' and it would obey you.

⁷"Who of you with a slave^m plowing or herding sheep will say to him as he comes in from the field, 'Come at once and sit' at the table? Will he not rather say to him, ⁸'Get something ready for my supper; put on your belt and wait on me while I eat and drink, and afterward you may eat and drink? ⁹Is he thankful to the slave for doing what he was assigned? ¹⁰It should be the same with you; when you have done everything that was assigned you, you should say, 'We are undeserving servants; we have simply done our duty.'"

¹¹On His way to Jerusalem He crossed between Samaria and Galilee, ¹²and as He entered a certain village ten lepers met Him. Standing at a distance, ¹³they raised their voices, crying, "Jesus, Master, take pity on us!" ¹⁴When He saw them He told them, "Go and show yourselves to the priests." And as they went they were cleansed.

¹⁵But one of them, when he observed that he was healed, came back, loudly praising God. ¹⁶He fell on his face at His feet, thanking Him. And he was a Samaritan.^o ¹⁷Jesus said, "Were there not ten cleansed? Where are the nine? ¹⁸Was no one found to return and give thanks to God except this foreigner?" ¹⁹And to him He said, "Stand up and go. Your faith has saved you."

²⁰Asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God would come, He answered them, "The kingdom of God does not come by looking for it, ²¹neither will they say, 'Look! Here it is,' or 'There it is!' for the kingdom of God is in your midst."^p ²²To His disciples He said, "The time is coming when you will long to see one of the days of the Son of Man, but in vain. ²³They will say to you, 'Look, here He is!' or 'Look, there He is!' Do not go out or follow them; ²⁴for as the lightning flashes from one end of the sky to the other, so will the Son of Man be in His day. ²⁵But first He must undergo much suffering and be rejected by this generation.

²⁶"In the days of the Son of Man it will be just as it was in the days of Noah^q — ²⁷they ate, they drank, they married, and they were being married until the day when Noah entered the ark; and then came the deluge and destroyed them all. ²⁸It was similar, too, in Lot's^r days — they ate and drank, they bought and sold, they planted and built; ²⁹but on the day when Lot went out of Sodom^a it rained fire and brimstone from heaven and destroyed them all.

m) See note at Matt. 13:27.

n) See note at Mark 2:15.

o) See note at ch. 9:53.

p) The translation "within you" is also possible. But "in your midst" or "among you" is preferable in this context.

q) Gen. 6, 7.

r) Gen. 19.

s) See note at ch. 10:12.

³⁰"It will be the same on the day when the Son of Man will be revealed. ³¹A person on the roof that day, with his belongings inside the house, must not go down to fetch them, and similarly a person in the field must not turn back. ³²Remember Lot's wife.'

³³"Whoever seeks to preserve his life for himself will lose it, and whoever loses it will preserve it alive. ³⁴I tell you, in that night two persons will be on one bed, the one will be taken and the other left; ³⁵two women will be grinding together, the one will be taken and the other left. ³⁶[Two will be in the field; the one will be taken and the other left.]"^u

³⁷In response they asked Him, "Where, Lord?" And He told them, "Where there is a corpse, there the vultures will flock."

18 HE TOLD THEM A PARABLE TO show that they must always pray and not lose courage: ²"There was a judge in a certain city with no reverence for God and no regard for man; ³and in that city there was a widow, who kept coming to him with the appeal, 'See to it that I get justice against my opponent.' ⁴For a while he would not; but later on he said to himself, 'Even though I have neither reverence for God nor regard for man, ⁵still, because this widow bothers me, I will see that she gets justice, so that she may not finally wear me down' by her continual coming."

⁶And the Lord said, "Listen to what the unfair judge says; ⁷and will not God procure justice for His own chosen, who cry to Him day and night? Will He delay long over them? ⁸I tell you, He will procure justice for them in short order. However, when the Son of Man comes, will He find faith^w on the earth?"

⁹To those trusting in their own righteousness and looking down on the rest, He told this parable: ¹⁰"Two men went up to the temple to pray, the one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector.

¹¹The Pharisee stood up and said this prayer to himself, 'God, I thank Thee that I am not like the rest of men — robbers, cheats, adulterers; or even like this tax collector. ¹²I fast twice a week; I pay tithes on everything I get.' ¹³But the tax collector, standing at a distance, would not even raise his eyes toward heaven, but struck his chest and said, 'God, be merciful to me, the sinner.' ¹⁴I tell you, it was he who went home forgiven, rather than the other; for whoever exalts himself will be humbled, but he who humbles himself will be exalted."

¹⁵They brought Him infants to touch; but when the disciples noticed it they reproved them. ¹⁶So Jesus called them to Him and said, "Allow the little ones to come to Me, and do not forbid them; for the kingdom of God belongs to their kind. ¹⁷I assure you, unless one receives the kingdom of God like a child, he shall not enter it at all."

¹⁸One of the rulers inquired of Him, "Good Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?" ¹⁹Jesus said to him, "Why do you call Me good? No one is good except One — God. ²⁰You know the commandments,^x 'Do not commit adultery; Do not commit murder; Do not steal; Do not witness falsely; Honor your father and mother.'" ²¹He replied, "All these I have observed from childhood up." ²²Hearing this, Jesus told him, "You still lack one thing. Sell everything you have and donate it to the poor and you will have riches in heaven, and come, follow Me." ²³Hearing this, he became very sad, for he was extremely rich. ²⁴When Jesus saw that he became sad, He said, "With what difficulty do those who have wealth enter the kingdom of God!

t) Gen. 19:26.

u) Verse 36, enclosed in brackets, is not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

v) Literally, "strike me under the eye," "give me a black eye."

w) Literally "the faith."

x) That is, the Ten Commandments, Exod. 20:1-17. The five that Jesus cited to the rich man deal especially with man's relationship to his fellow man.

y) The Greek verb phaneuo means specifically to commit murder; and so the Hebrew verb, ratsach, in Exod. 20:13.

²⁵For it is easier for a camel^a to pass through a needle's eye than for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God."

²⁶His listeners said, "Then who can be saved?" ²⁷But He said, "Those things that are impossible on man's part are possible with God." ²⁸Peter said, "Lo, we have left our homes and have followed You." ²⁹He told them, "I assure you, there is no one who has given up home or wife or brothers or parents or children on behalf of the kingdom of God ³⁰who will not receive many times more in this age, and in the coming age eternal life."

³¹Taking the Twelve, He told them, "Look, we are going up to Jerusalem and all the writings of the Prophets about the Son of Man will be fulfilled; ³²for He will be handed over to the Gentiles and ridiculed and insulted and spit on, ³³and they will flog and execute Him, and on the third day He will rise again." ³⁴But they did not understand a word of it; the saying was hidden from them; they did not know what He was telling them.^b

³⁵As He was nearing Jericho a blind man was seated by the road, begging.

³⁶Hearing the crowd passing by, he inquired what it was all about, ³⁷so they informed him, "Jesus of Nazareth is coming by." ³⁸Then he shouted, "Jesus, Son of David, take pity on me!"

³⁹Those up front warned him to keep quiet; but he shouted the louder, "Son of David, take pity on me!" ⁴⁰So Jesus stopped and gave orders to bring him to Him. As he approached, ⁴¹Jesus asked him, "What do you want Me to do for you?" He said, "Lord, let me get back my sight!" ⁴²Jesus said to him, "Receive your sight. Your faith has saved you." ⁴³Instantly he regained his sight and followed Him, praising God.

All the people saw it and gave God praise.

19 HE ENTERED JERICHO AND, AS He was passing through it, ²there was a man named Zacchaeus, a chief tax collector and wealthy, ³who tried to see who Jesus was. But he could not on account of the crowd, because he was short. ⁴So he ran ahead and climbed a sycamore tree to see Him; for He was about to pass that way.

⁵When Jesus reached the spot He looked up and said to him, "Zacchaeus, come down quickly, for I must stay at your home today." ⁶He hurried down and heartily welcomed Him. ⁷And all who looked on complained, "He has gone to be the guest of a sinner." ⁸But Zacchaeus paused, and said to the Lord, "See, Lord, I will give half of my belongings to the poor, and if I have defrauded anyone of anything I will pay it back fourfold." ⁹Jesus said, pointing to him, "Today salvation has come to this house, since this man, too, is a son of Abraham; ¹⁰for the Son of Man came to seek and to save the lost."

¹¹While they were listening to these things He went on to tell a parable, because they were near Jerusalem and supposed that the kingdom of God was to appear at once. ¹²He said: "A certain nobleman went to a distant land to acquire a kingdom for himself and to return. ¹³Summoning ten of his slaves," he gave them two hundred dollars^d and told them, 'Trade with this till I come back.' ¹⁴But his townsmen hated him and sent a delegation after him to say, 'We do not want him to be king over us.'^e z) "Camel" is rendered properly from the Greek kamelos. The Syriac version uses kamilos, which means a rope or a ship's cable; but the Syriac is a version and not an original Greek manuscript nor a reliable Greek copy. Neither a camel nor a rope could pass through the eye of a common sewing needle. But all things are possible with God.

¹⁵"On his return, having acquired the kingdom, he ordered those servants to whom he had given the money

a) See note at Mark 10:25.

b) Here was a threefold affirmation by Luke of the apostles' inability at this time to understand Jesus. c) See note at Matt. 13:27.

d) The text reads "ten minas" (Gk. deka mnas). A mina was the equivalent of 100 drachmas and would be worth about twenty dollars in mid-twentieth century U.S. currency. Each of the ten slaves was given twenty dollars, vs. 16, 18, 20 — the total amount was $200.

e) Archelaus, one of the sons of Herod, had such an experience when he went to Rome in 4 B.C. to be crowned as king of the Jews. The Jewish people did not want him as their king.

to be summoned so that he might ascertain what business they had transacted. ¹⁶Now the first one presented himself and said, 'Master, your twenty dollars has made two hundred dollars.' ¹⁷He said to him, 'Well done, good servant; because you were trustworthy in a very little, you will have authority over ten cities.'

¹⁸"The second also came and said, 'Master, your twenty dollars has made one hundred dollars.' ¹⁹He told this one, 'Have charge of five cities.'

²⁰"The other one came and said, 'Here is your twenty dollars, sir, which I have kept in a napkin; ²¹for I was afraid because you are a harsh man. You take up what you did not lay down and you reap what you did not sow.' ²²He told him, 'You good-for-nothing servant, I will convict you from your own mouth. You knew that I was a harsh man, taking up what I did not lay down and reaping what I did not sow?' ²³Then why did you not put my money in the bank, so that when I came I might have gotten it with interest?' ²⁴Then he said to the bystanders, 'Take the twenty dollars from him and give it to the one with two hundred dollars.' They said to him, ²⁵'Master, he has two hundred dollars.' ²⁶I tell you, to the one who has shall be given, but from one who has not shall be taken what he has. ²⁷Now for these enemies of mine, who did not want me for their king, fetch them here and execute them in my presence.'"

²⁸After this message He went on ahead of them, going up to Jerusalem. ²⁹And as they neared Bethphage^f and Bethany,^g at what is called the Mount of Olives, He dispatched two of His disciples ³⁰saying to them, "Go to the village opposite you and, as you enter it, you will find a colt tied up, on which no one has ever ridden; untie it and bring it here. ³¹And if someone asks you, 'Why do you untie it?' you say, 'The Lord needs it.'"

³²The messengers went off and found it exactly as He had told them.

³³As they were untying the colt, its owners asked them, "Why are you untying the colt?" ³⁴And they said, "The Lord needs it." ³⁵Then they brought it to Jesus and, throwing their coats on the colt, they placed Jesus on it.

³⁶As He rode along they spread their garments on the road. ³⁷And when He approached the place of the descent of the Mount of Olives, the whole throng of disciples began to be joyful and sang praise to God with loud acclaim for all the miracles they had seen, ³⁸saying, "Blessed be the King who comes in the name of the Lord! Peace in heaven and glory in the highest!"

³⁹Some of the Pharisees in the crowd spoke to Him, "Teacher, rebuke Your disciples." ⁴⁰And He answered them, "I tell you, if these keep silence the stones will cry out."

⁴¹When He came close to the city and viewed it, He wept^h over it ⁴²and said, "If you only knew even today how you might enjoy peace! But that is now hidden from your eyes. ⁴³For the time is coming to you when your enemies will throw up ramparts around you and will encircle you and besiege you from every direction, ⁴⁴and will level you and your children within you to the ground, and will not leave you one stone on another, because you did not understand when you were divinely visited."

⁴⁵Entering the temple He began to expel the traders, to whom ⁴⁶He said, "It is written,ⁱ 'My house shall be a house of prayer,' but you have made it a den of robbers."

⁴⁷And every day He was teaching in the temple, while the chief priests, the scribes and the leaders of the people were seeking a way to destroy Him; ⁴⁸but they discovered no way to do it, for all the people hung on His words.

^f) Bethphage was situated at the foot of the Mt. of Olives between Bethany and Jerusalem. See note at Matt. 21:1.

^g) See note at Matt. 21:17.

^h) Luke alone reports that the Lord wept on this occasion. Cf. Matt. 21:1-11; Mark 11:1-11.

ⁱ) Isa. 56:7; cf. Jer. 7:11.

20 ONE DAY AS HE WAS INSTRUCTING the people in the temple and preaching the gospel, the chief priests and the scribes came up with the elders ²and said to Him, "Tell us by what authority You are doing these things, or who gave You this authority?" ³He replied to them, "I shall ask you a question too, and you tell Me: ⁴Was John's baptism derived from heaven or from men?"

⁵They argued among themselves, "If we say 'From heaven,' He will say, 'Why then did you not believe in him?'" ⁶But if we say, 'From men,' all the people will stone us, for they are convinced that John was a prophet." ⁷So they answered that they did not know from where it came. ⁸Jesus said to them, "Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things."

⁹He began to tell the people this parable: "A man planted a vineyard and leased it to tenant farmers; then went away for a considerable period. ¹⁰At the harvest season he sent the workers a servant,¹ whom they should give a share of the vineyard crop; but the tenants beat him and sent him off empty-handed. ¹¹He then dispatched another servant whom they beat and abused and sent off empty-handed. ¹²Again he sent yet a third whom also they wounded and expelled. ¹³Then the owner of the vineyard said, 'What shall I do? I shall send my beloved son; surely, they will respect him.'

¹⁴"But when the tenant farmers saw him they discussed it among themselves, 'This is the heir; let us kill him, so that the inheritance may become ours.' ¹⁵Accordingly they threw him out of the vineyard and killed him. What then will the owner of the vineyard do to them? ¹⁶He will come and destroy those tenants and will give the vineyard to others."

When they heard it they said, "May it never be!" ¹⁷But He looked at them and said, "What then does this Scripture^k mean: 'The stone which the builders rejected has become the chief stone of the corner?' ¹⁸Whoever falls on that stone will be crushed and he on whom it falls will be pulverized."

¹⁹The scribes and chief priests tried to get their hands on Him right then, but they were afraid of the people; for they realized that He had told this parable with them in mind. ²⁰So they watched Him and sent spies who pretended to be honest in the hope of catching Him in some saying that they might hand Him over to the governor's control and jurisdiction.

²¹They asked Him, "Teacher, we know that You are right in what You say and teach; You are partial to no one but teach the way of God sincerely. ²²Is it lawful for us to pay tribute to Caesar or not?" ²³Well aware of their trickery, He said to them, ²⁴"Show me a coin. Whose likeness and inscription does it bear?" They said, "Caesar's." ²⁵He said to them, "Then pay to Caesar what belongs to Caesar and to God what belongs to God." ²⁶So they could not lay hold on what He said before the people and, marveling at His answer, kept quiet.

²⁷Then some of the Sadducees,¹ who deny the resurrection, came up and asked Him, ²⁸"Teacher, Moses wrote^m for us, 'When a man's married brother dies childless, the brother shall take the woman and raise children for his brother.' ²⁹Now there were seven brothers, the first of whom took a wife and died childless. ³⁰The second also took her, ³¹and the third, and so did all seven of them, and they died childless. ³²At last the woman died too. ³³Whose wife then will she be in the resurrection? For all seven were married to her."

³⁴Jesus said to them, "The sons of this world marry and are given in marriage, ³⁵but those who are considered worthy of attaining yonder world and the resurrection from the dead neither marry nor are given in marriage; ³⁶for they cannot die again but are like the angels and as sons of the resurrection they are God's sons. ³⁷But that the

j) See note at Matt. 13:27.

k) Ps. 118:22. The Apostle Peter later quoted these important words, Acts 4:11; I Pet. 2:7, 8.

l) See note at Matt. 3:7.

m) Deut. 25:5, 6.

dead are raised Moses too made known in the passageⁿ about the burning bush, where he calls the Lord 'The God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.'³⁸ He is not the God of the dead but of the living; for to Him they are all alive."

³⁹Some of the scribes remarked, "Teacher, You have spoken well."

⁴⁰For they did not dare to ask Him any more questions. ⁴¹But He said to them, "How can people say that Christ is David's son, ⁴²when David himself says in the book of Psalms,^o 'The Lord said to my Lord, Be seated at My right ⁴³until I make Thine enemies a footstool for Thy feet.' ⁴⁴So David calls Him Lord; then how is He his son?"

⁴⁵And in the hearing of all the people He said to the disciples, ⁴⁶"Beware of the scribes, who like to walk around in long robes and love salutations in public places and front seats in the synagogues and choice places at banquets, ⁴⁷who make away with widows' houses and pray long for appearance' sake. They will receive a severer sentence."

21 LOOKING UP, HE SAW THE wealthy dropping their donations into the treasury. ²He saw a poor widow put in two small copper coins^p ³and remarked, I tell you truly that this poor widow has put in more than all the rest; ⁴for they all gave from their plenty, but she from her poverty has thrown in her entire livelihood."

⁵And as some were talking about the temple, how it was adorned with beautiful stones and votive gifts,^q He said, ⁶"As for these things that you see, the time is coming when not one stone will be left on another without being torn down." ⁷They asked Him, "Teacher, when will this happen, and what sign is there to indicate when it is about to happen?" ⁸And He said, "Be careful not to be misled; for many will come in My name, saying, 'I am He,' and 'The time is near.' Do not go out after them. ⁹And when you hear of wars and disturbances, do not be alarmed; for these things must first occur, but the end will not come at once."

¹⁰Then He told them: "Nation will rise against nation and kingdom against kingdom; ¹¹there will be severe earthquakes and plagues and famines in various places; horrors, too, and great signs from heaven. ¹²Previous to all that they will arrest and persecute you, delivering you to synagogues and prisons and having you brought before kings and governors on account of My name. ¹³These occasions will give you opportunities for testifying. ¹⁴So make up your mind not to prepare your defense; ¹⁵for I will grant you eloquence and wisdom that none of your opponents will be able to resist or refute."

¹⁶"You will also be betrayed by parents and brothers, by relatives and friends, and some of you will be executed. ¹⁷You will be hated by everyone for confessing Me, ¹⁸but not a hair of your head will be lost.^r ¹⁹In your steadfastness you will gain possession of your souls."

²⁰"But when you see Jerusalem surrounded by armies, then be assured that her ruin is pending. ²¹Then those in Judea should flee to the mountains, and those inside the city should escape, while those in the country should not enter her; ²²for those are the days of vengeance in fulfillment of all that has been written."

²³"Alas for those who are pregnant and for those who are nursing children in those days, for terrible misery will be on the earth and anger will visit this people. ²⁴They will fall by the edge of the sword and will be carried off as prisoners to all nations. And Jerusalem will be trampled down by the Gentiles until the period of the Gentiles is completed."

²⁵"There will also be signs in sun, moon and stars, with distress on earth

n) Exod. 3:1-14.

o) Ps. 110:1, which clearly intimates Christ's divine and human nature.

p) These copper coins were mites, worth about one-eighth of a cent each. See note at Mark 12:42.

q) Votive gifts are offerings made in fulfillment of a vow, gifts consecrated by a pledge of devotion.

r) Cf. Ps. 121:7.

among the nations, bewilderment at the roaring of sea and waves, ²⁶men swooning from dread and apprehension about events that are about to take place in the world; for the powers of the heavens will be shaken. ²⁷Then will they see the Son of Man coming in a cloud^a with great power and glory. ²⁸But when these things begin to occur, straighten up and lift up your heads, because your deliverance is near."

²⁹He told them a parable: "Observe the fig tree and all the trees. ³⁰When they are fully budding, you know by looking at them that summer is in the offing. ³¹Similarly when you notice these things taking place, be assured that the kingdom of God is near. ³²I assure you that all this will happen before this generation^t passes away. ³³Heaven and earth will pass away, but My words will not pass away.

³⁴"Be on your guard, so that your hearts are not overloaded with dissipation, drunkenness and worldly cares, and that day takes you by surprise like a trap; ³⁵for it will come upon all the inhabitants of the globe. ³⁶But you be vigilant and pray unceasingly so that you may have strength to escape all those impending events and to stand in the presence of the Son of Man."^u

³⁷During the day He taught in the temple, but at night He went out and stayed in the open at what is called the Mount of Olives. ³⁸Early in the morning all the people resorted to Him in the temple to listen to Him.

22 THE FEAST OF UNLEAVENED

Bread, called the Passover, was drawing near, ²and the chief priests and the scribes were seeking a way to kill Him; for they were afraid of the people. ³Then Satan entered Judas, called Iscariot, who was counted among the Twelve, ⁴and he went off to confer with the chief priests and officers how he might deliver Him to them. ⁵They were delighted, and agreed to give him money. ⁶He consented and looked for a chance to betray Him to them away from the crowd.

⁷Then came the Day of Unleavened Bread, when the Passover must be sacrificed; ⁸so He sent Peter and John with instructions, "Go and get the Passover ready for us to eat."⁹They asked Him, "Where do You want us to prepare it?" ¹⁰He replied, "As you enter the city, a man will meet you, carrying a pitcher of water. Follow him into the house he enters, ¹¹and say to the owner of the house, 'The Teacher sends you word, 'Where is the guest hall in which I may eat the Passover with My disciples?'" ¹²He will show you a large upper room all furnished; there make ready."¹³So they went and found everything just as He had told them, and they prepared the Passover Supper.

¹⁴When the hour came, He and His disciples sat^v together at the table, ¹⁵and He said to them, "I have longingly desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer; ¹⁶for I tell you, I shall never eat it again until it is fulfilled in the kingdom of God."

¹⁷Taking the cup in His hands, He gave thanks and said, "Take this and divide it among yourselves; ¹⁸for I tell you, I shall from now on never again drink the fruit of the vine until the kingdom of God comes."

¹⁹And taking the bread, He gave thanks, broke and gave it to them, saying, "This is My body [given up for your sakes; do this in My memory."²⁰Similarly He gave the cup after supper, saying, "This cup is the new Covenant in My blood, poured out on your behalf]*. ²¹However, the hand of My betrayer is with Me at the table; ²²for the Son of man goes, indeed, as was determined, but alas for that man by whom He is betrayed."²³And they

s) Compare Acts 1:9-11, where Christ's ascension and His personal return to the earth are mentioned.

t) The word "generation" is translated from the Greek genea which means (1) generation, i.e., contemporaries living on earth or the span of an individual's lifetime; (2) race; and (3) family.
u) To stand in Christ's presence without fear of condemnation, because of trust in Him.

v) See note at Mark 2:15.

w) Here Jesus instituted the Lord's Supper. Cf. 1 Cor. 11:23-26.
x) The latter part of vs. 19 and all of vs. 20 which are enclosed in brackets do not appear in some of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

started to inquire among themselves who of them might possibly be going to do this.

²⁴There also was a controversy among them, who of them should be considered most important. ²⁵But He told them, "The kings of the nations lord it over them and their authorities are called benefactors. ²⁶But you are not to be that way. Instead, the most prominent among you must be as the youngest, and the leader as one who serves. ²⁷For who is more important, the one who sits at the table or the waiter? Is it not the one who sits at the table? But I am among you as one who serves.^y ²⁸"You have been standing by Me through My trials ²⁹and, just as My Father has assigned to Me a kingdom, so I assign to you ³⁰that you may eat and drink at My table in My kingdom, and you will be seated on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

³¹"Simon, Simon, Satan has asked permission to sift all of you like wheat, ³²but I have prayed for you that your faith may not fail; and when you return to Me, strengthen your brothers."

³³Peter told Him, "Lord, I am ready to go to prison and to death for You."

³⁴But He said, "I tell you, Peter, the rooster will not crow today before you have denied three times that you know Me."

³⁵And He said to them, "When I sent you out without purse or bag or sandals, did you lack anything?" They answered, "Nothing." ³⁶Then He told them, "But now he who has a purse, take it, and a bag too, and he who has no sword, sell your coat and buy one. ³⁷For I tell you that what is written^z has to be accomplished in Me, 'He was classed among criminals'; for what is written about Me is reaching conclusion." ³⁸They said, "Lord, look, here are two swords." He said to them, "It is enough."

³⁹He went out as usual to the Mount of Olives, and the disciples followed Him. ⁴⁰When He reached the place, He told them, "Pray that you may not enter into temptation"; ⁴¹then He withdrew from them about a stone's throw, knelt down and prayed, ⁴²"Father, if Thou art willing, remove this cup from Me; nevertheless, not My will but Thine be done." ⁴³[And an angel from heaven appeared to Him to strengthen Him, ⁴⁴and in agony He prayed yet more intensely, and His sweat fell to the ground like great drops of blood.]^a ⁴⁵Arising from prayer and going to the disciples, He found them asleep from sorrow, ⁴⁶and said to them, "Why are you sleeping? Rise up and pray that you may not enter into temptation."

⁴⁷While He was still speaking, there was a mob headed by one of the Twelve named Judas, who approached Jesus to kiss Him. ⁴⁸Jesus said to him, "Judas, are you betraying the Son of Man with a kiss?" ⁴⁹When those with Him saw what was coming, they said, "Lord, shall we strike with the sword?" ⁵⁰And one^b of them struck the slave^c of the high priest and cut off his right ear. ⁵¹But Jesus said, "Enough of this!" And touching the ear, He healed him.

⁵²Then Jesus said to the chief priests, the temple officers and the elders who came to arrest Him, "Have you come out with swords and clubs as against a robber? ⁵³When I was daily in the temple with you, you never put out a hand against Me. But this is your hour and the power of darkness."

⁵⁴They arrested Him, led Him away and took Him inside the house of the high priest, while Peter followed from a distance. ⁵⁵When they kindled a fire in the center of the courtyard and sat around it, Peter sat in their circle. ⁵⁶Then a maid noticed him seated by the fire, took a good look at him and said, "This fellow was with Him too." ⁵⁷But he denied, saying, "Woman, I do not know Him!" ⁵⁸A little later another

y) For example, Jesus had washed the feet of the Twelve, John 13:1-17.

z) Isa. 53:12.

a) Verses 43 and 44, enclosed in brackets, do not appear in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

b) This was Simon Peter, John 18:10.

c) See note at Matt. 13:27.

looked at him and said, "Yes, you are one of them." But Peter said, "Man, I am not!" ⁵⁹About an hour had gone by when another insisted, "Unquestionably this fellow was with Him, for he is a Galilean also." ⁶⁰But Peter said, "Man, I cannot make out what you are talking about!" And instantly, while he was still speaking, the rooster crowed. ⁶¹Then the Lord, turning round, looked at Peter and Peter remembered the Lord's warning, how He had said to him, "Before the rooster crows tonight you will disown Me three times." ⁶²And going clear outside, he wept bitterly.^d ⁶³The men who were holding Jesus in custody ridiculed Him while flogging Him; ⁶⁴they blindfolded Him, inquiring, "Prophesy! Who struck You?" ⁶⁵And they made many more insulting remarks to Him.

⁶⁶With break of day the elders of the people, both chief priests and scribes, got together and had Him brought into their Sanhedrin.^e ⁶⁷They said, "If You are the Christ, tell us." But He said to them, "You will not believe if I tell you; ⁶⁸neither will you answer if I question you. ⁶⁹But from now on the Son of Man will be seated at the right hand of God Almighty." ⁷⁰They all said, "Are You then the Son of God?" He said to them, "You say that I am." ⁷¹They said, "What need do we still have of testimony? We have personally heard it from His own lips."

23 THEN THEY ROSE UP IN A BODY and conducted Him to Pilate. ²And they started to accuse Him, "We found this fellow perverting our nation and forbidding them to pay taxes to Caesar, claiming that He Himself is Messiah, a king."

³And Pilate asked Him, "Are You the king of the Jews?" He answered him, "You say so." ⁴Then Pilate told the chief priests and the crowd, "I find nothing criminal in this man." ⁵But they strongly insisted, "He stirs up the people by teaching all over Judea, beginning from Galilee and coming to this place."

⁶Hearing that, Pilate asked if the man were a Galilean and, ⁷having learned that He came under Herod's jurisdiction, he sent Him back to Herod, who was himself in Jerusalem during those days.

⁸Herod was very pleased to see Jesus, for he had wanted for a long time to see Him, for he had been hearing about Him, and he hoped to see Him perform some miracles; ⁹but though he questioned Him at length, Jesus never answered him.^f ¹⁰Meanwhile the chief priests and scribes stood there accusing Him with all their might. ¹¹Then Herod, with his soldiers, made light of Him and mockingly put resplendent attire on Him, then sent Him back to Pilate. ¹²On that day Herod and Pilate became friends, for they had previously been enemies.

¹³Pilate then summoned the chief priests and the rulers and the people, ¹⁴to whom he spoke: "You brought me this man as inciting the people to rebellion. I have examined Him in your presence and have found the man not guilty of any of your accusations against Him; ¹⁵neither, in fact, has Herod, for he sent Him back to us. Observe that He has done nothing deserving death; ¹⁶so, after a scourging I will let Him go." ¹⁷[For he had to release them one convict at the feast.]^g ¹⁸But they all shouted as one voice, "Away with Him! Release Barabbas for us!" ¹⁹He had been thrown in prison on account of a

d) In contrast with Judas, who suffered remorse at his betrayal of Christ and then hanged himself, Peter truly repented of his denial of the Lord Jesus. His tears were the first sign of repentance. See John 21:15-19.

e) The Sanhedrin, composed of seventy-one members, was the highest Jewish council under the jurisdiction of the Roman procurators. Its powers of administration of the government and justice were extensive throughout all Judea. It had its own police force, with power of life and death, though apparently no authority to execute the death penalty, which action had to be submitted to the review of the Roman authorities. The seventy regular members of the Sanhedrin, or council (corresponding to the seventy elders of Moses' time), had to be Israelites whose descent was unquestionable. The seventy-first member, the Sanhedrin's president, was the high priest.

f) Isa. 53:7.

g) Verse 17, enclosed in brackets, is not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

riot that had occurred in the city, and for murder. ²⁰Again Pilate, because he wanted to release Jesus, called out to them; ²¹but they roared, "Crucify, crucify Him!" ²²For the third time he said to them, "What wrong, then, has He done? I find nothing in Him that deserves death; so after a scourging I will let Him go."

²³But with loud voices they urged their demand that He be crucified, and their shoutings won the day. ²⁴Pilate pronounced sentence, that what they asked should be done. ²⁵He released the one they wanted, who had been thrown in prison for riot and murder, and handed Jesus over to their wishes. ²⁶And as they led Him away, they took hold of Simon, a Cyrenian,¹ who was coming from the country, and laid the cross on him to carry it behind Jesus.

²⁷A vast host of people followed Him and women too, who beat their breasts and bewailed Him. ²⁸Turning to them Jesus said, "Daughters of Jerusalem, do not weep for Me; instead, weep for yourselves and for your children; ²⁹for be sure the time is coming when they will say, 'Happy are the childless, the wombs that never gave birth and the breasts that never nursed babies.' ³⁰Then they will begin to say to the mountains,¹ 'Fall on us!' and to the hills, 'Hide us!' ³¹For if they do this to the green wood, what will happen to the dry?"^k

³²Two others, criminals, were also led away with Him to be crucified. ³³And when they reached the place called The Skull,¹ there they crucified Him and the criminals, one at His right and the other at His left. ³⁴And Jesus said, "Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing." And they divided His clothes among themselves by casting lots.

³⁵And the people stood staring,

while the leaders sneered, "Others He saved; let Him save Himself, if He is the Christ of God, His Chosen!" ³⁶The soldiers, too, ridiculed Him, coming up and offering Him vinegar, ³⁷saying, "If You are the king of the Jews, save Yourself!" ³⁸For there was an inscription above Him, THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

³⁹One of the criminals that were hanged reviled Him, "Are You not the Christ? Save Yourself and us!" ⁴⁰But the other reproved him and told him, "Do you not fear God, when you are suffering the same punishment? ⁴¹We, however, are suffering justly; we are getting what we deserve for our misdeeds, but He has done nothing amiss." ⁴²Then he said, "Jesus, remember me when You come into Your kingdom." ⁴³Jesus said to him, "I assure you, today you will be with Me in Paradise."

⁴⁴It was then about twelve o'clock, and darkness came over the whole land, which lasted until three in the afternoon, ⁴⁵due to the sun's eclipse. And the veil^m of the temple was torn in two. ⁴⁶With a loud voice Jesus cried, "Father, into Thy hands I entrust My spirit!" And with these words He died.

⁴⁷When the centurion saw what had happened, he praised God, saying, "Truly this man was innocent." ⁴⁸And when all the crowds that had gathered for this spectacle saw what had occurred, they went back, beating their breasts. ⁴⁹All His acquaintances too, and the women who had come along with Him from Galilee, observed it all, standing at a distance.

⁵⁰Now there was a man named Joseph, a member of the council, a good and upright man, ⁵¹who had not voted for the council's plan and action; a native of Arimathea, one of the Judean towns, he lived in expectation of the kingdom of God. ⁵²He went to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus;

h) Pilate, who as governor was the supreme judge of the Jewish subjects in Jerusalem, had no right to condemn Jesus on the charges that had been made against Him, and he knew it.

i) See note at Matt. 27:32.

j) Rev. 6:16; cf. Hos. 10:8.

k) Here, Jesus used what was evidently a current proverb, meaning that if the Romans had mistreated and condemned Him to death (the green tree — i.e., an innocent person), what would they later do to the guilty (the dry tree)?

l) This place is generally known as Calvary, from the Latin word calvaria meaning skull.

m) This was the curtain that hung in the temple between the Holy of holies and the holy place.

⁵³which he took down and wrapped in linen, then laid in a rock-hewn tomb where nobody had yet been laid.

⁵⁴It was preparation day with the Sabbath drawing near. ⁵⁵And the women, who had accompanied Him from Galilee followed and saw the tomb and how His body was laid. ⁵⁶Then they went back to prepare spices and perfumes, and rested on the Sabbath in obedience to the commandment.ⁿ

24 ON THE FIRST DAY OF THE week at early dawn they went to the tomb taking the spices they had prepared. ²They found the stone rolled away from the tomb, ³and going inside they did not find the body of the Lord Jesus. ⁴They were greatly perplexed about this when, lo, two men stood by them in dazzling clothing. ⁵Frightened, the women bowed their faces to the ground, but the men said to them, "Why do you look for the living among the dead? ⁶He is not here, but He has risen! Remember how He told^o you while He was still in Galilee, ⁷that the Son of Man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men and be crucified and rise again on the third day."

⁸Then they recalled His sayings ⁹and, returning from the tomb, they told everything to the Eleven and to all the rest. ¹⁰They were Mary Magdalene, and Joanna,^p and Mary,^q the mother of James; they and the rest of the women told these things to the apostles. ¹¹But these reports seemed nonsense to them; they did not believe the women. ¹²[Peter got up, though, and ran to the tomb and, stooping down, saw the linen clothes lying by themselves; then he went away wondering at what had happened.]^r

¹³That same day two of them were walking to a village called Emmaus, about seven miles from Jerusalem, ¹⁴and they were talking to each other about all these occurrences. ¹⁵During their conversation and discussion, Jesus Himself caught up with them and walked along with them, ¹⁶but their eyes were kept from recognizing Him. ¹⁷He said to them, "What are these things you are discussing as you walk?" Looking downcast, they stopped, ¹⁸and one of them, named Cleopas, answered Him, "Are You the lone visitor in Jerusalem who does not know the things that have happened there during the past few days?" ¹⁹He asked, "What things?" They said to Him, "About Jesus of Nazareth, who was a mighty prophet in deed and word before God and all the people, ²⁰and how the chief priests and our leaders gave Him over to be sentenced to death and had Him crucified. ²¹But we had hopes that He was the one who would deliver Israel. Moreover, three days have already passed since all those events occurred.

²²"Some of our women, though, astounded us. Early this morning they went to the tomb ²³and, not finding the body, came back to tell us that they had seen a vision of angels, who said that He is alive. ²⁴Some of our group then went to the tomb and found it just as the women had said; but Him they did not see."

²⁵Jesus said to them, "O fools, with hearts so slow to believe everything the prophets have spoken! ²⁶Did not Christ have to suffer all this and enter into His glory?" ²⁷Then, beginning at Moses^s and through all the Prophets He explained to them in all the Scriptures what referred to Himself.

²⁸They drew near to the village to which they were going, and He behaved as if He were going on, ²⁹but they urged Him, "Stay with us, for it is toward evening and the day is already declining." So He went in to stay with them. ³⁰And as He sat^t at the table with them, He took bread, gave thanks, and broke it, and handed

n) Exod. 20:8-11.

o) Chapter 9:22.

p) Joanna was the wife of Chuza, Herod's steward, ch. 8:3.

q) See note on the four Marys of the Gospels, Matt. 1:16.

r) Verse 12, enclosed in brackets, does not appear in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

s) That is, from Genesis through the whole Old Testament. This is one of the most important of all passages relating to Bible study because it shows that Christ is at the center of the Scriptures.

t) See note at Mark 2:15.

it to them. ³¹Then their eyes were opened and they recognized Him. And He vanished from their sight.

³²They said to one another, "Did not our hearts burn within us while He was talking to us on the road and opening the Scriptures to us?" ³³Rising at once, they went back to Jerusalem and found the Eleven and their friends all congregated, ³⁴saying, "The Lord is risen indeed and appeared to Simon!" ³⁵Then they related their own experience on the road and how they had recognized Him in the breaking of the bread.

³⁶While they were talking of those things, He Himself stood in their midst and said to them, "Peace to you."

³⁷They were startled and terrified, imagining that they saw a ghost; ³⁸but He asked them, "Why are you disturbed and why are such doubts arising in your hearts?" ³⁹Look at My hands and My feet. It is I Myself. Touch Me and see; for a ghost does not have flesh and bones as you see Me have." ⁴⁰[And when He said this, He showed them His hands and feet.]^u ⁴¹Since they still were unable to believe for sheer joy, and marveled, He asked them, "Do you have any food on hand?" ⁴²And they gave Him a piece of broiled fish, ⁴³and He took and ate it.

⁴⁴Then He said to them, "These are My teachings which I spoke to you while I was still with you, that everything written in the Law of Moses and in the Prophets and Psalms about Me must take place." ⁴⁵Then He opened their minds to understand the Scriptures. ⁴⁶He said to them, "So it is written, that the Christ should suffer and rise from the dead on the third day, ⁴⁷and that repentance, leading to forgiveness of sins, should be preached in His name to all nations beginning at Jerusalem.

⁴⁸"You are witnesses of these things, ⁴⁹and I will send out upon you what was promised by My Father.^v But you wait here in the city until you are clothed with power from on high."

⁵⁰Then He conducted them out as far as Bethany^w and, raising His hands, He blessed them. ⁵¹While He blessed them He was parted from them and taken up into heaven.

⁵²They worshiped Him and went back to Jerusalem with great joy. ⁵³And they were constantly in the temple, praising God.^x

u) Verse 40, enclosed in brackets, does not appear in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

v) That is, the Holy Spirit who now takes charge.

w) Bethany is at the foot of the Mt. of Olives. Thus Acts 1:12 is in accord with the statement here.

x) Luke continues his record of Christ's ministry in The Acts where he tells of the coming of the Holy Spirit, the beginnings of the church, and its early witness.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO

JOHN

1 IN THE BEGINNING WAS THE Word,^a and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. ²This is the One who was in the beginning with God. ³Through Him everything came into being and without Him nothing that exists came into being. ⁴In Him was Life, and the Life was the Light of men. ⁵The Light shines in the darkness and the darkness did not overcome it.

⁶There was a man named John, sent from God. ⁷He came to be a witness to testify regarding the Light, so that everyone might believe through him. ⁸He was not himself the Light, but he came in order to testify regarding the Light.

⁹The true Light that illumines every person was coming into the world. ¹⁰He was in the world and the world came into being through Him, yet the world did not know Him. ¹¹He came to His own home and His own people did not receive Him. ¹²But to those who did receive Him He granted authority to become God's children, that is, to those who believe in His name, ¹³who owe their birth neither to human blood, nor to physical urge, nor to human design, but to God. ¹⁴And the Word became man and lived for a time among us, and we viewed His glory—such glory as an only son receives from his father—abounding in grace and truth.

c. A.D. 26

¹⁵John testified about Him and cried out, "This was the One of whom I said, 'He who comes after me ranks ahead of me because He was before me.'" ¹⁶For from His abundance all of us have received more and more grace; ¹⁷for while the Law was given through Moses, grace and truth came through Jesus Christ. ¹⁸No one has ever seen God; the begotten Son who abides at the Father's side has made Him known.

¹⁹And this is John's testimony when the Jews sent priests and Levites^b from Jerusalem to inquire of him, "Who are you?" ²⁰He admitted without denial and frankly confessed, "I am not the Christ." ²¹They asked him, "Then who are you? Elijah?" He said, "No, I am not." "Are you the prophet?"^c He answered, "No." ²²Then they said to him, "Who are you, so that we may have an answer for those who sent us? What have you to say about yourself?"

²³He said, "I am the voice of one shouting in the desert, 'Prepare the way of the Lord,' just as Isaiah the prophet said."^d ²⁴Now the messengers were from the Pharisees^e ²⁵and they asked him, "Then why do you baptize, if you are neither the Christ nor Elijah, nor the prophet?" ²⁶John answered them, "I baptize with water, ²⁷but there is One who stands among you, whom you do not recognize, the

a) Greek Logos meaning Word. Christ is the Word of God, that is, He is not only a divine messenger but the exact expression in Person, life and speech of God Himself, Heb. 1:3. What God is, Christ is.

b) See note at Luke 10:32.

c) Deut. 18:15; John 6:14; 7:40.

d) Isa. 40:3.

e) See note at Matt. 3:7.

One who will come after me and whose sandal-strings I am not fit to untie."

²⁸These things occurred at Bethany^f beyond the Jordan, where John was baptizing.

c. A.D. 27

²⁹The next day he saw Jesus approaching him and said, "There is the Lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world!" ³⁰He is the One of whom I said, 'After me comes a Man who ranks ahead of me, for He was before me.' ³¹I did not recognize Him; but I have come to baptize with water, so that He may be made known to Israel."

³²John testified further, "I saw the Spirit come down from heaven like a dove and remain on Him, ³³and although I did not know Him, He who sent me to baptize with water told me Himself, 'On whom you see the Spirit descend and remain, He is the One who baptizes with the Holy Spirit.' ³⁴And I did see it and I testify that He is the Son of God."

³⁵Again the following day John was standing with two of his disciples,^g ³⁶when he looked at Jesus as He was walking along, and he said, "There is the Lamb of God." ³⁷Hearing him say this, the two disciples followed Jesus. ³⁸Then Jesus turned and, noticing that they were following Him, said to them, "What are you looking for?" They said to Him, "Rabbi (which means Teacher) where are You staying?" ³⁹He told them, "Come and see." They went and saw where He was staying and remained with Him that day—it was then about ten in the morning.

⁴⁰Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter, was one of the two who listened to John and who followed Him. ⁴¹He first found his own brother, Simon, and told him, "We have found the Messiah" (which means the Christ), ⁴²and brought him to Jesus. Looking at him Jesus said, "You are Simon, the son of John; you will be called Cephas"^h (which means Peter).

⁴³The next day Jesus decided to go to Galilee and found Philip, to whom He said, "Follow Me." ⁴⁴Philip came from Bethsaida,ⁱ the town of Andrew and Peter. ⁴⁵Philip found Nathanael^j and told him, "We have found the One of whom Moses wrote in the Law as did the Prophets also, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph." ⁴⁶Nathanael said to him, "Can anything good come out of Nazareth?" Philip replied, "Come and see."

⁴⁷Jesus saw Nathanael approaching Him and said of him, "There, truly, is an Israelite without deceit in him." ⁴⁸Nathanael asked Him, "How do you know me?" Jesus replied, "I saw you under the fig tree before ever Philip called you." ⁴⁹Nathanael replied, "Rabbi, You are the Son of God; You are the king of Israel." ⁵⁰Jesus further replied to him, "Do you believe because I told you I had seen you under the fig tree? You will see greater things than that." ⁵¹He then said to him, "Truly I assure you all, you will see heaven opened and the angels of God ascending and descending on the Son of Man."

2 ON THE THIRD DAY THERE WAS A wedding at Cana in Galilee, at which Jesus' mother was present, ²and Jesus, with His disciples, was invited to the wedding. ³When the wine gave out, Jesus' mother said to Him, "They are out of wine." ⁴Jesus said to her, "Woman,^k what right do you have to tell Me? My hour is not yet here." ⁵His mother told the servants, "Do whatever He tells you."

⁶Now there were six stone water jars standing there for the Jewish rites of purifying; each would hold from twenty to thirty gallons. ⁷Jesus said to them, "Fill the jars with water." So they filled them to the brim. ⁸Again

f) See note at Matt. 21:17.

g) John and Andrew.
h) Képhas, from an Aramaic word meaning rock which is equivalent to the Greek Petros, that is Peter.

i) See note at Mark 8:22.

j) Nathanael is called Bartholomew in Matt. 10:3; Mark 3:18; Luke 6:14; Acts 1:13.

k) As a form of address "Woman" was a title of respect in that day. Jesus spoke the same word to His mother at the cross, John 19:26.

He told them, "Now take some out and carry it to the table steward." They carried it ⁹and when the steward tasted the water that had become wine, and did not know where it came from (though the servants who had drawn the water knew), ¹⁰he called the bridegroom and told him, "Everyone serves the good wine first and the poorer when men have drunk freely; but you have retained the good wine until now."

¹¹Jesus performed this earliest of His signs in Cana of Galilee, thereby displaying His greatness. And His disciples believed in Him.

¹²Following this He and His mother and brothers and His disciples went down to Capernaum¹ and stayed there for a few days.

¹³The Jewish Passover was near, so Jesus went up to Jerusalem. ¹⁴There He found seated in the temple dealers in cattle, sheep, and pigeons; also money-changers; ¹⁵so, making a whip out of cords, He drove them all out of the temple, as well as the sheep and cattle, poured out the money-changers' coins and overturned the tables. ¹⁶And to the pigeon dealers He said, "Take these outside; do not make My Father's house a house of business."

¹⁷His disciples recollected that it was written,^m "Passion for Thy house will consume me."

¹⁸The Jews then said to Him, "What signⁿ will You show us for Your doing these things?" ¹⁹Jesus replied, "Destroy this temple and in three days I will rebuild it." ²⁰Then the Jews remarked, "This temple has been in process of building for forty-six years, and will You rebuild it in three days?"^o ²¹But He was speaking about His bodily temple; ²²so, when He had risen from the dead, His disciples recollected that He had said this; they believed the Scripture and the message which Jesus spoke.

²³While He was at Jerusalem during the Passover Feast, many who observed the signs which He did believed in His name. ²⁴But Jesus would not entrust Himself to them, because He understood them all ²⁵and did not need any one's evidence about people, for He knew what was in the human heart.

3 AMONG THE PHARISEES THERE was a man named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews, ²who visited Jesus by night and said to Him, "Rabbi, we know that You are a teacher who has come from God; for no one can work the signs You work unless God is with him."

³Jesus answered him, "Truly I assure you, unless a person is born from above he cannot see the kingdom of God." ⁴Nicodemus said to Him, "How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter his mother's womb a second time and be born?" ⁵Jesus replied, "Truly I assure you, unless one's birth is through water and the Spirit^p he cannot enter the kingdom of God. ⁶What is born of the flesh is flesh^q and what is born of the Spirit is spirit."

⁷"Do not be surprised because I told you, 'All of you need to be born from above.' ⁸The wind blows where it pleases and, though you hear the sound of it, you neither know whence it comes nor where it goes. It is the same with everyone who is born of the Spirit." In response, ⁹Nicodemus asked Him, "How is that possible?" ¹⁰Jesus replied, "You are a teacher of Israel and ignorant of this? ¹¹I truly assure you that we speak of what we know and we testify to what we have seen; but you do not accept our evidence. ¹²If I told you earthly things and you

1) See note at Matt. 4:13.

m) Ps. 69:9.

n) The Greek word semeion means a sign or a distinguishing mark by which a person or thing is known; a token; a miracle. The words "sign" and "miracle" are used interchangeably in the New Testament. The sign that the Jews wanted from Jesus was as an evidence of His divine authority and hence a proof of His messiahship.

o) Herod began to rebuild the temple in 19 B.C. This remark was made in about A.D. 27.

p) Water as a token of repentance on our part; the Spirit for the new birth — this is God's part. Water is also a symbol for the Word of God, Eph. 5:26.

q) The usual meaning of the word "flesh" in the N.T. is the whole human being apart from the influences of the Holy Spirit.

do not believe, how will you believe if I tell you heavenly things?

¹³"No one has gone up to heaven except He who came down from heaven, the Son of Man [whose home is heaven].^r ¹⁴And just as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, so the Son of Man must be lifted up, ¹⁵so that whoever believes in Him may not perish but have life eternal.

¹⁶"For God so loved the world that He gave His only Son,^s so that whoever believes in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life. ¹⁷For God did not send His Son into the world to condemn the world but in order that the world might be saved through Him.

¹⁸"He who believes in Him is not condemned; but he who does not believe is already condemned, because he has not believed in the name of the only Son of God. ¹⁹And this is the verdict, that the light has come into the world, and people have loved darkness more than light because their deeds were wicked. ²⁰For every one who practices evil hates the light and keeps away from the light, in order that his activities might not be exposed. ²¹But one who practices the truth wants light on it, so that it will be perfectly clear that he is working in union with God."

²²After this, Jesus and His disciples came into the Judean district, where He remained with them and baptized. ²³John also was baptizing at Aenon near Salim,^t for there was plenty of water there and a continual stream of people came and were baptized. ²⁴For as yet John had not been put into prison.

²⁵A dispute then arose between some of John's disciples and a Jew about purification; ²⁶so they came to John and told him, "Rabbi, the One who was with you on the other side of the Jordan, whom you gave testimony to —

He is baptizing and everyone is flocking to Him."

²⁷John replied, "No man is able to lay claim to anything unless it has been given him from heaven. ²⁸You bear me out that I said, 'I am not the Christ,' but 'I am sent ahead of Him.' ²⁹The one who has the bride is the bridegroom. But the bridegroom's friend, who stands near and listens to him, is very happy over the bridegroom's voice; so this joy of mine is complete. ³⁰He must increase and I must diminish.

³¹"He who comes from above is above everyone, while one who originates from the earth belongs to the earth and speaks from an earthly standpoint. He who comes from heaven is higher than they all. ³²He testifies to what He has seen and heard, yet nobody accepts His testimony. ³³Whoever does accept His testimony attests that God is true; ³⁴for He whom God has sent speaks the words of God, for God grants the Spirit in unlimited measure. ³⁵The Father loves the Son and has committed everything into His hands. ³⁶He who believes in the Son has eternal life, but he who disobeys the Son will not see life but God's wrath remains upon him."

c. A.D. 28

4 WHEN THE LORD KNEW THAT THE Pharisees had heard, "Jesus is making and baptizing more disciples than John" (although Jesus Himself did not baptize, but His disciples did), ²He left Judea and went away again into Galilee. ³He found it necessary to pass through Samaria ⁴and arrived at a Samaritan town called Sychar, near the tract of land^u that Jacob had presented to his son Joseph. ⁵And Jacob's well was there. So Jesus, wearied by His travel, sat down just as He was by the well. It was about six in the evening.

⁷A Samaritan woman came to draw

^r) The words enclosed in brackets are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

^s) Christ is the unique Son of God, eternally One with the Father and the Spirit, yet truly man in His perfect humanity.

^t) The precise locations of Aenon and Salim have not yet been identified. The context suggests that they were in the Jordan Valley. According to at least one lexicographer "Aenon" means fountain or spring.

^u) Gen. 33:18, 19; cf. 50:22.

water, to whom Jesus said, "Let Me have a drink." ⁸For His disciples had gone off into the town to buy food. ⁹The Samaritan woman said to Him, "How is this that You, a Jew, should ask me, a Samaritan woman, for a drink?" For Jews do not associate with Samaritans.^v

¹⁰Jesus answered her, "If you knew God's gift and who really asked you, 'Give Me a drink,' you would have requested Him and He would have given you living water." ¹¹The woman said to Him, "Sir, You have no rope and bucket, and the well is deep. Where do You get that living water?" ¹²You surely are not superior to our father Jacob, who gave us the well; and he and his sons and his cattle drank from it?" ¹³Jesus answered her, "Whoever drinks from this water will be thirsty again; ¹⁴but whoever drinks the water I shall give him will never thirst again, but the water I shall give him will become a well of water within him that bubbles up for eternal life."

¹⁵The woman said to Him, "Sir, give me this water, so that I will not get thirsty nor have to come all the way here to draw water." ¹⁶He said to her, "Go, call your husband and come back here." ¹⁷The woman replied, "I do not have a husband." Jesus said to her, "You say correctly, 'I have no husband,' ¹⁸for you have had five husbands and the one you are now living with is not your husband; in saying this you told the truth." ¹⁹The woman said^w to Him, "I perceive, Sir, that You are a prophet. ²⁰Our fathers worshiped on this mountain, and You say that Jerusalem is the proper place to worship."

²¹Jesus said to her, "Believe Me, woman, the time has come when you will worship the Father neither in this mountain nor in Jerusalem. ²²You worship what you do not know; we worship what we know, for salvation comes from the Jews. ²³But the hour is coming — and is now — when genuine worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and truth; for the Father is looking for such as His worshipers. ²⁴God is a Spirit and His worshipers must worship Him in spirit and in truth."

²⁵The woman said to Him, "I know that the Messiah, the One who is called Christ, is coming, and when He comes, He will make everything plain to us." ²⁶Jesus told her, "I who am talking to you, am He."

²⁷Upon this His disciples came and were astonished that He was talking with a woman; however, no one asked, "What are You seeking?" or, "Why are You talking with her?" ²⁸Then the woman left her pitcher and, going off to town, told the people, ²⁹"Come, see a man who told me everything I have done! Is not He the Christ?"

³⁰They went out from town and were going to Him. ³¹Meanwhile, the disciples urged Him, "Rabbi, eat."

³²But He said to them, "I have nourishment of which you have no idea." ³³So the disciples said to one another, "Surely, no one has brought Him anything to eat?" ³⁴Jesus said to them, "My nourishment is that I do the will of Him who sent Me and completely do His work. ³⁵Do you not say, 'Four months more and the harvest will be here'? Look, I tell you; raise your eyes and look at the fields, how they are white for harvest. ³⁶Already the reaper receives his wage and gathers the crop for life eternal, so that the sower and the reaper may rejoice together. ³⁷For the saying, 'One sows and another reaps,' is verified here; ³⁸I sent you to reap a crop on which you have not worked; others toiled and you step in to benefit from their work."

³⁹Numerous Samaritans from that town believed^x in Him on account of the woman's testimony, "He told me

v) See note at Luke 9:53.

w) When the conversation probed her life, the woman suddenly changed the subject. But Jesus used her attempted diversion to lead her to see who He was.

x) Pisteuo, the N.T. word for believing in Christ, is related to the Greek noun pistis, meaning faith. To have saving faith in Christ is to trust Him personally as one's Lord and Savior. It is significant that in John's Gospel the noun "faith" is never used, but the verb "believe" (pisteuo) is employed ninety times, more than in the other three Gospels together. The purpose of John's Gospel is to lead men to believe in Jesus Christ, ch. 20:31. Thus it is the good news concerning active, living faith in Him.

everything I did." ⁴⁰So when the Samaritans met Him they invited Him to stay with them, and He remained there two days. ⁴¹A good many more believed on account of His message, ⁴²and said to the woman, "We no longer believe just because of your story; for we have heard Him ourselves and we know that He truly is the Savior of the world."

⁴³At the end of the two days He left there and went to Galilee; ⁴⁴for Jesus Himself affirmed, "A prophet has no honor in his native town." ⁴⁵So, on His arrival in Galilee the Galileans, because they had seen everything He had done at the feast in Jerusalem, welcomed Him, for they also had attended the feast.

⁴⁶Jesus went once more to Cana in Galilee, where He had changed the water into wine, and there a courtier, whose son lay ill in Capernaum, ⁴⁷when he learned that Jesus had come to Galilee from Judea, came to Him and begged Him to come down and heal his son, who was at the point of death. ⁴⁸Jesus then said to him, "Unless you see signs and wonders you will not believe at all." ⁴⁹The courtier replied, "Sir, do come down before my boy dies." ⁵⁰Jesus said to him, "Go your way; your son lives." The man believed what Jesus told him and went his way. ⁵¹But while he was going down to Capernaum, his slaves^y met him and announced that his boy had recovered; ⁵²so he asked them at what time he began to improve. They told him, "Yesterday at seven o'clock the fever left him." ⁵³Then the father knew that it was the very hour when Jesus had said to him, "Your son lives." And he and his entire household became believers.

⁵⁴This, then, was the second sign Jesus performed when He came from Judea into Galilee.

5 LATER ON THERE WAS A FEAST^z OF the Jews, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem. ²Now there is in Jerusalem, by the sheepgate, a bathing pool called in Hebrew, Bethzath, with five entrances³ in which a crowd of invalids lay— blind, lame and paralyzed [waiting for the stirring of the water. ⁴For at intervals an angel descended into the pool and stirred the water. Whoever got in first after the agitation of the pool enjoyed healing, no matter what ailment he suffered].^a ⁵One man there had suffered from an infirmity for thirty-eight years. ⁶When Jesus noticed him lying there, He asked him, knowing he had been there for a long time, "Do you want to get well?" ⁷The invalid replied, "I have no one, Sir, to put me into the bathing pool right after it has been disturbed; while I am going another gets in ahead of me." ⁸Jesus told him, "Get up, pick up your mat and walk." ⁹Instantly the man was well; he picked up his mat and walked. Now that was on the Sabbath day.

¹⁰So the Jews said to the healed man, "This is the Sabbath and you have no right to carry your mat." ¹¹He told them, "The one who healed me, He Himself said to me, 'Pick up your mat and walk.'" ¹²They questioned him, "Who is the person who told you to pick it up and walk?" ¹³But the healed man did not know who it was; for Jesus had withdrawn because there was a crowd in the place. ¹⁴Afterward Jesus came across him in the temple and said to him, "You are now enjoying health; stop sinning or something worse will happen to you." ¹⁵The man went off and told the Jews it was Jesus who had healed him.

¹⁶For this reason the Jews persecuted Jesus because He did these things on the Sabbath. ¹⁷But He answered them, "My Father works till now and so I work." ¹⁸For this the Jews were more eager than ever to kill Him, since He not only broke the Sabbath but also called God His own Father and thus made Himself equal to God. ¹⁹Then Jesus replied to them, "I truly assure

y) See note at Matt. 13:27.

z) If this was a Passover Feast our Lord's ministry lasted three years and three months, cf. chs. 2:13; 6:4; 13:1.

a) The manuscript evidence for the words in vss. 3 and 4 that are enclosed in brackets is so slight that it is virtually certain that they were not in the original Greek text.

you that, the Son is not able to do anything by Himself, but only what He sees the Father doing; whatever He does, the Son does in the same way.²⁰ For the Father loves the Son and shows Him everything that He Himself does, and He will show Him still greater deeds than these, so that you will marvel;²¹ for just as the Father raises the dead and makes them live, so the Son makes alive whom He wills.²² The Father does not even sentence anyone but has given all judgment to the Son,²³ so that all may honor the Son just as they honor the Father. Whoever does not honor the Son does not honor the Father who sent Him.

²⁴ Truly I assure you that he who listens to My message and believes Him who sent Me has eternal life; he comes under no sentence but has passed over from death into life.²⁵ Truly I assure you, the hour is coming — and it is here — when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who hear will live.^b ²⁶ For as the Father has life in Himself,²⁷ so has He granted the Son to have life in Himself and has given Him authority to act as judge because He is the Son of Man.^c ²⁸ Do not be astonished about this, for the time is coming when all who are in the graves will hear His voice²⁹ and will come out, those who have done good to the resurrection of life, and those who have practiced evil to the resurrection of condemnation.

³⁰ I can do nothing independently; I judge as I am informed and My judgment is fair; for I am not looking out for My will but for the will of Him who sent Me.³¹ If I testify about Myself, My testimony is not accepted as true; ³² but another is testifying about Me and I know that His testimony concerning Me is true.³³ You sent messengers to John and he bore witness to the truth.³⁴ However, I do not rest My claim on human testimony; I only say this in order that you may be saved.³⁵ He was a lamp, shining and burning, and for a while you were willing to be happy in his light;³⁶ but I have a greater witness than John, for the works which My Father has given Me to accomplish — the activities in which I am engaged — these are My evidence that the Father has sent Me.³⁷ And the Father who sent Me has Himself testified on My behalf; only His voice you never yet heard, neither have you seen His form,³⁸ nor do you even have His message living within you, because you do not believe the One whom He sent.

³⁹ You investigate the Scriptures, because you suppose that you have eternal life in them, and yet they bear witness to Me;⁴⁰ yet you do not want to come to Me in order to have life.⁴¹ I reach for no human fame;⁴² but I know you, that you do not have love for God in you.⁴³ I have come in My Father's name and you do not receive Me; if another comes in his own name, you will accept him.⁴⁴ How can you believe when you welcome praise from one another and do not seek praise from the only God?

⁴⁵ Do not imagine that I shall accuse you before the Father; your accuser is Moses, in whom you are hoping.⁴⁶ For if you believed Moses you would believe Me, since He wrote about Me.⁴⁷ But if you do not believe his writings, how will you believe My teachings?^d

c. A.D. 29

6 LATER ON JESUS WENT TO THE other side of the Sea of Galilee or Sea of Tiberias.^d ² A great multitude followed Him, because they saw the signs He performed for the sick.³ But Jesus went up the mountain and there sat down with His disciples.⁴ The Passover, the Jewish feast, was near.

⁵ Looking up and observing that a vast host was coming to Him, Jesus said to Philip, "Where shall we buy food, so that they may eat?" ⁶ But He said this to test him, for He knew

b) Eternal life for the believer begins at his new birth, ch. 3:3, 16, 36. The resurrection of the believer's body is a consequence of his possessing the new life in Christ.

c) See note at ch. 3:16.

d) See note at Luke 5:1.

what He was going to do. ⁷Philip replied, "Fifty dollars' worth^e of bread would not suffice for each to receive even a little." ⁸Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, one of His disciples, told Him, ⁹"There is a lad here with five barley cakes and two fish; but what are these for so many?" ¹⁰Jesus said, "Have the people sit^f down." Now there was plenty of grass in the place, so the men, numbering about five thousand, sat down.

¹¹Then Jesus took the loaves, gave thanks, and had them served to those who were seated, and the same with the fish, as much as they wanted. ¹²When they were satisfied, He told His disciples, "Gather up the fragments that are left over, in order that nothing may be wasted." ¹³So they gathered them and filled twelve baskets with pieces from the five barley cakes left over by those who had eaten.

¹⁴When the people saw the sign He performed, they said, "This surely is the prophet^g who is to come into the world." ¹⁵Then Jesus, aware that they intended to come and seize Him in order to make Him king, withdrew again into a mountain by Himself alone.

¹⁶As evening fell, His disciples went down to the sea, ¹⁷boarded a boat and crossed the sea toward Capernaum. Darkness had overtaken them and Jesus had not yet come to them, ¹⁸while the sea was mounting under a strong wind. ¹⁹They had sailed about three or four miles when they saw Jesus walking on the sea and getting close to the vessel, and they were afraid. ²⁰But He said to them, "It is I; have no fear." ²¹Then they were quite ready to take Him into the boat and at once the boat was at the shore to which they were sailing.^h

²²The next day the crowd that was standing on the other side of the sea realized that there was only the vessel which the disciples had used and that Jesus had not gone along with them into the boat, but the disciples had left by themselves. ²³However, craft from Tiberias did land near the place at which they had eaten after the Lord's thanksgiving. ²⁴So when the crowd noticed that neither Jesus nor His disciples were there, they themselves embarked in little boats and sailed for Capernaum in search of Jesus. ²⁵When they found Him across the sea, they asked Him, "Rabbi, when did You get here?" ²⁶Jesus answered them, "Truly I assure you, you are not looking for Me because you saw signs, but because you ate of the loaves and were filled up. ²⁷Do not work for the food that spoils but for the food that lasts to life eternal, such as the Son of Man will furnish you; for God the Father has placed His seal of approval on Him."

²⁸Then they said to Him, "What should we do to accomplish the works of God?" ²⁹Jesus replied, "This is God's work, that you believe in Him whom He sent." ³⁰They then said to Him, "What sign then will You work, so that we may see and believe You; what work will You do?" ³¹Our ancestors ate manna in the desert as it is written,ⁱ 'He gave them bread from heaven to eat.'^j ³²Then Jesus told them, "Truly I assure you, Moses did not give you the bread from heaven, but My Father gives you the real, heavenly food; ³³for what comes down from heaven and furnishes life to the world, that is the Bread of God."^k

³⁴Then they said to Him, "Lord, give us this bread all the time." ³⁵Jesus replied, "I am the Bread of life. He who comes to Me will never hunger

e) The text reads "two hundred denarii's worth." A denarius would be worth about twenty-five cents in mid-twentieth century U.S. currency.

f) See note at Mark 2:15.

g) Deut. 18:15; John 1:21; 7:40.

h) No miracle is intimated. However, observe that with Jesus aboard they sailed smoothly, cf. vs. 18.

i) As always, it proved difficult to trust in Him, however they might be convinced of His miraculous power. Very humanly they wanted to be saved, not by faith but by works. Yet it is characteristic of human nature to expect to do something for salvation - to earn it as a reward for works whereas it can be received only by divine grace through believing. See v. 29; Eph. 2:8, 9.

j) Deut. 8:3; cf. Exod. 16:4-22.

k) That is, Christ Himself as the truth and the life.

and he who believes in Me will never thirst. ³⁶But as I told you, you have seen Me and yet you will not believe. ³⁷Every one whom the Father has given Me will come to Me, and I will certainly not cast out anyone who comes to Me; ³⁸for I came down from heaven, not to do My will but the will of Him who sent Me. ³⁹And this is the will of Him who sent Me, that of all that He gave Me I shall lose nothing but shall raise it up at the last day. ⁴⁰For this is My Father's will, that every one who sees the Son and believes in Him will have eternal life, and I shall raise him up at the last day."

⁴¹The Jews were grumbling about Him for saying, "I am the Bread that came down from heaven." ⁴²They remarked, "Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? Now how can He say, 'I have come down from heaven?'" ⁴³Jesus replied to them, "Stop grumbling one to another. ⁴⁴No one is able to come to Me unless the Father who sent Me draws him, and I will raise him up at the last day.

⁴⁵"It is written^l in the Prophets, 'And they will all be taught by God.' Every one who has listened to and has learned from My Father comes to Me. ⁴⁶This does not mean that anyone has seen the Father except Him who is from God; He has seen the Father. ⁴⁷Truly I assure you, he who believes has eternal life. ⁴⁸I am the Bread of life. ⁴⁹Your ancestors ate the manna in the desert and they died. ⁵⁰This is the Bread that comes down from heaven, so that anyone who eats of it may not die. ⁵¹I am the living Bread that came down from heaven. If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever. And the bread which I will give for the life of the world is My flesh."

⁵²Then the Jews argued with each other, "How can this person give us His flesh to eat?" ⁵³So Jesus said to them, "Truly I assure you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood, you have no life in you. ⁵⁴He who eats My flesh and drinks My blood^m has eternal life and I shall raise him up on the last day; ⁵⁵for My flesh is genuine food and My blood is genuine drink. ⁵⁶He who eats My flesh and drinks My blood remains in Me and I in him. ⁵⁷Just as the life-giving Father sent Me and I live because of the Father, so he who feasts on Me will live because of Me. ⁵⁸This is the Bread that came down from heaven, not such as your fathers ate and then died; he who eats this bread will live forever."

⁵⁹These sayings He uttered as He was teaching in a Capernaum synagogue. ⁶⁰Therefore many of His disciples who were listening said, "This is a difficult message. Who can bear to listen to it?" ⁶¹Aware within Himself that His disciples were grumbling about it, Jesus said to them: "This gives offense to you? ⁶²Suppose you should see the Son of Man ascending to where He was previously? ⁶³The Spirit is the life-giver; the flesh does not benefit at all. The words I have spoken to you are spirit and life, ⁶⁴but there are some of you who fail to believe." For Jesus knew from the beginning who were the unbelievers and who would be His betrayer. ⁶⁵He further said, "For this reason I have told you that no one is able to come to Me unless it is granted him by the Father."

⁶⁶From then on many of His disciples turned back and no longer walked with Him. ⁶⁷Then Jesus said to the Twelve, "You do not want to leave too?" ⁶⁸Simon Peter answered Him, "Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life, ⁶⁹and we have believed and have grown certain that You are the Holy One of God." ⁷⁰Jesus answered them, "Have I not chosen you twelve? Yet one of you is a devil." ⁷¹He meant Judas, son of Simon Iscariot, for he, although one of the Twelve, was going to betray Him.

l) Isa. 54:13.

m) The Christian is to be completely joined with Christ in thought, word, and deed so that Christ lives His life in him, cf. Gal. 2:20.

7 FOLLOWING THIS JESUS WENT about Galilee; for He did not want to go around in Judea because the Jews were seeking to kill Him. ²However, the Jewish Feast of Boothsⁿ was near, ³so His brothers told Him, "Get away from here and go off to Judea, so that Your disciples will see the works You do; ⁴for no one who seeks to be in the limelight does things where they are not observed. Since You do these things, show Yourself to the world." ⁵For his brothers had no faith in Him either.

⁶Jesus said to them, "My time has not yet arrived, but your time is always opportune. ⁷The world cannot hate you; but it hates Me because I testify about it, that its works are wicked. ⁸You go up to the feast; I am not going up to this feast yet, for My time is not yet completed."

⁹With these remarks to them He remained in Galilee. ¹⁰But after His brothers had gone up to the feast then He went also, not publicly but privately.

¹¹At the feast the Jews were looking for Him and inquired: "Where is He?"

¹²There was considerable dispute about Him also among the crowd, some saying, "He is good," and others, "No, but He misleads the people." ¹³No one, however, expressed himself openly about Him, because of fear of the Jews.

¹⁴By the time the feast was half over, Jesus went up to the temple and began to teach. ¹⁵Then the Jews were astonished; they said, "How does this person know the Scriptures without an education?" ¹⁶Jesus replied to them, "My teaching is not Mine but His who sent Me. ¹⁷If anyone wills to do His will he will understand^o the teaching, whether it is from God or whether I speak from Myself. ¹⁸He who speaks from himself seeks his own honor; but he who seeks the honor of him who sent him is sincere and in him there is no unrighteousness. ¹⁹Has not Moses given you the Law? Yet none of you practices the Law. Why are you seeking to kill Me?"

²⁰The crowd replied, "You have a demon! Who is seeking to kill You?" ²¹Jesus answered them, "I have done a single deed and you all marvel about it. ²²Because Moses established circumcision among you — though it did not come from Moses but from previous ancestors — you circumcise a person even on the Sabbath. ²³If a person receives circumcision on the Sabbath so as to prevent Moses' Law from being broken, are you enraged at Me for making a man entirely well on the Sabbath?" ²⁴Do not judge superficially, but judge fairly."

²⁵Then some of the people of Jerusalem said, "Is not He the one they seek to kill? ²⁶Here He stands talking in public and nothing is said to Him. The rulers surely have not discovered that He is the Christ! ²⁷But we know where this person is from. When the Messiah comes no one will know where He is from."

²⁸So Jesus called out as He taught in the temple, "Do you know Me and do you know where I am from? I have not come self-appointed; but He who sent Me is true. You do not know Him. ²⁹I know Him because I am from His presence and He is the One who sent Me."

³⁰So they^a were seeking to arrest Him, but no one laid hands on Him, for His hour had not yet come. ³¹Besides, many of the people believed in Him and said, "When the Christ comes, will He perform more signs than this one did?"

³²The Pharisees heard the crowd whispering these things about Him, so the chief priests and the Pharisees dispatched officers to arrest Him. ³³Then Jesus said, "I will be with you a little

n) The Feast of Booths is identical with the Feast of Tabernacles, Lev. 23:34; Deut. 16:16. It was so named because, during its celebration, the Israelites lived in booths or tents. From the occasion of vs. 2 until the Feast of Dedication, ch. 10:22, Jesus conducted His final Judean ministry.

o) This means that whoever is willing to find out God's will and to act on it, will surely know the reality of Jesus' teaching about Himself and His work. Here Jesus faces man with the necessity of submitting his human will to the will of God, cf. 1 John 2:17.

p) Cf. ch. 5:5-16. q) The Jewish leaders.

while longer and then I go to Him who sent Me. ³⁴You will look for Me without finding Me and where I am, you will not be able to come."

³⁵The Jews talked among themselves, "Where is He intending to go, so we cannot find Him? He surely does not plan to visit the Dispersion among the Greeks and to teach the Greeks?" ³⁶What does He mean by saying, 'You will seek Me and will not find Me,' and 'Where I am you cannot come'?"

³⁷On the final and most important day of the feast, Jesus stood and called out, "Whoever is thirsty, let him come to Me and drink. ³⁸He who believes in Me, just as the Scripture says,^r streams of water will flow from his innermost being." ³⁹He said this concerning the Spirit whom those who believe in Him were about to receive. For as yet the Spirit was not given, because Jesus was not yet glorified.

⁴⁰When they listened to these teachings there were those in the crowd who said, "This really is the prophet."^s ⁴¹Others said, "This is the Christ." Others questioned, "But the Christ does not come from Galilee, does He?" ⁴²Does not the Scripture say that the Christ comes from the offspring of David and from Bethlehem,^t the town where David lived?" ⁴³So, on account of Him there was disagreement among the people ⁴⁴and some of them wanted to seize Him, but no one laid hands on Him.

⁴⁵When the officers of the chief priests and Pharisees returned, they were asked, "Why did you fail to bring Him?" ⁴⁶The officers replied, "No man ever spoke as this man speaks." ⁴⁷The Pharisees replied, "Surely you are not misled too?" ⁴⁸Have any of the authorities believed in Him? Or of the Pharisees? ⁴⁹But this crowd that does not know the Law — they are accursed."

⁵⁰Nicodemus, one of their number who had previously called on Him, said to them, ⁵¹"Our Law does not condemn a person without giving him a hearing and finding out what he is doing, does it?" ⁵²They replied to him, "Are you also from Galilee? Investigate and see that no prophet is to arise from Galilee."

⁵³[Each went to his own home, but Jesus went to the Mount of Olives.

8 EARLY IN THE MORNING HE WENT ²back to the temple and when all the people came to Him, He sat down and taught them.

³The scribes" and the Pharisees brought a woman caught in the act of adultery and, placing her in the center, ⁴they said to Him (they were talking to test Him so they might trump up a charge against Him), "Teacher, this woman was caught in the very act of adultery. ⁵Now Moses ordered in the Law to stone such as she, so what do You say?"

⁶But Jesus stooped down and wrote with His finger on the ground; ⁷and when they kept on questioning Him He raised Himself and told them, "Let the sinless one among you throw the first stone at her." ⁸Stooping down again, He wrote with His finger on the ground. ⁹But they, on hearing it, went away conscience-stricken, one after the other, beginning from the oldest to the last, until Jesus was left alone with the woman as she stood there.

¹⁰Jesus raised Himself and asked her, "Woman, where are your accusers? Has no one condemned you?" She said, ¹¹"No one, Lord." So Jesus told her, "Then I do not condemn you either. Go, and from now on do not sin any more."^v

¹²Then Jesus spoke to them again, "I am the Light of the world; the one who follows Me will not walk in darkness but will have the light of life." ¹³So the Pharisees said to Him, "You are witnessing concerning Yourself; Your testimony is not valid." ¹⁴Jesus answered them, "Even if I do testify

^r Isa. 58:11.

^s Deut. 18:15; chs. 1:21; 6:14.

^t See note at Matt. 2:1.

^u See note at Matt. 2:4.

^v The episode recorded in ch. 7:53-8:11 is not found in any of the important ancient manuscripts. In some less authoritative manuscripts it appears either here or at the end of John's Gospel, or, with certain variations in the text, following Luke 21:38. Yet the incident is so in accord with Jesus' character that the church has been reluctant to dispense with it.

concerning Myself, My testimony is valid, for I know from where I come and where I go; but you neither know where I am from nor where I am going. ¹⁵You judge by human standards; I judge no one. ¹⁶And in case I do judge, My judgment is true, for I am not alone, but the One who sent Me is with Me. ¹⁷It is written in your Law that the evidence of two persons is valid; ¹⁸I am a witness concerning Myself, and My Father who sent Me witnesses concerning Me."

¹⁹Then they said to Him, "Where is Your Father?" Jesus replied, "You know neither Me nor My Father; if you know Me, you would know My Father as well."

²⁰These words He uttered in the treasury, as He taught in the temple, but no one got hold of Him, for His hour had not yet come.

²¹Once more He told them, "I go away and you will look for Me; but you will die in your sin. Where I am going you cannot come." ²²Therefore the Jews said, "He is not going to kill Himself, is He, because He says, 'Where I am going you cannot come?'" ²³He further said to them, "You are from below and I am from above. You are from this world; I am not from this world, ²⁴so I told you that you would die in your sins. For if you do not believe that I am He,^w you will die in your sins.^x"

²⁵They said to Him, "Who are You?" Jesus replied, "I am exactly what I tell you. ²⁶I have much to say and to judge about you, but He who sent Me is reliable and what I have learned from Him I tell the world."

²⁷They did not perceive that He was speaking to them about the Father, ²⁸so Jesus said, "When you have lifted up the Son of Man, then you will realize that I am He and that I do nothing of My own accord, but tell things just as the Father has taught Me. ²⁹He who sent Me is with Me; He has not left Me alone, for I always do what pleases Him."

³⁰As He said these things many believed in Him. ³¹Therefore Jesus said to the Jews who had come to believe in Him, "If you adhere to My teaching, you will truly be My disciples; ³²you will know the truth and the truth will set you free."

³³They replied to Him, "We are Abraham's progeny, and we have never been slaves to anyone. What do You mean by, 'You will become freemen?'"

³⁴Jesus answered them, "Truly I assure you, every one who commits sin is a slave to sin. ³⁵But the slave does not forever stay in the home; the son remains forever. ³⁶So if the Son liberates you, then you are really free. ³⁷I know that you are Abraham's offspring; but you look for means to kill Me, for you have no use for My teaching. ³⁸I tell of what I have seen at the Father's side, and you behave as you have learned from your father."

³⁹They retorted, "Abraham is our father"; to which Jesus replied, "If you were Abraham's children, you would do what Abraham did; ⁴⁰but here you are seeking to kill Me, a Man who has told you the truth which He learned from God. Abraham did not act that way. ⁴¹You are doing your father's works." They said to Him, "We are not born illegitimately; God is our one Father." ⁴²"If God were your Father," Jesus rejoined, "you would love Me, for I came and am here from God; neither did I come of My own accord, but He sent Me. ⁴³Why do you not understand My language? Because you cannot bear to listen to My message. ⁴⁴You have the devil for your father and you wish to practice the desires of your father; he was a murderer from the beginning and he could not stay in the truth because there is no truth in him. When he tells a lie he talks naturally; for he is a liar and its father; ⁴⁵but because I speak the truth, you do not believe Me. ⁴⁶Who of you convicts Me of sin? If I tell the truth, why do you not believe Me? ⁴⁷He who is from God listens to the words of God. Because you are not from God you do not listen."

w) The Redeemer-Messiah.

x) Such unbelief would deprive them of eternal fellowship with Christ.

⁴⁸"Do we not say rightly," the Jews replied to Him, "that you are a Samaritan and have a demon?" ⁴⁹Jesus answered, "I have no demon, but I honor My Father, and you dishonor Me. ⁵⁰I do not desire My own glory; there is One who investigates that and who judges. ⁵¹With assurance I tell you, anyone who observes My teaching will never see death."

⁵²"Now we know that You have a demon. Both Abraham and the prophets died and You say, 'If anyone observes My teaching he will never see death.' ⁵³You are not superior to our father Abraham, who died, are You? And the prophets died. Whom do You make Yourself?" ⁵⁴Jesus replied, "If I should ascribe glory to Myself, My glory would be worthless. My Father, whom you call 'our God,' ascribes glory to Me. ⁵⁵You do not know Him, but I know Him, and if I said, 'I do not know Him,' I would be a prevaricator like yourselves. But I know Him and observe His word."

⁵⁶"Your father Abraham was extremely happy in the prospect of seeing My day,^y and he did see it and rejoiced." ⁵⁷Then the Jews said to Him, "You are not yet fifty years old, and have You seen Abraham?" ⁵⁸Jesus said to them, "Truly I assure you, before Abraham's birth I am."

⁵⁹Then they picked up stones to hurl at Him; but Jesus concealed Himself and passed out of the temple.

9 AS HE WENT ON HIS WAY, HE noticed a man who had been blind from his birth, ²and his disciples asked Him, "Rabbi, who sinned, this fellow or his parents, that he was born blind?"^z ³Jesus answered, "This has not happened because he has sinned or his parents, but that in him God's works should be displayed. ⁴As long as daytime lasts we must do the works of the One who sent Me; night approaches when no one can work.

⁵While I am in the world, I am the Light of the world."

⁶When He had said this, He spat on the ground and made mud with the saliva, daubed the mud on the blind man's eyes ⁷and told him, "Go out and wash them in the pool of Siloam" (which means Sent). So he went and washed and returned enjoying sight.

⁸Then the neighbors and those who had seen him before as he begged, remarked, "Is not he the one who sat and begged?" ⁹Some said, "Yes, he is the one." Others said, "No, but he looks like him." He himself said, "I am the one." ¹⁰They asked him, "Then how were your eyes opened?" ¹¹He replied, "A man by the name of Jesus made some mud and daubed my eyes and told me to go to Siloam and wash; so I went and washed and I was able to see." ¹²They asked him, "Where is He?" "I do not know," he said.

¹³They brought the man who previously had been blind to the Pharisees. ¹⁴The day on which Jesus had made the mud and opened his eyes was the Sabbath. ¹⁵Then the Pharisees asked once more how he came to see; but he told them, "He applied mud to my eyes, and I washed them and I see." ¹⁶Some of the Pharisees then remarked, "This man is not from God; for He does not observe the Sabbath." Others said, "How can a sinful man perform signs?" So there was disagreement among them.

¹⁷Then they asked the blind man again, "What do you say about Him, since He has opened your eyes?" He said, "He is a prophet." ¹⁸The Jews, however, did not believe that he had been blind and had gained his sight until they summoned his parents ¹⁹and asked them, "Is this your son, who you say was born blind? How is it that he now sees?" ²⁰His parents replied, "We know that this is our son and that he was born blind; ²¹but we do not know

y) Abraham saw this by faith in the promises of God. In this passage moral rather than genealogical relationship is under discussion.

z) Man's fall through sinning, Gen. 3, was responsible for whatever suffering the world knows. However, whereas God sometimes chastens His own people, suffering is not always chastisement for sin. Verse 3 makes this clear.

how he now sees, neither do we know who opened his eyes. Ask him; he is of age; he will speak for himself." ²²His parents said this because they were afraid of the Jews; for the Jews had already agreed that every confessor of Christ should be debarred from the synagogue. ²³For that reason his parents said, "He is of age; ask him."

²⁴So for the second time they summoned the man who previously was blind and told him, "Give God the praise; we know that this man is a sinner." ²⁵He then replied, "Whether He is a sinner I do not know. One thing I do know, that I was blind and now I see." ²⁶They asked him, "What did He do to you? How did He open your eyes?" ²⁷He answered them, "I have already told you and you did not listen; why do you want to hear it again? You too do not want to become His disciples, do you?" ²⁸They abused him and said, "You are His disciple; but we are Moses' disciples." ²⁹We know that God spoke through Moses; but this fellow—we do not know where He hails from."

³⁰The man replied to them, "This is the marvel of it: you do not know where He hails from, yet He opened my eyes. ³¹We know that God does not respond to sinners, but He does hear one who reveres Him and does His will. ³²Through the ages this has never been heard of, that someone opened the eyes of one born blind. ³³If He were not from God, He could do nothing."

³⁴They retorted, "You, altogether born in sins—would you teach us?" And they expelled him.

³⁵Jesus learned that they had expelled him and, having found him, said, "Do you believe in the Son of Man?" ³⁶He answered, "Who is He, Sir, so that I may believe in Him?" ³⁷Jesus told him, "You have looked at Him; in fact, He is talking with you now." ³⁸He said, "Lord, I believe!" and worshiped Him.

³⁹Jesus said, further, "For judgment I have come into this world, so that the sightless may see, and those who see may become blind." ⁴⁰Certain of the Pharisees near Him asked Him, when they heard that, "We too are not blind, are we?" ⁴¹Jesus said to them, "If you were blind you would be blameless; but since you claim to have sight, your sin remains."

10 "TRULY I ASSURE YOU, HE WHO does not enter the sheepfold through the door but climbs up from elsewhere is a thief and a robber, ²but he who enters through the door is the shepherd of the sheep. ³To him the doorkeeper opens and the sheep listen to his voice; he calls his own sheep by name and leads them out. ⁴When he has led out all that belong to him, he walks ahead of them and the sheep follow him; for they know his voice. ⁵They will not follow a stranger but will run away from him, because they do not recognize the voice of strangers."

⁶Jesus used this figure of speech for them, but they did not catch the meaning of what He said to them. ⁷So Jesus spoke again, "Truly I assure you, I am the door for the sheep. ⁸All who came before Me are thieves and robbers,^c but the sheep did not listen to them. ⁹I am the Door. Whoever comes in through Me will be saved; he will go in and out and find pasture. ¹⁰The thief's only purpose in coming is to steal, to slaughter and destroy. I have come so they may have life and have it abundantly."

¹¹"I am the Good Shepherd.^d The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep. ¹²The hired man, who is not the shepherd, who does not own the sheep, deserts the sheep and runs when he sees the wolf coming; then the wolf tears and scatters them. ¹³The hired man runs away because he is a hired man and does not care about the sheep."

¹⁴"I am the Good Shepherd and I

a) As loyal disciples of Moses they would enforce the Law of the Sabbath as they interpreted and enlarged it.

b) Some ancient manuscripts read "Son of God."

c) Not God's prophets but pretenders.

d) Jesus identifies Himself with the shepherd of Ps. 23 and thus affirms His Deity.

know My own. My own in turn know Me, ¹⁵just as the Father knows Me and I know the Father; and I lay down My life on behalf of the sheep. ¹⁶I have other sheep also that are not in this fold; those I must lead as well, and they will listen to My call, so that there will be one flock, one Shepherd.

¹⁷"For this reason My Father loves Me, because I lay down My life in order that I may take it up again. ¹⁸No one snatches it from Me, but I voluntarily lay it down. I have authority to lay it down and I have authority to take it up again. I received this command from My Father."

¹⁹ Once more a disagreement arose among the Jews due to these teachings.

²⁰Many of them said, "He has a demon; He is out of His mind. Why do you listen to Him?" ²¹Others said, "These are not the remarks of a demoniac. A demon cannot open the eyes of the blind, can he?"

²²The Feast of Dedication came in Jerusalem. ²³It was winter and Jesus walked inside the temple in Solomon's cloister. ²⁴So the Jews encircled Him and asked Him, "How long will You keep our minds in suspense? If You are the Christ, tell us plainly!" ²⁵Jesus replied to them, "I have told you and you do not believe. The works that I do in My Father's name bear Me witness, ²⁶but you do not believe because you do not belong to My sheep. ²⁷My sheep listen to My call; I know them and they follow Me. ²⁸I give them eternal life and they will never perish, and no one will snatch them out of My hand. ²⁹My Father, who gave them to Me, is mightier than all and no one can wrest them out of My Father's hand. ³⁰I and the Father are One."

³¹Again the Jews picked up stones to stone Him. ³²Jesus answered them, "I have shown you many good deeds from the Father; for which of them would you stone Me?" ³³The Jews replied, "We would not stone You for a good act but for blasphemy, because You, a human being, make Yourself God." ³⁴Jesus answered them, "Is it not written^e in your Law, 'I said, you are gods'? ³⁵If it calls them gods, to whom the word of God came (and the Scripture cannot be broken^h), ³⁶do you say to One whom the Father dedicated and sent into the world, 'You blaspheme,' because I said, 'I am God's Son'? ³⁷If I do not accomplish My Father's work, do not believe Me; ³⁸but if I do, then, though you do not believe Me, believe the things done, so that you may know and understand that the Father is in Me and I am in the Father."

³⁹Then they tried again to get hold of Him, but ⁴⁰He escaped from their hands and went once more to the place beyond the Jordan, where John first had baptized, and there He stayed. ⁴¹Many came to Him and said, "While John did no sign, yet everything John said about this man was true." ⁴²And many there believed in Him.

c. A.D. 30

11 A MAN BY THE NAME OF Lazarus, of Bethany, the village of Mary and her sister Martha, was ill. (²The Mary, whose brother Lazarus was ill, was the one who anointed the Lord with perfume and wiped His feet with her hair.) ³So the sisters sent Him a message: "Lord, the one you love is ill." ⁴Hearing it, Jesus said, "This illness is not to end in death, but is for the glory of God, so that through it the Son of God may be glorified."

⁵Now Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus. ⁶Therefore, when He heard that he was ill, He stayed at the place where He was two more days ⁷and after that He said to the disciples, "Let us go back into Judea." ⁸The disciples told Him, "Rabbi, the Jews were just now seeking to stone

e) Although Jesus did not fit the expectations of the religious leaders He was indeed the Christ, the Messiah, and He came according to O.T. prophecy.

f) Our Lord here refers to more than moral unity, and they caught the allusion to His Deity. None but He could truly say this.

g) Ps. 82:6; cf. Exod. 22:28.

h) Here Jesus asserts the full reliability of Scripture.

You, and You are going back there?"
⁹Jesus replied, "Are there not twelve hours in the day? If one walks during the day he does not stumble, for he sees the world's light; ¹⁰but if he walks during the night, he stumbles because in him there is no light."

¹¹He said this to them and then added, "Our friend Lazarus is asleep, but I am setting out to wake him up."

¹²The disciples remarked to Him, "Lord, if he is sleeping, he will recover." ¹³Jesus had spoken of his death; but they supposed that He had spoken about the repose of sleep. ¹⁴Then Jesus told them plainly, "Lazarus is dead; ¹⁵and for your sakes I am glad I was not present so that you may believe. But let us go to him."

¹⁶Thomas, called the Twin, then said to his fellow disciples, "Let us go too, so that we may die with Him."

¹⁷When Jesus arrived, He found that Lazarus had already been buried for four days. ¹⁸Now Bethany is near Jerusalem, about two miles distant, ¹⁹and many of the Jews had gone out to Martha and Mary to console them about their brother. ²⁰As soon, then, as Martha learned that Jesus had come, she went to meet Him; but Mary was sitting in the house.

²¹Then Martha said to Jesus, "Lord, if You had been here, my brother would not have died, ²²and I know that even now whatever You ask of God, He will grant You." ²³Jesus said to her, "Your brother will rise again."

²⁴Martha replied, "I know that he will rise again in the resurrection on the last day." ²⁵Jesus said to her, "I am the Resurrection and the Life; ¹He who believes in Me will live even when he dies, ²⁶and no one who lives and believes in Me will ever die. Do you believe this?" ²⁷She responded, "Yes, Lord, I have faith that You are the Christ, the Son of God, who was to come into the world."

²⁸When she had said this she went off and called her sister Mary privately, saying, "The Teacher is here and He is calling you." ²⁹Hurriedly Mary arose when she heard it and went to Him. ³⁰Jesus had not yet entered the village; He was still at the place where Martha had met Him.

³¹When the Jews who were with her in the house to comfort her noticed that Mary got up quickly and left, they followed her, supposing that she was going to the tomb to weep there.

³²Mary, however, when she arrived at the place where Jesus was and saw Him, fell at His feet with the words, "Lord, if You had been here, my brother would not have died." ³³Then Jesus, when He saw her weeping, and the Jews who had come with her weeping also, was deeply moved in spirit and disquieted.³

³⁴He asked, "Where have you laid him?" They told Him, "Lord, come and see." ³⁵Jesus wept. ³⁶The Jews then remarked, "Notice how He loved him." ³⁷But some of them said, "Could not He who opened the blind man's eyes have prevented this man's death?"

³⁸Again deeply moved inwardly, Jesus approached the tomb. It was a cave with a stone laid against it. ³⁹Jesus said, "Remove the stone." Martha, the sister of the deceased, said to Him, "Lord, by now there is an odor, for it is four days since his death." ⁴⁰Jesus said to her, "Did I not tell you that if you will believe you will see the glory of God?" ⁴¹So they removed the stone.

Then Jesus raised His eyes upward and said, "Father, I thank Thee for having heard Me, ⁴²and I know that Thou dost always hear Me; but on account of the people around here I said this, so that they may believe that Thou hast sent Me."

⁴³When He had said this He called out in a loud voice, "Lazarus, come out!" ⁴⁴Out came the one who had died, feet and hands tied with graveclothes and his face wrapped in a towel. Jesus told them, "Unbind him and let him go."

⁴⁵Then many of the Jews, who had

i) Without a risen Christ there would be no resurrection for any man.

j) Death is an enemy which Christ came to conquer, I Cor. 15:55-57. Ultimately death and its realm are doomed, Rev. 20:14.

come to Mary and had seen what He had done, believed in Him; ⁴⁶but some of them went off to the Pharisees and informed them of Jesus' activities. ⁴⁷So the chief priests and the Pharisees summoned the Sanhedrin^k and said, "What shall we do? For this man performs numerous signs. ⁴⁸If we let Him go on this way, everyone will believe in Him, and the Romans will come to take away from us our holy place and our nation." ⁴⁹But one of them, Caiaphas, the high priest that year,^l said to them, "You do not know anything; ⁵⁰you do not reason out that it is better for you to have one person die on behalf of the people, rather than to have the whole nation ruined."

⁵¹He said this not of his own initiative but, being the high priest that year, he foretold how Jesus was to die for the nation, ⁵²and not alone for the nation, but to gather into one all the scattered children of God.

⁵³From that day on, therefore, they laid plans to kill Him. ⁵⁴So Jesus no longer went around openly among the Jews but withdrew to the country near the wilderness, to a town called Ephraim,^m and there He stayed with the disciples.

⁵⁵The Jews' Passover was approaching, and many went up from the country to Jerusalem to consecrate themselves for the Passover, ⁵⁶and they looked for Jesus and remarked, as they were standing together in the temple, "What do you think? Is He not coming to the feast?" ⁵⁷The chief priests and the Pharisees had given orders that, if anyone knew where He was, he should report it so that they might arrest Him.

12 SIX DAYS BEFORE THE PASSOVER
Jesus came to Bethany, where Lazarus lived, whom Jesus had raised from the dead. ²There they prepared a supper for Himⁿ and Martha served the meal, while Lazarus was among those sitting^o at the table with Him.

³Then Mary, taking a pound of costly perfume made of purest nard, anointed the feet of Jesus and dried His feet with her hair. So the house was filled with the fragrance of the perfume.

⁴But Judas Iscariot, one of His disciples (who was to betray Him) said, ⁵"Why was not this perfume sold for seventy-five dollars^p and the money donated to the poor?" ⁶He did not say this because he cared for the poor, but because he was a thief; he had charge of the money-bag and pilfered the collections. ⁷Then Jesus said, "Let her alone. Let her keep it for the day of My burial. ⁸For you always will have the poor with you, but you will not always have Me."

⁹When a great crowd of Jews learned that He was there, they came not merely on account of Jesus but also to see Lazarus whom He had raised from the dead. ¹⁰But the chief priests made plans to kill Lazarus also; ¹¹for many of the Jews went away on his account believing in Jesus.

¹²The next day a large crowd of people who had come to the feast heard that Jesus was on the way to Jerusalem; ¹³so they took palm branches and went out to meet Him, and began to shout, "Hosanna!^q Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord, the King of Israel." ¹⁴And, finding a young donkey, Jesus rode it, as it is written,^r ¹⁵"Have no fear, daughter of Zion! Behold, your king is coming, seated on an ass's colt." ¹⁶At first His disciples did not understand this, but when Jesus had been glorified they remembered that this had been written of Him and that they had done this to Him.

¹⁷The people who were with Him

k) See note at Luke 22:66.

l) Caiaphas was the high priest A.D. 18-36.

m) Ephraim was situated about seventeen miles northeast of Jerusalem.

n) At the home of Simon, the leper, Mark 14:3.

o) See note at Mark 2:15.

p) The text reads "three hundred denarii." A denarius would be the equivalent of about twenty-five cents in mid-twentieth century U.S. currency, so that the figure of seventy-five dollars is substantially correct.

q) "Hosanna" means save now or salvation. The expression is somewhat similar to "God save the king." The people were quoting from Ps. 118:25, 26. Although they greeted Jesus as the Messiah, even the disciples did not seem to catch the real significance.

r) Zech. 9:9.

when He called Lazarus from the tomb and raised him from the dead bore witness about it,¹⁸ and for that reason the crowd went out to meet Him; for they heard that He had performed this sign.¹⁹ Then the Pharisees said among themselves, "You see how you are getting nowhere. Look, the world has gone after Him."

²⁰Among those going up to worship at the feast were certain Greeks ²¹who came to Philip of Bethsaida* of Galilee and said to him, "Sir, we want to see Jesus."²² Philip came and told Andrew; then Andrew and Philip went and told Jesus.²³ Jesus answered them, "The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified.²⁴ Truly I assure you, unless a grain of wheat drops into the earth and dies, it remains single, but if it dies, it produces a rich yield.²⁵ The one who loves his life will lose it, but the one who hates his life in this world will preserve it to eternal life.²⁶ If anyone serves Me, let him follow Me; then where I am, there also will My servant be. If anyone serves Me, the Father will honor him.

²⁷"Now My soul is disturbed, and what shall I say? Father, save Me from this hour? But for this reason I came to this hour.²⁸ Father, glorify Thy name."

Then a voice came from heaven, "I have glorified it and will glorify it again."²⁹ The people that stood and listened said, "It thundered." Others said, "An angel spoke to Him."³⁰ Jesus replied, "This voice did not come for My sake but for yours.³¹ Now is this world's sentence; now the ruler of this world will be expelled;³² and I, when I am lifted up from the earth, will draw everyone^c to Myself."³³ This He said signifying what kind of death He was to die.

³⁴The crowd answered Him, "We have learned from the Law that the Christ remains forever, and how can You say that the Son of Man must be lifted up? Who is this Son of Man?"³⁵ So Jesus told them, "For a little while the Light still shines among you; walk while you have the Light, so that darkness may not overtake you. One who walks in darkness does not know where he is going.³⁶ While you have the Light, put faith in the Light so you may become sons of the Light."

After saying this Jesus went away and hid Himself from them.³⁷ In spite of all the signs that He had done in their presence, they put no faith in Him,³⁸ in order that the saying^u of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, "Lord, who has believed our message and to whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed?"³⁹ For this reason they could not believe, for again Isaiah said,^v ⁴⁰"He has blinded their eyes and has calloused their hearts, so that they may neither see with their eyes nor understand with their hearts and repent and I should heal them."⁴¹ Isaiah said this, for he saw His glory and spoke of Him.^w ⁴²Nevertheless even many of the leaders believed in Him but, because of the Pharisees, failed to confess it so that they might not be put out of the synagogue;⁴³ for they preferred men's esteem to divine approval.

⁴⁴But Jesus called out in a loud voice, "He who believes in Me does not believe in Me but in Him who sent Me,⁴⁵ and he who sees Me sees Him who sent Me.⁴⁶ I am a light which has come into the world, so that no one who believes in Me may remain in the dark.⁴⁷ And if anyone hears My teachings and fails to observe them, I pass no sentence on him; for I did not come to judge the world but to save the world.⁴⁸ He who rejects Me and does not accept My teachings has his judge: My spoken word will judge him on the last day.⁴⁹ For I have not spoken of My own accord, but the Father who sent Me, He has given Me a command what I should say and what I should speak.⁵⁰ I know too, that His command is eternal life; so what I say is just what the Father has told Me to say."

s) See note at Mark 8:22. t) Gentile as well as Jew.

u) Isa. 53:1. v) Isa. 6:9, 10.

w) Here the reference is to Isaiah's great vision of the glory of the Lord, Isa. 6:1-8.

13 BEFORE THE PASSOVER FEAST Jesus, aware that the time had come for Him to leave this world to go to the Father, showed His own who were in the world that He loved them to the end. ²At supper time, when the devil had already put the purpose into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray Him, ³Jesus, conscious that the Father had placed everything into His hands and that He came from God and was going to God, ⁴rose from the table, laid aside His robe and, taking a towel, girded Himself. ⁵Then He poured water into the basin and began to wash the feet of the disciples and to dry them with the towel with which He was girded.

⁶So He came to Simon Peter, who said to Him, "Lord, You are going to wash my feet?" ⁷Jesus answered him, "Just now you do not understand what I do, but you will know later on." ⁸Peter said to Him, "You shall never wash my feet!" Jesus replied, "If I do not wash you, you are not sharing with Me." ⁹Simon Peter said to Him, "Lord, not only my feet but also my hands and my head!" ¹⁰Jesus said to him, "A bathed person does not need to be washed, except his feet, but is completely cleansed; and you are cleansed, but not all of you." ¹¹For He knew who His betrayer would be; so He said, "Not all of you are cleansed."

¹²After washing their feet and taking His garment, He sat^x at the table again and said to them, "Do you understand what I have done to you?" ¹³You call Me 'Teacher' and 'Lord,' and rightly so, because I am. ¹⁴Then if I, your Lord and Teacher, have washed your feet, you surely ought to wash one another's feet. ¹⁵For I have set you an example so that you might do just as I did to you. ¹⁶I assure you with all truth, a slave^y is not superior to his master nor one who is sent to the one who sent him. ¹⁷If you know these teachings, blessed are you if you practice them.

¹⁸"I am not speaking of you all; I know those I have chosen; but the Scripture^z is to be fulfilled, 'The one eating my bread has raised his heel against me.' ¹⁹Right now I tell you this, before it occurs, so that when it does occur you may believe that I am He. ²⁰With assurance I tell you that he who welcomes whom I send, welcomes Me, and he who welcomes Me, welcomes the One who sent Me."

²¹When Jesus had said this He was inwardly disturbed and testified, "Most assuredly I tell you that one of you will betray Me." ²²The disciples looked at each other, undecided as to whom He referred. ²³One of His disciples, whom Jesus loved,^a was sitting^x next to Jesus; ²⁴so Simon Peter nodded to him, "Ask whom He means." ²⁵Then he, leaning closer to Jesus' side, asked Him, "Lord, who is it?" ²⁶Jesus replied, "The one to whom I give the bit of bread after I have dipped it." So He took and dipped the mouthful and gave it to Judas Iscariot, Simon's son. ²⁷And after the mouthful, Satan entered into him. Then Jesus said to him, "Do quickly what you are going to do." ²⁸But none of those at the table knew why He told him that. ²⁹Some had an idea, since Judas had charge of the money-bag, that Jesus said to him, "Buy what we need for the feast," or, "Give something to the poor." ³⁰Then at once, after taking the bit of bread, he went out. It was then night.

³¹When he had left, Jesus said, "Now the Son of Man is glorified, and in Him God is glorified. ³²If God is glorified in Him, then God will in Himself glorify Him and will glorify Him at once. ³³Little children,^b I am with you but a little longer. You will be looking for Me and, as I told the Jews so I tell you now, where I go you cannot come. ³⁴I give you a new command,^c 'Love one another.' Just as I

x) See note at Mark 2:15.

y) See note at Matt. 13:27.

z) Ps. 41:9.

a) This probably refers to John himself, cf. ch. 20:20-24.

b) "Little children" is a term that was dear to John, cf. 1 John 2:1, 12, 28.

c) From the Lord's command that His followers should love one another, exemplified by the washing of the feet, comes the name Maundy Thursday, the day before Good Friday. "Maundy" is from the Latin verb mandare meaning to command.

have loved you, so you should love one another. ³⁵By this everyone will recognize that you are My disciples, if you love one another."

³⁶Simon Peter asked Him, "Lord, where are You going?" Jesus replied, "Where I am going you cannot follow Me now, but later on you will follow Me." ³⁷Peter said to Him, "Lord, why can I not follow You now? I will lay down my life for You."^d ³⁸Jesus replied, "Will you lay down your life for Me? Truly I assure you, the rooster will not crow until you have denied Me three times.

14 "LET NOT YOUR HEARTS BE troubled; believe in God, believe also in Me. ²In My Father's house are many dwelling places. If this were not so, I would have told you. For I am going away to prepare a place for you. ³And when I have gone and have prepared a place for you, I will come again and take you to Myself so that where I am, you also will be. ⁴And where I am going, you know the way."

⁵Thomas remarked to Him, "Lord, we do not know where You are going. How do we know the way?" ⁶Jesus said to him, "I am the Way and the Truth and the Life; no one comes to the Father except through Me. ⁷Had you recognized Me, you would have known My Father as well. From now on you do know Him; yes, you have seen Him."

⁸Philip said to Him, "Lord, show us the Father and it is enough for us." ⁹Jesus replied, "How long have I been with you without your knowing Me, Philip? He who has looked on Me has seen the Father. What do you mean by saying, 'Show us the Father'? ¹⁰Do you not believe that I am in the Father and the Father in Me? The words that I give to you all, I do not speak just from Myself; the Father who dwells in Me carries on His works. ¹¹Believe Me that I am in the Father and the Father in Me, and if not, then believe on account of the works themselves. ¹²Truly I assure you, the one who believes in Me will himself do the works I do, and do greater things than these, for I go to the Father. ¹³And I will bring about whatever you ask in My name, so that the Father may be glorified in the Son. ¹⁴I will do whatever you ask in My name.

¹⁵"If you love Me, keep My commands, ¹⁶and I shall ask the Father and He will give you another Helper^e to stay with you forever, ¹⁷the Spirit of Truth whom the world cannot receive, because it neither perceives nor understands Him. You know Him, for He remains with you and will be with you.

¹⁸"I shall not leave you as orphans; I shall come to you. ¹⁹In a little while the world will no longer see Me; but you will see Me, for I live and you, too, will live. ²⁰In that day you will know that I am in My Father, and you in Me and I in you. ²¹He who has My orders and observes them loves Me, and he who loves Me will be loved by My Father. I, too, shall love him and show Myself to him."

²²Judas, not Iscariot, asked Him, "Lord, how does it happen that You are going to show Yourself to us and not to the world?" ²³Jesus answered him, "If anyone loves Me, he will keep My word and My Father will love him and We shall visit him and make Our dwelling with him. ²⁴The one who does not love Me does not keep My word — though the word you hear is not Mine but the Father's who sent Me.

²⁵"I have been telling you this while I am still with you; ²⁶but the Helper, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in My name, He will teach you everything and will remind you of all that I have told you.

²⁷"Peace I bequeath to you; My peace I give to you. I do not give you

d) Peter was sincere but too self-reliant.

e) The Greek noun paracletos, from which the English word "paraclete" is formed, means advocate, comforter, consoler, counselor, helper, intercessor. The Greek word is used in the N.T. to signify the Holy Spirit, who fulfils for the believer all the offices mentioned above.

gifts such as the world gives. Do not allow your hearts to be disturbed or intimidated. ²⁸You heard how I told you: 'I am going away,' and 'I am coming to you.' If you loved Me, you would be glad that I go to the Father, for the Father is greater than I.

²⁹I have now told you this before it takes place so that when it does happen you may have faith. ³⁰I shall not talk over many things with you any more; for the world's ruler comes. He has no claim on Me; ³¹but I act as I do in order that the world may learn that I love the Father and act in full agreement with His orders. Rise. Let us go from here.^f

15 "I AM THE TRUE VINE AND MY Father is the Vinedresser. ²Every branch in Me that bears no fruit He prunes away, and whatever bears fruit He prunes so that it may bear more fruit. ³You are already clean through the word that I have spoken to you. ⁴Remain in Me and I in you. Just as the branch cannot bear fruit by itself without staying on the vine, so you cannot without remaining in Me. ⁵I am the Vine, you are the branches. He who remains in Me, and I in him, bears much fruit. For apart from Me you can do nothing.

⁶"Whoever does not remain in Me is thrown away as a branch and withers; people gather such branches, throw them into the fire, and they are burned. ⁷If you remain in Me and My words remain in you, then you may ask what you wish and it will be done for you.

⁸"My Father is honored in this, that you produce much fruit; then you will be My disciples. ⁹Just as the Father has loved Me so I have loved you; continue in this love of Mine. ¹⁰You will remain in My love if you keep My commands, just as I keep My Father's commands and remain in His love.

¹¹"I have talked these matters over with you so that My joy may be in you and your joy be made complete.

¹²This is My command, that you love one another as I have loved you. ¹³No one has greater love than this: to lay down his life for his friends. ¹⁴You are My friends if you do what I command you. ¹⁵I no longer call you slaves,^g for a slave does not know what his master is doing, but I have called you friends because I have acquainted you with everything I heard from My Father. ¹⁶You have not chosen Me, but I have chosen you and appointed you to go out and produce fruit and that your fruit should be permanent, so that whatever you ask the Father in My name He may grant you. ¹⁷This is My command to you: 'Love one another.'^h

¹⁸"If the world hates you, you know that it hated Me first. ¹⁹If you belonged to the world, the world would love its own;ⁱ but because you are not of the world and I have selected you from the world, therefore the world hates you. ²⁰Remember what I said to you: a slave is not greater than his master. If they persecuted Me they will persecute you; if they observed My word, they will observe yours; ²¹but they will do all this to you on account of My name, for they do not know the One who sent Me.

²²"Had I not come and spoken to them, they would not be guilty; but now they have no excuse for their sin. ²³He who hates Me hates My Father as well. ²⁴Had I not accomplished the works among them which no other ever accomplished, they would not be guilty; but now they have seen and have hated both Me and My Father. ²⁵But they have done this so that the saying^j in their Law might be fulfilled: 'They hated Me without just cause.'

²⁶"When the Helper^k comes, whom I will send you from the Father, the Spirit of Truth who comes from the

f) It appears that our Lord and the Eleven left the upper room in Jerusalem at this point. They may have passed through a vineyard as He told the parable of the vine and its branches.

g) See note at Matt. 13:27.

h) Verse 12.

i) Full commitment to Christ brings the opposition of the world.

j) Ps. 35:19; 69:4.

k) Ch. 14:16.

Father, He will testify regarding Me; ²⁷but you too will testify, for you were with Me from the beginning.

16 "I HAVE TALKED THESE MATTERS over with you so that you may not be led astray. ²They will exclude you from the synagogue; in fact the hour is coming when whoever kills you will think that he is rendering service to God. ³And they will do these things because they know neither the Father nor Me. ⁴But I have told you these things in order that, when the time comes, you may remember that I told them to you.

"I did not tell you this from the beginning, for I was with you; ⁵but now I am going to Him who sent Me. Yet none of you asks Me, 'Where are you going?'" ⁶Instead, your hearts are filled with sorrow because I told these things to you. ⁷However, I tell you the truth: My going is for your benefit; for if I do not leave, the Helper will not come to you; but if I go, then I will send Him to you. ⁸When He comes He will convict the world regarding sin and righteousness and judgment^m — ⁹regarding sin, because they do not believe in Me; ¹⁰regarding righteousness, because I am going to the Father and you will see Me no more; ¹¹and regarding judgment, because the ruler of this world has been judged.

¹²"I have still many things to tell you, but you cannot bear them now. ¹³When the Spirit of Truth comes, however, He will guide you into all truth; for He will not speak on His own account but will say whatever He hears, and He will make known to you what is to take place. ¹⁴He will glorify Me, for He will take from what is Mine and will declare it to you. ¹⁵Everything the Father has is Mine; therefore I said, He will take from what is Mine and declare it to you.

¹⁶"Just a little while and you will see Me no longer; then again a little while and you will see Me." ¹⁷Then the disciples said to one another, "What does He mean by saying to us, 'A little while and you will not see Me, and again a little while and you will see Me,' and 'I am going to the Father?'" ¹⁸So they said, "What does He mean by a little while? We have no idea what He is talking about."

¹⁹Jesus knew that they wanted to ask Him, and said to them, "You are questioning among yourselves about My saying, 'A little while and you will not see Me, and again a little while and you will see Me?'" ²⁰Truly I assure you, you will be weeping and moaning while the world feels glad; you will be grieved, but your grief will turn to joy.ⁿ ²¹The mother in childbirth has anguish because her time has come, but when she has borne the child she no longer remembers her affliction, because a human being has been born into the world. ²²So you have grief at present, but I shall see you again and your hearts will be glad, and no one will be able to deprive you of that joy.

²³"At that time you will question Me about nothing. Truly I assure you whatever you ask the Father, He will grant you in My name. ²⁴Thus far you have asked nothing in My name. Ask and you will receive, so that your joy may be complete.

²⁵"I have told you these things in figures of speech; a time approaches when I shall no longer talk to you in figures of speech but shall plainly inform you about the Father. ²⁶At that time you will pray in My name, and I do not say that I shall make request of the Father on your behalf, ²⁷for the Father Himself loves you, since you have loved Me and have believed that I came from the Father. ²⁸I did come from the Father and have entered

l) Earlier Simon Peter asked this same question, ch. 13:36, but evidently on the occasion recorded here the apostles' minds were so filled with sorrow, vs. 6, that they could not think clearly about other things.

m) Those who are acquainted with the Gospel face the inescapable decision of either accepting or rejecting Christ.

n) The apostles' grief would become joy after the Lord's resurrection and His appearances to them.

the world; again, I am leaving the world and am going to the Father."

²⁹His disciples said, "Now You are speaking plainly and not in figures of speech; ³⁰now we know that You know everything and do not need anyone to tell You. From this we believe that You came from God."

³¹Jesus replied, "You believe just now? ³²The hour is coming and it has arrived when you will be scattered each to his place and you will leave Me alone; but I am not alone, for the Father is with Me. ³³I have talked over these things with you so that in Me you may have peace. In the world you will have trouble; but have courage! I have overcome the world."^o

17 JESUS SAID THIS, TIEN RAISED His eyes toward heaven and said, "Father, the hour has come. Glorify Thy Son, so that the Son may glorify Thee, ^{2a}as Thou hast given Him authority over all mankind so that He may give eternal life to all whom Thou hast granted Him.

³And this is eternal life, to know Thee, the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom Thou hast sent. ⁴I have glorified Thee on the earth; I have completed the task Thou gavest Me to do; ⁵ now glorify Thou Me, Father, with Thine own glory which I had in Thy presence before the world existed.

⁶"I have made Thy name known to the persons whom Thou gavest Me from the world; they were Thine and Thou gavest them to Me and they have kept Thy word. ⁷Now they have realized that all whom Thou hast given Me are from Thee; ⁸ for I have given them the words Thou gavest Me, and they have accepted them and have really understood that I came from Thee, and they have believed that Thou didst send Me.

⁹"I pray for them. I do not pray for the world but for those whom Thou hast granted Me, for they belong to Thee. ¹⁰Yes, all who are Mine are Thine, and Thine are Mine, and in them I am glorified. ¹¹My presence in the world is over, but these are in the world while I am coming to Thee. Holy Father, preserve in Thy name those whom Thou hast given Me, so that they may be one as We are. ¹²While I was with them I preserved and guarded them in Thy name which Thou gavest Me, and none of them perished except the son of perdition, so that the Scripture might be fulfilled. ¹³But now I am coming to Thee and say these things while I am still in the world, so that they may have My joy made complete in their hearts.

¹⁴"I have given them Thy word and the world has hated them, for they are not of the world, just as I am not of the world. ¹⁵I do not pray that Thou wilt take them out of the world but that Thou wilt preserve them from the evil one. ¹⁶As I am not of the world, so they are not of the world. ¹⁷Sanctify them by the truth. Thy word is truth.

¹⁸"As Thou hast sent Me into the world, so I have sent them into the world, ¹⁹and on their behalf I consecrate Myself, so that they, too, may be consecrated by truth.

²⁰"I am not praying only for them, but also for those who will believe in Me through their message, ²¹so that all may be one, as Thou Father art in Me, and I in Thee, so they may be in Us, and so that the world may believe that Thou hast sent Me." ²²I have given them the glory which Thou hast given to Me, so that they may be one as We are one, ²³I in them and Thou in Me, so that they may be completed into one, that the world may recognize that Thou hast sent Me and hast loved them as Thou hast loved Me.

²⁴"Father, I would have those whom Thou hast given Me, to be with Me where I am, so they may see My glory which Thou hast given to Me, for Thou lovest Me before the founding of the world.

^o) It seems evident that the conversations recorded in chs. 15 and 16 and the prayer of ch. 17 were spoken between the departure from the upper room in Jerusalem and the arrival at the Garden of Gethsemane, Cf. ch. 14:31; 18:1.

^p) Here the Lord Jesus says that unity among believers on the exalted pattern of the unity of the Godhead leads the world to believe that the Father has sent Him.

²⁵"Righteous Father, the world does not know Thee but I know Thee, and these know that Thou hast sent Me. ²⁶I have made known and will make known to them Thy name, so that Thy love for Me as well as I Myself may be in them."

18 HAVING UTTERED THESE WORDS, Jesus went out with His disciples across the Kidron Brook to a garden which He and His disciples entered. ²But Judas, His betrayer, knew the spot; for Jesus often met there with His disciples. ³So Judas, getting a detachment^g of soldiers and some attendants^r from the chief priests and Pharisees, came there with torches, lamps, and weapons.

⁴Then Jesus, aware of everything that would befall Him, went out and asked them, "For whom are you looking?" ⁵They replied, "Jesus of Nazareth." Jesus told them, "I am He." And Judas, His betrayer, was standing with them.

⁶When He said to them, "I am He," they went backward and fell to the ground. ⁷Once more He asked them, "Whom do you seek?" And they said, "Jesus of Nazareth." ⁸Jesus replied, "I told you that I am He, so if you are after Me, let these others go." ⁹This took place so that the word^h He had spoken might be fulfilled, "I did not lose any of those whom Thou hast given Me."

¹⁰Then Simon Peter, since he had a sword, drew it and struck the high priest's slave,ⁱ severing his right ear — the slave's name was Malchus. ¹¹But Jesus said to Peter, "Sheathe your sword. The cup which My Father has given Me, shall I not drink it?"

¹²Then the detachment of soldiers and the commander,^u together with the Jewish attendants, took hold of Jesus, bound Him ¹³and conducted Him first to Annas, for he was the father-in-law of Caiaphas, the high priest that year—¹⁴the Caiaphas who advised the Jews that one man's death would benefit the people.

¹⁵Simon Peter followed Jesus with another disciple;^v and as that disciple was acquainted with the high priest, he entered, along with Jesus, the high priest's courtyard, ¹⁶while Peter stood outside by the door. Then that other disciple, the high priest's acquaintance, came out to speak to the slave-girl who was in charge of the door, and brought in Peter.

¹⁷The girl in charge of the door then said to Peter, "Are you not one of that man's disciples too?" He replied, "I am not." ¹⁸The slaves had made a fire of charcoal and were standing by it and were warming themselves, for it was cold. And Peter also was standing with them and warming himself.

¹⁹Meanwhile the high priest asked Jesus regarding His disciples and about His teaching. ²⁰Jesus answered him, "I have spoken openly to the world; I have been teaching right along in the synagogue and in the temple, where all the Jews gather, and I said nothing in secret. ²¹Why do you ask Me? Ask those who heard what I told them; they know what I said."

²²When Jesus said this, one of the attendants standing by slapped Him in the face, saying, "Is this the way to answer the high priest?" ²³Jesus answered him, "If I spoke wrongly, give evidence of the wrong; but if properly, why do you hit Me?" ²⁴Then Annas sent Him bound to the high priest, Caiaphas.

²⁵Simon Peter was standing and warming himself, so they said to him. "Are not you a disciple of His?" He denied it, saying, "I am not." ²⁶One of the high priest's slaves, a relative of

g) The Greek word translated "detachment" is the one usually used for a Roman cohort of about 600 men, one-tenth of a legion. However, it may, as in this case, refer to less than a full cohort.

r) These were officers of the temple guard.

s) John 17:12.

t) See note at Matt. 13:27.

u) The literal meaning of the Greek word chiliarchos, rendered "commander" here, is a leader of 1000 soldiers; later it came to denote a commander of a cohort, which consisted of 600 men or less.

v) This is an allusion to John himself.

the one whose ear Peter had cut off, said, "Did not I see you in the garden with Him?" ²⁷Then Peter again denied it, and instantly the rooster crowed.

²⁸Then they conducted Jesus from Caiaphas to the Praetorium.^w It was early morning and they themselves did not enter the palace, so that they might not be defiled but might eat the Passover. ²⁹So Pilate went out to them and asked, "What charge do you bring against this man?" ³⁰They answered him, "If He were not a criminal, we would not have committed Him to you."^x ³¹Pilate told them, "You take Him and sentence Him according to your Law." The Jews said to him, "We have no right to execute anyone." ³²This happened so that the saying^y of Jesus might be fulfilled that He had spoken showing what sort of death He was to die.

³³Then Pilate entered the Praetorium again and summoned Jesus, whom he asked, "Are You the king of the Jews?" ³⁴Jesus replied, "Do you say this of your own accord or have others told you about Me?" ³⁵Pilate answered Him, "I am not a Jew, am I? Your own nation and the chief priests have handed You over to me. What have You done?"

³⁶Jesus answered, "My kingdom is not of this world. If My kingdom were of this world, My attendants would have struggled to prevent My being delivered to the Jews. But as things now stand My kingdom is not of this world." ³⁷Pilate then said to Him, "You are a king, then?" Jesus replied, "You say that I am a king. For this purpose was I born and for this I entered the world, that I might testify to the truth. Everyone who loves the truth listens to My voice." ³⁸Pilate remarked to Him, "What is truth?"

When he had said this he went outside again to the Jews and told them, "I do not find Him guilty at all; ³⁹but it is your custom to have me set one free for you at the Passover. Do you want me, therefore, to liberate for you the king of the Jews?" ⁴⁰Then they shouted again, "Not this fellow, but Barabbas." Yet Barabbas was a robber.

19 THEREUPON PILATE TOOK JESUS and had Him flogged. ²And the soldiers wove together a crown of thorns and set it down on His head. They also dressed Him in a purple robe, ³came up to Him and said, "Long live the King of the Jews!" And they slapped Him in the face.

⁴Once more Pilate came out and addressed them, "See! I am bringing Him out to you, so you may know that I do not find Him guilty." ⁵Then Jesus came outside, wearing the thorny crown and the purple robe. Pilate said to them, "Here is the man!"

⁶When the chief priests and their attendants saw Him, they shouted, "Crucify Him! Crucify Him!" Pilate said to them, "You take Him and do the crucifying, for I find no guilt in Him!" ⁷The Jews replied, "We have a Law and by that Law He ought to die, for He made Himself God's Son."

⁸At hearing that word, Pilate was still more alarmed. ⁹Again he entered the Praetorium and asked Jesus, "Where are You from?" But Jesus gave him no answer. ¹⁰Pilate said to Him, "You do not talk to me? Do You not know that I have power to liberate You and I have power to crucify You?" ¹¹Jesus replied, "You have no power whatever of your own, but only what is granted you from above. For this reason the one who betrayed Me has greater sin than you have."

¹²From then on Pilate kept seeking to set Him free, but the Jews kept shouting, "If you liberate Him, you are no friend of Caesar's. Whoever makes himself king rebels against Caesar."

¹³On hearing their words, Pilate led Jesus out and sat down in the judgment seat at a place called The Pavement,^z or in Hebrew, Gabbatha.^a ¹⁴It

w) The Roman headquarters - in this case the palace that Herod had built.

x) This was not a legal charge but rather a confession that they had none.

y) Chs. 3:14; 12:32, 33; cf. Matt. 20:17-19.

z) Greek Lithostrotos which denotes a stone pavement or a mosaic.

a) This is an Aramaic word, Aramaic being a form of Hebrew used by many of the Jews at that time.

was the day of preparation for the Passover, about six in the morning. He said to the Jews, "This is your king." ¹⁵Then they cried out, "Away, away with Him! Crucify Him!" Pilate asked them, "Shall I crucify your king?" The chief priests answered, "We have no king except Caesar." ¹⁶Then he handed Him over to be crucified. So they took Jesus.

¹⁷And He went out carrying^b His cross to the place called Skull, that is in Hebrew, Golgotha, ¹⁸where they crucified Him; and with Him two others, one on each side, with Jesus in the center. ¹⁹Pilate wrote a title and put it on the cross. It was written, JESUS, THE NAZARENE, THE KING OF THE JEWS. ²⁰Many of the Jews read the title, for the place where Jesus was crucified was near the city, and it was written in Hebrew, Latin, and Greek.

²¹Then the chief priests of the Jews said to Pilate: "Do not write, 'The King of the Jews,' but that He said, 'I am the King of the Jews.'" ²²Pilate answered, "What I have written, I have written."

²³When the soldiers had crucified Jesus, they took His clothes and divided them in four parts, a part for each soldier; the tunic, too, but as it was seamless, woven all the way from top to bottom, ²⁴they said to each other, "Let us not tear it but draw lots whose it will be." They did this so that the Scripture^c might be fulfilled, "They divided my clothes among themselves and for my clothing they cast lots." So then the soldiers did this.

²⁵By the cross of Jesus stood His mother, and His mother's sister, Mary^d the wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene.^e ²⁶Then Jesus, seeing His mother and the disciple^f whom He loved standing there, said to His mother, "Woman, there is your son." ²⁷Then to the disciple He said, "There is your mother." And from that moment the disciple took her to his home.

²⁸After this, since Jesus knew that everything was already completed, in order that the Scripture^g might be fulfilled, He said, "I am thirsty." ²⁹A vessel full of vinegar stood there, so they put a sponge soaked in vinegar on hyssop and held it to His mouth. ³⁰When Jesus had taken the vinegar, He said, "It is finished!" Then, bowing His head, He yielded up His spirit.

³¹Now since it was preparation day, the Jews, in order not to have the bodies remain on the cross over the Sabbath, which was a specially important day, requested Pilate to have the legs broken and their bodies removed. ³²So the soldiers came and broke the legs of the first and of the other who was crucified with Him; ³³but when they came to Jesus and saw that He was already dead, they did not break His legs. ³⁴However, one of the soldiers pierced His side with a spear and instantly blood and water came out.

³⁵He^h who saw it has testified and his testimony is true—he knows that he tells the truth—in order that you may believe. ³⁶For these things happened so that the Scriptureⁱ might be carried out, "Not a bone of His shall be broken." ³⁷And once more another Scripture^j says, "They shall look on Him whom they have pierced."

³⁸After this, Joseph of Arimathea, a disciple of Jesus, but secretly so for fear of the Jews, asked Pilate if he might remove the body of Jesus, and Pilate gave him permission; so he went and removed His body. ³⁹Nicodemus,

b) At first Jesus carried the cross; then Simon of Cyrene was forced to carry it for Him, Matt. 27:32.

c) Ps. 22:18.

d) See note on the four Marys at Matt. 1:16.

e) Salome, the wife of Zebedee and the mother of James and John, was there also, Matt. 27:56.

f) The "disciple whom Jesus loved," here and in chs. 20:2; 21:7, 20, was John. See note at ch. 13:23.

g) Ps. 69:21.

h) This was John, who appears to have been the only one of the Twelve who was at the cross.

i) Concerning the Paschal lamb, which was typical of Christ, it was commanded that not a bone of it should be broken, Exod. 12:46; cf. Ps. 34:20; I Cor. 5:7.

j) Zech. 12:10; cf. Rev. 1:7.

who had earlier called on Him at night, also came and brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pounds. ⁴⁰Then they took the body of Jesus and wrapped it with the spices in the linen clothes, as was the Jewish custom for burial.

⁴¹Now there was near the place where He was crucified a garden, and in the garden a new tomb in which none had ever yet been laid; ⁴²there they laid Jesus, because it was the Jews' preparation day and the tomb was close by.

20 EARLY ON THE FIRST DAY OF the week, when it was still dark, Mary Magdalene came to the tomb and saw that the stone was removed from the tomb. ²Then she ran and went to Simon Peter and to the other disciple whom Jesus loved, and told them, "They have taken the Lord out of the tomb and we do not know where they have laid Him."

³Then Peter and the other disciple went and made their way to the tomb.

⁴The two came running together; but the other disciple ran ahead, faster than Peter and arrived at the tomb first.^k ⁵When he stooped down, he saw the linen clothes lying; however, he did not go in. ⁶Then Simon Peter came behind him, entered the tomb and saw the linen clothes lying, ⁷and the handkerchief that had been around His head, not lying with the linen clothes but wrapped by itself in its particular place. ⁸Then the other disciple, who had reached the tomb first entered also and saw and believed; ⁹for as yet they did not understand the Scripture that He must rise from the dead. ¹⁰Then the disciples went home again.

¹¹But Mary^l stood outside the tomb, weeping. While she was weeping, she stooped down to look into the tomb ¹²and saw two angels in white sitting, one at the head and the other at the feet where the body of Jesus had lain. ¹³They said to her, "Woman, why are you crying?" She told them, "Because they have taken away my Lord and I do not know where they have placed Him."

¹⁴On saying this, she turned around and saw Jesus standing there, but she did not recognize Him. ¹⁵Jesus said to her, "Woman, why are you crying? Whom do you seek?" Supposing that He was the gardener, she said to Him, "Sir, if You have carried Him off, tell me where You put Him and I will remove Him." ¹⁶Jesus said to her, "Mary!" Turning completely around, she said to Him in Hebrew, "Rabboni," (which means Teacher).

¹⁷Jesus told her, "Do not cling to Me, for I have not yet ascended to the Father; but go to My brothers and tell them that I am going to ascend to My Father and your Father, to My God and your God." ¹⁸Mary Magdalene came, bringing the disciples news, "I have seen the Lord and He told me this."

¹⁹When it was evening that same first day of the week and, out of fear of the Jews the doors were shut where the disciples met, Jesus came and stood among them and said to them, "Peace to you." ²⁰Upon saying this He showed them His hands and side. Then the disciples were glad to see the Lord. ²¹Then He said to them again, "Peace to you. Just as the Father sent Me forth, so I send you." ²²When He had said this, He breathed on them and said, "Receive the Holy Spirit. ²³If you forgive the sins of any, they are forgiven them; if you retain those of anyone, they are retained."^m ²⁴But Thomas, called the Twin, one of the Twelve, was not with them when Jesus came; ²⁵so the other disciples told him, "We have seen the Lord." But he replied, "Unless I see in His hands the print of the nails, and put my finger in the mark of the nails

k) John was younger than Peter; Peter was more impetuous than John.

l) Mary Magdalene, vs. 1.

m) In witnessing to Christ and proclaiming the Word of God in the power of the Holy Spirit Christ's disciples may be instrumental in bringing deliverance from sin. Since others aside from the apostles were present on this occasion, Luke 24:33, the church as a whole is included in this commission.

and thrust my hand into His side, I will not believe."

²⁶A week later His disciples were again indoors and Thomas with them. Though the doors were shut, Jesus came and stood among them and said, "Peace to you." ²⁷He then spoke to Thomas, "Reach your finger here and see My hands; reach and thrust your hand into My side; do not be faithless, but believe." ²⁸Thomas answered Him, "My Lord and my God!" ²⁹Jesus said to him, "You have believed because you have seen Me. Blessed are those who do not see and yet believe."

³⁰Jesus did many other signs also in the presence of His disciples, which are not written in this book; ³¹but these are written so that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that, believing, you may have life through His name.

21 AFTER THIS JESUS SHOWED Himself again to the disciples, by the Sea of Tiberias,ⁿ and this was the way He appeared. ²There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called the Twin, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, the sons of Zebedee and two more of His disciples. ³Simon Peter said to them, "I am going fishing." They said, "We are coming with you." So they went off and got into the boat, and that night they caught nothing. ⁴Day had already dawned when Jesus stood on the shore. The disciples, however, did not know that it was Jesus. ⁵Then Jesus said to them, "Boys, have you caught anything?" They answered Him, "No." ⁶He told them, "Cast the net to the right of the boat and you will find some." So they cast the net and could not draw it up any more because of the great number of fish.

⁷The disciple whom Jesus loved then said to Peter, "It is the Lord!" So Simon Peter, hearing, "It is the Lord," wrapped his work jacket around him (for he was stripped) and flung himself into the sea. ⁸The rest of the disciples came with the boat — for they were near shore, only about a hundred yards away — hauling in the net of fish.

⁹When they got out on land they saw a charcoal fire there with fish on it, and bread. ¹⁰Jesus said to them, "Bring some of the fish you have just caught." ¹¹Simon Peter got in the boat and hauled the net to shore; it was filled with a hundred and fifty-three large fish, and though there were so many, the net did not tear.

¹²Jesus said to them, "Come and have breakfast." None of the disciples dared ask Him, "Who are You?" for they knew it was the Lord.^o ¹³Jesus came and took the bread and gave it to them, and also the fish. ¹⁴This was the third time Jesus appeared to the disciples after rising from the dead.

¹⁵When they had eaten breakfast, Jesus said to Simon Peter, "Simon, son of John, do you love Me more than these do?" He said to Him, "Yes, Lord, You know that I love You as a dear friend." He told him, "Feed My lambs." ¹⁶For the second time Jesus asked him, "Simon, son of John, do you love Me?" He replied, "Yes, Lord, You know that I love You as a dear friend." Jesus told him, "Tend My sheep." ¹⁷The third time He asked him, "Simon, son of John, do you love Me as a dear friend?"^p Peter was distressed because He asked him for the third time, "Do you love Me?" and said to Him, "Lord, You know everything, You know that I love You as a dear friend." Jesus told him, "Feed My

n) See note at Luke 5:1.

o) The apostles knew that it was the Lord whom they saw, but still it must have been hard for them to believe their own eyes. Notice that, although the Lord was now in His resurrection body, His body was so like that in which they were used to seeing Him that they were able to recognize Him.

p) Two different Greek words for "love" are used in vs. 15-17: (1) agapao, denoting a very deep love, even divine love in ch. 14:21; and (2) phileo, signifying the love of friend for friend. The first and second time that the Lord Jesus asked Simon Peter, "Do you love Me?" agapao is the verb. In both instances Peter used the lesser word in his reply, "Yes, Lord, You know that I love You as a dear friend." The third time that Jesus asked Peter, "Do you love Me?" the verb phileo is employed. The distressed disciple acknowledged to the Lord that He knew all things and therefore knew that His apostle's love for Him was of the phileo kind.

sheep. ¹⁸Truly I assure you, when you were young you girded yourself and went about where you wished; but when you grow old, you will hold out your hands and another will gird you and take you where you do not want to go."

¹⁹He said this to indicate by what kind of death he would glorify God. After saying this to him, He added, "Follow Me." ²⁰Peter turned around and saw following him the disciple^a whom Jesus loved, who at the supper had leaned close to Jesus' side and said, "Lord, who is the one who will betray You?" ²¹Noticing him, Peter asked Jesus, "Lord, what about him?" ²²Jesus told him, "If I want him to remain until I come, what is it to you? You follow Me."

²³The word then went out among the brothers that that disciple would not die; however, Jesus did not say, "He will not die," but, "If I want him to remain till I come, what is it to you?"

²⁴This is the disciple who testifies to these facts and has written them, and we know that his testimony is true.

²⁵There are, besides, many other things that Jesus did, but if they were all described in detail, I suppose the world itself would not have room for the books that would be written.

q) This is John. See vs. 24 and note at ch. 19:26.

ACTS

OF THE APOSTLES

c. A.D. 62-63

1 THE FORMER NARRATIVE I COMPOSED, O Theophilus, regarding all that Jesus began to do and to teach ²until the day of His ascension, after giving His orders through the Holy Spirit^a to the apostles, whom He had chosen ³and to whom He showed Himself alive after His suffering by many convincing proofs for forty days, appearing to them and discussing the kingdom of God.

⁴And as He met with them, He charged them, "Do not leave Jerusalem but await what the Father promised, which you have heard from Me; ⁵for whereas John baptized with water, after a few days you will be baptized with the Holy Spirit."

⁶So those who were meeting together asked Him, "Lord, will You at this time restore the kingdom to Israel?" ⁷He said to them, "It is not your affair to know times or seasons which the Father has placed under His own authority; ⁸but you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you, and you will be My witnesses both in Jerusalem and in all Judea and in Samaria and to the remotest end of the earth."

c. A.D. 30

⁹Upon saying this and while they were looking on, He was taken up and a cloud carried Him up from their view. ¹⁰And as they kept gazing intently toward heaven as He was going away from them, two men in white clothing were standing by them, ¹¹who also said, "Men of Galilee, why do you stand gazing into heaven? This very Jesus, who was taken up from you into heaven, will come again in the same manner in which you have seen Him going to heaven."

¹²Then they went back to Jerusalem from the Mount of Olives, which is near Jerusalem, a Sabbath day's walk.^b

¹³And when they arrived they went up to the upper room where they were staying — Peter and John, James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew, James the son of Alpheus and Simon the Zealot, and Judas the son of James. ¹⁴All these engaged constantly and with one mind in prayer, together with the women and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with His brothers.^c

¹⁵In those days Peter arose among the brothers — there was a gathering of about a hundred and twenty persons — ¹⁶and said, "Brothers, the Scripture had to be fulfilled which the Holy Spirit foretold through the lips of David concerning Judas, who became guide to those who arrested Jesus; ¹⁷for he was counted with us

a) The saving work of Christ has been done; now the Holy Spirit will take charge. Throughout this book He is seen as directing believers in Christ.

b) In Josh. 3:4 it is shown that the distance which was to separate the Israelites from the ark of the covenant when they crossed the Jordan River was 2,000 cubits. This was thought to have been the distance between the tents of the people and the tabernacle in the wilderness and was as far as the Israelites were permitted to walk on the Sabbath day. A cubit equals about eighteen inches; thus 2,000 cubits would be 3,000 feet or a little more than half a mile.

c) Mary's other sons did not believe before the resurrection of Christ, her oldest Son, John 7:5.

and got his allotted share in this ministry.¹⁸ (Now this man bought a field from the wages of crime, and, falling headlong, he burst asunder and all his intestines gushed out,¹⁹ and it became known to the whole population of Jerusalem, so that they named that field in their own dialect, Akeldama, that is, Field of Blood.)

²⁰For in the book of Psalms it is written, "Let his dwelling be desolate and may no one live in it," and, "Let another take his office."²¹ So then, of the men who accompanied us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out with us,²² beginning from the baptism of John and on to the day when He was taken up from us — one of these must be our fellow witness of His resurrection."²³

And they put up two names, Joseph called Barsabbas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias,²⁴ and they prayed, "You, Lord, knower of all hearts, make clear which one of these two You have selected²⁵ to take the position of this ministry and apostolate from which Judas turned aside to go to his own place."

²⁶And they cast lots for them, and the lot fell on Matthias and he was added to the Eleven apostles.

2 WHEN THE DAY OF PENTECOST had fully come, they were all together in one place,² when suddenly there came a roaring from heaven like the driving of a mighty wind, and it filled the whole house where they were sitting.³ There appeared to them tongues like flames that were distributed and that settled on each one of them.⁴ And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in foreign languages as the Spirit granted them expression.

⁵Now there were devout Jews staying at Jerusalem from every nation under heaven,⁶ and when this sound was heard the crowd collected and were confused, for each one heard them speak in his native language.⁷ Astonished and amazed, they said, "Are not all those who are speaking Galileans?"⁸ How is it, then, that we each hear them in our native speech in which we were born?⁹ Parthians, Medes, Elamites, dwellers of Mesopotamia, of Judea, Cappadocia, Pontus, and Asia,¹⁰ Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt and the parts of Libya around Cyrene, visitors from Rome, both Jews and proselytes,¹¹ Cretans and Arabs — we hear them telling in our own languages the excellencies of God."¹² They were all amazed and at a loss, remarking to one another, "What does this mean?"¹³ But others said sneeringly, "They had too much new wine."

¹⁴Then Peter arose together with the Eleven, and raising his voice, he addressed them: "Men of Judea and all you who dwell in Jerusalem, you should all understand this, so take note of what I say.¹⁵ These men are not drunk as you suppose, for it is only nine o'clock in the morning;¹⁶ but this is what was spoken¹⁷ through the Prophet Joel: "It will be in the last days, says God, that I shall pour out My Spirit upon all flesh. Your sons and your daughters will see visions; your elders shall dream dreams,¹⁸ and on My bond servants and My bondmaids I shall in those days pour out My Spirit and they will prophesy."¹⁹ I shall present wonders, too, in heaven above and signs on the earth below — blood and fire, and smoky mist.²⁰ The sun will be turned to darkness and the moon to blood before that great and conspicuous day of the Lord arrives.²¹ And it will be that whoever will call on the Lord's name will be saved."

²²"Men of Israel, listen to these words: Jesus the Nazarene, a Man divinely accredited to you through mighty works and wonders and signs

d) Ps. 69:25.

e) Here in vss. 21, 22 are apostolic qualifications that could be met in the first century only.

f) This was not a babbling in unknown tongues; their own languages were used by the worshippers.

g) Joel 2:28-31.

h) To prophesy is to declare the Word of God. It is not confined only to prediction.

which God did through Him in your midst, as you yourselves know, ²³this Person you killed by nailing Him to the cross through the hands of lawless men, for He was delivered up in the determined will and foreknowledge of God — ²⁴Him God raised up by setting Him free from the pangs of death; for He could not be held in its grip. ²⁵For David says,¹ having Him in view, 'I saw the Lord constantly before me; for He is at my right hand that I may not be disquieted. ²⁶For this my heart is gladdened and my tongue is jubilant; my flesh too will still have rest in hope; ²⁷because Thou wilt not abandon my soul to the realm of the dead, neither wilt Thou permit Thy holy one to see corruption. ²⁸Thou hast acquainted me with the ways of life; Thou wilt fill me with good cheer in Thy presence.'

²⁹'Brothers, I may speak plainly to you about the patriarch David, that he died and was buried, and his tomb is with us to this day. ³⁰Therefore, being a prophet and knowing that God had sworn to him with an oath to seat one of his descendants on his throne, ³¹he was looking ahead and spoke of the resurrection of Christ, that He would not be abandoned to the realm of the dead; neither would His flesh see corruption. ³²This Jesus has God raised up; of this we all are witnesses.

³³'So, lifted high at the right hand of God and receiving from the Father the promised Holy Spirit, He has poured out what you both see and hear. ³⁴For David did not ascend to heaven; but he says,¹ 'The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at My right hand ³⁵until I place Thy enemies for a footstool of Thy feet.'

³⁶'Without a shadow of doubt, then, let the whole house of Israel know that God made Him both Lord and Christ — this Jesus whom you crucified.'

³⁷As they were listening, they were moved to the depths of their hearts; so they said to Peter and the rest of the apostles, "Brothers, what should we do?" ³⁸Peter responded, "Repent and be baptized, each of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins, and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit; ³⁹for the promise is to you and to your children and to all those far away, as many as the Lord our God may call."

⁴⁰With many other words he charged them earnestly and warned them: "Be saved from this crooked generation." ⁴¹Then those who welcomed his message were baptized, and there were added that day about three thousand souls.

⁴²And they persevered in the apostles' teaching and in fellowship, in the breaking of bread and in prayers. ⁴³But awe fell on every soul, as many wonders and signs took place in Jerusalem through the apostles.

c. A.D. 30-31

⁴⁴The believers all met together and had everything jointly; ⁴⁵they sold their property and their belongings, and distributed them to all, as anyone might have need. ⁴⁶Daily they frequented the temple together and ate their meals at home together. So they received nourishment, ⁴⁷praising God with happy and sincere hearts, and enjoying the good will of all the people, while daily the Lord added to the group those who were being saved.

3 NOW PETER AND JOHN WENT UP to the temple for the three o'clock hour of prayer ²and a man, lame from his birth, was being carried, whom every day they placed at the temple gate called Beautiful to beg alms from those frequenting the temple.

³When he saw Peter and John at the point of entering the temple, he asked for charity; ⁴but Peter fixed his eyes on him, and so did John, and said, "Look at us." ⁵So he watched them closely, expecting to get something from them; ⁶but Peter said, "I have neither silver nor gold, but I will give you what I have. In the name of Jesus Christ the Nazarene,^k walk."

i) Ps. 16:8-11. This is a Messianic Psalm.

j) Ps. 110:1.

k) On Christ's authority.

7And gripping him by the right hand, he raised him up.

8Instantly his feet and ankles grew firm, he leaped up and stood, and began to walk and entered the temple¹ with them, walking and leaping and praising God.

9When the people all saw him walking around and praising God,¹⁰ and recognized him as the one who used to sit at the Beautiful Gate of the temple, they were completely overcome with awe and amazement at his experience. ¹¹And as he kept clinging to Peter and John, all the people ran crowding toward them at the place called Solomon's Portico. ¹²And Peter, when he noticed it, addressed the people:

"Men of Israel, why are you surprised at this? And why are you staring at us as if we had made him walk through our own power or piety? ¹³The God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, the God of our fathers, has glorified His Servant Jesus, whom you delivered up and disowned before Pilate, when he had decided to set Him free. ¹⁴But you denied the Holy and Righteous One and requested that a murderer be granted you. ¹⁵You killed the Prince of Life, whom God raised from the dead—of this we are witnesses. ¹⁶By faith in His name this person, whom you see and recognize, has been strengthened, and faith in Him gave him this perfect health you all observe.

¹⁷"Now I know, brothers, that you behaved ignorantly just as your leaders did; ¹⁸but God has thus fulfilled what He made known beforehand through the lips of all the prophets, that His Christ^m was to suffer. ¹⁹Repent and turn about, so that your sins may be wiped away and that seasons of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord, ²⁰and so that He may send the Christ, who has been appointed for you, Jesus, ²¹whom heaven had to receive until the times of universal restoration of which God spoke through the ages by the lips of His holy prophets. ²²In fact Moses said,ⁿ 'The Lord God will raise up from among your brothers a prophet like me. Listen to everything he will tell you; ²³and every soul that will not listen to that prophet will be utterly destroyed from among the people.'

²⁴"So all the prophets that have spoken successively, from Samuel down, have announced these times of ours. ²⁵You are the heirs of the prophets and of the covenant that God established with our fathers when He said^o to Abraham, 'Through your posterity all the families on earth will be blessed.'

²⁶"When God raised up His Servant, He sent Him to you to bless you, as each of you turns from his evil ways."

4 WHILE THEY^p WERE SPEAKING TO the people, the priests, the captain of the temple guard and the Sadducees^q approached them, ²chagrined because they taught the people and preached in the case of Jesus the resurrection of the dead. ³They seized them and, as it was already evening, they put them in custody until the next day. ⁴But many of those who had heard the message believed, and their number grew to about five thousand.

⁵The next day their rulers, as well as the elders and scribes,^r gathered at Jerusalem ⁶with Annas^s the high priest, and Caiaphas and John and Alexander and as many as belonged to the high priest's family, ⁷and placing them in the center, they inquired, "Through what power or by what name have you done this?" ⁸Then Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit, said to them, "Rulers and elders of the people, ⁹if today we are being called

1) The temple courts. Only the priests entered the sanctuary.

m) That is, Messiah, the Anointed One.

n) Deut. 18:15.

o) Gen. 12:3.

p) John must have spoken also, although no words of his are recorded here.

q) See note at Matt. 3:7.

r) See note at Matt. 2:4.

s) Annas had been high priest A.D. 7-14, but then was deposed by the Roman governor. The title still clung to him even though his son-in-law, Caiaphas, was then the high priest, Matt. 26:3; John 11:49.

to account for a good deed to a cripple, by what means he has been cured, ¹⁰then you and all the people of Israel should know that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth whom you crucified, whom God raised from the dead, through Him this man stands before you in sound health. ¹¹He is 'The stone despised by you the builders, which became the head of the corner.' ¹²And there is salvation through no one else; for there is no other name under heaven given among men by which we must be saved."

¹³As they observed the fearlessness of speech on the part of Peter and John and understood that they were men without schooling or skill, they marveled and recognized them as having been with Jesus. ¹⁴Besides, looking at the man who had been healed standing with them, they had nothing to say against it. ¹⁵Ordering them to withdraw outside the Sanhedrin, they consulted together, ¹⁶"What shall we do to these men? For that a notable sign has occurred through them is obvious to all the people of Jerusalem and we cannot deny it. ¹⁷However, so that this will not be spread further among the people, let us strongly warn them to speak no more to any person about this name."

¹⁸So they summoned them and gave orders not to refer to or to teach in the name of Jesus. ¹⁹But Peter and John replied to them, "Whether it is right in the sight of God to listen to you rather than to God is for you to judge; ²⁰as for us, we cannot refrain from telling what we have seen and heard."

²¹They threatened them still further and then freed them, as they saw no way to punish them, because of the people; for they were all praising God for what had happened. ²²For the man on whom this miracle of healing had been performed was over forty years old.

²³After their release they went to their own companions and related to them everything that the chief priests and elders had said. ²⁴Then those who heard it unitedly raised their voices to God and said: "Sovereign Lord, who hast made the heaven and earth, the sea and everything in them, ²⁵and who through the Holy Spirit said^y by the lips of our forefather David Thy servant, 'Why do the Gentiles rage and the people devise vain things?' ²⁶The kings of the earth got ready and the rulers mustered themselves against the Lord and against His Anointed'; ²⁷for they have actually gathered in this city against Thy holy Servant Jesus, whom Thou didst anoint—Herod and Pontius Pilate with the Gentiles and the peoples of Israel, ²⁸all doing what Thy hand and Thy purpose preordained to take place. ²⁹And now, Lord, notice their threats and endow Thy bond servants" with fearlessness to speak Thy word ³⁰as Thou reachest out Thy hand to heal and to work signs and wonders through the name of Thy holy Servant Jesus."

c. A.D. 31-32

³¹And when they had prayed, their meeting place shook and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and fearlessly they gave utterance to God's message. ³²The host of believers were one in heart and soul; no one claimed his belongings just for himself,^{*} but everything was theirs in common. ³³And with great power the apostles bore witness to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus, and grace rested liberally on all of them. ³⁴Not one among them suffered need; for those who owned fields or houses sold them, brought the proceeds of the sale ³⁵and deposited the money at the feet of the apostles. Then it was distributed to each according to his need.

³⁶Joseph, a Cyprian Levite^y who was called Barnabas by the apostles, r) Ps. 118:22; Matt. 21:42. u) See note at Luke 22:66.

v) Ps. 2:1, 2. w) See note at Matt. 13:27.

x) Christianity has its inescapable social outreach. Men are saved individually, but when they are saved they must live and serve in the communion (fellowship) of the saints. The sharing in the Early Church was not imposed, but was a voluntary expression of the believers' unity in Christ. In this instance the expectancy of Christ's early return gave stimulus to liberality.

y) See note at Luke 10:32.

which translated means Son of Consolation, to whom a field belonged, ³⁷ sold it and brought the proceeds, which he deposited at the apostles' feet.

5 BUT A MAN NAMED ANANIAS, WITH Sapphira his wife, sold some real estate, ² retained with his wife's knowledge some of the price, and brought a portion which he laid at the apostles' feet. ³ Then Peter said to him, "Ananias, why has Satan filled your heart to lie to the Holy Spirit^z and misappropriate some of the field's price? ⁴ Could you not have kept the field for your own or, after the sale, have done with your proceeds as you pleased? Why did you devise such a thing? You did not lie to men but to God."

⁵ Listening to these words Ananias fell down and died,^a and great awe came over all who learned of it. ⁶ The young men then arose, wrapped his body, and carried it out for burial.

⁷ About three hours had passed when his wife came in, ignorant of what had occurred, ⁸ and Peter asked her, "Tell me, did you sell the land for so much?" She said, "Yes, for so much." ⁹ Peter then asked her, "How did you agree together to test the Lord's Spirit? The fact of those who buried your husband are at the door, and they will carry you out also." ¹⁰ Instantly she fell at his feet and died; so the young men found her dead when they came in, carried her out, and buried her beside her husband. ¹¹ And great awe fell upon the whole church and on all who learned of this.

¹² Many signs and wonders continued to be done among the people by means of the apostles, and they all met unitedly in Solomon's Portico. ¹³ None of the outsiders dared to join them, but the people held them in high esteem. ¹⁴ Moreover, throngs of men and women who believed in the Lord were increasingly added. ¹⁵ They went so far as to bring out their sick into the streets and to lay them on rugs and mats so that, as Peter passed by, at least his shadow might fall on some of them. ¹⁶ Even from towns outside Jerusalem the crowd came streaming in to bring the sick and those troubled with unclean spirits, and they were all cured.

¹⁷ But the high priest and all those who were with him, and the Sadducean party arose, full of jealousy, ¹⁸ and seized the apostles and put them in the public jail. ¹⁹ But an angel of the Lord opened the prison doors at night, led them out, and said, ²⁰ "Go, take your stand in the temple and tell the people all about this new life."

²¹ Obediently they went into the temple at daybreak and began to teach. Now the high priest and his party summoned the Sanhedrin, even the whole senate^b of the Israelites, and sent to the prison to bring the men. ²² But when the attendants arrived they failed to find them in jail and went back and reported, ²³ "We found the prison securely locked and the sentries posted at the doors, but on opening them we found no one inside."

²⁴ When the captain of the temple guard and the chief priests heard this report, they were completely at a loss what had happened to them. ²⁵ Someone came and announced to them, "The men you put in jail are standing in the temple teaching the people." ²⁶ Then the captain went out with his officers and brought them, but not by force, for they were afraid the people might stone them.

²⁷ They brought them before the Sanhedrin, and the high priest asked them, ²⁸ "Did we not strictly forbid you to teach in this name? And here you have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine and you want to bring upon us this man's blood."

²⁹ Then Peter and the apostles replied, "We must obey God rather than men. ³⁰ The God of our fathers raised

z) The dealings of all believers in Christ, in the affairs of the church and elsewhere also, are with the Holy Spirit.

a) The verb rendered "died" is from the Greek ekysucho meaning to breathe one's last, an expression used by medical writers of that day. Its use points to Luke, the physician, as the writer of The Acts.

b) This was another name for the Sanhedrin and was used when it met in full session.

Jesus, whom you put to death by hanging Him on a cross. ³¹God exalted Him to His right hand as Leader and Savior, to grant to Israel repentance and forgiveness of sins. ³²And not only are we witnesses to these facts, but so is the Holy Spirit whom God bestows on those who obey Him."

c. A.D. 32-33

³³As they listened they grew furious and determined to destroy them. ³⁴Then a Pharisee^c named Gamaliel, a teacher of the Law who enjoyed the respect of all the people, arose in the Sanhedrin and ordered the men to be put outside for a few moments. ³⁵Then he addressed them, "Men of Israel, be careful what you intend to do to these men; ³⁶for in earlier days Theudas^d appeared, claiming to be somebody, and about four hundred men adhered to him; but he was killed and all his supporters were dispersed, and they came to nothing. ³⁷After him Judas^e the Galilean led an uprising at the time of the census, and raised a popular following, and he perished, too, and all his adherents were scattered. ³⁸So I advise you in this case to keep away from these men and leave them alone; for should this plan or movement be merely human, then it will go to pieces; ³⁹but if its source is God, then you will be unable to crush them. You might even find yourselves to be fighting against God."

⁴⁰Persuaded by him, they called in the apostles, had them flogged, warned them not to talk in the name of Jesus, and let them go. ⁴¹Then they went out from the presence of the Sanhedrin happy indeed for being thought worthy to suffer disgrace for His name. ⁴²They never stopped for a single day to teach and to preach Christ Jesus in the temple and at home.^f

6 IN THOSE DAYS, AS THE NUMBER of disciples kept growing, there rose a complaint on the part of the Greek-speaking Jews against those who spoke Hebrew because their widows were overlooked in the daily charities. ²So the Twelve summoned the assembly of the disciples and said, "It is not desirable that we should neglect the teaching of God's word to wait on tables; ³therefore, brothers, look around for seven men among you of good reputation and full of the Spirit and of wisdom, whom we shall appoint for this duty, ⁴while we continue to devote ourselves to prayer and the ministry of the word."

⁵The suggestion pleased the entire assembly and they selected Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit; also Philip, Prochorus, Nicanor, Timon, Parmenas, and Nicolaus, a proselyte of Antioch. ⁶These they presented to the apostles who, with prayer, laid hands on them.

⁷So the word of God kept on spreading. The number of disciples in Jerusalem increased rapidly and even a large group of priests obeyed the faith.

⁸And Stephen, full of grace and power, did notable wonders and signs among the people; ⁹but some from the so-called Synagogue of the Freedmen^g and of the people of Cyrene and Alexandria, and of Cilicia^h and Asia, undertook debating with Stephen ¹⁰and could not successfully meet the wisdom and the Spirit by whom he spoke.

c) See note at Matt. 3:7.

d) Theudas is thought by some to have been one of the insurrectionists who led bands of men against Herod the Great. He was among the last of these, coming against the king in about 6 B.C. A man of lofty pretensions, Theudas died violently.

e) Judas the Galilean was also known as Judas the Gaulonite. He believed that the census under Caesar Augustus, taken when Quirinius was governor of Syria in about 5 B.C., Luke 2:1, 2, would bring the Jewish people to a place of rigid servitude to Rome. He was able to get some of his countrymen to join the revolt, but he lost his life and his followers soon disbanded.

f) Distinctive Christian teaching would probably have died within a century had not the Christian home become a Christian school, for the synagogues were closed to Christian children and pagan schools were subversive of Christianity.

g) Freedmen, sometimes called Libertines, are said to have been Jews whose fathers had been captured by the Romans and had afterward been set free. They built their own synagogue in Jerusalem.

h) Perhaps Saul of Tarsus in Cilicia, who later became Paul the apostle, was among them, cf. chs. 7:59; 13:9.

c. A.D. 36-37

¹¹Then they instigated men to say, "We have heard him speaking blasphemous words against Moses and God." ¹²Thus they stirred up the people, as well as the elders and the scribes; they attacked and grabbed him and brought him to the Sanhedrin. ¹³They also produced false witnesses who said, "This man never quits uttering statements against the holy place and the Law; ¹⁴for we have heard him say that this Jesus the Nazarene will demolish this place and will change the customs that were handed down to us by Moses."

¹⁵And all those seated in the Sanhedrin gazed at him and saw that his face shone like the face of an angel.

7 THE HIGH PRIEST ASKED, "ARE these statements correct?" ²Then he said, "Brothers and fathers, listen: The God of glory appeared to our father Abraham when he was in Mesopotamia previous to his settling in Haran,¹ ³and told¹ him, 'Get away from your country and your relations and come to the land I will show you.' ⁴Then Abraham went out from the Chaldean country and settled in Haran; and from there, after his father's death, God transferred him to this land where you now live. ⁵He gave him no heritable property in it, no, not a foot of it, but promised to give it for a possession to him and his offspring after him, though at the time he had no child. ⁶But God spoke as follows:¹ 'Your offspring will be aliens in a foreign land and the people of that land will subject and ill-treat them four hundred years.' ⁷And the nation whom they serve,' God said, 'I shall judge, and afterward they will come out and worship Me in this place.'

⁸"He also gave him the covenant of circumcision, and he became the father of Isaac and circumcised him the eighth day; Isaac became the father of Jacob, and Jacob became the father of the twelve patriarchs.

⁹"The patriarchs, jealous of Joseph, sold him into Egypt, but God was with him. ¹⁰He rescued him out of all his troubles and granted him favor and wisdom in the presence of Pharaoh, king of Egypt, who appointed him governor over Egypt and over his entire household.

¹¹"Then a famine and great distress came over all Egypt and Canaan, so that our fathers failed to find nourishment; ¹²but when Jacob learned that there was wheat in Egypt, he sent our fathers there on the first trip. ¹³And on their second trip Joseph made himself known to his brothers, and Joseph's family was made known to Pharaoh.

¹⁴"Joseph then sent and invited his father Jacob and the whole family, comprising seventy-five souls. ¹⁵So Jacob came down to Egypt, where he and our fathers died, ¹⁶and they were removed to Shechem^m and laid in the tomb that Abraham had bought from the sons of Hamor at Shechem for a sum of money."

¹⁷But as the promised time approached, which God had announced to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt ¹⁸until another king, who knew nothing about Joseph, took the throne of Egypt. ¹⁹He took advantage of our race and ill-treated our fathers, making them expose their infants, so that they might not survive.

²⁰"In that period Moses was born, beautiful in God's sight, and was nurtured in his parental home three months. ²¹And when he was exposed, the daughter of Pharaoh adopted him and brought him up to be her own son. ²²So Moses was educated in all

i) Haran was located about 125 miles east of the northeastern tip of the Mediterranean Sea and 200 miles northeast of Nineveh. It was not far from the source of the Euphrates River.

j) Gen. 12:1.

k) Gen. 15:13, 14.

l) The Exodus occurred a good four centuries after that promise. For the actual sojourn in Egypt four generations and four centuries seem to be used interchangeably, cf. Gen. 15:13, 16.

m) Shechem (now Nablus) is situated in Palestine west of the Jordan River and about 30 miles due north of Jerusalem.

n) Jacob was buried in the Machpelah cave purchased by Abraham at Mamre, Gen. 50:13; Joseph at Shechem, Josh. 24:32.

the science and learning of the Egyptians, and had ability in speech and in deeds. ²³When he was forty years old he resolved to look after his brothers, the Israelites ²⁴and, seeing one treated unfairly, he defended him and avenged the wronged person by slaying the Egyptian; ²⁵for he supposed his brothers would understand that God would grant them deliverance through him; but they failed to understand.

²⁶"The next day he appeared to them,^o as they were fighting, and tried to reconcile them, saying, 'Men, you are brothers; why are you mistreating each other?' ²⁷But the one who was mistreating his neighbor pushed him away with the words, 'Who appointed you ruler and judge over us?' ²⁸You want to kill me, perhaps, in the way you killed the Egyptian yesterday?' ²⁹At this remark Moses fled and became an alien in the land of Midian, where he became the father of two sons.

³⁰"And at the completion of forty years there appeared to him in the Mount Sinai wilderness an angel in the flame of a burning thornbush. ³¹When Moses saw it he marveled at the sight, and as he approached to look at it closely, the Lord's voice came saying,^p ³²'I am the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.' Moses was so frightened that he did not dare to look.

³³"The Lord said^q to him, 'Untie the sandals from your feet, for the place on which you are standing is holy ground. ³⁴I have certainly observed the ill-treatment of My people in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning and have come down to deliver them. So come now, I will send you into Egypt.'

³⁵"This Moses whom they disowned by saying, 'Who has appointed you a ruler and judge?' him God sent both to be a ruler and to be a redeemer with the help of the angel who appeared to him in the bush. ³⁶It was he who led them out, performing wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, at the Red Sea, and in the wilderness forty years.

³⁷"This is the same Moses who told^r the Israelites, 'God will raise up from your brothers a prophet like me.'³⁸This is the one who was in the congregation in the wilderness with the angel who spoke to him on Mount Sinai, and with our forefathers; he received the living messages to impart to us. ³⁹To him our fathers did not want to submit; they pushed him aside and in their hearts turned back to Egypt, ⁴⁰saying^s to Aaron, 'Make us gods that will go before us; for this Moses who led us out of Egypt, we do not know what has befallen him.'⁴¹They made a calf in those days and brought sacrifice to the image, and rejoiced in the works of their hands.

⁴²"But God turned and abandoned them to worship the host of heaven, as it is written^t in the book of the prophets, 'O house of Israel, did you offer Me victims and sacrifices for forty years in the wilderness? ⁴³You carried Moloch's tent and your god Romphan's star-idol^u figures you made to worship them. So I shall deport you beyond Babylon.'

⁴⁴"In the wilderness our fathers had the tent of testimony, just as He who spoke to Moses commanded him to make it according to the pattern he had seen. ⁴⁵And our fathers received it and brought it in with Joshua into the territory of the nations, whom God drove out before our fathers. This tent remained until the time of David, ⁴⁶who found favor before God and prayed that he might provide a house for the God of Jacob. ⁴⁷But Solomon built Him a house. ⁴⁸However, the Most High does not dwell in a build

o) Two Hebrews.

p) Exod. 3:6.

q) Exod. 3:5.

r) Deut. 18:15.

s) Exod. 32:1.

t) Amos 5:25, 26.

u) Moloch was the idol of the Ammonites; Romphan (or Rephan), the Syrians' idol Saturn.

ing made with human hands, just as the prophet says,^v ⁴⁹Heaven is My throne but the earth a footstool for My feet. What sort of house will you build Me, says the Lord, or what is My resting place? ⁵⁰Has not My hand made all these things?^w

⁵¹"You stiff-necked and uncircumcised in heart and ear, you have always resisted the Holy Spirit, the same as your fathers did!" ⁵²Which of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? Yes, they killed those who announced beforehand the coming of the Righteous One whom now you have betrayed and murdered — ⁵³you who received the Law through the mediation of angels and have not kept it."

⁵⁴As they heard this they were enraged in their hearts and gnashed their teeth at him; ⁵⁵but he, full of the Holy Spirit, looked up into heaven and saw the glory of God and Jesus standing at God's right hand, ⁵⁶and said, "I see the heavens opened and the Son of Man standing at God's right hand." ⁵⁷But they, shouting loudly and holding their hands to their ears, rushed upon him in a body ⁵⁸and threw him out of the city and stoned him.^x And the witnesses placed their clothes at the feet of a young man named Saul.

⁵⁹So they stoned Stephen as he called upon the Lord, saying, "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit." ⁶⁰Falling on his knees, he called out loudly, "Lord, do not hold this sin against them." And with these words he fell asleep in death.

8 SAUL WAS ALTOGETHER AGREED to his murder, and at that time a severe persecution broke out against the church in Jerusalem, so that all except the apostles were dispersed throughout the lands of Judea and Samaria. ²Devout men took charge of Stephen's funeral and made grievous lamentation over him. ³But Saul made havoc of the church and, forcing himself into homes and dragging out men and women, he put them in prison.

⁴Those who were dispersed were everywhere preaching the message of good news. ⁵So Philip^y came down to a city of Samaria and preached Christ to them. ⁶The crowds unanimously attended to the teachings of Philip as they listened to him and observed the miracles he performed. ⁷For from many who were possessed, the unclean spirits went out, screaming with a loud voice, while many paralytics and lame too, were healed, ⁸so that there was much rejoicing in that city.

c. A.D. 37

⁹However, a man in that city, named Simon, had been astonishing the Samaritan nation by the practice of magic, claiming that he was a remarkable person. ¹⁰Everybody, young and old, paid attention to him and said, "He is what is called the Great Power of God." ¹¹The reason they paid attention to him was that for a long time he had astonished them with magic arts.

¹²But when they believed Philip as he told the good news of the kingdom of God and of the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, men as well as women. ¹³Even Simon himself believed and, upon his baptism, kept close to Philip, amazed at the signs and mighty miracles he saw being performed.

¹⁴When the apostles in Jerusalem learned that Samaria had welcomed the message of God, they sent them Peter and John ¹⁵who, on coming down there, prayed for the believers to receive the Holy Spirit, ¹⁶for thus far they had been baptized only in the name of the Lord Jesus; the Spirit had not yet fallen upon any one of them. ¹⁷Then they placed their hands

v) Isa. 66:1, 2.

w) The burden of Stephen's address was that his listeners did to Jesus precisely what their fathers had done to their divinely appointed leaders.

x) It was not lawful for the Jewish people to execute anyone. It appears that there was no Roman retribution for their murder of Stephen because Pilate had been recalled and his immediate successor had not yet been appointed.

y) This man is known as Philip the Evangelist. He was one of the seven deacons appointed by the Jerusalem disciples to relieve the Twelve from ministering to the demands of many of the early Christians, ch. 6:1-6.

on them and they received the Holy Spirit.

¹⁸Now when Simon observed that through the laying on of the apostles' hands the Holy Spirit was conferred, he offered them money ¹⁹and said, "Give me this power, so that the person on whom I lay hands may receive the Holy Spirit." ²⁰But Peter told him, "May your money go to perdition with you, because you thought you could buy the gift of God for money; ²¹you have neither share nor part in this message, for your heart is not right in God's sight. ²²Repent of this wickedness of yours and plead with the Lord to forgive you for what you had in mind. ²³For I see that you are in bitter gall and in fetters of wickedness."²

²⁴But Simon answered, "Plead with the Lord for me yourselves, so that none of the things you have mentioned may befall me."

²⁵Then after they had testified and spoken the Lord's message, they went back to Jerusalem, preaching the gospel to many Samaritan^a communities.

²⁶But the angel of the Lord told Philip, "Rise up and about midday go down the road that runs from Jerusalem to Gaza—a lonely road." ²⁷So he got up and went, and an Ethiopian eunuch, a high official of Candace, Queen of Ethiopia, who was in charge of all her finances and had come to worship in Jerusalem ²⁸was on the way back and was sitting in his chariot reading the book of the Prophet Isaiah. ²⁹Then the Spirit said to Philip, "Go up and join him in that chariot." ³⁰And Philip ran up, heard him read the Prophet Isaiah, and said, "Do you understand what you are reading?"

³¹He said, "How could I, unless someone guides me?" And he invited Philip to climb in and be seated with him.

³²Now the Scripture passage he was reading was this:^b "As a lamb He was led to slaughter and as a sheep voiceless before his shearer, so He does not open His mouth. ³³In His humiliation He was deprived of justice. Who can tell the story of His offspring? For His life was taken from the earth."

³⁴The eunuch turned to Philip and said, "I beg of you, about whom does the prophet say this, of himself or of someone else?" ³⁵Then Philip began to speak and, starting from that same Scripture, told him the good news about Jesus.

³⁶Proceeding on the road, they came to some water and the eunuch said, "See, here is water. What is to prevent my being baptized?" ³⁷[Philip assured him, "If you heartily believe, it is permitted." And he replied, "I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God."]^c ³⁸So he ordered the chariot to halt, and both Philip and the eunuch went down into the water and he baptized him.

³⁹But when they came up from the water, the Lord's Spirit took Philip away and the eunuch did not see him any more; he went joyfully on his way. ⁴⁰Philip, however, was found at Azotus,^d and, as he passed through all the cities, he brought the good news all the way to Caesarea.^e

9 BUT SAUL, STILL BREATHING OUT threat and murder against the Lord's disciples, called on the high priest ²and requested of him letters to the Damascus^f synagogues, so that if he should find there any men or women who were of "the Way,"^g he might bring them as prisoners to Jerusalem.

³But as he traveled and approached Damascus, a light from heaven suddenly shone all around him. ⁴He fell to

2) Because of this incident the sin of using religion for monetary purposes is still called Simony.

a) See note at Luke 9:53. b) Isa. 53:7, 8.

c) So many reliable ancient manuscripts omit vs. 37, here enclosed in brackets, that it is practically certain that it was not part of the original text.

d) Azotus (now Ashdod) is situated on the eastern boundary of the Mediterranean Sea almost due west of Jerusalem.

e) Caesarea was founded by Herod the Great. Its site was a former coastal station called Strato's Tower. The location is on the Mediterranean shore a little more than 50 miles northwest of Jerusalem.

f) Damascus was and still is the principal city of Syria, located about 120 miles northeast of Jerusalem and approximately 30 miles from Caesarea Philippi.

g) "The Way" was a term used in the first century to denote Christianity, a new way of life, the Christian way of living.

the earth and heard a voice that spoke to him, "Saul, Saul, why do you persecute Me?" ⁵He said, "Who are You, Lord?" He answered, "I am Jesus, whom you have been persecuting. [It is hard for you to kick against the goads." ⁶Trembling and astonished, he asked, "Lord, what would You have me do?" The Lord said to him,]^h "Rise and enter the city and it will be told you what you must do."

⁷The men who were traveling with him stood speechless; they heard the voice well enough, but saw no one. ⁸Saul got up from the ground, but when he opened his eyes he could see nothing. So they led him into Damascus. ⁹And for three days he remained blind and neither ate nor drank.

¹⁰Now there was in Damascus a disciple by the name of Ananias, to whom the Lord said in a vision, "Ananias!" He said, "Here I am, Lord." ¹¹The Lord said to him, "Arise and go into the street called Straight and inquire at the home of Judas for one called Saul of Tarsus;ⁱ for he is there praying. ¹²And he has seen a man named Ananias entering and laying hands on him so that he may see."

¹³Ananias replied, "Lord, I have heard from many about this man, how much he has hurt Your saints^j in Jerusalem, ¹⁴and here he has authority from the chief priests to put into chains every one who calls upon Your name." ¹⁵But the Lord told him, "Go. For he is My choice instrument to carry My name before Gentiles and kings and the people of Israel. ¹⁶For I will show him how much he will have to suffer on behalf of My name."

¹⁷So Ananias went and entered the house. Then placing his hands upon him he said, "Brother Saul, the Lord sent me — Jesus who appeared^k to you on the road you traveled — so that you may recover sight and be filled with the Holy Spirit." ¹⁸Instantly it was as if scales fell from his eyes; he saw again. He arose and was baptized; ¹⁹then, after eating something, he regained strength.

c. A.D. 37-40

For some time Saul remained with the Damascus disciples ²⁰and at once preached Jesus in the synagogues, that He is the Son of God. ²¹All who listened were amazed and said, "Is not he the one who went about ravaging those in Jerusalem who called on this name, and who came here to take them as prisoners shackled to the chief priests?" ²²But Saul continued to gain in strength, and confounded the Jews who lived in Damascus by proving that this was the Christ.^l ²³After considerable time the Jews conspired to destroy him, ²⁴but Saul got wind of their plot. Day and night they watched the gates to kill him; ²⁵but his disciples took him and by night let him down over the wall in a basket.

c. A.D. 40

²⁶On reaching Jerusalem he made efforts to associate with the disciples, but they were all afraid of him; for they did not believe that he was a disciple. ²⁷But Barnabas took him in, presented him to the apostles, and explained to them how Saul had seen the Lord on the road, how He had spoken to him, and how in Damascus he had fearlessly spoken in the name of Jesus.

²⁸After that, Saul went in and out with them in Jerusalem, spoke boldly in the Lord's name, ²⁹and especially talked and argued with the Greek-

h) The words in vss. 5 and 6 that are enclosed in brackets are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

i) See note at ch. 11:25.

j) In the N.T. the word "saint" refers to one who has been set apart by God as His own and for His service. Such a person may not always be saintly in character or life, but in his standing before God he has been sanctified, that is, made a saint by virtue of Christ's atoning sacrifice, Heb. 10:10; 13:12. All believers in Christ are saints, even though they may not be as fully developed spiritually as they ought to be.

k) Paul testifies in 1 Cor. 15:8 of having seen the risen Christ.

l) It is probable that vss. 22-25 refer to a second ministry in Damascus, following a period of prayer and meditation in Arabia of which the apostle speaks in Gal. 1:16, 17. The "considerable time" of vs. 23 here corresponds with the "three years" of Gal. 1:18.

speaking Jews; but they undertook to murder him. ³⁰So when the brothers learned of it, they brought him down to Caesarea and sent him off to Tarsus.

³¹Then the church enjoyed peace all over Judea, Galilee and Samaria, strengthened within and progressing in reverence toward the Lord. And through the encouragement of the Holy Spirit there was increase in numbers.

³²As Peter was traveling about, his visits took him to the saints who lived at Lydda. ³³There he came across a man by the name of Aeneas, a paralytic who had been bedridden for eight years. ³⁴Peter said to him, "Aeneas, Jesus Christ heals you. Get up and make your bed." Instantly he got up, ³⁵and all the inhabitants of Lydda and Sharon saw him and turned to the Lord.

³⁶At Joppa there was a disciple named Tabitha, which means Dorcas,^m a woman full of good deeds and acts of charity. ³⁷At about that time she fell ill and died; so they bathed the body and laid it out in an upper room.

³⁸Now since Lydda is near Joppa, the disciples, learning that Peter was there, dispatched two men begging him, "Do come over to us without delay." ³⁹So Peter got up and went with them. On their arrival they brought him to the upper room, where all the widows stood around crying and pointing at the garments and coats which Dorcas had made while she was with them. ⁴⁰But Peter put them all out, then kneeled down and prayed; and, turning to the body, he said "Tabitha, arise!" She opened her eyes and, seeing Peter, she sat up. ⁴¹Giving her a hand he lifted her up and called in all the saints and the widows, to whom he presented her alive.

⁴²This became known all over Joppa and many believed in the Lord. ⁴³It came about that Peter remained at Joppa for some time, the guest of Simon, a tanner.

10 NOW THERE WAS A MAN NAMED Cornelius living in Caesarea, a captainⁿ of what was called the Italian Cohort,^o ²who with his whole family was a devout person, one who feared God. He practiced liberal benevolences among the people and worshiped God constantly. ³He clearly saw in a vision at about three in the afternoon an angel of God entering his house and saying to him, "Cornelius." ⁴Gazing intently at him, he said in fear, "What is it, Lord?" He replied, "Your prayers and your alms have ascended as worthy to be remembered before God. ⁵Now then, send men to Joppa and have them call for Simon, who is called Peter. ⁶He is lodging with one Simon, a tanner whose home is by the sea."

⁷As soon as the angel who spoke to him had left, he called two of his household servants, and a devout soldier who belonged to his personal attendants, ⁸explained everything to them, and dispatched them to Joppa.

⁹The next day, while they were on their journey and approaching the town, Peter went up on the roof about noontime to pray. ¹⁰However, he grew hungry and wanted to eat. But while they were preparing a meal, a trance came over him. ¹¹He saw heaven opened and something coming down like a wide sheet let down to earth by the four corners. ¹²In it were all sorts of four-footed beasts and reptiles and birds. ¹³And a voice came to him, "Rise. Peter, kill and eat." ¹⁴But Peter said, "By no means, Lord, for I have never eaten anything undedicated and unclean." ¹⁵Once more the voice came to him, "What God has purified you must not consider unclean." ¹⁶This happened three times; then immediately the thing was taken up into heaven.

¹⁷While Peter was inwardly puzzled about what the vision might mean, then and there the messengers of Cornelius, who had inquired for Simon's house, stood at the gate, ¹⁸calling out to inquire whether Simon, called Peter,

m) "Dorcas" means gazelle, an animal notable for its beautiful eyes.

n) A centurion, commander of 100 men.

o) A Roman cohort was the tenth part of a legion, or about 600 men. This captain was "of" the cohort and not necessarily in command of the full complement.

was a guest there. ¹⁹And as Peter was still pondering over the vision, the Spirit said to him, "There are three men looking for you. ²⁰Rise and go downstairs and go with them unhesitatingly, for I have sent them." ²¹So Peter went down and said to the men, "I am the one you are looking for. Why are you here?" ²²They said, "Captain Cornelius, a just and God-fearing man of good reputation among all the Jewish people, was instructed by a holy angel to have you brought to his house, and to hear what you have to say."

²³Then he invited them in and entertained them. The next day he got up and went with them, and some of the brothers from Joppa accompanied him.

²⁴On the following day they entered Caesarea. Expecting them, Cornelius had invited his relatives and intimate friends, ²⁵and as Peter entered, Cornelius met him, fell at his feet and paid him reverence. ²⁶But Peter raised him up with the words, "Get up. I am a human being too." ²⁷Conversing with him, he went in and found a large gathering ²⁸to whom he said, "You are aware how a Jew is not allowed to associate with or to visit one of another race; but God has shown me not to call any human being unhallowed or unclean." ²⁹For this reason I came without hesitation when I was sent for. May I inquire for what reason you sent for me?"

³⁰Cornelius said, "Four days ago at about this time I was praying in my home at three o'clock in the afternoon, when a man stood before me in dazzling attire ³¹and said, 'Cornelius, your prayer has been heard and your charities are remembered before God. ³²Now then, send to Joppa and invite Simon, called Peter; he is a guest at the home of Simon the tanner by the sea.' ³³So I sent for you at once, and you have been good enough to come. Now then, we are all present here before God to hear everything in which the Lord has instructed you."

³⁴Peter then opened his lips and said, "Now I thoroughly understand the truth that God is not partial, ³⁵but in every nation he who reveres Him and practices righteousness is acceptable to Him. ³⁶He sent this message to the Israelites, when through Jesus Christ He made the good news of peace known to them — He is Lord of all.

³⁷"You know what occurred up and down Judea, beginning from Galilee after the baptism that John preached, ³⁸how God anointed with the Holy Spirit and with power Jesus of Nazareth, who traversed the land doing good and healing all that were overpowered by the devil; for God was with Him. ³⁹And we are witnesses of everything He did, both in the country of the Jews and in Jerusalem — and they murdered Him, nailing Him to a cross.

⁴⁰"But God raised Him up on the third day and caused Him to appear, ⁴¹not to all the people but to witnesses who were previously selected by God, to us who ate and drank with Him after His resurrection from the dead. ⁴²And to us He gave orders to preach to the people and to bear solemn testimony that He is the God-appointed Judge of the living and of the dead. ⁴³To Him all the prophets bear witness, that all who believe in Him receive forgiveness of sins through His name."

⁴⁴While Peter was still saying these things the Holy Spirit fell upon all who listened to the message. ⁴⁵And the circumcised believers who had come with Peter were amazed that the gift of the Holy Spirit was poured out upon the Gentiles also, ⁴⁶for they heard them speaking in tongues and declaring the greatness of God.

⁴⁷Then Peter answered, "Would anyone refuse the water for their baptism, since they have received the Holy Spirit as we ourselves did?" ⁴⁸So he directed them to be baptized in the

p) This was the first appeal expressly to the Gentiles by any of the apostles and was due, of course, to Peter's response to his recent vision.

name of Jesus Christ.⁴ Then they begged him to stay a few days.

c. A.D. 41

11 THE APOSTLES AND THE BROTHERS who lived in Judea heard that the Gentiles had welcomed God's message; ²so when Peter came up to Jerusalem, those who insisted upon circumcision disputed with him ³with the charge, "You visited and ate with the uncircumcised." ⁴Peter, however, began to put the whole matter before them in order.

⁵"I was in the town of Joppa praying," he said, "and in a trance I saw a vision, something coming down like a large sheet let down from heaven by the four corners till it reached me. ⁶Looking into it, I noticed animals of earth and wild beasts and reptiles and birds. ⁷I also heard a voice saying to me, 'Rise, Peter, kill and eat.' ⁸But I said, 'By no means, Lord, for nothing undedicated or unclean has ever entered my mouth.' ⁹But for the second time the voice answered from heaven, 'What God has purified, you must not consider unholy.' ¹⁰This happened three times; then everything was taken up into heaven again.

¹¹"At that very moment three men who had been sent to me from Caesarea stood at the house where we were staying, ¹²and the Spirit told me to go with them without any hesitation; so six of the brothers went with me and we entered the man's home. ¹³Then he declared to us how he had seen the angel in his house, who stood and said, 'Send to Joppa to bring Simon, called Peter; ¹⁴he will give you the message through which you and your family will be saved.' ¹⁵But at the beginning of my message the Holy Spirit fell upon them just as on us at the beginning; ¹⁶so I was mindful of the Lord's message, how He said, John did indeed baptize with water, but you will be baptized with the Holy Spirit.' ¹⁷Now since God granted them the same gift that He gave us after believing in the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I that I could hinder God?"

¹⁸When they heard this, they quieted down and glorified God, saying, "Then God has granted to the Gentiles also the repentance that leads to life."

¹⁹Now those who were dispersed on account of the persecution that arose in connection with Stephen made their way as far as Phoenicia^r and Cyprus^s and Antioch,^t telling the message to none except Jews. ²⁰However, there were some of the Cyprians and Cyrenians who arrived at Antioch and spoke to the Greeks as well, preaching the good news about the Lord Jesus. ²¹The Lord's hand was with them and a great number who believed turned to the Lord.

²²When word of it came to the attention of the Jerusalem church, they sent Barnabas to Antioch, ²³who, on his arrival, was happy to see the grace of God and who encouraged them all to remain loyal to the Lord with steady hearts — ²⁴for he was a good man, full of the Holy Spirit and of faith — and a considerable number were added to the Lord.

c. A.D. 43

²⁵Then he made a trip to Tarsus^u to look for Saul ²⁶and, on finding him, brought him to Antioch where for an entire year they met with the church and taught a large group. At Antioch, furthermore, the disciples were first designated as Christians.

²⁷At about that time there came down prophets from Jerusalem to Antioch, ²⁸one of whom, named Agabus, stood up and revealed through the Spirit that a terrible famine was to

q) This was probably the first Christian baptism of an uncircumcised group. It was all very astonishing to the Jewish believers in Christ because they had not grasped the full implications of Jesus' command to preach the Gospel to all the world.

r) Phoenicia was the name of a coastal territory on the Mediterranean Sea directly west of the Sea of Galilee. Tyre and Sidon were in Phoenicia.

s) Cyprus, a large island in the Mediterranean Sea, is about 85 miles west of ancient Phoenicia.

t) Antioch in Syria is about 25 miles inland from the northeastern tip of the Mediterranean Sea.

u) Tarsus, the native city of the Apostle Paul, ch. 9:11, was situated in Cilicia no more than 12-15 miles north of the Mediterranean Sea.

come over the whole world — which occurred in the reign of Claudius.^v ²⁹So the disciples determined to send a contribution to the brothers who lived in Judea, in which each of them would take part according to his ability. ³⁰And this they did: they sent it to the elders by Barnabas and Saul.

c. A.D. 44

12 AT ABOUT THAT TIME KING Herod^w laid violent hands on some of those who belonged to the church. ²He slew James, the brother of John, with the sword ³and, noticing that it pleased the Jews, he proceeded also to arrest Peter. That was during the days of the Feast of Unleavened Bread. ⁴Arresting him, he put him in prison and charged four squads of soldiers to guard him, intending to bring him out to the people after the Passover.

⁵So Peter was being kept in prison, but from the church prayer on his behalf was unceasingly made to God.

⁶On the night before Herod intended to bring him out to the people, Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with double chains, while sentries in front of the door guarded the prison. ⁷Suddenly an angel of the Lord stood beside him, and a light shone in the cell; then, touching Peter on the side, he roused him and said, "Get up at once." The chains dropped from his hands ⁸and the angel told him, "Put on your belt and your sandals," which he did. He added, "Put on your cloak, and follow me." ⁹So he followed him out having no idea that the angel's activity was real, but imagining he was seeing a vision.

¹⁰They passed the first guard and the second, then reached the iron gate leading into the city, and it automatically opened for them. Walking out, they went along one block, when suddenly the angel departed from him. ¹¹When Peter came to his senses he said, "Now I know for certain that the Lord sent His angel and rescued me from the hand of Herod and from all that the Jewish people were expecting."

¹²When he got his bearings he went to the home of Mary, the mother of John, surnamed Mark, where a large number had gathered and were praying. ¹³When he knocked at the door of the gate, a girl named Rhoda came to answer. ¹⁴And, recognizing the voice as Peter's, she failed from sheer gladness to open the gate, but ran in to announce that Peter stood at the gate. ¹⁵However, they told her, "You are raving." But she insisted up and down that it was so. Then they said, "It is his angel." ¹⁶Peter meanwhile kept on knocking, and when they opened the door, they saw to their astonishment that it was he. ¹⁷He motioned them with his hand to be silent and explained how the Lord had brought him out of the prison; and he said, "Let James^x and the brothers know all this." Then he left and went to another place.

¹⁸With the break of day there was no little consternation among the soldiers as to what had really become of Peter. ¹⁹When Herod sought for him and did not find him he had the guards executed, after examining them. He then left Judea for Caesarea where he resided.

²⁰Now he was very angry with the Tyrians and the Sidonians;^y so they came to him in a body, and winning over Blastus, the chief chamberlain, they pleaded for peace; for their country depended on the country of the king for its food.

²¹On the appointed day Herod, arrayed in his royal robes, took his seat on the throne and made a public address to them. ²²The mob shouted, "A voice of a god and not of a man!" ²³But instantly an angel of the Lord struck him, because he did not ascribe the

v) Claudius was the Roman emperor, A.D. 41-54.

w) This was Herod Agrippa I, a grandson of Herod I (Herod the Great) and King of Judea, A.D. 41-44.

x) James was a half brother of Jesus; he became the presiding officer of the Jerusalem church.

y) See note on Sidon at Matt. 11:21.

glory to God. He was eaten by worms, and died. ²⁴But the word of God kept on growing and multiplying.

²⁵And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, when they had finished their ministry there, and brought along John, surnamed Mark.

c. A.D. 47

13 NOW THERE WERE IN THE church that was at Antioch prophets and teachers, such as Barnabas, and Simon, known as Niger,² and Lucius of Cyrene; also Manaen, a childhood companion of Herod the Tetrarch, and Saul. ²And as they were worshiping the Lord and fasting the Holy Spirit said, "Set apart for Me Barnabas and Saul for the work to which I have called them."^a ³Then, after fasting and prayer and laying on of hands, they sent them away.

⁴So they, as they were sent out^b by the Holy Spirit, went down to Seleucia and from there they sailed to Cyprus. ⁵Arriving at Salamis, they preached the word of God in the Jewish synagogues. And they had John^c as their helper. ⁶Traversing the entire island as far as Paphos, they came across a Jewish magician, a false prophet named Bar-jesus,⁷ who was attached to the proconsul Sergius Paulus, an intelligent man who summoned Barnabas and Saul, seeking to hear the word of God. ⁸But Elymas, the magician (for such is his name translated), opposed them by trying to turn the proconsul away from the faith.

⁹But Saul — also called Paul — filled with the Holy Spirit, looked straight at him ¹⁰and said, "You son of the devil! You enemy of everything that is right, full of every deceit and villainy, will you never stop making crooked the straight ways of the Lord? ¹¹Now then the Lord's hand is on you. And you will be blind, not enjoying the sunlight for a time."

Instantly there fell on him a mist of darkness so that he groped around in search of someone to lead him by the hand. ¹²Then the proconsul, when he saw what had happened, believed, for he was astonished at the teaching about the Lord.

¹³From Paphos Paul and his company sailed away to Perga in Pamphylia, where John separated himself from them and returned to Jerusalem; ¹⁴but they went on from Perga and reached Pisidian Antioch.^d

Entering the synagogue on the Sabbath, they took their seats; ¹⁵but after the reading of the Law and the Prophets, the synagogue leaders sent them the message: "Brothers, if you have any word of encouragement for the people, speak up." ¹⁶So Paul stood up and, motioning with his hand for silence, said:^e

"Men of Israel and all you who reverence God, listen. ¹⁷The God of this people Israel selected our fathers and made them a great nation, when they lived as foreigners in the land of Egypt; then with an uplifted arm He led them out from there. ¹⁸For about forty years He endured their behavior in the wilderness; ¹⁹then, destroying seven

2) "Niger" means black.

a) The title of this book, The Acts of the Apostles, appears to have been given it after the first century. Many have suggested that a better name would be The Acts of the Holy Spirit.

b) On Paul's first missionary journey, chs. 13:4-14:26, he was accompanied by Barnabas and for a while by John Mark, 13:5, 13. The party sailed from Seleucia, a Syrian port on the Mediterranean coast near Antioch, 13:1, 4, to the Island of Cyprus, 13:4, where they preached the Gospel from Salamis, at the eastern end of the island, as far as Paphos on the west, 13:5, 6. From Paphos they sailed to the region of Pamphylia in what is now southern Turkey. They must have landed at the seaport, Attalia, and gone immediately to nearby Perga, where John Mark left them, and then on to Antioch in Pisidia, 13:14. Paul and Barnabas traveled eastward from there to Iconium, 13:51, southward to Lystra, and from there southeast to Derbe in the Lycaonian region, 14:18. The two men retraced their steps to Lystra, Iconium and Antioch in Pisidia, 14:21, from which place they journeyed south to Perga and over to Attalia, where they set sail for their starting point, Antioch in Syria. The tour lasted about two years, A.D. 47-49.

c) That is, Mark, Cf. ch. 12:25.

d) Antioch in Pisidia (now Yalvac or Yalvaj in central Turkey) is about 300 miles northwest of Antioch in Syria, where the missionary journey began. Pisidian Antioch was originally a Greek city but became a Roman colony before the first century A.D.

e) There is a certain resemblance between the message that follows and Stephen's address in ch. 7. Of course Paul heard Stephen speak, 7:58-60. It was not that, however, that caused the resemblance but the fact that both men were expounding the Old Testament.

nations in the land of Canaan,^f He distributed their land by lot — ²⁰all of which took about four hundred and fifty years.^g

"After that He gave them judges until the Prophet Samuel. ²¹At that time they asked for a king and God gave them Saul, the son of Kish of the tribe of Benjamin, for forty years. ²²After deposing him, He raised up David for their king, of whom He testified,^h 'I have found David, the son of Jesse, a man agreeable to My heart, who will fulfill all My desires.'

²³"From his offspring God has brought Israel a Savior, even Jesus, according to the promise, ²⁴after John had preached to all the people of Israel the baptism of repentance, preparatory to His coming. ²⁵And as John was finishing, he said, 'Who do you suppose me to be? I am not He; but One is coming after me whose sandals I am not fit to untie.'

²⁶"Brothers, sons of Abraham's family and all among you who revere God, to us this message of salvation has been sent; ²⁷for those who live in Jerusalem and their rulers, because they did not know Him, even though the words of the prophets are read every Sabbath, fulfilled them when they sentenced Him; ²⁸and although finding no crime that deserved death, they requested of Pilate that He be executed. ²⁹And when they fulfilled everything that is written about Him, they took Him down from the cross and laid Him in a tomb. ³⁰But God raised Him from the dead, ³¹and for many days He appeared to those who had come up with Him from Galilee to Jerusalem, the very ones who are now His witnesses to the people.

³²"So we are bringing you the good news of the promise ³³which God has fulfilled to us their children by raising Jesus from the dead, as it is written in the second Psalm,ⁱ 'Thou art My Son; today I have become Thy Father.'

³⁴But that He raised Him from the dead, never to return to decay, He has expressed this way,^j 'I will give you the sacred blessings assured to David.'

³⁵"For this reason He says in another passage,^k 'Thou wilt not allow Thy Holy One to see corruption.' ³⁶For David, after serving the purpose of God in his own generation, died and was buried with his fathers, and underwent decay; ³⁷but He whom God raised did not experience decomposition.

³⁸"It should be clear then to you, brothers, that through this One forgiveness of sins is announced to you. ³⁹In Him every believer is absolved from everything from which you could not be absolved by the Law of Moses. ⁴⁰So be careful that the prophetic utterance^l does not become your experience, ⁴¹'Look, you scoffers, marvel and vanish; for in your time I will accomplish a deed such as you will never believe even if someone relates it to you.'

⁴²As Paul and Barnabas went out, the people begged to have the same things told them the next Sabbath, ⁴³and when the synagogue was dismissed many of the Jews and of the devout proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas, who talked to them and persuaded them to continue in the grace of God.

⁴⁴The next Sabbath nearly the whole city gathered to hear the word of God; ⁴⁵but when the Jews noticed the crowds, they became terribly jealous. They contradicted what Paul had said, and talked abusively. ⁴⁶Paul and Barnabas declared fearlessly, "God's message had to be told to you first, but since you reject it and do not consider yourselves worthy of eternal life, we are turning to the Gentiles. ⁴⁷For so the Lord has commanded^m us, 'I have appointed you to be a light to the Gentiles, to bring salvation to the ends of the earth.'"

f) The land now known as Israel.

g) That is, from the time of Abraham's call, Gen. 12:1.

h) 1 Sam. 13:14.

i) Ps. 2:7.

j) Isa. 55:3 and applied here as a Messianic promise.

k) Ps. 16:10.

l) Hab. 1:5.

m) Isa. 49:6.

⁴⁸When they heard this, the Gentiles were glad; they acclaimed the Lord's message and as many as were appointed to eternal life believed. ⁴⁹And the word of the Lord was carried all over the country. ⁵⁰The Jews, however, stirred up the devout women of high repute and the outstanding men of the city, and instigated persecution against Paul and Barnabas and drove them out of their territory. ⁵¹But they shook the dust from their feet against them and went to Iconium, ⁵²and the disciples were filled with joy and with the Holy Spirit.

c. A.D. 48

14 THE SAME THING HAPPENED AT Iconium. They went into the Jewish synagogue and so spoke that a large group both of Jews and of Greeks believed. ²But the unbelieving Jews stirred and embittered the minds of the Gentiles against the brothers. ³So they remained for a considerable time, speaking freely with reliance on the Lord, who witnessed to the message of His grace by granting signs and wonders to be performed by their hands.

⁴The population of the town was divided, some siding with the Jews and some with the apostles; ⁵but when both Gentiles and Jews with their rulers created a movement to mistreat and to stone them, ⁶and they grew aware of it, they fled to the Lycaonian towns of Lystra and Derbe and the surrounding area; ⁷where they went on preaching the good news.

⁸At Lystra there was a man seated who had no strength in his feet; he was lame from birth and had never walked. ⁹He heard Paul speaking, who in turn looked straight at him and, seeing that he had faith to be healed, ¹⁰said in a loud voice, "Stand up straight on your feet." He sprang up and began to walk.

¹¹When the crowds saw what Paul had done, they shouted in Lycaonian,

"The gods have come down to us in human form!" ¹²So they called Barnabas Zeus, and Paul Hermes,ⁿ because he was the principal speaker. ¹³In fact, the priest of Zeus, whose temple was in front of the city brought oxen and wreaths to the gates of the city to join the people in offering sacrifice.

¹⁴But when the apostles^o Barnabas and Paul, learned of it, they tore their clothes and dashed forward among the crowds, ¹⁵shouting, "What is this you are doing, men? We are human, with emotions as yourselves. We are bringing you the good news to turn away from these useless things to the living God who made heaven, earth, and sea, and everything they contain. ¹⁶In days gone by He let all the nations go their own ways, ¹⁷though not leaving Himself without evidence as Benefactor; for He gave you rain from heaven and fruitful seasons and supplied you nourishment and enjoyment to your heart's content."

¹⁸Yet even though they spoke this way, they still had difficulty in stopping sacrificing to them. ¹⁹But Jews arrived from Antioch and Iconium, who influenced the crowds so that they stoned Paul, then dragged him out of the city supposing that he was dead. ²⁰As, however, the disciples were encircling him, he got up and entered the city. And the next day he went with Barnabas to Derbe. ²¹They brought the good news to that city and, after gaining a considerable number of disciples, went back to Lystra, to Iconium, and to Antioch, ²²reassuring the disciples spiritually and encouraging them to stand fast in the faith, and saying, "We must enter the kingdom of God by way of many afflictions."

²³They also appointed elders for them in each church, whom they committed with prayer and fasting to the Lord in whom they had come to believe.

²⁴After traveling through Pisidia,

n) Zeus was the chief of the Olympian gods; Hermes, reputedly the son of Zeus, was the herald of the gods. Zeus and Hermes are identified with the Roman gods Jupiter and Mercury.

o) Neither Paul nor Barnabas was of the Twelve, cf. ch. 1:13, 21-26, but they were apostles (from the Gk. verb apostello meaning to send). In the N.T. the word "apostle" seems to be used in a twofold sense: (1) strictly of those who were directly commissioned by Christ—the Twelve and Paul; and (2) more broadly of others who were not of the Twelve and Paul but were also called apostles, e.g. Barnabas, ch. 14:4, 14, and James, the brother of the Lord Jesus, Gal. 1:19.

they reached Pamphylia ²⁵and, when they had spoken the message at Perga, they went down to Attalia. ²⁶From there they sailed to Antioch, the place at which they had been entrusted to the grace of God for the work they had accomplished.

c. A.D. 49

²⁷Upon their arrival, they called a church meeting and reported what God had done with them, and how He had opened a door of faith for the Gentiles. ²⁸And they spent a long time with the disciples.

c. A.D. 50

15 SOME WHO CAME DOWN FROM Judea were teaching the brothers, "If you are not circumcised after the Mosaic custom, you cannot be saved." ²Since there was a great deal of dissension between Paul and Barnabas and these persons, it was arranged to have Paul and Barnabas and a few others of their number go up to the apostles and elders at Jerusalem about this dispute. ³So then, sent on their way by the church, they passed through Phoenicia and Samaria, where they narrated in detail the conversion of the Gentiles, and thus made all the brothers very happy.

⁴When they arrived in Jerusalem they were welcomed by the church and the apostles and the elders, and they reported what God had done with them. ⁵But some of the believers who belonged to the Pharisee^p party got up and said, "They must be circumcised and ordered to observe the Law of Moses."^q

⁶Then the apostles and the elders held a meeting to look into this question ⁷and, after much debate, Peter arose and said to them, "Brothers, you will recall that a good while back God made choice among you, that through my lips the Gentiles should hear the message of good news and believe, ⁸and God, who knows all hearts, gave them evidence by granting them the Holy Spirit just as He did to us. ⁹As He cleansed their hearts by faith, He did not at all discriminate between us and them. ¹⁰Now then, why be a trial to God by placing a yoke on the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we have been able to carry? ¹¹Instead, we believe that we shall be saved through the grace of the Lord Jesus in the same way they are."^r

¹²The entire assembly kept quiet and heard Barnabas and Paul tell the story of the signs and wonders which God had done among the Gentiles through them. ¹³Then, after they had finished, James made reply, "Brothers, listen to me. ¹⁴Symeon^s has been telling how early God visited the Gentiles to take out a people for His name, ¹⁵and the words of the prophets are in agreement with this, as it is written,^t ¹⁶After this I will return and reconstruct David's tent that has fallen down and rebuild its ruins and restore it, ¹⁷so that the rest of the people may search for the Lord, even all the nations over whom My name has been invoked, says the Lord who does these things, ¹⁸which are known from eternity."^u

¹⁹"It is my judgment, therefore, that we should not trouble those who turn to God out of the Gentiles, ²⁰but that we direct them to abstain from what is contaminated by idols^u and from unchastity, and from the meat of strangled animals, and from blood. ²¹For Moses has from earliest times in every city those proclaiming him, because he is read in the synagogues each Sabbath."

²²Then it pleased the apostles and the elders, as well as the whole church, to select some of their men to be sent

p) See note at Matt. 3:7.

q) Not only the Ten Commandments but also all the ceremonial regulations of the Mosaic Law are referred to in this statement.

r) Peter and Paul are in complete agreement that salvation is by grace through faith and not by the works of the Law. Compare Peter's statement here with Paul's teaching in Gal. 2:16; Eph. 2:8, 9.

s) Simon Peter. "Symeon" is the Greek form of the name Simon.

t) Amos 9:11, 12.

u) By having been dedicated to those idols.

to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas — Judas known as Barsabbas, and Silas, who were leaders among the brothers, ²³and they carried this letter:

"The brothers, including the apostles and elders, to the brothers from the Gentiles in Antioch, in Syria, and in Cilicia, greeting.^v ²⁴Since we have heard that some who came out there from among us but were not authorized by us have troubled you with messages and have unsettled your minds, ²⁵we have unanimously thought it well to send you chosen men with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, ²⁶men who have jeopardized their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. ²⁷So we are dispatching Judas and Silas, who will themselves announce these things by word of mouth; ²⁸for it seemed good to the Holy Spirit and to us to load you with no further burden except these essentials: ²⁹that you abstain from food offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled meat, and from unchastity. If you keep yourselves clear from these, you will get along splendidly. Farewell."

³⁰So then, those who were dispatched went down to Antioch and, after gathering the entire body together, they delivered the letter; ³¹and when they^w had read it, they rejoiced because of its encouragement. ³²Both Judas and Silas, who were themselves prophets, encouraged and strengthened the brothers with a long speech. ³³When they had spent some time there the brothers sent them away with peace to those who had sent them, ³⁴[though Silas decided to stay there.]^x

³⁵Paul and Barnabas remained at Antioch, teaching and preaching with many others the message of the Lord. ³⁶But some time later Paul said to Barnabas, "Let us go back and look in on the brothers in every city in which we have preached the word of the Lord, to see how they are getting along." ³⁷But Barnabas wanted to take along John, called Mark, ³⁸while Paul considered it ill-fitting to take with them the man who had quit them in Pamphylia and had failed to accompany them to the work. ³⁹The disagreement became so strong that they separated from each other, and Barnabas, taking along Mark,^y sailed for Cyprus, ⁴⁰while Paul, selecting Silas, set out, commended by the brothers to the grace of the Lord, ⁴¹and passed through Syria and Cilicia,^z strengthening the churches.

16 HE CAME DOWN TO DERBE AND to Lystra, where a certain disciple named Timothy, the son of a believing Jewess and a Greek father, lived, ²who was well recommended by the brothers in Lystra and Iconium. ³Paul wanted him to go with him, so he took and circumcised him because of the local Jews who all knew that his father was a Greek.

⁴As they traveled from one city to another they delivered to them the regulations which the apostles and elders in Jerusalem had decided they

v) In letters written in the first century the signature was placed first; then the address and introductory greeting.

w) Christians at Antioch.

x) Verse 34, enclosed in brackets, is not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

y) It is not revealed why Mark, who was Barnabas' cousin, left Paul and Barnabas at Pamphylia or exactly why Paul and Barnabas separated because of him. But that Luke reports this dispute shows his honesty as a historian. Later, although how it came to pass is not stated, Mark was fully reconciled to Paul and worked with him, Col. 4:10; II Tim. 4:11; Philem. 24.

z) On Paul's second missionary journey, chs. 15:36-18:22, he was accompanied by Silas, 15:4. Timothy joined the two men at Lystra, 16:1-3. The trip began at Antioch in Syria, 15:35, as did the first missionary tour. From Antioch Paul and Silas went by foot north into Cilicia, encouraging churches that were already in existence, 15:41. Then they moved on to places that Paul had visited on his first tour — Derbe, Lystra and Iconium, 16:1, 2 — and proceeded into the regions of Phrygia and Galatia, 16:6, which was located in Asia Minor in the area that is now Turkey. They stopped briefly in Troas, 16:7, 8, and from there went by sea to Philippi in Macedonia, evidently touching at Samothrace and Neapolis, 16:11, 12. After a powerful ministry in Philippi the apostles were beaten and imprisoned; but they were released and went on to Thessalonica, where they remained for about three weeks, 17:1. Again they met with opposition, so they moved on to Berea, 17:10. There they were well received. Visits to Athens and Corinth in Greece followed, 17:15-18:1; then back to Ephesus, 18:19, where Paul sailed for home. Landing at Caesarea, 18:22, he went to Jerusalem and then finally to Antioch where the long journey of more than three years' duration had begun, c. A.D. 50-53.

should observe. ⁵Thus the churches were strengthened in the faith and daily their number increased.

⁶They traversed Phrygia and the Galatian country, since they were forbidden by the Holy Spirit to speak the word in Asia.^a ⁷On reaching Mysia they tried to enter Bithynia, but the Spirit of Jesus did not permit them; ⁸so, by-passing Mysia, they came down to Troas.

⁹During the night a vision appeared to Paul — a Macedonian man who stood and pleaded with him, "Cross over into Macedonia and help us."

¹⁰At once, when he had seen the vision, we^b made attempts to enter Macedonia, for we concluded that God had called us to tell the good news to them. ¹¹So, sailing from Troas, we ran a straight course to Samothrace, and next day to Neapolis, and ¹²from there to Philippi, a colony and chief city of the Macedonian district.

We stayed in this city a few days.

¹³And on the Sabbath day we went outside the gate of the city by the river-side, where we supposed that there was a place of worship and, when we sat down, we talked to the women who gathered. ¹⁴One woman, named Lydia, a purple-seller from the city of Thyatira, a worshiper of God, listened, and the Lord opened her heart to give attention to the things that Paul spoke. ¹⁵When she and her family had been baptized, she begged us, "If you consider me faithful to the Lord, come to my home and stay with us." And she prevailed upon us to come.

¹⁶But it happened, as we were going to the prayer service, that a servant girl met us who was possessed of a clairvoyant spirit, whose fortunetelling brought in much money for her owners. ¹⁷She followed Paul and us, shouting loudly, "These men are servants^c of the Most High God; they are announcing to you the way of salvation."

¹⁸For many days she kept this up; then Paul was annoyed and, turning to the spirit, said, "I order you in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her." And that moment it left her.

¹⁹When her owners became aware that their hope for gains was gone, they grabbed Paul and Silas and dragged them before the authorities in the market place ²⁰and, bringing them to the magistrates, said, "These men are Jews and they are creating a disturbance in our city; ²¹they are advocating ways of behavior which as Romans we ought neither to welcome nor observe."

²²The crowd also joined against them, and the officials, after having them stripped, ordered them flogged; ²³then, after giving them a severe beating, they threw them into prison, charging the jailor to guard them securely.^d ²⁴In view of this order he threw them into the inner prison and fastened their feet in the stocks.

²⁵But about midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns to God, and the prisoners were listening to them. ²⁶Then suddenly a tremendous earthquake occurred, which shook the prison to its foundations. At once all the doors sprang open and everyone's chains fell off. ²⁷When the jailor awoke and saw the prison doors standing open, he drew his sword and was about to kill himself, supposing that the prisoners had escaped. ²⁸But Paul called out loudly, "Do not harm yourself, for we are all here!"

²⁹Asking for a light, he rushed in and fell terror-stricken before Paul and Silas, ³⁰and when he led them out he said, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?" ³¹They said, "Believe on the Lord Jesus and you will be saved, and

a) The Asia of the N.T. was the southwestern province of what we now know as Asia Minor.

b) The use of the pronoun in the first person plural indicates that the author, Luke, a capable historian, joined Paul and his party here at Troas. Luke evidently left them at Philippi, for the "we" does not appear in the text again until ch. 20:5, when Paul returned to Troas with Luke. Thereafter "the beloved physician," Col. 4:14, accompanied the apostle all the way to Rome, ch. 28:16, and it seems that he was with Paul during at least the major portion of the apostle's imprisonment there, II Tim. 4:11.

c) See note at Matt. 13:27.

d) Despite Paul's Roman citizenship, cf. chs. 21:39; 22:27, 28, no opportunity was given him to plead his case, vs. 37.

your family also." ³²Then they told him, together with his whole family, the word of the Lord.

³³At that very hour of the night the jailor took them and washed their wounds; and he was baptized then and there, he and all that were his. ³⁴Then, taking them up to his house, he set food before them and was extremely happy with all his loved ones because they had believed in God.

³⁵With the break of day the magistrates sent their orderlies to say, "Let these men go." ³⁶So the jailor reported the message to Paul, "The magistrates have sent to release you; now then you may leave in peace." ³⁷But Paul told them, "After flogging us publicly without trial, though we are Romans, they threw us in prison, now will they put us out secretly? Not at all. Instead, let them come themselves and take us out."

³⁸The orderlies reported these sayings to the magistrates, who grew alarmed at hearing they were Romans. ³⁹They came and apologized to them, and when they had brought them out, they begged them to leave the city. ⁴⁰So they left the prison and went to Lydia's house, and when they had seen the brothers, they encouraged them and then departed.

c. A.D. 51

17 PASSING THROUGH AMPHIPOLIS and Apollonia, they arrived at Thessalonica, where there was a Jewish synagogue ²and, as was his custom, Paul went to meet with them. For three Sabbaths he argued with them out of the Scriptures, ³explaining and pointing out that the Christ must suffer and then rise from the dead, saying, "This Jesus, whom I preach to you, is the Christ."

⁴Some of them were persuaded and associated themselves with Paul and Silas — a large group of devout Greeks, as well as a number of prominent women. ⁵But the Jews grew jealous;

they got hold of some unprincipled loungers of the market place and formed a mob to set the city in an uproar, and then attacked Jason's house seeking to bring them out to the mob. ⁶And when they did not find them, they dragged Jason and some of the brothers before the city fathers, shouting, "These who have turned the world upside down have come here too; ⁷Jason has taken them into his house as guests; they all oppose Caesar's ordinances, claiming there is another king — Jesus."

⁸The crowd and the magistrates were stirred up when they heard this, ⁹and when they had taken security from Jason and from the rest, they let them go.

¹⁰At once the brothers sent away Paul and Silas, to Berea by night. Upon their arrival, they attended the Jewish synagogue. ¹¹But these were of a nobler attitude than those in Thessalonica; for they heartily welcomed the message and made a daily study of the Scriptures, whether these things were so. ¹²Many of them, therefore, believed, including prominent Greek women and a number of men.

¹³But when the Jews of Thessalonica became aware that the word of God was proclaimed by Paul in Berea also, they came there to agitate and stir up the crowds. ¹⁴Then the brothers sent Paul off at once as far as the sea, but both Silas and Timothy remained there. ¹⁵Those who were conducting Paul took him to Athens and returned with instructions to Silas and Timothy that they should join him as soon as possible.

¹⁶While Paul was awaiting them in Athens, his soul was deeply vexed when he observed the idol-filled city. ¹⁷Accordingly, in the synagogue he discoursed with the Jews and the devout adherents, and daily in the market place with those he chanced to meet. ¹⁸Some of the Epicurean^e and of the Stoic^f philosophers also encountered

e) The Epicureans, followers of Epicurus, 341-270 B.C., held that the end of all things was personal pleasure.

f) The Stoics, disciples of Zeno, 336-264 B.C., believed quite the opposite of the Epicurean philosophy, for they condemned desire for personal happiness as weakness, and taught self-repression and indifference to both pleasure and pain.

him, and some said, "What would this babbler be trying to say?" But others said, "He seems to be announcing foreign deities," because he told the good news of Jesus and the resurrection.

¹⁹They took hold of him, brought him to the Areopagus^g and said, "May we know what this new teaching is, about which you are talking?" ²⁰For you are bringing some strange matters to our ears; we want to know just what they mean." ²¹For all the Athenians and the visiting foreigners spent their time in nothing else than to tell or to hear something novel.

²²Standing in the center of the Areopagus, Paul said: "Men of Athens, I notice on every hand how religious you are; ²³for as I went throughout your city and looked carefully at your sacred objects, I found even an altar with the inscription, TO AN UNKNOWN GOD. Now what you revere without knowing it, that I proclaim to you: ²⁴The God who made the world and all it contains, who is Lord of heaven and earth, does not dwell in temples built by human hands, ²⁵neither is He served by human hands as if He lacked anything — He, the Giver of life and breath and all things to every one. ²⁶He has made from one person every nation of men to settle on the entire surface of the earth, definitely appointing the pre-established periods and the boundaries of their settlements, ²⁷so that they might seek for God, if only they would feel for and find Him, although He is not far from each of us; ²⁸for 'in Him we live and move and have our being.' As some of your own poets^h have expressed themselves, 'For we are also His offspring.' ²⁹Now then, since we have our being from God, we certainly should not have the idea that the Deity resembles gold or silver or stone or anything humanly manufactured or invented.

³⁰"However, while God overlooked those times of ignorance, He is now summoning all people everywhere to repent, ³¹since He has fixed a day when He is to judge the world righteously through a Man whom He has destined for the task, having furnished proof to everyone by raising Him from the dead."

³²Hearing of the resurrection from the dead, some scoffed, while others said, "We shall hear you again about this." ³³So it was that Paul went out from among them. ³⁴However, some men associated themselves with him and believed, of whom may be mentioned Dionysius, a member of the court of the Areopagus; also a woman called Damaris, and others besides them.

c. A.D. 51-53

18 AFTER THIS HE LEFT ATHENS and went to Corinth, ²where he met a Jew named Aquila, a native of Pontus, and Priscilla his wife, who had but recently migrated from Italy, because of Claudius' order that all Jews must leave Rome. He called on them, ³and, as they were of the same occupation, he stayed with them and worked with them; for they were tent-makers by trade. ⁴And every Sabbath he discoursed in the synagogue and won over both Jews and Greeks.

⁵When Silas and Timothy came down from Macedonia, ¹Paul was completely absorbed in preaching the message, strongly urging upon the Jews that Jesus was the Messiah. ⁶But since they kept opposing and defaming him, he shook out his garments against them and said to them, "Your blood be upon your heads! I am innocent. From now on I am going to the Gentiles."

⁷Then he left there and entered the house of a God-fearing man called Titius Justus, whose house adjoined the synagogue. ⁸But Crispus, the leader

g) "Areopagus" means Hill of Ares, Ares being the Greek god of war corresponding to the Roman god Mars. Mars Hill is a more familiar designation of the Areopagus than The Hill of Ares.

h) "In Him we live and move and have our being" is from the writings of the Cretan poet, Epimenides, seventh century B.C. "For we are also His offspring" is attributed to Cleanthes, a stoic philosopher, and also to Aratus, a Cilician poet, both third century B.C.

i) Macedonia was a dominant power in the fourth century B.C. when Alexander, its king, conquered Greece. Macedonia was situated in what is now northern Greece. Included in its territory were Philippi, Thessalonica and Berea.

of the synagogue, believed in the Lord with his entire family, and many of the Corinthians who listened believed and were baptized. ⁹Then in a night vision the Lord said to Paul: "Have no fear, but speak and do not keep still, ¹⁰because I am with you and none will attack you in order to harm you because I have many people in this city." ¹¹So he settled down among them for a year and six months, teaching the word of God.

c. A.D. 53

¹²When, however, Gallio^j was proconsul of Achaia,^k the Jews unitedly rose against Paul and led him before the court, ¹³declaring, "This fellow advises the people to worship God in an unlawful way." ¹⁴But as Paul was at the point of speaking, Gallio told the Jews, "If, O Jews, it were a matter of crookedness or a serious crime, it would be reasonable to put up with you; ¹⁵but if it is a question of words and names and law among yourselves, then it is your own concern. I do not care to be judge of such matters." ¹⁶And he drove them from the court.

¹⁷Then they got hold of the ruler of the synagogue, Sosthenes, and in front of the court gave him a beating; but Gallio paid no attention to any of these things.

¹⁸After staying several days more, Paul bade the brothers farewell and sailed for Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila. He had his hair cut short at Cenchrea, for he had made a vow.

¹⁹They arrived in Ephesus,^l where Paul left them while he went himself to the synagogue to have a discussion with the Jews. ²⁰They requested him to remain for a longer time, but he did not consent. ²¹Instead, he said goodbye to them with the promise, "God willing, I shall come back to you." He then sailed from Ephesus ²²and landed at Caesarea;^m then, after going up to greet the church,ⁿ he went down to Antioch.

c. A.D. 54

²³After spending some time there, he took his leave and made his way^o successively through the Galatian country and through Phrygia, strengthening all the disciples.

²⁴Now there was a Jew named Apollos, a native Alexandrian, a man of learning, and powerful in the Scriptures, who came to Ephesus. ²⁵This man had been instructed in the way of the Lord and with a burning spirit he spoke and taught accurately of the things concerning Jesus, although he was acquainted only with the baptism of John. ²⁶He began to speak freely in the synagogue; but Priscilla and Aquila, after listening to him, took him aside and explained the way of God more accurately to him.

²⁷And as he planned to cross over to Achaia, the brothers wrote the disciples, urging them to give him a hearty welcome. On his arrival he proved of great benefit to those who through grace were believers; ²⁸for

j) Gallio is said to have been the brother of Seneca, Roman philosopher and author who was one of Nero's teachers.

k) Achaia was located in the southern area of what presently is Greece. Corinth was Achaia's capital and Sparta an influential city.

l) Ephesus was the leading city of Ionia and lay on the west coast of what is now Turkey, i.e., on the eastern edge of the Ionian Sea.

m) See note at ch. 8:40.

n) The church at Jerusalem.

o) Paul's third missionary journey, chs. 18:23-21:15, began at Antioch, 18:22, as had the first two. He went north to the Roman province of Galatia in Asia Minor and then westward to a section of the province known as Phrygia, encouraging believers in all these areas, 18:23. At length he moved on to Ephesus in Ionia, where he spent about three years. After an unhappy experience in Ephesus, related to images of Artemis, 19:23-41, the apostle traveled farther west into Macedonia and from there southward into Greece, 20:1, 2, where he stayed for three months. Again opponents sought to seize him, 20:3, so that he went back to Macedonia, accompanied by seven men, 20:4, who evidently went on ahead to Troas in Mysia, Asia Minor. In Philippi Luke joined Paul, 20:6 (see note at ch. 16:10). They sailed from Troas, where Paul's seven friends met them, and spent a week there. From Troas the party went south by land and sea to Miletus, 20:13-15. There Paul said farewell to the elders of Ephesus, for whom he had sent, since he did not expect ever to see them again, 20:17-38. The apostle and his companions sailed from Miletus to Tyre, 21:1, where they spent a week, after which they journeyed by way of Ptolemais and Caesarea to Jerusalem, 21:15, where the trip of about four years ended, A.D. 54-58.

with power he publicly refuted the Jews, proving through the Scriptures that Jesus was the Messiah.

19 WHILE APOLLOS WAS IN CORINTH, Paul, who had traveled overland, came down to Ephesus where he met some disciples, ²whom he asked, "Did you receive the Holy Spirit on your becoming believers?" But they answered him, "Why, we have not even heard that there is a Holy Spirit." ³He asked, "Into what, then, were you baptized?" They said, "Into John's baptism." ⁴So Paul added, "John baptized the baptism of repentance, telling the people that they should believe in the One who was to come after him, that is, in Jesus."

⁵On hearing this, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus. ⁶And as Paul laid his hands upon them, the Holy Spirit came on them and they talked in tongues and prophesied. ⁷Altogether there were about a dozen men.

⁸He also went into the synagogue and for three months he spoke with boldness, persuasively discussing the things concerning the kingdom of God. ⁹When, however, some became stubborn, refusing to believe and denouncing the Way^p before the people, he turned from them, taking the disciples with him and went on holding daily discussions^q in the school of Tyrannus. ¹⁰This kept up for two years, so that the whole population of the province of Asia, Jews as well as Greeks, heard the word of the Lord.

¹¹God performed uncommon miracles, too, through the hands of Paul ¹²to such an extent that people carried off to the sick handkerchiefs or aprons he had handled, and their illnesses were removed and the evil spirits cast out.

¹³But certain traveling Jews who practiced exorcism^r undertook to name over those that had evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus by saying, "I adjure you by the Jesus whom Paul preaches." ¹⁴Seven sons of a certain Sceva, a Jewish chief priest, practiced this; ¹⁵but the evil spirit replied to them, "Jesus I know and I am acquainted with Paul, but you, who are you?" ¹⁶Then the man in whom the evil spirit dwelt, leaped on them, overpowered all of them and was so violent against them that they fled from that house stripped and wounded. ¹⁷This became known to all the Jews and Greeks who lived in Ephesus, and awe fell on them all; and they extolled the name of the Lord Jesus.

¹⁸And many who believed came and made full confession and declaration of their magic practices, ¹⁹and quite a number of those who had practiced magic arts collected the books into a pile and burned them before everybody. Counting up their value, they found them priced at ten thousand dollars.^s ²⁰Thus mightily did the word of the Lord grow and become stronger.

²¹After these events took place Paul decided under the direction of the Spirit to travel to Jerusalem by way of Macedonia and Achaia, and said, "After I have been there, I must see Rome also." ²²So he sent two of his assistants into Macedonia, Timothy and Erastus, while he remained for some time longer in Asia.

c. A.D. 57

²³At about that time considerable disturbance occurred regarding the Way. ²⁴For a certain Demetrius, a silversmith who made silver shrines of Artemis^t and provided the artisans with a large income, ²⁵called them together along with the workmen of the same trade and said, "Men, you know that we are deriving a good living from

p) See note at ch. 9:2

q) Some ancient manuscripts add "from ten until three."

r) Exorcism is the practice of addressing evil spirits by magic or religious formulas, or trying to expel them by the employment of a holy name.

s) The text reads "fifty thousand pieces of silver." These silver coins were probably Greek drachmas. A drachma would be the equivalent of about twenty cents in mid-twentieth century U.S. currency.

t) Artemis, the Greek counterpart of the Roman Diana, was the mythological goddess of the moon and fertility.

this trade. ²⁶Now you observe and hear how not only at Ephesus but in almost all Asia this Paul is alienating many people by persuading them that gods made by human hands are not real gods. ²⁷So there is danger not merely that our trade will come into disrepute but also that the temple of the great goddess, Artemis, will be looked upon as nothing and her magnificent glory will come to an end — she whom all Asia and all the world worship."

²⁸As they listened they became full of anger and shouted, "Great is Artemis of Ephesus!" ²⁹Then the city was filled with confusion and, after dragging away Gaius and Aristarchus of Macedonia, fellow travelers of Paul, they pushed together into the theater. ³⁰When Paul wanted to enter the assembly, the disciples did not permit him ³¹and even some of the deputies of the assembly who were his friends, sent him warning not to risk himself in the theater.

³²Some were shouting this and others that; for the assembly was just a tumult and the majority had no idea why they had come together. ³³Some of the crowd advised Alexander to speak, since he was pushed forward by the Jews, and Alexander motioned with the hand, as he wished to make his defense before the mob; ³⁴but as soon as they recognized him as a Jew, the whole crowd as with one voice broke into a shouting that lasted two hours, "Great is Artemis of Ephesus!"

³⁵But the town clerk quieted the mob and said, "Fellow Ephesians, where is there a person who does not know that Ephesus is the temple guardian of the great Artemis and of her image that fell from heaven? ³⁶Since this is undeniable, you should compose yourselves and not do anything rashly. ³⁷For you have brought these men here, who are neither temple destroyers nor insulters of our goddess. ³⁸Now then, if Demetrius and his fellow craftsmen have a complaint against anyone, courts are in session and proconsuls are available; let them bring charges against each other. ³⁹But if you have further complaint, then let it be straightened out in the legal assembly. ⁴⁰For we are in danger of being accused of riot on account of today's affairs, since there is no reason whatever that we can offer for this disorderly gathering." ⁴¹And with these words he dismissed the gathering.

20 AFTER THE TUMULT HAD ceased, Paul sent for the disciples to see him, gave them encouragement, bade them farewell and left for Macedonia. ²Then, after traveling through those parts and encouraging the brothers in a long speech, he came to Greece, ³where he spent three months. When he was about to sail for Syria, he decided to return by way of Macedonia, because of a plot against him on the part of the Jews.

c. A.D. 58

⁴There accompanied him Sopater, son of Pyrrhus of Berea; Aristarchus and Secundus, both of Thessalonica; Gaius of Derbe, and Timothy; also Tychicus and Trophimus of Asia; ⁵and they went on ahead and awaited us" at Troas. Then, after the days of the Feast of Unleavened Bread, ⁶we sailed out from Philippi and reached them in five days at Troas, where we tarried for seven days.

⁷As we were gathered for the breaking of bread on the first day of the week, Paul talked with them and, since he intended to leave the next morning, he prolonged his message until midnight. ⁸There were numerous lamps in the upper room in which we met; ⁹and a young man named Eutychus was sitting in the window and, while Paul kept on talking heaviness of sleep proved too much for him; so as he sagged down in his sleep, fell from the third story and was picked up lifeless. ¹⁰However, Paul went down, stooped over him and embraced him, saying, "Have no anxiety, for his soul is in him." ¹¹Then going up again, he broke the bread and ate, conversed at length even until daybreak and left just as he was. ¹²They took the young man home alive, and were greatly encouraged.

¹³We went on ahead to the ship and sailed to Assos, intending to take Paul on board there; for so he had arranged it, intending himself to travel there on foot. ¹⁴So, when he met us at Assos, we took him aboard and went to Mitylene. ¹⁵The next day we sailed on from there to a point facing Chios; the next we crossed over to Samos and the day after we arrived at Miletus. ¹⁶For Paul had decided to sail past Ephesus, so that he might lose no time in Asia, for he was hastening to be in Jerusalem on the Day of Pentecost if at all possible.

¹⁷From Miletus he sent messengers to Ephesus and called the elders of the church to him ¹⁸and, when they arrived, he told them, "You are well acquainted with my behavior among you from the day I first set foot in Asia and ever since; ¹⁹how I have served the Lord with all humility in tears and in trials that befell me because of the plottings of the Jews; ²⁰how I never failed to tell you what was for your benefit and to teach you publicly and in homes; ²¹how I bore testimony to both Jews and Greeks that they should repent before God and have faith in our Lord Jesus.

²²"And now I am bound by the Spirit to go to Jerusalem, and what is going to happen to me I do not know; ²³except that the Holy Spirit in one city after another testifies to me that bonds and affliction await me. ²⁴However, I am not concerned about anything; neither is my life dear to me except to finish my course and the ministry which I accepted from the Lord Jesus to bear witness to the gospel of the grace of God.

²⁵"And now I know that you all, among whom I have gone in and out preaching the kingdom, will see my face no more. ²⁶For this reason I bear you witness today that I am guiltless of the blood of all of you; ²⁷for I have not fallen short at all of preaching to you the whole purpose of God. ²⁸Be on guard for yourselves and for the entire flock over which the Holy Spirit has appointed you overseers; shepherd the church of God,^v which He has bought with His own blood.

²⁹"For I know that after I have left, savage wolves will make their way to you, that have no mercy on the flock; ³⁰and from your own number also persons will arise who will teach distorted things to draw away the disciples after them. ³¹Keep on the lookout, therefore, and remember how for three years with many tears I never stopped night and day giving each of you warning.

³²"And now, I commit you to God and to the word of His grace, which is able to build you up and grant you the inheritance among all those made holy.

³³"I have set my heart on no one's silver or gold or clothing. ³⁴You yourselves know that these hands supplied my needs and those of my companions. ³⁵I have in every way pointed out to you how, by working hard in this way, the needy must be assisted, and that we should remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how He said,^w 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.'

³⁶Having so spoken, he bowed his knees and prayed with them all. ³⁷They all wept freely; they fell on Paul's neck and fervently kissed him. ³⁸They were grieved especially over the remark he made, that they would not see his face any more. Then they escorted him to the ship.

21 WHEN WE HAD TORN OURselves away from their embrace and put out to sea, we ran a straight course to Cos; the next day to Rhodes, and from there to Patara; ²then, meeting with a ship that was crossing to Phoenicia, we embarked and set sail. ³Sighting Cyprus and leaving it to

v) Some ancient manuscripts read "Lord," Gk. kurios. In the O.T. Septuagint translation the word is sometimes used of God; in the N.T. it usually refers to Christ, who is God.

w) The church is indebted to Paul for this information, for there is no record in the Gospels of Jesus having said it.

our left, we sailed on to Syria and docked at Tyre, for there the ship had to discharge the cargo.

⁴We looked up the disciples and stayed there seven days. They advised Paul through the Spirit not to go on to Jerusalem; ⁵but when the time was up, we left and went on our journey escorted by all the believers with their wives and children until we were outside the city. Kneeling on the beach, we prayed, ⁶then embraced one another and embarked. And they went back to their homes.

⁷When we had completed our voyage from Tyre, we arrived at Ptolemais, and we greeted the brothers and stayed with them for one day. ⁸The following day we departed and arrived at Caesarea, where we called at the home of Philip, the evangelist, one of the seven,^x by whom we were entertained. ⁹He had four virgin daughters who prophesied.^y

¹⁰We had stopped there for several days when a prophet named Agabus came down from Judea and called on us. ¹¹He took Paul's belt and, tying his own feet and hands, he said, "Thus speaks the Holy Spirit: 'In this way the Jews in Jerusalem will bind the man who owns this belt and will deliver him to the Gentiles.'"

¹²On hearing this, both we and those who lived in that place urged him not to go up to Jerusalem. ¹³Then Paul replied,^z "What are you trying to do by weeping and discouraging me? I am prepared not merely to be bound but also to die at Jerusalem on behalf of the Lord Jesus." ¹⁴And as he could not be dissuaded, we stopped trying to persuade him and said, "The Lord's will be done."

¹⁵So when these days were over, we got ready for the trip and went up to Jerusalem. ¹⁶Some of the Caesarean disciples, who went along with us, brought us to the home of Mnason of Cyprus, an early disciple by whom we were to be entertained.

¹⁷When we arrived in Jerusalem, the brothers welcomed us joyfully ¹⁸and the next day Paul called on James, and we went with him. All the elders were present and, ¹⁹after we greeted them he recounted to them step by step what God had done among the Gentiles through his ministry. ²⁰As they listened to him, they gave glory to God and then said to him, "You see, brother, how many thousands of believers there are among the Jews, and they all remain zealous for the Law. ²¹But they have been informed about you, that you are teaching all the Jews who live among the Gentiles to turn away from Moses, telling them not to circumcise their children, neither to observe the ancestral customs. ²²Now, how about it? For they will learn that you have arrived. ²³So then, do as we tell you. We have here four men who have taken a vow. ²⁴Take them along, be purified with them and take care of their expenses so that they can have their heads shaved. Then everyone will realize that there is no basis for the reports about you, but that you yourself order your life in observance of the Law.

²⁵"With regard to Gentile believers, we have issued the resolution that they shall abstain from food offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled meat and from unchastity."

²⁶The following day Paul took the men along and, after undergoing the purification ritual with them, he entered the temple to announce the completion of the purification period, which would be when an offering had been made for each of them. ²⁷But when the seven days were about completed, the Jews from Asia who had noticed him in the temple stirred up the whole crowd and grabbed hold of him, ²⁸shouting, "You men of Israel, help! This is the man who teaches everyone everywhere against our nation, the Law, and this place, and besides, he has brought Greeks into the

x) The reference is to the seven deacons of ch. 6:1-16.

y) To prophesy is to declare the Word of God. Prophecy is not confined only to prediction of the future.

z) Divine guidance is a personal matter. Cf. chs. 19:21; 20:22; also 1 Kings 13:1-32.

temple and so defiled this holy place."²⁹For they had on an earlier date seen Trophimus of Ephesus with him in the city and supposed that Paul had brought him into the temple.

³⁰So the whole city became agitated; there was a rushing together of the people and, seizing Paul, they dragged him outside the temple, and instantly the doors were shut. ³¹They were trying to kill him, when the report reached the commander of the cohort^a that all Jerusalem was in an uproar.

³²At once he marched soldiers and their officers double-quick down to the mob which, on seeing the commander and the soldiers, stopped pommeling Paul.

³³The commander then advanced, took charge of him, ordered him bound with two chains, and inquired who he was and what he had done.

³⁴Among the mob some shouted this and others that; so, unable to get at the facts because of the tumult, he ordered him taken to the barracks. ³⁵But when Paul got as far as the steps he had to be carried by the soldiers because of the violence of the mob; ³⁶for the multitude of people followed him, shouting, "Away with him!"

³⁷At the point of being brought into the fortress, Paul said to the commander, "Am I permitted to have a word with you?" He said, "Do you know Greek? ³⁸Are not you the Egyptian^b who recently stirred up the rebellion and led out four thousand cutthroats^c into the wilderness?" ³⁹But Paul replied, "I am a Jew from Tarsus of Cilicia, a citizen of no insignificant city. I beg of you, please let me speak to the people." ⁴⁰With his permission Paul stood on the steps and motioned to the people and, when all of them were quiet, he addressed them in the Hebrew language^d in these words:

22 "BROTHERS AND FATHERS, LISTEN to the defense I now make to you." ²As soon as they heard him address them in Hebrew, they were still quieter, so he proceeded, ³"I am a Jew, a native of Tarsus in Cilicia, but brought up in this city. At the feet of Gamaliel I have been educated with exacting care in our ancestral Law, with a zeal for God such as you all have today.

⁴"As such I persecuted this Way^e to the death, binding and delivering to prison both men and women, ⁵as the high priest and the whole council of elders can bear me out. For from them I received letters to the brothers in Damascus,^f where I was going, to bring the believers there back as prisoners to Jerusalem for punishment.

⁶"But as I was nearing Damascus on my journey, suddenly at noonday an intense light from heaven shone around me, ⁷and as I fell to the ground, I heard a voice saying to me, 'Saul, Saul, why do you persecute Me?' ⁸But I answered, 'Who are You, Lord?' And He said to me, 'I am Jesus the Nazarene, whom you are persecuting.' ⁹Now my companions saw the light, but they did not hear the voice of the One who spoke to me.

¹⁰"I said, 'Lord, what shall I do?' Then the Lord said to me, 'Rise and go on to Damascus. There you will be told about all the work that has been laid out for you to do.' ¹¹However, because of the brilliance of that intense light, I was blinded; so I entered Damascus guided by the hands of my companions.

¹²"Then a man named Ananias, a man devoted to the Law and well spoken of by all the Jews who lived there, ¹³called on me, presented himself, and said to me, 'Brother Saul, re-

a) See note at ch. 10:1.

b) The historian Josephus tells of such an Egyptian who was one of many imposters at the time that Felix was governor of Jerusalem, cf. ch. 23:24. This man pretended to be a prophet. He predicted that the walls of Jerusalem would fall down and that he and his band could then enter and take the city. Felix sent an army to apprehend him, but he fled. It is not clear that the Egyptian of vs. 38 was the same man, for his rebellion may have been anterior to the governorship of Felix.

c) "Cutthroats" is translated from a Greek word, sikarios (nominative singular), which means literally a man armed with a dagger, therefore an assassin.

d) The language^e was the colloquial Aramaic that was used by the Jews of that period.

e) See note on "Way" at ch. 9:2.

f) See note on "Damascus" at ch. 9:2.

cover your sight,' and instantly I looked up at him. ¹⁴He said further, 'Our fathers' God has prepared you beforehand to know His will, to see the Just One and to hear a message from His own lips; ¹⁵for you will give testimony for Him to everyone concerning what you have seen and heard.' ¹⁶Now then, why hesitate? Rise; be baptized and, calling on His name, be cleansed of your sins.'

¹⁷"Then when I returned to Jerusalem and was praying in the temple, I had a vision ¹⁸and saw Him as He said to me, 'Hurry, get out of Jerusalem quickly, because they will not welcome your testimony about Me.' ¹⁹I replied, 'Lord, they know well enough that I went from synagogue to synagogue, arresting and beating those who believed in You, ²⁰and, when the blood of Your martyr Stephen was shed, I myself was standing by and approving, and I watched over the clothes of those who killed him.' ²¹And He said to me, 'Go, for I shall send you far away to the Gentiles.'"

²²They listened to him up to that statement; then they shouted, "Away from the earth with such a fellow; for he is not fit to live!" ²³While they were yelling, waving their clothes and throwing dust into the air, ²⁴the commander ordered him to be brought into the barracks and to be examined by means of flogging, so they might discover why they shouted at him that way. ²⁵But when they had tied him up to be flogged, Paul asked the captain in charge, "Is it legal to flog a Roman citizen without trial?" ²⁶On hearing that, the captain went to the commander and reported to him, with the remark, "What is to be done, for this man is a Roman?" ²⁷The commander then went to him and asked him, "Tell me, are you a Roman?" He said, "Yes." ²⁸The commander replied, "I have purchased this citizenship for a large sum." Paul responded, "But I was actually born a citizen." ²⁹Then at once those who were to examine him kept their hands off, and the commander was afraid, on discovering that Paul was a Roman, because he had bound him.

³⁰On the following day, with the purpose of finding out clearly why the Jews accused Paul, he unfastened him, ordered a session of the chief priests and the entire Sanhedrin, ¹ and had Paul brought down to face them.

23 SO, WITH A STRAIGHT LOOK AT the council, Paul spoke. "Brothers, I have behaved myself in the presence of God with an altogether clear conscience to this very day." ²But the high priest, Ananias, ordered the attendants to strike him on the mouth. ³Then Paul said to him, "God is about to strike you, you whitewashed wall! You are sitting here to judge me according to the Law, and are you ordering me to be struck contrary to the Law?"

⁴The bystanders said, "You insult the high priest of God?" ⁵Paul replied, "I did not know, brothers, that he was the high priest; for it is written, ¹ 'You must not defame a ruler of the people.'"

⁶Paul, however, aware that one party was Sadducee^k and the other Pharisee^l, shouted, right in the Sanhedrin, "Brothers, I am a Pharisee, a son of a Pharisee; concerning the hope of the resurrection of the dead I am accused."

⁷At this saying a dispute arose between the Pharisees and the Sadducees, and there was division in the meeting. ⁸For the Sadducees maintain there is neither resurrection nor angel nor spirit, while the Pharisees confess the one as well as the other. ⁹So the outcry grew deafening. Some of the scribes of the Pharisees' party got up and argued, "We

g) Compare the testimony of Peter and John, ch. 4:20.

h) God promised Abraham that in him all the families of the earth would be blessed, Gen. 12:3. This promise was reaffirmed to Isaac, Gen. 26:4, and to Jacob, Gen. 28:14. In Jerusalem their descendants were not prepared to have the Gentiles, vs. 21, become recipients of that promise.

i) See note at Luke 22:66.

j) Exod. 22:28.

k) See note about the Sadducees at Matt. 3:7.

l) See note about the Pharisees at Matt. 3:7.

find nothing bad in this man; but if a spirit or an angel has spoken to him..."

¹⁰And the discord grew so bitter that the commander, afraid that Paul might be torn to pieces by them, ordered a detachment to march down and snatch him from their midst, and bring him into the barracks. ¹¹But that night the Lord stood by him and said, "Take heart! For as you have borne Me witness in Jerusalem, just so it is necessary for you to testify at Rome."

¹²At daybreak there were Jews who formed a plot and pledged themselves with an oath that they would neither eat nor drink until they had killed Paul. ¹³More than forty formed this conspiracy. ¹⁴Some of them went to the chief priests and the elders and said, "We have sworn ourselves to the liability of a curse, to taste of nothing until we have killed Paul. ¹⁵Now then, you, in cooperation with the Sanhedrin, send word to the commander to have him conducted to you as if you wanted to determine more particularly about his case. Then we, before he comes anywhere near, are ready to do away with him."

¹⁶However, the son of Paul's sister got wind of the ambush; so he came along and entered the barracks and informed Paul about it. ¹⁷Then Paul, after calling in one of the captains, said, "Take this young man to the commander, for he has something to tell him." ¹⁸Accordingly he took him to the commander and said, "Paul, the prisoner, summoned me to request that I bring this young man to you, since he has something to tell you." ¹⁹Then the commander, taking him by the hand, stepped to one side with him privately and inquired, "What is it you have to tell me?" ²⁰He said,^m "The Jews have agreed to ask you that you bring Paul down tomorrow before the Sanhedrin, as if they were to investigate more particularly about him; ²¹but do not give in to them, for more than forty of them are lying in wait for him and have pledged themselves with an oath neither to eat nor to drink until they have killed him, and right now they are in readiness, only waiting for your assent."

²²The commander then dismissed the young man, cautioning him, "Divulge to no one that you informed me of this." ²³He then summoned two of his captains and said, "Have two hundred soldiers ready by nine tonight to march to Caesarea; also seventy cavalry and two hundred spearmen. ²⁴Provide animals, too, for mounts for Paul to ride, and conduct him safely to Governor Felix."ⁿ

²⁵He wrote a letter with the following contents: ²⁶"Claudius Lysias to His Excellency Governor Felix—Greeting. ²⁷When this man was set upon by the Jews and was within an inch of being murdered by them, I went with my men and rescued him; for I learned that he is a Roman. ²⁸In the hope of discovering the reason for their accusation, I took him down to their Sanhedrin ²⁹and found that the complaint relates to questions of their Law, but without accusation of crime that deserves death or prison. ³⁰But when I was informed that there would be a plot against this man, I sent him to you at once and have directed his accusers to have their say to you."

³¹So the soldiers took Paul, according to their orders, and conducted him by night to Antipatris.^o ³²The following day they returned to their barracks, leaving it to the cavalry to travel on with him. ³³When those men reached Caesarea, they delivered the letter to the governor and presented Paul to him.

³⁴After reading it, the governor inquired from what province he was and, on learning that he was from Cilicia,

m) One does not need to be an ordained minister or a missionary to serve the Lord.

n) Felix was procurator of Judea at this time, holding the office from about A.D. 52-60, when he was succeeded by Festus, ch. 24:27. Felix, a former slave, was freed by the Emperor Claudius, who gave him his appointment in Palestine. He was a cruel and immoral man who, according to Josephus, seduced his wife Drusilla, a Jewess, from her lawful husband.

o) Antipatris was slightly more than half way to Caesarea from Jerusalem. It was formerly called Aphek, but when Herod the Great rebuilt the town he named it for his father, Antipater.

³⁵said, "We shall give you a hearing whenever your accusers get here." He then gave orders to have him retained in Herod's palace.^p

24 AFTER FIVE DAYS ANANIAS, THE high priest, with some of the elders and Tertullus, an orator, came down to present their evidence against Paul to the governor; ²and, after Paul had been called in, Tertullus began to bring charges as follows:

"Since we enjoy peace through you, most excellent Felix, and since reforms are being made for this nation through your provision, ³in every way and everywhere we welcome this with deep appreciation. ⁴However, not to take more of your precious time, I beg of you by your courtesy to listen briefly to us.

⁵"For we have found this man to be a veritable plague, stirring up, as he does, all the Jews on earth, and a ring-leader of the sect of the Nazarenes. ⁶He even tried to defile the temple. So we seized him [and would have sentenced him by our Law; ⁷but the commander, Lysias, came and took him from us with great force. ⁸He ordered his accusers to present themselves to you].^q If you will cross-question him yourself, you will be able to discover on what counts we accuse him."

⁹And all the Jews agreed and declared that all that he said was so. ¹⁰Then, at a motion from the governor, Paul made his answer:

¹¹"Because I know that you have been judge over these people for many years, I find it easier to defend myself against these charges. It will be possible for you to ascertain that it is not more than twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem to worship, ¹²and neither did they find me arguing with anyone in the temple, nor raising a riot among the people, either in the synagogues or in the city. ¹³Neither can they produce any evidence to substantiate these charges.

¹⁴"I confess this to you, however, that according to the Way which they call heresy,^r even so I worship the God of my fathers, believing in everything written in the Law and the Prophets; ¹⁵for I possess that hope in God which these men themselves hold as their own, that there is to be a resurrection of the just and unjust. ¹⁶And so I exert myself always to have a clear conscience in my relations with God and with men.

¹⁷"After many years I came to bring to my people alms and offerings, ¹⁸and while I was doing this they found me in the temple after I had completed the ceremony of purification — not at all with mobs or riots. ¹⁹But there were some Jews from Asia who should have been here to complain if they knew anything tangible against me. ²⁰Or else let these men here say what wrong they found in me as I stood before the Sanhedrin, ²¹unless it is that one remark I expressed in their presence, 'I am being tried by you today concerning the resurrection of the dead.'"

²²Since Felix understood the teachings of the Way quite well, he adjourned the case and said, "When the commander, Lysias, comes down I shall decide your case." ²³He then gave orders to the captain to have Paul guarded, but with relaxed rigor, and that none of his friends should be prevented from rendering aid to him.^s

c. A.D. 59

²⁴After a few days, when Felix was present with his wife Drusilla, a Jewess, he sent for Paul and listened to him concerning faith in Christ Jesus. ²⁵But as he discussed righteousness, the mastery of passions, and the coming judgment, Felix got frightened and responded, "You may go for now. When I can spare the time I will send for

p) In quarters reserved for prisoners.

q) The words in vss. 6-8 that are enclosed in brackets are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

r) The heresy was on the other side, for it was the Sadducees who were heretical in repudiating God's power to raise the dead.

s) Among Paul's friends in Caesarea were Philip and his family, ch. 21:8, 9.

you." ²⁶Meanwhile he was hoping he might obtain money from Paul; so he summoned him frequently and talked things over with him. ²⁷But after two years had gone by, Felix was succeeded by Portius Festus¹ and, to curry favor with the Jews, Felix left Paul imprisoned.

c. A.D. 60

25 ¹THREE DAYS AFTER HE HAD ARRIVED in the province Festus went up from Caesarea to Jerusalem. ²The chief priests and the most prominent Jews appeared before him against Paul ³and requested of him and begged it as a favor to them that Paul be sent to Jerusalem—they planning to form an ambush and to murder him on the road.

⁴Festus replied that Paul was under guard at Caesarea, and that he himself would shortly go there. ⁵"Then," he went on, "those who are prominent among you may come along with me, and if the man has done anything wrong, bring your charges against him."

⁶After spending at the most from eight to ten days among them, he went down to Caesarea, took his seat the next day on the tribunal and ordered Paul to be brought in. ⁷At his arrival the Jews who had come down from Jerusalem stood around him and presented their charges—numerous and weighty, which they were not able to substantiate. ⁸Then Paul made his defense: "I have committed nothing wrong either against the Jewish Law, or against the temple, or against Caesar."

⁹Festus, however, desirous to curry favor with the Jews, answered Paul, "Are you willing to go up to Jerusalem and there be tried before me on these charges?" ¹⁰But Paul said, "I am standing at Caesar's tribunal, where I ought to be tried. I have in no respect wronged the Jews, as you understood well enough. ¹¹In case I am guilty and have committed anything deserving death, then I am ready to die; but if there is nothing to their charges against me, then no one can surrender me to them. I make my appeal to Caesar." ¹²So, after conference with the council, Festus answered, "You have appealed to Caesar; to Caesar you shall go."

¹³When a few days had passed, King Agrippa and Bernice^u arrived at Caesarea to bid Festus welcome; ¹⁴and after they had spent a good many days there, Festus acquainted the king with Paul's situation: "There is a prisoner left here by Felix, ¹⁵concerning whom, when I came to Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews made their appearance requesting sentence against him. ¹⁶I answered them that with Romans it is not customary to hand a man over until the accused has faced his accusers and has been given an opportunity to defend himself against the charges. ¹⁷So, when they assembled here, I lost no time in occupying the judgment seat on the next day, and I ordered the man brought in. ¹⁸When his accusers stood up they brought in no criminal charges against him such as I expected; ¹⁹but they had some controversies against him that concerned their own religion and a certain Jesus who had died, whom Paul asserted to be alive. ²⁰As I felt uncertain about the proper investigation of such issues, I asked if he would be willing to go to Jerusalem and be tried there on these complaints; ²¹but

t) Portius Festus was the successor of Felix as procurator of Judea, taking office about A.D. 60. He did not have an easy time during his procuratorship, but his term of office was in favorable contrast with that of Felix. Festus reinvestigated Paul's case and was ready to try him in Jerusalem, but the apostle made an appeal to be tried before Caesar and this released Festus from any further obligation in the matter, ch. 25:20, 21.

u) King Herod (Herod Agrippa II) was the grandson of Herod the Great and son of Herod Agrippa I, whose oldest daughter was Bernice. Thus Bernice was the sister of King Herod. At one time she had been married to an uncle who was ruler of Chalcis; but he died and she came to live with her brother. There was some scandal about the brother-sister relationship. Later she became the mistress of Vespasian. Drusilla, the wife of Felix, 24:24, was also a daughter of Herod Agrippa I and therefore the sister of King Herod and Bernice.

since Paul appealed that his case be retained for a decision by Augustus,^v I ordered him to be held until I send him on to Caesar."

²²And Agrippa said to Festus, "I should like to hear the man myself." He replied, "Tomorrow you will hear him."

²³Accordingly, on the following day Agrippa and Bernice arrived with great display and, accompanied by the chief military men and the prominent citizens of the city, entered the audience hall. At Festus' order Paul was led in ²⁴and Festus said: "King Agrippa and all you men here present with us, you are looking at the person on whose account the whole constituency of the Jews have made complaint to me both in Jerusalem and here, shouting that he ought not to live any more. ²⁵But I discovered nothing he has done that deserves death, and since he appealed to the emperor, I have decided to send him. ²⁶I have nothing substantial to write His Majesty, and for this reason I have brought him before you, and particularly before you, King Agrippa, so that after due examination I may have something to report. ²⁷For it seems to me odd to send on a prisoner without signifying the charges against him."

26 AGRIPPA SAID TO PAUL, "You are permitted to speak on your own behalf."^w Then Paul extended his hand and made his defense:

²"Concerning all the charges against me by the Jews, I consider myself fortunate, O King Agrippa, that I am to defend myself before you; ³for you are thoroughly familiar with all the Jewish customs and problems. So, please listen to me with patience.

⁴"All the Jews are acquainted with my behavior from my youth up, both among my own people^x and in Jerusalem. ⁵They are fully aware, if only they were willing to bear witness, how from the very first I have lived as a Pharisee in agreement with the strictest sect of our religion. ⁶And right now I am standing trial for the hope of the promise which God made to our fathers ⁷and which our twelve tribes expect to realize as they worship night and day. For this very hope, O King, I am accused by the Jews.

⁸"What? Is it considered incredible among you that God raises the dead? ⁹The fact is that I was possessed of the idea that I should in every way oppose the name of Jesus the Nazarene, ¹⁰and so I did in Jerusalem. Many a saint^y have I shut up in prison, furnished as I¹ was with authority from the chief priests; and when they were executed I cast my vote against them.² ¹¹In all the synagogues I often forced them by torture to deny their religion. Yes, in my boundless rage against them I persecuted them as far as foreign cities.

¹²"With the authority and approval of the chief priests I was traveling to Damascus^a for this purpose, ¹³when on the road at noon I saw, O King, a light from heaven, more brilliant than the sun, shining around me and my fellow travelers. ¹⁴And when we all fell to the ground I heard a voice saying to me in the Hebrew language, 'Saul, Saul, why do you persecute Me? It is hard for you to kick against the goads.'^b ¹⁵But I said, 'Who are You, Lord?' And the Lord said, 'I am Jesus whom you are persecuting. ¹⁶But rise and stand on your feet; for I have appeared to you for this purpose, to appoint you a minister and witness both

v) Augustus was the personal name of the first Roman emperor, Augustus Caesar, Luke 2:1. He died in A.D. 14. The emperor at the time of Paul's defense was Nero, the fifth Roman emperor. The name Augustus was sometimes used for others of the Caesars.

w) Agrippa had no authority over Festus.

x) Paul's own people in Tarsus.

y) See note at ch. 9:13.

z) There are two views of Paul's reference to casting a vote for the execution of Christians prior to his own conversion to Christianity: (1) if his words are taken at face value, then he belonged to the Sanhedrin at that time; or (2) the reference may be a figurative expression of his opposition to Christians. The first interpretation seems more logical than the second. Since membership in the Sanhedrin was limited to married men, if Paul did cast his vote in the council he was a married man at the time.

a) See note at ch. 9:2.

b) A goad is a pointed rod used to urge a beast to move.

of the things that you have seen and of those in which I will still show Myself to you. ¹⁷I will deliver you from your people and from the Gentiles, to whom I am sending you ¹⁸for the opening of their eyes and their turning from darkness to light and from the authority of Satan to God, to obtain forgiveness of sins and their allotted portion among those made holy through faith in Me.

¹⁹"Therefore, O King Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision, ²⁰but first to those in Damascus and in Jerusalem, and then all over Judea and among the Gentiles I preached that they must repent and turn to God and do works consistent with repentance.

²¹"For this reason the Jews seized me in the temple and tried to kill me. ²²So, as I have enjoyed the help of God until this day, I take my stand witnessing to both small and great, without saying anything, however, except what the prophets and Moses said would take place—²³that the Christ was to suffer, and that He, as the first to rise from the dead, would proclaim light to our people and to the Gentiles."

²⁴As he was thus making his defense, Festus called out loudly, "You are raving, Paul; your excessive study is driving you mad." ²⁵But Paul replied, "Most illustrious Festus, I am not mad but am giving utterance to words of truth and sane thinking. ²⁶The king knows about these matters, to whom I speak freely. I do not believe any of these things are unknown to him, for they have not occurred in a corner. ²⁷King Agrippa, do you believe the prophets? I know you believe."

²⁸Agrippa turned to Paul, "You with a few words are trying to persuade me to be a Christian?" ²⁹Then Paul said, "I would pray to God that whether with a few words or with many not you alone but all who are now listening to me today might be in my condition—not including these shackles."

³⁰The king then stood up, and the governor and Bernice and those who had been sitting with them ³¹and, stepping to one side, they talked it over together and concluded, "This man has done nothing that deserves death or prison." ³²So Agrippa said to Festus, "This man could have been set free, if he had not appealed to Caesar."

27 WHEN IT WAS DECIDED THAT we should sail for Italy, they committed Paul and some other prisoners to a captain of the Augustan Cohort,^c whose name was Julius. ²Getting aboard an Adramyttium ship that would make the ports along the coast of Asia, we sailed away, and Aristarchus,^d a Macedonian of Thessalonica, was with us. ³The next day we docked at Sidon,^e where Julius, treating Paul kindly, allowed him to visit his friends and to be cared for.

⁴Putting to sea^f from there we sailed along the south coast of Cyprus, because the winds were contrary; ⁵then crossing the Cilician and Pamphylian waters, we landed at Myra in Lycia. ⁶The captain found there an Alexandrian ship bound for Italy, and he transferred us to her. ⁷After many days of slow sailing we arrived with difficulty off Cnidus; then, checked by the wind, we sailed south of Crete off Salmone, ⁸and with difficulty coasted along it and reached a place called Fair Havens, near which the city of Lasea is located.

⁹As much time had been lost and navigation had grown dangerous—for the autumn fast was already over^g—Paul warned them, ¹⁰"Men, I discern that this voyage will involve damage and considerable loss not merely to the cargo and the ship but to our lives as well." ¹¹However, the centurion put confidence in the pilot and in the shipowner, rather than in Paul's words, ¹²and because the harbor was poorly

c) See note at ch. 10:1.

d) Aristarchus appears to have been one of Paul's closest associates, chs. 19:29; 20:4, 6; Col. 4:10.

e) See note at Matt. 11:21.

f) This chapter is an illuminating source of information about seamanship in the first century.

g) That is, the Day of Atonement, celebrated early in October.

situated for wintering, the majority favored the plan of setting out again, so that they might possibly reach Phoenix, a harbor in Crete facing southwest and northwest, and winter there.

¹³With a light south wind coming up, they supposed that they were gaining their purpose, weighed anchor and ran close along the shore of Crete.

¹⁴But shortly after, a hurricane, known as a northeaster, came beating from the island, ¹⁵in which the ship was caught; so, unable to head against the wind, we gave way and were driven.

¹⁶Running under the lee of a small island called Claudia, we made the small boat secure only with the greatest difficulty ¹⁷and, having hoisted it, they undergirded the ship with ropes. Out of fear of being stranded on the Syrtis banks, they lowered the gear and so were driven. ¹⁸The next day, dangerously driven about as we were by the storm, they threw the cargo overboard ¹⁹and on the third day with their own hands they cast away the ship's tackle.

²⁰For many days neither sun nor stars appeared; the storm kept raging strongly, so that the last vestige of hope of our being saved was snatched away. ²¹As they had gone without food for a long time, Paul stood among them and said, "Men, you should have listened to me and so spared yourselves this damage and loss, and not have put to sea from Crete. ²²Even now I advise you to cheer up; for not a single person among you will perish—only the ship. ²³For this night there stood by me an angel of God, whose I am and whom I serve. ²⁴He said, 'Have no fear, Paul. You have to stand before Caesar, and be assured that God has granted you all that are sailing with you.' ²⁵Therefore, be of good spirits, men; for I have faith in God that it will happen in accord with what was told me. ²⁶But we have to be stranded on an island."

²⁷On the fourteenth night of our drifting up and down the Adriatic,^h

the sailors surmised at about midnight that they were bearing toward some shore; ²⁸so, taking soundings, they found twenty fathoms, and at a little distance when they sounded again, they found fifteen fathoms.ⁱ ²⁹Then, for fear that we might run aground on submerged rocks, they cast four anchors from the stern and longed for break of day.

³⁰The sailors, however, tried to abandon the ship and, under pretense of going to cast anchor from the prow, they lowered the lifeboat into the sea; ³¹so Paul told the officer and the soldiers, "If these do not stay with the ship, you cannot be saved." ³²Then the soldiers cut the boat's ropes and let her fall.

³³With daybreak approaching, Paul urged them all to take some food. He said, "For fourteen days now you have been waiting expectantly without taking anything, ³⁴so I implore you to eat something; it is necessary for your safety. For not a hair of your head will perish."

³⁵Having said this, he took bread, gave thanks to God in the presence of them all and, breaking it, began to eat. ³⁶Then they all were encouraged and partook of nourishment, — ³⁷all told there were two hundred seventy-six of us on board.

³⁸When they had eaten to their satisfaction, they lightened the ship by dumping the wheat into the sea. ³⁹When day arrived, they did not recognize the coast, but they noticed an inlet with a beach into which they decided, if at all possible, to run the ship. ⁴⁰After casting off the anchors and dropping them in the sea and meanwhile loosening the ropes that held the rudders, they hoisted the foresail to the wind and made for the beach. ⁴¹But as they hit a shoal where two seas met they grounded the ship; and the prow settled and stayed immovable, while the stern broke up under the force of the elements.

⁴²It was then the soldiers' idea to

h) This was in the Ionian Sea which is south of what is now called the Adriatic Sea.

i) A fathom is approximately six feet.

kill the prisoners, so that they might not swim away and escape; ⁴³but the officer, wishing to save Paul, prevented their doing it. He ordered those who could swim to leap overboard first and make for shore, ⁴⁴and the rest to follow, some on boards and some on fragments of the ship. And so they all reached shore safely.

28 WHEN WE HAD ESCAPED, WE learned that the island was called Malta. ²The natives showed us remarkable friendliness, for they lit a fire and welcomed all of us to it because of the rain that had set in and because of the cold. ³When Paul had gathered a bundle of twigs and laid them on the fire, a viper crawled out on account of the heat and fastened to his hand. ⁴When the natives observed the creature hanging from his hand, they remarked to each other, "Unquestionably this man is a murderer whom, though saved from the sea, Justice^j will not allow to live." ⁵But he simply shook off the creature into the fire and felt no hurt. ⁶They, of course, expected him at any moment either to swell up or fall suddenly dead; so, after waiting for a long time and seeing nothing out of the way happen to him, they changed their minds and said, "He is a god."

c. A.D. 61

⁷Now in that part of the island there were pieces of land that belonged to the chief of the island, a man named Publius, who took us in and for three days entertained us courteously. ⁸It so happened that Publius' father was laid up with fever and dysentery; so Paul went to visit him and, laying hands on him with prayer, he healed him. ⁹When this had occurred, the rest of the islanders who had diseases came and were healed. ¹⁰They also showed us every kind of respect, and when we left they supplied all our needs.

¹¹At the end of three months we put to sea in an Alexandrian ship, that had wintered in the island and had for her figurehead Castor and Pollux.^k ¹²We docked at Syracuse and tarried three days. ¹³Then we tacked around and arrived at Rhegium. After one day a south wind came up and the following day we landed at Puteoli. ¹⁴There we found some brothers and were invited to stay with them for seven days.

¹⁵Then we went on to Rome, and when the brothers there heard about us they came as far as the Market of Appius^l and Three Taverns^m to meet us. As soon as Paul saw them, he gave thanks to God and took courage.

¹⁶When we arrived in Rome [the officer delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard; but]ⁿ Paul was allowed to live by himself with a soldier to guard him.

¹⁷After three days he invited all the leading Jews to whom, when they gathered, he said, "Brothers, although I have committed nothing whatever against our people or against our fathers' customs, yet I was delivered to the Romans, a prisoner from Jerusalem. ¹⁸Upon examination they wanted to set me free, because I am innocent of any act that deserves death; ¹⁹but when the Jews objected, I was forced to appeal to Caesar—although I had no charge to bring against my nation. ²⁰For this reason I begged to see you and to talk to you. It is because of Israel's hope that I wear this encircling chain."

²¹They replied to him, "Neither have we received letters from Judea about you, nor have any of the brothers arrived with a bad report or any gossip about you. ²²But we desire to

j) "Justice" is here personified as a goddess. The Maltese, a mixture of Greeks, Romans, Carthaginians and Phoenicians, were a people of many cultures.

k) The text reads "the Dioscuri," from the Greek noun Dioskouroi meaning Twin Sons, the mythical children of Zeus and Leda. As a figurehead for this Alexandrian ship they were her patron deities.

l) The market place at Appius, a town situated about 43 miles from Rome, was known as the Appii Forum.

m) The Three Taverns was an inn that was evidently a travelers' way station. It was approximately 25 miles from Rome.

n) The words enclosed in brackets are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

hear from you what you have in mind; for so far as this heresy is concerned, we know that it is denounced everywhere."

²³Arranging a date with him, they came to him at his lodging in large numbers, and he explained the matter to them from morning until evening, bearing witness about the kingdom of God, attempting to persuade them about Jesus, both out of the Law of Moses and from the Prophets. ²⁴Some, indeed, were convinced by the things that he said, but others did not believe.

²⁵So, since there was no agreement among them, they left when Paul spoke this one utterance. "The Holy Spirit spoke rightly to your fathers through Isaiah the prophet," ²⁶"Go to this people and say, 'You will hear with your ears but will not catch the meaning. You will look with your eyes but will not see. ²⁷For this people's heart is calloused and their ears are dull of hearing, and they have closed their eyes, so they may not see with their eyes and hear with their ears and understand with the hearts and turn about and I should heal them.'" ²⁸Let it be clearly understood, then, that this salvation of God is sent to the Gentiles and they will listen."

²⁹[After he had said this, the Jews went away and had considerable discussion among themselves.]^p

³⁰Paul remained for two whole years in his rented lodging and welcomed everyone who came to see him. ³¹He preached the kingdom of God and taught regarding the Lord Jesus Christ altogether openly and without hindrance.

o) Isa. 6:9, 10. Rejection reflected on them, not on the message.

p) Verse 29, enclosed in brackets, is not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

ROMANS

1 PAUL, A SLAVE^a OF CHRIST JESUS, called to be an apostle, set apart for the good news from God, ²which He promised in advance through His prophets in the sacred Scriptures ³regarding His Son who, as to His human nature was descended from David and according to the Spirit of holiness ⁴was openly designated as the Son of God with power when He was raised from the dead, even Jesus Christ, our Lord, ⁵through whom we have received grace and apostleship, to promote among all the Gentiles in behalf of His name obedience to the message of faith, ⁶among whom you also are included as those who have been invited by Jesus Christ; ⁷to all God's loved ones in Rome, called to be saints:^b Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

⁸To begin with, I certainly thank my God for all of you through Jesus Christ, because your faith is being mentioned all over the world. ⁹For God, whom I serve with my spiritual self in the good news concerning His Son, bears me witness how constantly I mention you whenever I am at my prayers, ¹⁰pleading that somehow by the will of God, I may some day be sped on my way to visit you. ¹¹For I am yearning to see you, so that I may bestow on you some spiritual gift for your confirmation—¹²I mean that we may be mutually strengthened by your faith and mine.

¹³But I do not want you to be unaware, brothers, that often I have planned to visit you, so that I might reap some harvest among you, just as I have among the other Gentiles, but thus far I have been prevented. ¹⁴To both Greeks^c and barbarians,^d to both learned and unlearned I am a debtor; ¹⁵so I am eager to preach the gospel to you in Rome as well. ¹⁶For I am not ashamed of the good news; for it is God's power for salvation^e to every believer, to the Jew first and to the Greek also. ¹⁷For God's righteousness is disclosed in it through faith and leading to faith, as it is written,^f "The one who is righteous through faith will live."

¹⁸On the other hand, God's indignation is revealed from heaven against all impiety and wickedness of men who through their wicked ways suppress the truth; ¹⁹because whatever can be known regarding God is evident to

a) Greek doulos. See note at Matt. 13:27.

b) See note at Acts 9:13.

c) "Greeks" here is a broad term for all who had come under the influence of Hellenistic culture, including the Romans who had absorbed it; "barbarians" refers to all non-Greeks, i.e., foreigners. Together the two terms cover, according to the Greek point of view, the entire human race. To the Greeks all other people were barbarians; to the Jews all others were considered Gentiles. Elsewhere, 1 Cor. 1:23, 24, Paul classifies humanity as Greeks (Gentiles), Jews, and "the called," i.e., Christians ("both Jews and Greeks").

d) Compare Acts 28:2.

e) The word "salvation," when used in the Bible in a spiritual sense, embraces many facets of God's redemptive work, e.g. forgiveness, justification, propitiation, and redemption. Salvation is always the work of God in man; it is given to man by divine grace and through faith in the Son of God. Works that are pleasing to God follow faith in Him, Eph. 2:8-10.

f) Hab. 2:4; Gal. 3:11; Heb. 10:38.

them, for God has shown it to them. ²⁰From the creation of the world His invisible qualities, such as His eternal power and divine nature, have been made visible and have been understood through His handiwork. So they are without excuse. ²¹Because, although they had knowledge of God, they failed to render Him the praise and thanks due to God. Instead, they indulged in their speculations until their stupid minds were all in the dark. ²²Claiming to be wise, they became foolish. ²³They even altered the glory of the immortal God into images in the form of mortal man and of birds, quadrupeds and reptiles.

²⁴Therefore God gave them up^g in the desires of their hearts to such impurity as dishonored their own bodies, ²⁵since they altered God's truth into falsehood, and revered and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever. Amen.

²⁶For this reason God abandoned them to shameful passions. Their women perverted natural functions for unnatural, ²⁷and similarly the men forsook their natural relationships with women and burned up with their lust for one another, men committing shamelessness with men and so acquiring in their persons the penalty that was coming to them on account of their wrong behavior. ²⁸Just as they did not see fit to acknowledge God any more, so God gave them over to depraved thoughts, to practice what is not decent, ²⁹because they have been filled with every sort of wickedness, immorality, depravity and greed; crammed with envy, murder, quarreling, deceit and malignity; ³⁰as gossips, slanderers, God-haters; insolent, proud, and boastful; inventors of evil; disobedient to parents; ³¹without conscience, fidelity, natural affection or pity. ³²While knowing God's ordinance, that those practicing such things deserve death, they not only practice them but even give their approval to those who do them.

2 YOU CAN OFFER NO EXCUSE, O man,^h whoever indulges in judging; for by passing judgment on another you condemn yourself, since you, who are passing judgment practice the same things. ²We know that God's judgment rightly falls on those who practice such wrongs. ³But do you imagine, O man, who condemn those practicing such evils and do them yourself, that you will escape God's judgment? ⁴Or do you underestimate His wealth of kindness and tolerance and enduring patience, unmindful that God's kindness is meant to lead you toward repentance?

⁵But in line with your obstinacy and impenitence of heart you are treasuring up for yourself anger for the day of anger and the revealing of the righteous judgment of God, ⁶who will reward each person according to his deeds.ⁱ ⁷To those who with insistent good behavior seek glory, honor, and immortality, He awards eternal life; ⁸but to those who are factious and disobedient to the truth but rather are obedient to wickedness, He awards indignation and fury. ⁹Affliction and anxiety will be given to every human soul who does evil, to the Jew first and to the Greek as well. ¹⁰But distinction and honor and peace will be given to all who do what is good, to the Jew first and to the Greek as well. ¹¹For God shows no favoritism.

¹²Those who sin without knowing the Law^j will be lost without reference to the Law; while those who sin under the Law will be judged by the Law. ¹³For not the hearers of the Law are righteous before God, but those who practice the Law will be pronounced righteous. ¹⁴For when Gentiles who lack the Law do naturally practice it, they are for themselves a law, though they have none. ¹⁵They

g) All divine restraint of evil seems to have been removed. Cf. vss. 26, 28.

h) The reference is to Gentiles and Jews, all who might read the epistle.

i) In this chapter Paul expresses the basic principles of God's impartial judgment, vs. 11. Here, vss. 6-8, he is not dealing with justification by faith, which he expounds specifically in chs. 3:21-5:21, but with God's general system of moral government.

j) The Law revealed through Moses, particularly the Decalogue, Exod. 20:1-17.

show that what the Law requires is written in their hearts, while their conscience also bears witness and their thoughts accuse or defend one another. ¹⁶They will be judged on that day when God will judge the secrets of men through Christ Jesus in agreement with the good news I preach.

¹⁷But if you are termed a Jew and you rely on the Law and pride yourself in God ¹⁸and know His will, and approve the things that really matter, because you have been instructed from the Law, ¹⁹and you are convinced that you are a guide to the blind, a light to those who are in darkness, a trainer of the simple, ²⁰a teacher of the ignorant, since you possess in the Law the embodiment of knowledge and truth; ²¹then, you who teach another, do you not teach yourself? You who preach against stealing, do you steal? ²²You who forbid adultery, do you commit adultery? You who detest idols, do you commit sacrilege? ²³You who boast in the Law, do you dishonor God by its violation? ²⁴For "God's name," as has been written, ¹ "is on your account maligned among the Gentiles."

²⁵Circumcision, then, benefits only if you obey^m the Law; but if you are a violator of the Law, then your circumcision becomes uncircumcision. ²⁶So, if the uncircumcised man observes the requirements of the Law, ²⁷will not his uncircumcision be accounted to him as circumcision? In fact, the physically uncircumcised, who carries out the Law, will judge you who, although you have the literally correct form of the Law and are circumcised, break the Law.

²⁸For neither is one a Jew from his looks, nor is circumcision what shows in the body; ²⁹but a Jew is a Jew deep in his heart, and so circumcision is a matter of the heart, a spiritual observance rather than a mere literal observance of the Law. Such a person's praiseⁿ comes not from men but from God.

3 THEN WHAT ADVANTAGE HAS THE Jew, or what benefit has circumcision? ²Considerable in every respect. Primarily, because they were entrusted with the utterances of God. ³What if some failed to believe? Their unbelief surely does not nullify God's faithfulness, does it? ⁴Not at all. Rather shall it be: God must be true though every man is a liar, as it is written,^o "That You might be vindicated in Your sayings and might triumph when You are tried." ⁵But if our wrongdoing brings out so strikingly the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Surely not that God is wrong — I speak humanly — when He inflicts punishment? ⁶No indeed! Then how could God judge the world? ⁷But if by my falsehood the truth of God abounds the more for His glory, then why am I condemned as a sinner? ⁸Why not say then, just as by some we are being slandered and charged with saying, "Let us do evil, so that good may result"? Deservedly are such talkers condemned.

⁹Then what? Do we Jews have an advantage over the Gentiles? Not at all. For we have already charged both Jews and Greeks that they are all under sin's power, ¹⁰as it is written,^p "There is none righteous; not even one. ¹¹No one has understanding; no one is a searcher after God. ¹²All have strayed; they have together become worthless. There is none doing right, not even one. ¹³Their throats are open graves; with their tongues they deceive; venom of asps is behind their lips; ¹⁴their mouths are full of cursing and bitterness. ¹⁵Their feet are swift for shedding blood; ¹⁶ruin and misery are in their ways ¹⁷and they have not known the path of peace. ¹⁸There is no reverence for God before their eyes."

¹⁹Now we know that whatever the Law says, it says to those who are under its control, so that every mouth may be shut and the whole world may become liable to divine retribution;

k) Not all, but some Jews, were guilty of such sins — witness the need of temple cleansing.

l) Isa. 52:5; Ezek. 36:20.

m) Obedience to the Law is to do the will of God.

n) "Jew," named for Judah, means praise, and Paul seems to play on the word.

o) Ps. 51:4.

p) Ps. 5:9; 10:7; 14:1-3; 36:1; 140:3; Prov. 1:16; Isa. 59:7.

²⁰because not a single human being will be made righteous in God's sight through observance of the Law.⁴ For through the Law comes the knowledge of sin.

²¹But now apart from the Law God's righteousness is revealed, as is witnessed to by the Law and the Prophets, ²²namely, God's righteousness through faith in Jesus Christ for all believers. For there is no distinction, ²³for all have sinned and fall short of God's moral excellence. ²⁴We are justified freely by His grace through the ransom that Christ Jesus provided; ²⁵whom God put forward as a reconciling sacrifice through faith in His blood. This was for the vindication of His righteousness in forgiving the sins that previously were committed under God's forbearance, ²⁶and to vindicate His righteousness at the present time, that He is righteous and that He accepts as righteous him that has faith in Jesus.

²⁷Where, then, does boasting come in? It is ruled out. Through what sort of law? Of works? No, indeed, but through the law of faith. ²⁸For we come to the conclusion that a man is justified by faith without the works of the Law. ²⁹Or is He God of the Jews only? Is He not also the God of the Gentiles? He is the Gentiles' God as well. ³⁰Since there is but one God, He will justify the circumcised for their belief and the uncircumcised through their faith.

³¹Do we, then, abrogate the Law through faith? Not at all; instead, we uphold the Law.⁵

4 WHAT SHALL WE SAY, THEN, THAT Abraham, our human ancestor, has discovered? ²For if Abraham was justified on account of works, then he has something to brag about. But not before God; ³for what does Scripture say?⁶ "Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness." ⁴Now, to a workman wages are not paid as a favor but as an obligation; ⁵while to the person who does not work by Law, but whose faith rests on Him who declares the ungodly righteous, to him his faith is accounted for righteousness.¹ ⁶Precisely as David mentions⁷ the blessedness of the man to whom God attributes righteousness apart from his works: ⁷"Blessed are they whose iniquities have been forgiven and whose sins have been covered. ⁸Blessed is the man of whose sin the Lord will take no account."

⁹Now, then, does this ascription of blessedness apply only to the circumcised, or to the uncircumcised as well? For this is our statement: Faith was accounted to Abraham for righteousness. ¹⁰Then how was it accounted? When he was circumcised, or when he was still uncircumcised? Not after, but before his circumcision; ¹¹and he received the mark of circumcision as a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had while he was still uncircumcised, so that he might be the father of all uncircumcised believers, that to them righteousness might be accounted, ¹²and also the father of those circumcised who are not merely circumcised but walk in the footsteps of the faith our father Abraham had when he was still uncircumcised.⁸

¹³The promise to Abraham or to his offspring to inherit the earth did not come through the Law but through righteousness because of faith; ¹⁴for if followers of the Law are the inheritors, then faith is futile and the promise is abrogated. ¹⁵Because the Law brings about wrath, but where there is no Law there is no transgression.

¹⁶For this reason it is a matter of faith, so that the promise may be made sure as a matter of grace to all his descendants; not only to the followers of the Law but also to those

q) The Law reveals sin but neither blots it out nor cleanses the sinner.

r) The righteous demands of the Law are revealed most clearly in Christ's death for sin.

s) Gen. 15:6.

t) James uses Abraham's obedience in offering Isaac as a sacrifice in illustration of how faith and works are harmonized in the believer's life, James 2:21-24; cf. Gen. 22:1-14.

u) Ps. 32:2.

v) Abraham demonstrated his faith by his works after the institution of circumcision, Gen. 17:10, but he believed God before that, Gen. 12:4. Thus Abraham became the father of all nations, and all believers are his spiritual descendants.

who share Abraham's faith, who is thus father to us all, ¹⁷as it is written, "I have appointed you a father of many nations" — all this in the presence of God, in whom he believed, who makes the dead live and calls into existence what has no being. ¹⁸For Abraham kept hoping in faith, when hope was gone, that he would be the father of many nations, just as he had been told, ^x"So shall your offspring be." ¹⁹And there was no weakening of his faith, even when he recognized the impotence of his own body at the age of one hundred, as well as Sarah's inability to bear.

²⁰He did not in unbelief hesitate about God's promise but, empowered by faith, he rendered praise to God ²¹in the complete conviction that He was able to make good His promise. ²²For this reason it was accounted to him as righteousness.

²³This, however, was not written for him alone, "It was accounted to him," ²⁴but for us as well, to whom it will be accounted as believers in Him who raised from the dead our Lord Jesus, ²⁵who was put to death on account of our misdeeds and was raised on account of our justification.^y

5 SINCE, THEN, WE HAVE BEEN PRO-nounced righteous through faith, let us have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, ²by whom we also obtain through faith entrance to this grace in which we stand firm, and rejoice in the hope of God's glory.

³Not this alone, but we glory in afflictions as well; for we know that affliction produces patience, ⁴and patience develops a tried character, and character begets hope, ⁵such hope as does not disappoint; for God's love is poured out into our hearts by means of the Holy Spirit who has been given to us.^z ⁶For when we were still helpless, Christ at the proper time died for the ungodly.

⁷Ordinarily one would hardly die

for a righteous person; but still for a good person someone might perhaps bring himself to die. ⁸But God proves His own love for us by Christ's dying for us when we were still sinners.

⁹Now then, as we have been declared righteous by His blood, how much surer is it that we shall be saved by Him from God's wrath. ¹⁰For if as enemies we were reconciled to God through the death of His Son, surely much more shall we who have been reconciled be saved by His life. ¹¹And not only this, but we also exult in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received the reconciliation.

¹²It is therefore as follows: through one man sin entered the world, and death through sin, and so death passed on to all persons in that all sinned.

¹³To be sure, sin was in the world earlier than the Law; but, in absence of law, sin is not accounted. ¹⁴Death, however, held rule from Adam to Moses over those who sinned but did not transgress a command in the way Adam, who foreshadowed the Coming One, had done.

¹⁵With the free gift, however, it is by no means as it is with the transgression; for if through the transgression of one person many die, far more richly did the grace of God and His gift, that comes through the favor of one man Jesus Christ, overflow to the many. ¹⁶Nor is the gift similar in effect to that one person's sin; for the judgment of one man brings condemnation, but divine grace led to justification out of many transgressions. ¹⁷For if, through that one person's transgression, death is king through that person, far more surely will those who receive the overflowing of grace and the gift of righteousness reign as kings in life through the One, Jesus Christ.

¹⁸So then, as through one transgression^a condemnation came to all men, so through one righteous act^b there is

w) Gen. 17:5.

x) Gen. 15:5.

y) Christ's resurrection was God's declaration that, with the work of atonement accomplished, believers are counted as righteous.

z) The gift of God's grace received in faith issues in Christlike behavior as the Spirit works in and through the believer.

a) That is, Adam's transgression.

b) Christ's sacrifice opens the door of grace to all who will enter it.

for all men justification and life. ¹⁹For as through the disobedience of one man many were placed in the position of sinners, so through the obedience of the One many will be placed in the position of righteous ones.

²⁰But Law slipped in to make the transgression more serious; yet where sin increased, grace was in greater abundance ²¹so that, as sin^c reigned in death, so grace might reign through righteousness to eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

6 WHAT THEN ARE WE TO SAY? Shall we remain in sin to let grace become more plentiful? ²Not at all! How shall we, who have died to sin, still live in it? ³Or do you not realize that as many of us as were baptized in union with Christ Jesus were baptized in union with His death? ⁴So we are buried with Him in death^d through baptism in order that, just as Christ rose from the dead through the Father's glorious power, so we too shall conduct ourselves in a new way of living. ⁵For if we have been united with Him in a death like His, then the same must be true of our resurrection with Him, ⁶being aware of this, that our old self^e was crucified with Him, so that the power of the sin-controlled body might be done away with and we should no longer be slaves of sin. ⁷For a corpse is considered guiltless of sin.^f

⁸If, then, we have died with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with Him, ⁹well assured that Christ, once risen from the dead, will not die any more; death holds lordship over Him no longer. ¹⁰The death He died was once for all to sin,^g but the life He lives, He lives to God. ¹¹Similarly let us consider ourselves as actually dead to sin, but in Christ Jesus alive to God.

¹²Sin, then, must not be king in your mortal body, to have you yield to its passions, ¹³neither must you offer the members of your body to serve sin as instruments of wickedness, but rather offer yourselves to God as living persons who rose from the dead, and present the members of your body to God as instruments of righteousness.^h

¹⁴Sin shall not be your master, for you are not governed by Law but by grace.

¹⁵Then what? Shall we sin because we are not governed by Law but by grace? Certainly not! ¹⁶Do you not know that you are committed to obey as slavesⁱ the one to whom you offer yourselves as obedient slaves, whether that be to sin that leads to death, or to obedience that leads to righteousness? ¹⁷But thanks be to God that, though you were slaves of sin, you have become with all your hearts obedient to the standard of teaching to which you were introduced, ¹⁸so that with deliverance from sin you were made slaves of righteousness.

¹⁹I speak in these human terms because of your human weakness. Just as you offered the members of your body in the service of impurity in one act of lawlessness after another, so now offer your members in the service of righteousness for holy living. ²⁰For when you were slaves of sin, you were free from righteousness.^j ²¹And what good did you derive from things of which you are now ashamed? Death is their consequence. ²²But now, freed from sin and made slaves of God, the good you derive leads to holiness and the consequence is life eternal. ²³For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

7 DO YOU NOT KNOW, BROTHERS — for I address such as understand the Law — that the Law has authority over a person only during his lifetime?

²The married woman is by law bound

c) Here and in chs. 6 and 7 "sin," which denotes man's natural state, is to be distinguished from "sins," which result from his possessing a sinful nature. Christ died for both sin and sins.
d) Christ died as our representative. In baptism believers become identified with His death and resurrection.

e) That is, the sinful nature in us, the inborn tendency to sin.

f) A dead body does not sin.

g) We died with Christ; therefore we also are dead to sin. Let us act that way, vs. 11.

h) Compare ch. 12:1, 2.

i) See note at Matt. 13:27.

j) That is, there was no relationship with righteousness.

to her husband while he lives; but when her husband dies, she is freed from the marriage law. ³While her husband lives; she would be an adulteress in case she married another man; but if the husband dies, she is legally free and is no adulteress at all if she marries another man.

⁴In a similar way you, my brothers, were put to death to the Law by means of the body of Christ, so that you may belong to Another, to Him who was raised from the dead in order that we bear fruit^k for God. ⁵For when we lived our earthly way, our sinful passions, aroused by the Law, were active in our bodily organs to bear fruit for death. ⁶Now, however, we are released from the Law; we have been dead to what once held us in its grip, so that now we serve in the new relationship of the Spirit and not in the old relationship of literalness.

⁷What, then, do we conclude? That the Law is sin? Far be it from our thoughts! Nevertheless, were it not for the Law, we should not have known sin. For instance, I should not have known about covetousness had not the Law said, ¹"Thou shalt not covet." ⁸But sin, by grasping the opportunity through the commandment, effected in me all sorts of covetousness. For apart from the Law sin is dead.^m ⁹I was once living in the absence of the Law, but with the coming of the commandment, sin took on new life — which to me meant death. ¹⁰The commandment that was aimed to give life was found to mean death to me ¹¹because sin, by grasping the opportunity through the commandment, deceived me and killed me with it.ⁿ ¹²So then, the Law is holy, and so is the commandment holy, just, and good.

¹³Did, then, what was good become death to me? Not at all! Instead, it was sin that must be shown up as sin, by working fatally for me through something good, so that through the commandment sin might become immeasurably sinful.

¹⁴For we know that the Law is spiritual; but I am fleshly, sold under sin's control; ¹⁵for I^o do not understand what I am doing. I do not do what I want to do but what I hate to do. ¹⁶Now if I do what I do not want to do, I agree that the Law is good. ¹⁷However, I am no longer the one who does the deed, but sin which is at home in me does it. ¹⁸For I know that within me, that is within my flesh,^p what is good is not at home; the personal willingness is there but not the accomplishing of what is right. ¹⁹For I fail to do the good I want to do and I practice the bad that I do not want to practice.

²⁰But if I do what I have no desire to do, then I am no longer doing it myself, but rather sin that makes itself at home in me. ²¹Consequently, I discover a law that when I want to do right, wrong suggestions crowd in. ²²For in my inmost heart I agree with God's Law; ²³but in my whole natural make-up I observe another law, battling against the principles which my reason dictates, and making me a prisoner to the law of sin that controls my members.

²⁴Miserable man that I am, who will rescue me from this body doomed to death? ²⁵Thanks be to God because of Jesus Christ our Lord! So then, with my mind I serve God's Law, but with my human nature I serve the principle of sin.

8 THERE IS THEREFORE NOW NO condemnation to those who are in

k) The fruit of the Spirit, Christian behavior, cf. Gal. 5:22, 23.

l) Exod. 20:17

m) Where there is no Law, there is no awareness of sin.

n) "Do and live," says the Law. But since man himself is incapable of living righteously, he cannot live the life that the Law demands. Only through faith in the crucified and risen Christ is a new life possible.

o) The Christian has two natures, the old one derived from Adam and the new one received at the new birth. In this profound passage, vss. 15-25, Paul uses "I" as referring sometimes to the old man and sometimes to the new man in Christ, as he portrays the struggle within the believer and finally recognizes that only in Christ can the believer be rescued from the domination of the old nature, vss. 24, 25; ch. 8.

p) "Flesh," as the word is used here, denotes man in his unregenerate state, not only subject to sin but also prone to sin. Only he who lives under the control of the Holy Spirit can be victorious over the control of the flesh, Gal. 5:16-18.

Christ Jesus; ²for the life-giving principles of the Spirit have freed you in Christ Jesus from the control of the principles of sin and death. ³For what the Law was unable to do, weakened as it was through the flesh, that God did by sending His own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and on account of sin; He thus condemned sin in human nature ⁴so that the Law's requirements might be completely met by us, who behave not in a fleshly but in a spiritual way.

⁵For those who are under control of the flesh are fleshly minded, but those who are under control of the Spirit are spiritually minded, ⁶and to be fleshly minded means death, while spiritual-mindedness means life and peace, ⁷because fleshly-mindedness is hostile to God; it is not submissive to God's Law, in fact it cannot be. ⁸So those who are controlled by the flesh are unable to please God.

⁹You, however, are not controlled by the flesh but by the Spirit, if indeed the Spirit of God is at home in you. If, on the other hand, anyone does not have the Spirit of Christ, he does not belong to Him. ¹⁰But if Christ is in you, then the body is dead on account of sin, but the spirit is alive on account of righteousness. ¹¹If, then, the Spirit of Him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, then He who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will through the Spirit that dwells in you also make your mortal bodies live.^q

¹²It follows then, brothers, that we are obligated, but not to our human nature to live under its control; ¹³for if you live in a fleshly way, you will die. But if through the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body, then you will live. ¹⁴For as many as are guided by God's Spirit are sons of God. ¹⁵Indeed, you receive no spirit that would re-enslave you to fear; instead, you receive the Spirit of sonship by which we cry, "Abba!" Father!" ¹⁶This Spirit bears witness with our spirits that we are God's children; ¹⁷but if children, then heirs too; in fact, God's heirs together with Christ, presuming that we suffer together, so that we may also enjoy glory together.

¹⁸For I reason that this temporal suffering is not worth comparing with the glory that is to be revealed to us. ¹⁹For the creation^r eagerly awaits the revealing of the sons of God; ²⁰for the creation was subjected to frustration, not from choice but through Him who effected that bondage, and that with hope; ²¹because creation itself will be liberated from its enslavement to decay into the glorious freedom of God's children.

²²For we know that to this day the entire creation has been groaning and suffering agony together as if in childbirth, ²³and not merely so, but we ourselves, who have the Spirit as first fruits, we also groan within ourselves as we await our adoption as sons, that is, our bodily redemption. ²⁴In this hope are we saved; but hope within sight is not hope, for who hopes for what he sees? ²⁵But if we hope for what we do not see, then we keep on patiently awaiting it.

²⁶In a similar way the Spirit joins in to help us in our weakness; for we do not know what and how we ought to pray, but the Spirit Himself intercedes on our behalf with sighs too deep for words.^t ²⁷And the Searcher of hearts knows what the Spirit has in mind, for He pleads with God on behalf of the saints. ²⁸But we know that for those who love Him, for those called in agreement with His purpose, God makes all things work together for good.

²⁹Because those whom He knew beforehand He appointed beforehand to share the likeness of His Son, so that He might be the First-born among many brothers. ³⁰But whom He predestined, those He also called; and

q) Not only does the word "live" speak of the resurrection body in heaven but it also relates to the new kind of life that the believer possesses now in his mortal body.

r) "Abba" is the Aramaic word for "father." It was frequently used in prayer and sometimes within a family to address the head of the household.

s) All nature suffered because of man's original sin. Thus creation as well as the creature looks forward to deliverance from the bondage of sin.

t) All true prayer originates from God the Holy Spirit.

whom He called, those He also made righteous; and whom He made righteous, those He also glorified.

³¹Then what conclusion do we draw? If God is for us, then who is against us? ³²He who did not even spare His own Son but gave Him up on behalf of us all, will He not also favor us with everything along with Him? ³³Who will enter a charge against God's chosen? God is the Acquitter; ³⁴who is the condemner? Christ Jesus is He who died; what is more, who rose again, who is at God's right hand, who also pleads on our behalf.

³⁵Who will separate us from Christ's love? Affliction? Or distress? Or persecution? Or famine? Or destitution? Or danger? Or sword? ³⁶Just as it is written,^u "On Your account we are being killed all day long; we are considered sheep for slaughter." ³⁷But in all this we are more than conquerors through Him who loved us.

³⁸For I am convinced that neither death nor life, neither angels nor authorities, neither present nor future affairs, ³⁹neither powers of the heights nor of the depths, nor anything else created will be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

9 IN CHRIST I TELL THE TRUTH, I am not falsifying, as my conscience, fortified by the Holy Spirit, bears me witness, ²when I say that I have in my heart intense grief and unceasing distress; ³for I could wish myself banished from Christ for the sake of my brothers, my human kinsmen ⁴who are Israelites. They are the sonship, the glorious Presence,^v the covenants, the giving of the Law, the worship, and the promises. ⁵Theirs are the fathers, and from them Christ was humanly descended, who is over all, God blessed forever. Amen.

⁶It is not as if God's message had failed, for by no means all who descend from Israel belong to Israel; ⁷neither are all Abraham's children because they are his offspring, but^w "Through Isaac your offspring shall be named after you." ⁸This means that it is not his physical descendants who make up the children of God, but the children of the promise are considered his offspring. ⁹For this is the message of the promise,^x "At about this time next year I will come, and Sarah will have a son."

¹⁰But this is not all. When Rebecca had conceived by one man, our forefather Isaac, ¹¹and before the children were born or had done anything good or bad, even then, in order that the purpose of God's choice might prevail, which rests not on works but on His calling, ¹²it was said to her,^y "The older will serve the younger." ¹³As it is written,^z "I loved Jacob, but I hated Esau."

¹⁴What shall we say then? Is there injustice with God? Perish the thought! ¹⁵For He said^a to Moses, "I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will take pity on whom I will take pity." ¹⁶So then, it is not a matter of man's willing or running, but of God's mercy. ¹⁷As Scripture says^b to Pharaoh, "For this very purpose I raised you up high, to show in you the evidence of My power, so that My name may be made known over the whole earth." ¹⁸So then, He shows mercy to whom He wills, and He hardens whom He wills.

¹⁹Then you will ask me, "Why does He still complain; for who is resisting His will?" ²⁰O man! who are you, anyway, to talk back to God? The thing that is being molded does not

u) Ps. 44:22.

v) The allusion is to the Shekinah cloud of glory that shone on the mercy seat in the tabernacle and temple, signifying the presence of the Lord, Exod. 40:34; Lev. 16:2; I Kings 8:10, 11.

w) Gen. 21:12.

x) Gen. 18:10.

y) Gen. 25:23. Obviously God endowed Jacob with latent resources superior to those of Esau, and Jacob made use of them.

z) Mal. 1:2, 3.

a) Exod. 33:19.

b) Exod. 9:16. In Exod. 8:15 it is stated that Pharaoh hardened his own heart, but Exod. 7:13, 14 ascribes the hardening to God. Because Pharaoh resisted the will of God, God caused his heart to become even harder than it had been before. Pharaoh became an instrument for God's purpose.

say to the one who molds it, "Why do you make me this way," does it? ²¹Does not the potter have the right with the clay to make from the same lump one utensil for noble use and another for ignoble use? ²²What if God, wanting to show His anger and to evidence His power, with great patience endured the agents that deserve wrath and have been prepared for destruction, ²³so that He might make known the wealth of His glory to the recipients of mercy, whom previously He prepared for glory, ²⁴even us whom He has called not only from among the Jews but also from among the Gentiles?

²⁵So, too, He says^c in Hosea, "I will call those who were not^d My people 'My people,' and her who was not loved ²⁶'My beloved,' and in the place where it was said to them, 'You are not My people,' there they will be called sons of the living God." ²⁷Isaiah, too, exclaims^e regarding Israel, "Even though the number of Israel's sons were as the sand of the sea, only a remnant will be saved ²⁸[for He will finish the work and round it out in righteousness]:^f for thoroughly and with dispatch the Lord will execute His decree on the earth." ²⁹As Isaiah further foretold,^g "Unless the Lord of hosts had left us offspring, we would have become like Sodom and would have been made like Gomorrah."

³⁰Then what is our inference? That the Gentiles, who did not try to acquire righteousness, got hold of righteousness, that is, of the righteousness that comes through faith, ³¹while Israel, pursuing a law for the securing of righteousness, failed to come up to it.^h ³²And why? Because their principle was not by faith but by works; they stumbled over the stone that occasions stumbling, ³³as it is written,ⁱ "See, I am laying in Zion a stone that causes men to stumble, a rock that trips men up, and the believer in Him will not be shamed."

10 BROTHERS, THE DESIRE OF MY heart and my prayer to God for them is for their salvation; ²for I will say for them, that they have enthusiasm for God, but not with correct understanding. ³Ignorant of the righteousness that comes from God,^j and trying to set up their own righteousness, they have not submitted to the righteousness of God. ⁴For Christ brought the Law to completion so that everyone who believes in Him may be justified.

⁵Moses does indeed describe^k the righteousness of the Law, "The man who practices it shall live by it." ⁶The righteousness of faith, however, has this to say,^l "Do not say to yourself, 'Who will ascend to heaven?' (which means, to bring Christ down), ⁷or 'Who will descend into the depth?' (which means, to bring Christ up from the grave)." ⁸But what does it say?^m "The word is near you, in your mouth and heart." It is the message of faith which we preach, ⁹that if you confess with your lips the Lord Jesus and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead, you will be saved. ¹⁰For with the heart one believes so that he is made righteous, and with the mouth confession is made for salvation. ¹¹For the Scripture says,ⁿ "Whoever puts his trust in Him will not be put to shame."

¹²There is then no distinction between Jew and Greek, for they all belong to the same Lord, bestowing His riches on all who invoke Him; ¹³for "everyone who calls on the Lord's name will be saved."

¹⁴Now then, how can they invoke Him in whom they have no faith? And how can they believe in One of whom they have not heard? Again, how can they listen without a preacher? ¹⁵But

c) Hos. 1:10; 2:23.

d) That is, the Gentiles.

e) Isa. 10:22, 23.

f) The words enclosed in brackets do not appear in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

g) Isa. 1:9.

h) Gentile believers were better off than the Jews who tried to earn salvation by works; for salvation cannot be earned by any man, but is only by grace through faith in Christ.

i) Ps. 118:22; Isa. 8:14.

j) Through the grace of Christ.

k) Lev. 18:5.

l) Deut. 30:12, 13.

m) Deut. 30:14.

n) Isa. 28:16.

o) Joel 2:32, quoted by Peter at Pentecost.

how can they preach unless they are sent? Just as it is written,^p "How lovely are the feet of those who publish the good news!"

¹⁶Not all, however, have heard the good news, as Isaiah says,^q "Lord, who has believed our report?" ¹⁷Faith, then, results from hearing, and hearing is through the message of Christ. ¹⁸But I ask, Have they not heard? Yes, indeed,^r "Their voice has gone forth over the whole earth and their words to the end of the world." ¹⁹I ask further, Did not Israel understand? To begin with, Moses says,^s "I will make you jealous of those who are not a nation, and I will infuriate you against a senseless nation." ²⁰Then Isaiah boldly expressed it,^t "I have been found by those who did not seek Me; I have shown Myself to those who did not ask for Me." ²¹But concerning Israel He says,^u "All day long I have held out My hands to a disobedient and rebellious people."

11 I SAY THEN, HAS GOD REPUdiated His people? No, indeed! In fact, I myself am an Israelite, a descendant of Abraham and of Benjamin's tribe. ²God has not repudiated His people whom beforehand He had in mind. Do you not know what the Scripture says concerning Elijah, how he appeals^v to God against Israel, ³"Lord, they have killed Your prophets; they have torn down Your altars; I alone am left and they are after my life?"

⁴Nevertheless, what divine response^w is given him? "I have kept for Myself seven thousand men who have not bowed the knee to Baal." ⁵Just so there is at present a remnant in accordance with His gracious choice. ⁶But if it is by grace, then it is no longer an account of works; otherwise grace would no more be grace.

⁷Then what follows? Israel has not gained what it was seeking,^x but those who are chosen^y have secured it, while the rest have grown callous; ⁸as it is written,^z "God has given them a spirit of stupidity — eyes that do not see and ears that do not hear, to this very day."

⁹David also says,^a "Let their table become a snare and a trap, a block and a retribution to them; ¹⁰let their eyes be darkened so that they cannot see, and forever make them bend their backs."

¹¹I say then, did they stumble so as to fall? Not at all! Instead, through their transgression salvation has come to the Gentiles to arouse Israel to jealousy. ¹²But if their transgression means the world's enrichment, and their failure is the Gentiles' gain, then how much more will their fulfilling of the divine demand be.

¹³But I am speaking to you Gentiles. For the very reason that I am an apostle to the Gentiles, I take pride in my ministry, ¹⁴trying if possible to rouse my own race to jealousy and save some of them. ¹⁵For if the rejection on their part means the world's reconciliation, what must their acceptance mean but life from the dead? ¹⁶If the first piece of dough is holy, so is the whole lump, and if the root is holy, so are the branches.

¹⁷If some of the branches have been broken off and you, a wild olive shoot, have been grafted in and are sharing the rich root of the olive tree, ¹⁸do not boast against the branches, and if you do boast remember that you are not supporting the root; instead, the root supports you.

¹⁹You will reply, "The branches have been broken off so that I may be grafted in." ²⁰Well said! Through lack of faith they were broken off and through faith you remain in place. Be not haughty, but stand in awe. ²¹For if God did not spare the natural branches, neither will He spare you. ²²So consider God's kindness and rigor — on the one hand His rigor applied to those who failed, and on the other

p) Isa. 52:7.

q) Isa. 53:1.

r) Ps. 19:4.

s) Deut. 32:21.

t) Isa. 65:1.

u) Isa. 65:2.

v) 1 Kings 19:10.

w) 1 Kings 19:18.

x) Righteousness was what Israel was seeking, but they sought it through self-effort, not by faith, ch. 10:3.

y) Righteousness is God's gift through Christ to His elect (chosen).

z) Deut. 29:4; Isa. 29:10. In both cases God was prepared to discipline His ancient people because of their disobedience.

a) Ps. 69:22.

hand God's kindness to you, provided you continue in His kindness; else you too will be cut away. ²³Besides they, if they do not persist in their unbelief, will be grafted in; for God is able to graft them in again. ²⁴And if you have been cut from a naturally wild olive tree and were grafted contrary to nature into a cultivated olive tree, then how much more readily will these natural branches be grafted into their own original tree.

²⁵So that you might not be self-opinionated, brothers, I want you not to be ignorant of this secret: partial insensibility has come over Israel until the full number of the Gentiles come in, ²⁶and thus Israel will be saved, as it is written,^b "From Mount Zion a deliverer will come; He will turn away ungodliness from Jacob; ²⁷and this is My covenant with them when I have taken away their sins."

²⁸So far as the good news is concerned, they are enemies for your sakes; but so far as election is concerned, they are beloved because of the fathers. ²⁹For God's gifts of grace and His calling are irrevocable. ³⁰Just as you were once disobedient to God but now have received mercy, thanks to their disobedience, ³¹so they have now been disobedient so that through the mercy you are enjoying they may now receive mercy. ³²For God has confined all men under the power of disobedience, so that He might have mercy on all men.

³³O the depth of the wealth, the wisdom, and the knowledge of God! How inscrutable are His judgments and how untraceable His footsteps!

³⁴For^c who has understood the Lord's mind, or who has become His counselor? ³⁵Or who has given anything to Him that it might be repaid him?

³⁶For from Him, and through Him and to Him are all things. To Him be glory forever! Amen.

12 I BEG YOU, THEREFORE, BROTHERS, in view of God's mercies, that you present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your reasonable service. ²And do not conform to the present world system, but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, so as to sense for yourselves what is the good and acceptable and perfect will of God. ³For through the grace that is granted me I warn each one among you not to value himself more highly than he should, but to think soberly as God has measured out to each his portion of faith.

⁴For just as in one body we have many members, but not all the members have the same function, ⁵so the many of us form one body in Christ, while each is related to all others as a member. ⁶But having gifts that differ according to the grace bestowed on us, if it is prophecy, let it be used in proportion to the measure of faith God has bestowed it; ⁷if it is practical service, then employ such service in the same way — the teacher, in his teaching; ⁸the one who admonishes, in his admonition; the contributor, in his liberality; the leader, in his deep interest; he who practices charity, in genuine cheerfulness.

⁹Let your love be sincere, clinging to the right with abhorrence of evil. ¹⁰Be joined together in a brotherhood of mutual love, trying to outdo one another in showing respect, ¹¹never slacking in interest, serving the Lord, keeping spiritually aglow, ¹²joyfully hoping as you endure affliction, persistent in prayer, ¹³contributing to the needs of the saints,^d practicing hospitality.

¹⁴Bless your persecutors; yes, bless and do not curse them. ¹⁵Share the joy of those who are happy and the grief of those who grieve. ¹⁶Live in harmony with others; do not aspire to eminence,^e but associate yourselves with humble people; do not be conceited.

¹⁷In no case paying back evil for evil, determine on the noblest ways of

b) Isa. 59:20; cf. Ps. 14:7.

c) Compare Job 35:7; 41:11; Isa. 40:13ff.; Jer. 23:18.

d) See note at Acts 9:13.

e) Whatever honors may come to men are as a result of the grace of God, to whom all glory belongs, Ps. 96:7, 8; Mal. 2:2.

dealing with all people. ¹⁸If possible, so far as it depends on you, live at peace with everyone. ¹⁹Do not avenge yourselves, dear friends, but leave room for divine retribution; for it is written,^f "It is Mine to punish; I will pay them back, says the Lord."

²⁰Instead,^g "if your enemy is hungry, feed him; in case he is thirsty, give him water to drink," for in doing so, you will pile burning coals on his head. ²¹Be not overpowered by evil, but overcome evil with good.

13 LET EVERY PERSON RENDER obedience to the governing authorities; for there is no authority except from God, and those in authority are divinely constituted, ²so that the rebel against the authority is resisting God's appointment.^h Such resisters will incur judgment on themselves.

³For magistrates are not dread to the person who does right but to the wrongdoer. You do not want to fear the authority, do you? Do right, and you will earn its approval. ⁴For it is God's agency for your welfare. But if you do wrong, then be alarmed, for it does not carry the sword without reason; it is God's agent to bring deserved punishment on the evildoer. ⁵It behoves us, therefore, to be submissive, not because of punishment only but also for conscience' sake.

⁶Pay your taxes, therefore; for those who constantly attend to this task are God's agents. ⁷Pay all of them their dues: tax to whom tax is due; customs duties to whom customs duties are due; respect to whom respect is due, and honor to whom honor is due. ⁸Owe no one anything except that you love one another, for the person who loves his neighbor has fulfilled the Law. ⁹Because,ⁱ "Do not commit adultery; do not kill; do not steal; do not covet," and whatever other commandment there is, may be summarized in one word, and that is, "Love your neighbor as yourself." ¹⁰Love works no harm to one's neighbor, so love meets all the Law's requirements.

¹¹Observe this in consideration of our times, because the hour has struck for us to wake up, for our salvation is now nearer than when we first believed. ¹²The night is well advanced and the day approaches; so let us put off the works of darkness and let us put on the armor of light. ¹³Let us behave ourselves decently as befits the daytime, not in carousing and drinking, not in immorality and debauchery, not in quarreling and jealousy. ¹⁴Instead, clothe yourselves with the Lord Jesus Christ; do not make provision for the flesh to gratify its cravings.

14 WELCOME THE WEAK BELIEVER, and do not criticize his views.

²One person has faith that allows him to eat everything, but a weaker one confines himself to vegetables.^j ³The one who eats should not feel contempt for him who abstains, nor should the one who abstains censure him who eats; for God has accepted him.^k ⁴Who are you to censure another's servant? He will stand or fall with his own master. But he will stand, for the Lord will enable him to stand.

⁵One person gives preference to one day above another day, while another person esteems every day. Each person should be fully convinced in his own mind. ⁶He who observes the day, observes it with the Lord in view. So he who eats everything, eats with the Lord in mind, for he gives thanks to God. He who limits his eating refrains for the Lord's sake, and gives thanks to God.

f) Deut. 32:35; Prov. 20:22; cf. Prov. 24:29.
g) Prov. 25:21.

h) Paul here gives the norm for the Christian's relation to the state — namely, that he must be a law-abiding citizen. The apostle does not go into situations such as those when the government is so intolerable that it must be changed or when the authorities oppose God. Cf. Acts 5:29.

i) Exod. 20:13-15, 17.

j) In apostolic times there were some Christians of Jewish background who had conscientious scruples about eating meat which they feared might have been sacrificed to idols before being sold; these people Paul called "weak." Other "stronger" believers of Jewish background (like Paul himself) or Gentile Christians did not have such scruples, I Cor. 10:25. Christians also differed regarding the keeping of special days, vs. 5, 6.

k) Even a weak Christian is accepted by God because of his faith in the Lord Jesus Christ.

⁷For none of us lives to himself, and no one dies to himself; ⁸for in case we live, we live to the Lord, and in case we die, we die to the Lord; so whether we live or die, we belong to the Lord.¹ ⁹For this purpose Christ died and lives again, to be Lord both of the dead and of the living.

¹⁰But you, why do you find fault with your brother? Or you, why do you look down on your brother? For we shall all stand before God's tribunal, ¹¹as it is written,^m "As I live, says the Lord, to Me every knee shall bow and every tongue shall render acknowledgment to God." ¹²Accordingly, every one of us will give account of himself to God.

¹³So let us no longer censure one another, but let us rather decide not to place a hindrance or a stumbling block in our brother's way. ¹⁴In union with the Lord Jesus I know and am convinced that nothing is uncleanⁿ in itself; it becomes unclean to the person who considers it unclean. ¹⁵And yet, if your brother is harmed on account of your eating, then your behavior is no longer controlled by love. You would not by your eating ruin a person for whom Christ died, would you? ¹⁶Do not then allow what is wholesome for you to be spoken of as evil; ¹⁷for the kingdom of God does not consist in eating and drinking, but in righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. ¹⁸Whoever serves Christ in this way is pleasing to God and is approved by men.

¹⁹So then let us definitely aim for everything that contributes to one another's peace and development. ²⁰Do not on account of food tear down the work of God. Everything is clean, yet it is wrong for a man to make others stumble by what he eats. ²¹It is well to eat no meat and drink no wine, to do nothing that would make your brother stumble.^o

²²You have faith? Have it personally in the presence of God. Happy is the person who has no qualms of conscience in what he allows himself to do. ²³But the person who entertains doubts, and nevertheless eats, stands condemned, because he is not acting from faith, and every act that does not spring from faith is sin.

15 WE WHO ARE STRONG OUGHT TO bear with the scruples of those who are weak. We should not please ourselves. ²But each of us should please his neighbor for his welfare, to strengthen him. ³For even Christ did not please Himself but, as it is written,^p "The reproaches of those who reproached you fell on me."

⁴All those writings of long ago were written for our instruction, so that through the patience and encouragement of the Scriptures we might have hope. ⁵And may the God who gives patience and encouragement grant you such mutual understanding in agreement with Christ Jesus ⁶that together as with one voice you may praise the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

⁷Accept one another, therefore, just as Christ accepted you, for the glory of God. ⁸For I say that Christ became a servant to the circumcised on behalf of God's truth to verify the promises that had been made to our fathers, ⁹and also that the Gentiles should praise God for His mercy, as it is written,^q "For this I will give You praise among the Gentiles and sing psalms to Your name." ¹⁰And again it says,^r "Be glad, O you Gentiles, together with His people," ¹¹and once more,^s "Praise the Lord, all you Gentiles, and sing His praises, all you peoples." ¹²Isaiah further says,^t "There will be a shoot from Jesse, even He who will stand up to rule the Gentiles; upon Him will the Gentiles rest their hope."

1) Compare ch. 12:5.

m) Isa. 45:23.

n) Under the Mosaic Law some meats were forbidden as unclean, Lev. 11; but the same God who gave this Law in the O.T. releases the Christian from it in the N.T., Acts 10. Observe, however, that in the same spirit as vs. 1-13 of this chapter in the Epistle to the Romans, the Early Church told the believers in Antioch that they should abstain from certain meats, Acts 15:28, 29.

o) Here is a guideline that Christians would do well to follow.

p) Ps. 69:9.

q) Ps. 18:49.

r) Deut. 32:43.

s) Ps. 117:1.

t) Isa. 11:10.

¹³So may God, the fountain of hope, fill you with all joy and peace in your believing, so that you may enjoy overflowing hope by the power of the Holy Spirit.

¹⁴I myself am convinced about you, my brothers, that you are full of goodness, amply furnished with knowledge, and competent to advise one another.

¹⁵But I have written to you very boldly in some matters so as to remind you, on account of the grace that God has granted me, ¹⁶that I should be a minister of Christ Jesus to the Gentiles, serving as a priest of the good news from God, whereby the Gentiles may become an acceptable offering, made holy by the Holy Spirit.

¹⁷In union with Christ Jesus, then, I take pride in my service for God; ¹⁸for I will not venture to speak of anything but what Christ has done through me to bring the Gentiles to the place of obedience by word and deed, ¹⁹by the power of signs and wonders, by the power of the Holy Spirit, so that from Jerusalem and everywhere as far as Illyricum,^u I have fully preached the good news concerning Christ. ²⁰So I endeavored earnestly to preach only where the name of Christ was not yet known, in order not to build on the foundation of someone else, ²¹but as it is written,^v "Those who have never been told of Him will see, and those who never heard will understand."

²²On this account also I have been frequently prevented from visiting you; ²³but now, since I have no more opportunities to do my work in this area, and with a longing extending over many years to visit you ²⁴whenever I might travel to Spain, I do hope to see you with my own eyes on passing through, and to have an escort from you on the way, after first having enjoyed your fellowship for a while.

²⁵Now I am on my way to Jerusalem^w in a ministry for the saints;^x ²⁶for Macedonia and Achaia have been pleased to make some contribution for the needy among the Jerusalem saints.

²⁷They themselves decided to do it, and they certainly owe it to them; for if the Gentiles shared in their spiritual possessions, then they owe them their service in material things.

²⁸When therefore I have finished this work and have turned over to them the full amount of the donation, I shall come by you on the way to Spain. ²⁹And I know that when I come to you I shall come in the abundant blessing of Christ.

³⁰But I plead with you, brothers, by our Lord Jesus Christ and the love of the Spirit, that you strive together with me in your prayers to God on my behalf, ³¹in order that I may be delivered from the unbelievers in Judea; also that my ministry for Jerusalem may be well received by the saints, ³²and that I may subsequently come to you with gladness by the will of God and enjoy a refreshing visit with you. ³³And may the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

16 MAY I PRESENT TO YOU OUR sister Phoebe, a deaconess of the Cenchreae^y church, ²so that you may receive her in the Lord's name as saints deserve, and that you may assist her in whatever matter she may have need of you; for she has been a helper to many, including me.

³Give my greetings to Priscilla and Aquila, my fellow workers in Christ Jesus, ⁴who risked their own necks to save my life,^z and to whom not only I but all the churches of the Gentiles are grateful. ⁵And include the church that meets in their house.^a

My greetings to my dear Epaphroditus,^b the first convert to Christ in Asia.

⁶Greet Mary, who went through much

^u) Illyricum was an extensive territory on the eastern coast of the Adriatic Sea and opposite a large area of Italy. Later Illyricum was called Dalmatia.

^v) Isa. 52:15.

^w) Twice Paul had been warned that he should not go to Jerusalem, Acts 21:4, 10-14, but he himself was compelled by the Holy Spirit to go there whatever might befall him. See note at Acts 21:13.

^x) See note at Acts 9:13.

^y) Cenchreae was the seaport of Corinth on the Aegean Sea.

^z) This circumstance is not mentioned elsewhere in the N.T.

^a) Priscilla and Aquila opened their house as a gathering place for the church, I Cor. 16:9; cf. Acts 18:26. The early Christians did not have church buildings.

^b) This chapter contains the longest list of names of obscure Christians in the N.T. That this trouble for you. ⁷Greet my relatives and fellow prisoners Andronicus and Junias; they are outstanding among the apostles and were Christians before I was one.

⁸Greetings to Amplias, my dear friend in the Lord. ⁹Greet Urbanus, our fellow worker in Christ, and my dear Stachys. ¹⁰Remember me to Apelles, one who is tried and true in Christ, and to those of Aristobulus' family. ¹¹Greet my relative Herodion. Greet those of Narcissus' household that are in the Lord.

¹²My greetings to those Christian workers Tryphaena and Tryphosa. Greet that dear Persis, unwearied worker that she is in the Lord. ¹³Greetings to Rufus, chosen in the Lord, and to his mother, who is mine as well.

¹⁴My greetings to Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermes, Patrobas, Hermas, and the brothers with them. ¹⁵Greet Philologus and Julia, Nereus and his sister, and Olympas and all the saints associated with them. ¹⁶Greet one another with a holy kiss. All the churches of Christ send you their greetings.

¹⁷But I warn you, brothers, to keep an eye on those who cause divisions and temptations, quite out of harmony with the doctrine you have been taught, and to keep away from them.

¹⁸For people of that type do not serve our Lord Christ but their own appetites, and by means of ingratiating talk and flattery they deceive the minds of the unsuspecting.

¹⁹The report of your obedience to Christ has reached everyone and makes me happy about you. But I want you to be wise when it comes to goodness, and innocent when it comes to evil. ²⁰And the God of peace will shortly crush Satan under your feet.

The grace of our Lord Jesus be with you.

²¹Timothy, my fellow worker, sends you greetings, and so do my relatives Lucius, Jason, and Sosipater.

²²I, Tertius, the writer^c of this letter, send you my greeting in the Lord. ²³Gaius,^d who is host to me and to the whole church, greets you. Erastus, the city treasurer, and brother Quartus send you their greetings.

²⁴[The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.]^e ²⁵Now to Him who is able to strengthen you according to the good news which I preach, the message concerning Jesus Christ, in accord with the revelation of the secret^f that was concealed for long ages ²⁶but has now been disclosed and through the prophetic writings has been made known to all nations to bring about obedience to the faith, ²⁷to the only wise God be the glory forever and ever through Jesus Christ. Amen.

profound exposition of the Gospel ends with Paul sending individual greetings to so many Christians, vss. 1:14, with others joining him in doing this, vss. 21:23, is a reminder that the truths Paul presented relate to persons, not only in his day but now also.

c) Tertius was the scribe or stenographer who wrote down the letter, probably under Paul's dictation. It is generally agreed that the Epistle to the Romans was written in Corinth at the time of the apostle's third visit to that city, cf. Acts 20:2, II Cor. 13:1.

d) Gaius was baptized by Paul himself, I Cor. 1:14.

e) Verse 24, enclosed in brackets, is found in only one ancient manuscript. It seems evident that it is an interpolation that some copyist repeated from the same words in v. 20.

f) The Greek word rendered "secret" is mysterion, which is used in the N.T. of something that was formerly concealed but is now revealed, e.g. see Matt. 13:11, 34, 35; I Cor. 2:7, 8. It has thus become a kind of "open secret." In this verse the word relates to Christ and God's marvelous redemption in and through Him on behalf of all nations, Jews and Gentiles alike, cf. ch. 11:25-27; Eph. 1:9-12; 3:3-6; Col. 1:26, 27.

CORINTHIANS

Date of writing: c. A.D. 56-57, at Ephesus

1 PAUL, CALLED BY THE WILL OF God to be an apostle of Christ Jesus, and our brother Sosthenes,^a ²to the church of God at Corinth,^b those made holy in Christ Jesus and called to be saints,^c together with all who in every place invoke the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, their Lord as well as ours: ³Grace and peace to you from God our Father and from our Lord Jesus Christ.

⁴Always I thank my God for you, for the divine grace that has through Christ Jesus been granted you; ⁵for in Him you have in every respect been enriched with full power of expression and full knowledge. ⁶In this way our witnessing of Christ has been confirmed in you, ⁷so that you are falling behind in no spiritual gift, while awaiting the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ. ⁸And He will establish you to the finish, so that no blame may be yours at the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. ⁹God is trustworthy, through whom you were called into the companionship of His Son, our Lord Jesus Christ.

¹⁰But in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ I beg of you, brothers, that all of you agree, that you eliminate factions among you, and that you be united in mind and attitude. ¹¹For the Chloe family reports to me about you, my brothers, that there are wranglings among you. ¹²I mean that each of you either says, "Paul certainly is my leader," or "But Apollos^d is mine," or "But Cephas^e is mine," or "But Christ is mine." ¹³Is Christ dismembered? Paul was not crucified for you, was he? Or were you baptized in Paul's name?

¹⁴I am thankful to have baptized none of you except Crispus and Gaius, ¹⁵so that none of you may claim baptism in my name. ¹⁶Oh, yes, I baptized the Stephanas family, also, but I do not remember baptizing anyone else. ¹⁷For Christ sent me, not to baptize but to preach the good news, and that not with verbal eloquence, so that the cross of Christ will not be made ineffectual.

¹⁸For the message of the cross is folly to those on their way to destruction, but to us who are being saved, it is God's power, ¹⁹as it is written, ^f"I will render useless the wisdom of the learned and set aside the understanding of the intelligent." ²⁰Where is the wise man? Where is the scholar in the Law? Where is the debater of this time? Has not God shown the folly of worldly wisdom? ²¹Inasmuch as in God's providence the world failed to know God by means of its wisdom,

a) Sosthenes was the ruler of the synagogue in Corinth, Acts 18:17.

b) Corinth, the principal city of the ancient Roman province of Achaia in southern Greece, is situated in close proximity to water on either side - The Gulf of Corinth on the west and nearby Cenchræe, Corinth's seaport on the Aegean Sea on the east.

c) See note at Acts 9:13.

d) Apollos was a Jew from Alexandria whom Paul met at Ephesus. He is said to have been "a man of learning and powerful in the Scriptures," Acts 18:24.

e) Cephas is the Aramaic equivalent of the Greek Petros, from which the name Peter comes. See note at Matt. 16:18.

f) Isa. 29:14.

God was pleased to save those who believe through the folly of the proclamation. ²²And while Jews request signs and Greeks search for wisdom, ²³we on our part preach the crucified Christ; a snare to the Jews and folly to the Gentiles, ²⁴but to the called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ, God's power and God's wisdom. ²⁵Because God's folly surpasses human wisdom and God's weakness surpasses human strength.

²⁶Simply consider your own call, brothers; not many of you were wise, humanly speaking, not many mighty, not many noble, ²⁷but God has chosen the world's foolish things to put to shame the learned; and God has chosen the weak in the world to shame the strong. ²⁸God also has chosen the world's insignificant and despised people and nobodies in order to bring to nothing those who amount to something, ²⁹so that nobody may boast in the presence of God.

³⁰But from Him you have your existence in Christ Jesus, who became for us divine wisdom and righteousness and holiness and redemption, ³¹so that as has been written,^g "Let the boaster boast in the Lord."

2 SO WHEN I CAME TO YOU, BROTHERS, I came with no superiority of eloquence or of wisdom, when I announced to you God's revealed truth; ²for I determined to know nothing among you except Jesus Christ and Him crucified. ³And I was before you with a sense of weakness, with fear and considerable trepidation.

⁴My message and my preaching were not in persuasive, learned oratory, but rather in evidence of the Spirit and power, ⁵so that your faith might not rest on human wisdom but on divine strength.

⁶We do, indeed, express wisdom among the mature, but neither the wisdom of this world nor the rulers of this world, who are going to pass away. ⁷Instead, we give expression to divine wisdom in the form of a mystery,^h wisdom that has been hidden, which God before all time designed for our glory. ⁸None of this world's rulers has understood it, for had they understood they would never have crucified the Lord of glory. ⁹But as it is written,ⁱ "No eye has seen, nor ear has heard, neither has the human heart thought of what God has prepared for those who love Him."

¹⁰Through the Spirit, however, God has revealed it to us; for the Spirit fathoms everything, even the deep things of God. ¹¹For among men who knows a person's thoughts, except the man's own inner spirit? Similarly, no one knows the thoughts of God except the Spirit of God. ¹²And we have received, not the spirit of the world but the Spirit that comes from God, in order that we may know the things which God has freely given us.

¹³Of these matters we speak, not in words taught by human wisdom, but in words taught by the Spirit—interpreting spiritual truth to spiritual persons. ¹⁴But the unspiritual person does not accept the things of the divine Spirit; to him they are folly and he cannot understand them, because they are evaluated from a spiritual standpoint. ¹⁵The spiritual person, on the other hand, judges the value of everything, while he is properly valued by none. ¹⁶For who has known the Lord's mind well enough to instruct Him? But we have the mind of Christ.

3 SO I WAS NOT IN A POSITION, BROTHERS, to speak to you as to spiritual persons but as to worldlings, as to babes in Christ. ²I gave you milk to drink, not solid food, because you were not yet strong enough. Neither, in fact, are you strong enough now, ³for you are still unspiritual. Insofar as you entertain jealousy and contentiousness, are you not unspiritual and do you not behave like the unconverted? ⁴When one says,^j "I hold with Paul," and another, "I with Apollos," are you not unchanged men? ⁵Who is Apollos, anyway, and who is Paul, but ministers through whom, as the Lord gave each

g) Jer. 9:24; cf. II Cor. 10:17.

h) This mystery relates to "the deep things of God," vs. 10. Cf. note at Rom. 16:25.

i) Isa. 64:4.

j) Compare ch. 1:12.

his task, you came to believe? ⁶I did the planting, Apollos did the watering, but God caused the growth, ⁷so that neither the planter nor the waterer deserves credit, but God who causes the growth.

⁸The planter and the waterer, however, work as one, and each will receive his own reward in agreement with his particular labor. ⁹For we are God's fellow workers. You are God's fields; you are the building which God is constructing. ¹⁰Because of the grace of God which has been granted me, I have, as a wise master builder, laid a foundation on which another builds; and let each look out how he does the building. ¹¹For none is able to lay another foundation than the one already laid, which is Jesus Christ.

¹²In case one builds on this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble, ¹³each one's work will become evident, for the Day will bring it to light; it will be revealed by fire. Of whatever quality each one's work may be, the fire will test it. ¹⁴In case one's construction survives, he will receive his pay. ¹⁵In case one's work is burned down, he will be the loser; though he himself will be saved, yet only as in passing through fire.

¹⁶Do you not know that you are God's temple and that the Spirit of God dwells in you? ¹⁷If anyone destroys the temple of God, God will destroy him; for the temple of God is holy, and you are such a temple.

¹⁸Let no one fool himself. If someone among you seems to be wise in this age, let him become foolish in order to grow wise; ¹⁹for the wisdom of this world is folly in God's estimation; as it is written, ¹"He snares the shrewd in their own cunning." ²⁰And again, ^m"The Lord knows the reasonings of the wise, how futile they are."

²¹Let none, therefore, boast in men, for everything is yours, ²²whether Paul or Apollos, or Cephas, ⁿor the universe, or life, or death, or present things or future things, they are all yours, ²³while you are Christ's and Christ is God's.

4 PEOPLE SHOULD CONSIDER US AS servants of Christ and stewards of God's mysteries. ²The prime requisite of stewards is fidelity. ³To me it is of very little importance to be judged by you or by any human court; nor do I even judge myself, ⁴for I am not vindicated because I am unconscious of wrong on my part. The One who judges me is the Lord. ⁵So do not pass premature judgment before the Lord comes, who will bring to light the things hidden by darkness and will reveal the inner motives. Then will each one experience his approval from God.

⁶These suggestions, brothers, I have applied in a figure to myself and to Apollos for your sakes, so that from our experience you may learn not to go beyond what is written, ^oin order that you may not support one teacher against the other. ⁷For who concedes you any superiority? What have you that you have not received? But if you received it, why do you boast as if it were not received? ⁸Are you already satisfied? Are you already rich? Are you without us on the throne? How I wish you did reign, so we might reign with you!

⁹For I think that God has appointed us apostles last, as designed for death; for we have become an exhibition to the universe, to angels as well as to men. ¹⁰On Christ's account we are fools, but in Christ you are intelligent; we are weaklings, but you are powerful. You enjoy honor, but we are despised.

¹¹Up to this very hour we are hungry and thirsty; we are ill-clothed, roughly treated, and homeless. ¹²We toil to exhaustion with our own hands. Being slandered, we bless; being persecuted, we patiently endure; ¹³being defamed, we bring comfort. To this moment we are considered the scum of the earth, the off-scouring of all things.

k) The Holy Spirit resides in the heart of every believer in Christ, Rom. 8:9.

l) Job 5:13.

m) Ps. 94:11.

n) See note at ch. 1:12.

o) Everything is to be weighed by what God has revealed in His Word.

¹⁴I do not write these things to shame you, but to warn you as my dear children. ¹⁵For although you have a myriad of tutors in Christ, you nevertheless have not many fathers; because in Christ Jesus I became your father by means of the good news concerning Christ. ¹⁶Hence I urge you that you imitate me. ¹⁷For this reason I am sending to you Timothy, my beloved and faithful son in the Lord, who will remind you of my principles of behavior in Christ Jesus, such as I teach everywhere in every church.^p

¹⁸Some have grown inflated with pride, as though I were not coming to you. ¹⁹But, the Lord willing, I shall come to you shortly, and then I shall discover, not the words of those conceited persons but their power; ²⁰for the kingdom of God is not a matter of words but of power.

²¹Which do you want? Shall I come to you to punish, or in love and in a spirit of gentleness?

5 IT IS ACTUALLY REPORTED THAT there is sexual immorality among you, and that of a kind which does not occur among the Gentiles—that a man has his father's wife.^q ²And you, rather than grieving about it enough to remove the person who committed such a deed, are you still puffed up? ³As for me, present in spirit although absent in body, I have already, as if present, passed judgment on the one who thus behaved. ⁴In the name of the Lord Jesus, when you are gathered together and my spirit^r is present with you, together with the power of our Lord Jesus, ⁵let such a person be handed over to Satan for the destruction^s of the flesh in order that the spirit may be saved on the day of the Lord Jesus.

⁶Your boasting is not admirable. Are you not aware that a little yeast changes the whole batch? ⁷Purge out the old yeast, so that you will be a fresh batch. You are in fact unleavened, for our Passover Lamb has been sacrificed, even Christ. ⁸Let us therefore celebrate the feast, not with use of old yeast, certainly not with yeast of malice and vice, but with unfermented batches of purity and truth.

⁹I wrote you in that letter^t not to associate with sexually immoral people; ¹⁰not that in a public way you must have nothing whatever to do with the immoral of this world, or the avaricious and grasping, or the idolatrous, for then you must get out of the world altogether. ¹¹So I write you now that if a pretended brother is immoral or greedy or idolatrous or abusive or a drinker or a robber, you must not associate with him, nor even eat with one of that type.

¹²What business of mine is it to judge outsiders? Do you not have those within the church to judge? ¹³But outsiders God will judge. Expel that wicked person from your own company.

6 DOES ONE WHO HAS A CASE against someone else dare to go to law before a pagan court and not before the saints?^u ²Are you not aware that the saints will judge the world? And if the world is to be judged by you, are you not competent to be judges of minor matters? ³Do you not know that we shall judge angels, not to mention affairs of this life?^v ⁴When, however, you do have an everyday case, do you appoint for judges those in the church who have no standing? ⁵I say this to shame you. Is there really not a single wise person among you who is capable of deciding

p) Paul's life matched his teaching.

q) Not the man's actual mother but his stepmother, his father being still living, II Cor. 7:12.

r) Paul's spirit as led by the Holy Spirit.

s) The word rendered "destruction" is translated from the Greek olethros. It does not of necessity carry the thought of annihilation but rather defilement or ruin, the subject thus becoming unsuited for its original purpose. The believer who continues to sin, such as the man described in this passage, may be given over to Satan so that he may be brought under conviction of sin and turned back to the place of obedience to God. Sometimes even physical death comes as a result of offenses against the Almighty, ch. 11:30; cf. Acts 5:1-11; 1 John 5:16, 17.

t) No copy of this letter has been found.

u) See note at Acts 9:13.

v) Implicit in reigning with Christ is the responsibility of judging the world, Dan. 7:22; cf. Matt. 19:28; Luke 22:30.

between brothers, ⁶instead of one brother going to law against another brother and that before unbelievers?

⁷It means complete defeat for you when you have lawsuits among yourselves. Why do you not rather suffer injustice? Why not rather be defrauded? ⁸Instead, you practice injustice and fraud, and that on your brothers.

⁹Do you not know that the unrighteous will not inherit God's kingdom? Be not misled; neither profligates, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor partakers in homosexuality, ¹⁰nor thieves, nor the avaricious, nor drunkards, nor slanderers, nor robbers will inherit the kingdom of God. ¹¹And some of you were just that; but you were washed and you were made holy and you were made righteous by the power of the Lord Jesus Christ and by the Spirit of our God.

¹²Everything is permitted me, but not everything is beneficial. Although everything is allowed me, I will not be mastered by anything. ¹³Food for the stomach and the stomach for food, but God will destroy both of them. The body is not for lust but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body; ¹⁴and as God raised up the Lord, so will He raise us up through His power.

¹⁵Are you not aware that your bodies are members of Christ? Shall I then take the members of Christ to make them members of a prostitute? No, never! ¹⁶Or do you not know that one who unites with a prostitute is one body with her? For "The two," He says, "will become one flesh." ¹⁷But he who unites with the Lord is one spirit with Him.

¹⁸Shun sexual immorality. All other sin a person commits outside the body, but the immoral person sins against his own body. ¹⁹Or do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit within you, whom you have from God, and that you do not belong to yourselves? ²⁰For you were bought and paid for; then give God the glory with your body.

7 CONCERNING THE SUBJECTS OF your correspondence, it is good for a man to let a woman alone; ²but because of prevailing immoralities^x let every man have his own wife and let every woman have her own husband. ³The husband must render to his wife the obligations that are due her, and similarly the wife to her husband. ⁴The wife does not have authority over her own body, but her husband does, and just so the husband does not have authority over his own body, but his wife does.

⁵Do not deprive each other, except by mutual agreement for a time to devote yourselves unhindered to prayer; and come together again, so that Satan may not tempt you on account of your lack of self-control.

⁶I say this by way of concession, not as a regulation. ⁷I wish all men were as I am, but each person has his own gift from God, the one in this direction, the other in that.

⁸To the single and the widows I say that it is good for them to remain as I am; ⁹but if they cannot restrain their passions, let them marry, for it is better to marry than to be consumed by passion.

¹⁰To the married couples I command—not really I but the Lord—that the wife must not leave her husband; ¹¹and in case she does separate, she must either stay single or make up with her husband. And a husband must not divorce his wife.

¹²To the rest I say—but not as the Lord's command^y—if some brother has a wife who is not a believer but enjoys living with him, let him not divorce her. ¹³And if the wife has an unbelieving husband who enjoys living with her, let her not divorce her husband. ¹⁴For the unbelieving husband is dedicated through his wife, and the unbelieving wife is dedicated through her believing husband, else your children would be unholy, but now they are dedicated.

¹⁵In case the unbeliever wants to separate, let there be separation; the

w) Gen. 2:24.

x) Bear in mind that Paul's Epistle to the Romans was written in Corinth, in which letter see ch. 1:23-32.

y) Paul does not disclaim inspiration here but only disclaims a direct command of Christ.

brother or the sister is under such circumstances not tied down. But God has called you to enjoy peace. ¹⁶For how do you know, O wife, whether you will save your husband, or how do you know, O husband, whether you will save your wife?

¹⁷Certainly, as the Lord has assigned to each, as God has given each his calling, so keep on conducting yourselves; and this is my ruling in all the churches. ¹⁸Was a circumcised person called? Let him not try to efface it. Was an uncircumcised person called? Let him not be circumcised. ¹⁹Circumcision has no value, neither has uncircumcision, but the observance of God's commandments does count.

²⁰Let each one stay in the station in life in which he received his call. ²¹Were you a slave when called? Do not let that worry you; but if you can gain freedom, you should avail yourself of the chance. ²²It comes to this: the slave who is called by the Lord is the Lord's freedman; similarly he who is called while he is free is a slave of Christ. ²³You were bought with a price; do not become slaves of men. ²⁴Brothers, let each remain with God in the station in life in which he was called.

²⁵Regarding the unmarried I have no divine injunction, but as one who has received mercy from the Lord to be trustworthy, ²⁶I give my opinion. I consider, then, that in view of the impending distress it is good for a person to remain in his present situation. ²⁷Are you united to a wife? Do not seek release. Are you unattached to a woman? Do not seek a wife. ²⁸But in case you marry, you do not sin; nor does the unmarried woman sin if she marries. Such, however, will experience trouble in this life, and I would spare you that.

²⁹I tell you this, brothers, the time is growing short. From now on let those who have wives behave as if they had none, ³⁰and the mourners as if they were not mourning, and the joyful as if they did not rejoice; those who purchase as if they were not possessors, ³¹and those who make use of the world as if they had no use for it, ²because the present world order is passing away.

³²I would not have you worried. The single person is concerned with the Lord's affairs, how to please the Lord, ³³but the married person is concerned with things of the world, how to please his wife; he has divided interests. ³⁴The unmarried woman or the virgin is interested in the Lord's affairs, that she may be dedicated to Him in body and spirit; but the married woman is concerned with things of the world, how she may please her husband.

³⁵I mention this for your own good, not to throw a rope around you but to promote proper behavior and undisturbed devotion to the Lord. ³⁶If someone thinks he is not acting properly toward his virgin,^a in case she is passing the bloom of youth and circumstances render it suitable, let him do as he pleases; it is no sin for them to marry. ³⁷But he whose mind stands firm and who is under no compulsion, who has power over his own will and has determined in his own heart to preserve his virgin as a virgin, is doing right. ³⁸So then, he who marries his virgin does well, and he who does not marry her does better.

³⁹A wife is bound [by the law]^b to her husband as long as he lives; but in case her husband dies, she is free to marry whom she pleases—only he should belong to the Lord.^c ⁴⁰It is my judgment, however, that she will be better off by remaining single. And I think also that I have God's Spirit.

8 WITH REGARD TO FOOD THAT HAS been offered to idols, we are aware that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffs up, but love builds up. ²If anyone fancies he knows anything, he

z) Not worldly things but things that pertain to the kingdom of God must be the Christian's supreme interest.

a) Either one's daughter or fiancée, probably the latter.

b) The words enclosed in brackets are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts.

c) Compare II Cor. 6:14.

does not yet understand as he should; ³but if anyone loves God, that person is known by Him.

⁴Now concerning food that has been dedicated to idols, we know that no idol really exists, that there is no God but one. ⁵Even if there are so-called gods either in heaven or on earth, as indeed there are many gods and many lords, ⁶for us there is one God the Father, from whom all things come and who is our goal; and one Lord Jesus Christ, through whom all things exist and through whom we are.

⁷This knowledge, however, does not rest with everyone. There are some so accustomed to still thinking in terms of idols, that they eat food as offered to idols,^d and their conscience, weak as it is, becomes contaminated. ⁸Of course food does not recommend us to God; we are none the better for eating nor any the worse for not eating. ⁹But make sure that this freedom of choice of yours does not become a hindrance to those who are weak.

¹⁰For if someone sees you, with your knowledge, sitting^e at the table in an idol temple, will not his conscience, weak as it is, encourage him to eat food offered to idols? ¹¹In consequence this weak brother, on whose behalf Christ died, is ruined by your enlightenment. ¹²But as you thus sin against your brothers and hurt their weak consciences, you sin against Christ. ¹³Therefore, if my eating causes my brother to stumble, I shall eat no meat forever, so that my brother will not be made to fall into sin.^f

9 AM I NOT FREE? AM I NOT AN apostle? Have I not seen^g our Lord Jesus? Are you not my work in the Lord? ²If to others I am not an apostle, I certainly am to you; for in the Lord you are the certificate of my apostleship. ³My reply to those who criticize me is this: ⁴Do not we have the right to eat and to drink? ⁵Do not we have the right to take along a Christian wife with us on our travels as the other apostles do, and the Lord's brothers, and Cephas?^h ⁶Or, are only Barnabas and I not entitled to freedom from manual labor?

⁷Who serves as a soldier at his own expense? Who plants a vineyard and does not eat its fruit? Or who herds a flock and does not enjoy its milk? ⁸Am I saying this purely from a human standpoint, or does not the Law say the same thing? ⁹For in the Law of Moses it is written,ⁱ "You must not muzzle a threshing ox." Is God thinking in terms of oxen, ¹⁰or does He not certainly speak on our behalf? For our sakes it is written, because the plowman ought to plow in hope and the thresher thresh in expectation of his share.

¹¹Inasmuch as we have sown spiritual seed among you, is it remarkable for us to reap material benefits from you? ¹²Since others enjoy the right to share material benefits from you, do not we all the more? True, we did not avail ourselves of this right; instead, we endure everything so that we may furnish no obstacle to the good news concerning Christ.

¹³Are you not aware that those who conduct the temple service make their living from the temple, and that those who tend the altar share in the altar gifts? ¹⁴In a similar way the Lord directed that those who preach the good news should live from the good news. ¹⁵But I have not availed myself of any of these rights, nor am I writing this to have them granted to me. I would rather die than have anyone rob me of this reason for boasting.

¹⁶For preaching the good news I claim no glory, for I am under compulsion to do so. It is woe^j to me if I do not preach the good news. ¹⁷If I do this willingly I have my reward; but if I am compelled to do so, it is an of-

^d) Since they keep thinking of idols as realities, their conscience is disturbed.

^e) See note at Mark 2:15.

^f) Here is a guide to Christians about engaging in certain doubtful practices.

^g) On the Damascus Road, Acts 9:1-22; cf. I Cor. 15:8.

^h) See note at ch. 1:12.

ⁱ) Deut. 25:4.

^j) The word translated "woe," Greek ouai, is equivalent to "alas." It is an expression denoting displeasure or pain.

fice with which I am entrusted.¹⁸What then is my compensation? This, that in preaching I may offer the good news without cost; that I do not make full use of my authority as a preacher of the good news.

¹⁹Although I am free from every one, I have enslaved myself to all of them in order to win a larger number.

²⁰To the Jews I behave as a Jew to win Jews; to those under the Law as one who is under the Law — although I am not under the Law — to gain those who are under the Law. ²¹To those who are without law I am as without law — although not lawless toward God but committed to Christ's Law — in order to win those who are without law. ²²To the weak I have become weak to win the weak. I have become everything to everybody so that by all means I may save some. ²³But I do it all to advance the good news, that I may have a share in it with you.

²⁴Do you not know that those who race in the stadium all run, to be sure, but one receives the prize? So run your race that you may win it. ²⁵And everyone who enters the contest, practices self-control in every detail; he, indeed, does it to receive a perishable crown, but we an imperishable.

²⁶Accordingly, I run straight ahead, not aimlessly; I thus box, not punching the air. ²⁷But I discipline my body and make it serve me, so that, while I am preaching to others, I myself may not be disqualified.

10 I WANT YOU TO KNOW, BROTHERS, that although our fathers were all under the cloud, and all passed through the sea, ²and all as followers of Moses were baptized in the cloud and the sea,^k ³and all ate the same spiritual food ⁴and drank the same spiritual drink, for they drank from the spiritual rock which accompanied them, which rock was Christ.^l ⁵Nevertheless God was not pleased with the majority of them, for they were struck down in the wilderness.

⁶These things occurred as examples for us, so that we may not lust after evil as they lusted, ⁷neither be idol-worshippers as some of them were, as it is written,^m "The people sat down to eat and to drink and got up to dance."

⁸Neither should we do immoral deeds as some of them did, whenⁿ twenty-three thousand fell in one day. ⁹Neither should we become a trial to the Lord as some of them tried Him and were destroyed^o by serpents. ¹⁰Do not grumble, either, as some of them grumbled, and they were put out of the way^p by the destroyer.

¹¹These experiences came to them as a lesson for us and were written as a warning to us, on whom the end of the age has come.^q ¹²Therefore let him who feels sure of standing firm, beware of falling. ¹³No temptation except what all people experience has laid hold of you, and God is faithful, who will not permit you to be tempted beyond your ability but will, at the time of temptation, provide a way out, so that you will be able to stand it. ¹⁴For this reason, my dear friends, keep clear from idolatry.

¹⁵I appeal to your intelligence; judge for yourselves what I say. ¹⁶Is not the blessed cup, which we consecrate, a fellowship in the blood of Christ? Is not the bread we break a fellowship in the body of Christ? ¹⁷The many of us are one bread, one body, since we all participate in the one bread.

¹⁸Look at those of Israelite descent. Are not those who eat the sacrifice sharers of the altar? ¹⁹What then am I saying? That an offering to idols amounts to anything, or that the idol itself is anything? ²⁰No, but that which they sacrifice, they are offering to demons and not to God, and I do not want you to have fellowship with demons. ²¹You cannot drink the Lord's cup and the cup of demons. You can-

k) The Israelites identified themselves with Moses by sharing his experiences.

l) The rock was a symbol of Christ. A rock or stone is frequently employed figuratively of Him, e.g., Gen. 49:24; Deut. 32:4; II Sam. 23:3; Eph. 2:20; I Pet. 2:8.

m) Exod. 32:6.

n) Num. 25:1-9.

o) Num. 21:4-6.

p) Num. 16:41.

q) That is, particularly to those in the church in this present age.

not participate in the Lord's table and the table of demons. ²²Or shall we provoke the Lord to jealousy? Are we mightier than He?

²³Everything is allowed, but not everything is helpful. Everything is allowed, but not everything is constructive. ²⁴Let none seek his own advantage but rather that of his neighbor.

²⁵Eat whatever is sold in the meat market, without asking questions for conscientious scruples, ²⁶for the earth and its fullness are the Lord's.

²⁷In case an unbeliever invites you^r and you wish to go, eat whatever is served you, without making conscientious inquiries. ²⁸But if someone informs you, "This is food that has been offered to idols," then do not eat it, on account of the one who reminded you and for conscience' sake, — ²⁹I mean not your own but the other person's conscience; for why should my freedom be unfavorably judged before another person's conscience? ³⁰When I partake with gratitude, why should I be denounced on account of that for which I give thanks? ³¹So, whether you eat or drink or whatever you do, do it all to the glory of God.^a

³²Behave in such a way that you cause neither the Jews, nor the Greeks, nor the church of God to stumble, ³³just as I myself please everyone in every way, not seeking my own advantage but that of the many, in order that they may be saved.

11 IMITATE ME, AS I IMITATE Christ. ²I commend you for remembering me in everything, and for observing the traditions I transmitted to you. ³But I want you to understand that Christ is the head of every man, that the man is the woman's head, and that God is the head of Christ. ⁴Any man who has his head covered while praying or prophesying dishonors his head, ⁵but any woman who has her head uncovered while praying or prophesying dishonors her head, for it is the same as if she were shaved. ⁶If a woman does not wear a veil,¹ let her hair be cut; but if it is disgraceful for a woman to have her hair cut off or her head shaved, then let her wear a veil.

⁷The man should not have his head covered, since he is the image and glory of God, but the woman is the man's glory. ⁸For man is not from woman but woman from man; ⁹neither was man created for the woman's sake, but woman for the man's sake. ¹⁰The woman, therefore, ought to have a token of authority on her head, because of the angels.¹¹ ¹¹Nevertheless, in the Lord woman is not independent of man, and man is not independent of woman, ¹²for just as the woman is from the man, so the man is through the woman, and they all have their origin from God.

¹³Judge for yourselves. Is it becoming for a woman to worship God without covering for her head? ¹⁴Does not nature itself teach you that long hair is disgraceful for a man ¹⁵but glorious for a woman? For her hair is granted her for a covering. ¹⁶In case, however, anyone seems anxious to dispute the matter, we do not observe such a practice, neither do the churches of God.

¹⁷In giving these instructions, however, I do not commend you, because you do not meet together for the better but for the worse. ¹⁸For in the first place, I hear that as you meet as a congregation there are divisions among you, and to some extent I believe it. ¹⁹Indeed, there have to be factions among you, so that the genuine among you may be recognized.

²⁰So when you meet, you do not come to eat the Lord's Supper, ²¹for in your eating each one goes ahead and takes his own supper, so that this one stays hungry and that one imbibes too freely. ²²Do you not have homes for your eating and drinking? Or have you no respect for the church of God, and would you humiliate those who have nothing? What shall I tell you? Shall I commend you? In this matter I do not commend you.

¹) For a meal with him.

^s) Questionable practices should be examined by this test: can they be done to the glory of God?

^t) That is, to cover her head.

^u) Ministering angels, Heb. 1:14.

²³For I have received from the Lord^v what I also delivered to you, that the Lord Jesus, on the night in which He was betrayed, took bread, ²⁴and when He had given thanks, He broke it and said, "This is My body, broken on your behalf; this do in remembrance of Me." ²⁵Similarly also He took the cup, after they had supped, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in My blood. This do, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of Me." ²⁶For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you will proclaim the Lord's death till He comes.

²⁷Whoever, therefore, eats the bread, or drinks the cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner, is a violator of the Lord's body and blood. ²⁸But let a person look carefully at himself and in that spirit eat of the bread and drink from the cup; ²⁹for whoever eats and drinks without due appreciation of the body^w of Christ eats and drinks to his own condemnation. ³⁰For this reason many among you are weak and sick, and a number have died.

³¹If, however, we scrutinized ourselves, then we should not be judged. ³²And the judgments from the Lord serve to discipline us, so that we may not be condemned with the world. ³³Accordingly, my brothers, when you come together to eat,^x wait for one another. ³⁴If anyone is hungry, let him eat at home, so that your meeting may not lead to judgment. The rest I will arrange^y when I come.

12 I DO NOT WANT TO LEAVE YOU in the dark, brothers, about spiritual gifts. ²You know how in your days of paganism you were drawn away after dumb idols, in whatever way you were led. ³I therefore declare to you that no one who says, "Jesus be cursed!" is speaking by the Spirit of God; neither is any one able to say, "Jesus is Lord," except by the Holy Spirit.

⁴There are distinctive gifts of grace, but the same Spirit, ⁵and there are distinctive ministries, yet the same Lord. ⁶There also are varieties of things accomplished, but the same God does all the energizing in them all.

⁷To each is granted the evidence of the Spirit for the common welfare. ⁸To one person is given by the Spirit a message of wisdom and to another the utterance of knowledge according to the same Spirit; ⁹to a third faith is granted by the same Spirit; to yet another the gifts of healing by the one Spirit; ¹⁰to another miraculous powers; to this one prophecy, to that one discrimination between spirits, to a third variety of tongues, and to yet another the ability to interpret tongues. ¹¹All these abilities one and the same Spirit energizes, distributing to each individual exactly as He pleases.^z

¹²For just as the body is one and has many members, while all the numerous parts of the body compose one body, so it is with Christ. ¹³For by one Spirit we have all been baptized into one body, whether Jews or Greeks, whether slaves or free, and we have all been imbued with one Spirit.

¹⁴The body consists not of one but of many members. ¹⁵If the foot should say, "Because I am not a hand, I do not belong to the body," it would nevertheless remain part of the body. ¹⁶Or if the ear should say, "Because I am not an eye, I do not belong to the body," it is nevertheless part of the body. ¹⁷If the entire body were an eye, where would the hearing come in? Or if all were hearing, what of the smelling? ¹⁸As it is, however, God has

v) The way that the believers at Corinth had been observing the Lord's Supper was certainly not from the Lord. Paul, on the other hand, had received a direct revelation from the Lord concerning its commemoration.

w) The body of Christ is composed of all believers in Him.

x) On the night on which our Lord was betrayed He and the Twelve partook of the Passover Feast in the upper room before He instituted the Lord's Supper. In later years believers frequently held feasts of love before they broke the bread and poured the wine of communion. In Corinth the feast of love, cf. Jude 12, had become out of hand and, as a result, the Lord's Supper was partaken of in an unworthy manner. One needs to scrutinize his own life before he meets with God, lest he be judged.

y) I Cor. 7:17.

z) Every Christian has a gift from the Holy Spirit. Each must discover what his gift is, and then use it for the glory of God.

placed the members in the body, each particular one of them just as He saw fit.

¹⁹If they were all one member, where would the body be? ²⁰As it is there are many members to form one body. ²¹The eye cannot say to the hand, "I do not need you"; nor again the head to the feet, "I do not need you." ²²What is more, those seemingly delicate members of the body are indispensable, ²³and on those that are considered ignoble we bestow additional honor. Our unpresentable members are also given more than usual modesty, ²⁴such as our presentable members do not require. In fact, God has so constituted the body with the inferior members the more richly endowed, ²⁵that there may be no discord in the body, but instead the members may have the same concern one for another. ²⁶When one member suffers, all the members share the suffering. When a member is honored, they all share the joy.

²⁷But you are Christ's body and individually members of it. ²⁸And God has appointed in the church first apostles, next prophets,^a third teachers, then miracle workers, then gifts of healing, helping, administering, speaking in tongues. ²⁹Not all are apostles, are they? Not all are prophets, or teachers, or miracle workers, ³⁰or possessing the gifts of healing, or speaking in tongues, or being able to interpret, are they? ³¹But earnestly desire the more valuable spiritual gifts. And I shall show you a still more excellent way.

13 ¹EVEN THOUGH I SPEAK IN human and angelic language and have no love,^b I am as noisy brass or a clashing cymbal. ²And although I have the prophetic gift and see through every secret and through all that may be known, and have sufficient faith for the removal of mountains, but I have no love, I am nothing. ³And though I give all my belongings to feed the hungry and surrender my body to be burned, but I have no love, I am not in the least benefited.

⁴Love endures long and is kind; love is not jealous; love is not out for display; ⁵it is not conceited or unmannerly; it is neither self-seeking nor irritable, nor does it take account of a wrong that is suffered. ⁶It takes no pleasure in injustice but sides happily with truth. ⁷It bears everything in silence, has unquenchable faith, hopes under all circumstances, endures without limit.

⁸Love never fails. As for prophesying, they will pass away; as for tongues, they will cease; as for knowledge, it will lose its meaning. ⁹For our knowledge is fragmentary and so is our prophesying. ¹⁰But when the perfect is come then the fragmentary will come to an end.

¹¹When I was a child I talked like a child, thought like a child, I reasoned like a child, but on becoming a man I was through with childish ways. ¹²For now we see indistinctly in a mirror,^c but then face to face. Now we know partly, but then we shall understand as completely as we are understood.

¹³There remain then, faith, hope, love, these three; but the greatest^d of these is love.

14 ¹MAKE LOVE YOUR GREAT QUEST; then desire spiritual gifts, and especially that you may prophesy. ²For whoever speaks in a tongue^e does not speak to men but to God; no one catches the meaning; he is uttering secret matters in the Spirit. ³But he who prophesies gives people a constructive, encouraging and comforting message.

⁴He who speaks in a tongue improves himself, but he who prophesies builds up the church. ⁵I wish you might all speak in tongues, but I would

a) Prophets declare the full revelation of God and not simply predictions about the future.

b) The Greek noun for "love" in this chapter and 14:1 is agape (verb agapao) which denotes a very deep love such as Christ's love to man, John 13: 34. See note at John 21:15.

c) Most mirrors in apostolic times were made of metal. The images they reflected were not clear but blurred.

d) Love is greatest since it will endure throughout eternity, whereas faith and hope are temporal.

e) That is, an unknown tongue or unfamiliar language, and so in the verses that follow.

rather have you all prophesy. He who prophesies is more important than he who speaks in tongues, unless he should interpret so that the church may enjoy edification.

⁶If, for instance, I should come to you, brothers, speaking in tongues, what good would I do you unless I presented to you some revelation or information or prophecy or instruction? ⁷Unless musical instruments, such as a flute or a harp, produce distinct tones, how will anyone know what is being played? ⁸In case the trumpet emits an indistinct call, who will get ready for battle? ⁹Just so you, unless with your tongue you contribute an intelligent message, how will your speech be understood? You will be talking into empty space.

¹⁰There are who know how many languages in the world, and none without meaning. ¹¹If, then, I do not catch the significance of an expression, I shall seem a foreigner to the one who addresses me, and so will the one who speaks seem a foreigner to me. ¹²And you are in a similar situation. Since you are eager for spiritual gifts, seek to excel in the upbuilding of the church.

¹³The person, therefore, who speaks in a tongue, should pray for ability to interpret. ¹⁴For in case I pray in a tongue, my spirit prays but my mind is unproductive. ¹⁵Then what about it? I shall pray with my spirit, but I shall pray also with my understanding. I shall sing with my spirit, but I shall sing also with my understanding. ¹⁶Else, when you in the Spirit render thanks, how will one not gifted with tongues say "Amen" to your thanksgiving, since he does not know what you say? ¹⁷To be sure, you are giving thanks well enough, but the bystander is not edified.

¹⁸Thanks be to God, I speak in tongues more than all of you; ¹⁹but in the congregation I would rather speak five words intelligibly to instruct others than a myriad of words in a tongue.

²⁰Brothers, do not be children in your thinking; be children in wickedness, but in your thinking be mature. ²¹It is written^f in the Law, "I shall speak to this people through strange languages and through alien lips, and even so they will not listen to me, says the Lord." ²²So then tongues are for a sign, not for believers but for unbelievers, while prophecy is not for unbelievers but for believers. ²³Suppose at an assembly of the whole church they should all speak with tongues, and uninstructed or unbelieving persons came in, would they not say that you are demented? ²⁴But suppose they all prophesied, and some unbelieving or uninstructed person came in, he would be convicted by all; he would be called to account by all. ²⁵The secrets of his heart would become evident and so, falling face down, he would worship God, declaring that in very truth God is among you.

²⁶What then, brothers? When you meet together, each one contributes his part — a song, a lesson, a revelation, a tongue, an interpretation of it; everything should be constructive. ²⁷If someone speaks in a tongue, let there be two or at the most three, each in his turn, and let one give an interpretation. ²⁸But in case there is no interpreter, let them keep still in the church; let each of them speak to himself and to God. ²⁹So, two or three prophets may speak while the rest pay attention. ³⁰But if a revelation comes to another who is sitting by, then let the first one be silent; ³¹for it is possible for all to prophesy, each in his turn, so that all may learn and all may receive encouragement. ³²And the spirits of the prophets are in subjection to the prophets; ³³for He is not the God of disorder but of peace, as in all the churches of the saints. ³⁴Let the women keep silent in the churches, for they are not allowed to speak. Instead, they must, as the Law says,^g be in subordination. ³⁵If they wish to learn something, let them inquire of their own husbands at home; for it is improper for a woman to speak in church. ³⁶Or did God's message get its start

^f Isa. 28:11, 12; cf. Deut. 28:49. The "Law" sometimes denotes not the Law of Moses only or the Pentateuch but all of the O.T.
^g Gen. 3:16.

from you? Or did it come to you alone?

³⁷If anyone considers himself a prophet or inspired, let him understand that what I write to you is the Lord's injunction; ³⁸but if anyone disregards it, he is to be disregarded. ³⁹To conclude, my brothers, earnestly desire to prophesy, but do not hinder the speaking with tongues. ⁴⁰Let everything be done with propriety and in orderly fashion.

15 I WOULD FURTHER REMIND you, brothers, of the good news which I preached to you, which you welcomed, in which you stand, ²and by which you are saved, if you keep hold of my message to you — unless, indeed, you believed in vain.

³For I transmitted to you as of first importance what I also received, that Christ died for our sins in accordance^h with the Scriptures, ⁴that also He was buried, and that He rose on the third day in accordanceⁱ with the Scriptures; ⁵that also He was seen by Cephas,^j then by the Twelve. ⁶Later He appeared to more than five hundred brothers simultaneously, of whom the majority are still alive; but some have died. ⁷Afterward He appeared to James,^k then to all the apostles, ⁸and last of all He appeared to me^l also, as to one whose birth was like a miscarriage. ⁹For I am the least of the apostles, not deserving the name of apostle because I persecuted the church of God.

¹⁰By divine grace, however, I am what I am, and His grace toward me was not ineffective. In fact, I have worked harder than any of them — that is, not really I but the grace of God that is with me. ¹¹So, whether I or they, such is our preaching and such is what you believed.^m that some of you claim there is no resurrection of the dead? ¹³If there is no rising of the dead, then Christ has not been raised; ¹⁴but if Christ has not been raised, then our preaching amounts to nothing and your faith is futile. ¹⁵Then we are discovered to be false witnesses of God because we have testified about God that He raised Christ, whom He did not raise if no dead are actually raised. ¹⁶For if no dead are raised, then neither has Christ been raised. ¹⁷But if Christ has not been raised, then your faith is futile; you are still in your sins. ¹⁸And what is more, those who have died in Christ perished. ¹⁹If we have hope in Christ for this life only, then of all people we are most to be pitied.

¹²But if Christ is preached, that He was raised from the dead, how is it

²⁰But the fact is that Christ has been raised from the dead, the first fruits of those who have died. ²¹For inasmuch as death came through a man, the resurrection from the dead is also through a Man. ²²For just as in Adam all die, so in Christ shall allⁿ be made to live; ²³each, to be sure, in his turn: Christ first; then His own at His coming. ²⁴After that the end will come, when He hands over the kingdom to God the Father, after abolishing every ruler and all government and power. ²⁵For He must be King until He puts all His enemies under His feet.

²⁶The last enemy to be subdued is death, ²⁷for "He has put everything under His feet." But when it says, "All things are subjected to Him," it is clear that the One who does the subjecting of all to Him is excepted. ²⁸However, once everything is subjected to Him, then the Son, too, will subject Himself to the One who put all things in subjection under Him, so that God may be all in all.

²⁹Otherwise, if the dead do not rise at all, what are they to do who are baptized for the dead?^p And why are

h) Ps. 22; Isa. 53.

i) Ps. 16:10.

j) See note at ch. 1:12.

k) This was Jesus' half brother, the son of Mary and Joseph, cf. Gal. 1:19.

l) On the Damascus Road, Acts 9:8, 17.

m) Without exception they preached the risen Christ.

n) All believers in Christ, called "His own" in the next verse, and not just everybody.

o) Ps. 8:6; cf. Heb. 2:8.

p) Perhaps the allusion is to those who bravely identified themselves in baptism with others who had been martyred for Christ's sake. Cf. vs. 30.

they baptized for them? ³⁰Besides, why do we live dangerously every moment? ³¹Every day I face death, as surely as I take pride in you, brothers, through Christ Jesus our Lord. ³²From a human standpoint, what good is my fighting against beasts in Ephesus? ³³If the dead are not raised, "let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die." ³⁴Do not be misled. Bad associations corrupt good morals. ³⁵Return to sober-mindedness as you should, and quit sinning. For I say to your shame, some have no sense of the presence of God.

³⁵"But," someone will ask, "how are the dead raised? And with what body do they come?" ³⁶You simpleton! What you sow does not come to life unless it dies. ³⁷Nor is what you sow the body that is to be; it is a mere kernel, either of wheat or of some other grain. ³⁸But God gives it a body as He plans, and to each seed its particular body. ³⁹All flesh is not the same; but one kind is human, another is animal, another is fowl, and another fish. ⁴⁰There are heavenly bodies and also earthly bodies; but the radiance of the heavenly is one kind and that of the earthly is another kind. ⁴¹The sun is radiant in one way and the moon is another way; the stars in still a different way. So does one star differ in radiance from another.

⁴²So too is the resurrection from the dead. The body is sown in dissolution; it is raised in immortality. ⁴³It is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness; it is raised in power. ⁴⁴It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a spiritual as well as a physical body. ⁴⁵So it is written, "The first man, Adam, became a living soul"; the last Adam became a life-giving Spirit.

⁴⁶However, the spiritual was not first, but the physical; then the spiritual. ⁴⁷The first man, from the earth, was made of dust; the second Man is from heaven. ⁴⁸Those who are of the dust are like the one who was made of the dust,^t and those who are of heaven are like the One from heaven. ⁴⁹And just as we have borne the likeness of the earthly one, so we shall bear the likeness of the heavenly One.

⁵⁰But I make this statement, brothers, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God, neither does the perishable inherit the imperishable. ⁵¹Take notice; I am telling you a secret. We shall not all die but we shall all be changed, ⁵²in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet call. For the trumpet will sound and the dead will be raised imperishable, and we shall be changed. ⁵³For this perishable must put on imperishability and this mortal must put on immortality. ⁵⁴And when this perishable has put on imperishability and this mortal has put on immortality, then shall the written word be fulfilled,^u "Death is swallowed up in victory. ⁵⁵Death, where is your victory? Death, where is your sting?"

⁵⁶The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the Law.^v ⁵⁷But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ!

⁵⁸Consequently, my beloved brothers, be steadfast, immovable, at all times abounding in the Lord's service, aware that your labor in the Lord is not futile.

16 WITH REGARD TO THE COLLECTION for the saints,^w you should do as I commanded the churches of Galatia. ²When the first day^x of each week comes, let each of you set aside in proportion to what he has gained, so that there may be no collection when I arrive. ³Then when I reach there, I will send those whom you approve with credentials to convey your gift to Jerusalem. ⁴And if it is fitting for me to go, then they will accompany me.

⁵When I have crossed Macedonia, I shall make you a visit, for I shall pass

q) The identity of the "beasts in Ephesus" is not wholly clear, Cf. ch. 16:9.

r) Isa. 22:13.

s) Gen. 2:7.

t) That is, Adam.

u) Isa. 52:8; Hos. 13:14.

v) Sin gave death its power over man when he broke the Law.

w) See note at Acts 9:13.

x) A day of praise for Christ's resurrection. On this account the early church gathered for worship on Sunday, the first day of the week, rather than on the Sabbath, which is the seventh day of the week.

through Macedonia; ⁶but I am likely to stay a while with you, or even spend the winter, so that you may send me off, wherever I may go. ⁷For this time I do not want to see you merely in passing, but I hope, the Lord permitting, to stay with you for a while. ⁸I shall remain in Ephesus, however, until Pentecost; ⁹for a wide door is opening up for service, and there are many opponents.

¹⁰When Timothy arrives, see to it that his presence with you is free from embarrassment, for he does the Lord's work, just as I do. ¹¹So let no one slight him, and whenever he returns to me, see him off safely, for I expect him along with the brothers.

¹²As for our brother Apollos, I have strongly appealed to him to visit you with the brothers, and find him quite unready to go now; but he will come whenever it is convenient.

¹³Be alert; stand firm in the faith; play the man; be strong. ¹⁴Let all that you do be done in love.

¹⁵I appeal to you, brothers (you know the Stephanas family, how it is the first fruits of the Achaia converts, and how they have devoted themselves to the service of the saints), ¹⁶that you obey such people as well as every fellow worker and earnest toiler. ¹⁷I am happy because of the arrival of Stephanas, Fortunatus, and Achaicus, for they have made up for your absence; ¹⁸they have refreshed my spirit and yours. It is to such people that you would do well to give recognition.

¹⁹The churches of Asia send you greetings. Aquila and Priscilla, together with the church in their house,^y greet you heartily in the Lord. ²⁰All the brothers send you greetings. Greet one another with a holy kiss.

²¹Here is my greeting in my own handwriting,^z Paul's. ²²Whoever does not love the Lord, he shall be accursed.^a Our Lord, come!

²³The grace of the Lord Jesus be with you. ²⁴My love to you all in Christ Jesus.

y) Aquila and Priscilla were among the first believers in Corinth. Paul made his home with them when he was there, since he worked in the same craft as Aquila, tentmaking. Aquila and Priscilla later moved to Ephesus, where this letter was written by Paul.

z) Usually Paul dictated his letters, e.g. Rom. 16:22. Sometimes he added a kind of postscript by his own hand, e.g. here and in Gal. 6:11; Col. 4:18; II Thes. 3:17.

a) In the Greek text anathema, referring to the object of a curse, is used here, followed by the Aramaic marana tha, meaning "Our Lord, come!"

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE CORINTHIANS

Date of writing: c. A.D. 57,
in Macedonia, probably Philippi

1 PAUL, BY THE WILL OF GOD AN apostle of Christ Jesus, and brother Timothy,^a to the church of God at Corinth,^b and to all the saints^c throughout Achaia: ²Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

³Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort, ⁴who consoles us in our every trouble, so that we may be able to encourage those in any kind of distress, with the consolation with which we are divinely sustained. ⁵For as we experience richly the sufferings of Christ, so we enjoy through Christ an abundance of consolation.^d ⁶When we are troubled, it is for your comfort and salvation. When we are comforted, it is for the encouragement that you experience in the enduring of the same sufferings we endure. ⁷And our hope for you is unshaken in view of the fact that you are sharing as well in the sufferings as in the consolation.

⁸So we want you to know, brothers, about the trouble that came to us in Asia,^e how we were weighed down beyond all possible endurance, so that we really despaired of life. ⁹Indeed, we passed the sentence of death on ourselves, but it was in order that we might not rely on ourselves but on

God, who raises the dead. ¹⁰He rescued us from so perilous a death and will rescue us again; we hope in Him. for He will yet deliver us, ¹¹while you also cooperate by your prayer for us, so that thanks may be given by many on our behalf for the blessings that came to us through many.

¹²The reason for our pride is the witness of our conscience that we have behaved in the world generally, but especially toward you, with devout motives and godly sincerity; not with worldly wisdom but by divine grace. ¹³For the meaning of what we write you is not different from what you read and understand perfectly, ¹⁴just as you have partly understood us, to the effect that we are your reason for pride, as well as that you are ours in the day of our Lord Jesus.

¹⁵It was with this assurance that I planned to visit you first, so that you might enjoy a double blessing, ¹⁶visiting you on the way to Macedonia and again on the trip from Macedonia to you, and to be sent by you on my way to Judea. ¹⁷Since I intended this, did I act with fickleness; or did I plan in a worldly way what I had in mind, so that on my part yes, yes equals no, no? ¹⁸As God is trustworthy, our word to you is not yes and no, ¹⁹because Jesus Christ, the Son of God whom we preached to you, Silvanus and Timothy

a) See note at I Tim. 1:2.

b) See note at I Cor. 1:2.

c) See note at Acts 9:13.

d) Paul faced persecutions, divisiveness, and lack of discipline within the church. Yet in these trials he was consoled through Christ by the God of all comfort, vs. 3-5.

e) An example of Paul's troubles in Asia is recorded in Acts 19:23-41.

and I,^f was not yes and no, but in Him it is yes. ²⁰In Him all the promises of God are yes. For this reason we also say through Him "Amen" to God for His glory through us. ²¹But He, who makes us steadfast with you in joint fellowship with Christ and has anointed us, is God, ²²who also stamped His seal on us and deposited in our hearts the first installment of the Spirit.

²³I call upon God as my soul's witness, that to spare you I have delayed my coming to Corinth. ²⁴Not that we lord it over your faith, but rather that we work with you for your happiness, for by faith you stand firm.

2 I MADE UP MY MIND NOT TO MAKE you another distressing visit, ²for if I grieve you, who may make me happy except those whom I grieve? ³I wrote this so that when I came I might not be grieved by those who should make me happy; for I was confident that my confidence would be shared by every one of you. ⁴For in deep distress and with a heart of anguish, yes, with many tears I wrote you, not in order to grieve you but in order that you might know the love I so richly bear you.

⁵If someone^g has caused grief, he has not simply grieved me but, to some extent at least—not to exaggerate—all of you. ⁶For such a one this censure by the majority suffices; ⁷so, instead of further rebuke, you should forgive and comfort him, else he may be overwhelmed by despair. ⁸I therefore beg you to reinstate him in your affection. ⁹For this purpose I wrote, to know your attitude, whether you were altogether obedient. ¹⁰But whom you forgive, him I also forgive, and what I forgive is forgiven for your sakes in the presence of Christ, ¹¹lest Satan should take advantage of us; for we are not ignorant of his schemings.^h

¹²When I arrived at Troas for the good news concerning Christ, although there was a door opened for me in the Lord, ¹³yet I enjoyed no peace of mind because I did not find my brother Titus; so I left them to go into Macedonia. ¹⁴But thanks be to God, who invariably leads us on triumphantly in Christ and evidences through us in every place the fragrance that results from knowing Him. ¹⁵For to God we are Christ's fragrance for those who are being saved and for those who are perishing; ¹⁶to the one a fatal aroma that brings death, but to the other a vital aroma that brings life.

¹⁷And who is qualified for these things? Are not we? For we do not, like so many, peddle an adulterated message of God, but from the purest motives before God we speak in Christ as those sent from God.

3 ARE WE BEGINNING AGAIN TO RECOMMEND ourselves? Or do we, like some people, stand in need of letters of recommendation to you or from you? ²You are our letter of recommendation, written in our hearts, acknowledged and read by everyone, ³making it obvious that you are Christ's letter delivered by us, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on human tablets of the heart.ⁱ

⁴In God's presence I have such confidence through Christ, ⁵not because we possess self-sufficiency to regard anything as from ourselves, but because our sufficiency is God-given. ⁶And He has qualified us to be ministers of a new covenant, not of written Law but of the Spirit; for the letter kills^j but the Spirit makes alive. ⁷Yet if the ministry of death, engraved in letters of stone, was inaugurated with such splendor that the Israelites were not able to gaze intently at the face of Moses, because of the radiance of his face, which after all faded away, ⁸how much more glorious must be the ministry of the Spirit? ⁹If there is glory in the administration that announces condemnation, how infi-

f) Three accordant witnesses, cf. ch. 13:1.

g) The Corinthians would know that Paul was referring to the erring brother of I Cor. 5:1.

h) Christians must be aware constantly of Satan's evil designs.

i) Jer. 31:33.

j) The Law, which points to man's sinfulness, condemns him; the Holy Spirit gives the believer life through Christ.

nately more glory must there be in the administration that declares righteousness! ¹⁰In view of the surpassing glory, what was once glorious retains no glory at all. ¹¹If what passed away had its splendor, how much more that which is permanent!

¹²Possessed of such hope we speak quite unreservedly, ¹³not as Moses did, who put a veil over his face to keep the Israelites from gazing at the end of something that was fading away. ¹⁴In fact, their minds were dulled. To this very day, when the Old Testament is being read, that same veil remains, not lifted because only by Christ is it removed. ¹⁵Yes, until now, whenever Moses is being read, a veil lies over their hearts; ¹⁶but whenever one turns to the Lord, the veil is removed. ¹⁷For the Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is there is liberty.

¹⁸But we all, as with unveiled face we see as in a mirror the Lord's glory reflected, are changed into the same likeness^k from one degree of glory to another, derived as it is from the Lord, who is the Spirit.

4 THEREFORE, BEING ENGAGED IN this service through divine mercy, we are not despondent, ²but we have renounced underhanded ways of which one should be ashamed. We do not behave craftily, nor do we falsify the word of God, but by clear announcement of the truth we commend ourselves in the presence of God to every human conscience. ³If the good news that we preach has been obscured, it has been obscured in the case of those who are perishing, ⁴in whom the god of this world^l has blinded their unbelieving minds, to prevent the illumination of the good news concerning the glorious Christ, who is the likeness of God, from penetrating their hearts.

⁵For we do not proclaim ourselves but Christ Jesus as Lord, and ourselves your servants for Jesus' sake ⁶because God, who commanded^m that light should shine out of darkness has made it shine in our hearts so as to show forth the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Christ.

⁷This treasure, however, we possess within utensils of clay — an evidence that the unparalleled power is from God and not from us. ⁸We are hedged in from every side, but we do not live cramped lives; we are perplexed, but we do not despair; ⁹we are persecuted but not deserted; struck down but not destroyed, ¹⁰all the while bearing about in the body the dyingⁿ of Jesus, so that by our bodies the life of Jesus may also be shown. ¹¹In the midst of life we are constantly handed over to death for Jesus' sake, so that the life of Jesus may yet be evidenced through our mortal flesh. ¹²Accordingly, death is active in us, but life in you.

¹³We have, nevertheless, that same spirit of faith as he had of whom it is written,^o "I have believed; therefore have I spoken." We, too, believe and therefore we speak, ¹⁴assured that He who raised up the Lord Jesus will raise us up with Jesus and will have us stand with you before Him. ¹⁵For all this is for your sakes in order that grace which is multiplying with the thanksgiving of the many may abound for the glory of God.

¹⁶For this reason we are not discouraged, but even though our outer nature suffers decay, our inner self is renewed day after day. ¹⁷For this slight momentary trouble is producing for us an everlasting weight of glory that exceeds all measures, ¹⁸because we do not fasten our eyes on the visible but on the unseen; for the visible things are transitory, but the unseen things are everlasting.

5 FOR WE KNOW THAT, IF OUR earthly tent in which we are living should be dismantled, we have a God-

k) The likeness of Christ, which grows stronger with spiritual maturity.

l) Satan, cf. John 12:31; 14:30; 16:11; Eph. 2:2.

m) Gen. 1:3.

n) Paul bore in his body scars that proved his sufferings for Christ's sake, Gal. 6:16; cf. II Cor. 11:24-27.

o) Ps. 116:9-11.

given dwelling, a house in heaven not made by hands, that will last forever. ²So it is that in this dwelling we sigh with longing to be clothed with our dwelling from heaven, ³since with such clothing we shall not be found naked.^p ⁴For we sigh deeply while in this tent, not because we want to be stripped of it but rather to be further clothed, so that what is mortal may be absorbed by life.

⁵For this experience God, who granted us the first installment of the Spirit has prepared us, ⁶so we always keep confident, knowing well enough that being at home in the body means being absent from the Lord; ⁷for we walk by faith, not by sight. ⁸But we have courage, and we prefer to be absent from the body and at home with the Lord. ⁹Therefore we make it our aim to be pleasing to Him, whether absent or present; ¹⁰for we must all appear before the tribunal of Christ,^q so that each may receive as his due what he practiced while in the body, whether good or bad.

¹¹Knowing, therefore, what it means to revere the Lord,^r we seek to win people over. Our motives are clear to God and I hope they are made clear as well to your consciences. ¹²This is no repeated commendation of ourselves to you, but it is providing you with an incentive to feel proud of us, so that you may reply to those who are proud of a person's position and not of his heart. ¹³If we are beside ourselves, it is for God. If we are thoughtful, it is for you. ¹⁴For the love of Christ lays hold of us and brings us to this conclusion: one died for all, so that they all died; ¹⁵and He died for all so that all who live may no longer live for themselves but for Him who died and rose for them.

¹⁶Consequently, from now on we think of no one just in terms of his human nature. Even if we had thought of Christ in that way, we now no longer know Him just in terms of His human nature.^s ¹⁷Accordingly, if any one is in Christ he is a new creation. The old is gone; lo, the new has come. ¹⁸But all things come from God, who has reconciled us to Himself through Christ, and has given us the ministry of reconciliation, ¹⁹which is that God was in Christ reconciling the world to Himself, not counting up their sins against them, and committing to us the message of reconciliation.

²⁰On behalf of Christ, then, we are ambassadors, God as it were making the appeal through us. We beg you for Christ's sake, be reconciled to God. ²¹God made Him who knew no sin to be made sin on our behalf, so that in Him we might share the righteousness of God.

6 AS GOD'S FELLOW WORKERS, HOWEVER, we appeal to you not to accept the grace of God without using it; ²for He says,^t "At a welcome time I have heard you and on a day of salvation I have helped you." Observe that now is a specially welcome time, that now is the day of salvation — ³and we put no obstacle whatever in anyone's way, so that our ministry may not be discredited. ⁴Rather, we prove ourselves in every respect as servants of God, by great endurance, in afflictions, distresses, and hardships; ⁵in lashes, imprisonments, and disturbances; in toils, sleepless nights, and without food; ⁶through purity, knowledge, and endurance of wrongs; through kindness, by the Holy Spirit, in genuine love; ⁷with a message of truth, by the power of God; by means of the weapons of righteousness for attack and defense; ⁸through honor and shame; through blame and praise; considered impostors when we are honest, ⁹and unknown^u when we are well known; thought of as dying when, you see, we are alive, and as disciplined but not put to death; ¹⁰as deceived and yet always joyful; as poor but making many wealthy; as having nothing and yet in possession of everything.

¹¹O Corinthians, we address you

p) That is, as disembodied spirits.

q) Rom. 14:10.

r) Sensing awe in view of the great Judge, our Lord Jesus Christ, John 5:22.

s) Having known Christ on earth is not as important as knowing Him now. Cf. John 20:29.

t) Isa. 49:8.

u) Compare Matt. 13:57.

frankly with wide-open hearts. ¹²You are not hedged in by us, but you are cramped in your own affections. ¹³In exchange — I am speaking as to children — open wide your hearts in the same way.

¹⁴Be not yoked unequally with unbelievers; for what common ground is there between righteousness and lawlessness, or what association is there between light and darkness? ¹⁵Or what harmony is there between Christ and Belial,^v or what partnership between a believer and an unbeliever? ¹⁶What agreement has God's temple with idols? For we are the temple of the living God, as God has said,^w "I will dwell in them and walk among them, and I will be their God and they shall be My people." ¹⁷For that reason,^x "Come out from their midst and be separate, says the Lord, and do not touch anything unclean." ¹⁸Then I will receive you and I will be a Father to you, and to Me you shall be sons and daughters. The Lord Omnipotent speaks."

7 IN POSSESSION OF THESE PROMISES, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of flesh and spirit, and complete our dedication in reverence of God.

²Allow us room in your hearts. We have wronged no one; we have ruined no one; we have exploited no one. ³I am not censuring you, for, as I previously said, you are in our hearts to die and to live together. ⁴My confidence in you is strong; my pride in you is great; I am filled with comfort; in all our trouble I am overjoyed.

⁵For as we reached Macedonia, our bodies enjoyed no respite at all, but there was trouble at every turn, quarrels outside and fears within. ⁶But God, who encourages the downhearted, encouraged us by the arrival of Titus,^y ⁷and not merely by his arrival but by the encouragement he received from you; for he reported how you are longing for us, your sorrow, your zeal for me, all of which turned out for my greater joy.

⁸If I have grieved you with my letter, I do not regret it, and although I did regret it — for I observe how that particular letter did, though only momentarily, give you grief — ⁹I am glad of it now, not because you were grieved but because your grief led to repentance. For your grief was such as God desired, so that you suffered no loss from us. ¹⁰For the sorrow that God approves works out a repentance that leads to salvation such as is never regretted, while the world's sorrow produces death.

¹¹For see how earnest this godly grief has made you; how apologetic; longing for me; how zealous; how ready to vindicate me. In every way you have proved yourselves cleared in the matter. ¹²So although I wrote you as I did, it was not on account of the offender or of the one offended, but so that your devotion for us might be revealed to you before God. ¹³On this account we have been comforted.

Added to our own consolation there was the enjoyment of Titus' happiness, because his spirit was refreshed by all of you, ¹⁴and I was not ashamed of my boasting to him about you; but just as everything we told you was true, so our boasting to Titus proved true. ¹⁵His feelings go out to you the more as he remembers the obedience of all of you, as with fear and trembling you receive him. ¹⁶I am glad I can have full confidence in you.

8 WE WANT YOU TO KNOW, BROTHERS, of the divine grace that has been granted the Macedonian churches:^z ²how, under a terrible ordeal of affliction their great happiness, combined with their deep poverty, has overflowed into a wealth of their generosity; ³how up to their ability — yes, and I bear them testimony, beyond their ability — they voluntarily have given, ⁴most urgently begging of us the favor of taking part in this service to the saints.^a ⁵They did not do simply what we hoped for, but they gave themselves first to the Lord and so, in

v) Greek Beliar, meaning worthlessness. It is a name that was frequently applied to Satan.

w) Lev. 26:12. x) Compare Isa. 52:11.

y) Titus had visited the church at Corinth and had reported conditions there to Paul, cf. ch. 8:6.

z) For example, Philippi, Berea, and Thessalonica.

a) See note at Acts 9:13.

keeping with the will of God, also to us.

⁶So we urged Titus to complete this gracious work among you, since he began it. ⁷But just as you are ahead in everything, in faith, in expression, in knowledge, in diligence of every sort, and in your love for us, so be foremost in this gracious work also.

⁸I am not issuing an order, but I would test the genuineness of your love by the eagerness of others. ⁹For you know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, how, although He was rich, yet He became poor for your sakes, so that you by His poverty might become rich.^b ¹⁰Let me advise you in this matter. It is to your interest, because a year ago you were not only the first to act but also to want to do so. ¹¹Now then, complete the enterprise, so that your readiness in desiring it may be equaled by the task accomplished to the measure of your means. ¹²For if there is present a willing mind, the gift is appreciated in proportion to what one possesses, not to what one does not possess.

¹³In order to afford relief to others, you need not put a heavy burden on yourselves; ¹⁴rather share fairly. Let your abundance at this time make up for their shortage, so that their surplus may go toward your lack, and thus conditions may become equalized, ¹⁵as it is written,^c "The one who got much had nothing over and the one who got little did not lack."

¹⁶Thanks be to God, who planted in the heart of Titus the same devotion for you, ¹⁷for he welcomed my appeal and is so deeply interested in you that he went off to you of his own volition.

¹⁸But we are sending the brother^d along with him whose commendable ways in the things pertaining to the good news are known through all the churches. ¹⁹Besides, as an appointee of the churches, he travels with us in this ministry of grace for the Lord's own glory and for expediting our work.

²⁰We take this precaution, so that no one may find fault with us in our handling of this liberal collection; ²¹for we intend to do the right thing not only before the Lord but also before men.

²²Along with them we are sending our brother whose zeal we have frequently put to the test and who is now all the more zealous because he has so much confidence in you. ²³As to Titus, he is my associate and your fellow worker in serving you; as to our brothers, they are messengers of the churches, an honor to Christ. ²⁴Show them proof, then, of your love and of our boastings about you, such as will be evidenced before the churches.

9 IT IS SUPERFLUOUS FOR ME TO write you about this ministering to the saints, ²for I know of your willingness, and I boast about you to the Macedonians, saying that Achaia^e has been ready since last year, and your zeal has stirred up a large number of them. ³I am sending these brothers so that our pride in you may not in this instance be an empty boast, but that you may be as fully ready as I told them. ⁴Or else, if any Macedonians should come with me and find you unprepared, we — not to say you — should be humiliated because of our confidence. ⁵I considered it therefore necessary to request these brothers to visit you in advance and to have your promised bountiful gift all made up, so it will be ready to hand, a real thank offering and not something extorted from you.

⁶I say this, that he who sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, while he who sows liberally will also reap liberally. ⁷Let each one give as he has planned in his heart, neither grudgingly nor by compulsion; for God loves a happy giver. ⁸And God is able to pour out on you richly every possible grace, so that you will always and under all circumstances have plenty for your own need and an abundance for every good work, ⁹as

b) Christ is the supreme example of the believer's wealth.

c) The allusion is to the gathering of manna, Exod. 16:18.

d) No clue is given concerning this man's identity or of the man mentioned in vs. 22.

e) Achaia here may denote other cities in the province, e.g. Cenchreae, the seaport of Corinth, but the reference is particularly to the church at Corinth. The Macedonians would include the believers in Philippi, Berea, and Thessalonica.

it is written,^f "He has scattered abroad; he has given to the poor; his righteousness never fails."

¹⁰Now He who provides seed to the sower and food to eat will also supply and multiply your store of seed and will increase the harvest of your righteousness. ¹¹You will be enriched in every respect for all kinds of generosity, and your liberality, as it is worked out through us, will cause thanksgiving to God. ¹²For the rendering of this service not only supplies amply the wants of the saints, but it also abounds in causing many thanksgivings to God; ¹³because of the proof of this service they are praising God for your loyalty to the good news about Christ which you confess, and for the liberality of your contribution for them and for all. ¹⁴And they feel a yearning for you in their prayer because of the unusual measure of divine grace that has come upon you. ¹⁵Thanks be to God for His unspeakable Gift.^g

10 I, MYSELF, PAUL, APPEAL TO you on the basis of Christ's gentleness and considerateness—I who am so meek when face to face with you and so bold toward you from a distance. ²I beg you not to force such boldness on me when I am with you as I intend to assume toward some who entertain the notion that we behave from merely human motives. ³For while we spend our life in a body of flesh, we do not war with carnal weapons. ⁴For the weapons of our warfare are not physical, but they are powerful with God's help for the tearing down of fortresses, ⁵inasmuch as we tear down reasonings and every proud barrier that is raised up against the knowledge of God and lead every thought into subjection to Christ. ⁶We are prepared also to punish all disobedience, when your obedience is fully expressed.

⁷Take a look at what you are facing. If someone is confident that he belongs to Christ, let him ponder this, that we are Christ's as well as he. ⁸Even if we do boast excessively about our authority, which the Lord granted us for your establishment and not for your destruction, I shall not be put to shame; ⁹neither would I appear as wanting to terrify you with my letters. ¹⁰For, "His letters," they say, "are weighty and forceful, but his physical presence is insignificant and his speech is contemptible."

¹¹Let such people consider this, that what we are when absent through the message of our letters, that we are in action when present. ¹²For we do not venture to count ourselves among or to compare ourselves with some who commend their own qualities. However, when they make themselves their standard of measurement and judge their own value from comparisons with each other, then they do not behave wisely. ¹³On our part, we shall not boast extravagantly but rather stay within the limit of the sphere which God has allotted to us, the boundary of which stretches far enough to include you.

¹⁴We are not overextending ourselves, as if we did not reach as far as you, for we were the first to reach you with the good news about Christ. ¹⁵Neither are we boasting unduly about fields in which others are serving^h but we entertain the hope that your growing faith may enlarge our sphere of influence so greatly with your help, ¹⁶that we may evangelize those beyond you, rather than brag about labor that has been accomplished in another's field. ¹⁷The person who boasts should boast in the Lord; ¹⁸for not he who commends himself, but whom the Lord commends, stands approved.

11 BEAR WITH ME A LITTLE IN this foolishness of mine. Yes, you will have to tolerate me; ²for I am jealous for you with a divine jealousy, because I gave you in marriage to one Husband to present you as a pure virgin to Christ. ³Only I am afraid that, just as the serpent beguiled Eve with his craftiness, so your thoughts may be corrupted from a sincere and ^f Ps. 112:9.

^g That is, Christ.

^h Paul would not assume credit for work done by other men.

pure devotion to Christ. ⁴In fact, if someone comes along and preaches another Jesus, whom we have not preached, or if you receive a different spirit from what you received, or a gospel different from what you accepted, you put up with it quite easily.¹

⁵Nevertheless I consider myself not inferior to the most eminent apostles. ⁶Even if I lack skill in speaking, I certainly do not lack knowledge, which we have in every way made perfectly clear to all of you. ⁷Or have I erred by humbling myself so that you might be exalted, when I preached to you the good news of God without compensation? ⁸I robbed other churches, taking support from them in order to minister to you; ⁹and when I was with you and ran short of funds, I imposed on none of you, for the brothers that came from Macedonia supplied my needs. Thus I invariably kept myself from being a burden to you, and so I plan to keep myself.

¹⁰As sure as Christ's truth is in me, this boast of mine shall not be stopped in the Achaia districts. ¹¹And why? Because I do not love you? God knows I do. ¹²What I do, however, I shall do to remove the occasion from those who want it in order that in the work of which they boast they may appear as equal with us.¹ ¹³For such are false apostles, deceptive workers, wearing the masks of apostles of Christ; ¹⁴and no wonder, for Satan himself masquerades as an angel of light. ¹⁵So it is nothing extraordinary if his servants disguise themselves as servants of righteousness, whose destiny will be in agreement with their actions.

¹⁶Once more I tell you, let no one consider me a fool; but if you do, then tolerate me as a fool, so that I too may do a bit of boasting. ¹⁷What I say, I do not speak from the Lord but in a foolish mood in this boastful confidence. ¹⁸Since many boast in a worldly way, I too will boast; ¹⁹for you, being so wise, will gladly tolerate fools. ²⁰You stand for it when someone enslaves you, or imposes on you, or exploits you, or snubs you, or slaps you in the face. ²¹To my shame I admit that we were too lacking in force along those lines.

²²But in whatever line someone may boast — I talk foolishly — I dare to match him. Are they Hebrews? So am I. Are they Israelites? So am I. Are they Abraham's offspring? So am I. ²³Are they ministers of Christ? I more so — I say it as if I were out of my mind — in measureless toils and imprisonments, in floggings beyond count and facing death frequently. ²⁴Five times I received from the Jews forty lashes minus one,^k ²⁵three times I was beaten with rods,¹ once I was stoned, three times I was shipwrecked, for a night and a day I have been adrift at sea. ²⁶In my many travels I have been in dangers of rivers and robbers, of Jews and Gentiles, of city, desert, and sea; in dangers among false brothers; ²⁷in wearying work and hardship through many a sleepless night; in hunger, thirst, and often without food; in cold and lack of clothing.

²⁸Besides these experiences from the outside, there is the daily responsibility for the churches.^m ²⁹Who is weak without my being weak? Who is led into sin without my burning with indignation? ³⁰If I must boast, I shall boast of matters that show my weakness. ³¹The God and Father of the Lord Jesus, who is to be praised forever, knows that I am not lying. ³²In Damascus the governor under King Aretas had the city of Damascus guarded to arrest me, ³³and through a window I was let down in a basket over the wall and escaped from his hands.

12 THERE HAS TO BE BOASTING, ALthough nothing is gained by it;

i) Although not so clearly as in Galatians, Paul seems to be referring to Judaizers, Christians who insisted upon circumcision and all the burdens it involved.

j) The Corinthians, who allowed Paul to earn his own living while he was preaching and teaching there, provided a living for false apostles.

k) Forty lashes was a punishment dealt to Jewish offenders by temple or synagogue officials. The O.T. Law prescribed forty strokes, Deut. 25:1-3, a number that was not to be exceeded. Therefore, lest while inflicting punishment according to the Law, the Law itself should be broken, only thirty-nine lashes were administered.

l) This penalty was adopted from the Romans.

m) Paul not only preached to these people but he also had a pastoral ministry among them.

so I will go on to visions and revelations from the Lord. ²I know a manⁿ in Christ who fourteen years ago—whether in the body or out of the body I do not know, God knows—was caught up as far as the third heaven. ³I also know of the same man—whether in the body or out of the body I do not know, God knows—⁴how he was caught up into Paradise and heard words too sacred to tell, which no human being is allowed to repeat.

⁵Of such an instance I will boast, but not about myself—unless it be about my weakness. ⁶Should I wish to boast, however, I should not be acting the fool, for I should be telling the truth. But I will refrain, so that no one may ascribe to me more than he observes in me or hears from me.

⁷In order that I might not swell with pride because of the extraordinary great revelations, there was given me a thorn^o in the flesh, a satanic messenger^p to strike me, that I might not be too elated. ⁸Three times I invoked the Lord about this, to have it removed from me, ⁹and He told me, "My grace is sufficient for you, for My strength comes to perfection where there is weakness." Therefore I am happy to boast in my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ may abide upon me. ¹⁰I delight, then, in weaknesses, in insults, in needy circumstances, in persecutions and troubles, all on account of Christ. For when I am weak, then I am strong.

¹¹I have become a fool. You forced me to it, for I ought to be recognized by you. In fact, though I am nobody, I am not in the least inferior to these super-apostles.^q ¹²The signs of the apostle were demonstrated among you by patience of every sort in the working of signs and miracles and acts of power. ¹³In what respect, then, were you inferior to the other churches, except that I myself was not a burden to you? Pardon me this unfairness.

¹⁴Here I am ready for my third visit to you, and I shall be no burden to you, for I am not after your possessions but after you. For the children should not accumulate wealth for their parents, but the parents for their children. ¹⁵So I shall gladly spend and be spent on behalf of your souls. If I love you excessively, am I loved the less?

¹⁶But let that be! I have not burdened you. But being crafty did I take you in by cunning? ¹⁷I have not exploited you through anyone I sent to you, have I? ¹⁸I urged Titus to go and sent along the brother. Did Titus exploit you? Have we not behaved in the same spirit and walked in the same tracks?

¹⁹You have been supposing all the while that we are apologizing to you? We are speaking in the presence of God as Christ's representatives, and it is all done, dear friends, for your upbuilding; ²⁰for I am afraid that perhaps when I arrive I may not find you in the condition I should like to find you; neither may you find me as you might desire.

There may be strife, jealousy, ugly temper, sectarianism, slander, gossiping, conceit, disharmony. ²¹I am fearful that on my return my God may humble me before you, and I may be saddened over many who have continued in their former sins and have not repented of the impurity, immorality, and sensuality which they have practiced.

13 THIS IS MY THIRD VISIT TO YOU
 "In the mouth" of two or three witnesses every statement will be confirmed." ²¹I said previously, when was there on my second visit, and I say it now in advance while I am still absent, to those who have sinned and to all the rest, that when I come once more I shall not spare them, ³since you are looking for proof of Christ'

n) Paul is here speaking of himself.

o) A bodily ailment. Its nature is not disclosed, perhaps so that all Christians who suffer persistent physical distress may take comfort in the apostle's response to his thorn in the flesh.

p) Paul was under God's protective care, as all believers are. God permitted Satan to test the apostle in this way for Paul's own good.

q) A term used by Paul to designate those of his opponents who were false apostles.

r) Deut. 19:15.

speaking through me, Christ who is not feeble toward you but mighty in you. ⁴For whereas He was crucified out of weakness, yet He lives through divine power, and we, too, are weak in Him; but we shall live with Him for your benefit through the power of God.

⁵Test yourselves, whether you are in the faith; examine yourselves. Or do you not recognize by yourselves that Christ Jesus is within you, unless you fail to pass the test? ⁶But I hope you will acknowledge that we do not fail.

⁷But we pray to God that you may do no wrong; and our purpose is not that our integrity may be shown, but that you may do what is right, even though we may appear to have failed. ⁸For we have no ability against the truth, but only on behalf of the truth. ⁹We are happy to be weak when you are strong. And this is the object of our prayer, that you may reach full spiritual maturity.

¹⁰For this reason I write this in my absence, so that, when I am present, I need not be severe in the exercise of the authority which the Lord has granted me for constructive and not for destructive purposes.

¹¹Finally, brothers, farewell. Mind your ways, accept admonition, agree in your thinking, preserve peace, and the God of love and peace will be with you.

¹²Greet one another with a holy kiss. ¹³All the saints¹ greet you.

¹⁴The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with you all.²

s) This was a ceremonial kiss in the early churches, apparently reflecting a custom in the synagogue.

t) See note at Acts 9:13.

u) Verse 13 is sometimes called The Apostolic Benediction.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE GALATIANS

Date of writing: c. A.D. 52-55

1 PAUL, AN APOSTLE (SENT NEITHER from men nor through man^a but through Jesus Christ and God the Father who raised Him from the dead)² and all the brothers here with me, to the churches of Galatia:^b ³Grace to you and peace from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ, ⁴who gave Himself for our sins, to rescue us out of this present evil world in agreement with the will of God our Father, ⁵to whom be glory forever and ever, Amen.

⁶I am amazed that you are so readily turning away from Him who called you by the grace of Christ, to another gospel, ⁷which is really not another; except that some are troubling you and want to distort the good news concerning Christ. ⁸But even if we or an angel from heaven should preach to you a gospel that differs from what we have preached to you — a curse on him! ⁹As we said before and repeat right now, if anyone evangelizes you with a gospel that varies from what you have received — a curse on him!

¹⁰Am I now trying to win men's favor, or God's? Or do I seek to please men? If I were still pleasing men I would not be a slave^c of Christ. ¹¹For I declare to you, brothers, that the good news that is preached by me is no human affair; ¹²for neither did I receive it from a human being nor was I taught it, but it came through a revelation of Jesus Christ.

¹³You have heard of my previous career in Judaism, how violently I persecuted the church of God and devastated it; ¹⁴how in devotion to Judaism I went further than many of my age among my people, so fanatically zealous was I for the traditions of my ancestors. ¹⁵But when it pleased Him who before my birth had set me apart and had called me through His grace, ¹⁶to reveal His Son in me, so that I might preach Him to the Gentiles, I did not at once confer with any human being, ¹⁷neither did I go up to Jerusalem to those who were apostles before I was, but I went away into Arabia and came back to Damascus. ¹⁸Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to get acquainted with Cephas^d and stayed in his company for fifteen days; ¹⁹but I saw no other apostle except James,^e the brother of the Lord. ²⁰Now what I am writing to you I say in the presence of God, that I am not lying.

²¹Then I went into the regions of Syria and of Cilicia myself ²²but I was unknown to the Christian churches of Judea. ²³They only learned it from hearsay, "Our erstwhile perse-

a) Paul plunges at once into a chief reason for his writing — the denial of his apostleship by his opponents for the purpose of weakening the force of his ministry.

b) Galatia was a Roman province covering a large area in the central part of what is now Turkey. Antioch of Pisidia, Iconium, Lystra, and Derbe were in this region. Paul's ministry in Galatia is mentioned in Acts 13; 14; 16:1-6.

c) See note at Matt. 13:27.

d) That is, Peter. See note at I Cor. 1:12.

e) James, a half brother of Jesus, was the leader of the church in Jerusalem, Acts 15:13; 21:18, and the writer of the epistle that bears his name, James 1:1.

cutor now preaches the faith he once was trying to destroy." ²⁴And on my account they glorified God.

2 FOURTEEN YEARS LATER I WENT up once more to Jerusalem along with Barnabas, taking Titus with us. ²And I went up in response to a revelation and laid before them the good news I preach among the Gentiles, but privately before the leaders, lest I might be running or had run my course uselessly.

³But Titus, who was with me, although he was a Greek, was not obliged to be circumcised ⁴to gratify the false brothers that had gotten in underhandedly, who stole in to spy on our freedom which we enjoy in Christ Jesus, and who planned to enslave us.^f ⁵Not for a moment did we yield in submission to them, so that the truth of the good news might continue for you.

⁶But from those who enjoyed a reputation—whatever they amounted to makes no difference to me; God does not regard human appearance—nothing additional was contributed to me by those of reputation. ⁷On the contrary, when they observed that I was entrusted with the good news for the uncircumcised, as Peter was for the circumcised—⁸for He who worked through Peter to make him an apostle to the circumcised also worked through me to make me an apostle to the Gentiles—⁹so, acknowledging the grace that had been given me, James and Cephas and John, who were considered as pillars, gave me and Barnabas the right hand of fellowship that we should serve the Gentiles and they the circumcised. ¹⁰Only they wanted us to remember the needy, which I myself was eager to do.

¹¹But when Cephas came to Antioch^g I opposed him to his face, because he was at fault; ¹²for until certain people arrived from James, he ate with the Gentile converts, but when they came, he withdrew and separated himself for fear of the circumcision party. ¹³So the rest of the Jews acted hypocritically along with him, with the result that even Barnabas was carried away by their hypocrisy. ¹⁴But when I saw that they were not walking in line with the truth of the good news, I said to Peter in everyone's presence, "If you, who are a Jew, live like a Gentile and not like a Jew, how can you require Gentiles to live like Jews?" ¹⁵We are Jews by nature and not sinners of the Gentiles; ¹⁶but since we know that a person is not made righteous through the works of the Law but only through faith in Christ Jesus, we have believed in Christ Jesus in order that we might be made righteous by faith in Christ and not through works of the Law; for by works of the Law no person will be justified.

¹⁷If then, seeking to be justified in Christ, we also are found to be sinners, is Christ a minister of sin?^h Not at all! ¹⁸Indeed, when I reconstruct the very things I have torn down, then I demonstrate that I am a wrongdoer. ¹⁹For through the Law I died to the Law in order that I may live to God; ²⁰I have been crucified with Christ; I no longer live as I myself, but Christ lives within me; the life I now live in the flesh I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave Himself for me. ²¹I do not nullify the grace of God; for if righteousness were through Law, then Christ died to no purpose.

3 O THOUGHTLESS GALATIANS, WHO has bewitched you, before whose eyes Jesus Christ was so graphically presented as crucified? ²I want to learn from you only this: did you receive the Spirit from works of Law or from faith in the message? ³Are you that foolish, that you would now come to perfection with the flesh after beginning with the Spirit? ⁴Have you experienced so much for nothing? If indeed for nothing!

⁵Is He, then, who endued you with the Spirit and does wonderful works among you, doing so because of the

f) In the early days of the Christian faith some of the Jews could not believe that Christianity could exist apart from the regulations of the O.T. Law.

g) Antioch of Syria.

h) If salvation is gained through the Law, then Christ did not need to die for our sins, cf. vs. 21.

works of the Law or by faith in the message? ⁶Just as Abraham¹ "had faith in God and it was credited to him for righteousness." ⁷You see therefore, that those who are sons of Abraham are his sons by faith. ⁸And in anticipation that God would justify the Gentiles through faith, the Scripture foretold the good news to Abraham in the promise, ⁹"In you will all the nations be blessed," ⁹so that they are blessed through faith with believing Abraham.

¹⁰Those who depend on the works of the Law live under a curse, for it is written,^k "Cursed is every one who does not abide by all that is written in the book of the Law so as to do it." ¹¹But that no one is made righteous in God's presence through the Law is evident, for¹ "He who is righteous through faith will live." ¹²The Law, however, does not rest on faith, but^m "He who does these things will live by them."

¹³Christ has ransomed us from the curse of the Law inasmuch as He became a curse for us, for it is written,ⁿ "Cursed is every one who hangs on a tree," ¹⁴in order that in Christ Jesus the blessing of Abraham might be realized for the nations and that we through faith might receive the promise of the Spirit.

¹⁵Speaking in terms of human relationships, brothers, no one sets aside or adds to a person's last will when it has been ratified. ¹⁶But the promises were spoken to Abraham and to his offspring. It does not say,^o "And to the offsprings," in the plural, but in the singular, "And to your offspring," which is Christ. ¹⁷This is the point: the Law, that came four hundred thirty years later, cannot invalidate a covenant that had previously been ratified by God, so as to annul the promise. ¹⁸If the inheritance is by the Law, then it is no longer by promise; but God has given it to Abraham through a promise.^p

¹⁹Why, then, was the Law given? It was added to show sins in their true light, until the Offspring should come concerning whom the promise was made. It was ordained through angels by means of a mediator. ²⁰But there is no call for an intermediary in case of one, and God is One.

²¹Is, then, the Law contrary to the promises of God? Not at all! If the Law had been as a power to produce life, then righteousness would in very truth have been by the Law; ²²but the Scripture has all men imprisoned under sin,^q so that the promise might be given to those who believe, through faith in Jesus Christ.

²³Before faith came, we were confined under the Law, awaiting in custody faith that was yet to be revealed, ²⁴so that the Law served as our custodian^r until Christ came, in order that we might be justified by faith. ²⁵But with the coming of faith we are no longer under a custodian; ²⁶for through your faith in Christ Jesus you are all sons of God. ²⁷As many of you as have been baptized into Christ have clothed yourselves with Christ. ²⁸There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor freeman, there is neither male nor female, because you are all one in Christ Jesus. ²⁹But if you are Christ's, then you are the offspring of Abraham; you are heirs in agreement with the promise.

4 NOW I AFFIRM THAT SO LONG AS the heir is a minor,^s he differs in no way from a slave,^t although everything belongs to him; ²but he is under guardians and trustees until the time that was prearranged by his father. ³This is our situation. While we were minors, we were subservient to the

j) Gen. 15:6.

j) Gen. 12:3; 18:18; 22:18.

k) Deut. 27:26.

l) Hab. 2:4; Rom. 1:17; Heb. 10:38.

m) Lev. 18:5.

n) Deut. 21:23.

o) Gen. 13:15.

p) Abraham's faith is emphasized because he did not live under the Mosaic Law but more than four centuries before the Law was given, vs. 17.

q) The Law shows man that he is a sinner. That knowledge may point him to the Savior, Christ.

r) The Greek noun is paidagogos, from which comes the English word "pedagogue." A paidagogos was a man, usually a slave, who guided a boy to and from school. The Law guided men and women until Christ came.

s) Jews under the old covenant and Gentiles under sin were like minors.

t) See note at Matt. 13:27.

world's elementary teachings; ⁴but when the time was completed, God sent forth His Son, born of a woman, born under the Law ⁵in order to redeem those who were under the Law, and that we might receive adoption as sons. ⁶And because you are sons, God has sent forth the Spirit of His Son into our hearts, calling out, "Abba!" Father!" ⁷You are, therefore, a slave no longer, but through God a son, and if a son, then an heir as well.

⁸Previously, however, when you did not know God, you were enslaved to gods that essentially are not gods. ⁹But now, when you know God, or better yet, are known by God, how is it that you are turning back again to those weak and beggarly rudiments to which you want to be enslaved all over again? ¹⁰You observe days and months, festivals and years. ¹¹You make me fear that perhaps I wasted my efforts on you.

¹²I beg of you, brothers, become like me, for I became as you are. You have in no respect wronged me. ¹³But you know how that the first time I evangelized you because of physical infirmity, ¹⁴and though my physical condition was for you a trial, you neither scorned nor spurned me, but you welcomed me as an angel of God, as Christ Jesus.

¹⁵What has become of that blessed enjoyment? For I bear you witness that, if possible, you would have plucked out your eyes to give them to me. ¹⁶Did I become your enemy because I am sincere with you? ¹⁷They^w busy themselves about you to no good purpose; instead, they want to isolate you from us so that you may be infatuated with them.

¹⁸But it is well to be zealously sought after always for a good cause and not merely when I am present with you. ¹⁹My children, over whom I once more suffer birthpains until

Christ is formed within you, ²⁰I wish I might be present with you right now and try a new way of speaking, for I am perplexed about you.

²¹Tell me, you who want to be under the Law, do you not listen to the Law? ²²For it is written^x that Abraham had two sons, one by the slave girl and one by the freewoman; ²³but while the one by the slave girl was born in a fleshly way, the one by the freewoman came on account of the promise. ²⁴All of which is allegorical,^y indicating two covenants, one from Mount Sinai that generates slavery and is Hagar — Mount Sinai in Arabia. ²⁵It corresponds to the present Jerusalem; for she and her children are in servitude.

²⁶But the Jerusalem that is above is free, which is our mother, for it is written,^z ²⁷"Be cheerful, barren woman who does not bear; break out with shouting, you who have no birthpangs, because more numerous are the children of the desolate woman than of the one who has a husband." ²⁸And you, brothers, are like Isaac, children of the promise. ²⁹But just as then the one born in a fleshly way persecuted the one born in accord with the Spirit, so too at present. ³⁰But what does the Scripture say?^a "Expel the slave girl and her son, for the son of the slave girl will not be heir with the son of the freewoman." ³¹We therefore, brothers, are not children of the slave girl, but of the freewoman.

5 FOR THIS FREEDOM CHRIST HAS liberated us. Stand firm, then, and do not be held fast again by a yoke of servitude.

²Take note of what I, Paul, tell you: if you become circumcised, Christ will not benefit you in the least. ³Once more I assure every person who gets circumcised, that he is obliged to practice the entire Law. ⁴All of you who aim

u) "Abba" is a transliteration of an Aramaic word for "father." It was used within the family and frequently in addressing God in prayer.

v) Paul's affliction might have been poor sight, cf. ch. 6:11.

w) Paul's opponents who wanted to compel believers to observe the regulations of the Law, e.g. circumcision.

x) Gen. 16:15; 21:3.

y) Paul uses the situation as an allegory of the Jew and the gospel of Christ.

z) Isa. 54:1.

a) Gen. 21:10, 12.

at justification by the Law are severed from Christ; you have fallen away from grace. ⁵But by the Spirit we earnestly anticipate the righteousness for which by faith we hope, ⁶because in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor the want of it has validity, but faith working through love.

⁷You were coming along splendidly. Who got in your way, so that you do not follow truth? ⁸That persuasion is not from the One who called you. ⁹A bit of yeast raises the whole lump of dough. ¹⁰I have confidence in you in Christ, that you will not be otherwise minded; but that troubler of yours whoever he may be, will have to bear his punishment.

¹¹As for me, brothers, if I still preach circumcision, why am I still persecuted? Then the offensiveness of the cross has been removed. ¹²I wish those who are unsettling you would go so far as to make themselves eunuchs.

¹³You have been called to enjoy liberty, brothers; only, do not let the liberty be an opportunity for the flesh; instead, serve one another through love. ¹⁴Because the entire Law is summed up in this one statement,^c "Love your neighbor as yourself." ¹⁵If, however, you tear at and consume one another, look out or you will be destroyed by each other.

¹⁶But I say, behave in a spiritual way; then you will not carry out your fleshly cravings. ¹⁷For the longings of the flesh are contrary to the Spirit, and those of the Spirit are contrary to the flesh; they are in opposition to each other, so that you do not do what you want to do. ¹⁸But if you are guided by the Spirit, then you are not under the Law.

¹⁹Now the deeds of the flesh are evident, such as immorality, impurity, sensuality, ²⁰idolatry, magic arts, animosities, strife, jealousy, bad temper, outbreaks of selfishness, dissensions, factions, ²¹envy, drunkenness, carousings and everything of the kind, of which I warn you as I did previously, that those who practice such things will not inherit the kingdom of God.

²²But the Spirit's fruition is love, joy, peace, forbearance, kindness, generosity, fidelity, ²³gentleness, self-control. There is no law against these.

²⁴Now those who belong to Christ have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires.^d ²⁵If we live by the Spirit, let us also be directed by the Spirit; ²⁶let us not become vain-glorious so as to compete with each other and to envy one another.

6 BROTHERS, IN CASE A PERSON IS caught in any misconduct, you spiritual persons should set him straight in a humble spirit, looking at yourself, so that you may not be tempted as well. ²Carry one another's burden and thus fulfill the law of Christ; ³for if anyone thinks he is somebody important and yet is of no account, he is deceiving himself. ⁴Let each one put his own work to the test; then he will enjoy his personal satisfaction and not boast to another. ⁵For each person has his own load to carry.^e

⁶The person who is being taught should share all good things with him who teaches the word. ⁷Make no mistake, God will not be mocked. What a person sows, that he will harvest as well. ⁸The one who sows for his own flesh will harvest ruin from his flesh; while the one who sows for the Spirit will harvest eternal life from the Spirit. ⁹Let us do what is right without tiring of it, for at its proper time we shall reap if we do not give up. ¹⁰So then, as opportunity offers, let us practice what is beneficial for everyone, but particularly toward the members of the family of faith.

¹¹Notice what large letters I write you in my own hand.

¹²Those who want to make a good showing in the flesh are the very ones who would force circumcision on you, for the simple reason that they may

b) Those who were disturbing the Galatian churches might corrupt all of the believers, as yeast raises the whole loaf.

c) Lev. 19:18; Matt. 22:39; Rom. 13:9.

d) This is spiritual circumcision.

e) Compare vs. 2, which speaks of burdens that can be shared, e.g. misfortune and sorrow. There are other burdens, e.g. painful duties, that the individual alone can bear. This kind is meant in vs. 5.

thus escape persecution on account of the cross of Christ. ¹³For those who are circumcised do not themselves observe the Law, but they want to have you circumcised, that they may boast of your physical experience. ¹⁴But for me, perish the thought that I should boast except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom the world has been crucified to me and I to the world. ¹⁵For neither circumcision nor the lack of it is important, but a new creation is what counts, ¹⁶and those who behave by this rule, peace and mercy be upon them, even on the Israel of God.

¹⁷From now on let no one make trouble for me, for I bear in my body the marks^f of Jesus.

¹⁸The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, brothers. Amen.

f) The bodily scars that Paul had as a result of persecution for Christ's sake, e.g. Acts 14:19; II Cor. 11:24, 25, were marks that revealed the Lord's ownership of him.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO THE EPHESIANS

Date of writing: c. A.D. 60-61, at Rome

1 PAUL, AN APOSTLE OF CHRIST Jesus by the will of God, to the saints^a [in Ephesus],^b the faithful in Christ Jesus: ²Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

³Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has blessed us with every spiritual blessing in the heavenly spheres^c through Christ, ⁴even as He has chosen us in Him before the world was founded, to be holy and blameless in His presence. ⁵In love He predestined us in Jesus Christ to be His sons, in agreement with the kind intent of His will, ⁶for the praise of His glorious grace with which He has freely favored us in union with the Beloved. ⁷In Him we enjoy redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of our trespasses to the measure of the wealth of His grace, ⁸which He poured out on us, ⁹making known to us in all His wisdom and insight the secret of His purpose, according to His kind intention which He proposed in Christ, ^{10a}plan to be brought to completion when the time fully comes, to bring everything together in Christ, things in heaven and things on earth.

¹¹In Him we too were made His heritage, as foreordained according to His purpose, who works out everything in agreement with the design of His own will, ¹²so that we, the first to put our hope in Christ, might bring praise to His glory. ¹³In Him you also, after listening to the message of the truth, the good news of your salvation, have as believers in Him been sealed with the promised Holy Spirit, ¹⁴who is the guarantee of our inheritance, for a redemption through which you become God's property, and all to the praise of His glory.

¹⁵For this reason I too, on hearing about your faith in the Lord Jesus and your love for all the saints, ¹⁶never fail in giving thanks for you as I mention you in my prayers, ¹⁷that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the glorious Father, might grant you a spirit of wisdom and of revelation for an understanding of Himself, ¹⁸granting you eyes of the heart, so that you may know the nature of the hope to which you are called, and what is the wealth of His glorious inheritance in the saints, ¹⁹and how overwhelmingly great is His power for us believers. It is like the working of His mighty strength, ²⁰which He exerted when He raised Christ from the dead and seated Him in the heavenly spheres at His right hand, ²¹high above all government and authority, power and lordship, and every name that is named,

a) See note at Acts 9:13.

b) The words enclosed in brackets do not appear in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts. Since this letter is not, therefore, addressed specifically to the church in Ephesus, it has been surmised that it may be the letter to the Laodiceans mentioned in Col. 4:16. It is possible that what is known as the Epistle to the Ephesians was a joint communication to both Ephesus and Laodicea. Both cities were situated in what is now Turkey: Ephesus near the Aegean Sea; Laodicea, and Colossae also, not more than fifteen miles from each other, were about eighty miles directly east of Ephesus.

c) Literally "in the heavenlies," the spiritual realm of life with Christ; and so in vs. 20; 2:6; 3:10; 6:12.

not only in this but also in the future world.

²²God has placed everything under His feet and has given Him as head over everything for the church, ²³which is His body, the completeness of Him who fills the universe at all points.^d

2 YOU TOO WERE DEAD IN YOUR trespasses and sins, ²in which you once conducted yourselves in line with the ways of this world system, controlled by the ruler of the kingdom of the air, the spirit of the one now working in disobedient people.^e ³Among them we all once walked, as we indulged our fleshly desires and carried out the inclinations of our lower nature and our thoughts, and by nature we were objects of God's indignation, as were all the rest of mankind.

⁴But God is rich in mercy, so that on account of His great love with which He loved us, ⁵He made us who were dead in trespasses, alive with Christ—by grace you have been saved. ⁶And in Christ Jesus He caused us to rise, and seated us with Him in the heavenly spheres, ⁷so that He might show in the future ages the immeasurable wealth of His grace, by means of His goodness to us through Christ Jesus.

⁸For by grace you have been saved through faith, and that is not of yourselves; it is God's gift. ⁹It is not by works, so that no one may boast; ¹⁰for we are His handiwork, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God previously prepared for us so that we should live in them.

¹¹Keep in mind, therefore, that once you were physically Gentiles and were called uncircumcision by the so-called circumcision that is made with human hands in the flesh; ¹²that in those days you were separated from Christ, aliens without the right of Israel's citizenship, and strangers to the covenants of promise, living in the world without hope and without God. ¹³But now in Christ

Jesus you, who were once far away, have been brought near by the blood of Christ. ¹⁴For He is our peace. Breaking down the barrier that separated Jews and Gentiles He united the two sections. By His own human nature He brought the hostility to an end, ¹⁵by abolishing the Law of commandments with its regulations, so that in Himself He might create the two into one new person and thus make peace, ¹⁶and through the cross reconcile them both in one body to God, bringing the hostility to an end by the cross.

¹⁷And He came and preached peace to you who were far away and peace to those who were near; ¹⁸because through Him we both have access to the Father by one Spirit. ¹⁹Therefore, you are no longer strangers and immigrants, but you are fellow citizens with the saints and members of God's household; ²⁰you are constructed on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, of which the cornerstone is Christ Jesus. ²¹The whole building, framed together in Him, rises into a temple that is holy in the Lord, ²²in whom you also are built up together for a dwelling of God in the Spirit.

3 BECAUSE OF THIS I, PAUL, THE prisoner of Christ Jesus on behalf of you Gentiles—²you surely heard how the administration of divine grace to you was granted me,^f ³how by revelation the secret was made known to me, as I wrote you briefly before.^g ⁴A perusal of it will enable you to understand my insight into the secret of Christ, ⁵which was not made known to the sons of men in other generations as now it is revealed by the Spirit to His holy apostles and prophets, ⁶that the Gentiles are joint inheritors, share the same body, and are participants of the promise in Christ Jesus through the good news, ⁷of which I was made a minister by virtue of the gift of divine grace that was granted me in

d) There are two main interpretations of the words, "the completeness of Him who fills the universe at all points": (1) that Christ, who fills all things, so fills the church, His body, as to complete it; and (2) that, as a head without a body is incomplete, so Christ, who is the Head, is not complete without the church, His body. Possibly the latter view is preferable, although it must never be forgotten that spiritually Christ is the church's fullness.

e) Lit. "the sons of disobedience," an expression that denotes those who oppose God. In I Sam. 2:12 the same thought is expressed in the term "sons of Belial."

f) As the apostle to the Gentiles. g) Some think that the Epistle to the Colossians is meant.

agreement with the working of His power. ⁸On me, the least of all saints, was this grace bestowed to preach to the Gentiles the fathomless wealth of Christ, ⁹and to bring to light what arrangement was contained in the secret, that had through the ages been hidden with God, the Creator of all.

¹⁰Consequently, the many-sided wisdom of God may now be made known through the church to the rulers and the authorities in the heavenly spheres.

¹¹This is in accord with the eternal purpose which He carried out through Christ Jesus, our Lord, ¹²in whom by faith in Him we enjoy the confidence of unreserved approach. ¹³I pray, therefore, that you may not lose courage in these afflictions of mine for your sakes, for they serve to your honor.

¹⁴Because of this, I bow my knees^h before the Father, ¹⁵from whom every family in heaven and on earth takes its name, ¹⁶that He may grant you, in keeping with the wealth of His glory, to be empowered with strength in the inner self by His Spirit; ¹⁷that through faith the Christ may dwell in your hearts, that you may be rooted and grounded in love, ¹⁸in order that you may have power to understand with all the saints what is the breadth, the length, the depth, and the height, ¹⁹in fact to know the love of Christ which surpasses knowledge, so that you may be filled up to the whole fullness of God.

²⁰Now to Him who is able according to the power that works within us to do everything immeasurably far beyond what we pray or think of, ²¹to Him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus through all generations for ever and ever, Amen.

4 SO I EXHORT YOU, PRISONER AS I am in the Lord, to conduct yourselves worthy of the calling you have received, ²with unalloyed humility and gentleness, to bear patiently with one another in a loving way, ³making every effort to preserve the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. ⁴There is one body¹ and one Spirit, just as also you received your calling, with one hope; ⁵one Lord, one faith, one baptism; ⁶one God and Father of all, who governs all and pervades all and is in us all.

⁷But to each of us grace is granted and measured by the gift of Christ.

⁸Thus it says, "As He ascended on high, He led the captured^k away into captivity; He gave gifts to men." ⁹But what does "He ascended" mean, except that He also went down into the lower parts of the earth? ¹⁰The One who descended is the very One who ascended far above all the heavens to fill the universe.

¹¹So He has given some to be apostles and others to be prophets; some to be evangelists and others to be pastors and teachers, ¹²to equip the saints for the task of ministering toward the building up of the body of Christ, ¹³until we all may arrive at the unity of faith and that understanding of that Son of God that brings completeness of personality, tending toward the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ. ¹⁴As a result, we should no longer be babes, swung back and forth and carried here and there with every wind of teaching that springs from human craftiness and ingenuity for devising error; ¹⁵but, telling the truth in love, we should grow up in every way toward Him who is the Head — Christ, ¹⁶from whom the entire body is fitted together and united by every contributing ligament, with proportionate power for each single part to effect the development of the body for its upbuilding in love.

¹⁷So I tell you this and testify in the Lord: you must no longer behave like the Gentiles, whose lives are spent in the uselessness of their ways of thinking. ¹⁸Their understanding has become darkened. Because of their ignorance and the obstinacy of their hearts, they have grown estranged from the divine life. ¹⁹Troubled by no compunctions, they are the sort that have abandoned themselves to sensuality, so ^h) Customarily the Jews stood when they prayed.

ⁱ) The body of Christ, that is the church, cf. I Cor. 12:13. ^j) Ps. 68:18.

^k) By His death and resurrection the Lord Jesus Christ conquered Satan, who had held men captive for such a long time, Heb. 2:14, 15.

as to practice with greediness all kinds of impurity.

²⁰But this is not the way you have come to know Christ,¹ ²¹if, indeed, you have heard about Him and have been taught in Him according to the truth as it is in Jesus: ²²that you are to rid yourself of the old nature^m with your previous habits, corrupted as it is by deceitful lusts; ²³that you be renewed in your mental attitude, ²⁴and that you put on the new nature that is created in God's likeness in genuine righteousness and holiness.

²⁵Therefore, laying all falsehood aside, speak truth each person to his neighbor, for we are one another's members. ²⁶When you are angry, commit no sin; do not remain angry until sundown. ²⁷Do not give the devil an opportunity. ²⁸The thief must steal no more, but rather toil to earn a living with his own hands, so he may have something to give the person in need.

²⁹Let no foul speech come out of your mouth, but only such as will build up where it is necessary, so as to add a blessing to the listeners. ³⁰And never grieve God's Holy Spirit, by whom you have been marked with a seal for the day of redemption. ³¹Get rid of all bitterness among you—bad temper, anger, clamor, abusive language and all malice. ³²Be kind toward one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God has in Christ forgiven you.

5 BE THEREFORE IMITATORS OF Godⁿ as His beloved children, ²and live in love, as Christ also loved us and gave Himself for us, an offering and sacrifice to God as a fragrant scent.

³But immorality and every kind of impurity or greed should not so much as be mentioned among you; such is the proper way for saints.^o ⁴Nor should there be indecency and foolish talking or low jesting; they are not fitting. Instead, let there rather be thanksgiving.

⁵For be sure of this, that none guilty of immorality or of impurity or of greed, which is idolatry, has an inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.

⁶Let no one lead you astray with empty words,^p for on account of such things the indignation of God comes on disobedient people.^q ⁷Do not be sharing with them. ⁸For once you were darkness but now in the Lord you are light; live as children of light—⁹for the fruition of the Light consists in all goodness, righteousness and truth—¹⁰demonstrating what is pleasing to the Lord.

¹¹Do not participate in the fruitless doings of darkness but rather expose them; ¹²for while it is a disgrace even to mention the things they do in secret, ¹³yet everything that is exposed by the light is made visible, and where everything is made visible there is light. ¹⁴Thus it says,^r "Wake up, sleeper, and rise from the dead, and Christ will shine upon you."

¹⁵See to it, therefore, that you conduct yourselves carefully, not as foolish but as wise people ¹⁶who make the best possible use of their time, because these are evil days. ¹⁷Be not thoughtless, then, but gain insight in the Lord's will. ¹⁸And do not get drunk on wine, which leads to debauchery, but be filled with the Spirit, ¹⁹speaking one to the other in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing heartily and making your music to the Lord, ²⁰and at all times giving thanks for everything to God the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

²¹Be submissive to one another out of reverence for Christ. ²²Wives be subject to your husbands as to the Lord. ²³For a husband is head of his wife as Christ also is Head of the church;^s He is the Savior of the body. ²⁴But as the church is submissive to Christ, so wives must in every respect be submissive to their husbands.

1) Not merely His teachings but Himself.

m) Literally "the old man," all that the Christian is apart from Christ. In vs. 24 it is "the new man" (lit.), that is, what the believer is in his new birth through Christ.

n) Compare Matt. 5:48. o) See note at Acts 9:13. p) That is, speech void of truth.

q) See note at ch. 2:2.

r) This appears to be an extract from an early Christian hymn. Cf. Isa. 26:19; 60:1, 2.

s) The husband and wife relationship dates from O.T. times as a spiritual symbol of the relationship of Jehovah and Israel, but the apostle is here speaking of Christ and the church, vs. 32.

²⁵Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ loved the church and gave Himself for her, ²⁶in order that by cleansing her by means of the washing in water He may sanctify her through His word, ²⁷so that He may present the church to Himself gloriously, having no spot or wrinkle or any of such thing, but holy and blameless.

²⁸In a similar way husbands ought to love their wives as their own bodies. One who loves his wife loves himself. ²⁹For no one ever hated his own flesh, but he nourishes and carefully protects it, just as Christ treats the church; ³⁰for we are members of His body. ³¹"On^t this account a man shall leave his father and mother and shall be joined to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh."

³²There is a great, hidden meaning in this, but I am speaking about Christ and the church. ³³Nevertheless, let each of you love his wife as much as himself, and let the wife revere her husband.

6 CHILDREN, BE OBEDIENT TO YOUR parents in the Lord, for this is right. ²"Honor your father and mother," which is the first commandment^u with a promise, ³"that it may be well with you and that you may enjoy great length of life on the earth."

⁴And fathers, do not arouse your children's anger, but bring them up in the instruction and admonition of the Lord.

⁵Slaves,^v render obedience to your earthly masters,^w with reverence and awe, with such unmixed motives as you feel toward Christ. ⁶Do not be eye-slaves as men-pleasers, but as slaves of Christ carry out wholeheartedly the will of God, ⁷rendering service with goodwill as to the Lord and not to men, ⁸aware that whatever good each one may do he will be recompensed by the Lord, whether he is a slave or a freeman.

⁹And masters, treat your slaves in the same way. Dispense with threatening, as you keep in mind that their Master and yours is in heaven, and with Him there is no partiality.

¹⁰In conclusion, be strong in the Lord and in the strength of His might. ¹¹Put on the complete armor that God supplies, so you will be able to stand against the devil's intrigues. ¹²For our wrestling is not against flesh-and-blood opponents, but against the rulers, the authorities, the cosmic powers of this present darkness, against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly spheres. ¹³Take up, therefore, the whole armor of God so that you may be able to stand when you have done all the fighting.

¹⁴So stand your ground, with^x the belt of truth tightened around your waist, wearing the breastplate of righteousness on your body, ¹⁵with the readiness of the good news of peace bound on your feet; ¹⁶above all taking up the shield of faith, with which you will be able to extinguish all the flaming arrows of the evil one. ¹⁷And take the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God, ¹⁸praying in the Spirit on every occasion with ceaseless prayer and entreaty, constantly alert to pray with all perseverance and entreaty for all the saints; ¹⁹also for me, that, when I open my lips, the message may be given me that I may announce fearlessly the secret^y of the good news ²⁰for which I am an ambassador in chains. Pray that I may present the good news freely, as it is my duty to speak.

²¹In order that you may know my affairs, how I am doing, Tychicus,^z the beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord, will give you all the information. ²²I have sent him to you for this very purpose, to let you know all about us, and that he may encourage your hearts.

²³Peace to the brothers, and love joined with faith, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.^a ²⁴Grace be with all who have a never-diminishing love for our Lord Jesus Christ.

t) Gen. 2:24. u) Exod. 20:12. v) See note at Matt. 13:27.

w) In principle this applies not only to slaves and their masters but also to employees and their employers. x) Isa. 11:5; 52:7. y) See note at Rom. 16:25.

z) Tychicus, who is mentioned also in Acts 20:4 and Titus 3:12, was Paul's courier who carried not only this letter but also the one to the Colossians, Col. 4:7.

a) God in Christ is the Source of Christian faith and love.

PHILIPPIANS

Date of writing: c. A.D. 60, at Rome

1 PAUL AND TIMOTHY,^a SLAVES^b OF Christ Jesus, to all the saints^c in Christ Jesus that live at Philippi^d with the bishops and deacons:^e ²Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

³Every time I think of you I thank my God. ⁴Every time I pray I make my petition for all of you, with joyfulness ⁵for your fellowship in furthering the good news from the first day to this moment. ⁶Of this I am convinced, that He who has begun a good work in you will bring it to completion in the day of Christ Jesus.^f

⁷It is right for me to think of all of you in this way, because I have you in my heart, as all of you share with me in divine grace, whether it be in my imprisonment or in the defense and confirmation of the good news. ⁸For God is my witness how I yearn for all of you with the affection of Christ Jesus.

⁹And this is my prayer, that your love may grow ever richer and richer in real knowledge and all discernment, ¹⁰that you may test the things that are better, that you may be unsullied and blameless as you face the day of Christ, ¹¹abounding in the fruits of righteousness^g which come through

Jesus Christ to the glory and praise of God.

¹²I want you to understand, brothers, that what has happened to me has turned out for, rather than against the advance of the good news, ¹³so that throughout the imperial guard^h and everywhere else it has become known that my imprisonment is because I belong to Christ. ¹⁴And the majority of the brothers in the Lord have been encouraged by my imprisonment to be far more daring in telling the divine message fearlessly.ⁱ

¹⁵Some, to be sure, are preaching Christ out of jealousy and rivalry, but others out of good will; ¹⁶some, indeed, are preaching out of love, knowing that I am destined for the defense of the good news, ¹⁷but others preach Christ out of party spirit and not from pure motives. They intend to add distress to my bonds.

¹⁸Well, what of it? Anyhow, in any event, whether from pretense or from pure motives, Christ is preached and I am glad of that; yes, and I shall be glad, ¹⁹for I know that this will turn out for my deliverance through your prayer and the provision that comes from the Spirit of Jesus Christ. ²⁰For I eagerly desire and hope not to be

a) See note at I Tim. 1:2. b) See note at Matt. 13:27. c) See note at Acts 9:13.

d) Philippi was a Roman colony in Macedonia, an area which is now a part of northern Greece. The city was within a mile or two of the Aegean Sea and lay along the Egnatian Way that ran from the east coast of the Adriatic Sea to Byzantium, which bordered on the Bosphorus.

e) The church at Philippi was organized in accordance with N.T. practice, cf. Titus 1:5-9. For notes on bishops and deacons see I Tim. 3:1 and 8 respectively. f) The day of His return.

g) Compare Gal. 5:22, 23.

h) The headquarters of the imperial guard was the governor's palace. There were several thousand soldiers in the guard who may have heard the message of salvation in Christ.

i) Paul's courage under adversity fortified the courage of other believers.

put to shame at all,¹ but that with perfect boldness as always, so now Christ may be honored in my body, either through living or through dying.²¹ For to me to live is Christ and to die is gain.^k

²²If, however, to continue to live means fruitful service for me, then I cannot tell which to choose.²³ So I feel the pressure from both sides: I have a yearning to take my leave and to be with Christ, for that would be far better,²⁴ but on your account it is more necessary that I remain in the body.²⁵ And since I am confident of this, I know that I shall stay and continue with all of you, that you may progress and have the joy that comes with faith,²⁶ so that through my coming to you again your pride in Christ Jesus because of me may become greater.

²⁷Only conduct yourselves in a manner worthy of the good news concerning Christ, so that whether I come and see you or am absent, I may hear that you are standing firm in one spirit and one mind, as you are joined in conflict for the faith of the good news,²⁸ not for a moment intimidated by your antagonists. For them this implies destruction, but for you deliverance, and that from God.²⁹ For you have been privileged on behalf of Christ not only to believe in Him but also to suffer for Him;³⁰ so you are experiencing the same conflict you have seen me wage and which you now hear that I am having.

2 IF, THEREFORE, IN RELATIONSHIP with Christ there is any encouragement, if there is any persuasive appeal of love, if there is any fellowship in the Spirit, if any affections and compassion,¹ ²then make my joy complete by being in agreement, having the same love, being united in spirit, having the same attitude, ³doing nothing out of selfishness or conceit, but with humility regarding others superior to yourselves.⁴ Neither must each be looking out only for his own interests but also for those of others.

⁵Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus⁶ who, though existing in the form of God, did not consider His equality with God something to cling to,⁷ but emptied Himself^m as He took on the form of a slaveⁿ and became like human beings.⁸ So, recognized in appearance as a human being, He humbled Himself and became obedient to death; yes, death by the cross.

⁹God, therefore, has lifted Him on high and has given Him the name that surpasses every name,^o ¹⁰so that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of those in heaven, of those on earth, and of those under the earth,¹¹ and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord to the glory of God the Father.

¹²Consequently, my beloved, just as you have always obeyed, not only when I was with you but even more so now that I am absent from you, cultivate your own salvation with reverence and trepidation,¹³ for it is God who is at work within you, so as to will and to work for His good pleasure.

¹⁴Do it all without grumbling and objections,¹⁵ so that you may be blameless and innocent, God's faultless children in the midst of a crooked and perverted generation, among whom you shine like stars in the world,¹⁶ thus holding fast to the message of life as to be my pride on the day of Christ, because I shall neither have run nor labored in vain.¹⁷ In fact, even if my lifeblood must be poured out for a drink offering upon the sacrifice of your faith, I am glad of it and am glad together with all of you.¹⁸ Equally so be glad and share happiness with me.

¹⁹But, trusting in the Lord Jesus, I hope to send you Timothy shortly, so

j) Paul would have been ashamed had he failed to live and speak for Christ.

k) On earth Christ was everything to Paul. But it would be to his gain to be in heaven and thus in Christ's presence, cf. vs. 23; II Cor. 5:8.

l) The four "ifs" of this verse have the force of "since," i.e., since these things are so, "then make my joy complete," etc.

m) Not of His Deity, but of some marks of His divine glory that might have obscured His perfect humanity as described in vs. 7, 8. n) See note at Matt. 13:27.

o) After the ascension, which Paul refers to here, Christ took back to heaven the added glory of His perfect humanity; for on His return He was not only the Son of God but also the Son of man.

that I too may be cheered by news from you; ²⁰for I have no one else who shares my own attitude with such genuine interest in your affairs. ²¹They are all looking out for their interests, not for those of Christ Jesus. ²²But you know his sterling worth, how as a son with his father he has served with me for the good news. ²³So I hope to send him as soon as I see how things go with me. ²⁴But I have confidence in the Lord that soon I too shall come.

²⁵I have considered it necessary to send you my brother and fellow worker and fellow soldier, Epaphroditus, whom you sent as your messenger to minister to my wants, ²⁶inasmuch as he is yearning for all of you and is distressed, because you heard that he was ill. ²⁷And he was ill indeed, even to the verge of death; but God took pity on him, and not only on him but on me as well, so that I might not experience one grief after another. ²⁸I am, therefore, sending him the more eagerly, so that you may be glad to see him again and that I may feel more relieved. ²⁹Therefore, welcome him with all joyfulness in the Lord, and hold such persons in high esteem, ³⁰for on account of the work of Christ he came to the brink of death and endangered his life, to make up for the service you could not render me.

3 FINALLY, MY BROTHERS, BE GLAD in the Lord. Repetition in my writing you is not irksome to me and for you it is safe. ²Look out for those dogs; look out for those wicked workers; look out for the mutilation faction.³ For we who worship God through the Spirit and pride ourselves in Christ Jesus, and do not confide in the flesh, we are the truly circumcised.

⁴I have, however, some basis for confidence in the flesh. If anyone else imagines that he has some basis for confidence in the flesh, I am ahead of him: ⁵circumcised on the eighth day, a native Israelite of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrews, as to the Law a Pharisee, ⁶as to zeal a persecutor of the church, as to legal righteousness without blame.

⁷But everything that was gain for me I have considered loss for Christ's sake. ⁸And, what is more, I regard everything as loss in comparison with the supreme value of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For His sake I have incurred the loss of all things and consider them rubbish, in order to gain Christ ⁹and to be found in Him, not having my own righteousness, based on the Law but, through faith in Christ, the righteousness that comes from God on the basis of faith, ¹⁰that I may know Him, and the power of His resurrection^a and the sharing of His sufferings, becoming like Him in His death,¹¹ in order that I might arrive at the resurrection from the dead.

¹²Not that I have already made this my own or have already reached perfection, but I am pressing onward in the hope of making it my own because Christ Jesus has made me His own. ¹³Brothers, I do not imply that I have made it my own, but one thing I do — forgetting what is behind and reaching out for what lies ahead, ¹⁴I push on to the goal for the prize of God's heavenly call in Christ Jesus.

¹⁵Let those of us, then, who are mature^a have this in mind, and if your views differ in any respect, God will make this clear also to you. ¹⁶But we must hold on to what we have attained.

¹⁷Join with me as followers, brothers, and observe those who behave as you have it exemplified in us. ¹⁸For many are living, of whom I have often told you and I say it now with tears, who are enemies of the cross of Christ, ¹⁹whose end is destruction, whose god is their stomach, whose boast is in their shame, whose interests are centered on earthly matters. ²⁰For our citizenship belongs in heaven, from which also we expect the Lord Jesus Christ as De-

p) The allusion is to those who insisted upon Gentile converts' abiding by Mosaic regulations, particularly circumcision.

q) Because Christ arose, believers may know His power in this life, Rom. 6:4, and have assurance that they will be raised also, Rom. 8:11.

r) Christians ought to live as having died with Christ, Rom. 6:6, 8.

s) That is, mature in Christian living.

liverer, ²¹who will change the fashion of our humiliated body so that it will resemble His glorious body by the power that enables Him to subject everything to Himself.

4 NOW THEN, MY BROTHERS, BE-loved and longed for, my joy and my crown,⁴ in this way stand firm in the Lord, dear friends. ²I appeal to Euodia and I appeal to Syntyche^u to agree in the Lord. ³Yes, and I beg of you also, my genuine yokefellow, to lend these women a hand; for they struggled side by side with me in the proclamation of the good news, along with Clement and the rest of my fellow workers, whose names are in the Book of Life.

⁴Be joyful in the Lord always; again I say, Rejoice. ⁵Be known by all the people for your considerateness; the Lord is near. ⁶Entertain no worry, but under all circumstances let your petitions be made known before God by prayer and pleading along with thanksgiving.^v ⁷So will the peace of God, that surpasses all understanding, keep guard over your hearts and your thoughts in Christ Jesus.

⁸Finally, brothers, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is kindly spoken, whatever is lofty and whatever is praiseworthy — put your mind on these. ⁹And what you have learned and received and heard and seen in me, that put into practice. And the God of peace will be with you.

¹⁰I was uncommonly happy in the Lord because of late your thoughtfulness^w toward me came to life again, a matter in which you were interested but lacked opportunity. ¹¹Not that I mention this because of need, for I have learned to make ends meet in whatever situation I am. ¹²I know how to live simply and I know how to enjoy prosperity. I am acquainted with all circumstances: to be filled up and to be hungry, to have abundance and to suffer want. ¹³I have strength for every situation through Him who empowers me.

¹⁴At the same time you did well by sharing with me in my trouble. ¹⁵And you Philippians know, too, how in the early preaching of the good news, when we took our departure from Macedonia, not a single church except yourselves went into partnership with me with regard to giving and receiving; ¹⁶for even when I was in Thessalonica you more than once sent me something to meet my needs. ¹⁷Not that I am after the gift, but I am after the fruition that is multiplying to your credit.

¹⁸Now that I have received from Epaphroditus what you sent, a fragrant perfume, an acceptable offering that pleases God, I have enough and to spare; I am amply supplied. ¹⁹And my God will fully supply all your needs according to His abundant wealth so glorious in Christ Jesus. ²⁰And to God our Father be glory forever and ever. Amen.

²¹Greet every saint^x in Christ Jesus. The brothers who are with me send you greetings. ²²All the saints greet you, especially those of Caesar's household.

²³The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit.

t) In the N.T. a crown is used as a figure for reward, cf. I Cor. 9:25; I Thess. 2:19; II Tim. 4:8; James 1:12; I Pet. 5:4.

u) Euodia and Syntyche were two women in the church at Philippi who apparently had a strong disagreement. Although Paul rebuked them kindly with this appeal, his regard for them was not lessened because of their dissent. Observe how frequently the apostle expressed affection for "all of you," chs. 1:4, 7, 8, 25; 2:17; 4:23.

v) The prayer of faith contains gratitude. See e.g. Christ's prayers, Matt. 11:25; John 11:41.

w) When Paul wrote this letter he needed the material help of fellow believers, for he was a prisoner in Rome. In the past he had worked with his own hands at his trade of tent making, cf. Acts 18:1-3; 20:34; I Cor. 4:12. x) See note at Acts 9:13.

COLOSSIANS

Date of writing: c. A.D. 60-61, at Rome

1 PAUL, AN APOSTLE OF CHRIST Jesus by the will of God, and our brother Timothy^a ²to the consecrated and faithful brothers in Christ at Colossae^b: Grace to you and peace from God our Father [and the Lord Jesus Christ].^c

³We constantly give thanks to God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, as we are praying for you; ⁴for we have heard of your faith in Christ Jesus and the love you cherish for all the saints,^d ⁵because of the hope that is stored up for you in heaven. You first heard of this hope in the message of the truth concerning the good news that reached you, ⁶as it has come also to the whole world, with fruitful results which are spreading abroad, as is the case among you ever since you heard and came to know in truth the grace of God.

⁷So you learned from Epaphras,^e our dear fellow bondsman,^f who is a faithful minister of Christ for you; ⁸and he has also pointed out to us the love you cherish through the Spirit. ⁹We have, therefore, from the day we heard it, never neglected praying and petitioning for you, that you might be filled with all spiritual wisdom and insight so as to understand His will clearly, ¹⁰and to live in a way worthy of the Lord and to His entire satisfaction, by producing results in all sorts of good work, and by growing in the knowledge of God. ¹¹We pray that you may be invigorated with complete power in accordance with His glorious strength, for the cheerful exercise of unlimited patience and perseverance, ¹²with thanksgivings to the Father, who has qualified you for your share in the inheritance^g of the saints in the light.

¹³He has rescued us from the domain of darkness,^h and has transferred us into the kingdom of His Beloved Son, ¹⁴in whom we have redemption [through His blood],ⁱ the forgiveness of sins; ¹⁵who is the likeness^j of the invisible God, the first-born of all creation. ¹⁶For through Him^k all things were created in heaven and on earth, the visible and the invisible, whether thrones or lordships or rulers or authorities; they are all created through Him and for Him, ¹⁷and He is Himself before all, and in Him all things hold together.^l

¹⁸He also is the Head of the body,

a) See note at I Tim. 1:2.

b) Colossae, like Laodicea and Hierapolis, ch. 4:13, was situated in Phrygia, the western area of what is now known as Turkey. The three cities were close together.

c) The words enclosed in brackets are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts. d) See note at Acts 9:13.

e) Epaphras, who may be identical with Epaphroditus of Phil. 2:25-30, had visited Paul in Rome, vs. 7; Philem. 23. f) See note at Matt. 13:27.

g) As the Hebrews had once inherited the Promised Land.

h) The realm that is controlled by Satan and his emissaries, Luke 22:53; Eph. 6:12.

i) The three words enclosed in brackets are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts. Unquestionably they are an interpolation taken over from Eph. 1:7, where they are authentic. j) It is in Christ that men can see what God is like, John 1:18; I Tim. 3:16; Heb. 1:3.

k) The Son of God.

l) As the Apostle John revealed, "through Him everything came into being," John 1:3; cf. Gen. 1:1; Heb. 11:3.

the church; He is its beginning, the first-born from the dead, so that in every respect He might have first place. ¹⁹For God was pleased to have all His fullness dwell in Him, ²⁰and through Him to reconcile all things to Himself, those on earth as well as those in heaven, as through Him God made peace by means of the blood of His cross.

²¹You, too, who once were estranged and of a hostile attitude with your evil activities, ²²He has now reconciled in His human body through His death, to introduce you into His presence holy and blameless and irreproachable — ²³if you remain grounded and settled in the faith and are not moved away from the hope inspired by the good news to which you listened, which has been preached to every creature under heaven^m and of which I, Paul, became a minister.

²⁴I am now glad amid my sufferings for you, and am making up in my own life on behalf of His body, which is in the church, what I am still lacking of afflictions for Christ. ²⁵I have become a minister of the church by divine appointment that was given me, to preach fully to you the word of God, ²⁶the secretⁿ that was hidden from ages and generations, but which now has been revealed to His saints, ²⁷to whom God has chosen to make known what is the wealth of this glorious secret among the Gentiles, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory.

²⁸Him we proclaim, while warning every person and instructing every individual in all wisdom, so that we may present every person complete in Christ. ²⁹And for this I toil, wrestling according to His energy which is powerfully at work in me.

2 FOR I WANT YOU TO KNOW IN HOW great a struggle^o I am engaged for you and for the Laodicean brothers, and for those who have not personally seen my face, ²so that their hearts may be encouraged, welded together in love, to attain all the riches that the full assurance of insight brings, with a knowledge of Christ, the secret of God,^p ³in whom all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge lie hidden.

⁴I mention this, so that no one may confuse your thinking by specious argument; ⁵for while I am physically absent, I am nevertheless with you in spirit, as I observe with joy your good order and the firmness of your faith in Christ.

⁶So, as you accepted Christ Jesus as Lord, live in union with Him, ⁷rooted and built up in Him and confirmed in the faith, just as you have been taught. And be overflowing with the giving of thanks.

⁸Beware of anyone carrying you captive through philosophy and empty deceitfulness along lines of human tradition and the world's elementary principles and not according to Christ. ⁹For in Him all the fullness of the Godhead dwells bodily,^q ¹⁰and in Him, who is the head of all rule and authority, you are enjoying fullness of life. ¹¹In Him, too, you were circumcised — not with a physical circumcision — in stripping off your fleshly body in Christ's circumcision, ¹²when you were buried with Him in baptism and thereby raised to life with Him through faith in the working of God, who raised Him from the dead.

¹³And you, who were dead in your trespasses and your lack of physical circumcision, He made alive together with Him, as He forgave us all our trespasses, ¹⁴canceled the record of debt that stood against us, with its requirements, and took it out of the way, when He nailed it to the cross. ¹⁵Disarming the rulers and authorities^r He publicly exposed them to disgrace as He triumphed over them by means of the cross.

¹⁶Allow no one, therefore, to be your judge in regard to eating and drinking, or the observance of a festival or a new moon or a Sabbath. ¹⁷These

m) That is, to every conceivable rank and condition of men.

n) For the meaning of the word "secret" in vss. 26, 27, chs. 2:2; 4:3, see note at Rom. 16:25.

o) That is, in prayer and in writing this letter and the one to the Laodicean church, ch. 4:16.

p) The marvelous revelation of God's plan for man, ch. 1:27.

q) The incarnation continues; the verb is in the present tense. r) That is, those of demonic type.

are shadows of things to follow, but the body is Christ. ¹⁸Let no one defraud you of salvation's prize, no one who indulges in assumed humility and the cult of angel-worship^a who brags of visions and is puffed up without cause by his fleshly mind, ¹⁹instead of keeping hold of that Head from which the whole body, supported and held together by ligaments and sinews, grows with divine growth.

²⁰If with Christ you have become dead to the elementary principles of the world, why allow regulations to be imposed on you as if you were living under the world's control: ²¹Don't touch this! Don't taste that! Don't handle the other! ²²All these are destined to wear out; they are governed by human injunctions and instructions, ²³such as have, to be sure, a suggestion of wisdom by self-imposed worship and humiliation and unsparing severity of the body, but are of no value in combating fleshly indulgence.^t

3 IF, THEN, YOU HAVE BEEN RAISED with Christ,^u seek the things which are above, where Christ is seated at God's right hand. ²Apply your mind to things above, not to things on earth; ³for you have died, and your life is hidden with Christ in God. ⁴When Christ, who is our life, makes His appearance, then we also will appear in glory with Him.

⁵Therefore put to death whatever in your nature belongs to the earth^v — immorality, impurity, passion, evil desire, and greediness, which is idolatry. ⁶On account of them God's anger will come [on disobedient people].^w ⁷And at one time you were addicted to them, when your life was spent in such ways. ⁸But now you must also put all these things away — anger, bad temper, malice, slander, shameful language. ⁹Do not lie to one another, since you have stripped off the old nature with its practices ¹⁰and have put on the new self who is being renewed in a full knowledge in the likeness of Him who created him. ¹¹You are where there is no difference between Greek and Jew, circumcised and uncircumcised, barbarian, Scythian,^x slave, and freeborn, but Christ is all and in all.

¹²Therefore, as God's chosen, set apart and enjoying His love, clothe yourselves with tenderness of heart, kindness, humility, gentleness, patient endurance. ¹³Bear with one another and forgive each other in case one has a grievance against another. Just as the Lord has forgiven you, so do you. ¹⁴But crown it all with love, which is the perfect bond of union. ¹⁵And let the peace of Christ, to which you were called in one body, arbitrate in your hearts. And be thankful.

¹⁶Let the enriching message of Christ have ample room in your lives as you instruct and admonish one another in all wisdom with psalms and hymns and spiritual songs that are sung in a thankful spirit in your hearts toward God. ¹⁷And whatever you do by word or deed, do it all in the name of the Lord Jesus, through whom you are offering thanks to God the Father.

¹⁸Wives, be submissive to your husbands, as it is becoming in the Lord to do. ¹⁹Husbands, love your wives and do not be harsh toward them. ²⁰Children, be obedient to your parents in every respect, for this is pleasing to the Lord. ²¹Fathers, do not irritate your children, that they may not lose heart.

²²Servants,^y obey your earthly masters in every way, not as men-pleasers when working under their eyes, but with unmixed motives out of reverence for the Lord. ²³Whatever you do, work heartily as for the Lord and not for men, ²⁴for you know that from the Lord you will receive the reward of the inheritance. It is Christ the Lord

s) The humility of these people was actually dishonoring to God; for in attempting to approach Him through worshipping angelic beings they were denying the only access available to them, that is, through Christ, John 14:6.

t) All these afford merely human satisfaction.

u) Christ died and rose again as representative of us. v) Compare Matt. 5:29; Mark 9:43-47.

w) The words enclosed in brackets are not found in the majority of the most reliable ancient manuscripts. The expression is found elsewhere in the N.T., however, e.g. Eph. 5:6.

x) The Scythians were an uncivilized people who lived north of the Black Sea.

y) See note at Matt. 13:27.

for whom you are working. ²⁵For the wrongdoer² will get what is coming to him for his wrongdoing; there will be no partiality.

4 MASTERS, TREAT YOUR SERVANTS with justice and fairness, well aware that you also have a Master in heaven.

²Keep persevering in prayer; attend to it diligently with the offering of thanks, ³praying for us also, that God may open for us a door to tell the message of the secret^a of Christ on account of which I am in prison, ⁴so that I may make this known in the way I am obliged to tell it.

⁵Conduct yourselves wisely toward outsiders, using your time to the best possible advantage. ⁶Let your speech always be gracious and so well reasoned out that you will know how to reply to each individual.

⁷Tychicus,^b our beloved brother, faithful minister, and fellow servant in the Lord, will tell you all about my affairs. ⁸I have sent him to you for this very purpose, to let you know our circumstances, and to encourage your hearts.^c ⁹He is accompanied by Onesimus, our faithful and beloved brother who is one of your own. They will acquaint you with everything that is going on here.

¹⁰Aristarchus,^d my fellow prisoner, sends you greeting; so does Mark,^e the cousin of Barnabas, about whom you received instructions—if he comes to you, welcome him. ¹¹Also Jesus who is called Justus. These are the only ones of the circumcision who serve as co-workers for the kingdom of God; they have become a comfort to me.

¹²Epaphras,^f one of your own, a slave of Christ Jesus, wants to be remembered to you. He is always wrestling for you in his prayers, that you may stand firm, mature, and thoroughly convinced in all the will of God. ¹³For I bear him witness how deeply concerned he is about you and the brothers at Laodicea^g and Hierapolis.

¹⁴Luke,^h the beloved physician, sends greetings, and so does Demas.ⁱ

¹⁵Extend our greetings to the brothers in Laodicea; also to Nympha and the church that meets at her home.

¹⁶When this letter has been read in your presence, arrange that it may also be read by the Laodicean church, while you read the letter from Laodicea.^j ¹⁷And say to Archippus:^k See to it that you fulfill the ministry which you have received in the Lord.

¹⁸My greeting in my own, Paul's, handwriting. Remember my bonds. Grace be with you.

z) That is, the abusive master.

a) See note at Rom. 16:25.

b) Tychicus, a native of Corinth, joined Paul there on his last missionary journey, Acts 20:4, 5, and remained with the apostle and served him for many years, Eph. 6:21; II Tim. 4:12; Titus 3:12. c) Philem. 10.

d) Aristarchus was a native of Thessalonica, Acts 20:4. Like Tychicus, vs. 7. Aristarchus was a companion and fellow worker with Paul for a long time, Acts 19:29; 27:2; Philem. 24.

e) This was John Mark of Jerusalem, who with Barnabas accompanied Paul on his first missionary journey but not the second, Acts 12:25; 15:37-39. He later served Paul in various ways, II Tim. 4:11. It was to the home of John Mark's mother that Peter went when he was miraculously released from prison, Acts 12:12. Mark was the author of the Second Gospel.

f) See note at ch. 1:7.

g) For the location of Laodicea and Hierapolis see note at ch. 1:7. It was in Laodicea, mentioned in ch. 2:1, that one of the seven churches of Rev. 2-3 was situated, Rev. 3:14.

h) Luke, the author of the Third Gospel and The Acts, joined Paul at Troas during the apostle's second missionary journey, Acts 16:10 (where see note), and was with him almost constantly until Paul's martyrdom, II Tim. 4:11. i) See note at Philem. 24.

j) It was evidently customary in N.T. times to exchange letters among the churches. Some think that "the letter from Laodicea" was the one that is now known as the Epistle to the Ephesians.

k) Philem. 2.

THESSALONIANS

Date of writing: c. A.D. 51, at Corinth

1 PAUL AND SILVANUS^a AND TIMOTHY,^b to the church of the Thessalonians^c in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:^d Grace to you and peace.

²We offer thanks to God always for all of you as we make mention of you in our prayers, ³and constantly recall in the presence of God and our Father your active faith, your labor prompted by love, and your enduring hope that rests on our Lord Jesus Christ.

⁴Brothers, beloved of God, we know His choice of you; ⁵for our good news reached you not only in words but also in power and in the Holy Spirit and with sound conviction, even as you well know in what way we conducted ourselves among you for your sakes. ⁶You also became followers of us and of the Lord when, with joy derived from the Holy Spirit, you welcomed the message under great affliction;^e ⁷so that you became an example to all who believe in Macedonia and Achaia. ⁸For not only did the Lord's message echo from you in Macedonia and Achaia, but the fact of your faith in God has been made known everywhere, so that we do not need to say anything.

⁹For they voluntarily tell about us, what remarkable introduction we had to you and how you turned to God from idols, to serve the living and true God ¹⁰and to await His Son from heaven, whom He raised from the dead — Jesus who delivers us from the coming wrath.

2 FOR YOU YOURSELVES ARE AWARE, brothers, how our entrance among you was not futile, ²but after the sufferings and ill-treatment we experienced, as you know, at Philippi,^f we took great courage by the help of our God to tell you amid severe struggle the good news from God. ³For our appeal springs neither from delusion, nor from impure motives, nor from deceit, ⁴but precisely as we have been divinely approved to be entrusted with the good news, so we tell it, not to ingratiate ourselves with men but to please God, who tests our hearts. ⁵For we never indulged in flattery, as you well know, neither did we use a pretext to satisfy our greed — to which God is witness — ⁶neither did we seek the plaudits of men, either from you or from others, though as Christ's apostles we were in position to claim authority. ⁷Instead, we were mild-mannered in your circle, like a nurse tenderly fostering her own children. ⁸Thus being strongly drawn to you, we were joyfully willing not only to impart to you

a) Silvanus, called Silas in The Acts, is first mentioned in Acts 15:22. Evidently he was a member of the Jerusalem church and as such was sent with Paul to inform the believers at Antioch of the decision of the Jerusalem council, Acts 15:27-29. Later he accompanied Paul on the apostle's second missionary journey, vs. 40, and was imprisoned with him at Philippi, Acts 16:19-40. Silvanus visited Thessalonica with Paul, Acts 17:4, and continued to help him in the work, II Cor. 1:19. b) See note at I Tim. 1:2.

c) Thessalonica, now known as Salonica, is located in Greece on the northwestern coast of the Aegean Sea. In N.T. times it was the capital of Macedonia.

d) Notice that in this early epistle Christ shares an equal place with God the Father.

e) Acts 17:5-9. f) See note at Phil. 1:1.

the good news from God but our own lives as well, because you had become dear to us.

⁹You will recollect, brothers, our toil and hardship as we worked night and day, so that we might be no burden to any of you while we preached to you the good news from God. ¹⁰You are witnesses, and so is God, how pure, fair, and irreproachable was our behavior toward you believers. ¹¹You know how we, like a father toward his own children, appealed to each of you and encouraged you and charged you ¹²to conduct yourselves in a way worthy of the God who is calling you into His own kingdom and glory.

¹³On this account we also constantly thank God because, when you took hold of the divine message from us, you did not accept it as a human message but, as it truly was, a message from God, which also is effective in you who believe. ¹⁴For you, brothers, have become followers of the churches of God in Christ Jesus that are in Judea; because you also have suffered at the hands of your own countrymen just as they suffered from the Jews, ¹⁵who put to death the Lord Jesus as well as the prophets, and persecuted us. They are displeasing to God and opponents of all people; ¹⁶for they forbid us to tell the message of salvation to the Gentiles, so that they constantly fill up the measure of their sins. But divine indignation has overtaken them.

¹⁷But we, brothers, when we were deprived of you for a little while insofar as presence goes but not in heart, made the more intense efforts with great longing to see you face to face, ¹⁸because we wanted to come to you, I Paul indeed more than once, but Satan interfered with us.^e ¹⁹For who except you is our hope or happiness or crown^h of pride in the presence of our Lord Jesus at His coming?ⁱ ²⁰For you are our glory and joy.

3 SO, WHEN WE COULD NOT STAND IT any longer, we thought it best to be left alone at Athens, ²and we sent Timothy, our brother and God's minister concerning the good news of Christ, to confirm you and encourage you in your faith, ³that no one may be disturbed by these afflictions. For you know yourselves that for this we were appointed; ⁴for when we were with you, we told you in advance that we were going to have trouble, exactly as you know it happened.

⁵And for this reason, when I could no longer stand it, I sent to make sure about your faith, whether perhaps the tempter^j might have tempted you, and our work should be useless. ⁶Now, however, since Timothy has returned to us from you and has brought us the good news about your faith and love, and how you retain us constantly in loving remembrance, how you are yearning to see us, just as we are to see you, ⁷we have reason, brothers, to be encouraged about you on account of your faith, in spite of all our distress and affliction. ⁸Because now we truly live if you stand firm in the Lord.

⁹How can we ever repay God with enough thanksgiving for you in view of all the happiness we are enjoying because of you in the presence of our God? ¹⁰Night and day we keep praying earnestly to see you face to face and to supply what is lacking in your faith.

¹¹May our God and Father Himself and our Lord Jesus direct our way to you. ¹²May the Lord make your love for one another and for everyone abundant and running over, just as ours is for you, ¹³so that your hearts may be made so steadfast that you will be spotless before God our Father at the coming of our Lord Jesus with all His saints.^k

4 FINALLY THEN, BROTHERS, WE BEG of you and exhort you in the name of the Lord Jesus to continue living in the way you learned from us, a way that is pleasing to God (and as you are behaving), and that you keep on,

g) Apparently Satan did this by working through those who opposed Paul.

h) See note at Phil. 4:1.

i) Five times in this epistle the second advent of Christ is alluded to: chs. 1:10; 2:19; 3:13; 4:15, 16; 5:2, 3. j) Satan. k) See note at Acts 9:13.

doing still better. ²For you are aware what instructions we gave you by authority of the Lord Jesus.

³This is God's will — your sanctification,¹ that you keep yourselves from sexual immorality, ⁴that each of you learn how to take his own wife in purity and honor, ⁵not in lustful passion like the Gentiles who have no knowledge of God. ⁶Let no one overstep the bounds and take advantage of his brother in this matter, for the Lord is a punisher in all such cases, as previously we told and solemnly charged you. ⁷For God has not called us to an impure but to a holy life; consequently, ⁸the one who rejects this does not reject man but God, who has given us His Holy Spirit.

⁹It is not necessary to write you about brotherly love, for you yourselves are taught by God to love one another, ¹⁰and you are practicing it toward all the brothers throughout Macedonia. ¹¹But we appeal to you, brothers, to keep advancing in it and to cherish ambition for a peaceful way of living; to mind your own affairs, and to work with your hands as we recommended to you, ¹²in order that your behavior toward the outsiders will be honorable and you need not depend on anyone.

¹³But we do not want you to be ignorant, brothers, about those who have died, so that you may not grieve as others do, who have no hope. ¹⁴For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, in a similar way through Jesus God will bring with Him those who have died. ¹⁵We tell you this by the word of the Lord: we, the living who remain at the coming of the Lord, will not take precedence over those who have died. ¹⁶For with a shout, with the voice of the archangel and the trumpet of God, the Lord Himself will descend from heaven, and those who died in Christ will rise first. ¹⁷Afterward we, the living who remain, will be caught up along with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And so we shall forever be with the Lord. ¹⁸So then encourage one another with these words.

5 CONCERNING TIMES AND SEASONS, brothers, you need no writing from me,^m ²for you are yourselves aware that the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night. ³When they say, "Peace and safety," then sudden destruction will come upon them like the birthpangs of a pregnant woman, and there will be no escape.

⁴You, however, brothers, are not in the dark, so that the day should surprise you like a thief; ⁵for you are all sons of light and sons of the day. We belong neither to night nor to darkness. ⁶So then, let us not be asleep like the rest, but let us be on our guard and be sober. ⁷For those who sleep sleep at night, and the drunkards are drunk at night. ⁸But as we belong to the day, let us be self-controlled, equipped with faith and love for our breastplate, and the hopeⁿ of salvation for our helmet.

⁹For God has not destined us for His anger, but for the obtaining of salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, ¹⁰who experienced death for us so that we, whether awake or asleep, might live together with Him. ¹¹Encourage one another, therefore, and build up one another, as in fact you are doing.

¹²We beg of you, brothers, to recognize the workers among you, those who are leaders in the Lord and your advisers. ¹³Because of their work, hold them lovingly in highest regard. Enjoy peace among yourselves.

¹⁴But we appeal to you, brothers: warn the idle, encourage the faint-hearted, give your support to the weak, exercise patience toward everyone. ¹⁵See to it that no one pays back evil for evil; instead, always try to be helpful to one another and to all people.

¹⁶Always be cheerful. ¹⁷Pray un-

l) Verses 3-12 describe some practical, moral outcomes of sanctification.

m) That Christ will come again is the important thing. How and when He will come is known by God alone. In His Word He has given some hints as to the manner and time of the event, but He has not revealed every detail concerning it.

n) Faith, hope, and love is a spiritual triad common to Paul's writings, e.g. ch. 1:3; I Cor. 13:13.

ceasingly.^o ¹⁸Under all circumstances give thanks, for such is God's will for you in Christ Jesus.

¹⁹Do not stifle the Spirit. ²⁰Do not despise prophetic utterance, ²¹but test it all and retain what is good. ²²Keep away from evil in every form.

²³And may the God of peace Himself make you holy through and through. May your whole being—spirit, soul, and body—be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. ²⁴He who calls you is faithful and He will accomplish it.

²⁵Brothers, pray for us. ²⁶Greet all the brothers with a sacred kiss.

²⁷I solemnly charge you in the Lord's name to have this letter read to all the brothers.

²⁸The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

o) Compare Luke 11:5-8.

THESSALONIANS

Date of writing: c. A.D. 51-52, at Corinth

1 PAUL AND SILVANUS^a AND TIMOTHY^b to the church of the Thessalonians^c in God our Father^d and the Lord Jesus Christ: ²Grace to you and peace from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

³We are always bound^e to give God thanks for you, brothers, as is befitting, because your faith is growing so splendidly and the love of each of you for one another is increasing, ⁴so that we ourselves mention you with pride among the churches of God for your fortitude and faith amid all the persecutions and distresses which you endure. ⁵This is evidence of God's righteous judgment, that you may be made worthy of the kingdom of God, on account of which you are suffering, ⁶inasmuch as God considers it just to repay with affliction those who afflict you, ⁷and to give relief along with us to you who are afflicted, when the Lord Jesus will be revealed from heaven with His mighty angels in a blaze of fire.

⁸He will inflict retribution on those who ignore God and who pay no attention to the good news concerning our Lord Jesus. ⁹They will pay the penalty of everlasting ruin separated from the presence of the Lord and from His glorious power, ¹⁰when He comes on that Day to have His glory shown in His saints^f and to be admired in all those who believe, because our witnessing among you was believed.

¹¹For this purpose we constantly pray for you, that our God may render you worthy of His call, and by His power may fulfill every desire for goodness and every faith-inspired effort, ¹²so that the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you and you in Him to the measure of the grace of our God and of the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 NOW WE BEG OF YOU, BROTHERS, with regard to the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our meeting together with Him, ²not to allow your minds to be readily unsettled or disturbed, either by spirit, or by message, or by letter allegedly from us, as if the day of the Lord had arrived. ³Let no one in any way deceive you; for the apostasy^g is to come first, and the man of sin is to be revealed, the one doomed to hell, ⁴the adversary who opposes and rises up against every so-called god and what is worshiped, so that he seats himself in the temple of God with the claim that he himself is God.

⁵Do you not recollect how I told you this when I was still with you? ⁶So you know now what impedes his being revealed at this time; ⁷for the mystery of lawlessness is already at work; only

a) See note at 1 Thess. 1:1.

b) See note at 1 Tim. 1:2.

c) See note at 1 Thess. 1:1.

d) The relationship of believers to God as His sons is through Christ in the Holy Spirit, Rom. 8:14-17.

e) Because of being indebted to God.

f) See note at Acts 9:13.

g) Literally, falling away, departure.

the one who is impeding now will do so until he is taken out of the way.^h

⁸Then will the lawless oneⁱ be revealed, whom the Lord Jesus will remove with the breath of His mouth, and bring to an end by the visible manifestation of His coming.

⁹The coming of the lawless one is according to Satan's working, with great power and signs and miracles, all of them false, ¹⁰and with limitless deceit of wickedness for those who, because they did not welcome the love of truth for their salvation, are going to destruction. ¹¹And for this reason God visits them with a delusion that operates on them to believe the falsehood, ¹²so that all who have not believed the truth but have taken pleasure in wickedness may be judged.

¹³But we are always bound to offer thanks to God for you, brothers, beloved by the Lord as you are, because from the beginning God chose you for salvation by the Spirit's sanctifying work and by faith in the truth. ¹⁴He called you for this purpose by means of the good news which we preached, that you might share the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. ¹⁵So then, brothers, stand firm and hold on to the traditions you learned of us, whether orally or by letter.

¹⁶And may our Lord Jesus Christ Himself and God our Father, who has loved us and has graciously given us eternal comfort and well-founded hope, ¹⁷encourage your hearts and strengthen you in every good work and word.

3 FINALLY, BROTHERS, PRAY FOR US, that the word of the Lord may run its course and be glorified as it was among you, ²and that we may be rescued from morally evil and malicious people;^j for all men are not believers. ³But the Lord is faithful, who will make you strong and guard you from the evil one. ⁴So through the Lord we have confidence in you, that you are practicing and will practice what we command. ⁵And may the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God^k and into the patient expectation of Christ.

⁶But we charge you, brothers, in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, to avoid every brother who, instead of observing the tradition you received from us, is living in idleness. ⁷For you know yourselves how you should follow us, because we were not idle among you, ⁸neither did we eat anyone's food without paying for it; instead, we worked and knew hardship night and day, so as not to impose on any of you. ⁹Not that we did not have the right to support, but to furnish you ourselves as an example which you should follow.

¹⁰For while we were with you, we gave you this charge, "If anyone does not want to work, then he should not eat either."^l ¹¹For we are hearing that some of you are living in idleness, not working but busy in other people's affairs. ¹²Such persons we direct and charge in the Lord Jesus Christ that by doing their work quietly, they earn their own living.

¹³As for you, brothers, do not get tired of doing good. ¹⁴If someone does not follow our instruction in this letter, note him well; do not associate with him, so that he may grow ashamed. ¹⁵But do not consider him an enemy, but warn him as a brother.

¹⁶And may the Lord of peace Himself grant you peace at all times under all circumstances. The Lord be with you all.^m

¹⁷The greeting in my own, Paul's handwriting; which is a sign in every letter. It is the way I write.ⁿ

¹⁸The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with all of you.

h) In vss. 6, 7 someone or something that impedes lawlessness is introduced. It is the view of some scholars that that which restrains iniquity is government, specifically Rome in the first century A.D., in the person of the emperor. Others believe that the Holy Spirit is meant and that His impeding influence will continue until He is taken out of the way as a restrainer at the return of Christ. i) The Antichrist.

j) Paul had an unhappy experience in Thessalonica with men of this kind, Acts 17:5-9.

k) Divine love fostered in our hearts.

l) It appears that there were some people so sure that the Lord would return at any moment that they ceased from working for a living. m) Cf. Matt. 28:20.

n) As a safeguard against false messages allegedly from him, cf. ch. 2:2. Paul signed this letter by hand.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TIMOTHY

Date of writing: c. A.D. 64

1 PAUL, AN APOSTLE OF CHRIST Jesus by order of God our Savior and Christ Jesus our hope, ²to Timothy,^a my genuine child in faith: Grace, mercy and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

³As I requested of you when on my way to Macedonia, stay in Ephesus so that you may warn certain people not to teach any other doctrine, ⁴neither to pay attention to legends and interminable genealogies such as cause disputes rather than divine training that is in faith. ⁵The purpose of our instruction, however, is love that rises out of a pure heart, a clear conscience, and undisguised faith. ⁶Swerving from this, some have strayed into empty talk, ⁷wanting to be teachers of the Law without understanding what they say or about what they are making their confident assertions.

⁸But we know that the Law is admirable if one makes lawful use of it, ⁹keeping in mind that a law is not laid down for an honest person but for the lawless and the rebellious, for the ungodly and sinful, for the impious and profane, for those who kill their fathers or mothers, for murderers, ¹⁰for immoral people, for sexual perverts, kidnapers, liars, perjurers and whatever else is contrary to wholesome teaching ¹¹according to the glorious good news of the blessed God, with which I have been entrusted.

¹²I am grateful to Christ Jesus our Lord, who strengthened me; for He considered me to be faithful and appointed me for service—¹³me, although I was formerly a slanderer, a persecutor and an insulter. But I found mercy, for in unbelief I acted ignorantly^b; ¹⁴and the grace of our Lord was present in greater abundance with faith and love that rest in Christ Jesus.

¹⁵Trustworthy is the saying and deserving of wholehearted acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am foremost. ¹⁶But I found mercy, so that in me, the foremost of sinners, Jesus Christ might display His unlimited patience, that I might be an example to all who would put their trust in Him for life eternal. ¹⁷Now to the King of the ages, immortal, invisible, the only God, be honor and glory forever and ever. Amen.

¹⁸I charge you with these instructions, Timothy my son, in agreement with the prophecies that were made long ago concerning you, that you may with their aid fight the good fight, ¹⁹holding faith and a clear conscience. By rejecting their conscience some have shipwrecked their faith; ²⁰for instance, Hymenaeus^c and Alexander,^d whom I

a) Timothy (called also Timotheus) was a native of Lystra in Lycaonia, a part of modern Turkey. His father was a Greek, his mother a Jewess, Acts 16:1. A convert of Paul, vs. 2, Timothy was very close to the apostle and was his companion on Paul's second and third missionary journeys. That the two were often together in Rome is evidenced by their names being linked in Paul's prison epistles, Phil. 1:1; Col. 1:1; Philem. 1. At the time that I Timothy was written Timothy was in Ephesus, ch. 1:3, overseeing the church there. Paul's last letter, II Timothy, which was written shortly before his martyrdom in A.D. 67, was addressed to this young man.

b) With faith came mercy; there had been no purposed opposition to the Holy Spirit.

c) II Tim. 2:17. d) Perhaps this man was the metalworker of II Tim. 4:14.

have surrendered to Satan, so that they may learn not to blaspheme.

2 FIRST OF ALL, THEN, I URGE THAT petitions, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgivings be made for all people, ²for kings and all who hold high positions, that with all reverence and dignity we may lead a quiet and undisturbed life. ³This is good and acceptable before God our Savior, ⁴who wants all persons to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth. ⁵For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus, ⁶who gave Himself a ransom for all, which was attested in due time. ⁷For this I was appointed a preacher and an apostle—I am telling the truth; I am not lying—a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and in truth.

⁸So it is my desire that the men everywhere should pray, as without anger and disputing they lift up dedicated hands.^e ⁹In a similar spirit the women should dress themselves modestly and prudently in attire that is becoming, not adorned with braided hair and gold or pearls or expensive clothes ¹⁰but with good works, as is appropriate for women who profess reverence for God.

¹¹Let a woman learn quietly with complete submission. ¹²I do not allow a woman to teach, neither to domineer over a man; instead, she is to keep still. ¹³For Adam was first formed, then Eve. ¹⁴And Adam was not deceived, but the woman, since she was deceived, experienced the transgression. ¹⁵She will, however, be kept safe through the child-bearing, if with self-control she continues in faith and love and consecration.

3 TRUSTWORTHY IS THE SAYING, "Whoever aspires to the office of bishop^f desires to do a splendid work." ²The bishop, then, must be above reproach, the husband of only one wife, temperate, discreet, well-behaved, hospitable, qualified to teach; ³neither a drunkard nor a bully, but genial, conciliatory, not after money; ⁴presiding well over his own home, keeping his children under control with complete respect, ⁵for if a person does not know enough to manage his own home, how will he take care of God's church? ⁶He should not be a new convert, so that he may not become conceited and fall into the condemnation of the devil.^g ⁷He must also enjoy a favorable reputation among the outsiders, so that he may not fall into disgrace and into the trap of the devil.

⁸Similarly deacons^h should be dignified, not gossips, not addicted to much wine, not greedy for gain, ⁹but with a pure conscience keeping hold of the secretⁱ of the faith. ¹⁰They should first be put on probation and then, if they are without blame, they may serve as deacons.

¹¹Their wives should also be serious-minded, not given to slandering, but temperate and altogether trustworthy. ¹²A deacon should be the husband of one wife only, managing his children and his own household well. ¹³Because those who have rendered helpful service gain a good standing for themselves and much confidence in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

¹⁴I am writing you this in the hope of shortly coming to you so that, ¹⁵in case I am delayed, you may know how we should behave in God's household, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and bulwark of the truth. ¹⁶And, confessedly, the secret of our faith is great:

He who was revealed in the flesh was vindicated by the Spirit, seen by angels, preached among Gentiles, believed on in the world, taken up in glory.^j

e) Jews often lifted up their hands while praying.

f) "Bishop" is translated from the Gk. episkopos, meaning literally overseer. In the first century episkopos, bishop or overseer, and presbuteros, elder, ch. 5:17, 19, were used interchangeably, e.g. Titus 1:5 and 7, where both words refer to the same office. After the first century the office of bishop or overseer over that of elder developed.

g) It was pride that caused Satan's fall, Isa. 14:12-17.

h) "Deacon" is translated from the Gk. diakonos, meaning servant, helper, and in later years deacon, as referring to a church officer. The seven men who were chosen to help the apostles by being of service to believers in Jerusalem, Acts 6:1-6, were the first appointed deacons. The noun "ministration," Acts 6:1, is diakonia, and the verb "serve," vs. 2, is diakonein.

i) See note at Rom. 16:25. j) These lines are probably a part of an early Christian hymn.

4 BUT THE SPIRIT SAYS DISTINCTLY that in later times some will fall away from the faith; they will yield to deluding spirits and demonic teachings ²by hypocritical liars, whose own consciences are seared as with a branding iron. ³They prohibit marriage and the enjoyment of foods which God has created to be partaken of with thanksgiving by those who believe and know the truth. ⁴For everything which God created is good and nothing to be rejected when it is gratefully received, ⁵for it is consecrated through the word of God and prayer.

⁶If you will present these matters to the brothers, you will be a good minister of Christ Jesus, being reared on the messages of faith and of the noble teachings to which you have been conforming your life. ⁷But shun unholy legends that are suitable for old women only. Train yourself for godliness, ⁸because while physical training is of a little benefit, godliness is beneficial in every way; it holds promise for this present and for the future life. ⁹This is a trustworthy saying, deserving the acceptance of all. ¹⁰For this purpose we labor and wrestle, because we have placed our hope in the living God who is the Savior of all people, particularly of those who believe.

¹¹Command and teach these things. ¹²Let no one think little of you because of your youth; instead, become in speech, in behavior, in love, in faith, in purity, an example before those who believe. ¹³Till I arrive, devote yourself to the public reading, the preaching and the teaching. ¹⁴Do not neglect the gift in you that was given to you through a prophetic utterance with the laying on of hands by the elders. ¹⁵Practice these matters, devote yourself so that your advance may be evident to everyone. ¹⁶Look to yourself and to the teaching; keep right on in that, for in so doing, you will save yourself as well as your hearers.

5 DO NOT REBUKE AN OLDER MAN but plead with him as a father, and younger men as brothers, ²older women as mothers, and the younger women as sisters, with absolute purity.

³Honor widows who really are widows. ⁴But if any widow has children or grandchildren, let them first learn to practice religion at home and so to make recompense to those who nurtured them; for so it is acceptable in God's sight.

⁵The real widow who is left alone has put her hope in God and is steadfast in her petitions and prayers night and day; ⁶while one who lives in self-indulgence is dead while she lives.¹

⁷Command these things so that they may live above reproach. ⁸Whoever does not provide for his dependents, and especially for his own family, has denied the faith and is worse than an unbeliever.

⁹Do not enroll^m a widow unless she is over sixty years of age, who was the wife of one husband, ¹⁰one who has a reputation for good works and has reared children, has practiced hospitality, has washed the feet of the saints,ⁿ has relieved the afflicted, and has been devoted to all kinds of good works.

¹¹But refuse to enroll younger widows, for when they feel sensuous impulses that alienate them from Christ, they want to marry, ¹²and become guilty of breaking their first promise to Him. ¹³Moreover, they acquire habits of idleness as they go around visiting the homes, and not merely are they idle but they are gossips and busybodies, saying things they should not.

¹⁴So I would have younger widows marry again, bear children, manage their home, and afford the opponent no opportunity whatever for reviling. ¹⁵For even now some of them have gone astray after Satan. ¹⁶If any believing woman has widowed relatives, let her take care of them so that the church may not be burdened and may look after those who are really widows.

¹⁷The elders who govern well are worthy of double honor, particularly those who labor in preaching and teaching; ¹⁸for the Scripture says,^o

k) Gk. presbyterion, from which the English word "presbytery" is derived. See note at ch. 3:1.
l) This is like the eternal existence of the unsaved. The kind of person described here is dead spiritually and in ruin but continues to exist. m) For some such office as deaconess.
n) See note at Acts 9:13. o) Deut. 25:4.

"Do not muzzle the ox while he is threshing," and,^p "The worker deserves his wage."

¹⁹Do not recognize a charge against an elder unless it is supported by two or three witnesses.^q ²⁰In the presence of all, correct those who continue in sin, so that the rest may be awed.

²¹I charge you in the presence of God and of Christ Jesus and the elect angels,^r that you observe these commands without discrimination, that you act with no favoritism. ²²Lay hands of ordination on no one hastily; neither make common cause with the sins of others. Keep yourself pure.

²³Do not any longer drink water only, but use a little wine for the good of your stomach and your recurring illness.

²⁴The sins of some people are soon in evidence; they lead on to judgment. But in the case of others they dog their steps. ²⁵Equally so are good works readily observed; while those which are otherwise cannot remain hidden.

6 LET THOSE WHO ARE UNDER THE yoke of slavery^p regard their masters as deserving of all respect, so that the name of God and our teaching may not be reviled. ²But those who have believing masters must honor them no less because they are brothers; instead, they should serve them better because those who benefit by their service are believers and are loved.

³Teach and urge these matters. Whoever teaches differently and does not adhere to the wholesome sayings of our Lord Jesus Christ and to the teaching that is according to our faith, ⁴is conceited and without understanding, with a morbid craving for controversy and dispute about words, which result in envy, wrangling, slander, bad suspicions, ⁵perpetual contention between people of depraved minds and defrauded of the truth, who think of piety in terms of profit.

⁶Piety with contentment is great gain indeed; ⁷for we brought nothing into the world and, obviously, we can carry nothing out. ⁸When we have food and clothing, we shall be content with these. ⁹Those who are eager to be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into numerous thoughtless and hurtful cravings that plunge people into destruction and ruin. ¹⁰For the love of money is the root of all evils.^r In striving for it, some have wandered away from the faith and have pierced themselves with many sorrows.

¹¹But you, O man of God, shun these things and go after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, gentleness. ¹²Fight the good fight of faith; take hold of the eternal life to which you were called as you made a good confession in the presence of many witnesses.

¹³In the presence of God, who gives life to all things, and of Christ Jesus, who witnessed the good confession before Pontius Pilate,^u ¹⁴I charge you to keep the commandment^v stainless and irreproachable until the appearance of our Lord Jesus Christ, ¹⁵which in due time He will make known, the blessed and only Sovereign, the King of kings and Lord of lords, ¹⁶who alone possesses immortality, dwelling in unapproachable light, whom no human being has ever seen or is able to see. To Him be honor and dominion forever. Amen.

¹⁷Command those who are rich in this present world not to be haughty, neither to put their hope in the uncertainty of wealth but in God, who so richly provides us with everything for our enjoyment. ¹⁸Urge them to do good, to be rich in good works, to be generous givers, to practice sharing, ¹⁹and to treasure up for themselves a sound foundation for the future, so that they may take hold of the life that is really life.

²⁰O Timothy, guard what has been entrusted to you. Keep away from ir-p.) Luke 10:7. q) Deut. 19:15; Matt. 18:16.

r) New Testament writers follow our Lord in the assurance that angels are all around us.

s) This applies to all who are employed and the relationships between them and their employers. See note at Matt. 13:27.

t) The love of money fosters such things as selfishness, pride, cruelty, and separation from fellow men and from God. u) John 18:33-38. v) Concerning Christian behavior.

religious and empty discussions and contradictions of what is falsely called knowledge, ²¹which some people have claimed to have, and so have missed the mark with regard to the faith.

Grace be with you all.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL TO

TIMOTHY

Date of writing: c. A.D. 67, at Rome

1 PAUL, AN APOSTLE OF CHRIST Jesus by the will of God in accordance with the promise of the life that is in Christ Jesus, ²to Timothy^a my beloved child: Grace, mercy and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

³I am grateful to God whom, in line with my ancestors, I worship with a clear conscience as constantly I remember you night and day in my prayers. ⁴When I remember the tears you shed, I yearn to see you, so that I might be perfectly happy. ⁵I bring back to mind your sincere faith that lived first in your grandmother Lois and in your mother Eunice and, I am convinced, in you as well.

⁶On account of this I would remind you to keep alive the flame of God's gracious gift^b that is in you through the laying on of my hands. ⁷For God has not given us a spirit of cowardice, but of power and love and self-control. ⁸Do not be ashamed, therefore, about bearing witness to our Lord or about me His prisoner, but share my suffering for the good news by virtue of the power of God, ⁹who has saved us and called us with a call for dedication, not because of any doings of ours but according to His own purpose and the grace that has been granted us in Christ Jesus before time began. ¹⁰But now it has been realized through the appearance of our Savior Christ Jesus, who rendered death ineffectual and brought life and immortality to light through the good news, ¹¹for which I am appointed a preacher and an apostle and a teacher.

¹²Therefore I suffer in this way; but I am not ashamed, for I know whom I have believed^c and am convinced that He is able to guard safely my deposit, entrusted to Him against that Day.

¹³Hold to the pattern of wholesome teachings which you heard from me, in faith and love in Christ Jesus. ¹⁴Guard, by the help of the indwelling Holy Spirit within us, that precious deposit^d that was entrusted to you.

¹⁵Of this you are aware, that all those in the province of Asia have deserted me—Phygelus and Hermogenes^e among them. ¹⁶May the Lord grant favor to the family of Onesiphorus^f for he often refreshed me and was not ashamed of my being a prisoner. ¹⁷Instead, on arriving in Rome, he eagerly searched for and found me. ¹⁸The Lord grant him to find mercy with the Lord on that Day. And what services he rendered in Ephesus you know very well.

2 SO YOU, MY SON, BE STRONG BY means of the grace that is in Christ Jesus. ²And what you have heard from me through many witnesses, this commit to reliable men who will be able to teach others as well.

a) See note at I Tim. 1:2.

b) God-given qualities remain alive only when they are used. Cf. I Tim. 4:14.

c) Not intellectual knowledge but personal trust. d) The truth of God's saving grace.

e) Many of Paul's acquaintances forsook him because of his imprisonment, cf. ch. 4:10, 16, but that he names these two men, and Demas also, makes it appear that their desertion was particularly distressing to him. f) Ch. 4:19.

³As a good soldier of Christ Jesus share my hardship. ⁴No soldier gets involved in affairs of everyday life, so that he may please the one who enlisted him. ⁵Again, whoever competes in a game does not win the award unless he competes according to the rules. ⁶The toiling farmer must have first share of the produce.

⁷Consider what I say, for the Lord will grant you understanding in everything. ⁸Keep in mind Jesus Christ, risen from the dead, descended from David according to the good news that I preach, ⁹in which I suffer punishment like a criminal even to shackles; but the word of God is not shackled. ¹⁰I endure all this for the sake of the elect, so that they also may gain possession of the salvation which is in Christ Jesus, together with eternal glory.

¹¹This is a trustworthy saying:

If we have died together with Him, we shall also live together with Him.

¹²If we endure, then we shall also reign with Him.

If we deny Him, then He Himself will also deny us.

¹³If we are unfaithful to Him, He Himself will remain faithful, for He cannot deny Himself.^g ¹⁴Remind them^h of these facts and charge them in the presence of God to indulge in no wars of words; it helps no one and it completely upsets the listeners. ¹⁵Do your utmost to present yourself to God approved, a workman who has no cause to be ashamed, correctly interpreting the message of the truth. ¹⁶But keep away from those godless, empty discussions, for they lead people further on into godlessness, ¹⁷and theirⁱ teaching spreads like gangrene. Hymenaeus^j and Philetus are of that group ¹⁸that has gone astray from the truth when they say that the resurrection has already occurred, and are playing havoc with the faith of some.

¹⁹God's foundation, nevertheless, stands firm^k bearing this inscription,^l "The Lord knows those who are His," and "Let everyone who names the Lord's name stand aloof from wickedness."

²⁰But in a large house there are not only gold and silver utensils, but wooden and earthen too, and some are indeed for noble but others for ignoble use. ²¹Therefore, whoever will cleanse himself from these things will be a utensil for noble use, set apart and useful for the Master, prepared for good service of every sort.

²²But flee from the lusts of youth. Go in pursuit of integrity, faith, love, peace, in fellowship with those who call upon the Lord out of pure hearts. ²³Decline those foolish, stupid speculations, as you know they breed quarrels. ²⁴And a slave^m of the Lord must not quarrel; instead, he must be affable toward everyone, skilled in teaching, willing to suffer wrong. ²⁵In a gentle way he must correct those who put themselves in opposition to him, in the hope that God may grant repentance that leads to acknowledgment of the truth, ²⁶and that they may come to their senses and escape from the snare of the devil under whom they had been taken captive, to do his will.

3 BUT UNDERSTAND THIS, THAT IN the last daysⁿ difficult times will come. ²For people will be lovers of themselves, avaricious, boasters, haughty, abusive, disobedient to parents, ungrateful, irreverent, ³without natural affection, relentless, slanderers, uncontrolled, brutal, with no love for the good, ⁴treacherous, rash, conceited, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God. ⁵While retaining a form of piety, they are strangers to its power. Turn away from such people.

⁶For from such people are those who worm their way into houses and captivate idle women loaded down with sins and controlled by all sorts of

g) Like I Tim. 3:16, vss. 11-13 probably constitute part of an early Christian hymn.

h) "Them" refers to believers, probably in Ephesus, cf. I Tim. 1:3.

i) "Their" points to those mentioned in vss. 17, 18. j) I Tim. 1:20. k) I Cor. 3:11.

l) Num. 16:5, 26; John 10:14, 27. m) See note at Matt. 13:27.

n) The days between Christ's ascension and His return.

impulses, ⁷ forever trying to learn and never able to reach a knowledge of the truth.

⁸ Just as Jannes and Jambres^o opposed Moses, so do these men oppose the truth, corrupt thinkers as they are and counterfeits so far as faith is concerned. ⁹ However, they will not get very far, for their folly will be obvious to everyone, as was the case with those mentioned above.

¹⁰ But you have adhered to my teaching, my conduct, my purpose, my faith, my steadfastness, my love, my patience, ¹¹ my persecutions, my sufferings—all that happened to me in Antioch, in Iconium and in Lystra, such persecutions as I underwent and from all of which the Lord rescued me. ¹² In fact, all who want to live devotedly in Christ Jesus will be persecuted. ¹³ But wicked men and impostors will go on from bad to worse, deceiving and being deceived.

¹⁴ You, however, must remain faithful in what you have learned and are convinced of, aware from whom you learned, ¹⁵ and how from childhood you have known the sacred Scriptures that are able to make you wise for salvation through faith in Christ Jesus. ¹⁶ All Scripture is inspired by God^p and is profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for training in righteousness, ¹⁷ so that the man of God may be well-fitted and adequately equipped for all good work.

4 I CHARGE YOU IN THE PRESENCE of God and of Christ Jesus, who is to judge the living and the dead, by His appearing and His kingdom: ² Preach the message; be at it when convenient and when not convenient; correct, exhort, rebuke with complete patience and teaching.

³ For the time is coming when they will not tolerate wholesome instruction; instead they will, to satisfy their own desires, gather up teachers that will tickle their ears. ⁴ They will turn away from listening to the truth and will wander off to hear myths. ⁵ But amid it all, keep your head, endure hardship, do the work of an evangelist, discharge to the full your duties as a minister.

⁶ For I am already being poured out as a drink offering and the time of my death has come. ⁷ I have fought the good fight; I have finished the race; I have kept the faith. ⁸ Beyond that there is laid away for me the crown^q of righteousness which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will award me in that Day, and not to me alone, but to all who have loved His appearing.

⁹ Do your best to visit me soon, ¹⁰ for Demas^r has deserted me for love of the present world and has gone to Thessalonica; Crescens has gone to Galatia; Titus^s to Dalmatia. ¹¹ Luke^t alone is with me. Get hold of Mark^u and bring him along, for he is helpful to me in service. ¹² I have sent Tychicus^v to Ephesus.

¹³ When you come, bring along the travel-cloak I left at Troas with Carpus; also the books, and especially the parchments.

¹⁴ Alexander,^w the metalworker, has displayed considerable ill will toward me. The Lord will pay him back to the measure of his doings. ¹⁵ You, too, beware of him, for he strongly opposed our messages.

¹⁶ In my first defense no one supported me; instead, they all deserted me. May it not be counted against them! ¹⁷ But the Lord stood by me and strengthened me, so that through me the message might be fully proclaimed and all the Gentiles might hear it. And I was rescued from the lion's jaws. ¹⁸ Indeed, the Lord will rescue me from every evil act and will save me for His heavenly kingdom. To Him be glory forever and ever. Amen.

o) These two men were the leaders of the Egyptian magicians of Exod. 7. Their names are not given in the O.T. but are found in Jewish tradition.

p) The Gk. word theopneustos, translated "inspired by God," literally means God-breathed.

q) See note at Phil. 4:1.

r) Earlier Demas has been with Paul in Rome, Col. 4:14; Philem. 24.

s) See note at Titus 1:4.

t) Luke, the physician, author of the Third Gospel and The Acts. See note at Col. 4:14.

u) John Mark, author of the Second Gospel. See note at Col. 4:10.

v) See note at Col. 4:7.

w) 1 Tim. 1:20; cf. Acts 19:33, 34.

¹⁹My greetings to Priscilla and Aquila^x and to the Onesiphorus family.^y ²⁰Erastus stayed at Corinth. I left Trophimus^z behind in Miletus; he was ill.

²¹Do your best to arrive before winter.

Eubulus, Pudens, Linus, Claudia and all the brothers, send you greetings.

²²The Lord be with your spirit. Grace be with you all.

x) Acts 18:2. y) Ch. 1:16. z) Acts 20:4

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TITUS

Date of writing: c. A.D. 65

1 PAUL, A SLAVE^a OF GOD, AND AN apostle of Jesus Christ, to foster the faith of God's elect and their knowledge of the truth which is according to godliness, ²based on the hope of eternal life which God, who does not lie, promised before time began ³and has at the proper time revealed as His message through the preaching entrusted to me by order of God our Savior, ⁴to Titus,^b my true child in our common faith: Grace and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Savior.

⁵I left you in Crete for this reason, that you might correct the defects and appoint elders^c in each town, as I gave you directions, ⁶if a person is above reproach, the husband of one wife only, has believing children who are not charged with being profligate or unruly. ⁷For the bishop must, as God's steward, be irreproachable, not self-willed or hot-tempered, or a drunkard, or pugnacious, or greedy for dishonest gain.

⁸Instead, he must be hospitable, in love with what is good, self-controlled, fair, of holy life, disciplined. ⁹He must hold to the trustworthy message of the doctrine, so he may be able to encourage by his wholesome teaching, as well as to refute those who raise objections.

¹⁰For many are refractory, senseless talkers and deceivers, particularly among those of the circumcision.^d

¹¹These must be silenced because they upset whole families by teaching for dishonest gain what they should not teach. ¹²A prophet from their own people said^e of them, "Cretans are always liars, wicked brutes, lazy gluttons."

¹³This testimony is true. For this reason correct them sternly, that they may be sound in the faith ¹⁴instead of paying attention to Jewish fables and to commandments of people who turn their backs on the truth. ¹⁵To the pure everything is pure, but to the contaminated and the unbelieving nothing is pure; but even their mind and their conscience are polluted. ¹⁶They profess to know God but by their practices deny Him. They are detestable and disobedient and unfit for any good deed.

2 BUT YOU MUST SPEAK WHAT IS fitting for wholesome doctrine: ²that the older men be temperate, ven-

a) See note at Matt. 13:27.

b) Although Titus is not mentioned in The Acts, he accompanied Paul on some of the apostle's missionary journeys, Gal. 2:3. He was a Gentile, a Greek, and may have been brought to faith in Christ by Paul, who speaks of him here as "my true child in our common faith," vs. 4. Titus was Paul's emissary to the difficult church at Corinth, II Cor. 2:13; 7:6, 16; 12:18, and was also sent by the apostle to Dalmatia, now part of Yugoslavia, II Tim. 4:10. As is shown in ch. 1:5, Titus was on the island of Crete to supervise the work of the churches there.

c) Regarding "elders," Gk. presbuteros, here and "bishop," Gk. episkopos, vs. 7, see note at I Tim. 3:1.

d) The Epistle to the Galatians has much to say about those who insisted that Gentile Christians should be circumcised and abide by Mosaic regulations. There were some in Crete who were troubling new converts to Christianity in the same way.

e) The statement is from the Cretan poet Epimenides, sixth century B.C.

erable, sensible, sound in faith, in love, and in patience; ³similarly that the older women be reverent in their behavior, neither slanderers nor slaves to drink. They should be teachers of what is good, ⁴that they may wisely train the young women to be loving wives and mothers, ⁵sensible, chaste, good housekeepers, good-natured, submissive to their own husbands, so that the word of God may not be slandered.

⁶Urge the younger men as well to behave prudently, ⁷and set in your own person an all-round example of doing what is good, manifesting in your teaching integrity and seriousness, ⁸giving a wholesome, unobjectionable message that will shame the opponent because he has nothing evil to say about us.

⁹Tell slaves to be submissive to their own masters, ¹to please them in every way, not to talk back, ¹⁰not to pilfer but to give evidence of such complete reliability that altogether they will beautify the teaching of God our Savior.

¹¹For the saving grace of God has appeared for all people, ¹²training us to renounce godlessness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright, and godly lives in this present world, ¹³with expectation of that blessed hope, even the glorious appearance of our great God and Savior Jesus Christ, ¹⁴who gave Himself for us to redeem us from all iniquity, and to purify for Himself a people all His own who are eager to do good works.

¹⁵Assert these things and exhort and reprove with full authority. Allow no one to think little of you.

3 REMIND THEM TO BE SUBJECT TO the ruling authorities, to be obedient, to be prepared for every good work, ²not to slander anyone, not to be quarrelsome but gentle, showing complete mildness toward all people. ³For once we ourselves were thoughtless, disobedient, led astray, slaves to passions and pleasures of all sorts, wasting our time in malice and envy, detestable, and hating one another.

⁴But when the goodness of God our Savior was shown and His love of men was evidenced, ⁵not because of righteous works that we have done but in agreement with His mercy, He saved us through the washing of regeneration and a renewing by the Holy Spirit, ⁶whom He has poured out richly on us through Jesus Christ our Savior, ⁷so that, counted as righteous by His grace, we might be made heirs in accordance with our hope of eternal life.

⁸This is a trustworthy saying, and I would have you insist on these things with confidence, so that those who have become believers in God may be careful to apply themselves to good works, which are excellent and beneficial for all people.

⁹But avoid foolish controversies, genealogies, strife, and wranglings about the Law, for they are futile and purposeless. ¹⁰Have nothing to do with a factious person after a first and second warning, ¹¹aware that such a person is perverted and goes on sinning, and is self-condemned.

¹²When I send Artemas or Tychicus, ¹³then do your utmost to visit me at Nicopolis, ¹⁴for there I have decided to stay for the winter. ¹⁵Equip Zenas the lawyer and Apollos ¹⁶carefully for their journey, so that they may lack nothing. ¹⁷And have our own people learn to apply themselves to honorable work to meet the urgent needs, that they may not be unproductive.

¹⁸All those with me send you greetings. Greet those who love us in faith.

¹⁹May grace be with you all.

f) See note at I Tim. 6:1. g) See note at Col. 4:7.

h) Nicopolis was on the west coast of Macedonia (Greece) almost directly across the Adriatic Sea from Rhegium in Italy. One of the reasons why Paul is thought to have had two imprisonments in Rome, with an interval between them, is his possible presence in Nicopolis when this letter to Titus was written, c. A.D. 65. For he was taken to Rome as a prisoner in about A.D. 60 and was martyred there in the year 67. i) Acts 18:24.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO PHILEMON

Date of writing: c. A.D. 60, at Rome

PPAUL, A PRISONER OF CHRIST JESUS, and our brother Timothy,^a to Philemon, our beloved fellow worker, ²and to our sister Apphia^b and to our fellow soldier Archippus,^c and to the church that meets at your home: ³Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

⁴I always offer thanks to my God when I mention you in my prayers, ⁵for I hear of the love and the faith you practice toward the Lord Jesus and to all the saints.^d ⁶I pray that by an understanding of all the good you enjoy among yourselves, the sharing of your faith may become effectual for Christ. ⁷For I have enjoyed much pleasure and comfort over your love, because through you, brother, the hearts of the saints have been refreshed.

⁸Therefore, although in Christ I feel very free to give you directions as to your duty, ⁹I prefer to make my appeal on the basis of love. Here I am, then, as Paul the old man,^e yet now a prisoner of Christ Jesus, ¹⁰appealing to you on behalf of my son, Onesimus, who became my son during my imprisonment.^f ¹¹Once he was useless to you, but now he is helpful both to you and to me.

¹²I am sending him back to you and my heart with him. ¹³I should like to retain him for myself, so that he might serve me instead of you during my imprisonment for the sake of the good news; ¹⁴but I do not wish to do anything without your consent, so that your kind action may not be compulsory but voluntary. ¹⁵For he was parted from you for a while perhaps for this very reason, that you might have him back forever, ¹⁶no longer as a slave,^g but better than a slave, a beloved brother, unquestionably to me but how much more so to you both personally and in the Lord.

¹⁷So, if I am your partner, then receive him as you would me. ¹⁸And if he wronged you in any way, or is in debt to you, put it down to my account. ¹⁹I, Paul, am writing with my own hand,^h I will refund it—not to mention that, over and above, you owe me your very self. ²⁰Yes, brother, I should like to make some profit out of you in the Lord; buoy up my deepest feelings in Christ.

²¹I am writing you, confident that

a) See note at I Tim. 1:2. b) Apphia was Philemon's wife.

c) Archippus was probably Philemon's son. Paul, in writing his letter to Colossae, exhorted Archippus to be faithful in his service for the Lord, Col. 4:17. d) See note at Acts 9:13.

e) "Old man." Ck. presbutes. The addition of an "e" would make it read presbutes, meaning ambassador. Some scholars think that the original text may have been written in this way. Cf. II Cor. 5:20; Eph. 6:20.

f) "Onesimus." Ck. Onesimos, means useful. Onesimus was a runaway slave who had probably robbed Philemon. Evidently he met Paul in Rome and was converted. This letter was written to persuade his master, Philemon, who lived in Colossae, to receive and forgive the runaway slave. Notice the play on words in vs. 10, 11. Once "Useful," he had become useless to Philemon; now he was useful to Philemon and Paul. g) See note at Matt. 13:27.

h) Here Paul signed, as it were, a promissory note to pay back to Philemon the debt Onesimus owed him. So Christ through His sacrifice of Himself paid the debt we owe to God because of our sins.

you will listen to me, and knowing you will do more than I request.
²²Meanwhile, you may prepare a guest room for me, for I hope through your prayers to be restored to you.

²³Epaphras,^l my fellow prisoner in Christ Jesus, sends you greetings. ²⁴So do Mark,^j Aristarchus,^k Demas,^l and Luke,^m my fellow workers.

²⁵The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit.

i) See note at Col. 1:7.

j) See note at Col. 4:10.

k) Aristarchus, a Macedonian, was one of Paul's travel companions, Acts 19:29.

l) At the time this letter was written Demas was quite close to Paul as a fellow worker in the service of Christ. But he was unable to endure the afflictions connected with the ministry and left the apostle, while the latter was in prison, to go to Thessalonica. "For Demas has deserted me for love of the present world," II Tim. 4:10. m) See note at Col. 4:14.

THE EPISTLE TO THE HEBREWS

Date of writing: c. A.D. 68

1 GOD OF OLD SPOKE^a TO OUR FATHERS at various times and in many ways by means of the prophets. ²But He has at the end of these days^b spoken to us in His Son, whom He has appointed Heir of all things and through whom He made the world. ³As the reflection of God's glory and the true expression of His being He sustains the universe by His almighty word. And when He had effected our cleansing from sin, He took His seat at the right hand of the Majesty on high.

⁴He became as much greater than the angels as the name He inherited was superior to theirs. ⁵For to which of the angels did God ever say, ^c"Thou art My Son; today I have begotten Thee"? And again, ^d"I will be a Father to Him and He will be a Son to Me"? ⁶Once more, when He introduces the First-born into the world, He says, ^e"And let all God's angels worship Him." ⁷Referring to the angels He says, ^f"Who makes His angels winds and His ministers flames of fire"; ⁸but as to the Son, ^g"Thy throne, O God, is forever and ever, and the scepter of Thy kingdom is a scepter of righteousness. ⁹Thou hast loved righteousness and hast hated injustice; therefore God, Thy God, has anointed Thee with the oil of gladness rather than Thy companions."

¹⁰Further^h "Thou, Lord, didst found the earth at the beginning and the heavens are the works of Thy hands. ¹¹They will perish, but Thou remainest. They will all wear out like a garment, ¹²and like a mantle Thou wilt fold them up and they will be changed; but Thou art the same and Thy years will not come to an end."

¹³Besides, to which of the angels did He ever say, ⁱ"Be seated at My right hand until I put down your enemies as a footstool for your feet"? ¹⁴Are they not all ministering spirits, sent for the assistance of those who are to inherit salvation?

2 WE MUST THEREFORE PAY THE more careful attention to what we have heard, so that we may not let ourselves drift from it. ^jFor if the message that was spoken through angels^k has held true, and every transgression and disobedience received its just retribution, ³how shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation? It was first spoken by the Lord; it was confirmed to us by those who heard Him; ⁴then it was corroborated by God with signs and wonders and a great variety of miraculous powers and gifts of the Holy Spirit, distributed according to His will.

⁵For He did not subject the future world of which we are talking under the control of angels, ⁶but one has somewhere testified, ¹"What is man that Thou art mindful of him, or the son of man that Thou lookest after

a) The name of the author of this epistle is nowhere stated in the N.T. It was evidently written prior to the destruction of the temple in Jerusalem, ch. 10:11. b) Since the Messiah came. c) Ps. 2:7. d) II Sam. 7:14. e) Deut. 32:43, Septuagint. f) Ps. 104:4. g) Ps. 45:6, 7. h) Ps. 102:25-27. i) Ps. 110:1. j) On a tide of unbelief. k) Acts 7:53; Gal. 3:19. l) Ps. 8:4-c him? ⁷For a little while Thou hast ranked him lower than the angels; with glory and honor hast Thou crowned him; ⁸all things hast Thou subjected underneath his feet."

In thus subjecting all things to him, nothing is left out that is not subjected; but at present we do not yet see all things subjected to him. ⁹But we see Jesus, ranked lower than the angels for a little while, crowned with glory and honor because of the sufferings of death, in order that by divine grace He might taste death for everyone. ¹⁰For it befitted Him, for whom and through whom the universe exists, in bringing many sons to glory, to perfect the Leader of their salvation by means of sufferings.

¹¹For the One who makes holy and those who are being made holy all have one Father, for which reason He is not ashamed to call them brothers, ¹²when He says, "I shall proclaim Thy name to My brothers; in the midst of the congregation I shall sing Thy praise," ¹³and again, "I shall put My trust in Him," and once more, "Here am I and the children God has given Me."

¹⁴Since, then, the children share flesh and blood, He Himself shared these things with them, so that by means of His death He might destroy the one who wields the power of death, namely the devil, ¹⁵and set free those who throughout life were held in slavery by fear of death.

¹⁶For it is surely not to the angels that He reaches out to help, but to the offspring of Abraham; ¹⁷so He had to be made like His brothers in every respect in order to become a merciful and faithful High Priest in things related to God, for the atonement of the people's sins. ¹⁸For because He Himself suffered in being tempted, He is able to bring aid to those who are tempted.

3 SO THEN, HOLY BROTHERS AND sharers in the heavenly invitation, set your thoughts on Jesus, the Apostle and High Priest of our confession. ²He was faithful to Him who appointed Him, just as Moses was in the whole household of God. ³For He is entitled to greater honor than Moses to the degree in which the builder of a house enjoys more honor than the house itself. ⁴Of course every house is built by someone, but the Builder of all things is God. ⁵And while Moses was faithful in His whole household as a servant, to bear witness to things that would be spoken of later, ⁶Christ was faithful as a Son in charge of God's household. And we are that household, if we firmly maintain the confidence and pride in what we hope for.

⁷Therefore, as the Holy Spirit says, "Today if you will hear His voice, ⁸do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion at the time when you put God to the test in the wilderness, ⁹where your fathers for forty years tried Me by putting Me to the test and saw what I did. ¹⁰So I became sorely displeased with that generation and said, 'They are always going astray in their hearts; they did not learn My ways.' ¹¹As I swore in My anger, 'They shall not enter into My rest.'"

¹²Look out, brothers, so that there may not be a wicked, unbelieving heart in any of you that would lead you to fall away from the living God. ¹³Instead, give daily warning to one another so long as we may speak of today, ¹⁴so that not one of you may be hardened through the delusion of sin.

¹⁵For only if we maintain firmly to the very end the original assurance, then are we sharers of Christ, ¹⁶with this in mind, "Today, if you hear His voice, do not harden your hearts as in the rebellion."

¹⁷For who heard and yet were rebellious? Was it not all who went out of Egypt under Moses? ¹⁸And with whom was He provoked for forty years? Was it not with those who sinned, whose corpses fell in the desert? ¹⁹And to whom but the disobedient did He swear, "They shall not

m) Ps. 22:22. n) Isa. 8:17, Septuagint. o) Isa. 8:18.

p) All believers, Gal. 3:17; cf. Rom. 4:11, 12. q) Num. 12:7. r) Ps. 95:7-11.

s) The day of grace. t) Of salvation through Christ.

enter into My rest"? ¹⁹So we see that on account of unbelief they were not able to enter.

4 LET US THEN BE ON OUR GUARD so that, while the promise of entering into His rest still holds, none of you may be found to be delinquent, ²for we have had the good news preached to us, just as they did. But the message they heard did not benefit them, because it was not united by faith to those who heard it. ³For we who have believed enter into His rest, as He has said, "As I swore in My anger, they shall not enter into My rest"; although His works had been accomplished from the foundation of the world. ⁴For somewhere He says^u this about the seventh day, "And God rested on the seventh day from all His works," ⁵and again in this passage, "They shall not enter into My rest."

⁶Since, then, it is reserved for some to enter it,^v and those who previously received the good news did not enter because of disobedience, ⁷He fixes a new "today," as He says in David so much later, and as we have mentioned before, "Today, if you will hear His voice, do not harden your hearts."

⁸For if Joshua had given them rest, God would not have spoken of another day later on. ⁹Consequently there is a sabbath rest reserved for the people of God;^w ¹⁰for one who enters into his rest, also rests from his works, just as God did from His.

¹¹Let us then exert ourselves to enter into that rest, so that none may fall on account of such disobedience as they exemplified; ¹²for the word of God is living and effective, and sharper than any two-edged sword. It penetrates even to the dividing line of soul and spirit, of joints and marrow, and judges the desires and thoughts of the heart. ¹³Not a creature exists that is hidden from Him, but all things lie bare and exposed before the eyes of Him with whom we have to reckon.

¹⁴Inasmuch then as we have a great High Priest, Jesus, the Son of God, who has passed through the heavens,^x let us hold firmly to our confession. ¹⁵For ours is not a High Priest who cannot sympathize with our weaknesses, but One who was in every respect tested as we are, yet without committing any sin. ¹⁶Let us then approach the throne of grace with assurance, so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help us in time of need.

5 FOR EVERY HIGH PRIEST, CHOSEN as he is from among men, is appointed to represent the people in matters that pertain to God, to offer gifts and sacrifices for sins. ²And he can deal gently with the ignorant and the wayward, since he is himself liable to weakness. ³For this reason he is obliged to present offerings for his own sins as well as for the people. ⁴No one appropriates the honor for himself, but he is called by God, just as Aaron was.

⁵So, too, Christ did not glorify Himself to become a high priest, but He who said to Him, "Thou art My Son; today I have begotten Thee," ⁶as also He says elsewhere,^y "Thou art a priest forever after the order of Melchizedek."

⁷In the days of His flesh He offered prayers and petitions with strong crying and with tears to Him who could save Him from death, and He was heard because of His humble devotion to God. ⁸Although He was a Son, He learned obedience by what He suffered ⁹and, when He was perfected, He became the Author of eternal salvation for all who obey Him; ¹⁰so He was called by God a High Priest after Melchizedek's order.

¹¹There is much to say about this, and it is difficult to explain, since you have grown hard of hearing; ¹²for whereas by this time you ought to be teachers, you stand again in need of someone to teach you the elementary

u) Gen. 2:2.

v) Of those who came out of Egypt, only Caleb and Joshua, and perhaps some who were infants at that time, entered the land of promise. w) In heaven.

x) Into the immediate presence of God the Father. y) Ps. 110:4.

principles of God's lessons; you have come to need milk and not solid food.¹³Of course, anyone who feeds on milk is inexperienced in the matter of righteousness² for he is an infant.¹⁴But solid food is for the mature person, for those whose faculties have been trained by practice to distinguish between good and evil.

6 LET US LEAVE BEHIND THE ELEMENTARY teachings of Christ and advance toward maturity. Let us not again be laying the foundation of repentance from dead works^a and faith in God,² of teaching on washings and the laying on of hands, of resurrection from the dead and eternal punishment.³God permitting we do this.

⁴For it is impossible to bring anew to repentance those who have once for all been illumined, have tasted the heavenly gift, have become participants of the Holy Spirit,⁵ have tasted the goodness of the word of God and the powers of the world to come,⁶ and have fallen away; for they repeat so far as they are concerned the crucifying of the Son of God and are exposing Him to public disgrace.⁷For the land that drinks the rain that often falls on it, and that grows vegetation useful to those for whom it is tilled, receives a blessing from God,⁸ but if it produces thorns and thistles, it is worthless; it is facing a curse and ends up by being burned.

⁹Even though we speak this way, dear friends, we feel confident of better things about you, things that belong to salvation.¹⁰For God is not unjust so as to forget what you did and the love you showed for His name as you have ministered to the saints,^b and are still ministering.^c¹¹It is our desire, however, for each of you to evidence the same earnestness all the way through, to enjoy the full assurance of your hope to the end,¹² so you may not become sluggish but imitate those who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

¹³For when God made His promise to Abraham, He swore by Himself, since He could swear by none greater,¹⁴ and said,^d "I certainly shall bless you with blessings and multiply you abundantly."¹⁵So it was that after patient waiting he realized what had been promised.

¹⁶Men do indeed swear by one greater than themselves, and an oath serves for settlement beyond all dispute.¹⁷In this way God, in His desire to show the heirs of the promise the unchangeableness of His purpose, guaranteed it with an oath,¹⁸ so that by two unalterable things in which it is impossible for God to lie, we who have taken refuge in Him may have strong encouragement to seize the hope that is placed before us.¹⁹To this hope we anchor the soul safely and securely, and it reaches on beyond the veil into the Holy of Holies, where²⁰ Jesus entered in for us in advance^e for He has become a High Priest forever after the order of Melchizedek.

7 FOR THIS MELCHIZEDEK, KING OF Salem, priest of the Most High God, who met Abraham as he returned from the defeat of the kings and who blessed him,² to whom Abraham also apportioned a tithe of all the spoil,^f was first of all, as the name means, king of righteousness and then king of Salem, which means king of peace.³Without father or mother or ancestral line,⁴ with no beginning of days nor ending of life, made to resemble the Son of God, he remains a priest forever.

⁴Observe his greatness, to whom the patriarch Abraham gave a tithe of the first spoils.⁵Those who are the descendants of Levi, who receive the priestly office, are commanded by the Law to take tithes from the people, which means their own brothers, although they have sprung from Abraham's loins.⁶But a person without their ancestral line took tithes from Abraham and blessed the possessor of the promises.⁷Yet the lesser is unquestionably blessed by the greater.

z) Before God. a) The works of the Law. b) See note at Acts 9:13. c) Cf. ch. 10:32-34.
d) Gen. 22:17. e) A third guarantee. f) Gen. 14:18-20.
g) That is, insofar as priestly lineage is concerned.

⁸Furthermore, in this instance mortal men receive tithes, but in that case it was one of whom it is witnessed that he lives. ⁹And one might say that through Abraham even Levi, who received tithes, paid tithes, ¹⁰for he was still in his forefather's loins when Melchizedek met Abraham.

¹¹Now if perfection had been possible by means of the Levitical priesthood—for on its basis the people received the Law—why was it required to have another priest appointed after the order of Melchizedek instead of choosing one of the Aaronic order?

¹²For when the priesthood is changed, there comes necessarily a change of the Law. ¹³He of whom this was said belonged to a different tribe, no member of which has officiated at the altar; ¹⁴for obviously our Lord sprang from Judah, regarding which tribe Moses never mentioned priests. ¹⁵This is still even plainer when another priest arises who resembles Melchizedek, ¹⁶who has become such, not according to the norm of a law dependent on the physical life but by the power of an indestructible life. ¹⁷For it is witnessed concerning Him, "Thou art a priest forever of the Melchizedek order."^h

¹⁸On the one hand, a previous regulation is set aside because of its ineffectiveness and its uselessness (¹⁹for the Law brought nothing to perfection) and on the other hand, a better hope is introduced through which we draw near to God. ²⁰And it was not without an oath. ²¹For the Levites became priests without an oath, but He with an oath by the One who said to Him, "The Lord has sworn and will not change His mind, Thou art a priest forever." ²²And because of this difference Jesus became surety of a better covenant.

²³And those priestsⁱ were numerous because they were prevented by death from continuing; ²⁴but He, because He remains forever, holds a priesthood that is never transferred. ²⁵Hence, too,

He is able to save to the uttermost those who come to God through Him,^j because He always lives to intercede for them.

²⁶For such a High Priest also suited our need—holy, innocent, spotless, different from sinners and exalted above the heavens. ²⁷He does not, like those high priests, have daily need to offer sacrifices, first for his own sins and then for those of the people, because this He did once for all when He offered Himself as a sacrifice.^k

²⁸For the Law appoints weak human beings to the priesthood, but the word of the oath, that came later than the Law, appoints the forever-perfect Son, who has been made perfect forever.

8 NOW THE MAIN POINT OF WHAT we have been saying is this: we have such a High Priest, who is seated at the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens, ^{2a}as minister in the sanctuary; yes, of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched,^l not man.

³For every high priest is appointed to offer gifts and sacrifices; so this One also must have something to offer.

⁴If, then, He were still on earth, He would not be a priest at all; for here they offer the gifts as prescribed by the Law, ⁵that serve as a copy and shadow the heavenly sanctuary, just as Moses was instructed when he was about to build the tabernacle. "See to it," He said,^m "that you make everything according to the pattern that was shown you on the mountain."

⁶But now He has acquired a ministry as far superior as the covenant He mediates is better, enacted as it is upon more excellent promises. ⁷For if that first covenant had been flawless, no place would have been sought for a second. ⁸But, finding fault with it, He says,ⁿ "The days are coming, says the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah, ⁹not like the covenant I made with their fathers the

h) This spells the end of the Levitical priesthood. i) The successive line of high priests.

j) Cf. John 14:6. k) Christ our High Priest was at the same time the offerer and the victim.

l) Num. 24:6, Septuagint. m) Exod. 25:40.

n) Jer. 31:31-34.

day I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt; because they did not remain faithful to My covenant. So I let them alone, says the Lord.

¹⁰"For this is the covenant which I will make with the house of Israel after those days, the Lord says, I will fix My laws into their minds and will write them on their hearts, and I will be their God and they shall be My people. ¹¹No longer shall each citizen be teaching his neighbor and each person his brother, saying, 'Know the Lord,' because they shall all know Me from the least of them to the greatest of them. ¹²For I will be merciful toward their wrongdoings, and their sins I will no longer remember."

¹³By saying, "new," He has made the first out of date. But what is antiquated and obsolete approaches the vanishing point.

9 TO BE SURE, THE FIRST COVENANT had its worship regulations and its earthly sanctuary; ²for the first tabernacle was furnished in this way: in what is called the Holy Place were the lampstand and the table and the presentation loaves.^o ³Behind the second curtain was the tabernacle called the Holy of Holies, ⁴containing the golden altar of incense^p and the ark of the covenant completely covered with gold; inside it the golden jar of manna, Aaron's rod that sprouted,^q and the tablets of the covenant. ⁵Above it were the cherubim of glory overshadowing the mercy seat, — about which we cannot now go into detail.

⁶With these things so arranged, the priests always enter the first tabernacle to perform their priestly duties, ⁷but into the second the high priest alone enters once a year — not without blood, which he offers for himself and for the thoughtless sins of the people.

⁸Through this the Holy Spirit evidences that the way into the Holiest^r was not yet opened with the first tabernacle still standing. ⁹This is a symbol for the present time. It means that the gifts and offerings which are presented cannot make the worshiper's conscience perfect, ¹⁰as they consist only of food and drink and various ablutions — physical regulations that are in effect until the time of the new order.

¹¹But when Christ appeared as High Priest of the good things that have come, He passed through the greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands — no part, that is, of material creation. ¹²And not with blood of goats and calves, but with His own blood He entered once for all into the Holy Place, procuring eternal redemption. ¹³For if the blood of goats and bulls and the ashes of a heifer, as it sprinkles those who were defiled, renders them holy so far as physical purity is concerned, ¹⁴how much more will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered Himself a flawless sacrifice to God, cleanse your conscience from lifeless work for the service of the living God!

¹⁵For this reason He is the Mediator of a new covenant so that, with a death occurring for atonement of the transgressions under the first covenant, those who have been called may receive the eternal inheritance that was promised. ¹⁶For where there is a testament, the death of the testator needs to be established. ¹⁷A will is effective at death; it is not valid so long as the testator lives.

¹⁸Therefore, the first covenant was not ratified without blood. ¹⁹When Moses had spoken every commandment according to the Law to all the people, he took the blood of calves and goats along with water, scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled it on the Book and on all the people, ²⁰saying,^s "This is the blood of the covenant which God has commanded upon you." ²¹Similarly he sprinkled the ^o) These loaves were dedicated to God and eaten by the priests as His representatives on earth.

^p) In O.T. times the altar of incense was in the Holy Place outside the veil (curtain), Exod. 30:1-6. Here it is included among the furnishings that were within the veil, the Holy of holies. Perhaps the writer of Hebrews was speaking symbolically in relocating the altar inasmuch as Christ, the eternal sacrifice, was now in the presence of God. ^q) Num. 17:1-10.

^r) Of heaven, vs. 12.

^s) Exod. 24:8.

tabernacle and all the service utensils with the blood.^t

²²According to the Law almost everything is purified by blood, and without bloodshedding there is no forgiveness. ²³So it was necessary that the copies of the heavenly things be purified by these sacrifices; but the heavenly things themselves require better sacrifices than these. ²⁴For Christ has not entered into a sanctuary made by hands, a copy of the true one, but into heaven itself, now to appear on our behalf in the presence of God—²⁵not to present Himself repeatedly as an offering, as the high priest enters annually into the sanctuary with blood not his own; ²⁶for if so, He must have suffered repeatedly since the world began. But as it is, He has appeared once for all at the close of the ages to put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself.

²⁷And as it is reserved for men to die once for all with judgment following, ²⁸so will Christ, sacrificed once for all to bear the sins of many, appear the second time, with no reference to sin, to those who are eagerly looking for Him, and that for their salvation.

10 FOR WHILE THE LAW FORE-shadowed the promised blessings without expressing them in reality, it can never make perfect those who continually approach with the same sacrifices year after year. ²Else, would they not have ceased bringing their offerings, since the worshipers, cleansed once for all, would no longer have any consciousness of sin? ³But in those sacrifices there is a reminder of sins year after year; ⁴for the blood of bulls and of goats is powerless to take away sins.

⁵When Christ comes into the world, He therefore says, ^u "Sacrifice and offering Thou hast not desired, but a body Thou hast prepared for Me."

⁶In burnt and sin offerings Thou hast taken no pleasure. ⁷Then I said, 'Here I come—it is written of Me in the roll of the Book—to do Thy will, O God.'

⁸Saying as He does above, "Thou hast not desired nor taken pleasure in sacrifices, and offerings, and burnt and sin offerings," all of which are offered according to the Law, ⁹then He says, "Here I come to do Thy will." He takes away the first in order to establish the second, ¹⁰by which divine will we have been made holy by means of the offering up once for all of the body of Jesus Christ.

¹¹Furthermore, every priest stands daily for services to offer the same sacrifices repeatedly, which have no power whatever to take away sins; ¹²but this One, after offering for our sins one sacrifice forever, sat down at the right hand of God, ¹³from then on anticipating until His enemies are placed as a footstool for His feet. ¹⁴For with a single offering He has forever perfected those who are being made holy.

¹⁵The Holy Spirit also affirms it to us, for after He says, ^v ¹⁶"This is the covenant I will make with them after those days, the Lord says, I will place My laws upon their hearts and inscribe them on their minds," ¹⁷He adds, "Their sins and their lawless deeds I will no longer remember."

¹⁸Now where sins have been forgiven there are no longer any offerings for them.

¹⁹Since, therefore, we have confidence, brothers, to enter the Holiest through Jesus' blood ²⁰by a new and living way, so recently made for us through the veil,^x that is, His flesh, ²¹and since we have a great Priest in charge of God's house, ²²let us draw near with honest hearts and full assurance of faith, our hearts sprinkled clean^y from an evil conscience, and our bodies bathed with pure water. ²³Let

t) Exod. 29:16, 20-21; Lev. 16:14, 15, 18. u) Ps. 40:6-8.

v) The Word that was always with God was made flesh, i.e., He took upon Himself a body that was prepared for Him and in which He lived on earth, died, and rose again for us.

w) Ch. 8:10-12.

x) Cf. Matt. 27:51; Mark 15:38; Luke 23:45, where it is written that the veil (curtain) of the temple was torn from top to bottom when Christ died.

y) By Christ's atoning blood, just as priests were dedicated with blood.

us hold unwaveringly our grip on the hope we confess, for He who promised is faithful.

²⁴Let us also be mindful to stimulate one another toward love and helpful activities, ²⁵not neglecting to meet together, as is habitual with some, but giving mutual encouragement, and all the more so since you see the Day approaching. ²⁶For if we go on sinning willfully after acquiring the knowledge of the truth, there is no longer left any sacrifice for sins, ²⁷but some dreadful anticipation of judgment and of a fierce fire that is to devour those who oppose God.

²⁸The person who disobeys the Law of Moses is put to death without mercy on the evidence of two or three witnesses. ²⁹How much worse, do you suppose, will be the punishment he is judged to deserve, who tramples on the Son of God and considers the blood of the covenant, by which he was made holy, something unholy, and who outrages the Spirit of grace? ³⁰For we know Him who said,^z "Retribution rests with Me; I will pay back," and also,^a "The Lord will judge His people." ³¹It is dreadful to fall into the hands of the living God.

³²Call to mind those previous days when, after enjoying the light, you endured sufferings that involved great struggle. ³³On the one hand you were publicly exposed to insults and affliction, and on the other you made common cause with those who were thus treated. ³⁴For you sympathized with the prisoners and accepted cheerfully the plundering of your property, knowing well that you yourselves had better and lasting possession.

³⁵Therefore, do not throw away your confidence; it carries a rich reward. ³⁶For you need endurance to gain the promised blessing upon accomplishing what God wills.^b ³⁷"For it will be just a little while before the coming One will come and will not delay; ³⁸but he whom I find righteous through faith will live,^c and if he shrinks back, My soul will not be pleased with him." ³⁹However, we are not of those who shrink back so as to perish, but of those who have faith and save their souls.

11 BUT FAITH IS AN ASSURANCE OF what is hoped for, a conviction of unseen realities.^d ²The men of old gained approval by it.

³By faith we understand that the universe was created at God's command, so that what we now see was made out of what cannot be seen.

⁴By faith Abel brought God a sacrifice superior to that of Cain, and through faith he was witnessed to as being righteous; for God acknowledged his gifts, and though he died, through his faith he is still speaking.

⁵By faith Enoch was taken up, so that he did not see death, and was not found because God took him up; for before God took him up, so it is recorded, he was pleasing to God. ⁶But without faith it is impossible to please Him; for he who comes to God must believe that He exists and that He is a rewarder of those who search for Him.

⁷By faith Noah, when he was divinely instructed about things that were not yet in sight, devoutly constructed the ark for the saving of his family, through which he condemned the world, while he fell heir to the righteousness that springs from faith.

⁸By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to a place which he was to receive for an inheritance, and he migrated without any idea where he was going. ⁹By faith he lived in the land of promise as in a foreign country, living in tents, as did Isaac and Jacob who were joint heirs with him of the same promise. ¹⁰For he was looking for the city with foundations, whose Architect and Builder is God.

¹¹Also by faith Sarah herself received power to conceive and that when she was past the normal age,^e because she regarded the One who promised to be trustworthy. ¹²And so from one person, and he already

z) Deut. 32:35.

a) Deut. 32:36. b) Hab. 2:3, 4. c) Hab. 2:4; Rom. 1:17; Gal. 3:11.

d) This is not a precise definition of faith but rather a description of it.

e) Gen. 21:1, 2.

impotent, there were born descendants as the stars of heaven in numbers and countless as the sand on the seashore.

¹³These all died in faith without having received what was promised them, but they saw it from a distance and welcomed it, confessing that they were foreigners and exiles on the earth.

¹⁴For those who say such things make it plain that they are looking for a homeland, ¹⁵and if they had in mind that country from which they went out, they would have had a chance to return. ¹⁶But now they are longing for a better, that is, a heavenly country; accordingly, God is not ashamed of being called their God. In fact, He has prepared a city for them.

¹⁷By faith Abraham, when he was tested, brought Isaac as an offering.^f Yes, the recipient of the promises offered his only son, ¹⁸of whom it had been said,^g "Through Isaac you are to have your descendants." ¹⁹For he reasoned that God was able to raise him from the dead, from which in a figure, he did receive him back.

²⁰By faith Isaac^h gave Jacob and Esau his blessing for their future. ²¹By faith Jacob, at the point of death, blessed each of Joseph's sonsⁱ and bowed in worship on the top of his staff. ²²By faith Joseph,^j when he was dying, mentioned the exodus of the Israelites, and gave instructions regarding his bones.

²³By faith Moses, when he was born, was hidden by his parents^k for three months because they saw he was a beautiful child and they were not afraid of the king's order.

²⁴By faith Moses,^l when he reached maturity, refused to be called a son of Pharaoh's daughter, ²⁵and preferred sharing ill-treatment with the people of God rather than enjoying the short-lived pleasures of sin.^m ²⁶He considered the reproach, such as came to Christ, greater wealth than the treasures of Egypt. For he fixed his eye on the final recompense.

²⁷By faith he left Egypt, unafraid of the king's anger; for he persevered as if he saw Him who is invisible.

²⁸By faith he instituted the Passoverⁿ and the sprinkling of the blood, so that the destroyer might not touch their first-born.

²⁹By faith the Israelites^o crossed the Red Sea as on dry land, and when the Egyptians tried it, they were drowned.

³⁰By faith the walls of Jericho fell^p down after the Israelites marched around them for seven days.

³¹By faith Rahab, the harlot,^q did not perish with those who were disobedient; for she had received the spies in peace.

³²And what more shall I say? For time would fail me to go on telling about Gideon,^r Barak,^s Samson,^t Jephthah,^u David,^v and Samuel,^w and the prophets, ³³who through faith overcame kingdoms, administered justice, procured promised blessings, shut the mouths of lions,^x ³⁴quenched the power of fire,^y escaped being killed by the sword, were made powerful when they had been weak, became mighty in war, turned to flight foreign armies.

³⁵Women received back their dead by resurrection.^z Others,^a who refused release so that they might procure a better resurrection, were tortured.

³⁶Still others suffered mocking and flogging, and chains and imprisonment.

³⁷They were stoned; they were tempted to sin; they were sawed in two; they were killed with the sword. In sheepskins and in goatskins they roamed about, destitute, afflicted, ill-treated — ³⁸the world was not worthy of them, those wanderers in deserts and mountains and caverns and fissures of the earth.

³⁹And all these, while winning divine approval through their faith, did not receive the promised blessing; ⁴⁰for God had in view something better for

f) Gen. 22:1-14. g) Gen. 21:12. h) Gen. 27:26-40. i) Gen. 48.

j) Gen. 50:24, 25. k) Exod. 2:1-3. l) Exod. 2:11-15.

m) In sharing his people's lot Moses resembled Christ. n) Exod. 12. o) Exod. 14:13-31.

p) Josh. 6:1-20. q) Josh. 2:1-21; 6:23. r) Judg. 6:11; 7:1-25. s) Judg. 4:6-24.

t) Judg. 13:24-16:31. u) Judg. 11:1-29; 12:1-7. v) 1 Sam. 16, 17. w) 1 Sam. 7:9-14.

x) Dan. 6:22. y) Dan. 3:23-28. z) 1 Kings 17:8-24; 2 Kings 4:18-37.

a) Whereas through faith some escaped severe trials, others by faith were enabled to suffer torture and imprisonment.

us, so that without us they would not be made perfect.

12 SO THEN, ENCIRCLED AS WE ARE with such a great cloud of witnesses^b all about us, let us get rid of every impediment and the sin that ensnares us so easily, and let us run steadily the course mapped out for us, ²with our eyes on Jesus, the cause and completer of our faith who, in view of the joy that lay ahead for Him, submitted to the cross, thought nothing of the shame, and is seated at the right hand of the throne of God. ³Compare your experience with His, who was willing to stand so much hostility from sinners against Himself, so that you may not become weary and despondent.

⁴In your struggle against sin you have not yet resisted so that it has cost you blood, ⁵and you have been forgetful of the appeal that speaks to you as sons:^c "My son, do not think lightly of the Lord's discipline, neither become discouraged under His reproof; ⁶for the Lord disciplines the person He loves and punishes every son whom He receives." ⁷You must endure for the sake of correction; God is treating you as sons. For what son is there whom the father does not discipline? ⁸If you receive no correction, such as all sons share, then you are illegitimate children and not sons.

⁹Now, if we were corrected by our human fathers and respected them, shall we not far rather submit to our spiritual Father and live? ¹⁰For while they for a few days disciplined us as they saw fit, He does it for our benefit, so that we may share in His holiness. ¹¹Of course, no discipline seems at the time enjoyable, but it seems painful; later on, however, it affords those schooled in it the peaceful fruitage of an upright life.

¹²So, lift up your drooping hands^d and strengthen your shaky knees; ¹³step out straight ahead with your feet,^e so that which is lame may not be dislocated but rather be healed.

¹⁴Seek eagerly for peace with everyone and for holiness without which no one shall see the Lord. ¹⁵See to it that no one falls short of divine grace; that no one cultivates a root of bitterness^f to cause a disturbance by which many will be defiled; ¹⁶that no one be immoral or profane like Esau, who for a single meal sold his own birthright. ¹⁷For you know how afterward, when he wanted to inherit the blessing, he was rejected, because he found no opportunity to repent, although with tears he sought for the blessing.

¹⁸For you have not come up to a mountain that was not to be touched, a blazing fire and gloom, darkness and storm, ¹⁹to trumpet sound and audible words, the hearers of which implored that no further message be brought them, ²⁰for they could not bear the command,^g "Even if an animal touches the mountain it must be stoned." ²¹And the phenomenon was so dreadful that Moses said,^h "I am terrified and trembling."

²²Instead, we have come up Mount Zion, the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, to ten thousands of angels in festal gathering, ²³and to the assembly of the first-born, whose names are enrolled in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of the righteous who have been made perfect,ⁱ ²⁴and to Jesus, the Mediator of a new covenant, and to the sprinkled blood that tells of better things than that of Abel.^j

²⁵Be careful not to refuse to hear the One who is speaking; for if those people did not escape who refused to hear the person who spoke God's message on earth, how much less shall we, if we turn away from the One who speaks from heaven. ²⁶His voice then shook the earth, but now He has promised,^k "Once more I will shake, not only the earth but heaven as well." ²⁷This phrase, "Once more,"

b) Translated from the Gk. marturon, from which comes the English word "martyr."

c) Prov. 3:11, 12. d) Isa. 35:3. e) Prov. 4:25, 26. f) Deut. 29:18. g) Exod. 19:12, 13.

h) Deut. 9:18, 19; cf. Acts 7:32. i) The redeemed in heaven.

j) Gen. 4:10. k) Hag. 2:6.

indicates the final removal of everything shaken — created things, so that the unshaken things may remain.¹

²⁸Let us, therefore, be grateful that the kingdom we have received cannot be shaken, and so let us serve God acceptably with reverence and awe.
²⁹For our God is a consuming fire.

13 LET BROTHERLY LOVE CONTINUE. ²Do not be negligent in showing hospitality, for in doing so some entertained angels without knowing it. ³Keep in mind those who are in prison as if you are in prison with them, and the ill-treated as though you are suffering physically yourselves.

⁴Let marriage be held in honor by all and the marriage bed unpolled; for God will judge the immoral adulterous.

⁵Let your conduct be free from the love of money. Be satisfied with what you have, for He has said,^m "I will not give you up nor desert you," ⁶so that we may say boldly, "The Lord is my Helper, I will not fear. What can man do to me?"

⁷Bear in mind your leaders, who spoke to you God's message; observe how they closed a well-spent life, and copy their faith: ⁸Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and today, and forever.

⁹Be not led astray by all sorts of strange teachings; for it is well to have the heart strengthened by grace, rather than by ritualistic foods from which devotees derived no benefit. ¹⁰We have an altar of which those that serve in the tabernacle have no right to eat; ¹¹for the bodies of those animals, whose blood was brought by the high priest into the Holiest for sin, were burned outside the camp.

¹²So Jesus, too, suffered outside the gate, that He might sanctify the people by His own blood. ¹³Accordingly, let us go out to Him outside the camp, bearing His reproach, ¹⁴for we have here no permanent city; instead, we are seeking the future one. ¹⁵Through Him, then, let us at all times present a praise offering to God, which is the fruit of lips that confess His name.

¹⁶Do not forget to do good and be generous, for with such sacrifices God is well pleased.

¹⁷Obeys your leaders and yield to them, for they keep watch over your souls as persons who must give account. Have them do so joyfully and not with regrets, for that would be hurtful to you.

¹⁸Pray for us, for we are confident of having a clear conscience. In every respect we want to behave honorably. ¹⁹I especially beg of you to do this, so that I may be restored to you the sooner.

²⁰Now may the God of peace, who brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, that great Shepherd of the sheep,ⁿ through the blood of the everlasting covenant, ²¹furnish you with everything good to do His will, working within us through Jesus Christ what is well-pleasing in His sight. To Him be glory forever and ever. Amen.

²²I call on you, brothers, to listen patiently to this message for your encouragement, for I have written you briefly. ²³You should know that our brother Timothy has been freed.^o Along with him, if he comes here shortly, I will see you.

²⁴Extend our greetings to all your leaders and to all the saints.^p The Italian believers send you greetings.

²⁵Grace be with you all.

1) The material things pass; the spiritual things remain.

m) Deut. 31:6. n) John 10:11; 1 Pet. 5:4.

o) This is the only reference in the N.T. to Timothy's imprisonment.

p) See note at Acts 9:13.

JAMES

Date of writing: c. A.D. 48-50, probably at Jerusalem

1 JAMES,^a A SLAVE^b OF GOD AND OF the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes in the Dispersion,^c Greeting.

²Consider it complete joy, my brothers, when you become involved in all sorts of trials, ³well aware that the testing of your faith brings out steadfastness. ⁴But let steadfastness have full play, so that you may be completed and rounded out with no defects whatever.

⁵If any one of you lacks wisdom, let him ask God, who gives to everyone without reserve and without reproach, and it will be granted him. ⁶But he should ask in faith with never a doubt; for one who doubts resembles a wave of the sea that is driven and tossed by the wind. ⁷Let not that man imagine he will receive anything from the Lord; ⁸he is a double-minded man, unsteady in all his ways.

⁹Let the lowly brother, however, be proud of his high position, ¹⁰and the wealthy of his humble place, because he shall fade out like a wild flower.

¹¹The sun rises with its searing heat and withers the grass; its flower drops off and its beauty disappears. So will the rich man fade away in his undertakings.

¹²Blessed is the man who stands up under trial; for when he has stood the test, he will receive the crown^d of life that God has promised to those who love Him. ¹³Let no one who is tempted say, "I am tempted by God," for God cannot be tempted by evil, and He tempts no one. ¹⁴But each person is tempted when he is drawn away and enticed by his own desire. ¹⁵Then when the desire has conceived it gives birth to sin, and sin, when it reaches maturity, produces death.

¹⁶Do not be misled, my dear brothers. ¹⁷Every beneficent gift and every perfect present is from above; it descends from the Father of lights, with whom no variation occurs nor shadow cast by turning. ¹⁸Voluntarily He gave us birth by the word of truth,^e so that we might be a kind of first fruits of His creatures.

¹⁹Understand this, my dear brothers: let everyone be quick to listen, slow to talk, slow to get angry; ²⁰for man's anger does not promote God's righteousness. ²¹Therefore get rid of everything vile and the outgrowth of evil, and in humility receive the implanted word that is able to save your souls. ²²But be doers of the word,^f and not deluders of yourselves by merely listening; ²³for whoever hears the message without acting upon it is similar to the man who observes his own face in a mirror; ²⁴he takes a look

a) James, who was the leader of the church at Jerusalem, Acts 15:13; 21:17, 18, was a half-brother of Jesus, Matt. 13:55. Like his other brothers James did not believe in the Lord Jesus during His earthly ministry, John 7:5. It appears that he was converted after the risen Lord had appeared to him, 1 Cor. 15:7. b) See note at Matt. 13:27.

c) The Jews who had been driven out of Judea under persecution. See note at 1 Pet. 1:1.

d) See note at Phil. 4:2. e) The Spirit's instrument to reach the soul, cf. vs. 21.

f) As you accept Christian truth, put it into practice.

at himself and goes off and promptly forgets how he looks. ²⁵But whoever gazes into the perfect law of liberty and continues in it, who is not a forgetful listener but an active worker, that person will be blessed in his work.

²⁶Whoever supposes he is religious without bridling his own tongue but, instead, deceives his own heart, that person's religion is worthless. ²⁷Pure and undefiled religion in the sight of God the Father is this: to look after orphans and widows in their trouble and to keep oneself unstained from the world.

2 MY BROTHERS, DO NOT COMBINE faith in Jesus Christ our glorious Lord with partiality. ²For should there enter into your gathering a man wearing a gold ring and splendid clothes, and there enter also a poor man shabbily clad, ³and you pay attention to the one who is well-dressed and say, "Have a good seat here," and say to the poor one, "You stand there," or "Sit down on the floor by my feet," ⁴have you not discriminated among your own and become judges with evil thoughts?

⁵Listen, my dear brothers. Has not God chosen the poor in the world to be rich in faith and to be heirs of the kingdom He has promised to those who love Him? ⁶But you have dishonored the poor. Do not the rich domineer you and drag you into the courts? ⁷Do they not slander the good name by which you are known? ⁸If you observe the royal law according to the Scripture,^g "Love your neighbor as yourself," you behave well. ⁹But if you show partiality, then you are practicing sin; you stand convicted by the Law as culprits.

¹⁰For whoever observes the whole Law but slips in one point, becomes guilty in every respect.^h ¹¹For He who said,ⁱ "Do not commit adultery," also said,^j "Do not kill." So, if you do not commit adultery but you kill, you have become a breaker of the Law. ¹²Speak and act in such a way as befits people who are to be judged by the law of liberty. ¹³For the judgment is merciless to those who have practiced no mercy, but mercy triumphs over judgment.

¹⁴What is the use, my brothers, for anyone to say he has faith, if he fails to act on it? His faith cannot save him, can it? ¹⁵If a brother or sister is poorly clad and lacks the day's nourishment, ¹⁶but one of you says to them, "Go away in peace; get warmed and get fed," without supplying them with their bodily needs, what is the use? ¹⁷Exactly so faith that does not issue in works is in itself dead.

¹⁸Someone, however, will say, "You have faith and I have works." Show me your faith without its works and I will show you my faith through what I do.^k ¹⁹Do you believe there is one God? Very well; the demons believe, too, and they shudder. ²⁰But do you want to know, O senseless man, how faith without works is useless? ²¹Was not our father Abraham made righteous by his works when he offered up his son Isaac on the altar? ²²You see how his faith cooperated with his works and how faith was completed through his works. ²³So the Scripture was fulfilled that says,^l "Abraham believed in God and it was accounted to him as righteousness," and he was called^m the friend of God.

²⁴You see that a person is pronounced righteous by his works and not on account of faith alone. ²⁵Similarly, too, was not Rahab the harlot accounted righteous by her works, when she entertained the messengers and sent them away by a different road? ²⁶For as the body is dead without the spirit, so faith also is dead without works.

3 NOT MANY OF YOU SHOULD BE- come teachers, my brothers, for you know we are assuming the more accountability; ²because we all make many mistakes. Whoever makes no mistake with the tongue is certainly

g) Lev. 19:18. h) He is a lawbreaker. i) Exod. 20:14. j) Exod. 20:13.

k) The reality of a man's faith is shown by what he does. Christ said: "You will know them by the deeds they do," Matt. 7:16. l) Gen. 15:6. m) Isa. 41:8.

a perfect man, able as well to control his entire body. ³When we put bits into horses' mouths to make them obey us, we guide their whole bodies. ⁴Notice the ships, too, big as they are and driven by violent winds, how they are steered by a small rudder wherever the pilot wishes.

⁵So the tongue is a small organ and can speak big things. Think how great a forest ever so small a spark sets on fire. ⁶The tongue also is a fire, a world of wickedness. Among the members of our body the tongue is situated where it taints the whole body and sets on fire the whole round of existence,^a while it is kindled by hell.^o

⁷Every kind of animal, of bird, of reptile and sea creature is tamed and has been tamed by mankind, ⁸but no human being is able to tame the tongue, restless evil so full of deadly poison. ⁹We praise the Lord and Father with it; with it we also curse men who have been made in the likeness of God. ¹⁰From the same mouth blessing and cursing proceed. This is not right, my brothers; it must not be this way.

¹¹The spring does not well up sweet and bitter water from the same cleft, does it? ¹²Nor is it possible, is it, my brothers, for a fig tree to bear olives, or for a grapevine to bear figs? Neither can salt water produce fresh water.

¹³Who among you is wise and understanding? Let him show by his good behavior that his actions are carried on with unobtrusive wisdom.^p

¹⁴But if you cherish bitter jealousy and rivalry in your hearts, do not pride yourselves in this and play false to the truth. ¹⁵Such wisdom does not come down from above; instead it is earthly, unspirited, demonic, ¹⁶for where jealousy and rivalry exist, there will be confusion and everything base.

¹⁷But the wisdom from above^a is first of all pure, then peaceable, courteous, congenial, full of mercy and good fruits, impartial, and sincere. ¹⁸And the harvest, which righteousness yields to the peacemakers, comes from a sowing in peace.

4 WHERE DO CONFLICTS AND FIGHTINGS among you originate? Do they not spring from your passions that are at war in your members?^r ²You covet and do not have; you murder^a and strive and cannot attain; you fight and battle, and do not possess, because you do not pray. ³You ask and do not receive, because you ask wrongly; you want to spend it on your dissolute pleasures.

⁴Do you not realize, you adulteresses, that friendship with the world is enmity toward God? Therefore, whoever determines to be a friend of the world becomes God's enemy. ⁵Or do you suppose the Scripture speaks to no purpose? The Spirit, who took up His abode in us, yearns jealously over us. ⁶But He affords the more grace, for He says,^t "God opposes the haughty, but He grants grace to the humbleminded."

⁷So then submit yourselves to God. Resist the devil and he will flee from you. ⁸Draw near to God and He will draw near to you. Clean your hands, you sinners, and purify your hearts, you of divided interests. ⁹Be miserable and grieve and cry. Let your laughing be turned to sorrow and your enjoyment to dejection. ¹⁰Take a low position before the Lord and He will exalt you.

¹¹Do not malign one another, brothers. One who maligns or criticizes his brother, maligns the Law and criticizes the Law, but if you criticize the Law you are not a doer of it but its judge. ¹²There is one Lawgiver and Judge—He who has power to save and to destroy. But who are you to be judging your neighbor?

¹³Come on, you who say, "Today or tomorrow we shall go into this or that city and spend a year there to transact business and make money," ¹⁴when you have no idea about tomorrow. What is your life? You are a

n) Unfit speech also reacts harmfully on the speaker, Matt. 7:15, 20, 23.

o) Greek geenna. See note at Mark 9:43. p) Not only faith but also wisdom is shown by conduct.

q) God-given, therefore relating to life. r) Cf. Rom. 7; Gal. 5:16-18.

s) In the realm of Christian ethics to hate is equivalent to committing murder, 1 John 3:15.

t) Prov. 3:34.

vapor that appears for a little while and disappears. ¹⁵Instead you ought to say, "If the Lord wills and we live we shall do this or that." ¹⁶But as it is, you boast in your arrogance, all of which boasting is wicked. ¹⁷So, then, to the person who knows what is right to do and fails to do it, to him it is sin.

5 COME ON YOU WEALTHY, WEEP with loud wailings about the miseries that are coming upon you. ²Your hoarded wealth has decayed and your clothes have become moth-eaten; ³your gold and silver are covered with rust, and their rust will be evidence against you. As fire that you have stored up for the last days,^u it will consume your flesh.

⁴See, the pay of the workmen that mowed your fields, which you have withheld from them, is crying out, and the cries of the reapers have entered the ears of the Lord of hosts. ⁵You have been living an easy life on the earth; you have given yourselves up to pleasures; you have fattened your hearts in a day of slaughter.^v ⁶You have condemned, you have murdered the upright without his resisting you.

⁷Therefore, endure patiently, brothers, until the coming of the Lord. Take notice how the farmer awaits the precious produce of the soil, continuing to be patient until it gets the early and the late rains. ⁸So you keep waiting patiently. Fortify your hearts, for the coming of the Lord is near.

⁹Do not complain against one another, brothers, so you may not come under judgment. See, the Judge is standing at the door. ¹⁰For an example of ill-treatment that was patiently endured, brothers, take the prophets who spoke in the Lord's name. ¹¹We call blessed those who have endured. You have heard of the perseverance of Job, and you have seen the outcome which the Lord brought about, because the Lord is compassionate and merciful.

¹²Above all, my brothers, do not swear, either by heaven or by the earth or with any other oath; but let your yes be yes, and your no, no, so that you may incur no judgment.

¹³Is any of you suffering trouble? Let him pray. Is anyone feeling cheerful? Let him sing psalms. ¹⁴Is anyone of you ill? Let him call the elders^w of the church, and let them pray for him and in the name of the Lord anoint him with olive oil.^x ¹⁵The prayer of faith will restore the sick one, and the Lord will raise him up. And if he has committed sin, it will be forgiven him.

¹⁶Therefore, confess your sins to each other and pray for one another, that you may be cured.^y The earnest prayer of a righteous person has great effect. ¹⁷Elijah was a man of similar weaknesses with us, and he prayed an earnest prayer that it should not rain, and no rain fell on the earth for three years and six months. ¹⁸Again he prayed earnestly, and heaven gave rain and the soil yielded its produce.

¹⁹My brothers, if one of you strays from the truth and someone brings him back, ²⁰let him be assured that he who turns a sinner back from the wandering of his way will save his soul from death and a great number of sins.^z

u) The days just preceding Christ's return, vs. 8.

v) As animals are fattened, not for their own enjoyment but for the butcher.

w) See note at I Tim. 3:1.

x) The Lord's disciples anointed some sick people with oil, Mark 16:3. Oil is medicinal, cf. Isa. 1:6; Luke 10:34, but heartfelt prayer must accompany its application, vs. 15.

y) No confession to a priest or to a group is here intimated.

z) James does not mean that the prayer of faith covers the sins of him who prays but of him who is prayed for as he receives salvation. Spiritual health is more important than physical health. To pray for the salvation of souls and spiritual growth is an essential part of intercessory prayer.

PETER

Date of writing: c. A.D. 65, at Babylon

1 PETER, AN APOSTLE OF JESUS Christ, to the exiles of the Dispersion^a in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia and Bithynia,^b ²chosen in accordance with the foreknowledge of God the Father, and consecrated by the Spirit to be obedient to Jesus Christ, and to be sprinkled with His blood: Grace to you and peace in increasing measure.

³Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ who according to His ample mercy has given us new birth into a life of hope, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, ⁴to an inheritance imperishable, unsullied, and unfading that is kept safely in heaven for you ⁵who by the power of God are protected through faith for a salvation that is ready to be revealed in the last time.

⁶You rejoice in this, although now for a little while, if it must be, you are distressed by various trials, ⁷so that the testing of your faith, far more precious than perishable gold that is tested by fire, may prove to be for praise and glory and honor when Jesus Christ is revealed, ⁸whom having not seen, you love. In Him you have faith, though now you do not see Him, and you rejoice with inexpressible and heavenly joy, ⁹while you obtain the salvation of your souls as the goal of your faith.

¹⁰About this salvation the prophets, who prophesied of the grace intended for you, ¹¹made inquiry and research to find out to whom or to what time the Spirit of Christ within them pointed, in predicting the sufferings that would happen to Christ, and the glory that would follow them. ¹²It was disclosed to the prophets that they were rendering their ministries not for themselves, but for you, concerning the things which have now been declared to you by those who have preached the good news to you by means of the Holy Spirit sent from heaven, things into which the angels long to stoop and look.

¹³Brace up your minds for action, therefore, and be alert, and fix your hope fully on the grace that will be coming to you when Jesus Christ is revealed.^c ¹⁴As obedient children, do not shape your lives by the passions that controlled you in your previous ignorance; ¹⁵instead, as the One who called you is holy, so you yourselves should be holy in all your conduct; ¹⁶for it is written,^d "You shall be holy, because I am holy."

¹⁷Besides, if you address Him as Father, who impartially judges according to each one's work, you need to behave reverently during the time of your exiles, ¹⁸well aware that you have been ransomed from your futile ways such as traditionally came down from your forefathers, not with perishable

a) The Dispersion, Gk. diaspora, relates to Israelites who, usually under persecution, cf. Jer. 25:34, were driven out of their land as a result of national disobedience to God, Lev. 26:33; Deut. 4:25-28. In N.T. times some of these families had never returned to their land. There were others who had been obliged to flee from Jerusalem because they believed in Jesus as their Messiah, Acts 8:1, 4; 11:19. See note at James 1:1. b) These five provinces were all in Asia Minor.

c) As Christ suggests for His return, cf. Luke 12:35, 36. d) Lev. 11:44.

things such as silver or gold,¹⁹ but with the precious blood of Christ as that of a flawless and spotless lamb,²⁰ foreknown, to be sure, before the foundation of the world, but disclosed at the end of the times for your sakes,²¹ who through Him are believers in God, who raised Him from the dead and gave Him glory. So your faith and hope rest in God.

²²With your souls purified by obeying the truth that issues in sincere love for the brothers, you should love one another fervently from the heart.²³ For you have been born again, not from a perishable but an imperishable seed through the living and lasting message of God; for,^e ²⁴"All flesh is like grass and all its glory like the flower of the grass; the grass withers and the bloom drops off,²⁵ but the word of the Lord endures forever." And this is the message of good news that has been preached to you.

2 THEREFORE, LAY ASIDE ALL malice and all deceit, all pretense, envy, and slander; ²like newborn babes, be thirsty for the unadulterated, spiritual milk, so that by its use you may grow up to salvation, ³presuming you have tasted how good the Lord is.

⁴Come to Him, a living Stone rejected by men, it is true, but chosen by God and precious, ⁵and be built up as living stones into a spiritual house, a dedicated priesthood, to offer spiritual sacrifices that through Jesus Christ are acceptable to God.

⁶It is therefore contained in Scripture,^f "See, I place in Zion a chosen, precious cornerstone, and he who believes in Him will never be put to shame."⁷ To you, then, who believe, He is precious, but to the unbelieving, "the stone which the builders rejected, this has become the main cornerstone,"⁸ and^g "a stone to trip over and a rock to make them fall." They stub their toes because they disbelieve the message; they were destined for this.⁹ But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people of His acquisition, so that you may proclaim the perfections of Him who called you out of darkness into His marvelous light,¹⁰ you who once were no people but are now the people of God, who once experienced no mercy but have now received mercy.

¹¹I implore you, dear friends, as aliens and exiles to keep from gratifying fleshly desires such as war against the soul.¹² Conduct yourselves well among the Gentiles so that, although they may defame you as criminals, they may see your good works and glorify God in the day of visitation.^h

¹³Be submissive to every human institution for the Lord's sake, whether to the emperor as supreme,¹⁴ or to governors as commissioned by him to bring criminals to justice and to encourage the well-behaved.¹⁵ For this is God's will, that by behaving well you should silence the ignorance of thoughtless people.¹⁶ Enjoy liberty, not by employing freedom to cover up wickedness but as slavesⁱ of God.¹⁷ Treat everyone honorably; have love for the brothers; revere God; respect the emperor.

¹⁸You domestic slaves should with unqualified respect be submissive to your masters, not only to the kind and considerate but also to those who are harsh;¹⁹ for this is meritorious, if with consciousness of God one endures the pain of unjust sufferings.²⁰ For what merit is there in standing a beating for doing wrong? But if you bear patiently with suffering when you are doing right, this is pleasing to God.

²¹To such experience you have been called; for Christ also suffered for you and left behind an example, that you might follow in His footsteps.²² He committed no sin, neither was deceit found in His mouth,²³ who did not return the insult when He was insulted; who did not threaten when abused, but committed Himself to the Righteous Judge.²⁴ He Himself carried our sins in His own body on the cross, so that we might die to sins and live to righteousness. By His wounds you were healed.

²⁵For then you were straying like

e) Isa. 40:6-8. f) Isa. 28:16. g) Verses 7, 8 are cited from Isa. 8:14; Ps. 118:22.
h) When God's judgment will fall. i) See note at Matt. 13:27.

sheep, but now you have returned to the Shepherd and Guardian of your souls.

3 IN A SIMILAR WAY YOU WIVES should be submissive to your own husbands, so that if any of them will not be persuaded by the message, they may without message be won over by the conduct of their wives, ²as they observe your chaste and respectful behavior. ³Your adornment should not be outward—braided hair, putting on gold trinkets, or putting on robes;¹ ⁴instead it should be the inner personality of the heart with the imperishable qualities of a gentle and quiet spirit, something of surpassing value in God's sight.

⁵For in this way the holy women of the past, who fixed their hope on God, adorned themselves, submissive as they were to their own husbands. ⁶Sarah, for instance, obeyed Abraham, whom she called "Master." You have become her daughters if you do right and are not terrorized by any fear.

⁷By the same token you husbands need to live understandingly with your wives as with a weaker vessel, rendering them honor as joint heirs with you of the grace of life, so that your praying may not be hindered.

⁸Finally, let all of you be harmonious, sympathetic, loving as brothers, compassionate, humbleminded, ⁹returning no evil for evil or cursing for cursing. Quite to the contrary you will bless in return, because you are called for this, so as to inherit a blessing. ¹⁰For^k "he who wants to enjoy life and see happy days must keep his tongue from speaking evil and his lips from uttering deceit. ¹¹He must turn away from wrong and do right; he must search for peace and keep after it. ¹²For the Lord's eyes are on the righteous and His ears are attentive to their prayer, but the Lord's face is set against those who practice evil."

¹³And who will hurt you if you become eager for the right? ¹⁴But even if you suffer on account of righteousness, you will be blessed. Be neither terrified nor troubled by their¹ threat, ¹⁵but revere Christ in your hearts as Lord and be always ready to make a defense to everyone who asks you for a reason of the hope that is within you; but do it gently and reverently. ¹⁶Maintain a clear conscience so that, in case you are slandered, those who falsely accuse your good Christian conduct may be ashamed; ¹⁷for it is better, if it is God's will, to suffer for doing right than for doing wrong.

¹⁸For Christ also once died for sins on your behalf, the just on behalf of the unjust, so that He might bring us to God, being put to death physically but made alive in the Spirit, ¹⁹in whom He^m went and preached to the spirits in prison, ²⁰who were disobedient at the time when God's patience was waiting while Noah was constructing an ark in which a few, in fact eight souls, were brought safely through the water.

²¹Its counterpart, baptism, saves you now, not by removal of physical filth but the earnest seeking of a conscience that is clear in God's presence, through the resurrection of Jesus Christ, ²²who is at God's right hand; for He went to heaven, and angels, authorities, and powers are subject to Him.

4 SINCE CHRIST, THEN, HAS SUFFERED physically, you also must arm yourselves with the same attitude; for he who has suffered physically has gained relief from sin, ²so that he no longer lives by human passions but for the rest of his natural life he lives by what God wills. ³For to have been practicing the ways of the Gentiles heretofore is quite enough, indulging in unbridled lusts, in passions, in drinking parties, in carousings, in dissipations and forbidden idolatries.

j) Obviously Peter is not forbidding attractive appearance but stressing the greater value of inner virtue. Sarah is used as an example of this kind of virtue, vs. 6. Sarah was certainly not unattractive in outward appearance or the princes of Pharaoh would not have commended her to him, nor would she have found favor in his sight had that been the case, Gen. 12:10-20. But above all Sarah possessed "imperishable qualities of a gentle and quiet spirit," vs. 4. k) Ps. 34:12-15.

l) "Their" alludes to the enemies of righteousness.

m) It was by the Holy Spirit that Christ preached through Noah to men of his day who are now in prison because they rejected the message.

⁴Theyⁿ are surprised that you are not sharing the same life of unbridled dissipation with them, and they are reviling you for it, ⁵but they must render an account to Him who stands ready to judge the living and the dead. ⁶For this reason the good news was preached to the dead,^o so that, whereas they are judged as men, they might live with God spiritually.

⁷The end of all things is near; therefore be self-controlled so that you can pray. ⁸Above all else, cherish intense love for one another,^p for love covers up many sins. ⁹Practice hospitality toward one another without grumbling. ¹⁰Let each one serve one another to the measure of his endowment, as good stewards of God's richly varied grace. ¹¹If you are speaking, let it be as speaking God's messages; if you are serving, let it be with the strength that God supplies, so that in it all God may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be the glory and the dominion forever and ever. Amen.

¹²Do not be surprised, dear friends, at the fiery test that is coming upon you, as if you were experiencing something unheard of. ¹³Instead, be joyful that you are sharing to some degree the sufferings of Christ, in order that at the revealing of His glory you may be full of joy. ¹⁴If you are defamed for the name of Christ, you are blessed, because the Spirit of glory, yes, the Spirit of God, is resting on you.

¹⁵Of course none of you should suffer as a murderer or a thief or a criminal or a meddler in others' affairs; ¹⁶but if you suffer as a Christian, do not be ashamed, but praise God because you bear that name. ¹⁷For the time has come for judgment to begin with God's household; and if it starts with us, what will be the destiny of those who disobey the good news from God? ¹⁸And if the righteous person is saved with difficulty, what chance have the impious and sinful?

¹⁹For this reason let those who are suffering according to the will of God, entrust their souls to God, the faithful Creator, while they do what is right.

5 THEREFORE, AS A FELLOW ELDER^q and a witness of Christ's sufferings, a sharer, too, in the glory that is to be revealed, I appeal to the elders among you: ²shepherd God's flock that has been entrusted to you,^r not because you have to but willingly, because God wants you to; not out of greed for gain but eagerly; ³not lording it over those who are under your charge but being examples to your flock. ⁴And with the appearing of the Chief Shepherd you will be awarded the never-fading crown^s of glory.

⁵So also the younger men should defer to those who are older, while you all put on the apron of humility toward each other,^t because^u "God sets Himself against the arrogant, but He grants grace to the humble." ⁶Humble yourselves, therefore, under the mighty hand of God, so that He may in due time raise you up. ⁷Throw all your anxiety upon Him, for His concern is about you.

⁸Exercise self-control. Be on your guard. Your opponent, the devil, prowls around like a roaring lion in search of someone to devour. ⁹Firm in your faith, resist him, aware that throughout the world, sufferings of this kind are imposed upon your brothers.

¹⁰But the God of all grace, who has called you to His eternal glory in Christ, will, after you have suffered awhile, Himself equip, stabilize, strengthen, and firmly establish you. ¹¹To Him be dominion forever and ever. Amen.

¹²I have written you this brief letter with aid of Silvanus,^v your faithful brother as I esteem him, to encourage you and to testify that this is the true grace of God. Stand firm in it.

¹³She who is at Babylon,^w who is

n) The unregenerated. Cf. ch. 3:14. o) That is, to those who are now dead.

p) Such as God's love that forgives. q) See note at I Tim. 3:1.

r) Compare Christ's commission to Peter, John 21:15-17. s) See note at Phil. 4:2.

t) Peter has not forgotten the footwashing in the upper room, John 13:1-17, our Lord's example of humility. u) Prov. 3:34; James 4:6.

v) Silvanus, sometimes called Silas, was one of Paul's frequent companions. See note at I Thess. 1:1. w) Some scholars think that Babylon is used here figuratively for Rome.

chosen together with you, sends you greetings, and so does my son Mark.^x 14Greet one another with a kiss of love.

Peace to all of you who are in Christ Jesus.

^x) See note at Col. 4:10.

THE SECOND GENERAL EPISTLE OF PETER

Date of writing: c. A.D. 66-67

1 SIMON PETER, A SLAVE^a AND APOSTLE of Jesus Christ, to those who through the righteousness of our God and Savior Jesus Christ have been allotted a faith as precious as ours:^b 2 Grace and peace be yours in abundance through knowledge of God and Jesus our Lord. 3 For His divine power has bestowed on us every requisite for life and godliness, through knowing Him who called us to His own glory and excellence. 4 Through these there have been granted us great and precious promised blessings, so that by means of them you might become sharers of the divine nature, having escaped from the corruption in the world that arises from passion.

5 For this very reason do your utmost to supplement your faith with virtue, your virtue with knowledge, 6 your knowledge with self-control, your self-control with patience, your patience with piety, 7 your piety with brotherly affection, and your brotherly affection with love. 8 For if you possess these qualities increasingly, they will render your knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ neither inactive nor unproductive, 9 while he who does not have these is blind, short-visioned, oblivious of the cleansing from his former sins.

10 Exert yourselves the more then, brothers, to confirm^c your calling and election, for if you practice these things you will never stumble, 11 for so an entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ will be liberally provided for you.

12 I will, therefore, always remind you of these matters, even though you are aware of them and are established in the truth now available. 13 Still, I think it my duty, so long as I remain in this human body, to arouse you by reminding you; 14 for I know that shortly my body will be put off, as our Lord Jesus Christ made clear to me.^d 15 Besides, I will make every effort to enable each one of you to keep these things in mind after I am gone; 16 for when we made known to you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, we were not following cleverly devised fables. On the contrary, we were eyewitnesses of His majesty; 17 for when He received honor and glory from God the Father, a voice was borne to Him from the supreme Glory,^e "This is My Son, My Beloved, in whom I am delighted." 18 And we heard this voice borne to us from heaven, when we were with Him on the sacred mountain.^f

19 So we have the prophetic message reaffirmed,^g to which you do well to pay attention as you would to a light that shines in a dark place until the day dawns and the Daystar arises in your hearts, 20 with this most clearly understood, that no prophetic Scripture can be explained by one's unaided mental powers. 21 Because no prophecy

a) See note at Matt. 13:27. b) Including, therefore, all believers in Christ.

c) That is to say, validate your faith by what you do. d) John 21:18. e) Matt. 17:1-5.

f) The mountain where Christ was transfigured in the presence of Peter, James, and John.

g) By the gospel of Christ which the writer has been preaching.

ever came by the will of man; instead men spoke from God as they were carried along by the Holy Spirit.

2 BUT THERE WERE ALSO FALSE prophets among the people, just as there will be false teachers among you — the kind that will shrewdly introduce ruinous heresies, even denying the Master who bought them and so bringing on themselves swift destruction. ²Many will follow along in their shameless ways, on whose account the way of truth will be maligned. ³Motivated by greed, they will exploit you with their counterfeit arguments.

From of old their sentence has been hanging over them and their destruction has not been dormant. ⁴For if God did not spare the angels who sinned but committed them to the black dungeons of hell^h to be kept for judgment, ⁵and did not spare the ancient world but preserved Noah, a preacher of righteousness, and seven with him, when He brought a flood upon a godless world; ⁶and if He condemned the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah by turning them to ashes, an example to show the godless what is to happen to them, ⁷and if He rescued upright Lot, distressed as he was by the immoral behavior of the lawless ⁸(for day after day as that righteous man lived among them, his upright soul was tortured at seeing and hearing their lawless doings), ⁹then the Lord knows how to rescue the godly from temptation and to keep the wicked under punishment for the day of judgment.

¹⁰This is especially true of those who yield to fleshly desires, indulge in polluting passions, and despise authority. Bold, headstrong as they are, they have no qualms at libeling glorious beings, ¹¹whereas angels, far superior to them in strength and might, do not pronounce a defaming judgment against them before the Lord. ¹²These, however, like irrational brutes that are naturally born to be caught and killed, while maligning what they do not know, will also be destroyed in the same destruction; ¹³they will be punished with suffering for the suffering they caused.

Revelry during the day is their idea of enjoyment; they are foul blots and blemishes that revel in their lusts as they stuff themselves at your table. ¹⁴They have their eyes full of adultery and their appetite for sin is never satisfied. They lure unsteady souls. Their hearts are practiced in greed — accursed children! ¹⁵Leaving the straight path, they have strayed as they have followed in the tracks of Balaam,ⁱ the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of wickedness. ¹⁶But he was rebuked for his own misdeed; a dumb beast of burden, speaking^j with human voice, restrained the prophet's madness.

¹⁷These are waterless wells, hurricane-driven winds for which the gloom of darkness is reserved. ¹⁸For as they utter arrogant nonsense, they entice, through appeal to immoral passions of the flesh, those who have barely escaped from those who live in error. ¹⁹While they promise them liberty they are themselves slaves of corruption; for a person is a slave to whatever overpowers him.

²⁰For if those who have escaped the contaminations of the world through the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, are again entangled and overcome by them, then their last condition becomes worse than the first. ²¹For it would be better for them never to have known the way of righteousness than, after knowing it, to turn back from the holy commandment that was imparted to them.^k ²²In their case the true proverb^l is realized, "A dog returns to his own vomit, and the scrubbed sow to wallowing in the mire."

3 THIS, DEAR FRIENDS, IS NOW THE second letter I am writing you, to

h) Gk. tartaros. The Greek Tartarus corresponds with the Hebrew Gehenna, the abode of the wicked and unbelieving dead. See note at Mark 9:43.

i) Balaam was a prophet of God, but he used his gift for personal gain, Num. 22:25. Cf. Jude 11; Rev. 2:14. j) Num. 22:26-30.

k) Compare Peter's strong language in this chapter with our Lord's pronouncements against the scribes and Pharisees recorded in Matt. 23:13-36. l) Prov. 26:11.

arouse your pure minds by way of remembrance,² so that you may be mindful of the sayings that were spoken beforehand by the holy prophets, and the commands of the Lord and Savior spoken by your apostles.

³First of all you should understand that in the last days scoffers will come on the scene with their scoffing, behaving in accord with their own lusts, and saying, "What about His promised coming? For ever since the forefathers fell asleep, everything has remained as it was from the beginning of creation."

⁵They willfully ignore the fact that long ago there were heavens by the word of God, and an earth standing partly above and partly amidst water,⁶ by means of which the then existing world was destroyed, deluged as it was by water. ⁷At present, however, the heavens and the earth are by the same word stored up for burning, and reserved for the day of judgment and the destruction of godless people.^m

⁸But do not overlook this one fact, dear friends, that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years and a thousand years as one day.ⁿ ⁹The Lord is not negligent about His promise as some think of negligence; instead, He is exercising patience with you, unwilling that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.^o

¹⁰But the day of the Lord will come like a thief. Then with a tremendous roar the heavens will pass away, the elements will be dissolved with fire, and the earth and the works in it will be burned up.

¹¹Since all these things are to be dissolved in this manner, how consecrated and reverent your behavior should be, ¹²as you are expecting and hastening on the coming of the day of God, because of which the heavens will be on fire and be dissolved, and the elements will meet with fire. ¹³But in accord with His promise we are looking for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness is at home.^p

¹⁴Therefore, dear friends, since you have these expectations, do your utmost to be found at peace with Him — spotless and blameless. ¹⁵And regard the continued patience of our Lord as salvation, as our dear brother Paul also has written you, according to the wisdom that has been granted him, ¹⁶speaking of those things, as he does in all his letters. There are some statements in them which are hard to understand. The untaught and unsteady twist those writings, as they do the other Scriptures,^q to their own ruin.

¹⁷You therefore, dear friends, forewarned as you are, be on your guard so that you may not be carried away by the error of the lawless, and lose your own stability; ¹⁸but grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, to whom be glory now and to the day of eternity. Amen.

m) Forgetting the Creator, they are unmindful of the Judge; insisting on license, they get themselves enslaved. Cf. Isa. 66:15; Dan. 7:9. n) Ps. 90:4.

o) Grace, not judgment, is the dominant note in God's music. p) Cf. Matt. 6:33.

q) The N.T. is here ranked with the O.T. as Scripture.

JOHN

Date of writing: c. A.D. 65-85

1 WE ARE WRITING TO YOU ABOUT the Word of Life: He was from the beginning;^a we have heard Him, we have seen Him with our eyes, we have looked at Him, and our hands have touched Him. ²Yes, the Life has been revealed and we have seen and are witnessing and are announcing to you the eternal Life who existed with the Father and has been revealed to us. ³We saw Him and we heard Him and are telling you, so that you too may enjoy fellowship along with us. And this fellowship of ours is with the Father and with His Son Jesus Christ. ⁴This we are writing you so that our joy may be complete.

⁵The message we heard from Him and announce to you is this: God is Light and in Him there is no darkness whatever. ⁶If we say that we enjoy fellowship with Him while we are walking in the dark, we are lying and not practicing the truth. ⁷If, however, we walk in the light, as He Himself is in the light, then we enjoy fellowship with one another, and the blood of His Son Jesus cleanses us from all sin.

⁸If we say, "We have no sin," we are deluding ourselves and the truth is not in us.^b ⁹If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. ¹⁰If we say, "We have not sinned," we make Him out to be a liar and His word is not in us.

2 DEAR^c CHILDREN, I WRITE YOU these things so you may not sin, and if anyone does sin, we have a counsel for our defense in the Father's presence, Jesus Christ the Righteous One. ²He is Himself an atoning sacrifice for our sins, and not for ours only but also for the whole world.

³By this token we are sure that we know Him, if we observe His commands. ⁴He who says, "I know Him," and does not keep His commands, is a liar and the truth is not in him. ⁵But whoever observes His word, in him the love of God has truly reached maturity. In this way we are sure that we are in Him: ⁶one who claims to remain in Him ought himself to live the way He lived.

⁷Dear friends, I am writing you no new command, but only the old command which you have had from the beginning. The old command is the message you have heard. ⁸On the other hand I am writing you a new command,^d realized in Him and in you, because the darkness is passing and the true light is already shining. ⁹He who claims to be in the light and hates

a) Compare John 1:1.

b) Light, life, sinlessness — all alike are God's and not ours, except as His gifts.

c) Here and sometimes elsewhere in the epistle John uses the diminutive form of the Greek word for children, teknia. He is writing to members of God's family in Christ and thus addresses them in this tender way, chs. 2:1, 12, 28; 3:7, 18; 4:4; 5:21.

d) A fresh presentation of the eternal principle of love, without which life, light, and sinlessness are inconceivable.

his brother is in darkness to this very hour. ¹⁰He who loves his brother remains in the light and there is nothing within him to occasion stumbling. ¹¹But he who hates his brother is in the dark and walks in the dark; he does not even know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes.

¹²I am writing you, dear children, because for His name's sake your sins have been forgiven you. ¹³I am writing you, fathers, because you know Him who is from the beginning. I am writing you, young men, because you have conquered the evil one. I have written you, children, because you have come to know the Father. ¹⁴I have written you, fathers, because you have learned to know Him who is from the beginning. I have written you, young men, because you are vigorous; God's message stays in your hearts and you have conquered the evil one.

¹⁵Neither love the world nor the things in the world. Whoever loves the world has not the Father's love in his heart, ¹⁶because everything in the world, the passions of the flesh, the desires of the eyes, and the proud display of life have their origin not from the Father but from the world. ¹⁷And the world with its lust passes away, but he who does the will of God remains forever.

¹⁸Children, the final hour is here and, as you have heard that antichrist is coming, even now many antichrists have arisen, from which we gather certainly that it is the last hour. ¹⁹They went out from us but they never belonged to us; for had they been ours, they would have remained with us. But it had to become clear that not all belong to us. ²⁰Besides, you have an anointing^e from the Holy One and you know all things.^f ²¹The reason I am writing is not because you do not know the truth, but because you know it and that nothing false originates from the truth.

²²Who is the liar if it is not the one who denies that Jesus is the Christ? He is the antichrist who denies the Father and the Son. ²³No one who denies the Son has the Father.^g Whoever acknowledges the Son has the Father as well.

²⁴What you heard from the beginning, let that stay with you. If what you heard from the beginning stays with you, then you will remain in union with the Son and with the Father. ²⁵And this is what He Himself has promised us, eternal life.

²⁶I am writing you these things about those who are trying to mislead you. ²⁷As for you, the anointing you have received from Him remains within you, and you stand in no need of teaching from anyone; but as His anointing instructs you about everything and is true and is no lie, so keep in union with Him just as it was taught you.

²⁸And now, dear children, remain in Him so that when He appears we may have confidence and may not shrink in shame from Him at His coming. ²⁹If you know that He is righteous, you also are sure that everyone who practices righteousness has been born of Him.

3 SEE WHAT A WEALTH OF LOVE THE Father has lavished on us, that we should be called the children of God. And we are. For this reason the world does not know us, because it did not know Him.

²Beloved ones, we are God's children now, and what we shall be has not yet been shown; but we know that when He appears we shall resemble Him, for we shall see Him as He is. ³And everyone who has this hope resting on Him, purifies himself as He is pure.^h

⁴Everyone who commits sin is guilty of lawbreaking; sin is lawbreaking. ⁵You know, too, that He appeared to take away sins, and in Him there is no sin. ⁶No one who remains in Him

e) Gk, chrisma, meaning an unguent or oil for anointing, and symbolic of the entering of the Holy Spirit into the heart. f) Other ancient manuscripts read "you all know."

g) Because Christ is the Way to the Father, John 14:6.

h) The Spirit purifies; the believer in Christ cooperates.

practices sin.¹ Whoever practices sinning has neither seen Him nor known Him.

⁷Dear children, no one should deceive you. He who practices righteousness is righteous, just as He Himself is righteous. ⁸He who practices sin belongs to the devil, for from the beginning the devil has sinned. For this purpose the Son of God appeared, to destroy the works of the devil.

⁹No one who has been born of God commits sin, for the nature of God remains within him; because he has been born of God, he cannot practice sinning. ¹⁰By this the children of God and the children of the devil are differentiated: anyone who does not practice righteousness, or who does not love his brother, is not from God. ¹¹For this is the message you have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another, ¹²and not be like Cain,¹ who belonged to the evil one and murdered his brother. And for what reason did he murder him? Because his own deeds were wicked and those of his brother were righteous.

¹³Do not be surprised, brothers, if the world hates you. ¹⁴We know that we have moved out of death into life, because we love the brothers.⁶ One who does not love his brother remains in death. ¹⁵Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life with-in him.

¹⁶We understand the meaning of love from this, that He laid down His life on our behalf, and we ought to lay down our lives on behalf of the brothers. ¹⁷Whoever possesses the world's resources and notices that his brother is in need and then locks his heart against him, how is the love of God in him?

¹⁸Dear children, let us not love in word and tongue, but in deed and truth. ¹⁹In this way we shall become aware that we belong to the truth, and in His presence we shall set our hearts at rest. ²⁰For if our hearts condemn us, God is greater than our hearts, and He knows everything.

²¹Beloved ones, if our hearts do not condemn us, then we have confidence before God, ²²and whatever we ask we receive from Him, for we observe His commands and practice what is pleasing in His sight. ²³And this is His command, that we put our faith in the name of His Son Jesus Christ and that we love one another as He commanded us. ²⁴He who obeys His commands remains in Him and He in him. By this we know that He remains in us, through the Spirit whom He has given us.

4 BELOVED ONES, DO NOT BELIEVE every spirit, but put the spirits to the test whether they are from God; for many false prophets have gone out into the world. ²By this we know the Spirit of God: ³every spirit that acknowledges Jesus Christ as having come incarnate is from God, whereas every spirit that does not acknowledge Jesus, is not from God; it is the spirit of antichrist, of whose coming you have heard. Right now he is in the world.

⁴You are from God, dear children, and have defeated them,¹ because the One in you is greater than the one in the world. ⁵They are from the world, so they talk from a worldly point of view and the world listens to them. ⁶We are from God. Whoever knows God listens to us. Whoever is not from God does not listen to us. In this way we distinguish the spirit of truth from the spirit of error.

⁷Beloved, let us love one another, because love springs from God and whoever loves has been born of God and knows God.^m ⁸He who does not love does not know God; for God is love. ⁹As for us, the love of God was revealed by the fact that God sent His only Son into the world, that through

i) In a Christian sinning is a contradiction. It is the new creature's nature not to sin, vs. 9. When we sin, as Paul and John agree we do, we betray our new birth in Christ.

j) Gen. 4:8. k) A never-failing criterion of the reality of our discipleship.

l) Antichristian teachers.

m) Chapter 4:13 shows that love of our brothers in Christ is under consideration throughout the epistle.

Him we might live. ¹⁰Love is manifested in this, not that we loved God but that He loved us and sent His Son as an atoning sacrifice for our sins.

¹¹Beloved ones, if God loved us so much, we ought to love one another also. ¹²No one has ever seen God. If we love one another, God remains in us and His love has been perfected in us. ¹³From this we know that we remain in Him and He in us, because He has imparted His Spirit to us. ¹⁴And we ourselves have seen and are bearing witness that the Father has sent the Son as the Savior of the world.

¹⁵Whoever confesses that Jesus is the Son of God, God remains in him and he in God. ¹⁶We have come to know and have believed the love which God has for us. God is love, and he who remains in love remains in God, and God remains in him.

¹⁷On our part love comes to completion in this, that we face the Judgment Day confidently because we are as He is in this world. ¹⁸Love has no fear in it; instead, perfect love expels fear, for fear involves punishment. Therefore he who fears has not reached love's perfection. ¹⁹We love because He first loved us.

²⁰If someone says, "I love God," while he hates his brother, he is a liar; for he who does not love his brother, whom he has seen, is not able to love God, whom he has not seen. ²¹And this command we have from Him, that he who loves God should love his brother also.

5 EVERYONE WHO BELIEVES THAT Jesus is the Christⁿ has been born of God, and everyone who loves the Father will love the one born of Him. ²This is how we know that we love God's children: when we love God and obey His commands. ³For true love of God means this, that we observe His commands, and His commands are not irksome. ⁴Because everyone who has been born of God conquers the world, and this is the victory that triumphs over the world, the faith that we have. ⁵Who is the world's victor if not he who believes that Jesus is the Son of God?^o ⁶That One is Jesus Christ, who came by water and blood; not by the water only but by the water and by the blood. The Spirit bears witness as well, because the Spirit is the truth. ⁷So there are three witnesses, ⁸the Spirit, the water, and the blood, and the three are one.

⁹If we accept human testimony, God's testimony is stronger, and God's witness is this which He testified regarding His Son. ¹⁰The believer in the Son of God possesses the witness within himself. He who disbelieves God, makes Him out to be a liar, because he has not believed in the evidence God has given regarding His Son. ¹¹And this is the evidence: God has granted us eternal life, and this life is in His Son. ¹²He who has the Son has that life; he who does not have the Son of God does not have that life.

¹³I am writing this to you who believe in the name of God's Son in order that you may know that you have eternal life. ¹⁴And this is the confidence we have toward Him, that if we petition anything in agreement with His will, He hears us; ¹⁵and if we know that He listens to us whatever we may petition, then the requests we ask of Him are assured us.

¹⁶If anyone sees his brother commit a sin, not fatal, he will petition and will obtain life for him, presuming it is no mortal sinning. ¹⁷There is a sin that means death; I advise no prayer for that. Every wrong is sin,^p and there is sin which does not involve death.

¹⁸We know that no one who has been born of God practices sin;^a instead, He who was born of God keeps him, and the wicked one does not get a grip on him. ¹⁹We know that where-as the whole world lies under the

n) A faith that appropriates Him as Lord and Savior. o) Cf. John 16:33.

p) This appears obvious, but repeatedly believers have thought of seemingly plausible reasons for doing wrong.

q) Cf. ch. 3:6, 9. Certainly as a new creation one does not sin habitually.

dominance of the wicked one, we belong to God. ²⁰And we know that the Son of God has come and has given us insight to know the true One. And we are in union with the true One, with

His Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and life eternal.

²¹Dear children, keep yourselves from idols.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF JOHN

Date of writing: c. A.D. 65-85

THE ELDER^a TO THE ELECT LADY^b with her children, whom I truly love, and not I alone but all those who know the truth, ²for the sake of the truth that remains in us and will be with us forever: ³Grace, mercy and peace will be with us from God the Father and from Jesus Christ, the Father's Son, in truth and in love.

⁴I feel extremely happy to have found among your children those who live in a true way, just as we received instruction from the Father. ⁵And now I beg of you, lady, not by way of writing you a new command but instead the one we have had from the beginning, that we love one another. ⁶And this love consists in our behaving in agreement with His commands; this is the command, that you walk in love, as you heard from the first.

⁷For many impostors have gone out into the world, who do not confess Christ as having come incarnated.

Such a person is the deceiver and the antichrist. ⁸Look out for yourselves, so that you may not lose the results of what you worked for, but may obtain a full reward.

⁹Whoever assumes leadership and does not remain in the teaching of Christ,^c does not have God. He who remains in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. ¹⁰If anyone comes to you who does not bring this teaching, do not receive him in your home nor extend him your greeting; ¹¹for he who bids him welcome makes himself a sharer of those wicked works of his.

¹²Although I have many things to write you, I would rather not use paper and ink, but I hope to have a visit with you to talk with you by word of mouth, so that our happiness may be complete.

¹³The children of your elect Sister send you greetings.

a) See note at I Tim. 3:1.

b) As ekklesia, meaning church, is feminine, and the church is called the bride of Christ, "Lady," Gk. kuria, probably refers to a local congregation or perhaps the church at large. The possibility remains, however, that Kuria is the name of a woman of John's acquaintance. c) John 7:16, 17.

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF

JOHN

Date of writing: c. A.D. 65-85

THE ELDER^a TO THE ESTEEMED Gaius,^b whom I truly love.

²Beloved friend, I pray that you may get along well in every way and may enjoy health, just as your soul is prospering. ³For I was extremely happy when the brothers arrived and gave testimony about your fidelity to the truth, as indeed you are living the true life. ⁴Nothing affords me more joy than to hear that my children are leading the true life.

⁵Beloved friend, you are acting faithfully when you do anything for the brothers, and specially for strangers. ⁶They have testified before the church about your friendship. You will do well to send them forward on their journey in a way befitting God's service, ⁷because on behalf of that Name they have gone out without accepting anything from the Gentiles.^c ⁸So we ourselves ought to support such people in order to be fellow workers with them in the truth.

⁹I have written something to the church, but Diotrephes,^d who loves to be prominent among them, does not accept our authority. ¹⁰For that reason I shall, on my arrival, call attention to his activities, casting reflections on us as he does with insinuating language. And not satisfied with that, he does not himself welcome the brothers, and he hinders those who are willing to do so, and expels them from the church.

¹¹Dear friend, do not imitate evil, but good. The well-doer is from God; the evildoer has enjoyed no vision of God.

¹²Demetrius^e enjoys a good reputation from everyone and from truth itself. We add our testimony, and you know that our testimony is true.

¹³I had many things to write you, but I do not wish to write you with pen and ink. ¹⁴But I hope to see you shortly, and we shall talk face to face. Peace to you. The friends send you greetings. Remember me to the friends personally.

a) See note at I Tim. 3:1.

b) Gaius, Gk. Gaios, was a fairly common name in the first century. There are several men called by that name in the N.T.: (1) a Macedonian who was one of Paul's companions in Ephesus, Acts 19:29; (2) Gaius of Derbe, who was with Paul on his third missionary journey, Acts 20:4, who may be the same as (1); and (3) a Corinthian whom Paul baptized, Rom. 16:23; I Cor. 1:14, probably the Gaius of this epistle. c) That is, unbelievers.

d) Unfortunately there are still those in the church who are like Diotrephes.

e) One likes to think that this might have been the silversmith of Ephesus, Acts 19:24-41, and that he had been converted.

THE EPISTLE OF

JUDE

Date of writing: c. A.D. 68

JUDE,^a A SLAVE^b OF JESUS CHRIST and a brother of James, to those who have been called, loved by God the Father and kept by Jesus Christ: ²Mercy, peace, and love be increasingly granted you.

³Dear friends, while I was making every effort to write you about the salvation we have in common, I found it necessary to write you an appeal, that you vigorously defend the faith^c which was once for all delivered to the saints.^d ⁴For certain people have sneaked in, who for a long time have been marked out for this judgment, impious ones, who pervert the grace of our God into unbridled lust and deny Jesus Christ, our only Master and Lord.

⁵So I desire to remind you, although once you were quite familiar with all the facts, how the Lord, after rescuing the people from the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed those who did not believe. ⁶Then, too, the angels who did not maintain their own office^e but abandoned their proper dwelling, He has reserved in everlasting chains under densest darkness for the judgment of the great day. ⁷Similarly, Sodom and Gomorrah with their neighboring towns, who in like fashion abandoned themselves to sexual immorality and were bent on perverted sensuality, are placed before us as a warning by suffering the punishment of eternal fire. Nevertheless, ⁸in that same way these deluded dreamers defile their bodies; they reject authority and libel glorious beings.^f

⁹Yet, the archangel Michael, when in his encounter with the devil he argued about the body of Moses, did not venture to pronounce a reviling judgment against him, but said, "The Lord rebuke you." ¹⁰These people, however, revile what they do not understand, while whatever they do know sensually as reasonless brutes, by those things they are destroyed.

¹¹Woe to them, because they are traveling the path of Cain,^g and have given themselves up to Balaam's error^h for the sake of gain; they have perished in Korah's revolt.ⁱ

¹²These are stains in your love feasts^j as in your company they shamelessly gorge themselves; rainless clouds they are, carried along by wind; fruitless autumn trees, twice dead and uprooted; ¹³wildly raging waves of the sea that foam up their own disgrace; straying stars for whom the gloom of darkness is forever reserved.

¹⁴Enoch, in the seventh generation from Adam, prophesied about them

a) Jude was one of the half-brothers of Jesus, Matt. 13:55; Mark 6:3. In the Gk. text the name "Jude" is "Judas," which was an honored name up to the time of Christ, when Judas Iscariot's act of betrayal ruined it. As a result translators generally soften the name to "Jude."

b) See note at Matt. 13:27.

c) The essential doctrines taught the church by the apostles, cf. Acts 2:42.

d) See note at Acts 9:13. e) Fallen angels, or demons. f) That is, angels. g) Gen. 4:8-12.

h) See note at II Pet. 2:15. i) Num. 16:1-7; 23-25. j) See note at I Cor. 11:33.

too when he said,^k "Behold, the Lord has come with His myriads of holy ones ¹⁵to execute judgment against all, and to convict all the ungodly for all their impious activities which in their godlessness they have practiced, and for all the harsh words those godless sinners have spoken against Him."

¹⁶These are grumblers, complaining of their lot, who go along in accord with their passions, and whose mouths give vent to arrogant remarks, while they flatter to one's face in hope of gain.

¹⁷But you, dear friends, remember the predictions that were made by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ; ¹⁸for they told you, "In the last time there will be scoffers, whose lives are guided by their own impious passions." ¹⁹These are the agitators, the worldly, who lack the Spirit.

²⁰You, however, beloved, as you build yourselves upon your most holy faith and pray in the Holy Spirit, ²¹keep yourselves in the love of God, all the while awaiting the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ for eternal life. ²²Convince some who doubt, but save others by snatching them from the fire; ²³on still others have pity mingled with great caution, loathing even the clothing that has been polluted by their sensuality.

²⁴Now to Him who is able to keep you from stumbling and to present you faultless in the presence of His glory with abounding joy, ²⁵to the only God our Savior, through Jesus Christ our Lord, be glory, majesty, power and dominion before all time, and now, and forever. Amen.

k) The quotation is not from the O.T. but a pseudepigraphical book known as I Enoch, which is dated somewhere in the second century B.C.

THE REVELATION

OF JESUS CHRIST

Date of writing: c. A.D. 95

1 THE REVELATION OF JESUS CHRIST, which God granted Him to show His bond servants what must shortly take place. So through His angel He sent the communication to His slave^a John, ²who bears witness to everything he saw as the message of God and the testimony of Jesus Christ.

³Blessed^b is the reader,^c and blessed are those who hear the words of the prophecy, who observe what is recorded in it, for the time is near.

⁴John to the seven churches in Asia: Grace and peace to you from Him who is and who was and who is coming, and from the seven Spirits^d who are before His throne, ⁵and from Jesus Christ, the trustworthy Witness, the First-born from the dead and the Commander of the kings of the earth. To Him who loves us and has freed us from our sins by His own blood, ⁶and has made us a kingdom, priests to God, even His Father, to Him be the glory and the dominion forever and ever. Amen.

⁷Behold, He is coming on the clouds and every eye, even of those who pierced Him, will see Him, and all the tribes^e of the earth will beat their breasts over Him. Truly so, Amen.

⁸"I am the Alpha and the Omega," says the Lord God, "who is and who was and who is coming, the All-Sovereign."

⁹I, John, your brother and partner in the distress and the kingdom and the endurance of Jesus, was on the island called Patmos on account of the message from God and the testimony of Jesus. ¹⁰On the Lord's day I was in the Spirit and heard behind me a voice as loud as a trumpet, ¹¹that said, "Write what you see in a book and dispatch it to the seven churches" — to Ephesus, to Smyrna, to Pergamum, to Thyatira, to Sardis, to Philadelphia, and to Laodicea."

¹²I turned to see whose voice was addressing me, and on turning I saw seven golden lampstands, ¹³and in the center of the lampstands One like the Son of Man, dressed in a robe that reached to the feet and girded around the chest with a golden girdle. ¹⁴His head and hair were white as wool, white as snow; His eyes were like a flame of fire; ¹⁵His feet were like precious ore as it glows in the furnace, and His voice was like the sound of many waters.^f ¹⁶In His right hand He held seven stars; from His mouth there issued a sharp, two-edged sword,

a) Gk. doulos. See note at Matt. 13:27.

b) Seven times in this book the word "blessed" is used, chs. 1:3; 14:13; 16:15; 19:9; 20:6; 22:7, 14. It is translated from the Gk. makarios and means happy. See note at Luke 6:20.

c) Audible reading, may be referred to here, as implied by "those who hear the words."

d) The expression "the seven Spirits" is used also in chs. 3:1; 4:5; 5:6. It appears to allude to the Holy Spirit in His complete ministry, Isa. 11:2, seven often being employed in Scripture to imply perfection or completion. e) Cf. Zech. 12:10-14.

f) These seven churches were all located in the western part of Asia Minor, now Turkey. It is to be assumed that the virtues and faults of these churches were common to all the churches of the latter part of the first century and generally to churches today. Certainly the repeated exhortation, "Whoever has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches," chs. 2:7, 11, 17, 19; 3:6, 13, 22, is addressed to all men and women everywhere in every century.

g) Cf. Dan. 7:9; 10:6.

and His face shone as when the sun shines in its full strength.

¹⁷When I saw Him I fell at His feet as dead. Then He laid His right hand on me and said, "Do not fear. I am the First and the Last ¹⁸and the Living One. I experienced death and behold, I am alive forever and ever, and I possess the keys of death and of its realm. ¹⁹Therefore write what you have seen, both what is now and what will occur hereafter. ²⁰As to the mystery of the seven stars that you saw in My right hand, and of the seven golden lampstands, the seven stars are angels of the seven churches, and the seven lampstands are the seven churches.

2 "TO THE ANGEL OF THE CHURCH in Ephesus write: 'He, who holds the seven stars in His right hand and who walks among the seven golden lampstands, says this:

²"I know your activities, your toil, and your endurance, and how you cannot tolerate wicked men; how you have put to the test those who call themselves apostles though they are not, and you have found them to be impostors. ³You have been patient and have been bearing up because of My name, and you have not become exhausted. ⁴But I hold against you that you have given up your first love. ⁵Therefore, call to mind from what you have fallen, and repent and practice what you did previously; or else, if you do not repent, I shall come to you and remove the lampstand from its place. ⁶You have this, however, that you hate the doings of the Nicolaitans,^h which I hate too. ⁷Whoever has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. I shall grant the victor to eat from the tree of life that stands in the paradise of God."

⁸"To the angel of the church in Smyrna write: "This says the First and the Last, who died and became alive.

⁹"I know your affliction and your poverty (but you are rich) and the slander of those who call themselves Jews but are instead a synagogue of Satan.ⁱ ¹⁰Do not dread what you are to suffer. True, the devil is going to throw some of you into prison, so that you will be tested, and for ten days^j you will have trouble. Be loyal, though it means your death, and I shall give you the crown^k of life. ¹¹Whoever has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. The victor will suffer no hurt from the second death."

¹²"To the angel of the church in Pergamum write: 'He, who has the sharp, double-edged sword, says this:

¹³"I know where you live; Satan's throne^m is there. And you are holding onto My name; you have not renounced faith in Me even in the days when My faithful Antipas,ⁿ who witnessed for Me, was put to death among you, where Satan dwells. ¹⁴I hold a few things against you, though; for you have those there who hold to the doctrine of Balaam,^o who instructed Balak to throw a stumbling block before the sons of Israel, so that they might eat idol offerings and practice immorality. ¹⁵Besides, you have as well those who adhere to the doctrine of the Nicolaitans.^p ¹⁶Therefore, repent. Otherwise I shall shortly come to you, and make war on them with the sword of My mouth. ¹⁷Whoever has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To the victor I shall give some of the hidden manna and I shall give him a white stone, and engraved on the stone a new name, which no one knows except the recipient."

¹⁸"To the angel of the church in Thyatira write: "This says the Son of

h) "Nicolaitans" is the name of a sect that identified itself with Christianity but apparently countenanced loose living.

i) At Smyrna the Jews allied themselves with the pagans in persecuting the Christians.

j) Ten days is probably a figure for a short period. k) See note at Phil. 4:2.

l) The soul's experience of eternal loss.

m) Pergamum's excessive paganism was symbolized by a magnificent altar-platform to Zeus.

n) An otherwise unknown Christian martyr. It is certain that his name is known in heaven.

o) See note at II Pet. 2:15.

p) What is described as "the doings of the Nicolaitans" in the church at Ephesus, vs. 6, was a teaching at Smyrna. q) Cf. Isa. 62:6.

God, whose eyes are like a flame of fire and His feet are like white-hot metal:

19““I know your doings, your love and faith and service and endurance, and that of late you are accomplishing more than at first. 20But I hold against you that you tolerate that woman Jezebel,” who calls herself a prophetess and teaches my servants^s deceitfully to practice immorality and to eat offerings made to idols. 21I have given her time to repent, but she refuses to repent of her immorality. 22Take note: I shall throw her on a sickbed, and those who commit adultery with her into great distress unless they repent of her practices, 23and her children I shall put to death. Then all the churches will know that I am the Searcher of minds and hearts, who rewards each of you according to your works. 24But I say to the rest of you in Thyatira, who neither adhere to this doctrine nor have explored the hidden things of Satan, as they put it, I shall place no further burden on you, 25except that you hold on to what you have until I come. 26To the victor and the one who takes my deeds to heart until the end I shall grant authority over the nations. 27He will rule them with an iron rod as when clay jars are shattered to pieces, just as I received authority^t from My Father. 28I shall also give him the morning star. 29Whoever has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.”

3 “TO THE ANGEL OF THE CHURCH in Sardis write: ‘He who has the seven Spirits^u of God and the seven stars says this:

““I know your doings, that you are said to live but you are dead. 2Be awake and invigorate the things that remain that are at the point of dying; for I have not found your works perfect before My God. 3Call to mind, then, what you have received and heard; observe it and repent. If you do not keep wide-awake, I shall come like a thief and you will have no idea at what hour I shall come upon you. 4You have a few persons in Sardis, however, who have not soiled their clothes.” They will walk with Me in white, because they are deserving. 5Similarly the victor will be dressed in white robes and I shall not erase his name from the Book of Life; I shall confess his name before My Father and before His angels.” 6Whoever has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.”

7“To the angel of the church in Philadelphia write: ‘The Holy, the True, the One who holds David’s key, who opens and no one shuts; who shuts and no one opens, says this:

8““I know your doings. See, I have provided an opened door in front of you, one which no one is able to close; because, while possessing little strength, you have observed My word and have not renounced My name. 9Take note: I shall make those of the synagogue of Satan, who claim to be Jews but are instead impostors—indeed I shall make them come and bow at your feet and acknowledge that I have loved you.” 10Because you have observed the message of My endurance, I also shall preserve you from the hour of trial that is coming upon the whole inhabited world, to put to the test those who live on the earth. 11I am coming soon. Hold fast to what you have, so that no one may rob you of your crown.” 12As for the victor, I shall make him a pillar in the temple of My God; he will leave it nevermore. And I shall inscribe on him the name of My God and the name of the city of My God, the new Jerusalem that is coming down out of heaven from My God, as well as My new name. 13Whoever has an ear let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.”

14“To the angel of the church in Laodicea write: ‘This says the Amen, the faithful and true Witness, the Beginning of the creation of God: 6

r) I Kings 16:31, 32. s) Gk. doulos. See note at Matt. 13:27. t) Ps. 2:7-9.

u) See note at ch. 1:4. v) That is, their Christian character.

w) Cf. Matt. 10:32, 33; Mark 8:38; Luke 12:8, 9. x) Cf. Isa. 43:4; 60:14.

y) See note at Phil. 4:2.

z) That is, He was the source of creation.

15““I know your doings, that you are neither cold nor hot. I wish you were either cold or hot. 16So, because you are lukewarm and neither hot nor cold, I am going to spew you out of My mouth. 17For you say, ‘I am rich; I have grown wealthy; I need nothing,’ and you do not know that you are wretched, pitiable, poor, blind, and naked. 18I advise you to buy from Me gold that has been tested in the fire, in order that you may be wealthy; and white clothes to put on, so that the shame of your nudity may not be shown; and selve^a to put on your eyes, so that you may see. 19The ones I love I correct and discipline; so burn with zeal and repent. 20Behold, I stand at the door and knock. If anyone listens to My voice and opens the door, I shall come in to him and dine with him and he with Me. 21As for the victor, I shall grant him to sit beside Me on My throne, as I also conquered and sat down beside My Father on His throne. 22Whoever has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.””

4 AFTER THIS I LOOKED AND SAW A door standing open in heaven, and the voice I had first heard speaking to me like a trumpet, said, “Come up here, and I shall show you what must take place hereafter.”

2Immediately I came under the Spirit’s power and saw a throne standing in heaven, and One seated on the throne. 3The One^b seated there resembled in appearance a jasper stone and a sardius. And a rainbow that looked like an emerald encircled the throne.

4Surrounding the throne there were twenty-four thrones with twenty-four elders^c sitting on them, clad in white robes and with golden crowns^d on their heads.

5Out from the throne issued lightnings and rumblings and thunderpeals. And seven torches of fire were burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits^e of God. 6Also in front of the throne it was like a glassy sea, as transparent as crystal.

Around the throne, on each side, there were four living beings^f full of eyes in front and behind; 7the first living being was like a lion; the second, like an ox; the third, with a man-like face; and the fourth, like a flying eagle. 8Each of the four living beings had six wings, and each living being was full of eyes all around and within. Neither by day nor by night do they cease saying, “Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, who was, and who is, and who is coming.”

9And whenever the living beings render praise and honor and thanksgiving to the Occupant of the throne, who lives forever and ever, 10the twenty-four elders fall down before the One seated upon the throne and worship Him who lives forever and ever, and they cast their crowns^g before the throne, saying, 11“Thou art worthy, our Lord and God, to receive glory and honor and dominion, because Thou hast created all things, and by Thy will they were and have been created.”

5 I ALSO SAW IN THE RIGHT HAND of Him who was seated on the throne a scroll with writing inside and outside, sealed with seven seals. 2I further saw a mighty angel, who was exclaiming in a loud voice, “Who is worthy to open the scroll and to break its seals?” 3And no one, either in heaven or on earth or under the earth, was able to open the scroll or to look inside it.

4So I cried bitterly because none was found worthy to open the scroll or to look inside it. 5And one of the elders said to me, “Do not weep. You see, the Lion out of the tribe of Judah, the Offspring of David, has conquered, so as to open the scroll and its seven seals.”

6And I saw, standing midway between the throne and the four living

a) In Laodicea Phrygian powders of medicinal value for the eyes were made.

b) Cf. 1 Kings 22:19; Isa. 6:1; Ezek. 1:26-28; Dan. 7:9. c) See note at 1 Tim. 3:1.

d) See note at Phil. 4:2. e) See note at ch. 1:4. f) Cf. the Cherubim, Ezek. 1:5, 18.

g) All that they are and have comes from God.

beings and among the elders, a Lamb as if it had been sacrificed. It had seven horns and seven eyes,^h which are the seven Spiritsⁱ of God dispatched over the whole earth. ⁷He came and took the scroll from the right hand of Him who was seated on the throne; ⁸and when He took the scroll the four living beings and the twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb, each of them having a harp, and holding golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers^j of the saints.^k

⁹And they sing^l a new song, saying, "Thou art worthy to take the scroll and to open its seals, because Thou wast sacrificed and hast bought them for God with Thy blood, out of every tribe and tongue and people and nation, ¹⁰and hast made them a kingdom, and priests to our God, and they shall reign over the earth."

¹¹Then I looked, and I heard the voice of many angels around the throne and the living beings and the elders, and they numbered myriads of myriads and thousands of thousands, ¹²saying with a loud voice, "Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power and wealth and wisdom and strength and honor and glory and blessing."

¹³Then I heard every creature in heaven and on earth and under the earth and on the sea, and everything in them, exclaiming, "To Him who is seated on the throne, and to the Lamb be blessing and honor and glory and dominion forever and ever."

¹⁴The four living beings said, "Amen," and the elders fell down and worshiped.

6 AND I SAW WHEN THE LAMB opened the first of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living beings say with a voice like thunder, "Come!" ²Then I looked and saw a white horse,^m and its rider holding a bow. To him a crown was given, and he went out conquering and to conquer.

³And when He opened the second seal I heard the second living being say, "Come!" ⁴Then another horse, fiery red, went out, and its rider was empowered to take peace from the earth, so that people would kill one another, and a huge sword was given him.

⁵When He opened the third seal I heard the third living being say, "Come!" Then I looked and saw a black horse, and its rider had a pair of scales in his hand. ⁶I also heard a voice in the center of the four living beings, that said, "A quart of wheat for a day's wage" and three quarts of barley for a day's wage, and do not damage the oil and the wine."

⁷When He opened the fourth seal I heard the voice of the fourth living being say, "Come!" ⁸Then I looked and saw an ash-colored horse. The name of its rider was Death, and Hades followed him closely. Authority was granted them over a quarter of the earth, to kill with the sword, with famine, with plague, and by means of the wild beasts of the earth.

⁹When He opened the fifth seal I saw underneath the altar the souls of those who had been slaughtered for the sake of the word of God and the witness they bore. ¹⁰With a loud voice they cried out, "How long, O holy and true Sovereign, before Thou wilt judge and avenge our blood on the inhabitants of the earth?"

¹¹And to each of them was given a white robeⁿ and they were told to rest for a little while longer, until the number of their fellow servants and of their brothers, who were to be killed as they had been, should be complete.

¹²When He opened the sixth seal I saw a tremendous earthquake occur. The sun turned as black as sackcloth and the full moon became like blood.^p

h) The expression "seven horns and seven eyes" symbolizes perfect power and wisdom.

i) See note at ch. 1:4. j) Incense symbolizes prayer. k) See note at Acts 9:13.

l) The present tense suggests that the song remains forever fresh. m) Cf. Zech. 6:1-3.

n) The Gk. word twice rendered "a day's wage" in this verse is denarius. A denarius would be worth about twenty-five cents in mid-twentieth century currency, a day's wage in the first century!

The prices of wheat and barley in this passage suggest famine.

o) A costume that suggests the righteousness of God in Christ that is graciously given to God's believing people. Cf. ch. 7:14. p) Cf. Joel 2:10, 31; Acts 2:19-21.

¹³The stars of heaven fell to the earth as when a fig tree, shaken by a violent wind, drops its unripe fruit. ¹⁴The sky retreated like a scroll that is being rolled up, and every mountain and island was dislodged.

¹⁵Then the kings of the earth and the nobles, the generals, the wealthy, the powerful, yes, everyone, slave and free, hid themselves in the caves and in the mountain rocks, ¹⁶and called to the mountains and to the rocks, "Fall on us and hide us from the presence of the One who is seated on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb; ¹⁷for the great day of Their wrath has come, and who is able to stand?"^q

7 FOLLOWING THIS I SAW FOUR ANGELS stationed at the four corners of the earth, restraining the four winds of the earth, so that no wind might blow on land or sea or on any tree. ²I also observed another angel ascending from the sunrise, holding a seal from the living God. He shouted with a loud voice to the four angels, who had been empowered to injure the earth and the sea: ³"Injure neither the earth nor the sea nor the trees until we have sealed the servants^r of our God upon their foreheads."

⁴And I heard the number of those sealed out of every tribe of Israel's sons, one hundred forty-four thousand. ⁵Of the tribe of Judah twelve thousand were sealed; of the tribe of Reuben, twelve thousand; of the tribe of Gad, twelve thousand; ⁶of the tribe of Asher, twelve thousand; of the tribe of Naphtali, twelve thousand; of the tribe of Manasseh, twelve thousand; ⁷of the tribe of Simeon, twelve thousand; of the tribe of Levi, twelve thousand; of the tribe of Issachar, twelve thousand; ⁸of the tribe of Zebulun, twelve thousand; of the tribe of Joseph, twelve thousand; of the tribe of Benjamin, twelve thousand were sealed.

⁹After this I looked and there was a vast host that no one could count out of all nations and tribes and peoples and tongues, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, clothed in white robes and with palm branches^s in their hands. ¹⁰And they shouted with a loud voice: "Salvation is due to our God, who is seated on the throne, and to the Lamb."

¹¹Then all the angels stood surrounding the throne, the elders and the four living beings, and fell on their faces before the throne and worshiped God, ¹²saying, "Amen! Blessing and glory, wisdom and thanksgiving, honor, dominion, and power be to our God forever and ever. Amen."

¹³Addressing me, one of the elders then asked, "These who are wearing white robes, who are they and from where have they come?" ¹⁴I said to him, "Sir, you know." Then he told me, "These are the ones who have come out of the great tribulation, and they have washed their robes and have made them white in the blood of the Lamb. ¹⁵For this reason they are before God's throne, and day and night they serve Him in His temple,^t while He who sits on the throne spreads His tent over them. ¹⁶They will nevermore either hunger or thirst, nor will the sun or any scorching heat whatever beat upon them; ¹⁷for the Lamb, who is in the center of the throne, will shepherd them and will lead them to springs of living water. And God will wipe away all tears from their eyes."

8 WHEN THE LAMB OPENED THE seventh seal, there was silence in heaven for about half an hour.

²Then I saw the seven angels who were standing before God, and they were given seven trumpets. ³Also another angel with a golden censer came and stood at the altar. A vast quantity of incense^u was given him, so that he might place it on the golden altar before the throne with the prayers of all the saints.^v ⁴And the smoke of the incense arose before God from the angel's hand, with the prayers of the saints. ⁵Then the angel took the cen-

q) Isa. 2:19. r) Gk. doulos. See note at Matt. 13:27. s) In celebration of victory.

t) All believers are priests before God, chs. 1:6; 5:10.

u) In the temple the golden incense altar belonged in the Holy of Holies. v) See note at Acts 9:13.

ser and filled it with fire from the altar and poured it on the earth, and there followed thunderpeals, rumblings, lightning flashes, and an earthquake.

⁶And the seven angels with trumpets got themselves ready to blow them. ⁷The first angel blew his trumpet, and there came hail and fire mixed with blood, that was poured on the earth, so that one-third of the earth and of the trees was burned up, and all the green grass.^w

⁸Then the second angel blew his trumpet, and something like an immense mountain ablaze with fire was hurled into the sea, so that one-third of the sea turned to blood, ⁹and a third of the living creatures in the sea died, and a third of the ships were destroyed.

¹⁰The third angel blew his trumpet, and a huge star, blazing like a torch, fell from the sky and came down on one-third of the rivers and on the water springs.^x ¹¹The star's name is Wormwood, and one-third of the waters turned to wormwood. Many people died from the water, because it had turned bitter.

¹²The fourth angel blew his trumpet, and a blight fell on one-third of the sun, of the moon, and of the stars, so that a third part of them was darkened; no light shone for a third of the day, nor for a third of the night.

¹³Then I looked, and I heard an eagle flying in mid-heaven, that cried with a loud voice, "Woe, woe, woe, for the inhabitants of the earth, because of the remaining trumpet blasts of the three angels who are about to sound."

9 THE FIFTH ANGEL BLEW HIS trumpet, and I saw a star² that had fallen to the earth from heaven, to whom was given the key to the pit of the abyss. ²He opened the pit of the abyss, and smoke whirled upward from the pit like the smoke of a gigantic furnace, so that the sun and the air were darkened by the smoke from the pit.

³Out of the smoke locusts went forth on the earth, and such power was granted them as the earth's scorpions possess. ⁴They were told not to damage the earth's grass, neither any vegetation, nor any tree, but only the persons who do not have the seal of God on their foreheads. ⁵Power was granted them, not to kill them but for five months to torture them, and their torture was like that of a scorpion that stings a person. ⁶During those days people will seek death without finding it; they will be anxious to die, but death evades them.

⁷The locusts looked like horses equipped for battle.^a On their heads were something like golden crowns, their faces were like human faces, ⁸their hair was like that of women, and their teeth were like lion's teeth, ⁹their scales were like breastplates that seemed made of steel, and the drone of their wings was like the roar of many horse-drawn chariots charging into battle.

¹⁰They have tails with stings like scorpions, and power in their tails to hurt mankind for five months. ¹¹They have as king over them the angel of the abyss, whose name in Hebrew is Abaddon and in Greek Apollyon.^b ¹²The first woe is past; two woes are still to follow.

¹³The sixth angel blew his trumpet, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar^c before God. ¹⁴saying to the sixth angel with the trumpet, "Release the four angels that are bound at the great river Euphrates." ¹⁵So the four angels, who were in readiness for that hour and day and month and year, were set free to kill one-third of mankind. ¹⁶The number of their divisions of cavalry was two hundred million. I heard their number.

¹⁷In my vision the horses and their riders looked like this: the riders wore breastplates as red as fire, as blue as sapphire, and as yellow as sulphur. The horses' heads resembled lions'

w) Of the third of the earth that was burned up. x) Supplying one-third of the rivers.

y) Isa. 13:10; Joel 2:31; Matt. 24:29; cf. Exod. 10:21-23.

z) The context shows this to be a person. a) Cf. Joel 2:4-7.

b) "Abaddon," Gk. Abaddon from a Heb. noun, means Destruction; "Apollyon," Gk. Apolluon, means Destroyer. c) The golden altar is associated with the prayers of the saints, ch. 8:2-4.

heads, and out of their mouths poured fire and smoke and sulphur.

¹⁸By these three plagues one-third of mankind was killed, by the fire, by the smoke, and by the sulphur that streamed out of their mouths. ¹⁹For the horses' power lies in their mouths and in their tails; their tails are like serpents; they have heads, and with them they do harm.

²⁰But the rest of humanity, who were not killed by those plagues, did not repent from the works of their hands, so as to cease worshipping demons and the idols of gold, silver, bronze, stone, and wood, that can neither see nor hear nor walk. ²¹Nor did they repent of their murders, or of their magic arts, or of their immorality, or of their thefts.

10 THEN^d I SAW ANOTHER MIGHTY angel descend from heaven, robed in a cloud, with a rainbow over his head. His face was like the sun; his legs resembled fiery pillars, ²and he held an opened little scroll in his hand. His right foot he placed on the sea, and his left foot on the land, ³while with a loud voice like the roar of a lion he gave a shout. And as he shouted, the seven thunders raised their voices.

⁴When the seven thunders had spoken, I was going to write; but I heard a voice from heaven that said, "Seal up what the seven thunders have spoken and do not write it."

⁵Then the angel whom I saw standing on the sea and on the land lifted his hand heavenward ⁶and swore by Him who lives forever and ever, who created the heaven and what it contains, also the earth and what is in it, and the sea with everything in it, "There shall be no further delay; ⁷but in the days of the seventh angel's trumpet blast, when he is at the point of blowing it, the mystery of God will reach completion in agreement with the good news He gave His servants" the prophets."

⁸Then the voice from heaven which I heard, addressed me again and said, "Go and take the little, opened scroll that is in the hand of the angel who is standing on the sea and on the land." ⁹So I went to the angel, asking him to give me the little scroll.

He told me, "Take and eat it! It will be bitter in your stomach, but in your mouth it will be sweet as honey."

¹⁰So I took the little scroll from the angel's hand and ate it, and in my mouth it was as sweet as honey, but when I had eaten it, my stomach was made bitter. ¹¹Then he told me, "You must prophesy again about many peoples and nations and tongues and kings."

11 AND THERE WAS GIVEN ME A measuring reed like a rod, and I was told:

"Rise and measure the temple of God and the altar, and count those worshipping in it, ²but omit the outer court of the temple; do not measure it, because it has been given to the Gentiles. They will trample the holy city under foot for forty-two months.^e ³And I shall allow My two witnesses to prophesy for twelve hundred sixty days, clad in sackcloth.

⁴These witnesses are the two olive trees and the two lamps that are standing before the Lord of the earth.^h ⁵If anyone wants to hurt them, fire issues from their mouths and consumes their enemies. Should anyone wish to injure them, he must be killed in that way.

⁶"These two have power to shut up the sky,ⁱ so that no rain may fall during the days of their prophecy; they also have power over the waters, to turn them into blood,^j and to scourge the earth with every kind of plague as often as they desire.

⁷"When they shall have finished

d) An interlude between the sixth and seventh trumpets, chs. 10:1-11:13.

e) Gk. doulos. See note at Matt. 13:27.

f) Cf. Jer. 15:16; Ezek. 3:3. To "eat" the scroll symbolizes appropriating God's message.

g) Forty-two months; 1260 days; three and one-half years; a time, times, and half a time — all signify the same period of time. Cf. chs. 12:6, 14; 13:5; Dan. 9:27; 12:7.

h) Cf. ch. 1:12, 20; Zech. 4:2, 3. i) Cf. 1 Kings 17:1; James 5:17. j) Cf. Exod. 7:14-25.

ser and filled it with fire from the altar and poured it on the earth, and there followed thunderpeals, rumblings, lightning flashes, and an earthquake.

⁶And the seven angels with trumpets got themselves ready to blow them. ⁷The first angel blew his trumpet, and there came hail and fire mixed with blood, that was poured on the earth, so that one-third of the earth and of the trees was burned up, and all the green grass.^w

⁸Then the second angel blew his trumpet, and something like an immense mountain ablaze with fire was hurled into the sea, so that one-third of the sea turned to blood, ⁹and a third of the living creatures in the sea died, and a third of the ships were destroyed.

¹⁰The third angel blew his trumpet, and a huge star, blazing like a torch, fell from the sky and came down on one-third of the rivers and on the water springs.^x ¹¹The star's name is Wormwood, and one-third of the waters turned to wormwood. Many people died from the water, because it had turned bitter.

¹²The fourth angel blew his trumpet, and a blight fell on one-third of the sun, of the moon, and of the stars, so that a third part of them was darkened; no light shone for a third of the day, nor for a third of the night.

¹³Then I looked, and I heard an eagle flying in mid-heaven, that cried with a loud voice, "Woe, woe, woe, for the inhabitants of the earth, because of the remaining trumpet blasts of the three angels who are about to sound."

9 THE FIFTH ANGEL BLEW HIS trumpet, and I saw a star^z that had fallen to the earth from heaven, to whom was given the key to the pit of the abyss. ²He opened the pit of the abyss, and smoke whirled upward from the pit like the smoke of a gigantic furnace, so that the sun and the air were darkened by the smoke from the pit.

³Out of the smoke locusts went forth on the earth, and such power was granted them as the earth's scorpions possess. ⁴They were told not to damage the earth's grass, neither any vegetation, nor any tree, but only the persons who do not have the seal of God on their foreheads. ⁵Power was granted them, not to kill them but for five months to torture them, and their torture was like that of a scorpion that stings a person. ⁶During those days people will seek death without finding it; they will be anxious to die, but death evades them.

⁷The locusts looked like horses equipped for battle.^a On their heads were something like golden crowns, their faces were like human faces, ⁸their hair was like that of women, and their teeth were like lion's teeth, ⁹their scales were like breastplates that seemed made of steel, and the drone of their wings was like the roar of many horse-drawn chariots charging into battle.

¹⁰They have tails with stings like scorpions, and power in their tails to hurt mankind for five months. ¹¹They have as king over them the angel of the abyss, whose name in Hebrew is Abaddon and in Greek Apollyon.^b ¹²The first woe is past; two woes are still to follow.

¹³The sixth angel blew his trumpet, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar^c before God, ¹⁴saying to the sixth angel with the trumpet, "Release the four angels that are bound at the great river Euphrates." ¹⁵So the four angels, who were in readiness for that hour and day and month and year, were set free to kill one-third of mankind. ¹⁶The number of their divisions of cavalry was two hundred million. I heard their number.

¹⁷In my vision the horses and their riders looked like this: the riders wore breastplates as red as fire, as blue as sapphire, and as yellow as sulphur. The horses' heads resembled lions'

w) Of the third of the earth that was burned up. x) Supplying one-third of the rivers.

y) Isa. 13:10; Joel 2:31; Matt. 24:29; cf. Exod. 10:21-23.

z) The context shows this to be a person. a) Cf. Joel 2:4-7.

b) "Abaddon," Gk. Abaddon from a Heb. noun, means Destruction; "Apollyon," Gk. Apolluon, means Destroyer.

c) The golden altar is associated with the prayers of the saints, ch. 8:2-4.

heads, and out of their mouths poured fire and smoke and sulphur.

¹⁸By these three plagues one-third of mankind was killed, by the fire, by the smoke, and by the sulphur that streamed out of their mouths. ¹⁹For the horses' power lies in their mouths and in their tails; their tails are like serpents; they have heads, and with them they do harm.

²⁰But the rest of humanity, who were not killed by those plagues, did not repent from the works of their hands, so as to cease worshiping demons and the idols of gold, silver, bronze, stone, and wood, that can neither see nor hear nor walk. ²¹Nor did they repent of their murders, or of their magic arts, or of their immorality, or of their thefts.

10 THEN^d I SAW ANOTHER MIGHTY angel descend from heaven, robed in a cloud, with a rainbow over his head. His face was like the sun; his legs resembled fiery pillars, ²and he held an opened little scroll in his hand. His right foot he placed on the sea, and his left foot on the land, ³while with a loud voice like the roar of a lion he gave a shout. And as he shouted, the seven thunders raised their voices.

⁴When the seven thunders had spoken, I was going to write; but I heard a voice from heaven that said, "Seal up what the seven thunders have spoken and do not write it."

⁵Then the angel whom I saw standing on the sea and on the land lifted his hand heavenward ⁶and swore by Him who lives forever and ever, who created the heaven and what it contains, also the earth and what is in it, and the sea with everything in it, "There shall be no further delay; ⁷but in the days of the seventh angel's trumpet blast, when he is at the point of blowing it, the mystery of God will reach completion in agreement with the good news He gave His servants^e the prophets."

⁸Then the voice from heaven which I heard, addressed me again and said, "Go and take the little, opened scroll that is in the hand of the angel who is standing on the sea and on the land." ⁹So I went to the angel, asking him to give me the little scroll.

He told me, "Take and eat it! It will be bitter in your stomach, but in your mouth it will be sweet as honey."^f

¹⁰So I took the little scroll from the angel's hand and ate it, and in my mouth it was as sweet as honey, but when I had eaten it, my stomach was made bitter. ¹¹Then he told me, "You must prophesy again about many peoples and nations and tongues and kings."

11 AND THERE WAS GIVEN ME A measuring reed like a rod, and I was told:

"Rise and measure the temple of God and the altar, and count those worshiping in it, ²but omit the outer court of the temple; do not measure it, because it has been given to the Gentiles. They will trample the holy city under foot for forty-two months.^g ³And I shall allow My two witnesses to prophesy for twelve hundred sixty days, clad in sackcloth.

⁴"These witnesses are the two olive trees and the two lamps that are standing before the Lord of the earth.^h ⁵If anyone wants to hurt them, fire issues from their mouths and consumes their enemies. Should anyone wish to injure them, he must be killed in that way.

⁶"These two have power to shut up the sky,ⁱ so that no rain may fall during the days of their prophecy; they also have power over the waters, to turn them into blood,^j and to scourge the earth with every kind of plague as often as they desire.

⁷"When they shall have finished

d) An interlude between the sixth and seventh trumpets, chs. 10:1-11:13.

e) Gk. doulos. See note at Matt. 13:27.

f) Cf. Jer. 15:16; Ezek. 3:3. To "eat" the scroll symbolizes appropriating God's message.

g) Forty-two months; 1260 days; three and one-half years; a time, times, and half a time — all signify the same period of time. Cf. chs. 12:6, 14; 13:5; Dan. 9:27; 12:7.

h) Cf. ch. 1:12, 20; Zech. 4:2, 3. i) Cf. 1 Kings 17:1; James 5:17. j) Cf. Exod. 7:14-25.

their testimony, the beast^k that comes up from the abyss will make war against them, and will conquer them and kill them. ⁸Their dead bodies will lie in the streets of the great city^l that is spiritually called Sodom and Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified. ⁹And they of the peoples and tribes and tongues and nations will gaze at their dead bodies for three and a half days; they will not allow the bodies to be entombed. ¹⁰Those dwelling on the earth will rejoice over them and will celebrate; they will send one another gifts, because the two prophets had been vexing the dwellers on the earth."

¹¹And after the three and a half days the breath of life from God entered them, so that they rose to their feet; and great fear fell on those who saw them. ¹²The two heard a loud voice calling to them from heaven, "Come up here." And they ascended in a cloud into heaven while their enemies saw them.

¹³At that very hour there was a tremendous earthquake; one-tenth of the city collapsed and seven thousand persons were killed in the earthquake. Then the survivors were terrified and ascribed glory to the God of heaven.

¹⁴The second woe is past. The third woe is speedily approaching.

¹⁵The seventh angel blew his trumpet, and there were loud voices in heaven: "The kingdom of the world has become that of our Lord and of His Christ, and He shall reign forever and ever."

¹⁶Then the twenty-four elders who were seated on their thrones before God, fell on their faces and worshiped God, ¹⁷exclaiming, "We give Thee thanks, Lord God Almighty, who is and who was, because Thou hast assumed Thy great power and hast begun to reign. ¹⁸The nations raged^m and Thy wrath has been realized; also the time for the judging of the dead and for the rewarding of Thy bond servantsⁿ the prophets and the saints"^o—in fact, all those who revere Thy name both small and great; also for the destruction of those who are destroying the earth."

¹⁹Then the temple of God in heaven was opened, and the ark of His covenant was seen in His sanctuary,^p and there were lightning flashes, rumblings, peals of thunder, an earthquake, and a terrific hailstorm.

12 A GREAT PORTENT THEN APPEARED in heaven: a woman robed with the sun, with the moon under her feet and a crown of twelve stars on her head, ²was pregnant, and as she agonized in the pangs of her delivery, she cried out.

³Then another portent appeared in heaven. There was a gigantic, fiery-red dragon^q with seven heads and ten horns, and on his heads seven diadems. ⁴His tail swept away a third of the stars of heaven and hurled them to the ground.

The dragon then stationed himself in front of the woman, who was about to give birth, so he might devour her child as soon as it was born.

⁵She gave birth to a son, a male child, destined to rule all nations with an iron rod.^r Her child was then snatched away up to God and to His throne, ⁶while the woman^s fled into the wilderness, where God had a retreat prepared for her to be cared for there during twelve hundred sixty days.

⁷Then war developed in heaven, Michael and his angels battling against the dragon, and the dragon with his angels waging war; ⁸but they were defeated; there was no longer any place for them in heaven. ⁹And the

k) Chs. 13; 17. l) The scene is laid on earth, in Jerusalem. m) Ps. 2:1-5.

n) Gk. doulos. See note at Matt. 13:27. o) See note at Acts 9:13.

p) This may be a symbol of God's carrying through His covenant of grace to the end.

q) Satan, vs. 9.

r) The Messiah, of whom alone this is predicted, Ps. 2:7-9.

s) Identifications of the woman differ. An ancient interpretation, still held by many, is that she represents God's believing people in both the O.T. and N.T. Roman Catholics say that she is the virgin Mary. But many other commentators identify her with Israel, through which nation the Messiah came.

great dragon, the serpent of old, called the devil and Satan,¹ the deceiver of all humanity, was forced out and hurled to the earth, and his angels were flung out along with him.

¹⁰Then I heard a strong voice proclaiming in heaven, "Now have come the salvation, and the power, and the kingdom of our God, and the authority of His Christ, for the accuser of our brothers, who kept accusing them day and night in the presence of our God, has been thrown out. ¹¹And they have conquered him by means of the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony; they have not loved their lives, even to the point of death. ¹²Be joyful, therefore, you heavens and those who dwell in them. Woe to the earth and the sea, because the devil has come down to you with raging anger, well aware that he has but a short season."

¹³When the dragon saw that he had been hurled to the earth, he went in pursuit of the woman who had given birth to the male child; ¹⁴but to the woman were granted two wings of a giant eagle, so that she might fly to her retreat in the wilderness where, away from the presence of the serpent, she will be cared for during a time, times, and half a time.^u

¹⁵The serpent poured water like a river out of his mouth after the woman, that she might be swept away by the stream, but the earth came to the woman's aid; ¹⁶the earth opened its mouth and swallowed the river which the dragon had poured from his mouth. ¹⁷And the dragon, enraged at the woman, went off to wage war against the rest of her offspring, who observe the commands of God and adhere to the testimony of Jesus. And he^v stood on the sandy seashore.

13 AND I SAW A BEAST COMING UP out of the sea with ten horns and seven heads, with ten diadems on his horns, and a blasphemous name upon his heads. ²The beast I saw resembled a leopard, and his feet were like those of a bear, and his mouth like that of a lion. The dragon invested him with his power and his throne and great authority. ³One of his heads seemed fatally wounded. His mortal wound was healed, however, and the whole earth followed the beast in wonder. ⁴They worshiped the dragon, because he had bestowed authority on the beast; they also worshiped the beast, saying, "Who matches the beast, and who is able to war against him?"

⁵He was also given a mouth to speak proud words, to utter blasphemies, and he was granted the power to exercise authority for forty-two months. ⁶So he opened his mouth to utter blasphemies against God, to blaspheme His name and His abode and those who dwell in heaven. ⁷And he was allowed to make war against the saints^w and to conquer them, and authority was given him over every tribe and people and language and nation.

⁸All those who live on earth, whose names are not recorded in the Book of Life of the Lamb that was slain from the foundation of the world, will worship him. ⁹Whoever has an ear, let him hear. ¹⁰Whoever is to be led into captivity will be led into captivity; whoever kills with the sword must be killed by the sword. In this way the saints exercise their endurance and their faith.

¹¹Then I saw another beast who came up from the land. He had two horns like a lamb and spoke like a dragon. ¹²He exercises the full authority of the first beast in his presence, and he makes the earth and those living in it worship the first beast, whose mortal wound had been healed. ¹³He also performs impressive miracles; for instance, he causes fire to descend from heaven to the earth in the presence of the people. ¹⁴By means of the wonders he is allowed to perform in the presence of the beast, he leads those living on the earth astray,

t) Although Satan fell from heaven when he sinned, cf. Isa. 14:12, 13; Luke 10:18, God has allowed him access to heaven and authority in the universe, Job 1:6; Zech. 3:1; Eph. 2:2. Satan's final judgment is stated in ch. 20:10. u) Cf. vs. 6; ch. 13:5. See note at ch. 11:2.

v) Some ancient manuscripts read here, "And I stood," and place this sentence at the beginning of ch. 13. The most reliable Gk. texts place it here at the end of ch. 12. w) See note at Acts 9:13.

telling the earth's inhabitants to erect a statue to the beast that had the wound by the sword and came back to life.

¹⁵He was further permitted to infuse breath into the beast's statue, so that the beast's image might speak and to bring it about that those who did not worship the beast's statue should be killed. ¹⁶He also compelled all, the small and the great, the rich and the poor, the freemen and the slaves, to have a mark put on their right hands or on their foreheads, ¹⁷so that no one might be able to buy or sell unless he bore the mark of the beast's name or the number corresponding to his name. ¹⁸Here intelligence comes in. Let him who has the mind for it calculate the number of the beast, for it is a man's number, and his number is six hundred sixty-six.^x

14 THEN I LOOKED AND SAW THE Lamb standing on Mount Zion, and with Him one hundred forty-four thousand,^y who had His name and His Father's name inscribed on their foreheads. ²And I heard a voice from heaven like the sound of many waters and like the peals of loud thunder. I then heard the music as of harpists playing on their harps.

³They were singing a new song before the throne and in the presence of the four living beings, and of the elders, and none was able to sing the song except the one hundred forty-four thousand who were redeemed from the earth. ⁴They are those who have not defiled themselves with women,^z for they are celibates. They are those who follow the Lamb wherever He goes. These were redeemed from mankind as first fruits for God and for the Lamb. ⁵No lie was ever found on their lips; they are faultless.

⁶Then I saw another angel, flying in mid-air with everlasting good news to proclaim to those living on the earth — to every nation and tribe and tongue and people. ⁷With a mighty voice he said, "Revere God and ascribe to Him glory, for the hour of His judgment has arrived; so worship the Maker of heaven and earth and sea and watersprings."

⁸Another, a second angel, succeeded him, who said, "She is fallen, fallen, Babylon^a the great, who made all the nations drink of the wine of her passionate immorality."

⁹Then another angel, a third, followed them, who said with a loud voice, "Whoever worships the beast and his statue and receives the mark on his forehead or on his hand, ¹⁰shall drink of the wine of God's wrath that has been mixed undiluted in the cup of His anger, and he shall be tortured with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels and of the Lamb." ¹¹The smoke of their torture ascends forever and ever, and the worshipers of the beast and of his statue, as well as anyone with the mark of his name, will enjoy no rest day or night.^b

¹²Here comes in the endurance of the saints^c who observe the commands of God and keep their faith in Jesus.

¹³I further heard a voice from heaven that said, "Write: Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on." "Yes," says the Spirit, "that they may rest from their labors; for the results of their labors follow them."

¹⁴Then I looked and saw a white cloud, and One seated on the cloud. One like the Son of Man.^d On His head He wore a golden crown, and in His hand was a sharp scythe. ¹⁵Another angel came out of the temple,^e who shouted with a loud voice to the One seated on the cloud: "Thrust in your scythe and reap, for harvest time has come,^f because the earth's harvest is overripe." ¹⁶So the One seated on the cloud swung his scythe on the earth, and the earth was harvested.

¹⁷Again, another angel came out

x) Since six falls short of number seven, which in Scripture implies perfection or completion, multiples of six magnify its connotation of failure. y) Cf. ch. 7:4.

z) In the Bible marriage never implies defilement. Discipleship requires complete dedication to Christ in spiritual celibacy, however.

a) Not the Babel or Babylon of the O.T., Gen. 10:10; Isa. 13:1; Dan. 1:1, etc., but a symbolic name for Rome.

b) Contrast ch. 4:8. c) See note at Acts 9:13. d) In anticipation of chs. 19, 20.

e) That is, in heaven. f) Cf. Jer. 51:33; Joel 3:13.

from the heavenly temple, who also had a sharp scythe. ¹⁸Yet another angel came forth from the altar, who had authority over fire, and he called with a loud voice to the one with the sharp scythe, "Thrust in your sharp scythe, and harvest the clusters of earth's grapevines, for its grapes are overripe."

¹⁹So the angel swung his scythe on the earth and gathered the fruit of earth's grapevine, and threw it into the great wine press of God's wrath. ²⁰Outside the city the wine press was trodden and blood flowed out of the wine press, so that for two hundred miles it came up to the horses' bridles.

15 THEN I SAW ANOTHER PORTENT in heaven, great and marvelous — seven angels with seven plagues;^g the last seven, because with them God's wrath is completed.

²And I saw something like a glassy sea mixed with fire, and those coming off victorious over the beast and over his statue and over the number corresponding to its name; I saw them standing on the sea of glass, holding the harps of God. ³They sang the song of Moses,^h the bond servantⁱ of God, and the song of the Lamb:^j "Great and marvelous are Thy works, Lord God the Omnipotent; just and true are Thy ways, O King of the nations. ⁴Who will not revere and glorify Thy name, O Lord? For Thou alone art holy. For all the nations shall come and worship before Thee, because Thy sentences of judgment have been made known."

⁵After this I looked, and the sanctuary of the tent of witness in heaven was opened, ⁶and out of the sanctuary came the seven angels holding the seven plagues. They were clad in pure, resplendent linen, and wore golden girdles around their chests.

⁷Then one of the four living creatures handed the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the wrath of God, who lives forever and ever, ⁸and the tabernacle became filled with smoke from the glory and the power of God. And no one was able to enter the temple until the seven plagues of the seven angels were finished.

16 AND I HEARD A LOUD VOICE from the temple say to the seven angels, "Go your way and pour out on the earth the seven bowls of God's wrath." ²So the first angel departed and emptied his bowl upon the earth. And a loathsome and malignant ulcer attacked the men who bore the mark of the beast and worshiped its statue.

³The second angel poured out his bowl upon the sea, so that it turned to blood as of a corpse, and every living creature that was in the sea died.

⁴The third angel poured out his bowl upon the rivers and the springs of waters, so that they turned to blood.

⁵And I heard the angel of the waters say, "Thou who art and who wast, the Holy One, art just in Thy judgments. ⁶Because they have poured out the blood of saints and prophets, Thou also hast given them blood to drink. They deserve it." ⁷And from the altar I heard a response,^k "Yes, Lord God Almighty, Thy judgments are true and just."

⁸The fourth angel poured out his bowl upon the sun, and it was permitted to scorch humanity with heat. ⁹People were scorched with terrible heat and they blasphemed the name of God, who has control over these plagues. Yet they did not repent so as to give Him glory.

¹⁰The fifth angel emptied his bowl upon the throne of the beast; his kingdom was plunged in darkness, and people gnawed their tongues from pain. ¹¹They blasphemed the God of heaven for their sufferings and their sores, yet they did not repent of their practices.

¹²The sixth angel poured out his bowl upon the great river, the Euphrates, and its waters dried up, so that the highway of the kings from the east might be made ready.

¹³Then I saw coming out of the

g) The third woe, composed of seven plagues.

h) Exod. 15:1-21, the song of Moses after Pharaoh's armies were engulfed in the Red Sea.

i) GK. doulou. See note at Matt. 13:27. j) A song of righteousness and mercy.

k) See ch. 6:9 for the source of this response.

mouth of the dragon and from the mouth of the beast and from the mouth of the false prophet,¹ three unclean spirits like frogs. ¹⁴For they are spirits of demons that work miracles. They go out to the kings of the whole world to muster them for the war of the Sovereign God's great Day. ¹⁵"See, I come like a thief. Blessed is the alert one who takes care of his clothes so that he will not go around naked and people see his shame." ¹⁶So they mustered them at the place called in Hebrew, Armageddon.^m ¹⁷The seventh angel emptied his bowl into the air, and a loud voice came out of the sanctuary from the throne, saying, "It is finished!" ¹⁸Then there followed lightning flashes, rumblings and thunderpeals, and such a tremendous earthquake as had never occurred since man existed on the earth, so extensive and severe was it. ¹⁹The great city split into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell. God remembered great Babylon,ⁿ and made her drink the cup of His furious wrath.

²⁰Then every island fled, and mountains could not be found. ²¹Hailstones, as big as hundredweights, fell down from the sky upon the people. And the people blasphemed God for the plague of the hail, because it was so fearful.

17 THEN ONE OF THE SEVEN ANGELS with the seven bowls came and talked with me, saying, "Come this way. I shall show you the doom of the great harlot^o who is seated on many waters. ²The kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the inhabitants of the earth have become intoxicated with the wine of her immorality."

³So he carried me away in the Spirit into a wilderness. And I saw a woman seated upon a scarlet beast covered with blasphemous titles. It had seven heads and ten horns. ⁴The woman was robed in purple and scarlet, and gilded with gold, a precious stone, and pearls. In her hand she held a gold cup, full of the abominations and impurities of her immorality. ⁵On her forehead a symbolic title was inscribed, "Babylon, the great, the mother of the harlots and of the abominations of the earth."

⁶I saw the woman drunk with the blood of the saints and with the blood of those who witnessed for Jesus, and on seeing her I was utterly amazed. ⁷But the angel said to me, "Why are you amazed? I will tell you the mystic meaning of the woman, and of the beast with the seven heads and the ten horns, that carries her. ⁸The beast that you saw was and is not, and it is to ascend from the abyss and to go on to destruction. The dwellers of the earth, whose names are not inscribed in the Book of Life from the foundation of the world, will be amazed when they look at the beast because he was and is not and is coming.

⁹"Here is something for a mind having wisdom to ponder. The seven heads are seven hills on which the woman is seated. ¹⁰They also are seven kings; five have fallen, one is reigning, the other has not yet come; and when he does come, he must stay for a little while. ¹¹The beast that was and is not, is himself an eighth king; he springs from the seven and goes on to destruction.

¹²"The ten horns you saw are ten kings,^p who have not as yet received a kingdom; but for one hour they will receive royal authority along with the beast. ¹³These have one purpose; they give over power and authority to the beast. ¹⁴They will war against the Lamb, and the Lamb will conquer them, for He is Lord of lords and King of kings; while those with Him are called, chosen, and loyal."

¹⁵Then he said to me, "The waters you saw, where the harlot sits, are peoples and crowds and nations and languages. ¹⁶The ten horns you saw and the beast, these will hate the harlot and will make her desolate and naked; they will consume her flesh

1) The false prophet seems to be identified with the beast of ch. 13:11.

m) Identical with Megiddo, Judg. 5:19; II Kings 9:27; 23:29.

n) Cf. chs. 14:8; 17:5, 18. Babylon is a symbolic name for Rome. o) See vs. 18.

p) Subservient to the beast.

and will burn her up with fire. ¹⁷For God has put into their hearts to work His purpose, and to act harmoniously in handing their kingdom to the beast until the words of God should be fulfilled. ¹⁸And the woman you saw is the great city that has dominion over the kings of the earth."

18 AFTER THESE THINGS I SAW another angel descending from heaven, possessed of great authority, and the earth was illuminated by his splendor. ²With a mighty voice he shouted out: "She is fallen, fallen, Babylon the great! She has become a resort for demons; a haunt for every unclean spirit; a refuge for every filthy and detested bird. ³For all the nations have drunk of the wine of her passionate immorality, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth have grown rich on her abundance of wantonness."

⁴Then I heard another voice from heaven^a say, "Come away from her, My people, that you may not participate in her sins, neither be visited by her plagues; ⁵for her sins have piled up to reach heaven, and God has remembered her crimes. ⁶Repay her as she has paid; give her even double for what she has done; in the cup she mixed, mix her a double potion. ⁷As she has glorified herself and has lived in sensuality, to that measure impose on her torture and grief. Because in her heart she says, 'I sit as queen;' I am no widow, and I shall never see sorrow,' ⁸therefore on a single day her plagues will be upon her, pestilence, mourning, and famine, and with fire she shall be burned up. For the Lord God, who judges her, is mighty.

⁹"The kings of the earth, who committed fornication and were wanton with her, shall weep and beat their breasts over her, when they look at the smoke of her conflagration." ¹⁰Standing at considerable distance because dreading her torture, they shall exclaim, 'Woe, woe, for the great city, for Babylon the mighty city; for her judgment is come in a single hour.' ¹¹And the earth's merchants^t will weep and mourn over her, because no one will any longer buy their cargo, ¹²their cargo of gold, silver, precious stones, pearls, fine linen, purple, silk, and scarlet, besides all kinds of citron wood, all sorts of ivory articles and objects made of costly wood, of bronze, iron, and marble; ¹³also cinnamon, spice, incense, perfume, frankincense, wine and olive oil, fine flour and wheat, cattle, sheep, horses and chariots, bodies and souls of men.

¹⁴"The fruit for which your soul longed is out of your reach; all the elegance and the glitter you enjoyed are lost to you and never again will they be found.

¹⁵"The merchants of these products, who grew rich from her trade, will stand a long way off in terror of her torture, weeping and mourning, ¹⁶and exclaiming, 'Woe, woe, for the great city that was dressed in fine linen, purple and scarlet and gilded with gold and precious stones and pearls, ¹⁷for in a single hour all this wealth has been laid waste.'

"Every pilot," too, and all who sail the seas, mariners and all who work the sea for their living, stood at a distance ¹⁸and cried out as they looked at the smoke of her conflagration, 'What city was as great as this?' ¹⁹They threw dust on their heads^v and shouted as they wept and mourned, 'Woe, woe, for the great city where all who had ships at sea grew wealthy from her great wealth! For in a single hour she has been laid waste.'

²⁰"Rejoice over her, O heaven, and you saints^w and apostles and prophets, for on your behalf God has passed judgment against her."

²¹Then a powerful angel picked up a stone like a big millstone and hurled it into the sea with the words, "With such violence shall Babylon, the great city, be hurled down and shall never again be found. ²²The music of harpists and musicians and flute players and trumpeters shall not be heard in you any more; neither shall a skilled

q) Cf. ch. 16:7. r) Cf. Isa. 47:7-9. s) Cf. Jer. 50:46.

t) Cf. Ezek. 27:28-36. u) Cf. Ps. 107:23, 24. v) Cf. Ezek. 27:30. w) See note at Acts 9:13.

artisan be found in you any more; nor shall the grinding of the millstone be heard in you any longer. ²³And no light of a lamp shall shine in you any more, nor shall the voices of bridegroom and bride be heard in you any more.

"For your merchants were the earth's prominent men; by your magic charms all the nations were led astray. ²⁴In her, too, was found the blood of prophets and of saints and of all who have been slaughtered on the earth."

19 AFTER THIS I HEARD WHAT sounded like the voice of a great throng in heaven that said, "Hallelujah! Salvation, glory, and power belong to God, ²because His judgments are true and just. For He has judged the great harlot, who corrupted the earth with her fornication, and He has required from her hand retribution for the blood of His servants."^x ³And a second time they shouted, "Hallelujah! And her smoke will ascend forever and ever."

⁴Then the twenty-four elders and the four living beings fell down to worship God, who is seated upon the throne, exclaiming, "Amen! Hallelujah!" ⁵And a voice came forth from the throne that said, "Render praise to our God, all His servants who revere Him, both small and great!"

⁶And I heard what was like the voice of a mighty throng, like the sound of many waters, like the roar of thunders, saying, "Hallelujah, for the Lord our God the Omnipotent has begun to reign. ⁷Let us be joyful, and let us celebrate, and let us ascribe glory to Him because the wedding banquet of the Lamb has come" and His bride has gotten herself ready. ⁸It has been granted to her to be dressed in pure, resplendent linen." For the fine linen is the righteous deeds of the saints.

⁹Then the angel said to me, "Write: Blessed are those who are invited to the wedding banquet of the Lamb."

He also told me, "These are the true words of God."

¹⁰So I fell at his feet to worship him, but he said to me, "You must not do that! I am a fellow servant of yours and of your brothers who hold to that to which Jesus has borne witness. Worship God." For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.^y

¹¹Then I saw heaven open and a white horse appeared. Its rider^a is called Faithful and True; justly He judges and wages war. ¹²His eyes are like a flame of fire,^b and on His head are many diadems with a name inscribed which no one knows except Himself. ¹³The robe He is wearing has been dipped in blood, and the name by which He is called is The Word of God. ¹⁴On white horses and clothed in fine linen, white and pure, the heavenly armies follow Him.

¹⁵Out of His mouth issues a sharp sword with which to smite the nations. He will rule them with an iron rod, and He treads the winepress of the furious wrath of God the Almighty. ¹⁶On His robe and on His thigh He has His name inscribed: King of kings and Lord of lords.

¹⁷And I saw an angel standing in the sun, who shouted with a loud voice to all the birds that fly in mid-heaven, "Come, gather for God's great banquet, ¹⁸to feast on the flesh of kings, of commanders, of mighty men, of horses and of their riders, on the flesh of everyone, free and slave, small and great."^c

¹⁹Then I saw the beast and the kings of the earth and their armies mustered to wage war against the One mounted on the horse and against His army. ²⁰And the beast was seized, and with him the false prophet^d who performed miracles in his presence, by means of which he led astray those who received the mark of the beast and who worshiped his statue. Both of them were flung alive into the lake of fire that burns with sulphur. ²¹The rest were put to death with the sword

x) Gk. doulon; vs. 5, douloi. See note at Matt. 13:27.

y) The banquet is still future but it is certain.

z) Christ is the center of prophecy just as He is the center of all Scripture. a) Christ.

b) Ch. 1:14. c) Cf. Ezek. 39:17-20. d) Identical with the beast of ch. 13:11; cf. ch. 16:13.

that issued from the mouth of the One mounted on the horse. And all the birds gorged themselves on their flesh.

20 THEN I SAW AN ANGEL descending from heaven, holding in his hand the key of the abyss and an enormous chain. ²He seized the dragon, the serpent of old, who is the devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years. ³He hurled him into the abyss, which he shut and sealed above him, that he might lead astray the nations no more until the thousand years are completed. After that he must be released for a little while.

⁴Then I saw thrones that were occupied by such as received power to judge. I also saw the souls of those who had been slain for their testimony to Jesus and for God's message, and of those who had not worshiped either the beast or his statue, nor had received his mark on their foreheads or on their hands. They came to life and reigned with Christ a thousand years.

⁵The rest of the dead did not come to life until the thousand years were completed. This is the first resurrection. ⁶Blessed and holy is he who shares in the first resurrection. Over them the second death exerts no power; instead, they will be priests of God and of Christ, and will reign with Him a thousand years.

⁷When the thousand years have ended, Satan will be released from his prison ⁸and will go out to lead astray the nations in the four quarters of the earth, Gog and Magog,^e to muster them for battle. Their number is as the sand of the seashore.

⁹They marched up over the breadth of the earth and surrounded the encampment of the saints^f and the beloved city. And fire came down from heaven and consumed them. ¹⁰The devil, who had deceived them, was flung into the lake of fire and sulphur where also the beast and the false prophet were and they will be tortured day and night forever and ever.

¹¹Then I saw a great white throne and One seated upon it, from whose presence earth and heaven fled, and no room was found for them. ¹²I also saw the dead, great and small, standing before the throne, and scrolls were opened. Another scroll was opened, the Book of Life, and the dead were judged according to their conduct from the entries in the scrolls. ¹³The sea also gave up the dead persons it contained, and death and Hades gave up the dead in them, and each person was judged according to his works. ¹⁴Then were death and Hades hurled into the lake of fire. This is the second death—the lake of fire. ¹⁵And whoever was not found recorded in the Book of Life was cast into the lake of fire.

21 THEN I SAW A NEW HEAVEN and a new earth;^g for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away, and no longer was there any sea.^h ²I also saw the holy city, the new Jerusalem,ⁱ descending out of heaven from God, made ready as a bride adorned for her husband. ³And I heard a loud voice from the throne say, "Behold, God's dwelling place is among men, and He will dwell with them; they shall be His people, and God Himself will be with them ⁴and shall wipe away every tear from their eyes. Death shall be no longer, nor mourning, nor crying, nor any further pain, because the former things have passed away."

⁵Then He who was seated upon the throne said, "Behold, I make all things new." He also said, "Write; for these words are trustworthy and true." ⁶And He told me, "It is done! I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End. To him who is thirsty, I will give him without charge from the fountain of the water of life. ⁷The victor shall inherit all this; I shall be his God and he shall be My

e) Cf. Ezek. 38:2, 14. f) See note at Acts 9:13.

g) A realm of righteousness.

h) The sea symbolizes nations in their turmoil. But the old order comes to its end, vs. 4.

i) Earth has here become like heaven; it is once more God's home.

son. ⁸As for the cowardly, however, and the unbelieving, and the depraved, the murderers, the immoral, those practicing magic arts, and idolaters, all liars — their lot is in the lake that burns with fire and sulphur. This is the second death."

⁹One of the seven angels who had the seven bowls full of the seven final plagues came to talk with me and said, "Come this way. I will show you the bride, the Lamb's wife." ¹⁰He then conveyed me in the Spirit to a great and lofty mountain and showed me Jerusalem, the holy city, coming down out of heaven from God ¹¹with the glory of God.

Her luster resembled a most precious jewel, a jasper stone as clear as crystal. ¹²It had a large, high wall with twelve gates and at the gates twelve angels, and on the gates the names inscribed of the twelve tribes of Israel's sons: ¹³three gates on the east side, three gates on the north side, three gates on the south side, and three gates on the west side. ¹⁴And the city wall had twelve foundation stones, and engraved on them were the twelve names of the Lamb's twelve apostles.¹

¹⁵The one talking with me had a golden measuring rod to measure the city with its gates and its wall. ¹⁶The city is laid out as a quadrangle, with its length equal to its width. With the rod he measured the city, about fifteen hundred miles² — the length, the width and the height exactly equal. ¹⁷He measured its wall too, two hundred sixteen feet³ by human measure, that is, by the angel's.

¹⁸Its wall was made of jasper, and the city was made of pure gold, as transparent as glass. ¹⁹The foundation stones of the city wall were ornamented with every kind of precious stone: the first foundation stone was jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, agate; the fourth, emerald; ²⁰the fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, topaz; the tenth, chrysoprase; the eleventh, jacinth; and the twelfth, amethyst.

²¹The twelve gates were twelve pearls, each separate gate made of one pearl, and the street of the city was made of pure gold, as transparent as glass. ²²I saw no temple in it, for the Lord God Omnipotent is its temple, and so is the Lamb. ²³The city has no need of the sun or of the moon to shine on it, because God's glory illumines it and the Lamb is its light. ²⁴By its light the nations will walk and to it the kings of the earth will bring their splendor.⁴ ²⁵Its gates shall not at all be closed during the day, for there will be no night there. ²⁶Into it they will carry the glory and the honor of the nations. ²⁷But nothing unclean nor anyone practicing immorality and falsehood shall ever enter it, but only those whose names have been recorded in the Lamb's Book of Life.

22 HE THEN SHOWED ME THE river of the water of life, as clear as crystal, flowing forth from the throne of God and of the Lamb, ²and running through the middle of the street, and on this side and that side of the river, the tree of life, bearing twelve kinds of fruit, yielding its fruit every month. And the leaves of the tree are for the healing of the nations.⁵

³There shall no longer be anything accursed there, but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it, and His servants⁶ shall worship Him. ⁴They shall look at His face and His name shall be on their foreheads. ⁵And night shall be no more; they will need neither lamplight nor sunlight, for the Lord God will be their light, and they shall reign forever and ever.

⁶Then he said to me, "These words are trustworthy and true. The Lord,

j) Cf. Ezek. 48:30-34.

k) The text reads 12,000 stadia. A stadion (or stadium, Gk. stadion) is equivalent to 600, 607, or 625 feet, according to whether Greek, English, or Roman measurement is used. "About fifteen hundred miles" symbolizes the length, width, and height of the new Jerusalem.

l) The wall's thickness.

m) The new Jerusalem, the Lamb's bride, began with the first believers and will be completed when the full number of the redeemed is made up. n) Cf. Ezek. 47:12.

o) Gk. douloi; vs. 6, doulois. See note at Matt. 13:27.

the God of the spirits of the prophets has sent His angel to show His servants what must shortly take place. ⁷Behold, I come quickly." Blessed is he who observes the words of the prophecy of this book.

⁸I, John, am the one who saw and heard these things, and when I had heard and seen, I bowed down to worship at the feet of the angel who was showing me all this. ⁹But he said to me, "You must not do that! I am a fellow servant of yours, and of your brothers the prophets, and of those who obey the messages of this book. Worship God."

¹⁰Then he said to me, "Do not seal up the words of the prophecy of this book, for the time is near. ¹¹Let him who does wrong do wrong still, and let the filthy still be filthy; let the righteous still do right, and let the saint^p still be holy."^q

¹²"Behold, I am coming soon and My reward is with Me, to render to each according to his doings. ¹³I am the Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last, the Beginning and the End. ¹⁴Blessed are those who wash their robes, that they may have the right to the tree of life and to enter through the gates into the city. ¹⁵Outside are dogs, sorcerers, immoral persons, idolaters, and everyone who loves and practices falsehood.

¹⁶"I, Jesus, have sent My angel to you to witness these things for the churches. I am the Root and the Offspring of David, the brilliant Morning Star."

¹⁷The Spirit and the bride^r say, "Come!" And let him who hears say, "Come!" And let the thirsty come; he who desires it, let him take freely the water of life.

¹⁸I warn everyone who hears the words of the prophecy of this book: if anyone adds to them, God will add to him the plagues that are described in this book, ¹⁹and if anyone takes away from the words of this prophetic book, God will take away his share in the tree of life and in the holy city as described in this book.^s

²⁰He who affirms this says, "Yes, I am coming very soon."

Amen, Come, Lord Jesus!^t

²¹The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with all.

p) See note at Acts 9:13.

q) Lev. 11:44; 1 Pet. 1:16.

r) The Spirit and the church unitedly, for believers are moved by the Holy Spirit.

s) The warning refers specifically to this book but is equally true concerning all divine revelation.

t) Christ and the church are agreed in desiring each other's company.